BORDEN'S TROUBLES NOT YET OVER

INSURGENTS BEATEN BUT STILL UNDISMAYED

Next Attack by "The Interests"
Will Probably Drive Leader
From His Position

(Special Correspondence.)

Ottawa, March 30.—These are desperate times for the Conservative party in Canada. Within the last thirty-six hours it has been trembling on the verge of disruption and disorganization—and this is not an exaggerated view of the situation seen through partisan eyes; it is manifested by the admissions of prominent Conservative members of the House of Commons, and by the attitude of their leader, Mr. Borden.

Yesterday morning may be described as the crisis in the fever of unrest from which the Opposition has been suffering. Mr. Borden, the night before, distinctly informed his party friends that he was done with the leadership; that he was wearied to death of being knifed by selfish interests in his own party, and that he would much prefer to be free of the trials and tribulations which have beset his path since he became Conservative leader.

The immediate cause of the present upheaval was the high-handed and impudent tactics adopted by a select little junta in Montreal, of which Sir Hugh Graham, proprietor of the "Montreal Star," and Rodolphe Forget, M. P., one of the Canadian money-kings, are the heads. They have been outspokenly antagonistic to Mr. Borden's methods for some time, and last year became particularly active during the consideration of the Navy Bill. However, at that period, although the Conservative baroque was sorely beset by tumultuous seas, it managed to reach a haven, and Mr. Borden remained on the bridge. But this year the breach has widened between the leader and the prominent Montreal Tories. The latter, who represent "the interests," have been accused of nothing short of desertion by the reciprocity agent. Protectionists to the hilt, who would love to see a tariff wall erected around Canada "as high as Haman's gallows," to employ a Conservative classic, they beheld the introduction of legislation which would reduce the tariff on the necessary of life in both countries with the utmost horror. Mr. Borden decided that he would attack the reciprocity agreement on economic grounds, being of the opinion that a campaign of flag-waving and insincere protestations of loyalty was neither dignified nor convincing. This was not entered into with Mr. Borden as a good tactic, so the Star embarked upon a campaign of hysterical froth, publishing frantic appeals to Sir Wilfrid Laurier to "save Canada"; to "protect the Empire from dismemberment and ruin," and to "drive the Liberals and Conservatives alike." Mr. Borden did not follow that lead, although some of his henchmen did, and the Montreal conspirators thereupon determined to have his scalp.

Their first step was to organize a big demonstration in Montreal, with Mr. Sifton as the drawing card. It may be incidentally mentioned that not only the Montreal Conservatives, but the Tory press generally, have advertised Mr. Sifton as the de facto leader in the fight against reciprocity, which is a pill that Mr. Borden must have swallowed with a wry face.

Immediately following this demonstration, a dispatch was sent to the Toronto Telegram, a Conservative paper with no particular love for Mr. Borden, forecasting the leader's early retirement from public life. Communication was then entered into with Mr. McBride and Sir James Whitney, requesting each in turn to assume the leadership of the Conservative party. Mr. McBride declined, taking the ground that he could not consider for a moment an invitation to lead the Conservative party, from a collection of self-constituted dictators in Montreal, while Sir James Whitney forwarded his communication to Mr. Borden. This was the first intimation Mr. Borden had that the game had commenced and that the Montreal coterie were playing their cards. At once the atmosphere in the corridors of the parliament buildings became charged with electricity. All day Tuesday the Conservative section in the House of Commons was deserted by its prominent men, who were in conference with the leader and lieutenants on the critical situation which had developed. In the meantime emissaries had arrived from Montreal and were busy in the lobbies endeavoring to alienate the support of Conservatives from Mr. Borden. Mr. Rufus Pope, an

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

Why is it that this crazy world thinks that the only place to find happiness is in some newfangled religion, or some new fad, or some patent medicine, or some sort of hocus-pocus? Why do we flee to superstition or some species of insanity for that which ought to be and is the property of Common Sense?

And the Common Sense of the matter is this: that no human being ever "found" happiness. Happiness is not a gift from Nature. You cannot make it, dig it up, pump it up, buy it, nor cause it to appear by sleight of hand. The harder you run after it the faster it flees before you—like the end of the rainbow.

Happiness always comes to you over your shoulder. And it comes most permanently and regularly to those who are trying to make others happy. Just help some one, give a smile to a lonely boy, a word of appreciation to a sensitive, discouraged worker, a bit of forbearance to your wife, and of kindly interest to your children; forget, if you can, how poor you are, how unjustly treated, how lonesome, how wronged; forget it all, and do a little sowing of cheer and good nature in the soil right where you stand; do this, and the first thing you know, Happiness, the wilful jade, will steal up behind you and have her arms about your neck.

"I do not care what may be your peculiar religion," said Robert Louis Stevenson, "but if it consists in tormenting yourself and others, I will not say, 'Drop it,' for it may be all you have, but at least conceal it, lest you injure worthier and better folk."

ex-M. P. and a "discredited Tory and representative of Sir Hugh Graham, worked like beavers in furthering the schemes of the conspirators. The upshot was that last Tuesday night Mr. Borden had up his hands and was prepared to announce his capitulation. He communicated with Mr. McBride, but Mr. McBride declined to move, which was a rather serious blow to the insurgents, who had hoped that Mr. McBride would willingly become their Moses and lead them into the Promised Land.

The loyal Conservatives, however, determined to stand by Mr. Borden. A memorial was prepared and signed by the majority, requesting him to remain their leader. It was pointed out to him that if he retired at this juncture the party would be disorganized and would disintegrate; there was no other leader in sight, and should Sir Wilfrid Laurier take advantage of the situation and go to the country the Conservative party would be wiped off the map. It is true a number of the Conservatives in the House of Commons did not sign the memorial, showing that they believe there should be a change in the leadership. These included: Mr. W. Northrip, member for East Hastings, who is laboring under the delusion that he should be leader; Mr. Schaffner, one of the western members, whose constituents have been leading him a lively dance on the reciprocity question; Mr. Rodolphe Forget, a prominent member of the Montreal conspirators; Mr. Price, a Quebec member and capitalist—also conspicuous conspirator; the French Conservative Nationalists, who follow Mr. Monk; Mr. Middlebro; Mr. Barnard; and one or two others.

However, Mr. Borden acceded to the wishes of personal friends and followers, and retained the leadership. This decision was arrived at yesterday and for the time being Tory insurgency has been squelched. It is generally believed, however, that this arrangement is only temporary. "The interests" are represented by men who will not accept defeat easily. This is their second direct attack upon the leader of their party, and it was much more serious than the first. That they will make another and probable successful effort nobody doubts.

The whole incident shows how fragile an institution is the present Conservative party in Canada. On two big issues, the navy and reciprocity, it has nearly split, and much may happen to the frail structure before the reciprocity agreement has been passed. Fortunately enough, Mr. Borden himself is responsible for many of his troubles. He lacks the personality and the instincts of leadership, while possessing undoubted ability. He does not appeal to the imagination of his followers, and does not seem to imbue them with the feeling of personal attachment which is entertained by every Liberal, one might almost say, in Canada, for their great chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Then again, Mr. Borden's party is not very easily handled, especially when dealing with large questions. The prairie Conservative members in their hearts are in favor of the reciprocity pact, and their constituents are causing them a good many sleepless nights. The eastern Conservatives, dominated by the Montreal and Toronto crowds, are high protectionists, and the conflict between the views of the eastern and western elements of his party has to be fought out in Mr. Borden's own brain.

There is one thing absolutely sure, that as far as the Liberals are concerned they never had an easier task since 1896 than that which promises to be set before them when they next appeal to the country. With a policy which is bound to be supported by the weight of public opinion of Canada, and with a disorganized opposition which is developing conspiracies, nests of traitors and selfish interests on all sides, there can be only one possible outcome of the next campaign; and no man knew that better than the Hon. Richard McBride, when he refrained from leaping into the whirlpool of federal Tory politics.

William Lewis, colored, was nominated yesterday to be assistant attorney-general by President Taft.

SMUGGLING CHINESE.

San Diego, Cal., April 5.—Immigration officials of this station along the Pacific Coast and on the border of this country and Mexico may expect a rush of smugglers conveying contraband Chinese into this country within the next few weeks, according to reports brought to this city by the crew of the Ensenada Transportation Company's steamer San Diego.

It is said that 200 Chinese are now en route to Manila from Hongkong aboard a steamship which plies between the Orient and Mexico, bringing immigrants and opium into the southern republic. Cut off the beaten route by revolutionary conditions, the Chinese, it is believed, will endeavor to reach the United States aboard smuggling craft.

CODY MAY GO TO SENATE.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 5.—A good sized boom is on for Col. William Cody, "Buffalo Bill," to represent the new state of Arizona in the United States senate. Cody's chances have been enhanced by his action in coming out in favor of giving the ballot to the "fair sex."

"If women are good enough for mothers," argues the old scout, "they are plenty good enough to have a say as to how the government should be run."

AUTOMOBILES WILL RACE TO HAZELTON

Local Firm Donates Handsome Medal for Competition Among Motorists

To the first driver of an automobile reaching Hazelton this year Challoner & Mitchell, the well-known jewelers, will present a handsome gold medal. The contest will be conducted under the auspices of the Pacific Highway Association.

Last year a party of Los Angeles automobilists were told it was impossible to tour in the direction of the Hazelton country. It is to correct such impressions and to attract automobile owners to a country where the scenery is magnificent and the roads as good as any in British Columbia that the contest was arranged. The run will be governed by the following rules:

1. Journey to start at entrant's option from any one of the following cities—Bellingham, Blaine, Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver, Victoria.
2. No ferry to be permitted of more than one mile in distance, except that with competitors starting from Victorial the ferry journey between Vancouver Island and the Mainland will be permitted.

3. Travelling on railway cars or on any railway right of way not permitted, excepting at those direct crossings where route crosses railway right-of-ways.
4. Medal is to be awarded to either driver or owner of car, according to which registers with Pacific Highway Association for that purpose at start of tour.
5. Any car and any person shall be eligible to compete.
6. Route must be a continuous one, from the point of starting to Hazelton, with the ferry exceptions outlined under clause 2, and, excepting at ferries, must be made entirely under the car's own power.
7. A careful log of the route travelled to be kept, and a series of at least six dozen kodak or other photos to be taken along the route. A copy of this log and two prints of each photo to be turned over to Pacific Highway Association at end of tour; same to be in every way the property of the Pacific Highway Association thereafter.
8. Competitors for this medal to start whenever they please, and to take their own time.
9. The contest to be in no sense either a speed or reliability trial.
10. All other conditions of this attempt to reach Hazelton to be under direction of and at discretion of Frank M. Fretwell, Seattle secretary of the Pacific Highway Association.

STARTLING FINISH TO BASEBALL GAME

In Ninth Inning Ballard Draws Level With Islanders—Victoria Wins

The fans enjoyed the first real baseball thrill of the season yesterday afternoon when, in the ninth inning, with the score five to nothing against them, Ballard suddenly connected with Starkell's benders and after slamming out six hits circled the bases five times, thus drawing level with the professionalists.

The Islanders had all brought their gloves in and many of the visitors were preparing to leave the grounds, when Starkell, whose delivery up to this time had been very effective, apparently went up in the air. Knust and Green singled and were brought in on Knastner's three-bagger. Johnson went out on a fly to Davis, but Knastner reached home before the ball could be delivered to the catcher. Wall singled and came in on Wright's three-bagger. Then Johnson bunted safely and as Wright crossed the plate for the fifth run the fans rose and cheered themselves hoarse. One would almost have thought that Ballard was the home team and the Islanders the visitors. The spirit of chivalry for the time superseded that of loyalty, for without an exception those assembled sided with the youngsters, who were making such a plucky fight against the leaguers.

The ambitious Ballard boys were not fated to do more than tie the score, though, for a brilliant double from Riggs to Raymer to Malmes retired the side.

The Islanders saw that all fooling must be stopped if they did not want to be beaten and they came to the bat determined to cut short the triumph of the visitors on the spot. But Belford, twirling for Ballard, was on his mettle and one, two, three, Reddick, Raymer and Clementson went out.

Ballard was no more successful in the first of the tenth although one man, Green, did get a hit. Starkell had received a little advice from Householder and his spitball was seen in action for the first time. Its puzzling twist was altogether too much for the batters, the best they could do being to knock out dinky little infield grounders, which were fielded without difficulty. The last of the tenth proved the undoing of the almost winners. Parks and Malmes were put out, but Roche hit safely and when Starkell slammed out a long one to the outfield he came tearing home as if his life depended on his reaching the plate. He did it, but it was nobody's fault but the Ballard catcher's, for he had plenty of time to touch the venture—some runner had he taken a little more care.

The first seven or eight innings of the game are hardly worth mentioning. In the fourth, after a combination of errors, bunts, free bases and sacrifice hits Raymer managed to complete the circuit and in the fifth Davis started the ball rolling by taking his usual walk to first. Reddick singled to left field and the fielder instead of stopping the ball turned around and chased it almost back to the fence. In the meantime Davis came in. Raymer hooked one of Rush's outshoots into the outer garden and Reddick scored. Now Clementson did something he is not often guilty of. He fanned.

During these five sessions Ballard had not done a thing. They did occasionally get a man to first and even to second, but that was as far as it went. Narveson was pitching for Victoria and he certainly had the high sign on those batters. And when he was lifted in then last of the fifth and Starkell put in his place the battery seemed if anything a little stronger than before. Starkell is a man with a reputation and while the atch-wielders often touched the leather they could never meet it fairly. That is, of course, until the fateful ninth.

The Ballard battery had also been changed. "Butch" Belford taking the slab in place of Rush. Belford did not impress the fans as being a pitcher with much of anything, speed, control or "English," but then it must be remembered that he had a strange catcher receiving for him and Butch never does so well as when he is shooting them in to his chum, Hemmaway.

In the sixth two hits were made off him and Malmes scored. Again in the eighth two hits were made, one of them a beautiful two-bagger, which Riggs was responsible for, and Roche came in.

In summing up the game it may safely be said that up to the ninth inning it was dull, lifeless and very uninteresting. There was none of that excitement, that competition, which keeps the fan hobbling up and down in his seat or pounding his unoffending neighbor on the back. It could easily be seen that the Islanders were treating the whole affair as a joke, just a little practice for them, and consequently when the visitors rallied and equalized the score most of the spectators would have liked to see them go farther still and win. However, with a reliable twirler in the box they had improved considerably, so that the game was much more of raggedness than that of Tuesday. The detailed score was:

TWO SOUTHPAWNS ON ISLANDERS ROSTER

Kane, a Port-Side Heaver, Will Be Tried Out—Games for the Week End

The Victoria Baseball Club now boasts of two southpaws, Parks and Kane. The latter arrived on Tuesday from Port Townsend, Wash., where he had been pitching for the soldiers, and asked for a try-out on the Victoria team. Householder, knowing that Kane had a pretty fair name as a pitcher, agreed, so that it is likely the newcomer will be seen at work against one of the visiting teams this week.

Parks will not take the slab for some time, as his arm is in bad shape. In fact most of Eddie's slab artists are suffering in a greater or lesser degree with stiffness or soreness, which they cannot work off owing to the cold weather. However, Householder is sure they will have them all in shape before

EX-MAYOR IN FIGHTING MOOD

DONS HIS WAR PAINT AT VICTORIA WEST

Denounces Tactics of His Opponents as Dastardly and Blackguardly

A small audience assembled in Semple's hall, Victoria West, last evening, to hear speeches from A. J. Morley and the aldermanic candidates for Ward One, Wm. McKay Ross, George Okell and Robert Beard. The proceedings were most orderly, and each speaker got a good hearing. The ex-mayor was in a fighting mood, made a spirited defence of his policy and attacked the "interests" which he alleged had caused the new election to be ordered.

J. McMorley was voted to the chair, and performed the duties of his office most acceptably. The various speakers having taken their seats on the platform, Mr. Morley was introduced as the first to address the audience. The ex-mayor began by saying that the small attendance was in decided contrast to the large meeting he had addressed in the schoolhouse on the occasion of the general elections in January. By-elections were invariably dangerous, inasmuch as the people were likely to be apathetic, thinking the result a foregone conclusion. There was a rumor around town that the re-election of those standing for a clean city and the Sooke Lake proposition were safe. He warned his hearers not to be careless. He and his party always fought a fair fight, but they should look out for the organized forces arrayed against them.

It was the opinion of the man in the street and of the man in the business office that the government had been guilty of a dastardly attempt to defeat constitutional procedure and honest rule in civic affairs. This election would make history which in after years would cause people to be ashamed. It was not British fair play, these tactics which had been employed to encompass his defeat. He had had considerable experience in politics on the other side of the line, and he could not recall so blackguardly an attempt as the people of Victoria were experiencing to-day.

He was surprised at the apathy of the citizens. In many places people would rise in a body and go over and wreck the parliament buildings, if they found it necessary, in order to get justice. The victory for the people in January had been more complete than ever before, but apparently the "interests" were determined not to accept the voice of the people.

As far as the mayoralty contest was concerned, they must have all watched with amusement the repeated efforts that had been made to get some popular citizen to accept the nomination against himself, but none would take the plunge. At 1:30 p.m., on the day of nomination, B. J. Perry had suddenly appeared and filed the papers on behalf of Mr. Bannerman, who did not even put in an appearance. He was very glad of it, as it only emphasized who was at the back of the whole campaign.

Had it not occurred to them as strange that of those whose names were mentioned as candidates, although they would not have to bear any expenses of the campaign, not one stood openly for Sooke Lake? It was Goldstream and the old liquor interests over again, and those with an axe to grind in the opening up of the Indian reserve who were at the back of his opponents. People should know where they stand; they certainly did not stand where he stood. His present opponent had always been the most rabid advocate at the council board in favor of Goldstream, and on the day of the voting on the by-law he had circulated a

ABOUT BASEBALL

Pitcher Billy Bloomfield, who played with McCredie's coast league team last season, joined Nick Williams in the Portland training camp yesterday. Bloomfield is in fair condition.

If Pitcher Jess Baker can keep his "fox" ball travelling this season as it is breaking at the present time, the White Sox will be there, or knocking at the door, when the pennants are handed out.

Bender, Coombs, Plank, Morgan, Russell and Collamore have been picked by Connie Mack to compose the pitching staff of the Athletics.

Hans Lobert and Ward Miller, Cincinnati players, hold the sprint-to-first record, 2 2-5 seconds.

Heinie Berger predicts that in two years not a big league pitcher will be using the spit ball.

It is said that the Brooklyn club has sold twenty-two players to minor leagues for $25,000.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates is thirty-eight years of age, and the oldest man on the team.

No infielder puts the ball on the runner with the ease and sureness of Larry LaJolie.

Atlanta, Southern League, played full nine-inning game in 32 minutes, September 19, 1910.

Hans Lobert has circled the bases in 13 4-5 seconds.

In an effort to protect himself from loss of money as well as of services, Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, has had each player insured. This plan had been under consideration by Comiskey ever since Sullivan was injured in California and when Blackburn was put out of the game with a bad knee in Texas. It settled the question with the southside magnate. The insurance secured covers injury, illness or death from any cause. The policies taken out by Comiskey call for $5,000 in case of death from accident or illness. In case a player is unable to play owing to illness or accident, President Comiskey will receive $25 per week as long as the man is out of the game.

LACROSSE MEETING.

Cloverdale Will Disband—Blacklisted Men Should Seek Re-Instatement.

At a meeting of the Victoria Lacrosse Association held last night in the Victoria Sporting Goods store it was definitely settled that Cloverdale would disband this year and the members join either the Victoria West or North Ward clubs.

This does not necessarily mean that there will be only two teams in the senior lacrosse league, although such will in all probability be the case, as the entries for the three leagues will not close until the 19th instant. It is rumored that Oak Bay will enter a senior team, but this is very improbable.

It was pointed out to the eight or nine lacrosse players who are under the ban of the amateur union that they should personally apply for reinstatement at the meeting of the B. C. A. A. U. to-morrow night.

It was decided at the meeting that the team representing Victoria this year would wear blue uniforms decorated with a white winged V.

SAANICH COUNCIL
REGULAR MEETING

Sub-Division Plans—The Wild Beast By-Law Attacked—Access to Property

The regular statutory meeting of the Saanich council was held on Saturday afternoon, in the Gianford council chambers. The rush for acceptance of subdivision plans continues unabated, nine being presented, of which six were endorsed and three sent back for amendment.

An important subdivision is that belonging to Cuyler Holland, of the B.C. Land & Investment Co., Ltd., overlooking the Gorge. A narrow strip between the road and the waterfront would, if deeded to the municipality, be a great benefit to the public as it is situated opposite the B.C. Electric park. There is no provision of this kind shown on the blue-print, but a narrow lane to the waterfront is shown. The council wants one of the streets opened through to the high water mark, and returned the plan for this purpose.

James George French gave notice that within ten days he will apply for a writ to quash the by-law regulating the keeping of wild beasts in captivity. His address will be with Hon. A. E. McPhillips, solicitor, Victoria. This matter was handed over to Mr. Aikman, the municipal legal adviser, with power to secure further legal aid if necessary.

W. H. Worswick, for the Mount Tomlin Sand & Gravel Co., intimated that they intend to use the rock at Mount of Section 31, lot 4, Victoria District, on Burnside road was accepted.

A plan was submitted subdividing part of the Westwood farm, block P, section 103, into two and a quarter acre lots, facing on Prospect road, and through which the proposed car line will go. It was accepted.

Another plan of block E, Cloverdale, showing lots 100 x 120 feet, was also accepted, as was a small subdivision on corner of Carey road and Lake road, lots 4, 5, and 6, section 9, Victoria District.

Retracings were submitted by R. Boggs, with agreement from C. M. McDonald, to make 66-foot street in piece of a lane in section 23, lots 4 and 6, just in rear of the late Capt. Elliott's estate. This was accepted.

J. A. Aikman advised the council that powers given under section 58, Municipal Classes Act, were subject to the procedure clause 256, and that the council had power to pass by-laws within the meaning of 256.

J. P. Proctor, 1301 Robson street, Vancouver, wanted road access to his property on Cadboro Bay, as he intended to erect a dwelling there. On examination of the plan of this district it was found that a former council, on request of F. E. Pemberton and others without access to their property, and asked the council to provide same. They were informed that the council does not assume responsibility to purchase a right of way to or from any property, but should the owners do so, they will take it over and attend to its upkeep.

A petition from Mr. Mitchell and eleven other residents of Hillier road, Cadboro Bay, asking that it be improved, was received, and a sum ordered to be placed in the estimates for this purpose.

Supt. Pim reported that Mr. McAnally, who intends to build at Cadboro Bay, could have a temporary road made by expending $100. The council decided to undertake this work provided Mr. McAnally pay half the cost. The finance committee reported favorably on accounts to the amount of $287.30. The report was adopted and bills ordered paid.

H. Little reported that he inspected Goodacre's slaughter house and ordered some repairs to the drainage, which were made, also that some Chinese shacks on Burnside road were in an unsanitary condition. The report was adopted, and Dr. Nelson will be asked to report on the shacks, complained of, and suggest a means to cleanse them.

The special committee on the purchase of a traction engine reported that they intend purchasing a twenty horse power machine, at an estimated cost of $2,250. The report was adopted.

A committee consisting of Coun. Grant, Sewell and Hobbs were appointed to revise the council's by-laws, after which an adjournment was reached.

PRINCE RUPERT WATER SYSTEM

City Engineer Submits Plans Calling for Expenditure of $480,110

Prince Rupert, April 5.—The water report, as submitted by City Engineer Davis, sets forth that in designing a system it is necessary to provide now for a population which will probably reach 20,000 in five years.

It is proposed to provide for a water supply, the source being Woodworth lake, of 4,500,000 gallons per 24 hours to be brought to the city by gravitation in a 24-inch pipe. The location chosen for the dam is in the creek near the west end of Woodworth lake.

Plans for the reservoir on Acropolis hill, which has a capacity of approximately 1,000,000 gallons, have been made, and the greater part of the excavation has been made.

The distribution system has been planned with the primary object of furnishing adequate fire protection, and meeting conditions as described.

The estimated total cost of the water system is placed at $480,110.

The estimate is sufficiently liberal to provide for all expenses incidental to the undertaking.

QUIET MARKETS THE FEATURE IN MARCH

Canadian Pacific Keeps Its Strength in London and New York

W. Stevenson & Co.'s monthly review of the stock market has this to say of the markets during March:

The strength of Canadian Pacific, both in London and New York, has been the main feature of the month. The stock has advanced steadily, a point or two a day, with only temporary setbacks, until the high point of 22 1/4 has been reached, and 250 is predicted for the stock within the year.

Much of the buying power has been credited to Canadian investors, and within the past few days large buying orders, said to be for people in Germany, have been placed both in Montreal and New York.

The feeling is prevalent, both in New York and abroad, that the present dullness will continue for the next fortnight, when it is hoped the Supreme Court decisions will bring activity one way or the other.

Nevertheless, any bull demonstration is likely to be short lived because of the extra session of congress.

The money situation in London continues strong, and as high as 3 1/2 per cent, was paid for loans. Inquiry for money is due to the calling of loans by joint stock banks to swell their quarterly balances, and conditions should be easier after this date.

The bull pool in United States Rubber common has resumed its activity, and as a consequence the recent report of a dividend equivalent to 6 per cent per annum, to be declared on the common stock, has been received.

Whether there is any basis of fact behind this report or not is a question. Nevertheless, it is sufficient to move the price of the stock up sharply. It will be recalled that this stock broke sharply a short time ago from 45, on the failure of similar reports to materialize.

The New York Traction, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Interborough Metropolitan have been advanced by insiders on the report that something favorable to both companies is to be announced soon, but no one seems to have a hint as to what this looked-for development is.

The market, however, seems to have many ear-marks of pool manipulation. One evidence of this is the number of rumors similar to those concerning Rubber and the New York Traction.

A canvass of the most active houses in Wall street shows they are carrying about 40 per cent, less stock than under normal conditions, and most of them express the opinion that no amount of bad news can apparently shake out the remaining holders.

It is this absence of any further liquidation that has been trying out the bears, thus preventing a sharp selling. About 100,000 shares of ten traders seem to be waiting for a break on the coming Supreme Court decisions in the big trust cases, to get back their stocks.

In the Boston copper market copper prices are unchanged, but the tone of the market is slightly firmer. Lake is 12 1/2 to 13 cents and electrolytic 12 1/2 to 13 cents per pound.

Some leading students of the situation are beginning to ask themselves if a world's visible surplus of 340,000,000 pounds is a particularly bearish factor, in view of the fact that there are practically no invisible supplies in the bins of consumers.

If the latter were to purchase and accumulate normal stocks of the metal the world's visible supply would probably be reduced thereby to not much over 150,000,000 pounds.

In the local market, owing to lack of supporting orders in the oil stocks, these issues have lost ground materially during the past month.

American Canadian, which sold as high as 5 1/2 last month, is now being sold around 2 1/2, and Alberta Canadian at 1 1/2. Without all these shares are worth about 1/2, and in our opinion this is about their value.

In our market letter of last month we advised taking profits around the then high prices. If this course has been followed, those having faith in the properties can now replace their stock at a much better figure.

Portland Canal issues have been quiet, with ruling quotations but little changed during the past month, with current prices for Portlands 12 1/2 and Red Cliff 1 1/2.

The latter we believe to be entirely too high. Fifty cents per share for Red Cliff would mean a mine value of 450,000, which we believe is more than anyone would give for the property.

Our advice is to sell these shares. Portland Canal itself, at present prices, we believe, presents a fair speculative value, as in the event of the company financing its present needs, the shares should do materially better.

The threatened coal miners' strike has exerted a bearish influence on the coal stocks. International Coal & Coke, at these prices, or on any further break, we believe to be a good purchase.

FARM TRAIN IN KOOTENAY TOWNS

PROFESSORS LECTURE WITH DEMONSTRATIONS

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Tells of American Educational Invasion in B. C.

W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, has returned from accompanying the State College of Washington demonstration train through the Kootenay country, and is imbued with the advantages to the province for such an institution being established by the provincial government.

The train consisted of nine coaches, all those set aside for demonstrations, and the professors accompanying the expedition gave their lectures from the open cars, demonstrating their skills on the subjects in the cars. In the first car were cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry.

The fourth car was filled with poultry houses, birds of different breeds, and incubators, and one of the professors demonstrated on food mixtures and egg preservatives. The Babcock tester was in the dairy car, and many makes of separators. Models were shown of hygienic barns, cattle sheds, and milk houses; and rations were balanced in quantities so the farmers could learn, at a glance almost, the scientific methods of to-day.

In the sixth car were the domestic scientific teachers, five women, who gave the farmers' wives practical demonstrations on the hygiene of the home, cooking and sewing. In fact, every department of the farming home was advised on, and the car was equipped with labor-saving devices.

The party which Mr. Scott conducted through the Kootenays consisted of the following: Professor R. W. Thatcher, the director of the State College's experimental station, and director of the provincial agriculture at Pullman Agricultural College; R. C. Ashby, state superintendent of Farmers' Institutes; Prof. A. K. Veattie, professor of botany to the college; Prof. O. M. Morris (horticulture); Prof. Elton Fulmer (the eminent state chemist); A. B. Nystrom (demonstrator in dairying at the P. A. C.); H. L. Blanchard (asst. superintendent of the Puyallup experimental station); Miss Gertrude Mackay (chief of the domestic service department); Mrs. R. C. Ashby and Mrs. A. E. Egger (the asst. heads of the domestic service department of the college); and W. D. Foster (superintendent of the college farm). This demonstration party were accompanied, apart from the deputy minister of agriculture (Mr. Scott), by R. C. Morgan (superintendent of the Marcus division of the G. N. R.), W. A. Ross (asst. general passenger agent, G. N. R.), Mr. Schnler (district travelling passenger agent), J. C. Kistler (district freight agent), J. C. Maher (freight agent), and W. H. Fortier (travelling auditor of the G. N. R.).

The deputy minister speaks in glowing terms of the optimism throughout the Kootenays. He prophesies a large fruit crop this year, and while away selected the site of the governmental experimental orchard in the Lower Nicola valley. He says there are some fine buildings up the country throughout the Kootenays, and that much good was done by the demonstration train among these.

There were many banquets en route to the members of the party, and Mr. Scott made introductory addresses at all stops and spoke at Northport on the work of the British Columbia Farmers' Institutes.

SEVERAL PERSONS PERISH IN STORM

Number of Negroes Killed and Injured—Many Buildings Are Demolished

Montgomery, Ala., April 6.—Tuesday storm which swept Alabama generally, did not pass without its toll of death. Late reports show several dead and injured and heavy property damage.

A tornado passed about two miles east of Pine Hill at four Tuesday afternoon, killing several negroes and severely injuring others. A negro church and school were completely demolished, and scores of negroes who had taken refuge in each were injured. Two negro girls were instantly killed by falling timber.

CRAIG LIPPINCOTT ENDS HIS LIFE

President of Philadelphia Publishing Company Commits Suicide

Philadelphia, Pa., April 6.—Craig Lippincott, head of the publishing company of J. B. Lippincott Company, and prominent in financial and social life of the city, shot and killed himself early to-day in his magnificent home at 218 West Rittenhouse square.

The cause that led Mr. Lippincott to end his life is not known definitely. An authorized statement given out by an officer of the publishing company says that he killed himself during a period of temporary mental aberration.

A sworn statement by Lippincott's son states that his father always kept a loaded revolver in his room, and that the least bit of noise he heard he would get his revolver. It was the son's opinion his father heard some noise and went and got the revolver, and in some way it was discharged by accident.

The deputy coroner, Charles McKeever, informed the newspaper men that Mr. Lippincott died some time between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning, having been found on the floor of his bedroom by his valet, Oscar Stewart, who went to the apartments to shave him.

Detectives Lake and Wood, who were assigned to the case, after several hours' investigation, reported to Coroner Ford at 12.30 p.m. that without doubt Mr. Lippincott committed suicide. They reported that they did not know why he took his life.

The first information the coroner had of a death in the Lippincott residence was at 8.30 this morning when someone called on the telephone and said there had been a suicide at 218 West Rittenhouse square, and asking that a deputy be sent to the house at once. McKeever was sent and remained in the house some time. There he learned that Dr. James S. Wilson had been called to the house before the coroner had been notified. Stewart, the valet, McKeever said, found Lippincott at 8 o'clock. He was lying half dressed on the floor. There was a bullet wound in his right temple and near him lay a revolver.

Mr. Lippincott's death caused a sensation in financial and social circles. Mr. Lippincott was born in this city on November 4, 1846, and was the son of Joshua Ballinger Lippincott and Josephine Craig Lippincott. In 1881 he married Miss Sallie E. Bucknell, of this city. In 1896 Mr. Lippincott succeeded his father as president of the publishing house of J. B. Lippincott & Co. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Samuel K. Reeves, a son, Jay B. Lippincott, and a brother, J. Bertram Lippincott.

FOR AND AGAINST FEMALE SUFFRAGE

British Novelists Give Interesting Replies to Four Questions

The case for and against women's suffrage, its parliamentary prospects, militancy and the alternative, has been issued by Frank Palmer in the form of replies by a number of well-known publicists, novelists and others to a series of questions. The questions were:

1. (a) What in your opinion is the most powerful argument for or (b) against women's suffrage?
2. Is there any reasonable prospect of obtaining women's suffrage in the present parliament, and this immediately?
3. Have the militant methods, in your opinion, failed or succeeded?
4. What alternative methods would you suggest?

As the accused in the inquiry, the leaders of the suffragist movement were not asked to contribute, but it is suggested that they may find opportunities of replying to their hostile critics. Of these—the most unpromising is, as might be expected, Mr. Belfort Bax, whose two arguments against the suffrage are:

1. The liability of women to hysteria in one or other of the various forms of that abnormal mental condition, a condition which notoriously impairs or destroys the power of judgment.
2. The exceptionally privileged position of women, socially and in the eyes of the law, even apart from any other consideration, gives them no just claim to equality of claims with men in the matter of political rights.

Some of the answers are very pithy, that there is little "dances" as things at present stand, of female suffrage becoming law in the lifetime of the present parliament. His alternative description of "militant methods" is "street hooliganism"; and he suggests constitutional agitation to the advocates of women's suffrage.

Some of the answers are very prolix, but the palm for the shortest must be given to Mr. Hilaire Belloc, which is worth transcribing:

1. (a) Fun (b) Sex. 2. Yes.
2. Yes.

The answers of Mr. Arnold Bennett, the novelist, may be summarized thus: "The most powerful argument for women's suffrage is the fact that women want it."

There is no reasonable prospect of obtaining women's suffrage in the present parliament. Militant methods have succeeded so far.

I can suggest no alternative to militant methods. Mr. William de Morgan, another novelist, writes in answer to the first question:

No argument has hitherto been advanced against the enfranchisement of women that is not an equally strong one for the disfranchisement of men.

Mr. Eden Phillpotts writes: "Women's suffrage is hardly a certainty at any distant date."

Mr. W. T. Stead sends an interesting categorical reply:

1. That women are believed to possess immortal souls.
2. Not immediately, but possibly in three years.

They succeeded in compelling attention, but the breach having been made in the fortress other methods should now be employed.

4. The method of going baldheaded for the candidate who opposes it.

The novelists who have contributed to this interesting booklet are all strongly on the side of woman's suffrage. Mr. H. G. Wells writes:

Endless arguments for; the most powerful against is the assertion that women, under the excitement of discussion, become monomaniacs more readily than men, based chiefly on the militant campaign.

Mr. Richard Whiting: "I know of nothing valid against women's suffrage."

Mr. Israel Zangwill: "The most powerful argument for women's suffrage is that all the ablest women demand it, with the exception of those who selfishly feel that they already possess its equivalent."

There are, altogether, 79 replies in the booklet, and they make most interesting reading.
