THE SPENCERIAN SYSTEM OF PENMANSHIP.

The Spencerian Penmanship was first published in 1848, and has maintained from the first a standard position. It claims to be more practical, more thorough, and more original than any other system of writing published, and especially commends itself over other systems as superior in its simple and easily comprehended Analysis and Method; in its systematically and progressively arranged Copies; in the beauty and simplicity of its Style; in its plan of Ruling, whereby correct slanting and proper spacing are obtained; and in its Movement Exercises, which readily enable the pupil to become a rapid and easy writer.

The Spencerian is the accredited source from which the best penmen of the country have derived their knowledge and skill in the art of writing. It is used in more Normal Schools and Business Colleges than all other systems combined; and it is more generally used throughout the United States and Canada, than any other system.

A fair evidence of the originality and superiority of the Spencerian System may be inferred from the fact that several copy-book makers have imitated many of its prominent characteristics, and claim these as the chief excellencies of their books. One of the "Authors" of a rival Series of Copy-Books, unlike many of our competitors with less merit, frankly acknowledges his indebtedness when he says: "It is too late in the day to popularize any style of Penmanship not founded on the Spencerian Model."

A SHORT COURSE IN ASTRONOMY.

BY HENRY KIDDLE, A. M.,

Superintendent of Schools, New York City, Author of "New Elementary Astronomy."

One vol. cloth, Fully Illustrated, 180 pages. Price 90 cents. By mail on receipt of price.

The design of this work is to supply a brief course of lessons in Astronomy for the use of young pupils, or of those whose time and opportunities do not permit a more exhaustive study of the subject. It is based on the author's "New Manual of the Elements of Astronomy," but the treatment has been simplified, and in other respects adapted to a work of a lower grade.

The objective plan of instruction has been followed, as far as it is applicable to the subject, the pupil's attention being constantly directed to the phenomena presented to his own observation, and the reasoning made to proceed directly from them.

Throughout the work, the arrangement has been adapted to the topical method of recitation—so desirable, as far as practicable, in every branch of study, in order to train the pupil in habits of connected and logical statement.

An Astronomical Index has been appended, which will be found very useful and convenient in affording a brief summary of definitions for final review. Problems for the Globes have been inserted in connection with those parts of the work to which they refer, so as to impress more clearly upon the pupil's mind the principles involved in their operation.

It is to be hoped that this little work, presenting as it does, in a simplified and condensed form, the fundamental principles and most interesting facts of Astronomy, will be useful in inducing a more general study of this sublime and ennobling science, in the public and private seminaries of our State and country, from which it is too often excluded to make way for subjects of far less value, both in respect to intellectual discipline and practical information.
