Call Conferences To Get Labor View On Unemployment

Government to Meet Representatives of Labor and Soldiers; B. C. Representatives to Attend National Unemployment Conference in Ottawa.

Representatives of labor and returned soldiers will be called into conference with members of the Provincial Government on the unemployment situation next week, following the Cabinet Ministers' unemployment conference with industrial and municipal leaders in Vancouver to-morrow, Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General and Minister of Labor, announced this morning.

After these conferences have concluded their deliberations, J. D. McEwen, Deputy Minister of Labor, and J. H. McVety, Superintendent of Government Employment Bureaus, will go to Ottawa to attend a national-wide conference on unemployment August 31 and September 1 and 2, Mr. Farris stated.

"Following the conference of industrial and municipal representatives called for Vancouver to-morrow, we are calling two further conferences on unemployment for next week," said Mr. Farris, "so that we shall be able to get the views of all sides interested in the unemployment problem. In view of the fact that representatives of the employees who will attend these conferences would have to undergo considerable expense if they had to travel far, one conference will be held in Victoria next Tuesday and another in Vancouver next Wednesday.

"Representatives of a number of organizations in the different lower coast and mainland cities and municipalities will be invited to send representatives to these two conferences. Invitations will be sent to the Economic Council, the United Council of Soldiers and other soldier organizations not members of this Council, Trades and Labor Councils and to representatives of unorganized labor also.

"One purpose of these two conferences," Mr. Farris explained, "is to strengthen our position in representations which will be made by our representatives at the national-wide conference in Ottawa later.

B. C. Has Special Problem.

"The Ottawa Government has a special interest in the British Columbia unemployment problem, on account of the fact that our climatic conditions draw a great many men here from other provinces, the Attorney-General declared. "So far the Ottawa Government has shown a satisfactory disposition to co-operate with us in our efforts to cope with unemployment and we hope that this relationship will continue throughout our work in this problem.

"The two conferences here and in Vancouver next week will discuss the unemployment situation from the standpoint of the employees and industry," Mr. Farris explained. "Tomorrow's conference in Vancouver will be confined to representatives of the municipalities and to industrial employers."

"The three conferences, it is explained, will serve to place before the Government all sides of the unemployment problem. Thus, when Mr. Farris spoke (Concluded on page 12.)

RALLY MADE BY SIR SAM HUGHES

Former Dominion Minister Has Turn For The Better

Lindsay, Aug. 9.—After relatives and physicians had kept an all-night watch expecting the death of Sir Sam Hughes at any moment, the patient made another remarkable rally about 9 o'clock this morning and life official bulletin at 3.30 said he was conscious and conversing as usual with those at his bedside.

Lindsay, Ont., Aug. 9.—Inquiries concerning the condition of Sir Sam Hughes are numerous these days. They have been days of great anxiety. Sunday he took a turn for the worse following nourishment. Monday, however, he rallied considerably and was quite cheerful. ## Japanese Said to Support Disarmament Conference

Washington, Aug. 9.—The Japanese Ambassador to the United States, Baron Shidehara, disagrees with the official statement issued by the Japanese Embassy in London last Friday saying there was a "certain current of opinion in Japan unfavorable to the American proposal for the disarmament conference" and predicting "that the practical result cannot be reckoned upon with any degree of confidence."

"The Ambassador emphasized the rather unusual situation of disagreeing with the Japanese Embassy in London by issuing the following statement:

"The Japanese Embassy, whose attention was called to the Associated Press dispatch from London, disavowed any knowledge of the statement said to have been issued by

COUGAR HUNTERS FOUR IN NUMBER

Statement by Game Conservation Board Head

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—There never was any intention on the part of the Game Conservation Board to employ a large number of expert cougar hunters for British Columbia, according to Dr. W. R. Baker, head of the Board, who has just returned from a trip through interior game districts. Dr. Baker stated the Board was gathering to hold a competition for the Fiftieth Gordon Highlanders Cup, and for other trophies.

It is proposed that a gathering to hold a competition for the Fiftieth Gordon Highlanders Cup, and for other trophies.

YAWL CROSSED THE ATLANTIC

Five Adventurers Sailed Thirteen-ton Craft

Halifax, Aug. 9.—To Burnham-on-Crouch, England, from Halifax in twenty-six days, July 12 to August 8, was the accomplishment of the thirteen-ton yawl-rigged cruiser yacht Neith, according to word received in Halifax from the tiny craft, which the tempestuous Atlantic was forced to give "safe passage" if not "bon voyage."

On the eve of the departure of his four companions and himself, Lieutenant Commander Sidney Houghton, owner and commander of the yawl, stated he expected to be at sea twenty-four days. Allowing time for a call at Newfoundland, he made a close estimate. After leaving Newfoundland the Neith was 15 1/2 days making Ireland.

Party of Five. Commander Houghton's companions were Howard Bell and Clifford Willard, of New York; Dwight De Wolf, of Halifax, and Mortimer Jordan, coolie. The Neith carried provisions for two months and also had on board a fourteen-foot dory with water-tight bulkheads, which had supplies for fourteen days to be used should it be necessary to desert the ship.

MAN DYING; SNAKE TAKEN TO CHURCH SERVICE BIT HIM

Nauvoo, Ala., Aug. 9.—William Edmonds is in a critical condition, and his brother, Rev. Albert Edmonds, is seriously ill to-day from the bite of a snake, said to have been used in a religious service at a revival near here Friday. Rev. Edmonds is said to have taken in congregation that the true believer was immune to the bite of reptiles, and invited non-believers to bring poisonous snakes to the service. A copperhead was captured and taken to the meeting. William Edmonds and the minister were bitten and immediately became ill. William Edmonds, doctors say, will die.

CITY TO DECORATE

Business and good publicity for Victoria will result from the influential convention of Canadian Life Underwriters which will be in session here beginning Tuesday of next week. Six hundred delegates from the East and two hundred from the Pacific Coast will be in attendance. At least sixty automobiles, thirty from Portland, will journey here for a call.

Percy Abell, chairman of the Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sends out an appeal to co-operate. The city will be decorated in honor of the delegates. "Please put up those exterior and interior holiday decorations, together with appropriate window displays. Cards at least should be displayed in windows reading, 'Life Underwriters, 'Victoria Welcomes You.' The Victoria underwriters extended themselves to bring the convention here and the retailers are asked in this way to show their appreciation," says Mr. Abell.

The anti-waste press continues to agitate departmental extravagances alleging that the 1,100 officials of the now extinct Food Ministry have sought cover and emolument in the Board of Trade, while the Ministry of Labor in its three years of existence has acquired a staff of 3,100 officials whose combined salaries reach an annual total of $5,900,000 and the cost of the Department is $20,000,000 a year. (Concluded on page 12.)

AUSTRALIA TO SEND DELEGATES TO LEAGUE MEETING

London, Aug. 9.—(Canadian Press)—A Reuter cable from Melbourne says it is officially stated Australia probably will send a delegation to the next meeting of the League of Nations.

FIRE DESTROYED ONTARIO FRUIT CANNING PLANT

Belleville, Ont., Aug. 9.—Fire yesterday completely destroyed the Frankford Canning Company's facility with all its machinery and supplies. The loss also included a season's pack of fruit and vegetables and considerable stock of last year's canning. The loss is estimated at $130,000.

New Industries By Government Loans Attain Success

Sixty-Five Concerns, Employing 1,500 People, Have Been Aided By Department of Industries; $1,720,858 Out of $3,000,000 Grant Has Been Loaned Out.

New industrial projects which the B. C. Department of Industry has put on their feet are making good, according to reports submitted by Major Donald B. Martyn, Deputy Minister of Industries, to his Advisory Council at their meeting in Vancouver to-day. Major Martyn's reports, in fact, were a source of the utmost encouragement to the Advisory Council, particularly in view of the business depression which is affecting so many industries.

OREGON INVITES B. C. STUDENTS

Would Accommodate Unrolled B. C. University Scholars

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—One of the subjects to be discussed by the Senate of the University of British Columbia at its next meeting on August 16 is a telegram from the University of Oregon offering to accommodate British Columbia students who, in view of the restricted space can not be enrolled here.

The message, which was signed by Registrar Carlton C. Spencer, read as follows:

"Find ample room for British Columbia freshmen in Autumn. Always welcome Canadian students account usual good scholastic preparation. Letter follows."

The letter mentioned in the wire contained a number of application forms for prospective students. These are being held for the use of those who wish to take advantage of the American university's offer.

Other telegrams were received in Vancouver from the University of Washington and the University of California. These indicated a desire to co-operate in relieving the situation here, but expressed some doubt as to the qualifications of British Columbia students being in line with their requirements.

Regret Expressed. J. S. Gordon, Municipal Inspector of Schools and a member of the Board of Education, expressed his most generous offer, but the situation has come to a sorry pass when our students must look to a foreign country for their education. If conditions were better, we would be sure a number of British Columbia freshmen will accept Oregon's invitation.

Higher Fee. The meeting of the Senate called for August 15 is to deal with a proposal to increase the fee of the forthcoming session to $75 and to consider the general question of accreditation for increased attendance.

Think Worst Stage Past. These facts are very remarkable, it is declared, in view of the fact that in the opinion of the Advisory Council, the worst stage in the present business depression is passing now. Nearly all B. C. sawmills are now operating at a small profit the Advisory Council was informed, while practically all shingle mills throughout the Province are working, and it is almost impossible to secure the services of a shingle sawyer at the present time. It is a general feeling that the lumber market will improve soon and that more business will be able to operate without detriment.

COMMONS WANTS FULL INFORMATION

British Government's Economic Committee Plan Questioned

London, Aug. 9.—(Canadian Press).—The British House of Commons is showing undisguised uneasiness, even hostility, over the proposal of the Government to establish an economic committee to be presided over by Sir Eric Geddes and to be composed of various business men.

In doggedly parrying a number of questions concerning the proposed committee, Austen Chamberlain, the Government leader, expressed his inability to indicate the terms of reference of questions and problems to the committee or indicate the probable composition of the body. He explained this lack of information by the fact that Premier Lloyd George and other Ministers were away from London.

Members of the House appeared to be anxious to know whether members of the Government, the Chancellor of the Exchequer for example, would be included in the committee and whether the committee would usurp the normal functions of the Treasury in watching departmental expenditure.

Attacks. The anti-waste press continues to agitate departmental extravagances alleging that the 1,100 officials of the now extinct Food Ministry have sought cover and emolument in the Board of Trade, while the Ministry of Labor in its three years of existence has acquired a staff of 3,100 officials whose combined salaries reach an annual total of $5,900,000 and the cost of the Department is $20,000,000 a year. ## No More Troops to Silesia and Border Line to Be Drawn

Agreement Between Lloyd George and Briand About Division of Territory to Be Ratified by the Allied Supreme Council.

Paris, Aug. 9.—The Allied Supreme Council decided to-day not to send reinforcements for the Allied troops to Upper Silesia. When the question came up as to the sending of additional French troops as reinforcements, the British delegation voted against such action.

Paris, Aug. 9.—Premier Briand of France and Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain decided at a private meeting upon a compromise partition of Upper Silesia, it was declared here to-day of good authority.

The compromise boundary line is understood to have been drawn approximately as follows:

Beginning west of Plesson, on the Vistula River, and running west of Gleiwitz, west of Tost and Gross-Strehlitz, north to between Roanburg and Kreuzberg and thence to the frontier of Northern Upper Silesia.

This line, while by no means a straight one, approximately bisects the Silesian plebiscite area.

The reputed agreement must be formally ratified by the Supreme Council and the possibility of this action at the late afternoon session to-day was forecast. At this time the geographical experts of the French, British and Italian delegations who were engaged in the early afternoon in considering the precise marking of the line, were expected to have ready the report they had been instructed to make.

PASSENGERS OF SAN JOSE LANDED

Effort to Move Ship From Reef Off Mexico

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 9.—All passengers aboard the Pacific Mail steamship San Jose were landed and an effort is now being made to get the vessel off San Pablo Reef, Ascension Island, Lower California, by her own engine, according to a radio message received at the navy station here this morning.

The San Jose is a steamship of 2,135 tons and is owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. She is a two deck steamship of steel construction, and was built in 1882 at Chester, Pa. She was bound from Mexican West Coast and Panama ports to San Diego and San Francisco and ran on the reef early this morning.

Cargo Jettisoned. Her condition was described shortly after 10 o'clock this forenoon when the following wireless message was received:

"Shifting, jettisoned cargo; passengers going ashore."

Under orders to make the trip at full speed, the United States destroyer left San Diego at 4 a. m. to-day when Mrs. Mahoney of the San Jose. It was expected she would reach the scene this afternoon.

On board the San Jose when she struck were 32 passengers and a crew of 56.

BODY FOUND IN TRUNK IN LAKE

J. M. Mahoney Charged With Murdering Wife

Seattle, Aug. 9.—Positive identification of a naked, mutilated body found in a trunk in Lake Union here yesterday as that of Mrs. Kate M. Mahoney, missing wealthy Seattle woman, was made by Mrs. C. Hewitt of Wenatchee, Washington, a niece of the victim, police announced to-day.

James M. Mahoney, husband of the missing woman, was removed to a solitary cell in the county jail soon after the body was discovered.

Mahoney is thirty-eight years old. Mrs. Mahoney was sixty-seven. They had been married a little over a month when Mrs. Mahoney disappeared about April 15.

On Trail. Even before Mrs. Mahoney's disappearance, police officers were trailing Mahoney, it became known to-day.

"When James Mahoney, thirty-eight, married Kate Moore, sixty-seven, we watched him," Deputy Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Patterson said to-day. "A detective became suspicious of the affair, and his suspicions resulted in the check which led to the discovery that Mrs. Mahoney was missing," he declared.

When Mahoney was told that the body of his wife had been found, he declined to make any statement.

Later he is quoted as having remarked to a reporter: "Any way, they can't do any more than hang me."

At this time the geographical experts of the French, British and Italian delegations who were engaged in the early afternoon in considering the precise marking of the line, were expected to have ready the report they had been instructed to make.

No Reinforcements. It was upon the private settlement being reached, it is understood, that the Council decided not to send reinforcements to Upper Silesia, at present the British and German delegations voting against the sending of French troops for this purpose as France had desired. Sir Harold Stuart, the British Silesian Commissioner, and General Maritz, the Italian Commissioner, argued that if the Council agreed immediately upon the boundary line it would not be necessary to send reinforcements, as they believed both Germany and Poland would accept the Council's decision.

As Precaution. The conviction of General Leroche, of Ercize, head of the Commission, was that the British were there were an immediate decision of the Council, and he urged the ordering of reinforcements as a precautionary measure.

The British and Italian views prevailed and the Council decided against the sending of reinforcements for the time being.

Mr. Lloyd George informed the Council of the line the British were now willing to accept, and the experts were instructed to allocate to one side or the other certain townships remaining in dispute.

The next step is to accept in principle as more nearly representing the real meaning of the plebiscite vote than anything previously proposed.

Lloyd George Spoke. At the opening of the session Mr. Lloyd George took occasion to declare the peace of the British Government upon what he called the menacing problem to the peace of Europe. Silesia, he said, had belonged to the German race for 700 years and the British Government would not consent to any division (Concluded on page 12.)

NEW INDUSTRIES BY GOVERNMENT LOANS ATTAIN SUCCESS

(Continued from page 1.) Industries connected with fishing are experiencing a difficult period, the Advisory Council learned. Fishing has been greatly curtailed on account of the glutting of the salmon market but it is hoped that this condition will be adjusted soon.

Plan Consolidation. The Department of Industries' present plan is to consolidate the industries which it has made possible already rather than to launch out further large expenditures of money. It is felt that the present time is the opportune for the establishment of new industries. It is planned, however, to conduct a vigorous policy of research and investigation with the industrial possibilities of the Province. The data thus secured probably will be published and will be made available for private enterprise which is considering the establishment of industries in the Province. It is thought that the information secured by the Department will be of great assistance to new industrial projects and will demonstrate the possibilities of many fields which have not been exploited to any great extent in the past.

Soldiers Made Good. A satisfactory feature of Major Martyn's report related to the Department's dealings with returned men who own many of the industries assisted by loans. The relations between the Department and the returned men, Major Martyn declared, have been very harmonious and the soldiers have displayed a fine spirit of determination to make good. The dealings between them and the Department have been strictly of a business nature.

Major Martyn's reports went exhaustively into the progress made by each company which the Department assisted. The largest loan, he stated, has been made to the Canada Western Cordage Company, of New Westminster, which has been assisted to the extent of $250,000. This concern is composed entirely of returned men, 230 of whom are interested in the project. In spite of the fact that the company's plant was constructed when prices were at their highest peak and that the company was launching an entirely new industry, the concern has operated for the first seven months of its existence with a gross profit of $4,843.23. Major Martyn stated. The company is now producing cordage on a basis which will provide the returned men with a good return on their money and will protect the Department.

Secure Western Business. At the present time the cordage plant is operating at one-third its capacity and with twenty men, one-third the number of employees which it will employ when business improves. The company already has secured about eighty per cent of the cordage business of British Columbia and has received some orders from Eastern Canada. During the first six months of the company's operations, it suffered from the fact that B. C. wholesalers would not place orders with it not wishing to break their former trade connections. In fact, one wholesale firm has just capitulated and agreed to buy its cordage in the West.

The cordage company is now manufacturing all kinds of cordage from binder twine to the heaviest brand of rope. This year 10,000 pounds of binder twine was manufactured but next year the company plans to supply all cordage requirements of British Columbia, manufacturing probably 60,000 pounds of twine during the dull winter months.

Helped Roofing Company. The second largest loan made by the Department was extended to the Sidney Rubber Roofing Company, of Victoria, which was loaned $100,000. This loan made it possible for the big roofing concern to establish its plant on the Reserve here. In spite of the serious fire which the company suffered at Sidney, before it came to the city, it has been able to operate at a profit since it opened.

Another local concern brought into existence with the assistance of the Industries Department is the Canada Western Woodworkers' Ltd., of Gairloch Road. This firm is composed of returned men and is managed by N. McGilvery. The company has been remarkably successful in its operations. Recently it did all the wood work in connection with the new Canadian National Railway offices on Government Street and now is busy on the new Canadian Bank of Commerce building.

Make Phonographs Here. The most unusual concern to which the Department has extended assistance is the Premier Phonograph Company, founded by P. E. George here. This company is manufacturing a high-class phonograph in the city and so far has turned out about a hundred instruments ranging from the most elaborate models to small machines for camp use. The sound box of these phonographs, by the way, is made of B. C. spruce, which has been found to be the best wood known for this purpose.

A Department loan made possible the formation of the Alberni Shingle Company, of Alberni. This firm was founded by eight returned men of Victoria, who are making a success of the venture. The plant is operating at capacity now.

The Columbia Motor Works at Cowichan Bay, owned by the Ordoan Brothers, is another active island firm which the Department assisted. This concern builds and repairs small boats. Fish packing operations have been aided by the Department by a loan to the Vancouver Island Fish and Cold Storage Plant of Nanaimo, which cures and packs fish. Cement products of various sorts are manufactured by Henson & Company, of Gorge Road. This company is making a type of cement tile which is meeting with great favor from local builders and which is rapidly making a wide market for itself. It is claimed that this tile can be used for the same cost as shingles and can be painted any color desired.

Aid Wood Plants. The Pacific Crating Company, of Sidney, Island, and the E. and M. Lumber Company, of Merville, Vancouver Island, are two wood product concerns which the Department has assisted. Both these companies are operating at capacity now. The McCleod and Movitz shingle mill at Leedon also was established with the Department's aid.

One of the most successful of the local concerns assisted by the Department is the Hiker Manufacturing Company which makes toys and other products at its plant here. The firm's products range from substantial children's toys to step-ladders, and lately the company has been manufacturing the Smith Turner, a mechanical appliance which burns crude oil for heating purposes. This appliance is often used in connection with kitchen ranges and is being sold in large quantities. It is claimed that this burner is the only successful invention of the kind for the use of crude oil now on the market.

The San Juan Box Company, of Port Renfrew, which manufactures all kinds of boxes, was established with the help of the Industries Department. The Henshal Fish Products Company, aided by the Department, is utilizing fish waste for the manufacture of fish meal and oil fertilizer.

Industry Has Great Future. A concern which has demonstrated the vast possibilities of an entirely new industry is the Veterans' Products Company. This concern manufactures a remarkable range of products from mud sharks, caught in the Gulf of Georgia. All parts of these sharks are used, even the flippers being canned for consumption by Chinese, who consider this food a rare delicacy. Products from leather to glue are made from sharks which vary in length from two to eighteen feet and which range up to weights of over a ton. The leather, manufactured from one large shark is sufficient to upholster six large touring cars and is so thick that it can be enjoyed six times. It is waterproof and is being used successfully now in the manufacture of boots and shoes.

New Shark Plant. It has been discovered that the mud sharks leave the Gulf of Georgia in the middle of the summer and go up to the West Coast of Vancouver Island. As a result of this discovery a new company is about to establish a plant on Barclay Sound to manufacture various products from sharks. The Department of Industries intends to gather exhaustive information on this industry so that it may be developed further. The possibilities of this industry are considered enormous on account of the great supply of mud sharks and the large number of uses to which they can be put.

After hearing their requirements, Mr. Graham, while loath to lose his services, unhesitatingly recommended George O'Brien as the man best needed. The gentlemen offered Mr. O'Brien such splendid financial remuneration that he decided to sever his connection and go South. Mrs. O'Brien and family will follow later.

OAK BAY AND ESQUIMALT WAVER ON CEMETERY PLAN

Eleventh Hour Hesitancy Imperils General Project

Deciding that the public cemetery scheme was a question between the city and the municipality in which the cemetery rested, the Oak Bay Council last night determined to hold aloof from the plan, as far as the management is concerned. The Council had representation on the joint meetings of the bodies discussing this project, but withheld comment, and last night made a final decision to stay out of the Board of Trustees.

The Esquimalt Council met in special gathering last evening to consider its action on the same project. After some discussion the Council appointed Reeve Lockley and Councillor Pomeroy to attend the joint inter-municipal gathering at the City Hall this afternoon, with orders to report back to their Council later.

Discussion On Matter

The agreement under which it is proposed to operate the new cemetery, and the Act that makes it possible came in for some consideration at the meeting. Councillor Pomeroy held that the agreement once signed and the trustees appointed to the cemetery entirely out of the hands of the Council, and even the trustee that they appointed would be beyond their reach or influence. The powers under the agreement, continued Councillor Pomeroy, were entirely too wide.

Reeve Lockley pointed out that Esquimalt could be called on for its share of the burden, to the extent of one-sixteenth of the whole finance necessary, and that under their laws they would experience trouble in securing authority to raise such a sum. The figure, $150,000, was quoted as being possibly necessary to put the new cemetery on a working basis.

Defends Project

Councillor Mesher, who had been attending the inter-municipal meetings in this connection, considered that the new cemetery project would be a distinctly paying proposition, and that if the city expanded, it would become immensely so in time. The plan now was to operate a cemetery that would pay for itself in from twenty-five to thirty years, and in which the graves would be kept permanently by the management. A sinking fund to provide for the upkeep after the plots had been sold, was stated to be necessary.

Reeve Lockley held that the competition by the management would take years to die as so many Victoria families would continue to bury their dead in their own plots. This competition would materially reduce the paying possibilities of the new cemetery for the first years of its operation, he contended. Finally it was decided that the Esquimalt Council would withhold an expression of opinion on the matter and would authorize Reeve Lockley and Councillor Pomeroy to attend the meeting to-day and report back to their own Council for settlement later.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

Premier Meighen, who has returned to Canada, has promised a statement to the Canadian people which will describe the work of the recent Imperial Conference and the attitude adopted by himself as Canada's representative at that gathering. Although the proceedings of the Conference were not wholly open to the press, sufficient information has been available to indicate in a general way what was done, and that Mr. Meighen adhered to the course outlined by the discussion on this subject which took place in the House of Commons on April 27. In that discussion the Premier gave his conception of the nature of the conference, which he described as a consultative gathering without any executive or operative status, and the duties and responsibilities of this Dominion's representative there. The Conference, which had been heralded in some enthusiastic quarters as the "most momentous" gathering of its kind in Imperial history, actually turned out to be in its direct accomplishments no more exceptional than the general run of similar meetings. The questions of the constitutional relations between the Dominions, naval policy and the Japanese Treaty of Alliance were left in the air, and there will be few if any recommendations to be made by the delegates to their respective Parliaments.

Two notes were struck during the proceedings, however, which swelled into a resounding chorus. One was the need of a world agreement regarding disarmament, and the other was the necessity of the maintenance of the utmost cordiality in the relations between the British Empire and the United States. It was quickly recognized that these two matters were inseparably interlocked and that they contained the key to the future of civilization. President Harding's invitation for a conference on disarmament, therefore, was happily opportune, and holds the promise of great things for the world's good. In helping to set the stage for this act Premier Meighen expressed the eager desire of the Canadian people, just as Mr. Lloyd George reflected the wishes of the heavily-burdened people of Great Britain by his immediate acceptance of President Harding's invitation.

"PAINT UP—CLEAN UP."

One of the signs of the times that is noticeable in Victoria today is an awakening to the manifold advantages of living here as well as to the desirability of making the fact known. It may be taken for granted that the war served to emphasize the good fortune of those who live in this part of the world and there should be an unstinted endeavor on the part of every citizen to capitalize the fact to the fullest extent. Each individual may take a part in support of all movements which have for their object the progress of the community. The first and all essential steps should be the inauguration of a "paint up and clean up" campaign.

Wonderful scenic possessions, magnificent streets and boulevards, spacious parks and old-world gardens, none the less the unique examples of stately architecture, convey their appeal to the passer-by; but the seeker after a place in which to live ponders over the condition of the dwelling house, the store front, and the general order—or lack of order—in those fundamentals which stamp the progressive city or the city which "misses the point." There may not be much to complain of in the City of Victoria; but there is always something that can be done to bring the whole surroundings into a state of harmony. Now is the time to do it. Little labor or expense is required to convert, for instance, even the humblest garden cottage into "a thing of beauty and a joy for ever." On the other hand if such places are allowed to fall into disrepair and decay they become a blot upon the landscape and detract from the harmonious design of the whole.

It is this idea which has inspired a universal campaign for "save the surface and you save all." In other words a great rally for "painting up and cleaning up." Other cities in Canada and the United States have adopted these slogans, and our civic responsibility and pride should bring Victoria into line. The co-operative movement for the improvement of property had its origin six years ago in Winnipeg where it was inaugurated under the auspices of the Industrial Bureau. This and parallel movements in other cities, culminated in the formation of two national paint associations, with similar aims; one in Canada, the other in the United States. The idea behind the campaign is an attempt to educate the public along broad lines, to the great loss occasioned by the lack of paint and other surface restorations and preservatives, and to the increased value which their protection gives.

BRITISH POLICY.

If there was any doubt about the attitude which Mr. Lloyd George would adopt at the Supreme Council meeting in Paris to-day he seems to have been successful in dispelling it without much difficulty. In his discussion of the Upper Silesian dispute he expressed his understanding of the French desire for safety because of his appreciation of the sufferings which the republic has endured through two wars. At the same time he declared that security ought to rest upon the moderation with which the victors used their power. And applying himself to the issue involved he insisted upon equity in apportioning Silesia—incidentally reminding the Supreme Council that the territory in question had belonged to the Germans for seven hundred years—and warned his colleagues in conference that the British Empire never would be dragged into another war caused by the oppressive use of superior force or the abuse of justice in a time of triumph.

This will be a nasty shock to the chauvinistic elements. There will be the usual scaremongery and charges against the British Premier of a new attempt to wreck the Entente. But nothing of the kind will take place. It is vastly to the interest of France to maintain a friendly relationship with the British Empire. Premier Briand fully understands the significance and vital importance of the Entente. He is obliged to take notice of history and if he should elect to regard Germany as the menace of old he will do so mainly for political reasons. Mr. Lloyd George has yet to be convinced of the need for more troops in Silesia, although their dispatch was described as imperative several weeks ago. This is the point of conflict and when the Council finishes its business it will probably be discovered that British policy will meet the case.

THE ONLY WAY.

Although the convicted murderer of Chief Inspector McGrath should have paid the penalty it may be supposed that public opinion and the press of the country will take the view that the tragic incident in itself was less of a crime in the technical sense than it was an "act of war." It would have been a deplorable thing if the extreme "republican" elements in Ireland had been encouraged to resume "hostilities" by failure on the part of the Prime Minister to accede to the request of De Valera for McKeown's release. The utter unreasonableness of such a demand may not be introduced into the discussion of the question because the Sinn Fein attitude as a whole is regarded as out of reason by the British Government. None the less so many admissions have been made and so much ground already has been given up in the hope of bringing an end to the unhappy state of affairs in Ireland that it would have been the part of folly to jeopardize the success of the ultimate outcome by insisting upon the full course of justice in this instance. The ordered mind rebels instinctively; but the issue at stake is imposing a number of shocks that must be endured in the interests of the greater cause.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Some months ago Mr. Lloyd George was reported to have said that his journeys to Paris would be as seldom as possible in view of the hostile treatment which the newspapers have been in the habit of according him during the last twelve months. But he is in the French capital at the present time and his address to the Allied Supreme Council on the subject of British policy in Upper Silesia will not increase his popularity among those who are desirous of giving Germany the final-knock-out at the expense of the peace of Europe.

The stars incline, but do not compel.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1921.
(Copyright, 1921, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Although Venus is in benefic aspect to-day, according to astrology, the aspects are generally threatening. Mercury, Mars and Saturn are diverse. The rule is fairly promising to women who will gain much through large organizations. This should be a fairly fortunate wedding day, unless the bridegroom be aged. The stars do not appear to forecast many marriages of persons no longer young. The stars portend many quarrels when brides or bridegrooms are past forty. There now come under a better rule than formerly. This is especially true when the bride and groom are of different ages. Rumors that are exceedingly disturbing will be published in the newspapers during the day. The day is not so favorable as it appears. Training of soldiers seems to be foredoomed and it will precede all serious efforts toward disarmament. Saturn is in a position threatening to farmers and to all who draw sustenance from the soil. Saturn in the seventh house well aspected by Mercury augurs well for the future.

Summer weather is likely to linger late in the autumn, and there will be a period of warm, including cyclones and tornadoes. Continued growth of popularity for the President of the United States is indicated. He is subject to the unfavorable planetary conjunctions. The stars do not appear to forecast many changes in the President's Cabinet and one will come within the year. Persons who are subject to a way that will cause them to make demands for political recognition and many will attempt to do so in future elections, the stars prophesy. Persons whose birthdate it is should be wary of the stars. The stars do not appear to forecast many changes in the coming year. The stars do not appear to forecast many changes in the coming year. The stars do not appear to forecast many changes in the coming year.

MR. BRANDON STATES HIS VIEW OF CASE
Says Intention in Towns- end Charge Was as Crown Counsel
Vincent G. Townsend, charged in the provincial police court to-day with exceeding the speed limit on the Island Highway was fined $50 after pleading guilty to the charge. W. C. Moreby entered a plea of guilty to the charge. Robert Owens, provincial police constable, prosecuted on behalf of the police. Detective Macdonald, who had secured the information that caused the charge to be laid, was present, but was not again called in evidence. Magistrate Jay warned the accused for excessive driving, and stated that under the circumstances the actions of the detective were more than understood than had at first appeared.

THE TOWNSEND CASE
To come to the matter in hand; I was approached by W. Townsend, Sr., the father of V. G. Townsend, who investigated the matter which arose in Esquimaux District, County of Victoria where my complete jurisdiction was being exercised. The young man, being a student at the Victoria College, was charged with exceeding the speed limit on the Island Highway. I was not instructed nor was I asked to take any action in any way. The father satisfied to pay the fine; but I was asked to look into the conduct of Detective H. H. Macdonald, who was the rest complainant in the matter. The complaint not being against me, but through a police constable. The father stated, and the son verified this, that Detective Macdonald was insolent to the son and insulting to the young lady, who was riding with him at the time Detective Macdonald overtook him. Also, and this was the most serious phase of the matter, Mr. Townsend, met Detective Macdonald on Wednesday, July 20, three days after the speeding, and upbraided him for his language to his son and the young lady, and spoke of laying the matter before the Police Commissioners. Towards the close of the conversation Detective Macdonald told Mr. Townsend Sr. that though he had had no intention of laying information against his son, since he had found fault with him he would now do so, and he did so on or about the same day the father laid a complaint before Dr. Ernest Hall.

COMPLAINTS OF DETECTIVE
Subsequently on Thursday, July 28, I thought, being friendly with Detective Macdonald to have the matter of the complaint to the Police Commissioners smoothed over, and asked him to come to my office being laid by Mr. Townsend, Sr., with the intention of having the charge against him dropped and attending on Dr. Ernest Hall, and I also informed him that it was not the intention of Mr. Townsend, Sr., to defend the action, and that he would plead guilty and pay the fine. Detective Macdonald knows as well as I do that the formal consent of the Attorney-General is required to drop a police court charge, but for my pains in trying to clear up a dispute between Mr. Townsend and Detective Macdonald, I am subjected to Mr. Macdonald's criticism in the box, even when absent. Again let me say that I was never

Crumbling Skeleton Was Found in Ontario
Port Dover, Ont., Aug. 9.—While excavating here to-day, builders uncovered a skeleton of a powerful man of long ago. Most of the skeleton crumbled to dust. From what was salvaged of the skull, with its massive jaws and teeth, it is certain there were men of might in those days, possibly 8 feet in height. As the skeleton was found in the huddled position used by the Attawandrons when interring the dead, it is presumed that it is that of some Indian warrior.

RAILWAY FIGURES SHOW DECREASE
April Statement of Lines in Canada
Ottawa, Aug. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Operating revenues and operating expenses of Canadian railways during the month of April of the present year both showed a decrease, according to a statement issued by the transportation branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This decrease amounted to $2,000,000 in operating revenue when compared with the previous month of March, and over $1,000,000 compared with April, 1920. Decreased operating expenses resulted, however, in a slight increase in the net operating revenue and an improvement in the operating ratio, which is 28.17 per cent, against 26.96 per cent for April, 1920, and 26.64 per cent for March, 1921. The statement covers all the railways in Canada, having an annual operating revenue of $500,000 and over.

P. Graves, son of Dr. Charles Graves of County Tyrone, Ireland. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. A. E. Joyce, looked charming and graceful in an artistic costume of blue Canton crepe, made on simple lines, having a girldie with flowing ends finished in steel bead tassels. A blue faulle hat was worn with this, grey shoes and stockings, and a smart traveling cloak of grey and blue. A corsage bouquet of the early Victorian period added to the pleasing combination. The bride served overseas during the war as a V. A. D. in Kingwood Park Hospital, Tunbridge Wells, also in St. Dunstan Hospital, London, Eng. The bridegroom went overseas in 1914 and joined the Royal Irish Rifles at Queenstown, was seriously wounded and invalided for some time, but returned to France later. Owing to the illness of the bride's father, the marriage was arranged very quietly. Mr. Percy Fitzherbert supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Graves left by the evening train for Seattle, where they will be guests at the Country Club. On their return they will reside at Denham Court, Vancouver.

BRISK BREEZES AND THE BRANCHES.

Brisk Breezes had been trying all summer to sway the big branches of the trees in the woods, but they were not strong enough, and only the smaller ones could they move. But they were always on the lookout for a chance to move the stately branches and make them notice them as well as Heavy Winds, who could move anything.

One night, when Summer had gone home to sleep until the next year, Brisk Breezes were loitering about the woods, frisking hither and thither to see if they could disturb the Big Branches that were quietly sleeping. One little breeze frisked up close to a branch and found it could move a twig of the Big Branch. "Come," it whispered to its brothers, "we will get all of the Brisk Breezes for miles around, and I am sure we will be strong enough to move the Big Branches if we try hard enough."

So away they scampered and in a few minutes were back with an army of Brisk Breezes that blew and frisked hither-skeiter through and around the tree branches.

The Big Branches sighed in their sleep, thinking it was nothing but a dream breeze that fluttered their leaves, but the Brisk Breezes put all their strength into the frolic; now they had heard the sighing.

"Go away!" scolded the Big Branches, now quite awake. "What do you mean by coming around in this time of night and disturbing our slumbers?"

"Ho, ho!" laughed Brisk Breezes, frolicking hither. "We have to notice us! Ho, ho! Now we will make them move!"

All the Big Branches began to scold, for never before had the Brisk Breezes dared to be so familiar.

"How dare you!" they scolded. "Do you not know that we are very mighty and powerful? Run away at once and let us rest in peace!"

Now the Brisk Little Breezes were bent on staying for the Big Branches were really scolding them and that was the very thing they wanted to be noticed—even if it was by a scolding.

They kept on blowing, now harder than before, and soon the Big Branches were swaying and moving about, as angry as could be. They complained in a loud tone and after a while they shrieked at the top of their voices, telling the Brisk Breezes how bothersome and bad they were.

All night long the mischievous Brisk Breezes tormented the Big Branches, and not until morning came did they run away.

Everybody said: "How the wind did blow last night! It howled like an angry person." But it wasn't the wind at all, you see, it was the Big Branches angry at being disturbed by the Brisk Breezes.

And when you hear the wind sighing at night after you are in bed you can be certain those mischievous Little Breezes are out, bent upon playing pranks upon the Big Branches.

Busy Scene in Native Market Place at Lima, Peru

My stay in Peru has forcibly impressed upon me the tremendous value of the work of women's organizations along the lines of child welfare, public health and in the achievement of such work as is being taken up by your Kumtuku Club. Peru suffers indifferently from a lack of progressive women. I am afraid it will not make much advancement in civilization until Great Britain extends her influence and encourages the development of the vast potential wealth of the country and counteracts the stolid indolence of the natives," was the observation made to a Times reporter by Mrs. Jessie Bertram, who returned to Victoria yesterday after a year's stay in Lima, Peru. Mrs. Bertram was formerly employed in the office of the Foundation Company in this city and at the close of shipping operations here was transferred to the firm's branch in Lima. She has now severed her connection with the firm and will make her home in Tacoma after visiting friends here for a few days.

Life in Lima cannot be said to be without its surprises, for during her year's stay, Mrs. Bertram found the monotony relieved by seven earthquakes, two of which were severe, and two revolutions. The earthquakes are accepted as an inevitable concomitant of daily life, and the revolutions are received in much the same spirit as resignation. While walking through the streets of Lima, a city of about 110,000 population, with her ten-year-old daughter, Muriel, watching the crowds returning from the race course and the opera, they saw a detachment of cavalry wheel into the street. Thinking it meant that the President would shortly pass, Mrs. Bertram and her daughter waited, until suddenly, without any warning the soldiers commenced firing. Pandemonium immediately ensued and the frightened crowds fled in all directions.

It was not until the next day that Mrs. Bertram learned the reason for the firing. The President had ordered the soldiers to use bullets to quell any attempts to spread revolutionary propaganda, and the cavalry had obeyed the order with alacrity on observing a little knot of people reading a notice held by one of their number. As a result about a score of people were killed and about forty injured.

Life is held very cheaply in Peru, and among the poorer classes burial is conducted in a haphazard fashion which is particularly horrible to anyone acquainted with western civilization. "While out with friends in one of the side streets one day," said Mrs. Bertram, "we noticed a man lying huddled in the gutter. I saw at once that he was dead and we investigated and found that he had shot himself in one of the neighboring cafes. Although he was not then dead, he was carried by the proprietor out to the sidewalk and left without medical attention or even a drink of water. There he remained until death put an end to his sufferings, and his body would lie there, stigmatized and unburied, until the poorer classes dispense with the cemetery for the burial of their dead. It is a common sight in Lima to see a little knot of people walking along and bearing in their midst a coffin containing the remains of a relative. Sometimes the coffin will be carried on the platform of a street car or an obliging vehicle, but usually it is carried by hand. The casket is taken to some convenient spot—not in consecrated ground—and there buried and left.

Primitive Sanitation. Public utilities are equally primitive. Sanitation—or rather the lack of it—is one of the most trying features of Peruvian life to the northerner accustomed to modern systems. The sewage system consists of a stream running through the centre of the street, into which refuse is dumped indiscriminately. Fortunately for the health of the inhabitants, the buzzards (carrion birds) act as scavengers; in fact, the white residents of Lima refer facetiously to the

Victoria Woman Had Thrilling Year in Peru

Mrs. Jessie Bertram, Formerly of Foundation Company, Describes Life in Lima; Primitive Conditions.

Peru, are beasts of burden. It is a common sight to see a woman carrying a quarter of beef or the carcass of a sheep upon her back and a baby in her arms. The men are so indolent that they work only until they have sufficient money to keep them for a period, and refuse to do another stroke until their money is exhausted.

Vast Potential Wealth. The vastness and lack of initiative of the people is the greatest drawback to Peru, said Mrs. Bertram. The country has vast potential wealth, which is simply awaiting development. It is like a huge garden, full of the most wonderful flowers and timber, untouched coal-fields, and oil and nitrate fields. Enough cocaine to supply the world could be found in Peru, according to Mrs. Bertram. The natives have a primitive way of extracting the drug from cocoon leaves. A few leaves are placed in the mouth, together with a spoonful of lime, the chemical action of which extracts the cocaine.

Good Roads Needed. The problem of transportation over the Andes is so great that little can be done in the way of opening up the resources of the country until railways and roads are built. In Lima all lumber is bought from British Columbia or Oregon, although only two days' journey away, over the Andes, is unlimited timber and coal. A wonderful engineering feat was accomplished in the building, by outside interests, of the railway to Tielio. This line climbs 17,000 feet in a run of eight hours.

The interior of Peru is practically unexplored and many of the Indians are of cannibalistic tendency. One peculiar art practiced by one of these tribes, consists of taking a human skull and by a secret process shrinking it to the size of the palm of the hand without marring the features. Mrs. Bertram has seen specimens of this gruesome hobby.

No Place For Women. In summing up her impressions Mrs. Bertram was emphatic in her contention that Peru is no place for white women who have to earn their living, and she is heartily glad to return to "civilization." In all her travels, which embraced Havana and other southern beauty-spots, she declared that she had never seen a woman who could live in climate with Victoria.

WIDOW'S WIT. Mrs. Bangs: "So that pretty widow is really married so soon again, eh?" Old Bangs: "Yes." Mrs. Bangs: "But her late husband's will expressly stipulated that if she took a second husband her legacy was to revert to his most distant relative." That's where she was smart. She hunted up the relative and married him."

EFFIE.

The delightful little name of Effie, which signifies "fair speech," came into vogue in Scotland at a very early stage in the etymological history. In modern times it is regarded as a contraction of Euphemia, but it had no early association with the longer name. It comes originally from the name Aofie, which has proved the progenitor of so many of our modern feminine names. "Effie of Scotland" is a term frequently used in the history of feminine nomenclature. Though the Highland version of the name is now Aoirie, Effie spread to other countries through the evolution of Aofie into Africa. In the beginning of the twelfth century, Africa, daughter of Fergus, of Galway, married "Thos. the Swarthy, King of Man, and her daughter Effie married Somerled, Thane of Argyll and Lord of the Isles.

Africa is still used as a feminine name in Ireland. Aofie was the wife of Cuchullin in the Ossianic poetry, and Evir Ailin and Evir Coma were both famous in the history of those early times. Effie, on the other hand, passed directly over the Scottish border into England, where it gained instant fame and is still ranked among the most popular English feminine names. The beryl is Effie's talismanic stone. It is believed to be a lucky stone for those who sing or use their voices for dramatic expression, since it gives clarity and strength and fluency of tone. Thursday is Effie's lucky day and 5 her lucky number.

DOMINION
William S. Hart achieved another triumph in his latest Paramount picture, "The Whistle" which was shown at the Dominion Theatre yesterday. It is a story of factory life in New England and Mr. Hart, instead of being a good-bad man of the desert, is a foreman. A tragedy enters his life and changes the current of his existence. Although he approaches the border line of criminality, the real man within him finally asserts his supremacy. Myrtle Steadman is leading woman and acquires herself with rare artistry. The cast generally is excellent.
A good snappy Sunshine comedy entitled "Rearing Lions on Parade" provides a genuine half hour of fun and laughter, while the ever popular Canadian News and Topics of the Day are full of interest and entertainment. Mrs. Jesse Longfield, the popular mezzo soprano, is particularly happy in her choice on songs this week. Her splendid rendering of "O Summer Night" will long linger as a pleasant memory with Victoria music lovers.

For his final programme attraction Harry Carey appears in "Desperate Trails," a story of such remarkable strength, such sheer dramatic force, and so wonderfully acted by an all-star cast that it will serve as an introduction to the Jewel features in which he is to be seen henceforth.

VARIETY
"Going Some," the latest Goldwin Beach production, now showing at the Variety Theatre, was directed by Harry Beaumont, who was formerly director of Tom Moore. The story is based on the star success written by Rex Beach in collaboration with Paul Armstrong and which Mr. Beach later re-wrote as a novel. "Going Some" deals with the sporting feud between two rival ranches in the great southwest, where a Yale athlete comes out of the East and is called on to live up to his reputation, win the prize and win the girl. Sprouting oil wells and the struggle for wealth forms a picturesque background. Three girls figure in the sporting events and the life of the hero. "Going Some" lives up to its name in regular Rex Beach style. Of the three girls in the cast Lillian Hall and Helen Ferguson have been selected. Miss Hall was a Brooklyn high school girl who gained her stock experience in Philadelphia and then began her screen career. Miss Ferguson's first screen parts were on the Chicago lot, when the "windy city" had hopes of being a rival of southern California. At eighteen she had also qualified as a scenario writer, and is a professional designer, besides having a former acquaintance with music.

PRINCESS
To-morrow night will be the opening night of the next Mildred Page Players production, the same being a play entitled "Because She Loved Him So," a charming comedy which fits the clever stock company as though it had been written especially for their use.
Miss Page has the part of the lady who "Loves Him So" and Mr. Coote is the lucky fellow.
All of the musical numbers will be well chosen and appropriate, and Mr. Coote will sing a song written especially for his use by Mr. Wm. Campbell, who will be seen in the part of Pritchard in "Because She Loved Him So."
Mr. Aldern in a character lead will be sure to more than delight his splendid following of admirers.
Wednesday night is Captain Kidd Prize night all guesses must be in by Tuesday. Children's guesses for the bean guessing contest must be in not later than Friday. Prizes awarded Saturday at the matinee. Winner must be in the house.

ROYAL VICTORIA
"Reputation," the super-feature in which Priscilla Dean was seen last night at the Royal Victoria Theatre will be shown in the memory of playgoers as one of the most dramatic stories ever told on the screen.
The star ascends to dramatic heights and sounds the depths of pathos in this picture. Her spectacles were keenly thrilled.
The story was filmed by Stuart Paton. It is based upon "Faded Colors," Edwin Levin's novel and the screen adaptation by Lucien Hubbard and Doris Schroeder.
Playing a dual role, that of mother and daughter, Miss Dean interprets the parts with such sincerity that many doubted that one individual could so completely assume such widely opposed characteristics.
Laura Fligan, the dominant figure in the story, is the reigning beauty on the European stage. She is about to sail for New York to star on Broadway when a party, more dissolute than others which have preceded it, leaves her wrecked, dissipated shadow of her former self. Stripped of money, her nerves shattered by drugs, a wanderer on the Limehouse streets, she realizes that she must in some way get to America and try to resume her place of power in the theatre. She arrives in New York for the opening of the performance and there on the stage she sees a girl who is the counterpart of what she was before sin seared her soul. The girl is her daughter, though neither knows the other. The play follows a climax that for explosive

Dempsey-Carpentier Contest on Screen Before Pantages Patrons
It is doubtful if any motion picture of a championship fight were as uniformly successful as those of the recent Dempsey-Carpentier contest. The audiences at Pantages Theatre were able to judge this yesterday afternoon and last night, and though the movies are a thing that do not inspire the applause bestowed on popular actors in the drama there were unmistakable indications that those present had unanimously extended their approval. First, during the showing of the picture there was the tense interest that can spring only from clear definition, and again as the throng fled out of the house one heard nothing but commendatory remarks.
The first requisite of success in a fight picture is clearness, and in this the Dempsey-Carpentier picture are of a standard that may be equalled, but it would be difficult to imagine how they could be surpassed noticeably. The sunlight at Jersey City July 2, 1921, seems to have approached very closely the photographer's concept of perfection. The result was a series of pictures without a moment's annoyance of indistinctness.
Then, too, the cameras were close enough to the ring to make satisfactory pictures possible. And to improve the effect still more for the audiences of the picture there was to see the screen reproduction of the great fight, the camera-men upon occasions made use of a telephoto lens. As a result the beholder almost fancied he was standing against the ropes looking into the ring. He can see every move of the contestants, the play of their muscles, beat watch their skins as they glide, spring, duck or strike—and see even the expression on their faces.
As an informative agency the pictures are all the fullest newspaper account of the event, and a great deal more. It is safe to say that everyone who went to the theatre yesterday purposed to watch closely for the blow the Frenchman landed in the second round which brought him closest to the victory he coveted, and everyone saw it, for the men were excellently placed for the cameras at the moment; but there was interest in plenty throughout the picture in addition to that. The lightning-like punches of Carpentier, the sledge-hammer blows of Dempsey, the shifty footwork of the Frenchman, the tireless pursuit of him are all shown. It is with a thrill the audience sees the plucky Georges leap to his feet with a tiger spring on the count of nine, saving himself from being knocked out when first floored. A few moments later the spectators experience a thrill of equal intensity when they see the ever-woman, prostrate again, struggling to rise before the final count of ten but with the coordination between brain and muscle destroyed, unable to do so, his superior opportunity to chance make himself champion of the world, desired by him above all things, slipping from him.
Leading up to the pictures of the ring battle there is a series of views depicting the champion and the invader training for the great event. They are seen in all their varied exertions, the being of the same excellent quality as the main pictures.
Opening the programme there is a Canadian travel film and a really humorous farce.

CHAPTER XVI.
The mysterious disappearance of Candace from the Stanhouse house caused nothing short of a panic. Herbert, and his mother held hourly wrangles, and frantically tried one thing and then another. Day after day the responses came in from the advertisements they had caused to be put forth. Everyone was hot-footed with eagerness, but so far little encouragement had been brought out. More and more the young man was fixing his mind on the idea that Betty's disappearance was due to her leaving no stone unturned to find the nurse as well as the girl. To this end he insisted on seeing personally and cross-examining every person who came claiming to have a clue to the lost girl.
That morning at about the same hour when Candace walked into the office of the McIntyre Brothers in Boston, James, the butler, much against his dignity, was ushering a curious being short of a panic. Herbert, the son of the house, James showed by every line of his noble figure that he considered this duty beneath his dignity, and that it was only because the occasion was unusual that he tolerated it for a moment, but the man who ambled observantly behind him, stretching his neck to see everything that was to be seen in this part of the great house, that he might tell about it at the fire-house, failed to get the full effect of the presence of why in thunder such a person as these seemed to be, couldn't afford carpets big enough to cover their skimp little bits of pieces dropped around here and there, that made you liable to skid all over the place if you stepped on one of them bialy. Herbert blurted out his words and watched Abijah Gage slouch into the room. He measured him keenly and came silent while Abijah opened up. There had been many other applicants for that reward that day with stories cunningly woven, and false, substantiated by witnesses, in one case a whole lot of money was sworn to the fabrication; but as yet Herbert had not found a promising clue to his missing bride, and the time was going by. In a few days it would be too late, and his undisciplined spirit raged within him. It was not only his bride he wanted, it was her fortune, which was worth any trouble he might take; and every minute now, it was slipping, slipping, slipping from his eager grasp. Abijah was a little overwired in the thrill-power has never been equalled on the screen.

The short subjects this week have also been well looked after, a special Christie comedy "Mr. Fatina" and a Chester Outing "There Ain't No Santa Klaus" being the two selected. J. Petch will also be heard to good advantage in new songs. And the orchestra has arranged a special musical programme.
A well known reviewer remarked in a magazine article some time ago that Larry Semon, the Vitagraph comedian, if necessary could make a funny picture with no other assets than a broomstick and a tin can. It is sure that Larry possesses the faculty of taking instant advantage of whatever may offer itself in the way of a situation. On Vitagraph's Hollywood lot the past week during the filming of "The Bell Hop," Larry decided to take two parts. The idea was not in his original script but he decided to put it in, as one of the characters who had been assigned a part did not come up to Larry's specifications. There being no one else who seemed to fit in, Larry disappeared from the set and reappeared a half hour later in one of the funniest make-up jobs ever seen on a comedy set. It was several minutes before some of his acquaintances recognized him.

STIRRING DRAMA AT LITTLE THEATRE
To be informed that through the possession of the Monk's Paw, over which a spell has been cast by an old Indian fakir, they were to be granted three wishes, but each wish would be accompanied by some disastrous event is the situation that Mr. and Mrs. John White find themselves in after obtaining the Paw from an old ex-sergeant-major of the Indian army.
The Whittes, played by G. Stewart Clark, and Mrs. Georgina Seymour Kent have a mortgage on their home in the outskirts of London, and while they place little credence in the story of the old soldier, played by James Hunter, they wish for two hundred pounds with which they would pay off the mortgage. That night their son, D. H. Barry, who is employed in the electrical works, is caught in the machinery and killed. The company send a lawyer to the little home to convey the news to the old couple, and at the same time give them two hundred pounds as compensation.
These occurrences lead to additional wishes being made, all of which are portrayed in a most artistic manner by these talented artists. J. S. Gow as the lawyer has a small but important part, and he plays it with fine restraint and feeling.
The play is of a type not hitherto undertaken by the Victoria Dramatic and Operatic Society and one which grips the audience with intense interest from start to finish. The programme is completed by a fast and furious frolic of a troupe of Follies including some of the best talent in the city.
The Society is fortunate in having back with it R. N. Hincks who has already taken the production of shows in hand and is putting on the finishing touches.
Seats will be on sale at Kent's Edison Store Thursday morning next. Intending patrons should book early as the accommodation of the Little Theatre is limited.

presence of this insolent man of the world, but he felt he had, for almost the first time in his life, Truth on his side, and he was strong in the power of it. With a cunning equal to the one that matched him he dealt out his information bit by bit, giving only enough at a time to make his victim sure it was the real thing this time, and then he baited stubbornly and would say no more until that five thousand dollars was signed and sealed over to him. They had a long argument, but in the end Ed won, and Jimmie Ryan responded with a voice that he had never heard before asked for Mr. Warren Reburn.
"He's out of town," Jimmie replied. "How soon will he be back?" The voice was like a snarl.
"I'm not quite sure. He's called to Boston on business," swelled Jimmie loyally.
An oath ripped over the wire, and Jimmie raged within and quailed. Was his idol then losing a great case?
"He might be back in a few hours," insinuated Jimmie. "Who shall I say called up if he should have me over long distance?"
"You needn't say anybody! I'll call up again," growled the voice, and the man hung up.
Jimmie sat for a long time in blissful reverie. "He's getting there!" he whispered to himself. "He'll get the big cases yet, and I can keep my first place. I must see Jane to-night and tell her." (To be continued.)

Late Roads Seabrook Identified With Many Interests.
The funeral of the late Roads Seabrook will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick officiating. The interment will take place at Ross Bay Cemetery, in the family plot.
Mr. Seabrook, who was 83 years of age, came to British Columbia from Middlesex County, Ontario, in 1862 by way of Panama, journeying to Victoria from San Francisco. He went straight to the Fraser River diggings, but soon afterwards returned to New Westminster, where he engaged in the fuel business, until a bad fire destroyed a large quantity of his stock.
He then came to Victoria and joined Mr. Brodick in the wood and coal business, and later joined the firm of Welch, Brothers, the predecessor of Rihl's Consolidated Company. When the late R. P. Rihl went to San Francisco to take charge of the business on the death of Mr. Welch, Mr. Seabrook took charge of the Victoria business. He saw the business grow very rapidly, and its interests extended, at a time when

Place Ponies Paid Backers Very Well

Snow Cap and Kio Surprised Fields and Paid 16-1, While Shenandoah For Show Was Good For 17; Neal Rode Three Winners and a Second; Favorites Scored Fairly Well During Day.

Favorites got down in front at the Willows yesterday afternoon but several long-shots figured prominently in the money, Snow Cap and Kio repaying their scattered backers handsomely in the third and fourth race, while Jockey Neal rushed Ruth Harrigan over the mile and a sixteenth, the closing race, in fine style and nosed out the favorite Dione. Ruth Harrigan paid 12-1.

There were plenty of surprises and while the favorites scored on straight bets the ponies fanned for place and show were squeezed out by rank outsiders in several cases. In the third race three outsiders reached the wire ahead of the heavily favored Annabell and Duc de Guise were fancied but they were out of the race before the first turn was reached. The ponies bunched and the favorites could not get clear in time to recover. Snow Cap, the 60-1 shot which won in Vancouver, was not picked on by many but he led the field over the greater part of the route. In the dash up the home stretch Snow Cap failed to respond to the burst of speed revealed by Little Jake but was strong enough to lead Lady St. Patrick to the wire. Snow Cap paid $30.25 for place.

Longshot Repeats. It was an unusual turn of events that the place horse in the following race should pay exactly the same money as Snowcap. This was a peculiar field to pick from and Lola and Eddie Franter took all the money, while a few folks took to playing the longshots. For a time it looked as though an outsider would come through as Miller and Shenandoah well out in front and held the gelding there until on the back stretch, when Mills whipped Lola to the front. Shenandoah, who was staying powers to outstep Kio in the final rush. Kio paid $30.25 for a two-dollar ticket for place, while Shenandoah for show paid $17, the best money of the day.

Jockey Neal, the sensational apprentice, completed a fine afternoon's work when he brought Ruth Harrigan to the wire a winner in the last race. Dione was favored and ran gamely but the winner took the lead early and was able to shut off Dione every time the mare challenged. Ruth Harrigan repaid her backers $21.50 for a two-dollar ticket.

Neal Rode Well. Besides riding Ruth Harrigan to victory Neal also scored with Thrills and Ann St. The latter mare captured the second race without effort although Mannikin II, a second favorite, tried hard to repeat. Neal's mount in the last hundred yards.

In the sixth race Neal rode splendidly on Thrills and urged his mount to a nose-win over Betty, which was given a good start by Murphy. This was the closest finish of the afternoon and the result was not known until the official figures were displayed. Alajah won the first race most as he pleased. Both Alajah and York Lassie were fancied by the fans and they ran to form. Neal was up on York Lassie, and while he gave the filly everything she could not overtake the early lead established by Alajah.

McLane led the field home in the fifth race and was an easy winner. The favorites, John Jr. and Kitty Cheatham, showed little form. Mary Fuller set a hot pace in the last stage but had too much ground to make up to catch the leader and had to be content with second place. The Lund entry found few friends and paid $15.50 for place. The results were as follows:

- Summary of Results. First race—Claiming purse, $350, for three-year-olds and up; about five furlongs—1, Alajah, Mutuels paid $4.15, $2.85, $2.50; 2, York Lassie, $2.75, $2.50; 3, Plunger, $2.15. CAPS OPEN UP WITH BEAVERS TO-MORROW

Double-header to Be Played; One in Afternoon and One in Evening

Victoria's pro ball team returned to town yesterday, and will open up with a double-header at the Stadium to-morrow with the Vancouver Beavers. Secretary Hardie, of the local club, announced that the games to-morrow will be staged at 2:30 o'clock and at 8:30 o'clock. The games on Thursday and Friday, which will be Ladies' Day, will start at 8:30 o'clock and on Saturday the teams will start their battle at 2:30 o'clock.

The baseball season has only a few more weeks to run and the fans will not have many more chances to glimpse the boys in action. The Capitals still have a good chance to lead in first place and get into the play-off with Yakima for the championship. Manager Hansen expects to win the series from the Beavers this week. The Capitals got an even break with Tacoma, and while in Yakima got the bad end of the umpiring as usual, and had to be content with coming home with one win out of the five games played.

Attracting Interest. The gala will attract wide interest all over Canada and it is expected that many of the star mermaids in the east will be here to swim. Two Canadian championships will be at stake and both will be for women swimmers. The races will be for the 100-yard and 400-yard titles. At the last meeting of the C. A. S. A. the B. C. branch made strong representations for an allotment of championships in view of the fact that the program always correlated the titular events. Owing to the fact that the lady swimmers on the coast stood a better chance winning than the men, a special request was made for the ladies' water polo club, but as two races were awarded to British Columbia.

Good Chance For Audrey. This will be the first time that the local girls have been able to swim for a Canadian championship. Audrey Griffin, the local star, has annexed titles for the Island, the Province and the Pacific Coast, but this will be her first appearance in a Canadian gala. She will stand a very good chance of winning both races, and it is expected that she will set a new record in the 400-yard race. The present Canadian champions are residing in Winnipeg, and it is expected that they will come here to defend their titles. An excellent programme of events will supplement the Canadian championships. The British Columbia team for the provincial championship has been selected. The V. A. S. C. and Y. M. C. A. clubs of this city are now in training for this big event. The championship was won last year by the Victoria Water Polo Club, but as that organization has broken up the fight will be between the two local clubs. Vancouver has not a polo team of any consequence. The S. Y. M. C. A. team have only met once this year, and the count swung in favor of the former. The "Y" boys hope to reverse the decision in the next meeting.

The program will also include a 50-yard open handicap. This will draw a very fast galaxy of sprint swimmers, and should prove one of the most exciting of the day. JUNIOR BASEBALL

The Magpies beat the Vultures in a one-sided contest to the tune of 10 to 3. McIntyre held the Vultures to four scattered hits while Lee, of the Vultures, was easily hit. This poor fielding of the Vultures was responsible for a home run on errors.

Behind the snappy pitching of "Gore" Gilliland, the Magpies scored their fourth straight win. Their opponents were unable to hit Gilliland, who was very tight in the pinches, while Barera was easily walloped by the heavy hitting Mets. W. Holman swatted Barera for a three-bagger and one home run. Gilliland was given good support in the Mets play Magpies on Wednesday.

The score—R. H. E. Metropolitanans 13 15 3. Heraldians 6 8 3. Batteries—Gilliland and Holman for Mets; Barera and Allen, Larson, Umpire, Stephens.

Canadian Aquatic Gala Here Sept. 3

First Outdoor National Swimming Championships to Be at Stake in This Province; Events Are All For Lady Swimmers; Stars Expected From East; Stellar Programme Being Arranged.

Arrangements have been made by the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association to stage the first Canadian amateur outdoor swimming gala ever held in this Province at the Gorge on Saturday afternoon, September 3. Extensive preparations are now being made by the officials of the association to ensure this aquatic event being the finest ever held in the West. At a meeting of the B. C. branch of the C. A. S. A. held last evening it was decided to use the Elks Swimming Club pool for the gala. The V. I. A. A. offered the use of their tank at Curtis Point but the officials decided in favor of the Elks' pond in view of the seating accommodation for spectators.

Attracting Interest. The gala will attract wide interest all over Canada and it is expected that many of the star mermaids in the east will be here to swim. Two Canadian championships will be at stake and both will be for women swimmers. The races will be for the 100-yard and 400-yard titles. At the last meeting of the C. A. S. A. the B. Amateur Ball Title At Stake To-night

Elks Meet Yarrows in Last and Deciding Game of Victoria Amateur Baseball League; McGregor Will Twirl For Shipbuilders While Forbes May Work For Antlered Monarchs.

Excitement in amateur baseball circles is at fever heat at the present moment. This furor has been caused by the creation of a tie in the standing of the league and the fact that the deciding game is to be played to-night. At 6:30 o'clock at the Stadium the Elks, last year's champions and leaders during the greater part of this season, will stack up against Yarrows, the shipbuilding aggregation which has been coming along at a terrific clip in the past few weeks. The winner of this game will have the honor of representing Victoria in the inter-city series with the Vancouver champions for the amateur baseball championship of British Columbia.

To-night's game will be the greatest seen in amateur circles here for many a long day. Yarrows have been put through a grilling test, having had three crucial games to play within five days. They have stood up well under the strain, capturing two games easily and now enter the field confident that victory will be theirs. Yarrows in Great Form. Yarrows are at present in the best form they have been all season. On Saturday McGregor tamed the Elks, and Deacon McIlvride will do the recapping. It is a question as to who will do the hurrying for the Elks. Manager Lorimer is expected to use Norm Foster, his sensational twirler. Forbes, however, has been bothered with a sore arm, and it may be necessary for Lorimer to send Alch Straith to the mound. If Forbes is right the game should be a pitcher's battle. Neither Forbes nor McGregor have lost a game this season. Yarrows are well supplied with pitchers, having Percy Ross and Eddie Brown available for duty, and either one can pitch a nice game. In batting the Elks have a slight advantage, but in fielding there is little to choose between the two teams.

Hopes For Big Crowd. Dave MacFarlane, president of the Victoria Amateur Baseball League, is hoping that record crowd will be on hand to see the teams play to-night. Ladies will be admitted free. "We have had splendid patronage all summer," stated Dave this morning, "but we have certain expenditures to meet yet, and I sincerely hope that the fans will fill the stands to-night and help us over the barrier. I can assure every fan that they will get their money's worth, and that the game will be one of the best ever played in the city." Both teams are requested to be on the diamond half an hour before the game starts. Allie McGregor will handle the indication this evening. Yarrows' Shipbuilders slaughtered the Conservatives 17 to 2 at the stadium last night, and jumped into a tie with the Elks for first place in the Amateur League. Of the very few poor games seen this year among the amateurs, last night's game had them all beaten to a frazzle. Playing good ball on both sides for four innings the Shipbuilders suddenly landed on Fowler with vengeance, which aided by the utter collapse of the Conservative defence, netted Yarrows twelve runs before Mogre's gang could stop the deluge, and at the end of the fifth the score stood 15 to 0 with the politicians on the short end. Yarrows managed to add a couple more over in the seventh, while Eddie Newman's single to left in the same inning gave the Conservatives two runs and saved them from a shut out. With all this one-sidedness some of the fans had a most enjoyable evening, especially those from the vicinity of Esquimalt, and more espe-

KEELER, OF PORTLAND, IS TRAP-SHOOTING CHAMP

Tacoma, Aug. 9.—E. H. Keeler, of Portland, Ore., yesterday won the Pacific Coast zone trapshooting championship at 16 yards, breaking 198 birds out of a possible 200. He led the crack field of coast scatter-gun experts by a margin of two. The 15-yard championship was the feature of the second day's shooting of the big four-day event which is being staged under auspices of the Tacoma Gun Club here. Frank M. Troeh, of the Vancouver, Wash., club, who was a two-time winner Sunday, tied for second place with O. Warren, of Yerington, Nev., breaking 196. Other high scores included E. C. Rich, Tacoma, professional, 195; Hugh Poston, San Francisco, professional, 195; L. M. Fisher, Seattle, professional, 195; M. Grossman, Salt Lake City, 194; G. G. Wells, Oregon, 194; G. N. Ford, Portland, 194; R. S. Searle, Seattle, 194. To-day's programme will consist of the preliminary handicap, 16 to 23 yards, 100 birds. In yesterday's shoot, McIntyre, of Vancouver, B.C., scored 181, and Russell, Vancouver, B.C., 162.

FAMOUS GOLFER IS RUN DOWN BY AUTO

J. Douglas Edgar, Former Canadian Golf Champion, Dies as Result of Injuries

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 9.—J. Douglas Edgar, widely known international golf player and twice holder of the Canadian open golf championship, died late last night at an hospital a short time after being knocked down by an automobile in front of his home. The automobile failed to stop and early to-day the police were without information as to the identity of the driver. Mr. Edgar, who was professional at Druid Hills Golf Club here, was about 40 years old. He was a native of St. Andrews, Scotland, but had been in the United States a number of years. He went to Scotland several months ago to take part in the championship play in the British Isles. Illness, however, prevented his entrance in the United States open tourney this summer, and was also given as the cause for his not defending his Canadian title, which he won in 1919 and 1920. His wife and children are visiting in Scotland.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

American League. New York, Aug. 9.—New York lost its hold on first place yesterday by dividing a double-header with Chicago, while Cleveland was taking two games from Philadelphia. The Yankees won the first game 7 to 0 and the White Sox the other 5 to 4. Ruth brought his season total of home runs to forty-one by hitting one in each contest. Score: At New York—R. H. E. Amateur Ball Title At Stake To-night

Elks Meet Yarrows in Last and Deciding Game of Victoria Amateur Baseball League; McGregor Will Twirl For Shipbuilders While Forbes May Work For Antlered Monarchs.

Excitement in amateur baseball circles is at fever heat at the present moment. This furor has been caused by the creation of a tie in the standing of the league and the fact that the deciding game is to be played to-night. At 6:30 o'clock at the Stadium the Elks, last year's champions and leaders during the greater part of this season, will stack up against Yarrows, the shipbuilding aggregation which has been coming along at a terrific clip in the past few weeks. The winner of this game will have the honor of representing Victoria in the inter-city series with the Vancouver champions for the amateur baseball championship of British Columbia.

To-night's game will be the greatest seen in amateur circles here for many a long day. Yarrows have been put through a grilling test, having had three crucial games to play within five days. They have stood up well under the strain, capturing two games easily and now enter the field confident that victory will be theirs. Yarrows in Great Form. Yarrows are at present in the best form they have been all season. On Saturday McGregor tamed the Elks, and Deacon McIlvride will do the recapping. It is a question as to who will do the hurrying for the Elks. Manager Lorimer is expected to use Norm Foster, his sensational twirler. Forbes, however, has been bothered with a sore arm, and it may be necessary for Lorimer to send Alch Straith to the mound. If Forbes is right the game should be a pitcher's battle. Neither Forbes nor McGregor have lost a game this season. Yarrows are well supplied with pitchers, having Percy Ross and Eddie Brown available for duty, and either one can pitch a nice game. In batting the Elks have a slight advantage, but in fielding there is little to choose between the two teams.

Hopes For Big Crowd. Dave MacFarlane, president of the Victoria Amateur Baseball League, is hoping that record crowd will be on hand to see the teams play to-night. Ladies will be admitted free. "We have had splendid patronage all summer," stated Dave this morning, "but we have certain expenditures to meet yet, and I sincerely hope that the fans will fill the stands to-night and help us over the barrier. I can assure every fan that they will get their money's worth, and that the game will be one of the best ever played in the city." Both teams are requested to be on the diamond half an hour before the game starts. Allie McGregor will handle the indication this evening. Yarrows' Shipbuilders slaughtered the Conservatives 17 to 2 at the stadium last night, and jumped into a tie with the Elks for first place in the Amateur League. Of the very few poor games seen this year among the amateurs, last night's game had them all beaten to a frazzle. Playing good ball on both sides for four innings the Shipbuilders suddenly landed on Fowler with vengeance, which aided by the utter collapse of the Conservative defence, netted Yarrows twelve runs before Mogre's gang could stop the deluge, and at the end of the fifth the score stood 15 to 0 with the politicians on the short end. Yarrows managed to add a couple more over in the seventh, while Eddie Newman's single to left in the same inning gave the Conservatives two runs and saved them from a shut out. With all this one-sidedness some of the fans had a most enjoyable evening, especially those from the vicinity of Esquimalt, and more espe-

NEWS IN BRIEF

Women's Institute Picnic—Strawberry Vale Women's Institute will hold its annual picnic to Deep Bay to-morrow. A special train will leave Wilkinson Road station at 10.15 a.m., returning at 6 o'clock from Deep Bay. Friends of the Institute are cordially invited.

Publisher Retires—D. M. Carley who has published the LadySmith Chronicle and who has published it for thirteen years, has disposed of his business to his partner, Thomas Conning. Mr. Carley is well known in Victoria, having been connected with the mechanical department of The Daily Colonist.

Guild of Health—Rev. T. E. Rowe will lecture on Divine Healing in the Cathedral Schoolroom on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday morning Mr. Rowe will be in the schoolroom for consultation from 10.30 to 12 o'clock.

Ward Four Liberals—Ward Four Liberals last night at a meeting held in the headquarters, Arcade Building, approved of the president and secretary taking action to join the Progressive Liberal Club. There was a good attendance and numerous matters of importance were discussed.

Accessory Dealers—A meeting of the accessory and tire dealers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Chamber rooms at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening for the purpose of discussing exhibits at the automobile show during the Fall Fair at the Willows.

Around the World—The Centennial Methodist Sunday School is giving a novel entertainment at the church to-morrow night in the form of a trip around the world. Various service organizations should meet to consider amalgamation. It was thought that Labor Day was not a suitable occasion for such a meeting.

To Seek New Members—At a special meeting last night, the Grand Army of United Veterans decided to start a campaign for new members and committees will be struck to carry out this plan at the next general meeting. The members last night objected to September 5 as the date on which service organizations should meet to consider amalgamation. It was thought that Labor Day was not a suitable occasion for such a meeting.

Headed Sports—Members of the Royal Society of St. George greatly appreciated the work of Maurice Mose, who as captain of sports was responsible for a great deal of the pleasure of the annual outing at Deep Cove Saturday. W. T. Jourdan as the Royal Society afforded much amusement with the clever witticisms he indulged in, a large megaphone being used to let everybody hear what he had to say.

Knights of the Thistle—The Knights of the Thistle will give a whist drive in the large Caledonia Hall on Tuesday, at 8.30 o'clock. This is the first of the series which will be held during the season. The committee is under the chairmanship of Dan Wallace, who will have charge of the whist. The prizes for the fortunate winners. After the card game a dance will follow, the music will be supplied by Wallace's Orchestra.

To Prevent Congestion—The Saanich School Board last night decided that the best method to overcome a threatened congestion of the Strawberry Vale school would be by transferring the Burnside and Glyn children to Prospect Lake school, the Board providing transportation. The proposal was suggested by Trustee Hull and unanimously endorsed. To give legal effect to this decision the boundary between the two school districts will be readjusted. This course was preferred to the expense of adding another room to Strawberry Vale school.

Economy in Practice—Because the Saanich School Board found difficulty in raising the necessary $425, the older portion of Tillikum school will, for the present, go without a needed repainting. The trustees were anxious to adopt a recommendation by Architect Hubert Savage in favor of the work, feeling that appearance and longevity justified the expenditure, but anticipated the need of extreme economy if the annual estimates are not to be exceeded, even without painting costs being incurred. For the same reasons the Board declined to authorize work on the Tillikum school basement, needed to convert it into playrooms.

CHINAMAN BOLTED INTO ARMS OF WAITING POLICE

Joe Lin Fined $200 for Being in Possession of Opium

In spite of an earnest statement to the effect that he was only a lodger and therefore not responsible for the illicit drug found in premises which he was occupying at the time of arrest, the weight of evidence crushed down upon the unlucky head of Joe Lin to-day and netted him a fine of $200, with the option of two months in jail in default of payment, on a charge of having opium in his possession. In addition to the fine, the accused was ordered to pay $2.50 costs for the services of the interpreter. R. C. Lowe appeared for the accused, entering a plea of not guilty.

Chief Fry told how he with Sergeant Boulton and a posse made a raid on premises on the second story of 404 and 568 Piggard Street on Sunday morning early. Chief Fry cut through a partition in the front, while Sergeant Boulton waited in the rear, hearing a great deal of running around inside. The rear door was opened suddenly and the accused shot out into the arms of Sergeant Boulton. By this time Chief Fry had cut his way through strong doors and partitions and was inside at the front, while the sergeant speeded his entry, with the accused in tow.

The place was specially prepared for smoking, stated both witnesses, and held a quantity of smoking material and some of the drug. The accused on his own behalf stated that the premises belonged to one Jui Jick who smoked for his own amusement, averred witness. Jui Jick had gone for lunch, slightly after midnight, continued witness, but he the accused had just had his lunch, and that was why he was in the premises. He paid Jui Jick a sum of $3 a month for lodging on the premises, but took all his meals outside. He had not tried to get up the opium pipes that were found smashed, and he had run about merely because he was frightened at the knocking and hammering of the police. He did not know much about Jui Jick as he had recently come himself from Vancouver and had only been two weeks in that lodging when arrested.

Chief Fry told of strong doors, secret walls, and four by four locking devices attached to the place, while Sergeant Boulton added that all windows were shuttered and bolted on the inside. Magistrate Jay held that the accused was found in active possession of the opium and imposed the fine.

L. Smith, charged with exceeding the limit on a motorcycle paid $10. The charges against Lock Chew and Toy Gong, jointly charged with gross indecency occupied the latter part of the time of the court at the morning session. W. C. Moresby appeared for the accused, entering a plea of not guilty. The case was heard in camera.

Caruso's Last Record

IN the August supplement of "His Master's Voice" Records, Enrico Caruso's last record is listed. It is: 88635 T'm' Arricordo e Napule

Since we have heard the news of Caruso's death in Naples, it is interesting to note what the Victor Company's magazine editor has to say in the August issue.

"Caruso's record this month is from Naples—that immortal shrine of 'Love and Life, that linger and are proud.' The song has a slow, undulant barcarolle-like rhythm, against which the voice rolls out clear, golden, mellifluous."

FINE PROGRAMME BY ARION CLUB

Friendly Help Benefited by Al Fresco Concert Last Evening

In the cool of an ideal Summer night a crowd numbering near one thousand gathered in the lovely grounds of the Parliament Buildings last night for the open-air concert given by the Arion Club for the benefit of the funds of the Friendly Help Society. The concert proved a great success and the girls who collected for the beneficiaries attracted attention with few refusals, although the donations were chiefly in small currency.

In the absence through illness of Frank Sehl, B. C. Mess, wielded the conductor's baton with conspicuous success. Miss Eleanor Barfoot, L. R. A. M., presided at the piano with marked ability.

Although the holidays had made some deprecations upon the ranks of the choir, the balance was well sustained and the program fully maintained its excellent reputation. The programme included a number of old favorites, particularly effective being Sullivan's "Lost Chord" and Horatio Parker's "Cossack" War Song. Especially pleasing were the solo numbers by Deane Quainton, who sang "Star of the Desert" and "I Am a Friar in Orders Grey," and Frank Tupman, possessor of a charming lyric tenor, whose songs, "Mother Macchree" and "I Hear You Calling Me," were received with enthusiasm.

CATTLE-RAISING PROSPECTS GOOD

Likelihood of Considerable Settlement Along P. G. E.

On the assumption that what benefits one portion of British Columbia benefits the whole, Victoria and Vancouver Island included, J. G. Thomson, publicity commissioner of the Victoria and Island Development Association, has had some communication with prominent people in the East which will likely result in considerable colonization along the line of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Already Mr. Thomson has been advised of the possibility of some of the cattle men of the Western and South-western states taking up some thousands of acres of land in the district, and they are now negotiating that end with a view to going into cattle raising on a large scale.

Mr. Thomson calls attention to the fact of P. Burns proposing to ship chilled beef to Europe via the Panama, the first shipment of which will go by the S.S. Somersetshire, and he points to the vast possibilities in the development of this trade.

"Well, Harry," he said, "I never expected this of you. After all the years we have been chums and the many times I have been a friend to you, I am more than surprised."

Then his voice got louder, and he began to show signs of anger.

"And stop kissing her while I am talking to you!" he hissed.—Tit-Bits.

IMMIGRATION.

To the Editor.—In your leader in last night's issue dealing with immigration, you suggest the Government should "tell the would-be emigrant from the Old Country the cost of land here."

Surely that is quite unnecessary. The cost of land here is very well known at home and known to be far in excess of its agricultural value. That is why people in England are flocking to New Zealand and South Africa for farming prospects, rather than to British Columbia.

As a matter of fact far better land than this Province has to offer can be bought in England itself at the present time for less than is asked here for areas of un reclaimed bush; land, too, that has been tilled for centuries and lies within reach of a market of millions of people.

"UNTO CAESAR"

To the Editor.—Mr. Maclean's exegesis is unsound. "Caesar" to our Lord and His apostles stood for the pagan Roman Government in whose name Christ was merely a turbulent Jew, and not the Son of the living God. The representatives of Caesar not only collected taxes from our Lord, but finally crucified Him, and subjected His followers to a fierce persecution, lasting for four hundred years. As a matter of fact it is this same Roman Government that acknowledged the Divinity of Christ it would have accorded Him and His houses the same immunity as it granted the temples of its own gods.

The Government of a Christian country must from the nature of the case adopt a different attitude towards the houses of God. Governments owe duties to God just as surely as citizens owe duties to the Government. In the case in point His Britannic Majesty, advised by the Judicial Committee of his Privy Council, has decided that the law of this portion of his Dominions, in harmony with the Christian spirit animating the common law of the Empire, does not exact personal tribute from God Himself. While Bishop Macdonald, in common with every other good citizen, pays his personal taxes, a decision of the Sovereign has laid it down that no tax has in fact been imposed upon that personal

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

To the Editor.—From time to time I have noticed the SS. "Island Princess" advertised to sail on Sundays to different destinations among the Gulf Islands, but I never thought of taking the trip myself. Last week she was advertised to go to Maple Bay and my wife suggested that we should go. I readily agreed, more to please her than any anticipation of enjoying it myself. Now I wonder how many people realize what wonderful little trips these are. We left Victoria at 10 o'clock and arrived at Maple Bay at 2:15 p. m., after gliding through some of the finest scenery in the world. All the while the passengers amused themselves as it suited them, some had baskets and took lunch under the trees, and others including ourselves had a very nice lunch on board. We left Maple Bay at 4:30 p. m., and arrived home at

DR. HASELL'S WORTH.

To the Editor.—According to the recent reports in the newspapers the directors of the Jubilee Hospital have decided upon some reorganization, and have dispensed with the services of the medical superintendent. Considering the difficulties they have had to contend with for some time, great credit is due them for their efforts to reduce expenditure and maintain an efficient service. Only those who know can realize these difficulties, and I am sure when their rearrangements are complete, it will be all to the good.

Now, Mr. Editor, if it is possible, there is one thing I would like to see the directors do, and that is reappoint Dr. Hassell to some position at the hospital. As an old resident of Victoria and to some extent acquainted with both him and Mrs. Hassell, I know how long and faithfully he served this institution, and the public does not perhaps realize how much it owes him. I believe he was medical superintendent there for at least fifteen years—until 1916, when he resigned the position to join the Esquimalt Military Hospital. The branch of the S. C. R. in Victoria was closed up several months ago, and Dr. Hassell's services in consequence no longer required.

My reason for bringing this matter to your attention (and I hope the directors will not take any objection) is there is no work Dr. Hassell would rather perform than work for the hospital with which he has been so long intimately connected. He would spend his last breath, his last ounce of strength to keep the hospital going. The patients, the soldiers, the doctors and the nurses can endorse this.

I understand that at an age when he should be retiring, he should really have a pension. Dr. Hassell is like most of us obliged to work to live. The best part of his life has been devoted to loyal public service, and it is unreasonable to expect a man past 50 to engage in the battle of life for which a younger man is fitted.

It would be off the point to allude

ASSISTANCE GIVEN STEAM SCHOONER

Multnomah Will Be Towed to San Francisco

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—The steam schooner Multnomah, drifting off the California coast about fifty miles northwest of Blunt's Reef lightship, according to wireless messages picked up by the United States navy radio station on Yerba Buena Island here.

There are no passengers aboard the Multnomah.

Will Be Towed.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—The steam schooner Multnomah, Seattle to San Francisco, dropped her propeller when fifteen miles off the California coast near Eureka, but is in no danger and will be taken in tow by the Quinalt, according to officials of the Charles R. McCormick Company, San Francisco, owners.

The tug Hercules was sent out of San Francisco to-day to the Multnomah's assistance.

The Multnomah is commanded by Captain Clemenson and has a cargo of lumber. There are no passengers aboard.

Earlier Messages.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—The steam schooner Multnomah, drifting fifty miles northwest of Blunt's Reef lightship, off the California coast, is in no danger and a rescue ship is speeding to her assistance and probably will reach the spot within a few hours, according to advices.

An earlier message said the steam schooner Multnomah, 969 tons, was disabled and floating helplessly about fifty miles northwest of Blunt's Reef lightship, near Eureka, California. The message was picked up early to-day by the United States navy radio station on Yerba Buena Island here.

The vessel was en route to San Francisco from Seattle with a cargo of lumber. She carries a crew of from fifteen to twenty men and is operated by the Charles R. McCormick Company of San Francisco.

LARGE IDLE TONNAGE IN THE UNITED STATES

The Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom, in a report recently made public, places the idle tonnage at more than five millions, excluding 265 wooden vessels constructed by the board as part of the war effort. London papers point out that under present conditions very little shipping is being run at a profit, and that on a great many voyages heavy losses have been incurred. At the beginning of May there was laid up, in United Kingdom, American and in the United States as part of the war effort, 5,000,000 tons, deadweight, or approximately a gross tonnage of 8,000,000. "The decline in the volume of trade to be carried by sea has been accompanied by a rapid increase of the world's tonnage," says a summary of the report by the National City Bank. "The total of steam and sailing tonnage of vessels of 100 tons gross and upward rose in spite of the losses incurred during the war by over eight million tons gross in the six years from the outbreak of war and of this expansion 78 per cent. occurred in the year ending June 30, 1921."

The upward movement will continue, for at the end of 1920 more than 7,000,000 tons of merchant vessels were still under construction, of which 3,700,000 tons were building in British yards. The majority of these ships will be completed during the coming year, but a good deal of new tonnage will replace old tonnage which was pressed into service under the exceptional conditions of the war.

PERTURBED BECAUSE OF SALARY IMPASSE

Seek Aid of Lawyers in Clearing Atmosphere; Chairman Would Modify Stand

"We took it for granted that teachers dissatisfied with our terms would resign. We are faced with a situation where they refuse to resign and practically defy us," said Chairman Holloway of the Saanich School Board last night, when the Trustees were discussing the impasse arrived at on the salary disagreement with the teaching staff.

Chairman Holloway's published statement that the customary annual increases would be granted by Saanich, notwithstanding the exclusion of any such paragraph from contracts sent the staff for signature was discussed, Secretary Cowper pointing out that the agreements were prepared in exact accord with instructions given by the Board after an abortive meeting with representatives of the teachers.

Trustee Thorne maintained that no increases were intended, whereupon Chairman Holloway asserted that it was possible to make such a concession.

Trustee Hull thought the Board had no intention of withholding salary increments earned by continued service, and Trustee Mrs. Humphries likewise disapproved of too firm a stand in favor of enforcing a $520 salary on all who refuse to sign the Board's agreement.

Examination of the list of teachers showed twenty had signed the contracts, some with a proviso for increments interpolated, while twenty-nine had refused. Four had as yet failed to make their intentions plain, and ten had resigned.

Opposition Too Strong.

Chairman Holloway argued out that it was incredible that Saanich would consider reducing the salaries of twenty-nine members of the staff. "We cannot act thus to so great a number," he said, and suggested that the Board withdraw from its stand to the extent of acknowledging the teachers' claims to increases such as have been given for the past two years.

"There is nothing to be gained by fighting the teachers," remarked Trustee Mrs. Humphries, and "Chairman Holloway then stated: 'We thought we had matters in our own hands. The teachers are going to appeal for arbitration on the basis of our salary of $520. It is plain they are in accord with the school law. Why not meet them on the annual increase proposal and obviate this?'"

The proposal was then advanced by Trustee Thorne that the Board obtain a legal opinion on the whole salary question, with special stress upon the query as to whether there is any binding agreement between the Board and the teachers, and if not, if there is any obstacle to the Board's striking any salary basis it chooses to name.

Trustee Hull seconded this plan, and discussion was deferred until Thursday evening, when the opinion will be scanned.

As the meeting adjourned Trustee Hull remarked: "If the Board is bound by a contract it will cheerfully adhere to it, if it is not, we want the teachers to know it as soon as possible."

High Percentage of Passes to High School Earns Encomiums

The Saanich School Board last night formally congratulated the teachers in charge of the smaller schools of the municipality on the results attained in the entrance examinations for the High School, with especial stress on the Keating, West Saanich and Royal Oak staffs, where 100 per cent. of those pupils sitting for examination succeeded in passing the tests.

Dislike Recommendation.

In addition to congratulating the teachers of the small schools, the Trustees went on record as "seeing no advantage in pupils being recommended, taking this course after noting that Tolmie and Cloverdale Schools, the two where the recommendation system of promotion was in effect, provided the only dark spots on the educational escutcheon of the municipality, with seven failures of eight entrants from Tolmie and eleven failures of twelve entrants from Cloverdale.

CITY AND SAANICH SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO DEBATE AFFAIRS

Per Capita Contribution for High School Tuition to Be Settled

With the purpose of discussing High School matters, a meeting of the Saanich and Victoria School Boards will take place towards the end of the present month, the city Board having accepted a suggestion from Saanich that such a meeting be held to discuss financial matters. It is probable that the joint meeting will take place before August 25.

In discussing the proposal for a joint session, Chairman Holloway last night suggested to the Saanich Board that it would be well that the Trustees meet half an hour earlier than the time arranged to meet the Victoria Trustees in order that the spokesman for Saanich may voice the opinion of all.

May Offer Suggestions.

Touching on High School conditions, Chairman Holloway suggested that recommendations from Saanich

Regina Man Had Breakdown From Shell Shock, But Is Restored to Perfect Health

"I know a good many of the boys are in the same fix I was in, so I want to tell them about what Tanlac did for me," said Maurice O. Lewis, Lorne Street, Regina, Sask., who served gallantly in France and finally was invalided home:

"I suffered a complete nervous breakdown from shell shock, and was about as discouraged as a man could be because I didn't believe I would ever get my health and strength back. I didn't care to eat, couldn't sleep and almost the least exertion gave me an awful feeling of exhaustion, and great beads of perspiration would break out all over me. I slept so poorly that I got up in the morning feeling even worse than I did when I went to bed.

"This was the condition I was in when I started taking Tanlac, and that medicine took hold of me at once, and soon had me on my feet feeling fine. It gave me an appetite, put my stomach in first-class condition and made me gain fourteen pounds in weight. As soon as it began building me up I could feel my nerves growing quieter, and now they are as strong and steady as they ever were in my life. When a man is feeling run down and 'all in' it certainly is great to find something that will take hold of him, and just make him over into a new man, and that's exactly what Tanlac did for me."

might be acceptable if advanced with delicacy, as the municipality was interested in such a large number of pupils attending.

Later in the evening the Board received a letter from the principal of the Esquimalt High School stating that a fee of $100 per annum would be charged Saanich for pupils attending. The Trustees decided that it would refuse to be responsible for fees for pupils without a permit from the Saanich School Board.

A CORDIAL INVITATION TO DISEASE

This is an apt description of Constipation. It is an unnatural condition to begin with, but it's dangerous because it leads to indigestion, fills the system with poisons, brings on anaemia. You don't need a purgative, you don't want to weaken the system by a harsh gripping medicine, what you need is mild natural stimulation to the bowels. You get just what you need in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which tone up the liver, restore the bowels to perfect action and positive relief to the bowels. You'll feel tip top after regulating your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Good for young and old—a real family medicine. 25c. Get it from your druggist, or The Catarthozone Co., Montreal. (Adv.)

Life Underwriters to Aid Victoria and Island Development Fund

Members of the Life Underwriters' Association will devote their time immediately after the convention to raising $3,250 from the general public for the Vancouver Island Development Association, in order that this association can qualify for the extra $5,000 grant from the city, so the members decided at the monthly luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Dominion Hotel.

Thirty members sat down under President Ferguson.

It was moved by Mr. O'Hara and seconded by Mr. Kenneth Ferguson that the local association offer two prizes of $10 each for an essay on "A Married Woman's Opinion as to Why a Married Man Should Carry Life Insurance," and also the subject, "Why a Young Man Should Carry Life Insurance." Particulars of this competition will be issued shortly.

A committee was appointed to draw up a resolution for the superintendent of insurance in reference to the licensing of agents. It was also decided that Friday night, August 19, be Life Underwriters' night at the Princess Theatre. A committee was appointed to look after arrangements.

The question of elimination of part time agents was finally carried by a large majority, to take effect thirty days from date, after which it will be impossible for any one to secure life insurance from anyone but full time agents. Considerable discussion followed regarding the coming convention next week.
