

CLASSIFICATION WORK

BEGUN BY TEACHERS OF GLENDALE PUBLIC SCHOOL FOR EXEMPTION BOARD

Nothing much was doing at headquarters of the Exemption Board this morning, but yesterday afternoon the important work to which the Questionnaire leads up was begun by the teachers of Glendale who have been organized for the purpose by Superintendent Richardson D. White and who have volunteered their services for the classification of men under the information furnished by the Questionnaires.

In the compilation of these statistics the government is really taking account of stock and ascertaining just what its resources are in men, not only for fighters, but for service in other work of the army as chauffeurs, mechanics, truck drivers, quarter masters, trench diggers, and the many other necessary employments. When this classification is completed the government will know its men better between draft limit ages and of what they are capable, as it has never known them before, and it will be possible to organize an army in an incredibly short period.

Teachers who reported for duty yesterday were: Miss Ida Walte, Miss Nellie Todd, Mesdames Fannie O. Stone, Mary O. Ryan and Margaret D. Longley. The work will be continued Monday and every afternoon and evening next week and until the classification is complete.

PTOMAINE POISONING

Tragedy has come into the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. MacKay, of Madeira, former resident of this city and prominent members of the West Glendale Methodist church. Part of the family are dead and the rest are lying at the point of death from ptomaine poisoning as a result of eating canned apricots last Sunday. The account as published in a Los Angeles daily, reads:

"As a result of eating canned apricots at a family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. MacKay, south of Madeira, Sunday, four deaths have already occurred and four other persons are not expected to live, of ptomaine poisoning. The first to die was Andrew Orville Mitchell, aged three years, who died Monday. Wednesday night two more succumbed, Nina MacKay, aged six years and her brother Ellsworth MacKay, aged fourteen. Last night Mrs. Grover Mitchell died, making the fourth victim. Four others, the infant child of Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. MacKay and their son Clarence, aged twenty-three, are all desperately ill and physicians hold out small hope of their recovery."

The family have many friends here to whom this news will be a great shock. Mrs. MacKay is a woman of exceptionally sweet character who is loved by all who know her. Her daughter Nina was born here.

THREE O'CLOCK BAND CONCERT

Hundreds upon hundreds of people go out of Glendale every Sunday to seek amusement, and sometimes the entertainment they get is not of a very high character. There has been little attempt made on the part of citizens of this place to provide a park, a swimming pool or wholesome entertainment for a portion of the day when so many people are at leisure.

The management of the Glendale Sanitarium has arranged to fill the gap temporarily by providing an afternoon band concert, the first of which will be given on the Campus of that institution tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. This band concert is for the benefit of the public. Everybody is invited. Following is the program:

- Star-Spangled Banner.
- March—On Duty, Mackie-Beyer.
- Waltz—Evening Shadows.
- Cornet Solo—A Perfect Day, Bond.
- March—Veni Vidi Vici, Hall.
- Serenade—Moonlight in Venice, Mackie-Beyer.
- March—Palatinus, Hall.
- American Melodies—Dixie Land, Marching Through Georgia.
- March—Victor, Mackie-Beyer.
- Overture—Rustling Leaves.
- March—Officer of the Day, Hall.
- Selection—Maritana, Wallace, America.

MISS HIBBERT ENTERTAINS

Miss Leona Hibbert entertained last Thursday evening at her home, 204 South Brand boulevard, Misses Harriet Barnes and Mary Logan, Messrs. Mansford Barnes and Russell Tummel. The young people enjoyed themselves with dancing and were also entertained with stereopticon views by Mr. Hibbert, father of the hostess. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

GRADUATION EXERCISES

CLASS OF FORTY AT INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

An appreciative audience filled the auditorium of the Intermediate School Friday evening and enjoyed the excellent program furnished by members of the Junior Orchestra and by Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, who made an excellent address which greatly pleased his young hearers as well as their parents.

There was a little delay but when Miss Weatherby seated herself at the piano and began "Keep the Home Fires Burning" in march time, the audience knew the evening's program had begun and presently the boys and girls came marching in, forty of them, the boys spruce and manly, the girls pretty and womanly in snowy white middie suits, green knotted silk scarfs, and big white bows on their hair.

In the opening number "Quietude" by Louis Gregh, the orchestra added to its reputation for doing good work. It was a rather difficult number but was played very well. "Mon Plaisir" by Lee S. Roberts, with which the orchestra closed the program, a sweet, languorous waltz motif of the old "Blue Danube" type, also pleased the audience greatly.

The Saxophone solos by Agnes Brown, "Hearts and Flowers" by Tobi, and "Killarney" by Balfe, sweet and clear as a spring morning, were highly creditable to the young musician.

Two numbers on the program were furnished by the Girls' Glee Club who sang very sweetly and very effectively the "Canoe Song," by A. Pestalozza "The China Mandarin" by Granville Bantock, "De Coppah Moon" by Harry Rowe Shelley, and "One Spring Morning" by Ethelbert Nevin. For the two last named a violin obligato was furnished by Beatrice Bolen and Lucile Thompson.

Mr. Keppel's address was filled with quaint humor so characteristic of the man, a humor which all could understand and enjoy. It was a practical talk and admirably fitted to the time and place.

He spoke of the challenge of the times which demand that each man and each woman shall do his or her utmost and declared that it is only in times of great trial and stress that most people exert themselves to the fullest measure of their ability. "We must keep going as fast as we can in order to stay where we are," he declared, a paradox which the boys and girls thought very amusing.

Reviewing the reasons which have been given why we are at war, he voiced the opinion that the whole trouble could be expressed in one word "Ignorance." "Lack of Knowledge and understanding, non acquaintance with the truth." Said he: "A thing isn't true just because you think it is true. Truth is an eternal thing. A thing that is true here is true in the moon and all over the universe, whether we accept it and understand it or disbelieve it. It is said of the Kaiser that had he known in July, 1914, what he knows now, he would have hesitated to make war."

"It seems to me we do not make enough of geography in the public schools and that the geography we do teach is very tame and small compared with geography as it ought to be taught. We ought to know the world as the home of mankind and we ought to know something about the people who live in the world. We think that the fellow on the other side of the world—because we know nothing about him—is inferior."

"Of all the men who have added to geographical knowledge, Henry Ford stands at the head of the class. Any man who has run a Ford and by means of it seen this great State of California North, South, East and West, has little of that silly jealousy that used to exist between San Francisco and Los Angeles."

"If the leaders of Germany had known the geography of the world as it is going to be taught to them (applause) they would not have precipitated themselves and their nation into the red hell of war in which it will be destroyed."

"It is a good thing that war should have come upon the world if through the shedding of blood there shall come a solution of the world's difficulties that are based on ignorance. This world of ours pays a fearful price for ignorance."

"Children should be taught the eternal supremacy of truth no matter under what flag they live. They should not allow any teacher to dominate their thinking. Until our men and women do their own thinking"

GERMANY TO STARVE STRIKERS

A GOVERNMENT ORDER TO REDUCE RATIONS TO STRIKERS FOLLOWS COMMAND TO "SHOOT TO KILL"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, February 2.—German militarists announced today a policy to starve striking men, women and children, in order to break the backbone of the dangerous strike movement, according to dispatches received here today. A government order to reduce rations to strikers is in effect. This, together with the order to "shoot to kill without distinction," shows that most radical steps are being taken to put down the great unrest in the German empire. Already clashes are reported between strikers and German troops with casualties to the civilians.

AMSTERDAM, February 2.—Seven munitions factories in Berlin have been placed under martial law. The strikers have been ordered to return to work Monday under threat of "military punishment."

OIL TANKER ON THE ROCKS

THE STEAMER ALABAMA IN DANGER OF BREAKING UP ON DANGEROUS LEDGE ON ATLANTIC COAST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AN ATLANTIC PORT, February 2.—The steamer Alabama, a tanker of the Texas Oil company, is in imminent danger of breaking up on one of the most dangerous ledges on the Atlantic coast. Wireless S. O. S. calls from the vessel have been received asking for quick assistance. The message said the Alabama had been blown on the ledge.

GEN. ALLENBY ADVANCING

BRITISH FORCES AGAIN ASSUME THE OFFENSIVE IN PALESTINE CAMPAIGN IS REPORT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 2.—The British Expeditionary forces in Palestine are again assuming the offensive, it was reported today. Gen. Allenby's forces have advanced and British troops operating out of Jerusalem have advanced twenty miles northward and are starting an encircling movement presumably to render Jericho untenable for the Turks.

CHINA'S BIG FIGHTING FORCE

GEN. CHIANG TELLS UNITED PRESS MILLIONS ARE READY TO AID ALLIES WHEN CALLED UPON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 2.—China has millions of men ready to join the allies. Five hundred thousand are now ready. A million are in arms. There are two million in reserve with two hundred million people to draw on. So said Gen. Chiang to a representative of the United Press today. This force is ready for the allies on call, he said.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN DEAD

FORMER WORLD'S HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION DIED SUD- DENLY AT HIS MAINE HOME TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ABINGDON, Maine, February 2.—John L. Sullivan, former world's heavyweight champion, dropped dead at his home here today.

FREIGHT AND FUEL CONDITIONS IMPROVE

NEXT MONDAY MAY SEE THE END OF FUEL ADMINISTRATION GARFIELD'S DRASTIC CLOSING ORDER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 2.—Next Monday may mark the end of Fuel Administrator Garfield's industrial closing rule, it became known today. The success of the priority order and the embargo on freight caused such an improvement in freight and fuel conditions that by next Monday closing will be unnecessary. This denotes a much faster improvement than was first anticipated when the drastic order went into effect.

GOVERNMENT STRIKES AT RETAILERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 2.—The government plans to strike directly at high retail prices if Congress will pass the drastic food bill soon to be introduced. The bill promises direct relief for the farmers who claimed that the fixing of wheat prices was injurious to them. The legislation is aimed principally at retailers and to relieve consumers.

R. R. CONTROL BILL IN SENATE MONDAY

WASHINGTON, February 2.—The Senate Interstate Commerce committee have agreed on the Railroad Control bill which will be reported to the Senate Monday.

OFF FOR FRANCE

HILL MCGILLIS WIRES HE IS LEAVING CAMP LEWIS TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGillis, 205 Lomita avenue, received a telegram this morning from their son, Hill McGillis, who is in Co. C, 316 Ammunition Train at Camp Lewis that he leaves Saturday afternoon for France by way of a New Jersey camp where it is expected the boys will have a five days' furlough before sailing. Hill's work will be driving an ammunition truck.

THE WISCONSIN PEOPLE:

Just listen to the call for all who ever lived in the State of Wisconsin, to meet under the auspices of the Wisconsin Association of Southern California, for an all-day picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Tuesday, February 12th, 1918. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends, and celebrate the birthday of our immortal Lincoln. We will have the county registers so you can find your old home neighbors, even if there are five thousand present.

There will be a brief program at 2 o'clock with music and greetings from Badger State speakers, but the main object will be to have a good time. We will have popular patriotic songs and Old Glory will wave in the breezes.

Yes, we want to see all the tourists and visitors from the old home State who are in California. Bring your lunch baskets well filled. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the new badges. The Alumni of the University of Wisconsin will meet informally at three o'clock near the tennis courts.

VALENTINE DANCE

The Valentine Dance and Card party to be given next Saturday evening, February 9th in Masonic Temple promises to be an unusually interesting and brilliant affair. The Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society, under whose auspices the dance is being given, is receiving the help and support of numerous friends and well wishers, both in Glendale and Los Angeles. The music furnished for the dancing will be of the best and it is expected that the famous Scotch Kilties Pipe Band will be present in their picturesque costumes and one or two of their best dancers will give an exhibition of the Sword Dance and the Highland Fling.

Amongst the list of patrons and patronesses are Sir Daniel and Lady McMillan of Winnipeg, who are staying at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach; Captain Walter Shaw, head of the British Recruiting Mission in Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Avery McCarthey, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dare Hunt, Mrs. Horace B. Wing, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman and Miss Geraldine Mortimer, daughter of the British Consul in Los Angeles. In Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Toll, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sherer, Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pulliam.

AUTO ACCIDENT

The mother of Wayland Brown, former resident of Gardena avenue, who is here for a few weeks with Mrs. Wayland Brown, was the victim of an automobile accident last Thursday and is in a serious condition at the Mission Rest Home on San Fernando boulevard.

Mrs. Charles Phillips of San Fernando boulevard invited Mrs. Oldschlager, a neighbor on Cerritos avenue, Mrs. Brown, and her baby grandchild, to go auto riding with her. She drove to Pasadena and when homeward bound was run into by another automobile. Mrs. Brown was the only one of the party seriously hurt. She suffered concussion of the brain. She showed improvement Friday and hopes of her recovery are entertained, but she is still critically ill. Mrs. Wayland Brown's baby also got a slight bump but was not badly hurt.

INSTALL OFFICERS

A joint installation of officers of the Burbank and Tropico Yeomen Lodges was held Thursday evening in Yeomen Hall on San Fernando boulevard. About fifty members and their friends were present. Mrs. Keller of Los Angeles was the installing officer.

The ceremonies were followed by dancing and a very nice supper was served at the close of the evening.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Sunday. Frosts. Westerly winds.

PREVENT AUTO THEFTS

AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CO-OPERATES WITH CAR OWNERS

A prediction for the year 1918 in the matter of automobile thefts based upon the record for the first month, during which cars of the total value of $120,500 were stolen in Southern California was made yesterday by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California in which it was indicated that, unless motorists are more careful with their property, it will be the biggest year in the history of auto stealing.

Thieves made away with 150 cars during January, or twenty more than were stolen during the same month of last year. But at the same time, proportionately more were recovered, showing increased expertness along that line by the authorities as experience develops. Out of 130 cars stolen in January last year, thirty-four were not recovered, while out of the 150 stolen last month, only twenty-five remained unrecovered at the final analysis.

Now officials of the Automobile Club have hit upon one of the most feasible schemes yet projected for enlisting the services of the general motoring public in the work of apprehending thieves and recovering stolen cars. This will work as follows:

Every automobilist calling at Club Headquarters or at any branch office throughout the State for touring information indicating that they are about to take a trip of 100 miles or more in length will be supplied with data regarding cars stolen of recent date. If these motorists see cars stalled along the road, hidden on by-roads which might answer the descriptions of those given them, they are asked to notify the nearest Automobile Club Branch Office, or send a provided post-card to the Los Angeles Headquarters and the Theft Bureau will be turned loose on the situation at once.

That this scheme would prove of inestimable value has been shown by the number of cars already recovered through the interest taken by Club members and others in the work of throttling the thieves' activities. Scores of cars have been reported by motorists which have been found to be the very ones for which a search was being conducted.

To the fact that she had filled out an identification blank and filed it with the Club's Theft Bureau, Mrs. Viola Rider owes the recovery of her powerful touring car which was stolen while parked in front of her residence at 7218 Hollywood boulevard. This car was recovered by the Theft Bureau at Florence, Arizona, after a race between Detective John Powell and the thieves, the former taking a train and beating them into Arizona.

The alleged thieves, Steve Reyes and Raymond Meza, were captured by Powell and returned to Los Angeles where they are now awaiting sentence. Identification blanks such as the one filled out by Mrs. Rider are now available for the general motoring public, and may be filed at any Branch Office of the Automobile Club. On an average of thirty a day are being filled out.

NEIGHBORHOOD PARTY

Friends of Mrs. Oldschlager, a new comer, gave a neighborhood party at her home 237 Cerritos avenue, last Friday afternoon. Owing to the auto accident the day before in which Mrs. Oldschlager was of the party, not all the invited guests were able to attend, but about nine were present and a pleasant afternoon was spent. The refreshments served by the hostess were delicious and in many ways it was a very nice affair.

MISS HARRISON HOSTESS

Miss Inez Harrison of 245 Kenwood street, was hostess last evening to the Presbyterian Intermediate Christian Endeavor with their superintendent, Mr. Howard Brown.

Guests from out of town were Gertrude and Harold Brown, cousins of the hostess from Greeley, Colo. After a most interesting business meeting games were enjoyed, and light refreshments served by the hostess assisted by her cousin Miss Gertrude Brown.

MRS. PARKER ENTERTAINS

Mrs. C. F. Parker was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a very delightful knitting chain party. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. S. J. Spaulding, Mrs. Bert Ward, Mrs. L. E. Wilbur, Mrs. V. Philp, Miss Dorothy Dow, Mrs. Cora Dunn, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, and Mrs. S. C. Packer enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Parker during the afternoon while fingers flew busily. Delicious cake, fruit salad and tea were served.

CONSERVATION BREAD

Housewives interested in wheat conservation in the kitchen are given valuable information in a Farmers' Bulletin just issued by the United States department of agriculture, the University of California reports.

It is impossible to find any single substitute which can entirely take the place of wheat in the making of bread. The problem then is to find those meals or flours which can be most successfully used in a mixture with wheat. Rye flour can form a much larger percentage of such a mixture than can either barley or corn. Bran is not to be recommended as highly. The digestion co-efficient of white flour is materially lowered by the addition of bran. The roughage found in this mixture is very undesirable. The use of graham flour is not really an economy, for it is made by grinding the whole wheat berry after it has been cleaned, and therefore represents 100 per cent wheat, whereas the best bakers' flour represents about 75 per cent of the wheat.

Farmers' Bulletin No. 807, United States Department of Agriculture, gives full instruction for the making of conservation breads. Copies may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Corn meal can be used as a great conservator of wheat in the form of breakfast food. As far as bread is concerned, it is best put to use in the form of muffins, hot bread, etc.

Rye flour makes one of the best substitutes for a portion of the wheat flour in the making of bread. The rye loaf is very palatable and at the same time shows high co-efficients of digestibility.

Barley flour is not so good a substitute, because only 10 or 15 per cent can be successfully used, whereas in the case of rye, it has been found possible to use over 50 per cent.

Rice and rice flour are being experimented with as substitutes for wheat. In Great Britain, where trouble has arisen in the making of bread with corn, no objection has been raised where rice has been added to the wheat flour.

WHEN KAISER FEEDS THE FIRE

Otto von Bismarck, man of blood and iron, builder of an empire, prince by grace of his sovereign lord, sat toward the end of his days before an open stove in the great drawing room at Varzin.

Now and again he lifted his eyes and looked upon Rauch's statue of "Victory Distributing Crowns." Its symbolry disturbed him. From contemplating it he turned to the throwing of pine cones into the crackling fire—a meditative ritual. Scarcely conscious of a companion, he spoke introspectively, gloomily. His life of great achievements had brought him no satisfaction.

"But you have made a great nation!" his companion interrupted, amazed at the statesman's deprecatory words.

"Yes," answered the old man, "and at the misfortune of how many souls? But for me three great wars would not have taken place! 80,000 men would not have perished; fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, widows would not have been plunged into mourning. I have settled all with my Creator. But I have gained little or no joy from all my work."

The incident is related in Marie Dronsart's "Life of Bismarck."

If these were the reflections of the great chancellor, with the constructive results of his intrigues before him, what will be the thoughts of William Hohenzollern should he reach the age of musing before the fire?

He, too, no doubt, can make his peace with his God—that tribal deity seems easily placated by his devotees—but will he, any more than Bismarck, be able to stifle his own conscience?—Chicago Evening Post.

THE CLOUD'S SILVER LINING

There is one comfort in all the mix-up. Prussia doesn't appear to be getting anywhere in particular. The Italians push back the Austrians, take prisoners and machine guns.

The Hindenburg line gets no nearer to Paris.

The Prussian birth rate is falling—and when that falls, there is something the matter with Prussia, for birth is her chief industry.

Hohenzollerns, Hindenburgs, the junker tribe, are well fed at the top in Prussia.

But below are starvation, thin blood, dead children in tens of thousands, and a "will to victory" with a good deal of the gimp taken out of it.

Hohenzollerns and Hindenburgs are having a fine time. But when this ends, there will be a good deal less of the Prussian energy. It ought not to be difficult with judicious trade boycotts, to put the Prussians back to farming, letting them busy themselves making a living, if they can, from the soil within their own borders. World expansion does not agree with them. As Billy Sunday might say, anything marked "Made in Germany" should be as welcome in this country as though it were marked "Made in hell."

Germany, locked up within herself, worried, hungry, but physically safe, can be made to see that peace is desired only in one way:

By dynamite carrying airships, flying and working in thousands above German soil.—Washington Times.

ROTTEN DISCIPLINE

One of the war stories going the rounds is of the soldier boy home on furlough from one of the training camps who watched his father's efforts to get small brother to do one of his daily chores. First the father requested, then cajoled, and ended by bribing the youngster to do his duty.

"The discipline in this house is certainly rotten!" exclaimed the soldier.

It's right in line with the stories of the boys from New York's east side who came home from camp and insisted upon clearing out the bathtubs of coal, groceries or the small child's bedding in order that they might be used for baths. This created disturbance in the home. It caused argument and tearful pleading on the part of mothers. But sternly and firmly camp standards prevailed. "Bathtubs for baths!" was the successful war cry.

All over the country the same thing is happening. The boys home on short leaves after a few months of army discipline are spreading the tidings of cleanliness, discipline, self-control. Not only the boys who are in active training are getting the benefit. They are raising the ideals of all their fellows.

No longer will the small boy do his chores grumblingly, or refuse to do them without a bribe. No longer will lazy parents lay up trouble for themselves and their children by refusing to take the trouble to discipline them. The straightforward command and the straightforward, instant, cheerful obedience of it will become a matter of course.

"He is not fit to command who has not first learned to obey" is not only a byword of the army. It is to be found over and over again in the writings of Thomas A. Kempis, gentlest of teachers of religious perfection.

In war and peace, in business and at home, wherever teamwork is needed, wherever self-control and self-respect are worth acquiring and holding fast, there is the necessity for obedience to authority.

Servile and fearful obedience have no place in a democracy. But the cheerful acquiescence which means that every man in the army, every employe in a business, every member of part for the good of all—that must be learned by every American.—Santa Ana Register.

SENSE IN CENSORSHIP

By amendment of its voluntary censorship rules the bureau of information at Washington now admits to publication where before excluded: (1) The names of line officers with the expeditionary forces in Europe and the units they are connected with; (2) information of the identity of American merchant ships in defense against submarine attacks, with their officers and gun and ship crews; (3) news of work in dry docks.

There are other modifications of the old rules, but these are the most important. They are also among those most obviously called for. Publicity for the names of line officers and units in Europe can be of no more use to the enemy than publicity in case of staff officers, but it is of great home interest as well as of military value to ourselves in identifying responsibility and for emulative effort in acting up to the responsibility. The same is as true of a merchant ship in defensive fight against submarines as of a naval ship in an offensive fight. And where the enemy knows that its ships interned here are being fixed over for our own war uses, what has possibly been gained by trying—and vainly for anybody who wants to know—to conceal how the work is being done?

This is all of a censorship suppression well calculated to dampen individual effort in our own warfare and calculated not at all to hurt the enemy. It is directly in line with that policy of extreme secrecy which is measurably responsible for the shortcomings in war preparation revealed by the senate investigations. There is the assurance that the bureau of information is reading the lesson and learning it.—New York World.

EFFICIENCY OF THE SALOON

Recently the state council of defense appointed a committee on farm labor, which has reported that the most serious foe to efficiency of the men on ranches is the saloon. The report says:

"The efficiency of farm labor is greatly reduced by the existence of saloons. Furthermore, great numbers of able bodied men would be released to useful productive industry if the saloons were abolished. For these two reasons, and wholly aside from the moral issues involved, state and nation should take immediate action to close all saloons for the duration of the war."

That sounds like a logical argument for meeting war conditions; but if the saloon impairs efficiency in war times, why is not its effect the same in time of peace? War prohibition is all right, but the only sensible conclusion one can reach from that step is that prohibition all the time would be still better.

Mrs. F. A. Alspach of Mariposa avenue, spent Thursday in Long Beach.
 Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 Maryland avenue is confined to her bed
 by illness.
 Miss Ethel Franzen has as her guest this week, her brother and his wife of South Dakota.
 O. P. Rider, pastor of the Tropic
 Presbyterian church will preach next Sunday evening on Sabbath Observance.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Higgins who have been residing at 119 South
 Howard street, have moved to 418
 South Adams street.
 Miss Dorothy Armstrong, daughter of Milton Armstrong of Blanche avenue, has returned after a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs.
 Marlenee in San Bernardino.

Paul Rider of 208 E. Acacia avenue, is expected home from San Pedro next Tuesday. He is kept very busy there with Y. M. C. A. work in connection with the U-Boat men.
 Miss E. E. Derby from Dublin,
 New Hampshire, is spending the winter in Glendale and is at present a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs.
 George E. Adams of 1450 Ivy street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 227
 South Central avenue were dinner guests last Sunday of old friends from Des Moines, Iowa, who are now in Long Beach.
 Mrs. J. C. Belden of 232 South
 Jackson street, entertained on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Belden of 1119 Morton avenue, Pasadena, and their two children at luncheon. They are old friends who came by auto to visit her.

The Sunday School Board of the Tropic Presbyterian church has invited the Sunday School teachers of the Tropic Methodist church to join them in a supper at their next regular meeting which will be addressed by some Los Angeles orator.
 Attorney and Mrs. H. A. Armstrong of Hazelton, N. D., who are spending the winter in Pasadena, were guests of Judge and Mrs. C. F.
 Parker on Thursday. Attorney Armstrong raises cattle on a large scale
 on his ranch in North Dakota.

Mrs. H. E. Addams who is now residing at 1226 Arden avenue and receiving pupils at her bungalow studio, recently entertained at a musical for two pupils, Miss Reva Phillips and Miss Lois Olmsted. About thirty guests were present. This was the first of a series of such affairs which will be given by pupils at her home, the next one coming off the latter part of the month.
 Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bentley of 628 South Adams street, have had the pleasure of entertaining Mr.
 and Mrs. Ray Bentley, their two children and Mrs. Bentley's mother, of Lindsay who came South by auto about two weeks ago and have been visiting in San Bernardino, Long Beach, Riverside and elsewhere. They spent several days in Glendale and left for home Wednesday.

Earl Lynn Hamilton and his bride who have just returned to Glendale after an extended trip through the East and South, were guests of honor at a simple war-time dinner given by their aunt, Mrs. Charles A.
 Stockbridge, Wednesday evening of this week. Other guests invited were:
 Mr. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Lewis
 Crowell, Mr. Crowell, Miss Gale Hamilton, Second Commander Innes Christams, of the Bear; and Mrs.
 Stockbridge's young son Edward, Mr.
 Stockbridge, being absent on his regular trip through Arizona, could not be present.

Again the management of the Evening News says thank you to all advertising patrons of the local daily newspaper. A daily newspaper means a wonderful sight to a growing city
 such as Glendale. The merchants, churches and clubs who pay for space in the paper are its supporters
 —they represent the progressive element of the city so far as giving financial support to the paper. It is therefore suggested that all persons who wish to aid in making a still better daily paper in Glendale, recognize in a substantial way the merchants who are assisting one of the greatest enterprises in the city—a daily newspaper.

Dr. Ernest F. Hall of San Francisco, who is conducting a most interesting six weeks' course of study on "The Lure of Africa" every Monday night at the Presbyterian church will add a new feature next Monday evening. An African lady from West Africa will appear in African costume and sing a song in the Bulu
 language; and a person who has lived a long time in Mohammedan countries will give the call to prayer which Mohammedans give from their towers five times every day.
 Four more evenings only remain.
 Everyone should make the most of them. All are invited, especially young people. The hour is 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire T. Van Etten
 are the parents of a fine eleven-pound boy born Friday night who will be called John Bailey Van Etten after his grandfather on the maternal side. Mrs. Van Etten and baby are doing well.

Charles Bruck of Glendale avenue,
 has gone to Catalina Island to assist in the cement work on the big hotel which is being built there. He expects to be absent about two months and Mrs. Bruck may join him later in the season for a short vacation
 visit.

Residents of Glendale avenue and other parts of the southern end of the city are complaining of the theft of garden hose. The robbers are very bold in some instances detaching it from faucets in the front yards. It is reported that in one block in Glassell Park every foot of hose belonging to residents there was taken.

This afternoon the Elks are having open house for the people of Glendale from 2 p. m. to 10 p. m.
 that all may have an opportunity to inspect at leisure their beautiful new Club House. No formal program has been arranged but the High School Orchestra will play this afternoon and some of the women musicians of the city will contribute numbers. No refreshments will be served.

RED CROSS ITEMS
 Automobiles are still needed for the collection of stock for the salvage department. Any one who will volunteer for this service is requested to communicate with Miss May-belle Douglas.

The office of Vice-President and Business Manager Lawshe has been equipped with a fine new stand-up desk. It is a fine piece of work for Mr. Lawshe made it himself.

A table and several chairs now adorn the Red Cross reception room but more furnishings are needed including pictures and a table cover.

Far out from the window sill like a Barbara Fritchie flag, hangs the Red Cross banner from the windows of headquarters on Brand boulevard.
 The Business Manager got into trouble however when he placed it there because he neglected to get a permit from Building Inspector Chobe, who says it hasn't been put up right. He and the Manager will probably get together and have it hung as it should be to comply with city ordinances.

Mrs. Klevert of the Mason Apartments on Chestnut street holds the knitting record of the Glendale Chapter to date. She knit two sweaters in one week.

R. C. TROPICO AUXILIARY
 At the meeting held at Red Cross
 Auxiliary Headquarters Thursday evening, in the City Building, corner of Brand and Tropic avenues, a class in surgical dressings of about twelve mothers and daughters was organized with a prospect that more will come in. Those who enrolled were: Mrs. Henry Heide and daughter, Mrs. Roberts, Emma, Blanche and Julia Moniot, Lucile Barnes, Mary and Mina Martinez, Josephine and Paulette Leclercq.

The same evening there was quite a run on the knitting department and all the stocks of yarn recently purchased were given out to knitters who will make socks, helmets and sweaters.

Mrs. Reifenberick represented the Auxiliary at a meeting of chairmen of salvage departments held in Los Angeles Friday morning at Tenth and Main streets, which was addressed by Mary Pickford. Quite an overhauling is in progress at the south end of the city to find donations for the salvage department of the Cerrito Avenue school which is beginning a very active canvass along that line and which is ambitious to earn a lot of money for the credit of its auxiliary.

 victory.

RED CROSS LUNCHEON
 A happy, well-satisfied looking lot of people surrounded the tables at the luncheon in the Red Cross store this noon, and well they might, for a delicious menu was being served.
 It included:
 Boston Beans,
 Tamale Pie,
 Beef Stew,
 Potatoes a la Gratin,
 Spanish Rice,
 Noodle Soup,
 Boston Brown Bread and Hot Rolls
 Potato, Vegetable and Fruit Salads
 Several kinds of Pie,
 Rice Pudding,
 Doughnuts,
 Coffee.
 It was all home made and the diners were congratulating themselves and telling every one how delicious it was. The money was coming in pretty fast and Mrs. Boettner and her assistants were very busy serving and collecting. Mrs. Boettner stated that generous donations are being made and she is very much encouraged over the growth of the business.

GREAT MASS MEETING
 It is proposed to make the mass meeting of all the Sunday School scholars, teachers, officers and workers, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist Church, the greatest meeting of its kind ever held in Glendale. What we want to do is to pack that church from end to end, gallery and a., as this will be the opportunity of all interested in Sunday School work to hear this man of God, Dr. Gamble, teach the Sunday School Lesson of the day,
 "Jesus Lord of the Sabbath." You will get a clearer understanding of this lesson than you ever had. His vital hold on the Scriptures will grip
 you mind and soul as never before.
 Tell your friends about it and come early for a good seat. All welcome.
 R. W. MOTTERN.

AMERICA'S TASK
 Recently the Paris correspondent of an American news agency summed up the task confronting the United States as follows:
 America must furnish millions of men to make good the defection of Russia and to counterbalance the loss in man power of heroic France.
 America must produce sufficient food to keep France, England, Belgium and Italy in fighting trim.
 America must build enough ships to transport her armies and their supplies and to keep the stream of food and war material flowing to the allied countries.
 America must construct enough
 airplanes to give the allied armies
 the mastery of the air.
 America must make good the loss
 in prisoners and war material suffered by the Italian armies.
 If the United States government would tomorrow mobilize the country's entire manhood, prohibit the manufacture and transportation of all goods not essential to the conduct of the war, place everybody on rations, assign to each man between 21 and 55 his particular job on the farm, the factory, the shipyard or the army, the colossal program could be carried out—in its entirety—provided the program could be financed by a nation engaged exclusively in war work. But in no other way could an army of eight or ten million men be withdrawn and transported by land and sea while the remaining manpower was at the same time
 maintaining production.
 Obviously it is impossible, with the best intention in the world, to do everything every belligerent nation asks. The most important task confronting the government is a careful inventory, a stock-taking of the available resources both in men and material. After this inventory is at hand, after the non-essentials have been restricted to the lowest minimum compatible with the maintenance of the nation's financial and industrial health, those in control of the war will have to decide upon which spot the nation can strike the strongest, the most effective blows
 for democracy.
 But if no single factor can by itself produce victory, if soldiers, food, guns, aircraft, munitions, and ships
 to carry them are all indispensable,
 then it becomes the duty of the government to ascertain the maximum quantities in which each element can be supplied without impairing the production of the other essentials.
 With forethought, economy, system and planning Uncle Sam is equal to the job. What he needs is a supreme war council of five experts to lay out this job regardless of the hurt pride of bureau chiefs and department heads.—February Sunset

The program had announced that the presentation of diplomas would be made by the president of the Board of Trustees, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, but when the time came Mr. A. B. Haycock, another member of the Board was introduced who explained that when Mrs. Toll learned that Mr. Heacock had a daughter in the class, she insisted that he should have the honor and pleasure of presenting the diplomas.

He assured the class and the audience that he considered it a great honor and privilege.

"The public school," he declared, "is the mother of the nation. No private school or system of private schools would ever build a democracy. The father or mother who refuses to patronize the public school is unfit for citizenship in this country."

He expressed the hope that the class appreciated the sacrifices made by those who have gone before them, and by their parents which made it possible for them to enjoy the privileges and opportunities which the public schools of today afford. "and," he added, "we appreciate the work you have done. We realize that you have spent many tiresome days and tedious hours in performing the duties which have brought you to this round of the ladder, and you have learned much outside of our course of study which has helped to make you broad minded young men and women. I am glad you are now entitled to these diplomas. You have probably worked harder for them than you will ever work for any other diploma. May what you have won here spur you on to greater and still greater success."

Richardson D. White, principal and School Superintendent presided at the exercises and showed the justifiable pride with which he regarded this fine class. Miss Weatherby directed the musical program.

EYES ON ST. MIHIEL

By J. W. T. MASON

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The northern flank of the district persistently reported to be the principal training ground of the American army in France, is being brought into the possible area of combat by German activity about St. Mihiel.

The occasional French reconnoitering raids along the St. Mihiel front suggest enemy movements are suspected to be in course of preparation at that part of the line. If a German attack were to be delivered from St. Mihiel, its purpose could only be to threaten the American troops in training some distance further south. St. Mihiel is a secondary Verdun, about twenty miles south of the great Meuse fortress. It is the most important supply base held by the Germans on French soil near the American encampment.

St. Mihiel would form a strong center for offensive operations by the Germans if they could spare the men and munitions for operations on a major scale. Under these conditions there might be reason for some uneasiness concerning the inviolability of the American training ground. But, it is scarcely likely that any effort the Germans are now able to make would be sufficiently powerful to reach the American practice trenches.

Operations against General Pershing's rookies undoubtedly hold out a strong temptation to von Hindenburg, who is notoriously favorable to the strategy of striking the enemy first. But, if the Germans fall a victim to this temptation in the present instance, they will be playing into the hands of the French and the Americans. The district from St. Mihiel to the region of the supposed American encampment is heavily protected by an intricate series of defenses. Behind these positions the Americans would be admirably placed to protect themselves, even without French assistance.

With French help in reserve, the chances would all favor the Kaiser meeting a defeat second only to Verdun if he were to attempt to swing his line southward from St. Mihiel. The Kaiser's sole chance of a serious success is that he might develop a surprise major attack if the French were not alert. But, the constant patrol, raiding and reconnaissance attacks in which the French are engaging near the American training center indicate that a surprise blow is out of the question.

PRAYER BY BISHOP GORE OF OXFORD

"Give Thy blessing, O Father, to the people of that great and fair land, with whose rulers we are at war. Strengthen the hands of the wise and just, who follow charity and look for justice and freedom, among them as among us. Drive away the evil passions of hatred, suspicion and the fever of war, among them as among us. Relieve and comfort the anxious, the bereaved, the sick and tormented, and all the pale host of sufferers among them as among us. Reward the patience, industry, loving kindness and simplicity of all the common people and the men of good heart, among them as among us. Forgive the cruelty, the ambition, the foolish pride, the heartless schemes, of which the world's rulers have been guilty. Teach us everywhere to repent and to amend. Help us to use our present afflictions, which come from us and not from Thee, that we may build on the ruins of our evil past a firm and lasting peace. Grant that, united in a good understanding with these who are now become our enemies, though they are our brethren in Christ, they and we may establish a new order, wherein the nations may live together in trust and fellowship, in the emulation of great achievements and the rivalry of good deeds, truthful, honest and just in our dealings one with another, and following in all things the standard of the Son of Man, whom we have denied, and put to shame, and crucified afresh upon the Calvary of our battle ground. Amen."—Christian Work.

A GOOD MAN FOR GOVERNOR

California will elect a Governor in November of this year. Quite a number of men of more or less fitness have been talked of, and some are being boosted by their friends, as being willing to make the sacrifice to serve the dear people in the capacity of state executive. While the News would not reflect on any of the various names mentioned, yet there is one man in California who has not sought the office, neither has he been "Framing Up" any kind of campaign, in fact up to this time he has not even consented to become a candidate, although prevailed upon by his legion of friends throughout the state. We refer to Friend W. Richardson, state treasurer. Mr. Richardson possesses all the qualifications to fill the highest office in the gift of the people of California, with dignity and honor. His wide experience in dealing with men and handling the practical things in governmental affairs, and his high personal attainments have contributed much to his fitness and popularity. In addition to these qualifications, and above all, he is scrupulously honest, loyal to his friends, fair, and equitable to those who may not agree with him. As public servant he has applied practically the truth that public office is a public trust and should be administered for the benefit of the whole people, regardless of political faith or party affiliation. California would be honored by selecting as its chief executive Friend W. Richardson. The newspapers of the state are almost unanimously urging him to become a candidate, and it gives the News pleasure to join in this appeal to one of God's noblemen.—San Juan Mission News.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE TRADE

Conditions in the paper market are very similar today to those prevailing two years ago, when prices first began to advance.

Mills have withdrawn all prices, and the jobber has no basis of cost on which to figure. When new price lists are received our prices will necessarily be advanced.

Please remember that all of our prices are subject to change without notice; special quotations are given only subject to immediate acceptance. Under no circumstances should you obligate yourself for special items, or for future deliveries, without first securing protection from your jobber.

A new price list will undoubtedly be issued in the near future. In the meantime, prices quoted in our No. 32 List are subject to withdrawal.

SUNLAND

Social events in Sunland the past week. Friday evening the "Blue Bird Club" gave a party at the home of Mr. Lancaster in honor of Miss Lucile Levy who is about to leave Glendale High to go to school in Los Angeles. About thirty of the valley young people were present. Music, games and a social good time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served about ten o'clock. Everybody had a good time. The young people are sorry to lose Miss Lucile as she is a general favorite.

Saturday evening the Misses Ethlyn and Josephine Akens were hostesses to the young people of the valley. A big bonfire in the yard under the oaks and a "weiner bake" was enjoyed. Games and a social good time was had by all those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards of Los Angeles were the guests of Mrs. Edwards' father Mr. Horton, Wednesday. Mrs. Edwards has recently come to Los Angeles from New York and is enjoying the lovely California weather.

On account of the number of cases of measles in school the Board of Directors thought best to close school for a couple of weeks.

Wm. Lancaster is home from a short visit with his parents. He is holding a good position at Fillmore.

Harold Murrey has been called to the army and goes to take his examination Saturday. One by one the boys are being called.

Mrs. Henry Abrams is visiting in Los Angeles this week. Miss Florence came up to look after her brothers during the mother's absence.

In the Sunland school thrift stamp drive Lincoln Bailey was the first to get his war saving certificate. The school children have done fine.

Mrs. Mattie Shaw returned from Pasadena Wednesday after a week's visit with friends.

L. T. Rowley was in Sunland Wednesday. Mr. Rowley is suffering with lumbago in his back which has kept him indoors for a few days.

Alfred Adams proprietor of the olive factory has leased one of the store rooms in the Rowley block and has a fine display of the famous Sunland olives. This factory is putting out lovely fruit this year. Mr. Adams is contemplating putting in a fruit cannery in connection with the olive factory this next summer.

The Ladies Aid met in regular meeting Thursday afternoon. The regular monthly business meeting will be held at the rooms next Thursday, Feb. 7th. A full attendance is desired.

The First Baptist church of Sunland has a debt of $137.80 which it is trying to wipe out this year. Any small donation which you feel disposed to contribute will be thankfully received. Please leave with Mrs. Huse collector at the post office.

Quite a bunch of the Sunland High School students who are attending school at Glendale went down Tuesday night to the Senior play.

Mrs. M. Cushman has leased her

Just as a Mighty Oak

Can grow from a small acorn,—so can a fortune grow from a small bank account.

Both when well started have a steady growth. You can start your account this month. Even though it be a small one at first, if you will steadily add to it in a few years you will have a capital worth working for.

If you live in Glendale, make up your mind to start an account in this Glendale Bank and watch your money grow with the bank and the town.
