HOLD CONFERENCE OVER FINANCING HOTEL PROJECT

Final Arrangements Being Completed, Announces
H. J. Tremain

"The new hotel is to be Glendale's hotel," asserted H. J. Tremain last night in an interview at the Angelus hotel, Los Angeles. "I want everybody to feel that it is their home. It must become the civic center of your community."

Mr. Tremain had just concluded a two-hour conference with representatives of the W. Campbell company and the Commercial Building & Construction company, by which final arrangements were made for financing the proposition.

"The people in Glendale work as hard as we have," he remarked. "The building will be under way in the near future. We are giving our proposition our undivided attention."

In order that members of the Eastside Apartment association and others interested in the hotel project might know something of Mr. Tremain's qualifications for assuming the responsibility for the success of this undertaking, he traced the following verbal outline of his experience:

Outlines Experience.
"I am a native of Iowa," declared Mr. Tremain. "I was born in Clayton county and reared at Humboldt."

"I have been in the hotel business twenty-eight years. I started in a house with kerosene lamps and soft coal at Humboldt. I spent most of my time in Iowa until I went to St. Paul, Minn., where I had the Hotel Willard. After that I had the Hotel Radisson in Minneapolis—a house of 450 rooms. By the way, it is one of the finest in the United States today. I had a half interest in that."

"Then I was secretary of Minneapolis club for two years. This is the same organization in Minneapolis that the Chamber of Commerce is in Los Angeles. It is not a social club but strictly business. It has 1500 members. That was where I really got my acquaintance in Minneapolis."

FRANK C. WELLER GAINING MANY SUPPORTERS

Glendale Man Receiving
Strong Endorsements for State Assembly

Two unsolicited endorsements of organizations have been given Frank C. Weller, local attorney, who is candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from the 61st district. The Young Men's Republican club of the district has pledged its active support and the Association for the Betterment of Public Service, which is headed by Assemblyman John Robert White, who returns this year, also has placed its stamp of approval on Mr. Weller's candidacy. It is stated:

From all parts of the district the local candidates are receiving the endorsement of Republicans and others alike. In today's issue of The Glendale Evening News an additional list of Glendale people who are interested in his election are endorsing Mr. Weller, making a total of approximately 500 voters here who have signified their intention of supporting his candidacy.

It is quite encouraging to Attorney Weller to list such a large number of friends and find favor so generally in all parts of the district, but this is probably due to the fact that he is entering the field independent of any interests seeking the election of a person for the upbuilding of a personal political machine.

Campfire Girls On Camp Baldy Outing

The Winona Campfire girls are leaving this week for a two weeks outing at Camp Baldy. Mrs. St. Clair Whitlock, assistant guardian, accompanied by Juanita Ball and Elnora Harris, will start at an early hour Saturday morning and spend the day opening up and camp they are to occupy, and have everything in order for the reception of the party that will arrive Sunday. Through the courtesy of the mothers the trip will be made by motor. Mrs. Russell will be accompanied by Gladys Russell, Alice Whitaker, Marjorie Graham, Dorothy West; Mrs. Farmer by Gertrude Blakney, Marian Poney, Margery Farmer and Mary Parker; Mrs. Frank Hoyt by Louise Hoyt, Lois Ward and Ernestine Kothor; Mrs. Clark by Virginia Clark, Janet West, Jeanette Zeitlin, Marjorie Phillips; Mrs. Jones, Ruth Jones.

FRASER LEADS MCCUMBER
FARGO, N. D., June 30.—Lynn J. Fraser, having the endorsement of the Non-Partisan league, has taken the lead over Senator Porter J. McCumber in the fight in the Republican senatorial race, on the face of unofficial returns, this afternoon. They gave Fraser 59,901 to 58,040 for McCumber, making Fraser's lead 1861. The returns were from 1310 precincts out of 2064 in the state.

BEATS BOY, IS CHARGE
LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Unable to furnish the required $2500 bail, Arnold Thomas, 31, was held in the county jail today awaiting trial on a charge of having beaten Grant Thomas, his 7-year old half-brother, with a lath and rawhide strap following an argument over money. According to testimony, the boy wished to spend his money and this led to the beating. Justice Forbes ordered Thomas held for trial.

DEATH HALTS TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—The sudden death of Superior Judge John W. Shenk's father today halted the trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. Judge Shenk was presiding at the trial when the message of his father's death was received. Court was adjourned immediately until July 10.

CHARLES MALLET CELEBRATES HIS 91ST BIRTHDAY

In Good Health and Happy,
He Receives Greetings
from Many Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mallett of Bridgewater, Conn., announced the birth of a son, Charles, June 27, 1831, and on Tuesday this same boy celebrated his 91st birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. R. Davis, 1111 East Lexington Drive, Glendale.

Clear of eye and in such good health that he is able to walk three or four miles each day for exercise, Mr. Mallett maintains an abiding interest in national and civic affairs and states that during the century he has witnessed the world it has been a mighty interesting place to live.

The little home in which Mr. Mallett was born is still standing in Bridgewater, and it is with pride that the old gentleman shows the picture of his birthplace. From boyhood Mr. Mallett grew up in his native town, where he engaged in the carpentry trade.

Here Fifteen Years
It was there that he was married to Miss Eliza Moran, a native of England, and they made their home for many years in Connecticut. Mrs. Mallett died several years ago, and Mr. Mallett, three children, three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren survive her.

Mr. Mallett has lived in Glendale for fifteen years, and each year the members of his family have celebrated his birthday. An interesting feature of the celebration Tuesday was the presence of many guests who have been present for fourteen years.

Attend Celebration
Those invited for the Tuesday evening celebration were Mrs. Sarah Moore and son Lee and daughters, Miss Alice and Mrs. Maggie Farrell; Mr. and Mrs. Nan Kervis and three children of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevenson and two daughters; Mr. and Mrs. C. Naregan, Mr. and Mrs. Crotser and three children, and Dr. and Mrs. Willard Follinsbee of Glendale.

Mrs. Davis was the only one of Mr. Mallett's children present. One son, George H. Mallett, living in New Haven, Conn., and the other son, D. E. Mallett, and wife, who make their home at 1313 East California street, Glendale, are now visiting in Connecticut.

Pleasant events of Tuesday for Mr. Mallett were countless cards and notes of congratulation from all parts of the United States, visits from friends and gifts.

Miss Harriett Williams, Bride - Elect, Is Guest

Mrs. J. W. M. Burton, Mrs. C. D. Shattuck and Mrs. E. O. Kiefer entertained with an aluminum kitchen shower last night at the home of Mrs. Shattuck, 320 West Myrtle street, in honor of Miss Harriett Williams, who is to be married in July to Harry Moore. There were thirty invited guests from Glendale, Los Angeles and vicinity.

Decorations and refreshments were carried out in the pastel colors, with lavender, pink and yellow predominating. During the evening jingles were read instructing the bride-to-be to find the gifts, which had been hidden throughout the house. Guessing games and social conversation concluded the evening.

City Council Wants Views About Parking

The city council plans a field day—or night—for the parking ordinance. The date is July 6. The place is the council chambers. The public is invited. The discussion is open. Orators are specially invited. The council wants to know all about the parking law; so its members said last night.

The council wants the views of the people. So the Glendale Real Estate Board, the Rotary club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis club, the Progressive club, the Merchants Credit Association—and all other organizations—are invited, the council says, to send representatives to express views on the parking law.

The Evening News Will Not Be Issued On Fourth of July

The Glendale Evening News will not be published next Tuesday, the Fourth of July.

It has long been an established custom of this paper to be absent on certain holidays throughout the year by not publishing and as independence day is one of them, do not expect your paper on Tuesday.

Those desiring to make announcements for Wednesday's business are urged to have their copy prepared in plenty of time for publication in Saturday's or Monday's issues.

H. E. McCartney to Be Called 'Slim' If He Keeps Up Diet

H. E. McCartney, of Hayward and McCartney, realtors at 142 South Brand boulevard, is not in a state of decline, although outward appearances would have it seem so.

No, indeed, he is feeling fine, but the fact of the matter is he has been dieting.

"Grow less and eat more" has been his policy for the last three months and today he has six good suits for the second-hand dealer.

Thirty pounds have been lost somewhere along the line, probably the belt line, and Mr. McCartney now weighs only 165 pounds.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO RAILWAY BONUS ON INCREASE

Three More Sign Up for Electric Car Service on Glendale Avenue

Three additional donations to the bonus of $25,000 which is to be paid the Glendale & Montrose Railway Company for the installation of electric service on Glendale avenue were reported yesterday noon in the Broadway Inn, 637 East Broadway, at the weekly luncheon of the Eastside Advancement Association.

The first was $250 from street Glendale Mill, 216 Howard street. The second was $500 from the Fox-Woodsum Lumber Company; the third was $20 from John Horsch, of 119 North Cedar street.

John P. Lampert, of 620 East Broadway, chairman pro tem of the railroad committee, reported a total of $5500 pledged towards this bonus.

"That shows that we have a long way to go," asserted C. W. McGee, president of the organization. "It behooves us to do everything possible in regard to this project."

This project should not be allowed to lag, according to Frank L. Fox, president and general manager of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber Company. He stated that railway officials were calling him up every day to find out what had been accomplished. He expressed an opinion that they might have orders placed for equipment which might have to be sacrificed because the project could be hastened if the

C. of C. Asks Aid
"The Chamber of Commerce has asked permission to put this over," remarked Mr. Ingelude. "They have the machinery and are able to put it over in good shape."

A question as to whether the cost of transportation on the new Glendale avenue line really would be less than on Brand boulevard was raised by J. F. Chandler, of 509 East Harvard street. He reminded members of the association that the rates would be fixed by the railroad commission.

Charles E. Stanley, of 168 North Everett street, remarked "If this doubt would be cleared up when application was made by the Glendale-Montrose Railway Company for a franchise."

"It is up to the people along Glendale avenue to take the initiative on this," declared Mr. Chandler. "As far as I live from Glendale avenue, I would feel ashamed of myself to pledge less than $25."

Rev. E. E. Ford Observes Anniversary

Celebration of the third anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. E. Ford at the First Baptist church and welcome to the new members were the special attraction at the social session observed last night at the church.

The program for the evening included a hymn, prayer by Deacon George McLeod; address of welcome to new members and of appreciation of the work done by Rev. Ford, by Rev. C. B. Elliott; response by Rev. Ford; response on part of new members, by A. W. Steffen; presentation of bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Ford by Ellen Bunkle, in appreciation of her work; saxophone and piano duet by William Bode and Herbert Henning; group of readings, by Miss Helen A. Wright; vocal selections by Mrs. Charles A. Parker. The guests then adjourned to the social hall where refreshments were served.

SEARCH FOR BANDITS

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Police today searched for two alleged bandits who escaped capture by George Boyajan, taxicab driver, after their automobile was wrecked at First and Flower streets during a thrilling encounter between Boyajan and the men who, the taxicab driver believed, had entered his room and stolen some clothing from him. The encounter between Boyajan and the alleged bandits occurred when the former attempted to arrest the two men.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR SUMMER SEASON ARE OPENING

First Day Is Tomorrow and Large Crowd of Boys to Attend, Belief

Nearly every boy in town is expected to show up Saturday afternoon when four playgrounds will be opened for their service during the summer.

The high school grounds, which will be open from 2 to 7 o'clock six afternoons a week, will be in charge of Coach Normal C. Hayward during July and Assistant Coach Howard L. Butterfield during August.

The intermediate school grounds will be in charge of Albert H. Blanford, physical director of the grammar school system. The central school grounds will be supervised by Manning L. Alvord. The Cerritos school grounds will be under the direction of an experienced playground director whose name will be announced as soon as he has accepted the appointment.

The hours for the grammar school playgrounds will be from 1 to 7 o'clock on Wednesday and Saturday.

Classed by Height
Every boy who reports at the grammar school athletic fields will be given a place on a team, according to Mr. Blanford. He stated that indoor baseball, hard ball, basketball, touchball, tennis and other games will be played.

Boys will be classed according to height. Those over five feet, two inches in height will make the senior team; those between four feet ten inches and five feet two inches will be classified as juniors; those between four feet six inches and four feet ten inches will be known as juniors, and those under four feet six inches will be midlets.

Raymond E. Swaim of 316 North Verdugo Road, Burbank, has been appointed to have charge of the summer playground at the Cerritos school. Announcement of this effect was made by L. T. Howell, attendance officer of the local school system and chairman of the community service committee.

High School Given Additional Teachers

Four additional high school teachers were appointed yesterday afternoon by the high school board of trustees after interviewing about twenty applicants for positions.

Miss Florence Randall of Whittier is a graduate of the University of California and for the last two years has been a student instructor in the department of physical education for women specializing in corrective methods of body building. She will assist Mrs. Sarah E. Elam, and Miss Lillian Shattuck in the management of the girls' gymnasium at Glendale Union high school.

Miss Anna S. Elam taught last term at the high school in Bisbee, Ariz. She will take a place in the local English department. Her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Elam, and her brother, David E. Elam, reside at 632 1/2 East Broadway.

Miss Daisy Monroe of Monrovia will become a member of the Spanish department. This department will be entered, also, by Merritt L. Hoblit of Fort Worth, Texas, who was head of the Spanish department of Christian university there last year and formerly connected with the State Agricultural College of New Mexico.

Plans for the new high school plant will be discussed tomorrow at a conference between the high school board of trustees and Frederick K. Ashley, representing John C. Austin. The meeting will convene at 5 o'clock. Supper will be served in the cafeteria.

La Crescenta Boy Scout Troop Formed

A new Boy Scout troop was organized last night as La Crescenta, to be known as La Crescenta Troop No. 1. It was formed under the auspices of the First Presbyterian church of La Crescenta, with the supervision of Rev. A. H. Kelso, pastor of the church.

This makes the fourth new troop formed in this district since the Verdugo Hills District Council of Boy Scouts of America was organized last January.

Three members of the church were named to form a troop committee, whose purpose is to look after the activities and welfare of the troop sponsored by the church. The committee consists of Ben E. Smith, A. C. Cox and L. A. Potter. C. W. Angier is the scoutmaster, with W. A. Fisher as assistant, according to H. P. Benner, local Scout executive.

The members of the new troop, all La Crescenta boys, are Herbert Cole, Stewart Collins, Neal Darby, Fred Goldenberg, Herbert Hodgkins, James Hooper, Carl Merton, Leland Mead, Paul Meosker, Lawrence Potter, Robert Potts, Harold Swanson, Robert Teifer and Earl Wooley.

TRAGIC STORY OF WORLD WAR HAS HAPPY ENDING

Five Words in Message to
Mrs. Nettie Williams
Bring Great Joy

A real war story, written with tragedy and suffering, with the various scenes enacted by members of a Polish family, had a happy chapter added yesterday when Mrs. Nettie Williams of Tujunga received a telegram from her sister, Mrs. J. Jacobson of Winthrop, Mass., bearing the meagre message: "Mother has arrived from Poland."

To the reader, this message means little more than a happy reunion, but to Mrs. Jacobson and Mrs. Williams and their mother, Mrs. Alta Schwartz, it means much more, for Mrs. Jacobson has not seen her mother for twenty years and it was in 1912 that Mrs. Williams last saw her.

With Russian Forces
From 1917 to 1921 the two daughters had no word from their home in Poland. Their father, Dr. Ely Schwartz, a graduate doctor from Harvard university, returned to Poland in 1914 to bring the mother to the United States. He reached his native country in the midst of war and answered the call and enlisted with the Russian forces.

In 1917 the daughters ceased to hear from their parents and it was not until last year that they learned that their father had been stabbed to death by a German soldier in 1917.

Frankly they tried to get in communication with their mother, to learn of her condition and to send her food, clothes and letters, but they were unsuccessful until aided by the American distribution commission.

Plans to Leave
Mrs. Williams knows nothing further than the telegram, which gave no information as to how or when her mother arrived. All she knows is that her mother is in Winthrop, Mass.

Mrs. Williams plans to leave July 5 for a summer visit with her mother and sister in Massachusetts, and in giving an account of her trip yesterday she stated that her trip will delay plans for her hotel project until October.

GIRL SCOUTS IN PLAY OF FAIRIES

Great Credit Is Due to
Troop No. 1 for Its Fine
Presentation

By the wave of her magic wand the queen of the fairies transformed the auditorium of the Broadway school into a forest glade for the presentation last night of "The Forest Ring," by Glendale Troop 1, Girl Scouts of America. Much praise is due Miss Gladys Sharp, troop leader, and members of the troop, who not only took part in the production, but also designed and made the artistic and clever scenery and costumes.

The charm of the forest fairies over the lives of human beings and the animals of the forest is the predominating theme of the play, which made its appeal to young and old alike.

Winifred Parker, pianist, and Lucille Allen, violinist, furnished the musical score for the sketch, during which there was a butterfly dance by Vivian Nay and a group fairy dance by Margaret Brown, Lois Naudain, Sarah Chandler and Marjorie Hart.

In Forest Ring
Those taking part in "The Forest Ring" were: Evelyn Hunt, Arbuthnot; Beryl Goodale, Moss Bud, her daughter; Katherine Stoff, Mouse Ear, and Dorothy Houston, Peach Bloom, queen's attendants; Mary Bainbridge, Quicksilver, a fairy messenger.

Florence McLaughlin and Carreta Walker, Ursula, a bear; Ruth Dana, Anflera, a deer; Carolyn Ayars, White Face, a fox; Cecil Chase, Binklers, an owl; Katharine Benter, Jane Adams, a city girl visiting in the country; Frederica Browne, Sabrina Watson, a widow; Charlotte Cleveland, Thomas Watson, her son; Margaret Longley, Hank Struble, a trapper, in love with Sabrina.

Mrs. Alice Ripley, pianist, played for the fairy dance.

L. C. Brand Plans Mono Lake Vacation

L. C. Brand of North Glendale will leave on July 5 for his summer home in the high Sierras near Mono lake. If the weather is favorable the trip will be made by aeroplane in the big Le Péré machine and will be piloted by G. G. Budwig. If the weather is foggy or will not permit an aeroplane flight, the 350-mile journey will be made by automobile. Mr. Brand expects to stay at his mountain home during the summer months.

EXCELLENT CAST IN 'ORPHAN' FILM

Griffith's Great Production Stars Both Lillian and Dorothy Gish

D. W. Griffith's newest photoplay sensation, "Orphans of the Storm," adapted from the stage classic made famous by Kate Claxton, "The Two Orphans," will be seen for the first time under a United Artists' Corporation release in this city at the T. D. & L. theatre next week.

The production represents months of preparation and a most careful study of the period depicted, the time of the French revolution. The basis of the story is the famous old play, but Mr. Griffith has woven into it a historical romance with the thrills of some of the maddest days of the revolution. The suffering is seen at its deadly work and there are tremendous crowds of frantic men and women fighting wildly against the aristocrat in the hope of freedom.

DOROTHY GISH in "D. W. GRIFFITH'S 'ORPHANS OF THE STORM'"

In the role of Henriette is Lillian Gish, whose work in former Griffith productions has placed her at the forefront of screen artists. Dorothy Gish has the role of the blind girl, Louise, the other orphan.

There is veritably an army of "extras" for the numerous big scenes of the play, not only in revolutionary Paris, but also at the tribunal and in the court of Versailles where many beautiful fates are held.

P. E. Employees In Statement to Public

The Pacific Electric Employees' Association requests The Glendale Evening News to publish the following, addressed to merchants, shippers and community leaders:

"From 1894, when the first line of the Pacific Electric, between Los Angeles and Pasadena, was completed up to the present time, when the company has over 1100 single track miles of railroad in operation serving fifty-two incorporated cities in Southern California, it has recognized the effect that the development and up-building of the various communities has on its welfare.

"Frankly, the situation, with respect to its operations, is so seriously jeopardized by the results of competition which, we believe, has not been given the careful consideration it merits on the part of community builders that we have voluntarily organized a committee of your own fellow-townsmen to request you to view the facts as we see them.

"The Pacific Electric has 100 employees in the city of Glendale who are endeavoring to assist in rendering you a service which we feel is essential to the development of our city. Their pay averages $140 a month.

"In the four counties of Southern California which it serves, the Pacific Electric payroll last year was over $8,000,000.

"It employs more than 5,500 men. Our town gets its proportion of the payroll and many of us are home owners. The company paid to the state in taxes last year $805,967.00. Its service is dependable, quick and its rates are reasonable. It is one of the greatest advertisers of Southern California. It stabilizes values. It maintains its own roadway and spends large sums annually in paving streets. It transports over 100,000,000 passengers annually and during the year 1921 there was not a single fatality to a passenger. At the present time the railroads of California pay 24.187 per cent of the cost of maintaining the highways of the state.

"As employees, we do not object to the operation of buses in territory which has not been pioneered by the rail lines and believe that, in the scheme of things, there are separate spheres for rail transportation and transportation by buses, but we do emphatically feel that, where the Pacific Electric renders adequate service and its fares are reasonable, it is unfair to permit the operation of parallel bus and truck lines, particularly when their roadbeds are maintained by the people. We ask that you ship and travel by Pacific Electric.

"Sincerely yours,
 "EMPLOYEES' COMMITTEE,
 "I. T. ANEY, Chairman"

SUCCESSORS TO SIAMESE TWINS WILL SPURN TOUR WITH CIRCUS

Violet and Daisy Hilton

Girls Say That They Will Not Attempt to Commercialize Their Malformation.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 26.—Leather-lunged spicers of the world's greatest combined shows will never extol to throngs of the midway the odd twinning of Daisy and Violet Hilton, upon whom has fallen the title of "Siamese Twins," following the death in Chicago of the world-famous Blazek sisters.

Daisy and Violet Hilton, 15 years old, will not commercialize their malformation, declare Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyer, foster parents of the sisters.

The girls are joined together at the base of the spinal column. This union, however, has not interfered with their enjoyment of the customary amusements of childhood, and they daily can be seen playing around the lawn of the modest little home of their foster parents.

Medical scientists of two continents have become interested in these sisters, a strange phenomenon of nature. Each girl, declare doctors who have examined them, has a complete set of organs, functioning perfectly.

Strangely, Violet and Daisy spring from lineal descendants who were twins. Their parents both were twins, as were their grandparents on both maternal and paternal sides. It is more than passing strange, assert physicians and surgeons, that the Hilton sisters should be joined together, while coming from parents who were of normal physique.

The mother of the two girls, died from a Caesarian operation, following the birth of Violet and Daisy. Shortly thereafter, the girls were brought to America from their home in England by Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, with whom they now reside in this city.

Violet and Daisy are being given a musical education. They are peculiarly endowed with a love for music, declare their foster parents. Violet favors the violin, while Daisy accompanies her on the piano. Both girls are fond of reading. Violet prefers the works of Edgar Allan Poe, while her sister Daisy takes to the writings of Charles Dickens.

The two girls are being educated by a private tutor. Fearing that they would be embarrassed by students at the public schools, the foster parents of the twins have persistently declined to enter them in municipal institutions of learning.

The twins, whose curious formation has attracted hundreds of medical scientists, can never be separated, according to the unanimous verdict of physicians and surgeons who have studied the fusion of their spine. Violet and Daisy, prior to being brought to America, appeared several times before the Royal Medical Society of London.

DEMANDS INQUIRY
 WASHINGTON, June 30.—A congressional investigation into a recent kidnaping of American citizens in Mexico was demanded in a resolution introduced in the house.

DISARMAMENT TO PREVENT CHAOS, SAYS GENERAL

Development of Poison Gas to Make Extermination Highly Possible

By DAVID M. CHURCH
 For International News Service.
 LONDON, June 30.—The choice of the nations of the world is between disarmament or extermination.

This startling statement is made by Major General Seelye, M. P., former minister of war for Great Britain.

General Seelye, who has a gallant war record as commander of Canadian forces during the world war, declared that chemical knowledge has now reached such a state of progress that extermination of a nation is a comparatively easy matter. It would now be a matter to blot out a hundred thousand people by lethal gas dropped from airplanes, the general said.

General Seelye proposed that the nations of the world should meet and consider what military forces are necessary, first, for internal order; second, for colonial protection, and third, for safety from invasion by neighbors. This last is the critical point, General Seelye said, and he believes that if all nations were to rationally discuss together the immensity of the burden of taxes incurred by protecting themselves against each other the nations would see the "horse sense" of the situation and set up progressive disarmament for all.

Epistle to Quakers
 General Seelye's statements are endorsed by a coincidence, in the annual message of the Quakers of Great Britain, which has been sent broadcast.

The annual epistle of the Quakers declares:

"Man's boasted civilization will destroy him unless he takes the way of life in time. If, while mastering the forces of nature, he makes personal advantage the end and his brother men the means to it, he oppresses them, frustrating God's will for peace.

"If, fearing to lose his goods, he turns his inventive skill to perfecting guns and poison gases he will assuredly perish.

"Christ our Lord is nailed to the cross afresh whenever a man or a woman is crushed or marred by war, by unemployment, by vice, by despair. He is pierced with grief as we hug our comforts, fearing to follow Him in loving unto death."

TOUR OF INSPECTION
 WASHINGTON, June 30.—Three officials of the postoffice department will leave Washington next Wednesday for a month's inspection trip, it was announced. Col. Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general; Walter H. Riddell, general superintendent of the mail service, and William E. Triem, superintendent of the division of railway adjustments, will make the trip. The itinerary includes stops at Chicago, Omaha, St. Paul, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, El Paso, Fort Worth, New Orleans and Atlanta, Ga.

ACCEPT INVITATION
 ST. LOUIS, June 30.—Illinois coal operators will accept the invitation of President Harding to a joint conference with the striking miners, it was indicated by W. K. Cavanaugh, president of the Coal Operators' Association of the fifth and ninth districts of Illinois. A meeting of the three operators' associations will be held in Chicago, where the matter will be formally acted upon.

Irregulars, Defeated, Surrender Fortress

LONDON, June 30.—Republican irregulars who have been battling free state troops at Dublin since Wednesday morning were defeated this afternoon. Four Courts building, chief fortress and stronghold of the irregulars, was surrendered to the free state troops at 4 o'clock. Roderick "Rory" O'Connor, commander-in-chief of the irregulars, is reported a prisoner in the hands of free state troops.

All of the irregulars in the Four Courts buildings were said to have surrendered unconditionally to the free state troops.

The Four Courts building has been wrecked by fire, artillery shells and bombs.

From thirty to forty free state troops were reported to have been killed by the explosion but this is not officially confirmed yet by the Irish provisional government at Dublin.

The republican casualties were said to have been comparatively light. The free state troops are said to have lost about 150 men in killed and wounded.

After the fall of the Four Courts building regulars began attacking republican outposts over the entire city of Dublin. Fighting was still in progress at last reports.

Irregulars fired on British soldiers in Talbot street, Dublin, during the afternoon. The British returned the fire with machine guns.

Fighting has spread from Dublin to a number of counties. At Buncrana, Lester Kenny and other rebel strongholds in the provinces, the regulars have begun to round up the irregulars.

Enamonn de Valera was reported this afternoon to be fighting in the irregular army.

Water Pump Supplants Breweries in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS—Deprived of its 4 per cent beer, South St. Louis, erstwhile center of the brewing industry, has taken to water.

Water Commissioner Wall told the board of public service that since prohibition the consumption of water in South St. Louis has increased enormously. And at his recommendation the board approved the expenditure of $100,000 for a new pump in the district capable of supplying an additional 20,000,000 gallons of water daily.

Factions Have Hopes Of Preventing Strike

CHICAGO, June 30.—As the hour for the threatened railway shopmen's strike drew nearer to day the only statement that could be secured from members of the board was given out by its chairman, Ben Hooper.

He said he had "hopes" that the strike will be called off tonight.

"I think the roads will agree to abolish the system of farming out workers to contractors, and I have hopes that such a concession may bring peace," he declared.

J. F. McGrath, vice president of the shop employees' union, said: "It's up to the railway executives. They can say the word—whether there is to be peace or war."

"So far as I know there is not the slightest foundation for any report that the strike is to be called off. Our men have voted to strike and they are standing firmly on their demands."

That the railway executives "will not yield an inch of ground" was the opinion expressed by John G. Walbert, rail executive representative of eastern roads.

He said: "I am convinced the carriers will make no concessions. I don't see how they can concede anything. The men are striking against the government and not the roads."

LONG DELAY ALLEGED.
 WASHINGTON, June 30.—Appointment of a congressional committee to investigate the naturalization of immigrants was proposed in a resolution introduced in the house this afternoon by Representative Siegel, republican, New York. Siegel declared that at the present time it took more than five months for aliens to receive from Ellis Island the certificate of arrival, which they are required to have to obtain final naturalization.

BANKER THIEF, CLAIM.
 WOODLAND, Cal., June 30.—Floyd Tuttle, prominent in church and fraternal affairs here and for many years assistant cashier of the Bank of Yolo, was in jail today facing charges of embezzlement following his confession of misuse of the bank's funds.

George N. Merritt, of the Bank of Yolo, announced today that Tuttle made a full confession following the discovery that Merritt and other bank officials were making an investigation.

J. V. Harris, Realtor, Installs Radio Set

"Life's too short," says J. V. Harris, local realtor at 212 1/2 North Brand, "to spend all one's time in boredom, so I am installing a radio receiving set for the entertainment of all who care to drop in and listen."

Mr. Harris recently moved into his new offices and decided that while he was equipping them, he might as well be one step ahead of the game in office equipment. The instrument, presided over by James McCormick, is intended to lighten the cares of the realtors and their visitors.

Pupils' Recital Is Enjoyed by Many

Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Cavanaugh of 520 North Kenwood street entertained over 100 friends with a pupils' recital at their studio in Blanchard hall, Los Angeles, last night. Miss Bernice Wayham, Jacques Throux and Henry Cantor of Glendale took part in the interesting program given, as did also Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh.

The program given included the following vocal numbers: "The Last Song," "Pleading" (Elgar), and "The Answer" (Terry), by Miss Bernice Wayham; selections from "Rigoletto," by Henry Cantor; "Twilight" (McFall), and a French operatic aria, by Mr. Cavanaugh; "Oh Lovely Night," and Tosti's "Good-Bye" and selections by a group of Los Angeles pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh are planning to present their pupils in a recital in Glendale within the next few weeks in order that a large number of their Glendale friends may have the opportunity of hearing them.

Dr. R. M. Ritchey Locates in Glendale

Dr. R. M. Ritchey, formerly of the staff of the Illinois state hospital at Elgin and practicing in Los Angeles for four years since returning from war service, has selected Glendale as his home and opened offices in the Central building.

Yesterday he purchased the J. N. Carr home at 622 North Isabel street through A. L. Baird of the R. L. Kent company. Mr. Baird was acquainted with him in Illinois.

MEXICANS TO ATTACK

MEXICO CITY, June 30.—The war department stated that the gunboat Tabasco had left Vera Cruz with reinforcements, bound for Tampico, and that Guadalupe Sanchez, chief of operations of the state of Vera Cruz, had combined his forces with General Gomez for the purpose of making a joint attack on the rebel general holding a number of American prisoners for ransom. General Gomez is chief of operations for the state of Tamaulipas.

Miss Maud Earl, an English artist, has painted the portraits of all the principal dogs of Great Britain, including the pets of the royal family.

Colorado Newspaper Woman Gets Medal for Helping Public

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The eighty-five employees of the Lactorona Oil company near Pecero, in the Tampico district, captured this week by General Gorozahe, Mexican rebel leader, have been released, according to official advice to the state department today from Consul Shaw at Tampico.

Among those held were six Americans on whose behalf the United States had made representations to the Mexican foreign office.

Consul Shaw's telegram to the state department said: "The eighty-five persons reported in previous telegrams are not now held at Pecero."

The advice received were regarded so cryptic that the state department immediately telegraphed for further details.

The message from Consul Shaw and a brief message from Charge Summerlin at Mexico City saying that A. Ernce Bielaski was safe were the only despatches the department had received up to 10 o'clock from Mexico.

KILLS RACING SECRETARY

RENO, Nev., June 30.—Leon Wing, racing secretary and steward of the Reno and Tijuana Jockey Clubs, was shot and killed at the race track here on Thursday by Jockey Seigler, who then turned the gun on himself and is not expected to live. Seigler was ruled off the track last summer at Tijuana.

DENVER, June 30.—"For meritorious service in a field of endeavor that vitally affects the welfare of the public and of our institutions—efficient and effective service in newspaper writing," Frances Belford Wayne, widely known newspaper woman, has been awarded the University Recognition Medal by the University of Colorado.

Presentation of the medal took place at the commencement exercises of the university at Boulder, Colo.

Former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois was given the degree of doctor of laws, following the ceremonies incident to Mrs. Wayne's acceptance of the medal.

Mrs. Wayne is the first woman in the history of journalism to be given this honorary degree, and but two other women have been similarly honored in the United States—Mme. Curie, discoverer of radium, who received the University Recognition Medal from Harvard, and Dr. Aurelia Roberts Rhinehart, president of Mills College, who was awarded the honor by Yale university.

Mrs. Wayne, who is a member of the Denver Post staff, is one of the best known newspaper writers in the United States and has won distinction for her constant championship of worthy charitable and humanitarian undertakings in this section of the country.

She was an indefatigable worker during the war in behalf of the Red Cross and Liberty loan drive, and is always in the forefront in campaigns for the betterment of conditions among the poor and alleviation of the unfortunate.

In presenting Mrs. Wayne with the medal, university officials paid her a high tribute for the high ideals that have characterized her newspaper writings.

"During her service," it was declared, "Mrs. Wayne has been identified with and been an outstanding factor in advancing practically every worthy enterprise for the development of Colorado, for the relief of suffering, for the advancement of our common schools and our state institutions of higher learning."

"She has written things that have made men and women give money for worthy causes; she has written things that have made men and women give personal labor for charitable and other undertakings; she has written things that have made the people of the great commonwealth vote for desirable legislation."

"The testimony of governors, of educators, of judges, of bishops, and of thousands of men, women and children will enthusiastically proclaim that she has always been a powerful advocate of those institutions that stand for intellectual advancement; a zealous worker for state advancement, a pleader for justice, and a friend of the helpless."

In accepting the medal Mrs. Wayne told President George A. Norlin of the university, that, rather than a personal tribute, she considered the medal "recognition of a profession to which everybody who wants to put over something big must come."

"It is recognition of journalism as a learned profession," she said, "a profession that stands for something worth while and ranks with the great sciences."

The medal is of solid gold and inscribed in Latin on the reverse side is the declaration: "At the hands of the state of Colorado she deserves well."

Lactorona Oil Co. Employees, Held by Bandits, Now Free

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The eighty-five employees of the Lactorona Oil company near Pecero, in the Tampico district, captured this week by General Gorozahe, Mexican rebel leader, have been released, according to official advice to the state department today from Consul Shaw at Tampico.

Among those held were six Americans on whose behalf the United States had made representations to the Mexican foreign office.

Consul Shaw's telegram to the state department said: "The eighty-five persons reported in previous telegrams are not now held at Pecero."

The advice received were regarded so cryptic that the state department immediately telegraphed for further details.

The message from Consul Shaw and a brief message from Charge Summerlin at Mexico City saying that A. Ernce Bielaski was safe were the only despatches the department had received up to 10 o'clock from Mexico.

Colorado University Honors Frances Belford Wayne at Ceremonies

DENVER, June 30.—"For meritorious service in a field of endeavor that vitally affects the welfare of the public and of our institutions—efficient and effective service in newspaper writing," Frances Belford Wayne, widely known newspaper woman, has been awarded the University Recognition Medal by the University of Colorado.

Presentation of the medal took place at the commencement exercises of the university at Boulder, Colo.

Former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois was given the degree of doctor of laws, following the ceremonies incident to Mrs. Wayne's acceptance of the medal.

Mrs. Wayne is the first woman in the history of journalism to be given this honorary degree, and but two other women have been similarly honored in the United States—Mme. Curie, discoverer of radium, who received the University Recognition Medal from Harvard, and Dr. Aurelia Roberts Rhinehart, president of Mills College, who was awarded the honor by Yale university.

Mrs. Wayne, who is a member of the Denver Post staff, is one of the best known newspaper writers in the United States and has won distinction for her constant championship of worthy charitable and humanitarian undertakings in this section of the country.

She was an indefatigable worker during the war in behalf of the Red Cross and Liberty loan drive, and is always in the forefront in campaigns for the betterment of conditions among the poor and alleviation of the unfortunate.

In presenting Mrs. Wayne with the medal, university officials paid her a high tribute for the high ideals that have characterized her newspaper writings.

"During her service," it was declared, "Mrs. Wayne has been identified with and been an outstanding factor in advancing practically every worthy enterprise for the development of Colorado, for the relief of suffering, for the advancement of our common schools and our state institutions of higher learning."

"She has written things that have made men and women give money for worthy causes; she has written things that have made men and women give personal labor for charitable and other undertakings; she has written things that have made the people of the great commonwealth vote for desirable legislation."

"The testimony of governors, of educators, of judges, of bishops, and of thousands of men, women and children will enthusiastically proclaim that she has always been a powerful advocate of those institutions that stand for intellectual advancement; a zealous worker for state advancement, a pleader for justice, and a friend of the helpless."

TUESDAY CLUB IN CAMPAIGN TO GET MEMBERS

Life Applications at $100 Each Proving Popular; Series of Parties

The "voluntary" campaign, which is being instituted by the members of the Tuesday Afternoon club to secure $10,000 for the building fund by the application of 100 members for life memberships at $100 each is progressing with unusual rapidity.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, newly installed president and who is chairman of the special finance committee of the club, states that already twenty have signed for life memberships. These are Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Minnie C. Patterson, Mrs. S. C. Packer, Mrs. C. H. Bott, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. Lydia M. Border, Mrs. Henry R. Harrower, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. T. D. Watson, Mrs. Roy L. Kent, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. L. C. Brand, Mrs. Charles P. Nesbroad, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. Ella Florence Moeke, Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mrs. William P. MacMillin, Mrs. Frank C. Ayars, Mrs. M. E. Plasterer and Mrs. J. E. Phillips.

Mrs. Campbell states that the life memberships at $100 each will be kept open until October 1, when the amount will be increased. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. A. P. Findlay, Mrs. A. M. Hunt and Mrs. Campbell are receiving applications. They are very much gratified with having secured $2,000 in a week's time and with the prospects of securing the additional $8,000 during the summer. The money secured through life memberships will eliminate the necessity of the building committee calling on the ten people who have pledged themselves to sign notes of $1,000 each as collateral for a loan of $10,000, to be made by the club from a local bank, for the new clubhouse.

Plan Sixteen Parties

Notwithstanding the fact that it is summer and vacation time, the members of the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president, is chairman, have planned a chain of sixteen parties to be given for the building fund. Some of the future events planned in this series are swimming parties, beach parties, a breakfast dinner party in the garden of the Daniel Campbell home at Ard-Evin, near Highland avenue, on July 11; an evening party of bridge and "500" at the home of Mrs. Warren Roberts, 617 East Elk avenue, on July 22, with Mrs. Walter Jones and Mrs. Bert Ward as assisting hostesses, and others.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the executive building committee, states that actual excavation for the clubhouse at Lexington Drive and Central avenue is to begin the first of the week. Elmer Elliott is the general contractor in charge of the work with Alfred Priest as architect. It is anticipated that the new club home will be completed and ready for occupancy by January, 1923.

Operators and Miners To Hear Plain Talk

WASHINGTON, June 30.—From all indications President Harding will hand out some exceedingly "plain talk" to the operators and miners when they gather at the White House tomorrow morning to discuss methods of ending the three months' strike which has brought the country to the verge of a coal famine and industrial paralysis.

The cabinet discussed for more than an hour this morning the coal conference and the government's plans for ending what cabinet members said to be the "present intolerable situation."

In connection therewith, it is understood there was considerable discussion of the possible strike of railway shop craftsmen tomorrow, but there was nothing to indicate that any particular line of policy has been determined upon. The opinion apparently prevailed that the railway labor board at Chicago should try its citation proceedings before anything is done in Washington.

At the president's elbow when he talks with the combatant groups will be four members of the cabinet—Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Labor Davis, Attorney-General Daugherty and Secretary of the Interior Fall—according to present plans. Hoover is regarded as representing the operators, Davis the miners and Daugherty's presence is intended as a sort of government guarantee against possible indictments of either side for "collaboration," while Fall is regarded as a cabinet neutral.

The president is expected to frankly warn the operators and miners, but principally the operators, that their present methods of conducting the coal business constitutes a direct menace to the public interest and unless there are remedial changes the government unwillingly will be forced to consider the problem of "protecting itself and the people" by whatever measures seem best suited. There is little doubt that those measures imply federal investigation has been brought under governmental regulation.

One thing regarded as virtually certain is thorough government investigation into the industry.

HUGE SUMS WILL BE EXPENDED ON MANY ROADS

Number of Millions to Be Put on Highways in Various Sections

By U. S. Press Association
WASHINGTON, June 30.—Federal aid for road construction will be continued as a result of the authorization of additional appropriations for this work amounting to $150,000,000 carried by the post-office appropriation bill signed by the president June 19. Fifty million dollars is authorized for the fiscal year beginning July 1, this year, and $65,000,000 and $75,000,000, respectively, are authorized for each of the two succeeding fiscal years. In addition, $5,500,000 is authorized for fiscal years for each of the two fiscal years beginning July 1, 1923, and July 1, 1924. The funds will be administered by the secretary of agriculture through the bureau of public roads.

What the new funds will mean to the country can be judged by the use that has been made of the $350,000,000 previously appropriated. On May 31, 17,000 miles of road had been completed, and, in addition nearly 14,500 miles were under construction. Federal-aid roads in all stages total nearly 38,700 miles, involving over $287,500,000 of Federal aid. To match this fund, the states have appropriated approximately $380,000,000, making a total of $667,500,000.

All types of road have been constructed with Federal aid to meet the varying conditions in the United States. The average cost per mile has been $17,129, and Federal aid has amounted to 47 per cent of the total cost.

"First-Aid" at Windows
The postoffice department has just sent to nearly 2,000 postoffices 1500 chests of medical supplies to be used for first-aid relief. The supplies were furnished from surplus stocks by the War Department, and consist of surgical instruments, gauze bandages, absorbent cotton and drugs.

Alleges "Pork Barrel"
With a view to the abolishment of useless navy yards and stations, Senator McCormick, of Illinois, has introduced a resolution for investigation by a special joint committee of congress of the "economy and efficiency of the administration of the United States navy." Senator McCormick declared there was a "navy pork barrel" stretching from coast to coast and that many of the stations could be closed without impairing the navy's efficiency.

Opposes Ford Offer
Senator Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the Agricultural Committee which is investigating Henry Ford's proposal in connection with other offers for Muscle Shoals, declares he is opposed to the acceptance of the Ford tender or to any other which would have the effect of selling properties "costing the people $100,000,000 for $5,000,000" and leasing those not sold to private interests for a period of 100 years.

In Selected Industries
The United States Department of Labor presents reports concerning the volume of employment in May, 1922, from representative establishments in twelve manufacturing industries. Comparing the figures of May, 1922, with those for identical establishments for May, 1921, it appears that in eight of the twelve industries there were increases in the number of persons employed, while in four there were decreases. The largest increases were 24.6 per cent in hosiery and underwear and 23.4 per cent in car building and repairing. Iron and steel shows a decrease of 18 per cent and leather a decrease of 17.3 per cent.

Six of the twelve industries show increases in the total amount of payroll for May, 1922, as compared with May, 1921. The remaining six industries show decreases in the amount of payroll. The most important increase, 25.6 per cent, appears in hosiery and underwear. Cotton manufacturing and silk show respective decreases of 32.9 per cent and 32.9 per cent.

Stricter Rules Are Urged
Albert Johnson, chairman of the committee on immigration of the house of representatives, says that the act limiting immigration to 35,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, "came in the nick of time." He added: "It has saved the United States from an influx of fully one and a half million immigrants at a time when we could neither assimilate nor employ them. Under the quota restrictions 230,537 were admitted to May 31, while about 2,787 were admitted temporarily for reasons of humanity and because of difficulties in getting the new law into operation, while 1,466 were turned back because of exhausted quotas. Debarred for all causes in eleven months were 11,066, which I believe is the record, and which is still not enough. Too many diseased, demented and defective are being admitted."

Directs Fertilizer Probe
A resolution directing the Federal Trade commission to investigate and report "whether the production or sale of fertilizers is controlled by any combination, monopoly or trust, and whether dealers or manufacturers are in any unlawful conspiracy by which the price of fertilizers is enhanced," has been adopted by the senate.

Mrs. Bryan, wife of the minister from Norway, has lived in Washington longer than any other woman of the diplomatic corps with the exception of Mme. Jusserand, wife of the French ambassador.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Too Busy for Vacations
Everybody Boosts Glendale
Hollywood 'Debauches'
What Boys Do Not Know

By Gil A. Cowan

THIS is the vacation season, but you wouldn't know it in Glendale. Everybody here is so busy that few have taken their pleasure jaunt as yet.

About the time a person engaged in business here makes up his or her mind to clear out for a week or two, the new influx of tourists from the east, or the increasing trade, or something else occurs.

Glendale grows and so does every business in the town. As Benjamin Franklin said, "Keep your shop and it will keep you." And when you tie into a business here, there is no question but what you will be tied down for some time to come.

It has been tritely pointed out that the only failures to be found in this fastest growing city are those instances where the engine of progress has run over its victim.

Expansion is a difficult problem for many merchants, but it is necessary to continued success.

Why does Glendale grow? What causes people to come here? How is it one of the best advertised communities in the world?

Well, the Chamber of Commerce is an answer to some of those questions. So is The Glendale Evening News. So is every other boosting organization.

A prospective purchaser of a $12,000 Glendale home was asked yesterday how he happened to come here direct from the northwest. And here is what he said: "The purser on the steamer Yale told me to see Glendale as it was the best bet in Southern California."

"The clerk on duty at the New Rosslyn hotel in Los Angeles advised that I see Glendale before going elsewhere."

"The cigar counter salesman at Sixth and Spring streets in Los Angeles talked Glendale to me."

"These are the 24 hours convinced me that Glendale was the right place and so I am here."

It is that spirit of friendliness evinced by others in the welfare of this community that is making it what it is.

It is the altogether good and constructive advertising being sent out each day that first attracts attention.

It is the "proof of the pudding" resulting from investigation by newcomers that causes them to locate here.

And their enthusiasm brings others which makes a continuous chain of boosting that aids everyone.

So it is a good idea to be a booster, don't you think?

"Hollywood is to have a great season of debauchery," according to the Daily Citizen there. "The Philharmonic orchestra concert series opening, the open-air presentation of Carmen, and the opening of the Plerimage play—all within one week. Will eastern papers please take notice?"

A more serious thought is expressed under the caption, "What Boys Do Not Know?" The Citizen says:

"The effort of the Institute of Public Service to learn what school children in New York know about current history revealed a considerable ignorance among the boys and girls who were questioned, but it was equally interesting in its showing of what grown up people do not know about boys and girls, says a New York paper."

"It was discovered, for instance, that 35 per cent of the boys did not know what team won the last world's series. Considering the fact that the series was played between two New York teams and that all of the New York papers simply reeked baseball while the match was being played no one would have anticipated that result even if boys were not popularly supposed to be absorbed in the national game. But such figures cannot lie. A very large proportion of the boys in New York do not care whether Manhattan or Brooklyn carries away the national championship, and the nation's estimate of the contents of the male adolescent mind stands corrected."

"Speaking more generally, it was discovered that the older boys and girls knew more about men prominent in international affairs than about baseball and moving picture heroes, but 69 per cent failed to recognize a picture of their fellow townsman, Elihu Root, and just a shade less than half of them could tell nothing at all about H. G. Wells."

"It appears, therefore, that while the students were not so well informed upon frivolous matters as they are supposed to be, neither are they so well instructed as one would say they ought to be upon more serious affairs. But this would seem to be more important as a basis upon which to rest a criticism of educational methods, than for forming a judgment of the boys and girls themselves."

Say, folks, did you read Congressman Walter F. Lineberger's eulogy of former Senator Cornelius Cole? As a friend says, it is a corker. So here it is reprinted from the Los Angeles Times:

Mr. Lineberger's Eulogy
In referring to Senator Cole, Mr. Lineberger said:

"Mr. Speaker, it is a great honor for me to represent a district which is now a portion of that great district which the Hon. Cornelius Cole so ably represented in this House in the Thirty-eighth Congress. California has produced many great and honorable citizens whose names are written high on the national scroll of fame. Radio Telephone Talk Between N. Y., Paris

PARIS.—According to Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of directors of the Radio Corporation of America, wireless telephoning between New York and Paris is within the realms of possibility. The one big disadvantage is the difference in time between the two cities. It is possible, however, that modifications in this matter will be attempted in order that stock exchange transactions may be feasible between France and America by telephone.

SEEK MINE WAR TRUCE.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Vigorous federal action to establish a truce in the coal mine war and to start refilling the nation's bins, now almost exhausted, will be taken before the week is out, according to opinions expressed today in administration circles. While the White House, commerce and labor departments all observed silence as to the program of the government, the impression grew that President Harding will not long delay the summoning of both operators and miners into a joint conference.

of them in public or private life, has rendered greater service to the nation or to that great state than has this distinguished citizen who stands before us. We hope in California, and that hope is reflected throughout this body, as has been manifested by the great ovation he has received today when presented by the venerable member, Hon. Joseph Gurney Cannon of Illinois, whom we all love and respect, that he will live for years to come so that his rich experience and guiding counsel may continue to help the younger generations of Californians to shape their lives along the path of high patriotic ideals and achievement which he has so worthily exemplified.

"California is proud of the Hon. Cornelius Cole, and points with pride to his record, not only as an outstanding statesman in the House of Representatives and Senate of the United States during an epochal period of our national existence, but as a citizen of that great state where silver strand meets shining western sea, where towering mountains frame fertile valleys, and where centerians like the distinguished gentleman presented here today, round out their lives in physical and mental vigor in a land of wondrous beauty and plenitude—that Nirvana of happiness—where dreams come true."

GLENDALE TO HAVE WELL EQUIPPED POSTOFFICE

New Headquarters to Open Next Monday; Parade to Be Held Tomorrow

Glendale is going to have one of the finest postoffices in southern California.

That is what Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson was told when he recently showed a visitor through the new building at 213 West Broadway.

And Mr. Jackson agreed, explaining that every expenditure had been made with care to get the best office possible for the amount of the appropriation.

The new grille work for the five windows, and lock boxes has arrived and is being installed, and some of the furniture is already moved.

On Saturday afternoon the entire equipment of the old office at 124 North Brand is to be moved.

No Delay in Moving
There will be no delay or confusion about the moving, according to Mr. Jackson. Each postal employee is to be in direct charge of the moving of the equipment which he uses, and will see to it that his equipment is moved and moved at the proper time.

Because of the moving and the parade of the employees which is to be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the windows at the postoffice are to be closed at 12 o'clock noon on that day and no business will be handled until Monday morning when the office opens in the new location.

Buy your stamps and money orders and mail your packages before Saturday noon, advises Postmaster Jackson, "for you don't want to be unable to do so until Monday."

Office Arrangement
In the new office, the arrangement is such that the part open to the public is in the shape of an L, extending across the front and back on the west side as far as the private office. The stamp, money order, parcel post, general delivery and other windows are to be on the front side of the L, and the lock boxes will be in the partition to the west.

On the east side, back of the partition, is the new vault, with concrete walls, bottom and top twelve inches thick, with double steel doors, and containing a burglar-proof safe. Opposite it, against the west wall, is the postmaster's suite, consisting of an anteroom, an outer office and a private office.

The floor space from the partition on back is to be devoted to the handling of mail, and will provide ample space to permit the work to go on without crowding or confusion as at present. Large and strictly modern toilets are provided for the employees, and at the rear is a mezzanine floor room for the use of the carriers.

After it is completed and fully equipped, Postmaster Jackson expects to throw open the new postoffice for inspection by the general public.

Transfers of Service
Transfers of light and water service have been requested by the following residents and are now on file in the public service department at the city hall: M. J. Welly, 12 1/2 West Palmer street, to 258 South Olive street, Los Angeles; M. P. Jackson, 523 East Maple street, 532 East Maple street; Canyon Crest Sanitarium, 1531 Eagle Rock road, to Los Angeles; R. Ansley, 508 Burnett street, 204 East Chestnut street; L. Bartlett, 1141 East Elk street, 1137 East Elk street; R. F. James, 2444 Orange street, to Hollywood; G. H. Scott, 607 East Chestnut street, 720 South Glendale avenue; M. M. Chance, 403 Cameron place, to Selma; Mrs. H. C. Loveliss, 145 North Louise street.

Installation of meters has been requested by the following: George Lauch, 1119 1/2 East Broadway; M. B. Ayers, 1225 South Adams street; I. Robinet, 1007 East Lexington drive; E. B. Arvis, 504 Griswold street; B. E. Stratton, 539 West Dryden street; M. Snider, 904 East Maple street; M. C. Calkins, 365 West Elk street; T. R. McIntyre, 635 Milford street.

Service is desired by the following: R. Ansley, 204 East Chestnut street; C. V. Crampton, 219 South Brand boulevard; T. J. Hartman, 441 Piedmont Park; G. Bartlett, 1141 East Elk avenue; V. E. Tweedell, 207 West Broadway; W. W. Knight, 611 South Louise street; George P. Porter, 406 South Brand boulevard; M. Laufenberg, 220 West Garfield avenue; Lewis Clouse, 319 East Colorado street; A. M. Marta, 209 1/2 West Eulalia avenue; C. M. White, 439 West Broadway; T. R. McIntyre, 635 Milford street; John S. Lathrop, 603 South Louise street.

St. Louis Street Cars
Take Outside Tokens
ST. LOUIS—Travelers jumping from one city to another often find street car tokens from far off towns in their pockets. The general idea seems to be that such coins are worthless except in the towns where they are sold.

The trekker meditates on throwing the checks away as useless impediments, or saving them on the chance of returning to their home town. What to do, what to do?

The answer is, come to St. Louis. The United Railways company here accepts coins from all cities that use tokens for fare.

L. VOGEL COMES HERE TO STAY

Closing Affairs at Bakersfield This Week; Will Do Architectural Work

Laurence Vogel, who has been staying at 421 West Cypress avenue, left this morning for his former home in Bakersfield to close up his affairs there prior to making his permanent residence in Glendale.

Mr. Vogel, who is a draftsman and designer, and who has been with a Bakersfield architect until lately, plans to start in the architectural business in Glendale, possibly forming a partnership with an acquaintance in his line.

For several days he has been considering the various cities and towns in this part of southern California, and came to the conclusion that Glendale offered the greatest opportunities in his line.

Recently Mr. Vogel met with considerable misfortune in Los Angeles. He parked his car near the postoffice in that city for a short time, and when he returned he found that a suitcase, containing among other things several plans for some of his inventions and his drafting tools, had been stolen. It has not been recovered yet.

After spending a few days in Bakersfield in settling his affairs there, Mr. Vogel will return to Glendale and will then start in business here.

Gold Colored Tarpon Is Caught Near Tampa

TAMPA, Fla.—When George Roberts, veteran guide at Pass-a-Grill, reported seeing a gold tarpon swimming in local waters he was ridiculed, but a few days later Arthur Henderson, St. Petersburg fisherman, succeeded in catching a fish of that description.

Whether the fish hooked by Henderson was the same one sighted by Roberts has not been established, so it is not known whether the single specimen is an oddity of nature or whether there are others of the same kind.

The ordinary color of the tarpon is silver, which has caused it to be known as the "silver king," as it grows to large size and is considered the gamest of fish, always putting up a hard battle before being landed.

WELCOMED BY MINERS.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 29.—"Illinois miners will welcome any move on the part of the government toward ending the coal strike," Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, declared when informed by International News Service of the terms of events in the coal strike situation. Farrington said he would attend the conference if invited.

PICTURES WILL BE SENT BY RADIO; EXPERT SAYS

Photographic Transmission to Be Common Very Soon, Asserts Expert

By HERBERT M. DAVIDSON
For International News Service.
PARIS, June 29.—What chance would a fleeing criminal have to escape if every town and village in the country could have his photograph the very day of the crime?

That will become a practical possibility within a few months, according to Edouard Belin, inventor of facsimile transmission by radio, in an interview with International News Service.

M. Belin already has sent photographed manuscripts and signatures from France to America by wireless. This summer he is working in his laboratories at Malmaison on the transmission of portraits. In the fall he will tour the United States to demonstrate to the Department of Justice and to the police of large cities the importance of his invention to the detection of crime.

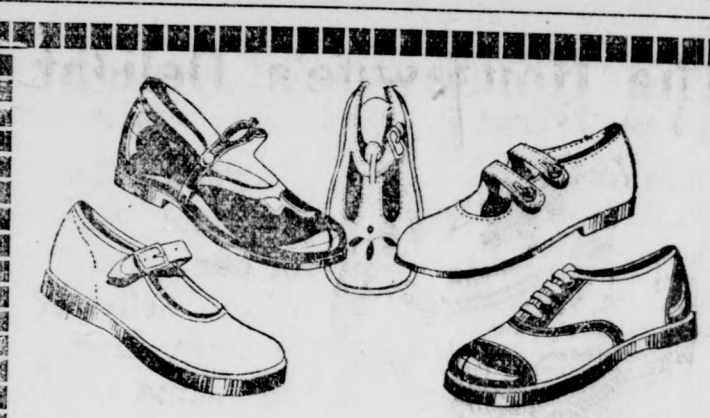

Concluding his tour at San Diego, Calif., M. Belin will attempt to transmit photographs by radio from the Pacific Coast to Paris.

"The present method of telegraphing pictures, used by some news services, is only a makeshift," said M. Belin. "It consists of sending, on the wire or through the air, code words or numbers which indicate to the receiver points on a chart. By connecting these points with a pencil line a diagram of the image is concocted. An artist with imagination decorates the diagram until it resembles something like what the original must have looked like."

Of Great Importance
"The discoveries I am perfecting involve the actual transmission of an image through the air. Without going into technical details—although I am quite willing to do so—this image reproduces itself at destination upon positive film or printing out paper."

"As yet best results have been obtained with the sending of handwriting. This alone is of tremendous importance to the business world. A man in Paris could indorse a note in Cleveland, Ohio, or Rio Janeiro, or Liverpool simply by going to the telegraph office in Paris and writing his signature. I believe this facility will soon be added to the public telegraph service."

"But a much clearer image is necessary to send a portrait. We are working on that now. By fall, I can promise you, the process will be perfected—and I shall take it at once to the United States."

REPUBLICANS WILL STICK BY TARIFF UNTIL PASSED

Party Is Pledged to Enact Law; Bonus Bill to Come Up Next

By J. E. JONES
Special to The Evening News
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—The Fordney tariff bill passed the House of Representatives on July 21, 1921. The senate found it a pretty good bill except in 2000 exceptions, where it made changes. The bill was reported by the finance committee to the senate April 11. Prospects for passing it immediately are not bright. Likely it will be fall before the bill goes through the senate and the differences between the upper and lower houses are adjusted. Most people are not bothering their heads about the different provisions of the bill. Senator Broussard made the debate of popular interest the other day when he told how his state of Louisiana worked for a hundred years to establish the reputation of Louisiana molasses. Only to be defeated by the Cubans, who substituted blackstrap for the genuine article, and then profited in it. New Orleans molasses and blackstrap recall past experiences for all of us, and as the senator spoke everyone had visions of a barefoot boy returned from the afternoon session at school holding in his hand some bread and butter smeared over with molasses and happy in devouring a "piece." But most of the tariff items are not sweet, nor even interesting. The country looks upon the tariff as the cause of the economic upset, and in the popular mind we will never get back to "normalcy" until the tariff is out of the way and business knows, as Grover Cleveland used to put it—"where are we at?" The republican party is pledged to enact a tariff law. In fact the party has been pledged so long on that score that the leaders are getting sensitive about being twitted with delays. Quite recently many attempts have been made to lay aside the tariff bill, and to take up other legislation. The soldiers' bonus was picked out by some of the leaders as a sufficiently important measure to replace the tariff bill. But the caucus of republican senators overwhelmingly agreed to stick by the tariff. And "stick" they will until they pass it.

Bonus Bill Comes Next
The Washington Post says that "nobody has any license to say that the president is opposed to a bonus or to the bonus bill as it passed the house of representatives. The president has said, 'I do not object to a bonus bill calling for a large immediate cash outlay unless the bill carried tax provisions to meet the expenditure.' The Post believes that the President's objections have been pretty well met by the bill as it now appears in the senate, and the editor adds by way of further comment: "Until the president says so himself, therefore, no one can say for him that he is opposed to the bonus bill as finally agreed upon by the two houses." There are plenty of inferences that may be drawn from this statement. In the first place if there is such a thing in existence as an "administration organ" it is the Post, owned and edited by President Harding's personal friend, E. B. McLean. It is evident that the president is not going to be held responsible for the fate of the bonus, or permit a condition that would justify saying that it was passed "in spite of him." The fact of the matter is that the president has tempered down some of the effervescence of politics that bubbled in the bonus measure. Having accomplished this he will likely be content to let the bill take its course when its place is reached in the regular proceedings of congress. That place, it now seems, will be when the tariff bill is disposed of.

Waterways Sidetracked
There is disappointment in store for people who live on the Great Lakes and who have been expecting early action to bring about the deepening of the channel in the St. Lawrence river to permit of a deep waterway route connecting the lakes with the Atlantic ocean. While the deep waterways advocates were fighting opposition from New York state it appears that in Canada there was an ever-increasing opposition to the use of the St. Lawrence. For just as New York thought it would be affected in dominating the shipping business so Quebec figures out that it, too, would get the worst of it if the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river were used as the channel for world commerce. New Yorkers worked to hold up legislation at Washington, and while that was going on a genuine blockade was accomplished in Canada. The result of the blockade has been the declaration of the Dominion government to negotiate a treaty between the two countries in order to clear the way for the lake-to-ocean route. As matters stand the United States is powerless, is thwarted by a friendly foreign government, and is therefore unable to go ahead.

There are those who claim that an all-American route is feasible, and they would cut across New York state with a canal that would connect the Great Lakes with the headwaters of the Hudson river. But this plan has not yet won popular approval, and is not known as the St. Lawrence project. As a result the inland waterways appears to have been "sidetracked."

as the arch-enemies of progressive politics. The weather makes loafers of us all, and there is no exception even among the statesmen who yearn for their neighbors and the comfortable comforts for "back home." But the mills of the congress have been grinding exceedingly slow, and there is still lots to be done before the cares of the government can be laid aside by those who are the chosen representatives of the sovereign people. Where presidents get all their energy has long been a mystery and a woe to the 500 "elect" on Capitol Hill, who, just as they are preparing to get away every summer, are told that there is still another big job to handle. This year it is ship subsidy. President Harding went off for a week-end on the Mayflower and when he got back to Washington the dearest thing he could think of was the task of saving the American merchant marine.

Of course congress has long known that there is a problem to meet with regard to the merchant marine; but congress thought next winter or next year would be soon enough. Even now they cannot understand why, after waiting a half century for a merchant marine, that there should be such a hurry about the matter just when the weather began to get so hot. But the president says that the present session must dispose of the matter. He has reviewed the building of our ships during the war, when anything that could float was contracted for. And then he recites the story of the slump in foreign shipping, and the shrinkage of the value of our great fleets. He emphasizes the fact that we are in possession of a great merchant marine, and he makes it clear that it is a good deal of a "white elephant" on our hands in view of the fact that it is running behind $50,000,000 a year. Such a deficit is practically a subsidy, he points out; and in view of the fact that we are making a failure of operating these ships he demands legislation that will make it possible to dispose of them to American interests in order that our shipping may have back of it the incentive that characterizes private enterprise and endeavor, and which is always woefully absent in government operation. Congress and the country knows that the preservation of our merchant marine is a vital question. But congress would be so much better pleased if the matter could be put off until the icebergs begin to interfere with shipping on the northern "banks."

Dog Owners Warned By Postal Officials

LIMA, Ohio.—Dogs play an important and often an exciting part in the life of a postman, says George F. Winemiller, superintendent of Lima mails. Cases in which dogs along the mail route have bitten carriers are not infrequent.

"Perhaps it is the uniform or the pack on his back that he carries, for dogs usually have an innate hatred of peddlers," Winemiller says.

In case a man is bitten the postmaster notifies the owner of the dog that no mail will be delivered until the dog is disposed of. Under postal laws a carrier need not deliver mail where there is a vicious dog.

War Veterans Insist That Germany Pay

PARIS—Delegates representing 900,000 war veterans of the Union Nationale, meeting in Strasbourg, passed four resolutions regarding French foreign policy:

1. That Germany be compelled without further delay, to execute to the letter all treaties and conventions.
2. That France should enforce these provisions either in accord with her allies or alone.
3. That to this end France should take necessary measures to assure in the present and in the future the payment of reparations owed by Germany.
4. That any reduction in the debt owed to France must not be consented to.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair; taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and, after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

BALL GROUNDS TO RECEIVE MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Diamond Being Put Into Better Condition and Stand Enlarged

As a result of the action of city officials and several business men of Glendale, the local baseball team is to have a diamond worthy of the game, according to John A. Cobb, manager of the Glendale Merchants' baseball team.

The city's road machines yesterday were sent to the ball grounds at Park and San Fernando road. The grounds were cleaned, scraped, watered and rolled. It is Cobb's intention to drag the field before Sunday, when the Merchants take on the Los Angeles Evening Herald team.

The single seat bleachers now at the grounds are being enlarged. The lumber for the present bleachers was donated some time ago by the Litchfield Lumber company, and was sufficient to build the single tier of bleachers in three sections of ninety feet each.

Plan Second Tier

The Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company has donated an equal amount of lumber and this will be used to add a second tier to the present seats. The two lumber companies donated 4 by 4 material for the construction of the backstop, and the Wilson-Bell Hardware company gave the screening for the backstop.

Manager Cobb and Johnson, pitcher for the Merchants, were yesterday building the second tier of seats, and it was expected that a third lumber company would donate an equal amount with which he would build a third tier. Cobb expects to have the entire bleachers completed and the grounds in top shape for Sunday's game.

The Phils again proved that time cannot change, nor custom stale their ability to take a beating gracefully. They finished a unanimous second to the Giants, 6 to 2. Toney held the Wilhelm entry hitless for six innings.

The Cards outlasted the Pirates 8 to 5. Haines got the entire rout to the everlasting annoyance of Messrs. Glazner, Carlson, Hollingsworth and Yellowhorse.

The Dodgers saw to it that the Braves remained snugly in last place by scoring a 7 to 3 victory. Grimes outpitching Marquard and Miller.

Mlle. Lenglen Wins Over English Champ

WIMBLEDON, England, June 30.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen of France disposed of one of her most troublesome obstacles today in her attempt to play through the all-comers' singles for women by defeating Miss Kitty McKane, champion of England. The French titleholder won in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5, completely overwhelming Miss McKane with her dazzling volleys and placements.

Chained fast, to work like any mongrel hound
I labor grimly on until the late.
Stant shadows fall across my upturned pate.
And make of me a gloom king,
A sombre crown'd.

No little sunbeam, I, no merry quip,
Wells up in rippling cadence from my throat.
For who can smile and know that he's the goat.
Whose put rolled true, yet hung upon the lip?

$60,000 a Year, What?

Judging from recent accounts Babe Ruth is about as valuable to the Yankees as a sensational foul fly.

In actual returns Ruth can no more be compared to Sisler and Hornsby than ink can be compared to champagne. In addition to leading their respective leagues in batting, total hits, driving runs and other non-essential matters, the St. Louis ace are remarkable men on the defense and they play the temperamental angle about as often as Jack Dempsey sings tenor.

Ruth headlines—or once did—the field in one detail only, the seduction of the evasive cash customer. That is a very gratifying detail to the baseball magnate. Hence the $60,000 contract or whatever it is he is supposed to get.

The Future Ruth

Another thing—When Ruth starts to slip he will look worse than any hitter in the game. The wonder of the age is that he hits them at all with that terrific swing. Dull that eye a bit and his swing will be the most ridiculous thing off the burlesque circuit. He'll either have to shorten it and be an ordinary hitter or he can go right on swinging and be an extraordinary sap.

Add Social Items

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen entertained Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory over the weekend at her French villa. After having her front teeth replaced Mrs. Mallory said that, although a splendid hostess, she had observed that Suzanne needed a rolling pin and would make it her business to see that Suzanne got one.

Foolish? So Was Solomon.

When Benny Leonard contracted to take on three dangerous opponents within a period of one month, many thought the lightweight champion had bitten off a considerable quantity of chewing tobacco. However, there is this to be reckoned:

Leonard's fights during the last several years have been few and far between. When he did appear it was to look none too nimble through the early rounds—particularly against Rocky Kansas—because he was short of work.

Leonard wants none of this when he steps out with Lew Tendler on July 27. For this reason he is lined up Jack Britton and Kansas for preliminary engagements with the idea that either or both would give him the necessary polish for Tendler.

Do you remember a year ago this week, June 26 to July 2?

That during the week Babe Ruth made four homers, one against Washington and three against Boston, two of them made in a double header on July 2. His total to July 2 was thirty.

That Bill Johnston, former national tennis champion, won the Pacific Coast title at Berkeley, Calif., defeating Roland Roberts, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3; and Helen Baker defeated Helen Willis for the women's title.

That Amelia Gade, swimming instructor of the New York Y. W. C. A., swam forty miles, completely around Manhattan Island, in 15 hours 57 minutes.

That J. Watson's colt Lemonora won the famous Grand Prix stakes at Paris.

That Mousel knocked a home run out of the polo grounds into an elevated train back of left field.

That six errors by New York (American League) in first inning enabled Washington to score five runs.

That Elizabeth Ryan of California won the women's British turf court championship at Wimbledon, England, defeating Mrs. Satterthwaite of England in straight sets. In the game on June 27 Miss Ryan eliminated Molla Bjurstedt and the next day eliminated Mrs. Peacock of England.

That Phil Neer of Stanford University, national intercollegiate champion, was elected president of the Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis association in session at Philadelphia.

That Ted Lewis outpointed Jack Bloomfield in twenty rounds at London.

That Grimes, Brooklyn, won his fifth successive game by defeating Boston.

That Marcel Thomas, French welter of Carpenter's camp, was K. O'd in the tenth round by Billy Ryan at Cincinnati.

That Smith, an infielder, was sold by Cincinnati to the Philadelphia National League team.

That Michigan university baseball team defeated Waseda at Ann Arbor, Mich., 1 to 0.

That Dartmouth University won the team championship of the Intercollegiate golf association at Greenwich, Conn., with 1273 strokes for 72 holes, Yale second, one stroke behind.

That Miss Joyce Wethered, English woman champion, and her brother, Roger Wethered, defeated Alexa Sterling of the U. S. and R. H. deMontgomery 5 and 3, in mixed foursomes at Worpleston, England.

That New York National League was held to four hits by Oeschger, Boston, and lost, 3 to 2.

That Otto Miller, catcher of Brooklyn, National League, was indefinitely suspended by President Heydler.

That Aubrey Boomer, English professional golfer, won the French national open title at Boulogne, defeating Arnaud Mastsey of France, 142 to 135.

That Chicago National League transferred Robertson to Pittsburgh in exchange for Ponder.

That Bill Tilden won the British title for the second successive year at Wimbledon, defeating Morton of South Africa, 4-6, 2-6, 6-1, 6-0, 7-5.

That the S. F. Olympic and Los Angeles A. C. tied with 75 points each in the national junior track championships at Los Angeles. Eight national junior records were broken.

The World Over
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Aside from the pleasure which swimming affords, there is no more useful recreational activity and, for this reason, every child should be given instruction for all children in this art has, for years, been advocated by far-seeing persons. How many deaths in the water such a course would have prevented is, of course, impossible of determination, but there can be no doubt that the figures would run up into the thousands. An astonishing number of persons who are absolutely helpless when in the water, and also have little or no conception of the handling of a small boat, use those small craft without giving a single thought as to what they would do if they suddenly found themselves thrown into the water.

That good swimmers frequently are drowned is a fact, but at least they had a fighting chance which the non-swimmer does not have. The latter goes to his death unable even to make a fight for his life.

In order to be eligible to join one of these boat clubs, the children of San Francisco doubtless will be spurred on to learn to swim, something they might not think of doing without the incentive offered.

Mrs. Margaret Finley, 76 years old, has been appointed road commissioner for Rahn township, Pennsylvania.

The Happy Home

is the home that is free from financial worry.

It is the little things in life that count. The nickels and dimes that are spent foolishly, are enough in most any home to permit a regular deposit on a savings account.

The home in which every member of the family is saving, is the home that does not fear a period of adversity or hard times.

Now is the time to start.

HOTEL PROJECT IS GIVEN SUPPORT OF EASTSIDERS

Association Hears Details of Proposition Submitted by H. J. Tremain

Endorsement of the revised hotel proposition was voiced yesterday noon in the Broadway Inn, 637 East Broadway, at the weekly luncheon of the Eastside Advancement Association.

A report of Wednesday night's meeting of stockholders in the council chamber at the city hall was made by Dr. Henry R. Harrower.

"I am very much pleased with the man upon whom this hinges," asserted Dr. Harrower. "H. J. Tremain is a man with personality, hotel experience and executive ability. He is the best man that I have heard of for this proposition. I believe that he is in an ideal position to take care of the hotel interest.

"Don't forget that a hotel succeeds very largely as a result of the personality of the man behind it. If we have a poorly run place, it won't be long before its reputation will have gone before it, and Glendale will have a white elephant on its hands."

Members of Committee
The hotel committee was appointed to continue to represent the organization in further negotiations. Members of this committee are: Mrs. Mabel J. Tight, Dr. Henry R. Harrower, F. H. Vesper, C. W. Ingledue, R. M. Brown, Spencer Robinson, F. W. McIntyre, W. L. Traut, S. C. Kuch, Dr. T. C. Young, J. L. McGarber, P. J. Hayselden, Herman Nelson, E. E. Harrington and S. L. S. Perch.

The Hotel Angelus in Los Angeles is under the control of Mr. Tremain. He is interested in the erection of a large hotel in Hollywood also.

The following communication from him was received yesterday by C. W. Ingledue, president of the Eastside Advancement Association:

"Dear Sir—In keeping with our recent conversations and annulling any other written instrument previously submitted, I hereby make you the following proposition:

"If your organization will deliver the site at the corner of Broadway and Glendale boulevard to me free of encumbrance and loan me the sum of $100,000, I will give you security for same in the shape of second mortgage bonds to the amount of $165,000, being your cash investment of $100,000 and $65,000 representing the value of the lot.

"These bonds will bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

Promises Complete Hotel
"Upon the completion of formal contracts covering this transaction, I will commence immediately planning, financing and construction of a hotel on this site to be a class 'A' construction of approximately 140 rooms, and six or seven stories in height; also to furnish and completely equip same.

"When you accept my proposal, we will at once execute written contracts covering all the details and deposit our money in escrow as we may agree.

"I will immediately organize and incorporate a company to carry out my contract. This company or the building corporation to furnish a bond satisfactory to your committee guaranteeing that the hotel will be built and completely free from liens and debts with the exception of the first mortgage or mortgage bond issue and the second mortgage issue.

"You understand that there is to be a first mortgage, which I will place to the best possible advantage.

Right to Examine
"I am to choose contractor and the architect, but the plans will be subject to the approval of a committee of not more than five, which your subscribers or association shall appoint, two of this committee having the right at all times to examine all books and accounts so that you shall have the privilege of knowing that the money is all spent and properly appropriated for the building and furnishing of this hotel.

"We will also have a garage and possibly three or four bungalows. However, the bungalow part is undecided.

"As I have explained to you before, time is such an essence in this matter that I cannot let this proposition stand open after midnight of July 3, 1922.

"If the proposition outlined above meets with your approval, I would suggest that you immediately accept same in writing and we will let our respective communications stand as a contract between us until the formal contract can be executed, in order that we may proceed with the work upon the plans at once.

"Yours for a fine hotel in Glendale.

"H. J. TREMAIN,
Hotel Angelus, Los Angeles."

Poincare Will Unveil French Monument

PARIS. — A monument at Jonchery, near the Swiss border, to the memory of Corporal Puegot, the first Frenchman to be killed in the war, will be unveiled by Premier Raymond Poincare.

Corporal Puegot was on sentry duty in Jonchery, which is six miles this side of the frontier, when a squadron of Uhlans invaded the district 48 hours before Germany declared war on France. The Frenchman was shot at sight. The military medal and the croix de guerre will be laid on the grave by M. Poincare.

Bible School Will Open on Wednesday

With a faculty of trained and experienced instructors, the daily vacation Bible school to open Wednesday, July 5, at the Tropic Presbyterian Church and continue until Friday, July 28, promises to be of great value and interest to all those enrolling. Members of the faculty will be:

Roger Crafts Brown, principal and teacher of junior boys. Mr. Brown is a theological student from New York City, a graduate of Cornell University, and has had experience in boys' work and the teaching of music. He is spending the summer with his parents in Montrose.

Miss Lulu Ethel Garton, teacher of junior girls, is a graduate of Christian College, Columbia, Mo. She has taken special work in the University of Missouri and in the College of Missions, Indianapolis, Ind. During the past five years she has served as a missionary in India.

Miss Mabel Claire Robinson, teacher of primary children, is from the normal training school of the southern branch of the University of California.

Mrs. S. H. Wilcox, in charge of the Tropic vacation Bible school two summers and is an experienced worker with small children.

Mme. Bres, the first woman doctor in France, has just died at the age of 86 in the workhouse, after practicing half a century.

Women are now acting as treasurers in eight counties in Nebraska.

Read About Them---

WITHOUT INVESTIGATION—WITHOUT AT ALL

KNOWING THEM—Some housekeepers in Glendale say: "I can't afford to buy furniture in Glendale—I have heard that Page's have good furniture—but I can't afford Glendale prices—that's all."

HOW DO YOU KNOW YOU CAN'T AFFORD THEM?

How can you know you can't afford them when you don't know what Page's prices are—many simply conclude that they can't afford Page's Rugs and Furniture and let it go at that—wrong, all wrong.

HERE IS A GREAT BIG RUG AND FURNITURE STORE—

Carrying a most complete stock of high grade, dependable Rugs and Furniture—at prices that we are glad to compare with city stores. Investigation will PROVE to you that YOU CAN SAVE from ten to fifteen per cent on furniture you buy at Page's in Glendale.

IT SEEMS A DUTY WE OWE YOU

To urge you to "shop" with us, knowing the quality and dependability of the furnishings we offer you, and knowing, too, how much worthless, trashy stuff there is on the market.

Come in and see our stocks, it will be a pleasure to us, and we believe, of pleasure and profit to you.

FILM ART WRECKS FRENCH VILLAGE

'The Four Horsemen' Shows Effects of Marne Battle; Now at Glendale

The French village pictured in the Rex Ingram production of Ibanez's "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," now at the Glendale theatre, was probably the biggest setting ever constructed for cinema purposes. Nearly three months were consumed by Metro workmen in the construction of the buildings. Then the entire village, with the surrounding farm houses and the stone castle, was razed under the fire of heavy artillery, used to represent the German guns in the battle of the Marne.

One evidence of the care that was taken to reproduce the battle scene with complete accuracy was found in the rebuilding that was ordered after a careful inspection of the village houses by Rex Ingram. He discovered that three of the buildings had not been made to conform with the plans of the village sent from France. The buildings were immediately wrecked and exact reproductions erected in their places.

More than 5,000 men participated in the battle scenes. You will want to see this stupendous picture, not only once, but a second time. Today offers the last opportunity here.

Pacific-Southwest Review

By D. H. SMITH
Manager, Brand Boulevard Branch,
Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank.

D. H. Smith

Tomorrow marks the dawn of a new banking era in the Pacific-Southwest. Tomorrow twenty banks, operating in twenty-four cities in that portion of California from Fresno south, become officially affiliated with The First National Bank of Los Angeles and the First Securities Company and merged with the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank. Tomorrow the sphere of the Brand Boulevard Branch and the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank of which Mr. Herman Nelson is manager, is materially broadened and its ability to assist in community development materially strengthened.

Tomorrow the same cooperative principle, which has proved so successful in the marketing of California agricultural products, is applied to the financial system of the southern half of the state. The banks which are entering this organization and the cities served are as follows:

- ALHAMBRA
Alhambra Savings and Commercial Bank
- CARPINTERIA
Branch of Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, Santa Barbara
- CATALINA ISLAND
Aviation Branch of Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank
- FRESNO
Fidelity Trust and Savings Bank
- GLENDALE

Producers Savings Bank

In working out this consolidation no banks have been bought. Each bank has gone into the merger on an even basis of actual book value of its stock. In reality the stock of all these institutions is pooled and beneficial certificates are issued to all present stockholders, giving each a pro rata share in the ownership of all the merged institutions.

The First Securities Company will parallel, in the field of investment, the banking service to be rendered throughout the Pacific-Southwest by the merged institution, furnishing underwriting assistance to sound California enterprises of good management and proven earning power, and recommending good securities to investors.

This merger is the result of almost two years of careful study and investigation of the financial requirements of the Pacific-Southwest. While mere size is not the purpose of the merger the merged institutions will have approximately $200,000,000 in resources for use in the financing of production and marketing of Pacific-Southwest products.

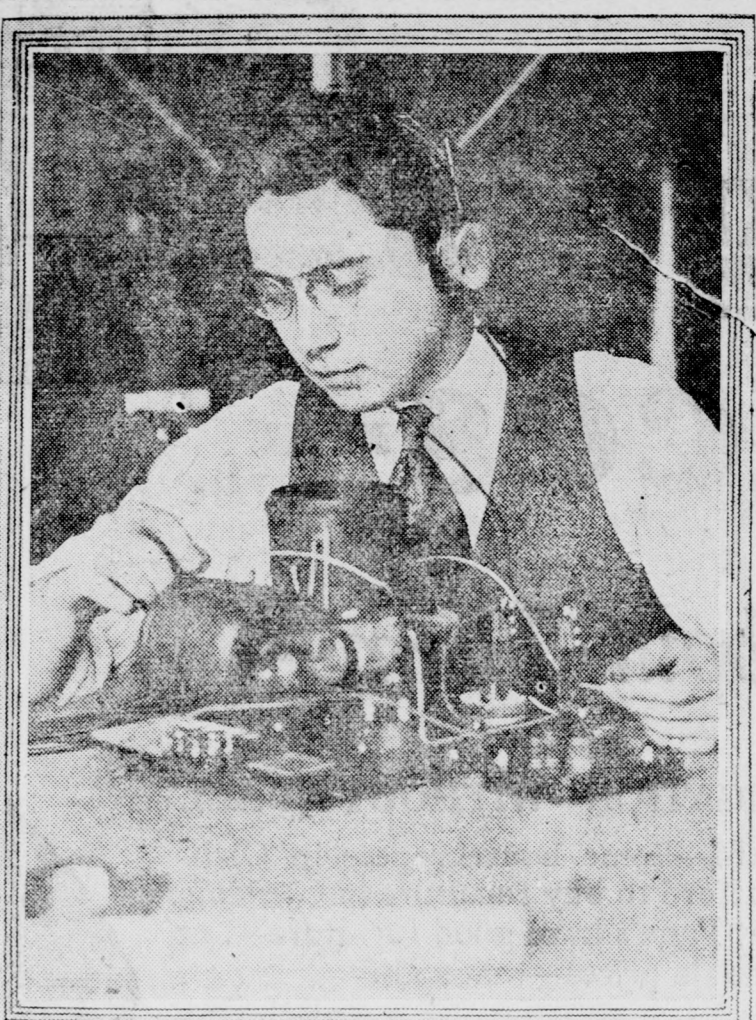

The world war proved clearly that economies can be made and waste eliminated by the merging of institutions in practically every line of endeavor. This merger is the application of this tested principle. It is a form of inter-community cooperation on a definitely organized plan, which will permit the most efficient utilization of the credit resources of the Pacific-Southwest and assist in the most logical, speedy, independent local development of each community served by the merged institution.

As was the case with the Brand Boulevard Branch and the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, each of the merged institutions will retain its local officers and advisory board. The old stockholders retain their proportionate interest in the new institution and the local control and local knowledge of conditions and customers is retained. At the same time, the broader services of the greater institution are made available to the various branches, spread at strategic points throughout the southern half of California.

The Brand Boulevard Branch and the Glendale Avenue Branch of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank is an integral part of this new banking organization. Locally this merger can mean but one thing, improvement in the quality of service rendered by this bank and greater assistance by the bank in the logical, conservative development of this community.

RECTIFICATION WITHIN A TWO ELECTRODE TUBE

A vacuum tube with a filament and a plate, but no grid electrode, is called a two electrode tube. It is the father of the three electrode tube that radio experimenters and others know so well, at least by sight. Electrons are given off by a heated filament in this tube, as well as a three electrode tube, and if the plate is positively charged these electrons are attracted to the plate. A current of electricity then flows through the tube and the circuit, including the plate and filament terminal to which the circuit is connected. But if the plate is given a negative charge the electrons emitted by the filament are repelled and do not reach the plate. There is then no electric current in the circuit. If the filament terminal and plate are connected in series with a battery across an alternating current line, the current can then flow in but one direction through the battery. When the plate is negative no current can flow and current only passes when the plate is positive. The alternating current is thus rectified and flows in spurts in one direction through the battery. Considering the space between the filament and plate within the tube, the current can only flow from plate to filament, but not in the opposite direction. When a storage battery is being charged it is necessary to connect the positive battery terminal to the positive side of the line when direct current is used. That is, for charging, the current must flow through the battery from its positive to its negative terminal. It is readily seen, then, that if the current through the tube flows only from plate to filament, the negative terminal of the battery must be connected to the plate of the tube. The two alternating current line wires may then be connected, one to the positive terminal of the battery and the other to a terminal of the tube filament. The filament has, of course, two terminals. If the line is connected to the negative terminal the current from plate to filament flows through one side of the filament in the same direction that the current flows through the filament from the filament lighting or "A" battery. This is the connection customarily made since the main current does not then pass through the filament lighting battery.

A VACUUM TUBE RECEIVER REQUIRING NO PLATE BATTERY

While plate or, as they are popularly called, "B" batteries on the diurnally last a long time in service and usually give little trouble, they do occupy space. In addition to requiring no such batteries for operation, the usual storage battery may be replaced by four common dry cells when the receiving set illustrated is used. When the filament of the special vacuum tube is lighted by current from the dry cells, no filament rheostat is necessary. The dry cells will last for several months with normal operation. They are preferably of the high amperage, ignition type of cell. A storage battery may be used instead of dry cells, but a rheostat is then required.

The vacuum tube, which is probably the most important departure from the customary, has a magnetic field across it which is furnished by a permanent horseshoe magnet mounted on the under side of the panel directly beneath it. The tube can be adjusted for maximum signal strength by turning it in its holder and by adjusting a small armature directly above it. These adjustments regulate the magnetic field and its effect upon the electrons emitted by the filament. The electron stream can be directed and controlled within the tube. Adjustments are, however, unnecessary unless quite distant signals are to be received.

The circuit used is non-regenerative and yet is very selective since tuning is not only accomplished by varying the inductance of a variometer, but by also tuning the tube when necessary. There is only one tuning knob to control the circuit tuning, thus simplifying the ordinary adjustment for resonance. The variometer has a zigzag winding on non-warping forms. Resistance losses are low because of the silk covered litzendraht wire used, and the external field of the vari-

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price ranges from 20 to 25% less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4 1/2-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Good-year patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value. Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

Importation Frozen Pork Now Permitted

WASHINGTON.—The department of agriculture has entered into an agreement with the British government whereby frozen pork cuts may now be imported into England. It has been announced.

Heretofore frozen pork cuts could not be sent to England because the United States meat inspection did not meet the technical requirements of the British law.

The agreement just reached eliminates this obstacle and fresh pork cuts bearing the inspection stamp of the department of agriculture may now be imported into England just as freely as whole carcasses and cured meats.

In the State of New York there are more than 1,500,000 factory hands of foreign birth. One-fourth of them cannot read or write their native language and half of them cannot understand or speak English.

The Pacific coast line is 2730 miles long.

Crimson Clover Crop Will Show Increase

WASHINGTON.—The production of crimson clover in the United States this year will be greater than that of last year, although it will not approach the heavy outputs of 1918 and 1919, reports to the department of agriculture indicate.

One need not be a botanist to recognize a blooming idiot.

Rev. H. S. Preston Conducting Church Finance Campaign

Harley G. Preston, pastor of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, is supervising a campaign for funds to carry the church over the summer months and to September. When the church year closes and annual conferences convene. Letters are being mailed to members of the church and others who are not affiliated with any church asking for assistance in putting this campaign over. The pledges are to be called for next Sunday and those making the pledges will have three months in which to pay them. Similar campaigns for funds have been put through at this active church in record time and it is hoped that the necessary amount will be secured at the Sunday services. Harold Adams, treasurer, 153 South Pacific avenue, will also receive checks from those unable to attend the Sunday services.

Big Banking Merger Is Effective Today

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—What is said to be the largest amalgamation of banking interests ever undertaken on the Pacific coast of Pacific-Southwest banks, involving resources of approximately $200,000,000, headed by the First National Bank of Los Angeles, Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, and the First Securities Company, becomes effective at the close of business today. The merger includes twenty-four banking institutions, ranging over the territory from Fresno south. Under the form of the merger, the stock of all these institutions is pooled and beneficial certificates are issued to all present stockholders, giving each a pro-rata ownership in all of the merged institutions. Following the merger plan it was announced that all banks included in the merger will operate under the name of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, with the exceptions of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and the First National Bank of Hollywood.

Louis Norup From Wisconsin Desires to Locate Here

Louis Norup, formerly of Racine, Wisconsin, was a visitor in Glendale yesterday. He is looking for a suitable opening, he says, either to buy out some business or to start a new one. If he is successful in becoming established in business here, he will move here with his family. About two months ago Mr. Norup, with his wife and young son Raymond, drove to California, and since then have been looking over southern California for "the best place to live," as they express it. Mr. Norup has been in Glendale several times during that time, and became convinced that this was the ideal place. Mr. Norup was formerly in the plumbing business in Wisconsin, but has about decided to enter some other line of business here, possibly the confectionery business. At present he is living in Los Angeles.

HIGHER PRICES ON MANY PRODUCTS DURING MAY

DAYS OF MISSIONS TO BE PICTURED AT BIG FIESTA

Report Increases on Various Commodities; Complaints Upon Maintenance.

By U. S. Press Association
WASHINGTON, June 30.—The United States department of labor through the bureau of labor statistics has made a revision of its series of index numbers showing changes in the level of wholesale prices.

In all groups of commodities except chemicals and rugs, prices in May averaged higher than in April. Farm products rose over 3 per cent above the level of the month before. Foods and house furnishings averaged slightly higher, while substantial increases took place in the groups of cloths and clothing, metals and metal products, and building materials. Fuel and lighting materials showed the largest increase of all, the rise in the May level being 11 1/2 per cent. Chemicals and drugs, on the other hand, decreased 1 1/2 per cent in price from April to May. All commodities, considered in the aggregate, were 3 1/2 per cent higher in May than in April.

Of 404 commodities, or price series, for which comparable data for the two months were obtained, increases were found to have occurred for 153 commodities and decreases for 24 commodities. In the case of 157 commodities no change in average prices was reported.

Comparing prices in May with those of a year ago, as measured by changes in the index numbers, it was seen that the general level has increased 2 per cent. The greatest increase is shown for farm products, in which prices have risen nearly 12 per cent. Fuel and lighting materials have increased 8 per cent and clothing over 1 per cent since May of last year. In all other groups prices have declined, the decrease ranging from less than 1 per cent for foodstuffs to more than 15 per cent for house furnishing goods.

Retail Prices of Food.
The retail food index issued by the United States department of labor, through the bureau of labor statistics, shows that there was an increase of two-tenths of 1 per cent in the retail cost of food to the average family in May as compared with April.

"Resale Price Maintenance."
The federal trade commission announces that it has issued formal complaints against two concerns charged with "resale price maintenance," which in the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Beechnut case, was declared to be an unfair method of competition.

The firms against whom the complaints are issued are V. Viandou, Incorporated, of New York City, manufacturers of toilet articles, and Otto Eisenlohr & Brothers, Incorporated, of Philadelphia, manufacturers of cigars.

In each case the respondent is accused of making threats to refuse to sell its product to dealers who persist in selling the product below the resale price set by the manufacturer.

In each case the commission issued complaint in the belief that the acts of the respondents came within the prohibition of the law as defined in the Beechnut case. In the Beechnut case the United States Supreme Court said that the system of requiring purchasers to resell products at standard prices for the purpose of maintaining such standard prices necessarily constitutes a scheme which restrains the natural flow of commerce and the freedom of competition in the channels of interstate trade which it has been the purpose of all anti-trust acts to maintain, and that from this course of conduct a court cannot infer the conclusion that competition among retail distributors is practically suppressed, for all who deal in the company's products are constrained to sell at the suggested prices.

Large Celebration July 4 at San Fernando; Local People Interested

Romance of the early days in California and the progressive spirit of the new west will be combined in the fiesta Tuesday, July 4, in Brand park opposite the San Fernando Mission, where it is expected that 25,000 persons will gather for the dedication of the 200-year old fountain, a barbecue dinner and a historic pageant, "The Pageant of the Caluenga."

In addition to celebrating the nation's birthday the gala day will raise funds in the campaign for $100,000 for preserving the San Fernando Mission, built in 1797, which archaeologists and historians say is fast deteriorating and cannot withstand another heavy rain.

Glendale's Interest
Glendale is to have a particular interest in the celebration because L. C. Brand, Glendale resident, is donor of the seven-acre tract, now Brand Park, and is also the giver of the old fountain, which has been moved into the park from its location some distance from the Mission where it was built 200 years ago.

Mr. Brand will make the trip to the park by aeroplane and will formally present the fountain to the services beginning at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann, one of the park commissioners, who has originated the plan of having in the park plant life transplanted from every mission in California, will preside.

Morning Program
Raising of the flag and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" will be the opening events of the program. Mr. Brand will then present the fountain and an address of acceptance will be given by an official of the city of Los Angeles, possibly Mayor George E. Cryer. The unveiling of a bronze tablet marking the day will follow.

Dr. R. B. von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, will give the dedicatory address, and a barbecue dinner will be served at noon.

Pageant of Old Days
The Caluenga was what the Indians called the San Fernando valley, and in the "Pageant of the Caluenga" to be given in the afternoon the spirit of the old days will reign and Spanish music and dances will be special features. Miss Virginia Calhoun, who first portrayed the character of Ramona on the speaking stage, is directing the pageant.

Through the National Drama League the support of John Steven McGroarty has been pledged to the fund for restoring the mission, the proceeds from the evening performance of the Mission Play, July 12, being donated to the fund.

Other pledges made public are from W. P. Whitsett of Van Nuys, $500; Mrs. Celia Flynn of San Fernando, $500; F. W. Prince, San Fernando, $250; Mrs. W. P. Whitsett, Van Nuys, $50; and Mrs. Mark Grimes, Van Nuys, $25.

Wants more Ships to Hunt Boozers

WASHINGTON.—Whether prohibition really prohibits still provokes acrimonious debate. But prohibition at least seems to be paying its own way. Enforcement of the dry laws, upon the present rigid scale, is held by Commissioner Haynes to be more than self-sustaining.

Counting what the government actually collects from fines, Commissioner Haynes maintains that prohibition enforcement is paid for, and then there is left probably as much more for the United States treasury. In the past six months figures submitted by prohibition directors set forth that collections in penalties imposed upon violators exceeded $10,000,000. In one group of noted cases, Haynes said, comprising more than 20 members of the wealthy liquor fraternity, the fines aggregated more than $1,000,000. In another group, almost as large, the fines and penalties assessed exceeded $500,000.

Commissioner Haynes maintains that a better attitude by the courts is responsible for heavier revenues from this source. His records, he said, show the imposition of larger fines than were imposed in the early days of prohibition. He suggests also that stiff fines are having an important effect in keeping down the violations, or at least in preventing the violators from getting into the class of second or third offenders.

Prohibition finances thus cited are not embracing the very much larger sums involved in seizures of property and extraordinary assessments, which are tied up in pending litigation. Enforcement officials estimate that $20,000,000 is due the government by violators in contested cases. Many of these, however, may not be tried for several years, and when tried may result frequently in defeats for the government because of disagreements by juries.

The figures shown are significant. They are important because prohibition officials will demand from congress a sum which may run as high as $20,000,000 next year for prohibition enforcement. The amount now allowed is $10,000,000 a year. The argument will be made that prohibition always can be depended upon to turn to the treasury 100 per cent more than it costs.

House of Thousand Mysteries Is Located

NEWARK, Ohio.—"The house of 1000 mysteries" is the designation applied by local police officials to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Iacsa here.

When officers recently raided the Iacsa home they said, Mrs. Iacsa, known to the police as "Hunky Mary," sought to destroy the small amount of "evidence" by overturning the bottle containing it.

By using rags, however, the officers soaked up the stuff and squeezed it back into the bottle. Analysis by Chemist Ray Belt disclosed that the fluid contained over 2 per cent alcohol, it is claimed.

Before leaving the place officials made a thorough investigation. They found push buttons, spring locks, trap doors, drawers and disappearing shelves, they said, where alleged illicit booze was kept.

Negro Farmers Report Large Yield in Corn

WASHINGTON.—Average yields of 35 bushels of corn per acre were obtained by more than 14,000 negro farmers in North Carolina, Texas and Virginia, who raised 90,000 acres of corn last year, the department of agriculture has announced. The average for all farms in these states ranged from 17 to 25 bushels an acre.

The excellent record made by the negro farmers is attributed in part to the advice they received from county agents employed cooperatively by the department of agriculture and the state agricultural colleges.

Seventy per cent of the negro farmers in Virginia are said to be following the methods of growing corn taught by extension workers.

Jail Tenor Is Removed to State Penitentiary

DALLAS, Texas.—No longer will "regulars" and strangers passing in the thoroughfare adjacent to the Dallas County jail pause and gaze upward in amazement as they listen to the strains of some popular air issuing from the sixth floor of the jail building and wonder, perhaps, if a new Caruso has fallen into the clutches of the law.

Jim Robinson, negro, he of the powerful and well trained tenor voice, has gone to other fields—the state penitentiary, in fact—to be gone for four long years.

When first arrested, Jim declared his intention of "singing his way out," and daily his shining black face could be seen as he clung to the bars that kept him from "without," while he poured forth his very soul in the sweet strains of some plantation melody.

Jim made a hit with passerby, a decided hit, and he will be greatly missed by his fellows, but he failed to make a hit with a jury, which, upon his plea of guilty to a charge of burglary, suggested that his voice was entirely too powerful for such a small "audience," and sent him on his way to the great expanses of the state penitentiary farms.

Thirteen Jinx Doesn't Scare This Marine

ATLANTA—The number 13 has no terrors for John H. Littleton, who was accepted for enlistment in the United States Marine corps here.

Littleton, who was the thirteenth child of a large family residing at Thirty-nine, Ala., was born April 13, 1901. He was the thirteenth applicant to fill out his blank and the thirteenth to be examined. When he took his examination he handed Sergt. Charles Lovett, examining officer, a bill fold which contained exactly $13, and sandwiched in between two one-dollar bills were two four-leaf clovers, which the Alabamian made known were his tokens of good luck.

Massachusetts Woman Is Raising Baby Doe

GREENFIELD, Mass.—Mrs. Harry Shaw is now the proud owner of an infant doe which she recently found in the field near her home. She is bringing it up on a bottle.

Mrs. Shaw noticed some crows about an object in the fields, and on investigation found a young doe. She notified Game Warden Lyman Rubert, who after a consultation authorized her to keep the deer.

Family of Fourteen Lives in Four Rooms

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—"We're healthy—healthiest people in town. The kids like it. We like it. People don't know it, but we're happy. We don't live like pigs. We live like kings."

An interpreter translated it this way when a reporter interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Michael Corriggi and Mr. and Mrs. Albanesi, who, with their twelve children, live in a four-room shack here. The board of health condemned the place as "dangerous," and ordered the Corriggis and the Albanesis to move within ten days or face prosecution.

Three months ago the home of the two families burned down. They then entered the shack at No. 214 Thirteenth avenue. The shack is a mess, but the twelve children, ranging in age from 2 to 14, are admittedly among the healthiest in the city.

The shack is two stories high and has two rooms on each floor. The Corriggis and their five children live on the first floor and the Albanesis and their five children on the second. Each family uses one room of their "apartment" for sleeping quarters. The other is dining room, kitchen, library, sun parlor, etc.

Hubby Forcibly Bobs Wife's Hair; Divorced

KANSAS CITY—Because her husband was a cave man and bobbed her hair in defiance of her wishes, Mrs. Mae G. Tork was granted a divorce in Judge Thomas B. Buckner's court here. Mrs. Tork testified that her husband John Tork, forcibly bobbed her hair. "Don't you like bobbed hair?" the court asked. "Well, it may be stylish, but I don't care for it and besides my husband put glue on mine after cutting it," the plaintiff explained.

Rail Labor Board's Authority Challenged

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29.—The authority of the railway labor board was challenged today in congress, which created it, as a storm of denunciation followed with the citation of union leaders on conspiracy charges.

Senatorial opposition, aroused by the board's action, was climaxed when its power to penalize strikers was questioned by Senator Cummins, author of the bill which brought it into existence. Cummins declared the transportation act which he framed was "never intended to penalize strikers."

The board's effort to avert the nation-wide railroad strike coming with a covert threat of injunctions and jail sentences for strike leaders was condemned by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, as the first step toward thrusting union workmen into "human slavery." Norris denied the right of the board to prevent strikes or to penalize union leaders.

Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, long a foe of anti-labor legislation, charged the board was "without any power to compel attendance of union leaders on its conspiracy citation."

Other senators joined in condemning the board's action as "unwarranted."

The citation, it was freely declared in senatorial cloak rooms, presages intervention by the department of justice in the threatened strike.

A political and economic upheaval would follow any attempt by the labor board to arrest union leaders should the citation be ignored, senators openly predicted.

Deadlock Results In French Medal Voting

PARIS.—Because of a rule which requires that a candidate for the medal of honor of the Salon of French Artists must receive a majority of the votes in three ballots, the society has been unable to distribute the medals of honor for painting, sculpture and engraving. The balloting resulted in no decision being reached.

LOCAL LADS BACK FROM Y CAMP AT CATALINA

Ten Glendale Boys Have Lots of Fun While on Their Outing

Rex C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, returned yesterday evening with his delegation of Glendale boys from the Y. M. C. A. camp on Catalina island. The camp, according to Mr. Kelley, was the most pleasant, best managed and altogether the most enjoyable camp he has ever attended. The boys bear out his statement.

With the ten boys Mr. Kelley left for Catalina on Saturday morning, the party arriving at Avalon at noon. They were met by the camp launch "Kathleen" and taken to camp near Moonstone beach. That evening had been designated as "tent night," when all the boys received boxes of "eats" from home and enjoyed a spread in their tents in the evening. The local boys, having just arrived, were invited into the tents of the other boys, who had been there since the first of the week, and shared the "feed."

Win Camp Honors

Several of the Glendale boys, in spite of the fact that they had arrived after the others, won camp honors. George Jordan was made a member of the daily camp paper, the "Whangdoodle," and contributed to that newsy and humorous sheet.

Seven camp monograms were awarded to the winners in the athletic contests, and of the seven, two were won by Glendale boys. Tom Wood received one for winning the broad jump and shot put, and George Jordan for the 50-yard dash and the beach run.

Get First Degree

Tom Wood, Dick Pomeroy, Paul Frubling and Fred Peck were given the first degree, the Blue Rag, the second, the Brown Rag and the third, the Red Rag.

The King Vidor company was making a picture, "The Seven Sins," on a "pirate ship" in the bay near the camp. The company was entertained at the camp one evening with a ball game, barbecue and camp fire. The guests furnished considerable entertainment including music by a quartet. Buster Keaton and his company was also making pictures there.

Directs Program

The Bible program, especially the Bible study, was managed by Roy E. Dickerson of Denver, who has a special course of study worked out. The general program included a variety of features. On the last evening in camp a test was made of the proficiency of the boys in resuscitating a drowning person. By a prearranged plan one of the boys fell off the launch, Mr. Kelley and another of the campers jumped in after him, fully dressed. The boy was taken to shore and the boys tried their skill at resuscitation.

Four Killed in Crash

CHICKSAW, Oria, June 30.—Two men and two women were instantly killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a truck Island passenger train near here today. There was nothing to positively identify the bodies.

Work of Plotters?

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The kidnaping of A. Bruce Bielaski and the seizure of the Americans and property of the Cortez Company near Tampier, was the work of plotters against the Mexican government, who hope by their work to embarrass the negotiations concerning the settlement of the Mexican external debt, according to a statement given the International News Service today by the Mexican embassy. It is the first official comment the embassy has made concerning the incidents.

Report is Awaited

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The senate will pass no legislation providing for the construction of the Boulder canyon dam, in the Colorado river, until the Colorado river commission makes its report, Senators Phipps and Nicholson, of Colorado, today notified the house irrigation committee, which is handling the project.

POWDER AND PAINT REALLY DO SAVE YOUR FACE, EXPERT SAYS

Cosmetics Better Than Dirt in Pores of Your Skin, Asserts Dermatology Authority

NEW YORK, June 30.—To grow old gracefully seems to be the hope of many forward looking young women today. No gentle collapse after 40 for them. No lavender and old lace, either. That shade is suitable only for lingerie, they will tell you patronizingly, and old lace will gather mold waiting for wearers.

Every self-respecting girl, we hear, is laying away a private stock of lip-sticks, face lotions, false eye-lashes and assorted powders and rouges against the day when such things shall be prohibited. And just let the Izzy Einstein of that period try to make a raid on the precious stuff!

Not so very long ago a reputable physician and authority on dermatology, Dr. William Lathrop Love, scared us to death by getting right up at the convention of the Homeopathic Medical Society to say:

"We practicing physicians cannot fail to view with alarm the increasing use of cosmetics by our young girls, not only of the genus flapper, but others of supposedly good taste. Many a girl has already ruined her complexion by these things; and we tremble to think of what many of the growing generation will look like when they reach the stage of femininity called fair, fat and 40. Unless they adopt the veils of their Asiatic sisters, they are liable to be designated as frightful, fat and 40!"

Frightful at 40—a nice fate for the flapper and her older sister. Yet something tells us that the much criticized damsel of today will be so hardy at 40 that it would take a wrecking company to bring on a breakdown, much less injure her weather-proof complexion.

The reticule is dead—with its smelling salts and camphor. Long live the vanity case! Our bold sentiment is echoed—or perhaps it was inspired—by Dr. Lathrop Stoddard, who has rallied to the defense of the girl with the powder-filled pores. Dr. Stoddard has become widely known both here and abroad for his work in plastic surgery, first applying his knowledge to restore soldiers' mutilated faces and later to the practical uses of lifting age right out of the old faces by a simple operation. There is little about a face that could escape him.

"Powder was very bad 25 years ago," he began, "but it is all right today."

"I mean," he explained, "that as a matter of morals—not hygiene. The woman who used powder long ago was talked about, and the one who painted her face was ostracized."

"Who could have foreseen the vanity box of today?" he asked. "The idea that powder clogs the pores is an old one that persists. Surely, it is better to have fine powder in one's pores than dirt. Cold creams, powders and rouges in moderation, of course, do more to preserve the skin than to injure it."

"There is only one way to clog the pores in a dangerous way. That is to varnish the body so as to include at least two-thirds of it to prevent the pores from carrying out their throwing-off processes. That brings 'toxemia'—death from poisoning."

"But it would be impossible to kill or even seriously injure one's self by varnishing one's face."

"It's all a question of ethics."

HOLD CONFERENCE OVER FINANCING HOTEL PROJECT

Final Arrangements Being Completed, Announces H. J. Tremain

(Continued from Page 1)—the Dyckman in Minneapolis—a house of 325 rooms of the most modern construction. This Dyckman had been a failure and, in fact, I took it from the sheriff. I built 100 rooms on that and built it up to a real success. I sold that because I had thoroughly made up my mind that I wanted to come to California. On September 1, 1921, I bought the Angelus.

Watches Glendale

"It was over a year ago that I met with the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in regard to a hotel. I have watched the wonderful growth of the city since and am thoroughly convinced that there is not only an opening but also a demand for a unique hotel."

"While I am planning on a large hotel in Los Angeles, I am ready to go ahead with Glendale previous to any other project. I have eight on my staff who have been with me for ten years and more. Some member of this staff will be the active manager of the hotel in Glendale."

To Speed Up Work

In order to speed up work, Mr. Tremain has instructed his architect, H. H. Lockridge of Long Beach, to proceed with preliminary plans and has guaranteed his compensation. No definite time limit has been set for the completion of these plans but the completion of the building has been assured by New Year's Day.

The building is to be of Class A construction. It will contain about 150 rooms, each with a private bath and running ice water. A ball room will be equipped for local entertainments and musicals. The roof garden will accommodate at least 1000 people. There will be two dining rooms, a barber shop, billiard room, bowling alley, delicatessen store and possibly a public plunge. There will also be about twelve shops for high-class tenants. All who have heard of these preliminary requirements are delighted and the East Side Advancement association is enthusiastic.

The personality of Mr. Tremain seems to have made a favorable impression in Glendale. Promoters of the hotel project feel that he is a man who can do the project justice. They feel that its success is inevitable.

Since coming to California, Mr. Tremain has married Miss Caroline Lorber of Pomona. Mrs. Tremain is a member of a very well-known Pomona family. Mr. Tremain has two sons, H. Raymond Tremain and Glendon L. Tremain, who are now in Stanford university.

Heavy Sale of Fake Degrees on Colleges

LONDON—Charges that there is a heavy sale of degrees from alleged American universities are made by George E. Maclean, director of the British division of the American University Union in Europe.

"Agents of so-called universities or colleges, with ingenious pretenses, are persuading ambitious but too credulous schoolmasters and ministers to buy diplomas and sometimes to pay for the honorary degrees by correspondence," Maclean charged.

"It is notorious that some institutions have made the District of Columbia, controlled by congress, in view of the laxity of its regulations, their seat of operations. The Oriental University of Washington, D. C., has had agents hawking its degrees to be given in absence on payment of considerable fees to nationals of foreign countries. It is incorporated in Virginia and is legally authorized to confer degrees, but proceedings have been instituted by the state, in view of its practices, to annul its charter. Indeed, the United States department of state has issued a statement saying that persons seeking information concerning this so-called university should be advised to place no reliance upon the alleged claims of the institution to academic consideration. The Association of American Colleges passed resolutions in January, 1922, viewing with concern the lax regulations governing the granting of charters to higher institutions in the District of Columbia, and requesting the congress of the United States to pass a law providing adequate safeguards for granting charters to higher institutions located in the District of Columbia and for maintaining high educational standards in these institutions. Another notorious center is Chicago."
