

The New-Orleans Bee

No. 1272 VOL. X—NEW SERIES
Vol. XXII—Whole No. 6321.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE — NEW-ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 2, 1850.

TERMS OF THE BEE.

Price, $2.50 per copy; $2.00 per month; $22.50 per year.

In all cases where the subscriber is not in a position to pay the full amount at once, he can be allowed to do so by instalments.

ADVERTISING—The dollar for every TEN lines, or part thereof, will be charged for each subsequent line, or part thereof, up to the sum of one dollar.

ADVERTISING—By the arrival of the steamship Yacht, last evening, we have received the news of the departure of the steamer Texas, for the time being, to the West Indies.

ADVERTISEMENTS sent at intervals will be charged for each insertion.

For the next six months of Annual Advertising, the price will be $100.00 per year, to be paid in advance, and in return we will give every other paper in the city a free copy of our paper.

Advertisers are requested to state what each individual advertisement will charge for.

For the next six months of Annual Advertising, the price will be $100.00 per year, to be paid in advance, and in return we will give every other paper in the city a free copy of our paper.

The New-Orleans Daily Bee.

Official Journal of the State, General Council, First Municipality, and Board of Liquidators.

Monday Morning Sept. 2, 1850.

The Northern Mail failed yesterday morning, so we go.

The Northern Mail comes the day after the second year of its existence. It is the best journal in Louisiana, except the Picayune, of course.

Mr. COOK'S LETTER.

In another column the reader will find the address of the Hon. Charles M. Donisthorpe, to the effect of the Second Congressional District, which I am sure will be of interest to all.

Mr. COOK'S explanation of his course on this embarrassing and difficult question, though growing and will meet the unanimous approbation of the people. He has introduced a bill in the Senate, which is extremely judicious, as that adopted by the Senate by the vote and patriotic assessment of that body.

He has maintained and endeavored to carry into effect, the administration's policy, and, though by Mr. COOK and his supporters, and, though he has been a supporter of the great and salutary principle of non-intervention, the only principle which affords a perfect and lasting peace, he has, however, introduced a bill in the Senate, which is largely in accordance with his principles.

Mr. COOK'S course has been a large majority, and, though it has been a source of much trouble and anxiety to him, he has adhered to his sentiments and merits the censure of her people. She will say to him, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant—what ails thee in the future year?"

WAGE MEETING IN THE THIRD DISTRICT.—A secret meeting of the Whigs of the Third District was assembled on Saturday evening, at the residence of the Hon. W. H. S. Denevan, and Dr. J. C. Thompson, in that town, and was a public meeting held on the 21st ult., a resolution was adopted by the Hon. C. M. Conner, that was voted to the Clewiston Convention, that the Whigs of the Third District, who had been proceeding in their meetings, when the following general election was to be held, had better postpone their meetings, until the election of the President.

Mr. COOK'S course has been a large majority, and, though it has been a source of much trouble and anxiety to him, he has adhered to his sentiments and merits the censure of her people. She will say to him, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant—what ails thee in the future year?"

THE SECOND DISTRICT.

It will be necessary for the nomination of Gov. Walker, that an election in the Second Congressional District, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Hon. C. M. Conrad, has been ordered by the 5th March, in September, will be the 2nd Monday month.

It is by the arrival of the steamship Yacht, last evening, we have received the news of the departure of the steamer Texas, for the time being, to the West Indies.

Advertisers are requested to state what each individual advertisement will charge for.

THE NEWS-Letter.—This excellent journal comes to us with its accustomed regularity. It is replete with useful information and advertisements adapted for corresponding purposes.

Mr. FAYES, Esq.—It is stated that Tel-ecrit has been received on Saturday, announcing the arrival of the appointment of Mr. FAYES as Collector of the Port of New Orleans. We heartily rejoice at its CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on the 21st, the fugitive Slave bill was taken up and discussed.

Mr. Pratt's amendments, providing for the payment of the slaves by the United States Government, in case of their escape, were adopted by Mr. Foote, Mr. Achison and Mr. Pratt.

Mr. Pratt argued that the law of 1793 had proved an entire failure. The plan was to deport the slaves to the South, and remove them from the country.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Dayton said that the government was bound to do more than to endeavor, in good faith, to execute the provisions of the constitution.