HIGH SCHOOL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DISCUSSED AT P.-T. A. MEETING

By Walt. Le Noir Church

Yesterday after 3 p. m. Mrs. Gibson's music room in the High School was the meeting place of the High School P.-T. A. The stand was decorated with tastefully arranged painted carnations, cherry, plum and apple blossoms. The whole faculty appeared to be present, with about seventy-five other people, including nearly all the sixty-one members of the High School P.-T. A. Because of a special program, the business of the association was deferred as requested by the president, Mr. Ferguson. The ever welcomed Boys' Glee Club and Girls' Glee Club provided the vocal music, with Miss Florence Heacock, the accomplished accompanist. The eleven athletic young fellows looked like a conquering cricket team; but they sang like lovers: "One Fleeting Hour," "O Sole Mio," and a humorous finish, telling how a reckless little scout went fishing on a Sunday and saw his own fish—fell into the water, yelled, and was larrupped by Dad for violating the holy day in two ways. (Guess the moral.)

The Girls' Glee Club delightfully sang "A Happy Song" and "Jennie," the song everybody loves. "The Sweetest Lass in All the Land Is Jennie," though the chances are that most every fellow has his own way of spelling and pronouncing the lassie's name.

The Secretary of Glendale's Chamber of Commerce, the invited speaker and guest of the association, was most courteously introduced by the president and received with flattering hands. The subject assigned to him was, "Why Should the High School Have a Junior Chamber of Commerce?" to co-operate with Glendale's Chamber of Commerce?

The line of argument was substantially this:

The public pays taxes to support public schools to make better citizens. Such a high school junior chamber of commerce would surely aid in teaching practical good citizenship. Therefore it would be a desirable thing to have.

It would not only arouse interest for civic affairs in the students themselves, but in their parents and friends.

The speaker showed how from mere apathy regarding the last election, the stay-at-home voters who did not vote made Democratic Arizona go Republican and Republican California go Democratic and elect the President of the United States, thus deciding great problems involving billions of dollars. Any conditions like those need remedial work, and the enthusiastic youth of the High School would be much more apt to do something definite than the apathetic voters who had suffered such relapse of civic conscience. The speaker claimed to be talking civics—not politics, saying that after any election of constable or president, the man elected is his constable or his president, so long as he holds office. That, in his judgment, is essential to good citizenship, with politics eliminated. He offered a simple form of constitution for a high school chamber of commerce as a basis for beginning work, but readily adjustable to any conditions, according to the wishes of the High School Seniors, to whom it was suggested that the work be limited to start with; they taking in other classes or individuals later, as they might think proper. The speaker said he, as Secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, would aid them, if desired, in every way he could, assisting in their organization, procuring speakers to address them, etc., etc.

Mr. Howe, teacher of U. S. History, said his pupils had an organized Senate and Assembly with an executive, and they discussed state and national politics in a very interesting and creditable way. They passed important bills, but (while they had eleven sweet singers) they had no eleven recalcitrant senators who would hold up needed legislation, as the manner of some is, who shall be as nameless here as Poe's maiden was to the raven.

Mr. Howe further said that if they could find a place and time to work in that suggested High School Chamber of Commerce, they might call on Glendale's Chamber of Commerce Secretary to help in various ways. When the applause died away, Glendale's C. C. Secretary arose to make a personal explanation. The substance was that since the class in U. S. History was so advanced in civics theoretically, their skill and enthusiasm would be doubly welcomed if applied now in a practical way for the benefit of Glendale. The audience heartily endorsed the plea. So note it be. The learned and popular principal of the High School, Mr.

AT STATE CAPITOL

LOS ANGELES FLOOD CONTROL APPROPRIATION BEING CONSIDERED

SACRAMENTO, March 6.—The legislative acts of 1915 through which state money is given toward the support of tuberculosis wards in county hospitals is declared constitutional in a decision to-day by the third district court of appeals in the test case of Sacramento county against John S. Chambers as state controller. The test case followed an opinion by the attorney general in which he expressed the belief that the act was unconstitutional.

Attendance at night schools in the larger cities of California has grown so fast that it took more than $100,000 the past year to conduct those schools, and in some cities the attendance was made up largely of Japanese and Mexicans. This came out in discussion of a bill before the senate committee on education. Senator Evans said it was not just to spend so much of the taxpayers' money to educate the children of those who could not become citizens or would not. Dr. E. R. Snyder, state commissioner of vocational education, said that the problem is one that should be put up to the federal government, but Senators Kehoe and Jones voiced the opinion that the state should educate all children regardless of whether or not they could or would become citizens.

The favorite game at the capitol just now is passing the buck to the finance committee. Any bill that carries an appropriation must, after it has been reported "do pass" by the committee to which it was originally referred, be referred to the finance committee, hence the other committees, knowing that the finance committee will kill the bill, or attempt to, avoid the disagreeable business of saying "no." They call it approving the object of the measure.

Thus, a bill to appropriate $10,000 for the purpose of gathering facts and writing them for a text book on California industries and occupations to be taught in the public schools as a part of the course in geography was approved to certain death by the senate committee on education.

There are two bills at least over which the legislature won't have to worry. They have been killed in committee. One is the Baldwin bill which sought to make Labor Day a general legal holiday and the other is the Lyons bill which aimed to give apartment houses a lien on baggage for debt of guests.

Directors of the State Humane association will be on hand this week to fight the Prendergast bill which provides that medical schools may purchase dogs and cats from pounds for experimental purposes in the study of medicine. It would compel poundmasters to sell impounded dogs and cats.

GLENDALE'S LOSS ON LACONIA

That the losses on sea caused by the warring nations affects all sections of the world seems quite evident when our attention is called to the fact that the mail on the Laconia contained over 50 copies of the Endocrinology edited by Dr. Henry R. Harrower of Glendale, and published by the Evening News. The lost copies were addressed to physicians in Scandinavia, Holland, Switzerland, France and Great Britain. The subscription price of single copies is one dollar and a half.

EASTERN STARS TAKE NOTICE

The visit of the Grand Matron and Grand Patron to Glen Eyrie Chapter O. E. S., will be on Wednesday, March 7. All Eastern Stars of the valley are invited.

George U. Moyses, in a very happy speech, congratulated the P.-T. A. on their large attendance and interesting program. He, too, approved whatever would reasonably aid in developing good citizenship.

The secretary, Mrs. Benjamin Nichols, read the minutes, showing that the High School P.-T. A. is in a very flourishing condition.

Then all adjourned to the cafeteria, and around the cosy little tables enjoyed a five o'clock tea long to be remembered.

There everybody bought tickets (five and ten cents) to the Children's Vaudeville for the benefit of Glendale Federation of P.-T. A., to be given in the High School Auditorium Friday, March 9, 8 p. m., and Saturday, March 10, 2:30 p. m. Each one of the schools will furnish one number. So a lovely entertainment is expected, and the proceeds will go to a most meritorious cause—one approved by all—condemned by none.

SAYS SHE CANNOT GIVE UP RIGHT TO SINK ENEMY MERCHANTMEN—DOESN'T INCLUDE NEUTRALS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Austria's reply to America's request in regard to the continuation of the Persia-Ancona pledges says she cannot give up the right to sink enemy merchantmen. Austria doesn't include neutral merchantmen under this right so the authorities are inclined to feel that she has strained a point to meet American efforts to avoid a break.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—The Committee appointed by the Housewives League met at Blanchard hall this morning and called on Mayor Woodman at the city hall. After an hour's discussion of the matter, the mayor promised to present a resolution to the city council urging the legislature and the governor to immediately prohibit the exportation of food until California is cared for.

Albert D. Pearce, Exalted Ruler, Glendale Elks Lodge, 1289

GLENDALE LODGE B. P. O. E. ELECTS OFFICERS

ALBERT D. PEARCE, WELL KNOWN LOS ANGELES ATTORNEY CHOSEN EXALTED RULER OF LOCAL LODGE OF ELKS AT ANNUAL ELECTION HELD LAST NIGHT

Monday evening, Glendale Lodge of Elks held their annual election of officers at their club rooms on Broadway, an unusually large number attending this session because of its peculiar interest. This organization is no doubt the largest and most representative body of men in the San Fernando Valley, its membership exceeding seven hundred or more citizens of Glendale, Tropic, Eagle Rock, Burbank, San Fernando and Fillmore. The club's splendid standing in the named as well as its well earned reputation as a distributor of local charity makes the election of its officers of peculiar interest to News readers.

In the election of Albert D. Pearce, Glendale lodge probably has for its exalted ruler one of the youngest men to fill that important station in the southern jurisdiction. Mr. Pearce since coming to Glendale about four years ago has by his public and social life justly merited the recognition which Glendale people accord him and while honoring him the local lodge brings honor to itself in selecting such a popular and worthy man for its highest office. Mr. Pearce is a member of St. Mark's Episcopal church and an attorney by profession, his firm being known as Evans, Abbott & Pearce, with offices in the Van Nuys Building, Los Angeles. He is a graduate of the law department of the University of Michigan, from which institution he received the degrees of A.B. and L.L.B., being an honor man there. After graduating from the university he located in Chicago as special counsel and business manager for a publishing corporation. Four years ago he came to California and opened an office in Los Angeles for the practice of his profession.

Glendale lodge No. 1289 are now perfecting plans for the erection of a distinctive club home on Colorado boulevard and through this organization this city will undoubtedly benefit in numerous ways during the coming year. The following is the list of officers for the coming year:

- Exalted Ruler, Albert D. Pearce.
- Esteemed Leading Knight, Bert P. Woodard.
- Esteemed Loyal Knight, Cameron D. Thom.
- Esteemed Lecturing Knight, Roger Brown.
- Secretary, Willis N. Kimball.
- Treasurer, Herman Nelson.
- Tyler, J. H. Mellish.
- Trustee, Howard M. Walker.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

The birthday anniversary of the Pacific avenue Parent-Teacher association will be held Thursday afternoon, March 8, at 3 p. m. The program will be in charge of the Educational committee of which Mrs. Hilbert is chairman. Miss Mary Putnam, vice principal of the Jefferson high school, will speak on "Vocational Guidance," which will be especially practical for mothers of children in the elementary grades. Miss Putnam was recently sent to New York by the Los Angeles Board of Education. Miss Edna Webb of Los Angeles will sing. A very cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. Greenwalt has prepared a parliamentary contest to be given before the regular program. Everyone is invited to this contest which begins at 2:30. Mrs. Roache with her committee is planning to have the rooms nicely decorated for this birthday party and Mrs. Cable, chairman of hospitality is making the birthday cake, which will contain two candles. Everyone is invited. People living in the district are urged to come and spend the afternoon whether members of the association or not.

WILL INSPECT MASONIC WORK

Following the regular business meeting at the Masonic Temple this evening, The Grand Lecturer Bro. Baker will inspect the officers on their work. Bro. Dean MacCormack was to have delivered a lecture on Masonry, but owing to an important business meeting in Los Angeles, it has been postponed until April.

Bro. Baker will, however, deliver an address along the same lines, which will be very interesting as well as educational.

Following the address a banquet will be served in the banquet hall below.

Every Mason in the valley is cordially invited to be present.

DORAN SCHOOL P.-T. A.

The Doran Street P.-T. A. will hold their regular meeting Wednesday, March 7, 1917, at 3 o'clock. A very interesting and instructive talk will be given by Miss Hansen on Domestic Science and Menus. Mrs. Calvin Whiting will give a reading and Forrest Jordan will play a violin solo. Refreshments and a social hour. All mothers and friends welcome.

CAMERON JOHNSON WILL SPEAK

A lecture on the "Key to the Far East" will be given at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening by Cameron Johnson, who has already delighted Glendale audiences with his beautifully illustrated lectures. He is an interesting speaker and it is worth while to spend an evening listening to the things he has to tell of other lands and other peoples.

FREE PLANS FOR FARM BUILDINGS

Hereafter any farmer who has farm buildings to build can obtain typical plans of such structures from the University of California without cost.

Through this free distribution of typical plans for farm structures, the farmers of California will be able to make use of the best modern ideas of architects, engineers, and agricultural experts as to how to design farm structures so as to get the best possible returns in the way of service, sanitation, and satisfaction.

For a year and a half the problem of preparing plans for farm structures especially suitable to California conditions has engaged the attention of the Division of Agricultural Engineering of the College of Agriculture. Now plans are ready for free distribution for dairy, hay, and utility barns; milk-houses, hog-houses, and chicken-houses; silos, septic tanks, feeding appliances, and various other farm structures.

Any farmer who is planning any building work on his farm should write to the Agricultural Extension Division, at Berkeley, and ask for a complete list of available plans and how he can borrow them.

The importance to the prosperity of California of this very practical new activity of the University is shown by the fact that ten million dollars is spent every year by the farmers of California on farm structures, and yet extremely few California farmers have in the past had the advantage of architectural and engineering advice from experts in farm architecture and farm engineering.

FINE OF $25 FOR UNREASONABLE KNOCKING

Why would it not be a good plan for every organization, whether it be church, social club or civic organization, to rule that a fine of $25 be imposed upon every member who engages in unreasonable knocking? Reasonable objections are always in place, but when it comes to the "You can't do this and you can't do that," uttered from the lips of the real chronic dyspeptic, diseased liver knocker, a $25 daily fine might aid in getting his liver right.

There has been great progress made in this blessed old world, but the "You can't do it" street corner loafer deserves no credit for it. It is really wonderful what great things can be accomplished by the co-operation of men who are capable of doing things. The pull-together spirit, the now ready, all at once plan accomplishes wonders.

Glendale has a population of 8639 people—all being intelligent beings, according to age and conditions, whose co-operation will do great things for the city and for humanity.

BUSY HANDS AND BUSY MIND

One of the blessings that is freely bestowed upon mankind is the privilege of being employed. The person in good health and right state of mind without something to do is deserving the pity of his fellowmen. To learn to do some kind of useful work should be required of every young person. That work, too, should be done well. There are thousands upon thousands of positions open to be filled for men and women who are well trained.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTION CONFERENCE TO DEAL WITH HUMAN MISERY

The abolition of human misery will be the keynote of the annual national Conference of Charities and Correction at Pittsburgh, June 6 to 13, General Secretary W. T. Cross announced in Chicago today. Unfair food prices, neglected children, slum districts, criminal classes, insane, mental defectives and unmoral conditions in out of the way rural districts will be dealt with and plans outlined for the elimination of them from national life. President Frederick Almy of Buffalo will talk about The Abolition of Poverty. Other speakers will be Thomas Mott Osborne, Wilfred S. Reynolds of Chicago, Robert A. Woods of Boston, Edward T. Devine and Morris Hillquit of New York, who will speak on social insurance, Dr. Owen Copp of Philadelphia. Thirty-five hundred social workers are expected to attend the conference from all parts of the United States.

RED HEADED MESSENGER BOY NOW COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Plain red-headed Marion Burton 25 years ago came to Minneapolis, opened up Tom Gardiner's Nicollet avenue drug store, swept it out, and delivered packages for the store, seven days a week, for $6 a week, from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

To-day, Dr. Marion Le Roy Burton is president of the University of Minnesota, at a salary of $10,000 annually. But he is the same Marion, and all he says about the change is that he did his best.

A NEW ENGLAND CONFLICT

Ages before the bitter struggle of the whites and Indians for the possession of New England, a fiercer struggle for dominion was waged there between the ice and the sea. Huge glaciers, thousands of feet deep and hundreds of miles wide, came down to New England from distant Labrador. For thousands of years a struggle raged between the sea and the ice. First the ice was victor; it pushed back the sea for scores of miles. Then the sun joined issue and the ice retreated before its power, not steadily but with halts and with spurts of new vigor and stronger advance. One of these halts, before the final wane of the power of the ice, is recorded in a peculiar ridge known as the Newington moraine, which runs through southern Maine and New Hampshire into Massachusetts.

This moraine is composed of gravel, sand, and stones scoured by the ice from lands far and near and borne within it to its edges, where these fragments of rock were melted from its grasp and fell into the sea, to be pounded and shifted by waves and currents and strewn over the shores and the shallows.

Then the ice melted and withdrew, other great forces of nature

HELP OTHERS TO HELP THEMSELVES

The Garden Society stands ready to lend a helping hand to those who need it. The officers of the Society appeal for co-operation in this great work. They need offers of assistance from men or women of practical agricultural experience willing to give instruction in tilling of soil and sowing of seed. They need assistance from people willing to lend, if necessary, hand plows or other gardening tools. They need offers from individuals willing to advance or donate money to start home gardens for deserving cases, or for general maintenance of the society's objects. How many Glendale citizens are willing to become patrons of this movement?

MUNICIPAL FISH MARKETS SUCCESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Prices were cut in half. Private dealers reduced their prices in accordance with those set by the municipal markets.

DIGGS AND CAMINETTI DENIED REHEARING

entered the melee and the crust of the earth rose 100 feet or more. So the fragments of rocks that had been piled in front of the ice were lifted from the sea and now appear as a long ridge, the sand and gravel of the sea floor becoming sandy uplands. On the dry, smooth tops of these uplands farms were cleared and villages were built, the early settlers choosing to cultivate their sandy soil rather than to labor at clearing countless boulders from the richer hills on the west or at painfully tilling the ledgy ground on the east.

Health came to the dwellers on this dry and well-drained ridge, and now visitors by thousands go there in summer to gain fresh vigor. The most modern need of all, the need of fine material for making highways, is met by the gravels of these ancient deposits of the ice and the sea.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL MOTHERS WELCOMED

The Glendale Union High School Parent-Teacher association held a very interesting meeting Monday. There was a good attendance and the audience was more than pleased with the music given by the two glee clubs of the high school. Mrs. Gibson may well be proud of her work with those classes. Mr. Walt. Le Noir Church was very earnest in his presentation of the matter of establishing a junior chamber of commerce in our high school. The idea is that our boys need more practical knowledge of how to be good, useful citizens when they leave our public schools. He cited Pasadena, telling how the junior chamber of commerce and the real chamber of commerce worked hand in hand, and of the benefit derived by both bodies from the mutual interest. The ladies served refreshments in the high school cafeteria and no guest was allowed to escape without a social chat. Many of the mothers of the new class were out and felt a real welcome given them. The membership committee was alive to the occasion and secured 22 new members, making the total membership 88. This is eight better than any previous record, but the aim of the committee is 100, and we hope at least 12 more high school mothers will note this.

NEW RIFLE CLUB

W. E. Palmer, who is promoting the Glendale Rifle and Revolver club, has made arrangements whereby the Evening News will receive the names of anyone interested in joining the new club and turn the same over to Mr. Palmer. Anyone desiring to join the club is requested to leave their names with Chief of Police Herald. A meeting will probably be held at the council chamber on Monday, March 12, at 8 p. m. The following is a partial list of the members of the new club: G. H. Herald, Chief of Police of Glendale, and his deputies, Roger H. Brown, C. O. Pulliam, Emil R. Kiefer, Grover R. Burnett, Otto M. Clinton, O. W. Tarr, M. Sunkes, Frank Welkin, Jr., A. E. Dodds, Les Burt, W. M. Mills, H. M. Miller and F. Conrad.

OFFERS LOT FOR VEGETABLE GARDEN

W. H. LaFountaine of 131 Acacia avenue has very generously offered the use of a large vacant lot which he owns, to be used for growing vegetables. The lot is 50x315 feet and is on Brand boulevard. The only return that Mr. LaFountaine asks for the use of the lot is that it be kept clean. Here is an opportunity for some family to very materially reduce the cost of living the coming summer.

JACOB C. PLANNETTE

Jacob C. Plannette, a former resident of Indiana, died at his late home on Riverdale drive, in Glendale, on March 4th at 6:40 a. m.

Funeral services were held on March 5th at 3 p. m. Rev. J. H. Henry, who had been a friend and neighbor, also a comrade, officiating. Interment was at Forest Lawn Cemetery, the G. A. R. Post conducting the service, Mr. Plannette having been a sergeant Co. E, 156 Regiment, Indiana Infantry.

Mr. Plannette's ancestors were French Huguenots who fled from France during the religious war of the 17th century, going to Germany. Mr. Plannette was born on June 26, 1834, at Baltimore, Maryland, his parents being Henry and Louise Worster Plannette. On June 29, 1854, Jacob C. Plannette was married to Sarah Ellen Rhodes, a spiritually minded woman of wonderful personal charm, who still survives him and is 80 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Plannette were the happy parents of 12 children, seven girls and five boys, ten of whom grew to maturity. Their golden wedding was celebrated thirteen years ago at Marion, Indiana.

The family lived for many years in Indiana, living in Indianapolis and later at Marion, removing to California five years ago to be near three sons and three daughters who, with their families, had already established their homes here. A daughter Ella, who is the wife of Dr. E. J. Martin of Covington, Ind., visited her parents last summer, accompanied by five children.

It was the custom of Mr. and Mrs. Plannette to frequently gather their several children and grandchildren together for a reunion, and many such happy events will be remembered.

The home life of this aged couple was ideal and never became commonplace. They never ceased to be lovers. Their devotion to their Heavenly Father and to each other was a beautiful example to their several children and grandchildren and to their many friends. Father and Mother Plannette, as they were lovingly called by many, lived very close to their Saviour and they found great peace and comfort in the knowledge that their Heavenly Father walked with them day by day and their long wedded life, covering a period of sixty-three years, was very happy.

Mr. Plannette had been frail for several months, but had been confined to his bed but one week prior to his death. During his last hours he appeared to have glimpses of the Great Beyond and was privileged to reveal to his loved ones gathered about his bed something of the eternal peace and joy that he was about to enter. As he held the hand of his faithful companion and spoke words of comfort to her, he seemed to be looking into the face of his Saviour as he said: "I can see my Heavenly Father. Oh Lord, our God, I come. Thy will be done." An exemplary life is ended. His work is finished. He has gone to his reward.

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Mr. Plannette is survived by a widow, three sons, Harry Plannette, George Plannette and Wm. Plannette, with their families, all residing in Los Angeles, four daughters, Mrs. E. J. Martin of Covington, Indiana, Mrs. Geo. McKee, Mrs. E. S. McKee, and Mrs. Grace Shinkle who, with their families, reside in Glendale, also a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edw. E. Plannette, who resides in Glendale.

POTATO PLANTING

Last night at 1111 W. Broadway, Mr. A. H. Wightman gave a splendid demonstration of how to cut potato seeds for planting. There should be two eyes, if possible, to a set. The interested spectators received a valuable lesson from Mr. Wightman, who used his penknife and cut up potatoes in a masterly and scientific fashion. A crop of weeds on the surface, if plowed under, will act as humus, and give nourishment to the growing plants. To prevent possibility of scab, it is well to steep the cut sets for one to two hours in a mixture of water and formalin, one pint of formalin to 30 gallons of water.

Sweet potatoes yield fine returns. Mr. Wightman told of a neighbor who planted sweet potatoes in two parkways and harvested two sacks full. However, sweet potatoes should not be planted out before the middle of April.

A chart of a vegetable growing program for the needs of one family for the month of March, can be studied at headquarters each evening. This chart tells how to plant now thirty-one different kinds of vegetables. Some choice, all right.

All visitor, whether seeking information or not, gladly welcomed each evening this week at 1111 W. Broadway, 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. All information free. No advertising of any sort, shape or description. Under auspices of the Glendale Garden Society.

Chas. Eggerson of Ruth street had the misfortune to have his left eye injured by a piece of emery flying off the machine he was operating in a Los Angeles machine shop Monday of this week. While the eye is seriously injured, it is not thought he will lose his sight permanently.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Westerly winds.

HORTON SHOE STORE VIES WITH CITY IN FOOTWEAR DISPLAY

While there has been no official week designated in Glendale as Fashion Show Week, local firms are making individual displays that are well worth noticing. An example of this is indicated in the superb spring display of fashionable footwear at Horton's Shoe Store, 327 S. Brand boulevard.

To begin with, the store is as beautiful as any in the county with its rich furnishings and plush upholstery, its modern inverted lighting system and delightful interior color scheme in the popular mosaic patterns.

For weeks, shipments of the newest in shoe styles have been arriving from the East—men's shoes from the well-known firms of Hanan of New York and Florsheim of Chicago and women's shoes from Moore-Shaffer Co. of New York.

The sizes in the shoes give a purchaser a wide range to choose from in the narrower lasts and a perfect fitting is assured from the fact that sizes are complete in all widths from 3a to d.

Horton's also makes a special showing of shoes in the children's department, Mr. C. C. Widney, the manager of the store, having specialized in the fitting of children's shoes for five years at the Bootery.

In addition to excellent and painstaking store service, Horton's maintains a first-class shoe-repair department and a free delivery service for the convenience of all purchasers.

Mrs. Ryan found this school very interesting as well as unusual. Miss Wright, the kindergarten teacher of the Broadway school, visited the Logan street and Micheltorena kindergartens of Los Angeles; Miss Matthews and Mrs. Rucker, Los Angeles city schools; Miss Pierce, Venice and Santa Monica schools; Miss Herrick, Long Beach schools; Miss Speick and Miss Paul, South Pasadena schools.

STORY TOLD BY A DOLLAR

"I am a dollar! A little ageworn, perhaps, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato-can dollar—not I. This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted in a town like this in another state. But, after a time, I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a mail-order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people. Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I was determined to make every effort to stay. One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a mail-order catalog. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him: "Look here, if you'll let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you a lot of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy hardware, and the hardware man will pay the doctor his bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his horse with, and the farmer will buy some fresh meat from the butcher, who will come around to the dentist to get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you send me away forever.

"The man said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before, so he went and bought the beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again. Now just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home, you could see the town grow. Honest, ain't I right?"—Implement and Vehicle Record.

OUR OWN LITTLE TOWN

If you meet a man who is down in the mouth, who thinks that his town is all wrong; just take him aside or give him a ride and hand him this quaint little song: "There are fancier towns than our little town, there are towns that are bigger than this; and the people who live in the tinier towns all the city excitement will miss. There are things that you can't see in the town that is small; and yet up and down there is no other town like our little town after all. It may be that the street through the heart of the town isn't long, isn't wide, isn't straight; but the neighbors you know in our little town with a welcome your coming will wait. In the glittering streets and pavement and thrall, in the midst of the throng you'll frequently long for our own little town after all. If you live and work and trade in our town in spite of the fact that it's small, you'll find that the town—our little town—is the best kind of town after all.—EX.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

He is a poor sign painter who cannot make a name for himself. It is easy for a man to follow advice that meets with his own views. A woman may know just what to say, but she invariably adds more to it. And the girl who counts on her fingers never overlooks the engagement finger. A revolution may be the same thing over again. He's a wise butcher who can make both ends meet. An egotist imagines he is in the best society when alone. If the good die young it is because they have no say about it. It is easy to appreciate the fine points of a sermon when they jab the other fellow. Every man is satisfied that he is worth more to his employer than his pay envelope indicates. Somehow the more you are willing to do for your friends the less time you have in which to do things for yourself.

A POETICAL RECIPE

Here's one of those fool things a reader comes across once in a while and can't let loose of until he has solved it. Try filling in the blanks with words that rhyme: Willie caught a little f— Mary put it in a d— Susie said it needed s— Mary said "It's not my f— For, indeed, I never k— What the cook would have to d— To prepare a f— to e— I suppose it's just like m—." A POWERFUL MIND

"So Stubkins has a mind of his own?" "I should say he has. And you ought to see her use it."—Chicago Herald. The key to success is advertising.

LINES ON A MOUNTED WOLF

By Smiley Fowler
The taxidermist's skill is evident
In beauty he has given to the husk
Of this ferocious beast which had,
In life,
No comeliness nor grace. What art
Is his
Who blots out all the meanness and
The trace
Of inborn treachery that made this thing
The terror of the plains, and gives instead
A tawny coat that humankind might stroke
Without instinctive dread!
What art, indeed,
Is his who hides the hunger and the woe
Of ten thousand years in eyes that we May gaze on and forget! What irony
Is this that fills the gaunt and wasted form
When life is gone and frenzied hunger gone stilled!
This remnant of a plaything Nature gave
To evil gods upon the arid plains
Was born accursed to propagate a race
That has no purpose and no hope.
It drew
The breath of life in want and fought against
Its fellows to survive.
In canyons where
The fury of the blizzards ruthless falls
This beast outlived the famine and the snow,
And on the burning desert followed trails
That hinted of disaster—and of meat.
Intelligence was given to prolong
The agony of existence. Mother-love
Was given as the crowning load it bore.
This thing we gaze at now is vexed
No more with thoughts of offspring
—perishing;
It hears no more the stifled whines;
nor feels
The tiny lips upon its dried-up dugs.
Ah, this is art indeed that so reveals
And so belies the facts of life!
What is beyond? We say that there is naught
But death for beast life; and for man alone
The cycles of eternity hold hope
Of recompense.

PURPOSE OF READING

Books are for the scholar's idle times. When he can read God directly the hour is too precious to be wasted in other men's transcripts of their readings. But when the intervals of darkness come, as come they must—when the sun is hid and the stars withdraw their shining—we repair to the lamps which were kindled by their ray, to guide our steps to the east again, where the dawn is. We hear that we may speak. The Arabian proverb says: "A fig tree, looking on a fig tree, becometh fruit."—Emerson.

RELATIVE VALUES

The cost of medicine is very small, but it may save your life. We can go through life on a bobbed or astraddle on old blind horse, or sit and mope and snuff ashes in the chimney corner, but what is that worth? It does not cost much, but the returns are worse than nothing. We are not placed in the world to see how cheaply we can get through life, but to see how much good we can put into life for the general good, to enjoy life and to show that it is worth living. Nothing is of worth merely of itself, but the value consists in what it can, will, and does do.

A SUSPICION

"Why is George Washington described as 'First in war and first in peace'?" "I dunno," replied Senator Sorghum. "I suspect somebody was trying to square him with both the preparedness people and the pacifist."—Washington Star.

SILENT, BUT ELOQUENT

Otto H. Kahn, who has given his estate in England as a home for blind soldiers, was talking about the horrors of war. "The other day," he said, "two men on a Hoboken pier saw a huge cargo of wooden legs being loaded on a steamer for shipment to Europe. "Those wooden legs," said the first man, "are a mighty eloquent argument against war, are they not?" "Yes," the other man agreed; "they're what you might call stump speeches."—Buffalo Evening News.

A POSER FOR THE JUDGE

Writing of Polish temperament and talent, Sidney Whitman in "Things I Remember" has an amusing story of a bright Polish Jew who traded in chemicals. He was brought before the law courts for selling poison without fulfilling the legal enactments bearing on such transactions. The magistrate proceeded to read out the charge when the Jew suddenly interrupted him with the question: "Excuse me, Mr. President. Do you understand anything about chemicals?" "Mr. S., the expert, is here in that capacity," replied the judge. "And you, Mr. S.," queried the Jew, "do you understand anything about law?" "You have just heard from his worship that I am an expert in chemicals. If you want to know anything about law, please address yourself to the judge." "I ask you, Mr. President, just to consider the case for one moment. You are the judge of the court and admit that you do not understand anything about chemicals, and the expert tells us that he does not know anything about law. And I, a poor Jew, am expected to be familiar both with the law and with chemicals. Now, Mr. President, I ask you how you can possibly convict me?"

HELP THE CITY GROW BY RESOLVING:

- That you will keep so busy boosting that you won't have time to knock.
- That you will vote, talk and work for a bigger, better, brighter town.
- That you will increase the value of your property by improving its appearance.
- That you will say something good about this town every time you write a letter.
- That you will invest your money here where you made it and where you can watch it.
- That you will not point out the town's defects to a stranger nor fail to point them out to a neighbor.
- That you will keep your premises cleaned up and your buildings repaired as a matter of both pride and profit.
- That you will brag this town so much that you will have to work for this town in order to keep from being a liar.
- That you will take half a day right now to pick up the odds and ends around the place and turn them into either use, money or ashes.
- That you will contribute as much money as you can afford and as much enthusiasm as anybody, to any movement to develop the town's resources.
- That you will make friends with the farmers, if a town man, or with the town folks, if a farmer, and help work together for the good of the community of which this town is the center.

THE HOME BOOSTER

If you like the old town best, Help her grow! If you'd have her lead the rest, Tell 'em so! When there's anything to do, Let the fellows count on you; You'll feel bully when you're through Don't you know? If you want to make a hit, Get a name! If the other fellow's it, Who's to blame? Spend your money in the town, Where you pull the shekels down; Give the mail concern a frown— That's the game! If you're used to giving knocks, Change your style! Throw bouquets instead of rocks For awhile. Let the other fellow roast; Shun him as you would a ghost; Meet his hammer with a boast And a smile. When a stranger from afar Comes along, Tell him who and what we are— Make it strong. Needn't flatter, never bluff; Tell the truth, for that's enough. Join the boosters—they're the stuff! —The Lordsburg-Laverne Board of Trade.

HOW TO GROW VIOLETS

Select a somewhat shady, well drained spot for the violet bed. Take away the top three or four inches of soil, unless it is well enriched loam, and replace it with equal parts of well rotted manure, leaf mold and thoroughly decomposed sod. Late in April the plants may be set out. Usually plants can be obtained at a small cost from growers who are glad to thin out their beds. Put them six to eight inches apart each way. They must have plenty of water all summer. In the early fall put a cold frame over the bed. Cover the plants with straw or leaves after the first hard freeze and do not let them thaw. Then put the wooden shutters over the top of the frame. When thawing commences, in February or March, the wooden shutters should be replaced with glass ones. In the warm part of the day keep the shutters raised a little to let in the air. Never allow the plants to freeze again after they have started to grow.

county, intended for use in conjunction with federal appropriations and money raised by a local bond issue, has passed from the Drainage committee of the assembly to the Finance committee of that body and now it is problematical whether the latter committee will report it out favorably. The state budget does not mention this appropriation, but recommends the $500,000 appropriation for the Sacramento flood control project. The opinion prevails that if Los Angeles appropriation bill is reported out at all by the finance committee it will reach the assembly with a minority recommendation that it be passed.

An appropriation of $10,000 for the erection and equipping of a school building at Folsom prison, urged by Warden Smith and recommended by the State Board of Control, is attracting interest among educational and uplift workers throughout the states.

When Professor Manuel Jacobs, with the support of Warden Smith founded the prison school at Folsom three years ago, he started with a class of 23 prisoners. There are now 300 enrolled in the numerous classes which embrace every subject from A B C's to philosophy. Professor Jacobs is assisted in his work by a faculty of prisoners, the personnel of which is quite unique. Among the 42 faculty members are men who are serving terms ranging from one year to life. There are 21 first-termers, 11 second-termers, two third-termers, two fourth-termers, one seventh-term and three who are destined to spend the rest of their lives behind the walls at Folsom. Their crimes range from drawing bad checks to murder.

ENTHUSIASTIC W. C. T. U. MEETING

A large company of white ribboners met in all-day session Friday, March 2, in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. David Francy, 308 South Kenwood street, for their thirteenth annual meeting. At the noon-tide hour three large tables loaded with appetizing eatables were surrounded by the women present, who enjoyed a social hour with the delicious refreshments. Mrs. Francy and her charming daughters proved most gracious hostesses, dispensing free hospitality and a cordial welcome to all. Interesting reports of the past year's work was given by the five officers, branch secretaries, eight church vice-presidents, and superintendents of the eighteen departments carried by this union in the "do everything" policy of the national organization. Efficient work and increased interest were shown all along the line. Meetings have been held semi-monthly, besides many special, committee, social, and public meetings. The press and publicity department exhibited 165 yards of press clippings pasted in length, pertaining to the work and its allied interest in the recent California dry campaign. Thirty yards of notices and write-ups in the Glendale papers, graciously given by the editors. It was also shown that over 3000 newspapers of our land, including 841 dailies, 35 college papers and 64 magazines now exclude all advertisements of intoxicating drinks, a marked progress and improvement in the past decade. We are greatly pleased that all of Glendale's papers are included in this list for clean journalism. Hundreds of posters and 20,000 pages of temperance literature were given out during the year by the literature department. A creditable amount of money and over 100 garments have gone to aid the needy in hospitals and homes, through the flower mission work.

The president's address gave a brief resume of the progress of prohibition, in which contest our organization is a strong and influential factor of importance. Twenty-five states have now banished John Barleycorn, eleven of these accomplishing this act in the last twenty months. Eleven states more are striving through legislature and referendum to join the dry column, and only eleven more are needed to secure the requisite two-thirds of the forty-eight, for ratification by United States Congress for national prohibition. Her personal report showed a large amount of local work accomplished and many addresses given in other places.

The election of officers was smoothly and pleasantly conducted by the president, resulting in the choice of the following for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Ruby Jordan Smart; vice-president, Mrs. Mary L. Moore; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Jennie Mottern; recording secretary, Mrs. Louise Morton; treasurer, Mrs. Nannie Palmer; Young People's Branch secretary, Mrs. Katherine B. Rowe; Loyal Temperance Legion, Mrs. Fannie Brooks.

THE HOME TOWN

Some folks leave home for money And some leave home for fame, Some seek skies always sunny, And some depart in shame. I care not what the reason Men travel east or west, Or what the month or season The home town is the best.

The home town is the glad town Where something real abides, 'Tis not the money-mad town That all its spirit hides. Though strangers scoff and flout it And even jeer its name It has a charm about it No other town can claim.

The home town skies seem bluer Than skies that stretch away, The home town friends seem truer And kinder through the day, And whether glum or cheery Light-hearted or depressed, Or struggle-fit or weary I like the home town best.

Let him who will go wander To distant towns to live, Of some things I am fonder Than all they have to give. The gold of distant places Could not repay me quite For those familiar faces That keep the home town bright. —Detroit Free Press.
