

WILD FLOWER STUDY

PRELIMINARY TO STORY HOUR BEGINS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY ON SATURDAY

Mrs. Danford, the librarian of the public library, will give a wild flower study talk, Saturday, April 15, at 3 p. m. This will be an introduction to the Story Hour, which will be begun very shortly. It will be remembered that the Story Hour was an immense success last year. There is every reason to believe that it will be more largely attended this year than ever.

The librarian has arranged to have a display of wild flowers indigenous to this neighborhood at the library and asks that every child assist in this affair by bringing some of the wild flowers of the neighborhood to the library Saturday not later than 11 a. m. These flowers will be arranged and classified. Mrs. Danford will be assisted in the work by Mrs. Mullen, formerly of the High School. Mrs. Danford will deeply appreciate anything that the children will do in the way of collecting the flowers.

This preliminary Study hour will be an excellent method of following up the Nature study that is now being pursued in the schools. Glendale has an unusually fine assortment of wild flowers. They grow all over the vacant lots of the city and outside the limits among the foothills others of rarer variety can be found. There should be a fine display at the library Saturday.

It is needless to say that Mrs. Danford is working also to assist in the efforts that are being made by the Glendale Garden society to create and stimulate an interest in this subject. Children who intend to compete for the Garden society's prizes for wild flower collections should attend this Saturday study, as it cannot fail to benefit them.

Members of the library will be glad to learn that the latest edition of the International Encyclopedia has been added to the shelves. This is a very up-to-date book and contains all the latest information regarding modern engineering problems and problems of transportation and engineering construction. Problems created by the war are also dealt with and the most advanced information on such topics as "Aviation," "Electric Power," "Submarining" and the use of the automobile in war, are dealt with in a most satisfactory manner.

There is also on the shelves the latest edition of Webster's dictionary—a set of volumes that brings all the minutiae of the English language together in the latest scientific and technical vocabulary. The volumes have not yet all been published. When completed the dictionary will be the great word of authority on the language.

All the children who use the library are delighted to learn that the old International Encyclopedia will now be transferred to their shelves and will become the property of the juvenile department. This will be a great satisfaction to the young element, which likes to think of its department as becoming more complete every day.

On the display rack will be found some interesting non-fiction books within the next few days. The interest taken in the Jules Verne set shows that where instruction can be mingled with amusement young people can be induced to take a profound interest in abstruse subjects. Now they will have a chance to read unadulterated non-fiction in "Japan and America," a most interesting volume that takes up all the most recent developments of, and between, the two countries. A new set of modern dramatic works will add piquancy to the shelf.

TRAMPS RAID BARN

Complaint has been made to the police by Mr. Cameron Thom that the old packinghouse at the corner of First and Glendale avenue is being made the subject of the depredations of a number of tramps who utilize the house as a sleeping place and afterward make it pay toll for the privilege of having housed them. These marauders have been stripping the old packing house of everything that they could find in the way of fittings. These they have undoubtedly been selling. By and by there will be little left of the old house if the depredators are not stopped. The latest theft was the removal of all the locks from the doors.

CHAPTER L, P. E. O.

There will be an all-day meeting of Chapter L, P. E. O., at the home of Mrs. Hunchberger, 344 S. Central avenue, Wednesday, April 12. Everybody provide her own lunch.

GIVING GOD A CHANCE

REV. DR. WILLISFORD SAYS MAN SHOULD ESTABLISH PERSONAL RELATIONS WITH DIETY

Dr. Willisford preached a most interesting and helpful sermon Sunday morning on "Giving God a Chance." In part the speaker said:

"In scores of lives God has no chance at all, not even a look-in. God does not by armed force storm a man's life but as a gentle spirit broods over it, awaiting reception or rejection.

"Man should establish personal relations with God. There must be a conscious and continuous relation of the individual soul with God. This was the secret of the strength and power of the life of Jesus Christ and the secret of every life which has been a satisfaction to itself and a blessing to others.

"This fellowship can be prevented and if once established destroyed by first, by doing the wrong thing; second, by not doing the right thing. Too many are like Peter following 'afar off.' Man must give God a chance in the realms of the first, physical; second, the intellectual; third, the spiritual.

"I believe not only in Divine Healing but also 'Divine Prevention.' What a lot of people need is Salvation, not Sedatives. Christ not Calomel. Piety not Pills.

"One had said 'Health or soul is conducive to health of body. Most of our diseases are the result of our lack of righteous love. The fruits of the spirit are helpful to the body as well as to the mind. Weak nerves are often conquered by strong love.

"God is Love. And perfect love casteth out fear. By giving God a chance a hospital full of diseases will depart. The Christ cure is what men need. 'Come unto me all ye that are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.'

"A famous alienist says, 'I would state that of all the hygienic measures to counteract disturbed sleep, depression of spirits and all the miserable sequels of distressed mind, I would give the first place to the simple habit of prayer.'

The evening address by Mr. T. Suchiyana was a thrilling recital of the intense struggle of a soul to free itself from idolatry, superstition and enter into the freedom and joy of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Ten years ago this man came from Japan, filled with ambition to make money and to learn the ways of doing big things. He first resided at Tropic, entering the Tropic Grammar school to learn English. Later he became a student in the Glendale High School. While in Tropic he shot three times at a drunken American who entered his uncle's store. Fortunately none of the shots took effect.

Later Mr. Suchiyana went to live in Pasadena, attending High School and later the Nazarene University, in which institution he is now teaching. The coming September he will enter Drew Theological Seminary. After completing his education he will return to Japan to do missionary work.

Next Sunday evening Mr. W. B. Weber and Mr. Herbert Wood, two business men from Los Angeles, will speak. These men are connected with the Rescue Union Mission. They are "Twice-Born-Men." They have had remarkable conversions.

QUIET DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher, 228 N. Louise street, entertained at a quiet party, Monday, at dinner, a few of their friends. The diningroom was beautifully decorated with roses and the livingroom and den with carnations. The table color scheme was yellow. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grundy, Mr. Leo McLaughlan, Mrs. Lenids, Miss Katharine Hunt.

REDONDO PIER DAMAGED BY HIGH TIDES

An unusually high tide and heavy sea at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, March 23d, is reported to have torn out a portion of the $125,000 municipal pier at Redondo Beach, under construction by MacArthur Bros., contractors. Two pile drivers were smashed and sunk and all the frame work and superstructures were demolished and carried out to sea. Many tools and a large quantity of steel cable and rope were lost. The contractors estimated the damage at $25,000 and state it will mean the loss of about 60 days in the time of completion.

WEATHER FORECAST—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; northwest winds.

R. M. JACKSON, F. L. MUHLEMAN, G. B. WOODBERRY NOW TRUSTEES-ELECT OF CITY OF GLENDALE—J. C. SHERER ELECTED CITY CLERK AND G. B. HOFFMAN, TREASURER

Monday's city election in Glendale was a decided victory for the ticket supported by the Citizens' Welfare Association. All of the candidates on the association's ticket and all of the men from all parts of the city, many of whom had never taken a prominent part in municipal affairs, got together and formed an organization that was named The Citizens' Welfare Association and this association nominated for trustees: R. Trustees elected—Jackson, Woodberry, Muhleman; Hoffman, Treasurer; Sherer, Clerk.

ents might have possessed in part those attributes but their platform did not so declare.

There were several candidates who did not affiliate themselves with any other group of candidates and their claims justly met with the approval of many citizens of good judgment and the vote they received was a handsome compliment. It is just and fair to the newly-elected trustees to state that it is the understanding of those by whom they were supported that they enter upon their official duties without having their hands tied in any manner and that they are ready to give every citizen of Glendale equally a fair deal and that the voters who supported other candidates need not hesitate to offer suggestions and work shoulder to shoulder with the entire Board of Trustees for all that will be for the welfare of Glendale. The holdover trustees are J. S. Thompson and Chas. Grist.

At this time it may be well to throw out the suggestion that every property owner in Glendale should inquire carefully concerning the acts of the city officials,—not for the purpose of offering criticism, but for the purpose of being intelligently informed as to the workings of the municipal machinery. The trustees are the servants of the people and to obtain the very best service from them it becomes our duty to support their deserving projects in a fitting manner.

It will be observed by referring to the accompanying table that the two Annexation propositions received the hearty support of the voters and the Fifth class city proposition met with their disapproval.

That our readers may know something concerning the lives of these men whom they have elected to office we produce the following brief sketches:

R. M. Jackson, newly elected city trustee, has been a resident of Glendale for a number of years. He is a native of Kentucky and his ideals are those of a true southern gentleman. He is a graduate of the State University of Kentucky. He was cashier, vice president and president of the First National Bank of London, Kentucky, having held the former position for twelve years. He was president of the New Diamond Coal company of Lamont, Ky., the Pittsburg Coal Co., Pittsburg, Ky., and secretary and treasurer of the Waldensia Coal & Coke Co., Waldensia, Kentucky. He was also president of the London, Ky., Electric Light company and president of the Laurel County Fair Co. and during the administration of Gov. John Young Brown of Kentucky he was a member of the governor's staff with the rank of colonel. Since June, 1915, Mr. Jackson has discharged the duties of secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to the entire satisfaction of the members of that body.

G. B. Woodberry is perhaps as well known as any man in Glendale. At least there are few men who know Glendale any better than Mr. Woodberry. A resident in this valley since 1884 and one who has taken an active interest in every movement and question that concerned the good of the community, he is peculiarly fitted to serve this city as a member of the Board of Trustees. In 1886 Mr. Woodberry was made superintendent of the Verdugo Canon Water company. In 1901 he became secretary of the same corporation in addition to superintendent. This month marks his thirtieth year of continuous service in this company, which is a mutual corporation and changes the directorate each year. He was the first city clerk of Glendale and held the position until 1914, when he refused to be a candidate for re-election. Long familiarity with water conditions here embracing both flood and supply phases of the question, and his intimate knowledge of municipal affairs gained while serving as city clerk, are two important qualifications considered by the voters who elected him.

Atty. Frank L. Muhleman has been identified with Glendale for the past ten years and has had an important part in the growth and development of the city. He was born in Ohio and attended the Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea, Ohio, and the McDonald Law school in Cincinnati. He practiced law at Newport, Kentucky, and at Parkersburg, West Virginia, before removing to California in 1905. He now follows his profession at 246 Title Insurance Bldg., Los Angeles. Mr. Muhleman drafted the Glendale city charter, being chairman of the commission. He was elected city attorney of Glendale in 1910, resigning the position the following year. He has been an advocate of the annexation of additional territory to this city and worked for and advocated municipal ownership of water and light. He has been at all times unselfish in the giving of his ability and his time for the city's interests. He is a man who looks upon an office holder as a servant of the people and will so conduct himself in the office to which he was elected.

J. C. Sherer's re-election to the office of city clerk, which he has held for the past two years, is proof of what the voters think of his qualifications and his past administration of the affairs of the office. Like Mr. Woodberry, Mr. Sherer has lived in Glendale since the early eighties and has always taken an interest in every phase of the development of the valley. The many years spent as owner and editor of the Glendale News gave him a knowledge of municipal affairs that was invaluable to him when he took charge of the city clerk's office two years ago. His experience gained by his incumbency makes him a more valuable servant of the people than before.

G. B. Hoffman, re-elected to the office of city treasurer, was born in the province of Saxony, Germany, coming to this country in 1884. At that time he was unable to speak a word of English. He entered a law school in Indianapolis, Ind., where he graduated and later held a position in the legal department of a large manufacturing concern in Milwaukee, Wis., until coming to California in 1903. In 1904 he came to Glendale where he has since lived. Mr. Hoffman served three years in the German army before leaving his native land. The 14th German Army corps in which he served was the first of the German army to invade France at the beginning of the present war. Mr. Hoffman has been city treasurer of Glendale for five years and has done much to place the affairs of the office on a sound business basis. His past experience will be of great benefit to the people of this city in the coming administration of the office to which he has been elected.

John Bunyan, author of "The Pilgrim's Progress," was a traveling tinker.

WOMEN AND PREPAREDNESS

What Homer Lea wrote in his prophetic volume, "The Valor of Ignorance," several years ago has become most strikingly apparent in the discussion of the question of preparedness. It is found that the consequence of a great deal of feminism in politics has been that the country has been left naked to her enemies and that just at present when the United States needs a strong army of trained soldiers, regulars or citizens, it matters not which, on the border she has none. In the country at present there are about 6000 regulars. The rest are in Mexico, where it is reported that preparations for aggressive action are being made.

Homer Lea, a Denver lad, in his book pointed out that when a country should become very rich and at the same time neglect the means of defending itself other nations would be tempted to attack her. He advocated preparedness in one of the most significant volumes ever published on that subject. That book was made a text book in the schools of Germany; but the United States sneered at one of her brightest sons. Lea went to China and became one of the great organizers of the army that prepared the way for the republic. He came back to the United States and was ignored again by his own countrymen. He went to Germany and was honored and decorated by the kaiser.

Homer Lea's picture of a feminist nation is a striking warning to any people. What is happening in Europe is a mere foreshadowing of what may happen in the western hemisphere of the world at any time. There never will be a time when might will not masquerade as right and the nations that are not prepared to make a stand for their liberties are certain to lose them.

It is pleasing, however, to know that the United States is aroused to the necessity of having some strong policy that will make its name to be respected as it ought and secure for American citizens everywhere that immunity from interference and oppression which has always been considered the birthright of those born in this land.

On this subject Mrs. Frederick A. Dow, a Chicago clubwoman, speaking for a large section of her sisters in the middle west said the other day: "American women believe in military preparedness against war and they will have much to do with the shaping of the military policy of the United States. American women do not want war but they see clearly that the duty of this nation is to be prepared for any aggressor."

THE SITUATION IN MEXICO

"Undertake nothing of which thou hast not well considered the end" is an old Persian proverb, which might well have been in the mind of the government at Washington, D. C., before it undertook to send an expedition into Mexico. Times have changed since United States troops marched across the country to Mexico city and having chastised the Mexicans marched back again. Armed with a modern magazine rifle and with a few machine guns the Mexican bandits can hold back large numbers of the best troops in the mountain passes of that difficult country.

Modern warfare is no longer a question of individual prowess, though that counts for much. Without ample ammunition and supplies of all kinds the bravest and best trained troops are heavily handicapped in a warfare of this kind. It is now several weeks since the expedition started, at a disadvantage at the very outset, as it had no adequate means of transportation and its machine guns when put into action, jammed, overheated and became useless. It took Gen. Funston many days to get sufficient autowagons to keep up the supply of necessities for the troops.

Nothing could surpass the gallantry and skill with which the American troopers raced after Villa, but the bandit had been given too long a start and safe among his native fastnesses he is able to bid defiance to Americans and Carranzistas alike. Up to the present moment there have never been sufficient troops in Mexico to trap Villa. That astute bandit is probably laughing up his sleeve at the futile efforts that are being made to snare him. It is even doubtful if he is anywhere near the place where he is credited with being. The reports of his being wounded are said to have been got up for the benefit of the pursuing American troops while the bandit quietly was laying his plans in other directions.

It cannot have escaped the notice of observing Americans that during five years past Villa has been on the eve of being trapped dozens of times. Only very recently he was reported as cooped up in Agua Prieta and the report went that he could never escape from the trap, but the wily fox, or coyote rather, easily slipped away between the lines and was as full of fight as ever two days after.

It is no easy matter to trap Villa. He is totally devoid of fear. He is skilled in guerilla warfare and is even an adept at the assaulting of cities defended by modern barbed wire entanglements. He is amply supplied with ammunition and knows the country in which he operates as no other Mexican leader knows it.

To the average Mexican Villa is a kind of Robin Hood or "Swamp Fox," a patriot whom it is well to assist. He is the idol of a great many of the peons of Mexico because he takes their cause against the rich landowner who has held the peon in bondage so long. It is safe to say that the task of capturing Villa is going to be one of great magnitude.

Should the United States government carry out the idea expressed by President Wilson that the American troops should be withdrawn from Mexico as having done enough for the national honor it is certain that the loss of prestige America will suffer will be enormous as far as Mexico is concerned. Like the Irishman who caught a Tartar it is being found impossible to bring the culprit along and equally impossible to come along without him as the situation will not permit of it.

He who advocates that which is for the good of mankind is a person worthy of recognition in his community.

NEVADA FAMOUS AS MINING STATE

Nevada is a Spanish word meaning "snowy" or "white as snow," and the name of the State was derived from the Sierra Nevada. The State ranks sixth in size in the Union. Its length from north to south is 484 miles, its width 321 miles, and its area 109,821 square miles.

The history of Nevada is chiefly the history of her mines. Since the discovery of the Comstock lode and other famous ore bodies periods of activity and prosperity have alternated with periods of depression. Each discovery of high-grade ore in noteworthy quantity has been followed by rapid settlement in that locality and the establishment of one or more towns. In 1890-1893 a sharp decline in the price of silver initiated or accompanied a period of depression in Nevada's mining and general industrial prosperity. Silver is so important a resource of the State that to a large extent even now her prosperity depends upon the market for that metal. Of late years, however, an increased production of gold, copper, and recently of platinum has accompanied a gradual and, it is hoped, substantial industrial progress. Permanent towns have grown up and agriculture and related pursuits are becoming firmly established.

A PECULIAR WELL IN FLORIDA

In their investigation of the wells and underground waters of Florida the geologists of the United States Geological Survey have noted many interesting things. Among these is a well at Welaka, on St. Johns River, from which two kinds of water are obtained.

This well is 309 feet deep. The length of the casing is 110 feet. The well was first drilled to 160 feet, and from this depth ordinary "sulphur" water was obtained. The drill was then carried to a depth of 309 feet, where is encountered a strong mineral water, having a disagreeable, salty taste. In order to use both kinds of water an inner tubing was run nearly to the bottom of the well. Both this and the outer casing were connected with pumps, so that ordinary water and mineral water can be pumped at the same time. A favorite joke played on visitors is to give them a drink of the weaker water in the first glass and to replace it with the brine in the second.

Not more than half a dozen wells of this kind are known in the country, but there is no reason why similar wells can not be obtained in regions where the waters in the upper strata differ from those lying deeper.

SURVEYS NEARLY A CENTURY AGO

North Carolina was the first State in the Union to recognize the need of geologic surveys within its borders. In 1823 an act of the general assembly authorized the board of agriculture to pay the expenses of "geological excursions" for a period of years, as a result of which several geologic reports on the State were published. South Carolina was quick to follow the example of her sister State and in 1824 established a State Geological Survey, whose geologic report, appearing in 1826, was the first issued under the patronage of any State.

Massachusetts and Tennessee early established official Geological Surveys on a much larger scale than those of North and South Carolina, and in 1833 Maryland followed their example. To Maryland also belongs the credit of being the first State to undertake a topographic survey, in which she obtained the co-operation of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. This marks the beginning of the Federal and State co-operation in such matters which is now so important in topographic mapping and in the investigation of our mineral resources.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

George Bradenburg, of Burchett and Central, who has been quite ill for some time with bronchitis, is still laid up and progressing slowly toward convalescence. He is attended by Dr. Eckles.

Mr. and Mrs. Wouters, 1519 N. Central avenue, who recently returned from San Diego, left Monday for a two weeks' trip to Monterey, where they will stay in the famous Del Monte hotel and enjoy the excellent golfing facilities of that popular resort.

Mrs. J. C. Rice of Ruth street, who has been ill for some time with bronchitis and tonsillitis, is gradually recovering but is somewhat handicapped by the cold, damp weather.

Charles Sharp, who is in charge of Logan's meat market, left Tuesday morning for the mountains, where he will spend a brief vacation.

NEW DESK SETS

Desk sets covered with futuristic cretonnes are new and striking. Some are finished with a tiny edge of black leather, others with just a cording of the material. They cover the blotter, ink well, hand blotter, pen tray and stamp box. There is no choice in color, as each set includes colors enough and to spare; each is bound to harmonize with at least one color in any room.

Personals

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of Brand boulevard left Tuesday for Pasadena to attend the funeral of a friend.

The friends of Mr. A. D. Webster of 210 East Broadway will regret to hear that he was taken seriously ill on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. F. W. Colson, 1516 Burchett street, who has been spending a few days with friends at Pomona, returned home yesterday.

Miss Alberta Justema of Los Angeles was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Justema, of 304 S. Central avenue, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Justema, 304 S. Central avenue, entertained at dinner Saturday Mr. Ralph Von Dusen, Mrs. Rhea Blair, Mrs. Sena Justema, Miss Alberta Justema and Miss Anna Wardhaus.

The first rehearsal for the Glendale High School Alumni play took place in the school auditorium Monday evening. The first act was read but a permanent cast has not yet been selected.

Mrs. John R. Hunchberger and daughters, Miss Evangeline and Miss Virginia Hunchberger, of South Central avenue, have returned from a delightful sojourn with Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Myer at their ranch home near Ontario.

Mrs. J. A. Farrell, 123 E. Broadway, is entertaining as a luncheon guest today Mrs. Mary Edwards, who was formerly a resident of Glendale. Mrs. Edwards formerly lived at 1411 W. Colorado boulevard. She is a Christian Science practitioner and is well known to a large circle of friends in Glendale. Mrs. Edwards is on the eve of leaving Los Angeles, her present residence, for San Francisco, where she will join her daughter, Miss Helen Cooper.

Miss Helen Cooper, formerly of Glendale, but recently of Los Angeles, who was widely known to a large circle of music lovers as an excellent musician and efficient teacher of music, went to San Francisco about two months ago and is doing well in her profession there. Recently she was asked to give a recital at the Greek theater at the University of California at Berkeley, where she achieved a very marked success.

DARING BATH TUB THIEF

Some very bold and daring thief performed an act of theft the other day that was unique in its conception and execution. It is likely that the thief is a householder, otherwise the theft would have very little foundation in reason, as it has none in morality. A house belonging to Mrs. J. F. Wilde, 103 Cedar street, was entered by thieves, who appear to have confined themselves to detaching a bathtub from its setting in the house and dragging it downstairs to the considerable injury of the walls.

More curious than anything else in this singular act of housebreaking and theft was the fact that the thief or thieves substituted an old and dilapidated bath tub for the new and handsome article which they coveted and stole. The neighbors state that they saw an automobile drive up to the back of the house some days ago, but paid no attention to what the occupants were doing. Inquiry has not as yet revealed anything regarding the thieves.

"MOVIE" CENSORS MEET MR. JENSEN

Thursday afternoon of last week Mr. W. B. Kirk, Mrs. P. A. C. Moore and Mr. T. W. Preston, members of the Board of Censors, met Mr. Henry C. Jensen of "The Palace-Grand" and several matters were discussed regarding the policy to be followed at that theater. The question of Sunday evening closing was thoroughly gone over, the selection of such films for the Saturday afternoon performances as would be especially suitable for children, the character of the films to be shown at Sunday performances (if such were to continue), and the general character of all films shown.

Mr. Jensen expressed himself as thoroughly in accord with the views of the others present in regard to the showing of films which should be as free as possible from reasonable criticism, but frankly stated that if compelled to discontinue Sunday performances he would be obliged, for financial reasons, to permanently discontinue all performances.

Regarding special "Children's films" Mr. Jensen stated he would welcome suggestions from the Parent-Teacher associations. The meeting was arranged with the idea of reaching a better understanding in regard to the above matters, which interest the general public, and the participants separated with the feeling that the discussion had been of material benefit.

 WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—Furnished only with a few necessary submarine facts the cabinet convened today in regular session. ## SINGS OLD BALLAD IN THE ACT OF DEATH

NOTED NEW YORK TENOR WARBLER "DRINK TO ME ONLY WITH THINE EYES" AS HE PASSES AWAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
 NEW YORK, April 11.—John Bagesley, a noted tenor of this city, sang while dying. He had been ill for some time and felt his end approaching. Sending for some of his friends he entertained them with pleasant talk and refreshments and then said, "I will sing one song before I die." Immediately he burst forth into the old English ballad, "Drink to me only with thine eyes." As the little company listened in awestruck silence to the strain Bagesley fell back dead.

HURL GERMANS BACK ON SIX-MILE FRONT

GEN. PETAIN SMASHES CROWN PRINCE'S ARMY WITH TREMENDOUS FORCE IN BRILLIANT ATTACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
 LONDON, April 11.—By one of the most tremendous blows in the history of battles the French troops under Gen. Petain repulsed wave after wave of the greycoated Germans who were hurled against the French lines between Haucourt and Bethincourt south of the Forges brook. When the German attack had wavered and withered under the French curtain of fire, a general advance was made and the Gallic battalions hurled themselves on the Teutons with a fury that nothing could resist. They drove the Germans back along a six-mile front and re-established their own front across Forges brook.

GERMAN LOSSES AT VERDUN 200,000

FRENCH OFFICIAL ESTIMATES OF TEUTON DEAD AND WOUNDED IN ASSAULT ON THEIR LINES IS MODERATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
 PARIS, April 11.—The official estimate of the number of Germans killed and wounded in the assault on Verdun places it at 200,000. This is believed to be considerably below the actual number. It is stated that in the last assault on Dead Man's hill and Cumieres forest the German losses were between 40,000 and 50,000. German soldiers taken prisoner in the recent assaults say the kaiser will sacrifice 500,000 men to take Verdun.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TROOPS IN MEXICO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—Twenty-five thousand American troops have already been sent into Mexico, it was learned today. This is by no means enough, as the greater part of them are occupied in guarding the lines of communication. Only 2000 regular troops remain in the United States. One small group is in San Diego, another in Spokane; a company is in Alaska and others are in different posts throughout the West.

TROPICO

There was a most lively interest manifested yesterday at the city election. A number of citizens were prevented from voting, from the fact that they had failed to register. Precincts 1 and 2 voted in the store room at Brand boulevard and East Acacia street and the polls were in charge of E. K. Tresslar and Mrs. George Peck, inspectors; Mrs. Chas. H. Henry and Mrs. David H. Imler, judges; Mrs. Emmeline Roake and Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey, clerks.

Precincts 3 and 4 voted in the city hall, using the council chamber as a voting place. E. S. Oberdeck and Mrs. Merta Armstrong, inspector; Mrs. Richard Todd and J. J. Burke judges; C. C. Haggood and Mrs. John H. Seaman, clerks, composed the election board at this voting place.

The returns showed a complete landslide for the three candidates, whose names, by a ruling of the Superior court, were eliminated from the ballot, thus necessitating writing them in on the ballot. The total vote was 687.

KILLING CATERPILLARS

A contest among boy club members which resulted in direct and material benefit to the community is reported by the State agent of Washington. Last spring and early summer the fruit trees in a certain locality were heavily infested with tent caterpillars. The local leader offered prizes to the boys to bring to her the greatest number of big tents full of caterpillars. As a result the trees were practically freed from the pests, 2,731 tents having been brought in and destroyed.

A Kansas mother-daughter canning club, consisting of 11 mothers and 11 daughters, canned 2,000 quarts of home-grown products last season, according to a report from the State agent.

A Wyoming club boy is reported to have produced 70 bushels of potatoes on one-eighth acre. He made a net profit of $80.65 and also earned the State championship.

PREPARING FOR FLOWER SHOW

This coming Saturday morning the huge marquee for the Flower Show will be erected on the northwest corner of Fifth and Brand. It will be an 80-foot circular tent, and will cover the entire space from Fifth St. to Beldin's tinshop on Brand Blvd. On Monday a Sunset phone will be installed. To get in touch with the manager, Mr. Morris Caruthers, the president, Mrs. Nanno Woods, or any other officials of the Garden Society, phone to Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, Sunset Glendale 1357; if there is no response, ask central for Glendale Flower Show, and connection will be made with the tent direct.

On Monday the marquee will be wired for lighting. Volunteer carpenters, electricians, etc., will then get busy, under the direction of the manager and of Mr. M. B. Hartmann. By Wednesday, April 19, the interior will be ready for final decorations. Any Glendale folks able to spare greenery such as ivy, smilax, asparagus plumosus, are asked to either bring contributions in their automobiles, or to phone their address to Headquarters, and an automobile will be sent for the stuff. Commercial exhibitors will be expected to get their spaces in readiness on Wednesday, and their heavy carting accomplished. Any private exhibitors asking for beforehand allotted spaces are also requested to come to the tent on Wednesday, and so far as possible arrange their material. This will help everything to be smooth and orderly on Thursday morning, when the exhibits will be received and placed.

Let everybody conspire together to make of this Flower Show one of the greatest floral displays ever seen on the Pacific Coast. Send in your roses, carnations, pansies, lilies, irises, sweet peas, by the hundreds and thousands. Have the marquee fairly smothered in sweetness. Because this show is free, and because it has received such excellent publicity, Glendale will be the center of attraction during the three floral days of hundreds of outside communities. We shall have visitors by the thousands. Let us give them a surprise they will never forget. Pass the word along to every neighbor to send in liberally of their flowers, plants, hanging baskets, fruits, vegetables, etc. Let our visitors marvel at the beauty and profusion of Glendale gardens; cause them all to wish that they, too, lived in such a delightful and attractive city. If there are any Glendale folks who have not yet taken a lively interest in the Free Flower show, it is time for them to waken up. It is time for the merchants and real estate men and property owners to realize that next week is to be produced the finest, biggest, most effective advertisement for Glendale that Glendale has ever seen. It is going to attract the right class of people, people of cultured taste, who love flowers and beautiful surroundings and who make the best kind of citizens.

The Glendale Garden society has labored late and early for four months to bring this Free Flower show into creation, to give Glendale the right kind of notoriety. Now let everybody get in and help. Send thousands of flowers. Invite all your friends. There should not be a house in Glendale during the three show days without at least half a dozen visitors. Let Glendale hospitality be famed far and wide, and bid all strangers welcome to our beautiful Jewel City. — NANNO WOODS, President.

THE STRAW HAT

The first bluebird is nowadays scarcely a better or an earlier harbinger of spring in the United States than is the first straw hat. Once upon a time, the straw hat did not make its appearance until after the leaves had budded. Now it arrives soon after the new year, the winter hat disappearing long before winter itself. This is doubtless because the dealers display straw hats early for use at the winter resorts, and women who are in need of new headgear prefer to anticipate the coming season rather than elongate the passing one.

Already leghorns and panamas, as well as the darker milans and Neapolitans, are not only being sold but worn. The "cane seat" hat which, last year, was a best seller, is this year being replaced by a lacy straw in natural and dyed effects, a leghorn and tuscan combination quite open in design and very flexible. A happy thought of slashing the brim and lacing it together with narrow ribbon gives a new and effective touch which may also be carried out in the crown. Flat motifs of small flowers, often carried out in ribbon and sometimes in straw, are among the newest trimmings. In nearly every instance where fabrics are used for hats, straw appears either in trimming or for facing, frequently being in a contrasting color. This is especially true of the sport hat, which this season is larger than last, the sailor shape predominating; soft Italian milan is being featured for high class hats. Some of the lingerie hats are of organdie, or some similar material, embroidered. Most of the shapes are blocked and never has there been a greater variety or more vivid coloring. Yet, according to one of the prominent buyers just returned from Paris, the smartest hats are in black and navy. Grosgrain moire and satin ribbon are popular for trimmings. Many hats are made of plaited ribbon. Artificial old-fashioned field flowers and American beauty roses are popular. Made wings for smart walking hats, and ostrich "fancies," as well as the large medallions of enamel, are having considerable prestige. One hat, showing bronze wings on a beige straw, nearly equal in size to the "Merry Widow" of a few years ago, attracted a good deal of notice.

Coach—"No; charge it up to running expenses."
