The Rev. John Eliot, pastor of Roxbury, Massachusetts, began the study of the Natick Indian language when forty-two years of age; and having acquired a knowledge of it expressed a desire to translate the Scriptures into it for the use of the natives, among whom he acted as a Missionary. Aided by an Indian who had been taught the art of printing, he completed the translation of the Old and New Testament, in 1658, after a labor of eight years. The fact having been made known to the London Society for the Propagation of the Gospel among the Indians of New England, by Governor Endicott, in a letter dated December 28, 1658, that body at once agreed to bear the expense of printing fifteen hundred copies of the New Testament. The longest word is Mark i, 40, "Wuttesittukqussunnoowuhtunkquoh," signifying "Kneeling down to him."

Language to be Intelligible. Boston: Printed by B. Green, 1707.

16° paper.

Only three other perfect copies of this book are known and all in Public Libraries.

“Why this, the FIRST BOOK in the language of the Five Nations, was printed at Boston instead of New York,—or by whom the translation was made,—Mather does not inform us. It was probably written by Rev. Thorowgood Moor, who was sent out by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in 1704, to labor for the conversion of the Mohawks. He remained nearly a year at Albany, and visited the Mohawks at their ‘Castle,’ but could not obtain their consent to his establishment of a mission among them. Before Nov. 1705 he returned to New York, and shortly afterwards went to Burlington, N. J., to supply the place of the Rev. John Talbot (another Missionary of the Society). Here Mr. Moor gave offence by refusing to admit the Lieut-Gov. (Ingoldsby) to the Lord’s Supper, and was punished by imprisonment. Having contrived to escape, he fled to Boston, and in Nov. 1707 took passage for England, from Marblehead. The vessel, with all on board, was lost at sea.”

- 49 Mohawk Prayer Book. The Order For Morning and Evening Prayer, And Administration of the Sacraments, and some other Offices of the Church, Together with A Collection of Prayers, and some Sentences of the Holy Scriptures, necessary for Knowledge Practice. Ne Yagawagh Niyadewighniserage Yonderaenayendaghkwa orghoongene neoni Yogaraskha Yoghseragwegough, etc. Collected, and translated into the Mohawk Language, under the direction of the late Rev. Mr. William Andrews, the late Rev. Dr. Henry Barclay, and the Rev. Mr. John Ogilvie. [New York, W. Weyman and Hugh Gaine] 1769.

Small 8° old sheep.

“Less than 400 copies were printed, and very few remained among the Mohawks when they retired to Canada in 1777.”

- 50 Monardes, Nicolo. Joyfull Newes Out of the New-found Worlde, Wherein are declared, the rare and singular vertues of divers Herbs, Trees, Plantes, Oyles & Stones, with their applications, as well to the use of Phisicke, as of Chirurgery: which being well applyed, bring such present remedie for all diseases, as may seeme altogether incredible: notwithstanding by practice found out to be true. Englished by John Frampton, Merchant. London, 1596.

Small 4° mottled calf.

- 51 Morton, Charles. (Minister of the Gospel at Charlestown in New-England.) The Spirit of Man: or, Some Meditations (by way of Essay) on the Sense of that Scripture. Boston: Printed by B. Harris, for Duncan Campbell, at the Dock-Head, over-against the Conduit, 1693.

16° sheep.

Small 4° full crimson morocco extra, gilt edges, by F. BEDFORD.

This book is one of those commonly referred to as “the corner stone” of the early history of New England, and its accurate and full account of transactions there from 1620 to 1668, justify its claim to that title.

- 53 Morton, Thomas. New English Canaan, or New Canaan, Containing an abstract of New England. Printed at Amsterdam, by Jacob Frederick Stam, in the yeare, 1637.

Small 4° light green levant morocco, super extra, by F. BEDFORD.

- 54 Mourt, G. A Relation or Journall of the beginning and proceedings of the English Plantation settled at Plimouth in New England, by certaine English Adventurers both Merchants and others. With their difficult passage, their safe arrivall, their joyfull building of, and comfortable planting themselves in the now well defended Towne of New Plimouth. London, 1622.

Small 4° full green crushed morocco extra, gilt edges, by PRATT.

Mourt's “Relation” is another of those books usually catalogued as “the chief corner stone” of a library of Americana, and as it is one of the earliest accounts of New England history, it is not easy to overestimate its importance. But its value is not greater than the difficulty of procuring the book in good condition. It was evidently very popular at the time of its publication, and received careless usage. It was written by William Bradford and Edward Winslow and was sent to George Mourt (or Morton) in London, for publication.

- 55 New Englands First Fruits: in respect

First of the

"You talk of weeping, Clarinda; some involuntary drops wet your lines as I read them. Offend me my dearest Angel! You cannot offend me,—you never offended me. If you had ever given me the least shadow of offence, so pardon me my God, as I forgive Clarinda. I have read yours again: it has blotted my paper. Tho' I find your letter has agitated me into a violent headache, I shall take a chair and be with you about eight. A friend is to be with us at tea, on my account, which hinders me from coming sooner. Forgive my dearest, my unguarded expressions.—For Heaven's sake, forgive me, or I shall never be able to bear my own mind.
"Yours unhappy
"Sylvander."
- 108 Burns, Robert. Autograph letter to Clarinda, signed "Sylvander." 2 pp. 4°.
"2 O'clock.
"I just now received your first letter of yesterday, by the careless negligence of the penny post.
"Clarinda, matters are grown very serious with us: then seriously hear me, and hear me Heaven!
"I met you, my dear Clarinda, by far the first of womankind, at least to me, I esteemed, I loved you at first sight, both of which attachments you have done me the honour to return. The longer I am acquainted with you, the more innate amiableness and worth I discover in you. You have suffered a loss, I confess, for my sake; but if the firmest, steadiest, warmest friendship; if every endeavour to be worthy of your friendship; if a love, strong as the ties of nature, and holy as the duties of religion; if all these can make anything like a compensation for the evil I have occasioned you; if they be worth your acceptance, or can in the least add to your enjoyments,—so help Sylvander, ye Powers above, in his hour of need, as he freely gives these all to Clarinda!

“I esteem you, I love you, as a friend; I admire you, I love you, as a woman, beyond any one in all the circle of creation.

“I know I shall continue to esteem you, to love you, to pray for you, nay, to pray for myself for your sake.

“Expect me at eight; and believe me to be ever, my dearest Madam, yours most entirely,

“Sylvander.”

The two preceding letters are a part of the original correspondence between Burns and Clarinda, and are letters numbered 20 and 44 in the “Correspondence between Burns and Clarinda, with a memoir of Mrs. McLehose (Clarinda), arranged and edited by her grandson, W. C. McLehose. Edinburgh, 1843.”

Manuscripts on Vellum

Early Printed Books, 1467-1487

- 237 MANUSCRIPT on Vellum. Biblia Latina. Manuscript on Vellum of the thirteenth century. Sæc. XIII.

4° bound by THIERRY, in brown levant morocco, the sides blind tooled with fleurs-de-lis and gilt inside borders, gilt edges.

A remarkable manuscript of the thirteenth century, comprising the entire Sacred Scriptures, written in microscopic characters, on 522 leaves of the finest vellum, in double columns of 50 lines each. The pages are embellished with hundreds of illuminated initial letters, etc.

- 238 Manuscript on Vellum. Hore de Sancta Cruce. A Latin Book of Hours of the French School, of superior workmanship, written on 82 leaves of fine and clear vellum, with 6 large and exquisite miniatures, 12 large illuminated capitals, 18 illuminated borders, and several hundred small ornamental letters, all richly heightened with burnished gold. Sæc. XV.

Large 8° full morocco, blind tooling, with clasps.

A splendid specimen of a French manuscript Book of Hours, of superior execution and in perfect condition; the miniatures are of surpassing beauty, surrounded with broad floriated borders and fine tracery, richly dotted with burnished gold. They comprise: The Annunciation, Crucifixion, Taking from the Cross, A Funeral Scene, etc. The large capitals are illuminated in bright colors and ornamented with burnished gold, as are also the numerous smaller initials, and the beautifully wrought borders.

- 239 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis. A French manuscript, executed about 1350, written in an artistic manner on 240 leaves of very fine vellum, exquisitely illuminated throughout with 21 miniatures, surrounded by floriated page borders, upwards of 100 illuminated borders and capitals, and hundreds of smaller illuminated initials and finial bars, all richly heightened with burnished gold. Sæc. XV.

Thick 12° in a contemporary calf binding covered with tooling in the Maioli manner.

This is a beautiful and rare example of the best French school of illumination; the 21 miniatures (all very bright and in perfect condition) are very carefully finished and of great delicacy of execution, on a background of landscape and blue firmament, in the early style; the page borders around the miniatures are of a pronounced but very neat floriated pattern, with insects, birds, and animals; the numerous smaller borders are a combination of a floriated arabesque and filigree pattern, richly dotted with burnished gold, and are remarkable for their variety and excellence of design.

- 240 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ de Sancta Cruce. A French manuscript written in a bold hand on 161 leaves of vellum, beautifully illuminated throughout in burnished gold and colors, with 12 large miniatures, all delicately drawn, with broad borders of an interlaced floriated pattern, with flowers, birds, and grotesque figures, hundreds of initial letters and final bars, delicate side borders to nearly every page of a floriated pattern, each leaf finished in burnished gold, the flowers in brilliant colors. Sæc. XV.
8° old stamped calf binding, original oak boards.
- 241 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis. A manuscript written on 105 leaves of vellum, with 17 beautiful miniatures, with full-page borders all executed in gold and colors, in a beautiful design of flowers, fruit, birds, also side bars to every page of a floriated design, and hundreds of initial letters executed in colors and burnished gold. Sæc. XV.
Small 4° old calf.
- 242 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis. Manuscript on vellum of the fifteenth century of French execution. Written on 125 leaves of vellum in bold Gothic letters, with hundreds of initial letters illuminated in gold and colors, with 10 large miniatures surrounded with illuminated borders of flowers and fruit. Sæc. XV.
Small 4° full crimson morocco extra, gilt edges.
- 243 Manuscript. Miniature Manuscript on Vellum. Written on 130 leaves, with calendar of 12 leaves, with 2 full-page miniatures and 3 smaller miniatures, with numerous illuminated initials. Sæc. XV.
Full morocco, with clasp.
- 244 Manuscript. Latin Service Book on Vellum, with Music, written on 180 leaves, with numerous rubricated initials. Sæc. XV.
Thick folio, old calf.
- 245 Manuscript. Persian manuscript beautifully illuminated in gold and colors, with 58 miniatures executed in colors, and each page with a floriated border, numerous gold bars, and hundreds of smaller illuminations.

Curiously bound in 12° enamelled boards entirely covered with flowers, inside covers showing a bouquet of flowers, etc.

- 246 Aquino, Thomas de. Summæ Theologicæ secundæ Partis Pars Secunda. Black Letter, printed on 258 leaves double columns of 59 lines, first leaf illuminated, and hundreds of rubricated initials in red and blue. Petrum Schoiffher de Gernsheim, 1467.

Thick folio, stamped calf, with brass bosses and corners.

- 247 Eusebius. Eusebium Pamphili de evangelica præparatione latinum ex græco beatissime pater jussu tuo effeci. Nicholas Jensen: Venice, 1470.

Folio, new vellum.

“This is one of the first books printed by JENSEN, and is supposed to be the first book printed in Venice.”

- 248 Gregorius Magnus. Moralia in Job. Narratio historica de libris moralium Gregorii, Romæ, per miraculum inventis. Black Letter, printed in double columns on 383 leaves. (J. Sensenschmidt et J. Kefer) Nuremberge, 1471.

Thick large folio, full russia, with a coat-of-arms on the sides.

An immaculate copy of this important book, with full margins; the first dated edition of the work, and a Monument of Typography, printed only one year after the establishment of printing in Nürnberg, by Sensenschmidt and Kefer.

- 249 Laude, Olradius de Ponte de. Consilia et quæstiones. Colophon: Finis Consilior eximii utriusque juris professoris Oldradi de Laude, Rome impressorum per magestrum Adam Rot, 1472.

Folio, full calf, gilt, in wooden case.

No pagination or initials at the beginnings of chapters; with wide margins, and in fine clean condition, an excellent specimen of early printing.

- 250 Antonius, St. (Archbishop of Florence). Tractatus Notabilis de Excōicationibus Suspecionibus Interdictis Irregularitativ, etc. Black Letter. Printed in double columns on 135 leaves. Venetiis, ductu et impensis Johannis de Colonia agripinensi ac Johannis Mäthen de Gherretzshem, 1474.

4°. Bound by TRAUTZ-BAUZONNET in polished crushed levant morocco, sage color, inside gold borders, edges gilt on marble.

Beautiful copy in fine condition, with broad margins. This was the Yeminez copy and has inserted the book-plate of that collection. The volume is one of the first books printed with signatures by John de Cologne and John Mathen de Gherretzshem who were the first to use them in Venice and in 1474.

- 251 Missale Romanum Vetus, Ordo Missalis Secundum Consuetudinem Romanæ Curiaë. Printed in red and black inks in Gothic type, the intonings of the Psalms are in four-line musical notes, written by hand upon red lines; various decorated initials in azure and red, with numerous others of quaint design, painted by hand; marginal MS. notes, and an additamentum entitled "Benedictio Amoris Johannis," in the Middle Latin of the period. Nicholai de Frankfordia : Venetis, 1487.

Thick small 4° bound in the original hogskin with brass mounted corners, tooled.

- 252 Block Print on Vellum. A Latin Service Book, comprising a single Mass, printed on seven leaves of vellum, with a colored Parchment Impression of the Crucifixion. (Circa 1470.)

Small folio, boards.

The above is a rare and valuable specimen of xylographic printing, practised in the Rhine-lands previous to the invention and during the development of printing with movable type.

The engraving represents the Saviour on the cross, the Passion group at the foot, Mary on one side in attitude of prayer, and Johannes on the other, four angels with cups and Adam's skull on the ground, the whole within a frame of arabesque design; the coloring is in blue, red, and green tints.

- 253 Block Book. Italian. Opera noua contemplatua p ogni fidel christiano laquale tratta de le figure del testamento vecchio: le quale figure sonno verificate nel testamento nuouo.

Small 8° full crimson morocco.

This interesting volume consists of 63 leaves, the first of which is occupied by the title and the last two by the colophon, and an engraving of the Virgin and Child; the remaining 60 bear on either side illustrations of the Old and New Testament. At the top and bottom of the pages are descriptive sentences and quotations from the Prophets, engraved in the block. An extraordinary degree of interest attaches to the volume, as being the only Block Book printed in Italy.

Rembrandt Peale, 1795.

William Birch, 1796.

James Sharpless, 1796.

Saint Memin, 1798.

These portraits have been engraved for different purposes, large and small, from the first engraved in 1772 until the present day, and represent the work of over three hundred different engravers, over one hundred of whom are American.

This collection is made up of 360 engravings from portraits by these artists, 244 of which are fully described in "Baker's Engraved Portraits of Washington."

Among the collection over 100 are not mentioned in "Baker," and comprise a large portion which have been produced since the book was printed, including a few early ones. The one here reproduced in this catalogue, being unique, but similar to the description of No. 431, which might have been a copy, as this was published "Feb. 26, 1801, by John Fairburn, 146 Minorities, London," and measures $12\frac{6}{8}$ by $9\frac{6}{8}$ inches.

Those interested will find the following numbers as described in "Baker" :

3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 colored, 11, 12, 14, 15, 18, 19, 21 proof before letters, 23, 27, 29, 30, 31, 32, 34 tinted and 3 states, 35, 36, 37, 39, 40, 43, 46, 48, 49 2 states, 51, 54, 56, 58, 59, 63, 65 4 states, 67, 68, 69, 70, 73, 80, 81, 86, 87, 89, 91, 93, 94, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 103, 104, 105, 108, 110, 111, 112, 113,
