THE ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

This Report, for the fiscal year ending December 31st, 1886, is made by the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

In the report of last year it was stated that "Notwithstanding the assistance received from the city in maintaining the Museum, and the large sum of money collected by the Associate Committee of Women for the School, together with that paid by the Textile Association for the same purpose, the indebtedness of the Corporation has been increased four thousand five hundred and nineteen dollars and thirty-nine cents, and now amounts to sixteen thousand nine hundred and eight dollars and seven cents. It is evident, therefore, that some means must be devised to provide for this deficiency if the Institution is to continue as at present organized."

At a special meeting of the Corporation, on January 18th, to consider this question, a proposition to dissolve the connection between the Museum and the School was voted down, and at a joint meeting of the Corporation and of the Associate Committee of Women, on February 19th, it was decided to hold a public meeting at the Board of Trade Rooms, to devise means to carry on the Institution on the existing basis of Museum and School.

At this meeting, held March 18th, a plan to solicit dollar subscriptions to aid in reducing the floating indebtedness was adopted.

Forty-three hundred and fifty dollars were obtained in this way.

The Treasurer's Report shows that even this extra effort was insufficient to meet the expenses of the Institution, and that the debt has been increased some twenty-five hundred dollars. It now amounts to nineteen thousand four hundred and two dollars and twenty-four cents.

Again, therefore, the members are called upon to discuss the financial affairs of the Corporation.

The condition of the Endowment Fund remains the same as last year.

The Curator's Report shows that the Museum—which is open to the public daily free of charge—was visited by two hundred and twenty-six thousand eight hundred and ninety-four persons, an increase of forty thousand over last year. The condition of the collections remains practically the same, the principal changes being the reception and return of objects loaned to the Museum for stated lengths of time.*

The entirely inadequate income has made it necessary again to reduce the amount appropriated to this branch of the Institution. It is now below the minimum necessary for the proper care of our own collections and of the objects intrusted to us as loans.

In March, because of this lack of funds, the assistant to the Curator, who had been taught the methods of marking, registering, and receipting for objects, was discharged. This leaves no one familiar with these matters to take the place of the Curator should he be disabled by accident or illness, and thus subjects the whole business of his office to the liability of being thrown into confusion.

During the early part of the year—until the appropriations by Councils for the maintenance and repairs of Memorial Hall became available; and the old employees of the Museum who were discharged last year could be re-engaged—the Park Commission detailed four of the Park Guards to take the places of the employees temporarily discharged from lack of funds. As the appropriation is for the repairs as well as for the maintenance of Memorial Hall, this condition of affairs may happen again at any time. Here, also, the Curator is justly concerned for the proper care and safe keeping of the collection while the attendants are men inexperienced and unknown to him.

* It may be interesting to note that in the past eight years, during which time the present system of registration has been perfected, upward of three thousand loans have been received and placed on view with the Museum collections. In all this time not a single object has been lost or mislaid.

The Principal's Report shows the continued prosperity of the School. In this department the Trustees have had, as heretofore, the earnest and able co-operation of the Associate Committee of Women. More than three-fourths of the money contributed during the year in excess of the regular income was collected by this Committee. Numerous manufacturers, also, have shown their interest in this work by gifts of costly machinery and material. In organization, equipment, and efficiency the School was never so well off as at the present time.

During the year the Institution has lost two most valued members—the Hon. John Welsh and Mr. Joseph E. Temple.

Mr. Welsh was one of our founders and incorporators, and at the meeting of March 10th, 1876, he was elected the first President of the Board of Trustees. The pressure of public duties in connection with the Centennial Celebration compelled him to resign this office after three months' service, but his interest in our success remained unimpaired during his lifetime, and he was always ready with his advice and assistance.

Mr. Temple was a member of the Board of Trustees at the time of his death. His munificent gift of fifty thousand dollars is still fresh in the memory of us all. Already the proportion of the interest of this sum which is available for the purpose of the School has been applied to the foundation of scholarships in Mr. Temple's name, and the good work which he made possible has been begun.

Following are the reports of the Curator of Museum and the Principal of the School :

THE MUSEUM.

During the year two hundred and twenty-six thousand eight hundred and ninety-four persons visited the Museum. More than fifty per cent. of this large number were Sunday visitors.

Three teas were given on the afternoons of May 10th, 17th, and 24th, by the Associate Committee of Women, for the benefit of the Museum. One of the Pavilions and the adjoining Arcade were used for these entertainments.

On May 31st the closing exercises of the School were held in the Rotunda. The exhibition of the work of students made on this occasion was kept open on public view during the summer.

Heretofore it was necessary, on account of the crowded condition of the Moore room, to display the numerous other gifts and loans made by Mrs. Moore in remote parts of the building. All of these objects have recently been brought together, at the request of this generous patron of the Institution, into the Pavilion adjoining the Moore room on the north, where preparations are now making for their arrangement and exhibition.

No other changes have been made in the arrangement of the collections.

The purchase account of the Museum is as follows :

1876,	$27,769 37
1877,	5,799 58
1878,	705 74
1879,	224 73
1880,	57 02
	<hr/>
Total,	$34,556 44

No purchases were made this year. A large number of objects in the collection have been given or bequeathed. No valuation is made of these objects.

The S. S. White Dental Manufacturing Company gave the Museum eight pyramidal plate-glass show-cases. Messrs. Erben, Search & Co. gave and Dr. F. W. Lewis had put up a large hexagonal case for the exhibition of school work.

Gifts of objects were made by

MISS A. E. BIDDLE :

Two Etruscan Vases.

MISS B. G. JANVIER :

Three Foils and Four Fencing Masks ; Nine wooden copies of Ancient Halberds, Battle-Axes, etc.

H. DUMONT WAGNER :

Mexican Spur.

THOMAS HOCKLEY :

Two Sixteenth Century Carved and Painted Wood Panels from Norway.

Contributions to the Library were received from

The Pennsylvania Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, the Cincinnati Museum Association, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, John Biddle Porter, Gilbert F. R. S. s.

Loans of Objects were made by Mrs. Bloomfield-Moore, Samuel A. and J. West Rulon, Mrs. W. Hinckle Smith, Dalton Dorr, William Platt Pepper, Miss Eva Laughead, Stewart Culin, William T. Tiers.

THE SCHOOL.

The history of the School is one of continued improvement.

During the summer vacation the School building was enlarged by the addition of a Mansard roof, the room thus obtained, some forty feet square, being used as a lecture room.

The only change which has been made in the corps of instructors has been the appointment of Miss Myrtie D. Goodwin as instructor in the class in applied design, in place of Miss Knowles.

Miss Goodwin is a graduate of the school, and had done excellent work in this class during the two preceding years.

Gratifying evidence of the direct influence of the instruction provided here upon industrial pursuits, and of the estimation in which the work of the School is held by manufacturers, continues to accumulate. Some of the students have earned many times the amount of their tuition fees by the sale of their designs, and applications for designers are constantly on file at the School in advance of our ability to supply them.

Former pupils have been sent during the year to occupy positions as designers for metal work, cabinet work, commercial engraving, and the manufacture of textile fabrics.

The Department of Weaving and Textile Design has received the following gifts of machinery and material :

A Hand Carpet Loom, from Messrs. Ivins, Dietz & Magee.

A Jacquard Machine, from Thomas Halton.

A Card Stamping Machine, from Thomas Dolan & Co.

A Broad Loom for Tablecloths, etc., from the Bridesburg Manufacturing Company.

A Roller Loom, from Thomas Wood & Co.
 A Bobbin Winder, from Thomas Wood & Co.
 Shuttles for all looms in the Department, from R. Sergeson.
 Reeds, from Thomas Stewart.
 Patent Stop Motion, from the Tucker Loom Stop Motion Company.
 Yarns, from Messrs. Erben, Search & Co.
 Yarns, from Messrs. E. H. Coates & Co.
 Silk, from the Sauquoit Silk Company.
 Valuable services from Thomas Beardwood & Sons, and from the Fairmount Dye Works.

Two hand looms, one of them a Jacquard, have also been purchased for this Department by the Philadelphia Textile Association, under whose auspices and through whose support the work of the class is conducted.

The following prizes were offered for competition among the students and were awarded at the close of the School year in June.

In addition to these awards, the following free scholarships for one year were granted to students for excellence in their work: C. Walter Gaskill, Charles Koshland, Albert Willis, Edgar V. Seeler.
