

MEXICO WOULD CLAIM THE FARALLONES

Asserts that Islands Were Not Ceded Under Treaty of 1848

San Francisco—The Mexican Government will claim the Farallone Islands, as well as all other islands off the California coast, according to press dispatches received from San Antonio, Texas.

Mexico City newspapers are quoted in the dispatches from San Antonio as saying that in addition to the Farallones, the other islands for which demand is being made by Mexico on the United States Government are: Santa Catalina, Santa Rosa, Santa Barbara, San Nicholas, San Angel and San Clemente.

The Farallones are the property of the United States Government. This country acquired the group upon the admission of California into the Union. Possession of the Farallones by a foreign power would at all times be a menace to California's safety, and would give cause for great alarm, as the islands could be used for an army and navy base.

It is also pointed out that, should Mexico insist in her claim to the property, grave international complications between the two countries may arise. The Oregon Government, the Mexico City papers say holds that none of these islands was included in the treaty provisions.

It is claimed by American lawyers in California who went over the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, dated February 2, 1848, under which Mexico ceded California to the United States, along with other territory, that Mexico in that treaty ceded all territory west of the present boundary line between the two nations at San Diego, and that the treaty on the face of it intended that Mexico should renounce all ownership of territory west of that point.

There were some lawyers in Santa Barbara who were inclined to believe at first that if Mexico had proclaimed her right to the Pacific Coast islands immediately after the signing of the treaty, she could have established a valid claim, but that seventy years' delay would have practically conceded the ownership of the United States, regardless of the terms of the treaty; and further, that the treaty itself makes it clear Mexico intended to convey everything west of the Rio Grande and the Colorado rivers.

TRAGIC END TO VACATION

Attempt to Change Places in Small Boat Proves Fatal.

San Francisco—Four persons, three of them members of a San Francisco family, were drowned in Fallen Leaf lake, near Lake Tahoe, when they attempted to change from one boat to another in a choppy sea, according to advices received from Fallen Leaf Lodge, El Dorado county.

Dead

Mrs. Grace A. Wilber, 50; De Long Wilber, 24, her son; Gracey Wilber, 23, her daughter; Jean Wilkie, 18, daughter of D. W. Wilkie of Daly City.

Aileen Wilber, 19, Mrs. Wilber's second daughter, narrowly escaped drowning. Clinging to the side of the overturned boat, as she saw her mother, brother and sister and her sister's chum drown, she managed to keep her head above water until rescued by Ralph Roble, a boatman, who heard her screams. Roble was a half mile from the place where the boats capsized when the tragedy occurred.

Mrs. Wilber, De Long, Gracey and Miss Wilkie were boating on Fallen Leaf lake when Aileen in another boat rowed out to them and the four attempted to change to her boat. Both boats capsized and the four women and the man were hurled into the water.

The water in which they were drowned is 200 feet deep, and there is little hope that the bodies will come to the surface or be washed ashore.

CREDIT MEN'S CONVENTION

San Francisco—Large delegations from the East and Middle West will attend the twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men opening this week in San Francisco. 2,000 delegates to the big convention are expected and San Francisco will be their host for four days of business discussion and hospitable entertainment. Included in the membership of the association are some of the leaders in the financial and economic life of the country.

IMPROVEMENTS TO STATE HIGHWAYS

$40,000,000 to be Spent on Coast Roads

San Francisco—Twenty million dollars, the largest amount of money expended in one year on the Pacific Coast by the Federal Government on State highways and post roads, is to be spent during the coming season by the Department of Agriculture. The Western states in which the roads are built will expend a like amount, and the whole forty millions will be disbursed under the direction of the Bureau of Public Roads, of which Dr. L. I. Hewes, deputy chief engineer, is regional director.

In addition, $12,000,000 will be spent on roads in national forests. These are being built wholly by the Federal Government. The Western district, which includes practically all the national forests in the United States, comprises Alaska and eleven states: Washington and Oregon; 2, California; 3, Wyoming and Colorado; 11, Montana, and Idaho; 12 Nevada and Utah; 13, New Mexico and Arizona.

In California twenty projects have been commenced in the last two months under the direction of C. H. Sweetzer, in charge of this district. The State and Federal Governments will share the expenditure of $4,000,000. The work should have been done some time ago, but owing to the inability of the State to sell highway bonds, was delayed until this spring. After July 1, $2,000,000 of Federal money will be available if the State spends a like amount. The road building includes seventeen miles in Santa Barbara county from Las Cruces to Zaca, which is the last link in the coast highway between San Diego and San Francisco. The road will be twenty feet wide and of concrete, six inches thick, much heavier than highways built by the State heretofore.

Another important project will be a portion of the hundred-mile stretch from Eureka north to Crescent City. This road runs through the redwood region which the State Legislature has passed a law to save from destruction by lumbermen. It is expected to be more popular than the Sacramento valley route to Portland, as it will be cooler in the summer and warmer in winter. It now takes a day for stages to go to Crescent City from Eureka. There is no railroad within 100 miles of the coast at Crescent City.

Other important road projects undertaken this year are: One hundred and eighty-five thousand dollar bridge over Feather river near Oroville; western end of Ukiah-Tahoe road, thirteen miles from Ukiah to Mendocino county line at Blue Lakes, while the State alone is working on the road from Marysville west; first link of seven miles of thirty-mile open-all-year highway in Yosemite from Mariposa to El Portal; concrete road, Denver to Rio Vista, a portion of the Fairfield-Rio Vista lateral of the State highway; twenty-one and four-tenths miles north from Auburn to Grass Valley; twenty-five miles, Galt, Sutter county, to Jackson, Amador county; two contracts on the Klamath river road, Happy Camp to Orleans, a portion of the forty-mile Klamath forest highway; fifteen and six-tenths miles of the Trinity river road from Redding to the coast at Eureka, hitherto not passable by automobiles.

The California grape crop for the 1921 season will bring a higher figure per ton than any previous year.

'21 CLASS HI-JINKS

The "Class of '21" entertained their relatives and friends Tuesday evening with the annual class night stunts.

The members of the class were introduced by the usual "picture show" after which Violet Lannis gave the president's address, closing with the motto, "We Build for Character not for Fame."

The history of the class was given in the form of conversation, the group seated about a bonfire, a replica of "Sneak Day" at the Big Basin, with Mr. Cramer present as class advisor. The various athletic, dramatic and social events of school life in which the class as a whole or as individuals has figured were briefly reviewed.

Marion Everett read the Class Will in which the usual bequests of physical characteristic or accomplishments were bequeathed to undergraduates.

The prophecy was presented in a clever way by showing each member in a future occupation, and a few unique and mirth provoking ones were a change from the general run of "all stars" often portrayed.

Thelma Weimer read the class poem, "Good-Bye", and the song was well sung by the class ensemble, with Prof. Halameck at the piano.

MISS SPECHER SHOWERED BY FACULTY

The Misses Boesch, Emerson and Sprecher entertained the high school faculty at the Dudley Wendt home in San Jose Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Snow of Los Gatos were also included as members of the "happy family."

Pretty girls in dainty organdies and silks were guided gracefully through the spacious rooms, and though the evening was warm delicious iced punch with cakes filled in the intervals of dancing, and the evening passed all too soon.

The young people voted a "Good time," with much appreciation to Helen's grandmother for her hospitality.

WINNERS FETED

The P. T. A. of Cambrian gave a delightful party to the sixth grade pupils of their school Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. B. Townsend. Games and refreshments passed a very pleasant evening, and the club decided to offer the same prize next year, the party being given the grade that had the largest attendance of mothers at the P. T. A. meetings throughout the year. Assisting Mrs. Townsend were Mesdames Barnes, F. Duncan, L. Gardner and L. Shelly.

CAMPBELL FACULTY CLUB HONOR GUESTS

The faculty of the Campbell-San Tomas school were the honor guests Monday evening at a reception given by the Home and School Club. The change from Tuesday evening, as first announced was made on account of Class Night at the High school.

An interesting musical program included vocal solos by Dr. W. I. Merrill and Miss Burgess and piano numbers by Mrs. Silk.

Mrs. Baldwin in a few happily chosen phrases voiced the regrets of the community for the resignations of Miss Reese who has been the efficient primary instructor for several years, and of Principal J. Rodriguez, who although connected with the school but a little more than a year, has been the means of securing our consolidated districts, of bringing the local school to a high standing along the lines of physical education demanded by the school, and of securing a spirit of interest and co-operation among the teachers and pupils in all branches of school work.

On behalf of the club, Mrs. Baldwin presented Miss Reese with a dainty picture, "June in the Tyrol", and Mr. Rodriguez with a gold Eversharp.

Ice cream and delicious cakes were served and a social hour enjoyed.

P T A COOKIE DAY

An interesting meeting of the P. T. A. of the High School was held Tuesday afternoon with the new president, Mrs. M. E. Purmort in the chair.

The chief item of business was the discussion of Cookie Day for the soldiers in hospitals in Palo Alto. A call for cookies was made at Christmas time thru the Home and School Club and now the High School Club has been asked to take charge of another. The response to the first call was not up to the usual quantity, but it being holiday season the boys had a quantity of other eats.

No such condition will be true this time and the ladies of the whole community will need to lend their help if Campbell is not to fail in its quota. This is also a busy time but let everyone help Cookies to be left at Blaine's store tomorrow June 18.

The president announced the committee chairmen for next year.

Membership, Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Raab, Mrs. Wood; Education, Mrs. Alison; Home, Mrs. L. Shelly; Americanization, Mrs. W. Turner; Legislation, Mrs. Townsend; Country Life and Good Roads, Mrs. Husted; Patriotism, Mrs. Day; Thrift, Mrs. F. Duncan; Recreation, Miss Ochsner; Publicity, Mrs. Blaine. Mrs. H. C. Miss Howe in her address presented the school a silver cup as the prize for winning the decathlon contest in the county athletic meet. She urged the graduates to keep stepping to hold a place in their world. They had parents and teachers to help them in the past but they must rely more and more on themselves in the future.

The decorations in the class colors, pink and green, were most artistic. Streamers in fan shape indicative of the parting of the class members and their influence hung above them while the lights were converted into hanging baskets of sweet pea bouquets.

Much praise is due the teachers and class for the arrangement of this occasion and Principal Rodriguez is to be highly complimented on the good work he has accomplished while with us.

BACCALAUREATE

The annual baccalaureate service for the high school graduation was held at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Josef Halameck presided at the piano and L. J. Carboni rendered a vocal solo.

In France, some American negroes were sitting beside the road, away behind the battle lines, watching troops moving forward to the front. These negroes were commenting on the names of the regiments which marched by. (Many of the regiments raised in England were named for the counties in which they were recruited, as "Kentish Rifles," "Northumberland Lancers," "Third Yorkshire Infantry," etc.) As these British troops marched by, one of the negroes took delight in calling out the names or number of the regiment. Suddenly down the road came a regiment of Highlanders in kilts. The negroes had never before seen a "kiltie" regiment, and one of them cried: "My! My! Look dere Sam, what am dat? Dey is too big for women and they cain't be men 'case dey is wearin' skirts; what you-all s'pose dey is?" "Why," said Sam, "dey is dat Middlesex regiment."

CAMPBELL HIGH SCHOOL will, tonight, graduate the largest class in its history. Naturally, this is a source of pride to the class, teachers and community. But from another viewpoint, Campbell has cause to be proud. This class has made a good school record, and its members have made an enviable record on the athletic field. The standards of thought and conduct have been high, and the general good reputation of the school has been upheld by this class of young men and women, which the school is now bidding "Bon Voyage," on their life's journey.

SOME OF OUR MERCHANTS have been holding high carnival with the paint brush the past few weeks, and are still at it. The Cafe has been re-arranged and re-dressed, making the service much more convenient and comfortable. The Bakery, Orchard City Market and telephone office have put on new coats and trimmings, and E. E. Sower and C. H. Whitman have painted up inside, giving brighter and showier display rooms. Let the good work go on. It will greatly add to the attractiveness of our town.

In this town of renowned patriotism and zeal during the strenuous war campaigns where it was the boast of all good citizens that we would do our bit to win the war, there were noticed, aside from the schools, but three flags flying on last Tuesday, Flag Day. These were at the library, Mrs. Keith's and the Press office. What is the cause of this slump of enthusiasm? Our people are not unpatriotic, but are rather lax in their display of it. "Lest we forget," show our colors, warranted not to run.

SANTA CRUZ ROAD IN GOOD CONDITION

J. N. Crawford, owner of the Gateway Garage, and D. D. Johnson, local tire dealer and vulcanizer, made a tour of inspection of the road between here and Santa Cruz, Monday afternoon, the trip being taken in a 490 Chevrolet car.

The road leads over the new pavement to Lexington and then over the Bear Creek road to the Van Lone summit and from there over the ridge road to the Mountain Charley road and on the latter road to the state highway at Glenwood, a distance of about 11 miles from Lexington to Glenwood. The trip was made in 1-1/2 hours.

Mr. Crawford states that the dirt road is in good condition and that anyone by careful driving can easily make the trip. The road in Santa Clara county is daily sprinkled and it is the intention of Supervisor Cooley to keep it in the best possible condition throughout the season.

Mr. Crawford was puzzled over a sign at the Glenwood end of the detour which reads, "Mountain Charley Road Closed" and another sign near it, and put up by the highway construction people, reading "Turn Here."

The distance from Lexington to the summit is 3-3/4 miles; from the summit to the Mountain Charley Road, 2-1/4 miles and over the Mountain Charley road to Glenwood 5 miles. After July 15, Contractor Connor promises to have the highway completed from Glenwood to Woodwardia and the detour from Lexington to that point will then be only 6 miles.

The road has been well marked by mine host A. P. Cox of Redwood Lodge, the signs being a white background and the lettering in red. They are very effective and are a credit to Mr. Cox's well-known enterprise. —Los Gatos Mail-News.

W.C.T.U. CONVENTION

The Forty-seventh Annual Convention of the W. C. T. U. will meet in San Francisco Civic Auditorium, August 18-23 next. Delegates and visitors from every state in the Union, Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico, have already signified their intention of attending and there will be thousands in attendance. Reservations are already being made at the hotels. The railroads have made rates from the different points in the East to San Francisco and return.

Besides the usual Convention features, interesting reports will be given by Miss Anna A. Gordon, National President, and Miss Julia Dean, editor of the "Union Signal", the National organ of the W. C. T. U., of their trip through South America, where they are at present making a survey of temperance conditions; William Jennings Bryan is expected to be the speaker one evening; Chester Rowell another evening; Saturday evening August 20, there will be a demonstration by the children and young people; Thursday evening, August 18, will be the Great Get Together dinner at the Auditorium, with places set for 800. At this dinner Gov. Wm. B. Stephens and Mayor James Rolph, Jr. will be among the speakers, and Miss Anna A. Gordon, the National President of the W. C. T. U. will be the toastmistress.

If there is in the Eighth Congressional District a young man who desires to enter Annapolis Naval Academy this year, and who can qualify by showing a certificate from a high school which will permit his entrance without examination, he may find an opportunity to do so by communicating with Congressman A. M. Free, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

No further examinations will be held for the Naval Academy during the present year, but a vacancy exists from this district.

The requirements for entrance by certificate are that the candidate must be between the ages of sixteen and twenty and must hold a high school certificate showing that he has completed fourteen high school credits. No grade is stipulated which the candidate must have attained, but the Examining Board reserves the right to reject applicants who have not obtained creditable marks in their studies.

If the certificate of the candidate from the Eighth District proves satisfactory, he may be given his physical examination at San Francisco, and upon passing this examination will be called upon to enter the Academy immediately. It was because of the failure of one of the District's bright young men to pass the physical examination that the vacancy now exists.

Further particulars as to entrance may be obtained from Congressman Free.

Campbell post office is to be relocated. The postal department has taken a ten year lease on the store building next east of the Growers' National Bank and will locate the postoffice there as soon as the owner, the Campbell Building and Investment Co., can put the building and fixtures in readiness. The office when moved will have key lock boxes instead of the combination in use at present.

MISERIES OF AGE

"THE paper tells of an old man who fell out of bed and broke an arm and three ribs," announced the landlady. "It doesn't seem possible, unless the bed was as high as an ordinary, old-fashioned walnut bookcase."

"I have no doubt that the bed was entirely normal," said the star boarder. "The fact that the victim was an old man explains everything. When I was young I frequently fell out of bed. It was a favorite pastime of mine, so to speak. And I never was injured in the least. Of course it roused me from my sleep, and I used to consider it funny, and would sit on the floor and laugh with demonic glee. But if I fell out of bed now it would be necessary to ring up the Red Cross headquarters for an ambulance and a few nurses."

"It is that sort of thing which makes age tragic. Every little mishap means suffering to the elderly individual. Go think of it, in silence and alone, Mrs. Jiggers."

"I remember when I first learned to skate. I was a young man, just growing my maiden sideboards. I should have learned the noble art when I was a boy, but my education in honest sports had been sadly neglected. It's better late than never, as the old adage has it, and so I took up the study of skating when I was at the voting age. It was on a brilliant winter day, and all the beauty and chivalry of the neighborhood had gathered at the pond to see me do my devoir."

"An expert skater who was present assured me that there was no trick to it. All I needed was confidence, he said, and I believed him. It looked passing easy, as I watched the others, gliding over the ice with ease and grace. So I fastened on my skates and stood erect, with the help of a couple of innocent bystanders, and then I went forward boldly, on my own initiative. Immediately I lost control of my feet, which previously had been docile and obedient organs. They wouldn't do anything I wanted them to, and the result was that I came down on the back of my head with such emphasis that I shook the whole pond, which was several miles long. The crack in the ice that I made with my head was there until the ice melted in the spring, and then you could see it in the water."

"I lay there in a comatose condition for a minute or two, and then scrambled to my feet and smiled. Yes, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, I actually smiled. The smile may have been a pallid, sickly thing, but it was true to type and couldn't have been mistaken for anything else. I was so little injured by that cataclysmic fall that I could smile. Not a bone was broken, not a joint dislocated. In a few hours I was as good as new, with the exception of a lump on the back of my head about the size of a baked turnip."

"Outwardly I look much as I did then. People often say to me that I haven't aged any in a quarter of a century. My hair is like the raven's wing, my alabaster brow has few wrinkles, I have the stately and commanding port of a man half my age. But it is all a delusion, Mrs. Jiggers. I am a whitened sepulcher. Inwardly I am as old as any man, and my bones are brittle as pipe stems, and my muscles are all dried up, and if I stumble over a pincushion I dislocate an ankle or break a leg."

"The other day I stepped on an orange peel and came down on the side-walk. I didn't fall violently. In fact, it took me ten minutes to fall. I struggled so hard to save myself, grasping at the atmosphere and trying to balance myself like a tight rope walker. But when I did eventually reach the pavement I felt as though the end had come to my misspelt life. My head ached for three days, and all my bones felt out of place, and my teeth were loose in their sockets. This thing of being old, Mrs. Jiggers, isn't what it's cracked up to be."

Very Likely.
Church: "Do you remember when they used to put a callopo at the end of a circus procession?"
Gotham: "Sure, I do!"
"Why did they do that do you suppose?"
"To show that the worst was yet to come, I reckon."

Made No Rash Promises.
"Who was the smooth talker?"
"A promoter."
"I dare say he wanted to make you rich in six months?"
"No. He was very conservative. He said he thought it would take at least a year."

The Reason.
"I see in a new production of 'Othello' they use electric lights in the murder scene."
"Probably that is to make Desdemona's death more shocking."

Trustees' Meeting Called by Miss Howe

June 13, 1921.

By virtue of the power conferred upon me by section 1566 of the School Law of California I hereby call a Trustees' meeting for Tuesday, June 28th in the Conference room adjoining the city Superintendent's office at the San Jose high school building.

I am calling this meeting so early for two reasons:—First, that we may get some light on recent school legislation, which, considering the many inquiries constantly being made, is needed, and second to have it before the rush of the apricot harvest.

Senator Jones will speak in the morning and explain the changes made in the law. State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Hon. Will C. Wood, will speak in the afternoon on the application of these laws. Come prepared to question freely.

Please publish the time and place of meetings as I wish not only the trustees but all interested to be present and take part. One thing that I want to have fully discussed is S. B. 656 by which elementary districts must be placed in high school districts.

Hoping to see your entire board and many others from your district, I am

Yours most cordially,
Agnes E. Howe

GARDNER ELUDES PURSUIT
Fleeing Bandit Escapes Posse and Disappears.

Kelso (Wash.)—It has begun to look as though Roy Gardner, daring convict and custody breaker, again has successfully eluded pursuit, following his latest spectacular escape from two San Francisco Federal officers on board a train while bound for McNeil island. Thorough patrolling of the territory surrounding the place where Gardner was reported to have been seen last failed to reveal his whereabouts.

Gardner is under two sentences of twenty-five years each for mail robberies in California. Under the first sentence he was en route to McNeil Island prison when on June 7, 1920, he escaped at Portland, together with a Chinese prisoner. He was captured in California recently and convicted of robbing a mail car near Newcastle, Cal., in May, this year.
