The governor shall include in the executive budget recommendation for each state agency or institution participating in the state facility energy improvement program an estimate of the annual energy cost-savings expected for that agency, and, if needed, a projection of the debt service on program bonds that is apportioned to that agency. The executive budget recommendation must then reduce the current level of utility appropriations by the amount needed for debt service retirement and recommend an appropriation of that amount to the state building authority. Any appropriation of an amount needed for debt service retirement to the state building authority is not subject to the limitation contained in section 54-17.2-23.

defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter effective the first day of the payroll immediately following the date of the election; and waives all of that person's rights to a pension, an annuity, a retirement allowance, insurance benefit, or any other benefit under the public employees retirement system effective the last day of the payroll that includes the date of the election. This section does not affect any right to health benefits or retiree health benefits to which the deferred member may otherwise be entitled.

3. An employee who elects to participate in the retirement plan established under this chapter must remain a participant even if that employee returns to the classified service.
4. After consultation with its actuary, the board shall determine the method by which a participating member or deferred member may make a written election under this section. If the participating member or deferred member is married at the time of the election, the election is not effective unless the election is signed by the individual's spouse. However, the board may waive this requirement if the spouse's signature cannot be obtained because of extenuating circumstances.
5. If the board receives notification from the internal revenue service that this section or any portion of this section will cause the public employees retirement system or the retirement plan established under this chapter to be disqualified for tax purposes under the internal revenue code, then the portion that will cause the disqualification does not apply.

54-52.6-03. Transfer of accumulated fund balances. For an individual who elects to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52, the board shall transfer a lump sum amount from the retirement fund to the participating member's account in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter. However, if the individual terminates employment prior to receiving the lump sum transfer under this section, the election made under section 54-52.6-02 is ineffective and the individual remains a member of the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52 and retains all the rights and benefits provided under that chapter. The board shall calculate the amount to be transferred for employees electing to transfer prior to January 1, 2000, using the two following formulas, and shall transfer the greater of the two amounts obtained:

1. The actuarial present value of the individual's accumulated benefit obligation under the public employees retirement system based on the assumption that the individual will retire under the earliest applicable normal retirement age, plus interest from January 1, 2000, to the date of transfer, at the rate of one-half of one percent less than the actuarial interest assumption at the time of the election; or
2. The actual employer and employee contributions made pursuant to sections 54-52-05 and 54-52-06, plus interest at the rate of one-half of one percent less than the actuarial interest assumption at the time of the election.

The board shall calculate the amount to be transferred for persons employed after December 31, 1999, using only the formula contained in subsection 2.

54-52.6-04. Administration. The board shall administer the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter and the board or vendors contracted for by the board shall invest the assets of the plan. The board is the fiduciary and the trustee of the plan. The board has the exclusive authority and responsibility to employ or contract with personnel and for services that the board determines necessary for the proper administration of and investment of assets of the plan, including managerial, professional, legal, clerical, technical, and administrative personnel or services.

54-52.6-05. Direction of investments. Each participating member shall direct the investment of the individual's accumulated employer and employee contributions and earnings to one or more investment choices within available categories of investment provided by the board.

54-52.6-06. Administrative expenses - Continuing appropriation. The administrative expenses of the plan must be paid by the participating members in a manner determined by the board. The board or vendors contracted for by the board may charge reasonable administrative expenses and deduct those expenses from a participating member's account in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter. The board shall place any money deducted in an administrative expenses account with the state treasurer. The board may also use funds from the payroll clearing account established pursuant to section 54-52.3-03 to pay for consulting expenses. All moneys in the payroll clearing account, not otherwise appropriated, or so much of the moneys as may be necessary, are appropriated to the board on a continuing basis for the purpose of retaining a consultant as required for the administration of this chapter.

54-52.6-07. Participation in other plans. A participating member may not participate in any other public sector retirement benefits plan for simultaneous service rendered to the same public sector employer. However, this section does not prohibit a participating member from participating in a retirement plan established by this state or other public sector employer under the federal Internal Revenue Code.

54-52.6-08. Credit of transfers. The board shall promptly credit the plan account of a participating member who makes an election under this chapter to terminate membership in the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52 with any amount transferred from the public employees retirement system.

54-52.6-09. Contributions - Penalty.

1. Each participating member shall contribute monthly four percent of the monthly salary or wage paid to the participant, and this assessment must be deducted from the participant's salary in equal monthly installments commencing with the first month of participation in the defined contribution retirement plan established under this chapter.
2. The employer shall contribute an amount equal to four and twelve hundredths percent of the monthly salary or wage of a participating member. If the employee's contribution is paid by the employer under subsection 3, the employer shall contribute, in addition, an amount equal to the required employee's contribution. The employer shall pay monthly such contribution into the participating member's account from its funds appropriated for payroll and salary or any other funds available for such purposes. If the employer fails to pay the contributions monthly, it is subject to a civil penalty of fifty dollars and, as interest, one percent of the amount due for each month of delay or fraction thereof after the payment became due.

3. Each employer, at its option, may pay the employee contributions required by this section for all compensation earned after December 31, 1999. The amount paid must be paid by the employer in lieu of contributions by the employee. If the employer decides not to pay the contributions, the amount that would have been paid will continue to be deducted from the employee's compensation. If contributions are paid by the employer, they must be treated as employer contributions in determining tax treatment under this code and the federal Internal Revenue Code. Contributions paid by the employer may not be included as gross income of the employee in determining tax treatment under this code and the federal Internal Revenue Code until they are distributed or made available. The employer shall pay these employee contributions from the same source of funds used in paying compensation to the employee. The employer shall pay these contributions by effecting an equal cash reduction in the gross salary of the employee or by an offset against future salary increases or by a combination of a reduction in gross salary and offset against future salary increases. Employee contributions paid by the employer must be treated for the purposes of this chapter in the same manner and to the same extent as employee contributions made before the date on which employee contributions were assumed by the employer. An employer shall exercise its option under this subsection by December 1, 1999, and shall report its choice to the board in writing. The option chosen may not be revoked for the remainder of the biennium. Thereafter, the option choice must be forwarded to the board, in writing, by June fifteenth of each odd-numbered year.

54-52.6-10. Vesting. A participating member is immediately one hundred percent vested in that member's contributions made to that member's account under this chapter. A participating member vests in the employer contributions made on that member's behalf to an account under this chapter according to the following schedule:

1. Upon completion of two years of service, fifty percent.
2. Upon completion of three years of service, seventy-five percent.
3. Upon completion of four years of service, one hundred percent.

A participating member who was a member or deferred member of the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52 who makes an election to participate in the defined contribution retirement plan pursuant to this chapter, must be credited with the years of service accrued under the public employees retirement system on the effective date of participation in the defined contribution retirement plan for the purpose of meeting vesting requirements for benefits under this section. Any forfeiture as a result of the failure of a participating member to vest in the employer contribution must be deposited in the administrative expenses account.

54-52.6-11. Refund beneficiaries. A participating or former participating member may nominate one or more individuals as a refund beneficiary by filing written notice of nomination with the board. If the participating member or former participating member is married at the time of the nomination and the participant's spouse is not the refund beneficiary for one hundred percent of the account, the nomination is not effective unless the nomination is signed by the participant's spouse. However, the board may waive this requirement if the spouse's signature cannot be obtained because of extenuating circumstances.

54-52.6-12. Qualified domestic relations orders.

1. The board or a vendor contracted for by the board shall apportion a participating member's account in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter in accordance with the applicable requirements of any qualified domestic relations order. The board shall review a domestic relations order submitted to it to determine if the domestic relations order is qualified under this section and under rules adopted by the board for determining the qualified status of domestic relations orders, administering distributions, and apportioning accounts under the qualified orders. Upon determination of the domestic relations order as qualified, the board shall notify the participating member, the named alternate payee, and the vendor, if applicable, of its receipt of the qualified domestic relations order.
2. A "qualified domestic relations order" for purposes of this section means any judgment, decree, or order, including approval of a property settlement agreement, which relates to the provision of child support, spousal support, or marital property rights to a spouse, former spouse, child, or other dependent of a participating member, is made pursuant to a North Dakota domestic relations law, which creates or recognizes the existence of an alternate payee's right to, or assigns to an alternate payee the right to, receive all or a part of a participating member's account in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter. A qualified domestic relations order may not require the board to provide any type or form of benefit, or any option, not otherwise allowed under this chapter. However, a qualified domestic relations order may require distribution from an account in the defined contribution retirement plan under this chapter notwithstanding that the participating member has not terminated eligible employment. A qualified domestic relations order must specify:
 - a. The name and last known mailing address of the participating member and the name of the mailing address of each alternate payee covered by the order;
 - b. The amount or percentage of the participating member's account to be paid to each alternate payee;
 - c. The number of payments or period to which the order applies; and
 - d. Each retirement plan to which the order applies.

54-52.6-13. Distributions.

1. A participating member is eligible to receive distribution of that person's accumulated balance in the plan upon becoming a former participating member.
2. Upon the death of a participating member or former participating member, the accumulated balance of that deceased participant is considered to belong to the refund beneficiary, if any, of that deceased participant. If a valid nomination of refund beneficiary is not on file with the board, the board, in a lump sum distribution, shall distribute the accumulated balance to a legal representative, if any, of the deceased participant or, if there is no legal representative, to the deceased participant's estate.

3. A deferred member or refund beneficiary may elect one or a combination of several of the following methods of distribution of the accumulated balance:
 - a. A lump sum distribution to the recipient.
 - b. A lump sum direct rollover to another qualified plan, to the extent allowed by federal law.
 - c. Periodic distributions, as authorized by the board.
 - d. No current distribution, in which case the accumulated balance must remain in the plan until the deferred member or refund beneficiary elects a method or methods of distribution under this section, to the extent allowed by federal law.

54-52.6-14. Disability benefits. The board shall provide a procedure whereby a participating member may use a portion of that person's account contributions under this chapter to purchase disability insurance.

54-52.6-15. Board to provide information. The board shall provide information to employees who are eligible to elect to become participating members under this chapter. The information must include at a minimum the employee's current account balance, the assumption of investment risk under a defined contribution retirement plan, administrative and investment costs, coordination of benefits information, and a comparison of projected retirement benefits under the public employees retirement system under chapter 54-52 and the retirement plan established under this chapter. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board is not liable for any election or investment decision made by an employee based upon information provided to an employee under this chapter.

54-52.6-16. State income tax deductions. For the purposes of state income tax, the assessment imposed by this chapter on the employee must be treated in accordance with existing state statutes on state income tax.

54-52.6-17. Exemption from state premium tax. Premiums, consideration for annuities, and membership fees are exempt from premium taxes payable pursuant to section 26.1-03-17.

54-52.6-18. Savings clause. If the board determines that any section of this chapter does not comply with applicable federal statutes or rules, the board shall adopt appropriate terminology with respect to that section as will comply with those federal statutes or rules. Any plan modifications made by the board pursuant to this section are effective until the effective date of any measure enacted by the legislative assembly providing the necessary amendments to this chapter to ensure compliance with the federal statutes or rules.

54-52.6-19. Overpayments. The board has the right of setoff to recover overpayments made under this chapter and to satisfy any claims arising from embezzlement or fraud committed by a participating member, deferred member, refund beneficiary, or other person who has a claim to a distribution or any other benefit from a plan governed by this chapter.

54-52.6-20. Correction of records. The board shall correct errors in the records and actions in plans under this chapter and shall seek to recover overpayments and shall seek to collect underpayments.

SECTION 6. APPROPRIATION. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the administrative expense account under section 54-52.6-06 and the payroll clearing account under section 54-52.3-03, in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $197,000, or so much of the sum as may be necessary, to the public employees retirement system board for the purpose of administering this chapter, including consulting expenses, for the biennium beginning July 1, 1999, and ending June 30, 2001. The public employees retirement system board is authorized one additional full-time equivalent position to implement this Act.

SECTION 14. Information technology operating account. The department shall establish a state information technology operating account in the state treasury to be used, in accordance with legislative appropriation, for procuring and maintaining information technology, network services, and central microfilm unit equipment and supplies, and for providing information technology, network services, and central microfilm unit services to state entities and network services to users of the state network. The department is subject to the same restrictions and penalties regarding the dissemination of this information as the entity involved. Except for a request for access authorized by section 54-10-22.1, the department shall refer a request for access to or inspection of information provided by an agency to that agency for response. Referral to the agency satisfies any responsibility of the department to provide that information under open records requirements. BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

³¹¹ SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 57-02-27.2 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-02-27.2. Valuation and assessment of agricultural lands.

1. "True and full value" of agricultural lands must be their agricultural value for the purposes of sections 57-02-27, 57-02-27.1, 57-02-27.2, and 57-55-04. Agricultural value is defined as the "capitalized average annual gross return", except for inundated agricultural land. The "annual gross return" must be determined from crop share rent, cash rent, or a combination thereof reduced by estimated property taxes and crop marketing expenses incurred by farmland owners renting their lands on a cash or crop share basis.
2. For purposes of this section, "annual gross return" for cropland used for growing crops other than sugar beets and potatoes means thirty percent of annual gross income produced, "annual gross return" for cropland used for growing sugar beets and potatoes means twenty percent of annual gross income produced, and "annual gross return" for land used for grazing farm animals means twenty-five percent of an amount determined by the agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university to represent the annual gross income potential of the land based upon the animal unit carrying capacity of the land.
3. The "average annual gross return" for each county must be determined as follows:
 - a. For taxable year 1998, total the annual gross returns for the most recent eight years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the eight. For taxable year 1999, total the annual gross returns for the nine years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the nine. For taxable year 2000 and thereafter, total the annual gross returns for the ten years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the ten.

2. b. For taxable year 1998, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision a~~ by six. For taxable year 1999, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision a~~ by seven. For taxable year 2000 and thereafter, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision a~~ by eight.
4. To find the "capitalized average annual gross return", the average annual gross return must be capitalized by a rate that is a ten-year average of the gross federal land bank mortgage rate of interest for North Dakota. The ten-year average must be computed from the twelve years ending with the most recent year used in ~~subsection 4~~ under subdivision a of subsection 3, discarding the highest and lowest years, and the gross federal land bank mortgage rate of interest for each year must be determined in the manner provided in section 20.2032A-4(e)(1) of the United States treasury department regulations for valuing farm real property for federal estate tax purposes, except that the interest rate may not be adjusted as provided in paragraph (e)(2) of section 20.2032A-4.
5. The agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university shall compute annually an estimate of the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] of agricultural lands on a statewide and on a countywide basis;_i shall compute the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] for cropland and_i noncropland, ~~which is and inundated~~ agricultural land; for each county;_i and shall provide the tax commissioner with this information by December first of each year. Fifty percent of the annual gross income from irrigated cropland must be considered additional expense of production and may not be included in computation of the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] for cropland for the county as determined by the agricultural economics department. Before January first of each year, the tax commissioner shall provide to each county director of tax equalization these estimates of agricultural value for each county.
6. For purposes of this section, "inundated agricultural land" means property classified as agricultural property which is inundated to an extent making it unsuitable for growing crops or grazing farm animals for a full growing season or more. Before all or part of a parcel of property may be classified as inundated agricultural land, the board of county commissioners must approve that classification for that property for the taxable year. The agricultural value of inundated agricultural lands for purposes of this section must be determined by the agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university to be ten percent of the average agricultural value of noncropland for the county as determined under this section. Valuation of individual parcels of inundated agricultural land may recognize the probability that the property will be suitable for agricultural production as cropland or for grazing farm animals in the future.
7. Before February first of each year, the county director of tax equalization in each county shall provide to all assessors within the county an estimate of the average agricultural value of agricultural lands within each assessment district. The estimate must be based upon the average agricultural value for the county adjusted by the relative values of lands within each assessment district compared to the county average. In determining the relative value of lands for each assessment district compared to the county average, the county director of tax equalization, wherever possible, shall use soil type and soil classification data from detailed and general soil surveys. Where such data cannot be used, the county director of tax equalization shall use whatever previous assessment data is best suited to the purpose.

8. Each local assessor shall determine the relative value of each assessment parcel within the assessor's jurisdiction and shall determine the agricultural value of each assessment parcel by adjusting the agricultural value estimate for the assessment district by the relative value of the parcel. Each parcel must then be assessed according to section 57-02-27. If either a local assessor or a township board of equalization develops an agricultural value for the lands in its assessment district differing substantially from the estimate provided by the county director of tax equalization, written evidence to support the change must be provided to the county director of tax equalization.

SENATE BILL NO. 2054

(Taxation Committee)

ASSESSMENT OF AGRICULTURAL LAND

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 57-02-27.2 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to inclusion of a production cost factor in the formula for valuation and assessment of agricultural land for property tax purposes; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

³¹² SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 57-02-27.2 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-02-27.2. Valuation and assessment of agricultural lands.

1. "True and full value" of agricultural lands must be their agricultural value for the purposes of sections 57-02-27, 57-02-27.1, 57-02-27.2, and 57-55-04. Agricultural value is defined as the "capitalized average annual gross return". The "annual gross return" must be determined from crop share rent, cash rent, or a combination thereof reduced by estimated property taxes and crop marketing expenses incurred by farmland owners renting their lands on a cash or crop share basis.
2. For purposes of this section, "annual gross return" for cropland used for growing crops other than sugar beets and potatoes means thirty percent of annual gross income produced, "annual gross return" for cropland used for growing sugar beets and potatoes means twenty percent of annual gross income produced, and "annual gross return" for land used for grazing farm animals means twenty-five percent of an amount determined by the agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university to represent the annual gross income potential of the land based upon the animal unit carrying capacity of the land.
3. The "average annual gross return" for each county must be determined as follows:
 - a. ~~For taxable year 1998, total the annual gross returns for the most recent eight years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the eight.~~ For taxable year 1999, total the annual gross returns for the nine years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the nine. For taxable year 2000 and thereafter, total the annual gross returns for the ten years immediately preceding the current year for which data is available and discard the highest and lowest annual gross returns of the ten.

- b. The agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university shall establish a base year index of prices paid by farmers using annual statistics on that topic compiled by the national agricultural statistics service for the seven-year period ending in 1995, discarding the highest and lowest years' indexes, and averaging the remaining five years' indexes. For taxable year 1999, the agricultural economics department shall gather the national agricultural statistics service annual index of prices paid by farmers for the nine years ending with the most recent year used under subdivision a, discard the highest and lowest years' indexes, average the remaining seven years' indexes, and divide the resulting amount by the base year index of prices paid by farmers. For taxable year 2000 and thereafter, the agricultural economics department shall gather the national agricultural statistics service annual index of prices paid by farmers for the ten years ending with the most recent year used under subdivision a, discard the highest and lowest years' indexes, average the remaining eight years' indexes, and divide the resulting amount by the base year index of prices paid by farmers. This amount must be divided into the amount determined under subdivision a.
- ~~2.~~ c. For taxable year 1998, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision b~~ by six. For taxable year 1999, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision b~~ by seven. For taxable year 2000 and thereafter, divide the figure arrived at in ~~subsection 4 subdivision b~~ by eight.
4. To find the "capitalized average annual gross return", the average annual gross return must be capitalized by a rate that is a ten-year average of the gross federal land bank mortgage rate of interest for North Dakota. The ten-year average must be computed from the twelve years ending with the most recent year used ~~in subsection 4~~ under subdivision a of subsection 3, discarding the highest and lowest years, and the gross federal land bank mortgage rate of interest for each year must be determined in the manner provided in section 20.2032A-4(e)(1) of the United States treasury department regulations for valuing farm real property for federal estate tax purposes, except that the interest rate may not be adjusted as provided in paragraph (e)(2) of section 20.2032A-4.
5. The agricultural economics department of North Dakota state university shall compute annually an estimate of the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] of agricultural lands on a statewide and on a countywide basis; 1 shall compute the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] for cropland and noncropland, which is agricultural land; 1 for each county; 1 and shall provide the tax commissioner with this information by December first of each year. Fifty percent of the annual gross income from irrigated cropland must be considered additional expense of production and may not be included in computation of the average agricultural value per acre [.40 hectare] for cropland for the county as determined by the agricultural economics department. Before January first of each year, the tax commissioner shall provide to each county director of tax equalization these estimates of agricultural value for each county.

6. Before February first of each year, the county director of tax equalization in each county shall provide to all assessors within the county an estimate of the average agricultural value of agricultural lands within each assessment district. The estimate must be based upon the average agricultural value for the county adjusted by the relative values of lands within each assessment district compared to the county average. In determining the relative value of lands for each assessment district compared to the county average, the county director of tax equalization, wherever possible, shall use soil type and soil classification data from detailed and general soil surveys. Where such data cannot be used, the county director of tax equalization shall use whatever previous assessment data is best suited to the purpose.
7. Each local assessor shall determine the relative value of each assessment parcel within the assessor's jurisdiction and shall determine the agricultural value of each assessment parcel by adjusting the agricultural value estimate for the assessment district by the relative value of the parcel. Each parcel must then be assessed according to section 57-02-27. If either a local assessor or a township board of equalization develops an agricultural value for the lands in its assessment district differing substantially from the estimate provided by the county director of tax equalization, written evidence to support the change must be provided to the county director of tax equalization.

NEW INDUSTRY AND IMPROVEMENTS EXEMPTION

AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 40-57.1-03, 57-02.2-02, and 57-02.2-03 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to tax exemptions for new industries and improvements to commercial and residential buildings; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

³¹³ SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 40-57.1-03 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

40-57.1-03. Municipality's authority to grant tax exemption or payments in lieu of taxes - Notice to competitors - Limitations. After negotiation with a potential project operator, a municipality may grant a partial or complete exemption from ad valorem taxation on all buildings, structures, fixtures, and improvements used in or necessary to the operation of a project for a period not exceeding five years from the date of commencement of project operations. A municipality may also grant a partial or complete exemption from ad valorem taxation on buildings, structures, fixtures, and improvements used in or necessary to the operation of a project that produces or manufactures a product from agricultural commodities for all or part of the sixth year through the tenth year from the date of commencement of project operations.

In addition to, or in lieu of, a property tax exemption granted under this section, a municipality may establish an amount due as payments in lieu of ad valorem taxes on buildings, structures, fixtures, and improvements used in the operation of a project ~~upon which initial construction is begun after June 30, 1994.~~ The governing body of the municipality shall designate the amount of the payments for each year and the beginning year and the concluding year for payments in lieu of taxes, but the option to make payments in lieu of taxes under this section may not extend beyond the twentieth year from the date of commencement of project operations. To establish the amount of payments in lieu of taxes, the governing body of the municipality may use actual or estimated levels of assessment and taxation or may establish payment amounts based on other factors. The governing body of the municipality may designate different amounts of payments in lieu of taxes in different years to recognize future project expansion plans or other considerations.

By November first of each year, the municipality that granted the option to make payments in lieu of taxes shall certify to the county auditor the amount of payments in lieu of taxes due under this section in the following year. After receiving the statement from the municipality, the county auditor shall certify the payments in lieu of taxes to the county treasurer for collection at the time when, and in the manner in which, ad valorem taxes must be certified. Upon receipt by the county treasurer of the amount of payments in lieu of taxes under this section, the county treasurer shall apportion and distribute that amount to taxing districts on the basis on which the general real estate tax levy is apportioned and distributed. The municipality may enter into a written agreement with the local school district and any other local taxing districts that wish to enter the agreement for an alternate method of apportionment and distribution. If such an agreement is entered into, the county treasurer shall apportion and distribute the money according to the written agreement. All provisions of law relating to enforcement, administration, collection, penalties, and delinquency proceedings for ad valorem taxes apply to payments in lieu of taxes under this section. However, the discount for early payment of taxes under section 57-20-09 does not apply to payments in lieu of taxes under this section. The buildings, structures, fixtures, and improvements comprising a project for which payments in lieu of taxes are allowed under this section must be excluded from the valuation of property in the taxing district for purposes of determining the mill rate for the taxing district.

Negotiations with potential project operators for tax exemption or payments in lieu of taxes must be carried on by the city council or commission if the project is proposed to be located within the boundaries of a city, and by the board of county commissioners if the project is proposed to be located outside the corporate limits of any city. A partial exemption must be stated as a percentage of the total ad valorem taxes assessed against the property. Unless the governing body of the municipality determines that there is no existing business within the municipality for which the potential project would be a competitor, the potential project operator shall publish two notices to competitors, the form of which must be prescribed by the tax commissioner, of the application for tax exemption or payments in lieu of taxes in the official newspaper of the municipality at least one week apart. The publications must be completed not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days before the governing body of the municipality is to consider the application. The municipality shall determine whether the granting of the exemption or payments in lieu of taxes, or both, is in the best interest of the municipality, and if it so determines, shall give its approval.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 57-02.2-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-02.2-02. Improvement defined. In this chapter, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, the term "improvement" means the renovation, remodeling, or alteration, but not the replacement, of an existing building or structure for use for commercial or residential purposes. An improvement for residential purposes is limited to a building or structure at least twenty-five years old. An addition constructed to an existing building or structure to enlarge it ~~may not be regarded as~~ is an improvement for the purposes of this chapter.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 57-02.2-03 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-02.2-03. Tax exemption for improvements to commercial and residential buildings and structures - Property owner's certificate. Improvements to commercial and residential buildings and structures as defined in this chapter may be exempt from assessment and taxation for up to ~~three~~ five years from the date of commencement of making the improvements, if the exemption is approved by the governing body of the city, for property within city limits, or the governing body of the county, for property outside city limits. The governing body of the city or county may limit or impose conditions upon exemptions under this section, including limitations on the time during which an exemption is allowed. A resolution adopted by the governing body of the city or county under this section may be rescinded or amended at any time. The exemption provided by this chapter shall apply only to that part of the valuation resulting from the improvements which is over and above the assessed valuation, exclusive of the land, placed upon the building or structure for the last assessment period immediately preceding the date of commencement of the improvements. Any person, corporation, limited liability company, association, or organization owning real property and seeking an exemption under this chapter shall file with the assessor a certificate setting out the facts upon which the claim for exemption is based. The assessor shall determine whether the improvements qualify for the exemption based on the resolution of the governing body of the city or county, and if the assessor determines that the exemption should apply, upon approval of the governing body, the exemption is valid for the prescribed period and shall not terminate upon the sale or exchange of the property but shall be transferable to subsequent owners. If the certificate is not filed as herein provided, the assessor shall regard the improvements as nonexempt and shall assess them as such.

TELEPHONE EXCISE TAX BALLOT MEASURES

AN ACT to amend and reenact section 57-40.6-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to ballot measures on the question of excise taxes on telephone access lines.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 57-40.6-02 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-40.6-02. Authority of counties or cities to impose excise tax on telephone access lines - Procedure. The governing body of a county or city may impose an excise tax on the use of telephone access lines in accordance with the following requirements:

1. The governing body shall adopt a resolution that proposes the adoption of the excise tax permitted under this section. The resolution must specify an effective date for the tax which is no more than two years before the expected implementation date of the emergency services communication system to be funded by the excise tax. The resolution must include a provision for submitting the proposed excise tax to the electors of the county or city before the imposition of the tax is effective. The resolution must specify a tax that does not exceed one dollar per month per telephone access line.
2. The question of the adoption of the excise tax must be submitted on a ballot on which the ballot title of the proposition includes the maximum monthly rate of the proposed tax authorized under subsection 1. The question of the adoption of the excise tax may be submitted to electors at a general, primary, or special election or at a school district election if the boundaries of the school district are coterminous with the boundaries of the governing body adopting the resolution proposing the adoption of the excise tax. The tax is not effective unless it is approved by a majority of the electors voting on the proposition. The ballot must be worded so that a "yes" vote authorizes imposition of the tax for an initial six-year period.
3. Any political subdivision that desires to increase the tax, subject to the limitations in subsection 1, before the end of the six-year term, must use the same ballot procedure originally used to authorize the tax. The new ballot question may apply to only the proposed increase and not to the original amount or the original term. If the increase is approved, the new amount may be collected for the balance of the original six-year term. If the tax authorized by this section is approved by the electors, the tax may be reimposed for six additional years without resubmitting the question to the electors.

4. In any geographic area, only one political subdivision may impose the excise tax.
5. In the interest of public safety, where the customers exchange boundary and the boundary of the political subdivision imposing the tax do not coincide, and where all of the political subdivisions within the exchange boundary have not complied with subsection 1, and where a majority of the E911 subscribers within the exchange boundary have voted for the tax, an exchange customer residing outside the political subdivision may receive E911 services by signing a contract agreement with the political subdivision providing the emergency telecommunications system. The telephone company may collect an additional tax, equal in amount to the basic tax on those subscribers within the exchange boundary. The additional tax amounts collected must be remitted as provided in this chapter.

As a condition precedent to the issuance of a single or multiple license, a supplier, distributor, or importer shall furnish a surety bond, a cash bond, or an approved letter of credit as security to guarantee the payment of aviation fuel tax. If the money deposited is used to cover unpaid liabilities, the commissioner shall certify the information to the director of the office of management and budget. The office of management and budget shall transmit the money to the commissioner who shall apply as much of the money deposited by the person as is necessary to satisfy the liabilities. When in the commissioner's judgment it is no longer necessary to require the deposit to be maintained, the commissioner shall certify the information to the director of the office of management and budget who shall pay the unused money to the depositor.

Written notice of the hearing must be served on the person at least ten days prior to the date established for the hearing.
2. Before a new license may be issued to a person who is obligated to remit the tax imposed by this chapter and whose license was revoked, the person shall pay to the commissioner the amount of any delinquent tax, penalties, and interest remaining unpaid and must file with the commissioner a surety bond upon which the person is the principal. The bond must be in an amount determined by the commissioner but not less than one thousand dollars. The bond must be payable to the commissioner and be conditioned upon the timely filing of required reports and the timely payment of the full amount of the tax due as required under this chapter. If the person fails to file the required report or to timely pay the full amount of the tax due, the commissioner may require an increase in the amount of the surety bond conditioned to secure at all times the payment of any tax due to the state under this chapter.

SECTION 69. Section 57-43.3-14 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-14. Monthly report by refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, or exporter required.

1. When the report is filed by mail, the report is timely if the envelope containing the report is postmarked by the United States postal service or other postal carrier service before midnight of the due date.
2. The report to the commissioner must be on a form prescribed and furnished by the commissioner. The commissioner may require that all or part of the report be submitted in an electronic format approved by the commissioner, provided the person required to file the report is able to file the report using an electronic format. - 3. The report must be signed by the taxpayer to be valid and must contain a written declaration that it is made and subscribed under penalties of perjury.
 - 4. The tax commissioner may prescribe alternative methods for signing, subscribing, or verifying a return filed by electronic means, including telecommunications, that shall have the same validity and consequence as the actual signature and written declaration for a paper return.

SECTION 70. Section 57-43.3-15 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-15. Report by terminal operator required.

 - b. A detailed schedule of aviation fuel removed from the terminal by or on behalf of a position holder.

- c. The number of gallons of aviation fuel in inventory at the beginning of the calendar month and the number of gallons in inventory at the close of the calendar month for each position holder.
3. The report must be signed by the taxpayer to be valid and must contain a written declaration that it is made under penalties of perjury. The tax commissioner may prescribe alternative methods for signing, subscribing, or verifying a return filed by electronic means, including telecommunications, that shall have the same validity and consequence as the actual signature and written declaration for a paper return.

SECTION 71. Section 57-43.3-16 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-16. Common or contract carrier - License required - Records required - Diverted loads - Commissioner to audit records.

1. A common or contract carrier shall obtain a license issued by the commissioner. The application for license must be made on a form prescribed by the commissioner and shall contain the information required by the commissioner.
2. A common or contract carrier transporting aviation fuel in a vehicle, railcar, or vessel into this state from another state or country shall ensure that a bill of lading indicating North Dakota as the destination state has been issued by the terminal or bulk plant from which the fuel was removed. If a bill of lading issued by the terminal or bulk plant indicates a destination other than North Dakota, the transporter shall issue a diversion ticket indicating North Dakota as the destination state. If a bill of lading was not issued by the terminal or bulk plant, the transporter shall issue a bill of lading for each shipment indicating North Dakota as the destination state. A copy of a diversion ticket and bill of lading prepared by the transporter shall be mailed, faxed, or electronically transmitted to the commissioner before the fuel enters the state.
3. A common or contract carrier transporting aviation fuel in the state shall provide a copy of the bill of lading accompanying the shipment, along with any drop load tickets and diversion tickets issued for the delivered fuel to the refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, retailer, or consumer to whom delivery of the shipment was made.
4. A refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, retailer, or consumer may not knowingly accept delivery of aviation fuel into storage facilities in this state if that delivery is not accompanied by a bill of lading or diversion ticket issued by the terminal operator, bulk plant operator, or transporter, which specifically indicates North Dakota as the destination state of the aviation fuel.
5. If a common or contract carrier unloads only a portion of a shipment at a location or if the load is loaded at a location other than what is indicated in the bill of lading or diversion ticket, the transporter shall issue a drop load ticket. If the fuel is dropped at more than one location, the drop load ticket must identify the name and address of all locations and the type of fuel and gallonage dropped. A copy of the ticket must be maintained on board and a copy must accompany the bill of lading that is provided to the refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, retailer, or consumer taking delivery of the fuel.

6. A diversion ticket must include the following information:
 - a. The transporter's name and address.
 - b. The date and time of issuance.
 - c. The diversion ticket number.
 - d. The name and address of the consignee indicated on the original bill of lading.
 - e. The destination as stated on the original bill of lading.
 - f. The original bill of lading number.
 - g. The location diverted to, including the address to which the fuel was diverted and the destination state.
 - h. The number of gallons of fuel being diverted.

 - i. Any other information required by the commissioner.
8. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the commissioner may audit the records of the common or contract carrier, whether or not licensed by the commissioner, and may impose such penalties as authorized by this chapter.

SECTION 72. Section 57-43.3-17 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-17. Credit for taxes paid on worthless accounts and refunds. Taxes paid on aviation fuel represented by accounts found to be worthless, and actually charged off for income tax purposes, may be taken as a credit against subsequent taxes due provided the accounts charged off included the cost of the fuel as well as the taxes due. If the worthless account is subsequently collected, the tax must be remitted on the account collected. If in any case the credit, or any part of it, cannot be utilized by the supplier or distributor because of a discontinuance of a business or other valid reason, the amount may be refunded.

57-43.3-18. Commissioner to audit reports and assess tax.

1. The commissioner, or an authorized representative, may audit the records, books, and papers and examine fuel and any equipment used to store, transport, or dispense fuel, of a refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, exporter, terminal operator, retailer, or common or contract carrier. For a person required to file a report, the examination and audit must be done no later than three years after the due date of the report or three years after the report was filed, whichever period expires later. The commissioner is authorized to make assessments of tax, plus penalty and interest, or to issue credits or refunds as determined on the basis of the examination and audit.
2. If it is determined upon audit that the tax due was twenty-five percent or more above the amount reported on a report, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of the tax may be begun without such assessment, at any time within six years after the due date of the report, or six years after the report was filed, whichever period expires later.
3. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the commissioner may audit any consumer's claim for refund and, not later than three years after the due date of a claim or three years after the claim was filed, whichever period expires later, assess additional tax or issue an additional refund. If additional tax is found due or if an additional tax refund applies, the commissioner shall notify the claimant in detail of the reason for the increase or decrease. For any claim selected for audit, the claimant shall provide additional verification as required by the commissioner of fuel purchases, payment of the tax, and use of the fuel.
4. If a person gives false or fraudulent information in a report or in a claim for refund, or if the failure by a person to file a tax report is due to the fraudulent intent or the willful attempt of the person in any manner to evade the tax, the time limitations in this section do not apply, and the tax may be assessed or a proceeding in court for the collection of the tax may be begun without the assessment, at any time.
5. If before the expiration of the time prescribed in this chapter for the assessment of tax, the commissioner and the person consent in writing to an extension of time for the assessment of the tax, the tax may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon.

The period agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

6. A determination of additional tax due issued to a person fixes the tax finally and irrevocably unless the person against whom it is assessed, within thirty days after the giving of notice of the determination, protests the determination under rules adopted by the commissioner and in the manner provided in chapter 28-32.
7. A determination that a claim for a tax credit or refund is disallowed becomes finally and irrevocably fixed unless the person claiming the refund, within thirty days after the giving of notice of the determination, protests the determination under rules adopted by the commissioner and in the manner provided in chapter 28-32.

SECTION 74. Section 57-43.3-19 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-19. Determination if no report filed. If a person fails, neglects, or refuses to file an aviation fuel tax report when due, the commissioner shall, on the basis of available information, determine the tax liability for the period during which no report was filed, and to the tax thus determined the commissioner shall add the penalty and interest as provided in section 57-43.3-23. An assessment made by the commissioner under this section or section 57-43.3-18 is presumed to be correct, and in any case where the validity of the assessment is in question, the burden is on the person who challenges the assessment to establish by fair preponderance of the evidence that it is erroneous or excessive.

SECTION 75. Section 57-43.3-20 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-20. Corporate officer liability. If a corporation holding a license issued under this chapter fails for any reason to file the required returns or to pay the tax due, any of its officers having control or supervision of, or charged with the responsibility for making, such returns and payments is personally liable for the failure. The dissolution of a corporation does not discharge an officer's liability for a prior failure of the corporation to make a return or remit the tax due. The sum due for such a liability may be assessed and collected under the provisions of this chapter for the assessment and collection of other liabilities.

SECTION 76. Section 57-43.3-21 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-21. Governor and manager liability. If a limited liability company holding a license issued under this chapter fails for any reason to file the required returns or to pay the taxes due under this chapter, the governor or manager, jointly or severally, charged with the responsibility of supervising the preparation of such returns and payments, is personally liable for such failure. The dissolution of a limited liability company does not discharge a governor's or manager's liability for a prior failure of the limited liability company to file a return or remit the tax due. The taxes, penalty, and interest may be assessed and collected pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

57-43.3-22. Lien of tax - Collection - Action authorized.

1. When a taxpayer liable to pay a tax or penalty imposed refuses or neglects to pay the tax, the amount, including any interest, penalty, or addition to the tax, with the costs that may accrue in addition to the tax, is a lien in favor of the state of North Dakota upon all property and rights to property, whether real or personal, belonging to the taxpayer, and in the case of property in which a deceased taxpayer held an interest as joint tenant or otherwise with right of survivorship at the time of death, the lien continues as a lien against the property in the hands of the survivors to the extent of the deceased taxpayer's interest therein, which interest is determined by dividing the value of the entire property at the time of the taxpayer's death by the number of joint tenants or persons interested therein.
2. The lien attaches at the time the tax becomes due and payable and continues until the liability for the amount is satisfied. For the purposes of this section, the words "due" and "due and payable" mean the first instant at which the tax becomes due.
3. Any mortgagee, purchaser, judgment creditor, or lien claimant acquiring any interest in, or lien on, any property situated in the state, prior to the commissioner filing in the central index system maintained by the secretary of state a notice of the lien provided for in this section, takes free of, or has priority over, the lien.
4. The commissioner shall index in the central index system the following data:
 - a. The name of the taxpayer.
 - b. The tax identification number or social security number of the taxpayer.
 - c. The name "state of North Dakota" as claimant.
 - d. The date and time the notice of lien was indexed.
 - e. The amount of the lien.

The notice of lien is effective as of eight a.m. next following the indexing of the notice. Any notice of lien filed by the commissioner with a register of deeds may be indexed in the central index system without changing its original priority as to property in the county where the lien was filed.

5. The commissioner is exempt from the payment of the filing fees as otherwise provided by law for the filing of a lien or the satisfaction of a lien.
6. Upon payment of the tax as to which the commissioner has indexed notice in the central index system, the commissioner shall index a satisfaction of the lien in the central index system.
7. Upon the request of the commissioner, the attorney general shall bring an action at law or in equity, as the facts may justify, without bond to enforce payment of any taxes and any penalties, or to foreclose the lien in the manner provided for mortgages on real or personal property, and in the action the attorney general shall have the assistance of the state's attorney of the county in which the action is pending.

8. The foregoing remedies of the state are cumulative and no action taken by the commissioner or attorney general may be construed to be an election on the part of the state or any of its officers to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy provided by law.

SECTION 78. Section 57-43.3-23 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-23. Penalty and interest - Violations.

1. If a person fails to file the required report or to pay the full amount of the tax as required by this chapter, there is imposed a penalty of five dollars, or a sum equal to five percent of the tax due, whichever is greater, with interest at the rate of one percent per month on the tax due, for each calendar month or fraction of a month during which the delinquency continues, excepting the month within which the report was required to be filed or the tax became due. If a person files a false or fraudulent report with the intent to evade the tax imposed by this chapter, there is imposed a penalty equal to ten percent of the deficiency, with interest at the rate of two percent per month on the deficiency, for each calendar month or fraction of a month during which the deficiency continues. The commissioner, for good cause shown, may waive all or any part of the penalty or interest provided by this subsection.
2. A person is guilty of a class A misdemeanor if:
 - a. The person refuses or knowingly or intentionally fails to make and file any report required by this chapter in the manner or within the time required; or
 - b. The person knowingly or with intent to evade or aid in the evasion of the tax imposed by this chapter makes any false statement or conceals any material fact in any application, record, report, or claim for refund provided for in this chapter.

SECTION 79. Section 57-43.3-24 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-24. Tax collection allowance. The person required to remit the tax imposed by this chapter shall deduct one percent of the amount of tax due, up to a maximum of three hundred dollars per month, to cover the cost of collecting the tax and transmitting it to the commissioner.

SECTION 80. Section 57-43.3-25 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-25. Retention of records - Subject to inspection. A refiner, supplier, distributor, importer, exporter, terminal operator, and retailer shall maintain and retain records of all aviation fuel refined, purchased, imported, or otherwise acquired; all aviation fuel exported, sold, distributed, and used; and all inventory records, for a period of not less than three years. Inventory records include physical readings, metered readings of sales, delivery tickets, and delivery readings. The records are open to inspection during business hours by the commissioner or by any agent or employee authorized by the commissioner.

SECTION 81. Section 57-43.3-26 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-26. Inventory gains - Losses.

1. A supplier or distributor shall take a physical inventory reading of all aviation fuel located in a terminal, underground tank, aboveground tank, railcar, storage tank of a truck, and the storage tank of a bulk delivery truck on a regular basis, and shall report the physical readings, inventory gains, and inventory losses to the commissioner in increments not to exceed a twelve-month period. The inventory reconciliation must include aviation fuel at retail locations and aviation fuel stored in a barrel, drum, or other receptacle. The supplier or distributor with retail locations is exempt from the provisions of subsection 2.
2. When sold or used by a supplier or distributor, a gain in aviation fuel inventories is subject to the tax imposed by this chapter in the same manner as aviation fuel purchased, imported, or otherwise acquired.
3. A supplier or distributor is not responsible for the tax imposed by section 57-43.3-02 on any actual loss due to shrinkage or evaporation.
4. The commissioner may allow a tax credit to a supplier or distributor for actual inventory losses due to casualty loss, subject to the discretion of the commissioner and based on proof of the loss as required by the commissioner.

SECTION 82. Section 57-43.3-27 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-27. Administration - Assistance authorized - Rules. The commissioner shall enforce the provisions of this chapter. The commissioner may employ assistance and conduct investigations as may be necessary for the administration and enforcement of this chapter and may make and enforce reasonable rules relating to the administration and enforcement of this chapter.

SECTION 83. Section 57-43.3-28 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

57-43.3-28. Erroneously or illegally collected taxes. If any taxes, penalties, or interest imposed by this chapter have been erroneously or illegally collected from any person, the commissioner may permit that person to take credit against the tax on a subsequent report for the amount of the erroneous or illegal overpayment. In the alternative, the commissioner shall present a voucher to the office of management and budget for payment of the amount erroneously or illegally collected and a warrant-check must be prepared by that office drawn on the state treasurer payable to that person. The refund must be paid from undistributed funds received from the tax imposed by this chapter and any such refund may not be approved or paid unless it is in an amount that is in excess of five dollars.

1. A supplier or distributor shall take a physical inventory reading of all motor vehicle fuel located in a terminal, underground tank, aboveground tank, railcar, storage tank of a truck, and the storage tank of a bulk delivery truck on a regular basis and shall report the physical readings, inventory gains, and inventory losses to the commissioner in increments not to exceed a twelve-month period. The inventory reconciliation must include motor vehicle fuel at retail locations and motor vehicle fuel stored in a barrel, drum, or other receptacle.
2. When sold or used by a supplier or distributor, a gain in motor vehicle fuel inventories is subject to the tax imposed by this chapter in the same manner as motor vehicle fuel purchased, imported, or otherwise acquired.

A supplier or distributor who experiences an actual physical inventory loss due to shrinkage or evaporation is responsible for the tax imposed by this chapter on any such loss that is in excess of one-half of one percent of the motor vehicle fuel received during the period covered by the inventory reconciliation.

³⁵⁶ Section 57-43.1-26 was also amended by section 23 of Senate Bill No. 2177, chapter 526.

4. For purposes of this chapter, it is presumed that all motor vehicle fuel received ~~by each dealer~~ above ~~this~~ the one-half of one percent allowance, except that gallonage shown as inventory based on physical inventory readings at the end of each calendar month the time period covered by the inventory reconciliation, and other allowances provided in this chapter, has been sold, delivered, or used, and the dealer supplier or distributor is liable for the amount of the motor vehicle fuel tax on each gallon [liter] of motor vehicle fuel not accounted for. This must appear on the face of the delivery invoice at the time of delivery of the motor vehicle fuel in consideration of evaporation and shrinkage losses and the retail outlet's cost of collection of the tax. On making payments to the commissioner as provided in this chapter, the ~~dealer~~ supplier or distributor shall deduct the total credit allowance granted on sales to retail outlets in motor vehicle fuels under the provisions of this section, in addition to other deductions allowed, from the amount of tax due.

7. "Mandatory income interest" means the right of an income beneficiary to receive net income that the terms of the trust require the fiduciary to distribute.

8. "Net income" means the total receipts allocated to income during an accounting period minus the disbursements made from income during the period, plus or minus transfers under this chapter to or from income during the period.

59-04.2-02. (103) Fiduciary duties - General principles.

1. In allocating receipts and disbursements to or between principal and income, and with respect to any matter within the scope of sections 59-04.2-04 through 59-04.2-08, a fiduciary:
 - a. Shall administer a trust or estate in accordance with the terms of the trust or the will, even if there is a different provision in this chapter.
 - b. May administer a trust or estate by the exercise of a discretionary power of administration given to the fiduciary by the terms of the trust or the will, even if the exercise of the power produces a result different from a result required or permitted by this chapter.
 - c. Shall administer a trust or estate in accordance with this chapter if the terms of the trust or the will do not contain a different provision or do not give the fiduciary a discretionary power of administration.
 - d. Shall add a receipt or charge a disbursement to principal to the extent that the terms of the trust and this chapter do not provide a rule for allocating the receipt or disbursement to or between principal and income.
2. In exercising a discretionary power of administration regarding a matter within the scope of this chapter, whether granted by the terms of a trust, a will, or this chapter, a fiduciary shall administer a trust or estate impartially, based on what is fair and reasonable to all of the beneficiaries, except to the extent that the terms of the trust or the will clearly manifest an intention that the fiduciary shall or may favor one or more of the beneficiaries. A determination in accordance with this chapter is presumed to be fair and reasonable to all of the beneficiaries.

59-04.2-03. (104) Trustee's power to adjust. (Reserved)

59-04.2-04. (201) Determination and distribution of net income. After a decedent dies, in the case of an estate, or after an income interest in a trust ends, the following rules apply:

1. A fiduciary of an estate or of a terminating income interest shall determine the amount of net income and net principal receipts received from property specifically given to a beneficiary under the rules in sections 59-04.2-06 through 59-04.2-29 which apply to trustees and the rules in subsection 5. The fiduciary shall distribute the net income and net principal receipts to the beneficiary who is to receive the specific property.
2. A fiduciary shall determine the remaining net income of a decedent's estate or a terminating income interest under the rules in sections 59-04.2-06 through 59-04.2-29 which apply to trustees and by:
 - a. Including in net income all income from property used to discharge liabilities.
 - b. Paying from income or principal, in the fiduciary's discretion, fees of attorneys, accountants, and fiduciaries; court costs and other expenses of administration; and interest on death taxes, but the fiduciary may pay those expenses from income of property passing to a trust for which the fiduciary claims an estate tax marital or charitable deduction only to the extent that the payment of those expenses from income will not cause the reduction or loss of the deduction.
 - c. Paying from principal all other disbursements made or incurred in connection with the settlement of a decedent's estate or the winding up of a terminating income interest, including debts, funeral expenses, disposition of remains, family allowances, and death taxes and related penalties that are apportioned to the estate or terminating income interest by the will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law.
3. A fiduciary shall distribute to a beneficiary who receives a pecuniary amount outright the interest or any other amount provided by the will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law from net income determined under subsection 2 or from principal to the extent that net income is insufficient. If a beneficiary is to receive a pecuniary amount outright from a trust after an income interest ends and no interest or other amount is provided for by the terms of the trust or applicable law, the fiduciary shall distribute the interest or other amount to which the beneficiary would be entitled under applicable law if the pecuniary amount were required to be paid under a will.
4. A fiduciary shall distribute the net income remaining after distributions required by subsection 3 in the manner described in section 59-04.2-05 to all other beneficiaries, including a beneficiary who receives a pecuniary amount in trust, even if the beneficiary holds an unqualified power to withdraw assets from the trust or other presently exercisable general power of appointment over the trust.

5. A fiduciary may not reduce principal or income receipts from property described in subsection 1 because of a payment described in section 59-04.2-24 or 59-04.2-25 to the extent that the will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law requires the fiduciary to make the payment from assets other than the property or to the extent that the fiduciary recovers or expects to recover the payment from a third party. The net income and principal receipts from the property are determined by including all of the amounts the fiduciary receives or pays with respect to the property, whether those amounts accrued or became due before, on, or after the date of a decedent's death or an income interest's terminating event, and by making a reasonable provision for amounts that the fiduciary believes the estate or terminating income interest may become obligated to pay after the property is distributed.

59-04.2-05. (202) Distribution to residuary and remainder beneficiaries.

1. Each beneficiary described in subsection 4 of section 59-04.2-04 is entitled to receive a portion of the net income equal to the beneficiary's fractional interest in undistributed principal assets, using values as of the distribution date. If a fiduciary makes more than one distribution of assets to beneficiaries to whom this section applies, each beneficiary, including one who does not receive part of the distribution, is entitled, as of each distribution date, to the net income the fiduciary has received after the date of death or terminating event or earlier distribution date but has not distributed as of the current distribution date.
2. In determining a beneficiary's share of net income, the following rules apply:
 - a. The beneficiary is entitled to receive a portion of the net income equal to the beneficiary's fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets immediately before the distribution date, including assets that later may be sold to meet principal obligations.
 - b. The beneficiary's fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets must be calculated without regard to property specifically given to a beneficiary and property required to pay pecuniary amounts not in trust.
 - c. The beneficiary's fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets must be calculated on the basis of the aggregate value of those assets as of the distribution date without reducing the value by any unpaid principal obligation.
 - d. The distribution date for purposes of this section may be the date as of which the fiduciary calculates the value of the assets if that date is reasonably near the date on which assets are actually distributed.
3. If a fiduciary does not distribute all of the collected but undistributed net income to each person as of a distribution date, the fiduciary shall maintain appropriate records showing the interest of each beneficiary in that net income.
4. A fiduciary may apply the rules in this section, to the extent that the fiduciary considers it appropriate, to net gain or loss realized after the date of death or terminating event or earlier distribution date from the disposition of a principal asset if this section applies to the income from the asset.

59-04.2-06. (301) When right to income begins and ends.

1. An income beneficiary is entitled to net income from the date on which the income interest begins. An income interest begins on the date specified in the terms of the trust or, if no date is specified, on the date an asset becomes subject to a trust or successive income interest.
2. An asset becomes subject to a trust:
 - a. On the date it is transferred to the trust in the case of an asset that is transferred to a trust during the transferor's life;
 - b. On the date of a testator's death in the case of an asset that becomes subject to a trust by reason of a will, even if there is an intervening period of administration of the testator's estate; or
 - c. On the date of an individual's death in the case of an asset that is transferred to a fiduciary by a third party because of the individual's death.
3. An asset becomes subject to a successive income interest on the day after the preceding income interest ends, as determined under subsection 4, even if there is an intervening period of administration to wind up the preceding income interest.
4. An income interest ends on the day before an income beneficiary dies or another terminating event occurs, or on the last day of a period during which there is no beneficiary to whom a trustee may distribute income.

59-04.2-07. (302) Apportionment of receipts and disbursements when decedent dies or income interest begins.

1. A trustee shall allocate an income receipt or disbursement other than one to which subsection 1 of section 59-04.2-04 applies to principal if its due date occurs before a decedent dies in the case of an estate or before an income interest begins in the case of a trust or successive income interest.
2. A trustee shall allocate an income receipt or disbursement to income if its due date occurs on or after the date on which a decedent dies or an income interest begins and it is a periodic due date. An income receipt or disbursement must be treated as accruing from day to day if its due date is not periodic or it has no due date. The portion of the receipt or disbursement accruing before the date on which a decedent dies or an income interest begins must be allocated to principal and the balance must be allocated to income.
3. An item of income or an obligation is due on the date the payer is required to make a payment. If a payment date is not stated, there is no due date for the purposes of this chapter. Distributions to shareholders or other owners from an entity to which section 59-04.2-09 applies are deemed to be due on the date fixed by the entity for determining who is entitled to receive the distribution or, if no date is fixed, on the declaration date for the distribution. A due date is periodic for receipts or disbursements that must be paid at regular intervals under a lease or an obligation to pay interest or if an entity customarily makes distributions at regular intervals.

59-04.2-08. (303) Apportionment when income interest ends.

1. In this section, "undistributed income" means net income received before the date on which an income interest ends. The term does not include an item of income or expense that is due or accrued or net income that has been added or is required to be added to principal under the terms of the trust.
2. When a mandatory income interest ends, the trustee shall pay to a mandatory income beneficiary who survives that date, or the estate of a deceased mandatory income beneficiary whose death causes the interest to end, the beneficiary's share of the undistributed income that is not disposed of under the terms of the trust unless the beneficiary has an unqualified power to revoke more than five percent of the trust immediately before the income interest ends. In the latter case, the undistributed income from the portion of the trust that may be revoked must be added to principal.
3. When a trustee's obligation to pay a fixed annuity or a fixed fraction of the value of the trust's assets ends, the trustee shall prorate the final payment if and to the extent required by applicable law to accomplish a purpose of the trust or its settlor relating to income, gift, estate, or other tax requirements.

59-04.2-09. (401) Character of receipts.

1. In this section, "entity" means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, regulated investment company, real estate investment trust, common trust fund, or any other organization in which a trustee has an interest other than a trust or estate to which section 59-04.2-10 applies, a business or activity to which section 59-04.2-11 applies, or an asset-backed security to which section 59-04.2-23 applies.
2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a trustee shall allocate to income money received from an entity.
3. A trustee shall allocate the following receipts from an entity to principal:
 - a. Property other than money.
 - b. Money received in one distribution or a series of related distributions in exchange for part or all of a trust's interest in the entity.
 - c. Money received in total or partial liquidation of the entity.
 - d. Money received from an entity that is a regulated investment company or a real estate investment trust if the money distributed is a capital gain dividend for federal income tax purposes.

4. Money is received in partial liquidation:
 - a. To the extent that the entity, at or near the time of a distribution, indicates that it is a distribution in partial liquidation; or
 - b. If the total amount of money and property received in a distribution or series of related distributions is greater than twenty percent of the entity's gross assets, as shown by the entity's yearend financial statements immediately preceding the initial receipt.
5. Money is not received in partial liquidation, nor may it be taken into account under subdivision b of subsection 4, to the extent that it does not exceed the amount of income tax that a trustee or beneficiary must pay on taxable income of the entity that distributes the money.
6. A trustee may rely upon a statement made by an entity about the source or character of a distribution if the statement is made at or near the time of distribution by the entity's board of directors or other person or group of persons authorized to exercise powers to pay money or transfer property comparable to those of a corporation's board of directors.

59-04.2-10. (402) Distribution from trust or estate. A trustee shall allocate to income an amount received as a distribution of income from a trust or an estate in which the trust has an interest other than a purchased interest and shall allocate to principal an amount received as a distribution of principal from such a trust or estate. If a trustee purchases an interest in a trust that is an investment entity, or a decedent or donor transfers an interest in such a trust to a trustee, section 59-04.2-09 or 59-04.2-23 applies to a receipt from the trust.

59-04.2-11. (403) Business and other activities conducted by trustee.

1. If a trustee who conducts a business or other activity determines that it is in the best interest of all the beneficiaries to account separately for the business or activity instead of accounting for it as part of the trust's general accounting records, the trustee may maintain separate accounting records for its transactions, whether or not its assets are segregated from other trust assets.
2. A trustee who accounts separately for a business or other activity may determine the extent to which its net cash receipts must be retained for working capital, the acquisition or replacement of fixed assets, and other reasonably foreseeable needs of the business or activity, and the extent to which the remaining net cash receipts are accounted for as principal or income in the trust's general accounting records. If a trustee sells assets of the business or other activity, other than in the ordinary course of the business or activity, the trustee shall account for the net amount received as principal in the trust's general accounting records to the extent the trustee determines that the amount received is no longer required in the conduct of the business.
3. Activities for which a trustee may maintain separate accounting records include retail, manufacturing, service, and other traditional business activities; farming; raising and selling livestock and other animals; management of rental properties; extraction of minerals and other natural resources; timber operations; and activities to which section 59-04.2-22 applies.

59-04.2-12. (404) Principal receipts. A trustee shall allocate to principal:

1. To the extent not allocated to income under this chapter, assets received from a transferor during the transferor's lifetime, a decedent's estate, a trust with a terminating income interest, or a payer under a contract naming the trust or its trustee as beneficiary.
2. Money or other property received from the sale, exchange, liquidation, or change in form of a principal asset, including realized profit, subject to sections 59-04.2-09 through 59-04.2-23.
3. Amounts recovered from third parties to reimburse the trust because of disbursements described in subdivision g of subsection 1 of section 59-04.2-25 or for other reasons to the extent not based on the loss of income.
4. Proceeds of property taken by eminent domain, but a separate award made for the loss of income with respect to an accounting period during which a current income beneficiary had a mandatory income interest is income.
5. Net income received in an accounting period during which there is no beneficiary to whom a trustee may or must distribute income.
6. Other receipts as provided in sections 59-04.2-16 through 59-04.2-23.

59-04.2-13. (405) Rental property. To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from rental property pursuant to this section, the trustee shall allocate to income an amount received as rent of real or personal property, including an amount received for cancellation or renewal of a lease. An amount received as a refundable deposit, including a security deposit or a deposit that is to be applied as rent for future periods, must be added to principal and held subject to the terms of the lease and is not available for distribution to a beneficiary until the trustee's contractual obligations have been satisfied with respect to that amount.

59-04.2-14. (406) Obligation to pay money.

1. An amount received as interest, whether determined at a fixed, variable, or floating rate, on an obligation to pay money to the trustee, including an amount received as consideration for prepaying principal, must be allocated to income without any provision for amortization of premium.
2. A trustee shall allocate to principal an amount received from the sale, redemption, or other disposition of an obligation to pay money to the trustee more than one year after it is purchased or acquired by the trustee, including an obligation whose purchase price or value when it is acquired is less than its value at maturity. If the obligation matures within one year after it is purchased or acquired by the trustee, an amount received in excess of its purchase price or its value when acquired by the trust must be allocated to income.
3. This section does not apply to an obligation to which section 59-04.2-17, 59-04.2-18, 59-04.2-19, 59-04.2-20, 59-04.2-22, or 59-04.2-23 applies.

59-04.2-15. (407) Insurance policies and similar contracts.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a trustee shall allocate to principal the proceeds of a life insurance policy or other contract in which the trust or its trustee is named as beneficiary, including a contract that insures the trust or its trustee against loss for damage to, destruction of, or loss of title to a trust asset. The trustee shall allocate dividends on an insurance policy to income if the premiums on the policy are paid from income, and to principal if the premiums are paid from principal.
2. A trustee shall allocate to income proceeds of a contract that insures the trustee against loss of occupancy or other use by an income beneficiary, loss of income, or, subject to section 59-04.2-11, loss of profits from a business.
3. This section does not apply to a contract to which section 59-04.2-17 applies.

59-04.2-16. (408) Insubstantial allocations not required. (Reserved)59-04.2-17. (409) Deferred compensation, annuities, and similar payments.

1. In this section, "payment" means a payment that a trustee may receive over a fixed number of years or during the life of one or more individuals because of services rendered or property transferred to the payer in exchange for future payments. The term includes a payment made in money or property from the payer's general assets or from a separate fund created by the payer, including a private or commercial annuity, an individual retirement account, and a pension, profit-sharing, stock-bonus, or stock-ownership plan.
2. To the extent that a payment is characterized as interest or a dividend or a payment made in lieu of interest or a dividend, a trustee shall allocate it to income. The trustee shall allocate to principal the balance of the payment and any other payment received in the same accounting period that is not characterized as interest, a dividend, or an equivalent payment.
3. If no part of a payment is characterized as interest, a dividend, or an equivalent payment, and all or part of the payment is required to be made, a trustee shall allocate to income ten percent of the part that is required to be made during the accounting period and the balance to principal. If no part of a payment is required to be made or the payment received is the entire amount to which the trustee is entitled, the trustee shall allocate the entire payment to principal. For purposes of this subsection, a payment is not "required to be made" to the extent that it is made because the trustee exercises a right of withdrawal.
4. If, to obtain an estate tax marital deduction for a trust, a trustee must allocate more of a payment to income than provided for by this section, the trustee shall allocate to income the additional amount necessary to obtain the marital deduction.
5. This section does not apply to payments to which section 59-04.2-18 applies.

59-04.2-18. (410) Liquidating asset.

1. In this section, "liquidating asset" means an asset whose value will diminish or terminate because the asset is expected to produce receipts for a period of limited duration. The term includes a leasehold, patent, copyright, royalty right, and right to receive payments during a period of more than one year under an arrangement that does not provide for the payment of interest on the unpaid balance. The term does not include a payment subject to section 59-04.2-17, resources subject to section 59-04.2-19, timber subject to section 59-04.2-20, an activity subject to section 59-04.2-22, an asset subject to section 59-04.2-23, or any asset for which the trustee establishes a reserve for depreciation under section 59-04.2-26.
2. A trustee shall allocate to income ten percent of the receipts from a liquidating asset and the balance to principal.

59-04.2-19. (411) Minerals, water, and other natural resources.

1. To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from an interest in minerals or other natural resources pursuant to this section, the trustee shall allocate them as follows:
 - a. If received as nominal delay rental or nominal annual rent on a lease, a receipt must be allocated to income.
 - b. If received from a production payment, a receipt must be allocated to income if and to the extent that the agreement creating the production payment provides a factor for interest or its equivalent. The balance must be allocated to principal.
 - c. If an amount received as a royalty, shut-in-well payment, take-or-pay payment, bonus, or delay rental is more than nominal, ninety percent must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.
 - d. If an amount is received from a working interest or any other interest not provided for in subdivision a, b, or c, ninety percent of the net amount received must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.
2. An amount received on account of an interest in water that is renewable must be allocated to income. If the water is not renewable, ninety percent of the amount must be allocated to principal and the balance to income.
3. This chapter applies whether or not a decedent or donor was extracting minerals, water, or other natural resources before the interest became subject to the trust.
4. If a trust owns an interest in minerals, water, or other natural resources on August 1, 1999, the trustee may allocate receipts from the interest as provided in this chapter or in the manner used by the trustee before August 1, 1999. If the trust acquires an interest in minerals, water, or other natural resources after August 1, 1999, the trustee shall allocate receipts from the interest as provided in this chapter.

59-04.2-20. (412) Timber.

1. To the extent that a trustee accounts for receipts from the sale of timber and related products pursuant to this section, the trustee shall allocate the net receipts:
 - a. To income to the extent that the amount of timber removed from the land does not exceed the rate of growth of the timber during the accounting periods in which a beneficiary has a mandatory income interest;
 - b. To principal to the extent that the amount of timber removed from the land exceeds the rate of growth of the timber or the net receipts are from the sale of standing timber;
 - c. To or between income and principal if the net receipts are from the lease of timberland or from a contract to cut timber from land owned by a trust, by determining the amount of timber removed from the land under the lease or contract and applying the rules in subdivisions a and b; or
 - d. To principal to the extent that advance payments, bonuses, and other payments are not allocated pursuant to subdivision a, b, or c.
2. In determining net receipts to be allocated pursuant to subsection 1, a trustee shall deduct and transfer to principal a reasonable amount for depletion.
3. This chapter applies whether or not a decedent or transferor was harvesting timber from the property before it became subject to the trust.
4. If a trust owns an interest in timberland on August 1, 1999, the trustee may allocate net receipts from the sale of timber and related products as provided in this chapter or in the manner used by the trustee before August 1, 1999. If the trust acquires an interest in timberland after August 1, 1999, the trustee shall allocate net receipts from the sale of timber and related products as provided in this chapter.

59-04.2-21. (413) Property not productive of income. (Reserved)

59-04.2-22. (414) Derivatives and options.

1. In this section, "derivative" means a contract or financial instrument or a combination of contracts and financial instruments which gives a trust the right or obligation to participate in some or all changes in the price of a tangible or intangible asset or group of assets, or changes in a rate, an index of prices or rates, or other market indicator for an asset or a group of assets.
2. To the extent that a trustee does not account under section 59-04.2-11 for transactions in derivatives, the trustee shall allocate to principal receipts from and disbursements made in connection with those transactions.

3. If a trustee grants an option to buy property from the trust, whether or not the trust owns the property when the option is granted, grants an option that permits another person to sell property to the trust, or acquires an option to buy property for the trust or an option to sell an asset owned by the trust, and the trustee or other owner of the asset is required to deliver the asset if the option is exercised, an amount received for granting the option must be allocated to principal. An amount paid to acquire the option must be paid from principal. A gain or loss realized upon the exercise of an option, including an option granted to a settlor of the trust for services rendered, must be allocated to principal.

59-04.2-23. (415) Asset-backed securities.

1. In this section, "asset-backed security" means an asset whose value is based upon the right it gives the owner to receive distributions from the proceeds of financial assets that provide collateral for the security. The term includes an asset that gives the owner the right to receive from the collateral financial assets only the interest or other current return or only the proceeds other than interest or current return. The term does not include an asset to which section 59-04.2-09 or 59-04.2-17 applies.
2. If a trust receives a payment from interest or other current return and from other proceeds of the collateral financial assets, the trustee shall allocate to income the portion of the payment which the payer identifies as being from interest or other current return and shall allocate the balance of the payment to principal.
3. If a trust receives one or more payments in exchange for the trust's entire interest in an asset-backed security in one accounting period, the trustee shall allocate the payments to principal. If a payment is one of a series of payments that will result in the liquidation of the trust's interest in the security over more than one accounting period, the trustee shall allocate ten percent of the payment to income and the balance to principal.

59-04.2-24. (501) Disbursements from income. A trustee shall make the following disbursements from income to the extent that they are not disbursements to which subdivision b or c of subsection 2 of section 59-04.2-04 applies:

1. One-half of the regular compensation of the trustee and of any person providing investment advisory or custodial services to the trustee.
2. One-half of all expenses for accountings, judicial proceedings, or other matters that involve both the income and remainder interests.
3. All of the other ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the administration, management, or preservation of trust property and the distribution of income, including interest, ordinary repairs, regularly recurring taxes assessed against principal, and expenses of a proceeding or other matter that concerns primarily the income interest.
4. Recurring premiums on insurance covering the loss of a principal asset or the loss of income from or use of the asset.

59-04.2-25. (502) Disbursements from principal.

 - d. Expenses of a proceeding that concerns primarily principal, including a proceeding to construe the trust or to protect the trust or its property;

2. If a principal asset is encumbered with an obligation that requires income from that asset to be paid directly to the creditor, the trustee shall transfer from principal to income an amount equal to the income paid to the creditor in reduction of the principal balance of the obligation.

59-04.2-26. (503) Transfers from income to principal for depreciation.

1. In this section, "depreciation" means a reduction in value due to wear, tear, decay, corrosion, or gradual obsolescence of a fixed asset having a useful life of more than one year.
2. A trustee may transfer to principal a reasonable amount of the net cash receipts from a principal asset that is subject to depreciation, but may not transfer any amount for depreciation:
 - a. Of that portion of real property used or available for use by a beneficiary as a residence or of tangible personal property held or made available for the personal use or enjoyment of a beneficiary;

- b. During the administration of a decedent's estate; or
 - c. Under this section if the trustee is accounting under section 59-04.2-11 for the business or activity in which the asset is used.
3. An amount transferred to principal need not be held as a separate fund.

59-04.2-27. (504) Transfers from income to reimburse principal.

1. If a trustee makes or expects to make a principal disbursement described in this section, the trustee may transfer an appropriate amount from income to principal in one or more accounting periods to reimburse principal or to provide a reserve for future principal disbursements.
2. Principal disbursements to which subsection 1 applies include the following, but only to the extent that the trustee has not been and does not expect to be reimbursed by a third party:
 - a. An amount chargeable to income but paid from principal because it is unusually large, including extraordinary repairs;
 - b. A capital improvement to a principal asset, whether in the form of changes to an existing asset or the construction of a new asset, including special assessments;
 - c. Disbursements made to prepare property for rental, including tenant allowances, leasehold improvements, and broker's commissions;
 - d. Periodic payments on an obligation secured by a principal asset to the extent that the amount transferred from income to principal for depreciation is less than the periodic payments; and
 - e. Disbursements described in subdivision g of subsection 1 of section 59-04.2-25.
3. If the asset whose ownership gives rise to the disbursements becomes subject to a successive income interest after an income interest ends, a trustee may continue to transfer amounts from income to principal as provided in subsection 1.

59-04.2-28. (505) Income taxes.

1. A tax required to be paid by a trustee based on receipts allocated to income must be paid from income.
2. A tax required to be paid by a trustee based on receipts allocated to principal must be paid from principal, even if the tax is called an income tax by the taxing authority.
3. A tax required to be paid by a trustee on the trust's share of an entity's taxable income must be paid proportionately:
 - a. From income to the extent that receipts from the entity are allocated to income.

- b. From principal to the extent that:
 - (1) Receipts from the entity are allocated to principal; and
 - (2) The trust's share of the entity's taxable income exceeds the total receipts described in subdivision a and paragraph 1 of subdivision b.
4. For purposes of this section, receipts allocated to principal or income must be reduced by the amount distributed to a beneficiary from principal or income for which the trust receives a deduction in calculating the tax.

59-04.2-29. (506) Adjustments between principal and income because of taxes.

1. A fiduciary may make adjustments between principal and income to offset the shifting of economic interests or tax benefits between income beneficiaries and remainder beneficiaries which arise from:
 - a. Elections and decisions, other than those described in subsection 2, that the fiduciary makes from time to time regarding tax matters;
 - b. An income tax or any other tax that is imposed upon the fiduciary or a beneficiary as a result of a transaction involving or a distribution from the estate or trust; or
 - c. The ownership by an estate or trust of an interest in an entity whose taxable income, whether or not distributed, is includable in the taxable income of the estate, trust, or a beneficiary.
2. If the amount of an estate tax marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction is reduced because a fiduciary deducts an amount paid from principal for income tax purposes instead of deducting it for estate tax purposes, and as a result estate taxes paid from principal are increased and income taxes paid by an estate, trust, or beneficiary are decreased, each estate, trust, or beneficiary that benefits from the decrease in income tax shall reimburse the principal from which the increase in estate tax is paid. The total reimbursement must equal the increase in the estate tax to the extent that the principal used to pay the increase would have qualified for a marital deduction or charitable contribution deduction but for the payment. The proportionate share of the reimbursement for each estate, trust, or beneficiary whose income taxes are reduced must be the same as its proportionate share of the total decrease in income tax. An estate or trust shall reimburse principal from income.

59-04.2-30. Certain charitable remainder unitrusts.

1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, unless the trust instrument directs otherwise, an increase in the value of the obligations described in this subsection owned by a charitable remainder unitrust of the type authorized in section 664(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. 664(d)(3)] or its successor provisions is distributable as income when it becomes available for distribution:
 - a. A zero coupon bond;

- b. An annuity contract before annuitization;
 - c. A life insurance contract before the death of the insured;
 - d. An interest in a common trust fund as defined in section 584 of the Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. 584] or its successor provisions;
 - e. An interest in a partnership as defined in section 7701 of the Internal Revenue Code [26 U.S.C. 7701] or its successor provisions; and
 - f. Any other obligation for the payment of money that is payable at a future time in accordance with a fixed, variable, or discretionary schedule of appreciation in excess of the price at which it was issued.
2. The increase in value of the obligations described in subsection 1 is distributable to the beneficiary who was the income beneficiary at the time of the increase.
 3. For purposes of this section, the increase in value of an obligation described in subsection 1 is available for distribution only when the trustee receives cash on account of the obligation. If the obligation is surrendered or liquidated partially, the cash available must be attributed first to the increase.

AN ACT to create and enact three new subsections to section 60-04-03.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to warehousemen; to amend and reenact subsections 3 and 5 of section 60-02-01, subsection 1 of section 60-02-05, sections 60-02-07, 60-02-17, subsection 1 of section 60-02-24, sections 60-02-27, and 60-02-37 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to warehouseman disputes, warehouse storage contracts, and hay buyers; and to repeal section 60-02-17.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to warehouse charges for grain owned by the United States.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

³⁶² SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsections 3 and 5 of section 60-02-01 of the North Dakota Century Code are amended and reenacted as follows:

3. "Grain" means wheat, durum, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, flaxseed, speltz, safflower, sunflower seeds, tame mustard, peas, beans, soybeans, corn, clover, millet, alfalfa, and any other commercially grown ~~domestic~~ grain or grass seed. "Grain" as defined in this chapter shall not include grain or grass seeds owned by or in the possession of the warehouseman that have been cleaned, processed, and specifically identified for an intended use of planting for reproduction and for which a warehouse receipt has not been issued.
5. "Public warehouse" means any elevator, mill, warehouse, subterminal, grain warehouse, terminal warehouse, or other structure or facility not licensed under the United States Warehouse Act [7 U.S.C. 241-273] in which grain is received for storing, buying, selling, or shipping, or processing for compensation. Provided, however, that nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require a ~~warehouseman doing manufacturing business only,~~ processor to receive, store, or purchase any lot or kind of grain at said ~~mill~~ facility.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 60-02-05 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

³⁶² Section 60-02-01 was also amended by section 1 of Senate Bill No. 2153, chapter 534.

1. If any dispute or disagreement arises between the person receiving and the person delivering grain at any public warehouse in this state as to the proper grade, dockage, vomitoxin level, moisture content, or protein content of any grain, an average sample of at least three pints of the grain in dispute may be taken together by both parties interested. The sample must be certified by each party as a true and representative sample of the grain in dispute on the day the grain was delivered. The sample must be forwarded in a suitable container by parcel post or express, prepaid with the name and address of both parties for inspection by a federal licensed inspector, or a mutually agreed upon third party, who will examine the grain and adjudge what grade, dockage, vomitoxin level, moisture content, or protein content the sample of grain is entitled to under the inspection rules and grades adopted by the secretary of agriculture of the United States. The person requesting the inspection service shall pay for the inspection. If the grain in question is damp, otherwise out of condition, or if moisture content is in dispute, the sample must be placed in an airtight container. Payment for the grain involved in the dispute must be made and accepted on the basis of the determination made by the federal licensed inspector or third party. However, all other quality factors may also be considered in determining the price of the grain. An appeal of the determination made by a third party other than a federal licensed inspector may be made to a federal licensed inspector. An appeal of the determination made by a federal licensed inspector may be made as provided under the United States Grain Standards Act [Pub. L. ~~90-487~~ 103-354; ~~82~~ 108 Stat. ~~764~~ 3237; 7 U.S.C. 79(c) and (d)] and under 7 CFR 800.125-800.140. A person not abiding by a final determination is liable for damage resulting from not abiding by the determination.

60-02-07. Public warehouse license - How obtained - Fee - Financial statement.

An annual license must be obtained from the commission for each public warehouse in operation in this state. The license expires on July thirty-first of each year. No license may describe more than one public warehouse nor grant permission to operate any public warehouse other than the one described. The annual license fee for a public warehouse is two hundred fifty dollars for a warehouse of a bushel capacity of two hundred thousand [7047.8 cubic meters] or less, four hundred dollars for a warehouse of a bushel capacity of more than two hundred thousand and not more than five hundred thousand [7047.8 to not more than 17619.54 cubic meters], and five hundred dollars for a warehouse of a bushel capacity of more than five hundred thousand [17619.54 cubic meters]. If a public warehouseman operates two or more warehouses in the same city or siding, in conjunction with each other and with the same working force, and keeps one set of books and records for all such warehouses, and issues one series of scale tickets, warehouse receipts, checks, and credit-sale contracts for the grain stored and purchased therein, only one license is required for the operation of all such warehouses. Where two or more warehouses are operated under one license, the license fee is based upon the combined bushel capacity of the warehouses. If the commission employs fewer than two full-time equivalent warehouse inspectors, each annual fee under this section is reduced by one hundred dollars.

If required to obtain United States department of agriculture approval of the commission's warehouse inspection program, the commission may require that the applicant submit a current financial statement prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A financial statement furnished under this section is a confidential trade secret and is not a public record.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 60-02-17 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

60-02-17. Warehouse and storage contract - Storage rates - Terminal delivery. A warehouse receipt must contain, either on its face or reverse side, the following warehouse and storage contract:

"This grain is received, insured, and stored subject to the following charges: one-tenth of one cent per net bushel [35.24 liters] per day, except for dry edible beans which are subject to a daily storage rate fixed at the time of delivery no greater than one-half of one cent per net hundredweight [45.36 kilograms] per day, provided, however, that no storage may be charged for grain so stored for fifteen days from date of delivery if such grain is sold within such fifteen-day period; however, if such grain is not sold within the fifteen days, storage charges commence from the date a warehouse receipt was issued. All grain received for storage is subject to a charge of seven cents per net bushel [35.24 liters], except for flax which is subject to a charge of seven cents per gross bushel [35.24 liters] and dry edible beans which are subject to a charge of ten cents per net hundredweight [45.36 kilograms]. Grain purchased by the warehouseman is exempt from the receiving and redelivery charges. Except for dry edible beans, upon laws and rules of the state of North Dakota, the terms of this contract and the charges and conditions stated herein and as filed with the North Dakota public service commission. Upon surrender of this receipt and payment or tender of a delivery charge per gross bushel [35.24 liters] of five cents on flax and five cents per net bushel [35.24 liters] on all other grains and all other stated lawful charges accrued up to the time of surrender of this receipt, the above all applicable charges, the amount, kind, and grade of grain identified in this receipt will be delivered to the person named above or the person's order as rapidly as due diligence, care, and prudence will permit. At the option of the holder of this receipt, the amount, kind, and grade of grain for which this receipt is issued, upon demand, must be delivered back to the holder at any terminal point customarily shipped to, or at the place where received, upon the payment of the above any charges for receiving, handling, storage, and insurance and in case of terminal delivery, the payment in addition to the above of the regular freight charges on the gross amount called for by this ticket or in lieu thereof, a receipt issued by a bonded warehouse or elevator company doing business at the terminal point. Nothing in this receipt requires the delivery of the identical grain specified herein, but an equal amount of grain of the same kind and grade must be delivered. Dry edible beans will be delivered to the holder in accordance with the warehouseman's delivery policy upon the surrender of this receipt and payment or tender of all lawful charges accrued up to the time of surrender including the charge for delivery contained in the delivery policy."

A warehouseman may charge a different storage rate for grain stored for the United States government under the Food Security Wheat Reserve Act, Pub. L. 101-624, as amended, if the rate is filed with the commission and identified on the warehouse receipt. A warehouseman shall publish and post, in a conspicuous place in its warehouse, the fees that will be assessed for receiving, storing, processing, or redelivering grain. This fee schedule must be filed with the commission as a part of its warehouse license application or annual renewal. These fees must be stated on the warehouse receipt issued for the grain. The fees may be changed upon filing a revised schedule with the commission.

SECTION 5. AMENDMENT. Subsection 1 of section 60-02-24 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

1. Prepare for each month a report giving facts and information called for on the form of report prepared by the commission, ~~which.~~ The report shall must contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. Such ~~The report may be called for more frequently if the commission deems it necessary. Information pertaining to the volume of grain handled is a confidential trade secret and is not a public record. The commission may make the information available for use by other governmental entities, but the commission may not release the information in a manner that jeopardizes the confidentiality of individual licensees.~~

60-02-27. Federal grades to control - Grades to be posted. All public warehousemen shall purchase and store grain except dry edible beans in accordance with the official grades established from time to time by the secretary of agriculture of the United States, except as otherwise provided in rules and regulations applicable thereto adopted by federal officials pursuant to law. They shall post in a conspicuous place in their warehouse the official grades so established and also any change that may be made from time to time. Warehousemen of dry edible beans shall purchase, store, and deliver beans in accordance with their policy which must be filed with the commission and posted in a conspicuous place in their warehouse. Other grading standards may be used if mutually agreed to in writing by the warehouseman and the owner of the grain. However, the owner may demand the use of federal grading standards. The commission, after hearing, may prohibit the use of nonfederal grades.

SECTION 7. AMENDMENT. Section 60-02-37 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

60-02-37. Destruction of warehouse - Duty to notify commission. In case of the destruction by fire or other cause of any licensed public warehouse, the licensee thereof shall notify the commission ~~by telephone and registered or certified mail~~ within twenty-four hours after such loss.

60-02.1-05. Grain marketing - Procedure for resolving disputes.

1. If any dispute or disagreement arises between the person receiving and the person delivering grain as to the proper grade, dockage, vomitoxin level, moisture content, or protein content of any grain, an average sample of at least three pints [1.65 liters] of the grain in dispute may be taken together by both interested parties. The sample must be certified by each party as a true and representative sample of the grain in dispute on the day the grain was transferred. The sample must be forwarded in a suitable container by parcel post or express, prepaid with the name and address of both parties for inspection by a federal licensed inspector, or a mutually agreed upon third party, who will examine the grain and adjudge what grade, dockage, vomitoxin level, moisture content, or protein content the sample of grain is entitled to under the inspection rules and grades adopted by the secretary of agriculture of the United States. The person requesting the inspection service shall pay for the inspection. If the grain in question is damp, otherwise out of condition, or if moisture content is in dispute, the sample must be placed in an airtight container. Payment for the grain involved in the dispute must be made and accepted on the basis of the determination made by the federal licensed inspector or third party. However, all other quality factors may also be considered in determining the price of the grain. An appeal of the determination made by a third party other than a federal licensed inspector may be made to a federal licensed inspector. An appeal of the determination made by a federal licensed inspector may be made as provided under the United States Grain Standards Act [Pub. L. 103-354; 108 Stat. 3237; 7 U.S.C. 79(c) & (d)] and under 7 CFR 800.125-800.140. A person not abiding by a final determination is liable for damage resulting from not abiding by the determination.
2. If any dispute or disagreement arises between the person delivering grain and the person receiving grain as to the determination of quality factors of grain purchased or delivered in the state for which inspection rules and grades have not been adopted by the secretary of agriculture of the United States, an average sample of at least three pints [1.65 liters] of the grain in dispute may be taken together by the interested parties. The sample must be certified by each party as a true and representative sample of the grain in dispute on the day the grain was transferred. If the grain is damp or otherwise out of condition, the sample must be placed in an airtight container. The sample must be forwarded in a suitable container by parcel post or express, prepaid with the name and address of both parties, for inspection by a federal licensed inspector, or a mutually agreed upon third party, who may examine the grain and determine the quality factors in dispute. The person requesting the inspection service shall pay for the inspection. The determination made by the inspector, or the third party, must be used in the settlement of the dispute.

60-02.1-06. Notice of procedures for resolving disputes over grain. A facility-based grain buyer shall post a notice containing the procedures specified in section 60-02.1-05 for resolving disputes. The commission shall prescribe the form of the notice and shall provide a copy of the notice to each facility-based grain buyer. The facility-based grain buyer shall post the notice in the grain inspection room of the facility. The notice must specifically mention that the procedure for resolving disputes applies to the grade, dockage, moisture content, and protein content of grain and to the quality factors of grain for which inspection rules and grades have not been adopted by the secretary of agriculture of the United States.

60-02.1-07. Grain buyer license - How obtained - Fee - Financial statement. Grain buyers must obtain an annual license from the commission. The license expires on July thirty-first of each year. A facility-based grain buyer must obtain a license for each receiving location operated in the state. If a grain buyer operates two or more facilities in the same city or siding, in conjunction with each other and with the same working force, and where but one set of books and records is kept for all such facilities, and scale tickets, and checks of but one series are issued for the grain, purchased, only one license is required for the operation of all such facilities. The annual license fee for a facility-based grain buyer is two hundred fifty dollars. The annual license fee for a roving grain buyer is one hundred fifty dollars.

If required to obtain United States department of agriculture approval of the commission's grain buyer inspection program, the commission may require that grain buyers submit a current financial statement prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A financial statement furnished under this section is a confidential trade secret and is not a public record.

60-02.1-08. Bond filed by grain buyer. Before any license is issued to any grain buyer under this chapter, the applicant for such license shall file a bond with the commission which must:

1. Be in a sum not less than five thousand dollars.
2. Be continuous, unless the corporate surety by certified mail notifies the licensee and the commission that the surety bond will be canceled ninety days after receipt of the notice of cancellation.
3. Run to the state of North Dakota for the benefit of all persons selling grain to or through the grain buyer.
4. Be conditioned:
 - a. For the faithful performance of the licensee's duties as a grain buyer.
 - b. For compliance with the provisions of law and the rules of the commission relating to the purchase of grain by such grain buyer.
5. For facility-based grain buyers, specify the location of each facility intended to be covered by such bond.
6. Be for the specific purpose of:
 - a. Protecting the sellers of grain.

- b. Covering the costs incurred by the commission in the administration of the licensee's insolvency.
7. Not accrue to the benefit of any person entering into a credit-sale contract with a grain buyer.
8. In no event shall the aggregate liability of the surety under a bond accumulate for each successive annual license renewal period during which such bond is in force but, for losses during any annual license renewal period, shall be limited in the aggregate to the bond amount stated or changed by appropriate endorsement or rider.

The commission may require an increase in the amount of any bond, from time to time, as it deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of this section. The surety on such a bond must be a corporate surety company, approved by the commission, and authorized to do business within the state. The commission may accept cash, a negotiable instrument, or a bond executed by personal sureties in lieu of a surety bond when, in its judgment, such cash, negotiable instrument, or personal surety bond properly will protect the holders of outstanding receipts. Only one bond may be required for any series of facilities operated by a facility-based grain buyer, and such bond must be construed to cover such facilities as a whole and not a specific amount for each.

60-02.1-09. Bond cancellation - Release of surety. The surety on a bond is released from all future liability accruing on the bond after the expiration of ninety days from the date of receipt by the commission of notice of cancellation by the surety or on a later date specified by the surety. This provision does not operate to relieve, release, or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which accrues before the expiration of the ninety-day period. Unless the grain buyer files a new bond at least thirty days before liability ceases, the commission, without hearing, shall immediately suspend the grain buyer's license and the suspension may not be removed until a new bond has been filed and approved by the commission.

60-02.1-10. Grain buyer license to be posted or carried - Penalty. The license obtained by a facility-based grain buyer shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the buyer's facility. A roving grain buyer shall have his license in his possession at all times. A grain buyer who transacts business without first procuring a license and giving a bond is guilty of a class B misdemeanor.

60-02.1-11. Revocation and suspension. The commission may suspend or revoke the license of any grain buyer for cause upon notice and hearing. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, the license of a grain buyer must automatically be suspended for failure at any time to have or to maintain either a bond or insurance policy in the amount and type required. During a suspension of a license a facility-based grain buyer, upon the commission's approval, may operate its facility and purchase or redeliver grain previously received, but may not receive additional grain for purchase, shipping, or processing.

60-02.1-12. Scale ticket - Contents. Every grain buyer, upon receiving grain, shall issue a uniform scale ticket or comparable receipt for each load of grain received. Receipts must be numbered consecutively and one copy of each receipt must be retained and remain as a permanent record. The original receipt must be delivered to the person from whom the grain is received, upon receipt of each load of grain.

60-02.1-13. Penalty. Any person who violates any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted pursuant to this chapter, if punishment is not specifically provided for, is guilty of an infraction.

60-02.1-14. Credit-sale contracts. A grain buyer may not purchase grain by a credit-sale contract except as provided in this section. All credit-sale contracts must be in writing and must be consecutively numbered at the time of printing the contract. The grain buyer shall maintain an accurate record of all credit-sale contract numbers including the disposition of each numbered form, whether by execution, destruction, or otherwise. Each credit-sale contract must contain or provide for all of the following:

1. The seller's name and address.
2. The conditions of delivery.
3. The amount and kind of grain delivered.
4. The price per unit or basis of value.
5. The date payment is to be made.
6. The duration of the credit-sale contract.
7. Notice in a clear and prominent manner that the sale is not protected by the bond coverage provided for in section 60-02.1-08. However, if the grain buyer has obtained bond coverage in addition to that required by section 60-02.1-15 and the coverage extends to the benefit of credit-sale contracts, the grain buyer may state that fact in the credit-sale contract along with the extent of such coverage.

The contract must be signed by both parties and executed in duplicate. One copy must be retained by the grain buyer and one copy must be delivered to the seller. Upon revocation, termination, or cancellation of a grain buyer's license, the payment date for all credit-sale contracts, at the seller's option, must be advanced to a date not later than thirty days after the effective date of the revocation, termination, or cancellation, and the purchase price for all unpriced grain must be determined as of the effective date of revocation, termination, or cancellation in accordance with all other provisions of the contract. However, if the license of the grain buyer is transferred to another grain buyer or licensed warehouseman, credit-sale contracts, if so agreed by the seller and transferee, may be assigned to the transferee.

60-02.1-15. Discrimination by grain buyer prohibited. A grain buyer may not discriminate:

1. In the buying, selling, receiving, and handling of grain or in the charges made or the service rendered to owners of purchased grain;
2. In the receiving of grain offered for sale, but this chapter may not be construed to require a processor to receive or purchase any lot or kinds of grain;
3. In regard to the persons offering such grain for sale; or
4. Between points or stations except as the marketing factors or transportation costs or grain quality premiums may warrant.

A grain buyer is not required to receive any grain that is heating or otherwise out of condition. A facility-based grain buyer shall post grain prices paid in a conspicuous place in the office or driveway of the buyer's place of business.

60-02.1-23. Destruction of grain - First lien by holder of outstanding receipt. The holder of an unconverted scale ticket or other comparable receipt issued by any facility-based grain buyer shall have a first lien, to the extent of the value of the grain at the time of loss at the place where held, on all insurance of the grain buyer for any loss sustained by the receipt holder, on account of the loss of such grain by fire, tornado, or any other cause covered by such insurance policy.

60-02.1-31. Joinder of surety - Deposit of proceeds. Each surety on the insolvent licensee's bonds must be joined as a party to the insolvency proceeding. Claimants are not parties to the insolvency action unless admitted by the court upon a motion for intervention.

60-02.1-33. Remedy of claimants. No claimant has a separate claim for relief upon any insolvent licensee's bond, nor for insurance, nor against any person converting grain, nor against any other claimant, except through the trustee, unless, upon demand of five or more claimants, the commission fails or refuses to apply for its own appointment or unless the district court denies the application. Provisions of this chapter do not prohibit any claimant, either individually or in conjunction with other claimants, from pursuing concurrently any other remedy against the person or property of the licensee.

60-02.1-34. Commission to marshal trust assets. Upon its appointment the commission shall marshal all of the trust fund assets. The commission may maintain suits in the name of the state of North Dakota for the benefit of all claimants against the licensee's bonds, insurers of grain, any person who may have converted any grain, and any who may have received preferential treatment by being paid by the insolvent licensee after the first default.

The court shall set a hearing and the appropriate notice for interested persons to show cause why the commission's report should not be approved and distribution of the fund be made as proposed. Copies of the report and notice of hearing must be served by the commission by certified mail upon the licensee and the surety and by ordinary mail upon all claimants.

Any aggrieved person having an objection to the commission's report shall file the objection with the court and serve copies on the commission, the licensee, and the surety at least ten days before the hearing. Failure to file and serve objections in the time set is a waiver of the objection.

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 61-01 and chapter 61-02.1 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to statewide water development goals and the issuance of bonds to finance construction of flood control projects, the southwest pipeline project, a Devils Lake outlet, and a statewide water development program; to amend and reenact subdivision d of subsection 5 of section 61-02-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the definition of works; to require the pledging of funds for certain water projects; to allocate funds from settlements with tobacco product manufacturers; to provide a statement of legislative intent; to provide for reports to the legislative council; to provide for development of a statewide water development program; to provide an appropriation; to provide an effective date; to provide an expiration date; and to declare an emergency.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 61-01 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Statewide water development goals. The legislative assembly will support to the extent funds are available from the water development trust fund the comprehensive statewide water development program developed pursuant to section 2 of chapter 587 of the 1995 Session Laws and to the state water management plan established under section 61-01-26. In order to implement the state water management plan, the legislative assembly will support the following:

1. During the 1999-2001 biennium:
 - a. Southwest pipeline project: Six million dollars in state funds and eleven million five hundred thousand dollars in federal funds, assuming Perkins County water system payment to the state water commission of four million five hundred thousand dollars.
 - b. Northwest area water supply project: Eight million two hundred thousand dollars in local funds and fourteen million eight hundred thousand dollars in federal funds, with an option being considered of the state water commission bonding the local cost-share with local repayment of the total principal, interest, and cost of issuance of the bonds to the state water commission.

- c. Other municipal, rural, and industrial projects: Twenty-five million five hundred thousand dollars in local funds and thirty-nine million nine hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.
 - d. Grand Forks flood control: Twenty-five million dollars in local funds, twenty-five million dollars in state funds, and thirty-eight million five hundred thousand dollars in federal funds. The state total cost-share of fifty-two million dollars or so much of the total cost-share that is required may be bonded, requiring a loan repayment estimated at three million nine hundred thousand dollars per year with repayment beginning in 2001.
 - e. Devils Lake outlet to the Sheyenne River and to west Stump Lake: Seventeen million five hundred thousand dollars in state funds and thirty-two million five hundred thousand dollars in federal funds. The total state cost-share of seventeen million five hundred thousand dollars includes mitigation costs and will be bonded, requiring a local repayment estimated at one million five hundred thousand dollars per year, with the split between state and local loan repayment to be determined. Before bonds may be issued for a Devils Lake outlet, construction of the outlet must be approved by the state water commission and the federal government must have agreed to participate in construction of the outlet.
2. During the 2001-03 biennium:
- a. Water to eastern North Dakota: Seventeen million dollars in federal funds appropriated under the Garrison Diversion Unit Reformulation Act of 1986 [Pub. L. 99-294; 100 Stat. 418], Dakota Water Resources Act of 1998, or other federal Act. The local cost has not been determined and will be determined after project configuration is complete.
 - b. Southwest pipeline project: Five hundred thousand dollars in local funds, one million seven hundred thousand dollars in state funds, and twelve million five hundred thousand dollars federal funds.
 - c. Northwest area water supply project: Eight million seven hundred thousand dollars in local funds and sixteen million three hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.
 - d. Other municipal, rural, and industrial projects: Seventeen million seven hundred thousand dollars in local funds and thirty-two million eight hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.
 - e. Grand Forks flood control: Thirty-five million seven hundred thousand dollars in local funds, twenty-seven million dollars in state funds, and sixty-two million nine hundred thousand dollars in federal funds; annual bond payments of three million nine hundred thousand dollars. Components of the Grand Forks flood control project involve water treatment plant improvements. Those federal costs are reflected in subdivision d because of potential cost-sharing using Garrison diversion municipal, rural, and industrial funds. Other projects, such as greenway, are listed under subdivision g.

- f. Devils Lake outlet to Sheyenne River and to west Stump Lake: Bond repayments of one million five hundred thousand dollars per year.
 - g. General projects: Thirty-one million seven hundred thousand dollars in local funds, twenty-five million nine hundred thousand dollars in state funds, and thirty-nine million eight hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.
- 3. During the 2003-05 biennium:
 - a. Water to eastern North Dakota: Six million dollars in federal funds appropriated under the Garrison Diversion Unit Reformulation Act of 1986 [Pub. L. 99-294; 100 Stat. 418], Dakota Water Resources Act of 1998, or other federal Act. The local cost has not been determined and will be determined after project configuration is complete.
 - b. Southwest pipeline project: One million dollars in local funds, five million dollars in state funds, and eleven million four hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.
 - c. Northwest area water supply project: Eleven million eight hundred thousand dollars in local funds and twenty-one million eight hundred thousand dollars in federal funds.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Subdivision d of subsection 5 of section 61-02-02 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

- d. All works for the conservation, control, development, storage, treatment, distribution, and utilization of water including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing subdivisions, works for the purpose of irrigation, flood control, watering stock, supplying water for public, domestic, industrial, and recreational use, fire protection, and the draining of lands injured or in danger of injury as a result of such water utilization.

SECTION 3. Chapter 61-02.1 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

61-02.1-01. Legislative findings and intent - Authority to issue bonds.

1. The legislative assembly finds that some cities suffered serious economic and social injuries due to the major flood disaster in 1997 and other recent floods and are at significant risk for future flooding; and that construction of flood control or reduction projects is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state and that construction of any such projects involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. Therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that the state by and through the state water commission assist in financing the costs of constructing flood control or reduction projects through the issuance of bonds.
2. The legislative assembly finds that continued construction of the southwest pipeline project is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state and that continued construction of the southwest pipeline project involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. The legislative assembly also finds that current funding for the southwest pipeline project has become uncertain, and therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that the state by and through the state water commission assist in financing the costs of continued construction of the southwest pipeline project through the issuance of bonds.
3. The legislative assembly finds that the Devils Lake basin is suffering and facing a worsening flood disaster; and that construction of an outlet from Devils Lake is necessary for the protection of health, property, and enterprises and for the promotion of prosperity and the general welfare of the people of the state; and that construction of the outlet involves and requires the exercise of the sovereign powers of the state and concerns a public purpose. Therefore, it is declared necessary and in the public interest that an outlet from Devils Lake be constructed with financing from the state water commission to provide flood relief to the Devils Lake basin.
4. The legislative assembly finds that there is a critical need to develop a comprehensive statewide water development program to serve the long-term water resource needs of the state and its people and to protect the state's current usage of, and the state's claim to, its proper share of Missouri River water.
5. In furtherance of the public purpose set forth in subsection 1, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 and the proceeds are appropriated for flood control projects authorized and funded in part by the federal government and designed to provide permanent flood control or reduction to cities that suffered severe damages as a result of the 1997 flood or other recent floods and to repay the line of credit extended to the state water commission under section 4 of this Act. The commission may issue bonds for a flood control or reduction project only:

a. When:

- (1) A flood control or reduction project involves a city that suffered catastrophic flood damage requiring evacuation of the major share of its populace;
- (2) A flood control or reduction project includes interstate features and requires acquisition of private property to build permanent flood protection systems to comply with federal flood protection standards;
- (3) The governing body of a city provides a written certification to the state water commission that the city has committed itself to contribute one-half or more of the North Dakota project sponsor's share of the nonfederal share of the cost to construct the project;
- (4) The United States army corps of engineers issues its approval of the flood control or reduction project;
- (5) A project cooperation agreement, which contains provisions acceptable to the state engineer and is approved by the governor, is entered by the state of Minnesota or one of its political subdivisions in which the flood control or reduction project is to be constructed;
- (6) A project cooperation agreement, which contains provisions acceptable to the state engineer and is approved by the governor, is entered by the state or one of its political subdivisions in which the flood control or reduction project is to be constructed;
- (7) The governing body of the city has approved a financing plan for all amounts of the nonfederal share of a flood control or reduction project in excess of the amounts to be paid by the state;
- (8) That no order for injunctive relief has been issued by a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining construction of the flood control or reduction project; and
- (9) That the flood control or reduction project is designed to be cost-effective and that any impact on residential neighborhoods is minimized in an amount reasonably practicable as determined by the state engineer and approved by the governor;

b. When a flood control or reduction project in a city with a population as of the 1990 federal decennial census of at least eight thousand and not more than ten thousand has received significant federal funding through federal grants and funds from the United States army corps of engineers and the federal emergency management agency; or

- c. When a flood control or reduction project in a city with a population as of the 1990 federal decennial census of at least four thousand five hundred and not more than six thousand has at least seventy percent of the land within the boundaries of the city located within the one hundred year floodplain as designated on a flood insurance rate map and the United States army corps of engineers issues its approval of the flood control or reduction project.
6. In furtherance of the public purpose set forth in subsection 2, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 and the proceeds are appropriated for construction of the southwest pipeline project and to repay the line of credit extended to the state water commission under section 4 of this Act. The commission may only issue bonds under this chapter for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project when it is determined that the Perkins County water system will not make payment to the state water commission in the amount of four million five hundred thousand dollars or on January 1, 2000, whichever occurs earlier. If the Perkins County water system makes payment to the state water commission after January 1, 2000, the payment must be used to pay principal and interest on bonds issued for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project as provided in subsection 2 of section 61-02.1-04. If the Perkins County water system does not make payment to the state water commission, no benefits may accrue to the Perkins County water system.
7. In furtherance of the public purposes set forth in subsections 3 and 4, the state water commission may issue bonds under chapter 61-02 to finance the cost of one or more of the projects identified in this subsection, provided that:
- a. (1) The state water commission may only issue bonds for construction of an outlet from Devils Lake when the United States authorizes construction of an outlet and either the state water commission or a federal agency has developed a plan addressing damage to basic infrastructure such as roads, culverts, and bridges; riverbank erosion; downstream flooding; and increased water treatment costs caused by or resulting from construction of the outlet;
- (2) The state water commission or the project sponsor must sign a project cooperation agreement with the United States army corps of engineers;
- (3) The outlet from Devils Lake to west Stump Lake must comply with any environmental impact statement or National Environmental Policy Act provisions required under federal law; and
- (4) Bonds may not be issued if an order for injunctive relief has been issued by a court of competent jurisdiction enjoining construction of an outlet from Devils Lake to the Sheyenne River or to west Stump Lake.

- b. The state water commission may only issue bonds to finance the nonfederal cost-share of the Garrison diversion unit when the Congress of the United States enacts legislation for the completion of the Garrison diversion unit, which may include the delivery of water to the northwest area water supply project; southwest pipeline project; Turtle Lake irrigation district; Nesson-Valley irrigation district; Elk Charbon irrigation district; the Williston irrigation project; the Oakes irrigation project; other irrigation, municipal, rural, and industrial water supply projects; augmented streamflow and ground water recharge projects; development of a Red River valley water supply; and delivery of Missouri River water to the Sheyenne River.
8. This chapter does not affect the state water commission's authority to otherwise issue bonds pursuant to chapter 61-02 or 61-24.3-01.
9. Notwithstanding this section, the state water commission may not issue bonds authorized under subsection 5 or subdivision a of subsection 7 for a project unless federal funds have been appropriated for that project.
10. Notwithstanding this section, if bonds are issued under this chapter, any bonds subsequently issued after the first issuance must meet the same conditions as the bonds initially issued.
11. Notwithstanding this section, except for a project listed in subdivision a of subsection 7 the state water commission may not issue bonds under this chapter unless the local project sponsor has agreed to repay the local project sponsor's share of any bonds issued for the entire nonfederal share of the cost of a project.

61-02.1-02. Bond issuance amount limited.

1. The state water commission bonds issued for flood control or reduction projects meeting the requirements of subdivision a of subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01 may not exceed forty-five percent and bonds issued for flood control or reduction projects meeting the requirements of subdivision b or c of subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01 may not exceed one-half of the North Dakota project sponsor's share of the nonfederal share of the cost to construct the flood control or reduction project or, in the aggregate, sixty million three hundred thousand dollars plus the costs of issuance of the bonds, capitalized interest, and reasonably required reserves, whichever is less. Of the sixty million three hundred thousand dollars authorized in this subsection for flood control or reduction projects under subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01, fifty-two million dollars must be allocated for flood control or reduction projects meeting the requirements of subdivision a of subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01, three million five hundred thousand dollars must be allocated for flood control or reduction projects meeting the requirements of subdivision b of subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01, and four million eight hundred thousand dollars must be allocated for flood control or reduction projects meeting the requirements of subdivision c of subsection 5 of section 61-02.1-01.
2. The state water commission bonds issued as provided in subsection 6 of section 61-02.1-01 for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project may not exceed, in the aggregate, four million five hundred thousand dollars plus the costs of issuance of the bonds, capitalized interest, and reasonably required reserves.

3. The state water commission bonds issued as provided in subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01 for a Devils Lake outlet to the Sheyenne River and to west Stump Lake or other projects listed in subdivision b of subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01 may not exceed, in the aggregate, twenty million dollars, plus the costs of issuance of the bonds, capitalized interest, and reasonably required reserves. The state water commission may use all or part of the proceeds of bonds issued as provided in subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01 and the proceeds are appropriated to match, in a ratio no greater than required by the federal government, any federal funds available for the projects identified in subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01 and to repay the line of credit extended to the state water commission under section 4 of this Act. The commission may require any political subdivision affected by Devils Lake flooding to participate in the cost of construction of an outlet from Devils Lake to the Sheyenne River and to west Stump Lake by providing matching funds in a percentage of the construction costs determined by the commission to be reasonable in light of the benefits to be received by that political subdivision in relation to benefits received by all benefited political subdivisions. Any local matching fund requirement must be determined by the commission and the affected political subdivisions must be informed of their matching fund obligation prior to issuance of bonds pursuant to this chapter.
4. For any project that requires federal participation, the state water commission may issue bonds equal to the estimated project costs less any local participation. Except for a project listed in subdivision a of subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01, if the state water commission issues bonds for both the state and local cost-share, an agreement for the local repayment of the local cost-share must be a part of an agreement between the state water commission and the local project sponsor to issue bonds for the nonfederal share.

61-02.1-03. Limitation of action. An action may not be brought or maintained in any court in this state questioning the validity of any bonds issued as provided in this chapter unless the action is commenced within thirty days after the adoption of the resolution of the state water commission authorizing the sale of the bonds. The state water commission may commence a special proceeding any time after the effective date of this chapter in and by which the constitutionality and validity of the bonds to be issued pursuant to this chapter may be judicially examined, approved and confirmed, or disapproved and disaffirmed. Proceedings must comply as nearly as possible with the procedure required for declaratory judgment proceedings.

61-02.1-04. Bonds payable from appropriations and other revenues.

1. Principal and interest on bonds issued for flood control or reduction projects as provided in this chapter are payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the water development trust fund as provided in section 61-02.1-05, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from revenues in the resources trust fund other than revenues from state taxes, then from appropriations of other available revenues in the then current biennium, and then from any other revenues the state water commission makes available during the then current biennium for that purpose, including any federal moneys received by the state for the construction of flood control or reduction projects to pay bonds issued for that project. If sufficient funds from these sources are not available, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the first available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota not to exceed six million five hundred thousand dollars per biennium prorated with any other bonds payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota, to be credited by the trustee to the fund established for paying principal and interest on the bonds under a trust indenture.

2. Principal and interest on bonds issued for continued construction of the southwest pipeline project are payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the water development trust fund as provided in section 61-02.1-05, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from revenues in the resources trust fund other than revenues from state taxes, then from appropriations of other available revenues in the then current biennium, or from payment from the Perkins County rural water system, and then from any other revenues the state water commission makes available during the then current biennium for that purpose, including any federal moneys received by the state for the construction of the southwest pipeline project to pay bonds issued for the project. If sufficient funds from these sources are not available, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the first available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota not to exceed six million five hundred thousand dollars per biennium prorated with any other bonds payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota, to be credited by the trustee to the fund established for paying principal and interest on the bonds under a trust indenture.
3. Principal and interest on bonds issued under subsection 7 of section 61-02.1-01 are payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the water development trust fund as provided in section 61-02.1-05, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from revenues in the resources trust fund other than revenues from state taxes, then from appropriations of other available revenues in the then current biennium, and then from any other revenues the state water commission makes available during the then current biennium for that purpose, including any federal moneys received by the state for the construction of an outlet to Devils Lake to pay bonds issued for that project, or financing a statewide water development program to pay bonds issued for that project. If sufficient funds from these sources are not available, then from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the first available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota not to exceed six million five hundred thousand dollars per biennium prorated with any other bonds payable from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the available current biennial earnings of the Bank of North Dakota, to be credited by the trustee to the fund established for paying principal and interest on the bonds under a trust indenture.

4. Obligations issued as provided in this chapter do not constitute a debt, liability, or obligation of the state of North Dakota or a pledge of the faith and credit of the state of North Dakota, but are payable solely from the sources as described in this chapter.
5. The state water commission shall include in its submission to the governor for inclusion by the governor in the biennial executive budget of the state for each year of the respective biennium during the term of any bonds issued as provided in this chapter an amount fully sufficient to pay the principal and interest required to be paid in each year of the biennium, if any, from moneys from nongeneral fund sources. Provided, that should the governor not include in the executive budget for any reason the amounts required to be included by this section, the state water commission shall request independently that the legislative assembly amend the executive budget appropriation so as to include the amounts.

61-02.1-05. Water development trust fund. Moneys received by the state pursuant to the 1998 settlement agreement with tobacco product manufacturers, or any successor agreement, and any earnings on these moneys, must be deposited in the water development trust fund in the state treasury for use in paying for bonds issued as provided in this chapter and for other water projects as provided in 1999 House Bill No. 1475.

SECTION 4. LINE OF CREDIT - APPROPRIATION. The Bank of North Dakota shall extend a line of credit not to exceed $84,800,000, which is hereby appropriated for the biennium beginning July 1, 1999, and ending June 30, 2001, to the state water commission for the purpose of interim financing until bonds are issued under chapter 61-02.1. Advances on the line of credit may be made only when a source of repayment has been identified and determined to be available.

SECTION 5. CORPORATE CENTER - CONTRACT TO PLEDGE REVENUES. Before the issuance of any bonds for any flood control or reduction project in Grand Forks as provided in chapter 61-02.1, the state water commission shall require a contract be entered with the city of Grand Forks pledging revenue from the corporate center in that city as follows:

1. After all moneys pledged for the repayment of revenue bonds for the corporate center project have been paid, the city must pledge revenue from the project to the water development trust fund as repayment for the flood control or reduction project to facilitate economic development in this state. This contract must be in compliance with all applicable federal requirements.
2. If the corporate center is voluntarily sold, the city must pledge the proceeds of the sale, subject to the rights of bondholders and all applicable federal requirements, to the water development trust fund as repayment for the flood control or reduction project to facilitate economic development in this state. The corporate center may not be voluntarily sold without the prior approval of the budget section of the legislative council.
3. The revenue to be pledged must be in amounts similar to the amounts previously dedicated each year for the repayment of the revenue bonds.

4. The period during which revenue must be pledged under this section is from the date of the final payment of the revenue bonds until the end of the projected life of the corporate center, which must be not less than forty years from the date of initial occupancy.
5. Any refinancing of debt or any improvements to the corporate center requiring the incurring of indebtedness cannot be entered without prior approval of the budget section of the legislative council.

SECTION 6. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of the fifty-sixth legislative assembly that a total of six million dollars of funding be provided to the state water commission for the southwest pipeline project through a combination of funding sources. The potential funding source must include payment from the Perkins County rural water system, bonds issued by the state water commission, or other available resources.

SECTION 7. APPROPRIATION. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the water development trust fund, not otherwise appropriated or from bond proceeds, the sum of $84,800,000, or so much of the sum as may be necessary, to the Bank of North Dakota for the purpose of repaying the line of credit extended to the state water commission under section 4 of this Act, for the biennium beginning July 1, 1999, and ending June 30, 2001. It is the intent of the legislative assembly that the funds appropriated in this section are from transfers to be made and appropriated by the legislative assembly from the water development trust fund as provided in section 61-02.1-05.

SECTION 8. EFFECTIVE DATE. The authority of the commission to issue bonds as provided in subsection 2 of section 61-02.1-01 becomes effective on the date the state engineer certifies to the state water commission that the Perkins County water system will not make a payment to the state water commission in the amount of four million five hundred thousand dollars or January 1, 2000, whichever occurs earlier.

SECTION 9. REPORTS TO LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL AND STANDING COMMITTEES - COMPREHENSIVE STATEWIDE WATER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM AND STATE WATER MANAGEMENT PLAN IMPLEMENTATION - BOND ISSUANCE. The report must include information on the funding sources used to repay any bonds issued under chapter 61-02.1.

SECTION 10. STATEWIDE WATER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM - LEGISLATIVE INTENT. The state water commission shall develop a new comprehensive statewide water development program with priorities based upon expected funds available from the water development trust fund for water development projects. It is the intent of the legislative assembly that the state water commission consider the delivery of water for usable purposes a priority for water development projects after the projects authorized in section 3 of this Act are completed.

SECTION 11. EXPIRATION DATE. The authority of the commission to issue bonds as provided in chapter 61-02.1 is effective through June 30, 2001, and after that date is ineffective provided, however, that the commission may continue to exercise all other powers granted to it under this Act and to comply with any covenants entered into pursuant to this Act.

1. The commission shall establish and maintain a reserve fund in which there must be deposited all moneys appropriated by the legislative assembly for the purpose of the fund, all proceeds of notes issued or guaranteed by the commission required to be deposited in the fund by terms of a contract or a resolution of the commission with respect to the proceeds of notes, any moneys or funds of the commission that it determines to deposit in the fund, any moneys made available to the commission for the purposes of the fund from any other source, and any contractual right to the receipt of moneys by the commission for the purpose of the fund, including a letter of credit or similar instrument. Moneys in the reserve fund must be held and applied solely to the payment of the interest on and the principal of notes and sinking fund payments as they become due and payable and for the retirement of notes, including payment of any redemption premium required to be paid when any notes are redeemed or retired before maturity, and for the payment of principal and interest on evidences of indebtedness or obligations guaranteed by the commission. Moneys in the reserve fund may not be withdrawn if the withdrawal would reduce the amount in the reserve fund to an amount less than the required debt service reserve, except for payment of the interest due and payable on notes and the principal of notes maturing and payable and sinking fund payments and for the retirement of notes in accordance with the terms of a contract between the commission and its noteholders, for the payment of principal and interest on evidences of indebtedness or obligations of an owner of water projects for which a guarantee has been issued by the commission, and for payment of interest or principal or sinking fund payments or retirement of notes or draws upon a guarantee, for which other moneys of the commission are not then available in accordance with the terms of the contract. The reserve fund may not be used for the payment of a guarantee by the commission unless the commission has determined that notes of the commission cannot be issued under acceptable terms for the payment of the guarantee or that the payment of the guarantee will not reduce the reserve fund to an amount less than the required debt service reserve. The required debt service reserve must be an aggregate amount equal to at least the largest amount of money required by the terms of all contracts between the commission and its noteholders to be raised in the current or any succeeding calendar year for the payment of interest on and maturing principal of outstanding notes and the payment required by the terms of any contract to a sinking fund established for the payment or redemption of the notes.

2. If the establishment of the reserve fund for an issue or the maintenance of an existing reserve fund at a required level under this section would necessitate the investment of all or any portion of a new reserve fund or all or any portion of an existing reserve fund at a restricted yield, because to not restrict the yield may cause the notes to be taxable under the Internal Revenue Code, then at the discretion of the commission a reserve fund does not need be established before the issuance of notes or the reserve fund need not be funded to the levels required by other subsections of this section or an existing reserve fund may be reduced.
3. Notes may not be issued by the commission unless there is in the reserve fund the required debt service reserve for all notes then issued and outstanding and the notes to be issued. This chapter does not prevent or preclude the commission from satisfying this requirement by depositing so much of the proceeds of the notes to be issued, upon their issuance, as is needed to achieve the required debt service reserve. The commission may issue its notes for the purpose of providing an amount necessary to increase the amount in the reserve fund to the required debt service reserve, or to meet any higher or additional reserve as may be fixed by the commission with respect to the fund.
4. In order to assure the maintenance of the required debt service reserve, there must be appropriated by the legislative assembly and paid to the commission for deposit in the reserve fund any sum certified by the commission as necessary to restore the reserve fund to an amount equal to the required debt service reserve or to maintain a reserve fund established by the commission under this chapter and required according to the terms of a guarantee issued by the commission. The commission may approve a resolution for the issuance of notes, as provided by this chapter, which states in substance that this subsection is not applicable to the required debt service reserve for notes issued under that resolution.

5. If the maturity of a series of notes of the commission is not more than three years from the date of issuance of the notes, the commission may determine that no reserve fund need be established for that respective series of notes or that the reserve fund may be in an amount less than the required debt service reserve. If the determination is made, holders of that respective series of notes do not have an interest in or claim on existing reserve funds established for the security of the holders of previously issued commission notes, and do not have an interest in or claim on reserve funds established for the holders of subsequent issues of notes of the commission.

SECTION 6. Section 61-02-68.17 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

61-02-68.17. Additional reserves and funds. The commission may establish additional and further reserves or other funds or accounts as may be necessary, desirable, or convenient to further the accomplishment of the purposes of the commission to comply with the provisions of an agreement made by or a resolution of the commission.

61-02-68.18. Protection of service during term of guarantee or loan.

1. The service provided or made available by owners of water projects through the construction or acquisition of an improvement, or the improvement revenues, financed in whole or in part with a guarantee or loan to the owners of water projects from the commission or any other state entity, may not be curtailed or limited by inclusion of all or any part of the area served by the owners of water projects within the boundaries of any other owners of water projects, or by the granting of any private franchise for similar service within the area served by the owners of water projects, during the term of the guarantee or loan. The owners of water projects providing the service may not be required to obtain or secure a franchise, license, or permit as a condition of continuing to serve the area if it is included within the boundaries of another owner of a water project during the term of the guarantee or loan.
2. Under the circumstances described in subsection 1, nothing prevents the two owners of water projects and the commission or other state entity from negotiating an agreement for the right or obligation to provide the service in question, provided that an agreement is invalid unless the commission or other state agency or enterprise is a party to the agreement and unless the agreement contains adequate safeguards to ensure the security and timely payment of any outstanding notes of the commission issued to fund the loan.

SECTION 8. Section 61-02-68.19 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

61-02-68.19. Interim financing notes, guarantees, or bonds for municipal, rural, and industrial water supply projects - Public interest. Guarantees made under section 61-02-68.14 or bonds or interim notes issued under chapter 61-02 for the purpose of providing construction period financing for owners of water projects eligible to receive municipal, rural, and industrial water supply funds pursuant to Pub. L. 99-294 [100 Stat. 418] are in the public interest and are not subject to the limitation contained in subsection 2 of section 61-02-46.

SECTION 9. A new chapter to title 61 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Definitions. In this chapter, unless the context or subject matter requires otherwise:

1. "Bond" means an evidence of indebtedness of the program issued by the commission.
2. "Bondholder" or any similar term, when used with reference to a bond of the program, means any person who is the bearer of any outstanding bond of the program.
3. "Commission" means the state water commission.
4. "Fully marketable form" means a municipal security duly executed and accompanied by an approving legal opinion of a counsel whose opinions are generally accepted by the purchasers of municipal securities.
5. "Municipal security" means an evidence of indebtedness issued by an irrigation district.
6. "Program" means the North Dakota irrigation district finance program established by the commission under this chapter.
7. "Required debt service reserve" means the amount required to be on deposit in the reserve fund.
8. "Reserve fund" means the program reserve fund or funds.
9. "Revenues" means any or all fees, charges, moneys, profits, payments of principal of or interest on municipal securities, investment income, revenues, appropriations, liquidation of security, and all other income derived or to be derived by the commission under the program.

Creation of program. The North Dakota irrigation district finance program is established under the operation, management, and control of the commission. The program is constituted as an instrumentality of the state exercising public and governmental functions.

Participation voluntary - Agreement to participate. Participation in the program by an irrigation district is voluntary and no irrigation district may be required to sell its municipal security issues to the program. Notwithstanding any other law, an irrigation district that wishes to participate in the program may enter into an agreement with the program for the purchase by the program of a municipal security issue of the irrigation district, including the purchase by the program of an issue of refunding municipal securities, which may be required by agreement with the program to be issued at a rate of interest higher or lower than that of the municipal security issue to be refunded.

Guarantee, lending, and borrowing powers. The program may guarantee municipal securities issued by an irrigation district. The program may lend money to irrigation districts through the purchase and holding of municipal securities which are eligible for purchase by the program, under this chapter, according to the terms of a guarantee by the program for the payment of debt service on a municipal security of an irrigation district. However, the program may lend money to irrigation districts through the purchase and holding of municipal securities issued by the irrigation district, without regard to the initial issuance of a guarantee of the principal amount and interest payable on the municipal securities issued, if the commission approves a resolution that authorizes the program to purchase and hold those municipal securities. The authorizing resolution must state that the commission has determined that private bond markets will not be responsive to the needs of the issuing irrigation district concerning the municipal securities or that the municipal securities cannot be sold through private bond markets without the guarantee of the program. The program may hold municipal securities acquired under this chapter for any length of time necessary. The program, for the purposes authorized by this chapter, may issue its bonds payable solely from the revenues available to the program which are authorized or pledged for payment of program bonds and obligations, and assist irrigation districts as provided in this chapter. Bonds or guarantees of the program issued under this chapter are not a debt or liability of the state and do not constitute a loan of the credit of the state, create any debt or liability on behalf of the state, or constitute a pledge of the faith and credit of the state. The bonds are payable solely from revenues pledged or available for their payment as authorized in this chapter. Each bond must contain on its face a statement to the effect that the program is obligated to pay the principal or interest, and redemption premium, if any, and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state is pledged to the payment of the principal or the interest on the bonds. Specific funds pledged to fulfill the program's obligations are obligations of the program. All expenses incurred in carrying out this chapter are payable solely from revenues or funds provided or to be provided under this chapter and nothing in this chapter may be construed to authorize the program to incur any indebtedness or liability on behalf of or payable by the state. Guarantees or bonds issued under this chapter are in the public interest and are not subject to the limitation contained in subsection 2 of section 61-02-46.

How bonds or guarantees may be secured. A bond or guarantee issued by the program may be secured by works or lands and the income derived from those works or lands.

Powers. The program has the following powers:

1. To sue and be sued.
2. To make and enforce bylaws and rules for the conduct of its affairs and business and for use of its services.
3. To acquire, hold, use, and dispose of its income, revenue, funds, and moneys in accordance with law.
4. To acquire, rent, lease, hold, use, and dispose of other personal property for its purposes.
5. To borrow money and to issue its negotiable bonds or notes and to provide for and secure their payment and to provide for the rights of the holders, and to purchase, hold, and dispose of any of its bonds and obligations.

6. To fix, revise, charge, and collect fees and charges for the use of its services or facilities.
7. To perform any acts and do all things authorized by this chapter, through its officers, agents, or employees, or by contracts with any person.
8. To make and enforce all contracts necessary or desirable for the program or pertaining to any loan to a political subdivision or any purchase or sale of municipal securities or other investments or to the performance of its duties and execution of its powers under this chapter.
9. To purchase or hold municipal securities of irrigation districts at the prices and in the manner deemed advisable by the program and to sell municipal securities acquired or held by it in the manner deemed advisable by the program.
10. To invest any funds or moneys of the program not then required for loans to irrigation districts and for the purchase of municipal securities in the same manner as permitted for the investment of funds belonging to the state or the Bank of North Dakota.
11. To fix and prescribe any form of application or procedure to be required of an irrigation district for the purpose of any guarantee, loan, or the purchase of its municipal securities, and to fix the terms and conditions of any guarantee, loan, or purchase and to enter into agreement with irrigation districts with respect to any such guarantee, loan, or purchase.
12. To consider the need, desirability, or eligibility of a guarantee or loan, the ability of an irrigation district to secure borrowed money from other sources, and the costs of that borrowing without program involvement.
13. To impose and collect charges from an irrigation district for its costs and services in review or consideration of any proposed guarantee or loan to an irrigation district or purchase of municipal securities of an irrigation district, and to impose and collect charges whether or not a guarantee or loan has been made or municipal securities have been guaranteed or purchased.
14. To fix and establish any and all terms and provisions with respect to any guarantee or purchase of municipal securities by the program, including dates and maturities of bonds, provisions as to redemption or payment prior to maturity, and any and all other matters necessary or advisable in the judgment of the program.
15. To procure insurance against any losses in connection with its property, operations, or assets in the amounts and from the insurers as necessary to pay the premiums on the insurance.
16. To the extent permitted under its contracts with the holders of bonds of the program, to consent to any modification with respect to rates of interest, time, and payment of any installment of principal or interest, security, or any other term of bond, contract, or agreement of any kind to which the program is a party.

17. To do all acts and things necessary, convenient, or desirable to carry out the powers expressly granted or necessarily implied in this chapter.

Guarantee of the program. A guarantee by the program of municipal securities of an irrigation district must be authorized by resolution of the commission and must be evidenced by a written agreement approved by the commission.

Bonds of the program. Bonds of the program must be authorized by resolution of the commission and may be issued in the form, with dates, interest rates, denominations, rights of conversion, registration, priority of payment, manner, location, and form of payment, terms of redemption, at public or private sale, and at the time and price determined by the commission to be in the best interest of the program.

Pledges. Any pledge of revenue made by the commission as security for a program guarantee or program bonds is valid and binding from the time when the pledge is made. The revenues or other moneys so pledged and thereafter received by the program are immediately subject to the lien of the pledge, without any physical delivery or further act, and the lien of any pledge is valid and binding against all parties having claims of any kind against the program, regardless of whether the parties have notice. Neither the resolution nor any other instrument by which a pledge is created must be filed or recorded, except in the records of the program.

Reserve fund.

1. The program shall establish and maintain a reserve fund in which there must be deposited all moneys appropriated by the state for the purpose of the fund, all proceeds of bonds required to be deposited by terms of any contract between the program and its bondholders or any resolution of the program with respect to the proceeds of bonds, any other moneys or funds of the program which are deposited by the program, any contractual right to the receipt of moneys by the program for the purpose of the fund, including a letter of credit or similar instrument, and any other moneys made available to the program only for the purposes of the fund from any other source. Moneys in the reserve fund must be held and applied solely to the payment of the interest on and the principal of bonds and sinking fund payments as they become due and payable and for the retirement of bonds, including payment of any redemption premium required to be paid when any bonds are redeemed or retired prior to maturity, and for the payment of principal and interest on municipal securities guaranteed by the program. Moneys in the reserve fund may not be withdrawn if the withdrawal would reduce the amount in the reserve fund to less than the required debt service reserve, except for payment of interest then due and payable on bonds and the principal of bonds then maturing and payable, sinking fund payments, the retirement of bonds in accordance with the terms of any contract between the program and its bondholders, the payment of principal and interest on municipal securities of an irrigation district for which a guarantee has been issued by the program, and for the payments on account of which interest or principal or sinking fund payments or retirement of bonds or execution of a guarantee, other moneys of the program are not then available in accordance with the terms of the contract. The reserve fund may not be used for the payment of a guarantee by the program unless the commission has determined that bonds of the program cannot be issued under acceptable terms for the payment of the guarantee, or the payment of the guarantee will not reduce the reserve fund to an amount less than the required debt service reserve. The required debt service reserve must be an aggregate amount equal to at least the largest amount of money required by the terms of all contracts between the program and its bondholders to be raised in the then current or any succeeding calendar year for the payment of interest on and maturing principal of outstanding bonds, and sinking fund payments required by the terms of any contracts to sinking funds established for the payment or redemption of the bonds.

2. If the establishment of the reserve fund for an issue or the maintenance of an existing reserve fund at a required level under this section would necessitate the investment of all or any portion of a new reserve fund or all or any portion of an existing reserve fund at a restricted yield, because not restricting the yield may cause the bonds to be taxable under the Internal Revenue Code, then, at the discretion of the program, no reserve fund need be established prior to the issuance of bonds, the reserve fund need not be funded to the levels required by this section, or an existing reserve fund may be reduced.
3. No bonds may be issued by the program unless there is in the reserve fund the required debt service reserve for all bonds then issued and outstanding and for the bonds to be issued. Nothing in this chapter prevents the program from satisfying this requirement by depositing upon issuance so much of the proceeds of the bonds to be issued, as is needed to achieve the required debt service reserve. The program may, at any time, issue its bonds or notes for the purpose of providing any amount necessary to increase the amount in the reserve fund to the required debt service reserve, or to meet higher or additional reserves as may be fixed by the program.
4. In order to ensure maintenance of the required debt service reserve, the legislative assembly shall appropriate and deposit in the reserve fund the amount certified by the commission as necessary to restore the reserve fund to an amount equal to the required debt service reserve, or maintain a reserve fund established by the commission under this chapter and required according to the terms of a guarantee issued by the program. However, the commission may approve a resolution for the issuance of bonds, as provided by this chapter, which states in substance that this subsection is not applicable to the required debt service reserve for bonds issued under the resolution.
5. If the maturity of a series of bonds of the program is three years or less from the date of issuance of the bonds, the program may determine that no reserve fund need be established for that respective series of bonds, or that it may be established in an amount less than the required debt service reserve. If such a determination is made, holders of the respective series of bonds may have no interest in or claim on existing reserve funds established for the security of the holders of previously issued program bonds and may have no interest in or claim on reserve funds established for the holders of subsequent issues of bonds of the program.

Additional reserves and funds. The program may establish additional reserves, funds, or accounts as it deems necessary to further the program or to comply with any agreement made by, or any resolution of, the program.

Personal liability - Purchase of bonds - Bonds as legal investments - Security.

1. Neither a member of the commission nor any person executing bonds issued under this chapter is liable personally on any bonds by reason of the issuance of those bonds.
2. The program has the power to purchase bonds of the program out of any available funds or moneys of the program. The program may hold, cancel, or resell bonds or notes, subject to any agreements with holders of its bonds.
3. Notwithstanding any other law, the state and all public officers, boards, and agencies, and political subdivisions and agencies of the state, all national banking associations, state banks, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, savings and loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking business, and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any bonds issued by the program pursuant to this chapter.
4. The bonds are authorized security for any and all public deposits.

Tax exemptions - Exemption of property from execution sale.

1. All property of the program and all bonds issued under this chapter are deemed to be serving essential public and governmental purposes and the property and the bonds issued, their transfer and their income, including any profits made on their sale, are exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxes.
2. All property of the program is exempt from levy and sale by virtue of an execution and no execution or other judicial process may issue against the property, nor may any judgment against the program be a charge or lien upon its property; provided, that nothing contained in this chapter applies to or limits the rights of the holder of any bonds to pursue any remedy for the enforcement of any pledge or lien given by the program on its revenues. Any action or proceeding in any court to set aside a resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds by the program under this chapter or to obtain any relief upon the ground that a resolution is invalid must be commenced within ten days after the adoption of that resolution by the commission. After the expiration of that period of limitation, no claim for relief or defense founded upon the invalidity of the resolution or any of its provisions may be asserted, nor may the validity of the resolution or any of its provisions be open to question in any court on any ground whatever.

Insurance or guaranty. The program is authorized and empowered to obtain from any department or agency of the United States or from nongovernmental insurer any insurance or guaranty, or from a financial institution a letter of credit to the extent the insurance, guaranty, or letter of credit available now or in the future for the payment or repayment of, interest or principal in whole or in part, on any bonds issued by the program, or on any municipal securities purchased or held by the program, or on any guarantee issued by the program, pursuant to this chapter; and to enter into any agreement or contract with respect to any insurance or guaranty, or letter of credit, and pay any required fee, unless doing so would impair or interfere with the ability of the program to fulfill the terms of any agreement made with the holders of its bonds or guarantees.

Remedies on default of municipal securities. In the event of a default by an irrigation district in the payment of interest on or principal of any municipal securities owned or held by the program, the program may proceed to enforce payment, pursuant to law, of the interest or principal or other amount then due and payable.

Form of municipal securities and investments. All municipal securities held by the program as permitted or provided for under this chapter must at all times be purchased and held in fully marketable form, subject to provision for any registration in the name of the program. All municipal securities at any time purchased, held, or owned by the program must, upon delivery to the program, be in fully marketable form and accompanied by the documentation required from time to time by the program.

Presumption of validity. After issuance, all bonds of the program are conclusively presumed to be fully authorized and issued under the laws of this state, and any person or governmental unit is estopped from questioning their authorization, sale, issuance, execution, or delivery by the program.

Protection of service during term of guarantee or loan.

1. The service provided or made available by an irrigation district through the construction or acquisition of an improvement, or the improvement revenues, financed in whole or in part with a guarantee or loan to the irrigation district from the program or any other state agency or enterprise, may not be curtailed or limited by inclusion of all or any part of the area served by the irrigation district within the boundaries of any other irrigation district, or by the granting of any private franchise for similar service within the area served by the irrigation district during the term of the guarantee or loan. The irrigation district providing the service may not be required to obtain or secure any franchise, license, or permit, as a condition of continuing to serve the area if it is included within the boundaries of another irrigation district during the term of the guarantee or loan.
2. Under the circumstances described in subsection 1, nothing prevents the two irrigation districts and the program or other state agency or enterprise from negotiating an agreement for the right or obligation to provide the service in question, provided that any agreement is invalid and unenforceable unless the program or other state agency or enterprise is a party to the agreement and unless the agreement contains adequate safeguards to ensure the security and timely payment of any outstanding bonds of the program issued to fund the loan.

Program revenues - Source. The state water commission may use resource trust fund revenues appropriated to it by Senate Bill No. 2023, as approved by the fifty-sixth legislative assembly, for the purpose of funding the reserve funds or paying the obligations of the program.

SECTION 10. EMERGENCY. This Act is declared to be an emergency measure.

The board shall make the decision required by section 61-16.1-53 within a reasonable time, not exceeding one hundred twenty days, after receiving the complaint. The board shall notify all parties of its decision by registered mail. The board's decision may be appealed to the state engineer by any aggrieved party. The appeal to the state engineer must be made within thirty days from the date notice of the board's decision has been received. The appeal must be made by submitting a written notice to the state engineer which must specifically set forth the reason why the appealing party believes the board's decision is erroneous. Upon receipt of this notice the board, if it has ordered removal of a dam, dike, or other device, is relieved of its obligation to procure the removal of the dam, dike, or other device. The state engineer shall handle the appeal by conducting an independent investigation and making an independent determination of the matter. The state engineer may enter property affected by the complaint for the purpose of investigating the complaint.

If the board fails to investigate and make a determination concerning the complaint within a reasonable time, not exceeding one hundred twenty days, the person filing the complaint may file the complaint with the state engineer. The state engineer, without reference to chapter 28-32, shall cause the investigation and determination to be made, either by action against the board, or by personally conducting the investigation and personally making the determination. If the state engineer determines that a dam, dike, or other device has been constructed or established by a landowner or tenant contrary to title 61 or any rules adopted by the board, the state engineer shall take one of these three actions:

2. Return the matter to the jurisdiction of the board along with the investigation report; or
3. Forward the dam, dike, or other device complaint and investigation report to the state's attorney.

If the state engineer decides to notify the landowner, the notice must specify the nature and extent of the noncompliance and must state that if the dam, dike, or other device is not removed within such reasonable time as the state engineer determines, but not less than thirty days, the state engineer shall procure the removal of the dam, dike, or other device and assess the cost of removal against the property of the responsible landowner. The notice from the state engineer must state that, within fifteen days of the date the notice is mailed, the affected landowner may demand, in writing, a hearing on the matter. Upon receipt of the demand, the state engineer shall set a hearing date within fifteen days from the date the demand is received. If, in the opinion of the state engineer, more than one landowner or tenant has been responsible, the costs may be assessed on a pro rata basis in proportion to the responsibility of the landowners. Upon assessment of costs, the state engineer shall certify the assessment to the county auditor of the county where the noncomplying dam, dike, or other device is located. The county auditor shall extend the assessment against the property assessed. Each assessment must be collected and paid as other property taxes are collected and paid. Assessments collected must be deposited with the state treasurer and are hereby appropriated out of the state treasury and must be credited to the contract fund established by section 61-02-64.1. Any person aggrieved by action of the state engineer under this section may appeal the decision of the state engineer to the district court in accordance with chapter 28-32. A hearing by the state engineer as provided for in this section is a prerequisite to such an appeal.

If the state engineer, after completing the investigation required under this section, decides to return the matter to the board, a complete copy of the investigation report must be forwarded to the board and it must include the nature and extent of the noncompliance. Upon having the matter returned to its jurisdiction, the board shall carry out the state engineer's decision in accordance with the terms of this section.

A doctor evaluating the impairment of an injured employee resulting from a mental disorder shall use the edition of the American psychiatric association's "Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders" in effect on the date of the employee's evaluation to establish a rating for the impairment. ³⁷² SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 65-03 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Safety programs. The bureau shall create and operate work safety and loss prevention programs to protect the health of covered employees and the financial integrity of the fund, including programs promoting safety practices by employers and employees through education, training, consultation, grants, or incentives. The biennial independent performance audit of the bureau must evaluate and report on the effectiveness of these programs.

SECTION 3. A new section to chapter 65-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

³⁷² Section 65-03-04 was amended by section 7 of House Bill No. 1325, chapter 553.

Premium calculation programs - Authority. Upon approval of its board of directors, the bureau may create and implement by emergency rulemaking actuarially sound employer premium calculation programs, including dividends, group insurance, premium deductibles, and reimbursement for medical expense assessments. Programs under this section may be created or modified by emergency rulemaking and must include requirements or incentives for the early reporting of injuries.

65-04-17.1. Retrospective rating pilot program. The bureau may establish a pilot program to provide retrospective rating to an employer whose annual workers' compensation premium is two hundred fifty thousand dollars or more. The bureau may not require an employer to participate in the program, but it may refuse to allow an employer to participate when it determines that refusal is appropriate. The bureau shall establish formulas, based on sound actuarial principles, for premium calculation under the program. Sections 65-04-01, 65-04-04, and 65-04-04.2 do not apply to retrospective premiums allowed under this section. Any moneys held by the bureau for future claim payments must accrue interest at a reasonable rate as determined by the bureau. The bureau may execute a contract with an employer to establish a retrospective rating plan for that employer. The contract is binding on the employer and the bureau for the term identified in the contract. The term identified in the contract may extend past the end of the biennium in which the contract is executed but the term may not exceed ten years. ~~The bureau may not enter any contract under this section after June 30, 1999.~~ The bureau shall determine the amount of the deposit premium to be paid by an employer participating in the program. The amount of the deposit premium must be based on current rates, payroll, and experience rate factors. The bureau shall establish the maximum premium liability of a participating employer. The maximum premium is not subject to the limitations of section 65-04-17. The bureau may provide refunds from the workers' compensation fund when it is determined appropriate under the retrospective rating formula established. The bureau shall provide any refund due within thirty days after the date of the retrospective premium valuation. The bureau may impose a penalty if an employer fails to pay additional premium due within thirty days after the retrospective premium valuation. The bureau may require an employer to provide a bond, letter of credit, or other security approved by the bureau to guarantee payment of future employer obligations incurred by a retrospective rating plan. The bureau may charge an employer participating in the program a nonrefundable surcharge for the purpose of assisting retirement of any unfunded liability of the fund.

SECTION 5. APPROPRIATION. There is hereby appropriated out of the workers' compensation fund the sum of $1,856,603 to the bureau for the purpose of defraying the expenses of operating workplace safety and loss prevention programs, for the biennium beginning July 1, 1999, and ending June 30, 2001. The bureau may employ no more than seven additional full-time equivalent positions for the workplace safety and loss prevention programs and may contract for the provision of risk management services.

SECTION 6. EMERGENCY. This Act is declared to be an emergency measure.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION BENEFITS

AN ACT to amend and reenact subsection 3 of section 65-05-08 and sections 65-05-09, 65-05-10, and 65-05.2-01 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to maximum wage-loss benefits payable by the workers compensation bureau and the waiting period for supplementary workers compensation benefits; to provide for a study of long-term benefits; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Subsection 3 of section 65-05-08 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

3. Any employee who is eligible for, or receiving disability or rehabilitation benefits under this title shall report any wages earned, from part-time or full-time work from any source. If an employee fails to report wages earned, the employee shall refund to the bureau any disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits overpaid by the bureau for that time period. To facilitate recovery of those benefits, the bureau may offset future benefits payable, under section 65-05-29. If the employee willfully ~~failed~~ fails to report wages earned, the employee is subject to the penalties in section 65-05-33. An employee shall report whether the employee has performed work or received wages. The bureau periodically shall ~~periodically~~ provide a form to all injured employees receiving disability or rehabilitation benefits ~~that~~ which the injured employee must complete to retain eligibility for further disability or rehabilitation benefits, regardless of the date of injury or claim filing. The form will advise the injured employee of the possible penalties for failure to report any work or activities as required by this section. An injured employee who is receiving disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits must report any work activities to the bureau whether or not the injured employee receives any wages. An injured employee who is receiving disability or vocational rehabilitation benefits also must report any other activity if the injured employee receives any money, including prize winnings, from undertaking that activity, regardless of expenses or whether there is a net profit. For purposes of this subsection, "work" does not include routine daily activities of self-care or family care, or routine maintenance of the home and yard, and "activities" does not include recreational gaming or passive investment endeavors.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-09 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-09. Temporary total or permanent total disability - Weekly and aggregate benefit. If an injury causes temporary total or permanent total disability, the fund shall pay to the disabled employee during that disability a weekly benefit equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the gross weekly wage of the employee, subject to a minimum of sixty percent and a maximum of one hundred ten percent of the average weekly wage in the state. If an employee is disabled due to an injury, that employee's benefits will be based upon the employee's wage and the bureau benefit rates in effect on the date of first disability.

1. If an employee suffers disability but is able to return to employment for a period of twelve consecutive calendar months or more, that employee's benefits will be based upon the wage in effect at the time of the recurrence of the disability or upon the wage that employee received prior to the injury, whichever is higher. The bureau benefit rates are those in effect at the time of that recurrence.
2. The disability benefit or the combined disability benefit and dependency award may not exceed the weekly wage of the employee after deductions for social security and federal income tax.
3. When an employee is permanently and totally disabled, must be maintained in a nursing home or similar facility, and has no dependent parent, spouse, or children, as much of that employee's weekly benefit as is necessary may be used by the bureau to help defray the cost of the nursing home care.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-10 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-10. Partial disability - Weekly benefit. If the injury causes temporary partial disability resulting in decrease of earning capacity, the disability benefit is sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the difference between the injured employee's average weekly wages before the injury and the employee's wage earning capacity after the injury in the same or another employment. However, the partial disability benefits ~~plus dependency allowance and earning capacity~~ may not exceed ~~the weekly wage of the employee after deductions for social security and federal and state income tax~~ benefit rates as defined in section 65-05-09.

1. The benefits provided by this section are available to any otherwise eligible worker, providing the loss of earning capacity occurs after July 1, 1989. Partial loss of earning capacity occurring prior to July 1, 1989, must be paid at a rate to be fixed by the bureau.
2. Benefits must be paid during the continuance of partial disability, not to exceed a period of five years. The bureau may waive the five-year limit on the duration of partial disability benefits in cases of catastrophic injury as defined in section 65-05.1-06.1 or when the injured worker is working and has long-term restrictions verified by clear and convincing objective medical and vocational evidence that limits the injured worker to working less than twenty-eight hours per week because of the compensable work injury. This subsection is effective for partial loss of earnings capacity occurring after June 30, 1991.
3. The employee's earnings capacity may be established by expert vocational evidence of a capacity to earn in the statewide job pool where the worker lives. Actual postinjury earnings are presumptive evidence of earnings capacity where the job employs the employee to full work capacity in terms of hours worked per week, and where the job is in a field related to the employee's transferable skills. The presumption may be rebutted by competent evidence from a vocational expert that the employee's actual earnings do not fairly reflect the employee's earnings capacity in the statewide job pool, considering the employee's capabilities, education, experience, and skills.

65-05.2-01. Eligibility for supplementary benefits. A workers' compensation claimant who is receiving permanent total disability benefits, or death benefits, and who has been receiving disability or death benefits for a period of ~~ten~~ seven consecutive years ~~or more as of June thirtieth of each year~~ is eligible for supplementary benefits. Eligibility for supplementary benefits ~~starts on July first of each year and lasts for~~ as long as the claimant is entitled to permanent total disability benefits or death benefits.

SECTION 5. LONG-TERM BENEFITS STUDY. During the 1999-2000 interim, the bureau shall study the benefits available to persons receiving long-term disability or death benefits from the bureau. The study must identify the advantages and disadvantages of the current system, including the current system of supplementary benefits, and of any proposed alternate system. The study must include recommendations on whether changes are needed and the costs of any proposed changes. Before the 2001 legislative session, the bureau shall report to an interim committee identified by the legislative council on the results of the study.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. Sections 2 and 3 and the reduction in the waiting period in section 4 of this Act are effective for all claims for injuries occurring after July 31, 1999. The remainder of section 4 of this Act is effective August 1, 1999, for all claims regardless of the date of injury.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION DEATH BENEFITS

AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 65-05-17, 65-05-20.1, 65-05-26, and 65-05.2-02 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to increasing workers' compensation death benefits; and to provide an effective date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-17 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-17. Weekly compensation allowances for death claims. If death results from an injury under the conditions specified in section 65-05-16, the fund shall pay to the following persons, for the periods specified; ~~a weekly compensation:~~

1. To the decedent's spouse or to the guardian of the children of the decedent, an amount equal to ~~sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the weekly wage of the decedent, not to exceed the state's average weekly wage in effect at the time of the death~~ the benefit rate for total disability under section 65-05-09. These benefits continue until the death or remarriage of the decedent's spouse; or, if the surviving children of the decedent are under the care of a guardian, until those children no longer meet the definition of "child" in this title. If there is more than one guardian for the children who survive the decedent, the bureau shall divide the death benefits equally among the children and shall pay benefits to the children's guardians. ~~Total weekly death benefits paid may not be less than sixty percent of the maximum weekly death benefits payable.~~ Total death benefits, including supplementary benefits, paid on any one claim may not exceed one hundred ninety-seven thousand dollars. All recipients of benefits under this subsection are eligible for benefits at the rate provided in this section, regardless of the date of death of the deceased employee.
2. To each child of the deceased employee, the amount of ten dollars per week. This rate must be paid to each eligible child regardless of the date of death. The bureau may pay the benefit directly to the child of the deceased employee or to the surviving parent or guardian of the child. Dependency allowance may not be reduced by the percentage of aggravation.
3. In addition to the payments provided under subsections 1 and 2, ~~the bureau shall make~~ a payment in the sum of ~~six~~ twelve hundred dollars to the decedent's spouse or the guardian of the children of the decedent and ~~two~~ four hundred dollars for each dependent child. Where there is more than one guardian of the decedent's surviving children, the ~~six~~ twelve hundred dollars must be divided equally among the children and paid to the children's guardians.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-20.1 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-20.1. (Effective through July 31, 2001) Scholarship fund - Rules. The bureau may establish a scholarship fund to provide scholarships for the spouse and dependent children of a worker who dies as a result of a compensable work-related injury, if the spouse and children have received benefits under section 65-05-17. The bureau may also grant scholarships to injured workers for whom the bureau determines a scholarship would be beneficial and appropriate because of exceptional circumstances as determined by the bureau. Scholarships are payable to an accredited institution of higher education or an institution of technical education on behalf of a student attending that institution. The total amount awarded annually in scholarships may not exceed one hundred fifty thousand dollars. The maximum amount payable on behalf of an applicant is ~~one~~ three thousand ~~five hundred~~ dollars per year for no more than five years. Scholarships must be awarded by a panel chosen by the bureau. The bureau shall adopt rules establishing selection criteria and obligations associated with the program and identifying information an applicant is required to submit to determine an appropriate scholarship award. There is no right to reconsideration, rehearing, or appeal from any decision regarding the award, denial, or amount of a scholarship.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-26 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-26. Burial expenses. If death benefits are payable under section 65-05-16, the fund shall pay to the facility handling the funeral arrangements of the deceased employee burial expenses not to exceed ~~five~~ six thousand ~~five hundred~~ dollars.

SECTION 4. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05.2-02 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05.2-02. Supplementary benefits - Amount. A claimant who is eligible for supplementary benefits and who is receiving permanent total disability benefits, or death benefits regardless of the date of death, is entitled to receive a weekly supplementary benefit that, when added to the weekly permanent total disability benefit or death benefit, results in a combined benefit of at least sixty percent of the state's average weekly wage on July first of each year. An annual recalculation of supplementary benefits may not result in a rate less than the previous rate. If a claim has been accepted on an aggravation basis under section 65-05-15 and the claimant is eligible for supplementary benefits, the claimant's supplementary benefit must be proportionally calculated.

SECTION 5. EFFECTIVE DATE. Eligibility for the increased benefit rate pursuant to the changes in subsection 1 of section 1 and in section 4 of this Act is prospective only, beginning with the effective date of this Act. Injured workers receiving benefits under subsection 1 of section 65-05-17 and also receiving supplementary benefits under section 65-05.2-02 are not eligible for the increased benefit rate provided in subsection 1 of section 1.

WORKERS COMPENSATION BUREAU DECISIONS AND JURISDICTION

AN ACT to amend and reenact sections 65-01-16 and 65-05-04 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to workers compensation bureau decisions, disputed decisions, and continuing jurisdiction; to repeal section 7 of chapter 532 of the 1997 Session Laws, relating to the effective date of chapter 532 of the 1997 Session Laws; and to provide an effective date.

VETO

March 12, 1999

The Honorable Francis J. Wald
Speaker of the House
House Chamber
State Capitol
Bismarck, ND 58505

Dear Speaker Wald:

I am returning to you House Bill 1330, and respectfully veto the same, in order to do what is best for the employers and employees of our State. HB 1330 allows the North Dakota Worker's Compensation Bureau to re-open any decision based upon new information. This is a public policy with which I do not agree for the following reasons:

First, I believe it will invite litigation to interpret the bill, and litigation to challenge the bill's effect upon North Dakota's employees, a result that neither the Bureau, nor citizens of North Dakota want.

Secondly, the bill allows the right to re-open a case, only to the Bureau. It does not afford the employee the same right to re-open a case upon "new information." I believe that is fundamentally unfair.

Third, the bill is in direct response to a Supreme Court decision, Cridland v. NDWCB, 1997, ND 223, 571 N.W.2d 351, which says that Bureau decisions should be final, and it should not be allowed to re-litigate issues it has had an opportunity to litigate. In the Cridland case, the employee applied for and received North Dakota Workers Compensation benefits following a formal hearing. Subsequently, the Bureau chose to re-open the case and seek reimbursement of $24,000 in benefits. The Supreme Court rejected the Bureau's claim. Its decision is well reasoned and reasonable. It allows the Bureau to continue its current practices, but confirmed that the Bureau does not get more than "one bite at the apple."

The bill's language is unclear. Section 2 provides that the Bureau may re-open a case "on the basis of new information." But, it provides no standards by which to guide decisions for review. In other areas of the law, litigants are allowed only to revisit a case upon "new information" if they show that it was not discoverable at the time of trial even with the exercise of reasonable diligence. We should hold North Dakota Workers Compensation to a similar standard.

The bill also does not provide finality for the parties. Every litigant, every employer, and employee deserves to have confidence in the decisions made by the Bureau, that those decisions are final. This bill does not afford that finality, but in fact opens cases for review upon standards that are undefined. It risks the limited resources of the employer, the employee, the Bureau, the Office of Administrative Hearings, and the Court, to have issues relitigated repeatedly. We should not endorse bills that provide more litigation and less certainty in Bureau claims.

Finally, the bill erodes the rights of North Dakota workers and their employers to have work related injuries handled in a judicious, prompt manner that affords the employee sure and certain relief for work related injuries. In considering this bill, I am reminded of our Supreme Court's admonition in Baldock v. NDWCB, that continued erosion of workers compensation benefits may reach a point where the fairness of the system no longer supports the underlying bargain of employer immunity.

I have reviewed carefully the testimony of proponents and opponents of the bill. I am convinced that it does not provide wise public policy for our employers and their employees. For these reasons, I respectfully veto the bill.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer
Governor

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. AMENDMENT. Section 65-01-16 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-01-16. Decisions by bureau - Disputed decisions. The following procedures must be followed in claims for benefits, notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in chapter 28-32:

1. The bureau shall send a copy of each initial claim form filed with the bureau to the claimant's employer, by regular mail, along with a form for the employer's response, if the employer's response has not been filed at the time the claim is filed. Failure of the employer to file a response within fourteen days from the day the response form was mailed to the employer constitutes the employer's admission that the information in the claim form is correct.
2. The bureau may conduct a hearing on any matter within its jurisdiction by informal internal review of the information of record.
3. The bureau may issue a notice of decision for any decision made by informal internal review and shall ~~serve~~ send the notice of decision ~~on~~ to the parties by regular mail. A notice of decision must include a statement of the decision, a short summary of the reason for the decision, and notice of the right to reconsideration.

4. A party has thirty days from the day the notice of decision was mailed by the bureau in which to file a written request for reconsideration. The request must state the alleged errors in the decision and the relief sought. The request may be accompanied by additional evidence not previously submitted to the bureau. The bureau shall reconsider the matter by informal internal review of the information of record. Absent a timely and sufficient request for reconsideration, the notice of decision is final and may not be reheard or appealed.
5. Within sixty days after receiving a request for reconsideration, the bureau shall serve on the parties by regular mail a notice of decision reversing the previous decision or, in accordance with the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure, an administrative order that includes its findings, conclusions, and order. The bureau may serve an administrative order on any decision made by informal internal review without first issuing a notice of decision and receiving a request for reconsideration.
6. A party has thirty days from the date of service of an administrative order in which to file a request for assistance from the workers' adviser program under section 65-02-27.
7. A party has thirty days, from the date of service of an administrative order or from the day the workers' adviser program mails its notice that the program's assistance is complete, in which to file a written request for rehearing. The request must specifically state ~~each the~~ alleged errors in the decision and the relief sought. Absent a timely and sufficient request for rehearing, the administrative order is final and may not be reheard or appealed.
8. Rehearings must be conducted as hearings under chapter 28-32 to the extent the provisions of that chapter do not conflict with this section. The bureau may arrange for the designation of hearing officers to conduct rehearings and issue recommended findings, conclusions, and orders. In reviewing recommended findings, conclusions, and orders, the bureau may consult with its legal counsel representing it in the proceeding.
9. ~~Within sixty~~ Absent good cause, within thirty days after receiving the recommended findings, conclusions, and order, the bureau shall serve on the parties, in accordance with the North Dakota Rules of Civil Procedure, its findings, conclusions, and posthearing administrative order.
10. A party may appeal a posthearing administrative order to district court in accordance with chapter 65-10 but may not request reconsideration of the order by the bureau.
11. Any notice of decision, administrative order, or posthearing administrative order is subject to review and reopening under section 65-05-04.

12. This section applies to all orders and decisions on all claims regardless of the date of injury or the date the claim was filed.

SECTION 2. AMENDMENT. Section 65-05-04 of the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

65-05-04. Bureau has continuing jurisdiction over claims properly filed. If the original claim for compensation has been made within the time specified in section 65-05-01, the bureau at any time, on its own motion or on application, may review the award, and in accordance with the facts found on such review, may end, diminish, modify, or increase the compensation previously awarded, or, if compensation has been refused or discontinued, may award compensation, except that the bureau may not reopen an issue that was noticed for, heard in, and specifically decided as a result of a formal hearing under subsection 8 of section 65-01-16 except on the basis of new information. There is no appeal from a bureau decision not to reopen a ~~claim~~ previous decision after the bureau's ~~order on the ~~claim~~ previous decision~~ has become final.

SECTION 3. REPEAL. Section 7 of chapter 532 of the 1997 Session Laws of North Dakota is repealed.

SECTION 4. EFFECTIVE DATE. Section 2 of this Act applies to all claims regardless of the date of the injury.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCTION LOAN PROGRAM

AN ACT to create and enact a new chapter to title 4 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the establishment of a livestock production loan program and the issuance of revenue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness by the industrial commission of North Dakota.

VETO

The Honorable Rosemarie Myrdal
President of the Senate
Senate Chamber
Bismarck, ND 58505

Dear President Myrdal:

Attached please find Senate Bill 2425, which I am returning to the Senate and hereby veto.

This legislation attempts to supplant financing available in the private sector through government bonding. It does so in an unfocused fashion that, in any event, appears unworkable.

Based on consultations with bond counsel, it appears the proposed bonds are neither saleable nor tax-exempt. First, they will not find buyers since the full faith and credit of North Dakota is not behind them. These are solely revenue bonds. Investors will be looking for collateral and standing similar as a commercial bank, yet facing additional administrative costs involved with the government bonding.

Second, the bonds will be used to finance private activity and are therefore not tax exempt. Such an exemption is usually a major attraction for investors.

Given these circumstances, any financial problems facing the venture would compel the Industrial Commission to repurchase the bonds. The repurchasing option is an unwise provision in this legislation that would further increase the state's exposure.

In many respects, this bill is reminiscent of the legislation that established the Real Estate Trust Fund in the 1980s. You will recall that the Bank of North Dakota had to write off nearly $24 million last session stemming from that fund.

It is not ordinarily the practice nor purpose of the Bank of North Dakota to be primary financiers of any non-public venture. The state can and does provide financial assistance, but only with participation of the private sector. No such private involvement is included in this legislation.

The primary problem facing agriculture today is profitability. This legislation does nothing in a significant manner to address profitability, and instead offers false hopes to farmers and ranchers through an agent of the government.

I have, therefore, vetoed the bill and respectfully return the same to the Senate Chambers.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new chapter to title 4 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Declaration of intent. It is hereby found and declared that:

1. The high costs of financing associated with livestock production make it difficult for livestock producers to continue existing livestock production operations and facilities, and also make it difficult to establish a livestock production operation or facility.
2. The high costs of access to capital for livestock production are a contributing factor in the continuing decline in the number of family farms in the state and the opportunity for employment in rural areas.
3. As a result of these conditions, the state is experiencing structural economic weaknesses which can be alleviated, in part, through action by the state designed to provide affordable financing for new and existing livestock production operations and facilities.
4. The encouragement and promotion of livestock production through a loan program as established by this chapter is a public purpose for which the use of public funds provided through the issuance and sale of bonds is a proper governmental function which can best be accomplished by the industrial commission.

Definitions. For purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Bank" means the Bank of North Dakota.
2. "Bonds" means revenue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the commission under this chapter.
3. "Commission" means the industrial commission of North Dakota.
4. "Cooperative" means an association incorporated under chapter 10-15, and an association incorporated under the laws of South Dakota which has members residing within this state.
5. "Livestock producer" means an individual or cooperative organized for the purpose of livestock production.

6. "Livestock production" means the business of acquiring, raising, and processing livestock, including real and personal property necessary for all activities related to such production.

Powers. The commission is granted all powers necessary to carry out the purpose and intent of this chapter, including the power to:

1. Enter into contracts or other instruments or agreements necessary or incidental for the performance of its duties and functions under this chapter, including contracts, instruments, or agreements with any department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States of America or this state.
2. Sue and be sued.
3. Borrow money through the issuance and sale of bonds as provided in this chapter.
4. Invest proceeds of its bonds not needed for immediate disbursement, including any reserve funds, in such securities as the commission determines to be prudent, subject to any agreements with the holders of the commission's bonds.
5. Procure insurance, a guaranty, or a letter of credit for the payment of its bonds, including the payment of premiums or other fees, from any public or private entity.
6. Make loans to livestock producers through the loan program established under this chapter and charge any reasonable fees to such borrowers as the commission may determine to be appropriate.
7. Prescribe and approve the forms and procedures for applications by livestock producers for loans to be made under this chapter.
8. Prescribe the terms and other conditions of loans to be made to a livestock producer under this chapter.
9. Consent to any modification, amendment, or other revision with respect to the terms and provisions of its bonds, or of any other contract, instrument, or other agreement to which the commission is a party, subject to any agreements with the holders of the commission's bonds.
10. Purchase bonds issued under this chapter out of any funds available to the commission for such purpose and not pledged to or necessary for some other purpose, and hold, cancel, or sell such bonds, subject to any agreements with its bondholders.

Bank of North Dakota. The commission may delegate to the Bank, and the Bank is authorized to exercise, all administrative powers granted to the commission under this chapter, including processing and reviewing applications for, and closing and servicing loans made to, livestock producers. The Bank may not issue a letter of credit for bonds issued under this Act.

Issuance and sale of bonds - Use of bond proceeds. The commission has the authority to issue its bonds in such principal amounts as the commission determines is necessary to provide sufficient funds to carry out its duties and functions under this chapter. The proceeds must be used solely to make loans, pay costs of issuance of the bonds, pay accrued or capitalized interest or capitalized principal, and provide any reasonably required reserve funds. The bonds must be authorized by resolution of the commission and must bear such date, mature at such times, bear interest at such rates, be in such denominations, be payable from such sources, and be subject to such terms of redemption as may be provided by such resolution. The bonds may be sold by the commission at public or private sale at such times and at such prices as may be agreed to by the commission. The commission may provide for the refunding or refinancing of the bonds from time to time.

Agreement with bondholders. Any resolution of the commission authorizing the issuance of bonds under this chapter may contain provisions or covenants, which will be a contract or agreement with the bondholders, as to:

1. The setting aside of reserves or sinking funds.
2. Limitations on the purposes to which the proceeds from the sale of bonds may be applied and pledging the proceeds to secure the payment of the bonds.
3. Limitations on the issuance of additional bonds, the terms upon which additional bonds may be issued and secured, and the refunding of outstanding or other bonds.
4. The procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of bonds the holders of which must consent to such amendment or abrogation, and the manner in which the consent may be given.
5. Vesting in a trustee such property, rights, powers, and duties in trust as the commission may determine, and limiting or abrogating the right of bondholders to appoint a trustee or limiting the rights, powers, and duties of the trustee.
6. Defining the acts, or omissions to act, which constitute a default of the obligations and duties of the commission to the bondholders, and providing for the rights and remedies of the bondholders in the event of a default, provided that the rights and remedies must be consistent with the general laws of the state and other provisions of this chapter.
7. Any other matter, of like or different character, which in any way affects the security or protection of the bondholders.

Reserve fund. The commission must establish and maintain a reserve fund for bonds issued under this chapter. There must be deposited in the reserve fund:

1. All bond proceeds required to be deposited in the reserve fund by the terms of any contract between the commission and the bondholders or by the terms of any resolution of the commission concerning the use of bond proceeds.
2. Any moneys from any other source made available to the commission for deposit in the reserve fund.

Moneys in the reserve fund may be used only to make payments of the principal of and interest on bonds, including any premium required to be paid when bonds are redeemed prior to maturity, and sinking fund installments as they become due and payable. Moneys in the reserve fund may only be withdrawn in conformity with the terms of any contract between the commission and the bondholders or any resolution of the commission concerning the use of bond proceeds.

Exemption from state and local taxes. All bonds issued under this chapter and the interest or other income payable to and received by bondholders are exempt from taxation by the state or any political subdivision of the state.

Payment of bonds. Bonds issued under the authority of this chapter by the commission are not obligations or debt of the state, and are payable solely from revenues or other funds available to the commission under this chapter. The bonds do not constitute a charge, lien, or encumbrance, legal or equitable, upon any property of the commission or the Bank other than the revenues and property pledged under this chapter. Each bond issued under this chapter must contain a statement that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state is pledged to the payment of the principal of or interest on the bond.

Legal investments. Bonds issued under the authority of this chapter by the commission are legal investments in which all public officers or public bodies of the state, its political subdivisions, and all banks organized under the laws of the state and engaged in the business of banking may invest funds.

Validity. Bonds issued under the authority of this chapter must be executed by a member of the commission or by facsimile signature and the manual signature of an authenticating agent. Any bond bearing the signature of a member of the commission in office on the date of execution is valid and binding for all purposes for which it was issued. After issuance, all bonds issued under the authority of this chapter by the commission are conclusively presumed to be fully authorized and issued under the laws of the state, and any person or entity is estopped from questioning their authorization, issuance, execution, sale, or delivery by the commission.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS AND LIVESTOCK CHEMICAL PRESENCE

AN ACT to create and enact a new section to chapter 4-35 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to the presence of chemicals in agricultural products and livestock; to provide a penalty; and to provide an effective date.

VETO

April 12, 1999

The Honorable Francis J. Wald
Speaker of the House
House Chamber

Dear Speaker Wald:

I am returning House Bill 1335 to you, and hereby veto the same. The bill has a noble purpose at heart, namely to require producers of our trading partners to comply with the same standards with which North Dakota producers must comply. This is a goal I support and will aggressively pursue in the next two years. However, I cannot sign the bill for the following reasons:

1. The bill does not become effective until July 1, 2001. Consequently, it will have no positive legal effect upon the issues that it is designed to address.
2. However, it may have several negative and unintended consequences that cause me concern. These potential consequences will include the following:
 - a. First, the Canadian Government has indicated that even with the delayed effective date, it will pursue consultations with the United States Trade Representative, which may result in retaliation against North Dakota producers.
 - b. This will require North Dakota to expend resources in these consultations to defend a law that has no legal effect until July 1, 2001. We should not commit taxpayer dollars for such a purpose.
 - c. It may also affect our canola processing industry that relies upon canola from our neighbors to the North. Forty-five percent of canola crushed at Velva comes from Canada.

- d. Finally, the bill may jeopardize what progress is being made to address these issues between our national government and our trading partners. I do not support legislation that has no legal effect yet creates the potential for harming efforts to address these issues in other arenas.

House Bill 1335 has served to put on notice the governments of the United States and Canada that the issues raised by this bill are significant and real, requiring urgent resolution. If they are not resolved successfully and in a timely manner, legislative leaders and governors across the border states are likely to take up these issues again, to seek resolution on their own.

For these reasons, I have vetoed HB 1335 and respectfully return the bill with these objections for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer

VETO

The Honorable Francis J. Wald
Speaker of the House
House Chamber

Dear Speaker Wald:

I am returning House Bill 1108, and regretfully must veto the same. The bill has one provision contained in section 6, which I have made clear that I cannot support, namely the inclusion of Internet Service Providers (ISPs) for the payment of the gross receipts tax under chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code.

I simply cannot agree that this tax is wise or necessary public policy when we are spending millions to encourage the development of the Internet as a driving economic force in North Dakota's future. The Internet is becoming an essential tool for government efficiency, educational outreach and the provision of cost-effective services, especially in rural North Dakota. Our businesses will increasingly rely on the Internet to compete in the world economy.

More specifically, these are the reasons I cannot support imposing what I consider to be a new tax on a new class of taxpayers:

1. First, taxing access to the Internet is a policy decision that runs contrary to the best interests of our people. We are urging development and use of the Internet in the public and private sector. By raising costs, taxation discourages such development.

2. Second, the amount of revenue anticipated by taxing ISPs is not substantial, estimated at less than $200,000 for the upcoming biennium. While the revenue is at best modest, the new tax could well hinder new investment in and growth of an Internet-related economy. Additionally, we will face legal challenges to the tax by national ISPs who contend the tax is illegal. Those costs could easily exceed any revenue we might hope to gain from HB 1108.
3. Third, the tax will result in unfair competition to North Dakota ISPs. Consider the Internet Service Provider in Fargo, Minot or Watford City who does not challenge the tax, but instead pays it. Those in-state providers will pay the tax, while their competitors from another jurisdiction will not, instead challenging the tax in court. We should not put good North Dakota entrepreneurs in such a competitive disadvantage.
4. I also believe the Internet tax provision of HB 1108 is either unnecessary or potentially illegal. Some argue that the ISP taxation is already in place as a result of the 1997 Legislature's passage of HB 1068, which restructured telecommunications taxation. If that is true, then including the ISPs in the bill now under consideration is unnecessary.

However, if ISPs were not included in the 1997 legislation -- which is my view -- then this bill is likely to be illegal under the Internet Tax Freedom Act, passed by Congress and made law on October 1, 1998. That federal law placed a three-year moratorium on taxing Internet access. A limited grandfather clause was granted for a number of states, including North Dakota, but only if the states can show that the tax has been "generally imposed and actually enforced." A sound argument exists that we may not be able to meet that standard.

5. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, I do not support this tax because it is indeed the imposition of a new tax upon a new sector of our economy.

For these reasons, I regretfully must return HB 1108 with my veto. I urge your careful consideration of these concerns, and ask that you vote to sustain this veto. I also recommend that you consider attaching the good and necessary provisions in this bill to the final Office of Management and Budget omnibus legislation to ensure their enactment into law.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF NORTH DAKOTA:

SECTION 1. A new section to chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Tax commissioner to audit returns and state board of equalization to assess tax. The tax commissioner shall proceed to audit the returns of telecommunications carriers not later than three years after the due date of the return, or three years after the return was filed, whichever period expires later. The state board of equalization shall assess the tax and, if any additional tax is found due, the tax commissioner shall notify the taxpayer in detail as to the reason for the increase.

SECTION 2. A new section to chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Deficiency, protest, and appeal.

1. When tax is understated on a return because of a mathematical or clerical error, the tax commissioner shall notify the telecommunications carrier of the error and the amount of additional tax due. This notice is not a notice of deficiency and the telecommunications carrier has no right to protest.
2. If upon audit the tax commissioner finds additional tax due, the tax commissioner shall notify the telecommunications carrier and the state board of equalization of the deficiency in the tax amount. A notice of deficiency must be sent to the telecommunications carrier by first-class mail and must state the amount of additional tax due and set forth the reasons for the increase.
3. A telecommunications carrier has thirty days from the date of mailing of the notice of deficiency to file a written protest with the state board of equalization objecting to the assessment of additional tax due. The protest must set forth the basis for the protest and any other information that may be required by the state board of equalization. If a telecommunications carrier fails to file a written protest within the time provided, the amount of additional tax stated in the notice of deficiency becomes finally and irrevocably fixed. If a telecommunications carrier protests only a portion of the tax commissioner's finding, the portion that is not protested becomes finally and irrevocably fixed.
4. If a protest is filed, the state board of equalization shall reconsider the assessment of additional tax due.
5. Within six months after the protest is filed, the state board of equalization shall mail to the telecommunications carrier a notice of reconsideration and assessment which must respond to the telecommunications carrier's protest and assess the amount of any additional tax due. The amount set forth in that notice becomes finally and irrevocably fixed unless the telecommunications carrier brings an action against the state in district court within six months of the mailing of the notice of reconsideration and assessment.

SECTION 3. A new section to chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Claims for credit or refund.

1. A telecommunications carrier may file a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of any tax imposed by this chapter within three years after the due date of the return or within three years after the return was filed, whichever period expires later.
2. A claim for credit or refund must be made by filing with the tax commissioner an amended return, or other report as prescribed by the tax commissioner, accompanied by a statement outlining the specific grounds upon which the claim for credit or refund is based.
3. The tax commissioner shall notify the telecommunications carrier if the state board of equalization disallows all or part of a claim for credit or refund. The decision of the state board of equalization denying a claim for credit or refund is final and irrevocable unless the telecommunications carrier brings an action against the state in district court within six months of the mailing of the notice denying the claim for credit or refund.

SECTION 4. A new section to chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Preservation of records. Every telecommunications carrier required to make a return and pay any tax under this chapter shall preserve records of the gross proceeds of sale as the commissioner may require and every carrier shall preserve for a period of three years and three months all invoices and other records of telecommunications services purchased for resale. All of these books, invoices, and other records must be open to examination at any time by the commissioner or any duly authorized agent of the commissioner.

SECTION 5. A new section to chapter 57-34 of the North Dakota Century Code is created and enacted as follows:

Resale certificates. A telecommunications carrier who receives a resale certificate certifying that another telecommunications carrier holds a North Dakota sales and use tax permit for sales or use tax purposes under section 57-39.2-14 is relieved from submitting the telecommunications gross receipts tax upon the sale of telecommunications services to be resold by the telecommunications carrier submitting the certificate. When a telecommunications carrier submits a false resale certificate to another telecommunications carrier, the telecommunications carrier that submitted the certificate is liable for the telecommunications gross receipts tax on the sale. A hospital, hotel, motel, or similar place of temporary accommodation selling telecommunications service to its patients or guests is not a telecommunications carrier under this section.

SECTION 6. AMENDMENT. Section 57-34-01 of the 1997 Supplement to the North Dakota Century Code is amended and reenacted as follows:

57-34-01. Definitions. The definitions in this section may not be construed to subject a telecommunications carrier or telecommunications service to the provisions of title 49. As used in this chapter, unless the context or subject matter otherwise clearly requires:

1. "Adjusted gross receipts" means telecommunications carrier gross receipts less all amounts paid by the reporting telecommunications carrier on telecommunications service that is taxable under this chapter in state and local sales and use taxes and federal excise taxes and less amounts paid by the reporting telecommunications carrier to another telecommunications carrier for directory assistance originated by a caller in this state.

2. "Company" includes any individual, copartnership, business trust, corporation, limited liability company, joint-stock company, association, or any other organization.

3. 4. "Station" means a subscriber service address located in this state with a distinct call number designation or distinct extension number designation. If this is not a defined location, "station" means the location of the primary use of telecommunications equipment as determined by telephone number, authorization code, or billing address.

"Telecommunications service charges" means the value of all consideration received by a telecommunications carrier for provision of telecommunications service and recovery within the year of telecommunications service charges written off in a prior year as uncollectible. For a telecommunications carrier operating on any form of mutual basis, the term includes all amounts assessed against the members for the operation and maintenance of the business. The term does not include revenue from merchandising, jobbing and contract work, maintenance or repair of customer premises equipment including equipment leased or rented by the customer from any source, operations not directly related to provision of telecommunications service, amounts charged for billing and collection on behalf of another telecommunications carrier, proceeds from transfer of capital stock, or transfer, sale, or lease of property not directly related to telecommunications service. The term does not include amounts collected for or amounts collected from federal and state mechanisms to preserve and advance universal service.

1. Each telecommunications carrier that received intercarrier telecommunications revenue in the preceding calendar year shall make and file with the tax commissioner, on or before January fifteenth of each year, a list containing the name and mailing address of each telecommunications carrier from which the reporting telecommunications carrier received intercarrier telecommunications revenue in the preceding calendar year. This list is to be filed in addition to the report required by subsection 3.
2. Each telecommunications carrier that provided telecommunications service in the preceding calendar year to one or more pay telephones owned by another company shall make and file with the tax commissioner, on or before January fifteenth of each year, a list containing the name and mailing address for each company that owned a pay telephone served by the reporting telecommunications carrier in the preceding calendar year. The form must include a notice of a telecommunications carrier's right to appeal its assessment to the state board of equalization prior to or at the August meeting of the state board of equalization. Each report must be signed, subject to section 12.1-11-02, by the president, secretary, or other official of the telecommunications carrier.

1. On or before July fifteenth of each year, the tax commissioner shall review the report under subsection 3 of section 57-34-02 and compute the ~~tentative~~ total tax to be assessed against each telecommunications carrier in this state at a rate of two and one-half percent of adjusted gross receipts. ~~The~~ If the tax commissioner's computation of the total tax differs from the amount computed by a telecommunications carrier, the tax commissioner shall give ten days' notice of the change by mail to each that telecommunications carrier of its tentative total tax under this section and of its right to contest the determination before the state board of equalization at its August meeting on or before July fifteenth. The state board of equalization shall assess the tax under this section after consideration of any contest presented.

2. A telecommunications carrier's retail customer in this state is entitled to a refund equal to two and one-half percent of the amount of telecommunications service charges paid to telecommunications carriers by that customer in excess of eight hundred thousand dollars in a calendar year. A refund claim under this subsection must be filed with the tax commissioner before July first of the year following the calendar year for which the refund is claimed. A claim for refund must be made in the manner prescribed by the tax commissioner. 57-34-06. Duties of county treasurer. The county treasurer shall allocate taxes received under this chapter to the state, the county, and the various taxing districts within the county according to the proportion that taxes paid by telecommunications carriers in locally assessed property taxes and taxes assessed under chapter 57-06 and this chapter in 1997 and received by the state, the county, and each currently existing taxing district in the county bears to all taxes paid by telecommunications carriers in locally assessed property taxes and taxes assessed under chapter 57-06 and this chapter in 1997 and received by the state, the county, and all taxing districts in the county.

57-34-10. Penalties - Interest - Lien for tax.

1. If a telecommunications carrier refuses or neglects to make the reports required by this chapter, or refuses or neglects to furnish any information requested, the tax commissioner shall use the best available facts and estimates to determine taxation of the gross receipts of that carrier. The tax must be imposed upon the basis of that information; ~~and.~~ If any company fails to make the report required under this chapter on or before the first day of May of any year, the state board of equalization shall add a penalty of one-quarter of the tax due for failure to make the required report which must be collected as a part of the tax, but the tax commissioner, upon application, may grant extensions of time within which the returns must be filed.
2. Taxes levied under this chapter are due and payable to the tax commissioner on January first following the year in which the taxes were assessed. ~~The unpaid principal balance of taxes on the following March first is subject to a penalty of three percent, on the following May first an additional penalty of three percent, on the following July first an~~ additional penalty of three percent, and on the following October fifteenth an additional penalty of three percent. Beginning January first of the year following the year the taxes became due, simple interest at the rate of twelve percent per annum applies to the unpaid principal balance until the taxes and penalties are paid. Interest penalties must be prorated to the nearest full month for a fractional year of delinquency. A remittance of tax need not be made and any assessment or collection of tax may not be made unless the amount is at least five dollars, including penalty and interest.

3. If any amount of tax imposed by this chapter is not paid on or before March first, or if upon audit an additional tax is found to be due, there must be added to the tax remaining due interest at the rate of one percent of the additional tax for each month or fraction of a month during which the tax remains unpaid, computed from March first to the date paid.
- ~~3.~~ 4. Taxes under this chapter constitute a first and paramount lien in favor of the state upon all property and rights to property of the taxpayer. The lien may be foreclosed in the same manner provided by law for mortgages on real or personal property. Whenever any taxpayer liable to pay a tax or penalty imposed refuses or neglects to pay the liability, the amount, including any interest, penalty, or addition to the tax, and the additional costs that may accrue are a lien in favor of the state of North Dakota upon all property and rights to property, whether real or personal, belonging to the taxpayer. The lien attaches at the time the tax becomes due and payable and continues until the liability for the amount is satisfied.
5. Any mortgagee, purchaser, judgment creditor, or lien claimant acquiring any interest in, or lien on, any property situated in the state, prior to the tax commissioner filing in the central indexing system maintained by the secretary of state a notice of the lien provided for in subsection 4, takes free of, or has priority over, the lien. The tax commissioner shall index in the central indexing system the following data:
 - a. The name of the taxpayer.
 - b. The tax identification number or social security number of the taxpayer.
 - c. The name "State of North Dakota" as claimant.
 - d. The date and time the notice of lien was indexed.
 - e. The amount of the lien.

The notice of lien is effective as of eight a.m. the next day following the indexing of the notice. The tax commissioner shall index any notice of lien with no payment of fees or costs to the secretary of state.
6. Upon payment of the tax, and any accrued penalties and interest, as to which the tax commissioner has filed a notice of lien, the tax commissioner shall index a satisfaction of the lien in the central indexing system without fees or costs.

SECTION 11. RETROACTIVE APPLICATION OF ACT - EFFECTIVE DATE - EXPIRATION DATE. This Act applies retroactively to all tax years beginning after December 31, 1997. The amendments of subsections 1 and 3 of section 57-34-01 as amended by section 6 of this Act are effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1998. The amendments to subsections 1 and 2 of section 57-34-02 as amended by section 7 of this Act are effective for the first two taxable years beginning after December 31, 1999, and are thereafter ineffective.

VETO

The Honorable Francis J. Wald
Speaker of the House
House Chamber

Dear Speaker Wald:

I am returning House Bill 1266 regarding the purchase of a building by the North Dakota Workers Compensation Bureau (NDWCB) and hereby veto the same. The bill gives the NDWCB the authority to purchase a building under certain conditions and provides the authority until July 31, 2003.

The return on investment for the NDWCB has averaged 11.3% since 1993. This is about equal to the purported cost savings suggested by the Bureau in its financial analysis for buying a building. Real cost savings from this legislation appears to be minimal.

The bill is premised on the uncertain notion that it will save money that might be used for higher benefits or reduced premiums. Yet, the bill does not require any such purported savings to be passed on to the employees or the employers of this state.

Finally, I believe this legislation does not set good policy for the entire State of North Dakota. NDWCB is a state agency funded by taxes from North Dakota employers. We should make decisions regarding the Bureau based upon sound policy for the entire state. If we are to shift public policy toward buying buildings, then we should do so in a broad examination of the policy itself, not for just one agency or on an ad hoc basis. We should consult with our financial planners and the private sector, consider the impact to other agencies, potential cost savings, the impact to local property taxes and the affect upon local governments that such a policy may have.

For these reasons, I must respectfully veto HB 1266.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer

AN ACT to create and enact sections 57-40.6-02.1, 57-40.6-02.2, and 57-40.6-10 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to a wireless 911 service fee, service fund, and planning committee; to amend and reenact sections 57-40.6-01, 57-40.6-06, 57-40.6-07, and 57-40.6-08 of the North Dakota Century Code, relating to wireless 911 service fees, definitions, and communications; and to provide a continuing appropriation.

VETO MEASURE

The Honorable Alvin Jaeger
Secretary of State
600 East Boulevard, 1st Floor

RE: Senate Bill 2307

Dear Secretary Jaeger:

I am sending to you Senate Bill 2307, and hereby veto the same. The bill imposes a 40 cent tax per month on cell phones in the state for the purposes of defraying the costs of 911 service and to enhance 911 capability. I cannot support the bill for the following reasons:

1. First, the bill imposes a new tax generating nearly $2 million from North Dakota cell phone users.
2. The bill creates a planning committee but does not include taxpayers, emergency medical service representatives, or law enforcement personnel. The committee is charged with developing legislation to implement a statewide plan for enhanced 911 service that would not be considered until the 2003 legislative session. I believe both the make-up of the committee and its charge fall short in providing sound guidance and implementation for our state's 911 system.
3. I do not support imposing such a broad tax on users, who are probably already paying a 911 tax on their land-lines, without considering a commensurate reduction in land-line taxes.
4. Finally, the bill imposes this tax, purportedly to provide enhanced 911 (E-911) service, but falls short of its goal. It allocates 25 cents to the counties, but allows the funds to be used for maintaining existing 911 service without moving toward an enhanced system.

The bill requires the balance of the fund to be held in escrow until the counties certify that they have begun to implement phase I and II of enhanced 911 service as defined by the FCC. However, under the FCC order, providers are entitled to be reimbursed for the E-911 costs. These costs are unknown. In effect, the bill imposes a tax to fund a system, the cost of which is not determined. Because of this uncertainty, I am unwilling to increase taxes by $2 million upon North Dakota taxpayers.

Importantly, vetoing this legislation does not jeopardize the current 911 system. Technology is available for enhanced 911 service, and we should allow that technology to evolve before asking our citizens to pay more for cellular phone service.

For these reasons, I hereby veto SB 2307.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer
Governor

The fee must be collected and remitted as follows:

1. Each commercial mobile radio service provider shall add the wireless 911 service fee to its subscribers' billings, separately stating the amount of the 911 wireless service fee.

CHAPTER 564

VETO

March 22, 1999

The Honorable Francis J. Wald
Speaker of the House
House Chamber

Dear Speaker Wald:

I am returning House Bill 1266 regarding the purchase of a building by the North Dakota Workers Compensation Bureau (NDWCB) and hereby veto the same. The bill gives the NDWCB the authority to purchase a building under certain conditions and provides the authority until July 31, 2003.

The return on investment for the NDWCB has averaged 11.3% since 1993. This is about equal to the purported cost savings suggested by the Bureau in its financial analysis for buying a building. Real cost savings from this legislation appears to be minimal.

The bill is premised on the uncertain notion that it will save money that might be used for higher benefits or reduced premiums. Yet, the bill does not require any such purported savings to be passed on to the employees or the employers of this state.

Finally, I believe this legislation does not set good policy for the entire State of North Dakota. NDWCB is a state agency funded by taxes from North Dakota employers. We should make decisions regarding the Bureau based upon sound policy for the entire state. If we are to shift public policy toward buying buildings, then we should do so in a broad examination of the policy itself, not for just one agency or on an ad hoc basis. We should consult with our financial planners and the private sector, consider the impact to other agencies, potential cost savings, the impact to local property taxes and the affect upon local governments that such a policy may have.

For these reasons, I must respectfully veto HB 1266.

Sincerely,

Edward T. Schafer

PHYSICIAN PSYCHIATRIC AND GEROPSYCHIATRIC TRAINING STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the expansion of psychiatric and geropsychiatric training for primary care physicians at the University of North Dakota School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

WHEREAS, North Dakota's rural counties have generally maintained federal health professional shortage area designation for psychiatric services; and

WHEREAS, recent national studies indicate that a significant portion of mental health care for residents of rural areas may be rendered by primary care providers; and

WHEREAS, mental health services in rural areas are far less accessible than is considered desirable; and

WHEREAS, it is important to enhance the knowledge of networking and consulting opportunities, as well as to support the enhancement of service delivery; and

WHEREAS, there is a need to enhance the mental health service capacity of primary care providers, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants in the rural areas; and

WHEREAS, the University of North Dakota School of Medicine and Health Sciences is the only physician training facility in the state of North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the expansion of psychiatric and geropsychiatric training for primary care physicians at the University of North Dakota School of Medicine and Health Sciences; and

(Budget Committee on Long-Term Care)

AMERICAN INDIAN LONG-TERM CARE STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study American Indian long-term care and case management needs, access to appropriate services, and the functional relationship between state service units and the North Dakota American Indian reservation service systems.

WHEREAS, the 1995-96 Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning reported that in the area of long-term care service inventory, distribution, and alternatives, long-term care services within North Dakota American Indian service areas and reservations vary widely, ranging from a nursing facility that is not owned or operated by a tribe to unlicensed facilities and home-based care provided under several entitlement programs; and

WHEREAS, coordination and application of various American Indian long-term care programs and service components are directed by tribal policy and organizational structure; and

WHEREAS, various noninstitutional care components appear to be available on reservations, but service arrangement and delivery may not be adequately coordinated and case management services for elderly reservation residents, if available, could result in a significant increase in the effectiveness of service delivery for that population; and

WHEREAS, during the 1997-98 interim, the Department of Human Services and the Department of Health formed a Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning to study American Indian long-term care and case management needs, access to services, and the functional relationship between state service units and American Indian reservation service systems; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning was unable to establish a subcommittee, composed of representatives from each North Dakota American Indian reservation, to carry out these provisions during the 1997-98 interim; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning has determined that a separate working group needs to be established on each reservation in order to successfully carry out these provisions;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study American Indian long-term care and case management needs, access to appropriate services, and the functional relationship between state service units and the North Dakota American Indian reservation service systems; and

SENIOR CITIZEN MILL LEVY MATCH PROGRAM STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the mill levy match program for senior citizens to determine if the program could be expanded to enhance home and community-based service availability.

WHEREAS, the 1971 Legislative Assembly established the mill levy match program for senior citizens and the 1991 Legislative Assembly amended the program and restricted the types of expenses for which those mill levy funds can be used to a variety of services designed to assist senior citizens in maintaining independence, including home-delivered meals, transportation, outreach assistance, congregate dining, and health-related services; and

WHEREAS, the 1997 Legislative Assembly appropriated $1,050,000 for the mill levy match program for senior citizens for the 1997-99 biennium, an increase of $150,000 over the 1995-97 appropriation of $900,000; and

WHEREAS, the majority of funds from the mill levy match program for senior citizens is distributed by city or county commissioners to agencies that contract with the Department of Human Services to provide services under the Older Americans Act; and

WHEREAS, many elderly residents of rural communities throughout the state rely on these service providers as one of the few alternatives to institutional care; and

WHEREAS, funds from the mill levy match program for senior citizens are also used to leverage a variety of federal funds that provide for an assortment of in-home services for the frail and elderly; and

WHEREAS, the use of funds from the mill levy match program for senior citizens to serve an at-risk population in the least restrictive environment makes the program an integral part of the continuum of long-term care services; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning views the mill levy match program for senior citizens as an important component in the overall provision of long-term care services to the senior citizens of North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the mill levy match program for senior citizens to determine if the program could be expanded to enhance home and community-based service availability; and

SWING-BED PROCESS STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the swing-bed process.

WHEREAS, the June 1996 Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning report indicated that swing-bed care, as a form of long-term care, is relatively unregulated when compared to nursing facilities; and

WHEREAS, the June 1996 Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning report indicated that little data is available about individuals served in a swing-bed setting; and

WHEREAS, the June 1996 Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning report indicated that it appears that some swing-bed facilities were beginning to use swing beds for permanent placements rather than just short-term stays, thereby circumventing controls over the expansion of long-term care beds; and

WHEREAS, census data indicates that swing-bed hospitals are admitting residents for long periods of time and that a total of 22 percent of admissions were for more than six months and 47 residents were in swing beds for more than a year; and

WHEREAS, there is concern that long-term placement of residents in swing beds is going beyond the original concept of swing beds and that some hospitals have gone beyond the original intent and are providing ongoing long-term care services to their residents; and

WHEREAS, swing-bed services are not required to be at the same level as long-term care facility services and there continues to be a lack of any standardized measurement process available to determine the quality of care being provided in swing-bed facilities; and

WHEREAS, there are 1,594 potential swing beds in North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning expressed concern about the impact the number of available swing beds could have on the overall goal of providing long-term care services in the least restrictive, most cost-effective manner;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the swing-bed process to determine if changes are necessary in the current requirements for providing services to swing-bed residents, including the need for a standard assessment process and whether any limits such as length of stay or number of available swing beds should be implemented; and

DOMESTIC RELATIONS PRO SE REPRESENTATION STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the feasibility and desirability of facilitating pro se representation in domestic relations matters.

WHEREAS, more than one-half of all actions filed in district courts involve domestic relations cases, including child support order modification proceedings and visitation enforcement proceedings; and

WHEREAS, legal expenses associated with even the most basic of child support modification proceedings and visitation enforcement proceedings make these proceedings cost-prohibitive for most people; and

WHEREAS, many low-income persons must rely on legal aid offices, child support enforcement units, or attorneys willing to do pro bono domestic relations cases for legal services; and

WHEREAS, legal aid offices, child support enforcement units, and pro bono attorneys have limited resources to assist persons in domestic relations matters; and

WHEREAS, there is a presumption that application of the child support guidelines results in the proper amount of child support, and it is usually in a child's best interests to have a relationship with both parents; and

WHEREAS, lack of ability to pay for legal services may result in persons failing to seek modification of child support orders and enforcement of visitation;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

FAMILY LAW MEDIATION APPROVAL

A concurrent resolution expressing legislative approval of the actions taken by the State Bar Association of North Dakota Joint Task Force on Family Law to facilitate and promote mediation as a method of addressing family law matters.

WHEREAS, the Joint Task Force on Family Law was established in January 1995 and has a mission that includes reviewing dispute resolution alternatives to determine potential application in the family law system, including divorce; and

WHEREAS, the traditional legal system is adversarial in nature and is usually counterproductive in fostering communication, cooperation, and a working relationship between parents, skills that may be integral to successful postdivorce childrearing; and

WHEREAS, mediation is based on communication and mutual agreement, which may be productive in teaching problem-solving skills that may decrease postdivorce litigation; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Task Force on Family Law has invested a large amount of time and expended a great amount of energy in drafting and promoting suggested local rules of court that mandate mediation orientation in most divorce cases filed in district court; and

WHEREAS, mandatory mediation orientation should assist in improving the availability of mediators in the rural communities and the western region of the state; and

WHEREAS, in response to the work of the Joint Task Force on Family Law, several judicial districts have agreed to adopt local court rules that mandate mediation orientation in most divorce cases;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, many of the laws relating to the provision of elementary and secondary education in this state set forth neither clear objectives nor directives for their administration; and

WHEREAS, many of the laws relating to the provision of elementary and secondary education in this state are duplicative, inconsistent, or illogically arranged; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Council, through the Education Services Committee, conducted a study during the 1997-98 interim which resulted in recommendations for the revision of a substantial portion of Title 15;

WHEREAS, Cargill, Incorporated, is the nation's largest private company, with revenues during this past fiscal year in excess of $51.4 billion; and

WHEREAS, a merger of these two companies would result in a single entity controlling over 40 percent of all United States corn exports, 33 percent of all soybean exports, and at least 20 percent of all wheat exports; and

WHEREAS, a merger of these two companies could have far-reaching implications for agricultural producers and consumers, especially so if the merger stifles or drives out competition in smaller local markets and key distribution points;

WHEREAS, technological advances allow employees to conduct their work from offices outside the capitol building, including offices in rural areas where building rents may be less expensive; and

FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE NOT TO LIST PRAIRIE DOG AS THREATENED OR ENDANGERED URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the United States Fish and Wildlife Service not to list the blacktailed prairie dog, Cynomys ludovicianus, as a threatened or endangered species under the Endangered Species Act.

WHEREAS, the National Wildlife Federation has petitioned the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to list the blacktailed prairie dog as a threatened species; and

WHEREAS, large concentrations of prairie dog populations cause widespread crop destruction and effectively compete with livestock for the same grazing areas; and

WHEREAS, the entrance holes to prairie dog burrows are a hazard to livestock;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the United States Fish and Wildlife Service not to list the blacktailed prairie dog, Cynomys ludovicianus, as a threatened or endangered species under the Endangered Species Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the regional director of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, the director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, the Secretary of the Interior, and to each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study heritage tourism and the relationships among the State Historical Society, Parks and Recreation Department, Tourism Department, Department of Economic Development and Finance, and private sector promoters and developers of heritage tourism in the state.

WHEREAS, an objective and professional review of North Dakota's tourism industry and potential conducted by the International Resort and Tourism Advisors in 1989 concluded that cultural and heritage tourism provided the best avenues for growth in the state's tourism sector; and

WHEREAS, the 1989 study launched a 10-year plan to build the state's heritage tourism infrastructure; and

CROP PROTECTION PRODUCT HARMONIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to aggressively pursue legislation that will permit substantially similar crop protection products registered in Canada to be purchased and used by farmers in the United States; to direct the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to work toward the harmonization of crop protection product legislation, and in the event substantial progress is not made, to disallow the importation of any commodity into this country if the commodity contains any crop protection product not approved for use in this country; and to require that the manufacturers of crop protection products publicly justify any price discrepancies between similar products sold in Canada and in the United States.

WHEREAS, farmers in this state use crop protection products in a safe and responsible manner; and

WHEREAS, crop protection products are a necessary component of an integrated pest management system, especially with respect to minor crops; and

WHEREAS, the availability of crop protection products helps to diversify the agricultural economic base; and

WHEREAS, agricultural products are imported into the United States after having been exposed to crop protection products that have not been approved by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency; and

WHEREAS, agricultural products imported into the United States after having been exposed to agricultural pesticides that have not been approved by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency may have chemical residues that could pose a threat to the public health; and

WHEREAS, the United States and Canada do not recognize each other's scientific data generated for use in the labeling of crop protection products; and

WHEREAS, the North American Free Trade Agreement allows large amounts of agricultural commodities to cross the border between the United States and Canada; and

WHEREAS, the percentage of agricultural commodities entering the United States through North Dakota is particularly high compared to those entering through other states; and

WHEREAS, many of the agricultural commodities entering the United States through North Dakota are produced with crop protection products that are not available to producers in this state or which are available at substantially higher prices than those charged in Canada; and

WHEREAS, farmers and ranchers in this state suffer economically when they must compete with Canadian producers; and

WHEREAS, the cost of production for Canadian producers is significantly less, due in part to the availability of crop protection products at prices substantially lower than those charged producers in this state; and

WHEREAS, the North American Free Trade Agreement set as a goal the complete harmonization of crop protection product registrations between the countries participating in the agreement; and

WHEREAS, the goal of harmonization has been ignored by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency and the Congress of the United States through its passage of the Food Quality Protection Act; and

WHEREAS, United States Senators Dorgan and Conrad have introduced legislation that would permit the registration and use in this state of Canadian crop protection products;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to aggressively pursue legislation that will permit substantially similar crop protection products registered in Canada to be purchased and used by farmers in the United States; to direct the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency to work toward the harmonization of crop protection product legislation, and in the event substantial progress is not made, to disallow the importation of any commodity into this country if the commodity contains any crop protection product not approved for use in this country; and to require that the manufacturers of crop protection products publicly justify any price discrepancies between similar products sold in Canada and in the United States; and

CROP PROTECTION PRODUCT AVAILABILITY URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to ensure the availability of as many crop protection products as possible, including post-harvest crop protectants, to use actual scientific data to determine the safety of crop protection products, to accept scientific data generated by the North Dakota State University Main Research Center and by the research extension centers regarding the safety of crop protection products, to establish uniform policies governing the implementation of the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act, and to ensure that implementation of the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act does not negatively impact agricultural production nor the availability and affordability of food.

WHEREAS, farmers in this state use crop protection products in a safe and responsible manner; and

WHEREAS, the loss of many crop protection products will jeopardize the very foundation of the safe and abundant food supply for all consumers; and

WHEREAS, the elimination of such crop protection products will have devastating effects on the economy of our state and jeopardize the livelihood of many farmers in this state; and

WHEREAS, the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act substantially changes the way crop protection products are evaluated to scientifically determine their health effects; and

WHEREAS, the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency is making decisions regarding which crop protection products will be made available and which will not; and

WHEREAS, it appears that the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency is making overly conservative decisions based on insufficient information, instead of attempting to obtain sufficient scientific data; and

WHEREAS, the method by which the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency is implementing the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act may cause farmers to lose access to valuable crop protection products and consequently jeopardize farm production; and

WHEREAS, if farmers are not able to choose from a wide array of crop protection products, farmers will lose the ability to practice proper conservation tillage and integrated pest management, thereby causing environmental impacts, and foreign producers will enjoy a competitive edge; and

WHEREAS, the absence of reliable information regarding crop protection products results in fewer options for farmers who grow minor crops, significantly disrupts successful integrated pest management programs, and jeopardizes the availability and affordability of agricultural products;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to ensure the availability of as many crop protection products as possible, including post-harvest crop protectants, to use actual scientific data to determine the safety of crop protection products, to accept scientific data generated by the North Dakota State University Main Research Center and by the research extension centers regarding the safety of crop protection products, to establish uniform policies governing the implementation of the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act, and to ensure that implementation of the 1996 Food Quality Protection Act does not negatively impact agricultural production nor the availability and affordability of food; and

LIVESTOCK INSURANCE INITIATIVES URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to encourage the formation of new legislative or administrative initiatives to extend insurance options, similar to crop insurance options, to livestock producers.

WHEREAS, devastating weather conditions have caused livestock producers to experience shrinking profit margins; and

WHEREAS, marketing livestock in an ever-increasing monopolistic environment has caused livestock producers to experience shrinking profit margins; and

WHEREAS, many livestock producers in this state are being driven out of business by anticompetitive forces that control the markets and acts of God that severely restrict their income; and

WHEREAS, farmers have for many years viewed crop insurance as a last remaining safety net that can be tailored to fit their own risk management needs; and

WHEREAS, livestock producers need a revenue insurance safety net that they can tailor to fit their own risk management needs;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

MARKETING LOAN CAP INCREASE URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to raise the cap on marketing loans available to farmers and to adopt a cost of production index adjustment mechanism.

WHEREAS, farm families and rural communities are suffering an economic downturn similar to the farm crisis of the 1980s; and

WHEREAS, farmers in this state and elsewhere have had to contend with prolonged periods of disastrous weather and crop disease; and

WHEREAS, the 1996 farm bill replaced the previous system of farm income protection with a set of fixed, but declining, payments unrelated to commodity prices and capped commodity marketing loan rates; and

WHEREAS, providing for a cap on commodity marketing loan rates which would reflect cost of production would provide immediate assistance to farm families;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

PESTICIDE HARMONIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the Environmental Protection Agency and the Congress of the United States to increase resources for and efforts of the U.S.-Canada Technical Working Group to harmonize pesticide regulations between the two countries, to commit more resources and efforts toward establishing tolerances for pesticides registered for use in Canada but not in the United States, and to accept registration data currently accepted by Canadian officials in support of Canadian pesticide registrations.

WHEREAS, it is the intent of the Legislative Assembly that North Dakota become the trusted provider of the highest-quality food in the world with prosperous family farms, thriving rural communities, and world-class stewardship of resources. It is further the intent of the Legislative Assembly to significantly increase net farm income, improve the quality of rural life, and increase North Dakota's rural population; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly seeks to achieve these goals by making North Dakota agriculture products synonymous with high quality, dominating the premium markets; increasing value-added agricultural processing; diversifying and increasing the value of agricultural production; increasing farm and nonfarm cooperation that supports thriving rural communities and enhances our natural resources; and creating a political, regulatory, economic, trade, financial, and natural resource environment in which North Dakota producers can compete in the global marketplace; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota farmers are forced to compete with farmers from other countries, especially Canada, who are able to use pesticide products that are not registered for use in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Canadian pesticides are often available at substantially reduced prices in formulations that are almost identical to those available to North Dakota producers but are not registered for use in the United States. As a result, North Dakota farmers are unable to realize similar savings and are at a competitive disadvantage; and

WHEREAS, the Environmental Protection Agency needs to put more resources into the harmonization of the registration of crop protection chemicals with Canada; and

WHEREAS, use of Canadian registration data by the Environmental Protection Agency could accelerate its registration process for appropriate crop protection chemicals;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Environmental Protection Agency and the Congress of the United States to increase resources for and efforts of the U.S.-Canada Technical Working Group to harmonize pesticide regulations between the two countries, to commit more resources and efforts toward establishing tolerances for pesticides registered for use in Canada but not in the United States, and to accept registration data currently accepted by Canadian officials in support of Canadian pesticide registrations; and

WHEREAS, the North American Free Trade Agreement and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade have created international trade zones for agricultural products; and

WHEREAS, the North American Free Trade Agreement and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade were to have opened up expanded trade opportunities and vast new markets for our agricultural products; and

WHEREAS, neither the North American Free Trade Agreement nor the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade have been able to stop the flood of agricultural products from other countries into the United States; and

INDUSTRIAL HEMP PRODUCTION AUTHORIZATION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to acknowledge the difference between the marijuana plant and the agricultural crop known as industrial hemp; to acknowledge that allowing and encouraging farmers to produce industrial hemp will improve the balance of trade by promoting domestic sources of industrial hemp; and to assist United States producers by clearly authorizing the commercial production of industrial hemp and by being the leading advocate for the industrial hemp industry.

WHEREAS, industrial hemp refers to varieties of the cannabis plant which have a low content of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and that are cultivated for fiber and oil; and

WHEREAS, industrial hemp should not be confused with varieties of cannabis which have a high content of tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and which are commonly referred to as marijuana; and

WHEREAS, the commercial production and cultivation of industrial hemp is now permitted in Canada, under licenses and authorizations issued by Health Canada; and

WHEREAS, Health Canada controls, through rules, all activities relating to the importation, exportation, possession, production, sale, provision, transport, sending, delivering and offering for sale of industrial hemp; and

WHEREAS, industrial hemp is grown legally throughout Europe and Asia; and

WHEREAS, many farmers facing uncertain times in the agricultural marketplace view the reintroduction of industrial hemp as another potential alternative crop that will have long-term economic benefits to the farmers who produce the hemp and the persons who utilize hemp in the production of textiles, paper products, concrete reinforcement, automobile parts, plastics, cosmetics, organic foods and natural body products; and

WHEREAS, Congress never originally intended to prohibit the production of industrial hemp when restricting the production, possession, and use of marijuana;

EMPLOYMENT SECURITY SYSTEM FUNDING URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to enact legislation to return adequate funds to states to fund the employment security system and give a fair return to employers for the taxes employers pay under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

WHEREAS, employers pay a federal employment security tax under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act [68A Stat. 439; 26 U.S.C. 3301 et seq.] as a payroll tax that produces revenue dedicated solely to use in the federal-state employment security system; and

WHEREAS, employers' payroll taxes pay for administering the employment security system, providing veterans' reemployment assistance, and producing labor market information to assist in matching workers' skills with the employment needs of employers; and

WHEREAS, congressional appropriations have remained flat in Wagner-Peyser funding, despite adequate availability of funds from dedicated employer taxes because the Federal Unemployment Tax Act accounts are used for federal budget deficit reduction; and

WHEREAS, congressional appropriations have not kept pace with fixed costs of operating the employment security system, creating problems similar to the problems the gas tax creates for transportation; and

WHEREAS, states cannot support an infrastructure to administer the employment security system, provide veterans' reemployment assistance, and produce labor market information, without adequate, predictable resources; and

WHEREAS, delivering services with inadequate federal funding is a major challenge facing the State of North Dakota and Job Service North Dakota;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to enact legislation to return adequate funds to states to fund the employment security system and give a fair return to employers for the taxes employers pay under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; and

WHEREAS, the federal income tax is the primary exposure of most citizens to the federal government, and instead of fostering respect for the Congress and the federal government, the income tax is a source of derision for those entities; and

WHEREAS, the common perceptions are that the federal income tax is an example of government gone astray and that the existing Internal Revenue Code is the product of manipulation of Congress by special interest groups; and

WHEREAS, due to the complexity of laws, regulations, and rulings on income taxes, the average taxpayer has little hope of being proficient in preparing his or her own federal income tax return; and

WHEREAS, no other Act of Congress would do more to enhance public perception of Congress and the federal government than to make the federal income tax fairer, simpler, flatter, lower, and subject to fewer exceptions and special interest provisions;

GASOLINE SULFUR LEVEL REDUCTION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the Environmental Protection Agency to reduce gasoline sulfur levels to provide the flexibility of a regional approach that will maximize air quality benefits and to propose regulations reducing vehicle emissions in recognition that fuels and vehicles work in tandem and neither fuels nor vehicles can be addressed in isolation.

WHEREAS, the Environmental Protection Agency believes that sulfur reductions are necessary to maximize emissions reductions from motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, the Environmental Protection Agency plans to propose very stringent gasoline sulfur regulations and more stringent vehicle tailpipe emission standards; and

WHEREAS, some states' air pollution problems are far greater than others and require greater reduction of sulfur and other states, especially those states in the western portion of the nation, have minimal air pollution problems that require less of a reduction of sulfur; and

WHEREAS, because California gasoline was developed to address air quality problems unique to California and air quality problems in other states are not as severe as those in California, the air quality problems in other states do not necessitate the same solutions; and

WHEREAS, limitation of consumer mobility and freedom may result from reducing sulfur in gasoline because higher manufacturing costs may be passed on to consumers; and

WHEREAS, although new investments in clean air are needed, consumers should not have to pay more than necessary for gasoline to achieve the goal of clean air; and

WHEREAS, fuels and vehicles work together as a system and the right combination of fuel and vehicle controls will result in cleaner air and a cost-effective solution; and

WHEREAS, the American Petroleum Institute and the National Petrochemical Refiners Association have proposed a program for reducing gasoline sulfur levels which will reduce nitrogen oxides emissions by more than 75,000 tons annually and will cut gasoline sulfur levels by at least 50 percent;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Environmental Protection Agency to reduce gasoline sulfur levels to provide the flexibility of a regional approach that will maximize air quality benefits; to propose regulations that reflect the American Petroleum Institute and National Petrochemical Refiners Association gasoline sulfur reduction proposal, which calls for 150 parts per million average sulfur levels in 28 primary eastern states and East Texas, and 300 parts per million average sulfur levels in the remaining states, with the exception of California, which has a program specific to California; to propose regulations that are cost-effective in order to limit the burden on consumers; and to propose regulations that reduce vehicle emissions that recognize that fuels and vehicles work in tandem and that neither fuels nor vehicles can be addressed in isolation, therefore, the Environmental Protection Agency must strike a balance in regulating vehicles and fuels; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the Regional Administrator of Region VIII of the Environmental Protection Agency, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, the State Health Officer, the Governor, and each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

WHEREAS, a broad variety of state laws address end-of-life issues, including informed consent for health care, guardianship, organ donation, living will, durable power of attorney for health care, durable power of attorney, and power of attorney; and

WHEREAS, state law addressing these issues was enacted over the course of several years, resulting in the lack of continuity and dispersal throughout the North Dakota Century Code; and

WHEREAS, many North Dakotans fail to adequately plan for issues that arise at the end of life because of the complexity of relevant laws; and

WHEREAS, the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws recognized the value of clarity and continuity in making health care decisions and therefore recommended the Uniform Health Care Decision Act to the states for enactment; and

WHEREAS, at least 16 states have studied the advantages and disadvantages of enacting comprehensive advanced health care directive statutes, concluding a comprehensive statutory scheme is a reasonable solution; and

WHEREAS, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation provided a grant to the North Dakota End of Life Task Force, which is in part studying end-of-life decisionmaking issues;

WHEREAS, changing demographics indicate the average age of a rural resident of this state is aging and the rural population is decreasing; and

WHEREAS, managed care is changing the manner of providing health care services in rural portions of this state; and

LIGNITE INDUSTRY TAXATION INCENTIVE STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study taxation and regulatory incentives for the lignite industry in order to improve its competitive position in the energy marketplace and to identify federal and international impediments to development of the lignite industry and potential state actions to address such impediments.

WHEREAS, North Dakota's lignite industry mines approximately thirty million tons of lignite annually, contributing to our state's and nation's energy independence by generating electricity for more than two million people in the northern Great Plains region and by producing synthetic natural gas from coal that heats 300,000 homes and businesses in eastern states, which is equivalent to over 20,000 barrels of oil per day; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota's lignite industry generates over 20,000 direct and indirect jobs for North Dakota, over one billion dollars in annual business volume, and over sixty-five million dollars in annual tax revenue; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly has previously determined that it is an essential governmental function and public purpose to assist with the development and wise use of North Dakota's vast lignite resources by supporting a lignite research, development, and marketing program; and

WHEREAS, the Gascoyne mine has closed due to the loss of its contract in favor of out-of-state subbituminous coal; and

WHEREAS, subbituminous coal has been utilized in two North Dakota coal generating facilities; and

WHEREAS, with deregulation and restructuring within the electrical industry, there are increasing competitive pressures on the lignite industry; and

WHEREAS, government taxation and regulatory costs constitute up to thirty percent of the cost of North Dakota lignite; and

WHEREAS, new proposed environmental requirements on both the federal and international level threaten the future of the lignite industry; and

WHEREAS, North Dakotans desire to maintain their state's status as a clean air state and as a state with an equitable tax structure;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

(Budget Committee on Long-Term Care)

LONG-TERM CARE CAPACITY STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study the possibility of creating an incentive package to assist rural communities and nursing facilities in closing or significantly reducing bed capacity and providing alternative long-term care services.

WHEREAS, North Dakota has 75.05 nursing facility beds per 1,000 elderly (age 65 and over) while the national average is fewer than 50; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota institutionalizes about 10.3 percent of its elderly population, the highest percentage in the United States; and

WHEREAS, there were 7,031 nursing facility beds available during 1996, of which 6,748 or 95.97 percent were occupied and 1,275 basic care beds available during the three-month period beginning January 1997 and ending March 1997, of which 1,061 or 83.22 percent were occupied; and

WHEREAS, Medicaid recipients occupied 56.59 percent of the nursing facility beds during 1996 and basic care assistance recipients occupied 64 percent of the basic care beds during the three-month period beginning January 1997 and ending March 1997; and

WHEREAS, the closure of a facility in a rural community can have a significant effect on the entire community similar to the loss of other local businesses, schools, hospitals, or churches; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning recognizes that assistance may be needed for communities when a facility chooses to close or reduce bed capacity; and

WHEREAS, facilities in rural communities which are experiencing decreased occupancy and staffing problems usually do not have the necessary resources to develop alternatives to institutional care; and

WHEREAS, the Task Force on Long-Term Care Planning concluded that incentives and other forms of assistance should be made available to enable facilities to make the transition toward closing or to providing institutional services to fewer residents; and

WHEREAS, incentives could range from a flat payment for each bed delicensed to grants and subsidized loans for developing alternative services and involve the resources and expertise from state agencies, including the State Department of Health, Department of Human Services, Bank of North Dakota, Municipal Bond Bank, and the Department of Economic Development and Finance;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study the possibility of creating an incentive package to assist rural communities and nursing facilities in closing or significantly reducing bed capacity and providing alternative long-term care services; and

PROHIBITION URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress and the Clinton Administration to recognize state interests and enact legislation that would prohibit the federal Department of Health and Human Services from recouping the tobacco settlement funds as third-party recoveries under Medicaid law.

WHEREAS, in November 1998, 46 states agreed to a historic settlement with the tobacco industry, which ended a four-year battle with the industry over treatment costs states have incurred for smoking-related illnesses; and

WHEREAS, the 46 states could receive up to $196 billion over a 25-year period, including disbursements totaling over $717 million to the state of North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the Master Settlement Agreement does not restrict or earmark the settlement, therefore the general belief is that the funds may be appropriated according to state law; and

WHEREAS, the decision for states now is how to best use the money; and

WHEREAS, the federal Department of Health and Human Services contends that existing Medicaid law (Section 1903(d) of the Social Security Act) compels it to recover its share of third-party payments, collected by states on behalf of Medicaid clients, and argues further that state tobacco settlement funds are third-party recoveries under the provisions of the Medicaid statute;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

WHEREAS, costs associated with the indigent defense contract system administered by the judicial branch continue to increase in greater proportion than most other costs of the judicial branch; and

WHEREAS, the current indigent defense contract system poses troubling, conflict-related issues concerning judge involvement in deciding when criminal defense expenses, such as expert witnesses, should be allowed while also presiding in cases involving indigent criminal defendants; and

WHEREAS, the Legislative Assembly last considered the establishment of a public defender system during the 1973 and 1975 legislative sessions and the dynamics and requirements regarding criminal defense services for indigents have changed considerably since that time;

AGRICULTURAL REFORMS URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to assist farmers by removing or restricting the use of trade sanctions as they apply to agricultural products, by taking advantage of the export enhancement program, by removing the cap on marketing loans, and by reforming crop insurance so that farmers experiencing multiyear disasters could have access to adequate coverage.

WHEREAS, farm families and rural communities are suffering an economic downturn similar to the farm crisis of the 1980s; and

WHEREAS, farmers in this state have had to contend with prolonged periods of disastrous weather and crop disease; and

WHEREAS, farmers in this state are experiencing declining crop insurance coverage, thereby further reducing their ability to mitigate against disasters; and

WHEREAS, the 1996 farm bill replaced the previous system of farm income protection with a set of fixed, but declining, payments unrelated to commodity prices and capped commodity marketing loan rates; and

WHEREAS, removing the cap on the marketing loans and extending the loan terms would provide a way to channel much-needed financial resources to farmers, would protect farm prices without distorting the market, and would provide farmers with market flexibility; and

WHEREAS, when the North American Free Trade Agreement was to be enacted, our farmers and ranchers were promised a new golden age of expanding trade opportunities, vast new markets for their products and capital and investment in their communities, protection from any potentially adverse effects that might be generated by the North American Free Trade Agreement through safeguard tariff provisions, and provisional relief from dumping actions through adjudication from the International Trade Commission; and

WHEREAS, the Secretary of Agriculture has required that there be significant reductions in the United States Department of Agriculture staff at the national, state, and local levels; and

WHEREAS, between 1993 and 1996, federal staff in Farm Service Agency offices was reduced by 16 percent and county staff was reduced by 15 percent; and

WHEREAS, the decline in staff is greater than the anticipated decline in workload; and

WHEREAS, in seeking efficiencies, the Secretary of Agriculture has determined that it is preferable to have fewer and larger offices that allow for more specialized services and greater economies of scale; and

DAKOTA WATER RESOURCES ACT ENACTMENT URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to enact the Dakota Water Resources Act.

WHEREAS, North Dakota lost more than 500,000 acres of valuable river bottom lands as a result of construction of the Missouri River reservoirs under the federal Flood Control Act of 1944, causing an annual loss of millions of dollars in economic activity as well as other serious impacts to individuals, political subdivisions, and the state's Indian Nations; and

WHEREAS, operation of the Pick-Sloan Missouri River dams has caused extensive damage and erosion to the remaining riverbanks and sediment buildup in areas of the upper reaches of the Oahe and Garrison reservoirs; and

WHEREAS, North Dakota was assured by Congress in the federal Flood Control Act of 1944 that the loss of this valuable land and economic return would be offset by completion of the Garrison Diversion Unit; and

WHEREAS, project beneficiaries have not realized the promise of the Garrison Diversion Unit; and

WHEREAS, construction of the Garrison Diversion Unit has been delayed numerous times with construction costs increasing and the remaining benefits deferred with each delay; and

WHEREAS, the Red River Basin needs a dependable supply of water for the cities of Fargo and Grand Forks, smaller communities, rural water systems, industry, agricultural processing, manufacturing, and other purposes, and to protect and enhance the economic stability and quality of life for the growing population of the Red River Basin; and

WHEREAS, failure to provide long-term water supply and management across North Dakota will jeopardize future economic opportunities dependent on water, including industry, agricultural processing, manufacturing, municipal growth, recreation, and fish and wildlife, and will adversely affect the entire state; and

WHEREAS, primary sources of water for many communities across North Dakota are unsafe and of poor quality and a safe, reliable supply of water is necessary to preserve and improve the quality of life in rural North Dakota; with these supplies being provided by projects such as the Southwest Water Pipeline and the Northwest Area Water Supply Project, as well as other systems now being developed to meet water supply needs; and

WHEREAS, the Dakota Water Resources Act will identify the most appropriate method to deliver a safe, reliable, and affordable supply of water to eastern North Dakota to address the significant water needs of the Red River Valley; and

WHEREAS, the Dakota Water Resources Act has received broad support from the state's Indian Nations and communities and organizations across North Dakota in testimony presented in hearings before the United States Senate and the United States House of Representatives;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly urges the Congress of the United States to enact the Dakota Water Resources Act; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Assembly supports the efforts of the Governor, the Congressional Delegation, legislative leaders, tribal chairmen, and others who worked together with other interested parties to reach consensus on legislation to complete the Garrison Diversion Unit Project; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Assembly urges prompt enactment of the Dakota Water Resources Act to achieve the goal of improving the long-term water supply of North Dakota; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the Governor, the Secretary of the Interior, and each member of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation.

MISSOURI RIVER ISSUES STUDY

A concurrent resolution directing the Legislative Council to study issues related to the Missouri River in North Dakota.

WHEREAS, the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, assured benefits to all 10 states within the Missouri River basin under a control and management program that came to be commonly known as the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, the Congress has directed the United States Army Corps of Engineers to build, operate, and maintain all the features of the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers stated in its final report to Congress dated December 1981 concerning the Missouri River streambank erosion that "bank erosion in this reach results in a permanent net loss of high value lands. This process, unless halted, would eventually transform the present river into a wide area of sandbars and channels, occupying an increasing proportion of the valley width between the bluffs"; and

WHEREAS, the lands adjacent to the Missouri River have been and will continue to be seriously eroded and permanently lost to the local landowners and the State of North Dakota because of reservoir management that releases highly fluctuating amounts of clear water capable of eroding and transporting large amounts of soil; and

WHEREAS, soil eroded from the banks of the Missouri River is being deposited as a delta in the headwaters of the Oahe Reservoir and Lake Sakakawea thereby causing the water table to rise under the adjacent land, and is increasing the frequency and severity of ice jam hazards and has, according to recent United States Army Corps of Engineers' pronouncements, endangered 6,000 acres of land containing 150 homes, industrial development, and valuable farmland around Lake Oahe; and in the headwaters area of Lake Sakakawea, the delta is endangering the Buford-Trenton irrigation district, the water intake for the city of Williston, and many acres of valuable farmland; and

WHEREAS, a similar bank erosion problem exists for a 58-mile reach on the South Dakota-Nebraska border downstream from the Gavins Point Dam and also between the Fort Peck Dam in Montana and Lake Sakakawea; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri River will continue to change without additional bank stabilization; and

WHEREAS, destructive bank erosion continues when high winter water releases for power generation occur;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Legislative Council study issues related to the Missouri River in North Dakota; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the study include an examination of the Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin program, the United States Army Corps of Engineers' master plan, land and natural resource issues, water management, bank stabilization, land use, and development of a long-range vision for the Missouri River in North Dakota; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Council in conducting the study seek input from the Missouri River Coordinated Resource Management Program and the Corps of Engineers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislative Council report its findings and recommendations, together with any legislation required to implement the recommendations, to the Fifty-seventh Legislative Assembly.

PICK-SLOAN MASTER MANUAL REVISIONS URGED

A concurrent resolution urging the United States Army Corps of Engineers to include provisions for the protection of recreation, municipal, industrial, irrigation, and other interests on the Missouri River in North Dakota in developing a revised master manual for the future operation of the Pick-Sloan Project.

WHEREAS, the Flood Control Act of 1944, as amended, assured benefits to all 10 states within the Missouri River Basin under a control and management program that came to be commonly known as the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has directed the United States Army Corps of Engineers to build, operate, and maintain all the features of the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project provides major flood control benefits, recreational benefits, water supply benefits, hydropower benefits, and navigational benefits for the downstream states of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas through construction of large reservoirs in states lying upstream from these states, and by channelizing the Missouri River from Sioux City, Iowa, to St. Louis, Missouri, at federal expense; and

WHEREAS, the Pick-Sloan Project reservoirs have been in place for many years, thus providing the downstream states in the Missouri River Basin all of the benefits promised in the Pick-Sloan Project; and

WHEREAS, construction of facilities under the Pick-Sloan Project has, to date, resulted in $16.7 billion of flood protection to downstream interests and has allowed these downstream interests to develop the original floodplain of the Missouri River for industrial, municipal, and agricultural uses; and

WHEREAS, under the Pick-Sloan Project, North Dakota has sacrificed over 550,000 acres of land, which has meant the permanent loss of 2,641 jobs, $45 million of annual personal income, and $131 million of annual gross business volume; and

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers is now in the process of revising its master manual for the operation of the entire Pick-Sloan Project in future years; and

WHEREAS, the construction of the Pick-Sloan Project has divided the Missouri River in North Dakota into four distinct regions, namely, the Missouri River reach above Williston, Lake Sakakawea, the Missouri River reach from Garrison Dam to the headwaters of Lake Oahe, and Lake Oahe; and

WHEREAS, as the recreation industry on the Missouri River mainstem in North Dakota, which has developed into a $70 million per year industry, suffered severely when the United States Army Corps of Engineers allowed lake levels to drop drastically during the drought of the late 1980s and the early 1990s; and

WHEREAS, the riverbanks in the Garrison Dam to Oahe Reservoir reach consist of ancient floodplain deposits that have been and will be severely eroded with great loss of valuable land whenever high waterflows are released from Garrison Dam; and

WHEREAS, the irrigators, fishermen, boaters, industrial and municipal water intakes, dredged channels, and marinas have all utilized the moderate summer river levels of the Garrison to Oahe reach both before and after the construction of the Garrison Dam; and

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers is also proposing very low water releases during the summer to allow endangered shore birds to nest, which will seriously affect many irrigators, recreation users, water intakes, dredged channels, and marinas;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the Fifty-sixth Legislative Assembly requests the United States Army Corps of Engineers to respect the large sacrifice North Dakota has made in order that the Pick-Sloan Project could be built; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the United States Army Corps of Engineers, in its new master manual, provide for conservation of water to enhance recreation, power generation, and the total economic benefits of the Pick-Sloan Project; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the United States Army Corps of Engineers, in its master manual, delay any unnecessary high water releases on the free-flowing reaches of the Missouri River, which cause the unnecessary loss of valuable land and an increase in flood damage, until such time when the riverbanks are protected; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the United States Army Corps of Engineers more evenly balance the needs of endangered species in the Upper Missouri River Basin with the requirements for water supply, the reduction of bank erosion, recreation, and flood control in the free-flowing stretches of the Missouri River; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Governor, members of the North Dakota Congressional Delegation, the State Engineer and staff, Director of the Game and Fish Department and staff, and many others be commended for their efforts to date and be urged to continue to work diligently at the local and national levels to influence the United States Army Corps of Engineers to adopt a master manual for the future operation of the Missouri River that is acceptable to all areas and interests on the Missouri River in North Dakota; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State forward copies of this resolution to the Division Commander of the Missouri River Division of the United States Army Corps of Engineers in order to be part of the public record for the Missouri River Master Manual Draft Environmental Impact Statement; the Secretary of the Army; the Secretary of the Interior; the District Engineer, Omaha District, United States Army Corps of Engineers; the Governor; each member of the State Water Commission; and each member of the North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, and Montana Congressional Delegations.

WHEREAS, North Dakota recognizes the value of these publicly owned lands as wildlife habitat and for wildlife dependent recreation; and

WHEREAS, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service refuge revenue sharing program payments to counties have steadily decreased from 100 percent of entitlement in 1980 to approximately 66 percent of entitlement in 1998; and

WHEREAS, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service requested funding for a full entitlement in 1998, but the amount of the entitlement was reduced by the Department of the Interior; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States has not budgeted for full entitlement of the refuge revenue sharing program since 1980; and

WHEREAS, the deficit in refuge revenue sharing program payments represents a real economic hardship to many counties and citizens in North Dakota; and

WHEREAS, the difference between full entitlement and actual payments made to counties in North Dakota for 1998 was approximately $224,000; and

WHEREAS, local concerns over the deficit in refuge revenue sharing program payments creates opposition to United States Fish and Wildlife Service land acquisition, land management activities, and other Fish and Wildlife Service programs; and

WHEREAS, state agencies such as the North Dakota Game and Fish Department and organizations such as the North Dakota Wetlands Trust and the Nature Conservancy, which pay actual taxes on the lands they own or manage, suffer criticism of and opposition to their programs as the result of concerns over the refuge revenue sharing program deficit; and

WHEREAS, it would be in the best interests of wildlife conservation, county government, local entities, landowners, and outdoor recreationists if the United States Fish and Wildlife Service made full refuge revenue sharing program payments;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING THEREIN:

INTERNET TAX FREEDOM ACT OBLIGATION FULFILLMENT URGED

A concurrent resolution urging Congress to act quickly to fulfill its obligation under the Internet Tax Freedom Act with regard to balanced membership of the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce and urging the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce to be mindful in its deliberations of the impact of Internet usage and Internet sales transactions on telecommunications, traditional retail businesses, and state and local tax bases.

WHEREAS, the Internet Tax Freedom Act was signed into law on October 21, 1998, and provided for establishment of the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce, to include 16 members appointed by Congressional leadership, eight of whom are to represent state and local governments and eight of whom are to represent industry and consumer groups; and

WHEREAS, equal representation for state and local governments is critical to North Dakota and other states because sales taxes have traditionally been a state prerogative and the participation of state and local governments is essential to the validity of recommendations of the Advisory Commission because the enormous growth in Internet usage and Internet sales transactions seriously impacts telecommunications, traditional retail businesses, and state and local tax bases; and

WHEREAS, appointments to the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce were made by Congressional leaders without consultations among themselves and resulted in an imbalance in the membership of the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce, with fewer than eight members representing state and local governments, which does not comply with the Internet Tax Freedom Act; and

WHEREAS, the failure of Congress to comply with its own legislation and appoint a balanced commission must be corrected as soon as possible because the Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce has a limited time to complete its work and much of that time has already been lost;
