WHOLESALE MURDERS BY NEGRO STOWAWAY

ELEVEN MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED

Tragedy on a Schooner Off Honduras—Murderer Taken From Jail and Lynched.

New Orleans, July 12.—A shocking story of murder, with robbery as the motive, was brought to this city today by Capt. Hans Holm, of the Norwegian frigate Brattan, which plies between New Orleans and Honduras ports.

The little island of Utila, lying off the Honduran coast and whose population is an indescribable mixture of whites, Caymanites and Caribs, was the scene of the tragedy in which eleven lives were sacrificed.

The vessel left the harbor of Utila at 11 o'clock Friday night, June 30th, and after she had been under way less than an hour everybody was aroused by a shot, and rushing on deck found a negro armed with a rifle shooting down the men one after another.

McGill then put the two women, Miss Elsie Morgan and her sister, Mrs. Walter Rose, in the dory with Mrs. Rose's six-week-old infant, steering for the mainland. He changed his mind about Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later so when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

WILL BE GREATEST YEAR IN HISTORY

W. WHYTE'S ESTIMATE OF SEASON'S CROP

Has Places It at One Hundred Million Bushels—The Inauguration of New Province.

Fort William, Ont., July 13.—William Whyte, second vice-president of the C. P. R., and Sir Daniel McMillan, governor of Manitoba, during a short stay here to-day on their way East, looked over the C. P. R. yards. Mr. Whyte when interviewed said: "Outside of work done at West Fort very little will be done here. You have elevators enough for a while, I think, although they will be filled to their fullest capacity this year. This is going to be the greatest year in the history of the West. Mr. Peters, our general freight agent, puts the crop at 90,000,000 bushels. I go even higher and think a fair estimate would be 100,000,000 bushels. Why there are over four million acres under cultivation. In 1902 the average yield was 25 bushels to the acre. This year 's certainly away ahead of 1902. But taking the figures for that year it will make the yield one hundred million bushels, but I think the average yield will be nearer 50 than 25, so you can see I am keeping figures down when I say 100,000,000. These are only the figures for the wheat crop, and we are going to have a record yield of all other grains, which will bring the total grain yield up to a high figure."

Wheat Undamaged. Winnipeg, July 13.—The agents' weekly reports received at the Canadian Pacific office to-day indicate a most satisfactory condition of the growing grain of the province. Many points report that the wheat is fully headed out, and from every portion of the province come most cheering statements regarding the condition of the crop this year. No damage has been done by rain, and there has been no damage done by hail in any part of the province. From all indications it appears that Mr. Whyte's estimate of a total yield of 100,000,000 bushels will not be far short of the mark.

Inauguration Ceremony. Regina, N. W. T., July 13.—The inauguration of the new province of Saskatchewan will occur on September 4th, the date of the ceremonies having been definitely fixed for that date. Injured by Explosion. Lac DuBonnet, Man., July 13.—While engaged in drilling rock at the dam of the powder company line to-day two Italians struck an unexploded shell and were seriously, if not fatally, injured. One had his foot blown off and the other received a serious scalp wound and had his arm broken. They were conveyed to the Winnipeg hospital by special train.

Charge Against Clerk. Toronto, July 13.—George Howard Kerstead, until Thursday last employed as clerk in the Boston shoe store, Yonge street, is now a fugitive from justice, and if apprehended will be charged with raising his wage cheque from twelve dollars to twelve hundred dollars. Kerstead was keeping company with a young lady on Richmond street, and she, too, has gone, and it is supposed the young couple are now travelling through New York state on the proceeds of the raised cheque.

An Advance. Toronto, July 13.—Canadian cotton mills have advanced the price of yarns to two cents a pound, or about ten per cent. When the extreme advance in the raw cotton market began last week the price lists of Canadian mills were all withdrawn. New prices for piece goods were immediately issued, but new prices for yarns have only now been announced. A further advance is expected if prices of raw cotton climb much higher. The present advance will leave spinners little profit.

address of the evening was given by Rev. P. H. McEwen on "Lay Preaching in Relation to Christian Work." In introducing his subject the speaker contended that any member of the church pure in heart and consecrated in spirit was competent to engage in the work of the church. For the sake of expediency there must be order in the church, and specially designated officers, but the presence of these did not in any way diminish the responsibility of the rank and file. The fact that we have an ordained ministry did not exclude preaching upon the part of other members of the church. Lay preaching should have a large place in all Christian work. It should be true preaching, having its source in God and so related to His purpose, that it should accomplish His will in the salvation and uplift of men. Such preaching was instinct with the life of God, and held an honored place in His plan.

A solo by Rev. Jas. A. Banton and the benediction brought the evening's exercises to a close. As on the previous evening, the attendance was large, and the interest and enthusiasm sustained throughout.

THE EXTRADITION CASE WILL GO ON

G. D. COLLINS HEARD ON HIS OWN BEHALF

The Preliminary Objection Raised by His Counsel Has Been Overruled by Judge Lampman.

On resuming proceedings yesterday afternoon in the extradition case of Geo. D. Collins, of San Francisco, who is charged with perjury in the Superior court of California, preliminary objection was taken on behalf of the prisoner that the indictment under which he was held was defective and that he should not therefore be called upon to plead to it.

The proceedings were before Judge Lampman, who had issued the warrant under which Mr. Collins was arrested. Frank Higgins, counsel for the prosecution, had asked for a remand for a week to allow of witnesses being brought from California.

H. D. Helmecken, K.C., acting for Mr. Collins, took a preliminary objection to the information upon which the indictment was prepared and the warrant itself.

Mr. Helmecken argued from the Californian law that the indictment must show a definite assignment of the offence and not leave anything to inference. The warrant was defective in that point as it was lacking in details which he specified. He laid stress on the fact that it was not set forth that the offence was wilfully committed, which should, according to Californian authorities, be an essential feature of the indictment. He contended that Mr. Collins should not be called upon to plead to a defective indictment.

Mr. Collins then addressed himself to the court and asked permission to make somewhat clearer some of the points taken up by Mr. Helmecken.

Leave being granted he said that it was first necessary to determine whether perjury was an extraditable offence, and therefore whether it were an offence against the laws of California and of Canada.

It would be necessary to go into the elements of the charge, he said, and if it was not perjury according to the Californian law then it was not an extraditable offence. There was no perjury according to the Californian law unless it were wilfully committed. According to the definition of perjury it must be wilfully committed. He quoted from authorities to show that the omission of the charge of wilfulness in an indictment invalidated it. It was a substance of the offence and therefore must be charged.

Another point referred to was that under the law of California the testimony charged as perjury must be material. In this respect the law differed from that of Canada. The indictment, therefore, should set forth that it was material to some matter pending before the court.

The next objection was that it was not affirmed that the testimony charged to be an offence was given in a court having jurisdiction to hear it. The tribunal or officer must be shown to have jurisdiction to take the testimony before perjury could be proved.

Another defect was that it was not alleged that the offender was sworn when he gave the testimony complained of.

There was nothing to show in the indictment that the testimony was false. It was simply alleged that the offender knew it to be false and not that it was false.

Mr. Collins admitted that the form of an indictment was not given an essential point and that latitude was given in this particular, but he argued matters of substance could not be omitted and the indictment stand. Essential points were lacking.

Following this, Mr. Collins took exception to the fact that the information laid by Chief Langley was insufficient. The chief had acted properly in the matter on the instructions sent from San Francisco, but the information was nevertheless defective. Chief Langley had sworn to the opinion that he believed that a crime had been committed. That, according to Californian practice, could not be construed as sufficient. The information would have to be laid by someone having knowledge of the event.

He, therefore, argued that the warrant and the information were void.

Mr. Higgins followed, citing but one case, that of extradition proceedings in England, where an offender against the laws of Switzerland was charged with crime. In that case it was held that the warrant was well laid although it simply specified the crime without particulars.

His Honor said he would have to grant the remand asked for. It was not reasonable to believe that all foreign practice would have to be brought into a court of another jurisdiction.

It was finally agreed to remand the case until Wednesday next. The question of custody was also discussed. Mr. Helmecken asked that the prisoner be held out of jail in charge of a special officer. To this Mr. Higgins, acting on instructions, could not consent. He was willing to allow him his liberty under the eye of a special officer during the daytime, but insisted upon his being detained in jail at night. The latter course was therefore adopted as the one to follow.

PREMIER BALFOUR'S REPLY TO SPEECH BY LORD ROBERTS ON THE BRITISH ARMY.

London, July 13.—In the House of Commons to-night Premier Balfour referred to the speech of Field Marshal Lord Roberts, in which the latter said the armed forces of Great Britain, as a body, were almost untried and unprepared for war, and declared emphatically that the choice lay between conscription or some practical system of universal training. The Premier said he could never be led to believe that conscription could be successfully adopted in England. He maintained that the government's scheme of army reform was the best solution of the problem.

CITY COUNCIL.

Transacted a Quantity of Business Last Evening.

The city council showed its versatility last night by making several lightning changes. It sat as the council, the board of health, a special committee, and as the streets, bridges and sewers committee. A very favorable report on the health of the city was received from Dr. Robertson, health officer. His session as a special committee the council considered a protest against the Rock Bay bridge by Lemus & Gannison, enclosed in their new park on the deputy minister of marine and fisheries. It urged that the span be repaired and the swing enlarged so that a boom of logs could be navigated through without being broken.

After some discussion it was decided to inform the marine and fisheries department that the council desired to have the bridge removed, but that in deference to public opinion it was building another with a swing the same size as before.

The tax by-law, 1905, passed its third reading, while the vehicle by-law was laid over. The council then considered a number of communications. J. Haggerty asked permission to be allowed to move a house belonging to Mr. Sarge, on Caledonian avenue, to Chambers street. The permission was granted. J. A. Scott, who has just completed a bridge on Fort street, asked for an extension of the sewer up Means street. Referred to the city engineer.

The B. C. Electric Railway Co. asked permission to erect a bulletin board at the corner of Yates and Government streets to advertise attractions at their new park on the Arm. This was referred to the city engineer with power to act.

It was decided to accept the offer of the Esquimalt Waterworks Co. to supply water for flush tanks for Victoria West.

The council was opposed to the request of the transit council to waive the thirty days' requisite notice of the double tracking of the Rock Bay embankment.

In regard to the building of the Old Men's Home, it was decided to instruct Building Inspector Northcott and the architect to make certain alterations in the plans and specifications. Aid. Hanna's ward redistribution by-law was defeated by a vote of six to three.

A CANDID ADMISSION.

The apologist for the deeds of commission of the government of British Columbia makes a rather naive confession this morning. It argues that the Liberals were only too eager to make a bargain with the Socialists and to pay the price the country would have been compelled to pay for such an "unholy alliance."

But the Premier was too astute for his opponents. He ascertained the terms upon which a working agreement would be satisfactory to the leader of the un-speakables, he accepted such conditions without demur, clinched the deal with a smile of satisfaction, and is living up to the terms of the contract without conscientious tremor.

That is practically the situation as explained by the organ of the party whose principles are, on paper, indignantly opposed to the advanced views of the disturbance-breeding element which within the past two years, in alliance with the McBride government, has wrought so much mischief in British Columbia.

What an impregnable defence of an indefensible course! The Liberal party would have committed the heinous offence of delivering itself and the province, for the price of an indefinite period of power and the emoluments of office, into the hands of a few men afflicted with unpractical political hallucinations; but the Premier, with his usual foresight, perceived what was pending. And so he sold himself and his party first. No doubt the hon. gentleman granted his present allies more liberal terms than the opposition would have accorded.

That, we are told, is the genesis of the party that controls the political and business destinies of British Columbia to-day. We cannot but commend the organ for its frankness. But the statement respecting the willingness of the Liberal party to enter into a working arrangement with the Socialists is not true. As a matter of fact and of record, those appointed to speak with authority in the name of the Liberal party disavowed any sympathy with the objects and aims of that party and with the personal aspirations of its self-appointed leaders. More than that, the Socialists themselves, in the House and on the hustings, have repeatedly expressed their antipathy to the policy of the Liberal party for the valid reason that the expression of the principles of Liberalism in legislation would remove most of the grievances and the inequalities of which the people of British Columbia justly complain. The causes of complaint removed, the provender upon which Socialism feeds would disappear also. That would be a deplorable consequence from the point of view of the leaders who exist upon the results of the dissatisfaction of an insignificant minority of political dreamers.

RESPECTING EDUCATION.

It is a weakness of too many Victorians that they sometimes forget the world goes marching on. The conditions prevailing in Great Britain to-day are not the conditions under which the pioneers of British Columbia were brought up and prepared for the world's work. The foregoing academic deliverance applies with special emphasis to educational matters. The fundamental doctrine that the education of the future citizens of the state is a responsibility which must be shouldered by the state may have had its origin in the United States, but it has been accepted without question by Canada, and it is recognized as a logical sequence of social advancement in all the progressive nations of the world. Realizing this as an accepted fact of modern life, we often wonder at the pertinacity with which too many of the citizens of Victoria cling to obsolete educational ideas. Their insularity in this, as perhaps in some other respects, has been to their hurt. Our correspondent, "Canadian," dealt very effectively with this phase of our character in his communication which appeared in yesterday's Times. And every word he wrote respecting the effect of a penurious and shortsighted educational policy was true. A city which is not in the van of the procession educationally cannot keep up with the procession in the respects which progressive people consider desirable. Popular attention is attracted to localities in which the educational facilities are of the highest class. Victoria occupies an ideal situation as a centre of scholastic culture; but Victorians have been slow to realize and to profit by the fact. They have been too long dominated by obsolete educational ideas. They have not taken the fullest advantage of their opportunities. They cannot be made to realize that an advanced educational policy will pay. Such a policy has paid Vancouver well; and, realising this, our thoroughly wide-awake neighbors, while they are reaping the fruits of their enterprise to-day, are making provision for a richer harvest in the future.

Just as an example of the change that has come over the attitude of Europeans respecting the duty of the state towards its future active citizens, we observe that one of the subjects frequently under discussion in England of late has been the question of the propriety or wisdom of providing free luncheons for public school children. This is one of the functions of the Comptes Scholaires of Paris, and the experience of these institutions, as set forth in recent official reports, is interesting. Originally, in 1882, it was settled that the municipal subvention for this purpose should never exceed 500,000 francs ($100,000) annually, the understanding being that all children who could pay for meals should do so. But year by year the number of free meals increased, and it became necessary to increase the subvention yearly, until it reached (in 1900) 1,000,000 francs, when the municipality decided that this sum must be the limit. Nominally, the caisses des écoles, of which there is one in each arrondissement, were supposed to contribute to this fund, but actually most of them paid nothing, while the remainder gave negligible amounts. Only two of them gave as much as $1,500. In course of time, the meals came to be regarded as a right, not as a privilege, and the municipal authorities now seem to take this view of the case, for they have decided that the caisses are not benevolent associations, but are simply established in order to encourage good attendance at the schools.

FIRST OF THE HOHENZOLLERN.

A short time ago we suggested that the Norwegian-Swedish misunderstanding would prove Emperor William's opportunity. Apparently our surmise was not without justification. The Emperor sees the first chance of proving that his laboriously built up and hard fought for fleet is not a purely ornamental appendage of the German empire. It is announced that his Majesty is going to take his ships to Sweden, there to make a demonstration which can only be interpreted as an intimation to Norway that she had better watch out. It is a serious thing to take action against crowned heads in an environment in which divinely ordained rulers are considered by the majority an integral and sacred adjunct of the constituted order of things. It is scarcely probable that there will be a counter demonstration. France is hardly in a position to array herself in opposition to Germany, even if the aspirations of the revolting state of Norway tended in the direction of the abolition of the monarchy and the institution of a republic. If the Norwegians had taken the bull boldly by the horns and declared that all men being born free and equal, etc., the world might have witnessed the two greatest masters of destiny of modern times, his Majesty of Germany and his Simplicity of the United States arrayed in the republic of Panama under its wing on the very first appeal, President Roosevelt could scarcely have refused to consider the case of Norway as worthy of his most serious consideration. As matters stand, there appears nothing for the powers of Europe and America to do but to stand in expectancy and await developments in connection with the German Emperor's demonstration. But there will be many uneasy heads in the halls of European diplomacy until the will of William the butler-in is revealed. These Scandinavians are a dour race. It is doubtful whether the Norwegians will accept the decree of the German emperor, embody it in the popular national sentiment, and harmonize the policy of their state with it.

A correspondent of the Times at Uchelat complains of the actions of a "wee mannie," presumably an official of the legislature, who seems to be taking a great interest in the Alberta election. This individual, it is believed, is travelling up and down the constituency at the public expense advocating the cause of Mr. Manson and of the McBride government. The Times does not know anything about the aforesaid "wee mannie," but it is probable the members of the assembly will inquire into his mission in due time.

Emperor William has been accepted by the German people as the dictator of the foreign policy of the German Empire. In pursuance of his own Imperial ideas with regard to foreign affairs his Majesty will land the German people in a peck of trouble ere long. The Norwegians are not likely to be reconciled to Sweden by the brandishing of the mailed fist of Emperor William in their rebellious faces.

WHIST AN ABSORBING GAME.

Kansas City Times. The following story is being told "on" a Kansas City couple, whose marriage was announced recently. The young man persuaded the girl to marry him while they were in another town on an excursion trip. They came home, and for two weeks told no one their secret. One night they were playing bridge whist with the girl's parents. They had decided to spring their surprise that night, and the young man was trying all through the game to get up nerve enough to do so. Finally he screwed his courage up. In the middle of a hand he turned to the girl's father and said: "I've something to tell you. Grace and I were married three weeks ago."

A look of anger spread over the father's face. Glancing across the board at the girl's mother, he said: "Hang it, Hattie! What made you lead that ace? You've lost us another trick!"

TIME FOR A CHANGE.

To the Editor:—Having learned that an election is to take place to fill the position vacated by the Hon. Mr. McInnes, it behooves every well wisher of this fair province to put his shoulder to the wheel, not as a Liberal or Conservative, but to break the game, as we say in this part of the country, and to get on terra firma. In other words, we wish to get rid of the Socialist folks, and have one or the other party rule, and from my observations it is about time we got rid of the McBride government combination. Later on I may give you good reasons, not only on political but personal grounds why McBride and Green should get out, all same as Sifton. MOSSBACH, GOSBURY, ACTIVE. Kootenay, B. C., July 6th, 1905.

MILITARY DRILL IN THE SCHOOLS.

To the Editor:—In your issue of yesterday appeared a communication headed "Military Drill in the Schools," and signed "Canny Cracker." I think the party has made a mistake in his letter, from the plume, as it should have been "Crisper Cracker," as this is the only nation I know of who are so far behind the times that no doubt they would meet with the "Cracker's" approval. The Chinese are noted for a special cracker they use in warfare. It appears like the "Cracker" to have been filled with wind and gas so deadly that when it exploded it killed all in the vicinity by its noxious fumes. It is to be hoped that this particular "Cracker" will not explode within the city limits, or the health officer may have something to say about it. The "Cracker" states that the cadet drill interferes with school lessons and discipline, and that it occupies the last hour of the school session. In both cases "Cracker" is wrong as the cadets are taught discipline and are instructed to be respectful and obedient to their teachers, no matter whether the teachers are right or wrong. A few of the senior cadets were complaining about one of the teachers for dealing with them in an arbitrary manner, as they termed it. The instructor happened to overhear them and, after inquiring into the matter, said: "Now, boys: there are two sides to every story, and I want you to promise me that you will go and apologize to your teacher." They did so, and now a better feeling prevails between teacher and pupil. In his interfering with discipline then I hope we shall have more of it. That drill occupies the last hour of the school session is not true. One half hour was a military drill, and during the last session the drill was held after school was dismissed.

He also states the military drill is not a substitute for calisthenics, and that drill instructors are forced to admit that drill is totally inadequate for the production of graceful and symmetrical men. I believe that "Cracker" is making a false statement wilfully when he makes the above assertion, and I challenge him to find an instructor who will deny the military drill, combined with physical exercise, as followed by the Imperial army, can be beaten by any in the world for the production of strong, healthy and graceful men. And our military leader for health, strength and carriage, and last, but not least, discipline, is a walking denial to "Cracker's" assertions. He also states the only thing a citizen of Canada should know is how to handle and shoot a rifle, that a schoolboy is not capable of handling a military rifle, and that it is time enough to be a soldier when the boy becomes a man. That the schoolboy is capable of handling a rifle is proven by the scores made by the cadet corps last May, when about 61 cadets shot in an open match, fifty per cent. making from 19 to 24 out of a possible 25, one cadet making the possible. "Time enough to become a soldier when the boy becomes a man," says "Cracker." In this "Cracker" is completely astray, as we have no intention of becoming soldiers either as boys or men, but we do want to be so trained that when we are men should our country need us for its defence, we shall be of some value as citizen soldiers. In this we shall differ from "Cracker."

ARE THREATENING CHINESE BOYCOTT

UNLESS IMMIGRATION LAWS ARE MODIFIED

Travel on Princess Victoria Has Been Heavy—Part of Boom of Logs Lost

On August 1st there will go into effect, unless present conditions are altered, one of the biggest boycotts ever enacted against American goods. The Chinese of this city and of every city foreign to the Flower Kingdom are preparing to wage a warfare that will be as fierce and relentless as any ever conducted in a commercial line. An enormous fund is being subscribed for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the campaign, and towards this the local Chinese are offering substantial assistance. The proposed action of the Chinese is one of vindictiveness against the Americans for the unreasonable treatment which Chinese of all classes claim they have suffered in passing through and entering the United States. The question has been the subject of international negotiations and has been widely discussed in the press. Some time ago the son of a very prominent and wealthy Chinese governor landed at Boston with a party en route home. He was bound for the Pacific and simply wanted to travel over American soil. He was armed with credentials from a number of prominent English statesmen, but notwithstanding had to submit to many indignities. He was thrown into a detention house in which he was shut off from all communication with the outside world, and eventually, when his case did receive official recognition, an officer was appointed to trail him through all his rounds in the United States. This little incident has been remembered. It has been the incentive in the present movement. Through the powerful influence which the Chinese governor in question exercises he has brought about a plan of campaign in which the Chinese all over the world, according to a leading Chinaman in this city, are taking a big interest. It is intended this shall be conducted along the same lines as labor strikes in the United States. Wherever possible American goods will be boycotted. Chinese coolies will declare American steamers unfair and will refuse to discharge them in Chinese ports. Where coolies suffer in consequence they will be reimbursed from the fund mentioned. Public speakers will be appointed to encourage all the big Chinese importers to break off business relations with the United States, and the John Boyd, has completed loading warfare will be continued until the movement has spread throughout China. Of course all this trouble may be prevented, said the Chinaman referred to, if the United States shows a disposition to modify some of their immigration laws, and he thinks that something along this line may be done. He noticed that only recently two Chinese, bound from Peru to China, were permitted to land at San Francisco and to transfer from one steamer to another. This was the first time on record, he said, where such a privilege was accorded.

WILL INVESTIGATE.

Travel on Princess Victoria Has Been Heavy—Part of Boom of Logs Lost

"The Japanese barkentine Hagashi Mara, with a crew of a hundred and eight men, has arrived on this coast for the purpose of putting up a full cargo of salt fish, and her presence here is likely to lead to considerable trouble," says the Vancouver Province. "The fisheries department has already received notification of the arrival of the Japanese ship at Port Simpson, and it is likely that clearance from that port will be withheld until officers of the department have fully investigated the intentions of the master of the vessel, Captain Yoshida. Captain Yoshida, it is pronounced in special dispatches to the Province to-day from Port Simpson, landed at Port Simpson on Sunday night on arrival at the northern port, that he intended to put up dog salmon for the Japanese market, and that he had brought his large crew of men with him to secure the fish."

lumber at the Hastings mill, and will be towed to sea to-day. She has 3,521,800 feet of lumber loaded and 470,541 feet of California redwood which she took on at San Francisco before coming north. The total cargo of the Springbank, which is destined for Melbourne, Australia, amounts to 2,001,431 feet.

TRAVEL HEAVY.

When leaving for Seattle last night the steamer Princess Victoria carried 265 passengers from this city. On her arrival this morning she had 170 passengers. On Tuesday the ship had 151 passengers from the Sound and 230 out from Victoria, while on the Vancouver route it is stated she is doing a still larger business. The number of passengers quoted represents an average, she has handled daily during the last ten days, indicating that Victoria travel is now very heavy.

CAME TO GRIEF.

Yesterday while taking a boom-of-logs from the Island the tug Escort II, lost a part of her tow on Race Rocks. In the vicinity the currents are very treacherous, and in endeavoring to clear these a portion of the boom swung around on to the little island where the light-house is situated, and were there left. To attempt to recover them at the time would have meant the probable destruction of the whole boom.

BACK FROM PORTLAND.

The steam yacht Thistle, which carried a party headed by James Dunsmuir to Portland, returned from the Oregon city last night. She was on the Columbia for over a week, and was the largest private craft of her kind in port. Because of this she received considerable attention, and the press of Portland devoted much space to describing her.

MARINE NOTES.

The German ship Najade, under charter to load lumber at the Hastings mill for the West Coast of South America is expected to arrive any day now from Yokohama. Steamer Princess May sailed from Port Simpson for Victoria at 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The Hudson Bay steamer Mount Royal has arrived on the Skeena again, and is on her way up to the forks of the river. Steamer Queen City is loading cement at the outer wharf for the new fog alarm station on Leonard Island.

DIVIDENDS.

In another column will be found the semi-annual dividend notice of the B. C. Permanent Loan and Savings Company, showing that a dividend at the rate of five per cent. per annum upon class "A" permanent stock has been declared for the past half-year. "Nelson's last pillow," a small circular medal box made from the oak block which supported Lord Nelson's head when his body was placed in a cask of spirits on board the Victory, will shortly be sold at auction in London.

—This afternoon a meeting of the mission board of the Metropolitan Methodist church is being held in order to hear an address from Mrs. Bellamy, of Moose Jaw. Other business is to be considered.

—The funeral of Mrs. Jessie Blackburne took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, 120 Alfred street. Rev. Canon Beardsall conducted religious services at the house and graves. There were many floral tributes and a large attendance of friends. The following acted as pallbearers: A. Graham, E. Pearson, R. Lettice, T. Bayley, J. Creed, sr., and W. Hassard.

—Since the company was organized in the year 1869 up to the present year, the interest earnings alone in the Mutual Life of Canada have been more than sufficient to pay all the death claims for the entire period of 35 years. This is indeed a wonderful showing, and when it is remembered that in the Mutual Life of Canada, all profits earned are paid to the policyholders alone, the advantages in insuring in the old reliable Canadian company are self-evident. For rates and information apply to A. B. McNeill, special agent, or R. L. Drury, manager, 34 Broad street.

—Yesterday afternoon there was a social gathering in the schoolroom of the Metropolitan Methodist church for the purpose of extending a welcome to Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Strachan, president and corresponding secretary respectively of the Women's Missionary Society of Canada. It was under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church, and a pleasant time was spent by all present. Rev. G. K. B. Adams presided at a meeting held in the evening. Rev. W. E. Prescott, B. A., of Wesley church, Vancouver, opened with prayer, and Rev. S. J. Thompson, of the Centennial church, gave a Bible lesson. Miss Deaville contributed a solo, followed by an illustrated exercise entitled "Links of Love," by the Metropolitan Methodist mission circle, which had been drilled by Miss Sherlock, of the Chinese mission. An address of welcome was then delivered by Mrs. Chapman, and replied to by Mrs. Ross, one of the visitors. The address of Mrs. Ross, in which she outlined the missionary work in Japan, was a most instructive one. She went fully into the customs of the people, and the various encouraging features of the work in that country. A duet was given by W. Hicks and Miss Kayton. A vote of thanks was tendered by Rev. G. W. Deas and seconded by Rev. J. P. Hicks, and the closing prayer and benediction was delivered by Judson Kelley, of Bearville, Ont. The total collection during the evening was $23.55.

—A delightful summer outing among the famous Islands of the Gulf is the unanimous expression of those who have taken this trip on the steamer Inoquois.
—The Psychic Research Society will hold a meeting to-night in the K. of P. hall, corner of Douglas and Pandora, when a lecture will be given by W. J. Colville, of New York, on the real distinction between hypnotic cures and spiritual healing. Questions invited after the lecture.

MR. WELSMAN'S OPINION.
The Mason & Risch Piano Co.; Gentlemen—Allow me to thank you for the Grand pianos you have supplied for my recitals during the past season. The instruments have very materially assisted me in interpreting to my own satisfaction the compositions that my programmes have called for. Not only have your instruments a large volume of tone, but how what I might call a penetrating quality, which I have found in no other piano.
The lightness and perfect repetition of the action permits one to bring out the tonal qualities referred to above with such ease that it is with the greatest of pleasure I have used the M. & R. pianos.
It is also gratifying to find that it is not necessary to go outside our own country to secure an instrument of the highest excellence.
Yours sincerely,
FRANK S. WELSMAN.

GONE TO HER REST.
Mrs. Robert Morrison Passed Away Last Night at the Jubilee Hospital.
Last night at the Jubilee hospital, after a short illness, Mrs. Morrison, wife of Robert Morrison, of the Taylor Mill Co., of this city, passed to her rest. Mrs. Morrison was the daughter of A. L. Kreider, of Seattle. She was 42 years of age, her native place being Lebanon, Pennsylvania, where she was educated, taking a full course in the academy of music there, and here was a member of Mr. Longfield's orchestra. Ten years ago she came as a bride to Victoria, her home at the time of her death being on Belleville street. She was a member of Calvary Baptist church. Her amiable disposition and her beautiful, modest and unostentatious Christian character gained for her many friends not only in her own congregation, but also in other churches.
For some days at the hospital hopes were entertained of her recovery, but suddenly last evening she took a change for the worse, and before morning passed away.
The time of the funeral will be intimated later on.

BACK FROM PORTLAND.
E. O. S. Scholefield Has Returned From Meeting of Librarians.

E. O. S. Scholefield, provincial Librarian, has returned from Portland, where he attended the meeting of the American Library Association. Among those present were Dr. E. C. Richardson, of Princeton University, and Dr. H. Gutman, Librarian of congress at Washington.
Mr. Scholefield in an address before the convention outlined the system of circulating libraries used in this province which was followed with the deepest interest by those present. There are now 54 of these set out throughout the province under the charge of the provincial Librarian.
The meeting was of a most interesting and instructive character. Mr. Scholefield found many new ideas in connection with his work. He also gathered information which may be of use in connection with the city library, of which he is one of the commissioners.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

A PROPHETIC PORTRAIT.

The International Sunday school lesson for July 16th is "The Suffering Saviour," Isa. 53, 1-12.

By William T. Ellis.

The highest mountain peak of ancient Hebrew thought is this majestic and eloquent passage from the prophet Isaiah. It embodies the great dim desire and dream of the race for a Deliverer; and the thought is true whether it relate to a new era of spirit or to a Hero who should come in person. The conception of a suffering servant, of victory through suffering, of joy through suffering, of exaltation through humiliation, was a great one to grasp; though all people seem to have caught it more or less vaguely in the development of their thought. Today it is the accepted philosophy of the greatest thinkers and of the best men and women.

Of course the Christian world sees in the old prophet's picture of the Servant who should come an exact portrait of Jesus. The passage, which is familiar to all readers of scriptural literature, because of its clinging beauty of language and its noble elevation of thought, is the Old Testament prophecy most frequently quoted in connection with the Saviour:

"He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and as one from whom men hide their face he was despised; and we esteemed him not.

"Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. All we, like sheep, have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and Jehovah hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

"He was oppressed, yet when he was afflicted he opened not his mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before his shearers is dumb, so he opened not his mouth. By oppression and judgment he was taken away; and as for his generation, who among them considered that He was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of my people to whom the stroke was due? And they made His grave with the wicked, and with a rich man in His death; although He had done no violence, neither was any deceit in His mouth."

For the Other Man.

There is a great deal said in present-day philosophy and ethics about "altruism." This is well. But the greatest altruist, who alone fulfills the conditions laid down by the ancient Hebrew seer, is the Man of Nazareth. He it was who "poured out His soul unto death." Sinless Himself, yet His heart broke for the sins of others. Saint and faithful alike see in Him the perfect Man.

Life for the sake of other lives is today the accepted ideal of Christendom. Jesus made it so. He put service and sacrifice in the place of selfishness. Today the noble man is the one who most eagerly serves and surrenders. He whose sorrows are because of others' sin and suffering is following in the train of Christ. I once saw a strapping big soldier on a operating table in a field hospital, and he was roaring and sweating and kicking so that it took four orderlies to hold him; yet I confess to sharing the smile of the surgeons and their assistants, because the operation was most trifling, and the man was making all this hullabaloo over a little physical pain. But I look upon a minister I know, who is breaking his head in sympathetic service of an uncomprehending people, and the deepest emotions of pity and admiration are stirred. Yet admiration for such a man should exceed pity, for he is most blessed whose troubles are chiefly because of other people; who is more concerned for the welfare of the race than for his own personal prosperity. Indeed, this is the test of the reality of one's religion: What have you suffered in behalf of your neighbor? Examine the scars on your spirit; see they are the marks of the Lord Jesus?

A little child has a tender heart, and is quick to pity. A short-sighted parent laments, and considers how greatly the child will suffer in life unless that sensitiveness of spirit be lost by contact with a hard world. Stay such a wish; through the portal of vicariousness, whose three arches bear the name of Sorrow, Sympathy and Sacrifice, a soul enters into greatness. Only shallow lives are free from pain; whoever walks the way that Christ and all the lesser or redeemers of mankind have trodden must pay the price of heartbreak. He who cannot weep over Jerusalem is not worthy to enter it as king.

A Parable of Power.

How is it that electricity to the amount of a hundred thousand horse power is secured from a single plant at Niagara? The secret is in the tunnel, cut one hundred and ninety feet deep through the rock. The water from the river above the falls is turned into great tubes, and a half foot in diameter, and through these it falls one hundred and forty-five feet upon the turbines below, and they in turn revolve the shafts at the other end of which are the dynamos. But it is that deep hole which makes the thing possible; only the tremendous weight of the great column of water upon the turbines makes the machinery move.

It is a parable of power through depth. Up in the sunlight, on the dancing surface of the water, there is beauty, and a small measure of force; but down deep, deep, lies the power to illuminate two cities and to turn a million wheels. Would you leap men? Live deeply. The profoundest experiences of life must be shared before you can ever greatly serve. It is only the men of sorrows and acquainted with grief who can bear men's sorrows, and carry their griefs. It is the deep-lined, care-worn, sorrow-marked and pathetic face of a Lincoln that a nation loves best; and the furrows of a mother's face are more beautiful than the unwrinkled comeliness of the fairest girl that blushes and smiles at the portal of life.

The Universal Note.

Everybody understands sorrow, to some degree. It is the "touch of nature" that "makes the whole world kin." There is no fellowship like the fellowship of suffering; it is as the "Man of Sorrows" that Jesus is best understood by the race. Man and wife are most truly one after they have walked hand in hand through the dark valley; no comradeship is quite like that of the soldiers who have campaigned and fought together against a common foe, and the reality and closeness of that comradeship or the companionship of Christ is never learned in fullness until one goes to Him in heart-break and finds the healing of His broken heart.

"Man looketh on the outward appearance," said an old minister to a younger one. "It is easily possible to face congregations that are wholly free from special happiness, but you will probably never be called upon to preach to a people whose hearts are free from burden and suffering." So the despised, rejected, sorrowing, and smitten Christ is closest kin to humanity. He was "forsaken of men"; that might fellowship with men; He walked the solitary way that He might be close comrade to every other traveller therein.

What the Crowd Thinks.

One of the tragedies of time is the way in which the race rejects its true heroes; this Servant of Isaiah was "despised and rejected of men." Just so of Jesus it was written, "He came into His own, and His own received him not." Herein was incarnated all the loneliness and disappointment and suffering of the world's unappreciated ones.

"Man looketh on the outward appearance," says the wise book, and he is deceived. His conclusions are forever being reversed by history. "All we, like sheep, have gone astray," in foolish, unseeing fashion, with respect to our opinions of men. The world's first verdicts are usually wrong. It is well to use one's own mind and eyes and to form one's own conclusions, independently of what others may have thought before.

The ideal Servant, such as Isaiah portrayed, must be unmindful of the crowd, except to serve them. Only a constant appeal to the approval of "the Father which seeth in secret" can sustain one in a life of misunderstood nobility.

"Some will hate thee, some will love thee. Some will bless thee, some will smite; Cease from man, and look above thee; Trust in God and do the right."

Only Mary of Bethany was able to discern the real significance of Christ's life prior to His resurrection. Even those nearest to Him misunderstood Him, as the prophet had foretold. Blessed are they who have eyes to see, and who can discern worth and nobility where the world has not labelled except to serve them. Only a constant appeal to the approval of "the Father which seeth in secret" can sustain one in a life of misunderstood nobility.

Or, to give the whole a New Testament application, "He died for all, that they that live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto Him who for their sakes died and rose again."

USED POISONED BULLETS.

Assassins of Prefect of Police Made Careful Plans to Kill Shuvloff.

Moscow, July 13.—The authorities here decline to disclose the identity of the assassin of Prefect of Police Shuvloff, but it is known that a very prominent and important political capture has been made.

After the prisoner escaped from the police station, where he had been confined as a political suspect some days previous to the assassination of Prefect Shuvloff, all the police of Moscow were set at work to effect his recapture.

The prisoner in the meantime shaved off his beard, and while the police were searching for him everywhere the man went to the prefect's office and committed the crime, for which he will now be tried.

The bullets of the revolver used by the prisoner were filled with poison. The crowd in the ante-room of the prefecture set upon the assassin who was dragged into the street and terribly beaten.

ALLIANCE DISCUSSED.

At Conference Between Emperor William and King Oscar.

Gefle, Sweden, July 13.—King Oscar and Crown Prince Gustaf arrived here this afternoon and visited Emperor William and Prince Von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, on board the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern.

Emperor William gave a dinner on board the Hohenzollern to the King and Crown Prince, who will return to Stockholm to-morrow.

Question of Alliance.

Stockholm, July 13.—The Associated Press is able to state on good authority that a German-Swedish alliance is seriously contemplated. The question, it is stated, was discussed at conferences between Emperor William and King Oscar on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Gefle to-day. The conferences lasted from two to three hours.

King Oscar and his party will remain with Emperor William until he departs from Gefle Friday afternoon.

Besides Emperor William's personal visit, Germany will soon make the great naval demonstration in its history in Swedish waters. On July 20th six battleships and eight torpedo boats, ten cruisers and a torpedo boat squadron are due at Stockholm and Norekoping and five battleships at Karlskrona. The government has granted these squadrons permission to enter war ports.

LACROSSE. MATCH TO-MORROW. All preparations for to-morrow's match between the Victoria and Seattle teams are complete.

BASEBALL. VANCOUVER WON. Yesterday's match between Vancouver and Spokane (Victoria) resulted in another win for the former by a score of 3 runs to 1.

SCANT COURTESY. Yesterday Geo. Russell, president of the Victoria Baseball League, returned from Vancouver, where he has been investigating the circumstances of the transfer of the local team's franchise to the Northern League.

UPON HIS ARRIVAL at the Terminal City Mr. Russell's first act was to call on the charge of the team, gathered together after much trouble and expense by the local club.

DISCUSSING THE QUESTION generally, President Russell thought that the scheme of doing Victoria out of the privileges of its connection with the league was premature.

JUNIOR GAME. The Y. M. C. A. and North Ward teams will play a league match this evening, commencing at 6.45 o'clock, at the Beacon Hill grounds.

LAWN TENNIS. THE CLUB TOURNAMENT. Owing to the inclement weather the Victoria club tournament was discontinued Thursday afternoon, and the games scheduled to take place then will be held to-day.

CRICKET. VICTORIA V. R. G. A. A match is in progress this afternoon between the Victoria A team and the Royal Garrison Artillery eleven at the Jubilee grounds.

MATCH TO-MORROW. The Victoria team will try conclusions with the Garrison eleven at the Work Point grounds.

THE BRITISH COMMONS. Under Redistribution Scheme Ireland Will Lose Twenty Seats.

London, July 13.—The government's proposals for the redistribution of seats have been issued. The idea is to give one member for every 65,000 of population, thereby abolishing the constituencies having populations under that figure.

WHY DOCTORS FAIL AND MRS. PINKHAM SUCCEEDS

Plain Reasons Are Here Given to Explain Why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures When Doctors Are Powerless

A woman's sick, some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system. She goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.

It was for this reason that years ago Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., determined to step in and help her sex.

Having had considerable experience in treating female ills with her Vegetable Compound, she encouraged the women of Canada to write to her for advice in regard to their complaints, and being a woman, it was easy for her to give details of their suffering.

No physician in the world has had such a training, or has such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills, from the simplest local irritation to the most complicated womb diseases.

Thirty days after date I intend to apply to the Hon. the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works for permission to lease for pastoral purposes 100 acres of unreserved, unoccupied, Crown land situated at Bella Coola, Coast District, B. C., commencing at a point on the east bank of the Neeltje's Connally river.

A BY-LAW

To Enable the Borrowing of a Further Sum of $100,000 Secured Upon the Frontage Rents or Taxes and Sewer Connection Rental With the Guarantee of the City of Victoria.

Whereas it is intended to borrow upon the security of the frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals imposed by the Sewers By-Law, 1902 (No. 409), the further sum of $100,000 to be expended in the carrying out of the sewers within the City of Victoria;

And whereas it is proposed to give the guarantee of the Corporation for securing the moneys so intended to be borrowed;

And whereas the said "Sewers By-Law, 1902" was validated by Section 23 of Chapter 42 of the Statutes of 1903-4, in so far as frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals were thereby assessed and levied upon the owners of land and buildings;

And whereas the amount of the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals for the year 1905 is estimated at $15,000, and the sum of $200,000 has been already raised upon the security of the same under the provisions of the "Sewer Loan Guarantee By-Law, 1902" (numbered 402);

And whereas the moneys intended to be borrowed pursuant to this By-Law will be primarily charged and secured upon the frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals, assessed and levied and to be collected annually under the authority of the "Sewers By-Law, 1902" now unincumbered amount to $5,200.00;

And whereas the amount required to be collected annually from the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals to pay the interest upon the said debt of $100,000 to repay the said debt within fifty years is $9,310; and the amount required to be collected to pay the interest upon the said debt of $100,000 and to repay the said debt within fifty years is $4,655, making together the sum of $13,965, and it is estimated that there will not be any deficiency;

And whereas it is proposed to borrow the sum of $100,000 upon debentures as hereinafter appearing:

And whereas, by the said recited By-Law No. 400, the said frontage rents or taxes and sewer connection rentals when received are directed to be carried to a joint fund entitled the Sewer Rental and Sewer Tax Fund, and are to be expended in the extension of the sewerage system of the City, and the Corporation and the ratepayers of the same, and in making provision for and the payment of principal, interest and sinking funds where moneys are borrowed on the security of the same, in such manner and at such time or times as the Municipal Council shall from time to time think expedient. And it is desired by this By-Law to give effect to such provision:

Therefore the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:
