

NEW PARK LAUNCHED

FIVE HUNDRED TREES PLANTED AND SWIMMING POOL FUND STARTED

The new Kenilworth Park site was the center of attraction yesterday afternoon and as early as 1 o'clock people began gathering to witness the tree planting and other activities. The trees selected to line the driveways and the different ornamental plats in the lawn section were already in place and their locations marked by stakes, and most of the other 500 or more trees were in their proper places. Chief Cook L. W. Chobe had the fires banked under the coffee boilers and everything ready to warm the great stacks of "weinies." The crowd continued to grow steadily, but nothing could be done until the delegations from the schools arrived. By 3 o'clock these were all on the grounds and then the exercises opened. Mayor Muhleman ascended the speakers' stand and stated briefly the official program, which was for him to plant the first tree, a California live oak, glistening with a coat of bright gold tint, using the gold-plated shovel he held in his hand and raised aloft; that following this the city trustees were to set out 12 California Redwoods at the place designated and the rest of the planting could be done by the men and boys who were thronging about him so eagerly. City Forester Marek then gave thorough instructions on how to plant trees so they would grow, after which the Mayor set about his pleasant task of starting the work. He dug the hole deep and wide and set the live oak firmly, doing every stroke himself, then accompanied the other trustees to the Redwood plat and assisted in planting the 12 trees. One was heeled in and left for Trustee R. M. Jackson to plant, he being ill and unable to be present. Men and boys went about the planting of the other trees with the greatest enthusiasm, women and girls accompanying them on their rounds and cheering them on. When the most of the work had been done the bulk of the crowd gathered about the "hot dog" and coffee dispensary, where all were supplied, some of the boys, accord-

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

There was a surprise birthday party last evening at the F. B. Mattice home, 1120 North Louise, in honor of Mrs. Mattice. Refreshments were served and a fancy birthday cake was the center of attraction. Those present as guests were: Mrs. F. M. Elliot, Rev. C. A. Cole and wife, Mrs. H. Weisling, Misses Eva Garton, Katherine and Amelia Weisling.

CLUB TEA AT MRS. PUFFER'S

One of the Tuesday Afternoon Club teas which are a feature of that organization's activities just now, was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. A. Puffer, 452 Vine St. The rooms were decorated with marginals. Those present were, beside the hostess and her mother, the following: Mrs. J. I. Wernette, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. C. L. Needham, Mrs. Walter Jones and her mother, Mrs. Betz, Mrs. H. C. Montgomery and her mother, Mrs. Hannan, Mrs. Eugene Valk, Mrs. Fred Warner and Mrs. J. Morgan Fife. Mrs. Montgomery entertained the company with a spirited reading.

METTERS-BENSON

W. E. EDMONDS OFFICIATES AT QUIET WEDDING OF GLENDALE GIRL

A very quiet wedding but one highly satisfactory to all concerned was celebrated at the Presbyterian Manse on Cedar Street with Rev. W. E. Edmonds officiating, at 5:30 o'clock Thursday evening. At that time Miss Gladys Benson, who has been making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Ethel L. Green at 811 East Colorado, was united to Edward W. Metters of Los Angeles. The ring ceremony was used and the witnesses of the marriage were Mrs. Green and Mrs. Edmonds. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Metters left for a brief wedding trip in the expectation of returning to Glendale and joining Mrs. Green and family, who will leave next Sunday for Ranger, Texas, to embark in a business venture there. Mrs. Green is retaining her home on Colorado and expects to return to it in the course of a few months.

A LINCOLN PROGRAM

TREE PLANTING AND PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION AT MAGNOLIA SCHOOL CAMPUS

A most enjoyable picnic, tree planting and patriotic program took place at the Magnolia School grounds in the south part of the city Thursday afternoon when children marched to the campus from the Cerritos grounds to the number of 300, carrying flags. All traffic stopped while the procession passed. The program opened with a salute to the flag, led by Glen Roberts, first class Scout. Then Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, federation chairman of patriotism, led in the singing of "America." A biographical sketch of the life of Abraham Lincoln, recited by little Mary Prialux of the sixth grade, was considered quite a remarkable contribution and a highly creditable one. Beryl Goodale read the "Gettysburg Address," and Glen Roberts read Walt Whitman's "Captain, My Captain." Mrs. Wood of the Audubon Society of Los Angeles made a fine talk on birds and then the audience broke ranks to undertake the business of tree planting. A tree was set by a representative of each of the eight grades in the school. Robert Taylor planted one for the N. P. Banks Post of the G. A. R., Mrs. Moore set one for the Cerritos Avenue P.-T. A., and Mrs. Mrs. E. V. Bacon performed the same service for the South Glendale Civic Center, of which she is president. At the conclusion of these exercises hot weinie sandwiches were served to the children by members of the P.-T. A. and Civic Center Club, and coffee and sandwiches were dispensed to the adults. The diversions of the afternoon concluded with a basket ball game by the girls of the school and a baseball game by the boys.

AN ALL-METAL BUILDING

The new oil station now being put in at the corner of Kenwood and Broadway is unique in construction in that not the smallest bit of wood is being used. The frame is of steel, the sides and roof of galvanized iron and the window frames are made of metal strips. Bolts and screws are used in fastening the parts together. This of course makes the building absolutely fireproof.

OSAGE ORANGE HEDGES TO BORDER WASH

An osage orange hedge in Southern California. Residents of the Middle West to whom such hedges were very familiar a few years ago will learn with interest that the flood protection work along Verdugo Wash is to include this feature. Engineer Daley says the seeds are planted on either side, beneath the brush between the rows of piles and the plants will come up through, forming in time a compact barrier. He would welcome any time now a big flood that would test the work that has been put in so carefully. He is the more confident of it standing every test from the experience of a brother engineer in San Dimas Canyon a few days ago when exactly similar work was given the severest test imaginable. A sudden cloud-burst sent a wall of water four feet high rushing down between the brush walls. They were penetrated at first but soon the sand filled in the chinks and made compact walls on either side between which the flood passed harmlessly down. Mr. Daley says an exactly similar experience will follow the first heavy floods that rush down the Verdugo Wash. While the work will not be completed before the end of the month, it is now so far advanced that all danger is past.

A. F. PRIEST IS THE ARCHITECT

Architect Alfred F. Priest and his assistant, Herb. Henning, are busy today taking levels on the Glendale Theatre site. Mr. Priest has been employed by Mr. Goodno, the owner of the property, as the architect. Mr. Goodno gives out the information that active building operations will begin about March 1.

GIANT SYCAMORE TREE

The largest sycamore tree in this section is on the line between the Ross and Thom ranches, just west of Verdugo Road. It is fully five feet in diameter and has a very wide spread of limbs. This tree is referred to in surveyors' notes of 1879, as designating one of the corners in a description of the old Verdugo Ranchero.

GUN BATTLE WITH BANDITS

DETECTIVES LOCATE SUSPECTS IN AUTO NEAR MACY STREET BRIDGE; BANDITS ESCAPE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—A gun battle between an automobile load of detectives and bandits occurred near the Macy street bridge shortly before dawn today. The detectives who were scouring the city for bandit suspects came upon an automobile stopped in front of a house near the bridge. They recognized several of the men in the auto as suspects for whom they were searching. When the police machine approached the car the officers shouted to the suspects to surrender. The auto started immediately and the police machine gave chase. The detectives opened fire at the bandit machine and riddled it with bullets but whether or not any took effect is not known. The bandits returned the fire but their bullets went wild. The men escaped after a chase of several miles.

PEACE TREATY RATIFICATION

SAID TO BE NEARER ACCOMPLISHMENT THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE LAID BEFORE SENATE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The peace treaty is nearer ratification now than at any time since it was laid before the Senate, administration officials believe. Steps which must follow its ratification are already being considered. One of the first steps will be a conference between President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing for the purpose of arranging details incident to American representatives taking their places in the league council and assembly. When the United States representatives have been chosen, America's policy with regard to the punishment of the German war guilty, the acceptance of mandatories and furnishing troops for plebicides, will be known.

SEEK REFUGE IN HOLLAND

NINE GERMANS NAMED IN ALLIED LIST OF WAR GUILTY ENTERED NEUTRAL COUNTRY LAST NIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
THE HAGUE, Feb. 13.—The Grand Duke of Hesse and eight other Germans named in the allied list of war guilty, arrived in Holland today seeking political refuge, it was reported here. Seven generals were included in the party, it was said.

NEW PROSECUTOR IN BISBEE CASES

A. A. WORMSLEY OF TUCSON TAKES THE PLACE OF R. N. FRENCH WHO COMES TO L. A. FOR OPERATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
TOMBSTONE, Feb. 13.—The picturesque figure of County Attorney R. N. French will flit from the scene of the Bisbee deportation and kidnaping cases this afternoon and A. A. Wormsley of Tucson will take his place as prosecutor. Wormsley will arrive here this afternoon. He has figured in numerous labor cases in Arizona and other places. French will leave soon for Los Angeles to undergo an operation for cancer. Deputy sheriffs started out again this morning to round up a new jury panel containing four hundred names.

"IT'S UP TO YOU"

THUS LODGE AND HITCHCOCK SEEK TO PASS TO THE OTHER RESPONSIBILITY FOR TREATY RATIFICATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—"It's up to you," said Senator Lodge to Senator Hitchcock, and "It's up to you," Hitchcock replied. Thus the opposing leaders in the treaty fight were passing to each other responsibility for ratification or its failure when the treaty comes up in open session Monday. Hitchcock said he intends to let Senator Lodge do all the leading but gave no assurance that the Democrats will follow. Lodge says he has ready a program including reservations on Article 10 and if the Democrats will provide some votes, the treaty will be ratified.

RAILROAD STRIKE SITUATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Wilson today handed the representatives of two million railway workers his decision on their wage demands and at the same time submitted to them a proposition which is understood to lead to further negotiations, it was authoritatively learned at the White House today. It was understood that the president refused the demands for immediate wage increases of approximately forty per cent. What constituted the counter proposition was not disclosed by White House officials. Immediately after seeing the president the railroad men's committee met other railroad representatives at a hotel. This meeting lasted only a few minutes, and the union men then went to American Federation of Labor headquarters for a further conference. They are expected to answer President Wilson by letter soon.

CIVIC BETTERMENT

PATRIOTIC MEETING CONCLUDES GLENDALE'S LINCOLN DAY CELEBRATION

The day dedicated by city officials to the opening and planting of the new city park and to the celebration of Lincoln's birthday, was brought to a fitting close with a meeting in the High School auditorium at which a patriotic and civic improvement program was presented. Upon the platform, decorated with flags and the portrait of Lincoln were Frank Muhleman, president of the Board of Trustees, and the two speakers of the evening from abroad, Ernest Braunton of Los Angeles, and George Damon of Pasadena.

The program opened with vocal numbers by Joe Rhodes, for whom Mrs. Dora Gibson furnished the piano accompaniment. He sang "Love, Here Is My Heart," and for an encore number gave "Caroline." Two numbers by a trio of young violinists, Isaiah Sinclair, Forrest Jordan and Virgil Brenberg, with Miss Faith Tarling as accompanist, followed.

Mr. Muhleman made the opening address, a fine patriotic and inspiring talk though quite an informal one, about Abraham Lincoln and the ideals he represented, his place in the hearts of his countrymen. Said he:

"Today we celebrate the man who has become in the history of his country its greatest citizen. We not only celebrate his birthday but we also celebrate the beginning of something in Glendale which we hope will be a joy forever, the opening of our new park. It is fitting that the two things should be celebrated in one day. I imagine that Lincoln was a lover of nature who got his inspiration from those things and from within himself for his opportunities were so limited with little in his environment to inspire a boy born and reared as he was. Born 111 years ago today, born after the period of the revolution, it was necessary in my opinion that a new spirit should enter the nation because the revolutionary spirit is not always the spirit of progress. Men did great things in those early days. We could probably never get together again such a group of men as drafted the constitution of the United States or the Declaration of Independence.

"Lincoln was born the lowliest of the low, the poorest of the poor. He had but six months' schooling. In thinking of such a man, elevated to the highest position in this country, if we were to say that he educated himself and never allowed anything to stand in his way, we would be telling the simple truth. Henry Waterson said that Lincoln was inspired of God, that in no other way could he have accomplished the things he did. We know he was a wonderful man, that he was entirely human. He thought he was a failure when he was forty-eight years old and he allowed himself to distract his mind from his own miseries by telling stories.

"He was a great American and he stood for the constitution and laws of our country. When the justice of those laws was called in question, he said:

"I did not pass the laws, but it is my duty to look up to them. We can take a lesson from him. It is our duty here in Glendale to live up to all our laws in the county, state and nation. They may seem unreasonable at times and there are those who think it is not proper to obey such laws, but these things are overshadowed by something far greater because we must stand for law and order. In the celebration of this day it is well to remember these things because the spirit of Lincoln broods over this country still. To me the life of Lincoln, the spirit that pervaded the whole of his life stands out above that of any other man in American history except the life of Washington, perhaps. I say 'perhaps' because Washington

ANDREW FINDLAY SELLS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Findlay have sold their property at 820 South Central Avenue to Parker Cory of Hollywood. They are to give possession on the 20th and have the good fortune to have already secured a house—the Bott property at 506 East Harvard. Incidentally Mrs. Findlay says she advertised in the Evening News last Saturday and the same night received an answer which led to the securing of what she believes is the last house for rent in Glendale.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY

SECTION OF TUESDAY CLUB CONTRIBUTES NUMBERS TO GALPIN CLUB PROGRAM

Members of the Shakespeare Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club to the number of seventeen journeyed, Wednesday, to Los Angeles, where they were entertained at luncheon at the Galpin Club and afterwards participated in a Shakespearean program. Seven of the Glendale ladies gave scenes (five of them) from "As You Like It," and acquitted themselves so well that their fellow members were consumed with pride and envy. Mrs. E. D. Yard, the curator, was much congratulated by Galpin members on the fine talent in the Tuesday Club and the good work that is being done by the section she heads. The program also included two songs by Mrs. Clarence Variel, who has a very beautiful voice and who gave "Under the Greenwood Tree" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass." Character sketches of Jaques and Phoebe were given by Galpin members who have been studying "As You Like It." The program was presented before a large audience and in a great many respects it was a very pleasant afternoon for all who attended.

As was recently announced, the section is to give a benefit for the Tuesday Afternoon Club House fund some time in March and the Galpin Club has generously offered to provide the program, to the very great satisfaction of the section. Mrs. McClure, its instructor, is the acting president of the Galpin Club.

L. W. CHOBE'S HOME ROBBED

The home of L. W. Chobe at 318 West Colorado was entered last night while Mr. and Mrs. Chobe were at the Park meeting in the High School auditorium and a watch and some jewelry stolen. The miscreant was frightened away by the return of Mr. and Mrs. Chobe and missed a sum of money that was in a drawer near the one in which the jewelry was kept. The measurement of the footprints of the burglar coincided with those taken after previous crimes of the same nature. Entrance was gained through a window in the breakfast room.

"THE BROADWAY VAMP"

Motion picture photographers and members of the Ruth Roland Company were central figures in a group of interested spectators which gathered at the corner of Broadway and Kenwood Thursday afternoon about 4:30. An automobile accident figuring in one of the serial adventures of the screen favorite was to be staged there and mechanics were busy preparing the auto victim for the event. The play in which it is to figure is "The Broadway Vamp."

SALVADOR MISSION

THEME OF A LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. W. F. WOOD

A largely attended and extremely interesting missionary meeting was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. Wood at 1470 East Wilson Avenue. The special theme of the day was Salvador in Central America, the youngest mission field in which the Baptist denomination is operating. The program included a fine talk by Miss Beatrice Duxsee on the conditions of the natives in the country under consideration and their great need of mission help. It was followed by talks made by Mrs. Roy Kent, Mrs. Olin, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Ford, wife of the pastor, who had charge of the program. Mrs. McKeever sang very sweetly "When Jesus Was Here Among Men," Miss Duxsee furnishing the piano accompaniment. Miss Soper made an interesting address on the Y. W. C. A. work all over the world, as well as in this country, and an appeal for the support of the campaign in the interest of the Y. W. C. A. that is now on.

The president of the society, Mrs. J. L. Gray, made an excellent talk in which she urged the enlargement of the work of the organization the coming year.

Miss Abigail Johnson, in charge of what is known as the "Sunlight Mission" among the Hopi Indians in Arizona, who is here for a brief furlough, was the last speaker and gave an account, followed with great interest, of her work there. About 45 ladies were present and all voted it one of the most profitable meetings the society has ever enjoyed.

OVERLOAD OF PROSPERITY

It will simplify the railroad situation a little in the minds of those who have been too busy to follow its complicated development, to know the chief reason why railroads are now unable to do the work of a common carrier as satisfactorily as once they did. The column of totals in transportation statistics throws light on the question.

In 1890 the traffic carried by the roads amounted to seventy-six billion ton miles. In 1900 it was hundred and forty-one billion ton miles. In 1910 it rose to two hundred and fifty billion; in 1917 to three hundred and ninety-eight billion, and in 1918 to four hundred and nine billion.

When we mark that during this twenty-eight year period, while the load was increasing by five and a half times, there was comparatively little new track laid, and that during the past ten years the increase in equipment was much restricted and the rail mileage actually decreased, we see the chief reason for traffic congestion.

Just prior to the war the over-loaded roads lacked credit to build extensions and increase equipment, and in this dilemma the war came on. The government then was the only available source of credit, and this credit the government did furnish, taking over and operating the roads at a loss of about six hundred million dollars annually.

Why the roads lacked the needed credit is a chapter in itself; and how the roads can be brought back to a good working basis is a whole book in itself. But that they can be brought back by some practical means seems assured when we know that they have broken down under an overload of national prosperity—of actual material, home produced prosperity.

MAJORITY PROTEST MAY BE DISREGARDED

A recent decision of the Superior Court in Fresno County upholding the right of a city to overrule a protest against street improvement even when 51 per cent or more of the street frontage is represented by the protesting property owners, has been upheld by the Superior Court. This action is of interest to Glendale as well as every other California city because such contingencies frequently arise. In the case referred to the city rejected the protest on the ground that public necessity demanded the improvement.

An Extra Mile of Yarn!

COOPER'S-BENNINGTON, unlike ordinary underwear, is spring needle knit throughout. The same elasticity you've noted in cuffs and ankles of the average garment is found in every inch of a Cooper's-Bennington suit. It requires an extra mile of yarn to secure this "stretch that springs back" but you'll never find Cooper's-Bennington underwear getting out of shape and baggy. And the extra mile of yarn also gives an extra year of wear.

COOPER'S BENNINGTON

Spring Needle Underwear

Let us show you our full line of Cooper's-Bennington garments. The fabric speaks for itself. Stretch it and see it resume its original shape. Cooper's-Bennington has, also, shaped legs, butted seams instead of overlap or welted seams; double insert shoulder strap, allowing greater stretch when sitting; no gap, one button-crotch seat.

Just decide you are going to have the best underwear made and we'll supply it—in styles and at prices to suit you.

We Are Builders

Building is our life work.

We love to build.

We would rather build than do anything else we know of.

It is a wonderful satisfaction to create—to add to the world's beauty and progress, its comfort and convenience.

It is a great joy to construct buildings in which people will be worshipping, teachers will be instructing the youth, and families will find shelter after our work in this world is finished.

We put into every building we erect, our best endeavor, our reputation as contractors and builders, and our good name as men of business integrity.

We have erected scores of public buildings, business blocks and homes in the past, we are still building—we are busier than we have ever been before—and we are going to be building for years to come.

Are We Going to Erect that Building in which you are interested?

WITH MALICE AFORETHOUGHT

Round the campfire—to put it poetically—a lot of soldiers were discussing hairbreadth escapes and adventures they had had. One after another they related tales, true and otherwise, till it came to the turn of a man who'd traveled all over the world. Every one waited breathlessly for his yarn, but he said he'd nothing to tell.

"Have you never had an accident?" chorused his pals.
"Accident? No!"
"Never had an accident in your life?"

"No. Rattler bit me once."
"Don't you call that an accident?"
"Thunder, no! The thing bit me on purpose!" said the traveler.

NAME IT

Some one suggests that we call it "The War of 1917;" but it began in 1914, and it is egotistical to date it from our entrance into it, even for home histories.

Some one says it should be called "The War with Germany;" but it was also the War with Austria, Turkey, and Bulgaria.

"The World War" is another suggestion; but not all the world was involved—only a tiny fraction of the vast populations of China and India.

"The Great War" is a favorite name, and it surely is the greatest—yet; but the next war, if there is a next war, will be far greater.

My candidate is "The Last War." Let us all get to work with our Christianity, and make that name the true one.

Last Sattiday nite I was setting up in the setting room, not feeling like taking a bath, and ma was imbroidering and pop was smoaking and reeding the spoarting page with his feet up, and I sed, G, pop, G, ma.

Wy the suddin berst of oratory? sed pop.

I think I better not take a bath tonite, even if it is Sattiday, I sed.

Have you eny good reasons for that conclooosion? sed pop, and I sed, Yes sir.

Well would you mind sharing them with your family? sed pop. Meening wat was they, and I sed, Well, in the first place, I was running like anything wile I was out, and my pores is proberly too far open.

Ubjection overruled, sed pop. Meening it wasent a good enuff of a reason, and I sed, And in the 2nd place I bleeve Im getting a cold.

And I cawffed about 4 small cawffs, pop saying, You can put those cawffs back agen, the ubjjection is overruled.

Me thinking, Heck G, And I sed, And in the 3rd place Im pritty sleepy, and once I red about sumbody going to sleep in the bath tub and drowning before they woak up.

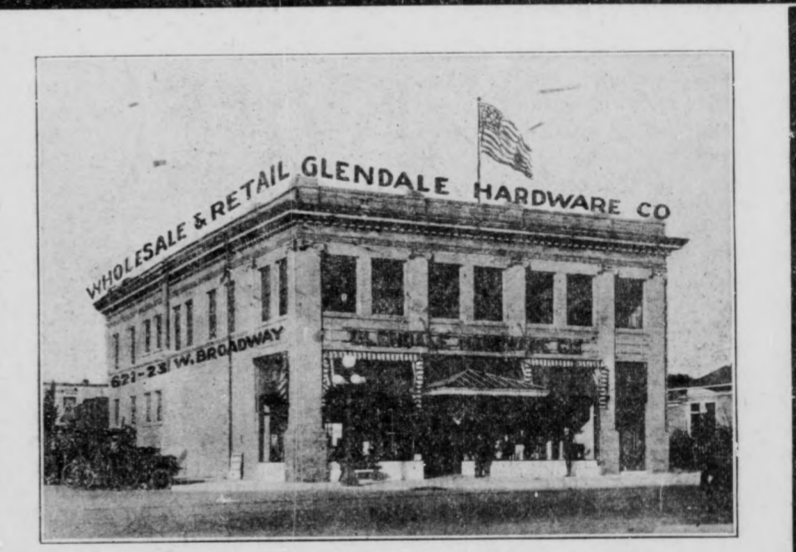

Ubjection overruled, sed pop, how about in the 4th place, is there eny 4th place?

No sir, I sed.

Then go and take your bath, sed pop.

Wich I did.

lived in another period and was a wealthy man.

"Today we have planted some trees that I hope will shade the people of future generations in this city long after our bones are dust. We have planted some cedars and they last a long time. The planting of a tree is the most unselfish thing you can do unless it be the study of astronomy. We planted five hundred trees in our park. We have for a number of years maintained a forestry division in our city. If our people as a whole will continue this, they will find dollars rolling in because of those who will be attracted to the city by the trees you have planted. There is money in the artistic."

Ernest Braunton was then introduced by Mr. Muhleman as a former resident of Glendale who has grown famous as an authority on horticulture. Mr. Braunton then told of his experiences here sixteen years ago when he was employed to clear and beautify a tract which was being subdivided by a company of which L. C. Brand was the president, and which was located on what was then known as the Bliss Ranch. He told of organizing an improvement association in Glendale at that time and one in what was then Tropico, and of the wooden curbing which the associations were instrumental in having placed as a preliminary to the planting of street trees. He dwelt on the difficulties of securing municipal protection for street trees, particularly in Los Angeles, where they are allowed to be mutilated by employees of power companies, and where restrictions relative to planting and removal are disregarded. He contrasted the different situation in Garvanza, where the people had united to make a city beautiful and where they had been made exempt from the regulations of the rest of Los Angeles.

The points he particularly emphasized were uniformity in planting, i. e., the selection of one kind of tree for the entire length of a street, declaring he would even like to see a highway extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific shaded by one kind of tree, declaring that the plane tree was sufficiently adaptable to use for the purpose. He also dwelt on the urgent necessity for property preparation of the ground for planting. Said he: "I would rather plant a ten-cent tree in a 90-cent hole than a 90-cent tree in a 10-cent hole. In the last mentioned case the three would probably always be stunted in growth. He then mentioned conspicuous examples where that very thing had happened, in particular the Unter den Linden, the famous avenue in Berlin on which the trees are dying of old age because insufficient preparation was made for them when planted and because they have been neglected.

Mr. Braunton dwelt on the engineering fundamentals which must be provided for before a city undertakes the ornamental, and spoke of the outlets and approaches for which the city should strive, particularly mentioning the extension of Broadway on the west and the throwing of a bridge across the river at that point to make Griffith Park available to the citizens of Glendale.

In connection with the park movement he declared that California cities are under special obligations in this regard because it stands in a unique relation to the rest of the country. It is constantly attracting people from other states who are ready to retire from active business life and who are seeking a beautiful place in which to live. He brought home the point by saying: "It is up to Glendale to attract this class of people, and you should remember that civic beauty is always an asset and civic ugliness a liability." He urged his hearers to get acquainted with trees, insisting that the name of every tree and shrub in the city should be familiar to every citizen.

George Damon of Pasadena was then introduced as a transportation expert who has been active in matters pertaining to city development in Pasadena and Los Angeles. He said in his introductory remarks:

"One of the remarkable things about Glendale, the thing that always impresses me and every visitor to your city is the remarkably uniform quality and universal appeal of your homes, and I have often wondered to whom we should give credit." He then whimsically speculated as to whether the credit should be given to the people of his native state, Michigan, or those of Illinois or Iowa, and called for the persons from those states in the audience to raise their hands. But one hand from Illinois was raised, one from Michigan and six from Iowa. From that he argued that it was the stimulating effect of "new blood" coming from all parts of the country which was responsible for the civic pride of Glendale as opposed to the old dead-and-alive towns with which some of us are familiar in the East, towns which are still dominated by the conservative "old settlers."

He separated his theme—transportation—into four divisions, transcontinental transportation, rapid transit, streets and boulevards, and lastly airships, for which he declared cities will need to make provision. His talk was illustrated by stereop-

So human —it amazed all Glendale

SOME of your friends must have been in the huge audience which heard Marie Morrissey in her Tone-Test recital at Keller's Auditorium. Ask these people about it. This is the astonishing discovery they made:

The keenest musical ear can not distinguish any difference between the voice of the living artist and the RE-CREATION of that voice by the New Edison.***

And does it not amaze you, too, that Mr. Edison has succeeded in producing an instrument that captures every subtle sweetness of the human voice—that gives you all the ear can give you of the art of the world's great artists. No other phonograph dares to make this direct comparison.

The NEW EDISON

SOUTH NOW MAKES POTTERY

The effort to establish in the Southern states a pottery for the manufacture of high-grade ware has, after many years, at last been successful. In 1917, for the first time, white ware was manufactured in the South. The Southern Pottery (Inc.), began to operate at Erwin, Tenn., a ten-kiln plant for the manufacture of semi-vitreous porcelain tableware, using domestic clays exclusively.

STATE NEWS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 13.—(United Press).—Jack Kearns, who piloted Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight championship of the world, has added to his stable a youngster who, in Kearns' opinion, will be lightweight champion within six months.

Kearns' protegee is Eddie Mahoney, described by the manager as "the brightest lightweight prospect turned out on the Pacific coast since the days of Jimmy Britt and Willie Ritchie."

"It will only be a matter of six months until Ireland can boast two Irish champions," Kearns told the United Press. "Without doubt Mahoney, who is now lightweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is the greatest prospect we have had in years. The boy is a bear!"

ORANGE SHOW OPENS

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 13.—(United Press).—California citrus fruit growers compete for prizes today at the opening of the Tenth National Orange Show. It will continue for ten days.

Artists who spent weeks in decorations for the exposition say it is the most beautiful in the history of orange shows. The decorative scheme has been interwoven with a million oranges.

Growers of the most luscious oranges, lemons and grapefruit will be awarded prizes.

DEATH OF FORMER GLENDALE RESIDENT

Mrs. W. H. Nefsy, who lived in Glendale for a few years, most of the time at 435 South Central Avenue, died Thursday evening at a hospital in Santa Monica, of double pneumonia. She leaves a husband and one son, also three sisters.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson and son of 352 West Salem Street have moved into their beautiful new home at 680 West Broadway.

O. Y. Rathban and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, of Dallas, Texas, are visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Nash, on Park Avenue.

Rev. C. C. Root, pastor of the new Christian Church at Van Nuys, was in Glendale this week arranging with Rev. Cole of Central Christian to hold revival services for him some time in March.

Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, of 107 Arden Avenue, goes to Santa Barbara next week to visit her parents. Her husband will drive her up in his auto and she will return by train after a stay of a week or ten days.

Mrs. John H. Jackson of 316 Milford is now in Chicago visiting her two sons, Robert and Morris, and will go thence to Danville, Ky., soon to spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Feland, Jr.

E. E. Harwood, principal of the Cerritos School, and his little daughter, who have been confined to their home this week with influenza, are very much better and have been pronounced out of danger by their attending physician.

Misses Mabel and Ada Van Hazelen, who recently went to Chicago to take a course of training for Salvation Army work, have written that they arrived in a snow-storm and have experienced winter in earnest in the windy city.

Mrs. A. P. Jensen of 519 South Brand is suffering from an attack of old-fashioned 'grippe and Miss Ellen Lambermont, who was clerking in the bakery, is similarly ill, making things very hard for Mr. Jensen.

The regular monthly meeting of Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star was held Thursday evening in the lodge hall, Masonic Temple. It was quite uneventful in character except that plans were partially completed for the Colonial Ball which the chapter will hold the latter part of the month.

J. H. Jackson has purchased the Margaret Abell residence property at 332 North Orange Street. The residence had been occupied for more than six years by the A. T. Cowan family. Mr. Cowan has purchased the residence property at 324 North Central Avenue, which for more than two years had been the home of Mr. McClouth.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Elizabeth Patterson, formerly of Glendale, and a daughter of B. F. Patterson of Belmont Street, to Mr. Thomas Weir, a well known mining man of Salt Lake City, took place in Salt Lake yesterday. After their return from a trip to Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Weir will make their home in Salt Lake City.

Miss Clara Midcalf and her sister, who have been forced to move because the house in which they have been living at the corner of Jackson and Harvard has been sold, are rejoicing over their good luck in securing another house at 1002 East Harvard, near Belmont, to which they are moving this week.

Mrs. F. H. Field, of 209 North Kenwood, is having the pleasure of entertaining a friend who arrived Wednesday night from Worcester, Mass., Miss Jennie Brown, who will tour Southern California for two or three months. Except that she passed through San Francisco a few years ago on her way to Honolulu, she has never been in California before. Mrs. Field is anticipating pleasant times in taking her about and giving her a good impression of this part of the state.

T. L. Tatum is having an addition built to his house at 570 North Central Avenue.

Building contractors are experiencing considerable difficulties in finishing houses on time on account of shortage of materials, such as nails, some kinds of lumber and also painting material.

Mrs. Harry Ellis of East Wilson Avenue reports that her husband, who has been very ill of influenza for two weeks, is now sufficiently recovered to be able to sit up and expects to be out again soon. Her little daughter, who has also been very sick of bronchitis, is still confined to her bed.

Attorney C. L. Chandler, who is an advocate of the proposed swimming pool at Kenilworth Park, is of the opinion that five hundred men in Glendale should each be willing to contribute $10 toward the enterprise. He intimates that there has been considerable talk the past few years favoring a pool and now is the opportune time to act.

The City of Glendale has within her borders too many industries that depend upon electrical motor power to afford to cut off the current at any time during the day or night without first giving notice to consumers. Lack of current for forty-five minutes at the noon hour today probably meant a loss of several hundred dollars to users of electricity.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY E. HALL

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hall will be held in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, after which they will be shipped to Mount Pleasant, Iowa, for interment.

Mrs. Hall died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Tucker, 533 North Kenwood, Friday night. She was seventy-seven years old and had been a resident of Glendale for three years. She leaves the daughter referred to, Mrs. Tucker, another daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Ross, of Superior, Wis., and two sons—F. F. and J. L. Hall, who reside in Mount Pleasant, Ia.

PLAYERS' CLUB VALENTINE PARTY

At the Players' Club Valentine eve party the bridge tables will be in charge of Mrs. Leroy Bosserman, Mrs. D. W. Hunt and Mrs. Helen Campbell. Mrs. Dan Campbell, whose name was erroneously included among the committee members in a previous statement regarding the party, is not a member of the club.

INCLINE RAILWAY AT GRAND CANYON

Glendale people who visit Grand Canyon will be interested to know that government engineers are at work on constructing a cable railway from El Tovar Hotel to the bed of the canyon. It will cover a distance of seven miles and the descent will be made in two flights of three and one-half miles each, with the middle landing on a plateau.

PACIFIC AVENUE P-T. A.

The Pacific Avenue P-T. A. held their patriotic meeting for the year yesterday afternoon in the school building, beginning at 3 o'clock. There was a large attendance and much enthusiasm. Mrs. H. V. Henry sang a group of patriotic songs and E. S. Williamson, district Y. M. C. A. secretary, gave a brief talk on the work among the boys by groups. His address greatly pleased the boys and their mothers, who promised to back up loyally the movement he is starting. Rev. Edmonds then gave a patriotic talk on the life of Abraham Lincoln, drawing lessons from his trials and triumphs to encourage the children. Light refreshments were served by the ladies.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL WELFARE ASSOCIATION

is an organization for the purpose of promoting the best interests of the Glendale Union High School, by taking into consideration its present and future requirements and endeavoring to assist in providing for the same in view of the prevailing unsettled conditions.

This organization is opposed to the proposed issue of bonds, which is to be voted upon February 27, 1920, to the amount of $425,000. Our opposition is based upon the belief that such a large issue is unwarranted by present conditions.

Voters of the district are requested—if they agree with the object of this organization—to give their names to the secretary for enrollment, so that they may meet with and work with us to accomplish the object set forth.

Enrollment will entail no responsibility as to the payment of dues or expenses of the organization.

NEW PARK LAUNCHED

ing to their boasts, many, many times.

While this pleasant part of the program was going on, Mayor Muhleman again mounted the stand and presented briefly the swimming pool project which it was hoped to push through at once. He called upon Judge Lowe to outline the plan that had been agreed upon. The latter explained that the estimated cost of the swimming pool, complete, was $5,000. It was hoped to secure the pledges of 50 men to be responsible for the raising of $100 each, which would make up the amount. He said three such pledges had already been made, and invited others. Several men responded and a very good start was made. The work will be pushed until the entire sum is pledged. The speaker urged a full attendance at the night mass meeting in the High School Auditorium.

At the same time the tree planting was going on in the park, a similar work was being done along the Wash, which borders the park along the north side, by Engineer Daley's men, who set out a row of sycamores 20 feet apart. This will form a beautiful green border to the park.

The following varieties of trees were planted: Acacia mellissima, Italian Arizona and Monterey cypress, Monterey pine, California live oak and carob. The entire south border of the park is lined with Arizona cypress and carob trees.

Those who made cash contributions to the swimming pool fund were the Edwards & Wildey Co., through E. P. Hayward, resident manager, and Dr. Henry Harrower, $100 each, and the employees of the City of Glendale the same amount; W. E. Hewitt, $50; Mrs. Mary Hull, $25; J. G. Huntley, $25. Those who agreed to raise $100 each were: C. C. Stevenson, Mrs. L. W. Chobe, Mrs. C. B. Guitard, Norton C. Wells, H. P. Coker, J. W. Usilton, Chas. L. Chandler, Richardson D. White, H. M. Butts, John O. Cole, C. W. Ingledue, Harry L. Howe, J. E. Walker. S. A. Baggs of Bakersfield heard Judge Lowe talking about the project and asked the privilege of contributing to the fund. He said he lived in another city and might never get to use the pool or see it, but he has three grandchildren living in Glendale and on their account he wanted to help.

NEVER BROKE A FOOD LAW

A German church journal tells the story of a professor, a conscientious man, who from the beginning of the war made up his mind to give strict obedience to any laws that might be laid down by those placed above him.

Most scrupulously did he observe all the food regulations. Never once did he give way to "hamsterning" and the clandestine food trafficker knew him not. He and his family were poorly clad, and often went to bed hungry; but his conscience remained clear and his honor bright.

"Good Lord, is this man still alive?" incredulously exclaims Vorwaerts of Berlin, the Socialist organ.

There was a man in our town
 And he was wondrous wise,
 He knew if he'd successful be,
 He'd have to advertise.

And so he laid aside a sum,
 For his publicity,
 And advertised in every way,
 Progressive as could be.

He dressed his windows prettily,
 His store was spick and span,
 But he forgot his trousers sagged,
 His brown coat turned to tan.

A friend then kindly told him,
 "You'll not succeed," said he,
 "Unless you look successful,
 Wear well-made clothes, you see."

And so he went to Berman's shop,
 At one-two-two North Brand,
 And ordered him a new suit—
 It turned out as he planned.

When he appeared on Glendale streets,
 In clothes all Berman-made,
 "How well Jones is succeeding,"
 Were the remarks they made.

The people all flock to his store,
 And each one who comes buys,
 Appearances do count, you see,
 Go thou and do likewise.

ADDITIONS TO BUILDINGS BEING MADE AND MORE MACHINERY INSTALLED

Herman Paine, manager of the L. A. Basket Factory in South Glendale, took out a permit this morning for a $10,000 addition to the factory. It is of concrete and brick construction, 600 feet long by 66 feet wide, divided by brick partitions. It will be used for storage ware rooms, rest rooms for the girl and women employees and rooms for the automatic basket making machines, with which the factory is being fully equipped. Formerly all the baskets were made by hand and more than the minimum wage was paid employees, Mr. Paine said, but the competition of the Japanese sweat shops is compelling all factories run by white labor to install the automatic machines. These aliens are not affected by the minimum wage, eight hour and child labor laws, hence the women and girls and the children from six years up work long hours at the task, taking to their homes the wood strips and the tin and putting the baskets together there.

This factory pays out more than $150,000 in wages annually, says Mr. Paine, probably more than any other business institution in Greater Glendale.

Some Glendale builders are commenting on the fact that restrictions in many residence districts have been rendered innocuous by the great advance in material and labor. A $2500 restriction was formerly considered amply sufficient to prevent any but fine appearing residences being erected but now that sum will build only a moderate-sized California house. One contractor declared recently that a house which he knew to have cost $3500 four years ago could not be duplicated today for $8000.

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord's place at 1213 Stanley Avenue has been sold through the W. E. Mercer agency to W. Allen Wright of Lordsburg, N. M., who is moving his family in today. He will make extensive improvements and additions to the house. Mr. Wright came to Glendale to buy a lot for investment and possible future improvement, but was so pleased with the city that he decided he wanted a home here at once.

A RABBIT'S LIVING TOMB

Walking through the Lee farm swamp, a dozen or more rods from the river, I found a large box trap closed. I opened it and found in it the remains of a gray rabbit, skin, bones, and mould closely fitting the right-angled corner of one side. It was wholly inoffensive, as so much vegetable mould, and must have been dead some years. None of the furniture of the trap remained, only the box itself; the stick which held the bait, the string, etc., were all gone. The box had the appearance of having been floated off in an upright position by a freshet. It had been a rabbit's living tomb. He had gradually starved to death in it. What a tragedy to have occurred within a box in one of our quiet swamps! The trapper lost his box, the rabbit its life. The box had not been gnawed. After days and nights of moaning and struggle, heard for a few rods through the swamp, increasing weakness and emaciation and delirium, the rabbit breathed its last. They tell you of opening the tomb and finding, by the contortions, that the body was buried alive. This was such a case. Let the trapping boy dream of the dead rabbit in its ark, as it sailed, like a small meeting-house with its rude spire, slowly, with a grand and solemn motion, far amid the alders.

STUNG AGAIN

Two rookies were indulging in the soldier's privilege—growling about his station and how the soldier gets stung for everything.

"I ordered a chicken dinner at a cafe down town and they charged me a dollar and six bits," Bones was saying.

A newsie overheard him. "Say, mister," he said, "I know where you can get a chicken dinner for two bits. A good big one, too."

The soldier looked skeptical, but the newsie insisted that he was telling the truth. Finally the soldier who had been stung asked where this place was located. The newsie mentioned an address on one of the side streets of San Antonio.

A few days later the two soldiers went to the city and determined to visit this cheap restaurant. They found the address. It was a feed store.—The Bayonet.

THAT DEPENDS

"Few people can view philosophically a black outlook in their lives."
"Oh, yes, they can, if it is a load of coal coming."

THE KIND

"Mrs. Smith prides herself on always giving appropriate entertainments."

"What is she doing just now?"
"Giving teas to golf players."

SPRING hats are distinctive in style this year. The pretty combinations of straws and braids with silk and satin are so new and attractive, the embroideries lend such an air of individuality to the hat and the new flowers give such a springlike touch that most women are anxious to discard their heavy, shabby winter headwear and don one of the pretty, new spring creations.

¶ We have made up some lovely spring models, and we invite the women and girls of Glendale to come and see them.

¶ We have trimmed hats, sailor hats and sport hats in the newest spring styles, also a nice assortment of trimmings, foliage, flowers and fruit.

¶ We have some cute and pretty hats for children.

¶ Don't wait for announcement of spring opening as none will be mailed this year. Come in and see the hats now.

STATE NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO.—But a few minutes are required for a marriage ceremony, yet—

For nine months the divorce suit of Mrs. Hortense S. Troy against Robert P. Troy has been on hearing here before Superior Judge Frank Murasky. And indications are that it will drag along another several months.

Mrs. Troy is the widow of the late Senator Steven M. White of Los Angeles, one of the most prominent lawyers of California. A few years after White's death she married Troy, who was private secretary to her late husband.

Troy is an attorney, clubman and politician and has extensive real estate holdings. He formerly was secretary of the Democratic State Central committee.

Not only does Mrs. Troy ask a divorce on grounds of cruelty, but she seeks to recover property valued at several hundred thousand dollars which, she declares, Troy fraudulently induced her to deed to him following the wedding. She asserts he is insanely jealous.

Mrs. Troy was once prominent in Southern California social circles from which she became estranged, she says, because of Troy's conduct.

At the present stage of the hearing Mrs. Troy is attempting to prove by handwriting experts that Troy forged and changed letters written by her to him which have a direct bearing on the property involved.

SAN DIEGO.—About 35,000 goats on Guadeloupe Island, 150 miles down the coast in Mexican waters, are to be shipped to this port on the steamer Homer, recently purchased by Hanlon of Oakland.

Many goats starved on the island last summer when grasshoppers ruined the vegetation. The goats brought here will be sent to Southern California to be fattened.

OAKLAND.—Three Oakland technical High School professors created a sensation here recently when they appeared garbed in corduroy trousers. The three—Instructors George Cronyn, Talcott Williamson and Guy Hudgins—all members of the English department, explain it is a jolt at H. C. L.

"Cords" are inexpensive, durable and comfortable," said Hudgins.

"The aesthetic superiority of 'cords' to other leg-rigging is indisputable," quoth Cronyn.

"To me these corduroys are a symbol of progress towards democracy," remarked Williamson.

The war has bestowed two propulsive thoughts that will live as good morals, good ethics and good philosophy. One is, where duty beckons, "Over the top!" The other, in every task or obligation that falls to you, "Make your quota."

Bolshevism may be a bad road to a good end, but the end is not that first proclaimed by the proletarian dictators in the intoxication of their early successes. In fact, the goal that they now announce as their own is strangely similar to that toward which the democracies have been moving for years by a surer, better, pleasanter road, and one not beset by robbers and assassins.

A manufacturer told the ways and means committee in congress of the discovery in America since the war cut off German importations, of a glass that is practically unbreakable. This may be another reason why so few of the glasses these days have handles on them.

They couldn't be built now for twice $71,000

When the talk turns from politics to railroads, and the traveler with the cocksure air breaks in with, "There's an awful lot of 'water' in the railroads," here are some hard-pan facts to give him:

American railroads have cost $80,900 a mile—roadbed, structures, stations, yards, terminals, freight and passenger trains—everything from the great city terminals to the last spike.

A good concrete-and-asphalt highway costs $36,000 a mile—just a bare road, not counting the cost of culverts, bridges, etc.

Our railroads couldn't be duplicated today for $150,000 a mile.

They are capitalized for only $71,000 a mile—much less than their actual value. Seventy-one thousand dollars today will buy one locomotive.

English railways are capitalized at $274,000 a mile; the French at $155,000; German $132,000; even in Canada (still in pioneer development) they are capitalized at $67,000 a mile. The average for all foreign countries is $100,000.

Low capitalization and high operating efficiency have enabled American railroads to pay the highest wages while charging the lowest rates.

What Lincoln said (From an address by Abraham Lincoln to the Workmen's Association in 1864)
"Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world... Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

A FAIR WARNING

Edward, a six-year-old urchin, accidentally cut his shoe with his knife and his father proceeded to scold him at great length for his carelessness. The little fellow listened patiently for a time, then, looking up at his father, said:
"Papa, if you don't stop talking so much about it you'll get me mad, too."—St. Paul Dispatch.

SCHOOL OF THRIFT

The American people have not suffered to the extent of those in some of the countries that were parties to the war. They have not suffered as little Belgium has, nor as France, glorious France. Great Britain has encouraged and carried a heavier burden, and sustained greater losses of blood, life and treasure, than ever before in her long and eventful life as a nation. Germany has lost millions of men, heaped upon her people a burden of debt under which they must struggle throughout coming generations; that which possibly brings the keenest remorse, inexpressible contrition, is humiliation over the loss of national pride. Germany may not have repented, but has been abased. But Americans have been living and

J. W. Hulff of 346 North Jackson Street, Glendale, was the winner of the $25 prize for limericks being offered daily by the Los Angeles Examiner. Mr. Hulff's limerick follows:

A pretty young damsel named Jane Took a flight in a speedy airplane; But a mile up from town It careened upside down;

The Examiner has this to say about Mr. Hulff and his contribution:

That's what might be called an eye-opener for you limerick fans, and even if it does necessitate turning the paper upside down, it's worth the trouble. Twenty-five dollars for that idea.

Mr. Hulff is a teacher of the gentle art of playing a violin, but he used to write humorous verse, he says, and still does when he's not engaged in making Los Angeles boys and girls hold the bow just so and the violin even more so.

A proclamation has been issued urging the Turks to massacre the Greeks, the Armenians being now no longer available, probably. The invitation is another strong argument why the Turk in Europe should cease to exist. He is incompatible with modern civilization's safety.

No wonder the Englishman counts the American a bluffer—the Yankee billion is a thousand times smaller than the British billion. Over here it is a thousand million, over there it is a million million, "bimillion," a million raised to the second power. But the difference is really immaterial when it is considered that America is furnishing the hard cash.

The British public, according to an American author just returned from London, has adopted "up against it," "some bird" and other American slang expressions. Perhaps as one result of the war the language of Broadway will be understood in Piccadilly and Pall Mall as it already is more or less on the Paris boulevards.

learning. Our millions of men and women have been learning lessons in the twin schools of thrift and economy to which for many years past they had been giving little heed, says Knoxville Journal and Tribune. They have learned how to make more of their opportunities, they have learned more about saving and the avoidance of waste.
