VICTORIA'S CLEAN SWEEP

City Rose to Occasion and Showed Unmistakably That It Was Time for Change.

It was a great day for Liberalism in Victoria. The solid four—W. G. Cameron, R. L. Drury, J. D. McNeven and Richard Hall—swung all before them. It was a brilliant victory, an achievement which should be a source of pride to all who desire to see this province blessed with good government. Overwhelmingly decisive, it has been a terrible shock to the Conservative party in this city, who up to the very last breath predicted that they would see at least two of their candidates safely established in the seats of parliament. When the results were announced their amazement and incredulity knew no bounds; but there was no mistake—Victoria had elected them for her part she would have nothing further to do with those who stood for the old gang who sought to be her representatives.

And the Liberal party? That they were jubilant is putting it mildly. As a party they had not dared to hope that so unprecedented a victory would crown their arms. The large majority were willing to count on half the ticket on the morning of polling day. There were some who insisted that three Liberals would be returned and a few who confidently predicted that the electors would elect the "solid four." Two of these prophets, however, expressed no doubt in conversation with a Times representative on Saturday afternoon. "You just keep your eye on the result," said one, "and you will find I am right. The enemy is divided and disorganized and can't possibly elect a member."

Everyone will remember how glibly the Conservative champions prophesied the election of their quartette about nomination day. Everyone will recall that as the campaign sped by they were inclined to drop down to three. Then it will also be remembered, as the polling day drew near, they "thought the Liberals might get two," and on Saturday a number of them still stuck to that. Some of the trumpet-voiced adherents, however, had taken heed of the signs of the times and admitted that things looked a trifle cloudy for them, and "they wouldn't be surprised if the Conservatives only elected one"—Charles Hayward being that one.

Polling commenced quite briskly on Saturday morning and kept up at a lively rate all day. The arrangements, thanks to the foresight of the returning officer, Hinkson Siddall, were perfect. They prevented confusion and enabled the electors to exercise their franchise with convenience and dispatch. The general returning officer was able to superintend the entire operations with marked economy of energy and time, having an elevated colun of vantage from which he could view the entire station. The voters entered from Pandora street, and, after casting their ballots, emerged on Cornhorant street. The interior of the old fire hall proved to be admirably adapted for a polling station, in every respect, and doubtless hereafter it will be used for this purpose, where possible, in all elections.

Liberal and Conservative committees were out bright and early, and their activity was due to the large vote polled. The Liberal headquarters were established in the old Methodist church, while the Conservative committee room was in the pottery building. It must be admitted that there was a vast difference in the demeanor of the habitues of the two headquarters. The Liberals were far more hopeful and buoyant than their rivals, who lacked the "sunshine" air which characterized them in the early stages of the campaign. Up to 2 o'clock 1,900 votes had been cast. The workmen's vote rolled in strongly between 5 and the closing time, 7:30 o'clock, and keen observers who had been following the trend closely were confident that the majority polled during the day were for the Liberal candidates. Promptly at 7:30 o'clock the polls closed and the ballots were counted. The total number cast was in the neighborhood of 3,800.

The contents of the nineteen boxes were then counted simultaneously. The Liberal candidates led from the start, much to the delight of those of their adherents who were looking after their interests at the polling station. The count was not in progress very long before the Conservative candidates and their friends began to feel premonitory chills. The Liberals gained in the lead, and when the first bulletin was given out by the Times it read like this: Cameron, 85; Drury, 79; McNeven, 79; Hall, 70; Hayward, 67; Helmcken, 57; McPhillips, 59; Hunter, 53; Watters, 37.

It will be noticed that the Socialist vote attained proportions at this stage altogether unexpected. The next report from the polling station increased the lead of the solid four, the figures being: Cameron, 1,752; Drury, 1,648; McNeven, 1,544; Hall, 1,470; Hayward, 1,322; McPhillips, 1,288; Helmcken, 1,207; Hunter, 1,154; Watters, 690.

count was not in progress very long before the Conservative candidates and their friends began to feel premonitory chills. The Liberals gained in the lead, and when the first bulletin was given out by the Times it read like this: Cameron, 85; Drury, 79; McNeven, 79; Hall, 70; Hayward, 67; Helmcken, 57; McPhillips, 59; Hunter, 53; Watters, 37.

Conservative Ministers Go Down in Rossland and Victoria--Two Parties Almost Evenly Matched.

The official count is now in progress, so the Times will be unable to give the result of this in today's issue. A comparison of the above figures, which may be considered about correct, will show how sweeping was the triumph. Mr. Cameron's majority over Mr. Hayward (who, the Tories confidently expected would head the polls) was 464; Mr. Drury beat Mr. McPhillips by 392; Mr. McNeven had a majority of 285 over Mr. Helmcken, while Mr. Hall knocked out Mr. Hunter by the tune of 331. The lowest Liberal vote was 158 in excess of the highest Conservative. It was truly an avalanche on the Conservatives in Victoria.

The Times-Bulletin Service. The Times on Saturday night gave what was undoubtedly the finest bulletin service ever given in Victoria. By means of a projectoscope, the most powerful of its kind that could possibly be secured, the returns, city and provincial, as they came in were thrown upon a screen which, with Mr. Hartnagel's kind permission, had been stretched on the wall of the Bridge. Interspersed with these were a large number of views, principally from the city polling station.

When the results were announced for the city a foreboding procession was quickly organized. The candidates and leading Liberals were hurried into carriages and, headed by the band and a squad of torchbearers the procession traversed the principal streets, winding up at the Times building, where a tremendous crowd had gathered. Here they after cheer went up from thousands of throats, while the band played enlivening music. From the Times balcony each of the candidates delivered a brief speech, thanking the electors for the magnificent victory and giving the assurance that they would be faithful to the trust reposed in them. H. E. Tanner, member for Nanaimo, also delivered addresses amidst the wildest enthusiasm. John Piercy presided. From the balcony the speakers looked down upon a sea of faces extending along Broad, up View streets a considerable distance. Such a scene has never been paralleled in the history of the city.

The following are the returns to date. As a number of polling places have yet to be heard from the figures are not yet complete.

This city, by an overwhelming majority, decided in favor of the government. It is not conceded that this vote in any way represents the political complexion of Vancouver. Several things conspired to bring about this result as they were. Vancouver has always shown a disposition to stand by with the government in power. They did so in this case, gratefully becoming satisfied that McBride would be returned. In addition the Labor and Socialist ticket and other things militated against the Liberal chance.

Nanaimo City.

Hawthornthwaite (Soc.)	483
Quinnell (Con.)	325
Shepherd (Lab.)	294

The splitting up of the vote in Nanaimo gave to Mr. Hawthornthwaite a chance to get the seat again. It is not to be denied that he drew to himself a considerable number of votes which were not Socialistic. His personal popularity affected the result in no small degree. Coupled with this was the remembrance of what the old member had done for the cause of Labor in the last legislature, and his efforts in that direction.

New Westminster.

Gifford (Con.)	854
Keary (Lib.)	957

The old member for New Westminster proved too strong for his opponent and the victory in consequence went to the government. The popularity of the Premier in his own city doubtless affected the vote also.

FREIGHT FOR VICTORIA.

One Thousand Tons Brought by the Deucalion From Europe.

Following close behind the Ning Chow, which arrived last week with 1,000 tons of European merchandise for Victoria and 500 tons of naval stores for Esquimalt came the Ocean Steamship Company's fine big liner, the Deucalion, Capt. Keay, with an equal amount of cargo for this city. The steamer left Liverpool on July 25th, and Yokohama on Sept. 20th, and in crossing the Pacific experienced nearly all kinds of weather. When nearing the Straits the schooner Enterprise, of Port Townsend, was sighted, heading south with a large crowd of men on deck.

This is the Deucalion's first trip to Victoria. She is comparatively a new vessel of 7,000 gross tons, and prior to entering the round-the-world service plied between the Old Country and the Orient. She is distinctly a cargo-ship of an up-to-date class.

Capt. Keay is not a perfect stranger to Victoria. He was here twenty years ago as mate of the sailing ship Spirit of the Dawn, which discharged in Esquimalt and loaded a return cargo of salmon. He was very during the visit of the Marquis of Lorne, and has a good recollection of what then took place.

The Deucalion will be in port several days discharging. From here she will probably proceed to the Sound, having a full outward cargo awaiting her arrival there.

MANY THOUSANDS NEED ASSISTANCE

GREAT SUFFERING IN EUROPEAN TURKEY

An Appeal for Permission for Red Cross Corps to Enter the Country.

London, Oct. 3.—According to a special dispatch from Constantinople an irade of the Sultan intimates that an advance of $7,000,000 on the new loan will be spent entirely on war material. With the exception of the revolutionary reports of massacres at Melonia, which is identical with the town of Razlog, there is little news from the Balkans. The semi-official Journal de St. Petersburg, commenting on the visit of the Czar to Emperor Francis Joseph, declares that the Ben language employed by the representatives of the Russian and Austrian governments at Constantinople and Sofia has averted war for the present.

A dispatch from Constantinople says that Anatolian troops recently called out are merely intended to displace the irregular troops who are responsible for the excesses so the actual effectiveness of the army in Roumelia will not thereby be increased.

Convoy Attacked.

Salonica, Oct. 3.—At the village of Kocchahina inhabited by Turks 400 houses are reported burned and most of the inhabitants killed. Eighty-five wounded Turkish soldiers arrived from Seris. It is reported that a Turkish convoy was recently attacked in the Florida region and fifty soldiers killed.

Conflicting Stories.

Sofia, Oct. 3.—Courier dispatches received at Macedonia revolutionary headquarters today repeat the reports of the massacre of all Christians in Razlog by the Turkish troops last Sunday. According to Turkish reports the revolutionists massacred the people and burned the town of Razlog and the Turkish population and troops departed. These reports the insurgents deny.

Thousands Need Help.

Constantinople, Oct. 3.—The following is the text of the petition signed by 21 men and women, constituting the American missions at Monastir, Philippopolis, Salonica and Samakov, recently presented to the British ambassador and to United States Minister Leishman, requesting them to secure the admission of a corps of the Red Cross Society into Turkey; or as an alternative, permission for the members of the American missions to dispense charity. After reciting that a state of insurrection exists in parts of European Turkey, and that great suffering will certainly result therefrom, the petition proceeds: "Without a canvass of the disturbed districts in question, we do not care to estimate the number of houseless people who are suffering from lack of food, clothing, medical attendance, etc. We are morally certain, however, that the number runs into the thousands. In some places they are living on roots and grass, even now at the end of the harvest. We have testimony of eye-witnesses that in some places the wounded are lying without medical attendance and with no medicine. Regarding the question as to where the responsibility lies, and regardless of the creed or nationality of the sufferers, it seems to us that the condition is one which must compel the sympathy of every humane person, especially in view of the fact that the greater part of the sufferers are women and little children.

The petition then asks that the Red Cross be invited to assist, and that popular subscriptions be opened, and that should the Ottoman government object to the distribution of relief, endeavor to bear to force its acceptance. The petition continues: "The thought of whole districts wallowing in blood without a single doctor or trained nurse to relieve the suffering is too brutally revolting to be tolerated in this twentieth century. Should the authorities object to the entrance of the Red Cross societies, but consent to allow the private distribution of relief, our mission would be willing to undertake to the extent of our limited ability, should funds be sent to us for the purpose. In any case, the call is for urgent action, and it should be prompt if it is to be effective. The gaugering in the wounds of men and women will not stay its action to await prolonged formalities, and starving babies will wait out their lives if succor is delayed."

The board of governors of Wesleyan college, Montreal, appointed Prof. Constantine Workman, M.A., Ph.D., of Toronto, to the chair of Hebrew languages and Old Testament exegesis and English literature.

When You Think

DEATH IN TORNADO.

Several Persons Reported to Have Been Killed in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Lacrosse, Oct. 3.—Two were killed, three fatally injured and a score of others badly hurt in a tornado which swept Independence, Wis., and the surrounding country this afternoon.

Additional Fatalities.

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—A tornado struck St. Charles, Minnesota, this afternoon and ruined the town. Six persons are reported killed and a large number were injured. Two elevators, the principal furniture store in town and the big flour mill were wrecked, while the telegraph office and a sawmill were partially destroyed. From meagre information it is learned that the bodies of three persons have been found, and it is feared a number of others are dead. It is estimated that 100 houses were demolished and telephone and telegraph lines are prostrated. Utter confusion reigns in the town. The streets are filled with farm implements, which were blown through the air. It was some time before crowds could begin to clear away the debris, which, it is feared, may cover many sleeping slights.

MONKS ARRESTED.

Civil Officials and Gendarmes Bestirred. Convent—Naval Defence.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The convent of Angoulême in the department of Ille-et-Vilaine, strongly barricaded and defended, was besieged today by civil officials, assisted by gendarmes. A crowd of hundreds of people, headed by a former mayor, hissed the officials, threw stones at them and impeded their progress. One of the novel methods of defence consisted in a number of bee-hives, which were placed

Although the final international cricket match was not concluded at Haverford, Pa., on Saturday, the Kent County team of England is assured a victory. Twenty-two runs are therefore needed by Kent, which still has nine wickets.

EVERYTHING READY FOR ANNUAL FAIR

FORMAL OPENING BY SIR HENRI JOLY

The Ceremony Takes Place To-Morrow Afternoon—Official Programme for the Exhibition.

To-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will formally open the annual exhibition of the B. C. Agricultural Association. From that hour until Saturday the big agricultural and industrial event will be in full swing, and judging by the preparations that have been made and the methodical manner in which they have been carried out, unqualified success should be the gratifying outcome. This perfection of arrangements is only possible under a system such as the one adopted by the local fair promoters, a system which centres the responsibility of an executive of five instead of on a single man, as has been the case in the past.

The exhibition buildings and grounds have been the scene of great activity during the past few days, and to-day the finishing touches are being administered to the various arrangements there. Exhibits are being established in the sheds erected to them, and staffs of workmen are busily engaged in attending to the hundreds and one details involved in this connection. Only those who have had the experience can appreciate the arduous labor necessary in the establishment of an exhibit. In an event of the kind to be opened to-morrow, the main object is to present to the public, in the most pleasing manner, the exhibits, to please the eye, and arouse the interest. The exhibits, therefore, have been working like Trojan horses, and in this view, accounting for the transformation of the exhibition buildings, which has been done in a very short time, into a place of activity.

The programme of Saturday afternoon published the only complete review of the arrangements thus far given to the public. The programme of writing, however, etc., had not been completed. This is now available, and is presented below. It will be seen that the committee in charge have provided for a larger amount of extra entertainment than has ever been included in a fair programme before.

There will not be one idle moment. There will be bicycle races, tug-of-war, Association football, trap shooting, boxing tournament and horse racing. In addition to these there will be one of the most interesting side shows ever conducted in connection with an exhibition. This will be the Wallace glass blowing display, which has been shown in all the big industrial events in Europe and America. France's monopoly will now be on the grounds, and this collection of art animals will undoubtedly claim its share of public patronage.

The horse races last year constituted the most successful feature of the programme of sports. There were two days of racing, and all will remember the warm contest in which the various events were conducted. This year there will be three days' racing, and every indication points to an equality of this feature of the last show. Tug-of-war, from all over the province and the state of Washington are already here and en route, and scores of keen, spirit-stirring competition will have an ample opportunity of seeing it on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Then there will be band concerts, vocal selections and dancing. All these attractions have been so arranged on the programme that it is absolutely impossible for "that first feeling" to present itself at any time. The public must be amused. Very well, they shall have all the amusement they want and in such varied quantity that the most exacting taste will be gratified.

The scale of admission is as follows: Adults, 50c; after 6 p.m., 25c; children under 12, 25c; after 6 p.m., 15c; children under 5 years, free; single carriage, drawn by one horse, 50c; occupants of same, two horses, 75c; occupants of same, two horses, horse and rider, 75c.

There is little more to be said, except to urge all citizens to turn out and liberally support Victoria's annual exhibition. Its importance should not be minimized. Visitors, of whom there will undoubtedly be a large number, will most assuredly gauge Victoria's status by the display made at this exhibition. There is no reason in the world why the present event should not be a financial success. There has been no extravagance, the system of management has been altered so that it is in accord with the views of experts, the broadest possible programme of side attractions and sports has been provided, while the interior exhibits is expected to surpass those of the past. In addition to these, interest will be aroused by the competition in the district exhibits which has always been fraught with so little excitement. The political turmoil is over, the week is devoid of counter attractions, and it is now up to the people to see that success crowns the preparations.

At a meeting of representatives of the Columbia, Victoria and Work Point bar-racks teams the other day it was arranged that on Tuesday, the first day of the show, a match will be played between the Columbian and Garrison, and on Wednesday the deciding match will be between the winner of the former and the Victoria. The team winning the series will be presented medals by the executive of the association.

The trap shooting, which will be in progress all day Tuesday, is expected to act as a good drawing card. Besides the "Four Crown" challenge cup a large number of other prizes are offered. Entries have been received from most of the local crack shots, and a number will attend from Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma. Competition, it is expected, will be close.

In the evening the principal event will be a grand boxing tournament under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Boxing Club. An extended programme has been prepared, and some hot fights are looked for. There is a large list of entries from Victoria, and many are being received from Vancouver, Nanaimo, Rossland and other outside points. Provincial amateur championships will be decided in each class, so that every contest will be interesting. Most of the championships are at present held by local boxers, who have been training hard for the past few weeks in order to be in the best possible condition for defending honors.

On Thursday, "Children's Day," a public holiday will be declared in order to give the school children an opportunity of seeing the exhibition. Two sporting events of special interest will commence on this day. They are the three days' horse races, of which mention has already been made, and the tug-of-war contests, which will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. The latter will be much more interesting than was originally expected. There will be entries from the Fifth Regiment, Garrison, Navy, etc., and the fight for the "Player's" challenge cup will be decidedly warm.

Each evening there will be a musical programme. On Tuesday the Ethel Regiment orchestra will be in attendance, and on Wednesday the Nanaimo concert band, while the following evenings a local orchestra will render selections. Arrangements have also been made to have each evening's programme varied by solos, instrumental selections, dancing, etc., so that those attending will be provided with simple entertainment.

THE ARCHBISHOP RECEIVES PALLIUM

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE WAS HELD YESTERDAY

Conducted Under the Most Illustrious Auspices—Splendid Music—A Banquet To-night.

In St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral yesterday morning His Lordship Archbishop Orth was formally elevated to the Archbishopric of Vancouver. The occasion was the conferring of the pallium, a sacred emblem symbolic of his illustrious office, on the recently created archbishop, the officiating prelate being His Excellency Mr. Sbarretti, papal delegate for Canada. Special services were also held in the cathedral. Both services were attended by the accommodation of the stately edifice being taxed to the utmost. The ceremony of conferring the pallium was most interesting, and impressive. There were present a large array of high dignitaries clad in their robes of office, while in the congregation were many of Victoria's most prominent citizens. The altar was beautifully decorated.

In the absence of Archbishop Christie, who unfortunately was unable to come on account of illness, both the morning and evening sermons were preached by Bishop Duntzeville, of New Westminster. In his opening remarks he said it was a great occasion. His Excellency Mr. Sbarretti, the representative of His Holiness the Pope, was present to confer the pallium upon Archbishop Orth. This symbol, he said, was blessed by the Pope and laid on the tomb of St. Peter over night. Continuing, he said that to-day (Sunday) marked the creation of a new archdiocese. Up to the present British Columbia had been included in the archdiocese of Oregon. This was now changed, and hereafter the archdiocese of Vancouver would be under the control of Archbishop Orth. In conclusion he expressed the hope that the church would prosper in British Columbia under these new conditions.

A feature of both services was the splendid music rendered by a large choir and orchestra under J. M. Finn. The programme was the same as published in these columns on Saturday. "The Heavens Are Telling," from "The Creation," Haydn, was given by the full choir at the opening of the morning services. Marzio's "Gloria" was also given, the soloists being Messrs. Goward, Booth and Langworthy and Mrs. Helmecken. A double quartet, unaccompanied, was rendered by Messrs. Booth, Sehl, Goward and Worlock, Misses E. Sehl, Goward and Worlock, Misses E. Sehl, Goward and Worlock, Misses E. Sehl, Goward and Worlock. Progress has gently perched itself on the arduous labors of our people. is characteristic of Catholics. Their unflinching attachment and loyalty to the verbal, and are a unique anomaly on the records of the world's history. Animated and quickened by this wondrous union in strengthening faith, we bid Your Excellency welcome to our dear homes and hearths, where nature still grants to labor's earnest call her bliss and abundance. We are, moreover, prompted on this occasion by the exalted dignity conferred on Your Excellency by the Holy Father sending you to us as his apostolic delegate, a position of momentous responsibilities in the Church of God. Welcome, then, to our young but rapidly developing province of British Columbia. Its salubrious climate, mighty rivers, rippling brooks, extensive harbors, fertile fields and snow-capped mountains, but above all, its fair, high-minded and noble-souled people will vie with one another in making emulous efforts to delight and entertain Your Excellency during your memorable sojourn among us.

the happy advent of Your Excellency, the apostolic delegate for Canada. We justly deem your visit an inestimable honor conferred on the newly-erected ecclesiastical province; a kind consideration never to be forgotten; a favor that will be highly treasured by young and old in thankful remembrance of Your Excellency. With hearts overwhelmed with a flow of delight, we wait a prayer to God on heaven's mighty throne for granting us this auspicious opportunity to give public expression of our innermost sentiments of joy and gratitude.

Your Excellency comes to us not as a perfect stranger from a foreign shore. Though your presence never delighted our people's restless eyes, though your voice never fell on their anxious ears, though your consecrated hands never blessed our dear homes, still we have learned to esteem you with due reverence. Long since did we admire your distinguished attainments, thoroughly versed with excellent judgment when sitting in the councils of holy church. We recognize in Your Excellency not only a beacon light guiding us in the fidelity we owe to God and church, but we also behold in you a shining model of the love we owe to our country and its government. With great and just pride do we point to the patriotism you have invariably evinced on private and public occasions. Yes, there is sunshine in welcoming Your Excellency to our province. These are the days of our youth, your cultured mind, wise counsel springing from piety, and deep erudition, and your voice imparts the Holy Father's blessing, and we will strive to forget that it is a voice on the wing. Yes, the sole pang of sorrow our bosoms now feel is how lately you came and how soon you will go. May our words, carrying our thoughts and feelings, fall on your ears in accents of appreciation and find in your heart a responsive cord to be swiftly echoed in your message when rivers and realms, as far and so wide, divide us. Long may Your Excellency live to let shine your light before men until your laurel-decked biquaque peacefully glides into the secure haven of eternal light.

This evening a banquet will be given by a committee of the congregation of the St. Andrew's R. C. Cathedral at the Driad hotel in honor of His Excellency Mr. Sbarretti. It is expected that Canada's apostolic delegate will deliver an address.

The Vienna newspaper Oesterwitz, which is responsible for the report that a massacre of Jews recently occurred at Mohiloff Podolsky and that 300 Jews and 100 Christians were killed, now says it has reason to believe that "massacre reports were exaggerated."

STRICKEN WITH PNEUMONIA

ALMOST READY TO DIE—ALONZO W. DOUGLAS, OF WOODBRIDGE, WAS SAVED BY Ferrozone.

"For the benefit of others," writes Mr. Douglas, "I desire to state the results derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with Pneumonia. So severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress towards recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable powers of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer enquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars about my recovery. Ferrozone deserves its great measure of success."

This is but one of the many cases that are being cured every day by Ferrozone. No treatment was ever known to supply a weak system so quickly with strength and energy. No tonic does its work so thoroughly. It is a specific for tiredness, languor, loss of appetite, weakness after fevers, and all debilitating diseases. Ferrozone makes you strong and keeps you strong—in a word, it assures health and costs but 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, at any drug store. By mail from—The Ferrozone Company, Kingston, Ont. FAIR AT DAWSON

Was Largely Attended and Proved a Splendid Success—Display of Vegetables.

The first Yukon exposition has just closed in Dawson. The undertaking was a great success among the public ventures attempted in the North, especially of significance in relation to the development of the country for a permanent population. Vegetables were of very large size. One turnip was exhibited which weighed twenty-one pounds. Many were exhibited running from ten to fifteen pounds. They represented six hundred pounds of turnips on a piece of ground fifteen feet square. Cabbages of fine, solid heads were exhibited in great numbers. Red cabbage matured early.

Potatoes, the more stable product of commerce for all the year, were exhibited from several parts of the Yukon basin. From one potato flower P. X. Laderoute, of Kirkman, near Dawson, raised 100 pounds of potatoes after multiplying the increase three seasons. The potatoes of different varieties ripen in various parts of the Yukon basin. Those exhibited in Dawson averaged about three specimens to the pound.

Tomatoes were also exhibited. Splendid specimens of native hay were shown, also bull barley, which runs sixty-five bushels to the acre. White flint wheat, red chaff wheat, oats, barley and other such grains were on exhibition in handsome ripened sheafs. Oats were shown five to ten and one-half feet tall, which were planted on June 4th. Native hay has been raised in quantities for the Dawson market this season. Sam Henry, of Stewart river, exhibited some which had just been harvested for the winter. The wild hay is worth $60 to the ton and the other $20.

The fair doubtless will be a great incentive to further farming and gardening in the Yukon. It is expected that within five years or less the Yukon will import few potatoes or hay. It now imports no garden truck. The country raises an abundance of garden truck to supply itself and that with little effort.

The $20,000 pavilion of the Dawson Athletic Club was used as an exhibition building by the fair management. The hall was a bower of beauty under effects of bunting, flags, electrical displays, great banks of native and domestic flowers and numerous booths. The main hall is more than 100 feet long and thirty wide. Aside from this was a machinery hall, containing specimens of machinery used in mining in the Klondike and native dogs and horses. A span of horses weighing 1,300 pounds each, raised on Gold Run creek, were exhibited.

Forty native white babies were exhibited one day. In the arts room were displays of paintings. Indian work, Yukon jewelry work and fancy work. Minerals, mammoth and mastodon remains and trunks were among the interesting exhibits.

A big stage was erected at one end of the main pavilion. Three hundred school children took part in the exercises. A military band gave concerts, minstrel shows were held at nights in the main pavilion and many other attractions were provided. The fair continued four days. As many as from 2,500 to 3,000 people attended during a single evening. Hundreds of dollars were awarded in cash prizes and diplomas were issued. W. H. Laker is exhibiting many of the horticultural and other exhibits to take to Eastern Canada and to the States for exhibition this winter. Next year an exhibit will be sent to St. Louis.

THE RESULT IN VICTORIA.

It is scarcely necessary for the Times to comment on the nature of the victory achieved by the liberals of Victoria on Saturday. Both sides put strong men in the field. The Conservatives had the advantage in many respects.

The Young Liberals in particular are deserving of congratulations for their part in the campaign. Their enthusiasm was inspiring to all. But with enthusiasm was combined practical work of the most effective kind.

THE GENERAL RESULT

It may be some time before the actual relative strength of the two great parties in the new Legislature is determined. There are five constituencies yet in the dubiety list. But it is fully determined that the McBride government, with the electoral machinery in its hands, will see the passage of the province at its disposal, and with the prestige of power to help it, all of which influences it made use of to the utmost.

But the facts are not likely to favor the government even to the extent of allowing it a majority of one. There is a possibility of the Liberals and Conservatives being equally divided, with the Socialists holding the other two seats.

With his cabinet shattered and lack of confidence in his government expressed in the great majority of the constituencies of the province, the duty of the Premier is plain enough. But he will not follow the path of obvious duty.

There can be no peace until the victory of Saturday is followed to its logical conclusion, the complete rout of the McBride forces. The Premier declared for party lines as a means of bringing to an end the repeated slump of politicians from one side of the House to the other.

In face of the disabilities under which the Liberals of the province fought the result of the election is surprising. This party went into the fight leaderless, which, it may frankly be admitted now, was a great handicap.

VICTORIA EXHIBITION.

Having attended to their political affairs, it should now be the chief business of the people of this neighborhood, of the farmers, and the residents of Victoria especially, to turn to with vim and enthusiasm, and make the exhibition a success.

The men who have striven through years of adversity, who have endured the disappointments and discouragements of dull times and other adverse influences not necessary to mention, who have been filled with a faith and hope that could not be shaken, will meet with their reward if the Victoria fall fair be made a success this year, through the co-operation of the public in general, who from the first should have been quite as much interested in the show as those who bore the burdens of the early struggles.

DUTY OF LIBERALS.

The victory for Liberalism in British Columbia on Saturday was a marvellous one, all things considered. But the work of reform is just begun. Mr. McBride is in, and he will stay in until he is kicked out. All manner of intrigue will be set afoot in an attempt to defeat the obvious will of the people.

No doubt the Premier thinks, from his experience in public affairs in British Columbia, that it will be an easy task to get together a winning combination. The final returns may remove all hope of that. If the final returns are not convincing, then the task will fall to the Liberal party. Every minister put up for re-election must be fought to the last ditch.

The death occurred yesterday morning of William Miller at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. F. Harper, Lake district. He was 70 years of age, and a native of Ireland. One by one the pioneers cross the great divide. At Ladner, on September 29th, William Arthur passed away at the age of 65, leaving behind him a widow and a family of three sons and three daughters. Mr. Arthur's death removes a familiar and much respected name from the roll-call of British Columbia's pioneers. The deceased was a brother-in-law of the late Frederick Williams, for many years speaker of the British Columbia legislature. Before moving to Ladner, Mr. Arthur resided a quarter of a century in Esquimalt, being closely identified with the early history of that town. A large circle of friends mourn the loss of one whose sterling qualities commanded the respect of all who knew him.

The well-known trotting mare, Belle Storm, owned by Bert Gouge, of this city, is making a record for herself and owner in the northwest circuit. At Yukima on Saturday she won the 2:23 class trot, winning out from a large field in 2:18, and in the show ring as best buggy horse she outclassed the American roadsters, and captured another first prize. Belle Storm is out of Belle Watts, by Storm. Her dam, Belle Watts, the old Victoria favorite race mare, fought many a hard battle in the eighties for supremacy on the Eastern and Western tracks. Belle Storm is entered in all the big events of the northwestern circuit, and her movements will be watched closely by all local horsemen, as she was bred and raised on the Steffy farm in Saanich. She is being ably handled by James McGuire.

Those who heard Dr. Grant's character study of Samson yesterday afternoon at the M. C. A. and of Saul in Calvary church last night, will need no urging to hear his study of Job to-night. This is regarded as his best by those who have heard it. The treatment of the scenes and characters in the Book of Job affords the fullest scope for the exercise of the lecturer's splendid powers. All are made to live before the audience, and his action throughout is most impressive. The public is very cordially invited to his lecture in Calvary church to-night. A collection will be taken during the evening. "Satan's Credentials" is the title of his lecture to be given to-night. One critic writes of this lecturer thus: "I never saw before such a wealth of illustration, and his power of description and expression could never be rivalled, and his voice was all that a voice could be." No admission fee will be charged to the lecture to-night, and the public is very cordially invited.

VANCOUVER ISLAND.

Saanich. Tanner, Eberts. (Lib.) (Con.) Royal Oak..... 41 36 Boleakine Road..... 54 67 Willows..... 66 33 Cedar Hill..... 44 35 Saanichtown..... 69 46 Total..... 265 217 Majority for Tanner 48. In Saanich the victory which H. C. Tanner gained is one highly creditable to him. To win over a candidate like the former Attorney-General was a great victory.

Islands. Pater-Bulson, lock. (Lib.) (Con.) North Saanich..... 68 35 Gabriola..... 30 9 Pender..... 16 9 Mayne..... 22 21 Graham..... 14 6 South Salt Spring..... 29 23 North Salt Spring..... 35 41 Kuper..... 7 8 Total..... 221 152 Majority for Paterson 69. The victory for the Liberal cause has been again a decisive one on the part of the Islands electorate.

Cowichan. Evans, Skinner. (Lib.) (Con.) Cobble Hill..... 5 20 Duncan..... 88 87 Chemainus..... 34 18 Crofton..... 27 24 Cowichan Station..... 19 16 Cowichan Lake..... 11 8 Somenos..... 14 18 Mt. Sicker 55 majority for Evans. Majority for Evans 12. The victory of J. N. Evans in Cowichan was one of the surprises of the campaign. This riding has been looked upon as a Conservative stronghold. Up to a few days before the election it was felt that Skinner would win. Through the efforts of Mr. Evans the constituency has been won for Liberalism.

Esquimalt. Jardine, Pooley. (Lib.) (Con.) Port Renfrew..... 19 14 East Sooke..... 3 4 West Sooke..... 10 18 Metcosh..... 27 23 Owen Point..... 6 6 Shawigan Lake..... 4 8 Esquimalt..... 114 117 Colwood..... 20 35 Total..... 211 298 In this riding Mr. Pooley's loss in popularity was proved by his winning over John Jardine by a majority of only 27.

Comox. Young, Grant. (Lib.) (Con.) Bear River..... 6 12 Rock Bay..... 22 32 Heriot Bay..... 5 20 Lund..... 106 115 Comox, Courtenay..... 94 56 Union Bay..... 9 32 Total..... 241 282 Total number of polling places 16. As yet the result in Comox is not known. While the vote is now against the Liberal candidate their are indications that he will ultimately win. The seat cannot be said to have gone to the Conservatives by any means.

Alberni. McInnes, Hickey. (Lib.) (Con.) Texada..... 58 21 Wellington..... 19 5 Uclulet..... 10 3 Parksville..... 19 21 Bamfield..... 13 8 Alberni..... 79 31 Total..... 253 91 Total number of polling places 12. W. W. B. McInnes has won a signal victory in Alberni. This was generally conceded to be the probable result before the election. The personal popularity of the Liberal candidate coupled with his power on the platform made him a sure winner.

Newcastle. Murray, Bryden, Williams. (Lib.) (Con.) (Soc.) Totals..... 202 217 280 Parker Williams, the Socialist, has been returned. He will support J. H. Hawthornthwaite in whatever course that member takes. Exactly what that will be remains to be seen.

In Slocan no straight Liberal candidate was in the contest. R. A. Bradshaw, who was at first nominated, had to

HENRY MILLER TO-NIGHT

Well-Known Actor and Margaret Anglin in "The Aftermath."

At the Victoria theatre this evening Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin, who have just closed a very successful engagement of five weeks at the Columbia theatre, San Francisco, give one performance. The play will be "The Aftermath," which was translated from the French by Henry Miller. The play is divided into four acts and five scenes. The full strength of the company will also be employed in the presentation of the play.

The play deals with the love of Claire, daughter of the late Marquis de Beaulieu, for her cousin, the Duc de Bilguy. For many months she has received no communication from him, who is in Russia, and she is at a loss to account for his silence. Disaster comes to her family by reason of unfortunate litigation, while at the same time, Philippe Derbay, a wealthy iron-founder and commoner, makes an offer of marriage to Claire, which she resents in the course of Act I. She learns of her cousin's betrothal, and in a moment of pique she accepts the hand of the iron-founder. When it is too late, she realizes that she does not love her husband, and honestly tells him so. He is broken-hearted, but unflinchingly bears the shock. Roused by the discovery of her audacious trick in marrying him, he declares that, although living together, they shall thenceforward be as strangers and live apart. The inevitable happens. The contrast between her commoner and her lordly cousin is so great that it is a very simple matter for her to recognize in silk and bric-a-brac to shield a former love affair from his jealous and unmanly young wife. The heroine of his first love affair is a relative of his wife's family by a subsequent marriage, but neither of the parties concerned is aware of the other's marriage. Coming on a business visit to the family, to whom she is unknown, she is mistaken by the wife for the new governess—whom her husband had engaged for her young sister. She decides to keep up the deception as a joke, until, to her dismay, when the husband arrives, it proves no less than her former lover, who had fled—her some years ago, but she decides to keep up the deception as a punishment. The many frantic efforts of the husband to keep the facts from his wife are in intensely amusing, especially in the hands of so clever a comedian as Geo. W. Barnum. The adventures, which is the cause of all the trouble, is portrayed by Miss Alice Johnson, and the stars are ably supported by a large and capable company.

and struck them straight in the face. The sea that accompanied it broke into the wheel house, and the engine compartment, and made the launch almost unmanageable, and it was only the most strenuous efforts of Mr. Brown, both in tugging and getting what assistance he could out of the gasoline engine, that prevented the launch from being swamped. Meantime Sutton in the sailing boat had cast off the tow line, and both boats drifted to try and find an anchorage in the bay. This they succeeded in doing, but presently long combing waves began to follow on the wake of the gale, and both anchors commenced to drag. For five hundred yards and more the boats gradually neared the surf-beaten shore, and what seemed to be certain destruction. Sutton, in his sail boat, fixed a hawser on to a heavy iron anvil, and gave this assistance to the anchor, but it proved to be no good. His boat, laden with some two tons of iron freight, was eventually picked up by a huge comb and turned turtle on to the beach. His own escape was little short of miraculous. He himself says he was twenty minutes under water. Mr. Brown saw the accident, but was helpless to render aid. The launch was dragging on to the beach herself, and it says much for Mr. Brown's resourcefulness that the boat was not smashed to bits. It too, was pounded on to the beach.

DESTRUCTIVE GALE

Boats Badly Damaged—Cannery Also

(Special to the Times.)

Naas Harbor, Sept. 24.—A spell of equally weather has set in here, and several mishaps, fortunately, not attended with loss of life, are reported. The Nagasaki, the Pacific Northern cannery's tugboat, arrived in the harbor the day before yesterday, towing the remains of Mr. Rogers' gasoline launch and a sail boat belonging to William Sutton, an Indian. H. C. Brown, Mr. Rogers' engineer, left the mine at Goose Bay on Observatory inlet, with the gasoline launch and Sutton's boat in tow, both boats loaded with mining and other materials which they were bringing down from the mining camp, south of it, destined for the mines on Portland canal, as far as Hellbutt Bay, nearly opposite the Pacific Northern cannery, the wind was behind them. Mr. Brown was congratulating himself that he had at length succeeded in making the launch work satisfactorily when without any warning a heavy gale swept up the inlet

Both men spent a miserable night beside a camp fire, and in the morning they fired signal guns, which brought over assistance from the cannery. At the cannery itself, which was more or less protected, a good deal of damage was done by the storm. One boat was swept away, others were broken on the beach, and the Nagasaki herself required three anchors out to hold her to, her moorings. H. C. Brown is leaving by the Boscowitz for Vancouver.

which man is the greater nobility. She learns to love her husband, but she dares not confess her love. Consumed by a burning desire to throw herself at his feet, her pride and her fear of the consequences restrain her, and she is broken-hearted and miserable. Her husband offers her no encouragement, though he in his turn worships the very ground she walks. A happy ending is brought about through a duel, which her husband is compelled to fight in defence of his wife's honor, and the play ends in the reunion of both, true and lasting.

The roles of Philippe Derbay and Claire should fit Henry Miller and Miss Margaret Anglin admirably.
Italian Band.

Erery's Royal Italian band, which is to give a concert here tomorrow night, played recently a five weeks' engagement in San Francisco, which was out of the ordinary in at least one respect.

The band had intended playing a two weeks' engagement in that city, and was booked accordingly. The business for the two weeks was so profitable, owing to the great enthusiasm the band created, that the engagement was lengthened out one more week, by cancelling time in several other cities. The people, it seems, could not have their appetites for fine music satisfied in three weeks, and the engagement was finally lengthened again, making in all five weeks stay, which might easily have been prolonged that much longer to a profitable business, but the pavilion in which the band was playing had previously been leased for other purposes, and the band was literally crowded out of a place where large financial returns were certain. The entire bookings of the band had to be dumped owing to the extension of the San Francisco engagement, but that was accomplished without a great deal of trouble, as theatre managers everywhere are always willing to make a way for anything which they know to be the best of its kind.

"Friend of the Family."
The new farcical comedy, "Friend of the Family," comes to the Victoria theatre Thursday evening, and judging from the press comments from other cities, lovers of this class of amusement which is the reigning fad in New York city this season, are to enjoy a treat. The plot, which is exceedingly unique and screamingly farcical, deals with the adventures of a young importer of Chinese

Friday was Children's Day, and children's sports were the principal attractions. The Vancouver Argonauts won the junior lacrosse match, defeating Westminster by 5 to 4. At football Westminster defeated the Navy by 8 to 4. The band concert on Friday night was poorly patronized, owing to many other attractions, which included a mass meeting at the opera house in the interest of T. Gifford, the boxing and wrestling tournament in St. Patrick's hall, and a smoker for the Shearwater crew at the Eagle's hall. All these latter had bumper-honors. Many exhibits are going to Victoria, including those from the experimental farm, Chilliwack and Okanagan districts, several piano firms and a couple of hundred head of stock, mostly cattle.

VANCOUVER.

Rev. Robert Laird, M. A., was formally inducted as pastor of the St. John's Presbyterian church by the Presbytery of Westminster on Friday evening. The ceremony took place in the building recently erected by the St. John's church congregation and in the presence of a large number of members and adherents. The St. John's church was formally organized last December, and till recently has held service in the Lord Roberts school. It has a Sunday roll of over 200 members, a church membership of some 150 persons and also a number of adherents. The congregation has guaranteed the pastor a stipend of $2,000 per annum, and the call extended to him was by the unanimous vote of the congregation.

The police have received several more reports of the doling of the pickpockets which operated in the city on Thursday. Hon. David Healey lost his pocketbook while on the tram going from Westminster to the fair ground. It contained $55 in cash and several valuable papers. Charles Harris, 908 Prior street, lost on the same car $43 in money and several car tickets.

The body of a Japanese was found floating in False creek on Friday. He was a fisherman, and was drowned some time ago.

In response to a suggestion expressed by Sir Alexander C. Mackenzie, and which many of the music-lovers in the city wish to see realized, "that a society for the study and performance of choral and orchestral music be formed," it has been decided that such a society be inaugurated here bearing the title Choral and Orchestral Society. Preliminary arrangements have been discussed, and the following individuals have been elected: President, Edmund Sweeney; Vice-President, A. P. Judge; hon. conductor, F. W. Dyke; hon. accompanist, J. H. Smith; hon. secretary, Thos. Parkinson; hon. treasurer, P. L. Beecher. It is intended to give two concerts during the season, and the works to be studied for the first one are: Stanford's "Reverie" and Gounod's "Gallia." The first practice will be held on Tuesday evening, October 6th. Members will provide their own music, and pay to the treasurer a monthly subscription of 25 cents during the season.

After an inquest held Friday upon the remains of a Chinaman who died in this city on Wednesday night, steps were taken for the immediate arrest of the Chinese "doctor" who had treated the deceased, and the police are now looking for the Oriental practitioner. The dead Chinaman, who was injured by attempting to stop an ore car at the Marble Bay mine, Van Anda, with his foot. He was brought down to this city and treated by the Chinese doctor, but died on Wednesday night. At the inquest Dr. McAlpine, who made a post-mortem examination, stated that the fracture was reduced in a rough manner by the use of bamboo splints, and then, in line with treatment, deer hair had been matted over the wound to make it heal. The Chinese believe that the fine hair which grows round the new horns of a deer, when the horns begin to sprout, is a particularly efficacious remedy for many ailments, while, as a matter of fact, it is as septic as any substance could possibly be. The medical evidence showed that the man died, not from his accident, but from blood-poisoning. All round the wound the flesh was gangrenous, and it had spread to his body, where his abdomen was affected by peritonitis.

On Saturday night fire broke out in No. 1 mill of the Hastings Shingle Manufacturing Company, of which Jas. McNair is president. The fire had apparently started in the engine house of the sawmill. Notwithstanding all the efforts put forth the fire was still burning fiercely at 2:30 on Sunday, by which time the sawmill and five by-kilns, the latter full of shingles and lumber, and also a quantity of other lumber had been destroyed. The mill is covered by $50,000 insurance, scattered over a number of companies.

OPPOSITION MAY CEASE.

A San Francisco dispatch of Saturday says: "A significant fact came to light to-day in the raising of the Chinese steamer rates from San Francisco to China from $8 to $47.50. The advent of the China Commercial Company in the carrying trade of cooles led to ratting out war between the steamship companies plying between this port and the Orient. Two months ago the China Commercial Company withdrew all its vessels from the China-Mexico-San Francisco route. The Mexican government has withdrawn its concession for the landing of cooles, and the new steamship line found itself without any business. The raising of the rates for Chinese from San Francisco to China is looked upon by local shipping circles as a sure sign that the opposition of the China Commercial Company is a thing of the past. The report that the Mexican government has again granted the China Commercial Company permission to land cooles at the port of Manzanillo was not verified."

MARINE NOTES.

The China Mutual liner Oania, sister ship to the liner Ning Chow, which is now on the Sound, sailed September 19th from Liverpool for Tacoma via Penang, etc., according to advices just received. Like the Ning Chow, this will be the Oania's second round-trip voyage, both in the service of the Liverpool-Tacoma line, and in her career, she having just completed her maiden voyage. The cargo of the Aki Maru, outward-bound, on Saturday, consisted chiefly of

The Celluloid Starch package is large but the amount of work it will do makes it seem enormous. That's one of the advantages this starch has over all others, it requires a smaller quantity to do more and better work. Celluloid Starch gives a limber, lasting stiffness that will not crack. Ask your grocer for it—if he hasn't got it he can get it.

THOMAS HOSKINS NERVES.

Mr. Hoskins, a resident of Durban, Ont., for a score of years, was a martyr to stomach and nerve disorders. Schooled to prejudice against patent medicines, he started using South American Nerve as he says, "a last resort," but six bottles of this great remedy proved to be his salvation physically. It can be yours. Sold by Jackson & Co. and Hall & Co.—124.

The shareholders of the Dominion Oil Company have decided to wind up the company's affairs and have appointed Col. Rankin to consult with the Attorney-General with a view to examine the company's origin and to punish any person guilty of fraud in connection with its organization, says a Chatham dispatch.
