METHODISTS TO BUILD ST. MARGARET'S DANCE

FIRST M. E. CHURCH DECIDES TO ERECT NEW CHURCH AT THIRD AND KENWOOD

For a long time the growing and lively Methodist-Episcopal church has felt the need of a new church building in which to house its many institutional features. The growth of this church has been highly gratifying. Its services are usually crowded and the old building at the corner of Dayton Court and Third street has long been too small and inconvenient for the varied activities of this aggressive and progressive body.

Since the appointment of the Rev. B. Dudley Snudden to the pastorate of the church the subject has been discussed in every phase and the congregation has been quite willing to enter on this undertaking though it might seem a considerably heavy task. With the spirit of service, however, that has developed in the church under the Rev. B. D. Snudden's guidance, the task is looked on as one that should be easy of accomplishment.

Accordingly at a meeting of the official board of the church, held Thursday evening, it was decided to proceed at once with a campaign for a new church building. This new building will be erected on the lot purchased some time ago at the corner of Third and Kenwood streets. The question of financing this undertaking is not going to be so formidable as might at first appear. Already there has been subscribed about $10,000 and the building committee is working hard to increase this amount. With the growth of the congregation this task should become increasingly practicable and once in its new building the church should increase by leaps and bounds.

The plans for the building contemplate the erection of a church edifice costing from $25,000 to $30,000. These plans will be laid before a general meeting of the church which will be held next Wednesday evening, when a full discussion of the whole matter will be possible. With congregational assistance and further financial aid that should develop at that and future meetings it should be possible to begin work on the new building in a very short time.

The officials of the church who have been working hard on this proposition for some time are: The Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, pastor; Board of Trustees—Ed. M. Lee, L. E. Brockman, C. H. Bott, T. A. Wright, A. W. Tower, T. W. Watson. The official board consists of practically the same members as the board of trustees. The financial secretary is W. A. Goss, 712 W. Fifth street; the treasurer, T. A. Wright, 305 S. Louise.

The Benevolence treasurer is Miss Edna Learned, 137 S. Maryland. T. W. Watson is president of the Sunday School board.

Miss Edna Learned is president of the Epworth League.

Mrs. C. W. Spickerman is president of the W. H. M. S.

Mrs. Henry Johnston is president of the W. F. M. S.

Mrs. J. L. Anderson is president of the Ladies' Aid society.

Mr. Ed. M. Lee is president of the Brotherhood.

All these officials are working in consonance with the building committee to bring about the consummation of the desires of the congregation for a new church home.

ST. MARGARET'S DANCE

YOUNG LADIES OF GUILD HOLD SPRING BALL AT MASONIC TEMPLE

Amidst a blaze of white and yellow, the colors of St. Margaret's Guild, the members of that organization and their friends threaded the mazes of the dance at the Masonic temple Friday night. This dance is an affair that is looked forward to by all who have any affiliation with this popular guild. On this occasion the dance was attended by about 70 couples who pronounced it in every respect the most enjoyable affair the guild had ever managed.

Under the efficient and skilful direction of Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, chairman of the decoration committee, and her assistants, Grace Crampton, Arline Hallihan, Gertrude Champlain and Frae Morse Wells, the large hall of the temple had been transformed into a scene of beauty and charm. The colors of the guild were everywhere. The yellow of the guild colors was carried out in a wealth of wild mustard blossoms, intermingled with every species of white flower in season and mingled with tasteful masses of greenery.

In the center of the stage at the end of the hall stood a large Maypole, the streamers of which and the large bows which adorned their ends showed the yellow and white of the prevailing scheme. Large jardineres of mustard blossoms also adorned the stage which was also strewn with mustard blossoms and honeysuckle. The chandeliers were adorned with the yellow blooms and the lights were shaded with green. Butterflies were everywhere among the leaves and blossoms and on the window curtains. The punch table was adorned with butterflies and yellow roses. Tuneful music was furnished by Merrill's orchestra.

Among those present were the patronesses of the guild, Mrs. Albert Pearce, Mrs. W. E. Hewitt, Mrs. Geo. Mitchell, Mrs. Dr. Hunt and Mrs. William Porter. The members of the guild were all present as follows: Irene Reed, president, who opened the dance; Ethel Land, Mattie Belle Provolt, Cecelia Wilson, Maymie McCan, Arline Hallihan, Ethel Reed, Bessie Provolt, Agnes Bostick, Athena Purt, Clara Provolt, Grace Crampton, Olga Purt, Frae Morse Wells, Gertrude Champlain, Lillian Mills, Eva Black Peck, Elizabeth Lange Herman, Amy Bowerfind, Katherine Wells Flint and Pauline Scholz.

JOY RIDERS' ACCIDENT

While joy riding on the new state highway near La Canada during the wee small hours of last night, A. A. Andress of Pasadena, in company of a woman who claimed to be his sister, but later proved otherwise, met with a very serious mishap.

The automobile or booze crazed mind of the autoists became unmanageable and the machine turned turtle and is now a total wreck. Mr. Andress was badly cut about the head and face, while his lady friend was hurt inwardly and probably very seriously. The unfortunates called on the Glendale police force to come to their assistance, the officers responded and brought the couple to the Glendale Sanitarium where their wounds were dressed and the woman was later sent to her home in Pasadena, while her companion was allowed to sober up in the city jail.

Mr. Andress was arraigned in Justice Miller's court this morning and fined $35 and costs. Mr. Andress' wife on hearing of the predicament of her husband, acted as the good Samaritan and came to his rescue with the said $35, and was permitted to take her negligent "hubby" home, and promised to give him the proper admonition when they arrived at their own domicile.

Whitten, of Kenneth road, who has spent several years in building up quite an extensive poultry ranch and who has done a great deal towards developing the poultry industry of this section, has disposed of the major part of his stock of fine blooded poultry to parties in Tropic who will endeavor to develop this noted strain of birds on a still more extensive scale.

GERMANY'S REPLY DISAPPOINTS BRITISH

ATTITUDE OF WASHINGTON ASTONISHES THOSE WHO LOOKED FOR DISAGREEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, May 6.—Dispatches from Washington, D. C., indicating that the United States senate and probably President Wilson and his advisers are satisfied with Germany's reply to the president's ultimatum, are a great disappointment to the leading British newspapers. They say they cannot understand how the sophistries and evasions of the Germans have imposed on the United States. It is believed that the paragraph in which it is stated that failure of the United States to compel Britain to relinquish the blockade will bring Germany face to face with a new situation is going to cause further trouble.

They state that President Wilson has now an unexampled opportunity to bring an end to the war. They suggest that the president might send his personal messenger, Col. House, to feel out the situation as they think Germany would welcome peace.

JOHN MCBRIDE SHOT FOR HIGH TREASON THIS MORNING—TWO DEATH SENTENCES COMMUTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
DUBLIN, May 6.—John McBride, another leader in the recent rising in this city, was executed this morning. He faced a firing squad and died instantly. It is believed that the government does not intend to carry out any further executions, believing that the leaders have now been dealt with. The representations of Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond, both Irish leaders, the one of the Ulster Protestants and the other of the Irish Nationalists, has influenced the British government to this decision. There have now been eight executions. Two others condemned to die have had their sentences commuted to life imprisonment.

REPUBLICAN TROOPS ABANDON PART OF ADVANCED WORKS ON SLOPE OF HILL 304

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, May 6.—It was announced here today that the French troops had evacuated part of the advanced trenches on the north slope of Hill 304. This hill is admitted to be the key to the whole defense at Verdun. The Germans are making the most determined assault of the whole three months' attack today. Their artillery has been bombarding the position for the past 24 hours with unexampled fury and in spite of the inclement weather their troops have been hurled in one mass formation after another. Their net gains do not amount to much, the French state, and add that they will probably be taken from them when their assault has spent its fury.

REPORT OF THE SHOW

MORRIS E. CARUTHERS' STATEMENT SHOWS FINANCIAL SUCCESS

To the Officers and Members of the Glendale Garden Society:

In presenting a report of the free Flower Show recently held I believe it would be of value to give an account of some of the difficulties which your committee had to meet and overcome. At the time a show was definitely decided upon, our society consisted of about 75 members. We had practically no funds on hand. Not one member had any experience with the organization or management of a flower show, and, most of all, we had against us the passive opposition of merchants of the city, some of whom openly stated that we could not carry on such an undertaking without calling on them for financial assistance. On writing to the Pasadena Horticultural Society for information as to the cost of their flower show we were informed that they were at an expense of from $700 to $1000 for each show, and that even with a charge for admission of 25 cents they sometimes had a deficit. However, this did not discourage us and we set about planning how we could secure funds.

Application was made to the board of trustees of the city. After due consideration they voted to furnish $100 toward our expenses. Several members of the board expressed their regret that the low balance left available would not permit them giving more.

This subscription enabled us to start work. The use of the lot at 5th and Brand was secured. Mr. Tarr of the street department had it cleared and leveled, Mr. Belden allowing us to connect with his electricity and water.

A tent 60x100 feet was ordered and on its erection April 15 volunteers from the society began arranging and decorating the interior. Mr. Lynch of the public service department supplied us with electric streamers and lamps, also piping for water, and the Glendale Electric company, with the help of some of our members, wired the tent.

We had considerable trouble obtaining tables for the exhibits. Requests made to two churches in Glendale for the use of their banquet tables were refused. However, by the courtesy of St. Mark's Episcopal church in Glendale and the High School trustees we were able to get what tables we required.

We were also given the use of 700 vases used by the Pasadena Horticultural society and were thus saved a large expense.

By the united efforts of the committee everything was in readiness on the morning of April 20 for the opening of the show. At 6 a. m. on the opening day there were a number of workers on hand and almost immediately the entries began to come in, continuing until about 11:30 a. m. We were twice required to send for additional tables to accommodate the flowers. The judges, Mr. Payne, Mr. Richards and Mr. Johnstonbough of Los Angeles, completed their part and at 2 p. m. the tent was opened to the public.

It is not necessary to say anything about our success. Those present saw for themselves. The attendance was all that could be desired. It has been variously estimated at from 5000 to 15,000. I personally think it was near the latter figure. I know that on one afternoon Mr. Simpson was kept busy greeting Pasadena acquaintances and that many of the people I saw were from out of town. Two of our judges informed me that without exception our show was the greatest success from an artistic point of view (and they are both competent to judge) that had been held in Southern California for a number of years.

I believe this show has accomplished wonderful good to Glendale and that if we are able to continue it each year as we are planning that it will be the best advertisement Glendale can have.

However, we must be prepared to go to more expense next year. We will have to get a larger tent and all our expenses will be much heavier. What we want is for everyone to get behind and boost and then there will be no trouble getting the necessary funds.

"MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM"

High school students gave a most enjoyable Shakespearean entertainment on the campus Friday afternoon. Large crowds witnessed this enjoyable affair. The departments of music, physical education and oral English gave the presentation. The audience was greatly charmed with the Morris dance music, and the dances which accompanied them, the Spring Song dance to Mendelssohn's ever-living music and the Wedding March to the famous music of the same composer. The singing of the Girls' Glee club was in exquisite time and tune. The costumes were tasteful, appropriate and inexpensive. Altogether this was a most creditable presentation.

In regard to the financial end of this year's show: We had expenses of about $225 and have sufficient funds on hand to pay all bills.

Our thanks are especially tendered to Mr. Kennedy of Pasadena for his generous advice and assistance and to the Matthews Manufacturing company of that city, whose garden furniture did much to enhance the beauty of our show.

We have many who have earned our thanks, too many to enumerate, but we assure all who assisted us, either by their labors on some committee or as exhibitors that their assistance was much appreciated.

Respectfully presented,
MORRIS E. CARUTHERS, Mgr.

SPRING SALADS

Salads are with us the year round, now that lettuce and other green things are practically always available through hothouse cultivation; consequently, when spring days come along, it is not so easy to find new salad combinations as one might think from the entrance into the markets of fresh garden produce. Particularly attractive at this season, then, are the cool, decorative salads formed into molds through the use of aspic or gelatine. These individual salad molds are used often for special occasions throughout the year, but there is no reason why they should not appear often on the family table, as they make this course more appetizing; now that instantaneous gelatines have been put on the market, it takes practically no extra time to prepare them.

Tomato aspic, or tomato jelly, is the simplest form of savory salad mold. It is made by straining one pint of cooked tomatoes, bringing the juice to a boil and stirring in one envelope of a prepared gelatine, which does not have to be soaked but dissolves instantly. Add one tablespoon of lemon juice, and season to taste with salt and paprika. Pour into molds, and keep them chilled until ready to serve. Place the molds on lettuce leaves, with a tablespoon of mayonnaise at the side. This salad is made "de luxe" if, just as it is beginning to harden, one stirs in two olives, a half cup of cold chicken, two tablespoons of capers and two hard-boiled eggs, all chopped together fine.

Chicken aspic calls for one pint of clear chicken broth or tomato and chicken bouillon, one cup of finely chopped chicken and one envelope of gelatine. (A longer process is that of forming the aspic, or jelly, by boiling the chicken and letting it set). Have ready the consommé or broth and the chopped chicken, heat the broth to the boiling point, and add the gelatine dissolved in two tablespoons of the hot broth. Add a very little of the broth to the chicken. Set individual molds in a cool place, and put in the chicken and the broth in alternate layers. Let each layer harden before the next is put on. Serve on lettuce, with mayonnaise dressing.

An aspic without the chicken is made as follows: Put into a saucepan one pint of good soup stock, and add a couple of slices of onion, a stalk of celery, a couple of bay leaves, and one-half teaspoon of French spice salt, if it can be obtained. Simmer gently for 10 or 15 minutes, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Then add one portion of gelatine which has been rubbed to a smooth paste in two tablespoons of the hot stock. Strain and set away to cool. If the soup stock is not at hand, a substitute may be found in beef extract dissolved in hot water, a teaspoonful to the pint.

TREE INCUBATORS

At a score of places in the West the United States Government is establishing great nurseries where the baby monarchs of the forest are as carefully tended as the foundlings in a hospital incubator, are reared past their days of infant dependence and ultimately let to grow in the open where it is expected that they will develop into the model forests of the future.

Every year 10,000,000 of these little trees are brought out of the soil, tended by hand, and enough are brought into the age of independence to be put into the open and to convert 16,000 acres of practically useless land into model forests. It is intended that eventually 3,000,000 acres of these artificially induced forests shall occupy the public domain and be passed on to future generations.

Tree seed production is a comparatively new industry. Most of the important lumber trees are conifers and evergreens. In the fall their cones mature and fall on the ground. Nature made the cone round so that it might roll and find possible root at a distance. As the cone travels it dries so that the seeds shake out, and find places in which to take root. By systematic work the Government tree planters have been able to cooperate with nature to secure best results.

WOOD SHIPS DURABLE

Experience covering more than 100 years shows that ships constructed of wood outlive those built of iron or steel. Metal ships in comparison are rather short-lived, while many old veterans of the sea, fashioned of oak and other native hard woods on the North American Atlantic coast in the first half of the last century, are still afloat and earning their way.

Old sailors and shipbuilders say that it is the live oak in the frames that keeps the old vessels together. Since the little Philadelphia bark, True Love, which was built in 1797, disappeared from the American registry, the honors of maritime age have been worn by the little forty-five-ton schooner Polly, built at Amesbury, Mass., in 1805. This ship had a remarkable career as a coaster, having carried enough lumber, bricks and lime from Maine ports to Boston to build a good-sized city.

PITHLESS PEOPLE

There are some sticks that break if you try to lean on them; bend double if you put them under any weight, with an idea that they are going to support it. They are pithless—just a smooth, hollow shell, with nothing inside worth mentioning.

There are some other sticks—we call them people—that have no more promise of dependability. They are pithless, and you soon learn not to try to lean on them. Do you know any such people? Are you—it is an awful question, but are you—one of them your own self? I am going to tell you how to desert the ranks of the pithless and the hollow-hearted, and stand with the iron-stemmed oaks and walnuts and all the rest of the trees in God's garden that are good for something.

There are two reasons for human pithlessness. One is that you did not grow honestly, from the heart out. You were content with a fair, smooth outside—told lies in your living. You took for mottoes, "That'll do," and "Well enough." You shirked and scamped and slighted, and were not ashamed. Now you can change all that. It is never too late to change. Every little fiber of sturdy truth that you will put into your inner living crowds out a bit of soft, useless, unsubstantial make-believe. Begin this moment. Displace the bad by the good. Build up your inner life, for that is where the strain will come.

A LAUDABLE ENTERPRISE

EDITOR GLENDALE EVENING NEWS:

Dear Sir:—In your issue of April 25th there was a request from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that should interest a considerable number of Glendale citizens. The notice reads as follows: "If the poultry raisers of Los Angeles County are sufficiently interested, the committee on agriculture and horticulture of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce will make every effort to have, established in this vicinity an experimental ranch and a short course in poultry husbandry under the auspices of the University of California."

The nearest university poultry farm is now at Davis, too far north to be of much practical value to the southern end of the state. It is believed that if sufficient interest is manifested a similar branch, dealing only with poultry, can be obtained from Los Angeles County.

In a general way the plan as outlined will include a six weeks' course in the practical part of poultry raising. Most of the failures in this line are attributed to a single cause,—that of ignorance.

When it is considered that Southern California is now producing only thirty per cent of the eggs it uses, the room for expansion of the industry readily is seen. With a branch university farm within easy reach, hundreds of flocks could be brought to a more profitable basis through the better understanding of their owners.

Those who would be interested in the establishment of a university branch poultry farm in the county are asked to notify the agricultural and horticultural committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at once. On application, a pamphlet will be mailed explaining in detail the general plan for the greater success of the poultry industry in Southern California.

This should concern persons interested in a light, profitable means of livelihood. A business of their own without a large investment. Likewise land owners who have property for sale with or without improvements, and in fact all citizens interested in the progress and improvement of this community.

More attention is being paid to the poultry industry than ever before. For example my old home, Vineland, N. J., is planning for a 3-year egg laying contest to commence in August, 1916, which will attract country-wide attention. The New Jersey Legislature has appropriated the sum of $3000 for 3 years. The town commissions have voted an appropriation of $3000. Three thousand dollars has been raised by private subscription. By this means the finances have all been provided for. And the county and State look upon it as an investment that will return many fold. And without a doubt an experimental ranch in Los Angeles County would prove of untold profit. By all means encourage such a laudable enterprise.

VALUE OF FARM TRAINING

N. H. Batchelder, a Connecticut educational authority, advises school-boys, who are undecided as to what business or profession to adopt, to look carefully into agriculture. He believes that the schools should furnish courses in the various branches of farming, at least on a parity with manual training.

"It has been proved many times," he says, "that work of a practical nature instead of draining a boy's energy actually increases his capacity for book work. If he likes poultry husbandry, for example, it serves as a recreation and a partial palliative for excessive indulgence in athletics. Animal husbandry and gardening, even if they are never followed as a business, inculcate a wholesome love for outdoor life beyond valuation."

RAISING PIGEONS IN EGYPT

Pigeon raising is an important industry in northern Egypt, and nowhere is it carried on more systematically than on the Beyerle estate.

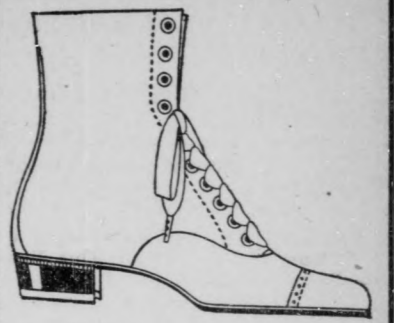

Each of the sixteen towers is made from 1,200 clay jars, laid in tiers with their openings inward, which is said to be the best method ever devised for the successful housing of pigeons. Mr. Beyerle started with 250 pairs of semiwild birds and in a few years had 8,000 pairs, which, in addition to squabs, produced 250 bushels of guano a year.

PROGRESSIVE HONDURAS

The government of Honduras has found it advisable to open an automobile school for the training of young men to operate cars and act as mechanical adjusters. The students before obtaining diplomas, must qualify for the practical assembling and handling machines of all classes.

This has been brought about by the increasing popularity obtained by automobiles in Honduras during the last two years. In Tegucigalpa, the capital, where only mule teams and a few fine horses were to be seen a few years ago, automobiles are now fairly common.

UNIVERSAL MILITARY SERVICE FOR BRITONS

After much dispute over the question of compulsory military service the British parliament has accepted the principle and every eligible man in the country will have to serve.

To read reports of the controversy as published in press reports of the American news gathering agencies one would imagine that there was considerable objection both in and out of parliament to this principle of universal military service.

Then, too, it must be remembered that the volunteer system of Britain has always had on hand 250,000 men of military age, most of them practiced shots with rifles and that behind these men are several sets of those who have passed through this service and are still efficient.

The average British man, to whatever class he may belong, is in favor of universal service and in a crisis such as that which faces that country there need never have been any fear that the principle would not have been accepted.

By May 10 the last of Britain's single men eligible for army service began to get into their khaki uniforms. In all sections of the country young men of 18 years reported at the supply depots and changed their civilian raiment for army uniform.

The young men now called to the colors according to the principle adopted some time ago will remain in training until they have reached the age of nineteen, at which time they will be subject to service in actual warfare.

Carrying out the pledges to the married eligibles the war office is taking single men from the munition factories and other governmental positions. They are being replaced by women.

What interests the United States is the fact that a grave national crisis found Britain unprepared on land and that it has taken that country with all its resources nearly two years to create an army of 5,000,000 men.

THE STORY OF JOSEPH IN SONG

The Story of Joseph is full of possibilities for dramatic expression in the operatic form. There are a certain number of characters around which the plot is woven. Among these are Jacob, the patriarch, sung by H. W. Yarik; Joseph, the youth, by Ellene Grisk; Potiphar, by Will Marple; Pharaoh, by W. H. P. Hayman; Potiphar's wife by Marion Addison; Zilpah by Mabel F. Capell; Bilhah by Winona L. Crawford; Benjamin by Eva W. Thede; the Butler by Dr. O. P. Lucas; the baker, by Wade Gray.

The brothers of Joseph are important characters in several of the scenes and three have fine solo parts. These soloists will, in the opinion of Mr. Howes, the director, prove a surprise to many of the audience through unexpected talent developed for this particular work.

The choruses of Hebrews and Egyptians are doing fine work musically and will be very picturesque in their costumes of black, white and silver and red, yellow and gold effects.

There will be but one performance of this fine dramatic cantata, namely, Monday, May 8th, at the Palace Grand.

FAREWELL PARTY

Many were the regrets expressed at the farewell party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Freeman Kelley, 532 Orange Grove avenue, in honor of Mrs. John R. Barrows, who is on the eve of leaving Glendale for Montana, that the city should lose one who has been so prominent in all circles of social and musical activity during many years past.

and gypsophila blossoms and the dining room was a perfect bower of Ulrich Bruner roses. Dainty refreshments were served in the course of the afternoon.

One of the pleasing features of the gathering was the presentation to Mrs. Barrows of a seal leather music portfolio, which had her name stamped on it. This was presented with appropriate sentiment to which Mrs. Barrows suitably and feelingly responded.

A pleasing impromptu concert was enjoyed throughout the afternoon in the course of which Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Greely Kolts and Mrs. Herman West gave several vocal selections. Mrs. Barrows played a few piano pieces and Mrs. Wayland Brown gave some delightful readings.

Those present were Mrs. Freeman Kelley, Mrs. John R. Barrows, Mrs. Greely Kolts, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Brant, Mrs. Herman West, Mrs. Wayland Brown, Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman, Miss Laura Wilford, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mrs. Clotworthy, Mrs. Laurence Ellis, Mrs. H. D. Goss, Mrs. Nathaniel Green, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, Mrs. P. A. Kranz, Mrs. Julius Kranz, Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. LeRoy Masters, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Mrs. Clarence Newcomb, Mrs. O. W. Tarr, Mrs. J. W. Usilton, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Clarence Webb and Miss Martha Porter. Five members who were invited but were unable to be present sent their regrets and best wishes to Mrs. Barrows.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

A very pleasing and enjoyable party was given at Casa Verdugo Thursday by Mrs. McMasters of 119 S. Maryland avenue. Those present were Mrs. Bert Woodard, Mrs. Luther Eastman, Mrs. S. C. Maranville and Mrs. U. H. Emick of Glendale; Mrs. M. M. Miles, Mrs. McHugh, Mrs. George Leonard and Mrs. Bob Shumaker of Los Angeles. Luncheon was served outdoors under the rose decked pergolas. The tables were adorned with clusters of beautiful roses. The afternoon was spent with cards and needlework.

Mrs. Miller has been prominent in Parent-Teacher work in California since the beginning of the movement. She is vice-president of the National Federation of College Women's clubs and has just returned from a four months' tour of the east, where she attended the National council and was a guest of many of the large college clubs. Mrs. Miller has been invited to speak before a number of federated clubs in Southern California during the following weeks, as all are anxious now to know more of the national council and its mission, inasmuch as they are all now members of it by the action of the executive board of the general federation when they meet in session at Old Point Comfort in Virginia in January.

Several hundred people, mostly children from North Glendale, journeyed to Verdugo Park this forenoon to enjoy a day's outing and to enjoy the "Woodland Fairies" play which took place at 11 a. m. This play was put on by the young people of North Glendale under the direction of Mrs. U. F. Newlin and proved to be a grand success in every particular. Mrs. Sidney Dell is also to be given great credit for writing the play and helping with its rendition.

Among the many attractive show windows in town, that of Booth's, the Coffee King, is very unique and is attracting considerable attention. The display of coffees and teas is very artistically arranged and is made to bring out the "King's" ideas of show window advertising. Nothing goes any farther in beautifying a store than a well arranged window display and is usually indicative of the neatness inside the store.

Dr. and Mrs. Lauer of Burchett street had as their guest this week Mrs. Chutyian of New York City. Mrs. Chutyian is a cousin of Mrs. Lauer. She has been in California visiting various points during the past few weeks. She will shortly go to San Francisco to meet her husband who is coming from the Orient. Mrs. Chutyian entertained Mrs. Lauer Thursday at the Angelus hotel, Los Angeles.

AN EVENING AT WEAVER HOME

Several of the guests being musically inclined, an impromptu orchestra was proposed. Miss Dorothy Lee, director of the First Methodist Sunday School orchestra, presided at the piano. Mr. E. L. Weaver was master of the guitar and harp. Wilbur Lee played first cornet, Freddie Weaver violin, and Erwin Weaver, clarinet. All were skillful performers on the instrument of their choice and rendered many pleasing selections.

Light refreshments were served and Erwin Weaver took first prize for being able to drink the most lemonade. Others present were Mrs. E. L. Weaver of above address and Mr. and Mrs. A. Jud Shepard, Miss Jessie and Arthur Shepard of 1535 Pioneer Drive.

CANDIDACY OF MR. PACKER

In the furtherance of the candidacy of Stephen C. Packer for Supervisor of this district the citizens of Glendale and vicinity have an excellent opportunity to place this city prominently before the people of Southern California. For the first time in our history we have advanced a candidate for this important position in the councils of the county, and there is every indication that Glendale's candidate will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

It seems hardly necessary to say anything about the qualifications of Mr. Packer. We all know him, and to know him is to honor and respect him, and we do not hesitate to say that if the rest of the Fifth District knew him as well as do his friends and neighbors in Glendale his election would be unanimous.

The Fifth Supervisorial District is the largest geographically in the county and it means much to this part of the valley to have as our representative a man of such sterling character and ability as Mr. Packer.

This is Glendale's opportunity for a Glendale man. Let us make the most of it.

MAY DAY PARTY

Among the many May Day parties which graced the season was that given by Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Webber of 541 Orange street Monday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with Cecil Bruner roses and ferns. The entertainment took the form of a "500 party." Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Leon Shulman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hanson, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Stalley, Miss Edith Salyer and Mrs. Claud Webber.

ACCEPT OUR INVITATION

Accept our invitation to become a regular subscriber for the Glendale Evening News. It is your community paper and has appeared before its readers in daily form 840 times, the first issue being Saturday, August 26, 1913. If the paper is not up to the requirements of a real city daily, perhaps all that is lacking is your support.

This publication fills a place that can not be filled by any outside paper,—it stands for Glendale community institutions first, last and all the time. Since the day of its first publication there has never been in the mind of the publisher any doubt of its continuance, and now the patrons who are familiar with circumstances know that there is not a more reliable business concern in the San Fernando Valley than is the Glendale Evening News.

If you are not already a subscriber, you are cordially asked to become one. Subscription rates are given elsewhere. Phone Sunset 132 or Home 2401 and the paper will be delivered regularly at your door. —A. T. COWAN, Pub.

ART LADIES ENTERTAIN

At the home of Mrs. R. E. Chase, Friday, May 5, a luncheon was given by the ladies of the Art section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, in honor of their instructor, Mrs. Hearnshaw. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, was also a guest of honor. The rooms were beautifully decorated with amaryllis and ferns. A magnificent centerpiece of roses adorned the table and at the place of each guest was a corsage bouquet of the favorite flower of that party. Besides the guests of honor those present were Mrs. E. D. Yard, Mrs. O. W. Tarr, Mrs. Frank Grosvevor, Mrs. Ernest Kimmell, Mrs. McElroy and the hostess, Mrs. R. E. Chase. Shirley Chase, the hostess' talented young daughter, entertained the company with some enjoyable readings rendered with artistic taste. Selections on the Victrola also helped to pass the afternoon.

ART SECTION TO EXHIBIT

The Art Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will hold an exhibition of the work done by the China Painting class in the club parlors of the Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club at 2:30. Specimens of fine needlework also done by members of the class will be shown and any one wishing to exhibit fine needlework on this occasion is requested to telephone Glendale 1.

GREEN ROSES

Not all the wonders of the vegetable kingdom were exhibited at the Flower Show. Mr. M. B. Hartmann was exhibiting some green roses from the garden of F. H. Eilers, 337 Adams street, yesterday. These blossoms are not freaks but are genuine green roses. From the standpoint of beauty they do not compare with the roses of other colors, but as curiosities they are truly worth looking at.

The play is called the "Voice of Conscience" and was written by Owen Rhodes. The cast is an all-star cast chosen by Mr. W. Marks from a large and excellent lot of material. ## SOME OBSERVATIONS

By J. F. LILLY

Do you know there is not an investment you could possibly make that will pay so large an interest as the planting of shade trees on your vacant lot? Two trees are sufficient for the front of a fifty-foot lot. You can easily arrange for water from a near-by neighbor. Set the trees three to five inches below the sidewalk and curb level so that a good basin for water can be made around the tree. Mulch around the trees with lawn clippings or grass. Weeds will do. This will help retain the moisture. A few buckets of water occasionally will make your trees grow rapidly. The total cost for two trees and plenty of water for the first season is about One Dollar. These trees will add $50.00 to the value of your lot the first year. That's 4900 per cent on the investment, to say nothing of the general benefit to your street and to the city.

Do you know that the average owner of a home in Glendale more than saves his car fare to and from Los Angeles every year? Just a few figures to prove this: A home in Glendale costs from $1000 to $2000 less than a correspondingly well located place in other sections that compare with Glendale. Beautiful lots in our best residence sections can be had for about $1000 each. Similar lots, relatively well located in Hollywood, Pasadena or Los Angeles will cost at least $1000 more. Do you realize that the interest on this $1000 at 7 per cent is $70.00, a sum sufficient to more than pay the carfare of the average family to and from Los Angeles for an entire year, even though one member of the family goes daily?

Do you know that it would pay Glendale to put occasional advertisements in the classified columns of two or three of the leading Los Angeles daily papers, setting forth briefly our advantages? For example, under the heading of "Suburban Homes" a little ad like this would attract attention:

"You may live on high ground, near the mountains, in modern surroundings, amidst cultured people, and have pure water, cheap gas and electricity, superb schools, and all the charms of suburban life—yet only a few minutes' ride from the center of L. A. Take car on Sixth Street and get off at Glendale."

Do you know that Glendale stands right at the top of the list in point of new telephones installed during the past few months? In this respect it holds a pre-eminent place, not only in Southern California, but along the entire Pacific Coast.

Do you know that it would be a capital idea to begin right now to gather matter for a historical collection to be installed at the City Hall or Public Library? Early photographs and many relics that will be priceless later on are now to be had, in many cases for the asking. There is a wealth of material if it were only sought out by some interested collector. An exhibit of this kind is always attractive and instructive. What have you to offer for such a collection?

Do you know what a wonderfully beautiful Valley we are living in? Not unless you have climbed some of our adjacent hills or mountains and looked at the picture below. If you haven't been up to "view the landscape o'er" you have missed one of the most inspiring sights of a life-time. You will be prouder than ever of your choice of a home in this community when you see Glendale from the hilltops. There you can measure and appreciate its infinite charm.

VALUE OF PLAYGROUND

MRS. ELLA W. RICHARDSON DETAILS WORK ACCOMPLISHED LAST SUMMER

At picnics and parties we all realize that enjoyment has been in the degree that the one in charge thought out and supervised the games. Everyone loves to have a part in this world and be busy. Each of us is making history every moment. So our children should play or sew or read where it is some one's business to direct thought in right channels and bring out the good in each one; show no favoritism and settle disputes which come up to be healed.

Such love and care was given the members by the Pacific Avenue P. T. A. and the supervisor, Miss Laura Rowe, the summer of 1915 on the Public School at the Pacific Avenue school. Not a day passed but some loving members visited the grounds, expressing love in some way to the children and supervisor. The mother of children attending felt this love and protection and as many of the playground children's mothers have to support the family on their salary—and are away from home all day, the Pacific Avenue playground was surely a peaceful thought to them and removed all anxiety from their minds. All parents desire the best for their children; there is nothing too good to be true; but there are many things too bad to be true. The Pacific Avenue Day Nursery and Playground is to be open throughout the whole vacation of 1916.

The large children of the Intermediate, High, Columbus and Colorado boulevard schools who were members of the Playground last summer, have sent me over 100 written requests that Miss Laura Rowe be secured again for Pacific Avenue. Miss Rowe was popular with the boys and could umpire a ball game and coach a team well. The visiting teams always had pleasant remarks to make about their visits. The little three-year-olds, whose faces she washed, loved her; the young ladies who met there to sew, draw, or paint, the nearly six-foot boys, the men and women interested in tennis and the games appreciated the love and interest this supervisor expressed. The success of the Pacific Playground was due in part to the activities of the many mothers who visited the Playground daily, expressing genuine gifts of humor and genuine love in making happy these young human lives.

Many were the acts of kindness in this labor of love. The City of Glendale contributed for the salary of the Playground supervisor $50, and the school trustees also contributed $50. Musicales, dinners, dancing parties, a bazaar, pencil selling, games, etc., earned a neat sum and the friends of the Playground gave us cash. The Pacific Avenue P. T. A. are all workers and the pageant, "Peace," which they will give on the ground in June is proof of the quality of workers. They help themselves.

Those who contributed to the finances of the Pacific Avenue summer playground were Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, T. W. Watson, Mrs. Julius Kranz, Ezra F. Parker, J. H. Braly, A. S. Chase, Mrs. F. O. Stone, "B." J. J. McGinnis, R. A. Siple, F. P. Kuntzner, G. W. Whitton, R. L. Miller, H. M. Miller, Schilling's, N. W. McBride, W. R. Phelon, D. G. Crofton, W. M. Wright, Fred Deal, E. E. Smith, Bentley-Schoenman Lumber Co., E. Glane, Munson Drug company, J. C. May, H. W. Walker, A. Friend, C. W. Ingledue, H. G. MacBain, Bank of Glendale, Pulliam Undertaking company, Mrs. C. H. ### ALWAYS BE POLITE

Hearts like doors will open with ease
To two very little keys;
But don't forget the two are these,
"I thank you, sir," and "If you please."

Be polite boys, don't forget it,
In your wanderings day by day;
When you work and when you study,
In your home and in your play.

Be polite, boys, to each other,
Do not quickly take offense,
Curb your temper—you'll be thankful
For the habit seasons hence.

Be respectful to the aged,
And this one thing bear in mind—
Never taunt the wretched outcast,
Be he helpless, poor, or blind.

Be polite, boys, to your parents,
Never let them fail to hear
From their sons the best of language
In the home you should hold dear.

To your brothers and your sisters,
Speak in accents kind and true;
Be polite, 'twill serve you better
Than a princely gift can do.

—ELLA W. RICHARDSON.

Let us be of good cheer, remembering that the misfortunes hardest to bear are those which never come.—Lowell.

RADIO LABORATORY

The Tufts radio station near Boston has recently been completed and experiments are now being conducted with it. The steel tower, which replaces that blown down last fall by a heavy gale, is more than 300 feet high. It is the largest in New England, and the third largest in the United States.

The tower is supported on four special insulators imbedded in fifteen tons of re-enforced concrete. The station is intended primarily as a laboratory for research work, and it is expected that improvements in working of wireless and instruments will be forthcoming.
