The American Theatre has had for several evenings a succession of crowded houses, which indicate at once that the efforts of the managers in catering for the public amusoment are justly appreciated.

We have for ourselves been much gratified at the performances recently at that establishment. The Stock Compane, notwithstanding the ill natured remarks of some dissatished persons, do ample justice to the inferior characters, while the "Stars" sustain the more arduous and were difficult parts in a manner commensurate with their reputations. Mr. and Mrs. Barrett are finished performers in their line, and fully merit the encomums that have been passed upon them by the northern critics. None here who witnessed their delineations of the characters respectively assigned to them in the Hunch-Back and the Dumb Belle will heutate to agree with us in our favorable opinion of their merits.

In the House a pretty sharp discussion ensued upon the validity of the election of Mr. Moore of Kentucky, from the 6th Congressional District, which finally gave way to allow the Speaker an opportunity to communicate the report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the removal of the depositesthe reading of which being dispensed with, 10,000 copies were ordered to be printed. The Speaker thereupon commenicated a report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the cultivation of the Sugar Cane-a report from the board of Engineers -the annual report of the Treasurer and the report of the late Clerk of the House on the contingent expenses, which being laid on the table and ordered to be printed, the
