RACIAL MATTER

On April 1, 1968, a confidential source advised that as of that date Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; James Bevel, SCLC Executive staff member; and James Orange, SCLC Field Representative, were in Memphis, Tennessee, for the purpose of re-organizing striking Sanitation Workers in that city along the lines of SCLC's philosophy of nonviolence.

The aforementioned SCLC officials expected Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, and Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC, to arrive in Memphis on April 2, 1968. In the near future, (date not known), Reverend King intended to lead a nonviolent demonstration of the Memphis Sanitation Workers.

During October, 1964, a confidential source advised that on October 3, 1964, RUTH BAILEY, then an employee of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC), Harlem, New York Office, while discussing several SCLC personalities with one CONNIE CAMPBELL, referred to WILLIAMS. BAILEY said WILLIAMS had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) HENRY PETER O'DELL had told him more about politics than he could read.

In July, 1962, HUNTER PITTS O'DELL, also known as JACK H. O'DELL, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL told EDWINA SMITH December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

JAMES BEVEL~~SECRET~~

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

RACIAL MATTER

On April 1, 1968, a confidential source advised he understood that following the racial disturbance which occurred in Memphis, Tennessee, on March 28, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) called a meeting of several SCLC Executive officers which was held March 30, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta. Among those attending this meeting were James Bevel, SCLC Executive Staff member; Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; and Stanley Levison.

Reverend King arranged this meeting for the purpose of reviewing the recent disturbance in Memphis and evaluating the effect thereof upon SCLC's contemplated Washington Spring Project (WSP). Reverend King opened this meeting by again stressing to those present how greatly concerned he was as to the effect of the Memphis disturbance on his image as a civil rights leader and the position of SCLC as a leading civil rights organization. This entire matter apparently upset Reverend King to the extent he found it desirable to excuse himself from this meeting shortly after its commencement. Source was unable to advise whether Reverend King returned to the meeting.

This meeting lasted most of the day and concluded with a decision on the part of those present that SCLC officials would immediately return to Memphis, re-organize the striking Sanitation

Security Matter - C.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on March 29, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison and Martin Luther King, Jr. discussed the position which King has found himself in as a result of the violence that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee, on March 28, 1968, at the time when King led a march through downtown Memphis. King told Levison that he feels they have to face the fact that, from a public relations point of view and every other way, "we are in serious trouble". He referred to the Washington D.C. Spring campaign, known as the Poor People's Campaign, and said as far as it is concerned it is in trouble. King noted that it will be much more difficult to recruit people for the Washington campaign now because they (the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) (SCLC) are recruiting non-violent people and these people will hold back if they think they will be in a campaign that is going to be taken over by violent elements. King stated that this is not a failure for the SCLC because it has enough of a program to affirm its position but that it is a personal setback for himself.

King continued that persons such as Roy Wilkens (Head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and Adam Clayton Powell, and Negroes who are influenced by the press, will now feel that he, King, is finished, that his non-violence is nothing, that no one is listening to it. King reiterated that they have had a great public relations setback as far as his image and leadership are concerned.

Levison attempted to dissuade King from this point of view stating that it would be true only if King accepts "their" definition. He added that he felt it is a profound error King is making.

King noted that he did not accept it himself but that others will. Levison retorted that people would accept it for a few days, but, if events prove otherwise, will not accept it.

King noted that events will not prove otherwise unless they think soberly through this period. He said that somehow he had to reaffirm what the press will refuse to affirm. He referred to the Memphis incident stating that they all know it was just a few people who were involved. He added that it was a failure of the leadership in Memphis. King informed Levison that persons who were responsible for the violence came to see him on the morning of March 29, 1968. He said these persons were fighting the leadership in Memphis, the men who ignored and neglected them, the men who would not give them any attention, who ordered their telephones cut off. King added that he had no knowledge of all this, that the persons responsible for the violence were too sick to see that what they were doing during the violence was hurting him, King, more than it could hurt the local preachers.

King related that he was so upset and shocked over the Memphis violence that he was going to announce a personal fast as a means of appealing to the Memphis leadership, as well as those who participated in the violence, to come to him in a united front to take up the "cudget" and get on with the movement. He said he felt this kind of spiritual move would be a way of unifying the movement, of transforming a minus into a plus. He added that he feels their Washington campaign is doomed.

Levison attempted to convince King that his reasoning was not correct. Levison said he was concerned over the "trap" King was placing non-violence in because King was saying that he must have 100% adherence to non-violence which is an impossibility.

King commented that they could not get 100% adherence but that they must face the fact that a riot broke out in the ranks of the march, that "these fellows", in the line of march, would

jump out, do something, and then come back to hide within the group. King said he is a symbol of non-violence and that the press is not going to say what Levison said. He said the symbol will be weakened and it will put many Negroes in doubt. He said he must do something that is a powerful act to unify forces and refute the press.

Levison stated that if it had this result he would agree but that he is bothered by the idea that King would be accepting the logic of the press, that if King can control 99%, and not the 1% who are violent, he is a failure. He said they must find a way in which they do not accept this otherwise King will never be able to do anything unless he always spiritually reaches a level where he hypnotizes every Negro alive.

King questioned how he could say that they can control the planned demonstrations in Washington, D.C. and at the same time conclude they are going to have 1% violence.

Levison counseled that King can say that he can control his followers and is not undertaking to control everybody else. He said King could take the position that his followers are non-violent and will do what they must do.

They agreed to discuss the matter in depth at a meeting in Atlanta, Georgia in King's church office on the morning of March 30, 1968.

The same source advised on March 31, 1968, that on that date Stanley Levison commented on the meeting held in Atlanta, Georgia, on March 30, 1968. Levison's comments included the following:

At the Atlanta meeting they examined the whole Memphis incident and came up with a new approach. "We are going back to Memphis. We are going to prove that you can have mass action in the streets". Martin Luther King had decided not to go back to Memphis and not to go to Washington (for the Poor People's Campaign). It was the determination of the (SCLC) staff that changed King's thinking. King is going back to Memphis on Tuesday (April 2, 1968) and there will be a big march on Friday (April 5, 1968). The Memphis incident was caused by "a handful of kids" and it could have been controlled by "our guys" (the SCLC) had they been there.

~~SECRET~~

He, Levison, made the point that they could not let "a couple of kids" keep "mass action" from being their weapon.

As for controlling the Washington, D.C. demonstrations, King knows he can control the youth. What has to be done is go to the high schools and tell them what the establishment wants them to do. Once they grasp this there is no chance of anything happening. What they (the SCLC) are afraid of in Washington is a double cross from Stokely Carmichael and the answer to that is that "our job" (the SCLC) is not to stop violence but to be non-violent themselves. "Our position" is that "we" are going to go on because to be able to march in the streets is "our most important tool" and are not going on the streets because it may start violence. "Why do we have to be afraid of riots". It is their problem not ours".

The Atlanta meeting was good because it shows how much militancy there is in the SCLC.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in this position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

SECURITY MATTER - C

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On March 28, 1968, a confidential source advised that during the morning of that date Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), participated in a march in Memphis, Tennessee, conducted by sanitation workers who are currently on strike in that community. During this march, incidents of violence were engaged in by a relatively small group of Negroes.

With reference to the above incidents, it was the opinion on March 28, 1968, of Reverend King; Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC; Bernard Lee, Special Aide to the President, SCLC; and Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, that those responsible therefor were in no way connected with SCLC but rather represented a minority who obviously are neither in sympathy with Reverend King nor SCLC. Reverend King and his colleagues did not know the identities of these individuals but suspected they might possibly be connected with some "black power" organization.

Because of the disturbance in Memphis on March 28, 1968, Reverend King became extremely dejected and discouraged as to the prospects for success of SCLC's contemplated Washington Spring Project (WSP). Reverend King told his colleagues on this date that because of his participation in the Memphis march, the disturbance which developed, and the ensuing publicity he was gravely fearful that his image and that of SCLC as advocates of nonviolence will be blemished.

Subscribing to the thought that those responsible for the aforementioned disturbance might represent some "black power" organization, Abernathy, Lee, and Williams on March 28, 1968, were extremely apprehensive for the personal safety of Reverend King, particularly in the event he should in the near future appear publicly in connection with activity by the striking sanitation workers in Memphis.

There are enclosed for the Bureau eleven copies of a Letterhead Memorandum (LHM) containing information from NY 3810-S* on 3/28/68, concerning a conversation between STANLEY LEVISON and MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. on what KING's position should be on the rioting that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee on 3/28/68.

The source used to characterize STANLEY LEVISON is NY 694-S*

An information copy of this LHM is being sent to the Richmond Office, since it is indicated that KING will probably cancel a scheduled appearance in Virginia on Saturday (March 30, 1968).

Security Matter - ~~C~~

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on March 28, 1968, that, late on that date, Stanley Levison and Martin Luther King, Jr. discussed the violence that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee on March 28, 1968, following King's leadership of a protest - march through downtown Memphis. King indicated that he has become so depressed over the developments in Memphis that he has considered calling off the Washington March (his self-described Poor People's Campaign, scheduled to begin in Washington, D.C. on April 22, 1968).

Levison told King that his depression was aggravated because he is physically exhausted as a result of his recent strenuous program. He counseled King not to be on the defensive over the events in Memphis but, on the contrary, should take the position that the majority of people in the Memphis March did not join in the rioting that took place, proving the effectiveness of King's leadership and his policy of non-violence. Levison emphasized that the Washington March will be different in that King will have organized this march and his forces can stress the importance of non-violence. Levison suggested that Saturday morning (March 30, 1968) would be a better time to meet in Atlanta to discuss the Memphis incident rather than meeting on Friday night (March 29, 1968) because it will give King time to rest.

King agreed in every respect with Levison's evaluation.

The source also ascertained that, prior to conferring with King, Levison spoke with the Reverend Ralph Abernathy, an aide of Dr. King's, who advised Levison that King has cancelled a scheduled appearance in Washington, D.C. on March 29, 1968. Abernathy also noted that King is scheduled to be in Virginia on Saturday (March 30, 1968) but will probably cancel that appearance. Abernathy continued that it was a mistake for the King forces not to have a staff in Memphis to train people in non-violence. He said it also was a mistake on the part of the King forces not to have been more aware of the local situation.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early, 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in this position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On March 22, 1968, a source advised that a representative of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Atlanta, Georgia, had made reservations for nine single rooms for the night of March 22, 1968 at the Holiday Inn, Savannah, Georgia.

On the same date, the "Savannah (Georgia) Morning News", a daily newspaper, announced that Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the SCLC, was scheduled to speak that night at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Paul C.M.E. Church, Savannah, Georgia, about the planned "Poor People's Campaign".

On March 23, 1968, a second source advised that Rev. King failed to appear the previous evening at Savannah as scheduled, reportedly because bad weather grounded his plane in Alabama. Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President, SCLC, came from Atlanta and spoke to a crowd of about 500 people in the St. Paul Church, urging support for the planned demonstration in Washington, D. C. next month.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

It is noted that King's visit to Savannah was under the auspices of the ^{GA.} Chatham County Crusade for Voters.

On March 21, 1968, Pessie B. McCoy, President, Eighth Congressional District of Georgia Voters League, Waycross, Georgia, advised pursuant to a telephonic request, he had made arrangements for the A.M.E. Mount Zion Church, Waycross, to be made available on March 22, 1968 to Rev. King to make a speech about the "Poor People's Campaign".

On March 23, 1968, S. W. White, Sno-White Flying Service, Waycross, Georgia, Airport, advised that Rev. King had arrived at the Waycross Airport at 11:06 a.m. White subsequently advised that the pilot of King's plane advised they expected to be in Waycross for approximately one hour.

On the same date, Corporal Willie Armstrong, Waycross Police Department, advised he was in the audience at the church when Rev. King spoke. He said King only spoke very briefly, mentioning the needs of the poor people and the ridiculousness of the expenditures on the Vietnam war when money was needed in the ghettos and for the war on poverty. He said no effort was made to recruit volunteers at the time of the speech and no information was given concerning this aspect. He estimated about 225 to 250 people attended, but that a considerable number of these people left prior to the time a collection was taken.

On the same date, Mr. White, described above, advised that Rev. King and the individuals accompanying him left the Waycross Airport at about 1:00 p.m.

On March 26, 1968, a third source advised that he had attended the meeting at Waycross addressed by Rev. King. He estimated that there were about 200 people present and noted that Rev. Abernathy introduced Rev. King. He said King spoke less than ten minutes, directing most of his talk about the deplorable poverty conditions and his anticipated campaign in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of correcting these conditions.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On the same date, a fourth source related substantially the same information about the Waycross meeting, adding that a collection of $200 was taken up from those present.

On March 21, 1968, Mr. John D. Watkins, attorney, Augusta, Georgia, advised that Rev. King was scheduled to appear at Beulah Grove Baptist Church at 2:00 p.m. on March 23, 1968; the meeting was sponsored by the Citizens Concerned for Welfare of the Community, Inc. (CCWC, INC.), which he described as a small group of responsible people interested in the welfare of the community, and particularly in the welfare of poor people. He said Rev. B. I. Vernon, pastor of the Beulah Grove Baptist Church, is President of the CCWC, Inc., and that Watkins is the Secretary. He related that the purpose of the meeting on March 23, 1968 is to interest people in participating financially in the Washington Spring Project.

On March 25, 1968, Chief of Police Broadus Bequest, Augusta Police Department, advised he had several plainclothes detectives attend the meeting at the Beulah Grove Baptist Church on March 23, 1968. He said Rev. King, scheduled to arrive at 2:00 p.m., arrived at 6:40 p.m., and that King went directly from the airport to the church where he spoke about ten minutes, urging financial assistance in the campaign for poor people. Chief Bequest said that King related they had a warehouse full of food for the people participating in the campaign and expected to build several shacks on the Capitol grounds to serve these people.

Chief Bequest related the meeting was attended by about 450 people and that a collection of $305 was taken up at the meeting. He said there was no indication as to how many people would participate in the demonstration in Washington.

He related that following the meeting, King and his group went to the Downtowner Motel in Augusta where they had dinner with guests and companions. He said the bill for the dinner was $130 and that following the dinner the group went to the local airport from which King left about 11:00 p.m.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to our memorandum dated March 19, 1968, and captioned as above, which sets forth information concerning progress in the organization and planning of the Washington Spring Project (WSP).

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol during April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

In pursuit of this project, the SCLC has opened an office in Washington, D. C., from which to organize and direct the WSP.

On March 22, 1968, a press conference was called by WSP representatives at the SCLC Office, Washington, D. C. (WDC). At the conference an announcement was made that King was expected to be in WDC on April 22, 1968, to initiate the WSP by presenting his requests to Congress. They further announced that late in April or early May, 1968, they expect three thousand demonstrators to arrive. The emphasis is being placed on the length of the demonstration rather than the number of demonstrators and they do not expect the number of demonstrators to exceed five thousand and will possibly limit the number to that figure. They expect the demonstrators to remain in WDC as long as necessary or until they get tired and return to their homes.

ENCLOSURE

157-34237-461

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 23, 1968, that he had learned that a meeting had been held on the morning of March 23, 1968, of heads and representatives of various committees established to organize and plan the WSP. There were approximately twenty-five people there, including Reverend Walter E. Fauntroy, Vice-Chairman of the Washington City Council, and a WDC affiliate of the SCLC.

The chairman of the Food Committee reported that the Cooks Union had offered their services to the WSP. She further advised that all food handlers would be screened and examined.

A representative of the Xaverian College, 10000 New Hampshire Avenue, White Oak, Maryland, met with the group and advised the college could handle six hundred people at one time. The source did not know if this had reference to handling six hundred people as residents or feeding that number at one time.

No site has been located on which to erect the "New City" to house the demonstrators. Three sources from which land can be obtained were discussed. They were:

District of Columbia land;

Federal Government land;

Land belonging to churches and private individuals.

WASH DC
Reverend Fauntroy suggested that Billy Simpson, 3815 Georgia Avenue, N.W., be named to head the fund raising committee and that one Flaxie Pinkert be asked to assist.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 25, 1968, that he had received information concerning a meeting held at the WSP Office on March 23, 1968, which was attended by approximately ten persons. At the meeting Anthony Henry, WSP recruiter, announced that everyone who will live at the "New City," and those who will visit frequently, must be trained in non-violence. Anthony Henry

At the meeting Henry further stated that the majority of the demonstrators will be Negro; however, they expect Mexican-American, American Indians, and poor white to participate also. He pointed out that not much success had been realized in the recruitment of poor whites, as they associate Martin Luther King with the civil rights movement and they do not feel this movement effects them.

Henry Charles E. Cheng, a representative of the American Federation of Teachers, heads the Education Committee for the WSP and announced no problem has been experienced in the recruitment of teachers to staff the "Freedom Schools," which will be developed for use of children associated with the WSP. He further announced an intention to appoint six sub-committees on his Education Committee. They will be: Orientation; Resources; Recruitment; Space; Program; and Schedules.

Cheng informed those present that no site had been selected for the "Freedom Schools" and that emphasis will be placed on subjects such as: Black Awareness; Black History; and Black Culture."

The attached pages set forth additional information concerning the WSP.

Reliable sources have advised that efforts have not been made to recruit demonstrators for the WSP in Washington, D. C. At this time they have no goal and the number of people they will attempt to recruit depends on the success of recruitment elsewhere in the United States. Their overall goal is a nucleus of at least three thousand demonstrators and any part of that total not recruited elsewhere will be sought in the Washington, D. C., area. To date sixh-three persons have been recruited to work on various committees in support of the WSP.

KNOWN NAMES OF INDIVIDUALS RECRUITED TO DATE

The following are persons who have been identified as having been recruited to work in support of the WSP since March 19, 1968:

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week in April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

On March 21, 1968, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised as follows:

The Washington Spring Project (WSP) has made little or no progress in South Carolina, and there is no staff recruiting in South Carolina in connection with this proposed project.

Martin Luther King is tentatively planning to visit South Carolina for one day on April 3, 1968, in connection with the WSP. King will probably fly to Charleston, South Carolina, tour some counties in the lower part of the state, and end up in Columbia, South Carolina, where he will possibly address a public rally. During this day, King will meet and explain the purpose of the WSP.

Mrs. Bernice Robinson and Mrs. Septima Clark, both Negro females, reside at Charleston, South Carolina, where they work with the Voter Registration Project and the Citizenship Education Program which projects are sponsored by the SCLC.

Carl Farris of Atlanta, Georgia, is a staff member of the Citizenship Education Program and about two weeks ago Farris was visiting in Charleston, South Carolina, where he was working with the Voter Registration Project. Farris spends most of his time in Atlanta, Georgia, when he is not working in South Carolina.

King's March Plan Causes New Worry

By LEE BANDY
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Southern House Members may have a new problem in trying to delay consideration of the Senate civil rights bill until Dr. Martin Luther King and his demonstrators arrive here April 22.

There is serious talk now the Negro leader might be forced to postpone his poor peoples march until some time in May because the response to the demonstration has been less than anticipated.

This ironic possibility buoys the House Democratic leadership which has been urging members to accept the measure without any debate or hearings and send it to the White House for the President's signature.

The feeling of the proponents is that if the Senate civil rights protection and open housing legislation is approved before King arrives, some of the sting will be taken out of his campaign.

However, on the other hand, the Dixie Bloc believes it can kill the bill by holding the measure out until the march begins. Southern contention members will refuse to act under threat of intimidation.

With word leaking out King may have to postpone the march, Dixie members and some Republicans began taking a new look at their strategy.

"Our main concern is how long we can keep tying this thing up," a Southern member pointed out.

Reliable sources, who have access to the inside planning of the King march, told The State the Negro leader has not received the response he anticipated and has altered the original plans.

According to informants, the tentative program calls for only a few hand-picked demonstrators to arrive in town April 22 to submit certain demands to Congress.

They will include a guaranteed income for everyone, implementation of the President's Riot Commission Report, Jobs, and better housing.

The sources reported that King's marchers would use the expected rejection of the demands by congress to stir up their people and get support for the big march in May.

If that doesn't succeed, they the big march in May.

If that doesn't succeed, they said, the plan is for King to withdraw on account of illness and cancel the demonstration.

However, the fear is if this happens the black militants will move in and take over.

King Plans Visit To Columbia During Tour Of Southeast States

By JIM D'AVIGNON
Staff Writer

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will visit Columbia April 3 as part of an extensive tour of Southeastern and Northern states.

Al Pertilla, a spokesman for King's Atlanta, Ga., headquarters said, "exact times and places (King's visit) are not known yet. As of this time, however, he will visit Columbia."

King is making the tour in connection with the S.C.L.C.'s Poor People's Campaign. He will visit several locations in South Carolina and will make two of three speeches.

The speeches will be open to the public, said Pertilla. King will speak to people in poverty areas as part of a campaign to dramatize the plight of some three million low income people in the U. S.

Organizers of the Poor Peoples Campaign say that King hopes to slowly increase pressure on the federal government for aid to poor people. His primary method will be the use of sit-ins and marches.

The current tour will culminate in a massive march in Washington on April 22. The march, King said, in December is aimed at forcing Congress and the administration to provide "jobs or income for all."

King said an initial force of 3,000 demonstrators, trained in nonviolent techniques, would seek "massive dislocation" of the capital "until America responds" to the needs of its poor.

The protestors, recruited in 10 major cities and five rural areas, would begin a "strong, dramatic and attention-getting campaign" in early April. He indicated that the capitol and the White House would be among the "targets."

The civil rights leader acknowledged that the mood of many Negroes in the nation's ghettos made the campaign "risky," but he asserted that "not to act represents moral irresponsibility."

S. C. L. C. spokesmen said that King plans no marches or demonstrations in his April visit to South Carolina. During the midst of rioting in northern cities last July, King conducted a peaceful fund-raising rally in Charleston.

Martin Luther King Plans Tour Of State On April 3

By THOMAS P. MAYES
Record Staff Writer

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, plans a whirlwind tour of South Carolina April 3.

A spokesman for King's Atlanta, Ga. headquarters indicated the former Nobel Peace Prize winner may visit Columbia on his one-day campaign.

In connection with the S.C.L.C.'s Poor Peoples Campaign, King plans to visit several communities, making two or three speeches.

No specific times or places have been announced.

King plans no demonstrations or marches in South Carolina during the visit.

His speeches will probably be open to the public, the S.C.L.C. spokesman said.

Last July during the midst of rioting in northern cities, King conducted a peaceful fund-raising rally in Charleston.

Benjamin F. Mack, state field director for S.C.L.C., said King may also visit South Carolina this summer.

Poor Peoples Campaign organizers say King wishes to dramatize the plight of some three million low income earning people in the United States. They say, using primarily sit-ins and marches, King hopes to slowly increase pressure on the federal government for aid to the poor people.

In Charleston King said, "There are people right here in South Carolina who are starving."

On April 22, King and approximately 100 Civil Rights leaders will begin visiting U.S. congressmen and heads of government agencies.

PROGRESS REPORT

As of 3-26-68, Rev. E. RANDEL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, the two WSP recruiters in CV, have been continuing their recruiting activity and giving out WSP posters and pamphlets. Rev. OSBURN is still very enthusiastic and full of spirit regarding this poor people's campaign and he feels he should be able to reach his 200 people quota to make this 4-68 trip to Washington, D. C. As of 3-26-68, it was known OSBURN had not recruited his 200 people, but there is no indication as to the number he has recruited.

Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING is scheduled to be in CV on 4-10-68 in connection with the WSP and it is felt that OSBURN and BIBLER are pushing hard to have a number of recruits by the time KING arrives here, so they can make a favorable report. No definite appraisal can be made at this time, as to the possible success the WSP will have in CV as Rev. OSBURN has not released any recruitment figures as yet.

"A steering committee for what is being called the National Poor People's Campaign includes persons from New Mexico, Texas, Georgia, West Virginia, California, Illinois and New York."

CV T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 21, 1968, that during a meeting of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) held at Cleveland Heights, Ohio, on March 19, 1968, it was mentioned that Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's big "poor peoples march into Washington" would take place in April, 1968. Plans are for the poor Negro families and children to converge on Washington, D. C. and KING hoped that many whites would stand by to fill the ranks as Negroes are arrested and put in jail. One of the women at the meeting mentioned that some of the student groups from Cleveland planned to send some representatives to stand by.

Someone asked if there was an active group in Cleveland assisting KING in the plans and another individual answered that there was, but it was not a white group.

Sergeant JOHN J. UNGVARY, Bureau of Special Investigations, Cleveland, Ohio, Police Department, advised on March 26, 1968, that his department had been contacted by the Metropolitan Police, Washington, D. C. to furnish them with any pertinent information regarding the WSP as it pertains to the Cleveland area. None of Sergeant UNGVARY's sources to date, have been able to develop any information as to the number of people recruited by the WSP, plans for travel to Washington, D. C., etc.; however, Sergeant UNGVARY will be alert for any information along this line.

CV T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, indicated on March 26, 1968, that he learned Reverend E. RANDEL OSBURN, the WSP recruiter in Cleveland, has been working at WSP headquarters, 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, for the past two days on behalf of the WSP. OSBURN also has a young woman, name unknown, doing some of the clerical functions in this office.

WSP in Cleveland has been distributing posters to various stores for display purposes which were prepared by the SCLC about the "Poor People's Campaign - 1968"; also the WSP has been giving out pamphlets prepared by SCLC, 334 Auburn Avenue,

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

N.E., Atlanta, Georgia, entitled "Poor People's Campaign" and this appears to have been prepared professionally. This pamphlet gives information on how people can join this poor people's campaign, it welcomes all local organizations to join the WSP, it calls on both blacks and whites to participate, it points out the campaign will get under way in April, 1968 (no actual date shown) and lastly it requests all kinds of help as resources are very limited.

Source added that OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, the other WSP recruiter, are continuing their recruiting activity and Reverend OSBURN still seems very enthusiastic and has a lot of spirit regarding the WSP, although he still does not have the 200 people for Cleveland's quota. Reverend OSBURN has not given any indication as to the exact number of people recruited, their identity, travel plans, etc.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 20, 1968, Mr. RALPH R. BANKS, District Attorney, Greene County, advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., RALPH ABERNATHY, HOSEA WILLIAMS, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) arrived at the First African Baptist Church, Eutaw, Alabama, 5:15 p.m., March 20, 1968. Mr. BANKS stated that KING and his group departed Eutaw, Alabama, at 6 p.m. bound for Greensboro, Alabama.

On March 20, 1968, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, (SCLC) addressed a group of approximately five hundred persons at the First African Baptist Church, Eutaw, Alabama. This informant advised that KING spoke on the subject of the Washington poor peoples campaign and said that President JOHNSON was spending too much money in Vietnam and he should spend more on the poor people. KING stated that he expected approximately one half million people in Washington, D. C., for the demonstration and that SCLC would see to it that all expenses were paid. KING said that SCLC would not leave Washington, D. C. until Congress took appropriate action in regard to the Negro.

On March 21, 1968, Confidential Informant T-2 advised MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., SCLC, RALPH ABERNATHY, SCLC, and HOSEA WILLIAMS, SCLC, arrived at the Birmingham Airport, Birmingham, Alabama, at 9:35 p.m., March 20, 1968. They drove directly to Bessemer, Alabama, where MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., spoke briefly to a crowd of approximately six hundred persons at the New Zion Baptist Church, 1026 North 24th Street, Bessemer. KING stated that he is going to take part in a demonstration in Memphis, Tennessee on Friday, March 22, 1968. KING thereafter turned the meeting over to HOSEA WILLIAMS. WILLIAMS advised those present that SCLC will use church buses to transport recruits for the Washington Spring Project from the Birmingham, Alabama area to Washington, D. C. He said that Birmingham ministers will be asked by SCLC to donate their church buses for the project. The demonstrators who are recruited in Birmingham are to report to Lafayette Park in Washington, D. C., where they will set up a tent city. THOMAS EDWARD WRENN will be in charge of the Birmingham delegation at Washington, D. C. WILLIAMS also stated that he would like if possible to transport two Negro "shanty" houses from Alabama to Washington, D. C., and set them up near the Smithsonian Institute. T-2 said that WILLIAMS estimated that SCLC would raise $21,000 from Mississippi and $27,000 from Alabama to support this project. WILLIAMS said that 75 to 100 Indians and Mexicans from the southwest section of the country will meet in Jackson, Mississippi, during the week of April 22, 1968. Thereafter, together with the Negro demonstrators recruited in Mississippi, they will travel to Birmingham, Alabama. On April 24, and 25, 1968, this group will "camp-in" at Kelly Ingram Park in Birmingham. On April 26, 1968, combined groups from the southwestern states, Mississippi, and Alabama will march through the city of Birmingham and thereafter travel by bus to Atlanta, Georgia, and join up with the Georgia group. On the night of April 26, 1968, the demonstrators will "camp-in" at the Capitol steps in Atlanta. WILLIAMS said that the Teamsters Union will furnish all the food necessary for the demonstrators while they are in Washington, D. C. In conclusion, WILLIAMS said that "Congress will give in or the United States will be burned down".

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 21, 1968, Sergeant JAMES SMITH, Jefferson County Sheriff's Office, advised that at 1 p.m. he interviewed MOSEA WILLIAMS at the Birmingham Municipal Airport and WILLIAMS advised SMITH that because of inclement weather, Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., has cancelled his trip to southern Alabama. WILLIAMS told Sergeant SMITH that Reverend KING and his group would depart for Atlanta, Georgia, in a Cessnar aircraft #N3223Q at 2 p.m. and on March 22, 1968, they planned to fly to Memphis, Tennessee.

Sergeant SMITH stated that at 1:45 p.m. CST, he observed MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., and his party depart from the Birmingham Airport.

Appropriate local, county, State, and Federal authorities have been advised of the above information.

On March 20, 1968, Robert J. Myles, Highway 6, Batesville, Mississippi, advised that Martin Luther King appeared at the Mount Zion Church in Batesville, Mississippi, on March 19, 1968. Myles stated that Dr. King arrived in Batesville shortly before 1 p.m. and departed Batesville shortly after 1:20 p.m. He stated that Dr. King spoke to a group of approximately 400 individuals assembled at the Mount Zion Church.

Myles stated that Dr. King's speech centered around the forthcoming march in Washington, D.C. King encouraged individuals to participate in this matter; and the group, according to Myles, was very receptive to King.

The March 20, 1968, edition of "The Clarion-Ledger", page 7, a Jackson daily newspaper, contained an article that stated that one white man contributed a $100 bill during Martin Luther King's appearances at the Mount Zion Baptist Church, Batesville, Mississippi.

On March 19, 1968, Aaron Henry, President, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), furnished the following information:

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Martin Luther King, Ralph Abernathy, and Hosea Williams arrived at Valley Queen Baptist Church, Marks, Mississippi, at 1:45 p.m. March 19, 1968. All three spoke at that Church without incident, and they departed Marks at 2:10 p.m.

The above individuals arrived at Clarksdale, Mississippi, 3:15 p.m. at the Chapel Hill Baptist Church, 303 Carolina, and all three spoke to 500 to 600 people until 4:30 p.m. at which time they departed en route to Greenwood.

They asked for a show of hands regarding those who would participate in the Washington Spring Project (WSP) from Clarksdale area and two persons raised their hands.

On March 19, 1968, Martin Luther King arrived at 5:30 p.m. at Greenwood, Mississippi Airport, Greenwood, Mississippi, in a twin engine Cessna 411 Charter Aircraft bearing Identification Number N3223Q.

On March 19, 1968, the third confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that King spoke to a group of approximately 475 individuals at the Jennings Temple Church, Avenue G and Ash Streets, Greenwood, Mississippi. King advised his appearance in Greenwood, Mississippi, was to recruit poor people to go to Washington, D.C. King stated that their purpose was to recruit 3,000 to 6,000 unemployed to go to Washington and stay as long as possible, with new waves of people to come in every week. King advised that after an appropriate number of people were present they were going to make a massive march to "plague" Congress.

During the speech, King requested a show of hands as to the number of individuals who would be available to go to Washington, D.C. during April, 1967.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

At approximately 7:00 p.m. King and six other individuals were observed departing Greenwood, Mississippi Airport in the above aircraft en route to Grenada, Mississippi.

Police Commissioner Paul McKelroy, Grenada, Mississippi, Police Department, advised Martin Luther King, Jr. and party arrived via aircraft at the Grenada, Mississippi Airport at 7:30 p.m. March 19, 1968. King thereafter held a meeting of approximately 30 minutes at the Bellflower Baptist Church, Pearl Street, Grenada, before a group of approximately 175 - 200 individuals. King thereafter departed the Grenada Airport at 8:45 p.m. via the Cessna 411 Aircraft, registration number N3223Q, en route to Laurel, Mississippi, to hold a similar meeting. King was in the company of Hosea Williams, Reverend Ralph Abernathy, Leon Wilbert Hall, Dorothy Cotton, and an unknown young Negro male. MISS.

Mr. McKelroy advised that License Number 22-3381 is registered to the Bellflower Missionary Church, Grenada, Mississippi.

On March 20, 1968, a fourth confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that when King appeared before the crowd of approximately 200 individuals, he asked for support of his poor peoples march in Washington, D.C. citing necessity for this march as a request for jobs and other benefits. When King requested individuals to stand up to show their support for his project and the identity of those who would participate, approximately 30 individuals responded.

Source advised that $61.60 was collected at the meeting for King's project. This money was turned over to King's associates and placed in a paper sack together with money already contained in the paper sack.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Source stated that the crowd responding to King's meeting was small in comparison to those in the past that King and his associates had drawn, nor did King receive an overwhelming support for his proposed project.

Mr. McKelroy advised that King departed Grenada Airport, Grenada, Mississippi, at 8:45 p.m. in above described plane en route to Laurel, Mississippi.

On March 19, 1968, a fifth confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King arrived at St. Paul's Methodist Church, 517 Jefferson Street, Laurel, Mississippi, at approximately 10:00 p.m. on March 19, 1968, and delivered a 10 to 15 minute inspiring talk concerning the Washington Spring Project. King pointed out that the grandparents and parents of those present worked for nothing and as a result the present generation of Negroes have little or nothing. King warned that the grandchildren of those present will also have nothing if the Negro fails to act today and demand his God given and constitutional rights. He strongly encouraged the local Negro to rise up and join the Washington Spring Project. King explained that the purpose of the Washington Spring Project was to emphasize to the world that the American Negro, though he is an American citizen, he is not receiving the constitutional rights which are supposedly guaranteed to all American citizens but in reality are given only to American white citizens.

Source advised that the Church was crowded with approximately 300 persons and some 100 to 150 left before King's arrival as he was approximately three hours late arriving in Laurel. A collection was taken for King at the Church, the amount received unknown.

On March 19,20, 1968, a sixth confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King, President, Ralph Abernathy, Vice-President and Treasurer, Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, Dorothy Cotton, Director of Citizenship School, and Leon Hall, Project Director for the State of Mississippi, all SCLC, arrived at the Mount Zion Church, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, around 12:30 a.m. March 20, 1968. King made a short speech regarding the Washington Spring Project before a crowd of 750 persons. King stated a collection of $300 would have to be received before he would speak. The collection total was $345.00.

Source stated that King had a reservation for nine single rooms at the Holiday Inn South, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, cancelled his reservations, and departed Hattiesburg, Mississippi, en route to Jackson, Mississippi, at 3:14 a.m.

On March 20, 1968, Major T. Schiff, Jackson Police Department, Jackson, Mississippi, advised that King and his party registered at the Alamo Plaza Motel at 4 a.m.

On March 20, 1968, a seventh confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that King and his party arrived at the Masonic Temple, Jackson, Mississippi, 12:45 p.m. and he addressed a crowd estimated at about 400 persons. Source stated that King did not travel to McComb, Mississippi, which was a scheduled stop on his itinerary.

On March 20, 1968, John Pierce, Reporter, Associated Press, Jackson, Mississippi, advised King and his party were greeted by Charles Evers, Director of the NAACP in the State of Mississippi, Lawrence Guyot, Chairman, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, a predominantly Negro political party within the State, and Geraldine Smith, State Chairman of the National Welfare Rights Organization. Hosea Williams stated the SCLC had just completed a strategy meeting and the date of the Washington Spring Project previously set as April 22, 1968, Washington, D.C., has been cancelled. He said King, Abernathy, Andrew J. Young, and other leaders of SCLC will go to Washington either April 23 or 24, 1968, where they intend to contact Congressional leaders, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce, and expect to receive assurances of legislation to improve the plight of the Negro. They will present "SCLC's Economic Bill of Rights to Congressional leaders and Government officials".

On April 27 or 28, 1968, the "Beachhead Troops", people from all over Mississippi, will arrive in Jackson for a major mass meeting. They will then march through downtown Jackson and board buses provided by SCLC and will leave en route to Birmingham, Alabama. At Birmingham they will meet a group who had just completed a mass meeting and march through Birmingham and will proceed on to Atlanta, Georgia; Columbia, South Carolina; Durham, North Carolina; Richmond, Virginia; and will meet at a staging point at Alexandria, Virginia. At the same time groups will have departed from Boston, Detroit, Chicago, and Philadelphia, to staging points around Baltimore, Maryland. They expect to have a total of 3,000 people in this group who will stay in Washington for at least two weeks. Then they will be replaced by a second group and this will continue until enough pressure has been applied that Congress takes appropriate action. They will build a "City of Hope, a shantytown", in Washington, D.C., to house and feed all participants. They will stay in Washington by continuing to send waves of people until the Democratic Convention.

Abernathy and King spoke briefly and echoed same sentiments as Williams. King said professional groups, professional people, and industrialists throughout the country are being contacted for donations for this project. He did not comment on how much has been received.

On March 20, 1968, confidential source one advised that he attended the meeting at Jackson on this date and that from the eight speeches made by King and his staff in Mississippi on March 19, 20, 1968, a total of $1,000 was collected in donations. At each rally a donation was collected. Source had lunch with King's party following his meeting on March 20, 1968, along with Charles Evers, and King expressed disappointment over the small donations and the lack of enthusiasm.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On March 20, 1968, confidential source two who also attended the above meeting at the Masonic Temple, furnished substantially the same information. This source stated that there appeared to be few volunteers available to go to Washington, D.C. Source stated that King appeared irritated over the lack of enthusiasm of his crowd at the Masonic Temple for his Washington Spring Project.

On March 20, 1968, the seventh confidential source advised that King expressed disappointment over the lack of enthusiasm and turnout for his speech at the Masonic Lodge on this date.

At 4:16 p.m., March 20, 1968, King, Abernathy, Williams, and Dorothy Cotton departed from Thompson Airport, Jackson, Mississippi, via privately owned plane as described previously, en route to Birmingham, Alabama.

The following circular was distributed in towns where King appeared:

SECURITY MATTER - C

Lieutenant H. H. Fair, Anaheim Police Department, Anaheim, California, advised March 14, 1968, that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was scheduled to address the convention of the California Democratic Council at the Anaheim Convention Center, Anaheim, California, at noon on Saturday, March 16, 1968.

Lieutenant H. H. Fair, supra, advised on March 16, 1968, that Dr. King appeared at a press conference at the Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim, California, that date. He stated that he never endorsed any presidential candidate, but spoke highly of Senator Eugene Mc Carthy, Minnesota, and indicated that he might endorse him as a presidential candidate in the 1968 election, claiming that he is passive, non-violent but militant against poverty and the Vietnam War.

Lieutenant Fair, supra, stated that Dr. King also appeared as the main speaker at the luncheon of the California Democratic Council which was held at the Anaheim Convention Center on the same date. Dr. King stated that if the Government would do something about Negro poverty in the winter time there would be less likelihood of summer violence. He also indicated that there would be a march on Washington, D. C., in April 1968 and the participants will conduct a "stay-in" at Governmental offices until the end of the congressional session to protest Negro poverty. He stated that it was ridiculous to spend money to kill Vietnamese in Vietnam and not help underprivileged Negroes.

SECURITY MATTER - C

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 17, 1968, that Dr. King spoke at an Elk's Club somewhere in Los Angeles on the afternoon of March 16, 1968. There he received donations for the Washington Spring Project in the amount of $6,000, in cash and an undisclosed amount in checks.

The "Los Angeles Times", a daily newspaper published in Los Angeles, California, in its issue of March 17, 1968, carried an article which quoted Dr. King while he was in Anaheim, California, on March 16, 1968. He stated, "The problem is the Government has many programs but nothing has been done." He stated that the spring demonstrations which he will begin in Washington, D. C., on April 22, 1968, are to appeal to the conscience of Congress to escalate the war on poverty and racism and de-escalate the war in Vietnam.

Officer J. Fredericks, Airport Detail, Los Angeles Police Department, advised on March 18, 1968, that Dr. King was staying at the Hyatt House Hotel, 5547 West Century Boulevard, Los Angeles, and would be leaving Los Angeles for New Orleans and Memphis about noon on March 18, 1968, via National Airlines.

The "Los Angeles Times", previously mentioned, in its issue of March 18, 1968, indicated that Dr. King had spoken at the Second Baptist Church in Los Angeles on Sunday, March 17, 1968. He stated that it was time for someone in Washington to admit that a mistake has been made in Vietnam and that this nation is involved in a "senseless, reckless, immoral and unwinnable war." He also indicated white racism is "still a glaring reality in our country" and that Congress, dominated by the rural South "stands as a stubborn force in the way of social progress."

WASHINGTON, D. C.

This current document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The information set forth is based on the comments and views of the individuals mentioned herein. These pertained to the racial situation as it existed at the time the comments and views were expressed. The possibility exists that the racial situation in any particular area in Washington, D. C., may change suddenly. Due consideration must be given this fact.

II. GENERAL RACIAL SITUATION

The individuals familiar with conditions existing in the ghetto areas in Washington, D. C., have advised as follows:

The racial situation is very uncertain. People are apprehensive about Dr. Martin Luther King's "poor people's campaign" which he plans to bring to Washington, D. C. (WDC) in April, 1968. Some believe the demonstration will be beneficial and will show the underprivileged that efforts are being expended in their behalf. A riot could happen over some unexpected incident as has happened in other large cities. Stokely Carmichael urged a gathering of people in WDC, on March 17, 1968, to arm themselves and that every black man in the United States should get a gun. Some people in WDC are not in sympathy with Dr. King's demonstration plans. WDC leaders are attempting to evaluate the potential of Dr. King's impact on WDC, in April. Howard University students began a sit-in at Howard University on March 19, 1968, protesting possible disciplinary actions against students involved in previous disruptive action on the campus.

III. CURRENT EVALUATION OF VIOLENCE POTENTIAL

Source number one who lives in the Northeast and works in the Northwest sections of WDC, advised as follows on March 11, 1968:

The racial situation in WDC appears to be very uncertain. Nobody knows what is going to happen in WDC and many people are scared. They are not sure what will happen when Dr. Martin Luther King's "poor people's campaign" begins in April. Even though Dr. King has asked the militants to stay out of the activities, there is no assurance the request will be honored.

The March 11, 1968, issue of the "Newsweek" magazine, page 45 contained a paragraph captioned "Washington". It stated Washington had never been considered to be a major racial tinderbox as much of its Negro population works for the Federal government and is insulated by civil service security from the worst chills of black despair. It stated Washington was facing the summer with nervous uncertainty, and Dr. King was bringing 3000 demonstrators to Washington to begin a summer-long campaign of picketing and marching for jobs and income.

The March 12, 1968 issue of "The Evening Star", a daily WDC newspaper, page B-1 reported that District Safety Director Patrick V. Murphy had said the Washington police hoped to train as many as 2,800 volunteers for emergency duty this summer in an enlarged "Police Reserver Corps". Most of them would be used for station duty and thus free additional policemen during emergencies.

The March 12, 1968 issue of "Washington Afro-American", a Washington, D. C. newspaper, page 12, reported that The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders had said that "Abrasive relationships between police and non-whites have been a major source of rioting in the racial ghettos of American cities".

On March 14, 1968, source number two who works in the ghettos of WDC and is acquainted with many of the under privileged advised as follows:

The "poor people's campaign" which is a demonstration being planned by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. has been given the support of a number of the larger religious groups in WDC. The demonstration will show the underprivileged that much effort is being expended in efforts to improve their life. It is believed the demonstration will be beneficial. Plans are being made to have volunteers from among the demonstrators, who will agree to be arrested if necessary. It is not believed that any racial trouble will result from the demonstration.

Source number two further advised as follows:

Stokely Carmichael is in Washington, D. C. and has organized the Black United Front, (BUF), but it is not believed that Carmichael will have much support from BUF members if Carmichael decides to create violence in WDC. The majority of the BUF members are not expected to support any plans for racial violence.

On March 14, 1968, source number three who resides in the Northwest section of WDC advised as follows:

It is his belief that a riot could take place in WDC over some unexpected incident such as the arrest of a Negro. This has happened in the past in other large cities. Other than the above situation, the conditions are such that the source is optimistic about a riot-free summer in WDC.

Source number four who resides and works in the ghetto areas of Northwest WDC, advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

On March 17, 1968, Stokely Carmichael gave a talk at The Church of The Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N. E., WDC at the invitation of the Fellowship Forum of the church. Among other things, Carmichael said the black people in the United States must connect with the 900 million black people of the "third world" to liberate themselves from the control of the white man. He described the "third world" as including the black people of Cuba, West Indies, Haiti, South America and Africa. He said the United States is planning genocide against the Negroes and for this reason Negroes should arm themselves. He said he did not mean a .22 caliber either. He advocated that every black man in the United States get a gun. He stated that if Negroes obtained an arsenal, relations between whites and blacks would be equal.

Source number four further stated as follows:

Carmichael said he realized many black people do not agree with his ideology and that there are many "Uncle Toms" in the community. Carmichael said his group proposes that if they develop information about a person "being that way", someone will talk to that person and attempt to change his mind and "if he does not change his ways, he will be considered a traitor to his community and all traitors die". Carmichael said black people should support the Arabs in any conflict between the Arabs and the Israelis. He said the WDC Public School System is 93% Negro and the curriculum must be changed to be more relative to the Negro community.

The March 18, 1968, issue of "The Washington Post and Times Herald", newspaper on page B-3 reported that Stokely Carmichael had spoken to a racially mixed audience on March 17, 1968 at The Church of The Redeemer, WDC. Among Carmichael's comments to the group were "We are advocating simply that every black man in this country should get a gun. The only reason the honkie (white man) is able to rule is because he has a gun".

The March 18, 1968 issue of "The Evening Star", a daily WDC newspaper on page B-3, reported that the District chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had voted to support the goals of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King's "Poor People's Campaign".

Source number five who lives and works in the Northwest section of WDC, on March 18, 1968, advised as follows:

It is believed there are some individuals in WDC who may be inclined toward the creation of racial trouble in WDC, but these are not likely to initiate any actions toward the starting of trouble. The feeling among many in the Northwest ghetto is that in order for the "poor people's campaign" to be successful, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. will have to bring in outsiders for his reported "civil disobedience" in WDC. In the event large numbers of outsiders are brought in, their behavior will be very difficult to control. Therefore anything may happen.

Source number one further advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

In the Northeast area near the source's residence, there has been a lack of enthusiasm by the WDC citizens for Dr. King's "poor people's campaign". These people are not in sympathy with Dr. King's plans as they fail to see that any benefits may result from any demonstration involving civil disobedience.

Source number six who resides in Northwest WDC and is employed in a Northwest ghetto area, advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

The foremost concern of people in WDC is the unknown potential for racial trouble which could take place when Dr. Martin Luther King and his "poor people's campaign" begins in WDC in April 1968. Many leaders of organizations in WDC are attempting to evaluate the current and future potential of Dr. King's impact on the racial scene of WDC. These leaders are very concerned and are trying to determine what response WDC citizens may give Dr. King.

Source number seven who resides in the Northeast section of WDC and has a wide acquaintanceship in WDC advised as follows on March 19, 1968:

On March 19, 1968 at about 1:30 PM about fifty to seventy-five students began a sit-in in the lobby of the Administration Building, at Howard University to protest possible disciplinary action against students who had participated in previous disruptive activity on the campus.

On March 19, 1968, Sergeant Silas Vaughn, Intelligence Division, Metropolitan Police Department, advised that at about 4:45 PM, on March 19, 1968, approximately one hundred and fifty students were engaging in a sit-in in the Administration Building, Howard University and planned to remain all night. According to Sergeant Vaughn, Stokely Carmichael appeared briefly at the building, but did not participate in the sit-in and then departed.

THEFTS OF GUNS AND AMMUNITION

Source number eight who is employed in the Northwest section of WDC, on March 18 and 19, 1968 advised as follows:

The source has received at least 50 or more handguns of various types including automatic pistols, snub-nosed weapons and weapons with a long barrel, from an individual employed in WDC. The guns have been obtained from the Fall of 1967 to the present time. These were stolen guns.

Racial Matters

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 19, 1968, that on that date Stanley Levison contacted Harry Wachtel. Levison, referring to Martin Luther King's Washington, D.C. spring campaign, told Wachtel that the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy passed a generalized resolution on the (Vietnam) war and specifically endorsed the Washington campaign. He added that Tudja Crowder, whom he described as the new Executive Director of Sane, had contacted him and wanted to have a meeting on March 20, 1968, with a small group of the Sane Directors to have them briefed by someone from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) to see how they can tie in. Levison felt this was important and said that, if there is an element of the peace movement they might get to join "this" (the Washington Project), it will be Sane.

Levison also mentioned that the Washington Jewish Community Council had endorsed the Washington Spring Campaign because Andrew Young, the Executive Vice President of the SCLC, had told them that the SCLC would notify the Police on anything they did. Levison questioned how Young could have promised this since he and Young had discussed how the building of "shanty towns" would have to be done at night without anyone knowing it. He added that a person who had attended a non-black minority conference (the 53 non -Negro minority group organizations, representatives from which met in Atlanta, Georgia, March 14, 1968, with Martin Luther King to plan for King's "Poor People's Campaign" campaign in Washington, D.C.) stated that "they" specifically said "they" were not going to notify the Police. Levison, apparently alluding to the Jewish Community Council, said it was left on the basis that there is a general sentiment to endorse the objectives but they would like to know more clearly what is going to be done and why. He said this is good because this is the Jewish establishment.

Levison described the Washington Jewish Community Council as the leaders of the Jewish Community Councils all over the country, all of whom are Democrats and "tied into the machines".

Levison referred to Jack Greenberg (Director of the Legal Defense and Education Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) stating that Greenberg, in his opinion, had come up with the best publicity idea thus far and that is to transport a cabin, which people live in, in Mississippi, to Washington, D.C. and present it as a gift to the Smithsonian Institute as showing the manner in which people live in America in 1968. Levison said that he, Levison, is pushing the "shanty town thing" but that Greenberg's idea is better. He added that he intends to see that Greenberg's suggestion is carried out.

Levison noted that their target in the Washington project is full employment. He said a victory in terms of "countable" jobs would be magnificent for King.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early, 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in this position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

Harry Wachtel is the Executive Vice President of the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, New York, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information in December, 1949, that Harry H. Wachtel, 41 Broad Street, New York, New York, was on a list of individuals carried as active members of the National Lawyers Guild.

A characterization of the National Lawyers Guild is attached hereto.

On March 5, 1944, another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information which revealed that the name Harry Wachtel was on a list of names, significance not known, which was maintained at the Headquarters of the Kings County Communist Party (CP) at 26 Court Street, Brooklyn, New York.

Regarding Harry Wachtel's wife, Lenora, it is noted that the same confidential source furnished information on March 5, 1944, which revealed that her name and address were on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County CP.

Source Number One, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised of the following information relating to Martin Luther King, Jr.'s appearance at Grosse Pointe High School, Grosse Pointe, Michigan, on March 14, 1968:

King's appearance was arranged and sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council. Prior to and during King's appearance, approximately 200 pickets from Breakthrough demonstrated in front of Grosse Pointe High School.

Source Number Two, who has furnished reliable information in the past, stated that Breakthrough is an ultra-conservative group under the direction of Donald Lobsinger, which group passes out literature and demonstrates against various left wing as well as Communist sponsored affairs held in the Detroit area.

Source Number One stated King's speech dealt primarily with the future integration in the United States. He continually stressed his position of non-violence and elaborated at length on the social problems facing the Negro in America today.

During the course of the speech King, in passing, briefly mentioned his plans for a Washington, D.C. camp-in in April, 1968. He stated he wanted it understood his plan is not to "tie up and shut down" the City of Washington, D.C.,

but he is using this action to "dramatize the plight of the poverty stricken Negro". He did not further elaborate nor give any detailed plans for the recruiting or the techniques he would be using to bring about success in this project.

During King's speech Donald Lobsinger, supra, was ejected from the meeting because of his heckling of King. He referred to King as a "traitor" because of his views on the conduct of the Vietnam war. Also two or three other individuals allegedly affiliated with Breakthrough, were escorted from the meeting for heckling and causing a disturbance. The individuals ejected were not permitted to re-enter the meeting.

Source advised that King was warmly received by those present which numbered in excess of 2,500 people. He stated the group was composed of predominately white people with a smattering of Negro people in attendance.

Source Number One further added that other than the above minor disturbances, King's appearance at Grosse Pointe High School was without serious incident.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

A source, who is in a position to furnish reliable information made available on March 15, 1968, a letter dated March 9, 1968, which reads as follows:

Newark, New Jersey

March 9, 1968

Dear Sir,

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has announced that he will lead a "poor peoples' campaign" in Washington, D.C. this spring. This campaign will demand that the Congress of the United States take immediate action to provide jobs or income for the nation's more than 60 million poor. As you must well know, the question of poverty is the crucial issue facing this country today. It threatens to literally tear the United States apart at the seams. Dr. King and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference feel that the clergy has a moral obligation to take the lead in the quest of social justice and to reweave the moral fabric of this nation. The job is massive and the time is short, we must act now. I'm sure that that point isn't debatable. The question is, what can we do? Dr. King has dispatched organizers into fifteen major urban areas across the nation to bring poor people to Washington in April, 1968. They need your assistance to do their job. Attached is a leaflet designating who the SCLC representative is in your area and where you can get in touch with him.

Please call him for further information.

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, PRESIDENT

The Poor People's Washington Campaign is being organized as a last resort in awakening Congress to the needs of this nation's poor - both black and white. The goal of this campaign is for congressional action to help millions of America's poor people of every race and creed.

The smoldering anger rising in the poor of this nation can be channeled into an effective militant movement in Washington and elsewhere.

Rev. Herman Jenkins has been dispatched to Newark by Dr. King to co-ordinate and organize the poor people of Newark for this campaign.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 5, 1968, that James Gibson, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Representative from National Headquarters of SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, is presently attempting to recruit participants for the Washington Spring Project (WSP) in the Virginia Counties of Amelia, Brunswick and Lunenburg.

A characterization of SCLC is attached hereto.

It is stated this recruiting drive, aimed at attracting persons in the hard-core unemployed and low income employed groups, has not been too successful. Persons approached have been asked to attend and participate in captioned activities at Washington, D.C. A lack of funds needed to obtain the required transportation is a major problem.

A second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past; has advised that the participation of people from Mississippi and Alabama in WSP in the Richmond - Petersburg, Virginia, area, is still in a very nebulous planning stage.

It appears that Leon Hall, Greneta, Mississippi, is actively engaged in the formulation of such plans. These tentative plans call for a march by these persons with persons from Petersburg, Virginia, from Petersburg to Richmond, Virginia. This march is to be conducted on or about April 22, 1968, the announced date that a SCLC sponsored march from Baltimore, Maryland, to Washington, D.C., will take place as a kick-off for WSP.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 4, 1968, Reverend Everett E. Smith, Richmond, Virginia, a member of the State Board of Virginia of SCLC, advised he has been in close contact with Dr. Martin Luther King regarding plans for the latter's visit to Virginia on March 30, 1968. These plans, which are subject to change, are that Dr. King will visit Danville, Virginia, and Prince Edward County, Virginia, on the latter date. He will appear at a rally held at a Negro church in Richmond, Virginia, later in the day of March 30, 1968. According to Reverend Smith, the purpose of Dr. King's visit to Virginia is to stimulate interest and participation in the WSP as well as to promote the interest and growth of SCLC.

Reverend Smith and other sources, who are in a position to learn of activities in connection with WSP, have advised generally that they do not anticipate that promotion of WSP will be too successful in the Richmond area. They based their opinions on past experiences in this type of activity. They advised these have not been too successful in the past, describing race relations in the Richmond area as good.

They pointed out that there exists in Richmond a "middle-class complacency" that has prevented a concerted or mass united effort in the promotion of activities designed to better the conditions of Negroes in the community. This "complacency", they feel, is based on the fact there are jobs for Negroes, and this group is, compared to other areas, economically well off. They pointed out, further, that Negroes have been and are being hired in City jobs and in other positions formerly available only to persons of the white race.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC)

The November 19, 1960 issue of "The Richmond Times-Dispatch" reported that approximately sixty Negro church, professional and lay leaders throughout Virginia met on November 18, 1960 in Petersburg, Virginia and organized the Virginia Christian Leadership Conference (VCLC) for the purpose of "Bringing about civil rights for all."

It was pointed out that VCLC is an affiliate of the SCLC of Atlanta, Georgia.

The purpose of SCLC was reported to "redeem the soul of America by creating the beloved community through organization, by consent of population, for the purpose of creative protest by education, training, developing leadership based on Christian non-violent principles."

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's Capitol the first week of April 1968 (subsequently changed to April 22, 1968) in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Confidential Informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised March 11, 1968, that the Rev. JAMES ORANGE, SCLC Director in Philadelphia, said that date that KING would be in Africa for about 10 days early in April 1968. KING upon his return to the United States would come to Philadelphia to rest and make further preparations for the Washington Spring Project, which is now scheduled to take place April 22, 1968, in Washington, D.C. KING is concerned about the safety of his followers and KING's people are concerned about his safety. Present plans according to ORANGE state that participants in the march will leave from their respective cities and join other groups as they pass through cooperating cities en route to Washington, D.C., to arrive at Washington, D.C., April 22, 1968.

The Philadelphia contingent will join the group which would originate in Boston, Mass., April 19 or 20, 1968, which would increase as this original group went to New York City by bus, walked through the city of New York joined by others; walked to Newark through the city with additional Newark people; then by bus to Trenton, N.J., through the city with additional participants and then by bus to Philadelphia.

KING would join the group in North Philadelphia and walk through the city to the airport at the southwest extremity of the City of Philadelphia. KING would then leave the group and fly to Washington, D.C., while the marchers would walk on to Chester, Pa., picking up additional people during the walk and thence by bus to Wilmington, Del. The enlarged group would then walk through Wilmington and then go by bus to Baltimore, Md., where they would walk through town and then ride by bus to the outskirts of Washington, D.C. They would then be led through Washington, D.C., by KING to the "cherry blossom" area. The entire group joined by others from the rest of the United States would camp in Washington, D.C., until Congress meets KING's demand.

Confidential Informant PH T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 11, 1968, that he had been to SCIC Philadelphia Headquarters and the general conversation of the office personnel indicates that the staff is not receiving an enthusiastic response to the project in the city. He said, however, this is his opinion and only based on his conversation with the staff.

On March 12, 1968, ^{PH T-1} PH T-1 advised that ORANGE on that date stated that HOSEA WILLIAMS, SCIC leader presently assigned Washington, D.C., and one of KING's top lieutenants, would be in Philadelphia March 15, 1968, to make further and finalize plans for WSP for the Philadelphia contingent. ORANGE had talked of a tentative route to march through Philadelphia; however, ORANGE is not allowed to make definite plans without the approval from top level SCIC personnel.

PROGRESS REPORT

As of this date information received indicates Rev. E. RANDEL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, who are in charge of the WSP in Cleveland, have been spending some of their time on recruiting activities for the WSP, but the bulk of their activity has been on two other projects; namely, Operation Breadbasket and a strike at St. Luke's Hospital of the Building Service and Maintenance Union, which was recently settled. Now that the strike is settled, OSBURN and BIBLER can devote more time to the WSP to recruit the 200 people to travel to Washington, D.C., in April, 1968.

Reportedly Rev. OSBURN is very hopeful of recruiting these 200 people as he does not feel it is a large number to obtain as he has recruited larger numbers of individuals in the past for other projects.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Reference is made to Cleveland memorandum dated February 23, 1968.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

"The Call and Post", a weekly Cleveland Negro newspaper of general circulation in its March 2, 1968 issue, page 4B, the editorial and feature column page, had an article by the editor of the paper, Mr. WILLIAM O. WALKER, captioned, "King Should Reconsider His March on Washington." This article then stated as follows:

"The old cliché is: 'Don't bite off more than you can chew.' I was thinking about this as I read that Dr. Martin Luther King was touring down in Alabama trying to recruit participants for his 'Poor Peoples Campaign,' destined to march on Washington in April.

"When I first heard about Dr. King's proposed march on Washington and his plans for camping his followers in the public parks, I felt he had been ill advised to embark on a project that at best, could be only a publicity gimmick.

"Dr. King, no matter how much compassion he may have for his fellowman, must look at all the facets of the problem and not be swayed by just one side.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"Getting 3,000 poor, unemployed folks to pick up and leave their homes, humble as some of them may be and, for an indefinite period, to live out in the open, requires more than enthusiasm and dedication.

"Granting that Dr. King finally succeeds in getting 3,000 people to Washington, since they are poor and without adequate funds for their sustenance, how is he going to feed them every day? Where is he going to house them every night? What about their health problems? Their legal problems? The problems of discipline? Where is the money for all of these things going to come from?

"If I understand Dr. King's program, he says he is going to keep his followers in Washington indefinitely. Let's take a short period of 14 days. Feeding each person will cost at least $1.00 a day. This then, is $3,000. In April weather even in Washington, these people will have to have some kind of shelter over their heads at night. If he can get this for $1.00 per person per night, he will be lucky. This is another $3,000 per day. To provide other necessities that people require each day, will cost a minimum of 50¢ per person a day. This adds another $1,500. So, at the lowest possible estimate, each person will cost $2.50 per day. For 3,000 people, this adds up to $105,000 for just 14 days.

"Then, there are the expenses of Dr. King's staff and other functionaries. The traveling expense of these people going and coming. The whole thing will add up to a staggering amount of somebody's money.

"How does Dr. King propose to raise this money? Moving on faith is one thing, but, 3,000 people, no matter how much faith they have, need food and shelter. Somebody will have to produce this in fact, not theory.

"Since most, if not all of the people Dr. King is trying to recruit are poor and unemployed, wouldn't it be better to try to get these people into training programs in their local communities? Granting that some southern communities may not have such federally financed programs, isn't it better to petition the government to provide them rather than taking these people off on a wild goose chase to Washington where, no matter what happens, they will have to go back to their home communities for whatever benefits they are to eventually receive.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"Since lobbying for meaningful civil rights legislation is the announced goal of Dr. King's efforts, isn't he really using these unfortunate people who can least afford the time or money, as human pawns. Inspiring them with promises as an inducement to get their participation, is creating a false hope of personal reward before they return home. If they return home disillusioned and empty handed, they become prime examples of futility in their communities.

"This must not be permitted to happen. The best way to prevent it, is not to take them to Washington in the first place. If a demonstration of power or force or whatever you want to call it, is deemed necessary in Washington, then let those who can afford it march on Congress and the President. Past efforts have proven that sizeable numbers can be induced to turn out for a just cause.

"I am afraid Dr. King's venture is fraught with many dangers and problems. The Negro has a just cause. There is urgent need for putting pressure at every point in our civil rights fight to achieve meaningful results. This pressure should be pushed at the local, state and national levels. Every resource at the Negro's command should be pressed into the fight.

"On this, Dr. King or no one else will find any opposition. However, doing something just for the publicity of it and, using unfortunate human beings, is just going too far.

"It would be most unfortunate if what happened to the bonus marchers in the late twenties during the Hoover administration, happened to Dr. King's marchers. Unfortunately, the present feeling of a large segment of white people is to use the police force and, even the National Guard and the U.S. Army to suppress any riots. You can see from the way the National Guard acted recently in Orangeburg, S.C., what to expect in any future riots. Every law enforcement agency has been in special training during the winter months. They have been given special riot control techniques. Special equipment and supplies have already been purchased for use. There is no reason then for deliberately creating situations that may endanger the lives of innocent Negroes.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"I certainly hope Dr. King and his staff will think very carefully about what they do and how they do it. Racial tensions in this country are now at a high pitch. Entirely too many people are of the mind that another bloody summer is in the offing. No matter what anybody says, Negroes have not benefited in any substantial way from any riot. Other than a looters holiday, the riots of the past have been very costly to all Negroes. We must then do all we can to prevent riots. Washington must not become another frustrating, bloody battleground."

"The Cleveland Press", a Cleveland daily afternoon newspaper of general circulation, in its March 6, 1968 issue, page A8, had an article entitled, "200 Clevelanders Sought for Dr. King's March", which read as follows:

"Efforts have begun to enlist 200 Clevelanders to take part in the 'jobs or income' demonstration to be led by Dr. Martin Luther King in Washington on Apr. 22.

"The goal is to have 200 representatives from 15 cities, totaling 3000 participants, reported Hilbert Perry, director of the Bruce Klunder Freedom House.

"The Freedom House is one of three groups here which have endorsed the demonstration and are recruiting participants. The others are Domestic Workers of America, a union of household workers, and the Cleveland Welfare Rights Movement, made up mostly of mothers on relief rolls and their supporters.

"They are attempting to raise funds to charter buses to Washington and also seeking contributions to pay for child care of mothers taking part, or families who will volunteer to tend children.

"IN WASHINGTON, churches are to be asked to provide meals and lodgings for those taking part.

"Perry said those being recruited here cannot be informed yet of what form the demonstration will take because plans are still being worked out by Dr. King's headquarters in Atlanta. But it is expected to start with mass calls on senators and representatives from the communities represented.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"WE HOPE to get a pledge that the Government will become the employer of last resort," said Perry, explaining that the Government would establish programs to employ those unable to get jobs elsewhere.

"Present training and employment programs are woefully inadequate. And we doubt that business will provide the jobs needed despite the government subsidy to be offered," he said.

"Also to be urged is that Congress discard the new Social Security amendment which would limit the number of children on the Aid to Dependent Children program for whom federal funds would be provided after July 1."

CV T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 12, 1968, that Reverend E. RANDOL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER are the two main individuals who have been working to organize the WSP group in the Cleveland area, however, they also have some other unknown individuals who are assisting in the recruiting activities.

For the most part, OSBURN and BIBLER have been working on two other projects which seem to take most of their time; namely, Operation Breadbasket, which is a program aimed at increasing Negro employment through a boycott of various stores and employers; the second is the strike at St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, by the Building, Service, and Maintenance Union. This strike was recently settled, which will now give Reverend OSBURN and BIBLER more time to work on the WSP.

The WSP in Cleveland has an office at 7902 Hough Avenue, which is not being used as all the work is being done from Reverend OSBURN's apartment at the Park Lane Villa Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio. The WSP has been recruiting people in Cleveland through the Bruce Klunder Freedom House, the Domestic Workers Union, and Mothers on Welfare. Reverend OSBURN plans to recruit two hundred people from the poor areas, those on welfare, etc., and OSBURN feels he will not have too much trouble in getting this many people as he has recruited larger numbers in the past for other projects. Reverend OSBURN has not indicated who will take care of the families of those making this WSP trip to Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, where the money will come from to pay for the transportation, or living expenses in that city, means of transportation, etc.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, on March 3, 1968, page 3, reported on the tribute to Dr. W.E.B. DuBois, held at Carnegie Hall, on Friday night, February 23, 1968. It said that the event was organized by "Freedomways" Magazine and inaugurated a year of celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Dr. DuBois. DuBois was described as a "scholar, writer, teacher, organizer and Communist".

The article stated that Dr. Martin Luther King delivered the address honoring the DuBois Centennial Year. It recounted King's remarks in praise of DuBois and said that:

"Summing up DuBois' life, King declared 'We can't talk of Dr. DuBois without recognizing that he was a radical all of his life. Some people would like to ignore the fact that he was a Communist in his later years. It is worth noting that Abraham Lincoln warmly welcomed the support of Karl Marx during the Civil War and corresponded with him freely'."

The article also stated that "King was vigorously applauded when he said:-

"It is time to cease muting the fact that Dr. DuBois was a genius and chose to be a Communist. Our irrational obsessive anti-Communism has led us into too many quagmires....."

King, according to the article, recalled that DuBois was a leader of the peace movement in his time and, as is the case with Dr. Benjamin Spock, was indicted and arrested, in February, 1951, as a leader of the Peace Information Center. Alluding to the activities he is planning for Washington, D.C., King is reported to have said that DuBois will be with those participating in these activities in Washington, D.C., in April, 1968, "to demand our right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness".

"The Worker" account of the DuBois celebration related that J. H. O'Dell, the Associate Managing Editor of "Freedomways" Magazine, opened the evening's program and welcomed the audience to the centennial celebration. It stated further that Ossie Davis acted as master of ceremonies and that "Davis called on the audience to come to the aid of the militant W.E.B. DuBois Clubs which are being persecuted by the subversive activities control board under the revived McCarran Act". It quoted Davis as saying "the DuBois Clubs are not expendable".

Characterizations of Freedomways Associates, Inc., and the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), are set forth in the appendix.

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INC.

The records of the New York State Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the Certificate of Incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Inc., was filed on March 2, 1961.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro Movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a second source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CP, USA by JAMES JACKSON.

The First Quarter, 1967, issue of "Freedomways", self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, lists the following as its editorial staff:

JOHN HENRIK CLARKE, Associate Editor
ESTHER JACKSON, Managing Editor
J. H. O'DELL, Associate Managing Editor

A third source made available information on July 1, 1964, indicating that JOHN HENRIK CLARKE attended the first and founding meeting of the American Institute for Marxist Studies- (AIMS) which was held on December 19, 1963, and continued on January 10, 1964.

This source also made available information on August 14, 1964, indicating that CLARKE is an "Associate" of AIM.

On March 16, 1966, the second source advised that JAMES JACKSON, accompanied by his wife, ESTHER JACKSON, was scheduled to depart on March 25, 1966, from the United States en route to Moscow to attend the 23rd Congress of the CP of the

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR MARXIST STUDIES

A source advised on April 9, 1963, that on April 7, 1963, at a meeting of the District Committee of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), of New England, held in Boston, Massachusetts, HERBERT APTHEKER stated he was developing an organization called American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS), which would eventually legalize the CP. He stated AIMS would publish literature on History, Science, Physics, Archeology and other subjects which would be put out quarterly with various supplements.

A second source advised on June 30, 1966, that HERBERT APTHEKER was elected to the National Committee, CPUSA, at the 18th National Convention of the CPUSA, held June 22-26, 1966, in New York City.

A third source advised on June 7, 1963, that on June 3, 1963, HERBERT APTHEKER spoke at the CPUSA, New York District Board meeting concerning AIMS. APTHEKER stated that AIMS would unite and strengthen the CP although the CP would not be connected with it. He stated AIMS was being formed to operate within the scope of the McCarran and Smith Acts and would legally bring Marxist material and opinions to the attention of American scholars and the general public.

A fourth source reported on August 29, 1966, that AIMS issues a "Newsletter" every other month. This source also made available the information that AIMS issues publications and holds symposiums concerning Marxism.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, GUS HALL, CPUSA, General Secretary, indicated that the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, near the conclusion of the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New-York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth confidential source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing plans of the advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which deals with his massive civil disobedience campaign to be held in Washington, D. C., in April, 1968.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

Recently Sullivan AT 1387-R advised that Stanley David Levison and Harry Wachtel, both advisors to King with subversive backgrounds, were in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, SCLC, concerning the "Washington Spring Project."

Rutherford mentioned this conference to several staff members of SCLC. Among the points discussed, according to Rutherford, were whether King should visit President Johnson for the purpose of discussing problems of "ghetto people"; whether King should speak before a joint session of Congress; and whether the SCLC should consider legal action against the Government in a form of a lawsuit for payment of money to Negroes as reimbursement for the many years they have been held in "slavery."

Memorandum G. C. Moore to W. C. Sullivan

Summary

CG 7116-R recently advised that to date Chicago officials of SCLC have recruited approximately one hundred individuals who have tentatively agreed to participate in King's campaign this spring. The individuals are primarily welfare recipients and youths from Chicago's near West Side. King's Chicago staff members also reported that recent events to solicit funds have been largely unsuccessful and appeals for money have been met with flat refusals.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is felt that the President would be interested in receiving information showing that King's communist advisors are attempting to plan a meeting between the President and King or perhaps having King speak before a joint session of Congress.

RECOMMENDATION:

That copies of the enclosures be forwarded to Mrs. Mildred Stegall at the White House; Mr. William Welsh, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman; Secretary of Labor Wirtz; Secretary of Defense; Secret Service; the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorneys General Pollak, Yeagley, and Vinson; the Inter-Division Information Unit of the Department; and to the Departments of Army, Navy, and Air Force.

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference recently with Stanley Levison and Harry Wachtel, both advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, concerning King's massive civil disobedience campaign called the "Washington Spring Project."

Later, Rutherford mentioned this conference to several staff members of King's organization. Among the points discussed, according to Rutherford, were whether Martin Luther King, Jr., should visit President Johnson for the purpose of discussing problems of "ghetto people"; whether King should speak before a joint session of Congress; and whether the Southern Christian Leadership Conference should consider legal action against the United States Government in the form of a lawsuit for payment of money to Negroes as reimbursement for the many years they have been held in "slavery."

Two officials of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference met with the "Washington Spring Project" staff in Chicago, Illinois, on March 1, 1968. The Chicago staff members reported that efforts on their part to date have resulted in the recruitment of one-hundred individuals who have tentatively agreed to participate in the "Washington Spring Project." The individuals are primarily welfare recipients and youths from Chicago's near West Side. The Chicago "Washington Spring Project" staff members have also reported that recently efforts to solicit funds from former Southern Christian Leadership Conference contributors have been largely unsuccessful and appeals for money have been met with flat refusals.

At this meeting, they discussed King's massive civil disobedience campaign called the "Washington Spring Project" and the issues King should raise during the demonstrations.

Jones informed Levison that Harry Wachtel, another advisor to King, had drafted some material in this regard which calls for full employment, a guaranteed wage, and a guaranteed annual income. Also, the Reverend Frederick Kirkpatrick, a coordinator in the New York area for King's project, had furnished Jones with a pamphlet entitled "Declaration of Principle on the March in April." Jones commented that this item was three to four pages in length and was being distributed under the auspices of the "Committee of National Negro Churchmen."

Levison mentioned to Jones that he had sent out a mailing to 80,000 individuals, who have contributed to King's organization in the past two years, soliciting funds. Levison remarked that the returns are running ahead of last year's response with $15,000 being received in one day. Levison advised this letter soliciting funds was

Levison told Jones that things are going well in the mobilization for the "Washington Spring Project." King informed Levison recently that people from Alabama and Mississippi are "just raring to go."

Because of this, the demonstration would not start the first week of April as originally planned.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

On February 29, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that WILLIAM A. RUTHERFORD, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), during the latter part of February 1968 mentioned to several officers of SCLC that he had recently discussed SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) with Stanley Levison and Harry Wachtel. According to Rutherford during this discussion consideration was given to: one, whether Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, should endeavor to discuss with President Lyndon B. Johnson problems of Ghetto people; two, the advisability of Reverend King addressing a joint session of Congress as to problems and complaints of Ghetto people; and three, whether SCLC should consider legal action against the United States Government for financial redress to Negroes based upon the many years the American Negro has been held in "slavery". Rutherford offered no further details regarding these points.

It was source's understanding that Rutherford would discuss these matters subsequently with Andrew J. Young, Executive Vice President, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; and Bernard Lafayette, Program Administrator, SCLC.

Concerning the possibility of him meeting with President Johnson, Reverend King merely commented he felt that at the present time the President would realize a greater publicity advantage from such a meeting than he or SCLC.

STANLEY LEVISON

A confidential source advised in April, 1964, that STANLEY LEVISON was a secret member of the Communist Party (CP), USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. LEVISON was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position in civil rights. LEVISON's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On February 28, 1968, a confidential source advised that during the recent past William A. Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC) had suggested that SCLC consider the practicality of periodically publishing a form of intra-organization newspaper. Rutherford explained the purpose of such a publication would be essentially to maintain a closer relationship between SCLC Headquarters personnel and Field Staff.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Rutherford's suggestion was recently adopted by SCLC and the Department of Information, SCLC, is currently in the process of preparing such a publication which will be entitled, "Soul Forth". This paper is GA being initially designed for the edification of demonstrators recruited for SCLC's forthcoming Washington Spring Project (WSP) by explaining such topics as the necessity for Federal legislation regarding jobs or income, various objectives of the WSP, general news about the project, et cetera.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

GA The masthead of "Soul Forth" will indicate that Thomas Offenburger, Director, Department of Information, SCLC, is the editor of this publication, assisted by one Bill Mahoney.

Source advised he understood that Mahoney who was recently employed by the SCLC Department of Information was formerly affiliated with the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, during the latter part of February 1968 commented to several

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on February 23, 1968, reflecting that Stanley Levison was going to meet Martin Luther King, Jr., on the night of February 23, 1968, at Kennedy International Airport, New York City, to take him to the "Freedomways" Magazine-sponsored affair at Carnegie Hall, New York City, that night.

The same source learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison told Clarence Jones about the affair sponsored by "Freedomways" Magazine on the night of February 23, 1968. Levison said he believed it illustrates the degree of despair and depression prevalent in progressive circles. He described it as the "deadest meeting" he had ever seen and said that people are depressed because they are frustrated over the Vietnam War and also feel there are no answers to riots in the streets. Referring to Martin Luther King's speech, he said that King has never read anything as badly. Levison attributed this to King feeling uncomfortable at the meeting. He said that King felt it was his duty to pay a tribute to (W.E.B.) DuBois but also knew it was not really his (type of) crowd. He said King read his speech as if he did not understand what he was reading.

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 26, 1968, that the "Freedomways" Magazine sponsored affair celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the birth of W.E.B. DuBois was held on Friday night, February 23, 1968, at Carnegie Hall, New York City. The affair lasted from 9:00 PM to Midnight with over 1,000 people in attendance. Ossie Davis was the master of ceremonies and the speakers included Martin Luther King, Jack O'Dell and several others.

According to the source, King, in his speech, praised W.E.B. DuBois and mentioned his planned demonstration in Washington, D.C. King stated that, with respect to this demonstration, they would stay as long as necessary to accomplish their aims. He stressed, however, that it would be non-violent in character.

A characterization of Freedomways Associates, publisher of the magazine "Freedomways", is attached.

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INC.

The records of the New York State Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the Certificate of Incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Inc., was filed on March 2, 1961.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro Movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a second source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CP, USA by JAMES JACKSON.

The First Quarter, 1967, issue of "Freedomways", self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, lists the following as its editorial staff:

JOHN HENRIK CLARKE, Associate Editor
ESTHER JACKSON, Managing Editor

A source advised on April 9, 1963, that on April 7, 1963, at a meeting of the District Committee of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), of New England, held in Boston, Massachusetts, HERBERT APTHEKER stated he was developing an organization called American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS), which would eventually legalize the CP. He stated AIMS would publish literature on History, Science, Physics, Archeology and other subjects which would be put out quarterly with various supplements.

A second source advised on June 30, 1966, that HERBERT APTHEKER was elected to the National Committee, CPUSA, at the 18th National Convention of the CPUSA, held June 22-26, 1966, in New York City.

A third source advised on June 7, 1963, that on June 3, 1963, HERBERT APTHEKER spoke at the CPUSA, New York District Board meeting concerning AIMS. APTHEKER stated that AIMS would unite and strengthen the CP although the CP would not be connected with it. He stated AIMS was being formed to operate within the scope of the McCarran and Smith Acts and would legally bring Marxist material and opinions to the attention of American scholars and the general public.

A fourth source reported on August 29, 1966, that AIMS issues a "Newsletter" every other month. This source also made available the information that AIMS issues publications and holds symposiums concerning Marxism.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Clarence Jones and Stanley Levison discussed the April, 1968, demonstrations planned by Martin Luther King., Jr., Head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), for Washington, D.C. Jones noted that he had a draft of some material from Harry Wachtel which calls for full employment, a guaranteed wage, and a guaranteed annual income. He said also that a Minister whom he believed is Kirkpatrick (The Reverend Frederick Kirkpatrick, a coordinator in the New York area for the Washington Spring Project) gave him a Declaration of Principle on the march in April. Jones described this declaration as being of 3 or 4 pages with the inscription "Committee of National Negro Churchmen" at the bottom.

Levison commented that Kirkpatrick is distributing this material in churches. He told Jones to send this material to Harry (Wachtel) with any comments he might have.

Levison also mentioned that he considered it significant that a mailing, which was sent out to reach 80,000 who have contributed in the past two years or more, is running

He added that this letter will go to another 250,000 and more. According to Levison, this mailing is to a middle class group so that it is a test of the middle class intellectual, the most concerned type of people.

Levison also commented that, in general, he believes things are going well with the mobilization. He added that King has said that he is getting very favorable comments from many quarters and that in Alabama and Mississippi "they're just raring to go".

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. ~~In late 1963, and early, 1964,~~ Foreign Intelligence Operation Ongoing he ~~criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Harry Wachtel is the Executive Vice President of the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, New York, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information in December, 1949, that Harry H. Wachtel, 41 Broad Street, New York, New York, was on a list of individuals carried as active members of the National Lawyers Guild.

Regarding Harry Wachtel's wife, Leonora, it is noted that the same confidential source furnished information on March 5, 1944, which revealed that her name and address were on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County CP.

With respect to the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, it is to be noted that this organization is an adjunct of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), of which Martin Luther King, Jr. is the president, and serves to raise funds for the SCLC.

Clarence Jones is the General Counsel to the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, 15 East 40th Street, New York, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on February 23, 1968, reflecting that Stanley Levison was going to meet Martin Luther King, Jr., on the night of February 23, 1968, at Kennedy International Airport, New York City, to take him to the "Freedomways" Magazine sponsored affair at Carnegie Hall, New York City, that night.

The same source learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison told Clarence Jones about the affair sponsored by "Freedomways" Magazine on the night of February 23, 1968. Levison said he believed it illustrates the degree of despair and depression prevalent in progressive circles. He described it as the "deadest meeting" he had ever seen and said that people are depressed because they are frustrated over the Vietnam War and also feel there are no answers to riots in the streets. Referring to Martin Luther King's speech, he said that King has never read anything as badly. Levison attributed this to King feeling uncomfortable at the meeting. He said that King felt it was his duty to pay a tribute to (W.E.B.) DuBois but also knew it was not really his (type of) crowd. He said King read his speech as if he did not understand what he was reading.

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 26, 1968, that the "Freedomways" Magazine sponsored affair celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the birth of W.E.B. DuBois was held on Friday night, February 23, 1968, at Carnegie Hall, New York City. The affair lasted from 9:00 PM to Midnight with over 1,000 people in attendance. Ossie Davis was the master of ceremonies and the speakers included Martin Luther King, Jack O'Dell and several others.

According to the source, King, in his speech, praised W.E.B. DuBois and mentioned his planned demonstration in Washington, D.C. King stated that, with respect to this demonstration, they would stay as long as necessary to accomplish their aims. He stressed, however, that it would be non-violent in character.

A characterization of Freedomways Associates, publisher of the magazine "Freedomways", is attached.

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

"The New York Times", August 28, 1963, page 3, contained an article datelined at Accra, Ghana, stating that W.E.B. DuBois died on August 28, 1963. It said that he went to Ghana as the guest of President Kwame Nkrumah to become Director of the Encyclopedia Africana, which was sponsored by the Government of Ghana, and became a citizen of that country. The article also noted that "During his later years, he was active in many left-wing and Communist activities. In the Fall of 1961, at the age of 93, he joined the Communist Party (CP).

Jack O'Dell

The Fall, 1967 issue of "Freedomways", lists Jack O'Dell under the name of J.H. O'Dell, as its Associate Managing Editor.

It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro Movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a second source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CP, USA by JAMES JACKSON.

The First Quarter, 1967, issue of "Freedomways", self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, lists the following as its editorial staff:

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 15, 1968, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. traveled to the Edwards, Mississippi area to attend a meeting held by the Mississippians for Political Welfare Rights (MPWR). He advised that the purpose of the meeting was for King to solicit support for his Poor Peoples March at Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, and also to lend support to MPWR's activities. Source related that King planned to complete his appearances in Mississippi on February 15, 1968, and travel to Montgomery, Alabama, where a similar meeting was to be held. He advised that presently in Grenada, Mississippi, Leon Wilbert Hall and R. B. Cottonreader, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) employees, were actively attempting to locate individuals to travel to Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, to take part in the demonstration. Source advised that Reverend B. J. Cameron, President, Grenada County Freedom Movement, and affiliate of SCLC, will not travel to Washington in the Spring.

On February 19, 1968, the source advised that Hall was scheduled to appear before an unknown group at Batesville, Mississippi, the evening of February 19, 1968, in an effort to gain support for the Washington Spring Project.

On February 20, 1968, a second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Dr. Martin Luther King appeared before a group known as the National Welfare Rights Organization, together with his aides, in Chicago, Illinois, on February 3-4, 1968. He advised that this group is operating in Mississippi as the MPWR. He stated that delegates from 24 states were present at the Chicago, Illinois meeting which resulted in a working coalition being established between this group and SCLC to bring about a social change in the country. The source advised that King also put forth requests for support of his Poor Peoples March in April at Washington, D.C. He advised that the delegate from Mississippi was one Geraldine Smith, Holmes County, Mississippi, and furthermore that the National President of this organization was an individual from Los Angeles, California.

On February 20, 1968, a third source advised that Martin Luther King's group is attempting to recruit 200 persons to participate in the April 26, 1968, demonstration at Washington, D.C. He related that the primary recruiter in this project in Mississippi appeared to be Mike Higson, research worker, Lawyers Committee, 233 North Farish Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

On February 17, 1968, a fourth source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a recent meeting was held in Washington, D.C. in which Reverend Martin Luther King and the former SNCC Chairman Stokely Carmichael were present. A discussion at this meeting centered around the Washington Spring Project. The source felt that the Project was completely controlled by King and that any attempts to take over for the purpose of promoting violence will meet with little success. The source reported that Carmichael stated something to the effect "If King is going to run it, then that will be all right".

The source advised that a meeting was to take place in Miami, Florida, February 19-23, 1968, and that this meeting was being financed partially by the Ford Foundation for the purpose of training Negro Ministers from large northern cities in the area of leadership. Source related that the captioned matter would possibly be discussed at the meeting, but that was not the primary purpose for the session.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Inspector OWEN W. DAVIS and Detective SILAS VAUGHN, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., presently in Miami on assignment, stated February 21, 1968, that they attended workshop meetings and a general meeting on February 20, 1968. There was no discussion at these meetings relative to the Washington Spring Project. The meetings generally related to the Ministers Leadership Training Program, as outlined in a leaflet distributed to the delegates. Inspector DAVIS estimated 20 Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) members among the delegates. He said most of the delegates are ministers from various sections of the United States.

Inspector DAVIS stated a press conference was held February 20, 1968, with Dr. ANDREW YOUNG and Reverend T. Y. ROGERS, JR., answering most of the questions. Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING was not present at the press conference and has not been seen at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel by any of the security and hotel personnel on February 20, 1968, and the morning of February 21, 1968.

MM T-1 furnished the following information; on February 21, 1968:

The SCLC meeting which he is attending at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors, continued throughout the day of February 20, 1968, without any major developments.

The group of ministers attending was broken up into workshop units of approximately nine or ten ministers each. Each group had a leader who directed the activities of his workshop.

One such workshop was directed by Reverend JESSIE JACKSON, who is a SCLC leader from Chicago. During the progress of this workshop, Reverend JACKSON made the following statements:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

He advocated that at least 1000 ministers go to Washington to demand that the United States pull out of Viet Nam. He felt that if such activity could be arranged, it would bring sufficient weight to bear to cause the Government to take such action.

He discussed what was termed "bread basket project" which was described as an SCLC project which would be instituted in the large city ghettos, wherein economic pressure would be brought on white merchants to employ Negro help and also on the white business community to deposit funds in Negro banks. These projects were to be set up in advance and if the desired result was not obtained, then the SCLC would resort to picketing and demonstrating and this would be brought about through pre-arrangements whereby it would be only necessary to make a number of phone calls and give a code word "knock out" which would bring the desired pickets and demonstrators to a pre-arranged location.

The above was discussed in general terms and no specific cities or areas were mentioned. But this was put forth as a project that could be put into effect.

Reverend JAMES BEVEL, a KING aide from Chicago, addressed a group in which he stated that he firmly believed in burning down the cities if something significant would come out of it. But that he did not believe in burning the cities just for the sake of burning them.

(JAMES BEVEL is referred to in the Appendix section of this memorandum.)

Reverend BEVEL additionally made the statement that he had attempted to get Negro leaders in New York to burn down the city when ADAM CLAYTON POWELL lost his Congressional seat, however, was unsuccessful.

Also from BEVEL's address, it was apparent that there is a marked growing tendency away from de-segregation and integration and a definite move by the SCLC toward economic and political black power.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Additionally, it was evident from BEVEL's address that there is a growing tendency to degrade the institutionalized church which was described as the "Sunday Church" that is well established in this country and to unite all of the colored churches into one tremendous, powerful group. Also, there is evidence of attempts to break the moral fiber of attending ministers. As an example, Reverend BEVEL stated that he was convinced and firmly believed that Mary was raped by a Roman soldier and that Christ was not the result of a virgin birth.

(First Name Unknown) WOODRUFF, an Episcopal minister from Philadelphia was overheard to state that he was head of the "Liberation School" in Philadelphia and that he had many classes in various homes in the area. He stated that he was in favor of using terrorist tactics to achieve the ends of "Black Power." Also, it was overheard that WOODRUFF allegedly had been arrested in Nashville, Tennessee, some time ago for having operated a "hate school."

On February 21, 1968, MM T-2 furnished the following information:

At a workshop meeting held on February 21, 1968, the fact that the Ford Foundation was paying for this meeting was discussed.

The main topic of discussion was, however, "operation bread basket" which is to be put into effect by the ministers when they return to their respective cities. This project is to bring economic pressure upon the white business community in order to secure better jobs, better housing, more pay and to generally improve the conditions of the Negroes in the large ghetto areas.

This project will take the form of a coordinated, concerted effort to bring economic pressure and efforts will be made to coordinate this program throughout the country so that economic pressure can be brought on some specific segment of the economy on a national basis. An example was given wherein picketing and demonstrations could occur simultaneously at a business enterprise such as "Coca Cola" so that on a pre-arranged date and time, pickets and demonstrators would appear simultaneously at concerns operated by Coca Cola or any other similar business throughout the country.

There has been no discussion of the Washington Spring Project and the conference is moving along smoothly with no discussion of any expected violence or disturbances which might possibly lead to violence.

Former Senator HARRY P. CAIN (formerly from Washington State, now residing in Miami, Florida) who has offices in the executive suite of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association office building, Miami, Florida, telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on February 21, 1968. Senator CAIN advised that he is chairman of the Community Relations Board for Dade County, Florida, and was contacted by two individuals who stated they were aides of Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. These aides stated that Reverend KING desired to meet with a small representative group of Miami people involved with the Community Relations Board in order that he might explain in detail what his programs would be for the coming months.

Senator CAIN reported that he was arranging such a meeting and he expects to have approximately forty community leaders present, including representatives from all local newspapers. He stated that the meeting was not for the purpose of obtaining a news story and those attending would be so advised. Senator CAIN reported that the meeting will be held at 12:15 PM, February 22, 1968, in the Terrace Room of the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Copies of this memorandum are being disseminated to the United States Secret Service, Miami; United States Attorney, Miami; 111th M. I. Group, Miami and Orlando, Florida; OSI, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia, and NISO, Charleston, South Carolina.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

APPENDIXJAMES BEVEL

BEVEL, in early March, 1966, was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing information concerning the progress of Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), to organize a massive civil disobedience campaign in Washington, D. C., in the Spring of 1968.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

5 - D. Bishop

King is currently holding the first of two workshops from 2/19-23/68 at Miami, Florida. He has invited approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the nation to attend this meeting. The Ford Foundation recently gave King's organization a $230,000 grant to hold these workshops in an effort to develop responsible leadership in the Negro ghetto areas of the nation's major cities. It has been determined that King plans to discuss the Washington Spring Project at this workshop.

Dr. John A. Morsell, Assistant Executive Director, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), has advised his organization is not supporting the Washington Spring Project and is taking no part in it. He advised the NAACP has tried, without success, to dissuade King from executing the Project. Dr. Morsell is afraid that King cannot control the demonstrators and there is a likelihood that the overall demonstration will be taken over by extremists.

King appears to be concentrating his attention on the South where he has chartered a small twin-engine aircraft to help speed him about urging people to support his campaign.

Source
AT 1387-R advised recently that the entire Washington Spring Project seems to be suffering from indecision, petty bickering among the staff members and the idiosyncrasies of King's ego. This source advised that King is worried about the lack of progress being made by his recruiters. He is concerned about the success of the program. He has instructed his staff to seriously consider whether or not they can successfully carry out the Project. If they cannot then it will be necessary to establish a reason as to why he finds it necessary to discontinue the Washington Spring Project.

RECOMMENDATION:

That copies of the enclosures be forwarded to Mrs. Mildred Stegall at the White House; Mr. William Welsh, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman; Secretary of Labor Wirtz; Secretary of Defense; Secret Service; the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorneys General Pollak, Yeagley, and Vinson; the Inter-Division Information Unit of the Department; and to the Departments of Army; Navy; and Air Force.

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is holding the first of two workshops to train Negro ministers in urban leadership from February 19 through 23, 1968, at Miami, Florida. He has invited approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the Nation to attend this meeting at the plush new Sheraton - Four Ambassadors Hotel.

The Ford Foundation recently gave King's organization a $230,000 grant to hold these workshops in an effort to develop responsible leadership in the Negro ghetto areas of the Nation's major cities.

It has been determined that King's massive civil disobedience campaign, which he calls the "Washington Spring Project," will be discussed at this workshop.

Dr. John A. Morsell, Assistant Executive Director, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, advised Special Agents of this Bureau that his organization is not supporting the Washington Spring Project and is taking no part in it. He advised the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has tried, without success, to dissuade King from executing the Project. Dr. Morsell is afraid that King cannot control the demonstrators and there is a likelihood that the overall demonstration will be taken over by extremists.

This past week King concentrated his attention on the South and spoke at rather large gatherings in Birmingham, Montgomery, and Selma, Alabama.

King has chartered a small twin-engine aircraft to help speed him about the South urging people to support his Washington Spring Project.

Another source advised recently that the entire Washington Spring Project seems to be suffering from indecision, petty bickering among the staff members, and the idiosyncrasies of King's ego. This source advised that King is worried about the lack of progress being made by his recruiters. He is concerned about the success of the program. He has instructed his staff to seriously consider whether or not they can successfully carry out the Project. If they cannot, then it will be necessary to establish a reason as to why he finds it necessary to discontinue the Washington Spring Project.

In this connection, the "Miami Herald" newspaper on February 18, 1968, reported that some Negro leaders will urge King to detour his planned massive civil disobedience demonstration scheduled for April, 1968, in Washington, D. C., and redirect the demonstrators to the local districts of Congressmen who have voted against civil rights legislation. These leaders feel that Congressmen do not care what happens in Washington, D. C., but they would feel the impact of these demonstrations in their home districts.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The February 18, 1968, issue of "The Sunday Star," a daily Washington, D.C., newspaper reported that Dr. Martin Luther King's Washington campaign began quietly as Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) field workers opened an office at 14th and U Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C.

The article identified the field workers as J.T. Johnson, Lester Hankerson and Henry Brownlee of the SCLC and Anthony Henry and William Moyer of the "American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker affiliated organization."

On February 19, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on February 16, 1968, he had passed the building which has been secured by the SCLC and it gave no appearance of being in use. He passed the building again on February 19, 1968, and observed that only two desks had been placed in the building. The office gave no appearance of being opened. He further advised that a typewritten notice was on SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, stationary on a window indicating the office to be the headquarters of Dr. Martin Luther King and his "poor peoples march" on Washington.

On February 20, 1968, a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised the building located on the northwest corner of 14th and U Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C., was being readied for use by Dr. Martin Luther King and the SCLC. This source observed the building to have two entrances. One entrance is located on 1401 U Street, N.W., while the other is 2000 - 14th Street, N.W. He advised that no activity was taking place at the office.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from this Bureau dated February 19, 1968.

The "Miami Herald" a local Miami, Florida, newspaper on February 20, 1968, reported that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., opened a series of meetings in Miami, Florida, on February 19, 1968, designed to help Negro clergymen minister to the social and economic needs of their congregations. This article reported that Dr. KING and Reverend ANDREW YOUNG, one of his top aides in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), said the five-day series of conferences will not include planning for civil rights or anti-war demonstrations.

It was also reported that Dr. KING and Reverend YOUNG both said they did not expect STOKELY CARMICHAEL and RAP BROWN, leaders of the vocal Black Nationalist militancy to attend. However, Reverend YOUNG said, "If STOKELY and RAP come we won't throw them out." This article goes on to report that in addition to the 150 official delegates, about 50 more ministers are expected to attend the meetings, which are not open to the public.

It was reported that about 125 delegates attended a luncheon on February 19, 1968, and heard a talk by Dr. R. A. ABERNATHY, a Vice-President of SCLC. In addition, this article reports that three lecturers, followed by workshop sessions, are scheduled for February 20, 1968.

MM T-1 advised that the Ministers Conference at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors, Miami, Florida, opened on schedule on February 19, 1968. In welcoming the group, Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., reiterated that the purpose of this conference was for discussion, study and training in connection with problems facing the Negroes in the big city areas.

ENCLOSURE

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

He further stated that attention would be given to attempting to reconcile the term "black power" with the over-all civil rights movement in the United States. During the opening conference, nonviolence was continuously stressed.

Dr. KING stated that over-integration could occur to the point that Negroes could lose their identity. He gave as an example the integration of the Methodist Church, however, this was not further explained.

The only remark that was made to the people in attendance relative to the "Washington trip" was that this conference in Miami would not be used for the purpose of recruiting people for the trip to Washington, nor would it be a topic of discussion.

On February 20, 1968, the entire group will be broken up into "workshop units" according to their interest and needs of the area from which the various ministers came. All leaders are to take part in the activities of the workshop and report back to the entire assembly.

During the opening day of this meeting, only one item of dissension occurred and that involved some opposition to the fact that apparently DAN MONAHAN, who was formerly connected with Urban Housing, has been invited to address the conference in Miami. Some ministers disagreed with this invitation, however, Reverend ANDREW YOUNG stated that his presence could contribute to the conference, and that he should be heard.

On February 20, 1968, Lieutenant HARVERT SWILLEY, Intelligence Unit, Miami, Florida, Police Department, reported that several items of literature were being passed out to the delegates. Included in the literature was a leaflet captioned "The Southern Christian Leadership Conference" and outlines the purpose of the training program. In addition, a statement made by Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., Atlanta, Georgia, on December 4, 1967, which statement relates to the Washington Spring Project, was also being passed out.

These two items are quoted as follows:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., President

"MINISTERS LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM
Rev. T. Y. Rogers, Jr., Director

"CRISIS OF THE CITIES: A CREATIVE ANGLE

"...transforming the inchoate rage of the ghetto into a creative force for change...."

"The Ministers Leadership Training Program is designed to train local leaders in the knowledge of the many problems which the residents of the ghetto face and in ways of solving these problems. Our focus is the Black Preacher and the Black church for we believe that the greatest potential power for controlling the forces which make and sustain as well as those which can change the structure of the ghetto, is within the Black church. We further believe that because of the central place for which the Black church holds in the Negro community, we can develop the kind of leadership which will develop programs to transfer control of the ghetto to those who reside there. Finally, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference is an extension of the church and therefore much of our emphasis should be on strengthening the witness of the church in areas of life where problems are greatest.

"The Ministers Leadership Training Program will be conducted in fifteen metropolitan areas of our nation. We have selected a minimum of eight and a maximum of twenty preachers from these fifteen areas, depending upon the size and population, who will participate in our program. Our program begins with an orientation workshop in Miami, Florida. This workshop is designed to acquaint the preachers who will participate in our program with the over all history and philosophy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and with the programs which demand our concern at present. This workshop is also designed to acquaint the participants with the nature and scope "of the multiplicity of problems facing the residents of the ghetto. Our emphasis will be on a detailed examination of the forces which make the ghetto a reality; the structures which maintain the ghetto; and the possibility of destroying the ghetto by restructuring and changing ownership of the economic structures of the ghetto. There will also be an examination of the theology of the church, a look at the history of the Black church, and a re-defining of the ethic of the Black church in terms of the problems faced by Black churches today.

"To accomplish the above mentioned ends we have invited to this workshop persons with expertise in the problems of the ghetto. They will deal with the 'Making of the Ghetto,' 'the New Mythology,' 'Political Action and Political Coalition,' the 'Challenge of an Urban Ministry,' 'Jobs,' 'Welfare Rights,' 'Nonviolence and Social Change,' and other problems facing the poor.

"During the orientation workshop the cities will be organized. A convener will be chosen for each city with the exception of New York City which will have a convener for Brooklyn and Queens and another for Manhattan and the Bronx. These sixteen conveners will call the men of their cities together once per week for study, discussion, learning, planning and executing programs. The conveners will serve as the link between the Atlanta office of the Ministers Leadership Training Program and the particular city involved, and will channel programs and information to the members of their group.

"In brief the goals of the Ministers Leadership Training Program are as follows:

- "1. To sensitize Black preachers to the problems of the ghetto and the relationship of these problems to their ministries.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

- "2. To create a discipline for analyzing and understanding the forces which create and sustain the ghetto.
- "3. To develop an understanding of the various methods of solving problems and to focus these methods on solving the problems of the ghetto.
- "4. To lay the foundation for the organization and structuring of the ghetto to meet the needs of the people who live there.
- "5. To create a common force of grass-roots people to affect positive change in the ghetto.

"The problems with which this program is concerned are poverty, employment, education, housing, police brutality, inter-group relations, health and welfare, community services and property ownership.

"The cities in which this program will be conducted are:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"Statement by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.
President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference
Atlanta, Georgia

"December 4, 1967

"Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Last week the staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference held one of the most important meetings we have ever convened. We had intensive discussions and analyses of our work and of the challenges which confront us and our nation, and at the end we made a decision which I wish to announce today.

"The Southern Christian Leadership Conference will lead waves of the nation's poor and disinherited to Washington, D. C., next spring to demand redress of their grievances by the United States government and to secure at least jobs or income for all.

"We will go there, we will demand to be heard, and we will stay until America responds. If this means forcible repression of our movement, we will confront it, for we have done this before. If this means scorn or ridicule, we embrace it, for that is what America's poor now receive. If it means jail, we accept it willingly, for the millions of poor already are imprisoned by exploitation and discrimination. But we hope, with growing confidence, that our campaign in Washington will receive at first a sympathetic understanding across our nation, followed by dramatic expansion of nonviolent demonstrations in Washington and simultaneous protests elsewhere. In short, we will be petitioning our government moves against poverty.

"We have now begun preparations for the Washington campaign. Our staff will soon be taking new assignments to organize people to go to Washington from 10 key cities and 5 rural areas. This will be no mere one-day march in Washington, but a trek to the nation's capital by suffering and outraged citizens

"who will go to stay until some definite and positive action is taken to provide jobs and income for the poor.

"We are sending our staff into these key areas to meet with the local leadership of these areas to discuss their readiness to cooperate with us in this venture.

"In the coming weeks we will disclose our detailed plans on mobilizing this massive campaign. and on the specific proposals which we are formulating.

"Today I would like to tell you why the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has decided to undertake this task with the advice and participation we anticipate from other organizations and thousands of individuals.

"America is at a crossroads of history, and it is critically important for us, a nation and a society, to choose a new path and move upon it with resolution and courage.

"It is impossible to under-estimate the crisis we face in America. The stability of a civilization, the potential of free government, and the simple honor of men are at stake.

"Those who serve in the human-rights movement, including our Southern Christian Leadership Conference, are keenly aware of the increasing bitterness and despair and frustration that threaten the worst chaos, hatred and violence any nation has ever encountered.

"In a sense, we are already at war with and among ourselves. Affluent Americans are locked into suburbs of physical comfort and mental insecurity; poor Americans are locked inside ghettos of material privation and spiritual debilitation; and all of us can almost feel the presence of a kind of social insanity which could lead to national ruin.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"Consider, for example, the spectacle of cities burning while the national government speaks of repression instead of rehabilitation. Or think of children starving in Mississippi while prosperous farmers are rewarded for not producing food. Or Negro mothers leaving children in tenements to work in neighborhoods where people of color can not live, Or the awesome bombardment, already greater than the munitions we exploded in World II, against a small Asian land, while political brokers de-escalate and very nearly disarm a timid action against poverty. Or a nation gorged on money while millions of its citizens are denied a good education, adequate health services, decent housing, meaningful employment, and even respect, and are then told to be responsible.

"The true responsibility for the existence of these deplorable conditions lies ultimately with the larger society, and much of the immediate responsibility for removing the injustices can be laid directly at the door of the federal government.

"This is the institution which has the power to act, the resources to tap, and the duty to respond. And yet, this very government now lacks the will to make reforms which are demanded by a rising chorus across the nation. According to the Harris Poll, for example, a substantial majority of Americans believe that we must proceed at once to tear down and rebuild the slums, and a solid majority feel that everyone should have a job. Concerned leaders of industry, civil-rights organizations, labor unions and churches are joining in such groups as the new Urban Coalition to urge progressive economic measures at the national level. Many urban political leaders are ready to carry out enlightened programs if only the federal government will provide the needed financial support. Newsweek magazine recently devoted an entire issue to the problem of racism in America and set forth some sound proposals for dealing with this situation.

"I cite these facts merely to show that a clear majority in America are asking for the very things which we will demand in Washington.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"We have learned from hard and bitter experience in our movement that our government does not move to correct a problem involving race until it is confronted directly and dramatically. It required a Selma before the fundamental right to vote was written into the federal statutes. It took a Birmingham to dramatize the economic plight of the Negro, and compel the government to act.

"Unrest among the poor of America, and particularly among Negroes, is growing rapidly. In this age of technological wizardry and political immorality, the poor are demanding that the basic need of people be met as the first priority of our domestic programs. Poor people can not long be placated by the glamour of multi-billion-dollars exploits in space. Poor people who encounter racial discrimination every day in every aspect of their lives can not be fooled by patronizing gestures and half-way promises. Poor people who are treated with derision and abuse by an economic system soon conclude with elementary logic that they have no rational interest in killing people 12,000 miles away in the name of defending that system.

"We intend to channelize the smouldering rage and frustration of Negro people in to an effective, militant and nonviolent movement of massive proportions in Washington and other areas. Similarly, we will be calling on the swelling masses of young people in this country who are disenchanted with this materialistic society, and asking them to join us in our new Washington movement. We also look for participation by representatives of the millions of non-Negro poor-Indians, Mexican-Americans, Puerto Ricans, Appalachians, and others. And we shall welcome assistance from all Americans of good will.

"And so, we have decided to go to Washington and to use any means of legitimate nonviolent protest necessary to move our nation and our government on a new course of social, economic, and political reform. As I said before, the power to initiate this reform resides in Washington. The President and the Congress have a primary responsibility for low minimum wages, for a degrading system of inadequate welfare, for subsidies of the rich and unemployment and under-

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"employment of the poor, for a war mentality, for slums and starvation, and racism. The survival of a free society depends upon the guarantee and survival of freedom and equality. This is what we seek.

"In the final analysis, SCLC decided to go to Washington because, if we did not act, we would be abdicating our responsibilities as an organization committed to nonviolence and freedom. We are keeping that commitment, and we shall call on America to join us in our forthcoming Washington campaign. In this way, we can work creatively against the despair and indifference that have so often caused our nation to be immobilized during the cold winter and shaken profoundly in the hot summer."

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation dated February 10, 1968.

The "Miami Herald," a local Miami, Florida, newspaper, reported February 18, 1968, that some Negro leaders, not further identified, will urge Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., at meetings in Miami, Florida, to detour his planned massive civil disobedience demonstration scheduled for April in Washington, D.C. The Negro leaders will recommend that efforts be redirected to demonstrate in districts of Congressmen who have voted against civil rights legislation.

The "Miami Herald" reported that one prominent civil rights leader, who requested his identity be withheld, said "Congressmen could care less about demonstrations in Washington-- and Negroes could be made to look bad nationally. But if the demonstrations are held in the home districts of certain Congressmen they most certainly will feel the impact."

MM T-1 advised on February 19, 1968, that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., arrived at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel at 10:30 PM on February 18, 1968. Dr. KING refused to utilize the suite reserved for him and kept moving from room to room. Two of Dr. KING's aides, identified as Dr. A. YOUNG and Reverend F. C. BENNETT, made a thorough check of the room reserved for Dr. KING, apparently looking for a "bugging device."

Dr. KING, through Dr. YOUNG and Reverend BENNETT, according to the source, has already refused to be interviewed by the various news media and it appeared to the source that KING was quite concerned with the amount of security being effected by the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel, along with local authorities.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

MM T-1 reported that the Ministers Leadership Training Program started with a luncheon in the Pan American Room at 12:30 PM, February 19, 1968, with attendance estimated at 160 persons. The Diplomat Room has been set aside as an exhibit room and the general meeting, with an estimated 170 persons in attendance, is taking place in the Parliamentary and Assembly Room.

The source reported there has been no evidence of picketing or demonstrations taking place at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel.

Copies of this memorandum are being disseminated to U. S. Secret Service, Miami; United States Attorney, Miami; 111th M. I. Group, Miami and Orlando, Florida; OSI, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia, and NISO, Charleston, South Carolina.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 15, 1968, a confidential source, who has provided reliable information in the past, advised that he determined that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. was to arrive at Jackson, Mississippi from Atlanta, Georgia on this date to present a work shop on his Washington Spring Project (WSP) to local Jackson Negro groups at Mt. Beulah Center, Edwards, Mississippi.

Appropriate local, state, and federal authorities were immediately advised by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) of the pending arrival of Reverend King at Jackson.

Miss David Bethea, Investigator (NA), Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol (MHSP), advised that Reverend King arrived at Thompson Airport at Jackson, Mississippi at 10:20 AM, on February 15, 1968 from Atlanta, Georgia. King was accompanied in a private Cessna Aircraft by two Negro males, Hosea Williams and Bernard Lee, aides of King's. Also accompanying King on his private plane, in addition to the pilot and co-pilot were Associated Press reporter Don Mc Kee of Atlanta, Georgia, Jose Y. Glesias, reporter with the New York Times Sunday Magazine and two cameramen from the National Education Television group, San Francisco, California. Bethea said these latter four individuals were white males. Miss

Bethea said the group was met by Leon Hall and R. B. Cottonreader, Negro male, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) leaders from Grenada, Mississippi and two unidentified Negroes, one female and one male.

Bethea said the group then entered two automobiles, a 1967 blue Ford, bearing Mississippi license H-32681 and a 1968 yellow Ford, bearing Mississippi license H-45322. He said King rode in the yellow Ford. He said the group arrived at Jackson at 10:20 AM and departed the airport at 10:45 AM.

On February 15, 1968, Mrs. Elinor Naron, Hinds County, Mississippi Auto Tag Agency, advised that Mississippi license H-32681 is registered for a 1967 Ford, Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) 7U53C145757 to the Lawyers' Committee, 233 North Farish Street, Jackson, Mississippi. She said Mississippi license H-45322 is registered for a 1968 Ford, VIN 8US6F125108 to Hertz-Rent-A-Car, Jackson, Mississippi.

On February 16, 1968, B. J. Warren, City Manager, Hertz-Rent-A-Car, 141 East Amite Street, Jackson, advised that a 1968 Ford, Mississippi license H-45322 was rented on February 14, 1968 to Reverend A. J. Young, SCLC, 334 Auburn Avenue, Atlanta, Georgia. He said the auto was rented at the airport office of Hertz and was returned to that office on the morning of February 16, 1968.

On January 25, 1968, a second confidential source advised that Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, would serve as "field director" of demonstrations to be conducted in Washington, D. C., commencing the early part of April, 1968 as part of SCLC'S Washington Spring Project.

On February 1, 1968, same source advised Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, recently informed SCLC officers that Williams would also have general supervision of all SCLC personnel connected with the WSP. This will include personnel in Washington, D. C., as well as each of the other cities and/or locations which will be involved in the WSP.

A characterization of Hosea Williams appears in the appendix of this document.

On February 15, 1968, M. B. Pierce, Chief of Detectives, Jackson, Mississippi Police Department, advised that he determined that Reverend King was transported to Jackson in an aircraft rented from the Atlanta Air Taxi, Post Office Box 20658, Atlanta, Georgia. He said the pilots were Thomas Milles and James Sorell, both white males. He said the plane is a Cessna 406 twin engine plane, color white, with black stripes. He said the plain bears Number N3223Q.

On February 15, 1968, David Bethea, MHSP, advised that Reverend King and his party, upon leaving the Jackson airport, drove directly to the Mt. Beulah Center, at Edwards, Mississippi, a distance of about 20 miles west of Jackson. He said they arrived at Mt. Beulah at 11:35 AM.

Bethea said he and another Highway Patrol Investigator, who were escorting Reverend King throughout his travels in Jackson, were not allowed on the grounds at the Mt. Beulah Center.

On December 16, 1968, a third confidential source advised that he had attended a work shop held at Mt. Beulah Center on February 15, 1968 by Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. Source said that about 100 persons were in attendance and after Reverend King arrived lunch was served in a hall at Mt. Beulah to Reverend King's party and others who had gathered. Source said no press representatives were allowed at the dinner or at a work shop conducted thereafter. Source said after the dinner, Reverend King addressed the bi-racial group present, explaining the purpose of his WSP and talking at length about the way poverty stricken people are suffering in the United States today. The source said at one point a question and answer session was held and Reverend King directed several of the questions received from the audience to his assistant, Hosea Williams, who answered the questions. The source said no groups present indicated they would definitely support King in his WSP, however, it was decided that another meeting in this regard would be held at the Mt. Beulah Center on March 3, 1968. Reverend King indicated he would send an aide to represent him at this next meeting. Source said Reverend King did not indicate when he would return to Mississippi again.

The same source said the following individuals and groups known to him were present at this work shop:

- 1- Delta Ministry, National Council of Churches, a bi-racial religious group active in Mississippi, which was represented by Owen Brooks, Negro male, Reverend Ed King, white male, and Roger Smith, white male.
- 2-- Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, a bi-racial political group in Mississippi represented by Lawrence Thomas Guyot, Jr., Negro male, its chairman and Victoria Gray, Negro female, Executive Board Member.
- 3- The Mississippi Chapter of the National Welfare Rights organization, a bi-racial group seeking favorable welfare legislation which was represented by GERALDINE SMITH, Negro female, State Chairman.

- 4- Southern Cooperative Development Agency, a by-racial group which is setting up cooperatives in Negro Ghetto areas in Mississippi, and which was represented by two supervisors, Carolyn Williams, and Henry Hatches, Jr., both Negroes. miss

The source said that several National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) members were present, however, no state officers were recognized.

The source said that Lawrence Guyot and Geraldine Smith, during one discussion, indicated they were not too anxious to support the WSP as they thought it could possibly disillusion poor Negroes if they traveled all the way to Washington and were unsuccessful.

The source said that the visit of Reverend King had been arranged by R. B. Cottonreader and Leon Hall, SCLC leaders in Grenada, Mississippi.

The source said Reverend King and his party left the Mt. Beulah Center shortly after 2:00 PM on February 15, 1968 to return to the airport.

On February 15, 1968, a fourth confidential source advised that he attended a work shop conducted by Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. at the Mt. Beulah Center on that date. The source said that about 150 people were in attendance at the closed session and that King addressed the group seeking support for his WSP in April, 1968. The source said Reverend King and his party appeared to be well received by the group, however, no definite support was guaranteed to Reverend King for his project. The source said the work shop held at Mt. Beulah Center was closed to all news media.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL

In July, 1962, Hunter Pitts O'Dell, also known as Jack H. O'Dell, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

Hunter Pitts O'Dell told Edwina Smith December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

HOSEA WILLIAMS

During October, 1964, a confidential source advised that on October 3, 1964, Ruth Bailey, then an employee of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC), Harlem, New York Office, while discussing several SCLC personalities with one Connie Campbell, referred to Williams. Bailey said Williams had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) Hunter Pitts O'Dell had told him more about politics than he could read.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Reference is made to Cleveland memorandum, dated February 9, 1968.

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past except for CV T-3 who has furnished some reliable and some unreliable information in the past.

CV T-1 advised on February 11, 1968, that he has stopped by at the storefront at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, which is the headquarters of the WSP, on at least a dozen occasions over the weekend of February 10-11, 1968, but the store has been locked with no one inside. There are some desks and a telephone in this store and the lights are on but no one is ever there, nor is there any sign to indicate this is the WSP headquarters in Cleveland.

CV T-2 reported on February 13, 1968, that he had also stopped by at WSP headquarters at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, during the past two days but this storefront has been closed; source learned through several inquiries that Reverend OSBURN had not been at WSP headquarters as he has been out of town.

CV T-3 mentioned on February 15, 1968, that ED OSBURN a civil rights leader in Cleveland would be leaving Cleveland on February 16, 1968, for a week long meeting at Miami, Florida, which will be attended by 100 ministers. This meeting reportedly is sponsored by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and will be financed by the Ford Foundation. Reportedly Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING had indicated to OSBURN that this meeting would pertain to leadership training for the forthcoming demonstrations in Washington, D.C., and other cities in the Spring of 1968. KING plans to visit Cleveland during the week following the Miami meeting to gain support for these demonstrations.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 9, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, said that Albert Turner, State of Alabama leader of the Washington Spring Project, and State of Alabama recruiter for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) addressed a meeting of the Alabama Action Committee (AAC), a Civil Rights Group, at Montgomery, Alabama, on February 5, 1968. At the time, Turner divulged that the SCLC received a $25,000 grant within the last ten days from the Ford Foundation, which was to help defray expenses of the upcoming SCLC demonstrations to be held at Washington, D. C. this spring.

Turner, the source said, is attempting to recruit 200 persons in Alabama for the Washington Spring Project. He is concentrating his activities in this regard in the following seven counties:

Dallas
Monroe
Lowndes
Bullock
Montgomery
Macon
Autauga

The source added that Richard Boone, Executive Director of the AAC, made an appearance following Turner's talk at the AAC meeting held on February 5, 1968, at Montgomery. Boone confirmed Turner's announcement about the $25,000 contributed by the Ford Foundation.

ALABAMA ACTION COMMITTEE

Seemingly, Turner and Boone have some kind of a working agreement, the source said. It would also appear, the source said, that some kind of alliance exists between the SCLC and the AAC, for the fact that Turner used a meeting of the AAC as a platform to raise his quota of 200 demonstrators for the Washington Spring Project.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The source said that even though it appears the AAC and the SCLC are cooperating in the Washington Spring Project, he has discovered nothing to cause him to believe that Martin Luther King and Richard Boone are not still at odds.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on February 14 and 15, 1968, advised that he had received a written notice, which was undated, from Albert Turner at Marion, Alabama, inviting him to attend a meeting to be held on Friday, February 16, 1968, at a Baptist Church located at 143 Broad Street, Selma, Alabama, at 10:00 A. M. The source added that Dr. Martin Luther King was scheduled to address the meeting and to solicit support from those in attendance for the Washington Spring Project.

After the Selma meeting, the source said that King was scheduled to appear at Montgomery at 12:30 P. M., February 16, 1968, at the Maggie Street Baptist Church, where he was to give a similar talk about the Washington Spring Project. Thereafter, King was expected to make his way to Birmingham, Alabama, by airplane.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)
RACIAL MATTERS

On February 15, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows:

On February 12, 1968, a meeting of members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was held at the Paschel Motor Inn, Atlanta, Georgia, concerning the Washington Spring Project which is planned to take place during the first part of April, 1968, in Washington, D. C. The following SCLC officers and staff members were present at this meeting:

Martin Luther King,
President of SCLC
Reverend James Bevel
Reverend Jesse Jackson
Andrew Young
Bernard La Fayette
Hosea Williams
Reverend Fred C. Bennette
Bill Rutherford
J. T. Johnson
Ralph Henry
Stoney Cooks

The discussion during this meeting primarily concerned the march from Baltimore, Maryland, to Washington, D. C., which is to signal the beginning of the Washington Spring Project. It was reported at this meeting that there is believed to be a serious threat against the life of Martin Luther King and that an attempt upon his life will be made during this march. In order to counteract such an attempt, Reverend Bennette was assigned to be in charge of security for Martin Luther King and Ralph Henry was assigned to be Reverend Bennette's assistant. It was indicated that those involved in this security should be alert for danger, not only from white persons but also from Negroes. No additional information was given at this time concerning any possible threats.

It was reported by several of those present that serious difficulty had been encountered in the northern states in recruiting participants for the Washington Spring Project. It was, therefore, decided to concentrate the recruitment of participants in the southern states.

It was also reported that serious financial problems have developed, especially in certain areas. Hosea Williams presented proposed budgets for the "financially deprived or unresponsive areas involved in the Washington campaign." He stated that for one reason or another the following areas seemed to be having unsolved financial problems in getting their mobilization and recruiting started:

Mississippi
Alabama
Georgia
North Carolina
South Carolina
Virginia
Washington, D. C.
Baltimore, Maryland

Williams stated that it was originally planned that each project area was to raise its own funds, however, this does not seem possible in the poorer areas at this time. He reported that he had conferred with project leaders in the above areas and they state that they can do the job provided they are furnished the resources to get it started. Based on Williams' conversations with these leaders, a budget has been drawn up for each of the above areas which provides between $1,200 to $1,500 per month with the exception of South Carolina which will receive $740 and Washington, D. C.; which will receive $3,500. These budgets include payments for items such as bi-monthly payments to subsistence workers, travel, telephone expenses, costs of utilities, mailing expenses, office supplies and materials, and entertainment.

At the conclusion of this meeting, it was announced that subsequent meetings will be held every Monday for the next three weeks in an effort to complete the plans for the Washington Spring Project.

RACIAL INT/SECT

On 1/29/68 at an SCLC Executive Staff meeting KING announced HOSEA WILLIAMS would serve as "Field Director" in Washington, D. C., of the WSP and also have overall supervision of SCLC personnel involved in this project (re Atlanta airtel and LHM 2/2/68). ANDREW J. YOUNG, Executive Vice President, SCLC, at that time was instructed by KING to write a letter to each SCLC staff member previously assigned to various cities and locations to recruit demonstrators for the WSP in which he was to inform them of WILLIAMS' position.

On 2/12/68 WILLIAMS determined this letter had not been written and as a result SCLC personnel did not know to whom they should report or from whom to seek assistance. WILLIAMS also submitted during the 2/12/68 meeting a memorandum in which he requested a budget (of approximately $10,000) a secretary, and an Assistant in order to effectively supervise the WSP. There then ensued at this meeting considerable petty discussion as to the validity of WILLIAMS' requests. WILLIAM A. RUTHERFORD, Executive Director, SCLC, made an issue over the fact he did not have the time or inclination to pass judgment on a multitude of vouchers which WILLIAMS would submit in connection with his budget. WILLIAMS became enraged and left the meeting for almost an hour. KING made no effort to control the disorganized discussion or to render a decision.

The 2/12/68 meeting adjourned without the staff reaching a decision on WILLIAMS' requests. KING, YOUNG, RUTHERFORD, and RALPH D. ABERNATHY, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC, were supposed to meet regarding these issues on 2/13/68. Informant did not have opportunity to participate in this meeting and as of 2/14/68 had no further information regarding this matter.

Informant observed that there appears to be a continuing battle of personalities between WILLIAMS and RUTHERFORD. He also observed that KING seems to be in a substantial twofold dilemma predicated upon his tremen-does ego, i.e., one, should he cooperate fully with WILLIAMS which probably will insure the success of the WSP but at the same time will permit WILLIAMS to have the limelight and possibly become a virtual hero; two, should he keep WILLIAMS more or less throttled despite his refusal to accept WILLIAMS' recent resignation and take a chance the WSP will be successful without the benefit of WILLIAMS' full energies or take a chance the WSP may not succeed and have the national and international image of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., become tarnished. It is because of the latter informant believes that KING has indicated he is considering the possibility of finding an excuse to drop the WSP.

Based upon information herein and previous information submitted it is felt informant's observations are reasonably accurate.

Almost half the period of time originally planned by SCLC to recruit and train its WSP demonstrators has passed and the entire project seems to be suffering from indecision and petty wrangles on the part of the SCLC staff, not to mention the idiosyncrasies of KING's ego.

At this point it would appear SCLC will require a good measure of luck to make its WSP a successful venture by early April.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

A confidential source on February 14, 1968, advised he had learned that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), continued to be discouraged with the lack of progress made by SCLC staff members in recruiting and training demonstrators for SCLC's Washington Spring Project, (WSP). In this connection Reverend King recently held an "emergency meeting" of the SCLC Executive officers to consider the WSP.

Reverend King pointed out that SCLC has previously announced that it will have 3,000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., in early April 1968. Should only a few hundred demonstrators appear in Washington, D. C., Reverend King said he and SCLC would become the laughing stock of the nation. He declared that if SCLC produces 3,000 demonstrators and the nation fails to react appropriately this will be the responsibility of the nation and not SCLC. On the other hand, he said, SCLC will be greatly at fault if it does not produce the announced number of demonstrators.

Reverend King suggested that officers of SCLC seriously consider whether or not they can successfully carry out the planned WSP. He said if they feel they cannot then it will be necessary to establish a reason as to why he and SCLC finds it necessary to discontinue the WSP.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

During the middle of February 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that on February 15, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) contemplated traveling to Birmingham, Montgomery, Selma, and Tuscaloosa, Alabama, for the purpose of speaking to people in those communities in effort to generate interest in SCLC's Washington Spring Project. Source said he understood Reverend King would be accompanied by Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice-President and Treasurer, SCLC, and Elston Petilla, a representative of the Department of Information, SCLC. Reverend King intended to travel via chartered airplane. Source was unable to furnish any further details. Ala

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to Philadelphia communication dated January 31, 1968.

Confidential informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised February 8, 1968, that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., would be in Philadelphia to hold meetings and workshops on February 9, 10, 1968. On Friday, February 9, 1968, KING had meetings scheduled from 9:00 a.m. until late in the evening with black church men, suburban groups, welfare rights people, community leadership people, Afro-American groups, educational people, and militants of Philadelphia. Attendance at the conferences would be by invitation only. All of the meetings were to be held at St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church at 52nd and Parrish, whose rector is Father JESSE ANDERSON.

KING was also scheduling meetings at the church for Saturday, February 10, 1968, with other interested civil rights people from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

The source also advised that the SCLC had rented the space at 2102 West Diamond Street, Philadelphia, under the name of the Philadelphia Christian Leadership Conference which would be the headquarters of the Rev. JAMES ORANGE and WILLIE TABB and his wife, advance coordinators for KING's endeavor to obtain volunteers in Philadelphia for the Washington Spring Project of SCLC.

Source advised that KING arrived in Philadelphia at 7:30 a.m. on February 9, 1968, from New York City by air and attempted to hold the first meeting with Negro ministers at St. Thomas Church; however, only two ministers were present by 10:20 a.m. KING had four other groups scheduled to meet for an hour and an hour and a half apiece until 4:00 in the afternoon when a free period was scheduled plus dinner and more meetings of other groups were scheduled from 8:00 p.m. until late at night. Since no more than 15 people showed up to take part in KING's activity at the church, Dr. KING held a press conference at 11:45 a.m. His remarks to the assembled press dealt mainly with the Vietnam war, national policy of the United States Government, and the Pueblo incident.

Dr. KING then left the church for lunch and shortly after 3:00 p.m. he returned to the church at the insistence of the Rev. ANDERSON, whereupon KING agreed reluctantly to address the group with the stipulation he spend no more than 15 minutes with them. There were approximately 20 people spoken to by Dr. KING.

After meeting with this group Dr. KING talked with another group which was designated as "welfare rights organizations" and apparently the Rev. JAMES ORANGE also addressed this group because subsequent to this meeting several women were overheard to say "that ORANGE is a liar and can do nothing for Mr. KING. He is a phony in every sense of the word."

Dr. KING left the church at approximately 4:00 p.m. for dinner and relaxation and returned at 8:20 p.m. to appear before a group of individuals identified as Afro-American groups, militants, and educational people. There were approximately 30 people in attendance and this meeting lasted no more than 20 minutes.

The source advised that Dr. KING was extremely annoyed, agitated, and disappointed by the lack of attendance at the meetings and he did not desire to return for the evening meetings; however, he was told by telephone over a hundred people were waiting when in reality there were only about 30.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

A conversation was overheard to the effect that ORANGE, who is in charge of the Philadelphia office at 2102 Diamond Street of SCLC's Washington Spring Project, ~~said this is a~~ temporary headquarters and will only be used in an attempt to secure participants for the Washington Spring Project. KING has no further plans of any activity in Philadelphia other than this recruitment.

KING's plans for meeting with groups on Saturday morning were cancelled and according to press publicity KING was suffering from laryngitis; however, it is the considered opinion of the source that KING was piqued at the lack of attendance at the Friday meetings.

The source also advised that there had apparently been a concerted effort made by some unknown individual to persuade ministers not to cooperate with KING by not showing up at the Friday morning first conference. This could very likely be true since there were only two Negro ministers on hand for the Friday morning meeting.

It would also appear from overheard conversations and comments that KING's advance men, ORANGE and TABB, did not do an effective job.

Dr. KING left by air at 12:30 p.m., February 10, 1968, for Atlanta, Ga.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 15, 1968, a first confidential source, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (SA of FBI) that the Ohio State University Committee to End the War, a recognized student organization at Ohio State University (OSU), Columbus, Ohio, had reserved space in the Ohio Union, on the OSU Campus, on January 20-21, 1968, for a "non-violent workshop". The first confidential source said reservations for the space were made by Professor Bernard Rosen, Department of Philosophy, OSU, the faculty adviser for the OSU Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

The first confidential source said the reservation for the "non-violent workshop" listed the following proposed speakers:

James E. Bristol

Charles Walker

Reverend Osborne

Fred Shuttlesworth

Michael Bibler

The first confidential source said the proposed speakers were identified only by name, and it was indicated the speeches concerned non-violent tactics.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On January 22, 1968, a second confidential source, advised an SA of the FBI that a workshop to study non-violent demonstration techniques was held at the Ohio State University Student Union building, Columbus, Ohio, on January 20 and 21, 1968.

The second confidential source advised as follows:

The workshop was scheduled to be held from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., January 20, 1968, and from 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., January 21, 1968. However, participants in the workshop did not begin arriving for the workshop until late in the afternoon of January 20, 1968. There were approximately twenty-six individuals present when the workshop finally got underway. Pat Shafer, field secretary of the Ohio Peace Action Council, was in charge of the workshop.

The principal speakers at the workshop were Reverend Ed Randall Osburn, Cleveland, Ohio, associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); Mike Bibler; and James Bristol, associated with the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC). Reverend Osburn had driven to the workshop from Cleveland, Ohio, with Mike Bibler, while James Bristol had flown by airplane to Columbus, Ohio, from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

From the afternoon of January 20, 1968, to the conclusion of the workshop on that date, there was no discussion of non-violent demonstration techniques. The discussions centered around the Washington Spring Project, being sponsored by the SCLC at Washington, D.C., during the summer of 1968.

During their comments to the group, Reverend Osburn, Bibler, and Bristol indicated they had attended a meeting of the SCLC recently in Atlanta, Georgia, where Martin Luther King and other SCLC personnel discussed the Washington Spring Project. It was apparent that those three individuals had been scheduled to attend the workshop in the Ohio Union building for some time.

Reverend Osburn indicated the demonstration in Washington, D. C., would be composed initially of about 3,000 people from poverty areas in the United States, including whites, Negroes, and Puerto Ricans. Those persons would travel to Washington, D. C., and during the first week or ten days would demonstrate on the issues of poverty and jobs. After that period, the demonstration would pick up the peace issues.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Reverend Osburn indicated the Washington, D.C., demonstration would be a continuous program. The initial 3,000 demonstrators would live in Washington, D.C., and carry out demonstrations in the offices of Government officials and in other places. In the event any of the original 3,000 demonstrators were removed by arrest or any other reason, they would be replaced by other persons coming from the same area from which the original demonstrator had come.

Reverend Osburn emphasized that it was believed this would be the last chance to prove non-violent demonstrations could be effective in obtaining concessions on civil rights matters. Reverend Osburn stated if that effort failed, black nationalist groups would take over the leadership in civil rights matters. In connection with that situation, Reverend Osburn remarked, "Let's hope this works".

Bibler and Bristol, in their talks to the group attending the workshop, added nothing new, but supported the statements made by Reverend Osburn. All three speakers made frequent favorable references to Martin Luther King.

It was determined that Bristol anticipated there would be a Cincinnati, Ohio, group participating in the Washington, D.C., demonstration.

Bibler pointed out what he believed the civil rights movement had to accomplish to be effective. Bibler listed those as follows:

1. Gather information
2. Education of people.
3. Negotiations.
4. Confrontation and demonstration
5. Reconciliation.

Bibler was somewhat critical of peace groups and indicated he felt they had not accomplished anything.

During the workshop, it was brought out that there were two main points involved in the technique of civil disobedience:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

1. Non-cooperation with an unjust law.
2. Non-cooperation with a just law to emphasize an unjust situation not regulated by law.

Bristol pointed out that the technique of blocking traffic was a case in which the traffic laws were just, but it could be used to emphasize a situation involving an unjust law. It was mentioned that as a technique, the demonstrators in Washington, D. C., could tie up traffic. That could be accomplished without breaking a law, because while there are laws which require a person to obey a stop light, there are no laws requiring a person to drive on the green light.

A brochure, "Training In Non-Violence," published by the Fellowship of Reconciliation, was available at the workshop. A booklet, "Theory and Practice of Civil Disobedience," by Arthur Harver, Centerbury, New Hampshire, also was available, and a charge of fifty cents for that booklet was requested.

The workshop concluded at approximately 10:30 p.m. on January 20, 1968. Most of the persons present indicated they would return for the meeting on January 21, 1968, inasmuch as many of the twenty-six individuals present appeared to be Ohio State University students.

On January 19, 1968, Pat Shafer had emphasized that selection of individuals to attend the workshop on January 20 and 21, 1968, should be done with great care, and persons attending would be expected to have the ability to return to their own areas and hold workshops on non-violence.

REVEREND FRED L. SHUTTLESWORTH

The June 18, 1966, edition of the "Cincinnati Herald", a weekly Negro newspaper of general circulation in Cincinnati, Ohio, refers to Reverend Fred L. Shuttlesworth, civil rights leader, as President of the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF); also as Secretary of the Southern Conference Leadership Conference (SCLC), which is headed by Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. and as President of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, Birmingham, Alabama, which he founded.

Reverend Shuttlesworth is a nationally known Negro civil rights leader and speaker, who has traveled extensively throughout the United States on behalf of the civil rights movement.

Before coming to Cincinnati, Ohio, Reverend Shuttlesworth was Pastor during the mid-1950's of the Bethel Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama, and was also active in civil rights activity. During this period the "Birmingham News" and the "Birmingham Post-Herald" local newspapers identified Shuttlesworth as one of the principal leaders and prime movers for integration in the Birmingham, Alabama area. Shuttlesworth had participated in various sit-ins, marches and demonstrations in an attempt to abolish segregation on buses, in restaurants, schools and recreation facilities. As a result of his civil rights activity, Shuttlesworth was arrested on several occasions by local police authorities in the Alabama area. He was also at this time active in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and had formed in 1956 a new group called the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, which was dedicated to the abolition of racial segregation.

According to the "Cincinnati Post and Times Star", and the "Cincinnati Enquirer", daily newspapers in Cincinnati, Ohio, Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth has continued his efforts to abolish segregation in the Birmingham, Alabama area and has participated in several demonstrations at Cincinnati, Ohio. The same newspapers reported that Reverend Shuttlesworth, on April 17, 1966, was the concluding speaker at a demonstration march for integration in education at the site of the New Burton Elementary School in the Evendale area of Cincinnati, Ohio. On June 25, 1966, Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth was one of several arrested for trespassing on the grounds of Drake Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio, in protest of the hospital's failure to re-employ ten Negroes who had been dismissed.

On November 1, 1967, both these newspapers reported that Reverend Shuttlesworth held a prayer vigil and march rally in Cincinnati, Ohio, in sympathy for Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. and his followers who were serving jail sentences in Birmingham, Alabama.

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on June 12, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW dated April 26, 1946, changed the name of that organization to the SCEF and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals.

The SCEF is self-described as having deep roots in the South where it began as the educational wing of the SCHW, organized in 1938 to work for economic and political reform. When the SCHW disbanded in the late 1940's, SCEF continued as an independent organization, rallying support for integration and democracy and helping to stimulate and nurture new movements of the early 1960's. The SCEF maintained headquarters in Louisiana for twenty years, but in 1966 moved its headquarters to Louisville, Kentucky.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that Claude Lightfoot, a Communist Party Functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement, but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on June 8, 1966, that during the time that the SCHW was in existence members of the Communist Party were members of and worked actively in the SCHW; however, since the formation of the SCEF Communist Party members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive liberal organization, which he considers a Communist Party front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial issue.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (CONT'D)

Carl Braden and Anne Braden, Director and Associate Director respectively of the SCEF, were identified by Alberta Ahearn, 2311 Payne, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party on December 13, 1954, in her testimony in Jefferson County, Kentucky Court in the prosecution of Carl Braden under a state sedition statute, as members of the Communist Party in Louisville, Kentucky, from January, 1951 to December, 1954.

A third source advised on May 28, 1965, that George Meyer, a Communist Party functionary, expressed great admiration for Carl and Anne Braden and the SCEF, with which they are affiliated, and expressed the view that the SCEF is the best organization in the South as far as doing effective work is concerned and that they have a better idea of what they are doing, where they are heading, and influence other organizations for the better.

The second source also advised on June 8, 1966, that many people who are officials and supporters of the SCEF while liberal in their views, are by no means Communists.

Informant advised the comments of KING referred to in the enclosed LHM were made during the evening of February 7, 1968. KING further commented that "maybe I should have a heart attack" and "we" could pull out of Washington because of my illness. In response to this, HOSEA WILLIAMS stated "maybe you should".

Informant advised that on the morning of 2/8/68 KING and ANDREW J. YOUNG were scheduled to meet with some ministerial group in Washington, D. C., but KING claimed he could not do so having "lost" his voice the preceding evening addressing the SCLC mass meeting in Washington. KING's declination to attend this meeting irked YOUNG. During breakfast that morning with several SCLC officials YOUNG claimed that KING never gets sick

On February 8, 1968, a confidential source advised Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), recently commented to several officers of SCLC he was greatly concerned as to the probable success of SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP). PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing information concerning a conference between an advisor and an aide of Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), discussing ways of raising funds for King's massive civil disobedience campaign this spring.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign which he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negroes.

same
New York 3810-S* advised recently that Stanley Levison, former secret Communist Party member and principal advisor to King, was in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, SCLC, concerning funds for the Washington Spring Project. Levison advised he had examined the list of contributors to SCLC but there are no large donors on it.

5-D. [Signature]

Levison suggested that a meeting be held in the home of Harry Belafonte, nationally known entertainer, of approximately sixty individuals who have contributed one thousand dollars or more to SCLC. Levison advised that some of the people to be invited to this meeting would be Governor and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, Mary and Stephen Rockefeller and Franklin D. Roosevelt III.

The following information was furnished by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past:

Recently Stanley Levison, principal advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, concerning funds for King's massive civil disobedience campaign called "Washington Spring Project." Levison stated he had examined the list of contributors to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and he did not observe any large donors on this list.

Rutherford mentioned that a suggestion had been made to have a group meeting of the larger contributors where someone would talk to the group and solicit funds. Levison suggested Andrew Young, Executive Vice President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, as the person to conduct that type of a meeting.

Levison then suggested that a meeting be held in the home of Harry Belafonte, a nationally known entertainer, of approximately sixty individuals who have contributed one thousand dollars or more to King's group in the past. Levison advised that some of the people to be invited to this meeting would be Governor and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, Mary and Stephen Rockefeller and Franklin D. Roosevelt III.

Another source advised on October 28, 1958, that according to Jean Smith, Secretary at Communist Party Headquarters, New York City, before Harry Belafonte came into prominence, he had been a member of the Young Communist League.

The Young Communist League has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A third source advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain Communist Party leaders as being to the "left" of the Communist Party in his position on civil rights. His differences with the Communist Party, however, are merely tactical, and he continues his ideological adherence to communism. Stanley Levison is the owner and operator of the Park Management Realty Company, 1841 Broadway, New York, New York.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

Reference is made to communication from the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation dated February 5, 1968.

BOB ASHAUER, Chief of Security, Sheraton-Four Ambassadors, 801 South Bayshore Drive, Miami, Florida, furnished the following information:

Fifty-six suites of the Sheraton-Four Ambassadors Hotel have been booked through Freddie Henderson Travel Bureau, Atlanta, Georgia, for the period February 19 - 23, 1968. The suites are for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and his party, estimated to be 150-200 persons. Fifty of the suites are deluxe rooms that can accommodate three to four individuals, and six of the suites are executive rooms. In addition, the Pan American Room, which can accommodate two hundred people, is being reserved for Dr. KING and his party. A request has been received to arrange for two luncheons, and in addition, a request has been received for extra meeting rooms. The additional meeting rooms are not available; however, the six executive rooms are sufficiently large to handle a group of 20 persons each.

With regard to security, arrangements have been made to hire one off-duty Miami police officer to stand guard at the entrance to the suite to be occupied by Dr. KING. Also, one off-duty Miami police officer and one off-duty Miami detective will be hired and stationed in the vicinity of the lobby and report on any unusual activity and in particular to report on pickets and demonstrators. Additional security will also be afforded through the 20 men regularly assigned to security at the hotel.

Information came to the attention of the resident manager, JAMES F. MIRACLE, and to the security department of the hotel on February 6, 1968, that ALPHONSO WOODALL, a Negro male, born April 2, 1923, residence 18501 N. W. 28th Place, Miami, is currently employed as a mechanic in the engineering department of the hotel under the supervision of GEORGE

BOURGET, engineer. According to BOURGET, WOODALL has indicated to him that he is extremely "anti-MARTIN LUTHER KING" and has agitated against KING in the past, in various locations. WOODALL displayed a photo scrapbook regarding his picketing of KING. Working with WOODALL at the hotel is one THOMAS FISHER, a Negro male, born April 9, 1937, residing at 1219 N. W. 66th Street, Miami. According to BOURGET, FISHER appears to be a supporter of KING rather than agitator.

ASHAUER stated that he has discussed this matter in detail with Sergeant EVERETT KAY, Intelligence Unit, Miami, Florida, Police Department, and every effort is being made to insure no trouble develops as a result of WOODALL's attitude toward Dr. KING.

On February 6, 1968, ALPHONSO WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to report that he is currently employed at the Four Ambassadors. He reported that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING will be staying at the hotel in the near future. He went on to relate that he had been questioned by members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Miami, Florida, if he was going to picket Dr. KING when KING arrives in town. WOODALL stated that he informed SCLC that he had no plans to picket KING or to do anything against KING during KING's visit to Miami.

On February 9, 1968, MM T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that ALPHONSO WOODALL is well known to him. He reported that WOODALL is violently opposed to all that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING stands for and that it could be expected that WOODALL will attempt some type of protest, during KING's visit to Miami. MM T-1 reported that he has no positive information in this regard, but will be alert for any unusual activities on the part of WOODALL.

MM T-1 reported that a close friend and associate of WOODALL is THOMAS WASHINGTON, a Negro male, described as a "disciple" of ADAM CLAYTON POWELL. He said WASHINGTON comes from the Liberty City section of Miami and is the type of individual who would assist WOODALL in demonstrations against Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

ALPHONSO WOODALL first came to the attention of the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 11, 1967, when he telephonically advised that a group of Negroes were meeting at the Mary Elizabeth Hotel, Miami, Florida. When contacted on July 31, 1967, WOODALL displayed newspaper clippings concerning himself. These articles indicated that in April, 1967, he picketed Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in Cleveland, Ohio. He picketed KING because of KING's stand against the war in Viet Nam. It was also indicated in the clippings that he picketed KING because he, WOODALL, had an 18 year old son who was killed in Viet Nam in January, 1967.

WOODALL was also quoted in these articles as saying he was going to get STOKELY CARMICHAEL with violence when he comes to Miami; however, CARMICHAEL has never come to Miami.

It was also indicated that he threw a brick through the window of Congressman ADAM CLAYTON POWELL's campaign headquarters in New York City a few years ago. He hoped to get arrested and then expose the way POWELL was financing his campaign for re-election to Congress. According to WOODALL, they just repaired the window and never said anything.

When questioned concerning these articles, WOODALL stated that he never intended to commit any act of violence if CARMICHAEL had come to Miami, but merely intended to picket him as he had KING, and was misquoted by newspapers.

On August 2, 1967, WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at about midnight. At this time, he appeared to be very upset, and WOODALL stated that he had heard that MARTIN LUTHER KING was going to come to Miami in the near future and that he was going to again picket him. He indicated that this picketing would be of a peaceful nature.

WOODALL appears to become upset over information concerning KING because of the death of his son in Viet Nam and also because he has another son currently serving in the United States Army.

On the morning of August 4, 1967, WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office, at which time

he apologized for his being upset when he last called the Office. He advised that he had received a letter from his son, ALPHONSO WOODALL, JR., who is currently in the United States Army and due to go to Viet Nam.

He stated that when he heard that KING was coming he became upset, recalling his anti-Viet Nam war stand.

He advised that if he picketed KING, it would be of a peaceful nature and according to the laws of the City of Miami.

The following is a description of WOODALL as obtained through interview and observation:

Name:	ALPHONSO WOODALL
Address:	18501 N. W. 28th Place Miami, Florida
Race:	Negro
Sex:	Male
Date of Birth:	April 2, 1923
Height:	5'8"
Weight:	170 pounds
Hair:	Black
Eyes:	Brown

On February 9, 1968, information set forth above was discussed at length with Sergeant EVERETT KAY, Intelligence Unit, Miami Police Department. KAY reported that every effort will be made by the Police Department to keep ALPHONSO WOODALL and WOODALL's associates under close scrutiny during Dr. KING's visit to Miami. Sergeant KAY reported that several officers of the Miami Police Department will be available to assist in affording Dr. KING's visit appropriate security.

On February 9, 1968, the above information was also discussed with Lieutenant CHARLES BLACK, Intelligence Unit, Dade County Sheriff's Office.

Copies of this memorandum are being furnished to the United States Secret Service, Miami, Florida; United

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 9, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King was scheduled to visit Birmingham, Alabama, on Thursday, February 15, 1968, to preside at a meeting to be held at a CME Church, which the source believed was located at 300 Court Street, North. The meeting will be devoted to an explanation as to what the Washington Spring Movement is all about.

After the meeting at Birmingham, where King is expected to remain through the night of February 16, 1968, King will next visit Selma, Alabama, where he is expected to hold one similar meeting at 10:00 a.m., at the Tabernacle Baptist Church at 1410 North Broad Street, Selma, Alabama. Following the meeting at Selma, King will proceed to Montgomery, Alabama, where he is expected to hold another meeting on the same Saturday night, which will be devoted to explaining the aims and objectives of the Washington Spring Project.

The source further advised that Hosea Williams and T. Y. Rogers, Jr., both member of the Executive Staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), will be at Marion, Alabama, on February 10, 1968, to preside at a meeting which will be held at a local Baptist church. This meeting, expected to attract Negroes from throughout the State of Alabama, will get under way at 10:00 a.m. Again, the source said, this meeting will be devoted to familiarizing those in attendance with the aims and objectives of the Washington Spring Project.

ENCLOSURE

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Although the meeting is open to all Negroes, the source made it clear that the SCLC is the organization which is directing the Washington Spring Project and has no intention of permitting any other group within the Civil Rights Movement, to use the Washington Spring Project to promote its activities.

The source further advised that four Negroes departed Marion, Alabama, via Greyhound Bus on January 22, 1968, to attend a school at an undetermined place in Georgia. The school holds classes in citizenship education and is sponsored by the SCLC. The source remarked that these four individuals attending the school, departed Marion, alone and were not accompanied by Ben (Sunshine) Owens. The source said that Ben Owens is the assistant to Albert Turner, whom the source said was the State of Alabama Director for the Washington Spring Project.

The State of Alabama Department of Safety and local police agencies were notified of the plans of Martin Luther King to visit Birmingham, Selma and Montgomery, Alabama.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On February 5, 1968, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Lawrence Guyot, Chairman, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, traveled to Atlanta, Georgia, on February 2, 1968, and conferred with Dr. Martin Luther King. Source had no additional information as to the purpose of Guyot's visit in Atlanta, but possibly he was attempting to obtain support for the forthcoming 1968 Democratic National Convention to be held in Chicago, Illinois.

On February 8, 1968, R. B. ~~Cottonreader~~ was contacted in regard to another matter and advised that he has been designated as Project Director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Quitman County, Mississippi, but continues to reside at Grenada, Mississippi, at the present time. He stated he plans to travel to Washington, D. C., for the April demonstration and anticipates taking 200 or 300 individuals from Mississippi with him. His plans are incomplete at this time, but he intends to ask for volunteers in the near future to accompany him to Washington, D. C.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 8, 1968, that on that date William Rutherford, Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was in contact with Stanley Levison. Rutherford told Levison that he had been in Philadelphia attending a meeting, that there are some very important things going on in Philadelphia, and that the situation there is the best situation "we" have going. However, the source was unable to ascertain clarifying information about the situation in Philadelphia that Rutherford referred to.

The source continued that Rutherford advised Levison that the situation in Washington, D.C. was confused. He noted that they (SCLC representatives) held a couple of meetings "with Rap Brown and his commandos occupying the place with walkie talkies and bodyguards". He added that "they invaded this church and took it over. They wouldn't let people in." He said that "they" threw the press out of the meeting and that "they walked out of the meeting, disrupted it, occupied the church, and literally kept SCLC Board members out." The following morning, according to Rutherford, a picture of Stokely Carmichael appeared on the front page of the "Washington Post", captioned "Stokely Carmichael Discusses Washington Campaign with King" (Martin Luther King, President of the SCLC).

Rutherford related that the day following the church meeting they (SCLC officials) held a private meeting "with these guys" and "lit into them". Rutherford stated that he told Stokely (Carmichael) that he, Rutherford, wanted to hear what Stokely had to say and that Stokely gave some "mealy-mouthed excuses" that did not stand up. Rutherford also noted that he told Carmichael that "these men told us" that they are interested in the total destruction of the United States.

Levison commented that he had heard Stokely say this and Rutherford's comment was that "this is what Rap (Brown) said last night". Rutherford continued that Stokely is now "sweet as pie. He pulled a power play on us in Washington", but did not win anything because everybody was opposing him.

Levison commented that he could not see the SCLC letting ten persons who threaten violence take over from hundreds. He described it as a dangerous thing, a kind of black facism.

Rutherford, in referring to the meeting, related that a person named Courtland (phonetic), whom he described as having been with the Congress of Racial Equality, made the statement that "they" would not support "our campaign" in Washington, D.C., but would not participate in any opposition to it. He said this is "their whole life", that although they could not take part in something they do not believe in, even though they have trouble from their constituents, they would not oppose it because anything that leads to liberation is worthwhile.

Rutherford said that King became very upset after this private meeting and began berating him. He said he told King that what "they" said is clear and that the SCLC knows now where they stand, that all the SCLC wanted and needed

"from them" was that they would not attempt to divide the community. He said "they" were honest, that "they" stated that if the SCLC fails in Washington, "we're going to get a lot of new recruits" but if the SCLC is successful "we are going to be in trouble". He recalled that at this moment King made a point, that if "they" should denounce the government, denounce the SCLC campaign and criticize it, this would create an atmosphere within which non-violence would have a better chance of succeeding. He added that Stokely responded that they have enough problems, that there is enough confusion and division in the black community, and that, if they should speak out against King or what he is doing, people will not know which way to turn.

Levison commented that he agreed with Carmichael and disagreed with King on this point. He inquired as to why King was upset.

Rutherford stated that King said the enemy was violence and began to preach on how violence begets violence.

Levison related that the key is that King states the enemy is violence which is not true. The enemy are the forces preventing them from getting rights and violence is one of the methods. He said that, therefore, they are trying to develop a counter technique to violence.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, in its issue dated February 11, 1968, page one, contains an article on the protest against United States involvement in the war in Vietnam in Washington, D.C. on February 5, 6, 1968, sponsored by the Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam. It states that King addressed the gathering of clergymen and laymen and told them that "it was imperative that the freedom and peace movements be joined. Describing the worsening economic conditions, he appealed to the religious leaders to join and support the demonstrations his organization has planned for Washington in April". The article also notes that King made it clear that the targets of the demonstrations would be the Vietnam war and Congress.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)
RACIAL MATTERS

A confidential source, an agency which collects security type information in the Chicago area, advised as follows, on February 8, 1968:

On the evening of February 2, 1968, a meeting was held at the offices of the West Side Organization (WSO), Chicago, for the purpose of affording Martin Luther King, Jr., an opportunity to solicit support from WSO members in the Washington Spring Project (WSP), being promoted and organized by King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). As publicly described by King, the WSP is an effort to mobilize large numbers of persons in Washington, D. C., in April, 1968, in protest of alleged United States Government failure to solve the problems of the poor in this country.

As it developed, King did not appear. It was announced King's wife was ill.

Approximately 95 persons were present. Appearing for King at this meeting was Reverend Ralph Abernathy, SCLC official, and Reverend James Bevel, of the Urban Training Center, 40 North Ashland, Chicago, former SCLC official in charge of the Chicago SCLC staff.

Both Bevel and Abernathy advised those present of the purposes of the WSP, and requested support for and participants for it. There was no response at all evident to appeals of either Bevel or Abernathy, to the evident disgust of both.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Both related that the demonstrators would set up tents on the White House lawn, in Washington, and that everybody who participates should be prepared to go to jail. Bevel advised that the White House does not belong to President Johnson, that it was God given to the people. Bevel and Abernathy advised they would remain in the "confines" of the White House, until Congress agrees to such as a guaranteed annual income for black people.

Josephine Baker, described by source as a former well-known entertainer, now residing in France, was also a guest speaker. She stated she had experienced a difficult time getting back into this country. She had marched with Dr. King on his earlier march on Washington, and as a result it appeared she was not wanted here. She described the importance of the tent-in on the White House lawn, and urged all those present to participate. Her remarks, according to the source, were also received by those present with no enthusiasm, and no apparent volunteers.

Regarding James Bevel, a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in March, 1966, that Bevel had recently been present at offices of the West Side Chicago W.E.B. Du Bois Club. Discussion concerned the recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a communist front. Bevel advised he would have ignored this notification, feeling that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then the people would answer for the clubs, despite any labels.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan of the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement, only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the SCLC, the real target.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

One of those present stated during the course of the discussion that he was not a communist, to which Bevel replied that every thinking American should be. He advised that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

The W.E.B. DuBois Clubs, local and national, are characterized in the attached appendix pages. Sources utilized have furnished reliable information in the past.

Copies of this memorandum are being furnished to the following:

Secret Service

Office of the United States Attorney,
Chicago, Illinois

Region 1, 113th Military Intelligence Group

The WSO, referred to previously, is a small, civil rights type group operating on Chicago's near west side. It concerns itself principally with employment and welfare problems of Negro residents of this area.

OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

A second source advised on May 1, 1967, that DCA chartered clubs in the Chicago area are the West Side DCC and the North Side DCC, neither of which currently maintain a headquarters. There is no central headquarters for the DCC and there are no unchartered clubs in this area.

The second source advised that the majority of DCC members are also members of the CP.

During the past year DCC activity has been almost nonexistent.

APPENDIX

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On February 8, 1968, a confidential source advised that a meeting of the Executive Board of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was held February 6 and 7, 1968, in Washington, D. C., at the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N. E.

Source said he had learned that for approximately two hours during the early evening of February 7, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC; Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC; Andrew J. Young, Executive Vice President, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; J. T. Johnson, Field Organizer, SCLC; Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; and James Bevel, former Director, Direct Action, SCLC, met with Stokely Carmichael of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). This meeting was held in the Pitts Motor Hotel, 1451 Belmont Street, N. W. Washington, D. C. The essential purpose of Reverend King and other SCLC officials meeting with Carmichael was to request SNCC not to interfere with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) scheduled to commence in early April 1968.

During this meeting, Carmichael was quite congenial and said neither he nor SNCC would oppose SCLC's WSP. However, he stated neither he nor SNCC would be able to join with SCLC in this project. Source was unable to furnish any further details regarding this meeting.

Source advised it was his current understanding that most SCLC officials are doubtful that Carmichael or SNCC can be trusted to not interfere with SCLC's efforts concerning the WSP.

Reverend King commented to several SCLC officials that in anticipation of SNCC creating problems (not explained) for SCLC in implementing the WSP it might be very practical for SCLC to organize "local groups" in Washington, D. C., and other communities concerned with the WSP. The function of these groups, he said, would be to oppose any undesirable activity on the part of SNCC rather than require SCLC personnel to divert their energies from the WSP.

~~SECRET~~JAMES BEVEL

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Kish activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL

In July, 1962, HUNTER PITTS O'DELL, also known as JACK H. O'DELL, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL told EDWINA SMITH December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

HOSEA WILLIAMS

During October, 1964, a confidential source advised that on October 3, 1964, RUTH BAILEY, then an employee of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC), Harlem, New York Office, while discussing several SCLC personalities with one CONNIE CAMPBELL, referred to WILLIAMS. BAILEY said WILLIAMS had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) HUNTER PITTS O'DELL had told him more about politics than he could read.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

A second source advised on May 1, 1967, that DCA chartered clubs in the Chicago area are the West Side DCC and the North Side DCC, neither of which currently maintain a headquarters. There is no central headquarters for the DCC and there are no unchartered clubs in this area.

The second source advised that the majority of DCC members are also members of the CP.

During the past year DCC activity has been almost nonexistent.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 5, 1968, BH T-1 advised that Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth was to have participated in a leadership meeting in Washington, D. C., on February 6, 1968, regarding Rev. M. L. King's planned march in April. BH T-1 said Rev. Shuttlesworth has stated he does not look with favor on any coalition between hippies, radical pacifists, draft card burners, black power exponents and the civil rights organization because he cannot conceive of anything short of violence taking place when these type factions get into a demonstration.

BH T-1 said Shuttlesworth recently stated, "It would be impossible not to get the wrong people in such a march and once violence got started you couldn't control it." According to BH T-1, Shuttlesworth intends to raise questions about the wisdom of King's widely publicized Washington demonstrations for April. BH T-1 said Shuttlesworth feels that Rev. King will try to find an honorable way to back down from the planned demonstrations. Rev. Shuttlesworth said the country is in no condition to stand "that type of thing" but he is opposed to the Vietnam war and also to draft card burning.

It is noted that Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth is president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, a pro-integration organization with headquarters in Birmingham, Alabama. Rev. Shuttlesworth presently resides in Cincinnati, Ohio.

RACIAL MATTER

On February 7, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was scheduled to meet with Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) some time during the evening of February 7, 1968, at the Pitts' Motor Hotel, 1451 Belmont Road, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The February 8, 1968, edition of the "Washington Post and Times Herald," a daily Washington, D. C., newspaper, reported that King had met with leaders of the SCLC and SNCC on the night of February 7, 1968. Among SNCC representatives who reportedly met with King was H. Rap Brown.

Later during the evening of February 7, 1968, King attended a mass meeting at the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., which was sponsored by the SCLC.

Several confidential sources, who have furnished reliable information in the past, advised there were between 800 and 1,000 persons attending the meeting of which approximately one hundred were white.

The meeting was presided over by Reverend Jefferson Rogers, of the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C. King was the main speaker; however, several others made short presentations to the group prior to King's arrival. Among these speaking to the group were:

King was introduced by Reverend Jesse Jackson, SCLC representative from Chicago, Illinois. King spoke for approximately thirty minutes asking support of Washington, D. C. residents for the WSP. He did not discuss specific plans for the WSP but did describe it as a "wait in" with the indication that the demonstrators would remain in Washington until satisfactory results were obtained.

King stated the "hard core poor" would come to Washington for the project and would continue the demonstration until some type of action was taken by Congress, assuring them of jobs or income.

POSSIBLE RACIAL INCIDENTS
DURING DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION,
INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS,
AUGUST, 1968
RACIAL MATTER

Reference is made to Chicago memorandum of February 2, 1968, under the caption, "Washington Spring Project (WSP), Racial Matter," which in part reflected that Martin Luther King, Jr. was to be in Chicago on that date where he was to appear as a speaker for the West Side Organization (WSO), a small West Side Civil Rights group in Chicago.

On February 5, 1968, a confidential source, which collects intelligence information in the Chicago area, advised that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, had arrived in Chicago at 11:20 a.m. on this date from Atlanta, via Delta Airlines Flight 614. King was accompanied by SCLC officers, Reverend Andrew Young and Reverend Ralph Abernathy.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 5, 1968, that King was in Chicago at this time generally to provide impetus to the local organizing efforts in behalf of the WSP, a program whereby the SCLC plans to mobilize large numbers of persons in Washington, D.C. during April, 1968, to protest United States Government failures to solve the problems of the poor.

N.Y.
Ill. Wash DC
In this connection King reportedly planned to meet with George Wiley, believed to be from New York City, and who is head of the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO). The NWRO is currently holding a three-day convention in Chicago.

According to this source, Wiley was at a recent meeting in New York City, New York, where support for the WSP was solicited by SCLC personnel; however, Wiley would not agree to participate in this SCLC project. King's contact with Wiley in Chicago, therefore, will represent an effort to persuade him of the importance of lending his support to the WSP.

This source, as well as the first source, advised King has no known public appearances scheduled while in Chicago other than a press conference to be held sometime during the late afternoon or evening of this date. King is also not known to have any meetings scheduled with the local SCLC staff; however, it was expected that in all probability he would meet individually with some key local personnel in connection with the WSP.

No information was available to either of the above sources concerning King's departure plans from Chicago, although it was anticipated he would depart Chicago during the late evening hours of February 5, 1968, or early on February 6, 1968.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS,

Both sources advised that King did not appear in Chicago as scheduled on February 2, 1968, at the West Side Offices of the WSO.

Chicago's press media, on February 5, 1968, carried articles relating to a press conference held on that date in Chicago by King. Xerox copies of articles relating to this press conference are attached to this memorandum, namely, from the "Chicago Sun Times" and the "Chicago Daily News," both daily Chicago newspapers.

These articles are self-explanatory as to content; however, it might be noted that information is contained therein relating to Dr. King's possible participation in demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention, which is to be held in Chicago in August, 1968, as well as possible demonstrations on May 12, 1968, and June 30 and July 1, 1968, nationwide, by the NWRO. The latter is described in one of these articles as a new welfare organization, representing some 6,000 dues-paying welfare recipients.

Sergeant John P. O'Malley, Human Relations Unit, Chicago Police Department, advised on February 6, 1968, that the Chicago Police Department was cognizant of King's presence in Chicago on February 5, 1968, and of the general content of his remarks at his press conference held on that date. He advised that no incidents or disturbances had occurred in Chicago in connection with King's presence here.

King May Join Protest At Democratic Parley

By Lillian Calhoun

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday he probably will join demonstrations around the Democratic National Convention this summer in Chicago.

"I haven't made any commitment on that," he said, "but it is perfectly logical, necessary and sound for demonstrations to take place around the Democratic convention . . . "I think the Democratic convention needs to be confronted in view of the war position of the Democratic President."

Dr. King said the nation is spending "$80 billion for death and destruction." He said his decision on Chicago would be determined by the response in Washington to his "poor people's campaign" there this summer.

Dr. King held a joint press conference with the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff and leaders of the National Welfare Rights Organization.

Dr. King said he had held fruitful discussions with Mrs. Johnnie Tilmon, NWRO chairman from Los Angeles; Dr. George Wiley, NWRO executive director, and other leaders of the group.

"We absolutely share the goals of this organization and agree with its basic purposes: jobs, income now, adequate income, justice and democracy," Dr. King said.

He said SCLC and NWRO will "work closer together as we grapple with the problems of the poor."

Mrs. Tilmon said women welfare recipients from 31 states had been meeting in Chicago the last three days.

The new welfare organization plans demonstrations throughout the nation on May 12 (Mothers Day) and June 30-July 1, when new amendments affecting welfare recipients go into effect.

The demonstrations, Wiley and Dr. King said, will be aimed at forcing Congress to repeal the amendments the group considers "restrictive."

Dr. King said the mobilization of the poor in Washington "will be educational and agencies of the federal government will be the target. We must find some way to dramatize the plight of the poor."

"This may be in the form of bonus marches similar to the ones held in the 1930s or a show how poor people live," Dr. King said.

"There will be possibilities of civil disobedience," he said in reply to a question. "But we will begin by following 1st Amendment privileges. If Congress refuses to respond, the protest will take on aspects of civil disobedience."

Dr. King Issues a Warning on Dems' Parley

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said yesterday that he favors demonstrations during the Democratic party convention in Chicago in August if the results of his scheduled Washington demonstration fail this spring.

Dr. King, who was in Chicago to meet with leaders of the National Welfare Rights organization, said that he has no plans to come to Chicago to demonstrate, but "probably would" if Congress did not respond to his recommendations for economic programs for the poor.

"The Democratic party should be demonstrated against for its present war position and for its failure in Congress to respond to economic problems in the urban areas that are causing riots," Dr. King said at a press conference in the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 826 S. Wabash av.

Agreement Is Told

Dr. King said that he and officials of the welfare rights organization were in agreement on mass demonstrations by the poor.

The welfare organization has been meeting in Chicago for three days. Its spokesman, Dr. George Wiley, said that the organization represents about 6,000 dues-paying welfare recipients.

Freeze Is Opposed

He said that the organization will hold a nation-wide demonstration of one million mothers who are on welfare and about 4½ million of their children to voice opposition to the new social security law.

Specifically, he said, the organization opposes the federal "freeze" on state welfare roles which is to go into effect July 1, and the requirements for some recipients to put their children in foster homes and take jobs.

The following information has been furnished by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Recently Stanley Levison, principal advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Levison informed that he had recently held a meeting with Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, and Bayard Rustin concerning King's massive civil disobedience program called "Washington Spring Project."

According to Levison, Rustin showed his true colors by opposing civil disobediences and opposing involving the peace issue with the "Washington Spring Project."

Levison felt the tactics King and his group will use in conducting the massive civil disobediences must be agreed upon and made known to interested individuals. Rutherford advised that some tentative tactics have been discussed which are as follows:

During the first week of the "Washington Spring Project" calls will be made on Congressmen by demonstrators from 17 different areas. During the second week of the campaign the demonstrators will call on the heads of departments such as the Secretary of Labor. On the first visit the demonstrators will make their demands known and on the second visit, if the demands are not met, a sit-in will be conducted.

With respect to the individuals referred to above it is noted that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964 he criticized the Communist Party for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by the Communist Party leaders as being to the "left" of the Communist Party in his position on civil rights. His differences with the Communist Party, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to communism. Stanley Levison is the owner and operator of the Park Management Realty Company, 1841 Broadway, New York, New York.

In March, 1944, the name Harry Wachtel was on a list of names, significance not known, which was maintained at the headquarters of Kings County Communist Party, Brooklyn, New York. At that time the name of Leonora Wachtel, wife of Harry Wachtel, and her address were listed on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County Communist Party.

On February 26, 1957, a source identified a photograph of Clarence Jones as a person whom he knew during late 1953 or early 1954 to be a member and in a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League.

The Labor Youth League has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

During the early 1940s Bayard Rustin was a member of the Young Communist League, an organization which has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450. The records of this Bureau's Identification Division contain the following arrest record for Bayard Rustin:

On January 12, 1944, he was arrested for violation of the Selective Service Act and on February 17, 1944, received a sentence of three years. On September 15, 1948, he was arrested in New York City on a disorderly conduct charge and was sentenced to 15 days. On January 21, 1953, he was arrested at Pasadena, California, for offering to engage in an act of sex perversion of a homosexual nature which he admitted and for which he was sentenced to serve 60 days.

In addition to the above, it has been reported that the Communist Party of Cleveland, Ohio, is showing an interest in King's "Washington Spring Project" and members thereof have expressed the opinion that every Communist Party member in Cleveland should do all he can to contact people in various groups and through organizations to urge them to take an active part in the proposed demonstrations.

On February 6, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised he had attended a meeting at the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N.W., Washington, D. C. (WDC), during the evening of February 6, 1968.

The source stated the meeting was held in order for Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and Stokely Carmichael, of the Black United Front (BUF) to discuss matters of mutual interest and the Washington Spring Project (WSP) planned for early April, 1968, by Doctor King and the SCLC.

The source stated that on his arrival a very informal meeting was in progress in one of the rooms of the church. The meeting was presided over by King who was discussing the WSP and explaining that WDC residents would be called upon to

James Bevel

Andrew J. Young

Jessie Jackson

William A. Rutherford

When the above meeting was ended the church was emptied and only those were allowed to re-enter who were personally known to two representatives of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) who stationed themselves at the entrance. In addition, admission was granted to a few who were vouched for or who were able to satisfactorily explain their reason for attending. Admission was denied to all representatives of the press and no tape recorders were allowed in the meeting.

The meeting was held in the main portion of the building and was attended by approximately two hundred persons. Of those in attendance, approximately one hundred and fifty were representatives of the BUF and SNCC while approximately fifty represented SCLC.

Stokely Carmichael and Lester McKinnie of SNCC were in attendance, however, neither made any type of formal speech or presentation.

This meeting was presided over by King who restated what he had said in the meeting mentioned earlier. In addition, he said there were people in the audience who did not agree with the planned WSP and asked that these people not hinder the project even though they were not in agreement.

King reminisced about past demonstrations and projects of the SCIC and their effect.

Doctor King advised they expected approximately 3,000 persons to come to WDC for the WSP. They plan to camp on the Washington Monument or the Lincoln Memorial grounds. They fully expect to be asked to move and when this is done it will draw desired attention to themselves and their cause. No mention of militancy or civil disobedience was made and King indicated they would move their camp when asked to do so.

King indicated there would be similar demonstrations in other cities during the same period of time as the WSP. He did not identify these cities.

An announcement was made of a mass meeting of the SCIC at the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Avenue, N. W., WDC, on February 7, 1968.

The meeting ended at approximately 11:00 p.m.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 2, 1968, that on that night Andrew Young (Executive Vice-President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) (SCLC) and Stanley Levison were to meet with Leon Davis and Moe Foner at their office, 709 Eighth Avenue, New York City, to discuss the Washington, D. C. project and how Foner and Davis can make a contribution.

The same source advised on February 3, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison and William Rutherford, Executive Director of the SCLC, discussed a list of contributors (to the SCLC). Levison stated he had examined this list and that there are no big donors on it. Rutherford mentioned that a suggestion had been made of having a group meeting of the larger contributors and having someone talk to them and solicit contributions. Levison suggested Andrew Young as the person to handle this matter.

Rutherford inquired if Levison would be in Washington, D. C. on Tuesday (February 6, 1968) and Levison was uncertain, noting that he was supposed to meet with "two staff guys" to bring them together with "a staff guy from 1199" (Local 1199, Drug and Hospital

The source learned on February 4, 1968, that Stanley Levison was again in contact with William Rutherford. Levison brought up the matter of contributors to the SCLC stating that he had been thinking about having those who had given $1,000.00 or more, about 60 people, invited to someone's house, such as Harry Belafonte's place. He said some of the people would be Governor and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, Mary and Stephen Rockefeller, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, III. Levison noted that on February 5, 1968, he was meeting with some "staff guys" and was going to put them in contact with the hospital workers whom he and Andrew Young saw recently. He added that "they" were assigning a full-time staff person "to us."

Rutherford noted that Martin Luther King, (head of the SCLC) was to speak to the Clergymen Concerned about the Vietnam war on Tuesday morning (February 6, 1968) and that the (SCLC) Board meeting would begin at 2:00 P.M.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past advised on November 19, 1967, that at a meeting of the Communist Party (CP) Club of Local 1199, held on November 11, 1967, a discussion was held concerning a meeting with Moe Foner, Secretary of Local 1199 concerning the formation of a peace committee in Local 1199.

"The New York Journal American," a former evening New York City newspaper, in its issue of February 5, 1947, contained an article which reflected that Moe Foner was banned from membership in the Flushing Chapter of the American Veterans Committee because he admitted he was a Communist.

Leon Davis

"The New York Times," a New York City daily newspaper, July 18, 1966, page 19, contained an article on Leon Julius Davis whom it described as the President of Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employees Union. The article noted, in part, "Mr. Davis is a critic of United States policy in Vietnam, and last spring he joined with some 20 other labor leaders to form the trade-union division of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

"Mr. Davis and his local, an affiliate of the Retail Wholesale and Department Store Union, American Federation of Labor (AFL) - Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), have often been labeled leftists. In 1948, Mr. Davis appeared before a House of Representatives labor sub-committee and refused to say under oath whether he was a Communist. Later he stated he was not."

The article also noted "In recent years he has also become increasingly involved in the civil rights movement."

On December 30, 1946, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Davis was a member of the North Shore Section of the CP, Queens County, New York

Harry Belafonte

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 28, 1958, that according to Jean Smith, Secretary at CP Headquarters, New York City, before Harry Belafonte came into prominence, he had been a member of the Young Communist League (YCL).

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the CP, United States of America (USA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in this position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised during the first part of February, 1968, that a conference was held on February 1, 1968, at the Americana Hotel, Seventh Street and 53rd Avenue, New York City, New York, between representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). The purpose of this conference was to solicit the support of SNCC for the Washington Spring Project (WSP) which is to be held during the first part of April, 1968, in Washington, D.C., under the sponsorship of the SCLC. This conference began at 5:00 p.m. and last approximately four hours. Ten persons attended this conference and the following were recognized as present:

Carlos Russell, SCLC, New York City, New York;
A. R. Sampson, SCLC, New York, New York;
Herman Jenkins, SCLC, New York, New York;
Jesse Gray, SCLC, New York, New York;
Hosea Williams, SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia; and Stokely Carmichael, SNCC.

In addition, George Wiley, Director of the National Welfare Rights Organization of Washington, D.C., arrived at this conference approximately one hour after it began.

The discussion in this conference began with the subject of financing the WSP. Also discussed were the merits of having Martin Luther King make a speech during the WSP. Stokely Carmichael stated that he is in favor of the goals and aims of the WSP and that he would support this project wholeheartedly. However, he insisted that his organization, SNCC, and any other organization which would take part in this project, would keep their own identity separate from SCLC. This was agreed to by the representatives of SCLC.

During the above discussion, George Wiley entered the room in which the conference was being held, and after listening to the conversation, stated that his organization, the National Welfare of Rights Organization, could not support and participate with SCLC in this project under the conditions stated. A considerable time was then spent in an effort to convince Wiley to support this project, however, he stated that before agreeing to give his support, it would be necessary that he discuss this matter personally with Martin Luther King, President of SCLC.

A copy of this communication is being provided to the following local agencies:

United States Attorney, Chicago, Illinois;

United States Secret Service, Chicago, Illinois; and

Region I, 113th Military Intelligence Group,
Evanston, Illinois.

Concerning Jesse Gray a second confidential source advised in January, 1964, that according to a high level official of the Communist Party in New York, Gray was no longer a Communist Party member but remained friendly to the Communist Party.

A confidential source previously advised that during the middle of January 1968 while addressing members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) staff who will be responsible for recruiting and training demonstrators for SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, made it very clear that SCLC did not contemplate paying expenses which might be incurred by these demonstrators.

On February 1, 1968, source advised that as of that date SCLC had made no plans which would provide living accommodations for the demonstrators who will be in Washington, D. C. As of this time, most SCLC officers felt the demonstrators in all probability could sleep in tents pitched on the grounds of various Government buildings.

Re Cleveland letterhead memorandum, January 26, 1968.

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past.

OHIO CV T-1 advised on January 29, 1968, that Reverend E. RANDEL OSBURN who is one of Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) staff members assigned to the Cleveland area to handle arrangements for the WSP in April of 1968, mentioned that the WSP was going to open their office at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, over the weekend of January 27-28, 1968. This office will be in a street level storefront at the 7902 Hough Avenue address which storefront is used by the Shepherd of the Street Church operated by Pastor JAMES F. COOK and is located in the heart of the Cleveland ghetto area, the scene of considerable rioting during Cleveland's Hough Area riots two years ago.

CV T-1 went on that he had occasion to be in the area of East 79th Street and Hough Avenue on January 29, 1968, and he looked in at the 7902 Hough Avenue address; however, this storefront was closed. The only sign on the store was for the Shepherd of the Street Church and there were no signs for the WSP. Inside the store there was no indication that the place was being used as there was no furniture and the only things noted were a telephone and telephone directory both being on the floor.

^{OH:}
~~CV T-2~~ reported on January 31, 1968, that FRANKLIN ANDERSON, Chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Cleveland was recently discussing Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's forthcoming WSP in April of 1968, and ANDERSON pointed out that Cleveland CORE will not support or participate in the WSP.

^{OH:}
~~CV T-3~~ reported on January 30, 1968, that it was recently learned that the ~~Communist Party (CP)~~ in Cleveland was showing an interest in Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's planned demonstration in Washington, DC. in April of 1968. It was felt that each and every member of the CP in Cleveland should do all they could to contact people in block clubs, other organizations, etc. to try to have them take an active part in this demonstration.

PHIL BART has pointed out that the CP was not going into this for the purpose of taking over or trying to run the show, but they would try to contact the organization or groups running this demonstration and offer their services as individuals of the neighborhoods where they live. In that way by working with these different sponsoring groups and letting them know that they were anxious to help, it would further the CP cause. Even if it is discovered that the person offering his services is a member of the CP, some of the people in the group sponsoring the demonstration will say "so what", as all are working for the same goal. BART felt that in these type activities or demonstrations, more and more people are willing to be identified with "us".

BART has also indicated that there was little that they could do at present as individuals until Reverend KING's group gets started on this demonstration and all they know now is what they read in the newspapers.

PHIL BART - ~~CV T-3~~ advised on October 13, 1967, that PHIL BART was then employed as a functionary of the Ohio CP.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on January 31, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison was in contact with William Rutherford, Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). Levison noted that he met recently with Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, Bayard Rustin, and Mike Harrington, and that Rustin "showed his true colors" by opposing civil disobedience. He said Rustin is also opposed to involving the war issue.

Levison, in referring to the civil disobedience campaign, planned by King, for Washington D.C. (WDC), in the Spring of 1968, felt that tactics must be agreed upon in the near future so that persons who have been making inquiry can be told what tactics will be used.

Rutherford told Levison that Andy Young (Executive Vice-President of the SCLC), had written out some of the tactics to be used. He said that, for example, during the first week, calls will be made on Congressman by people from 17 different areas. During the second week, calls will be made on heads of departments such as the Secretary of Labor. On the first visit, demands will be made and on the second, a sit-in will be conducted.

With respect to a proposed civil rights newspaper, Levison feels it should follow the formula of "The Southern Courier", which, he said, can humanize the news without vulgarizing it. He emphasized that, although SCLC policy must be the policy followed by the newspaper, efforts must be made to avoid a dull, uninteresting style.

Rutherford noted that King has an SCLC Board meeting on Tuesday, and Wednesday, (February 6 and 7, 1968), a clergy march on Monday, and a private meeting with (Stokely) Carmichael and with other Black leaders in WDC, and then will go to Philadelphia "and do the same thing". Rutherford added "meet once with the ministers and once with the Black Power people to try to neutralize them".

The source advised that he gathered the impression that the above described activity by King will be in connection with organizing for the spring civil disobedience campaign in WDC.

Levison and Rutherford also discussed financial contributors to the SCLC. Levison said he had suggested to King that they get about 25 contributors together and meet with them for several days and let them ask King as many questions as they care to. Levison stated that he would check the list of contributors and check with Rutherford as to where they should hold this meeting since it should depend on the residence of most of the contributors.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the CP for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in this position on civil rights. His differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party." He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America, (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-11, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly-- openly."

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 19, 20, 1964, that Bayard Rustin contacted Benjamin J. Davis on those dates and sought his advice as to how he could escape from a speaking engagement to which he was committed. On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 26, 1957, that he identified a photograph of Clarence Jones as a person whom he knew during late 1953, or early 1954, to be a member of and in a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League.

The Labor Youth League has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

He was assigned two symbol numbers and two dates to further conceal him because there has been no publicity in the press re the presence of ORANGE and TABB in Philadelphia. He also advised that he had learned from a very highly placed delicate source that ORANGE had said that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING of SCLC is intending to come to Philadelphia in late March or early April 1968 and that Dr. KING will make a concerted effort in Philadelphia itself to:

- (1) Get Police Commissioner FRANK L. RIZZO ousted;
- (2) Obtain real open housing for Negroes in Philadelphia;
- (3) Obtain employment for the unemployable Negro in the ghetto;
- (4) Renovation of the school system in Philadelphia so that it better meets the needs of the Negro in Philadelphia.

It should be noted that this information was received from Lt. GEORGE FENCL, 1/26/68, prior to Philadelphia receipt of the information in Atlanta teletype to Bureau 1/18/68 (Xerox cc to Philadelphia) which included the Dr. KING schedule of visits to "target" cities.

Lt. FENCL also advised that his source had said that Dr. KING had some intention of coming to Philadelphia in early January during the hearing in U. S. District Court, EDPa., seeking the removal of Commissioner RIZZO because of his alleged mishandling of a Black Student Rally. KING decided not to come to Philadelphia because the Judges hearing the case were bending over backwards to give the plaintiffs a fair hearing.

C., but he was not specific except to say he was trying to recruit people from the "ghetto" to help.

Confidential informant PH T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised January 26, 1968, an individual he heard was WILLIE TABBS' wife had spent an evening at the residence of MARY RICHARDSON, either Wednesday or Thursday, January 23-24, 1968. MARY RICHARDSON, 1308 Hunting Park Avenue, Philadelphia, is active in the Peace Movement and in Civil Rights activity.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 25, 1968, a confidential source advised Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), recently discussed with several officers of SCLC a meeting of the SCLC Executive Board to be held in Washington, D. C., on February 6 and 7, 1968. He said several matters of an administrative nature would be discussed at this board meeting which would include recent personnel changes as well as SCLC financial matters.

Reverend King mentioned that during the SCLC Executive Board meeting he plans to meet with Stokely Carmichael of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), or if this cannot be conveniently arranged he will endeavor to meet jointly with Carmichael and H. Rap Brown, National Chairman, SNCC, in New York City following conclusion of the board meeting. He commented that in order to meet with Brown he would have to go to New York City because current legal procedures restrict Brown's freedom of movement. Reverend King said he would discuss with Carmichael and/or Brown SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) and assistance (not specified) which SNCC can give to this project.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 26, 1968, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the weekly meeting of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights (ACMHR) was held on January 22, 1968, at St. Luke's AME Zion Church, 3937 12th Avenue North, Birmingham. Albert Turner, Field Secretary, State of Alabama, for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) made a speech to the two hundred persons who were in attendance.

Confidential Informant T-1 stated that Albert Turner made a plea for 300 Alabamians to prepare to go to Washington to take part in the Washington Spring Project this April. Turner said that Negroes must join in with Dr. King because the SCLC is at a very low ebb and in danger of a takeover by Black Power advocates. Turner made known that he came to Birmingham from Detroit where violent forces claim that last summer's burnings were small compared to what they plan to do this summer. Turner said that if these forces try to destroy Detroit, that the entire Civil Rights movement will be lost and the leaders killed or put in jail. Turner told the group that Rev. M. L. King, Jr.'s program of civil disobedience does not call for lying down in the streets but merely "sitting in." However, Turner stated that participants should be ready to be jailed.

Confidential Informant T-1 advised in conclusion that Albert Turner indicated that in the near future, Rev. M. L. King, Jr., will hold a state-wide meeting in Birmingham in support of the Washington Spring Project.

WASHINGTON SPRING
PROJECT (WSP)

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past.

CV T-1 advised on December 3, 1967 that he recently learned that during the week commencing November 27, 1967 the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) held a retreat at Penn Center, Frogmore, South Carolina, which was presided over by Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President of SCLC and was attended by approximately 70 individuals comprising the headquarters and field staff of SCLC.

The primary purpose of the retreat was to discuss various facets of SCLC's plan to conduct massive non-violent demonstrations in Washington, D. C. and possibly a number of other cities during the early part of 1968.

Reverend KING outlined this plan to those attending the retreat; namely, that it had been tentatively decided that in the forepart of February, 1968, he, together with other officers of SCLC and in all probability leading representatives of other Civil Rights organizations (not identified) would personally present to the Secretary of Labor specific requests for prompt Congressional action pertaining to employment, income, housing, education, and other matters which constitute major problems experienced by ghetto people. In the event these requests do not receive an immediate unequivocal commitment insuring prompt Congressional action, an immediate massive non-violent demonstration would commence in Washington, D. C. This demonstration would be conducted by SCLC and involve adults from all walks of life, including students and school children. If an effort is made by civil and/or military authorities to quell this demonstration, simultaneous demonstrations of identical magnitude would commence in 10-15 "target cities" throughout the nation.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

CV T-1 was not aware of the identity of all the "target cities" referred to by Rev. KING but he understood Cleveland was one of the cities included.

CV T-1 went on that according to Rev. KING that during the period prior to early February, 1968, one or two SCLC staff members would be assigned to Washington, D. C. and each of the "target cities." It will be the responsibility of these members to select in each community up to 200 individuals who will serve as leaders for demonstrations. This type of individual sought will be unemployed Negro males, whose general economic status is so low that they could lose nothing by participating in the proposed demonstrations. After selection of these individuals it would then be the responsibility of the SCLC staff member through mass meetings, workshops or other procedures to indoctrinate these individuals with SCLC's overall objectives and technique of non-violent demonstration. Rev. KING emphasized that the individuals so selected should be Negroes, however, he said once each demonstration is actually commenced the assistance of white persons would definitely be accepted and possibly solicited.

Reverend KING acknowledged this program of demonstrations was a very substantial undertaking for SCLC to embark upon. He said it was imperative that SCLC be successful in this undertaking because otherwise not only would it be embarrassed by a failure but failure itself would in a large sense serve as a victory for the "Black Power" groups. In this connection, he said it would be necessary to solicit the cooperation of "Black Power" leaders (not identified) in order that such organizations would permit SCLC to conduct its program without interference. He said he was extremely concerned over the probability that such interference might easily turn any demonstration into a riot. He declared that if such a situation developed in any one of the communities in which SCLC contemplates demonstrating SCLC will immediately cease all its activity in that community.

During the retreat an appreciable number of SCLC staff members expressed doubt that the cooperation of the "Black Power" organizations could be obtained and raised a question as to whether the selection of up to 200 individuals in various communities might not present a most difficult task. Reverend KING responded by stating he was most confident he could obtain the desired cooperation of "Black Power" leaders. He said he realized these people did not agree with his methods or the activities of SCLC but is confident they have sufficient respect for him to listen to his requests. He also said he was quite confident that people, after being apprised of SCLC's objectives, will be anxious to assist. Furthermore, he expressed optimism that once the demonstrations commence there will be sufficient sympathy on the part of the general public that SCLC will will receive adequate financial support.

CV T-1 subsequently learned that Rev. KING had informed SCLC staff members that this new activity would be called Washington Spring Project.

CV T-1 also advised on December 19, 1967 that he recently learned that various assignments had been made of SCLC members to various cities in the United States in connection with the forthcoming WSP and the two being assigned to the Cleveland area were ~~EDDIE OSBURN~~ and ~~MIKE BIBLER~~.

~~MICHAEL BIBLER~~ 04-10

CV T-2 mentioned in January, 1968 that he learned that the SCLC held a conference from January 15-17, 1968 at Atlanta, Georgia, for the purpose of discussing and planning strategy regarding SCLC's WSP which it contemplated initiating in early April, 1968. In attendance were approximately 35 individuals, who were SCLC staff members. At one of the sessions it was mentioned that in all probability Congress would not accept or act on the demands presented by SCLC. If this happens, it was then planned to begin protesting this refusal by means of disrupting various agencies and facilities throughout Washington, D. C. for example one group was tentatively scheduled to tie up the Washington Greyhound Bus Station utilizing such tactics as lying down in front of buses, blocking entrances and exits, etc. It was expected that numerous arrests would be made of the participants of this project and it was pointed out that the participants must be "totally committed" to the project and be willing to risk arrest. It is even possible that some persons may be killed and the participants must be prepared to spend up to six months in jail; however, it was not desired that any mobilization coordinators be jailed for any lengthy period.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On January 17, 1968, CV T-1 also furnished information regarding the SCLC conference held at Atlanta, Georgia from January 15-17, 1968; source added that during the conference, Rev. KING said there was no doubt that the requests that would be presented to the various government agencies would receive a non-committal type response. Then 200 demonstrators previously recruited by SCLC in approximately 15 communities will then commence a massive non-violent demonstration in Washington, D. C.

In conjunction with the activity of the approximately 3000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., SCLC contemplates that in each community from which these demonstrators come there will be sympathetic simultaneous demonstrations. These demonstrations will be participated in by individuals who do not go to Washington, D. C. but experience the same problems and seek the same solutions as the demonstrators in Washington. SCLC intends that the demonstrators will not be intimidated in their efforts by injunctions or other legal measures designed to serve as deterrents. The demonstrators will submit to arrest and incarceration without bail, however, the place of an incarcerated demonstrator will be assumed by another demonstrator. Rev. KING felt the WSP would produce affirmative action promptly on the part of Congress regarding jobs or income for Negroes.

CV T-1 advised on January 18, 1968 that he learned Rev. KING planned to visit the various target cities in connection with the WSP during February and March, 1968 and his schedule indicated he would be in Cleveland on February 24, 1968.

GP CV T-1 advised on January 24, 1968 that from what he has learned the Cleveland staff of Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING had been reduced to two men; namely, Rev. E. RANDOLPH OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER. Rev. OSBURN has an apartment at the Wade Park Manor Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, which apartment is also the headquarters of the SCLC in Cleveland at present. The other members of Rev. KING's staff who had been working in the Cleveland area have been moved to other cities throughout the country.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CV T-1 had also learned that Rev. OSBURN had been out of town for some time as he had been attending an SCLC conference in Atlanta along with 150 other people but that OSBURN returned to Cleveland on January 18, 1968. OSBURN mentioned on his return that he would have to get the "ball rolling" in Cleveland on the WSP indicating that nothing had been done as of January 18, 1968 to organize this project.

CV T-3 reported on January 25, 1968 that he learned that following Rev. OSBURN's attendance at the SCLC conference in Atlanta on January 15-17, 1968, he returned to Cleveland but then made another visit to Atlanta for additional instructions regarding Cleveland's role in the WSP. On returning again to Cleveland, Rev. OSBURN indicated that his organization now planned to recruit approximately 200 distressed people in the ghetto area of Cleveland to participate in the WSP in Washington, D. C. These people who will be unemployed and have nothing to lose would not have the funds to make this trip or to stay in Washington, D. C. but SCLC will make money available to them. Rev. OSBURN went on that he planned to open a storefront office at E. 79th and Hough area, Cleveland, Ohio, on January 26, 1968, which is in the heart of the most depressed area of Cleveland and the center of the Hough area riots. In addition Rev. OSBURN plans to issue a brochure in the near future setting forth the aims, etc. of the WSP.

Recipient offices should be alert to the fact there is a possibility that Martin Luther King, Jr.'s group may be in contact with "Black Anti-Draft Union" (BADU) of Los Angeles in an effort to recruit youths for this program and that "BABU" referred to above might be merely a misspelling. WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date concluded a retreat which was held January 15, 1968 - January 17, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia, of which Church Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, serves as co-pastor. This retreat was concerned with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) which it contemplates initiating early in April 1968. In attendance were approximately 50 individuals, about one-half of whom were SCLC field representatives from various locations.

Reverend King pointed out he did not have any desire that SCLC should have any friction with "Black Power groups" during the course of its WSP. He said the basic issue of the WSP was jobs or income and the validity of this issue could not be argued by "Black Power groups" or anyone else. He said SCLC would simply go about its business of implementing the WSP.

Reverend King declared that in the event SCLC is not successful awakening the conscience of the nation to the urgent need for jobs or income through the WSP the nation will subsequently have to admit that SCLC made a substantial effort in this regard. In the event of such failure, Reverend King said there could be no question that the "Black Power groups" would benefit appreciably.

On 1/18/68 Reverend BENFORD JAMES CAMERON, Grenada, Miss. (who requested his identity be protected), advised that he is not aware of either LEON WILBERT HALL or R. B. COTTONREADER, both SCLC employees, planning to attend the demonstration planned at Washington, D. C. He related that he personally has become discouraged with SCLC after directing numerous letters to Dr. KING concerning the rebuilding of his church and receiving no assistance from SCLC. He stated at the present time he has not decided whether or not to attend the demonstration in Washington, D. C., noting he does have commitments for various conventions in the southern states at this time.

The news media during the past week have advertised Dr. KING's remarks regarding future demonstrations in Washington, D. C., to protest Government inaction.

Local authorities have been canvassed throughout the State and could furnish no information regarding possible participants.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date concluded a retreat which was held January 15, 1968, - January 17, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia, of which Church Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, served as co-pastor. This retreat was concerned with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) which it contemplates initiating early in April 1968. In attendance were approximately 50 individuals, about one-half of whom were SCLC field representatives from various locations.

During this retreat Reverend King explained the WSP will actually be initiated when he and other Civil Rights leaders (not identified) present specific requests (not specified) to the Department of Labor relating to jobs or income for Negroes and other persons currently in Ghetto areas. Similar requests will be presented to other Government departments (not identified) also.

He said there is no doubt that these requests will receive a noncommittal type response which will also point to the Congress of the United States as being the obstacle which has prevented or will prevent the particular department from taking affirmative action in regard to the request presented.

Following presentation of the aforementioned requests, 200 demonstrators previously recruited by SCLC in approximately 15 communities will then commence a massive nonviolent demonstration in Washington, D. C. Source was not able to advise what time element may exist between presentation of Reverend King's requests, arrival in Washington, D.C., of demonstrators, and commencement of the demonstration.

Reverend King pointed out that the demonstrators will also be expected to present to their respective senators and/or representatives requests for affirmative congressional action to correct problems existing in their own local communities.

In conjunction with the activity of the approximately 3,000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., SCLC contemplates that in each community from which these demonstrators come there will be sympathetic simultaneous demonstrations. These demonstrations will be participated in by individuals who do not go to Washington but experience the same problems and seek the same solutions as the demonstrators in Washington, D. C. The local demonstrators may be purely of a voluntary nature or may have been organized by SCLC field representatives previously.

Source recalled that during a discussion regarding the WSP by several officers of SCLC a short time prior to this retreat an officer inquired of Reverend King what position SCLC would take if effort was made to "run" the demonstrators out of that city. This question was immediately answered by Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, who stated to the effect SCLC simply would not entertain the thought of being "run out". Williams declared SCLC would stay in Washington, D. C., "no matter what".

SCLC intends that the demonstrators in Washington, D.C., will not be intimidated in their efforts by injunctions or other legal measures designed to serve as deterrents.

The demonstrators will submit to arrest and incarceration without bail; however, the place of an incarcerated demonstrator will be assumed by another demonstrator.

Reverend King in reference to demonstrators calling upon senators and representatives in Washington, D. C., commented that they would, of course, not be welcome at the offices of these officials; however, he said the demonstrators should stay in the office of the senator or representative until they receive an audience from the individual they seek. He said they should sleep in these offices if necessary.

Reverend King explained at this retreat that the WSP is expected to produce affirmative action promptly on the part of Congress regarding jobs or income. This, he said, will result from Congress acting on its own initiative in response to the demonstration in Washington, D. C., or responding to pressures exerted on it by interested groups (not defined) from various parts of the country.

Reverend King also mentioned that he was quite confident that once the WSP commences it will be viewed with great interest by many nations in the world.

This meeting was attended by STANLEY LEVISON. During that meeting, LEVISON suggested SCLC seriously consider the sale of SCLC memberships through the assistance of JAMES HOFFA, President, of the Teamsters Union. During his discussion of this matter, LEVISON made effort to differentiate between professional groups and the working class by explaining that it will be the working class, not the professional people, who ultimately will look to SCLC for assistance in seeking "social change" (not defined). LEVISON went on to point out that SCLC could use HOFFA's wide influence in the labor field together with its working class memberships as a practical lever when seeking "social change".

RACIAL MATTER

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date culminated a three-day retreat held in Atlanta, Georgia. This retreat was held in facilities of the Ebenezer Baptist Church of which Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, serves as co-pastor and also attended by approximately 50 individuals. Approximately one half of the individuals in attendance were SCLC field representatives from various locations. A representative (identity not known) of the American Friends Service Committee attended this retreat.

Reverend King served as the presiding officer at the retreat, the essential purpose of which was twofold. First, to afford SCLC staff members opportunity to fully understand the objective of the SCLC Washington Spring Project, discuss anticipated problems and seek solutions therefo. Secondly, to permit Reverend King to infuse SCLC staff members with enthusiasm to participate in the project in order that it will be a success.

An appreciable amount of time at the retreat was devoted to group discussions by the SCLC field representatives who will recruit demonstrators to participate in the Washington Spring Project. James Bevel, former Director of Direct Action, SCLC, and Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, actively participated in these discussions. Both Bevel and Williams have had considerable experience in the area of Civil Rights demonstrations.

Reverend King lectured several times during this retreat concerning the overall purpose of SCLC's Washington Spring Project. He pointed out this project would be predicated on the issue of jobs or income for Ghetto Negroes and impoverished people of all races in the United States. However, he emphasized this would not solve all the problems experienced by the Negro, particularly those regarding inequality and therefore the Civil Rights Movement as a whole will have many things to achieve as years go by.

Acquiring jobs or income for Negroes alone, Dr. King declared, will be a noteworthy achievement on the part of the Washington Spring Project, however, he stressed that the jobs or the income obtained would represent a mere fraction of that which America owes the Negro throughout history. He said America owes an incalculable sum to the Negro who throughout his long years of involuntary servitude labored to build this country.

Dr. King stated that the many problems of the Negro and other poor people will not be solved under a Capitalistic system. Capitalism, he said, has no remedy for the poor. The ultimate aim of all aggrieved people in the United States can only be to accomplish a change in the existing Capitalistic economy and Government. He suggested this change might be to "some form of Socialistic Government". Reverend King did not discuss in any detail how or when the change he referred to might be accomplished.

On January 17, 1968, during his closing comments at this retreat Reverend King emphasized to the SCLC staff that the forthcoming Washington Spring Project will be one of the most difficult tasks which it to date has undertaken and accordingly challenged the staff to maintain itself both willing and able in order that the project will be successful.

Reverend King referred to how Jesus found it necessary to send His disciples on various missions. He told the members of the SCLC staff that they were "his disciples".

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

OF CHICAGO (DCC)

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

A second source advised on May 1, 1967, that DCA chartered clubs in the Chicago area are the West Side DCC and the North Side DCC, neither of which currently maintain a headquarters. There is no central headquarters for the DCC and there are no unchartered clubs in this area.

The second source advised that the majority of DCC members are also members of the CP.

During the past year DCC activity has been almost nonexistent.

SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing information concerning the conference held by Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in Atlanta, Georgia, from January 15 through 17, 1968, to discuss plans for massive civil disobedience in Washington, D.C., commencing in late March, 1968.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

Source
 AT 1387-R (ghetto) advised that King held a conference of approximately 50 people from January 15 through 17, 1968, at his church in Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss plans for the massive civil disobedience in Washington, D. C., in late March, 1968. This project is called the "Washington Spring Project." King has dispatched representatives to 15 "target cities" throughout the United States to recruit 3,000 Negroes to demonstrate in Washington, D. C. King still plans on making his initial demands for jobs and income to the Department of Labor. He also feels these demands will not be met and demonstrations will follow. The demonstrators will not abide by injunctions or other legal deterrents. They will sleep in Government office buildings and submit to arrest and jail. King envisions that these demonstrations will tie up all business in Washington, D. C., in a matter of a few days and trigger simultaneous demonstrations in other "target cities." He also feels that the peace issue will become involved and support will be offered from that area. He expects Congress will be pressured into passing favorable legislation because of these demonstrations.

The following information has been supplied by a confidential source of this Bureau who has furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, held a conference with approximately 50 people in Atlanta, Georgia, from January 15 through 17, 1968, to discuss plans for the massive civil disobedience in Washington, D. C., which he calls the "Washington Spring Project." This project will commence in late March, 1968. King's representatives will attempt to recruit 3,000 Negro people from the ghetto areas in 15 "target cities" throughout the United States to go to Washington, D. C., this spring and demonstrate. The recruiters are currently en route to their assigned cities or will arrive there in the next four or five days.

The conference did not resolve when those individuals recruited to demonstrate would arrive in Washington, D.C. King still plans on presenting his initial demands to the Department of Labor. He also expects to make demands, not resolved, on other Government departments.

King feels that his demands will not be met by any Government agency and his massive civil disobedience will then commence. The demonstrators will be instructed not to abide by injunctions or other legal deterrents. They will sleep in Government office buildings and submit to arrest and jail. Other demonstrators will take the place of those jailed.

King envisions that these demonstrations will tie up all business in Washington, D. C., in a matter of a few days. King hopes the news of these demonstrations traveling throughout the Nation will touch off simultaneous demonstrations in the other "target cities." Initially the demonstrators will press for jobs and income; however, King feels the peace issue will naturally become involved and much support will be afforded the demonstrators in Washington, D. C., by various peace groups. Because of the demonstrations, King feels Congress will be forced to pass legislation favorable to Negroes.

King plans to visit each "target city" and talk to demonstrators recruited about the project and boost morale. In that regard, King plans to visit Washington, D. C., on February 8, 1968. He also informed the conference he would be in Washington, D. C., for the actual demonstrations.

The type of civil disobedience that the demonstrators would use was not discussed during this conference. Even though King indicated that these demonstrations would commence the last week in March, the source advised that King has speaking engagements in several cities in Virginia at that time. The source feels that the mass demonstrations will not start until the first week in April.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 16, 1968, Lieutenant GEORGE FENCL, Philadelphia Police Department, Civil Disobedience Unit, advised that on January 11, 1968, JAMES ORANGE, who was associated in some way with Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), was identified in Philadelphia and surveilled throughout the day. It was determined by the surveillance that ORANGE was staying at 6540 Lincoln Drive, Philadelphia, which was the residence of Dr. ROBERT ANDERSON, not further identified by the Philadelphia Police Department at this time.

During the evening hours, ORANGE went to the Universal Church of Restoration at Gorgas Lane and Stenton Avenue in Philadelphia. ORANGE and another individual went into the rear of the church. A list of license plates of other individuals' automobiles who entered the church that evening was obtained by the Philadelphia Police Department. The registered owners of these automobiles are being checked by the Philadelphia Police Department.

About 11:30 p.m., ORANGE left the church with an unidentified Negro male in a 1959 or 1960 Chevrolet, Tennessee license JJ8626. This license was subsequently determined to be that registered to JAMES E. WOODRUFF, 3211 Batavia Avenue, Nashville, Tenn. The Reverend JAMES E. WOODRUFF is presently employed by the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania in the Race Relations Section of the diocese. The Reverend WOODRUFF is also the individual who was involved in the summer of 1966 with the Liberation School in Nashville, Tenn., in which the Chief of Police of Nashville, Tenn., alleged that the Liberation School, which was funded in part by the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity, was teaching "hate whitey" classes.

ORANGE was observed driving a 1965 Pontiac sedan, Illinois license KT3925, which later investigation determined was registered to JAMES E. ORANGE, 1257 South Keeler Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

When ORANGE returned to the residence at 6514 Lincoln Drive around midnight, January 12, 1968, the surveillance was dropped.

On January 12, 1968, ORANGE was spot surveilled by the Philadelphia Police Department, however as of mid afternoon Saturday ORANGE could no longer be located.

On January 17, 1968, confidential informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he had received unverified information that an individual identified only as ORANGE had been at a meeting sometime around the middle or latter part of December at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 52nd and Pine Streets in Philadelphia during the evening, meeting with civil rights leaders in Philadelphia. It was PH T-1's understanding that ORANGE represented Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and the SCLC in regard to KING's coming project scheduled for the spring of 1968 in Washington, D.C. and other cities. The gist of the meeting was to the effect that if Philadelphia civil rights leaders were to support Dr. KING's presence of SCLC in Philadelphia sometime in early 1968, that any money collected through SCLC efforts in Philadelphia would be used in Philadelphia rather than being taken out of the city for the National Headquarters of SCLC as had been done on a number of former appearances of Dr. KING in Philadelphia.

PH T-1 had no information as to whether or not this was accepted by ORANGE, SCLC, or Dr. KING.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Racial sources of the Louisville Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have advised that they have received no information that recruiting activity in Louisville, Kentucky, with respect to the captioned Project has commenced, with the exception that one meeting regarding the matter was held in Louisville at the Antioch Baptist Church, Louisville, Kentucky on March 1, 1968. With respect to the meeting, the Courier-Journal, a daily Louisville, Kentucky newspaper, in its issue of March 2, 1968, reported that about 70 persons were present and heard Benjamin Van Clark report that Dr. Martin Luther King was currently meeting with his top Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) advisors to determine strategy for the campaign. Van Clark said that they were going to ask each community to form a support committee, made up of a cross-section of the community, which committee would raise money for the Spring Project and prepare local demonstrations in support of both poor Negroes and poor whites. K-1

The article also stated that Rev. A.D. Williams King, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, 2200 West Walnut Street, Louisville, Kentucky, brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, had said at the meeting that the present plans called for 200 Kentuckians to go to Washington to participate in the Spring Project.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Racial sources of the Louisville Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have advised that they have received no information that recruiting activity in Louisville, Kentucky, with respect to the captioned Project has commenced, with the exception that one meeting regarding the matter was held in Louisville at the Antioch Baptist Church, Louisville, Kentucky on March 1, 1968. With respect to the meeting, the Courier-Journal, a daily Louisville, Kentucky newspaper, in its issue of March 2, 1968, reported that about 70 persons were present and heard Benjamin Van Clark report that Dr. Martin Luther King was currently meeting with his top Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) advisors to determine strategy for the campaign. Van Clark said that they were going to ask each community to form a support committee, made up of a cross-section of the community, which committee would raise money for the Spring Project and prepare local demonstrations in support of both poor Negroes and poor whites.

The article also stated that Rev. A.D. Williams King, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church, 2200 West Walnut Street, Louisville, Kentucky, brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, had said at the meeting that the present plans called for 200 Kentuckians to go to Washington to participate in the Spring Project.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., president, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

On March 5, 1968, GOLDEN ASRO FRINKS, Field Secretary, SCLC, was interviewed by Agent of the FBI at his residence 122 West Peterson Street, Edenton, North Carolina. FRINKS said that he is pleased with the progress that Congress is making with the proposed civil rights legislation, but he said that even if legislation is passed, this will not change SCLC's plans for a march on Washington, D. C. FRINKS pointed out that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING has not spelled out his demands as yet and that they will include much more than just a housing law. He suggested that one of the demands might be that all persons are assured a minimum income which would be paid by the Federal government. His concept of this plan would be that the number of days per year an individual is employed by private industry would be subtracted from the total in the year and then the government would pay the balance. He said that it would be the government's responsibility to provide the work they wish these individuals to do, even if it be only menial labor. He said that it would also be the government's responsibility to enforce this plan to insure that the persons are actually doing the work.

With regard to the march, he said that he has 21 paid employees working for him throughout the State of North Carolina. He said that these individuals are not being paid a salary but subsistence only. He said that these people were unemployed and that they had nothing else to do, therefore they were willing to work on that basis. FRINKS advised he would provide the names of the 21 paid employees in about one week. He said he did not have their names at the time of interview.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

FRINKS said that these 21 persons are recruiting others to go to Washington, D. C., for the march and act as squad leaders, guides, etc. for the masses who will follow. He said that his paid employees have a goal of 200 such persons and that 155 have already been recruited. After the recruitment drive is complete, only a few of the 21 will remain on the payroll.

FRINKS said that he and his group of about 200 will leave North Carolina on April 15 or 16, with a planned arrival in Washington, D. C., on April 22, 1968. Concerning transportation, he said that the means of transportation has not yet been worked out. He said he has given consideration to buying old busses or cars, but the busses especially do not seem to be available. FRINKS said there has been a suggestion to drive to a distance of 100 miles south of Washington and then walk the rest of the way. There has also been the suggestion to walk the entire way. FRINKS said he personally prefers to go by bus or car if possible, stopping in the small towns en route. He hopes to set up tents at night along the way. He mentioned the town of Suffolk, Virginia, as a possible first night stop. He commented that he also hopes to set up tents in Washington, but he feels that they will be prohibited from doing this.

Upon arrival at Washington, D. C., FRINKS believes that Dr. KING will be there to meet them. Shortly after their arrival, he believes that KING will make his demands and then call all Negroes to Washington who have grievances. The hard core group of squad leaders and guides will be stationed at the entrances to the city and at the Federal buildings and direct each incoming group to the office building that should best be able to handle their particular grievance. FRINKS estimated that the demonstrations in Washington will last about three weeks.

FRINKS advised that he and Dr. KING are very much concerned about STOKLEY CARMICHAEL and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) trying to interfere or take over once the Negroes are in Washington. He said CARMICHAEL's presence represents violence and the communist influence in the civil rights movement. He said Dr. KING spoke with CARMICHAEL during the last week in February and has a promise from him that he will not interfere with the plans of SCLC. FRINKS advised that KING plans additional talks with CARMICHAEL. FRINKS said if he does come, "we will bust his head."

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

FRINKS said that his headquarters for this march is at his residence or at his office located above the Credit Union Building, 405 Broad Street, Edenton, North Carolina.

He pointed out that he is still working for Dr. REGINALD HAWKINS in support of his campaign for governor. He said that he is finishing a seven weeks leave of absence, but believes that this will be extended for an additional seven weeks. He said the campaign is badly in need of money; however, there are many more supporters than originally expected. He mentioned that his telephone bill for his residence telephone was over $1,000, and that it has been disconnected.

It was observed that FRINKS was driving a light blue recent model Dodge, four-door, bearing 1968 North Carolina License TJ-123 and a plastic sign on both front doors which reads, " HAWKINS FOR GOVERNOR, Candidate for Hope and Progress."

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The following information was furnished to
Special Agents of the FBI:

On March 7, 1968, Aaron E. Henry, State President,
National Association for the Advancement of Colored People
(NAACP), Clarksdale, Mississippi, advised that Martin Luther King, Jr., is scheduled to arrive in Clarksdale, Mississippi, on March 19, 1968, to hold a rally for support of his Washington Spring Project (WSP). This rally is to take place between 2:00 PM and 5:00 PM, after which time the NAACP will decide whether or not to support the WSP.

On March 7, 1968, Leon Wilbert Hall, 823 Cherry-Street, Grenada, Mississippi, advised that he is the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) field secretary for the state of Mississippi and as such is in complete charge of SCLC activities in Mississippi, and that he is coordinating the plan for the WSP activity in Mississippi. Hall thereafter furnished the following information:

ENCLOSURE

157-8428-

333

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Martin Luther King, Jr., president, SCLC, will come to Mississippi on or about March 20, 1968, for the purpose of touring the state in an effort to gain additional support for the WSP.

King will then return to Mississippi on or about April 14, 1968, to take part in workshops and training programs at Grenada, Mississippi, and Jackson, Mississippi, which will have already been in operation for a short period of time. This program is in connection with the preparation of persons planning to participate in the WSP. King will spend the morning of his arrival at Grenada and the evening at Jackson. He will depart from Jackson via bus on April 15, 1968, the projected date of departure for the delegations from the southern part of Mississippi, and will travel to Washington, D. C., with this group.

The Mississippi group, which presently has 114 persons signed up, will consist of between 200 and 400 persons at the date of departure. They will gather at two focal points, Grenada and Jackson, with the northern delegates meeting in Grenada and the southern delegates in Jackson.

The recruiting for this group is being handled by SCLC employees, namely, Leon Wilbert Hall; R. B. Cottonreader, Quitman County SCLC project director, Marks, Mississippi; Major Wright, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) worker, Lexington, Mississippi, who have endorsed the entire SCLC program. The delegates are to come from thirty different counties in Mississippi.

The group leaving on April 15, 1968, will be the first such group in the nation to start for Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

They will travel by buses furnished free of charge by unnamed northern church organizations. They will travel to Washington, D. C., after joining with units from Tennessee and Alabama en route. R. B. Cottonreader and Major Wright will accompany this group to Washington, D. C.

This unit will be followed by a second delegation at a later date which Hall will accompany, together with his secretary, Felicie Porche, a volunteer worker from Los Angeles, California.

Housing has been arranged at the present time for 2500 persons, of which the large part is located in the Baltimore, Maryland, area. The delegates plan to commute daily from this area to Washington, D. C., to take part in the activities.

The first group is scheduled to arrive in Washington, D. C., on April 22, 1968, to commence with the scheduled activities. It is tentatively planned for King to spend more time in the state of Mississippi in order to gain support for his WSP. It is felt that in the past he has neglected Mississippi in his contacting the people.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The following information was furnished to
Special Agents of the FBI:

On March 7, 1968, Aaron E. Henry, State President, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), Clarksdale, Mississippi, advised that Martin Luther King, Jr., is scheduled to arrive in Clarksdale, Mississippi, on March 19, 1968, to hold a rally for support of his Washington Spring Project (WSP). This rally is to take place between 2:00 PM and 5:00 PM, after which time the NAACP will decide whether or not to support the WSP.

On March 7, 1968, Leon Wilbert Hall, 823 Cherry Street, Grenada, Mississippi, advised that he is the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) field secretary for the state of Mississippi and as such is in complete charge of SCLC activities in Mississippi, and that he is coordinating the plan for the WSP activity in Mississippi. Hall thereafter furnished the following information:

ENCLOSURE

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Martin Luther King, Jr., president, SCLC, will come to Mississippi on or about March 20, 1968, for the purpose of touring the state in an effort to gain additional support for the WSP.

King will then return to Mississippi on or about April 14, 1968, to take part in workshops and training programs at Grenada, Mississippi, and Jackson, Mississippi, which will have already been in operation for a short period of time. This program is in connection with the preparation of persons planning to participate in the WSP. King will spend the morning of his arrival at Grenada and the evening at Jackson. He will depart from Jackson via bus on April 15, 1968, the projected date of departure for the delegations from the southern part of Mississippi, and will travel to Washington, D. C., with this group.

The Mississippi group, which presently has 114 persons signed up, will consist of between 200 and 400 persons at the date of departure. They will gather at two focal points, Grenada and Jackson, with the northern delegates meeting in Grenada and the southern delegates in Jackson.

The recruiting for this group is being handled by SCLC employees, namely, Leon Wilbert Hall; R. B. Cottonreader, Quitman County SCLC project director, Marks, Mississippi; Major Wright, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party (MFDP) worker, Lexington, Mississippi, who have endorsed the entire SCLC program. The delegates are to come from thirty different counties in Mississippi.

The group leaving on April 15, 1968, will be the first such group in the nation to start for Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

They will travel by buses furnished free of charge by unnamed northern church organizations. They will travel to Washington, D. C., after joining with units from Tennessee and Alabama en route. R. B. Cottonreader and Major Wright will accompany this group to Washington, D. C.

This unit will be followed by a second delegation at a later date which Hall will accompany, together with his secretary, Felicie Porche, a volunteer worker from Los Angeles, California.

Housing has been arranged at the present time for 2500 persons, of which the large part is located in the Baltimore, Maryland, area. The delegates plan to commute daily from this area to Washington, D. C., to take part in the activities.

The first group is scheduled to arrive in Washington, D. C., on April 22, 1968, to commence with the scheduled activities. It is tentatively planned for King to spend more time in the state of Mississippi in order to gain support for his WSP. It is felt that in the past he has neglected Mississippi in his contacting the people.

As the Bureau is aware, Reverend JAMES GROPPi, Assistant Pastor, St. Boniface Church, and Advisor to the Milwaukee Youth Council (MYC), NAACP, was "to be contacted" by a SCLC representative in connection with instant matter (AT airtel, 1/25/68).

Milwaukee PD source advised 2/26/68 that after a speaking engagement by Father GROPPi in Minneapolis on 2/19/68, he was to proceed to Miami, Florida, for a "retreat." Father GROPPi reportedly was to meet with MARTIN LUTHER KING either en route to Miami or on his return trip from Miami. Father GROPPi returned to Milwaukee, 2/22/68.

It is noted that the SCLC, under the direction of MARTIN LUTHER KING, held a conference in Miami, 2/19-23/68.

Atlanta advised 3/1/68 that HOSEA WILLIAMS, SCLC official and reportedly Field Director of WSP demonstrations in Washington, D.C., commented recently that Father JAMES GROPPi was in favor of the SCLC WSP and was to assist SCLC by utilizing "his people" to recruit demonstrators in Milwaukee for the WSP. WILLIAMS also stated he had had several telephone conversations with Father GROPPi in the recent past.

As of 3/1/68, Atlanta sources had no knowledge whether or not Father GROPPi may have actually conferred with MARTIN LUTHER KING in the recent past.

Also, according to HOSEA WILLIAMS, Father GROPPi was supposed to have attended the SCLC "retreat" on Urban Leadership and Citizenship Training in Miami, 2/19-23/68, but at the last minute found he could not do so.

In connection with that Miami "retreat," Atlanta advised that a Miami source furnished a list of names of those purportedly in attendance. Father GROPPi's name was not on that list.

It is noted that Father GROPPi on 2/12/68 was fined $500.00 and placed on probation for two years by County Judge F. RYAN DUFFY for resisting arrest during an open housing demonstration in Milwaukee, 8/31/67. Father GROPPi in his talk at Minneapolis on 2/19/68, advised his audience that it was necessary for him to obtain permission from his probation officer to make the trip to Minneapolis. It is possible he may not have obtained permission for travel to Miami. MIPD contemplates establishing liaison with Father GROPPi's probation officer.

The "Herald-Examiner", a daily newspaper published in Los Angeles, California, in its issue of 2/23/68, on page A-8, carried an article which was datelined at Los Angeles, on 2/22/68. The article indicated that the Reverend Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. had made a pact last week with two "black power" militants, H. RAP BROWN, Chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, and his predecessor STOKELY CARMICHAEL.

The Reverend ALBERT R. SAMPSON, the Chief Aide to Dr. KING, said that BROWN, the advocate of "guerrilla war on the honkie white man", and CARMICHAEL, the spokesman, for "total revolution by Negroes", had agreed not to fight Dr. KING's poor people's campaign to camp-in in Washington early in April, 1968.

Reverend SAMPSON indicated that CARMICHAEL had agreed to march with Dr. KING on the latter's own terms - non-violence. Dr. KING had acknowledged, according to this source, that his non-violent effort could generate rioting and he had begun consultation with the objective of preventing trouble.

Reverend SAMPSON also indicated that participants in the demonstrations by extremist black nationalist groups from New York would be under a pledge of non-violence. The staff was now arranging sites and equipment for the camp-in which was scheduled to last until Congress enacts adequate anti-poverty bills.

The "Los Angeles Times", a daily newspaper published in Los Angeles, California, in its issue of 2/29/68, carried an article which editorialized about the camp-in promised or threatened for April. The article stated that everything was to be "non-violent" but there were threats of "non-compliance" with the law and plans to block the entrances of Government buildings. Experts were allegedly to be trained elsewhere and then to be brought into Washington.

The article also indicated that the fear is that after a few days, the more violent, trouble making leaders will take over and that violence will almost be certain, with the prospect of direct clashes, if not between civilians, then almost certainly between the campers and the authorities.

This article stated that nobody believes that Congress is going to be intimidated and the obvious outcome is certainly to be increased frustration.

The article stated that it is impossible to see how anything but trouble can come of this. The participants are seeking impossible goals, and to get them to perform they are being deliberately goaded into taking part in what is nothing more or less than mob pressure to try to force action by the Government. No Government, no matter the circumstances, can afford to be intimidated by mob action, and the belief is growing that this is exactly what will happen when the extremist leaders step in to take over after the initial "peaceful demonstration" fails to accomplish its advertised purpose.

this regard. In an effort to answer all these requests, recipient offices are instructed to submit information concerning the Washington Spring Project following the attached format in a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination every week by airtel commencing March 8, 1968.

Every item in the format is to be answered, even if in the negative. The letterhead memorandum, which would serve as a cover to the format, would be brief and utilize a statement similar to the following as an introduction: "Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro." After the introduction a brief summary of the activity within your Division during the past week should be set forth. After this summary the cover letterhead memorandum would end with a statement similar to the following: "The attached page sets forth more detailed data relative to this Project."

In addition, in the cover airtel each office should give its analysis of the progress to date and furnish comments as to the prospects for the success of this Project within your area.

The Bureau is extremely interested in all information developed concerning this program. When important information is developed concerning this program it should be submitted to the Bureau in the most expeditious way possible and should not be held for the weekly airtel.

NOTE: The field has been submitting weekly airtels since January 4, 1968, concerning the activity of the Washington Spring Project in their area. This information is not all inclusive and above-referenced airtel furnishes them format to use which will be helpful in answering anticipated inquiries the Bureau will receive from interested agencies in this regard.

this regard. In an effort to answer all these requests, recipient offices are instructed to submit information concerning the Washington Spring Project following the attached format in a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination every week by airtel commencing March 8, 1968.

Every item in the format is to be answered, even if in the negative. The letterhead memorandum, which would serve as a cover to the format, would be brief and utilize a statement similar to the following as an introduction: "Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro." After the introduction a brief summary of the activity within your Division during the past week should be set forth. After this summary the cover letterhead memorandum would end with a statement similar to the following: "The attached page sets forth more detailed data relative to this Project."

In addition, in the cover airtel each office should give its analysis of the progress to date and furnish comments as to the prospects for the success of this Project within your area.

The Bureau is extremely interested in all information developed concerning this program. When important information is developed concerning this program it should be submitted to the Bureau in the most expeditious way possible and should not be held for the weekly airtel.

NOTE: The field has been submitting weekly airtels since January 4, 1968, concerning the activity of the Washington Spring Project in their area. This information is not all inclusive and above-referenced airtel furnishes them format to use which will be helpful in answering anticipated inquiries the Bureau will receive from interested agencies in this regard.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing the results of a conference held at Miami, Florida, by Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), to train Negro ministers in urban leadership.

BACKGROUND:

Recently the Ford Foundation publicly announced they were providing the SCLC with a grant of $230,000 to train Negro ministers in an effort to develop responsible leadership in the Negro ghetto areas of the Nation's major cities.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

King held the first of a series of two workshops at Miami, Florida, from February 19-23, 1968. Approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the United States attended this conference. A large amount of time was spent at the conference discussing ways of putting economic pressure on the white community to create more jobs for Negroes.

The delegates held different opinions as to the methods to be used in solving the problems of the civil rights movement. The majority favored the nonviolent approach. One of those advocating a more militant approach was Reverend James Bevel, an aide to King. Reverend Bevel stated he believed in burning down the cities if something significant would be accomplished, but he did not believe in burning just for the sake of burning.

Concerning religion, Reverend Bevel advised he did not believe in the virgin birth of Christ. He advised he was firmly convinced that "Mary" was raped by a Roman soldier.

^{7:00} Another militant minister in attendance was Reverend James E. Woodruff of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Another source advised that there was a marked tendency on the part of SCLC to move away from integration and move toward economic and political black power.

During the conference some members of SCLC attempted to gain support for King's massive civil disobedience campaign scheduled in early April, 1968, in Washington, D. C. Most ministers attending gave their reluctant approval to this program.

The majority of the delegates in attendance were opposed to the militant approach to solving the problems of the civil rights movement as advocated by Stokely Carmichael, former Chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

RECOMMENDATION:

That copies of the enclosures be forwarded to Mrs. Mildred Stegall at the White House; Mr. William Welsh, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman; Secretary of Labor Wirtz; Secretary of Defense; Secret Service; the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorneys General Pollak, Yeagley, and Vinson; the Inter-Division Information Unit of the Department; and to the Departments of Army, Navy, and Air Force.

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, held a week-long workshop to train Negro ministers in urban leadership at Miami, Florida, from February 19 through 23, 1968. The Ford Foundation recently gave King's organization a $230,000 grant to hold these workshops.

Approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the United States attended this conference. During the day these individuals attended various smaller workshops to discuss problems of the Negro living in the ghetto. A large amount of time was spent discussing ways of putting economic pressure on the white community to create more and better jobs for Negroes.

The delegates were of variant opinions as to the methods to be used in solving the problems within the civil rights movement. The majority of the delegates favored the nonviolent approach. There were a few in attendance who were desirous of a more militant approach. One of those advocating a militant approach was Reverend James Bevel, an aide to King. At one point, Bevel stated he believed in burning down the cities if something significant would be accomplished. He did not believe in burning just for the sake of burning. He advised he attempted to get Negro leaders in New York City to burn that town down when Adam Clayton Powell lost his congressional seat; however, he was unsuccessful.

Concerning religion, Reverend Bevel advised that he did not believe in the virgin birth of Jesus Christ. He advised he was firmly convinced that "Mary" was raped by a Roman soldier.

Another militant minister in attendance was Reverend James E. Woodruff, an Episcopal minister from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Reverend Woodruff confided to some in attendance that he was the leader of a "liberation school" and he also conducted many classes in various homes in the Philadelphia area. He also stated that he believed in terrorist tactics to achieve black power.

Another source advised that there was a marked tendency on the part of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference to move away from integration and to move toward economic and political black power.

During the conference some members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference attempted to gain support for King's massive civil disobedience campaign to be held early in April, 1968, in Washington, D. C. King calls this program his "Washington Spring Project." Most ministers in attendance gave their reluctant approval to the "Washington Spring Project" provided the Project would be approached in a nonviolent manner.

Most of the delegates in attendance were opposed to the militant approach to the problems of the civil rights movement advocated by Stokely Carmichael, former Chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. These individuals felt that the problems could be solved with a more moderate approach.

Dear Mr. Hoover--

I join with perhaps millions of my fellow Americans, to plead with you and your Dept. to direct your attention to the activities of this "character," Martin Luther King. Who is planning now to soon lead a mass march on the National Capitol--to further demonstrate his communistic aims--and to sabotage, at least in part, of the principals. My three sons have gone to war to preserve.

We are hopeful invasion will be dealt with in the manner as the Bonas March some years ago -When our truly dedicated Veterans of combat--Were driven from the Nations Capitol, with bayonets, torches, and mounted troops--

There will also be millions across the Nation awaiting to see how this agitator will be dealt with.

Surely, the "shanties" and "communism" will not be permitted to blossom beneath those cherry trees, and in the shadows of the Justice Dept. Bldg. An aroused country must be vitally conserved.

The following information was obtained from a newspaper article entitled "Clergymen Learn King Method" which appeared in the "Long Island Press", February 19, 1968, page 3:

The article narrated that twenty Negro clergymen would be leaving New York for Miami on February 19, 1968, to begin year-long schooling in techniques of "non-violent community action", paid for by the Ford Foundation. It was also narrated that "some briefing on Doctor King's poor people's campaign" scheduled for April, 1968, in Washington, D.C., would be included in the five days of seminars at Miami's Sheraton Ambassador Hotel. The above statements were attributed to an unidentified spokesman for the Reverend Martin Luther King.

The article further stated that the Ford Foundation would foot the bill for the Miami gathering and for 52 weeks of subsequent seminars in the ministers' neighborhoods. The Reverend Wyatt T. Walker, pastor of Harlem's Canaan Baptist Church, and a former chief of staff to Doctor King, informed the "Long Island Press" that he and another New York minister would lead about twenty clergymen from Harlem, Bedford-Stuyvesant, Long Island and Westchester to the Miami, Florida Conference. Reverend Walker stated that the seminars in Miami which run through Friday, February 22, 1968, would include instructions in organizing various techniques of non-violent community action."

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from this Bureau on February 21, 1968.

Inspector OWEN W. DAVIS, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., presently on assignment in Miami, Florida, reported on February 22, 1968, that the Ministers Leadership Training Program continues along guidelines previously set out with little or no discussion relating to the Washington Spring Project.

On February 21, 1968, the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation received an anonymous telephone call from a male who inquired if the Federal Bureau of Investigation was aware that MARTIN LUTHER KING was in Miami, Florida. The caller stated he intended to kill KING and would like to bomb KING's room at the Sheraton-Four Ambassadors Hotel, Miami, Florida, but feared injuring other people.

Sergeant JOHN WEAVER, Miami, Florida, Police Department, on duty at the Sheraton-Four Ambassadors Hotel, reported on the evening of February 21, 1968, that the switchboard operator in the hotel received a similar anonymous call shortly before 8:00 PM on February 21, 1968. The caller made reference to a German lugar that he wanted to kill MARTIN LUTHER KING with and/or blow up the hotel.

On February 21, 1968, BOB ASHAUER, Chief Security Officer, Sheraton-Four Ambassadors Hotel, tentatively identified hotel guest HAROLD CHARLES MALCHMAN from Hyannis, Massachusetts, as possibly being responsible for the anonymous call, however, on February 23, 1968, ASHAUER advised that MALCHMAN had been eliminated as being responsible for the anonymous calls threatening MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 22, 1968, Lieutenant HARVERT SWILLEY, Intelligence Unit, Miami, Florida, Police Department, advised that he attended a meeting at the DuPont Plaza Hotel, Miami, Florida, on February 22, 1968. At this meeting, Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., addressed a group of local citizens. KING stated that they are planning to take three to four thousand poor people from various sections of the United States to Washington, D. C., and will stay in Washington until something is done for these people. In this regard, KING stated that his organization, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has the support of some white groups, which he declined to identify.

Inspector OWEN W. DAVIS and Detective SILAS VAUGHN, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., advised on February 23, 1968, that they have attended the majority of the general meetings excluding the individual workshop type meetings, which are confined to the convention delegates.

They advised the general theme of the convention was along the guidelines of instructing the delegates in ways and means of reaching the people in the ghettos in their particular communities.

They advised the delegates were of variant opinions as to the methods to be used in the civil rights movement in that some were favoring the strictly non-violent approach as opposed to a few who were desirous of a more militant approach.

They advised it appeared to them that some members of SCLC in attendance were attempting to gain support for the Washington Spring Project. They stated that some of the Washington, D. C., ministers in attendance at the convention gave their reluctant approval to the Washington Spring Project, providing that the project would be approached in a non-violent manner.

They further advised that it was their impression that possibly two thousand people from fifteen of the country's major cities would participate in the Washington Spring Project and every effort would be made to confine the project to a non-violent theme.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

They stated it was their observation that the general feeling of the delegates in attendance at the convention was opposed to STOKELY CARMICHAEL and the militancy that CARMICHAEL advocates.

They advised that the convention is being concluded February 23, 1968, with the last general meeting being held in which MARTIN LUTHER KING will be the key speaker.

They advised that the majority of the delegates will be returning to their respective communities February 23, 1968, and February 24, 1968.

Copies of this memorandum are being disseminated to the United States Secret Service, Miami; United States Attorney, Miami; 11th M. I. Group, Miami and Orlando, Florida; OSI, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia; and NISO, Charleston, South Carolina.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 20, 1968, Major General Roland H. Del Mar, (United States Army Retired), 520 N Street, S.W., Apartment S-231, Washington, D.C., made available the following information regarding possible planned activity of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in connection with his Washington Spring Project scheduled for Washington, D.C., in April of this year.

From January 29 - 31, 1968, General Del Mar attended the Fifth Annual National Conference, Catholic Inter-American Cooperation Program (CICP) in St. Louis, Missouri. He advised CICP is a private self-sustaining organization, the purpose of which is to discuss Latin American countries and make recommendations to the State Department. It has as its prime objective to endeavor to resolve the problems of the United States with Latin America and vice versa.

According to General Del Mar, representatives to this conference were confined to specialists regarded as "intellectuals" in Latin American affairs. He stated participants to the conference absorbed their own expenses.

In conducting the conference those present worked in small seminar type of discussions. General Del Mar further stated in his seminar group, one individual from the Washington, D.C. area participated. This person was described by General Del Mar as a male member of the caucasian race; a pacifist with very pronounced anti-administration views and one who vehemently defended Dr. Martin Luther King's Washington Spring Project. He described this person as a layman with a Ph. D degree; one who made many statements endeavoring to justify the appearance of the "hippie individuals" by stating, Jesus wore a beard and long hair.

General Del Mar preferred not to identify this individual and stated his acquaintance with him has been too limited to render opinion as to the person's reliability.

According to General Del Mar, this individual made remarks at one of the CACP seminars to the effect that he had contacts with Doctor King, which he doubted. This person he said is not a member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Washington, D.C. From what the person said, General Del Mar is of the opinion the individual has no personal contact with King. This person stated that one of the phases of the Washington Spring Project in April would include an unauthorized rally on the steps of the United States Supreme Court building. Because there is a law prohibiting this, King's group would be arrested which is what they want done for publicity purposes. It was also mentioned that at the rally King will be making demands for legislative action, giving Congress a time limit to pass certain legislation. If Congress does not do this, they will have to suffer the consequences. The unidentified person mentioned Dr. King does not want violence but that he cannot be responsible for what occurs if his demands and requests are not met.

General Del Mar advised he had no further information regarding this matter.

Captain Thomas V. Slemanski, United States Supreme Court Police, Washington, D.C., on February 20, 1968, advised that Title 18 and Title 40 of the United States Code prohibit demonstrations in the form of picketing or assemblage in or around the immediate areas where a Federal Court is housed. This statute carries a penalty of $5,000 fine or one year of imprisonment or both. He stated any interpretation of what constitutes the immediate area of the Supreme Court would have to be ruled on by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court at the request of the Marshal of the Court.

Dear Sir:

It continues to be a mystery why our government allows a black power leader the freedom to plan revolution.

If the White House and Justice Department "fear" the results of Martin Luther King's April march on Washington and Carmichael's involvement in it why can't steps be taken to prevent this event?

It appears that we must fight communism in Vietnam, but not in Washington D.C. Something is wrong!

King, Carmichael and Lenin

Los Angeles Times 2/20/68
BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

Fear is growing among top officials in the White House and Justice Department that Dr. Martin Luther King's April march of the poor on Washington will result in a stunning victory for Stokely Carmichael.

With only six weeks to go, little of the detailed and massive planning necessary for King's April campaign has been done. Thus, in the opinion of Administration strategists, there is a golden opportunity for Carmichael to step in and gain primacy among Negro leaders. Indeed, King in desperation may even invite him to take a leading role in the planning, with obvious implications for the future.

Moreover, King's ill-considered

"Package deal, baby, steal my thunder — you take my lightning."
Darcy in Philadelphia Bulletin campaign exactly coincides with the new Leninist phase—in many ways the most dangerous phase — of Stokely Carmichael's swift ascent to the top. He has returned from travels in the Communist world no longer preaching revolution in the streets but quietly implementing V. I. Lenin's tactics of coalescing with non-revolutionary social reformers — such as King.

What makes King particularly susceptible to Carmichael's embrace is his present desperate condition within the movement. Once the country's most prestigious Negro leader, he has been declining since the failure of his Chicago campaign of 1966. The April march of the poor is widely regarded in Negro circles as King's last opportunity. Chuck Stone, a shrewd black power strategist and an ally of Carmichael, has called it "Custer's last stand."

But King, never much of an administrator, has hardly begun to attack the mass of detail needed to bring thousands of poor Negroes to Washington and house, feed, and lead them. King badly misses Bayard Rustin, chief planner for the 1963 march on Washington, who is now estranged from King.

Furthermore, as Justice Department officials well know, King has a history of surrendering control to the better organized extremist elements in a critical situation. This was precisely what happened during the Selma, Ala., march in 1965 when the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNICK) forced King to the wall and seized control.

Nor are Administration officials alone in their apprehension. King's more moderate lieutenants—such as the Rev. Walter Fauntroy, vice chairman of the new Washington City Council—have from the beginning feared that control of the April march would go to the extremists.

The decision by Carmichael's new Black United Front to endorse the "aims" of the King campaign has only fanned the fears. For Carmichael, it avoids all responsibility for a possible fiasco but positions him perfectly to take command if the opportunity arises.

Indeed, mere formation of the Black United Front follows the Leninist line now followed by Carmichael. Whether or not Carmichael himself actually read Lenin during his long travels in the Red world last year, he returned to this country a changed man. Once contemptuous of non-radical Negroes, he immediately proposed formation of the Black United Front—a front of both revolutionary and non-revolutionary elements along classic Leninist lines.

Moderate Negro leaders here have been uncertain about their reaction to Carmichael's overtures. Carl Moultrie of the NAACP and Sterling Tucker of the Urban League attended the first meetings of the front more to keep an eye on Carmichael than anything else. In a private conversation, Tucker told Carmichael he realized each was trying to hoodwink the other.

But the moderates came under heavy pressure not to consort with Carmichael. Moultrie was particularly chastised by national NAACP headquarters. When the Black United Front met again last Wednesday, Feb. 14, neither Moultrie nor Tucker was present.

Present or not, they fully appreciate Carmichael's tactics. He is explicitly following Lenin's famed 1920 injunction to the British Communist Party not to attack the Labor Party but to "support" the democratic Socialists "in the same way as the rope supports a hanged man."

It is in precisely this way that Stokely Carmichael may be able to "support" King six weeks hence. The most charismatic and one of the ablest Negro leaders, Carmichael may achieve a dangerous eminence now that he has laid aside puerile rabble-rousing and adopted the political techniques of the greatest revolutionary of the century.

He stated "yet, in a matter of hours after an unfortunate fracas in South Carolina, this same Justice Department has already tried and condemned the entire city; that is, all but the parties responsible for provoking the affair. - - - What does the Justice Department seek from Orangeburg—to justify riot-provoking causes and encourage more violence? On February 8, 1968, Dr. Martin Luther King appeared as a guest on the Johnny Carson "Tonight Show", Channel 4, IBC Television, 11:30 p.m. The following is a summary of remarks made by Dr. King on this television appearance:

The question was asked of Dr. King, "What do you have in store for us this summer", to which Dr. King replied that he had "something in store for this spring." Martin Luther King stated that the economic problem was the most serious problem facing the Negro community. He is also concerned about Puerto Ricans, Mexicans, American Indians and the Appalachian whites. "I think the time has come to bring to bear the power of direct action, the nonviolent direct action movement, on the basic economic conditions that we face all over the country.....In winning victories like the Civil Rights Bill of 1964, we discovered that these legislative strikes did very little to improve the lot of the millions of Negroes in the ghettos of the North and the nation generally. Now the time has come to really deal with the economic problem. We feel that we will have to go to the Seat of Government, to the Congress of our nation, to dramatize, to expose, and to call attention to this major economic problem that is destroying the lives of so many people."

With reference to United States involvement in the war in Vietnam, Dr. King stated "When the guns of war become a national obsession, social programs inevitably suffer. I would rather follow the Bible: 'Where your heart is, there your treasure will be'. The heart of the Administration is in this war in Vietnam. When the Government is putting 35 billion dollars in a war 8,000 miles away from home, which in my estimation is an unjust, senseless war, then you don't get butter, you don't even get oleo." Dr. King also praised the contribution made to the peace movement by artists.

TO : The Director

DATE: 2/13/68

FROM : N. P. Callahan

SUBJECT: Congressional Record

Pages H1038-H1040. Congressman Herlong, (D) Florida, spoke concerning the demonstration planned by Martin Luther King to be held in Washington this summer. He stated "As is his usual policy, the Reverend King piously pontificates that this is going to be a nonviolent demonstration; he also states that there will be civil disobedience. As is usually the case wherever one of these so-called nonviolent demonstrations is organized, it will result in violence. When this happens, King will sanctimoniously retreat to his ivory tower, after having ignited the fires that cause violence, and say he could not help it; it got out of hand. - - - Civil disobedience should be, and I submit is, in the same category as criminal disobedience. - - - we have been warned before and suffered the consequences because we failed to heed those warnings. Is history going to repeat itself in Washington this summer?" Congressman Halsey, (D) Florida, joined in the remarks and stated "It is about time that we in this Nation, and especially here in the Nation's Capital, back up our law enforcement officers when we call upon them to protect people who walk the streets of our cities." Congressman Abernethy, (D) Mississippi, agreed with the remarks of Herlong and Halsey and added "I would like to say that in my opinion the metropolitan police of the District of Columbia will do a good job, more particularly, if they have the support of the President of the United States, and the Department of Justice, and of the Congress."

All logical sources and informants of WFO continue to be contacted regarding the Washington Spring Project (WSP) planned by Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

KING arrived in Washington, D. C., (WDC) on 2/6/68, for an Executive Board Meeting of the SCLC. On that date KING also participated in a demonstration sponsored by a group calling themselves the Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam.

Later on 2/6/68, KING attended SCLC meeting at the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N. W., WDC, where the WSP was discussed and support was requested from local WDC citizens.

STOKELY CARMICHAEL of the Black United Front (BUF) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) attended a closed meeting held at the Church of the Redeemer held by KING to further request support for the WSP. At the meeting KING said he expected 3,000 demonstrators to come to WDC for the WSP. They plan to camp on the Washington Monument or Lincoln Memorial grounds. They expect to be asked to move and when this is done they plan...

SCLC Executive Board meeting continued on 2/7/68, and KING reportedly met with H. RA^o BROWN, on SNCC, and STOKELY CARMICHAEL on that date. On the evening of 2/7/68, a mass meeting was held by SCLC at the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Avenue, N.W., WDC, at which time KING again asked for local support for the WSP. In addition a collection was taken to assist with the finances of the SCLC at which time approximately $1,000 was collected.

On 2/8/68 KING met with a group of clergy at the Church of the Redeemer at which time additional requests were made for support from local clergy for the WSP.

WFO continues to maintain daily contact with Inspector THOMAS I. HERLIHY, Intelligence Division, MPD, and has furnished him all available information concerning the project.

Officials of the U.S. Park Police, U.S. Capitol Police and GSA have been alerted concerning details of the project, and their cooperation has been solicited in furnishing to WFO information that may come to their attention re the WSP.

This matter will continue to be followed closely by WFO.

Mr. J. Edger Hoover,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

I had written a letter to Senator Russell asking why congress could not enact a law to hold Martin Luther King and his unruly crowd out of our national shrine this summer. There was about six months at the time to get ready.

The senator says they do not need to enact a new law, all they need to do is enforce the laws that are now on the books. He states that politics have so taken over that those who should be timid about enforcing the laws.

I appeal to you on this as I have had great admiration for you- and everyone is concerned about the riot that Martin Luther King is stirring up- to be pulled off in Washington:

Washington belongs to the people of the United States, and I hate to see it desecrated.

I appeal to you, as head to do something about this.

Sincerely,

Mr. E. L. Philpot

Pages S1106-S1107. Senator Holland, (D) Florida, spoke concerning the proposed march on Washington sponsored by Martin Luther King to take place in April. He included an article from the Washington Post entitled "King Keys His Tactics to Response by Hill." Mr. Holland stated "I believe it is high time that those in official positions in Washington publicly state the laws that would govern the proposed march on Washington, - - - - .

It is inviting trouble to allow such plans to proceed without informing Dr. King of the laws that exist as well as letting him know that all necessary steps will be taken to prevent disruption of the daily working of the Government and the people of this metropolitan area."

Pages S1200-S1201. Senator Byrd, (D) West Virginia, requested to have printed in the Record an article from the Washington Post entitled "King Keys His Tactics to Response by Hill." The article advised that King "pledged that his April poor people's campaign will begin as a peaceful and law-abiding demonstration and will 'escalate to disruptive protest' only if Congress doesn't help the poor."

SUBJECT: MARTIN LUTHER KING
SECURITY MATTER - SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

G. C. Moore

On 2/6/68 Mrs. Dorothe Matlack, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of the Army, advised that on 2/5/68 Major General Roland del Mar (U.S. Army, retired), who resides at 520 N Street, Southwest, Apartment S-231, Washington, D.C., and whose telephone number is 554-7473, furnished the following information:

General del Mar said that he has been furnished information by a professional associate, whom he described as a "friendly enemy" and with whom he maintains an armed truce. This associate, whom the General declined to identify except to indicate that he is a fellow member of the Council on Foreign Relations Study Group on U.S. Policy in the Caribbean, has informed the General that when Martin Luther King leads the April march in Washington, he plans to rally on the steps of the U.S. Supreme Court under the "Equal Justice for All" engraving. According to General del Mar's source, there is a law which forbids this; therefore, King's group hopes to be arrested.

The source advised that at the rally King will be making demands for legislative action, giving Congress one week to pass certain legislation. The source quoted King as saying that, "The Negroes are tired of Congress resting on its dignity." According to the source, if the demands of King's group are not satisfied within one week, they plan to "burn Washington." The source further said that King has not really felt that he wanted to go along with H. "Rap" Brown but that if King does not get his legislative demands in April, he intends to join forces with those of Brown for all-out violence in the United States.

RE: MARTIN LUTHER KING

Another of General del Mar's sources, a female professor at Howard University here in Washington, said that Stokely Carmichael visits Howard University every day organizing the students. This second source said that Carmichael's organizing is growing rapidly and this is of great concern to the professor.

This matter has been discussed with the Racial Intelligence Section and we have received similar information from other sources with the exception of the element of "burning Washington."

SUBJECT: MARTIN LUTHER KING
SECURITY MATTER - SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

G. C. Moore

On 2/6/68 Mrs. Dorothe Matlack, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of the Army, advised that on 2/5/68 Major General Roland del Mar (U.S. Army, retired), who resides at 520 N Street, Southwest, Apartment S-231, Washington, D.C., and whose telephone number is 554-7473, furnished the following information:

General del Mar said that he has been furnished information by a professional associate, whom he described as a "friendly enemy" and with whom he maintains an armed truce. This associate, whom the General declined to identify except to indicate that he is a fellow member of the Council on Foreign Relations Study Group on U.S. Policy in the Caribbean, has informed the General that when Martin Luther King leads the April march in Washington, he plans to rally on the steps of the U.S. Supreme Court under the "Equal Justice for All" engraving. According to General del Mar's source, there is a law which forbids this; therefore, King's group hopes to be arrested.

CO

The source advised that at the rally King will be making demands for legislative action, giving Congress one week to pass certain legislation. The source quoted King as saying that, "The Negroes are tired of Congress resting on its dignity." According to the source, if the demands of King's group are not satisfied within one week, they plan to "burn Washington." The source further said that King has not really felt that he wanted to go along with H. "Rap" Brown but that if King does not get his legislative demands in April, he intends to join forces with those of Brown for all-out violence in the United States.

OWASS 20100 SPRING PROJECT

SUBJECT: The Congressional Record

Pages H892-H893. Congressman Selden, (D) Alabama, advised that he had written to Attorney General Clark asking that he initiate steps to seek an injunction against Martin Luther King and other organizers of the planned demonstration in April in Washington, D. C. He stated "I did this because public statements by the march organizers stated that they are 'willing if necessary to fill up the jails of Washington and surrounding communities.' I told the Attorney General that such statements indicated that the organizers of the demonstration contemplated illegal activities and actions during the march which could disrupt peace and order in our Nation's Capital." Mr. Selden placed in the Record the reply he received from Deputy Attorney General Warren Christopher and a letter he sent to Mr. Christopher as a result of the reply. Mr. Christopher pointed out in his letter that the Justice Department was endeavoring to keep itself fully informed concerning the April activity and considering various measures that might be taken to deal with such contingencies as may arise. Mr. Selden pointed out in his letter to Mr. Christopher that as a result of King's activities the Justice Department should act now rather than later.

Pages S1022-S1023. Senator Byrd, (D) West Virginia, placed in the Record an editorial from the Washington Post entitled "The Spring Campaign" and recommended its reading by the Members of the Senate. KING, who hopes to funnel 200,000 people into the capital for what he calls the "dislocation" of Washington, has taken 75 to 100 rooms at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors for key aides who have proved themselves in previous civil rights disorders. SUBJECT: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

By memorandum dated 1/22/68 it was suggested that an informal meeting be held in Mr. Sullivan's office with Major General Carl C. Turner, the Provost Marshal General, United States Army, and Chief of Police John B. Layton, Washington, D. C., to discuss possible problems of mutual interest that might develop when Martin Luther King, Jr., holds his massive civil disobedience campaign this spring called "Washington Spring Project." The Director stated: "I do not think it would be desirable at this time."

Recent information indicates King is proceeding determinedly with his plan to close down Washington, D. C., this spring. A Chicago source has furnished information indicating King's group would attempt to close down the Greyhound Bus Depot during these demonstrations by lying down in front of buses and also blocking entrances and exits.

We received information from Washington Field Office today that Assistant Attorney General Fred M. Vinson, Jr., held a meeting in his office yesterday afternoon with representatives from Secret Service, Metropolitan Police Department, and the Army to discuss plans for the "Washington Spring Project." It was indicated that the Department expects to coordinate all law enforcement agencies as they attempted to do at the October 21, 1967, demonstration at the Pentagon.

In view of the Army's over-all responsibility in racial disturbances and riots coupled with Chief Layton's responsibility for the safety of the city, it is recommended that an informal meeting with General Turner and Chief Layton

King, Stokely Join In Capital

Agreement Between Two Leaders

By ETHEL L. PAYNE
Staff Publications Correspondent

Stokely Carmichael is ready to join Martin Luther King in his planned April "poor peoples camp-in" for Washington if certain conditions are met, the Daily Defender learned yesterday. One of these is an agreement to go all the way and not let himself be co-opted by the military as the militants believe King was in Selma. Carmichael wants a guarantee to escalate from non-violence to whatever direct action may be necessary to make congress and administration meet the demands he presented: a guaranteed annual income, greater expenditures for slum dwellers, crash education and training programs are part of the package. Details of the program may be unveiled when King and associates meet in Washington Feb. 6-7 for a board meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. While the leaders have not met for any formal discussions of their mutual aims, Carmichael as the first step in wringing concessions from the power structure. The next move if it fails to act is more forceful methods, never stopping short of the ultimate goal.

On the other hand, Martin Luther King is totally dedicated to non-violence as a philosophy and a technique. His intention to employ civil disobedience in the spring campaign is about as radical as he will get; although it may well invite some violent acts. Stokely Carmichael is sincerely dedicated to Black Unity, or at least he projects this image. In an effort to win more grass roots support he has stopped his public rabble rousing and temporarily the sound of "honkey" and "uncle tom" has gone into the freezer.

In Washington, only his most trusted aides know of his complete movements. He changes his place of residence frequently; sometimes it's a hotel room or it may be friends or even the back of SNCC headquarters on You st., N.W. he never carries a suitcase in changing places his clothing is brought to him later by separate courier. The coalition of moderates, conservatives and radicals which he tried to put together a few weeks ago has cracked some and there have been fall-outs; but the lines of communication have not been shut down. Carmichael is talking to Sterling Tucker of the Urban League and Rev. Walter Fauntroy, the vice chairman of the Washington City Council and a close friend of Martin Luther King.

King's hope is desperately to bring SNCC activists back under the umbrella of non-violence which he calls the ultimate way to reach the conscience of America. At his Atlanta headquarters last week, swarms of young SNCC workers moved in and out of the place and were very much involved in the planning for the April Washington campaign. Mrs. Martin Luther King was hospitalized for emergency surgery, and her husband has to cancel appointments because there was no one to look after the four children.

The scale for the April Camp-in is nowhere nearly as massive as the march on Washington. King does not have the money and the resources that were available then, Bayard Rustin, the brilliant logician for the 1963 March has cautioned King against the spring campaign and the donors have trickled away; the worry here is that the militants may seize the King campaign and take over its direction. At nearby military bases, there are 7,000 troops who have been receiving special riot control training and the justice department is carefully monitoring the situation. Also very much concerned is the commission on civil disorders.

The military presence may be standing by, but the crowd will go forth to welcome the pilgrims with courtesy and to see that they are accorded all the hospitality the town can give.

King, Stokely Join In Capital

Camp-In Agreement Between Two Leaders

By ETHEL L. PAYNE

Magazine Publications, Correspondent

Stokely Carmichael is ready to join Martin Luther King at his planned April "poor peoples camp-in" for Washington if certain conditions are met. The Daily Defender learned yesterday.

One of these is an agreement to go all the way and not let himself be co-opted by grand promises as the militants believe King was in Selma. Carmichael wants a guarantee to escalate from non-violence to whatever direct action may be necessary to make congress and administration meet the demands to be presented a guaranteed annual income, greater expenditures for slum dwellers and crash education and training programs are part of the package.

Details of the program may be unveiled when King and his associates meet in Washington Feb. 6-7 for a board meeting of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. While no leaders have met or any formal discussions, of their mutual aims, Carmichael as let it be known that he is available and does not want to stage King.

Nevertheless, the Black Power's most publicized activist is quietly and effectively working to the best information, organizing Washington. This is a part of the three-part plan of SNCC and Washington is a special target because of the focus on the nation's capital.

There are many differences between SNCC and SCLC, but the basic argument which pits the two organizations during the Selma march is over tactics and philosophy. Carmichael and other SNCC leaders see non-violence as a technique, not a philosophy. Each should be used only as the first step in wringing concessions from the power structure. The next move if it fails to act is more forceful methods, never stopping short of the ultimate goal.

On the other hand, Martin Luther King is totally dedicated to non-violence as a philosophy and a technique. His intention to employ civil disobedience in the spring campaign is about as radical as he will get; although it may well invite some violent acts.

Stokely Carmichael is sincerely dedicated to Black Unity, or at least he projects this image. In an effort to win more grass roots support he has stopped his public rabble rousing and temporarily the sound of "honkey" and "uncle tom" has gone into the freezer.

In Washington, only his most trusted aides know of his complete movements. He changes his place of residence frequently; sometimes it's a hotel room or it may be friends or even the back of SNCC headquarters on You st., N.W. he never carries a suitcase in changing places - his clothing is brought to him later by separate courier. The coalition of moderates, conservatives and radicals which he tried to put together a few weeks ago has cracked some and there have been fall-outs; but the lines of communication have not been shut down. Carmichael is talking to Sterling Tucker of the Urban League and Rev. Walter Fauntroy, the vice chairman of the Washington City Council and a close friend of Martin Luther King.

King's hope is desperately to bring SNCC activists back under the umbrella of non-violence which he calls the ultimate way to reach the conscience of America. At his Atlanta headquarters last week, swarms of young SNCC workers moved in and out of the place and were very much involved in the planning for the April Washington campaign. Mrs. Martin Luther King was hospitalized for emergency surgery, and her husband has to cancel appointments because there was no one to look after the four children.

The scale for the April Camp-In is nowhere nearly as massive as the march on Washington. King does not have the money and the resources that were available then, Bayard Rustin, the brilliant logician for the 1963 March has cautioned King against the spring campaign and the donors have trickled away; the worry here is that the militants may seize the King campaign and take over its direction. At nearby military bases, there are 7,000 troops who have been receiving special riot control training and the justice department is carefully monitoring the situation. Also very much concerned is the commission on civil disorders.

The military presence may be standing by, but the crowd will go forth to welcome the pilgrims with courtesy and to see that they are accorded all the hospitality the town can give.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

On January 22, 1968, GOLDEN ASRO FRINKS, Field Secretary, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), was interviewed at his residence at Edenton, North Carolina, by representatives of the FBI. FRINKS related that he is ranked seventh or eighth in the SCLC chain of command, and he recently attended conferences in Atlanta, Georgia, concerning forthcoming activities of SCLC. He said at the present time, he is on loan from SCLC to the North Carolina gubernatorial candidate, Doctor REGINALD A. HAWKINS, from Charlotte, North Carolina. He said in this regard, he will travel in North Carolina, to the towns of Pantego, Wilmington, Fayetteville and Durham attempting to form a coalition between the Negroes and the poor whites. FRINKS was not optimistic that HAWKINS would be elected, but he stated if he were elected, it would be a great stride forward for civil rights and tend to retard outbursts of violence and riots.

FRINKS stated while in Atlanta recently, he met with Doctor MARTIN LUTHER KING and other civil rights workers from SCLC, Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). He said the purpose of this conference was to plan demonstrations and a strategy for Washington, D. C., this spring or summer. He said SCLC hopes to have immediate passage of certain civil rights legislation, but if this is unsuccessful, Doctor KING will call for this demonstration. He said another purpose of the conference was to try to eliminate the communist element from infiltrating their plans for a peaceful, non-violent demonstration in Washington, D. C., as well as to eliminate those civil rights groups that advocate violence and riots. In conversation regarding the possibility that the demonstration in Washington, D. C., might meet with resistance from the local Government, FRINKS made no mention of other target cities." He said if they are resisted in Washington, D. C., there will be sit-ins and other forms of civil disobedience short of violence. As to his role in this master plan, FRINKS said it is his responsibility to train 200 persons throughout this state to go to Washington, D. C., with him and demonstrate at preselected locations. As an example, he used the Department of Interior as the object of such a sit-in or demonstration by his group. He said this group of 200 from North Carolina, would not be from any one area of the state, but from every locality. He said he would not want this group to meet unless he called a meeting. FRINKS felt that if they all came from one area of North Carolina, chances would be enhanced that once trained, they might choose a violent course of action rather than the non-violent course he intends to pursue. Regarding violence, FRINKS admitted that once the SCLC-sponsored demonstrations in Washington, D. C., commenced, little could be done by SCLC to prevent other groups from arriving in Washington, D. C., who may be responsible for violence or riots. FRINKS stated he had just returned from Durham, North Carolina, where he had been working on the Washington, D. C., project. He stated he plans to return there about January 27 or 28, 1968, presumably both for responsibilities he has to SCLC and REGINALD HAWKINS.

FRINKS stated BEN MACK is a SCLC worker in the area of voter registration in a small community near Charleston, South Carolina. No mention was made by FRINKS that MACK had any responsibility in the Washington, D. C., project.

The meetings will be held at the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N.E., Washington, D.C.

Inspector Herlihy stated he had received a communication from the Montgomery, Alabama, Police Department advising they had learned that one Reverend Richard Boone, Director of the Alabama Action Committee, had informed members of that organization that buses would be provided for two hundred people to go to Washington, D.C., to participate in the Washington Spring Project in April, 1968.

On 1/22/68, GOLDEN ASRO FRINKS, Field Secretary, SCLC, was interviewed by Charlotte agents. The detailed results of this interview are being set out by LHM in a separate communication. FRINKS admitted attending a SCLC conference in Atlanta with MARTIN LUTHER KING and other Civil Rights workers from SCLC, SNCC and NAACP. He stated that at this conference plans were made for demonstrations in Washington, D. C. this spring and summer. FRINKS stated that SCLC hopes to have immediate passage of certain Civil Rights legislation (no specific) but if this is unsuccessful, KING will call for a demonstration. He stated that part of the conference was devoted to discussion of how to eliminate communist and other violent Civil Rights organizations from infiltrating their demonstrations and subverting it to violence. He made no mention of "target cities" and emphasized that there would be "civil disobedience short of violence."

FRINKS stated that he was assigned to recruit 200 individuals from throughout North Carolina to go to Washington, D. C., where he will lead the group in a demonstration at a pre-selected location which he did not divulge.

FRINKS stated that ~~BEN MACK~~ is a SCLC worker in the area of voter registration in a small community near Charleston, S. C. He did not mention MACK was connected with the WSP. FRINKS mentioned during the interview that if the government in Washington, D. C., objects to the demonstration then in that event they would have to withdraw and form additional plans and a different strategy. Again he did not mention other cities.

The referenced Chicago airtel indicates FRINKS has been assigned to Washington or Baltimore whereas the referenced Atlanta airtel indicates FRINKS will be assigned to Boston and North Carolina. Information copies of this communication are being furnished to those offices for their investigative interest.

Referenced Atlanta airtel lists BEN MACK as being assigned to South Carolina whereas referenced Chicago airtel indicates he will be assigned to N. C. Therefore, Columbia is being furnished a copy of this communication in that FRINKS has indicated MACK is active in Charleston, S. C., area.

For the information of Detroit, referenced Atlanta airtel lists ELTON COX as having been assigned to the State of N. C. Charlotte believes this individual to be identical with the Reverend B. ELTON COX formerly of High Point, N. C., who has been active in Civil Rights work. On 1/22/68, investigation at High Point developed that COX allegedly is an OEO supervisor with a salary of $14,000 per annum at Saginaw, Michigan.

Detroit is requested to develop COX's presence in Saginaw and employment by OEO. At such time Charlotte will then forward complete background information on COX in that he will probably become active in Civil Rights demonstrations in the Saginaw area. In addition as a further note, THOMAS E. BELL who was affiliated with B&C Associates, High Point, N. C., a Negro public relations firm, has also accepted a job with OEO in Saginaw. BELL and COX were partners.

The following information has been furnished by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, recently held a meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss plans for the massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project." It is King's current plan to recruit 3,000 individuals primarily from the East, Midwest, and South, to come to Washington, D. C., in early April, 1968, to lobby and demonstrate in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro. A proposal was made and adopted at this meeting to enlist the support, if not the actual participation, of black nationalist groups in the "Washington Spring Project." King agreed to designate individuals in the future to make the necessary contacts with the black nationalist groups in this regard.

Four individuals have been assigned by King to work in the States of Alabama and Mississippi to recruit about 200 indigent Negro farmers in each state. These farmers will be selected from among Negroes who have been deprived of their land. They will join with other Negro farmers of similar circumstances, recruited from Georgia, and upon arrival in Washington, D. C., will lobby before the United States Department of Agriculture. It will be their aim to get new legislation passed that will improve their current economic state.

Other individuals have been dispatched by King to 15 "target" cities throughout the United States to recruit large numbers of unemployed and unemployable. These individuals, upon arriving in Washington, D. C., will lobby before the United States Department of Labor. They will seek some kind of a program that will help them find jobs.

The current plans are to demonstrate and tie up all business in Washington, D. C., if the Departments of Agriculture and Labor fail to meet King's demands.

One contingent of King's group has been tentatively assigned to tie up the Greyhound Bus Station in Washington, D. C., utilizing such tactics as lying down in front of buses and blocking entrances and exits.

King instructed the leaders to recruit participants that will be totally committed to the success of this "Washington Spring Project." They must be willing to risk being arrested. They must be willing to spend up to six months in jail. They also must be willing to face death as it was pointed out that some persons might be killed during these demonstrations.

The current plans are to demonstrate and tie up all business in Washington, D. C., if the Departments of Agriculture and Labor fail to meet King's demands.

One contingent of King's group has been tentatively assigned to tie up the Greyhound Bus Station in Washington, D. C., utilizing such tactics as lying down in front of buses and blocking entrances and exits.

King instructed the leaders to recruit participants that will be totally committed to the success of this "Washington Spring Project." They must be willing to risk being arrested. They must be willing to spend up to six months in jail. They also must be willing to face death as it was pointed out that some persons might be killed during these demonstrations.

PARK ELWOOD, Chief of Police, Ada, Ohio, advised on January 2, 1968, that he learned Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING was to be in Ada, Ohio, on January 11, 1968, as he was scheduled to give a speech at the Taft Gym, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, during the chapel hour from 10:30 AM to 11:30 AM, January 11, 1968. The entire student body and faculty, numbering 2,600, have been invited to attend, and no one is to be turned away, although the gym only holds 2,200 people.

Reverend KING was invited to make this talk about three years ago by Dr. JAMES S. UDY, Chaplain, Ohio Northern University, and this speech will be covered by local television and radio stations, although the topic of the speech was not known.

Following the speech, Reverend KING was scheduled to be in New York City at 4:00 PM, January 11, 1968, but his manner of departure was unknown.

On January 10, 1968, Chief ELWOOD advised that the above scheduled speech of Reverend KING had been given publicity at Ada, Ohio, and as a result, some unknown individual sent a letter to the President of Ohio Northern University on January 10, 1968, threatening the University President's life if anything happened to the sender's daughter during school hours while Reverend KING was at Ohio Northern; in addition, the University President received a post card on January 10, 1968, which indicated KING must die if he came to Ada, which was signed "K.K.C."; lastly, the Ada, Ohio Police Department also received a post card on January 10, 1968, which mentioned that if Reverend KING came to town, he could only leave one way -- dead. Chief ELWOOD added that as of January 10, 1968, no suspects had been developed relative to this letter and post cards.

Re: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 12, 1968, Chief ELWOOD advised he learned that Dr. JAMES WY, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, who was in charge of the program featuring Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING at Ohio Northern University, chartered a plane from Lima, Ohio, to pick up Reverend KING at Cleveland, Ohio, at 7:30 AM, January 11, 1968. Reverend KING then gave his talk at Ohio Northern University from approximately 10:30 AM to 11:30 AM, at the University gym, which was attended by 2,200 people plus 500 more who listened over the public address system at the University Auditorium. Reverend KING in his talk discussed poverty, housing for Negroes, Negro unemployment, rat control, etc.; KING suggested and condoned civil disobedience to bring about better conditions for Negroes. KING made reference to a recent statement of ADAM CLAYTON POWELL that Reverend KING advocated violence at this time, and KING denied that this was so, as he does not condone violence in the civil rights movement.

Further along in his talk, Reverend KING mentioned that his group was planning massive demonstrations in Washington, D. C., and five other major cities, including Cleveland, in the Spring and Summer of 1968, to get action to aid Negroes in the United States; KING gave no details of this project.

According to Chief ELWOOD, there were no problems, incidents, etc. in connection with Reverend KING's visit to Ada, Ohio, and KING departed that city during the early afternoon of January 11, 1968, for Cleveland, Ohio, and New York City.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

PARK ELWOOD, Chief of Police, Ada, Ohio, advised SA STEPHEN FUNDERBURK on 1/12/68, that he learned that Dr. JAMES UDY, Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio, who was in charge of the program featuring Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING at Ohio Northern University, chartered a plane from Lima, Ohio, to pick up Rev. KING at Cleveland, Ohio, at 7:30 AM, 1/11/68. Rev. KING then gave his talk at Ohio Northern University from approximately 10:30 AM to 11:30 AM, at the University gym, which was attended by 2200 people plus 500 more who listened over the public address system at the University Auditorium. Rev. KING in his talk discussed poverty, housing for Negroes, Negro unemployment, rat control, etc.; KING suggested and condoned civil disobedience to bring about better conditions for Negroes. KING made reference to a recent statement of ADAM CLAYTON POWELL that Rev. KING advocated violence at this time and KING denied that this was so, as he does not condone violence in the civil rights movement.

Further along in his talk Rev. KING mentioned that his group was planning massive demonstrations in Washington, D. C., and five other major cities, including Cleveland, in the Spring and Summer of 1968, to get action to aid Negroes in the United States; KING gave no details of this project.

According to Chief ELWOOD, there were no problems, incidents, etc. in connection with Rev. KING's visit to Ada, Ohio, and KING departed that city during the early afternoon of 1/11/68, for Cleveland, Ohio, and New York City.

Cleveland sources could not furnish any information that Rev. KING spent any time in the Cleveland area on either 1/10 or 11/68, nor have they seen any indication that there has been any planning or activity in Cleveland on Rev. KING's Washington Spring Project.

Cleveland will continue to follow this matter closely and will keep the Bureau and interested agencies advised of pertinent developments.

SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

[Handwritten initials]

Recently, Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has announced he will recruit 3,000 people to come to Washington, D. C., in the Spring of 1968, to demonstrate and create massive civil disobedience. According to our sources, these demonstrators will be instructed not to obey injunctions or other legal deterrents. King envisions that these demonstrations will tie up all business in Washington, D. C.

It is felt that it would be desirable to invite Chief of Police John B. Layton and Major General Carl C. Turner, The Provost Marshal General, United States Army, to Mr. Sullivan's office for an informal meeting to discuss possible problems of mutual interest that might develop during these demonstrations.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Chief Layton and General Turner be invited verbally through Liaison to meet in Mr. Sullivan's office in the near future.

Since submission of referenced airtel, contact has been maintained with appropriate local authorities, as well as informants in this Division, and no data has been developed indicating activity concerning the captioned matter is as yet occurring in Louisville, Ky.

It is noted a news article appeared in the 1-17-68 issue of the Louisville Times, a daily Louisville, Ky. newspaper, date-lined at Atlanta, Ga., reporting that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING on 1-16-68 named 15 areas of the country from which he plans to recruit 3,000 persons to demonstrate in Washington, D.C. in the spring of 1968. According to the news article what Dr. KING described as the "core group of demonstrators" would begin their Washington activities in the first week of April, 1968, and will thereafter be joined by "many, many thousands" as the campaign progresses. Dr. KING has reportedly stated that 200 demonstrators will come from "poverty stricken segments", from the areas of Mississippi, Ala., Ga., S.C., N.C., Va., Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark, N.Y., Boston, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit. Reportedly, Dr. KING further stated that the "core" demonstrators will be trained for two months in non-violent tactics by 50 - 60 staff members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).

The article mentioned that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING's staff in CV had been reduced from five to two persons to conduct the programs intended to benefit the Negro community. This is because of the need to assign workers to other cities to prepare for a major demonstration in Washington this spring to demand more jobs for Negroes.

The two workers still in CV are the Reverend E. RANDEL T. OSBURN, now the CV Director, and MIKE BIBLER, young assistant from Illinois.

The former Director in CV, the Reverend A. R. SAMBSON, is attending a seminar on city problems in New York City; JAMES ORANGE, a former football player and WILLIE TABB, a native of Mississippi, are assigned to PH.

Donald F. O'Donnell, Chief Counsel of the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations (chaired by Senator John L. McClellan) which currently is conducting the hearings concerning riots and civil disorders, has requested information concerning the demonstration being planned by Martin Luther King, Jr., in Washington this spring. King has publicly stated that he intends to conduct massive civil disobedience in Washington this year unless specific demands for congressional action to solve the problems of poor Negroes are met.

Enclosed is a brief summary of pertinent information concerning King's plans for this event. The information contained therein is of a public source nature.

In addition to furnishing the enclosed write-up to O'Donnell, it is felt we should keep the leadership in the House of Representatives and the Senate advised of pertinent developments concerning these demonstrations insofar as that they might affect the Congress. Hence, it is believed a copy of the enclosed write-up should be furnished to Speaker of the House McCormack and Senate Majority Leader Mansfield for their information.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the enclosed write-up be approved and returned to the Crime Records Division so that a copy can be furnished to O'Donnell, Speaker of the House McCormack and Senator Mansfield.

THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE PLANNED MARCH ON WASHINGTON

At the 10th Annual Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Atlanta, Georgia, August 14-17, 1967, Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the SCLC, spoke on August 15, 1967, urging a new drive be instituted to effect congressional action to improve the life of the Negro in the United States. King said this drive should include massive civil disobedience such as strikes, school boycotts and a camp-in in Washington, D. C., if demands were not met.

The SCLC held a retreat from September 12 to 17, 1967, at Warrenton, Virginia. King had announced the purpose of the retreat would be to plan massive civil disobedience in several major cities throughout the country.

In addition to the various SCLC staff members and personnel, attending the retreat were Joan Baez, nationally known folk singer and Vietnam war protestor, and Stanley Levison, one of King's principal advisors who has been identified as a long-time secret member of the Communist Party. (See remark of Senator James O. Eastland in the Congressional Record for July 21, 1966.)

An agreement was reached at this meeting to demand legislation to guarantee jobs or a minimum income for poor people. These demands would be presented in conjunction with a march on Washington, D. C., in the Spring of 1968. The march would be organized by SCLC with participants recruited from the ghettos all across the country and from rural areas in the South. If the march did not produce the desired congressional commitment, massive civil disobedience would be undertaken in Washington and other major cities.

In the late Fall of 1967, SCLC held a retreat at Frogmore, South Carolina, where specific plans were made concerning the massive civil disobedience to take place in Washington and some 10 to 15 other major cities around the country in the Spring of 1968. King stated his plan is to have a delegation from SCLC and possibly other civil rights groups personally present to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz specific demands for prompt congressional action relating to employment, income, housing, education and other problems facing the poor residents of the ghettos. Various reports indicate these activities may include attempts to block the entrances to major government buildings and to disrupt transportation facilities in and around the Nation's capital. Simultaneous disturbances may be undertaken in various other cities around the country.

King has announced that he is sending recruiters to a number of cities and areas in the country to organize leadership for the demonstrations. Cities where recruiters would be sent include Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Louisville, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York City, Newark, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Washington, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Akron, Toledo; Richmond and Petersburg, Virginia. In addition, leaders are to be recruited in the rural areas of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North and South Carolina.

In the interim SCLC will assign one or more staff members to Washington, D. C., and other cities to select and train leaders for these demonstrations. It is King's desire to train approximately 200 leaders in each of these cities who in turn will recruit individuals to participate in these proposed civil disobediences. In view of the above, recipient offices are to advise the appropriate local authorities of these current plans of SCLC. At that time, close liaison should be established with these agencies so that any information in this regard received by them will be immediately furnished your office.

In addition, you should alert your ghetto informants to this matter and instruct them to immediately advise you of the activities of the SCLC representatives in your division. FOR RELEASE WHEN DELIVERED ON FLOOR OF THE SENATE

REMARKS OF SENATOR JOHN L. McCLELLAN RELATING TO THE MARCH ON WASHINGTON

Mr. President, the so-called "Poor People's March on Washington" is a matter of deep concern to every law abiding citizen of our country.

The stated intentions of the leaders of the march are to assemble in this city many thousands of demonstrators--no one seems to know how many there will be--in an atmosphere and under conditions which are calculated to lead to civil disorders and violence. I quote one of their leaders, the Reverend A. D. King, brother of the late Martin Luther King, speaking on April 21, 1968: "We are going to Washington and disrupt Washington so it cannot function unless it does something about black people." On May 2, Reverend Abernathy, in addressing an audience in Memphis, stated "we are coming to Washington to turn Washington downside up and upside down." There have been other serious threats which were obviously intended to intimidate and coerce important officials of the government.

On April 25, 1968, less than two weeks ago, the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations held a conference with the officials of the Federal and District of Columbia Governments to discuss this March on Washington.

Present at the conference were members of the Subcommittee and the following Federal officials: Attorney General Ramsey Clark; Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall; Under Secretary of the Army David McGiffert; General Ralph E. Haines, Jr., of the U. S. Army; Major General Charles L. Southward of the National Guard; and Major General William P. Yarborough of U. S. Army Intelligence. District of Columbia officials who attended were Mayor Walter Washington, Director of Public Safety.

The purpose of the conference was to ascertain what policies and procedures these governmental agencies propose to follow in preventing, controlling or supervising this demonstration. Specifically, we wanted to learn what actions had been taken or would be taken to maintain law and order in the District of Columbia during the march, to assure that the orderly processes of government will not be disrupted or halted, to protect the citizens of the city from physical harm and their property from damage and destruction, and to prevent the outbreak of violence as a consequence of the mass demonstrations which have been announced.

All of us are aware, through our mail and telegrams, that the nation is deeply disturbed about the possible consequences of this march. Our people have a right to know whether the government is making the preparations necessary to avert another period of violence in our nation's capital, or whether there is procrastination on the part of responsible heads of government. We would like to know whether needed and firm decisions are being deferred and unduly delayed during this period of tense conditions in the wake of the recent rioting. The city has had more than 50 instances of suspected arson since April 15.

In my opinion, the President of the United States has the obligation and responsibility to announce promptly and firmly to those who are coming to Washington to participate in the demonstrations, that lawlessness, disruption of government, and incitement to rioting and violence will not be tolerated. The time is getting short; the marchers are already on the way. Word from the President should go out immediately to the entire nation that the Government of the United States in its capital city will not be subjected to intimidation, humiliation and disruption, and that any attempt at violence, rioting, burning and plundering in the city of Washington will be promptly met with such force as may be necessary to prevent or to quell such acts.

All American citizens have the right to peacefully petition and officials for the redress of grievances, and such presented should be heard and appropriately acted upon. organization of any class, creed or color should be permitted to employ intimidation and coercion or to resort to civil disobedience and violence to impose its will or to achieve its aims. If this is tolerated, law and order will be destroyed and a safe and peaceful society will surely perish.

In his press conference of May 3, the President acknowledged the dangers attending this march. When he was asked about the march by a news reporter, he made the following comments about the possibilities of violence: "We hope that the presentation made will be nonviolent although WE ARE WELL AWARE THAT NO SINGLE INDIVIDUAL CAN GIVE ANY ASSURANCE THAT THEY CAN CONTROL A SITUATION LIKE THIS. IT CONTAINS MANY INHERENT DANGERS. We are concerned with them. We have made extensive preparations." Most regrettably, however, the President failed to take advantage of the opportunity in his press conference, on nationwide network television and before the assembled White House press corps, to sound a firm warning to the marchers, and especially to their leaders, and to give positive assurances to the American people that civil disobedience, rioting, looting and burning will not be tolerated--that such force as may be necessary to deal with violence effectively will be positively and promptly used.

Mr. President, the Subcommittee today is releasing the transcript of the conference of April 25 so that the public can be fully informed and alerted to the dangers that are inherent in this impending demonstration under a leadership who, as I stated previously, have announced that they are coming here to "turn Washington downside up and upside down."

The Attorney General was urged by the Subcommittee to seek redress in the courts by injunction to prevent the marchers from resorting to violence and civil disorders. The many public statements made by the leaders of the march alone would warrant the granting of such injunction. We are, or should be, a people of law and order. The government should make use of the remedies that are available to it. It should invoke the power of the courts to enjoin and prevent the threatened disorders and lawlessness in our nation's capital. It is of the utmost importance that all possible steps be taken to meet the dangers and challenges this impending march imposes.

The transcript of the conference makes clear that some of the important decisions have not yet been made and that adequate planning is far from complete. For example, we do not know where the marchers will be allowed to build their "shantytown," because that decision has not been made, or if made, has not been announced. The statements of Secretary Udall indicate that the decision about the granting of a permit for a "shantytown" will be a policy decision made in conjunction with other high level authorities. Does this mean that the decision and responsibility for permitting the building of a "shantytown" will be in the White House? Will the marchers be permitted to pitch their tents and build their shacks on the Mall or on the grounds around the Washington Monument? We do not know, because we were informed in the conference that no application for a permit had been submitted and no decision had yet been made.

I have also been advised by Secretary Udall that as of this morning no request for a permit had been submitted. However, I read in this morning's paper a statement by a leader of the march that they propose to utilize Federal property of their choosing without a permit and without having requested a permit.

Apparently, the leaders of this march intend to defy the authorities and deliberately violate the law for the purpose of provoking an incident. In my opinion, this is contrary to every proper concept of peaceful assembly. Instead, it is a premeditated act of contempt for and rebellion against the sovereignty of government.

It is also clear that no one in authority knows how many persons are coming or exactly where they are coming from. There may be 100,000 demonstrators on the streets on Memorial Day, May 30, according to estimates of the march leaders themselves.

I sincerely believe that a positive and unequivocal warning to that effect should be given to the marchers and their leaders who are making dire threats of what they intend to do when they get here, and such reassurances should be given to the entire nation by the President himself, so the American people can know that this city is not faced with shame and disgrace because of lack of purpose and determination on the part of our government to prevent it.

The probability of violence exists, Mr. President. Indeed, there is reliable information that it is actually being planned by certain militant advocates of violence who will swarm along the marchers' routes and will move into the "shantytowns" when they are erected.

During the conference, I asked the Attorney General if he had information that militants are plotting now to cast aside the Reverend Ralph Abernathy and take over the mass demonstrations once the marchers reach Washington. He said that he was not familiar with any such information.

The Subcommittee has received sworn information that this is actually being planned, and this information comes from within the militant movement itself. There are militant leaders, now on the road or ready to march with their followers towards Washington, who have boasted to their followers that, once they arrive here, they will control their own groups and incite them to rioting and violence. They are bragging that they will not leave Washington without new wardrobes which they will acquire when the looting starts. They say that some of their group will be armed with switch-blade knives and hand guns.

Some of the men who are doing the planning and making these threats are given to violence and have criminal records. Some of them have been charged with serious crimes. One of them said in a meeting of his group, "The only good white man is a dead white man," and "Pick up your weapons and go to war."

The transcript discloses information which is highly important to the American taxpayer. A three-judge Federal District Court in the District of Columbia on November 11, 1967, struck down the District's requirement for one year of residency in determining eligibility for welfare. Judges Bazelon and Fahy concurred in the decision; Judge Holtzoff dissented strongly and argued that the requirement was a safeguard against the possibility that this city would become a "Mecca for migrants."

The transcript shows that the Public Welfare Department of the District of Columbia intends, under present policies, to provide food or food stamps for those who declare themselves to be destitute, to provide shelter for those who state that they have none and have no funds to provide it for themselves, and to process applications for other specific forms of welfare assistance. In fact, if any marcher states that he is destitute and without the necessities of life, the Public Welfare Department will furnish him with a cash grant up to $100 in some cases, to support him for one month. Recruits for the march are being told to go to Washington one night and get on welfare the next day.

There are some statements in the transcript which are somewhat reassuring. The Under Secretary of the Army, Mr. McGiffert, told the Subcommittee that the Army is ready and able, under Presidential order, to commit large numbers of troops to the city at very short notice to handle any contingency which might arise.

The Attorney General informed us that "any unlawfulness will be met with adequate law enforcement to control it." He was asked about the predictions which most of us have heard that the bridges leading into the city will be blocked by the marchers and that the entrances of Federal buildings will be obstructed. I quote his reply: "There will be no blocking of the bridges and there will be no obstruction of government buildings."

The Subcommittee has evidence, Mr. President, that certain militant leaders of marchers have announced in secret meetings that it is their intention to carry out the following objectives:

1. They will build a "shantytown" on the Mall whether or not they have a permit to do it.

2. They will prevent Senators and Congressmen from reaching their offices by accosting them on the streets of Capitol Hill, and they do not intend to obey the laws which prohibit demonstrations and disorder on Capitol Hill.

3. They will place children in the forefront of demonstrations in order to gain publicity about "police brutality" whenever the police or the Army are required to control crowds and stop law violations.

4. They will obtain new clothing and other merchandise when the looting starts.

5. They will carry weapons.

6. They will not post bond for their followers who may be arrested so that the jails and other detention centers will be filled and will stay filled, and thus the District will be unable to remove and detain masses of law violators.

7. They will incite demonstrators to violence and rioting.

To prevent these things from happening, I would most respectfully suggest and urge that the President issue a firm and unequivocal warning to the marchers and reassurances to the public, in words so plain and positive that they cannot be misunderstood, that violence, looting, arson or the disruption of civic order and the functioning of government will not be tolerated; that this city will not be turned "downside up and upside down;" that law and order definitely will be maintained, and, if the marchers attempt to subject this capital city to acts of civil disobedience, violence, insurrection, and humiliation, whatever force is necessary to prevent such acts will be used.

There are militant leaders, now on the road or ready to march with their followers towards Washington, who have boasted to their followers that, once they arrive here, they will control their own groups and incite them to rioting and violence. They are bragging that they will not leave Washington without new wardrobes which they will acquire when the looting starts. They say that some of their group will be armed with switch-blade knives and hand guns.

Some of the men who are doing the planning and making these threats are given to violence and have criminal records. Some of them have been charged with serious crimes. One of them said in a meeting of his group, "The only good white man is a dead white man," and "Pick up your weapons and go to war."

The transcript discloses information which is highly important to the American taxpayer. A three-judge Federal District Court in the District of Columbia on November 11, 1967, struck down the District's requirement for one year of residency in determining eligibility for welfare. Judges Bazelon and Fahy concurred in the decision; Judge Holtzoff dissented strongly and argued that the requirement was a safeguard against the possibility that this city would become a "Mecca for migrants."

The transcript shows that the Public Welfare Department of the District of Columbia intends, under present policies, to provide food or food stamps for those who declare themselves to be destitute, to provide shelter for those who state that they have none and have no funds to provide it for themselves, and to process applications for other specific forms of welfare assistance. In fact, if any marcher states that he is destitute and without the necessities of life, the Public Welfare Department will furnish him with a cash grant up to $100 in some cases, to support him for one month. Recruits for the march are being told to go to Washington one night and get on welfare the next day.

There are some statements in the transcript which are somewhat reassuring. The Under Secretary of the Army, Mr. McGiffert, told the Subcommittee that the Army is ready and able, under Presidential order, to commit large numbers of troops to the city at very short notice to handle any contingency which might arise.

The Attorney General informed us that "any unlawfulness will be met with adequate law enforcement to control it." He was asked about the predictions which most of us have heard that the bridges leading into the city will be blocked by the marchers and that the entrances of Federal buildings will be obstructed. I quote his reply:

"... there will be no blocking of the bridges and there will be no obstruction."

The Subcommittee has evidence, Mr. President, that certain militant leaders of marchers have announced in secret meetings that it is their intention to carry out the following objectives:

1. They will build a "shantytown" on the Mall whether or not they have a permit to do it.

2. They will prevent Senators and Congressmen from reaching their offices by accosting them on the streets of Capitol Hill, and they do not intend to obey the laws which prohibit demonstrations and disorder on Capitol Hill.

3. They will place children in the forefront of demonstrations in order to gain publicity about "police brutality" whenever the police or the Army are required to control crowds and stop law violations.

4. They will obtain new clothing and other merchandise when the looting starts.

5. They will carry weapons.

6. They will not post bond for their followers who may be arrested so that the jails and other detention centers will be filled and will stay filled, and thus the District will be unable to remove and detain masses of law violators.

7. They will incite demonstrators to violence and rioting.

To prevent these things from happening, I would most respectfully suggest and urge that the President issue a firm and unequivocal warning to the marchers and reassurances to the public, in words so plain and positive that they cannot be misunderstood, that violence, looting, arson or the disruption of civic order and the functioning of government will not be tolerated; that this city will not be turned "downside up and upside down;" that law and order definitely will be maintained, and, if the marchers attempt to subject this capital city to acts of civil disobedience, violence, insurrection, and humiliation, whatever force is necessary to prevent such acts will be used.

City Appears At Loss For Answers

The City Council pondered racial violence in four separate private meetings yesterday. The meetings ended without a public statement from the council about Thursday's rioting or a suggestion for lessening racial tensions growing out of the seven-week-old sanitation strike.

"I had hoped that we could resolve this thing (the strike) today (Friday)," said Councilman Fred Davis. "But we reached a stalemate and I'm sorry about that."

One source said the councilmen split 6-6 on a resolution calling for affirmative action to end the strike. Councilman Lewis R. Donelson III said last night a resolution "calling for a number of items of affirmative action" was offered but did not provide for a dues checkoff or written contract. He said the resolution "did not get down to voting because no one would move on it. So we just discussed it."

Much of what is considered to be the city's civic leadership also appeared at a loss to explain why the riot started or what must be done to get the city moving again toward racial harmony.

The council began its series of closed-door sessions at 10 a.m. with Councilman Thomas Todd the only member to oppose barring newsmen.

Many civic leaders were reluctant to express opinions on the racial situation. Others declined to have their names used. A small number blamed newspapers for reporting the incidents because "of the national black eye the city has received."

Mr. Todd told the council, "I think a matter of this importance to the public should be open. This is one of the most vital issues to ever face this city and it's ridiculous to keep it behind closed doors."

But the other councilmen insisted on keeping the meeting closed and council Chairman Downing Pryor promised newsmen would be allowed in later. Reporters never were allowed in.

Most civic leaders confined their comments to the past.

"We've had committees calling on the mayor and labor leaders before this thing broke out," said former Mayor Edmund Orgill. "We found the mayor inflexible and the union the same way. When you reach this point, something has to give."

"I think the first step would be for the workers to go back to work and then let the city deal fairly with them."

Rodney Baber, head of the Downtown Association of Memphis, said the city will receive a black eye nationally because Memphis has long been known for its harmonious race relations.

"And as a businessman I know this has hurt business terribly. The bad thing is the innocent people who have been hurt."

Some of the civic leaders would comment on the situation for publication. Many were optimistic for the future.

"I think we'll come out of this mess with an improved (national) image because of the careful handling of it by our law enforcement officers," said George M. Houston, president of Mid-South Title Co. and Future Memphis Inc.

Wayne Pyett, executive vice president at National Bank of Commerce, said perhaps leaders on both sides would be able to sit down and solve their differences.

"I think everything will be just fine, and the more people who say it will, the quicker things will straighten out. When only a small percentage of the total Negro population is involved in a riot, it shows there is not too much unrest," he said.

Walter Armstrong Jr., well-known attorney and civic leader, took a stronger view.

He blamed poor planning by the Thursday march organizers for the incident that preliminary estimates show did about $400,000 worth of property damage.

"If the small group that broke away from the march had been anticipated by the march organizers, it could have been prevented. However, it (the riot) could have been worse if it had not been handled as well as it was by both sides."

Some, like Thomas Faires, Memphis Area Chamber of Commerce president, deplored the violence but admitted frankly they did not know what to do to get the community together again.

Mr. Faires said it was "deplorable" that Martin Luther King Jr. chose to come to Memphis.

"We have offered to do whatever we could. We have talked to the Mayor and to the different council members and there is nothing to do without knowing what to do. We have offered our services to do whatever we can."

Others said there was little to do for the rioting but support the police.

Curfew Remains

President Urges Police To Deal Firmly. Fairly With Situation

By JOHN MEANS
 President Johnson said yesterday that federal assistance is available to Memphis if it is needed to maintain order, as the riot-bruised city went into its second night of curfew.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose downtown march Thursday exploded into violence that left one dead, at least 62 injured and 218 arrested, departed Memphis yesterday afternoon after setting the scene for another march later in the afternoon. But this one — about 300 sign-carrying Negroes walking single file on Main Street's east sidewalk — was completed without incident.

Sporadic outbreaks of looting and vandalism continued yesterday, with 33 more arrests. Charges included looting, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and threatened breach of the peace. Two of the most serious incidents of the day were separate shootings at police cars.

City Court, Division II, caught most of the results of the violence. More than 200 persons charged in the past two days appeared before City Judge Bernie Wienman on charges ranging from drunkenness to assault on a police officer. Judge Weinman bound 49 defendants over to the state, dismissed 46 others, and continued the cases against 118 until later this month, in a 12-hour court session.

The largest bond, $5,000, was set for Gordon L. Odom Jr. of 336 South Parkway East, on a charge of third-degree burglary, by City Judge Ray Churchill. Other bonds ranged from $250 to $2,000.

Police continued to be plagued by reports of fire-bombings, vandalism and looting last night but apparently at a lower rate than Thursday night's marathon crime wave. The only injury reported yesterday was a policeman who was cut on the finger while making an arrest of a suspected drunk.

Before he left Memphis, Dr. King pledged to return next week to lead another mass demonstration. But he said he would take part in its planning and would take steps to keep young Negro militants under control.

Thursday's incident attracted other attention nationally. From Washington, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, offered his personal services yesterday in a search for a solution to the seven-week-old sanitation workers' strike.

Turning his attention to the strike, Mayor Henry Loeb told a group of law students at a luncheon yesterday the city's twice-a-week garbage pickup schedule is a thing of the past. Even after the strike is settled, he said, the once-a-week pickup now in operation "will be permanent."

The riot damage was estimated by insurance officials at more than $400,000—not including fire and not including losses due to the interrupted business days.

Downtown stores untouched by the rioting were open normally yesterday, and will continue to be.

Yesterday's march was in 82-degree weather calm. "This is the way we wanted it to be yesterday," one marcher told an onlooker. "The only reason it wasn't was because of those infiltrators. If they hadn't come in, it would have been peaceful."

March leaders worked at making it peaceful. The Rev. J. Allen Cutter of Dyersburg CME Church took a sign mounted on a stick from a marcher, separated stick from sign and threw the stick away.

"If you don't have anything to attack with, you can't attack," he told the marcher as he returned the stickless placard to him. "And by the same token, you can't defend yourself."

The Rev. J. M. Lawson, one of the leaders of the Negro movement, had planned to be in the forefront of the march, but remained behind to launch his single-file marchers individually. The march was led at 3 p.m. by Asst. Chief of Police Henry Lux, who walked down Main armed with a walkietalkie radio, as the sanitation employes and sympathizers trailed behind him for more than a mile.

As they walked, large Army trucks armored vehicles, Jeeps and other vehicles, all bristling with armed National Guardsmen, kept pace with them in the center of Main Street.

The Rev. Mr. Lawson has promised a downtown march daily until the sanitation strike ends. But the powers given the mayor's office by the state Legislature leave the decision on such marches in the hands of Mayor Henry Loeb and Mr. Holloman.

Mr. Holloman approved yesterday's march, conditionally. Participants were to be limited to sanitation workers and adult sympathizers. They were to march on the sidewalk only, and in single file.

With communication between the Negro leaders and the Police Department almost nonexistent, Mr. Holloman's conditions were relayed to the Rev. Mr. Lawson by David Caywood, Memphis attorney and president of the West Tennessee chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. They were accepted, and the Rev. Mr. Lawson and Mr. Caywood both worked through the early part of the afternoon screening the marchers and rejecting some would-be marchers whose age seemed to violate Mr. Holloman's terms.

Handy Park, fronting on Beale from Third to Hernando, was the quietest place in the riot-torn area yesterday afternoon. National Guardsmen were there in strength, but pulled out quickly before the march began, leaving only a corporal's guard of about a dozen men behind.

In the warm asphalt of Beale Street, the rubber-cleated tracks of armored personnel carriers left slashes that looked like gigantic zippers as they rumbled off to escort the slow-moving single-file march down Main.

The normal sounds of Handy Park were replaced by an occasional squawk from a police radio, military orders being given in conversational tones, and a hammer in the distance as another piece of new plywood took the place of a broken store window. Beale was a plywood-front street from Main to Hernando.

There were other reminders of Thursday's rioting. Guardsmen blocked off Beale across Main as the marchers filed by — the troopers standing shoulder-to-shoulder across the street, their bayoneted rifles at the ready. And behind the glass doors of one company, store clerks stood silently, displaying the firm's merchandise. Four of the clerks were holding shotguns.

Other merchants along the march route watched quietly from their doors. There were no catcalls, no boos, no heckling. A group of young Negro women applauded from a second-story office near the Malco Theater.

Mayor Henry Loeb, armed with a hastily passed state law authorizing such action, proclaimed the second straight night of 7 p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew. But unlike Thursday night's order, last night's curfew specifically exempted anyone with identification and a reasonable destination. Restaurants and theaters were to be so classified, Police Chief J. C. Macdonald told his officers. He also told officers that public consumption of alcohol was still banned.

Tennessee National Guardsmen remained bivouacked at the National Guard Armory on Central, the Mid-South Fairgrounds and the military side of Memphis Metropolitan Airport last night, some of them sleeping for the first time since they were ordered into Memphis early Thursday afternoon. More than 4,000 troops from West and Middle Tennessee were ordered to Memphis, and most of them have been on duty for two days, patrolling the Beale-Main-Hernando area riding with police officers to trouble spots or escorting Fire Department equipment to the hundreds of fire calls that have plagued the area.

President Johnson said in Washington yesterday that "order must be preserved," in his first public reaction to the Memphis violence. "The tragic events in Memphis . . . remind me of the grave peril rioting poses . . . Everyone loses when a riot occurs.

"I urge local law enforcement to deal firmly, but always fairly and without fear, with every infraction of law — to work unceasingly to prevent riots, and to train diligently to control them should they occur.

"If federal assistance is needed, it is available, but our system of government and our security depend on capable local law enforcement," the President said.

Mr. Meany, the nation's top labor leader, said the Memphis garbage men are striking "for simple trade union objectives."

"This is a strike for recognition of the union, for a voluntary dues checkoff, for urgently needed wage increases and for an equitable grievance system.

"It has been the reluctance of the city government to enter into negotiations looking toward a settlement that has so compounded the problems of the city and its people," Mr. Meany said. "The AFL-CIO is willing to lend its good offices in the search for an honorable and mutually satisfactory agreement."

The sanitation workers are seeking to have an AFL-CIO union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, recognized as their bargaining agent.

The city continued its fight to return to a normal routine yesterday, although absenteeism in the city school system was near 40,000. Among the truants were 2,300 at Hamilton High School, where the first disorder was reported before it began downtown Thursday morning; 1,500 at Booker T. Washington and Melrose and 1,200 at Douglass. All are predominantly Negro schools.

County schools reported normal attendance. Roman Catholic officials said predominantly Negro parochial schools were running as high as 50 per cent absent.

Nevertheless, all city schools stayed open, so did county offices, although County Commission Chairman Jack Ramsay announced at 2:30 that all women employees of the county could leave at 3 p.m. So could male employees if they felt they must, Mr. Ramsay said.

City bus service, suspended after one bus driver was attacked Thursday and a number of bus windows shattered by bricks, was back in operation yesterday morning. Mike Tate, president of the bus company, said service would continue through the 6 p.m. runs, and then would discontinue until the next morning, as long as the curfew is in effect.

No decision has been made on the duration of the curfew, but Beale Street merchants spent part of yesterday telling each other the National Guard was expected to remain here for 15 days.

Guard officials, however, said yesterday they do not know how long their tour of duty here will continue.

Earl Lanning, chairman of the Insurance Council of Memphis, said an on-the-scene inspection yesterday by the Memphis Claims Association showed more than 200 store fronts had been smashed — 155 of them on Beale. The city's glass firms were swamped with repair orders.

Mr. Lanning said his $400,000 damage estimate does not include the fire toll caused by firebombs. This total is still incomplete.

"We estimate 65 per cent of the stores attacked were not looted," he said. "About 30 per cent had their windows looted and about five per cent were looted inside."

Dr. King returned to Atlanta yesterday, saying he would return for a "unity meeting" to plan next week's march. He would give no definite date, but said it could take place "as late as next Friday or as early as next Wednesday."

He said he did not think the next march would be marked with the violence which occurred Thursday morning. The staff of his Southern Christian Leadership Council will come to Memphis to help in planning the march, he said.

The city's — and one of the world's — most famous streets, memorialized in song and verse, was a scene of boarded up windows, broken glass, scattered merchandise and armed guards from Main to Danny Thomas Boulevard.

Astonishment registered on the faces of merchants and their employes as several Army personnel carriers equipped with 50 caliber machineguns rumbled down Beale.

"Oh, my God," exclaimed Miss Michelle Johnson of 1296 Michigan as she saw the carriers. "Please, please," she gulped, hiding her face in her hands.

Working along with her at the Schwab Brothers store at 163 Beale were Abram Schwab and his daughter, Miss Beverly Schwab, who were cleaning up the broken glass.

"What's going to happen?" Miss Schwab asked with fear registering in her eyes and face.

However, many people standing near Beale and Herando jeered the guard and their heavy equipment with, "Why aren't you in Vietnam?"

Mr. Schwab was cleaning out the glass and preparing to put up plywood to protect the store. "We were lucky. They only broke out the glass and got some of the merchandise. They didn't get in the store."

"I prayed for at least 90 minutes in this tiny bathroom along with my daughter," said Mrs. N. B. Edwards of Quality Liquors at 194 Herando.

"We saw action taking place on Beale and grabbed the money from the cash register and ran to put it in a safe, but the windows broke before we got it put up. We jumped in the bathroom and held the door closed. We were afraid to breathe or even move as they took the stock from the store," said Mrs. Edwards.

None of the Beale Street merchants would speculate on when they might reopen. Some of them, including Mr. Schwab, were openly bitter, and their anger was directed primarily at Dr. King.

"He says he's coming back to show us things can be peaceful. Things were plenty peaceful before he got here."

Thursday night was anything but peaceful, despite the deserted streets caused by the curfew. Police raced from North Memphis to South Memphis throughout the night, answering calls of firebombings, lootings, vandalism, reports of shots being fired — many of which turned out to be firecrackers or the like — and suspected arson.

But the few motorists who braved the curfew, particularly after midnight, found the streets eerily vacant. E. H. Crump near the expressway was clear and quiet, lacking even the usual noises of heavy truck traffic.

Yesterday's two shooting incidents both involved shots fired at police cars. Officers reported their squad car was fired on about 9 yesterday morning by a group of Negro youths in a passing car. No one was hurt, and the car escaped. At 1:15, officers arrested two white youths for questioning in connection with shots fired a few minutes earlier at a police car escorting a garbage truck near Combs and Reed. The men held for questioning were Samuel R. Waddell, 20, of 2581 Kallie, and Larry Williams, 20, of 1669 Combs. The officers said they seized a 22-caliber rifle in Mr. Williams' living room.

The action on the streets last night was lighter than Thursday.

At the police station, the arrest docket showed only about 30 names, less than on a normal night. Much of this obviously was due to the curfew.

The only injury reported all day was to Patrolman E. W. Maxwell. His finger was badly cut while he was arresting a drunk young Negro who was fighting with other officers on Pope north of Chelsea.

Firemen, protected by National Guardsmen, answered a large number of trash fire calls, but at a rate about half that of the previous night. Then too, the fires last night generally were of a less serious nature.

Most of the police calls were for broken windows, mainly at grocery, sundry and liquor stores.

Among yesterday's arrests was a group of six Negro children, arrested as they ate candy in a looted sundry store. The oldest one in the group was a 12-year-old boy with a broken leg, and the others included a 10-year-old, an 8-year-old and three 6-year-olds. They were held last night at Juvenile Court.

Handy—Park, fronting on Beale from Third to Hernando, was the quietest place in the riot-torn area yesterday afternoon. National Guardsmen were there in strength, but pulled out quickly before the march began, leaving only a corporal's guard of about a dozen men behind.

In the warm asphalt of Beale Street, the rubber-cleated tracks of armored personnel carriers left slashes that looked like gigantic zippers as they rumbled off to escort the slow-moving single-file march down Main.

The normal sounds of Handy Park were replaced by an occasional squawk from a police radio, military orders being given in conversational tones, and a hammer in the distance as another piece of new plywood took the place of a broken store window. Beale was a plywood-front street from Main to Hernando.

There were other reminders of Thursday's rioting. Guardsmen blocked off Beale across Main as the marchers filed by — the troopers standing shoulder-to-shoulder across the street, their bayoneted rifles at the ready. And behind the glass doors of one company, store clerks stood silently, displaying the firm's merchandise. Four of the clerks were holding shotguns.

Other merchants along the march route watched quietly from their doors. There were no catcalls, no boos, no heckling. A group of young Negro women applauded from a second-story office near the Malco Theater.

Mayor Henry Loeb, armed with a hastily passed state law authorizing such action, proclaimed the second straight night of 7 p.m.-to-5 a.m. curfew. But unlike Thursday night's order, last night's curfew specifically exempted anyone with identification and a reasonable destination. Restaurants and theaters were to be so classified, Police Chief J. C. Macdonald told his officers. He also told officers that public consumption of alcohol was still banned.

Tennessee National Guardsmen remained bivouacked at the National Guard Armory on Central, the Mid-South Fairgrounds and the military side of Memphis Metropolitan Airport last night, some of them sleeping for the first time since they were ordered into Memphis early Thursday afternoon. More than 4,000 troops from West and Middle Tennessee were ordered to Memphis, and most of them have been on duty for two days, patrolling the Beale-Main-Hernando area riding with police officers to trouble spots, escorting Fire Department equipment to the hundreds of fire calls that have plagued the area.

President Johnson said in Washington yesterday that "order must be preserved," in his first public reaction to the Memphis violence. "The tragic events in Memphis . . . remind me of the grave peril rioting poses . . . Everyone loses when a riot occurs.

"I urge local law enforcement to deal firmly, but always fairly and without fear, with every infraction of law — to work unceasingly to prevent riots, and to train diligently to control them should they occur.

"If federal assistance is needed, it is available, but our system of government and our security depend on capable local law enforcement," the President said.

Mr. Meany, the nation's top labor leader, said the Memphis garbage men are striking "for simple trade union objectives."

"This is a strike for recognition of the union, for a voluntary dues checkoff, for urgently needed wage increases and for an equitable grievance system.

"It has been the reluctance of the city government to enter into negotiations looking toward a settlement that has so compounded the problems of the city and its people," Mr. Meany said. "The AFL-CIO is willing to lend its good offices in the search for an honorable and mutually satisfactory agreement."

The sanitation workers are seeking to have an AFL-CIO union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, recognized as their bargaining agent.

The city continued its fight to return to a normal routine yesterday, although absenteeism in the city school system was near 40,000. Among the truants were 2,300 at Hamilton High School, where the first disorder was reported before it began downtown Thursday morning; 1,500 at Booker T. Washington and Melrose and 1,200 at Douglass. All are predominantly Negro schools.

County schools reported normal attendance. Roman Catholic officials said predominantly Negro parochial schools were running as high as 50 per cent absent.

Nevertheless, all city schools stayed open, so did county offices, although County Commission Chairman Jack Ramsay announced at 2:30 that all women employes of the county could leave at 3 p.m. So could male employes if they felt they must, Mr. Ramsay said.

City bus service, suspended after one bus driver was attacked Thursday and a number of bus windows shattered by bricks, was back in operation yesterday morning. Mike Tate, president of the bus company, said service would continue through the 6 p.m. runs, and then would discontinue until the next morning, as long as the curfew is in effect.

No decision has been made on the duration of the curfew, but Beale Street merchants spent part of yesterday telling each other the National Guard was expected to remain here for 15 days.

Guard officials, however, said yesterday they do not know how long their tour of duty here will continue.

Earl Lanning, chairman of the Insurance Council of Memphis, said an on-the-scene inspection yesterday by the Memphis Claims Association showed more than 200 store fronts had been smashed — 155 of them on Beale. The city's glass firms were swamped with repair orders.

Mr. Lanning said his $400,000 damage estimate does not include the fire toll caused by firebombs. This total is still incomplete.

"We estimate 65 per cent of the stores attacked were not looted," he said. "About 30 per cent had their windows looted and about five per cent were looted inside."

Dr. King returned to Atlanta yesterday, saying he would return for a "unity meeting" to plan next week's march. He would give no definite date, but said it could take place "as late as next Friday or as early as next Wednesday."

He said he did not think the next march would be marked with the violence which occurred Thursday morning. The staff of his Southern Christian Leadership Council will come to Memphis to help in planning the march, he said.

The city's — and one of the world's — most famous streets, memorialized in song and verse, was a scene of boarded up windows, broken glass, scattered merchandise and armed guards from Main to Danny Thomas Boulevard.

Astonishment registered on the faces of merchants and their employes as several Army personnel carriers equipped with 50 caliber machineguns rumbled down Beale.

"Oh, my God," exclaimed Miss Michelle Johnson of 1296 Michigan as she saw the carriers. "Please, please," she gulped, hiding her face in her hands.

Working along with her at the Schwab Brothers store at 163 Beale were Abram Schwab and his daughter, Miss Beverly Schwab, who were cleaning up the broken glass.

"What's going to happen?" Miss Schwab asked with fear registering in her eyes and face.

However, many people standing near Beale and Herndon jeered the guard and their heavy equipment with, "Why aren't you in Vietnam?"

Mr. Schwab was cleaning out the glass and preparing to put up plywood to protect the store. "We were lucky. They only broke out the glass and got some of the merchandise. They didn't get in the store."

"I prayed for at least 90 minutes in this tiny bathroom along with my daughter," said Mrs. N. B. Edwards of Quality Liquors at 194 Herndon.

"We saw action taking place on Beale and grabbed the money from the cash register and ran to put it in a safe, but the windows broke before we got it put up. We jumped in the bathroom and held the door closed. We were afraid to breathe or even move as they took the stock from the store," said Mrs. Edwards.

None of the Beale Street merchants would speculate on when they might reopen. Some of them, including Mr. Schwab, were openly bitter, and their anger was directed primarily at Dr. King.

"He says he's coming back to show us things can be peaceful. Things were plenty peaceful before he got here."

Thursday night was anything but peaceful, despite the deserted streets caused by the curfew. Police raced from North Memphis to South Memphis throughout the night, answering calls of firebombings, lootings, vandalism, reports of shots being fired — many of which turned out to be firecrackers or the like — and suspected arson.

But the few motorists who braved the curfew, particularly after midnight, found the streets eerily vacant. E. H. Crump near the expressway was clear and quiet, lacking even the usual noises of heavy truck traffic.

Yesterday's two shooting incidents both involved shots fired at police cars. Officers reported their squad car was fired on about 9 yesterday morning by a group of Negro youths in a passing car. No one was hurt, and the car escaped. At 1:15, officers arrested two white youths for questioning in connection with shots fired a few minutes earlier at a police car escorting a garbage truck near Combs and Reed. The men held for questioning were Samuel R. Waddell, 20, of 2581 Kallie, and Larry Williams, 20, of 1669 Combs. The officers said they seized a 22-caliber rifle in Mr. Williams' living room.

The action on the streets last night was lighter than Thursday.

At the police station, the arrest docket showed only about 30 names, less than on a normal night. Much of this obviously was due to the curfew.

The only injury reported all day was to Patrolman E. W. Maxwell. His finger was badly cut while he was arresting a drunk young Negro who was fighting with other officers on Pope north of Chelsea.

Firemen, protected by National Guardsmen, answered a large number of trash fire calls, but at a rate about half that of the previous night. Then too, the fires last night generally were of a less serious nature.

Most of the police calls were for broken windows, mainly at grocery, sundry and liquor stores.

Among yesterday's arrests was a group of six Negro children, arrested as they ate candy in a looted sundry store. The oldest one in the group was a 12-year-old boy with a broken leg, and the others included a 10-year-old, an 8-year-old and three 6-year-olds. They were held last night at Juvenile Court.

King Disappointed In March —He'll Try Again Next Week

By THOMAS BEVIER

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. came to Memphis to star in what was billed as a "dress rehearsal" for his April 22 "Poor People's Crusade" on Washington.

By his own nonviolent standards, the rehearsal was a flop. Next week, he says, he'll come back for another try.

"We are going to have a massive nonviolent demonstration in Memphis," he said at a press conference yesterday before flying back to Atlanta and his Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) headquarters.

The question being asked in Memphis, the nation and the world is whether — with the increasing militancy of the black youth — anyone can say with certainty that a nonviolent demonstration will stay that way.

"I am convinced we can have a nonviolent demonstration," Dr. King said, but added it would be impossible to "guarantee" that there wouldn't be any violence.

It was significant that Dr. King was more than a half-hour late to his 11:30 a.m. press conference because he was meeting with three members of The Invaders, a Memphis black power group.

They refused to give their names and would say only that "we will have a press conference when this is all over" before they went into Dr. King's $29-a-day room at the Holiday Inn-Rivermont.

Dr. King said he did not realize when he came to Memphis there were those in the Negro community who "were talking about violence."

"We (SCLC) had no part in the planning of the march. Our intelligence was totally nil."

He said that if he had known there were persons likely to start violence he would have made them parade marshals, a move that has been successful in other marches.

He criticized the press for reporting he left the march in haste. He said he left calmly because "I will not lead a violent march" and that while he walked with aides to a car he was "agonizing over what had happened."

(Asst. Police Chief Henry Lux said over the police radio at 11:27 a.m. Thursday the march was apparently without leadership and Dr. King had asked for a police escort. The first report of violence was seven minutes earlier).

Dr. King said he did not think the riot "will in any way affect" his Washington plans. He is still to determine how much of his SCLC staff he can spare to organize next week's march here.

Later in Washington, the Rev. Andrew Young, Dr. King's top lieutenant, said the main thrust of the Washington demonstration would be delayed for about two weeks and steps taken to avoid violence. The Rev. Mr. Young said "symbolic delegation," including Dr. King, will reach Washington on April 22.

He said Thursday's march was "poorly planned," which amounts to criticism of the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., who Dr. King himself has called "the leading nonviolence theoretician in the country."

Dr. Lawson is in charge of strategy for Memphis Negro ministers. He is pastor of Centenary Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Lawson did not entirely agree with Dr. King's assessments.

For instance, Dr. King said the black power advocates he met with said there had been lack of communication between them and the ministers—they felt "rejected."

"There has been communication," said the Rev. Mr. Lawson. "I don't accept that."

It was the Rev. Mr. Lawson who asked Dr. King here. For about 10 years the Memphis minister has served with SCLC.

He agreed with Dr. King that a nonviolent demonstration is possible and pointed out that that was one of the reasons Dr. King was asked to come.

"We didn't bring in Rap Brown, we brought in King."

There were other reasons for having Dr. King, he said. One was to give the movement a "national image." Another was to strengthen the leadership of the Memphis ministers.

Halt To March Of 'Poor' Urged

Congressional Leaders Cite Memphis Riot In Call To Stop Capital Protest

By MORRIS CUNNINGHAM

From The Commercial Appeal
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 29. — Congressional leaders from across the country warned yesterday of a possible repetition of violence similar to that in Memphis Thursday should Dr. Martin Luther King carry out his planned "poor people's crusade" in Washington later this spring.

Senator Vance Hartke (D-Ind.) said, "The entire difficulty is that the reasonable people within the civil rights movement are being forced to scramble toward militancy to maintain leadership."

Senator Howard Baker Jr. (R-Tenn.) said he had serious doubt whether Dr. King will be able to keep the peace in Washington. "The march on Washington is like striking a match to look in your gas tank to see if you're out of gas."

He said the Memphis riot was "further evidence of the high level of tensions which have built up in our country" and warned the country would not condone resorting to violence and lawlessness to solve the basic causes of the tensions. He later flew to Memphis for a speech.

Their comments followed a Senate speech in which Senator Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.) said Dr. King should be enjoined against carrying out his Washington demonstration.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference office said the march would be delayed two weeks. It said the first participants will reach here the first week in May.

Senator Byrd demanded the Justice Department seek a court injunction against the Washington crusade. He said it was time for the federal government to let the nation know "it will not allow this Nobel Peace Prize winner to create another Memphis in the city which serves as the 'seat of the government of the United States.'"

Senator John Stennis (D-Miss.) called for an injunction to restrict the number of Washington demonstrators to make a symbolic protest. He said the "very strong and valuable lesson" of Memphis showed the mass of Washington demonstrators should be stopped at the city limits.

"If this self-seeking rabble-rouser is allowed to go through with his plans here, Washington may well be treated to the same kind of violence, destruction, looting and bloodshed," said Senator Byrd.

Senator Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass.), the nation's highest Negro officeholder, also saw the possibility of violence but stopped short of calling for a court injunction.

Representative Joe Pool (D-Texas) agreed with Senator Byrd's suggestion for use of court injunctions to prevent demonstrations. And Representative Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) said the Memphis riot showed no leader can control a large mass of people.

King's Credibility Gap

MARTIN LUTHER KING, on the night of March 18, told an overflow crowd at Mason Temple: "You know what? We may have to escalate this struggle a bit." Dr. King then urged a total work stoppage in Memphis by Negroes "in a few days" and called for all Negro public school students to cut classes at the same time. "Try it and they will hear you," said Dr. King.

The escalation came Thursday when Dr. King led a supposedly non-violent protest march from Clayborn Temple to Beale Street, west on Beale to Main, and a block north on Main. He got what he asked — to an embarrassing extent.

Negro students did play truant by the thousands, and were joined by hundreds of other young Negroes in their 20s who turned the march into a riot and left Beale Street and a short section of Main in utter ruin. Photographs and eyewitness accounts identify those who did the destruction and the looting—the children and young people whom Dr. King had told to stay out of school.

Having fled the melee, King later issued statements attempting to dissassociate himself from the violence that he had instigated.

The claim will not hold water. Dr. King's pose as leader of a non-violent movement has been shattered. He now has the entire nation doubting his word when he insists that his April project—a shanty-town sit-in in the nation's capital—can be peaceful.

In short, Dr. King is suffering from one of those awesome credibility gaps.

Furthermore, he wrecked his reputation as a leader as he took off at high speed when violence occurred, instead of trying to use his persuasive prestige to stop it.

THERE ARE MANY other second thoughts about the Beale Street incident of Thursday.

More and more it is evident that Memphis police were well prepared, alert and firm when firmness was vital. What might have spread into far reaches of the city was blocked within minutes.

The city administration, with the help of the legislature and Gov. Buford Ellington got a curfew law which effectively restored general calm and peace.

AS ALWAYS, there is another side to the coin. Memphis Negroes do need broader participation in Memphis government, and better job opportunities in our city. The sanitation strike, which has been the takeoff point for trouble-making, must be settled soon.

Mediation and conciliation in the strike have been attempted without significant results. Obstinacy and stubborn position-taking will not lead to a settlement. There must be give-and-take.

It would help if the Negro church ministers who have more or less taken over the cause of the sanitation employes would get them back to work. Then mediation might be attempted in a more reasonable atmosphere.

The city should shut no doors. It, too, must mediate, if the issue is to be settled without further damage to Memphis.

King Challenges Court Restraint, Vows To March

But US Attorney Says Ban To Be Enforced, Even If Troops Needed

Attorneys representing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. go before United States Dist. Judge Bailey Brown at 9:30 this morning to challenge a temporary restraining order against any mass march here.

Dr. King and others planning a Monday march in support of striking sanitation workers yesterday appeared headed toward a possible clash with the order — if it remains in force.

"We are not going to be stopped by Mace or injunctions," said Dr. King.

But United States Atty. Thomas Robinson said the temporary order will be enforced even if it means calling in federal troops.

Dr. King's attorneys, Louis Lucas, Walter Bailey and Lucius Burch, talked behind closed doors with Judge Brown for about an hour yesterday. They are expected this morning to challenge the jurisdiction of the federal courts to stop the march.

Dr. King said granting of an injunction against the march would be "a basic denial of First Amendment privileges. We stand on the First Amendment. In the past on the basis of conscience we have had to break injunctions and if necessary we may do it (in Memphis). We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

Mr. Robinson reacted quickly when asked about indications that any injunction may be ignored.

"We are going to see that the court's order is enforced until it is either amended or dissolved," the United States attorney said. "Such action as is necessary to enforce and respect the order will be taken." He pointed out that federal troops had been used to enforce federal court orders when James Meredith entered Ole Miss and when Central High School was desegregated in Little Rock.

"We are making sure that Dr. King and others are being informed so there will be no question that the community knows of this restraining order," Mr. Robinson said.

Within minutes after Judge Brown signed the restraining order yesterday two United States marshals sped across town to serve Negro leaders with copies of the order. They found Dr. King and four other defendants named in the injunction, Hosea Williams, The Rev. James Orange, Raiph D. Abernathy and Bernard Lee, eating lunch at the Lorraine Motel. Dr. King greeted the federal officers, Marshall Cato Ellis and Deputy Marshal Willie Durham, in the driveway of the motel and the defendants accepted service of the order. Dr. King said a sixth defendant, The Rev. James Bevel, was out of town but promised to notify marshals when the minister returns.

The city's petition for the injunction against the march is based generally on the idea that the mass march led by Dr. King last Thursday turned into a riot and, therefore, the city has good reason to fear more civil disorder if another mass march is held. The city justified going into federal court on grounds of diversity of citizenship—in other words the named defendants are not residents of Tennessee — and by raising certain federal questions spelled out in various civil rights acts.

The city said it also was seeking the injunction as a means of protecting Dr. King and others working with him.

"We are fearful that in the turmoil of the moment someone may even harm Dr. King's life," said City Atty. Frank Gianotti, "and with all the force of language we can use we want to emphasize that we don't want that to happen."

The city's petition said "unless it (the city) acts to avoid a repetition of said activities of March 28 (the day of the riot), that it, through its duly elected officials and representatives, will have by inaction, permitted the rights guaranteed aforesaid to citizens, both white and Negro, to be violated."

Mr. Gianotti suggested that the court may want to allow the march to proceed but set certain guidelines such as the number that may participate.

King Challenges Court Restraint, Vows To March

But US Attorney Says Ban To Be Enforced; Even If Troops Needed

Attorneys representing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. go before United States Dist. Judge Bailey Brown at 9:30 this morning to challenge a temporary restraining order against any mass march here.

Dr. King and others planning a Monday march in support of striking sanitation workers yesterday appeared headed toward a possible clash with the order — if it remains in force.

"We are not going to be stopped by Mace or injunctions," said Dr. King.

But United States Atty. Thomas Robinson said the temporary order will be enforced even if it means calling in federal troops.

Dr. King's attorneys, Louis Lucas, Walter Bailey and Lucius Burch, talked behind closed doors with Judge Brown for about an hour yesterday.

They are expected this morning to challenge the jurisdiction of the federal courts to stop the march.

Dr. King said granting of an injunction against the march would be "a basic denial of First Amendment privileges. We stand on the First Amendment. In the past on the basis of conscience we have had to break injunctions and if necessary we may do it (in Memphis). We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

Mr. Robinson reacted quickly when asked about indications that any injunction may be ignored.

"We are going to see that the court's order is enforced until it is either amended or dissolved," the United States attorney said. "Such action as is necessary to enforce and respect the order will be taken." He pointed out that federal troops had been used to enforce federal court orders when James Meredith entered Ole Miss and when Central High School was desegregated in Little Rock.

"We are making sure that Dr. King and others are being informed so there will be no question that the community knows of this restraining order," Mr. Robinson said.

Within minutes after Judge Brown signed the restraining order yesterday two United States marshals sped across town to serve Negro leaders with copies of the order. They found Dr. King and four other defendants named in the injunction, Hosea Williams, The Rev. James Orange, Raiph D. Abernathy and Bernard Lee, eating lunch at the Lorraine Motel. Dr. King greeted the federal officers, Marshall Cato Ellis and Deputy Marshal Willie Durham, in the driveway of the motel and the defendants accepted service of the order. Dr. King said a sixth defendant, The Rev. James Bevel, was out of town but promised to notify marshals when the minister returns.

The city's petition for the injunction against the march is based generally on the idea that the mass march led by Dr. King last Thursday turned into a riot and, therefore, the city has good reason to fear more civil disorder if another mass march is held. The city justified going into federal court on grounds of diversity of citizenship — in other words the named defendants are not residents of Tennessee — and by raising certain federal questions spelled out in various civil rights acts.

The city said it also was seeking the injunction as a means of protecting Dr. King and others working with him.

"We are fearful that in the turmoil of the moment someone may ever harm Dr. King's life," said City Atty. Frank Gianotti, "and with all the force of language we can use we want to emphasize that we don't want that to happen."

The city's petition said "unless it (the city) acts to avoid a repetition of said activities of March 28 (the day of the riot), that it, through its duly elected officials and representatives, will have by inaction, permitted the rights guaranteed aforesaid to citizens, both white and Negro, to be violated."

Mr. Gianotti suggested that the court may want to allow the march to proceed but set certain guidelines such as the number that may participate.

March Control Is Essential

MEMPHIS is confronted by the threat of massive civil disobedience. Martin Luther King and followers have put off their planned midtown march until Monday in the hope of bringing in outsiders, none of them involved in the core issue which is the sanitation strike against the City of Memphis, a labor rather than a racial matter.

City strategy has been to seek a federal court restraining order against the march. This was granted temporarily by Judge Bailey Brown, with the understanding that he or Federal Judge Robert McRae could alter or reverse the order.

A possible alteration would be to provide federal marshals to help in controlling such a march. The point is not to help King prove he can lead a "non-violent" march, but to protect Memphis against a repeat of last week's Beale Street destruction.

March leaders indicate they will ignore any court injunction against a King demonstration. That could only invite disturbance and confrontation with law enforcement officers.

The burden should be placed by federal court upon federal law enforcement to control the marchers and to protect the public. Such control is essential.

Pitch For Unity Made By King

2,000 Hear Rights Leader Scoff At Injunction, Belittle Violence

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. last night told more than 2,000 persons at Mason Temple that Monday's mass march must be held to refocus attention on the eight-week-old sanitation workers strike.

"If the police dogs and fire hoses in Alabama couldn't stop us, an injunction in Memphis, Tenn., can't," he told the disappointingly small crowd.

Pleading for unity, Dr. King said: "We have got to stay together and maintain unity. We have to keep the issues where they are supposed to be. The issue is the refusal of Memphis to be honest with its public servants who happen to be garbage men."

Dr. King said the violence that erupted during last Thursday's mass march caused attention to focus on the "broken windows."

"That's what happens when you have a little violence. The press concentrated on the broken windows and not on the issues."

He said Southern Christian Leadership Conference lawyers are going into court this morning to fight "this illegal, unconstitutional injunction."

Dr. King again called for economic boycotts against leading Memphis businesses.

"We don't need bricks and bottles and Molotov cocktails. We're building an economic base and putting pressure where it hurts."

Again, Dr. King urged persons to leave work and school to join Monday's march.

He is expected to speak again tonight during another mass meeting at Mason Temple.

Dr. Ralph Abernathy, one of Dr. King's aides, said it was a tribute to Dr. King's leadership that only a few persons in the March 28 march became violent. He praised Dr. King highly.

He said despite Dr. King's honors he has not yet decided to be president of the United States.

"But he is the man who tells the President what to do."

In New York yesterday a civil rights leader and a labor leader said the Rev. Dr. King had changed the mass march from Friday to Monday so that the demonstration ranks could be swelled by those planning a nationwide "march on Memphis."

The announcement of the massive convergence on Memphis was made by Bayard Rustin, president of the A. Philip Randolph Institute and organizer of the 1964 march on Washington, and Victor Gotbaud, executive director of District Council 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (the union representing the Memphis strikers).

The two men said more than 6,000 persons are expected to converge on Memphis from throughout the country.

And John De Lury, president of the (Montgomery, Ala.) Sanitation Workers Union, who led a strike there, said members of his union plan a mass movement on Memphis by plane, train, bus and private car to join the march.

The number of strike and riot-connected incidents continued to decline. The last battalion of the Tennessee National Guard—the local unit—was released from active duty. Others in the 3,800 who served here during the emergency had returned to their homes gradually over the last few days. Guard officials said they could be alerted again in a matter of hours.

The 200 Tennessee Highway Patrol troopers who had been here since Thursday also returned home yesterday.

In incidents yesterday, Gene Harold Allen, 14, of 326 Eastview told police five Negro youth jumped from a drainage ditch on Walnut Grove Road just west of East High School at 9:20 a.m. and took his wallet, which contained no money.

In the same general area, B. C. Dowdle, owner of Dowdle Sporting Goods store at 2896 Walnut Grove, reported his store broken into. Three automatic rifles, several shotguns, some knives, and a quantity of ammunition were taken.

Fire Chief E. A. Hamilton said the number of fire calls had dropped back to almost normal.

Recent information indicates that Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and his staff are no longer using the name "Washington Spring Project" for the massive civil disobedience campaign he will stage in April, 1968, in an effort to tie-up the Nation's Capital and pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro. Around The Town—

Violence Tears At City

After Strike

Demonstration Erupts

In an instant last week, a fairly orderly demonstration in support of the sanitation strike degenerated into an ugly outbreak of looting and rioting, bloodshed and pillage. A great part of the downtown area and the southwestern part of the city were in a state of near martial law after police, firemen, state troopers and the National Guard were called to quench the frenzy.

Observers agreed the violence started when dozens of Negro youths bolted from the pack on Beale Thursday and started breaking windows and looting. That set off a 12-hour spell of violence that saw one Negro youth slain, scores hurt and more than 300 arrested.

Dr. Martin Luther King, in town to lead the demonstration, was quickly whisked away when the disturbance started. As it continued over a great area of the city, fires were set, bombs were tossed and police and firemen were harassed continuously. Determined guardsmen warned all persons off Beale Street, literally wrecked in the melee.

Mayor Henry Loeb quickly set down at 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew under powers granted by a law rushed through the Tennessee General Assembly the day of the outbreak. Liquor and beer sales were forbidden, as was the sale of firearms.

IN THE ACTUAL strike itself, efforts to mediate it appeared futile. Union leaders walked out of mediation talks with city government representatives in the seven-week strike before the talks moved past the first issue, union recognition. The break-off came as the third day of talks was near an end.

The union walked out and officials charged Mayor Henry Loeb in effect had tied the city committee's hands on the crucial issue. Immediately, there were two versions as to why the talks broke off — one from the city, another from the union.

The union charged the biggest roadblock was a contention by the city committee that it had no power to agree on anything — that only the mayor could. However the city committee claimed the union demanded it first be recognized as exclusive bargaining agent before any other points at issue could be discussed.

THE NEWLY CREATED National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) and Labor Department are hoping Memphis metropolitan area businessmen will hire 600 hard-core unemployables by June, 1969, and 1,500 disadvantaged youths this summer. Such was the goal outlined to a meeting of about 100 businessmen.

William Norwood Jr., regional manpower director with the Labor Department, was reluctant to quote exact figures. However, he said, "We hope the response by the business community will prove these target figures to be a low minimum." The alliance, backed by the Labor Department and headed nationally by Henry Ford II, will attempt to find jobs for 500,000 hard-core unemployables by June, 1971. The goal is 100,000 by 1969, and this summer the alliance wants to find jobs for 200,000 disadvantaged youths, said Porter Grace Jr., president of Union Planters National Bank and chairman of the Memphis Chapter of the Alliance.

THE CITY COUNCIL rebuffed Councilman Jerred

Blanchard and refused to suspend its rules to consider a new resolution approving the presently planned route of the east-west expressway through Overton Park. The move apparently delayed any action on the heated issue for at least another week despite a report that Federal Highway Administrator Lowell Bridwell will not approve any east-west expressway in the "foreseeable future" unless the council changes its position with a new resolution.

Meanwhile in Washington, it came to light that national conservation interests may file a suit to stop the expressway through the park. Mr. Bridwell apparently does not want to commit funds to the through-the-park route in the face of a threatened suit without the solid backing of the City Council here.

Around The Town—

Violence Tears At City

After Strike

Demonstration Erupts

In an instant last week, a fairly orderly demonstration in support of the sanitation strike degenerated into an ugly outbreak of looting and rioting, bloodshed and pillage. A great part of the downtown area and the southwestern part of the city were in a state of near martial law after police, firemen, state troopers and the National Guard were called to quench the frenzy.

Observers agreed the violence started when dozens of Negro youths bolted from the pack on Beale Thursday and started breaking windows and looting. That set off a 12-hour spell of violence that saw one Negro youth slain, scores hurt and more than 300 arrested.

Dr. Martin Luther King, in town to lead the demonstration, was quickly whisked away when the disturbance started. As it continued over a great area of the city, fires were set, bombs were tossed and police and firemen were harassed continuously. Determined guardsmen warned all persons off Beale Street, literally wrecked in the melee.

Mayor Henry Loeb quickly set down at 7 p.m.-to 5 a.m. curfew under powers granted by a law rushed through the Tennessee General Assembly the day of the outbreak. Liqueur and beer sales were forbidden, as was the sale of firearms.

IN THE ACTUAL strike itself, efforts to mediate it appeared futile. Union leaders walked out of mediation talks with city government representatives in the seven-week strike before the talks moved past the first issue, union recognition. The break-off came as the third day of talks was near an end.

The union walked out and officials charged Mayor Henry Loeb in effect had tied the city committee's hands on the crucial issue. Immediately, there were two versions as to why the talks broke off — one from the city, another from the union.

The union charged the biggest roadblock was a contention by the city committee that it had no power to agree on anything — that only the mayor could. However the city committee claimed the union demanded it first be recognized as exclusive bargaining agent before any other points at issue could be discussed.

THE NEWLY CREATED National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) and Labor Department are hoping Memphis metropolitan area businessmen will hire 600 hard-core unemployables by June, 1969, and 1,500 disadvantaged youths this summer. Such was the goal outlined to a meeting of about 100 businessmen.

William Norwood Jr., regional manpower director with the Labor Department, was reluctant to quote exact figures. However, he said, "We hope the response by the business community will prove these target figures to be a low minimum." The alliance, backed by the Labor Department and headed nationally by Henry Ford II, will attempt to find jobs for 500,000 hard-core unemployables by June, 1971. The goal is 100,000 by 1969, and this summer the alliance wants to find jobs for 200,000 disadvantaged youths, said Porter Grace Jr., president of Union Planters National Bank and chairman of the Memphis Chapter of the Alliance.

THE CITY COUNCIL rebuffed Councilman Jerred

Blanchard and refused to suspend its rules to consider a new resolution approving the presently planned route of the east-west expressway through Overton Park. The move apparently delayed any action on the heated issue for at least another week despite a report that Federal Highway Administrator Lowell Bridwell will not approve any east-west expressway in the "foreseeable future" unless the council changes its position with a new resolution.

Meanwhile in Washington, it came to light that national conservation interests may file a suit to stop the expressway through the park. Mr. Bridwell apparently does not want to commit funds to the through-the-park route in the face of a threatened suit without the solid backing of the City Council here.

Curfew Is Lifted; Main Near Normal

The curfew placed on Memphis after Thursday's rioting was lifted today, bus service returned to regular schedules, and Main Street moved toward business as usual.

Meanwhile, a top lieutenant of Dr. Martin Luther King, whose Thursday march ended in violence, announced that King will return to Memphis tomorrow and will "probably lead a massive march Friday."

On the curfew-lifting, Mayor Henry Loeb and Sheriff William Morris issued a joint statement saying the curfew removal means "all limitations which were imposed are now removed."

They expressed appreciation to authorities in nearby Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee for their cooperation in supporting the curfew.

Another march in support of the strike was scheduled for 2 p.m. today. At a Clayborn Temple press conference it was also announced that others would doubtless be called.

UPSWING

Business was on the upswing in major downtown stores, with many businessmen saying "everything is going back to normal."

A spokesman for Goldsmith's said, "We had a good crowd of people in the store this morning. It looked good and we're happy to say that things seem to be getting back to normal."

"A very nice crowd." was the term used by a spokesman for Gerber's. Lowenstein's reported its business good "with the customer flow this morning nearly normal."

Perel and Lowenstein's said it had a few more people in the store this morning than it has in days past.

ON BEALE

Beale Street, scene of most of the violence, also showed signs of life again after a weekend of quiet enforced by National Guardsmen. Signs proclaiming "Open for Business" were tacked up, and sheets of plywood covering smashed show windows had begun to be replaced by shiny blue and green sunglasses, guitars and musical instruments of all descriptions and the normal snazzy clothing offerings of the city's world renowned thoroughfare.

"I think the street will come back to life... but it'll take some time," was the hopeful thought of Morris Coppersmith, operator of Ellmor Sales, 146 Beale. He lost $612 worth of merchandise and nearly that amount in glass damage.

The U.S. Justice Department said in Washington that it is investigating the shooting death of a 16-year-old Memphis Negro during the riot which followed a march in support of the Memphis sanitation strike.

MEDIATION-

There were reports of background efforts to get talks resumed between union and city officials today, as the sanitation strike entered its eighth week on a relatively quiet note.

all said they had nothing to report on possible resumption of negotiations.

TENSION

Tension surrounding previous plans to conduct a five-hour "wake" for Larry Payne eased somewhat with a re-scheduling of the youth's funeral.

Original plans called for a "wake" at Clayborn Temple from 3 to 8 p.m., with a funeral tonight. Police said an officer shot the youth in self-defense, although relatives of the youth dispute this.

Rev. James Lawson, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church and a leader of strike supporters, said the funeral will now be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Clayborn Temple. The body will lie in state at the temple from 3 to 5 p.m. today.

Charles Blackburn, director of public works, said garbage trucks working during the strike were rolling from the Democrat Road station without trouble.

ARRESTED

One man accused of shooting at police Sunday when they answered a call to Robinson Truck Line, Orleans and Rover, was arrested and charged with shooting inside the city limits and resisting arrest. Police identified him as John Robert Perry, Negro, of 674 Linden.

Police reported arrest of 96 persons over the weekend on charges of curfew violations. Another 15 were charged with looting. But Sunday night, everything was quiet.

Renewed negotiations in the strike were called for by three Tennessee church leaders over the weekend. Bishop Joseph A. Durick, apostolic administrator of the Catholic Diocese of Nashville; Bishop John Vander Horst, Episcopal bishop of the Diocese of Tennessee, and Dr. H. Ellis Finger, Jr., Methodist bishop of Tennessee.

'URGENT'

The three issued a joint statement which said it is "most urgent" to settle the labor dispute, and then work toward social and racial "reforms."

Meanwhile in Washington. Rep. Dan Kuykendall of Memphis and Rep. Robert A. (Fats) Everett of West Tennessee, took the House floor this afternoon to denounce King.

Wise Advice From Church Leaders

The Press-Scimitar strongly endorses the plea of three Tennessee church leaders, issued over the weekend, for resumption of talks between sanitation strike leaders and city representatives.

The plea was from the Rt. Rev. John Vander Horst, Episcopal bishop of Tennessee. Dr. H. Ellis Finger Jr., Methodist bishop of Tennessee, and the Most Rev. Joseph A. Durick, apostolic administrator of the Catholic Diocese of Nashville.

We repeat it here.

"There is an essential difference between a labor dispute and racial injustice," the three church leaders said. "At this time, it is most urgent to settle first the labor dispute . . . once this vital issue has been settled, then all men of good will can work together to effectively promote the social and racial reforms that are necessary."

We urge the union leaders, the Negro ministers and others who have stressed the racial aspects of the controversy, and the city government to heed the wise advice of the state leaders of three religious denominations; and resume the mediation meetings with Mediator Frank B. Miles.

It will make settlement of the labor dispute easier—

• If Dr. Martin Luther King gives up his plan to return to Memphis for another try at a massive "non-violent" march. With his eyes on his plan to march thousands of "poor people" to Washington later in the spring, it is apparent that King wants to prove that he can conduct a big and peaceful march in Memphis. With the streets lined with police, sheriff's officers, the National Guard and Tennessee Highway Patrolmen, of course King could lead a peaceful march. The officers and soldiers would see to that.

But this would not prove anything with regard to Dr. King's own ability to control a large mass of marchers and keep them non-violent. And it would over-emphasize racial matters and thus interfere with the prime object of settling the sanitation strike so the strikers can get back to work and the job of rebuilding damaged racial relations can begin.

• And if the Negro ministers will give up their daily marches downtown. They and their supporters have made their point, over and over. Continuation of the marches can only keep racial relations sore and thus interfere with settlement of the labor dispute. The ministers should withdraw pickets from Main Street and get ready to cooperate with leaders of both races who see the crying need for calming down now and beginning constructive work.

The Memphis ministers' ability to conduct their marches peaceably has been demonstrated—up until they brought Dr. King in. There has been no heckling or violent resistance. But if the ministers keep on too long, and especially since the disastrous events of last Thursday, they risk arousing angry interference by some white persons with no more sense than the young Negro gangs who began window-breaking, looting and arson during the King march.

We are confident that the Negro ministers and their supporters do not want such a result. And so we urge them to do as the three Tennessee church leaders advise: help get the strikers back to work, first and fast.

We believe that if they do this they will find Mayor Henry Loeb and the City Council ready to work with them along the conciliatory lines these officials have already set forth.

PURPOSE:

To advise the change of name of the "Washington Spring Project" to the "Poor People's Campaign."

BACKGROUND:

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital in April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro. In the past King has called this his "Washington Spring Project."

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

A review of King's literature and speeches and those of his staff indicates SCLC is now using the name "Poor People's Campaign" for this program rather than the "Washington Spring Project." Therefore we should change our case caption accordingly.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the attached airtel to interested offices be sent changing the name of King's project to the "Poor People's Campaign."

King Will Appear At Columbia Rally

By THOMAS P. MAYES
Record Staff Writer

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC), will appear at a rally here scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Zion Baptist Church Wednesday.

According to Benjamin F. Mack, state SCLC field secretary, King may speak, but will not present a formal address.

The meeting is open to the public.

King, 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, intends to drive through South Carolina meeting as many "poor people" as possible. He will enter the state from Hampton or Jasper counties, then drive through Colleton, Drochester, Berkely, Orangeburg and Richland.

"We hope he won't be tired to speak here," said Mack. The field secretary said King should arrive in Columbia about 6 p.m. Depending on his arrival time, the rally at the 801 Washington St. Church will be at 7:30 or 8 p.m.

Mack said King will come to South Carolina from a tour of Georgia. After the rally, King will go to North Carolina.

King, pastor at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, pays unannounced visits to homes.

"He doesn't necessarily say who he is," said Mack. "Sometimes people don't even recognize him."

King will travel with SCLC aides.

King has, according to Mack, visited homes in all Southern states and "quite a few northern states."

A spokesman for King's Atlanta SCLC office says King hopes by his visits and later demonstrations to dramatize the plight of some three million low-income earning people in the United States.

By his Poor People's Campaign, King aims at gradually increasing pressure on the federal government for additional poverty program aid.

King Cancels Planned Visit To Columbia

A spokesman for Dr. Martin Luther King said Monday that King would not make a scheduled appearance in South Carolina Wednesday.

"Because of the Memphis crisis he felt he needed more time there," said Mrs. Dorothy Cotton, director of Citizenship Education Programs for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference in Atlanta.

Mrs. Cotton was preparing telegrams to cancel King's appointments for the week, one of which was an 8 p.m. Wednesday speech at Zion Baptist Church on Washington Street in Columbia.

King had planned a "people-to-people" tour through three S. C. counties on Wednesday, according to Benjamin J. Mack of Columbia, S. C. director of Citizenship Education Programs.

Mack said he hopes King will be able to re-schedule the tour.

Aura Of Tension Slowly Subsides; Minister's Sermons Ask Restraint

Under a light but steady rain, Memphis had a quiet Sunday on which police reported only "minor situations" as an aftermath of last Thursday's downtown riot.

Although the day passed uneventful for the most part, contingents of the 4,000-man National Guard force called into the city continued to patrol streets.

Mayor Henry Loeb, noting the apparent calm, said last night he would "reevaluate the curfew and its status" this morning and make an announcement about noon.

Issues to be evaluated are whether to allow liquor stores to reopen, resumption of beer sales and ending the authorized questioning of persons on city streets between 7 p.m. and 5 a.m.

Many ministers used the quiet Sunday to urge restraint and a return to peace in their weekly sermons.

At Christ Methodist Church, Dr. F. A. Flatt, superintendent of the Memphis-Shelby District of the Methodist Church, told the congregation:

"Too often symptoms are dealt with rather than the causes of problems."

He said the country's race problem, poverty and the Vietnam War are fevers suggesting something underneath — man's alienation from God. "When we bring man and God together, then we can solve these problems."

At First Baptist Church-Beale Street, the Rev. James A. Jordan joined hundreds of other Memphis clergymen, Negro and white, to pray to God for help. He said he would ask his congregation to join in a fast today for a return to peace.

At St. Paul's Catholic Church, the Rev. Edward Cleary, whose morning sermon blamed the riot on a Communist conspiracy, was interrupted by a young man who stood up near the pulpit and asked, "What about social justice?"

Several ushers approached him and he left the church. Some members of the congregation applauded.

A protest strategy meeting last night, which drew four aides of Dr. Martin Luther King to the Department of Minimum Salary of the AME Church at 280 Hernando, promised to "escalate the demonstrations."

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, acting as spokesman for Dr. King's aides, promised tightening of the economic boycott, establishment of a branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference here, control of the black community and a merger with black power elements of the city.

The other three aides now in Memphis are Hosea Williams, the Rev. James Bevel and the Rev. James Orange. The strategy meeting was attended by union representatives P. J. Ciampa, Jesse Epps and William Lucy.

Also at the strategy meeting were leaders and representatives of the Invaders, local advocates of black power.

Dr. King said he would return to Memphis tomorrow to lead more marches. A spokesman for the local Community on the move for Equality organization said smaller downtown demonstrations would resume at 2 p.m. today "and continue daily."

Dr. King said the Memphis march forced him to cancel a planned trip to Nigeria where he said he was to attempt to negotiate a settlement between the Nigerian government and the breakaway nation of Biafra. "The situation in Memphis demands immediate action," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Jackson said it was uncertain last night when Dr. King would actually lead the march.

Sanitation trucks collected garbage throughout the drizzle. A spokesman said 76 were on the streets yesterday.

Claude Armour, an assistant of Gov. Buford Ellington, said he thought yesterday's rain helped keep down incidents but was not a major factor. He said the National Guard and other law enforcement agencies "had been quite successful" in preserving order.

Asst. Police Chief W. E. Rouff said the city was "relatively quiet" but would not attribute it directly to the weather.

Police reported 36 arrests yesterday connected with the curfew and unrest. Eleven of those were jailed for public drunkenness.

A Fire Department spokesman said the number of fire calls and false alarms slackened considerably but he had no total of the number of fire runs made. "It's not as busy as it was," he said.

Chief Rouff said John Robert Perry, 42, dragged from an apartment early yesterday and arrested as a sniper, told police he was shooting in the air.

Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, director of the AME Church Department of Minimum Salary, said the body of Larry Payne, 16, will "lie in state" from 3 to 5 p.m. today and from 10 to 11 a.m. tomorrow at Clayborn Temple AME Church.

The youth was killed Thursday by Patrolman L. T. Jones, 25, who said young Payne threatened him with a knife when he tried to arrest the youth as a looter. The youth's death was the only one attributed directly to rioting.

The Rev. B. T. Dumas is to officiate at an 11 a.m. funeral for young Payne at the temple, tomorrow. Burial will be in New Park Cemetery.

The Tennessee Council on Human Relations yesterday asked the United States Commission on Civil Rights to conduct a public hearing to gather information about the Memphis rioting. The request was made by Baxton Bryant, director of the council.

Negro Leaders Sifting Rubble For Answers

By JIMMIE COVINGTON

Most of the estimated 5,000 persons who took part in last Thursday's march, headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., were not expecting trouble when they went downtown.

What happened?

A Negro postal employe who was at the march put it this way:

"The march was made up predominantly of the working class, church-going people, the average citizen. There were some outsiders there. I call them thugs. They caused the trouble."

The racial explosion left Beale Street in shambles, an estimated $400,000 worth of damage, one youth dead and after-shocks and tensions that will last for a long time.

As one observer put it, a majority of the persons who went to the march were persons who only put a white shirt and tie on on Sunday, but they put them on Thursday because they believed in the sanitation workers' cause and in Dr. King, a national civil rights symbol.

Others apparently came because they were coerced by threats. How widespread the coercion was is unclear. There were several reports of coercion, but those who were threatened often were afraid to complain.

Others came for trouble. The troublemakers have been estimated at perhaps 25 to 35 in the beginning, with the number growing to 200 to 300, most of them young persons.

That ministers who have headed the sanitation strike sympathizers and who planned Thursday's march lost control of the demonstration is perhaps indicative of their present leadership position in the Negro community.

They at present represent perhaps the strongest "organized leadership over the Negro civil rights movement here, having replaced the local NAACP chapter and Shelby County Democratic Club leaders, who claimed leadership for many years.

The ministers, who call themselves nonviolent but who often hint of violence in their pep talks to rallies, are in turn under pressure from young militants and black power supporters who demand violence.

the spokesmen for the Negro community may now be hanging in the balance, some observers say.

Many white leaders in the past have rejected any dealings with the more militant ministers who are now leading strike sympathizers. Some observers feel the white leaders may in the future find these ministers more acceptable to deal with than the militant black power advocates.

The observers say the long racial calm here perhaps lulled white civic leaders and officials into an attitude of "it can't happen here" despite protests from responsible Negro leaders that they would be undercut by black power advocates.

The Negro leaders have placed major emphasis here on job equality and the hiring and training of more Negroes, even to the point of hiring on a ratio basis.

After Thursday's riot, much of what is considered to be the city's civic leadership appeared at a loss to explain why the riot started or what must be done to get the city moving again toward racial harmony.

The riot and the strict clampdown by police, sheriff's deputies, state troopers and National Guardsmen has had a telling effect on the mood in the Negro community.

There are numerous examples of mature Negroes who came prepared to march non-violently and were disillusioned as a result of the trouble that rocked the demonstration.

They include men such as Harold Whalum, 38, president of Union Protective Life Insurance Co. and vice chairman of the Urban League here, who said he was beaten and subjected to immobilizing gas after the demonstration.

"I had just brought some ladies and children into the office to get them off the street, when a policeman pushed open the door and said, 'You black keep yourselves in there or we're going to shoot you full of holes," Mr. Whalum said.

He said he told the officer such language was unnecessary "and that's when he knocked me down. There was so much hatred in that fist of his that I believe I would be dead now if I'd said anything else."

A longtime practitioner of nonviolence, Mr. Whalum now says, "I feel like a fool."

There are other examples. The Rev. Pat Ellis, 23, is both a minister and a taxicab driver. He said he was jerked from his cab, cursed and beaten by policemen Friday night.

Ernest Anthony Baker, 24, of 932 Randle, a truck driver for a furniture firm, said he and a friend, Leonard Phillips, 22, of 755 Randle, were stopped, cursed and threatened by police near their homes Saturday while returning from visiting a relative. Mr. Baker spoke without bitterness.

There have been other complaints that Negroes have been mistreated under the 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew which has been imposed by Mayor Henry Loeb since Thursday.

Both the mayor and Fire and Police Director Frank Holloman declare the curfew is applied the same to whites and Negroes and that officers have been instructed to treat everyone fairly.

Distrust and contempt for the police has long been rife in the Negro community. Complaints and rumors of brutality, whether valid or not, are being readily accepted as truthful by many Negroes, steadily increasing the tension in some areas.

Although many Negroes and Negro leaders view Thursday's violence as an act of "sabotage" against the King demonstration, their anger, however, is not directed at the militants, but at the police and the show of force which came afterward.

Who are the young militants, the black power leaders here?

Black power organizer Charles Cabbage, 23, is a will-of-the-wisp, a man in motion, half-glimpsed figure without an address, moving from phone booth to phone booth in an effort to unite militant Negroes.

Cabbage heads a local black power group, which reportedly calls itself "Black Organizing Project (BOP)."

Cabbage and other members of the black power group call themselves the Invaders and often wear jackets with the word across the backs. "Young black people want black power and they're going to get it," Cabbage said.

There are several units in the black power framework here. A small group at Le Moyne College reportedly uses the name Black Organizing Project, the same name used by the overall group. A group at Owen College calls itself the Afro-American Brotherhood. Neither group has been recognized by school authorities.

An organization at Memphis State University, the Black Student Association, is not considered a black power group. However, at least one of its leaders reportedly has been closely associated with black power leaders here.

The Invaders themselves deny violence was planned at Thursday's march. Actually, said one militant, "the trouble came from kids drinking orange rock wine (behind Clayborn Temple AME Church). There were at least four militant groups at work during the King march . . . and we pulled out ahead of the trouble."

Militant efforts, predictably, have been most successful with Negro youths.

Youths were eliminated at police request from downtown marches Friday and Saturday and both were peaceful. But participation in the marches by youths in the past had been actively solicited by ministers leading the strike sympathizers.

As the rift between the white and Negro communities widened in the past few days, militancy has been spreading. It has been reflected in burning rubbish in the night, firebombs tossed at business firms, the sound of breaking glass and barrages of bottles hurled through the air.

It was even present in as simple a thing as a white and Negro meeting on a street and not knowing whether to say "hello."

Aura Of Tension Slowly Subsides; Minister's Sermons Ask Restraint

Under a light but steady rain, Memphis had a quiet Sunday on which police reported only "minor situations" as an aftermath of last Thursday's downtown riot.

Although the day passed uneventful for the most part, contingents of the 4,000-man National Guard force called into the city continued to patrol streets.

Mayor Henry Loeb, noting the apparent calm, said last night he would "reevaluate the curfew and its status" this morning and make an announcement about noon.

Issues to be evaluated are whether to allow liquor stores to reopen, resumption of beer sales and ending the authorized questioning of persons on city streets between 7 p.m. and 5 a.m.

Many ministers used the quiet Sunday to urge restraint and a return to peace in their weekly sermons.

At Christ Methodist Church, Dr. F. A. Flatt, superintendent of the Memphis-Shelby District of the Methodist Church, told the congregation:

"Too often symptoms are dealt with rather than the causes of problems."

He said the country's race problem, poverty and the Vietnam War are fevers suggesting something underneath — man's alienation from God. "When we bring man and God together, then we can solve these problems."

At First Baptist Church, Beale Street, the Rev. James A. Jordan joined hundreds of other Memphis clergymen, Negro and white, to pray to God for help. He said he would ask his congregation to join in a fast today for a return to peace.

At St. Paul's Catholic Church, the Rev. Edward Cleary, whose morning sermon blamed the riot on a Communist conspiracy, was interrupted by a young man who stood up near the pulpit and asked, "What about social justice?"

Several ushers approached him and he left the church. Some members of the congregation applauded.

A protest strategy meeting last night, which drew four aides of Dr. Martin Luther King to the Department of Minimum Salary of the AME Church at 280 Hernando, promised to "escalate the demonstrations."

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, acting as spokesman for Dr. King's aides, promised tightening of the economic boycott, establishment of a branch of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference here, control of the black community and a merger with black power elements of the city.

The other three aides now in Memphis are Hosea Williams, the Rev. James Bevel and the Rev. James Orange. The strategy meeting was attended by

Moment Of Truth

IT WAS tragic. It was senseless. And, as City Councilman Fred Davis said amid the shambles of Beale Street yesterday, "It's a damn shame."

The shame is that it happened. It shouldn't have.

But it did, and it helps nothing and proves nothing to lament.

Memphis at this moment has to look to today and tomorrow to prevent this incident from escalating into a racial battle. The best way to do that is to maintain law and order, and to restore a sense of calm and thoughtfulness among citizens.

We walked through the glass-strewn streets, breathed the tear gas, and talked to the people yesterday — minutes after bands of young people had turned a "non-violent" protest march into chaotic violence. All we could find on the tongues of men was anger and fear.

Anger will not help any of us. It is negative and destructive. White or Negro, each of us is a Memphian who shares the love of the community, its needs, its goals.

The Memphis police had exercised restraint as the march led by Martin Luther King moved through the downtown section. They responded to the outbreak of violence with organized precision. Admittedly, individual officers may have over-reacted in specific instances, but the over-all performance was good, and what could have turned into a full-scale riot was nipped in the bud.

NOW COMES the time to think ahead. The garbage strike has become a secondary issue, principally because there were angry young people who wanted an incident in Memphis. Yet this is the time to end the sanitation strike, and that is a two-way street requiring honest negotiation and conciliation on both sides.

Deeper than that is the need to return to the atmosphere of fellowship which existed in Memphis until tempers became short within recent weeks. We cannot be a city divided. We cannot stop living together, working together, and building toward common goals.

Yesterday was no occasion for anyone to feel a sense of dignity or pride or manhood. People were hurt. Memphis was wounded.

What is worse about the violence is that so many of the innocent suffer.

But the anarchy which threatened yesterday was contained and stopped by the swift action of city police, sheriff's deputies, state troopers and National Guard and by ministers who tried to cool their followers. Memphis continues to have law and order. We can have no less.

SHAMEFUL it was! And the city remains tense. But control has been established, and we know who is agitating for more trouble and who is trying to restore calm.

In this moment of truth for Memphis, those who want to keep this a peaceful city are being counted.

'Too Nice For A Riot'—But It Came

In one of the long, ponderous lulls between the rages of violence, while people shuffled back and forth and were alternately exhorted to go home or to stay, someone commented that it was much too nice a day for a riot.

And then something would happen — a broken window, a thrown rock, a hurled curse.

"I wish this was a real live one, that's just what I wish," a man kept saying in a near shriek as he stomped a manikin that had been dragged from a store window.

Beale Street was blanketed by broken glass, the mutilated manikins that caught the first brunt of the bitterness of the youths who swept along its length in frenzied destruction.

At Handy Park, police cleared a gathering that was made up mostly of elderly Negroes who had gathered to watch the three-block long march.

An elderly Negro man was led from the park by a helmeted policeman with a gas mask on his face who told him: "This isn't the place for you older people — you oughta be home today."

Reporters who watched the flaring incidents that seemed to spread from Clayborn Temple told of leaders and police who each had their own way of trying to contain violence.

At one point police had agreed to move from the area temporarily while the Rev. R. L. Starks asked crowds of young people to move inside the church. Before the ministers were able to get all the youths inside a wedge of police and squad cars approached the corner of Hernando and Linden and were met by young Negroes throwing rocks and bottles.

Tear gas was fired and the youths crowded back toward the church. Periodically, youngsters would run from the building and throw rocks and bottles and then retreat back to the church or the AME Minimum Salary Department Building when more police arrived.

A pickup truck with the name of a service station on the side drove around the area of Beale and Hernando while a man who identified himself as Larry Seward told people in the area: "All marchers, young and old, go to the temple. You have hurt the cause. We don't want violence."

"We already had it," came the reply from a Negro passing by.

Nearby a bottle was thrown and a deputy sheriff, running, screamed: "Shoot the son of a bitch." A city policeman stopped his running, took him aside and in a solemn voice said, "You better cool down."

During one frenzied scene, a reporter told of "one little boy running through the crowd with tissue paper for those with running eyes and noses."

Inside the temple, the Rev. Mr. Starks told those who had gone there from the march: "All of you that are on our side, we are asking you to go home. Tonight we are asking you to go home and prepare for this weekend. There are many things you will need to do. I think the leadership was commendable this morning because if the leadership had not been effective we would have had a black page in the history of this city of Memphis that all of us would live to regret."

Two reporters were waiting outside a phone booth about a block north of Clayborn Temple when a large group of marchers decided to head back toward Beale. Police formed a line and began pushing them back. A young Negro jumped out from behind the booth with a rifle.

"A handful of police jumped the boy and got his rifle away," said one reporter. "They struck him several times with night sticks while the struggle for the gun was going on. He was carried off in a squad car."

And then quiet returned, except for the interruptions of sirens and the restless people.

YOUTH IS SLAIN; SCORES INJURED

Juveniles Spark Violence, Looting As King Leads Strike March

Teams of police and National Guardsmen patrolled trouble spots over a major part of Memphis last night, as a stunned city counted one death, more than 200 arrests and scores of injuries in its first full-scale race riot.

More than 3,800 National Guard troops moved into the city yesterday afternoon and last night in the wake of rioting and looting that left Main Street and historic Beale Street littered with bricks, blood and broken glass. Police last night were unable to estimate the number of businesses looted. Liquor stores in predominantly Negro areas were favorite targets of the looters.

The rioting was touched off during a march down Main led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The civil rights leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner was hustled away from the downtown scene as violence began to flare.

A tight curfew — probably the first in the city's history since the Civil War — was imposed by Mayor Henry Loeb. It authorized police to question anyone on the streets between the hours of 7 p.m. and 5 a.m. and arrest anyone without "legitimate business or emergency reasons."

The riot toll last night was one dead — Larry Payne, 16, of 3023 Parker, shot by a policeman after he turned on the officer with a butcher knife. He was being chased on a looting charge.

At least 62 persons were injured—3 of them shot and one bus driver stabbed.

Negro leaders and Fire and Police Director Frank L. Holloman both emphasized that yesterday's march was an orderly one, and the trouble started when a group of about 200 youths — many of whom appeared to have been drinking — separated themselves from the main body of about 5,000 marchers, and went on a window-breaking, looting binge. Many of them were black power advocates, several wearing the jackets of the Invaders, a local black power group.

At 9:30 last night, sniper fire was reported from rooftops in the Handy Park area and on Walnut west of E. H. Crump Blvd. Police said about five shots were fired at a police officer near the park. All missed.

Fire Chief Eddie Hamilton said fire calls were coming in last night "so fast we haven't had time to count them." There were more than 125 fire calls between noon and 10 p.m., few of them major.

A hopeful attempt toward normalcy was planned for today. City schools, some of which closed early yesterday, will be open as usual. Bus service, which was suspended at 1:20 p.m. after the stabbing incident, is scheduled to resume. Garbage pickups were less certain, though tentatively scheduled to resume after discontinuing about noon yesterday.

Mr. Holloman told an emergency session of the City Council yesterday afternoon that the police stopped the march, "and the leaders disappeared." He called the rioting "general guerrilla warfare."

When his terminology was questioned, Mr. Holloman replied, "Yes, we have a war in the city of Memphis."

Three of his listeners, Councilmen James L. Netters, Fred Davis and Jerred Blanchard, had been on the front lines of the "war" earlier in the day. They had stayed in the streets for hours trying to quiet the situation. Mr. Davis was among the marchers downtown when the rioting broke out, and said he was punched in the side by an officer's night stick.

"I told them I was a councilman and a sheriff's deputy said, 'Well, Goddammit, move on,' and I moved. They raised their sticks to hit me, but they didn't."

One of the key state leaders rushed to Memphis along with high-ranking guardsmen was Claude A. Armour, Gov. Buford Ellington's special consultant on law and order and Memphis' former police commissioner.

"If the curfew does not work," Mr. Armour said, "the governor can declare a state of emergency. And it's just fantastic what that can do."

Yesterday's march, ostensibly a protest on behalf of the city's striking sanitation workers, was generally considered to be a "dress rehearsal" by Dr. King for his planned march on Washington April 22. At a press conference at the Holiday Inn-Rivermont yesterday afternoon, Dr. King promised another march this afternoon, but there was no indication whether he would lead it.

Mr. Hoffoman said last night he has made no decision on permitting another march.

The day of rioting began with outbursts at several high schools and college campuses, the most serious of which centered around Hamilton High School at 1478 Wilson. Police officers were showered with bricks and bottles, and two persons were reported hurt in the ensuing melee. There were other disturbance calls at South Side, Booker T. Washington, Carver, Lester and LeMoyne College.

Dr. King arrived at Memphis Metropolitan Airport at 10:30 a.m., and at Clayborn Temple at Hernando and Pontotoc, headquarters for the march, at 10:56. The march began at 11:05.

Fifteen minutes later, Beale Street was a battleground. Asst. Chief of Police Henry Lux reported on his radio that some of the marchers were breaking out windows, "tearing up everything and running in all directions" in the Beale-Main-Gayoso-Second area.

At 11:35 a.m., Mr. Holloman called Mayor Loeb to recommend that he request National Guard aid from Governor Ellington. "You call the governor, I'll call the National Guard," he told the mayor.

Mr. Holloman, Mr. Armour and Sheriff William N. Morris briefed the city councilmen on the day's events. The council called for another emergency session at 10 a.m. today.

"When we learned that over 22,000 school children were absent from school, we knew we were in for a long day," Mr. Armour said.

Explaining the necessity for troops, Sheriff Morris told the councilmen "No police force in the United States is capable handling a major civil disorder alone."

The guard force was beefed up last night with the arrival of seven armored personnel carriers — tank-like vehicles used to move troops into an area under fire — from the guard armory at Henderson, Tennessee.

Commanding the guardsmen is Brig. Gen. Hugh B. Mott, a highly decorated (Distinguished Service Cross, World War II) officer and longtime city treasurer of Nashville.

Indications of trouble came before the marchers left the Clayborn Temple. The Rev. James Lawson of Centenary Methodist Church pleaded over and over for the younger Negroes to move to the end of the line but many remained on sidewalks, wandering about restlessly.

Rumors of police violence sent a charge of tension through the crowd.

Youths clambered aboard a loud speaker truck, yelling for transportation to Hamilton High School after rumor swept the crowd that police were clubbing and using antiriot liquid Mace on Negro school children.

"They killed a kid," said one young marcher.

The Rev. Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, director of the minimum salary department of the AME Church on Hernando, told the youths, "This is a job for men. What do you think you can do?"

The youngsters jumped off the truck.

Dr. King was plucked from the march by aides after the violence erupted. He marched with a grim face, his arms linked with ministers. He was trapped in his automobile for about 10 minutes by the crush of the unruly marchers who surged around his car at Linden and Hernando. Ministers with arms joined finally managed to clear space for him to get out.

More than 200 persons were arrested by police during the early rioting and looting. Reporters counted more than 105 plate glass windows smashed along Beale and Main.

Windows were smashed and young marchers began grabbing loot after an unidentified youth ran by the march at 11:30 a.m. yelling "The police have shot somebody on Main."

In a special session yesterday, the state legislature gave mayors the authority to proclaim a state of emergency for their cities for up to 15 days, to impose curfews and to restrict the sale of firearms, gasoline and liquor, including beer.

The legislature also made it a felony to interfere with a fireman, policeman, ambulance attendant or government official on duty during a riot. The penalty is up to five years in prison.

Governor Ellington earlier yesterday signed into law two other antiriot bills.

One gives him the same powers as a mayor during a riot and also allows him to use Civil Defense units during a riot (previously they could only be activated during a national emergency).

The other bill raised the minimum penalty for arson from 1 to 3 years in prison and from 1 to 15 years for looting.

Killed was Larry Payne, 16-year-old son of Mason Payne who lives at 3023 Parker.

Mr. Holloman said the youth was shot in self-defense by an officer, after looting the Sears, Roebuck and Co. store on South Third Street after he turned on police with a butcher knife. He was shot in the Fowler Homes housing project on South Fourth.

About 12:30 yesterday afternoon, Mr. Holloman said, the looting spread south along the South Third and Vance area.

Most injuries were cuts on heads, shoulders, and hands. Odell Horton, director of the division of hospitals and services, said many of those brought to emergency rooms were treated and released.

By 2 p.m., with sporadic shootings and spotty disturbances tying up every available policeman, Governor Ellington notified the 4,000 alerted guardsmen across West Tennessee to leave for Memphis. They were billeted in emergency quarters at the Fairgrounds and on the military side of Metropolitan Airport.

At the National Guard Armory on Central, a commanding officer told his men as they were fitted with black rubber gas masks: "How you conduct yourselves downtown will decide whether you're dead or you stay alive."

By nightfall, after long distance talks between the guard's command center at the armory on Central and Nashville, the governor alerted a second 8,000 guardsmen in Tennessee to form at armories in their home towns in case further need arises here.

One of the convoys arriving on Interstate 240 about 7 p.m.

last night was escorted into the city. The convoy was five miles long.

Police threw tear gas grenades on the ground after screeching to a stop in front of the Main Street march in emergency wagons.

Faces turned red from exertion behind the plastic windows of the bright green masks worn by police as they chased looters down streets.

Officers ran into a hail of bricks, stones, bottles and sticks as they regrouped near Linden and Hernando. Several fired tear gas shells from stubby rifles.

Spent cartridges from the tear gas weapons littered the riot area along with strikers' signs dropped as panic struck the mob of people.

J. B. Griffin, manager of Federal Clothing Store on Main Street, said he was waiting with a cocked pistol when a marcher broke his display window and looted the contents. "He still took it (the clothing). I should have shot him but I thought about it and I didn't."

He said about $200 in merchandise was taken.

While cleanup workers were sweeping glass off sidewalks, Guy Lansky, co-owner of Lansky Clothing Store at Beale and South Second Street, lugged a case of soft drinks out to officers.

"Help yourself," he told the thirsty policemen.

Mr. Lansky estimated his stock loss at $1,000 and damage to plate glass windows at more than $700.

Father William Fennell of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Frayser, said a boy about 15 years old started the trouble by "throwing things and (breaking) a window with a stick."

"From what I saw," said Father Fennell, "all of the trouble came from youngsters who were not a part of the march."

Father Fennell was one of about 10 Catholic priests who joined the march. There were also 15 to 20 nuns. One of the nuns said they were not at the march to represent their schools — "we're here because we believe in this cause."

Jesse Turner, president of the Memphis chapter of the NAACP said:

"In spite of the brutal and inhuman treatment which many Negro citizens have received at the hands of our police department while attempting to enjoy their constitutional rights and while trying to preserve order, the Memphis branch of the NAACP urges all our people to remain calm and at home tonight during these difficult times."

"We further urge that we Negroes do not judge all law enforcement officers on the provocations by some of our policemen, just as we should not be judged by acts of violence and vandalism by a few hoodlums in the march."

Meanwhile, in Washington, Senator Howard H. Baker Jr. (R-Tenn.), said:

"I have just learned of the outbreak of violence in Memphis. On the basis of first reports it would appear that the situation was dealt with promptly and firmly.

"I fully support the efforts of local officials to prevent a recurrence of this incident and to maintain law and order."

The Memphis Guard unit is the Third Battalion, 115th Artillery, commanded by Lt. Col. James L. Brown.

Other National Guard troop units from West Tennessee brought to Memphis were:

The 239th Signal Battalion from Jackson; the Fourth Battalion of the 117th Infantry from Parsons, Henderson, Lexington and Savannah; the 230th Engineer Battalion from Martin, Dresden, Paris, Camden and Waverly; the Fourth Battalion of the 109th Armor Regiment from Trenton, Milan, McKenzie and Huntingdon; and the 168th Military Police Company from Dyersburg.

Two Justice Department officials, Ozell Sutton, field representative of the Memphis office and Fred Miller of the Atlanta office, conferred yesterday afternoon with Col. Brown at the National Guard's command post at the armory at 2525 Central.

The Justice Department officials said they were here to offer conciliation service and to assist in restoring order. They said they were not here to investigate civil rights violations.

Illinois Central's Panama Limited, both north and south bound, bypassed Memphis last night because of the rioting.

Mayor Loeb and Sheriff Morris said the curfew included a ban on the sale of firearms, beer and liquor on a county-wide basis. Night clubs, stores, restaurants and other public places locked their doors when the sun went down.

As the marchers returned to Clayborn Temple yesterday afternoon, ministers and labor leaders urged them to "please go home. Listen to your radios. We will reconvene somewhere, somehow. People are looking for their families. Please go home."

Another speaker then began calling out the names of parents looking for lost children.

"Go back to the church," The Rev. James Lawson urged over a loudspeaker. "You don't have to show your manhood this way. If you want to show your manhood, come on out on the football field with me some afternoon."

Yesterday's fatality, Larry Payne, was pronounced dead at John Gaston Hospital. Mr. Holloman said the shooting was self defense, and that the officer — whose name he did not release — had chased him into the Fowler Homes after a looting incident at the Sears, Roebuck store on South Third.

The youth turned on the officer with the butcher knife, Mr. Holloman said, and the officer shot him.

Other gunshot victims yesterday were Nathaniel Nesbitt Johnson, 30, of 368 Linden, shot in the shoulder by an officer while running from a looted liquor store at Vance and Hernando about 2 p.m.; John Jefferson, 14, of 1029 South Ford, shot in the hip at 310 Laclede by a group of young Negroes about noon; and Allen Hintrell, 17, of 988 Springdale, shot at a grocery store at 1280 Thomas about 4 p.m. by the store manager, James Taylor.

Mr. Taylor was charged with assault to murder. The youth, shot after a beer bottle was thrown through the store window, was in serious condition last night with a shotgun slug in his back.

The last of the 3,800 troops called to Memphis arrived at about 11 p.m., said Brig. Gen. R. W. Akin, Tennessee adjutant general.

"As fast as they came in, we committed them."

He said the troops were being used in various ways. Beale Street was "almost being saturated and the trouble has died down there."

Guardsmen were also escorting fire department equipment on calls in trouble areas. Four major shopping centers were being protected. They were Southgate, Lamar-Airways, Poplar Plaza and Bellevue-Parkway.

"I think we have sufficient force," said General Akin. "We have 8,000 more troops on alert, with an airlift capability." He said the entire Tennessee National Guard had been alerted.

Airlift operations started during the afternoon when Tennessee Air Guard airplanes flew 200 highway patrolmen and some key National Guard staff personnel to Memphis.

Moment Of Truth

IT WAS tragic. It was senseless. And, as City Councilman Fred Davis said amid the shambles of Beale Street yesterday, "It's a damn shame."

The shame is that it happened. It shouldn't have.

But it did, and it helps nothing and proves nothing to lament.

Memphis at this moment has to look to today and tomorrow to prevent this incident from escalating into a racial battle. The best way to do that is to maintain law and order, and to restore a sense of calm and thoughtfulness among citizens.

We walked through the glass-strewn streets, breathed the tear gas, and talked to the people yesterday — minutes after bands of young people had turned a "non-violent" protest march into chaotic violence. All we could find on the tongues of men was anger and fear.

Anger will not help any of us. It is negative and destructive. White or Negro, each of us is a Memphian who shares the love of the community, its needs, its goals.

The Memphis police had exercised restraint as the march led by Martin Luther King moved through the downtown section. They responded to the outbreak of violence with organized precision. Admittedly, individual officers may have over-reacted in specific instances, but the over-all performance was good, and what could have turned into a full-scale riot was nipped in the bud.

NOW COMES the time to think ahead. The garbage strike has become a secondary issue, principally because there were angry young people who wanted an incident in Memphis. Yet this is the time to end the sanitation strike, and that is a two-way street requiring honest negotiation and conciliation on both sides.

Deeper than that is the need to return to the atmosphere of fellowship which existed in Memphis until tempers became short within recent weeks. We cannot be a city divided. We cannot stop living together, working together, and building toward common goals.

Yesterday was no occasion for anyone to feel a sense of dignity or pride or manhood. People were hurt. Memphis was wounded.

What is worse about the violence is that so many of the innocent suffer.

But the anarchy which threatened yesterday was contained and stopped by the swift action of city police, sheriff's deputies, state troopers and National Guard and by ministers who tried to cool their followers. Memphis continues to have law and order. We can have no less.

SHAMEFUL it was! And the city remains tense. But control has been established, and we know who is agitating for more trouble and who is trying to restore calm.

In this moment of truth for Memphis, those who want to keep this a peaceful city are being counted.

'Too Nice For A Riot'—But It Came

In one of the long, ponderous lulls between the rages of violence, while people shuffled back and forth and were alternately exhorted to go home or to stay, someone commented that it was much too nice a day for a riot.

And then something would happen — a broken window, a thrown rock, a hurled curse.

"I wish this was a real live one, that's just what I wish," a man kept saying in a near shriek as he stomped a manikin that had been dragged from a store window.

Beale Street was blanketed by broken glass, the mutilated manikins that caught the first brunt of the bitterness of the youths who swept along its length in frenzied destruction.

At Handy Park, police cleared a gathering that was made up mostly of elderly Negroes who had gathered to watch the three-block long march.

An elderly Negro man was led from the park by a helmeted policeman with a gas mask on his face who told him: "This isn't the place for you older people — you oughta be home today."

Reporters who watched the flaring incidents that seemed to spread from Clayborn Temple told of leaders and police who each had their own way of trying to contain violence.

At one point police had agreed to move from the area temporarily while the Rev. R. L. Starks asked crowds of young people to move inside the church. Before the ministers were able to get all the youths inside a wedge of police and squad cars approached the corner of Hernando and Linden and were met by young Negroes throwing rocks and bottles. Tear gas was fired and the youths crowded back toward the church. Periodically, youngsters would run from the building and throw rocks and bottles and then retreat back to the church or the AME Minimum Salary Department Building when more police arrived.

A pickup truck with the name of a service station on the side drove around the area of Beale and Hernando while a man who identified himself as Larry Seward told people in the area: "All marchers, young and old, go to the temple. You have hurt the cause. We don't want violence." "We already had it," came the reply from a Negro passing by.

Nearby a bottle was thrown and a deputy sheriff, running, screamed: "Shoot the son of a bitch." A city policeman stopped his running, took him aside and in a solemn voice said, "You better cool down." During one frenzied scene, a reporter told of "one little boy" running through the crowd with tissue paper for those with running eyes and noses.

Inside the temple, the Rev. Mr. Starks told those who had gone there from the march: "All of you that are on our side, we are asking you to go home. Tonight we are asking you to go home and prepare for this weekend. There are many things you will need to do. I think the leadership was commendable this morning because if the leadership had not been effective we would have had a black page in the history of this city of Memphis that all of us would live to regret." Two reporters were waiting outside a phone booth about a block north of Clayborn Temple when a large group of marchers decided to head back toward Beale. Police formed a line and began pushing them back. A young Negro jumped out from behind the booth with a rifle.

"A handful of police jumped the boy and got his rifle away," said one reporter. "They struck him several times with night sticks while the struggle for the gun was going on. He was carried off in a squad car."

And then quiet returned, except for the interruptions of sirens and the restless people.

YOUTH IS SLAIN; SCORES INJURED

Juveniles Spark Violence, Looting As King Leads Strike March

Teams of police and National Guardsmen patrolled trouble spots over a major part of Memphis last night, as a stunned city counted one death, more than 200 arrests and scores of injuries in its first full-scale race riot.

More than 3,800 National Guard troops moved into the city yesterday afternoon and last night in the wake of rioting and looting that left Main Street and historic Beale Street littered with bricks, blood and broken glass. Police last night were unable to estimate the number of businesses looted. Liquor stores in predominantly Negro areas were favorite targets of the looters.

The rioting was touched off during a march down Main led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The civil rights leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner was hustled away from the downtown scene as violence began to flare.

A tight curfew — probably the first in the city's history since the Civil War — was imposed by Mayor Henry Loeb. It authorized police to question anyone on the streets between the hours of 7 p.m. and 5 a.m. and arrest anyone without "legitimate business or emergency reasons."

The riot toll last night was one dead — Larry Payne, 16, of 3023 Parker, shot by a policeman after he turned on the officer with a butcher knife. He was being chased on a looting charge.

At least 62 persons were injured—3 of them shot and one bus driver stabbed.

Negro leaders and Fire and Police Director Frank L. Holloman both emphasized that yesterday's march was an orderly one, and the trouble started when a group of about 200 youths — many of whom appeared to have been drinking — separated themselves from the main body of about 5,000 marchers, and went on a window-breaking, looting binge. Many of them were black power advocates, several wearing the jackets of the invaders, a local black power group.

At 9:30 p.m. last night, sniper fire was reported from rooftops in the Handy Park area and on Walnut west of E. H. Crump Blvd. Police said about five shots were fired at a police officer near the park. All missed.

Fire Chief Eddie Hamilton said fire calls were coming in last night "so fast we haven't had time to count them." There were more than 125 fire calls between noon and 10 p.m., few of them major.

A hopeful attempt toward normalcy was planned for today. City schools, some of which closed early yesterday, will be open as usual. Bus service, which was suspended at 1:20 p.m. after the stabbing incident, is scheduled to resume. Garbage pickups were less certain, though tentatively scheduled to resume after discontinuing about noon yesterday.

Mr. Holloman told an emergency session of the City Council yesterday afternoon that the police stopped the march, "and the leaders disappeared." He called the rioting "general guerrilla warfare."

When his terminology was questioned, Mr. Holloman replied, "Yes, we have a war in the city of Memphis."

Three of his listeners, Councilmen James L. Netters, Fred Davis and Jerred Blanchard, had been on the front lines of the "war" earlier in the day. They had stayed in the streets for hours trying to quiet the situation. Mr. Davis was among the marchers downtown when the rioting broke out, and said he was punched in the side by an officer's night stick.

"I told them I was a councilman and a sheriff's deputy said, 'Well, Goddammit, move on,' and I moved. They raised their sticks to hit me, but they didn't."

The Memphis Guard unit is the Third Battalion, 115th Artillery, commanded by Lt. Col. James L. Brown.

Other National Guard troop units from West Tennessee brought to Memphis were:

The 239th Signal Battalion from Jackson; the Fourth Battalion of the 117th Infantry from Parsons, Henderson, Lexington and Savannah; the 230th Engineer Battalion from Martin, Dresden, Paris, Camden and Waverly; the Fourth Battalion of the 109th Armor Regiment from Trenton, Milan, McKenzie and Huntingdon;

and the 168th Military Police Company from Dyersburg.

Two Justice Department officials, Ozell Sutton, field representative of the Memphis office and Fred Miller of the Atlanta office, conferred yesterday afternoon with Col. Brown at the National Guard's command post at the armory at 2525 Central.

The Justice Department officials said they were here to offer conciliation service and to assist in restoring order. They said they were not here to investigate civil rights violations.

Illinois Central's Panama Limited, both north and south bound, bypassed Memphis last night because of the rioting.

Mayor Loeb and Sheriff Morris said the curfew included a ban on the sale of firearms, beer and liquor on a county-wide basis. Night clubs, stores, restaurants and other public places locked their doors when the sun went down.

As the marchers returned to Clayborn Temple yesterday afternoon, ministers and labor leaders urged them to "please, go home. Listen to your radios. We will reconvene somewhere, somehow. People are looking for their families. Please go home."

Another speaker then began calling out the names of parents looking for lost children.

"Go back to the church," The Rev. James Lawson urged over a loudspeaker. "You don't have to show your manhood this way. If you want to show your manhood, come on out on the football field with me some afternoon."

Yesterday's fatality, Larry Payne, was pronounced dead at John Gaston Hospital. Mr. Holloman said the shooting was self defense, and that the officer — whose name he did not release — had chased him into the Fowler Homes after a looting incident at the Sears, Roebuck store on South Third.

The youth turned on the officer with the butcher knife, Mr. Holloman said, and the officer shot him.

Other gunshot victims yesterday were Nathaniel Nesbitt Johnson, 30, of 368 Linden, shot in the shoulder by an officer while running from a looted liquor store at Vance and Hernando about 2 p.m.; John Jefferson, 14, of 1029 South Ford, shot in the hip at 310 Laclede by a group of young Negroes about noon; and Allen Hintrell, 17, of 988 Springdale, shot at a grocery store at 1280 Thomas about 4 p.m. by the store manager, James Taylor.

Mr. Taylor was charged with assault to murder. The youth, shot after a beer bottle was thrown through the store window, was in serious condition last night with a shotgun slug in his back.

The last of the 3,800 troops called to Memphis arrived at about 11 p.m., said Brig. Gen. R. W. Akin, Tennessee adjutant general.

"As fast as they came in, we committed them."

He said the troops were being used in various ways. Beale Street was "almost being saturated and the trouble has died down there."

Guardsmen were also escorting fire department equipment on calls in trouble areas. Four major shopping centers were being protected. They were Southgate, Lamar-Airways, Poplar Plaza and Bellevue-Parkway.

"I think we have sufficient force," said General Akin. "We have 8,000 more troops on alert, with an airlift capability." He said the entire Tennessee National Guard had been alerted.

Airlift operations started during the afternoon when Tennessee Air Guard airplanes flew 200 highway patrolmen and some key National Guard staff personnel to Memphis.

DATE: March 28, 1968

FROM : Mr. G. C. Moore GC Moore

SUBJECT: SANITATION WORKERS' STRIKE
MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE
RACIAL MATTER

GC Moore

Negro sanitation workers have been on strike at Memphis, Tennessee. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has previously been in Memphis and had called for a general strike and a mass march.

At 12:40 P.M. today ASAC C. O. Halter telephonically advised that the scheduled march started about 11:00 A. M., Central Standard Time. He stated that King was present and that an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 people were taking part. The march had proceeded only a few blocks when the marchers started breaking windows in business stores and establishments and some looting was taking place although he did not know the amount. The window breaking and disturbance has spread over into a white neighborhood and is continuing.

ASAC Halter advised that the above is the only information available at the time and that he would keep the Bureau currently advised of developments.

ACTION:

The above information has been furnished to the Inter-Division Information Unit and the military. This matter will be followed closely.

ADDENDUM:

At 1:05 P.M. ASAC Halter telephonically advised he had now received information that King did not walk in the march but was in an automobile at the head of it. However, he left the march very shortly after it started when the trouble began and Negroes began shouting, "Black Power." Halter advised that there was considerable looting on Main and Beale Streets. The police used gas to break up the march and at the time of his call the situation was fairly well under control although the Negroes were dispersing into other areas of Memphis. He advised that the National Guard had been called and the Memphis Unit would be activated, in about two hours. The Jackson, Tennessee, Unit will be activated in about six hours. Halter said he had no information as to the extent of injuries at this time.

The above information has also been furnished to the Department and the military.

RACIAL MATTER

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced that he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol during April, 1968 in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Sources who have furnished reliable information in the past, advised during the week of March 19, 1968 - March 25, 1968, that they had no information concerning the participation by individuals from the Los Angeles area in the Washington Spring Project.

The attached pages set forth more detailed data relative to this project.

slowly intensifying confrontation between the Federal Government and a minimum of 3,000 poor people. Tactics will mainly be sit-ins and marches which will be put into play over a period of weeks and not all at once. As of April 22, 1968, Dr. King and up to 100 other civil rights and Negro community leaders from around the country will start visiting congressional leaders, heads of Government departments and agencies, "presenting to them the demands of the campaign and asking them to take action. Several days later, after nothing has been done, they will probably pick one office and refuse to leave. When they are arrested, the poor people across the country will be mobilized and begin to come in caravans."

The article indicated that well before the April 22nd starting date, work was expected to start on a "New City of Hope" with tents or temporary buildings set up on a 30 acre site and supplied with electricity, sewer lines, an outdoor theater, kitchens and parking.

The article indicated that if still nothing is done by the Federal Government, then acts of "moral disobedience" will begin.

The "People's World" issue of March 23, 1968, carried an article which indicated that Dr. King spoke before 150 Negro church leaders at the Elks Club on Central Avenue, Los Angeles, California on March 16, 1968. Dr. King urged the ministers to begin now to organize for mass outpourings of people from their congregations to join the demonstration.

The "People's World" is a West Coast communist newspaper which is published weekly in San Francisco, California.

The same issue of the "People's World" also carried an article which indicated that the massive demonstration in Washington beginning on April 22, 1968, will be a "black-brown thing". This was disclosed at the California Democratic Council Convention which was held in Anaheim, California on the weekend of March 16 - 17, 1968, by Dr. Martin Luther King, the initiator of the Washington demonstration and Rodolfo (Corky) Gonzales,

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 22, 1968, a press conference was called by representatives of the Washington Spring Project (WSP) at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Office, 1401 U Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC).

At the conference which was attended by between fifty and sixty people, it was announced that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the SCLC, would arrive in WDC on April 22, 1968, to initiate the WSP by presenting his requests to the United States (U.S.) Congress. They expect three thousand demonstrators to arrive in Washington in support of Dr. King late in April or early May, 1968. They stressed that the emphasis would be in the length of the demonstration rather than the number of demonstrators to come to WDC and indicated they do not expect more than five thousand and may limit the demonstration to that number of people. They expect these demonstrators to remain in WDC as long as necessary or until they get tired and return to their homes. They emphasized the fact that there are no deadlines and the demonstration could continue past the summer months.

It was announced that no site had been selected for the "New City" which will be erected to house the demonstrators. They added their present desire is to have the location as near the U.S. Capitol as possible. They added they do not plan any type of demonstration inside the Capitol building; however, demonstrators will be instructed to contact their respective congressmen.

It was announced at the press conference that no direct contact had been made with any representative of the District of Columbia (D.C.) Government regarding plans for the demonstration and that they do not plan to apply for any type of permit to allow them to demonstrate.

They continued that they do not expect any violence during the demonstration because the people participating will be disciplined and trained in non-violence.

A memorandum distributed at the conference dated March 20, 1968, and captioned "Poor People's Campaign" which contained information concerning various committees established to organize and direct the WSP. A registration form captioned "SCLC Poor People's Campaign Registration Form" was also distributed to those attending the conference. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.
SECURITY MATTER - C

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., president, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

On March 25, 1968, MARION H. McBRIDE, director, North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation (SBI), Raleigh, North Carolina, stated that on March 20, 1968, a reliable source advised his bureau that Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING was coming to the State of North Carolina on April 4, 1968. This source advised that Reverend KING would arrive at the Greensboro-High Point Airport at 9 A.M. He would then proceed to Thomasville, North Carolina and have a joint meeting with his followers from the Thomasville and High Point area.

After leaving Thomasville, he is to proceed to Greensboro, North Carolina, for a meeting with a group there. From Greensboro, he will proceed to Durham, North Carolina and then to the Raleigh area. From Raleigh, he will go to Rocky Mount, then to Elizabeth City. From Elizabeth City he is to go to Edenton, Windsor and Williamston, North Carolina.

At the present time he has on his schedule a visit to New Bern, however, some of the leaders in New Bern are at odds and this meeting may be canceled. From New Bern he is supposed to go to Lumberton and confer with a group of Indians. From Lumberton he will proceed to Wilmington, North Carolina and make a speech at the Williston High School in Wilmington.

This trip by the Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING is to organize support for the poor people campaign to be held in Washington, D. C., on April 27, 1968.

If the New Bern meeting is canceled by Reverend KING or the leadership there, KING will schedule a visit to Charlotte, North Carolina, on this same date.

The March 26, 1968, edition of "The Charlotte Observer", a daily Charlotte, North Carolina, newspaper, contained a story which stated that MARTIN LUTHER KING and organized labor will support Dr. REGINALD A. HAWKINS, a Negro dentist from Charlotte, North Carolina, in his quest for the governorship of North Carolina. The story further relates HAWKINS and GOLDEN FRINKS, regional representative of the SCLC, announced Monday, March 25, 1968, that KING would make a one day tour of this state on April 4, 1968. He is scheduled to land in Charlotte around 9 A.M. and then visit Durham, Greensboro, Rocky Mount and possibly New Bern before ending the trip with a dinner speech in Wilmington. FRINKS further stated in the newspaper article that if time permits, KING will visit Greenville, a slum area in Charlotte, before leaving for a ministers' conference.

KING is then scheduled to have lunch in one of Durham's poverty areas and then, FRINKS said, hold a "mock trial of the power structure" as poor people bring in grievances on welfare and housing.

KING is also scheduled to participate in a "Voter Registration march" at the election office in Rocky Mount and then go to Wilmington for a speech at the Williston High School auditorium.

RE: SANITATION WORKERS STRIKE,
MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE;
RACIAL MATTERS

On the night of March 21, 1968, Captain Jewell Ray, Inspectional Bureau, Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department, advised that the Police Department had learned reliably that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), of Atlanta, Georgia, was due to arrive in Memphis, Tennessee, at 8:15 a.m., March 22, 1968, from Atlanta on Delta Airlines for the purpose of leading a mass downtown march in support of the Sanitation Workers who have been on strike since February 12, 1968.

He was scheduled to leave Memphis at 3:15 p.m., March 22, 1968, to return to Atlanta.

Ray pointed out that it was snowing hard in Memphis on the night of March 21, 1968, and that there was a good possibility that King would be unable to arrive, as it was indicated that flights would be cancelled in and out of Memphis.

On the morning of March 22, 1968, Lieutenant E. H. Arkin, Inspectional Bureau, Memphis Police Department, advised that due to the fact that 12 inches of snow had accumulated in Memphis and four additional inches were predicted before the end of the day, Reverend James Morris Lawson, Jr., one of the ministers leading the strike sympathy demonstrators and who had promoted the proposed mass march in downtown Memphis headed by King, had called the Police Department and stated that the march had been officially called off and that plans would probably be made in the indefinite future for some future march, although this was a matter of conjecture on Lawson's part.

ENCLOSURE

RE: SANITATION WORKERS STRIKE, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

Arkin further stated that as of 8:00 a.m., only 20 people had shown up at Clayborn Temple, where the march was scheduled to start, and that those people had been told to go home.

The Commercial Appeal newspaper, Memphis, issue of March 22, 1968, reported that the Memphis City Council on the night of March 21, 1968, adopted a resolution drafted by its Chairman, Downing Pryor, calling upon the city and the striking sanitation union, the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, to sit down "in joint and continuous conference" in an effort to end the strike; that the resolution asked that Frank B. Miles, Director of Industrial Relations for the E. L. Bruce Company, a large lumber company, Memphis, be accepted by both sides as a mediator.

Pryor was quoted by the paper as saying he felt the resolution was acceptable to Mayor Henry Loeb and also to International President Jerry Wurf of the Union, with Councilman J. O. Patterson, Jr., male Negro, casting the only dissenting vote among the 13 Councilmen.

Arkin added that sidelights to the strike of possible interest were reflected in events of March 21, 1968, namely that a Mrs. Evelyn McCray of 1253 Englewood had been shooting inside the city limits on March 21, 1968, after she told police that she fired two shots into the air in an attempt to scare a man who was kicking over her garbage cans. She claimed that Leslie Robinson, age 41, of 1244 Englewood, a striking sanitation worker, had begun kicking her garbage cans into the street after she would not agree to stop putting them on the curb for sanitation pickup. She claimed that he cursed her, threatened to burn her house down, and then started kicking the cans, which were full of garbage, into the street; that she went into the house, got a pistol, and fired twice in an attempt to scare him. She claimed that he then told her he was going to get a pistol and shoot her.

The police subsequently arrived and arrested Robinson at his home, based on an assault warrant sworn out by Mrs. McCray. Mrs. McCray was also charged with shooting inside the city limits.

RE: SANITATION WORKERS STRIKE, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

Arkin stated that in another case, Willie J. Kimp, age 22, of 1015 Palermo, was held to the State of Tennessee on $250 bond on a charge of assault and battery of a police officer, this action taking place in Memphis City Court, March 21, 1968. Arkin explained that Kimp has already been previously arrested twice on disorderly conduct charges in connection with the strike and that during one of his court appearances a police officer, who had been roughed up at a union meeting, identified Kimp as one of his assailants, and as a result the additional charge of assault was filed.

The information about the calling off of the strike was furnished to a representative of the Army Intelligence, Memphis, Tennessee, on March 22, 1968.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Pryor was quoted by the paper as saying he felt the resolution was acceptable to Mayor Henry Loeb and also to International President Jerry Wurf of the Union, with Councilman J. O. Patterson, Jr., male Negro, casting the only dissenting vote among the 13 Councilmen.

Arkin added that sidelights to the strike of possible interest were reflected in events of March 21, 1968, namely that a Mrs. Evelyn McCray of 1253 Englewood had been shooting inside the city limits on March 21, 1968, after she told police that she fired two shots into the air in an attempt to scare a man who was kicking over her garbage cans. She claimed that Leslie Robinson, age 41, of 1244 Englewood, a striking sanitation worker, had begun kicking her garbage cans into the street after she would not agree to stop putting them on the curb for sanitation pickup. She claimed that he cursed her, threatened to burn her house down, and then started kicking the cans, which were full of garbage, into the street; that she went into the house, got a pistol, and fired twice in an attempt to scare him. She claimed that he then told her he was going to get a pistol and shoot her.

The police subsequently arrived and arrested Robinson at his home, based on an assault warrant sworn out by Mrs. McCray. Mrs. McCray was also charged with shooting inside the city limits.

RE: SANITATION WORKERS STRIKE, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

Arkin stated that in another case, Willie J. Kimp, age 22, of 1015 Palermo, was held to the State of Tennessee on $250 bond on a charge of assault and battery of a police officer, this action taking place in Memphis City Court, March 21, 1968. Arkin explained that Kimp has already been previously arrested twice on disorderly conduct charges in connection with the strike and that during one of his court appearances a police officer, who had been roughed up at a union meeting, identified Kimp as one of his assailants, and as a result the additional charge of assault was filed.

The information about the calling off of the strike was furnished to a representative of the Army Intelligence, Memphis, Tennessee, on March 22, 1968.

On 3/22/68, a press conference was called by representatives of the Washington Spring Project (WSP), WDC, at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference Office, 1401 U Street, N. W., WDC.

At the conference, which was attended by between fifty and sixty people, it was announced that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President SCLC, would arrive in Washington on 4/22/68, to present his requests to the U. S. Congress. They expect 3,000 demonstrators to arrive in Washington in support of KING, late in April or early May, 1968. They stressed that the emphasis would be in the length of the demonstration rather than the number of demonstrators. They do not expect more than 5,000 total demonstrators to come to WDC and indicated they may limit the demonstration to that number of people. They expect the demonstrators to remain in WDC as long as necessary or until they get tired and return to their homes. They emphasized the fact that there are no deadlines and the demonstration could continue past the summer months.

On March 20, 1968, Sheriff Benjamin Kizzia, Greensboro, Alabama, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that on March 20, 1968, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Hosea Williams of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, spoke at a meeting at Saint Lukes Methodist Church in Greensboro, Alabama. Dr. King complained of a sore throat and spoke less than five minutes. Williams spoke to the group for approximately twenty minutes. His remarks concerned the proposed "poor peoples' march on Washington", and asked for volunteers to go to Washington D. C. in April and participate in this march.

Kizzia stated that King and his party arrived by automobile at approximately 6:40 p.m., and left Greensboro at 7:10 p.m., reportedly enroute to Marion, Alabama. He said that there were approximately 200 people in attendance at the meeting. Kizzia said that the people present were orderly and that only about fifty of them seemed outwardly responsive to the remarks of King and Williams.

On March 20, 1968, Chief of Police Ed Hancock, Marion, Alabama, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that on March 20, 1968, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Reverend Hosea Williams of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, spoke before about 300 people at the Berean Baptist Church in Marion.

Hancock said that the meeting lasted approximately twenty minutes and both King and Williams spoke; however, King only spoke for a few minutes. Hancock said that both King and Williams asked for volunteers to go to Washington D. C. in April, to participate in planned demonstrations there.

He said that King and his party arrived at the church at 7:30 p.m. by automobile and left the church a few minutes after 8:00 p.m. Hancock further stated that King and Williams proceeded by private automobile to the Marion Airport departing from there at 8:29 p.m. in a twin engine Cessna reportedly enroute to Birmingham.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's Capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Frank Ditto has reportedly been identified as the Detroit leader and organizer for the above mentioned activity in the Detroit area.

Frank Ditto is employed as Director of the East Side Voice of Independent Detroit (ESVID), 10833 Mack Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

ESVID in a pamphlet published by this organization described itself as an organization of an interested group of businessmen, church associations, community leaders, welfare recipients, home owners, renters, youth in and out of school, the unemployed, and the under employed. ESVID reportedly receives its financial backing by a local organization known as the Churches on the East Side for Social Action (CESSA).

CESSA is an organization formed by various churches of all denominations on the lower east side of Detroit, the purpose of which is to attempt to alleviate some of the alleged injustices suffered by members of the Negro community in the area over a period of years. CESSA attempts to assist Negroes in securing better housing, equal employment opportunities, and to educate these individuals so that they can become more useful members of society.

SUBJECT: 0 WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTERS

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing current plans of Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and his aides relative to the "Washington Spring Project."

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" or the "Poor People's Campaign" in April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

King and key members of his staff toured Mississippi on March 19 and 20, 1968, attempting to generate interest and obtain support for his project. Hosea Williams, an aide to King, advised on March 20, 1968, that SCLC had completed a strategy meeting and the starting date of April 22, 1968, for the "Washington Spring Project" has been canceled. According to Williams, King and his top leaders of SCLC will go to Washington, D. C., either April 23 or 24, 1968, and contact Congressional leaders, the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Commerce. In an effort to obtain assurances that legislation favorable to the Negro will be passed, on April 27 or 28, 1968, the people recruited for this campaign will leave their various areas and arrive at two staging areas, one in Baltimore, Maryland, and the other in Alexandria, Virginia. WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has announced publicly he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital in April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro. King calls this campaign the "Washington Spring Project" or the "Poor People's Campaign."

On March 19 and 20, 1968, King and key members of his staff toured the State of Mississippi attempting to generate interest and support for this project.

In Jackson, Mississippi, on March 20, 1968, before an audience of approximately 400 persons, Hosea Williams, an aide to King, advised that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference had just completed a strategy meeting. The date of the "Washington Spring Project" set as April 22, 1968, at Washington, D. C., has been canceled. According to Williams, King and his top leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference will go to Washington, D. C., either April 23 or 24, 1968, where they intend to contact Congressional leaders, the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Commerce. At this time, King will present his "Economic Bill of Rights" to the Congressional leaders and Government officials in an effort to receive assurances that legislation will be passed favorable to the Negro.

On April 27 or 28, 1968, the people recruited for this campaign in Mississippi will arrive in Jackson for a mass meeting. They will march through the downtown section of Jackson en route to Birmingham, Alabama. At Birmingham, they will meet another group which will have completed a mass meeting and march through Birmingham. This same procedure will be adhered to in the following cities: Atlanta, Georgia; Columbia, South Carolina; Durham, North Carolina; and Richmond, Virginia. This group will then continue to a staging area located at Alexandria, Virginia. At the same time, groups will follow the same arrangement departing from Boston, Massachusetts; Detroit, Michigan; Chicago, Illinois; and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This latter contingent will meet at a staging area near Baltimore, Maryland. The Southern Christian Leadership Conference expects to have a total of 3,000 people in these groups who will then march on Washington and stay for at least two weeks. This original group, after two weeks, will be replaced by a second group and this will continue until enough pressure has been applied on Congress and favorable legislation is passed. A "City of Hope" or a "Shanty Town" will be built in Washington to house and feed these demonstrators. According to Williams, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference will stay in Washington by continuing to send waves of people until the Democratic Convention which begins in August, 1968.

King also spoke at this meeting and expressed the same sentiments as Williams. King also stated that professional groups, professional people, and industrialists throughout the country are being contacted for donations to support this project.

After this meeting, as in the other seven meetings where King spoke, a collection was requested for funds to support this campaign. To a select group later, King expressed disappointment at the lack of enthusiasm and small donations he

On March 23, 1968, Lieutenant E. H. Arkin, Inspectional Bureau, Memphis, Tennessee, Police Department, advised that the first mediation session looking toward the settlement of the Sanitation Workers Strike, Memphis, Tennessee, which has been in existence since February 12, 1968, got under way on the morning of March 23, 1968, with Frank B. Miles, Director of Industrial Relations, E. L. Bruce and Company, Memphis, serving as mediator,

The Memphis Press-Scimitar newspaper, issue of March 23, 1968, reported that the mediation got off to a bumpy start in that shortly after the mediation started, the city of Memphis requested a ruling from Chancellor Robert Hoffman, Shelby County Chancery Court, as to what activities are permitted Union officers under an injunction. This issue was brought up by Myron Halle, Assistant City Attorney and chief spokesman for the city's panel. He objected to sitting down for negotiations with three persons who he said continue to violate a standing injunction of the Chancery Court, and he specifically referred to Thomas Oliver Jones, President of Local 1733, American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, the striking union, and P. J. Ciampa, International Field Representative of the union, and William Lucy, Field Representative of the union. The paper reported that Miles was surprised at the issue raised by the city.

The paper reported that Lucy, Jones and Ciampa, along with Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, head of the Minimum Salary Department of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, were the people picked by the union to represent them in the mediation. Representing the city, in addition to Halle, were Tom R. Prewitt, attorney, and City Councilman Thomas Todd. Frank Gianotti, City Attorney, will also be on the city panel but was unable to attend the first session due to illness.

The paper reported that the injunction was originally issued February 24, 1968, by Chancellor Hoffman, aimed at preventing any strike activities on the part of the union.

The Commercial Appeal newspaper, issue of March 25, 1968, advised that attorneys for the city of Memphis were expected to go before Chancellor Robert Hoffman at 10:00 a.m., March 25, 1968, to seek a ruling on whether or not they should negotiate with three striking sanitation union officials.

The same issue of the paper stated that an unidentified spokesman for the striking sympathizers, led by the Community on the Move for Equality (COMME), a group of Negro ministers coordinating the strike support effort, stated that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), would return to Memphis on Friday, March 29, 1968, to lead a massive downtown march in support of striking workers, it being noted that this massive march was originally scheduled for Friday, March 22, 1968, but was called off due to a 16 to 17-inch snowstorm which virtually crippled traffic in the city of Memphis on Friday, March 22, 1968.

On March 23, 1968, Lieutenant Arkin added that approximately 75 adult strike sympathizers held a small march in downtown Memphis without incident and that a small group of approximately 20 individuals, primarily whites, and understood by Arkin to be from Memphis State University, had picketed the Poplar Plaza Shopping Center at Highland and Poplar in Memphis, Tennessee, also on the afternoon of March 23, 1968, without incident.

Arkin added on March 25, 1968, that the Homicide Bureau of the Memphis Police Department is investigating an incident reported by Frank Powell, Jr., of 1525 Dunn, a working sanitation worker, who told police that a shot was fired through the glass in his front door on Saturday night, March 23, 1968, and that the lid of his car trunk was also dented. He stated that to date the identity of the alleged shooter has not been determined.

RE: SANITATION WORKERS STRIKE, MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

Arkin stated that supporters of the strike have scheduled a march in the downtown area of Memphis at 2:00 p.m., March 25, 1968, and a strike support rally at Mt. Olive CME Cathedral for the night of March 25, 1968.

The above information was furnished to a representative of Army Intelligence, Third Army, Memphis, Tennessee, on March 25, 1968.

RACIAL MATTER

On April 1, 1968, a confidential source advised that as of that date Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; James Bevel, SCLC Executive staff member; and James Orange, SCLC Field Representative, were in Memphis, Tennessee, for the purpose of re-organizing striking Sanitation Workers in that city along the lines of SCLC's philosophy of nonviolence.

The aforementioned SCLC officials expected Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, and Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC, to arrive in Memphis on April 2, 1968. In the near future, (date not known), Reverend King intended to lead a nonviolent demonstration of the Memphis Sanitation Workers.

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent Sharings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

RACIAL MATTER

On April 1, 1968, a confidential source advised he understood that following the racial disturbance which occurred in Memphis, Tennessee, on March 28, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) called a meeting of several SCLC Executive officers which was held March 30, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta. Among those attending this meeting were James Bevel, SCLC Executive Staff member; Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; Hosca Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; and Stanley Levison.

Reverend King arranged this meeting for the purpose of reviewing the recent disturbance in Memphis and evaluating the effect thereof upon SCLC's contemplated Washington Spring Project (WSP). Reverend King opened this meeting by again stressing to those present how greatly concerned he was as to the effect of the Memphis disturbance on his image as a civil rights leader and the position of SCLC as a leading civil rights organization. This entire matter apparently upset Reverend King to the extent he found it desirable to excuse himself from this meeting shortly after its commencement. Source was unable to advise whether Reverend King returned to the meeting.

This meeting lasted most of the day and concluded with a decision on the part of those present that SCLC officials would immediately return to Memphis, re-organize the striking Sanitation

Security Matter - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on March 29, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison and Martin Luther King, Jr. discussed the position which King has found himself in as a result of the violence that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee, on March 28, 1968, at the time when King led a march through downtown Memphis. King told Levison that he feels they have to face the fact that, from a public relations point of view and every other way, "we are in serious trouble". He referred to the Washington D.C. Spring campaign, known as the Poor People's Campaign, and said as far as it is concerned it is in trouble. King noted that it will be much more difficult to recruit people for the Washington campaign now because they (the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) (SCLC) are recruiting non-violent people and these people will hold back if they think they will be in a campaign that is going to be taken over by violent elements. King stated that this is not a failure for the SCLC because it has enough of a program to affirm its position but that it is a personal setback for himself.

King continued that persons such as Roy Wilkens (Head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) and Adam Clayton Powell, and Negroes who are influenced by the press, will now feel that he, King, is finished, that his non-violence is nothing, that no one is listening to it. King reiterated that they have had a great public relations setback as far as his image and leadership are concerned.

~~SECRET~~

Levison attempted to dissuade King from this point of view stating that it would be true only if King accepts "their" definition. He added that he felt it is a profound error King is making.

King noted that he did not accept it himself but that others will. Levison retorted that people would accept it for a few days, but, if events prove otherwise, will not accept it.

King noted that events will not prove otherwise unless they think soberly through this period. He said that somehow he had to reaffirm what the press will refuse to affirm. He referred to the Memphis incident stating that they all know it was just a few people who were involved. He added that it was a failure of the leadership in Memphis. King informed Levison that persons who were responsible for the violence came to see him on the morning of March 29, 1968. He said these persons were fighting the leadership in Memphis, the men who ignored and neglected them, the men who would not give them any attention, who ordered their telephones cut off. King added that he had no knowledge of all this, that the persons responsible for the violence were too sick to see that what they were doing during the violence was hurting him, King, more than it could hurt the local preachers.

King related that he was so upset and shocked over the Memphis violence that he was going to announce a personal fast as a means of appealing to the Memphis leadership, as well as those who participated in the violence, to come to him in a united front to take up the "cudget" and get on with the movement. He said he felt this kind of spiritual move would be a way of unifying the movement, of transforming a minus into a plus. He added that he feels their Washington campaign is doomed.

Levison attempted to convince King that his reasoning was not correct. Levison said he was concerned over the "trap" King was placing non-violence in because King was saying that he must have 100% adherence to non-violence which is an impossibility.

King commented that they could not get 100% adherence but that they must face the fact that a riot broke out in the ranks of the march, that "these fellows", in the line of march, would jump out, do something, and then come back to hide within the group. King said he is a symbol of non-violence and that the press is not going to say what Levison said. He said the symbol will be weakened and it will put many Negroes in doubt. He said he must do something that is a powerful act to unify forces and refute the press.

Levison stated that if it had this result he would agree but that he is bothered by the idea that King would be accepting the logic of the press that if King can control 99%, and not the 1% who are violent, he is a failure. He said they must find a way in which they do not accept this otherwise King will never be able to do anything unless he always spiritually reaches a level where he hypnotizes every Negro alive.

King questioned how he could say that they can control the planned demonstrations in Washington, D.C. and at the same time conclude they are going to have 1% violence.

Levison counseled that King can say that he can control his followers and is not undertaking to control everybody else. He said King could take the position that his followers are non-violent and will do what they must do.

They agreed to discuss the matter in depth at a meeting in Atlanta, Georgia in King's church office on the morning of March 30, 1968.

The same source advised on March 31, 1968, that on that date Stanley Levison commented on the meeting held in Atlanta, Georgia, on March 30, 1968. Levison's comments included the following:

At the Atlanta meeting they examined the whole Memphis incident and came up with a new approach. "We are going back to Memphis. We are going to prove that you can have mass action in the streets". Martin Luther King had decided not to go back to Memphis and not to go to Washington (for the Poor People's Campaign). It was the determination of the (SCLC) staff that

changed King's thinking. King is going back to Memphis on Tuesday (April 2, 1968) and there will be a big march on Friday (April 5, 1968). The Memphis incident was caused by "a handful of kids" and it could have been controlled by "our guys" (the SCLC) had they been there.

He, Levison, made the point that they could not let "a couple of kids" keep "mass action" from being their weapon.

As for controlling the Washington, D.C. demonstrations, King knows he can control the youth. What has to be done is go to the high schools and tell them what the establishment wants them to do. Once they grasp this there is no chance of anything happening. What they (the SCLC) are afraid of in Washington is a double cross from Stokely Carmichael and the answer to that is that "our job" (the SCLC) is not to stop violence but to be non-violent themselves. "Our position" is that "we" are going to go on because to be able to march in the streets is "our most important tool" and are not going on the streets because it may start violence. "Why do we have to be afraid of riots. It is their problem not ours".

The Atlanta meeting was good because it shows how much militancy there is in the SCLC.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On March 28, 1968, a confidential source advised that during the morning of that date Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), participated in a march in Memphis, Tennessee, conducted by sanitation workers who are currently on strike in that community. During this march, incidents of violence were engaged in by a relatively small group of Negroes.

With reference to the above incidents, it was the opinion on March 28, 1968, of Reverend King; Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC; Bernard Lee, Special Aide to the President, SCLC; and Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, that those responsible therefor were in no way connected with SCLC but rather represented a minority who obviously are neither in sympathy with Reverend King nor SCLC. Reverend King and his colleagues did not know the identities of these individuals but suspected they might possibly be connected with some "black power" organization.

Because of the disturbance in Memphis on March 28, 1968, Reverend King became extremely dejected and discouraged as to the prospects for success of SCLC's contemplated Washington Spring Project (WSP). Reverend King told his colleagues on this date that because of his participation in the Memphis march, the disturbance which developed, and the ensuing publicity he was gravely fearful that his image and that of SCLC as advocates of nonviolence will be blemished.

Security Matter - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on March 28, 1968, that, late on that date, Stanley Levison and Martin Luther King, Jr. discussed the violence that occurred in Memphis, Tennessee on March 28, 1968, following King's leadership of a protest - march through downtown Memphis. King indicated that he has become so depressed over the developments in Memphis that he has considered calling off the Washington March (his self-described Poor People's Campaign, scheduled to begin in Washington, D.C. on April 22, 1968).

Levison told King that his depression was aggravated because he is physically exhausted as a result of his recent strenuous program. He counseled King not to be on the defensive over the events in Memphis but, on the contrary, should take the position that the majority of people in the Memphis March did not join in the rioting that took place, proving the effectiveness of King's leadership and his policy of non-violence. Levison emphasized that the Washington March will be different in that King will have organized this march and his forces can stress the importance of non-violence. Levison suggested that Saturday morning (March 30, 1968) would be a better time to meet in Atlanta to discuss the Memphis incident rather than meeting on Friday night (March 29, 1968) because it will give King time to rest.

King agreed in every respect with Levison's evaluation.

The source also ascertained that, prior to conferring with King, Levison spoke with the Reverend Ralph Abernathy, an aide of Dr. King's, who advised Levison that King has cancelled a scheduled appearance in Washington, D.C. on March 29, 1968. Abernathy also noted that King is scheduled to be in Virginia on Saturday (March 30, 1968) but will probably cancel that appearance. Abernathy continued that it was a mistake for the King forces not to have a staff in Memphis to train people in non-violence. He said it also was a mistake on the part of the King forces not to have been more aware of the local situation.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On March 22, 1968, a source advised that a representative of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Atlanta, Georgia, had made reservations for nine single rooms for the night of March 22, 1968 at the Holiday Inn, Savannah, Georgia.

On the same date, the "Savannah (Georgia) Morning News", a daily newspaper, announced that Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the SCLC, was scheduled to speak that night at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Paul C.M.E. Church, Savannah, Georgia, about the planned "Poor People's Campaign".

On March 23, 1968, a second source advised that Rev. King failed to appear the previous evening at Savannah as scheduled, reportedly because bad weather grounded his plane in Alabama. Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President, SCLC, came from Atlanta and spoke to a crowd of about 500 people in the St. Paul Church, urging support for the planned demonstration in Washington, D. C. next month.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSPY)

GA.
It is noted that King's visit to Savannah was under the auspices of the Latham County Crusade for Voters.

On March 21, 1968, Pessie B. McCoy, President, Eighth Congressional District of Georgia Voters League, Waycross, Georgia, advised pursuant to a telephonic request, he had made arrangements for the A.M.E. Mount Zion Church, Waycross, to be made available on March 22, 1968 to Rev. King to make a speech about the "Poor People's Campaign".

On March 23, 1968, S. W. White, Sno-White Flying Service, Waycross, Georgia, Airport, advised that Rev. King had arrived at the Waycross Airport at 11:06 a.m. White subsequently advised that the pilot of King's plane advised they expected to be in Waycross for approximately one hour.

On the same date, Corporal Willie Armstrong, Waycross Police Department, advised he was in the audience at the church when Rev. King spoke. He said King only spoke very briefly, mentioning the needs of the poor people and the ridiculousness of the expenditures on the Vietnam war when money was needed in the ghettos and for the war on poverty. He said no effort was made to recruit volunteers at the time of the speech and no information was given concerning this aspect. He estimated about 225 to 250 people attended, but that a considerable number of these people left prior to the time a collection was taken.

On the same date, Mr. White, described above, advised that Rev. King and the individuals accompanying him left the Waycross Airport at about 1:00 p.m.

On March 26, 1968, a third source advised that he had attended the meeting at Waycross addressed by Rev. King. He estimated that there were about 200 people present and noted that Rev. Abernathy introduced Rev. King. He said King spoke less than ten minutes, directing most of his talk about the deplorable poverty conditions and his anticipated campaign in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of correcting these conditions.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On the same date, a fourth source related substantially the same information about the Waycross meeting, adding that a collection of $200 was taken up from those present.

On March 21, 1968, Mr. John D. Watkins, attorney, Augusta, Georgia, advised that Rev. King was scheduled to appear at Beulah Grove Baptist Church at 2:00 p.m. on March 23, 1968; the meeting was sponsored by the Citizens Concerned for Welfare of the Community, Inc. (CCWC, INC.), which he described as a small group of responsible people interested in the welfare of the community, and particularly in the welfare of poor people. He said Rev. B. I. Vernon, pastor of the Beulah Grove Baptist Church, is President of the CCWC, Inc., and that Watkins is the Secretary. He related that the purpose of the meeting on March 23, 1968 is to interest people in participating financially in the Washington Spring Project.

On March 25, 1968, Chief of Police Broadus Bequest, Augusta Police Department, advised he had several plainclothes detectives attend the meeting at the Beulah Grove Baptist Church on March 23, 1968. He said Rev. King, scheduled to arrive at 2:00 p.m., arrived at 6:40 p.m., and that King went directly from the airport to the church where he spoke about ten minutes, urging financial assistance in the campaign for poor people. Chief Bequest said that King related they had a warehouse full of food for the people participating in the campaign and expected to build several shacks on the Capitol grounds to serve these people.

Chief Bequest related the meeting was attended by about 450 people and that a collection of $305 was taken up at the meeting. He said there was no indication as to how many people would participate in the demonstration in Washington.

He related that following the meeting, King and his group went to the Downtowner Motel in Augusta where they had dinner with guests and companions. He said the bill for the dinner was $130 and that following the dinner the group went to the local airport from which King left about 11:00 p.m.

Reference is made to our memorandum dated March 19, 1968, and captioned as above, which sets forth information concerning progress in the organization and planning of the Washington Spring Project (WSP).

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capitol during April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

In pursuit of this project, the SCLC has opened an office in Washington, D. C., from which to organize and direct the WSP.

On March 22, 1968, a press conference was called by WSP representatives at the SCLC Office, Washington, D. C. (WDC). At the conference an announcement was made that King was expected to be in WDC on April 22, 1968, to initiate the WSP by presenting his requests to Congress. They further announced that late in April or early May, 1968, they expect three thousand demonstrators to arrive. The emphasis is being placed on the length of the demonstration rather than the number of demonstrators and they do not expect the number of demonstrators to exceed five thousand and will possibly limit the number to that figure. They expect the demonstrators to remain in WDC as long as necessary or until they get tired and return to their homes.

157-3423-461

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 23, 1968, that he had learned that a meeting had been held on the morning of March 23, 1968, of heads and representatives of various committees established to organize and plan the WSP. There were approximately twenty-five people there, including Reverend Walter E. Fauntroy, Vice-Chairman of the Washington City Council, and a WDC affiliate of the SCLC.

The chairman of the Food Committee reported that the Cooks Union had offered their services to the WSP. She further advised that all food handlers would be screened and examined.

A representative of the Xaverian College, 10000 New Hampshire Avenue, White Oak, Maryland, met with the group and advised the college could handle six hundred people at one time. The source did not know if this had reference to handling six hundred people as residents or feeding that number at one time.

No site has been located on which to erect the "New City" to house the demonstrators. Three sources from which land can be obtained were discussed. They were:

District of Columbia land;

Federal Government land;

Land belonging to churches and private individuals.

WASH DC
Reverend Fauntroy suggested that Billy Simpson, 3815 Georgia Avenue, N.W., be named to head the fund raising committee and that one Flaxie Pinkert be asked to assist.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 25, 1968, that he had received information concerning a meeting held at the WSP Office on March 23, 1968, which was attended by approximately ten persons. At the meeting Anthony Henry, WSP recruiter, announced that everyone who will live at the "New City," and those who will visit frequently, must be trained in non-violence.

At the meeting Henry further stated that the majority of the demonstrators will be Negro; however, they expect Mexican-American, American Indians, and poor white to participate also. He pointed out that not much success had been realized in the recruitment of poor whites, as they associate Martin Luther King with the civil rights movement and they do not feel this movement effects them.

Charles E. Cheng, a representative of the American Federation of Teachers, heads the Education Committee for the WSP and announced no problem has been experienced in the recruitment of teachers to staff the "Freedom Schools," which will be developed for use of children associated with the WSP. He further announced an intention to appoint six sub-committees on his Education Committee. They will be: Orientation; Resources; Recruitment; Space; Program; and Schedules.

Cheng informed those present that no site had been selected for the "Freedom Schools" and that emphasis will be placed on subjects such as: Black Awareness; Black History; and Black Culture."

The attached pages set forth additional information concerning the WSP.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week in April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

On March 21, 1968, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised as follows:

The Washington Spring Project (WSP) has made little or no progress in South Carolina, and there is no staff recruiting in South Carolina in connection with this proposed project.

Martin Luther King is tentatively planning to visit South Carolina for one day on April 3, 1968, in connection with the WSP. King will probably fly to Charleston, South Carolina, tour some counties in the lower part of the state, and end up in Columbia, South Carolina, where he will possibly address a public rally. During this day, King will meet and explain the purpose of the WSP.

Mrs. Bernice Robinson and Mrs. Septima Clark, both Negro females, reside at Charleston, South Carolina, where they work with the Voter Registration Project and the Citizenship Education Program which projects are sponsored by the SCLC.

Carl Farris of Atlanta, Georgia, is a staff member of the Citizenship Education Program and about two weeks ago Farris was visiting in Charleston, South Carolina, where he was working with the Voter Registration Project. Farris spends most of his time in Atlanta, Georgia, when he is not working in South Carolina.

King's March Plan Causes New Worry

By LEE BANDY
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Southern House Members may have a new problem in trying to delay consideration of the Senate civil rights bill until Dr. Martin Luther King and his demonstrators arrive here April 22.

There is serious talk now the Negro leader might be forced to postpone his poor peoples march until some time in May because the response to the demonstration has been less than anticipated.

This ironic possibility buoys the House Democratic leadership which has been urging members to accept the measure without any debate or hearings and send it to the White House for the President's signature.

The feeling of the proponents is that if the Senate civil rights protection and open housing legislation is approved before King arrives, some of the sting will be taken out of his campaign.

However, on the other hand, the Dixie Bloc believes it can kill the bill by holding the measure out until the march begins. Southern contention members will refuse to act under threat of intimidation.

With word leaking out King may have to postpone the march, Dixie members and some Republicans began taking a new look at their strategy.

"Our main concern is how long we can keep tying this thing up," a Southern member pointed out.

Reliable sources, who have access to the inside planning of the King march, told The State the Negro leader has not received the response he anticipated and has altered the original plans.

According to informants, the tentative program calls for only a few hand-picked demonstrators to arrive in town April 22 to submit certain demands to Congress.

They will include a guaranteed income for everyone, implementation of the President's Riot Commission Report, Jobs, and better housing.

The sources reported that King's marchers would use the expected rejection of the demands by congress to stir up their people and get support for the big march in May.

If that doesn't succeed, they the big march in May.

If that doesn't succeed, they said, the plan is for King to withdraw on account of illness and cancel the demonstration.

However, the fear is if this happens the black militants will move in and take over.

King Plans Visit To Columbia During Tour Of Southeast States

By JIM D'AVIGNON
Staff Writer

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will visit Columbia April 3 as part of an extensive tour of Southeastern and Northern states.

Al Pertilla, a spokesman for King's Atlanta, Ga., headquarters said, "exact times and places (King's visit) are not known yet. As of this time, however, he will visit Columbia."

King is making the tour in connection with the S.C.L.C.'s Poor People's Campaign. He will visit several locations in South Carolina and will make two of three speeches.

The speeches will be open to the public, said Pertilla. King will speak to people in poverty areas as part of a campaign to dramatize the plight of some three million low income people in the U. S.

Organizers of the Poor Peoples Campaign say that King hopes to slowly increase pressure on the federal government for aid to poor people. His primary method will be the use of sit-ins and marches.

The current tour will culminate in a massive march in Washington on April 22. The march, King said, in December is aimed at forcing Congress and the administration to provide "jobs or income for all."

King said an initial force of 3,000 demonstrators, trained in nonviolent techniques, would seek "massive dislocation" of the capital "until America responds" to the needs of its poor.

The protestors, recruited in 10 major cities and five rural areas, would begin a "strong, dramatic and attention-getting campaign" in early April. He indicated that the capitol and the White House would be among the "targets."

The civil rights leader acknowledged that the mood of many Negroes in the nation's ghettos made the campaign "risky," but he asserted that "not to act represents moral irresponsibility."

S. C. L. C. spokesmen said that King plans no marches or demonstrations in his April visit to South Carolina. During the midst of rioting in northern cities last July, King conducted a peaceful fund-raising rally in Charleston.

Martin Luther King Plans Tour Of State On April 3

By THOMAS P. MAYES
Record Staff Writer

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, plans a whirlwind tour of South Carolina April 3.

A spokesman for King's Atlanta, Ga. headquarters indicated the former Nobel Peace Prize winner may visit Columbia on his one-day campaign.

In connection with the S.C.L.C.'s Poor Peoples Campaign, King plans to visit several communities, making two or three speeches.

No specific times or places have been announced.

King plans no demonstrations or marches in South Carolina during the visit.

His speeches will probably be open to the public, the S.C.L.C. spokesman said.

Last July during the midst of rioting in northern cities, King conducted a peaceful fundraising rally in Charleston.

Benjamin F. Mack, state field director for S.C.L.C., said King may also visit South Carolina this summer.

Poor Peoples Campaign organizers say King wishes to dramatize the plight of some three million low income earning people in the United States. They say, using primarily sit-ins and marches, King hopes to slowly increase pressure on the federal government for aid to poor people.

In Charleston King said, "There are people right here in South Carolina who are starving."

On April 22, King and approximately 100 Civil Rights leaders will begin visiting U.S. congressmen and heads of government agencies.

PROGRESS REPORT

As of 3-26-68, Rev. E. RANDEL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, the two WSP recruiters in CV, have been continuing their recruiting activity and giving out WSP posters and pamphlets. Rev. OSBURN is still very enthusiastic and full of spirit regarding this poor people's campaign and he feels he should be able to reach his 200 people quota to make this 4-68 trip to Washington, D. C. As of 3-26-68, it was known OSBURN had not recruited his 200 people, but there is no indication as to the number he has recruited.

Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING is scheduled to be in CV on 4-10-68 in connection with the WSP and it is felt that OSBURN and BIBLER are pushing hard to have a number of recruits by the time KING arrives here, so they can make a favorable report. No definite appraisal can be made at this time, as to the possible success the WSP will have in CV as Rev. OSBURN has not released any recruitment figures as yet.

March 19, 1968.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's capitol the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

"The Cleveland Press", a Cleveland, Ohio, daily afternoon newspaper of general circulation in its March 19, 1968, issue, page D-3, carried an article "Dr. KING PLANS TO RECRUIT HERE FOR D.C. PROTEST" which stated the following:

"Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING will be in Cleveland
Apr. 10 to recruit support and participants for a demonstration over jobs and income for the poor in Washington, D. C.

"He will stop here during a tour from Mississipppi to New York to Chicago in preparation for the Washington demonstration which is to start Apr. 22.

"A coalition of Negro, Puerto Rican, Indian, poor white and Mexican-American groups is being formed to join in the demonstration, it was announced by Atlanta headquarters of the Southern

"A steering committee for what is being called the National Poor People's Campaign includes persons from New Mexico, Texas, Georgia, West Virginia, California, Illinois and New York."

CV T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 21, 1968, that during a meeting of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF) held at Cleveland Heights, Ohio, on March 19, 1968, it was mentioned that Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's big "poor peoples march into Washington" would take place in April, 1968. Plans are for the poor Negro families and children to converge on Washington, D. C. and KING hoped that many whites would stand by to fill the ranks as Negroes are arrested and put in jail. One of the women at the meeting mentioned that some of the student groups from Cleveland planned to send some representatives to stand by.

Someone asked if there was an active group in Cleveland assisting KING in the plans and another individual answered that there was, but it was not a white group.

Sergeant JOHN J. UNGVARY, Bureau of Special Investigations, Cleveland, Ohio, Police Department, advised on March 26, 1968, that his department had been contacted by the Metropolitan Police, Washington, D. C. to furnish them with any pertinent information regarding the WSP as it pertains to the Cleveland area. None of Sergeant UNGVARY's sources to date, have been able to develop any information as to the number of people recruited by the WSP, plans for travel to Washington, D. C., etc.; however, Sergeant UNGVARY will be alert for any information along this line.

CV T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, indicated on March 26, 1968, that he learned Reverend E. RANDEL OSBURN, the WSP recruiter in Cleveland, has been working at WSP headquarters, 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, for the past two days on behalf of the WSP. OSBURN also has a young woman, name unknown, doing some of the clerical functions in this office.

WSP in Cleveland has been distributing posters to various stores for display purposes which were prepared by the SCLC about the "Poor People's Campaign - 1968"; also the WSP has been giving out pamphlets prepared by SCLC, 334 Auburn Avenue,

N.E., Atlanta, Georgia, entitled "Poor People's Campaign" and this appears to have been prepared professionally. This pamphlet gives information on how people can join this poor people's campaign, it welcomes all local organizations to join the WSP, it calls on both blacks and whites to participate, it points out the campaign will get under way in April, 1968 (no actual date shown) and lastly it requests all kinds of help as resources are very limited.

Source added that OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, the other WSP recruiter, are continuing their recruiting activity and Reverend OSBURN still seems very enthusiastic and has a lot of spirit regarding the WSP, although he still does not have the 200 people for Cleveland's quota. Reverend OSBURN has not given any indication as to the exact number of people recruited, their identity, travel plans, etc.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 20, 1968, Mr. RALPH R. BANKS, District Attorney, Greene County, advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., RALPH ABERNATHY, HOSEA WILLIAMS, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) arrived at the First African Baptist Church, Eutaw, Alabama, 5:15 p.m., March 20, 1968. Mr. BANKS stated that KING and his group departed Eutaw, Alabama, at 6 p.m. bound for Greensboro, Alabama.

On March 20, 1968, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, (SCLC) addressed a group of approximately five hundred persons at the First African Baptist Church, Eutaw, Alabama. This informant advised that KING spoke on the subject of the Washington poor peoples campaign and said that President JOHNSON was spending too much money in Vietnam and he should spend more on the poor people. KING stated that he expected approximately one half million people in Washington, D. C., for the demonstration and that SCLC would see to it that all expenses were paid. KING said that SCLC would not leave Washington, D. C. until Congress took appropriate action in regard to the Negro.

On March 21, 1968, Confidential Informant T-2 advised MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., SCLC, RALPH ABERNATHY, SCLC, and HOSEA WILLIAMS, SCLC, arrived at the Birmingham Airport, Birmingham, Alabama, at 9:35 p.m., March 20, 1968. They drove directly to Bessemer, Alabama, where MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., spoke briefly to a crowd of approximately six hundred persons at the New Zion Baptist Church, 1026 North 24th Street, Bessemer. KING stated that he is going to take part in a demonstration in Memphis, Tennessee on Friday, March 22, 1968. KING thereafter turned the meeting over to HOSEA WILLIAMS. WILLIAMS advised those present that SCLC will use church buses to transport recruits for the Washington Spring Project from the Birmingham, Alabama area to Washington, D. C. He said that Birmingham ministers will be asked by SCLC to donate their church buses for the project. The demonstrators who are recruited in Birmingham are to report to Lafayette Park in Washington, D. C., where they will set up a tent city. THOMAS EDWARD WRENN will be in charge of the Birmingham delegation at Washington, D. C. WILLIAMS also stated that he would like if possible to transport two Negro "shanty" houses from Alabama to Washington, D. C., and set them up near the Smithsonian Institute. T-2 said that WILLIAMS estimated that SCLC would raise $21,000 from Mississippi and $27,000 from Alabama to support this project. WILLIAMS said that 75 to 100 Indians and Mexicans from the southwest section of the country will meet in Jackson, Mississippi, during the week of April 22, 1968. Thereafter, together with the Negro demonstrators recruited in Mississippi, they will travel to Birmingham, Alabama. On April 24, and 25, 1968, this group will "camp-in" at Kelly Ingram Park in Birmingham. On April 26, 1968, combined groups from the southwestern states, Mississippi, and Alabama will march through the city of Birmingham and thereafter travel by bus to Atlanta, Georgia, and join up with the Georgia group. On the night of April 26, 1968, the demonstrators will "camp-in" at the Capitol steps in Atlanta. WILLIAMS said that the Teamsters Union will furnish all the food necessary for the demonstrators while they are in Washington, D. C. In conclusion, WILLIAMS said that "Congress will give in or the United States will be burned down".

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 21, 1968, Sergeant JAMES SMITH, Jefferson County Sheriff's Office, advised that at 1 p.m. he interviewed ROSEA WILLIAMS at the Birmingham Municipal Airport and WILLIAMS advised SMITH that because of inclement weather, Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., has cancelled his trip to southern Alabama. WILLIAMS told Sergeant SMITH that Reverend KING and his group would depart for Atlanta, Georgia, in a Cessnar aircraft #N3223Q at 2 p.m. and on March 22, 1968, they planned to fly to Memphis, Tennessee.

Sergeant SMITH stated that at 1:45 p.m. CST, he observed MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., and his party depart from the Birmingham Airport.

Appropriate local, county, State, and Federal authorities have been advised of the above information.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Martin Luther King, Ralph Abernathy, and Hosea Williams arrived at Valley Queen Baptist Church, Marks, Mississippi, at 1:45 p.m. March 19, 1968. All three spoke at that Church without incident, and they departed Marks at 2:10 p.m.

The above individuals arrived at Clarksdale, Mississippi, 3:15 p.m. at the Chapel Hill Baptist Church, 303 Carolina, and all three spoke to 500 to 600 people until 4:30 p.m. at which time they departed en route to Greenwood.

They asked for a show of hands regarding those who would participate in the Washington Spring Project (WSP) from Clarksdale area and two persons raised their hands.

On March 19, 1968, Martin Luther King arrived at 5:30 p.m. at Greenwood, Mississippi Airport, Greenwood, Mississippi, in a twin engine Cessna 411 Charter Aircraft bearing Identification Number N3223Q.

On March 19, 1968, the third confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that King spoke to a group of approximately 475 individuals at the Jennings Temple Church, Avenue G and Ash Streets, Greenwood, Mississippi. King advised his appearance in Greenwood, Mississippi, was to recruit poor people to go to Washington, D.C. King stated that their purpose was to recruit 3,000 to 6,000 unemployed to go to Washington and stay as long as possible, with new waves of people to come in every week. King advised that after an appropriate number of people were present they were going to make a massive march to "plague" Congress.

During the speech, King requested a show of hands as to the number of individuals who would be available to go to Washington, D.C. during April, 1967.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

At approximately 7:00 p.m., King and six other individuals were observed departing Greenwood, Mississippi Airport in the above aircraft en route to Grenada, Mississippi.

Police Commissioner Paul McKelroy, Grenada, Mississippi, Police Department, advised Martin Luther King, Jr. and party arrived via aircraft at the Grenada, Mississippi Airport at 7:30 p.m. March 19, 1968. King thereafter held a meeting of approximately 30 minutes at the Bellflower Baptist Church, Pearl Street, Grenada, before a group of approximately 175 - 200 individuals. King thereafter departed the Grenada Airport at 8:45 p.m. via the Cessna 411 Aircraft, registration number N3223Q, en route to Laurel, Mississippi, to hold a similar meeting. King was in the company of Hosea Williams, Reverend Ralph Abernathy, Leon Wilbert Hall, Dorothy Cotton, and an MISS. unknown young Negro male.

Mr. McKelroy advised that License Number 22-3381 is registered to the Bellflower Missionary Church, Grenada, Mississippi.

On March 20, 1968, a fourth confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that when King appeared before the crowd of approximately 200 individuals, he asked for support of his poor peoples march in Washington, D.C. citing necessity for this march as a request for jobs and other benefits. When King requested individuals to stand up to show their support for his project and the identity of those who would participate, approximately 30 individuals responded.

Source advised that $61.60 was collected at the meeting for King's project. This money was turned over to King's associates and placed in a paper sack together with money already contained in the paper sack.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP).

Source stated that the crowd responding to King's meeting was small in comparison to those in the past that King and his associates had drawn, nor did King receive an overwhelming support for his proposed project.

Mr. McKelroy advised that King departed Grenada Airport, Grenada, Mississippi, at 8:45 p.m. in above described plane en route to Laurel, Mississippi.

On March 19, 1968, a fifth confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King arrived at St. Paul's Methodist Church, 517 Jefferson Street, Laurel, Mississippi, at approximately 10:00 p.m. on March 19, 1968, and delivered a 10 to 15 minute inspiring talk concerning the Washington Spring Project. King pointed out that the grandparents and parents of those present worked for nothing and as a result the present generation of Negroes have little or nothing. King warned that the grandchildren of those present will also have nothing if the Negro fails to act today and demand his God given and constitutional rights. He strongly encouraged the local Negro to rise up and join the Washington Spring Project. King explained that the purpose of the Washington Spring Project was to emphasize to the world that the American Negro, though he is an American citizen, he is not receiving the constitutional rights which are supposedly guaranteed to all American citizens but in reality are given only to American white citizens.

Source advised that the Church was crowded with approximately 300 persons and some 100 to 150 left before King's arrival as he was approximately three hours late arriving in Laurel. A collection was taken for King at the Church, the amount received unknown.

On March 19, 20, 1968, a sixth confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King, President, Ralph Abernathy, Vice-President and Treasurer, Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, Dorothy Cotton, Director of Citizenship School, and Leon Hall, Project Director for the State of Mississippi, all SCLC, arrived at the Mount Zion Church, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, around 12:30 a.m. March 20, 1968. King made a short speech regarding the Washington Spring Project before a crowd of 750 persons. King stated a collection of $300 would have to be received before he would speak. The collection total was $345.00.

Source stated that King had a reservation for nine single rooms at the Holiday Inn South, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, cancelled his reservations, and departed Hattiesburg, Mississippi, en route to Jackson, Mississippi, at 3:14 a.m.

On March 20, 1968, Major T. Schiff, Jackson Police Department, Jackson, Mississippi, advised that King and his party registered at the Alamo Plaza Motel at 4 a.m.

On March 20, 1968, a seventh confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that King and his party arrived at the Masonic Temple, Jackson, Mississippi, 12:45 p.m. and he addressed a crowd estimated at about 400 persons. Source stated that King did not travel to McComb, Mississippi, which was a scheduled stop on his itinerary.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

On March 20, 1968, John Pierce, Reporter, Associated Press, Jackson, Mississippi, advised King and his party were greeted by Charles Evers, Director of the NAACP in the State of Mississippi, Lawrence Guyot, Chairman, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, a predominantly Negro political party within the State, and Geraldine Smith, State Chairman of the National Welfare Rights Organization. Hosea Williams stated the SCLC had just completed a strategy meeting and the date of the Washington Spring Project previously set as April 22, 1968, Washington, D.C., has been cancelled. He said King, Abernathy, Andrew J. Young, and other leaders of SCLC will go to Washington either April 23 or 24, 1968, where they intend to contact Congressional leaders, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Commerce, and expect to receive assurances of legislation to improve the plight of the Negro. They will present "SCLC's Economic Bill of Rights to Congressional leaders and Government officials".

On April 27 or 28, 1968, the "Beachhead Troops", people from all over Mississippi, will arrive in Jackson for a major mass meeting. They will then march through downtown Jackson and board buses provided by SCLC and will leave en route to Birmingham, Alabama. At Birmingham they will meet a group who had just completed a mass meeting and march through Birmingham and will proceed on to Atlanta, Georgia; Columbia, South Carolina; Durham, North Carolina; Richmond, Virginia; and will meet at a staging point at Alexandria, Virginia. At the same time groups will have departed from Boston, Detroit, Chicago, and Philadelphia, to staging points around Baltimore, Maryland. They expect to have a total of 3,000 people in this group who will stay in Washington for at least two weeks. Then they will be replaced by a second group and this will continue until enough pressure has been applied that Congress takes appropriate action. They will build a "City of Hope, a shantytown", in Washington, D.C., to house and feed all participants. They will stay in Washington by continuing to send waves of people until the Democratic Convention.

Abernathy and King spoke briefly and echoed same sentiments as Williams. King said professional groups, professional people, and industrialists throughout the country are being contacted for donations for this project. He did not comment on how much has been received.

On March 20, 1968, confidential source one advised that he attended the meeting at Jackson on this date and that from the eight speeches made by King and his staff in Mississippi on March 19, 20, 1968, a total of $1,000 was collected in donations. At each rally a donation was collected. Source had lunch with King's party following his meeting on March 20, 1968, along with Charles Evers, and King expressed disappointment over the small donations and the lack of enthusiasm.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

On March 20, 1968, confidential source two who also attended the above meeting at the Masonic Temple, furnished substantially the same information. This source stated that there appeared to be few volunteers available to go to Washington, D.C. Source stated that King appeared irritated over the lack of enthusiasm of his crowd at the Masonic Temple for his Washington Spring Project.

On March 20, 1968, the seventh confidential source advised that King expressed disappointment over the lack of enthusiasm and turnout for his speech at the Masonic Lodge on this date.

At 4:16 p.m., March 20, 1968, King, Abernathy, Williams, and Dorothy Cotton departed from Thompson Airport, Jackson, Mississippi, via privately owned plane as described previously, en route to Birmingham, Alabama.

The following circular was distributed in towns where King appeared:

Lieutenant H. H. Fair, Anaheim Police Department, Anaheim, California, advised March 14, 1968, that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was scheduled to address the convention of the California Democratic Council at the Anaheim Convention Center, Anaheim, California, at noon on Saturday, March 16, 1968.

Lieutenant H. H. Fair, supra, advised on March 16, 1968, that Dr. King appeared at a press conference at the Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim, California, that date. He stated that he never endorsed any presidential candidate, but spoke highly of Senator Eugene Mc Carthy, Minnesota, and indicated that he might endorse him as a presidential candidate in the 1968 election, claiming that he is passive, non-violent but militant against poverty and the Vietnam War.

Lieutenant Fair, supra, stated that Dr. King also appeared as the main speaker at the luncheon of the California Democratic Council which was held at the Anaheim Convention Center on the same date. Dr. King stated that if the Government would do something about Negro poverty in the winter time there would be less likelihood of summer violence. He also indicated that there would be a march on Washington, D. C., in April 1968 and the participants will conduct a "stay-in" at Governmental offices until the end of the congressional session to protest Negro poverty. He stated that it was ridiculous to spend money to kill Vietnamese in Vietnam and not help underprivileged Negroes.

Lieutenant Fair, supra, stated that King left Anaheim at 2:30 p.m. for an unknown appointment in Los Angeles.

SECURITY MATTER - C

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 17, 1968, that Dr. King spoke at an Elk's Club somewhere in Los Angeles on the afternoon of March 16, 1968. There he received donations for the Washington Spring Project in the amount of $6,000, in cash and an undisclosed amount in checks.

The "Los Angeles Times"; a daily newspaper published in Los Angeles, California, in its issue of March 17, 1968, carried an article which quoted Dr. King while he was in Anaheim, California, on March 16, 1968. He stated, "The problem is the Government has many programs but nothing has been done." He stated that the spring demonstrations which he will begin in Washington, D. C., on April 22, 1968, are to appeal to the conscience of Congress to escalate the war on poverty and racism and de-escalate the war in Vietnam.

Officer J. Fredericks, Airport Detail, Los Angeles Police Department, advised on March 18, 1968, that Dr. King was staying at the Hyatt House Hotel, 5547 West Century Boulevard, Los Angeles, and would be leaving Los Angeles for New Orleans and Memphis about noon on March 18, 1968, via National Airlines.

The "Los Angeles Times", previously mentioned in its issue of March 18, 1968, indicated that Dr. King had spoken at the Second Baptist Church in Los Angeles on Sunday, March 17, 1968. He stated that it was time for someone in Washington to admit that a mistake has been made in Vietnam and that this nation is involved in a "senseless, reckless, immoral and unwinnable war." He also indicated white racism is "still a glaring reality in our country" and that Congress, dominated by the rural South "stands as a stubborn force in the way of social progress."

This current document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The information set forth is based on the comments and views of the individuals mentioned herein. These pertained to the racial situation as it existed at the time the comments and views were expressed. The possibility exists that the racial situation in any particular area in Washington, D. C., may change suddenly. Due consideration must be given this fact.

II. GENERAL RACIAL SITUATION

The individuals familiar with conditions existing in the ghetto areas in Washington, D. C., have advised as follows:

The racial situation is very uncertain. People are apprehensive about Dr. Martin Luther King's "poor people's campaign" which he plans to bring to Washington, D. C. (WDC) in April, 1968. Some believe the demonstration will be beneficial and will show the underprivileged that efforts are being expended in their behalf. A riot could happen over some unexpected incident as has happened in other large cities. Stokely Carmichael urged a gathering of people in WDC, on March 17, 1968, to arm themselves and that every black man in the United States should get a gun. Some people in WDC are not in sympathy with Dr. King's demonstration plans. WDC leaders are attempting to evaluate the potential of Dr. King's impact on WDC, in April. Howard University students began a sit-in at Howard University on March 19, 1968, protesting possible disciplinary actions against students involved in previous disruptive action on the campus.

III. CURRENT EVALUATION OF VIOLENCE POTENTIAL

Source number one who lives in the Northeast and works in the Northwest sections of WDC, advised as follows on March 11, 1968:

The racial situation in WDC appears to be very uncertain. Nobody knows what is going to happen in WDC and many people are scared. They are not sure what will happen when Dr. Martin Luther King's "poor people's campaign" begins in April. Even though Dr. King has asked the militants to stay out of the activities, there is no assurance the request will be honored.

The March 11, 1968, issue of the "Newsweek" magazine, page 45 contained a paragraph captioned "Washington". It stated Washington had never been considered to be a major racial tinderbox as much of its Negro population works for the Federal government and is insulated by civil service security from the worst chills of black despair. It stated Washington was facing the summer with nervous uncertainty, and Dr. King was bringing 3000 demonstrators to Washington to begin a summer-long campaign of picketing and marching for jobs and income.

The March 12, 1968 issue of "The Evening Star", a daily WDC newspaper, page B-1 reported that District Safety Director Patrick V. Murphy had said the Washington police hoped to train as many as 2,800 volunteers for emergency duty this summer in an enlarged "Police Reserve"

Corps". Most of them would be used for station duty and thus free additional policemen during emergencies.

The March 12, 1968 issue of "Washington Afro-American", a Washington, D. C. newspaper, page 12, reported that The National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders had said that "Abrasive relationships between police and non-whites have been a major source of rioting in the racial ghettos of American cities".

On March 14, 1968, source number two who works in the ghettos of WDC and is acquainted with many of the under privileged advised as follows:

The "poor people's campaign" which is a demonstration being planned by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. has been given the support of a number of the larger religious groups in WDC. The demonstration will show the underprivileged that much effort is being expended in efforts to improve their life. It is believed the demonstration will be beneficial. Plans are being made to have volunteers from among the demonstrators, who will agree to be arrested if necessary. It is not believed that any racial trouble will result from the demonstration.

Source number two further advised as follows:

Stokely Carmichael is in Washington, D. C. and has organized the Black United Front, (BUF), but it is not believed that Carmichael will have much support from BUF members if Carmichael decides to create violence in WDC. The majority of the BUF members are not expected to support any plans for racial violence.

On March 14, 1968, source number three who resides in the Northwest section of WDC advised as follows:

It is his belief that a riot could take place in WDC over some unexpected incident such as the arrest of a Negro. This has happened in the past in other large cities. Other than the above situation, the conditions are such that the source is optimistic about a riot-free summer in WDC.

Source number four who resides and works in the ghetto areas of Northwest WDC, advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

On March 17, 1968, Stokely Carmichael gave a talk at The Church of The Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N. E., WDC at the invitation of the Fellowship Forum of the church. Among other things, Carmichael said the black people in the United States must connect with the 900 million black people of the "third world" to liberate themselves from the control of the white man. He described the "third world" as including the black people of Cuba, West Indies, Haiti, South America and Africa. He said the United States is planning genocide against the Negroes and for this reason Negroes should arm themselves. He said he did not mean a .22 caliber either. He advocated that every black man in the United States get a gun. He stated that if Negroes obtained an arsenal, relations between whites and blacks would be equal.

Source number four further stated as follows:

Carmichael said he realized many black people do not agree with his ideology and that there are many "Uncle Toms" in the community. Carmichael said his group proposes that if they develop information about a person "being that way", someone will talk to that person and attempt to change his mind and "if he does not change his ways, he will be considered a traitor to his community and all traitors die". Carmichael said black people should support the Arabs in any conflict between the Arabs and the Israelis. He said the WDC Public School System is 93% Negro and the curriculum must be changed to be more relative to the Negro community.

The March 18, 1968, issue of "The Washington Post and Times Herald", newspaper on page B-3 reported that Stokely Carmichael had spoken to a racially mixed audience on March 17, 1968 at The Church of The Redeemer, WDC. Among Carmichael's comments to the group were "We are advocating simply that every black man in this country should get a gun. The only reason the honkie (white man) is able to rule is because he has a gun".

The March 18, 1968 issue of "The Evening Star", a daily WDC newspaper on page B-3, reported that the District chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had voted to support the goals of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King's "Poor People's Campaign".

Source number five who lives and works in the Northwest section of WDC, on March 18, 1968, advised as follows:

It is believed there are some individuals in WDC who may be inclined toward the creation of racial trouble in WDC, but these are not likely to initiate any actions toward the starting of trouble. The feeling among many in the Northwest ghetto is that in order for the "poor people's campaign" to be successful, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. will have to bring in outsiders for his reported "civil disobedience" in WDC. In the event large numbers of outsiders are brought in, their behavior will be very difficult to control. Therefore anything may happen.

Source number one further advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

In the Northeast area near the source's residence, there has been a lack of enthusiasm by the WDC citizens for Dr. King's "poor people's campaign". These people are not in sympathy with Dr. King's plans as they fail to see that any benefits may result from any demonstration involving civil disobedience.

Source number six who resides in Northwest WDC and is employed in a Northwest ghetto area, advised as follows on March 18, 1968:

The foremost concern of people in WDC is the unknown potential for racial trouble which could take place when Dr. Martin Luther King and his "poor people's campaign" begins in WDC in April 1968. Many leaders of organizations in WDC are attempting to evaluate the current and future potential of Dr. King's impact on the racial scene of WDC. These leaders are very concerned and are trying to determine what response WDC citizens may give Dr. King.

Source number seven who resides in the Northeast section of WDC and has a wide acquaintanceship in WDC advised as follows on March 19, 1968:

On March 19, 1968 at about 1:30 PM about fifty to seventy-five students began a sit-in in the lobby of the Administration Building, at Howard University to protest possible disciplinary action against students who had participated in previous disruptive activity on the campus.

On March 19, 1968, Sergeant Silas Vaughn, Intelligence Division, Metropolitan Police Department, advised that at about 4:45 PM, on March 19, 1968, approximately one hundred and fifty students were engaging in a sit-in in the Administration Building, Howard University and planned to remain all night. According to Sergeant Vaughn, Stokely Carmichael appeared briefly at the building, but did not participate in the sit-in and then departed.

THEFTS OF GUNS AND AMMUNITION

Source number eight who is employed in the Northwest section of WDC, on March 18 and 19, 1968 advised as follows:

The source has received at least 50 or more handguns of various types including automatic pistols, snub-nosed weapons and weapons with a long barrel, from an individual employed in WDC. The guns have been obtained from the Fall of 1967 to the present time. These were stolen guns.

WACHTEL said that "they want to know how far he's going with the other guy and so on". WACHTEL added that "they" did not ask for more than that at the moment. WACHTEL said that KING agreed with his suggestion that maybe this time "we" have to use them instead of vice versa.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 19, 1968, that on that date Stanley Levison contacted Harry Wachtel. Levison, referring to Martin Luther King's Washington, D.C. spring campaign, told Wachtel that the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy passed a generalized resolution on the (Vietnam) war and specifically endorsed the Washington campaign. He added that Tudja Crowder, whom he described as the new Executive Director of Sane, had contacted him and wanted to have a meeting on March 20, 1968, with a small group of the Sane Directors to have them briefed by someone from the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) to see how they can tie in. Levison felt this was important and said that, if there is an element of the peace movement they might get to join "this" (the Washington Project), it will be Sane.

Levison also mentioned that the Washington Jewish Community Council had endorsed the Washington Spring Campaign because Andrew Young, the Executive Vice President of the SCLC, had told them that the SCLC would notify the Police on anything they did. Levison questioned how Young could have promised this since he and Young had discussed how the building of "shanty towns" would have to be done at night without anyone knowing it. He added that a person who had attended a non-black minority conference (the 53 non -Negro minority group organizations, representatives from which met in Atlanta, Georgia, March 14, 1968, with Martin Luther King to plan for King's "Poor People's Campaign" campaign in Washington, D.C.) stated that "they" specifically said "they" were not going to notify the Police. Levison, apparently alluding to the Jewish Community Council, said it was left on the basis that there is a general sentiment to endorse the objectives but they would like to know more clearly what is going to be done and why. He said this is good because this is the Jewish establishment.

Levison described the Washington Jewish Community Council as the leaders of the Jewish Community Councils all over the country, all of whom are Democrats and "tied into the machines".

Levison referred to Jack Greenberg (Director of the Legal Defense and Education Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) stating that Greenberg, in his opinion, had come up with the best publicity idea thus far and that is to transport a cabin, which people live in, in Mississippi, to Washington, D.C. and present it as a gift to the Smithsonian Institute as showing the manner in which people live in America in 1968. Levison said that he, Levison, is pushing the "shanty town thing" but that Greenberg's idea is better. He added that he intends to see that Greenberg's suggestion is carried out.

Levison noted that their target in the Washington project is full employment. He said a victory in terms of "countable" jobs would be magnificent for King.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963.

Source Number One, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised of the following information relating to Martin Luther King, Jr.'s appearance at Grosse Pointe High School, Grosse Pointe, Michigan, on March 14, 1968:

King's appearance was arranged and sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council. Prior to and during King's appearance, approximately 200 pickets from Breakthrough demonstrated in front of Grosse Pointe High School.

Source Number Two, who has furnished reliable information in the past, stated that Breakthrough is an ultra-conservative group under the direction of Donald Lobsinger, which group passes out literature and demonstrates against various left wing as well as Communist sponsored affairs held in the Detroit area.

Source Number One stated King's speech dealt primarily with the future integration in the United States. He continually stressed his position of non-violence and elaborated at length on the social problems facing the Negro in America today.

During the course of the speech King, in passing, briefly mentioned his plans for a Washington, D.C. camp-in in April, 1968. He stated he wanted it understood his plan is not to "tie up and shut down" the City of Washington, D.C.,

but he is using this action to "dramatize the plight of the poverty stricken Negro". He did not further elaborate nor give any detailed plans for the recruiting or the techniques he would be using to bring about success in this project.

During King's speech Donald Lobsinger, supra, was ejected from the meeting because of his heckling of King. He referred to King as a "traitor" because of his views on the conduct of the Vietnam war. Also two or three other individuals allegedly affiliated with Breakthrough, were escorted from the meeting for heckling and causing a disturbance. The individuals ejected were not permitted to re-enter the meeting.

Source advised that King was warmly received by those present which numbered in excess of 2,500 people. He stated the group was composed of predominately white people with a smattering of Negro people in attendance.

Source Number One further added that other than the above minor disturbances, King's appearance at Grosse Pointe High School was without serious incident.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the Nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

March 9, 1968

Dear Sir,

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has announced that he will lead a "poor peoples' campaign" in Washington, D.C. this spring. This campaign will demand that the Congress of the United States take immediate action to provide jobs or income for the nation's more than 60 million poor. As you must well know, the question of poverty is the crucial issue facing this country today. It threatens to literally tear the United States apart at the seams. Dr. King and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference feel that the clergy has a moral obligation to take the lead in the quest of social justice and to reweave the moral fabric of this nation. The job is massive and the time is short, we must act now. I'm sure that that point isn't debatable. The question is, what can we do? Dr. King has dispatched organizers into fifteen major urban areas across the nation to bring poor people to Washington in April, 1968. They need your assistance to do their job. Attached is a leaflet designating who the SCLC representative is in your area and where you can get in touch with him.

Please call him for further information.

The Poor People's Washington Campaign is being organized as a last resort in awakening Congress to the needs of this nation's poor - both black and white. The goal of this campaign is for congressional action to help millions of America's poor people of every race and creed.

The smoldering anger rising in the poor of this nation can be channeled into an effective militant movement in Washington and elsewhere.

Rev. Herman Jenkins has been dispatched to Newark by Dr. King to co-ordinate and organize the poor people of Newark for this campaign.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 5, 1968, that James Gibson, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Representative from National Headquarters of SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, is presently attempting to recruit participants for the Washington Spring Project (WSP) in the Virginia Counties of Amelia, Brunswick and Lunenburg.

A characterization of SCLC is attached hereto.

It is stated this recruiting drive, aimed at attracting persons in the hard-core unemployed and low income employed groups, has not been too successful. Persons approached have been asked to attend and participate in captioned activities at Washington, D.C. A lack of funds needed to obtain the required transportation is a major problem.

A second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past; has advised that the participation of people from Mississippi and Alabama in WSP in the Richmond - Petersburg, Virginia, area, is still in a very nebulous planning stage.

It appears that Leon Hall, Greneta, Mississippi, is actively engaged in the formulation of such plans. These tentative plans call for a march by these persons with persons from Petersburg, Virginia, from Petersburg to Richmond, Virginia. This march is to be conducted on or about April 22, 1968, the announced date that a SCLC sponsored march from Baltimore, Maryland, to Washington, D.C., will take place as a kick-off for WSP.

ENCLOSURE

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On March 4, 1968, Reverend Everett E. Smith, Richmond, Virginia, a member of the State Board of Virginia of SCLC, advised he has been in close contact with Dr. Martin Luther King regarding plans for the latter's visit to Virginia on March 30, 1968. These plans, which are subject to change, are that Dr. King will visit Danville, Virginia, and Prince Edward County, Virginia, on the latter date. He will appear at a rally held at a Negro church in Richmond, Virginia, later in the day of March 30, 1968. According to Reverend Smith, the purpose of Dr. King's visit to Virginia is to stimulate interest and participation in the WSP as well as to promote the interest and growth of SCLC.

Reverend Smith and other sources, who are in a position to learn of activities in connection with WSP, have advised generally that they do not anticipate that promotion of WSP will be too successful in the Richmond area. They based their opinions on past experiences in this type of activity. They advised these have not been too successful in the past, describing race relations in the Richmond area as good.

They pointed out that there exists in Richmond a "middle-class complacency" that has prevented a concerted or mass united effort in the promotion of activities designed to better the conditions of Negroes in the community. This "complacency", they feel, is based on the fact there are jobs for Negroes, and this group is, compared to other areas, economically well off. They pointed out, further, that Negroes have been and are being hired in City jobs and in other positions formerly available only to persons of the white race.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC)

The November 19, 1960 issue of "The Richmond Times-Dispatch" reported that approximately sixty Negro church, professional and lay leaders throughout Virginia met on November 18, 1960 in Petersburg, Virginia and organized the Virginia Christian Leadership Conference (VCLC) for the purpose of "Bringing about civil rights for all."

It was pointed out that VCLC is an affiliate of the SCLC of Atlanta, Georgia.

The purpose of SCLC was reported to "redeem the soul of America by creating the beloved community through organization, by consent of population, for the purpose of creative protest by education, training, developing leadership based on Christian non-violent principles."

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's Capitol the first week of April 1968 (subsequently changed to April 22, 1968) in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

Confidential Informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised March 11, 1968, that the Rev. JAMES ORANGE, SCLC Director in Philadelphia, said that date that KING would be in Africa for about 10 days early in April 1968. KING upon his return to the United States would come to Philadelphia to rest and make further preparations for the Washington Spring Project, which is now scheduled to take place April 22, 1968, in Washington, D.C. KING is concerned about the safety of his followers and KING's people are concerned about his safety. Present plans according to ORANGE state that participants in the march will leave from their respective cities and join other groups as they pass through cooperating cities en route to Washington, D.C., to arrive at Washington, D.C., April 22, 1968.

The Philadelphia contingent will join the group which would originate in Boston, Mass., April 19 or 20, 1968, which would increase as this original group went to New York City by bus, walked through the city of New York joined by others; walked to Newark through the city with additional Newark people; then by bus to Trenton, N.J., through the city with additional participants and then by bus to Philadelphia.

KING would join the group in North Philadelphia and walk through the city to the airport at the southwest extremity of the City of Philadelphia. KING would then leave the group and fly to Washington, D.C., while the marchers would walk on to Chester, Pa., picking up additional people during the walk and thence by bus to Wilmington, Del. The enlarged group would then walk through Wilmington and then go by bus to Baltimore, Md., where they would walk through town and then ride by bus to the outskirts of Washington, D.C. They would then be led through Washington, D.C., by KING to the "cherry blossom" area. The entire group joined by others from the rest of the United States would camp in Washington, D.C., until Congress meets KING's demand.

Confidential Informant PH T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 11, 1968, that he had been to SCIC Philadelphia Headquarters and the general conversation of the office personnel indicates that the staff is not receiving an enthusiastic response to the project in the city. He said, however, this is his opinion and only based on his conversation with the staff.

On March 12, 1968, PH T-1 advised that ORANGE on that date stated that HOSEA WILLIAMS, SCIC leader presently assigned Washington, D.C., and one of KING's top lieutenants, would be in Philadelphia March 15, 1968, to make further and finalize plans for WSP for the Philadelphia contingent. ORANGE had talked of a tentative route to march through Philadelphia; however, ORANGE is not allowed to make definite plans without the approval from top level SCIC personnel.

PROGRESS REPORT

As of this date information received indicates Rev. E. RANDOL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER, who are in charge of the WSP in Cleveland, have been spending some of their time on recruiting activities for the WSP, but the bulk of their activity has been on two other projects; namely, Operation Breadbasket and a strike at St. Luke's Hospital of the Building Service and Maintenance Union, which was recently settled. Now that the strike is settled, OSBURN and BIBLER can devote more time to the WSP to recruit the 200 people to travel to Washington, D.C., in April, 1968.

Reportedly Rev. OSBURN is very hopeful of recruiting these 200 people as he does not feel it is a large number to obtain as he has recruited larger numbers of individuals in the past for other projects.

Reference is made to Cleveland memorandum dated February 23, 1968.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign in the nation's Capital the first week of April, 1968, in an effort to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

"The Call and Post", a weekly Cleveland Negro newspaper of general circulation in its March 2, 1968 issue, page 4B, the editorial and feature column page, had an article by the editor of the paper, Mr. WILLIAM O. WALKER, captioned, "King Should Reconsider His March on Washington." This article then stated as follows:

"The old cliché is: 'Don't bite off more than you can chew.' I was thinking about this as I read that Dr. Martin Luther King was touring down in Alabama trying to recruit participants for his 'Poor Peoples Campaign,' destined to march on Washington in April.

"When I first heard about Dr. King's proposed march on Washington and his plans for camping his followers in the public parks, I felt he had been ill advised to embark on a project that at best, could be only a publicity gimmick.

"Dr. King, no matter how much compassion he may have for his fellowman, must look at all the facets of the problem and not be swayed by just one side.

ENCLOSURE

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"Getting 3,000 poor, unemployed folks to pick up and leave their homes, humble as some of them may be and, for an indefinite period, to live out in the open, requires more than enthusiasm and dedication.

"Granting that Dr. King finally succeeds in getting 3,000 people to Washington, since they are poor and without adequate funds for their sustenance, how is he going to feed them every day? Where is he going to house them every night? What about their health problems? Their legal problems? The problems of discipline? Where is the money for all of these things going to come from?

"If I understand Dr. King's program, he says he is going to keep his followers in Washington indefinitely. Let's take a short period of 14 days. Feeding each person will cost at least $1.00 a day. This then, is $3,000. In April weather even in Washington, these people will have to have some kind of shelter over their heads at night. If he can get this for $1.00 per person per night, he will be lucky. This is another $3,000 per day. To provide other necessities that people require each day, will cost a minimum of 50¢ per person a day. This adds another $1,500. So, at the lowest possible estimate, each person will cost $2.50 per day. For 3,000 people, this adds up to $105,000 for just 14 days.

"Then, there are the expenses of Dr. King's staff and other functionaries. The traveling expense of these people going and coming. The whole thing will add up to a staggering amount of somebody's money.

"How does Dr. King propose to raise this money? Moving on faith is one thing, but, 3,000 people, no matter how much faith they have, need food and shelter. Somebody will have to produce this in fact, not theory.

"Since most, if not all of the people Dr. King is trying to recruit are poor and unemployed, wouldn't it be better to try to get these people into training programs in their local communities? Granting that some southern communities may not have such federally-financed programs, isn't it better to petition the government to provide them rather than taking these people off on a wild goose chase to Washington where, no matter what happens, they will have to go back to their home communities for whatever benefits they are to eventually receive.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"Since lobbying for meaningful civil rights legislation is the announced goal of Dr. King's efforts, isn't he really using these unfortunate people who can least afford the time or money, as human pawns. Inspiring them with promises as an inducement to get their participation, is creating a false hope of personal reward before they return home. If they return home disillusioned and empty handed, they become prime examples of futility in their communities.

"This must not be permitted to happen. The best way to prevent it, is not to take them to Washington in the first place. If a demonstration of power or force or whatever you want to call it, is deemed necessary in Washington, then let those who can afford it march on Congress and the President. Past efforts have proven that sizeable numbers can be induced to turn out for a just cause.

"I am afraid Dr. King's venture is fraught with many dangers and problems. The Negro has a just cause. There is urgent need for putting pressure at every point in our civil rights fight to achieve meaningful results. This pressure should be pushed at the local, state and national levels. Every resource at the Negro's command should be pressed into the fight.

"On this, Dr. King or no one else will find any opposition. However, doing something just for the publicity of it and, using unfortunate human beings, is just going too far.

"It would be most unfortunate if what happened to the bonus marchers in the late twenties during the Hoover administration, happened to Dr. King's marchers. Unfortunately, the present feeling of a large segment of white people is to use the police force and, even the National Guard and the U.S. Army to suppress any riots. You can see from the way the National Guard acted recently in Orangeburg, S.C., what to expect in any future riots. Every law enforcement agency has been in special training during the winter months. They have been given special riot control techniques. Special equipment and supplies have already been purchased for use. There is no reason then for deliberately creating situations that may endanger the lives of innocent Negroes.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"I certainly hope Dr. King and his staff will think very carefully about what they do and how they do it. Racial tensions in this country are now at a high pitch. Entirely too many people are of the mind that another bloody summer is in the offing. No matter what anybody says, Negroes have not benefited in any substantial way from any riot. Other than a looters holiday, the riots of the past have been very costly to all Negroes. We must then do all we can to prevent riots. Washington must not become another frustrating, bloody battleground."

"The Cleveland Press", a Cleveland daily afternoon newspaper of general circulation, in its March 6, 1968 issue, page A8, had an article entitled, "200 Clevelanders Sought for Dr. King's March", which read as follows:

"Efforts have begun to enlist 200 Clevelanders to take part in the 'jobs or income' demonstration to be led by Dr. Martin Luther King in Washington on Apr. 22.

"The goal is to have 200 representatives from 15 cities, totaling 3000 participants, reported Hilbert Perry, director of the Bruce Klunder Freedom House.

"The Freedom House is one of three groups here which have endorsed the demonstration and are recruiting participants. The others are Domestic Workers of America, a union of household workers, and the Cleveland Welfare Rights Movement, made up mostly of mothers on relief rolls and their supporters.

"They are attempting to raise funds to charter buses to Washington and also seeking contributions to pay for child care of mothers taking part, or families who will volunteer to tend children.

"IN WASHINGTON, churches are to be asked to provide meals and lodgings for those taking part.

"Perry said those being recruited here cannot be informed yet of what form the demonstration will take because plans are still being worked out by Dr. King's headquarters in Atlanta. But it is expected to start with mass calls on senators and representatives from the communities represented.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

"WE HOPE to get a pledge that the Government will become the employer of last resort," said Perry, explaining that the Government would establish programs to employ those unable to get jobs elsewhere.

"Present training and employment programs are woefully inadequate. And we doubt that business will provide the jobs needed despite the government subsidy to be offered," he said.

"Also to be urged is that Congress discard the new Social Security amendment which would limit the number of children on the Aid to Dependent Children program for whom federal funds would be provided after July 1."

CV T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 12, 1968, that Reverend E. RANDEL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER are the two main individuals who have been working to organize the WSP group in the Cleveland area, however, they also have some other unknown individuals who are assisting in the recruiting activities.

For the most part, OSBURN and BIBLER have been working on two other projects which seem to take most of their time; namely, Operation Breadbasket, which is a program aimed at increasing Negro employment through a boycott of various stores and employers; the second is the strike at St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, by the Building, Service, and Maintenance Union. This strike was recently settled, which will now give Reverend OSBURN and BIBLER more time to work on the WSP.

The WSP in Cleveland has an office at 7902 Hough Avenue, which is not being used as all the work is being done from Reverend OSBURN's apartment at the Park Lane Villa Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio. The WSP has been recruiting people in Cleveland through the Bruce Klunder Freedom House, the Domestic Workers Union, and Mothers on Welfare. Reverend OSBURN plans to recruit two hundred people from the poor areas, those on welfare, etc., and OSBURN feels he will not have too much trouble in getting this many people as he has recruited larger numbers in the past for other projects. Reverend OSBURN has not indicated who will take care of the families of those making this WSP trip to Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, where the money will come from to pay for the transportation, or living expenses in that city, means of transportation, etc.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, on March 3, 1968, page 3, reported on the tribute to Dr. W.E.B. DuBois, held at Carnegie Hall, on Friday night, February 23, 1968. It said that the event was organized by "Freedomways" Magazine and inaugurated a year of celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Dr. DuBois. DuBois was described as a "scholar, writer, teacher, organizer and Communist".

The article stated that Dr. Martin Luther King delivered the address honoring the DuBois Centennial Year. It recounted King's remarks in praise of DuBois and said that:

"Summing up DuBois' life, King declared 'We can't talk of Dr. DuBois without recognizing that he was a radical all of his life. Some people would like to ignore the fact that he was a Communist in his later years. It is worth noting that Abraham Lincoln warmly welcomed the support of Karl Marx during the Civil War and corresponded with him freely'."

The article also stated that "King was vigorously applauded when he said:

"It is time to cease muting the fact that Dr. DuBois was a genius and chose to be a Communist. Our irrational obsessive anti-Communism has led us into too many quagmires....."

King, according to the article, recalled that DuBois was a leader of the peace movement in his time and, as is the case with Dr. Benjamin Spock, was indicted and arrested, in February, 1951, as a leader of the Peace Information Center. Alluding to the activities he is planning for Washington, D.C., King is reported to have said that DuBois will be with those participating in these activities in Washington, D.C., in April, 1968, "to demand our right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness".

"The Worker" account of the DuBois celebration related that J. H. O'Dell, the Associate Managing Editor of "Freedomways" Magazine, opened the evening's program and welcomed the audience to the centennial celebration. It stated further that Ossie Davis acted as master of ceremonies and that "Davis called on the audience to come to the aid of the militant W.E.B. DuBois Clubs which are being persecuted by the subversive activities control board under the revived McCarran Act". It quoted Davis as saying "the DuBois Clubs are not expendable".

Characterizations of Freedomways Associates, Inc., and the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA), are set forth in the appendix.

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INC.

The records of the New York State Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the Certificate of Incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Inc., was filed on March 2, 1961.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro Movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a second source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CP, USA by JAMES JACKSON.

The First Quarter, 1967, issue of "Freedomways", self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, lists the following as its editorial staff:

JOHN HENRIK CLARKE, Associate Editor
ESTHER JACKSON, Managing Editor
J. H. O'DELL, Associate Managing Editor
JOHN L. DEVINE, Art Editor

A third source made available information on July 1, 1964, indicating that JOHN HENRIK CLARKE attended the first and founding meeting of the American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS) which was held on December 19, 1963, and continued on January 10, 1964.

This source also made available information on August 14, 1964, indicating that CLARKE is an "Associate" of AIM

On March 16, 1966, the second source advised that JAMES JACKSON, accompanied by his wife, ESTHER JACKSON, was scheduled to depart on March 25, 1966, from the United States en route to Moscow to attend the 23rd Congress of the CP of the

On January 30, 1961, SYLVIA M. BRENNER DEVINE, 415 South 50th Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, advised that her former husband, JACK DEVINE, mentioned on December 17, 1960, that he was still in the CP and that the CP is his whole life.

A source advised on April 9, 1963, that on April 7, 1963, at a meeting of the District Committee of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), of New England, held in Boston, Massachusetts, HERBERT APTHEKER stated he was developing an organization called American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS), which would eventually legalize the CP. He stated AIMS would publish literature on History, Science, Physics, Archeology and other subjects which would be put out quarterly with various supplements.

A second source advised on June 30, 1966, that HERBERT APTHEKER was elected to the National Committee, CPUSA, at the 18th National Convention of the CPUSA, held June 22-26, 1966, in New York City.

A third source advised on June 7, 1963, that on June 3, 1963, HERBERT APTHEKER spoke at the CPUSA, New York District Board meeting concerning AIMS. APTHEKER stated that AIMS would unite and strengthen the CP although the CP would not be connected with it. He stated AIMS was being formed to operate within the scope of the McCarran and Smith Acts and would legally bring Marxist material and opinions to the attention of American scholars and the general public.

A fourth source reported on August 29, 1966, that AIMS issues a "Newsletter" every other month. This source also made available the information that AIMS issues publications and holds symposiums concerning Marxism.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, GUS HALL, CPUSA, General Secretary, indicated that the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, near the conclusion of the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth confidential source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing plans of the advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which deals with his massive civil disobedience campaign to be held in Washington, D. C., in April, 1968.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

SOURCE

Recently ~~_____~~ advised that Stanley David Levison and Harry Wachtel, both advisors to King with subversive backgrounds, were in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, SCLC, concerning the "Washington Spring Project."

Rutherford mentioned this conference to several staff members of SCLC. Among the points discussed, according to Rutherford, were whether King should visit President Johnson for the purpose of discussing problems of "ghetto people"; whether King should speak before a joint session of Congress; and whether the SCLC should consider legal action against the Government in a form of a lawsuit for payment of money to Negroes as reimbursement for the many years they have been held in "slavery."

~~_____~~ recently advised that to date Chicago officials of SCLC have recruited approximately one hundred individuals who have tentatively agreed to participate in King's campaign this spring. The individuals are primarily welfare recipients and youths from Chicago's near West Side. King's Chicago staff members also reported that recent events to solicit funds have been largely unsuccessful and appeals for money have been met with flat refusals.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is felt that the President would be interested in receiving information showing that King's communist advisors are attempting to plan a meeting between the President and King or perhaps having King speak before a joint session of Congress.

RECOMMENDATION:

That copies of the enclosures be forwarded to Mrs. Mildred Stegall at the White House; Mr. William Welsh, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman; Secretary of Labor Wirtz; Secretary of Defense; Secret Service; the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorneys General Pollak, Yeagley, and Vinson; the Inter-Division Information Unit of the Department; and to the Departments of Army, Navy, and Air Force.

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference recently with Stanley Levison and Harry Wachtel, both advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, concerning King's massive civil disobedience campaign called the "Washington Spring Project."

Later, Rutherford mentioned this conference to several staff members of King's organization. Among the points discussed, according to Rutherford, were whether Martin Luther King, Jr., should visit President Johnson for the purpose of discussing problems of "ghetto people"; whether King should speak before a joint session of Congress; and whether the Southern Christian Leadership Conference should consider legal action against the United States Government in the form of a lawsuit for payment of money to Negroes as reimbursement for the many years they have been held in "slavery."

Two officials of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference met with the "Washington Spring Project" staff in Chicago, Illinois, on March 1, 1968. The Chicago staff members reported that efforts on their part to date have resulted in the recruitment of one hundred individuals who have tentatively agreed to participate in the "Washington Spring Project." The individuals are primarily welfare recipients and youths from Chicago's near West Side. The Chicago "Washington Spring Project" staff members have also reported that recently efforts to solicit funds from former Southern Christian Leadership Conference contributors have been largely unsuccessful and appeals for money have been met with flat refusals.

Recently, Stanley Levison and Clarence Jones were in conference. Both men are advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. At this meeting, they discussed King's massive civil disobedience campaign called the "Washington Spring Project" and the issues King should raise during the demonstrations.

Jones informed Levison that Harry Wachtel, another advisor to King, had drafted some material in this regard which calls for full employment, a guaranteed wage, and a guaranteed annual income. Also, the Reverend Frederick Kirkpatrick, a coordinator in the New York area for King's project, had furnished Jones with a pamphlet entitled "Declaration of Principle on the March in April." Jones commented that this item was three to four pages in length and was being distributed under the auspices of the "Committee of National Negro Churchmen."

Levison mentioned to Jones that he had sent out a mailing to 80,000 individuals, who have contributed to King's organization in the past two years, soliciting funds. Levison remarked that the returns are running ahead of last year's response with $15,000 being received in one day. Levison advised this letter soliciting funds was carefully written to center on the "Washington Spring Project" and to explain the rationale for it. Because of the success of this letter, Levison advised he will send it to 250,000 more people in the middle-class income group.

Levison told Jones that things are going well in the mobilization for the "Washington Spring Project." King informed Levison recently that people from Alabama and Mississippi are "just raring to go."

Another source advised on February 28, 1968, that Bernard Lafayette, project Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, had informed him that King's organization is experiencing difficulty recruiting demonstrators for the "Washington Spring Project." Because of this, the demonstration would not start the first week of April as originally planned.

A third source learned from Anthony Henry, assistant to Lafayette, that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference had held a secret meeting and tentatively set a date of April 27, 1968, for the start of the "Washington Spring Project." According to this source, Henry indicated this date can be moved up or back depending on future developments.

A fourth source advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain Communist Party leaders as being to the "left" of the Communist Party in his position on civil rights. His differences with the Communist Party, however, are merely tactical, and he continues his ideological adherence to communism. Stanley Levison is the owner and operator of the Park Management Realty Company, 1841 Broadway, New York, New York.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing plans of the advisors to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), pertaining to his massive civil disobedience campaign to be held in Washington, D. C., in April, 1968.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

SOURCE

~~Source~~ advised recently that Stanley David Levison and Clarence Jones, both advisors to King with subversive backgrounds, were in conference concerning King's project. Jones informed Levison that Harry Wachtel, another advisor of King's with a subversive background, had drafted some material that King could use during the campaign calling for full employment; a guaranteed wage, and a guaranteed annual income. Also, the Reverend Frederick Kirkpatrick, a New York coordinator for the project, had furnished Jones with material entitled "Declaration of Principle on the March in April." Memorandum G. C. Moore to W. C. Sullivan

Levison told Jones that he had received an excellent response to a recent mailing. The solicitations were running ahead of last year with $15,000 being received in one day. Levison informed that the letter soliciting funds was carefully written explaining King's project and, because of the success, he was sending it to 250,000 more people.

Levison also told Jones that things are going well in the mobilization for the project and King informed him that people from Alabama and Mississippi are "just raring to go."

OBSERVATIONS:

On February 28, 1968, a WFO informant informed us that Bernard Lafayette, project Director for SCLC, had informed him King's organization is experiencing difficulty with recruiting demonstrators for the "Washington Spring Project." Because of this, the demonstrations would not start the first week of April as originally planned.

Another WFO informant learned from Lafayette's assistant, Anthony Henry, that a secret meeting had been held by King's group and they had set April 27, 1968, as the date for the project to start. Henry indicated this date can be moved up or back depending on future developments.

It is felt that the President would be interested in receiving information showing the communist help King is receiving in his proposed "Washington Spring Project."

RECOMMENDATION:

That copies of the enclosures be forwarded to Mrs. Mildred Stegall at the White House; Mr. William Welsh, Administrative Assistant to the Vice President; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman; Secretary of Labor Wirtz; Secretary of Defense; Secret Service; the Attorney General; the Deputy Attorney General; Assistant Attorneys General Pollak, Yeagley, and Vinson; the Inter-Division Information Unit of the Department; and to the Departments of Army, Navy, and Air Force.

COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

On February 29, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that WILLIAM A. RUTHERFORD, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), during the latter part of February 1968 mentioned to several officers of SCLC that he had recently discussed SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) with Stanley Levison and Harry Wachtel. According to Rutherford during this discussion consideration was given to: one, whether Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, should endeavor to discuss with President Lyndon B. Johnson problems of Ghetto people; two, the advisability of Reverend King addressing a joint session of Congress as to problems and complaints of Ghetto people; and three, whether SCLC should consider legal action against the United States Government for financial redress to Negroes based upon the many years the American Negro has been held in "slavery". Rutherford offered no further details regarding these points.

It was source's understanding that Rutherford would discuss these matters subsequently with Andrew J. Young, Executive Vice President, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; and Bernard Lafayette, Program Administrator, SCLC.

Concerning the possibility of him meeting with President Johnson, Reverend King merely commented he felt that at the present time the President would realize a greater publicity advantage from such a meeting than he or SCLC.

 RACIAL MATTER

On February 28, 1968, a confidential source advised that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), recently informed some officers of SCLC he was anxious to be apprised on a current basis of the progress being made by SCLC staff members who are concerned with recruiting demonstrators to participate in SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP). In this connection Reverend King instructed Andrew J. Young, Executive Vice President, SCLC; Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC; Bernard Lafayette, Program Administrator, SCLC; Bernard Lee, Special Aide to the President, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, and Mrs. Dorothy Cotton, Director of Citizenship Education, SCLC, to divide between them the various cities and locations in which SCLC staff members are recruiting demonstrators and ascertain what progress is being made. Reverend King indicated to these officers he expected to be informed of the progress observed by them during the forepart of the first week in March, 1968. He also said that he expected them to report to him as to progress being made on a weekly basis until the actual commencement of the WSP in April 1968. Source was unable to furnish any further details concerning this matter.

RACIAL MATTER

On February 28, 1968; a confidential source advised that during the recent past William A. Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC) had suggested that SCLC consider the practicality of periodically publishing a form of intra-organization newspaper. Rutherford explained the purpose of such a publication would be essentially to maintain a closer relationship between SCLC Headquarters personnel and Field Staff.

SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Rutherford's suggestion was recently adopted by SCLC and the Department of Information, SCLC, is currently in the process of preparing such a publication which will be entitled, "Soul Forth". This paper is GA being initially designed for the edification of demonstrators recruited for SCLC's forthcoming Washington Spring Project (WSP) by explaining such topics as the necessity for Federal legislation regarding jobs or income, various objectives of the WSP, general news about the project, et cetera.

The masthead of "Soul Forth" will indicate that Thomas Offenburger, Director, Department of Information, SCLC, is the editor of this publication, assisted by one Bill Mahoney.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on February 23, 1968, reflecting that Stanley Levison was going to meet Martin Luther King, Jr., on the night of February 23, 1968, at Kennedy International Airport, New York City, to take him to the "Freedomways" Magazine sponsored affair at Carnegie Hall, New York City, that night.

The same source learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison told Clarence Jones about the affair sponsored by "Freedomways" Magazine on the night of February 23, 1968. Levison said he believed it illustrates the degree of despair and depression prevalent in progressive circles. He described it as the "deadest meeting" he had ever seen and said that people are depressed because they are frustrated over the Vietnam War and also feel there are no answers to riots in the streets. Referring to Martin Luther King's speech, he said that King has never read anything as badly. Levison attributed this to King feeling uncomfortable at the meeting. He said that King felt it was his duty to pay a tribute to (W.E.B.) DuBois but also knew it was not really his (type of) crowd. He said King read his speech as if he did not understand what he was reading.

Ossie Davis was the master of ceremonies and the speakers included Martin Luther King, Jack O'Dell and several others.

According to the source, King, in his speech, praised W.E.B. DuBois and mentioned his planned demonstration in Washington, D.C. King stated that, with respect to this demonstration, they would stay as long as necessary to accomplish their aims. He stressed, however, that it would be non-violent in character.

FREEDOMWAYS ASSOCIATES, INC.

The records of the New York State Secretary of State, Albany, New York, show that the Certificate of Incorporation of Freedomways Associates, Inc., was filed on March 2, 1961.

On May 24, 1961, a source advised that a report was given on "Freedomways" at a meeting of the National Board, Communist Party, USA (CP, USA), held on May 24, 1961. It was stated that the central purpose of "Freedomways" is to develop a theory and positive criticism of currents in the Negro Movement, as well as to raise the level of understanding and discussion taking place in Negro life today and to project a socialist and pro-Soviet orientation.

On May 25, 1961, a second source advised that "Freedomways" was set up for the CP, USA by JAMES JACKSON.

The First Quarter, 1967, issue of "Freedomways", self-described as "A Quarterly Review of the Negro Freedom Movement" published by Freedomways Associates, Incorporated, 799 Broadway, New York City, lists the following as its editorial staff:

JOHN HENRIK CLARKE, Associate Editor
ESTHER JACKSON, Managing Editor
J. H. O'DELL, Associate Managing Editor
JOHN L. DEVINE, Art Editor

A third source made available information on July 1, 1964, indicating that JOHN HENRIK CLARKE attended the first and founding meeting of the American Institute for Marxist Studies (AIMS) which was held on December 19, 1963, and continued on January 10, 1964.

This source also made available information on August 14, 1964, indicating that CLARKE is an "Associate" of AIM

On March 16, 1966, the second source advised that JAMES JACKSON, accompanied by his wife, ESTHER JACKSON, was scheduled to depart on March 25, 1966, from the United States en route to Moscow to attend the 23rd Congress of the CP of the

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Clarence Jones and Stanley Levison discussed the April, 1968, demonstrations planned by Martin Luther King., Jr., Head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), for Washington, D.C. Jones noted that he had a draft of some material from Harry Wachtel which calls for full employment, a guaranteed wage, and a guaranteed annual income. He said also that a Minister whom he believed is Kirkpatrick (The Reverend Frederick Kirkpatrick, a coordinator in the New York area for the Washington Spring Project) gave him a Declaration of Principle on the march in April. Jones described this declaration as being of 3 or 4 pages with the inscription "Committee of National Negro Churchmen" at the bottom.

Levison commented that Kirkpatrick is distributing this material in churches. He told Jones to send this material to Harry (Wachtel) with any comments he might have.

Levison also mentioned that he considered it significant that a mailing, which was sent out to reach 80,000 who have contributed in the past two years or more, is running

He added that this letter will go to another 250,000 and more. According to Levison, this mailing is to a middle class group so that it is a test of the middle class intellectual, the most concerned type of people.

Levison also commented that, in general, he believes things are going well with the mobilization. He added that King has said that he is getting very favorable comments from many quarters and that in Alabama and Mississippi "they're just raring to go".

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 15, 1968, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. traveled to the Edwards, Mississippi area to attend a meeting held by the Mississippians for Political Welfare Rights (MPWR). He advised that the purpose of the meeting was for King to solicit support for his Poor Peoples March at Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, and also to lend support to MPWR's activities. Source related that King planned to complete his appearances in Mississippi on February 15, 1968, and travel to Montgomery, Alabama, where a similar meeting was to be held. He advised that presently in Grenada, Mississippi, Leon Wilbert Hall and R. B. Cottonreader, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) employees, were actively attempting to locate individuals to travel to Washington, D.C. in April, 1968, to take part in the demonstration. Source advised that Reverend B. J. Cameron, President, Grenada County Freedom Movement, and affiliate of SCLC, will not travel to Washington in the Spring.

On February 19, 1968, the source advised that Hall was scheduled to appear before an unknown group at Batesville, Mississippi, the evening of February 19, 1968, in an effort to gain support for the Washington Spring Project.

On February 20, 1968, a second source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Dr. Martin Luther King appeared before a group known as the National Welfare Rights Organization, together with his aides, in Chicago, Illinois, on February 3-4, 1968. He advised that this group is operating in Mississippi as the MPWR. He stated that delegates from 24 states were present at the Chicago, Illinois meeting which resulted in a working coalition being established between this group and SCLC to bring about a social change in the country. The source advised that King also put forth requests for support of his Poor Peoples March in April at Washington, D.C. He advised that the delegate from Mississippi was one Geraldine Smith, Holmes County, Mississippi, and furthermore that the National President of this organization was an individual from Los Angeles, California.

On February 20, 1968, a third source advised that Martin Luther King's group is attempting to recruit 200 persons to participate in the April 26, 1968, demonstration at Washington, D.C. He related that the primary recruiter in this project in Mississippi appeared to be Mike Higson, research worker, Lawyers Committee, 233 North Farish Street, Jackson, Mississippi.

On February 17, 1968, a fourth source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a recent meeting was held in Washington, D.C. in which Reverend Martin Luther King and the former SNCC Chairman Stokely Carmichael were present. A discussion at this meeting centered around the Washington Spring Project. The source felt that the Project was completely controlled by King and that any attempts to take over for the purpose of promoting violence will meet with little success. The source reported that Carmichael stated something to the effect "If King is going to run it, then that will be all right".

The source advised that a meeting was to take place in Miami, Florida, February 19-23, 1968, and that this meeting was being financed partially by the Ford Foundation for the purpose of training Negro Ministers from large northern cities in the area of leadership. Source related that the captioned matter would possibly be discussed at the meeting, but that was not the primary purpose for the session.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on February 23, 1968, reflecting that Stanley Levison was going to meet Martin Luther King, Jr., on the night of February 23, 1968, at Kennedy International Airport, New York City, to take him to the "Freedomways" Magazine sponsored affair at Carnegie Hall, New York City, that night.

The same source learned on February 24, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison told Clarence Jones about the affair sponsored by "Freedomways" Magazine on the night of February 23, 1968. Levison said he believed it illustrates the degree of despair and depression prevalent in progressive circles. He described it as the "deadest meeting" he had ever seen and said that people are depressed because they are frustrated over the Vietnam War and also feel there are no answers to riots in the streets. Referring to Martin Luther King's speech, he said that King has never read anything as badly. Levison attributed this to King feeling uncomfortable at the meeting. He said that King felt it was his duty to pay a tribute to (W.E.B.) DuBois but also knew it was not really his (type of) crowd. He said King read his speech as if he did not understand what he was reading.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT. RACIAL MATTERS.

INSPECTOR OWEN W. DAVIS AND DET. SILAS VAUGHN, METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., ADVISED TODAY THAT THEY HAVE ATTENDED THE MAJORITY OF THE GENERAL MEETINGS EXCLUDING THE INDIVIDUAL WORKSHOP TYPE MEETINGS WHICH WERE CONFINED TO THE CONVENTION DELEGATES.

THEY ADVISED THE GENERAL THEME OF THE CONVENTION WAS ALONG THE GUIDELINES OF INSTRUCTING THE DELEGATES IN WAYS AND MEANS OF REACHING THE PEOPLE IN THE GHETTOS IN THEIR PARTICULAR COMMUNITIES.

THEY ADVISED THE DELEGATES WERE OF VARIANT OPINIONS AS TO THE METHODS TO BE USED IN THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IN THAT SOME WERE FAVORING THE STRICTLY NON-VIOLENT APPROACH AS OPPOSED TO A FEW WHO WERE DESIROUS OF A MORE MILITANT APPROACH.

THEY ADVISED IT APPEARED TO THEM THAT SOME MEMBERS OF SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC) IN ATTENDANCE WERE ATTEMPTING TO GAIN SUPPORT FOR THE

WASHINGTON, D. C., MINISTERS IN ATTENDANCE AT THE CONVENTION GAVE THEIR RELUCTANT APPROVAL TO THE WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT, PROVIDING THAT THE PROJECT WOULD BE APPROACHED IN A NON-VIOLENT MANNER.

THEY FURTHER ADVISED THAT IT WAS THEIR IMPRESSION THAT POSSIBLY TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE FROM FIFTEEN OF THE COUNTRY'S MAJOR CITIES WOULD PARTICIPATE IN THE WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT AND EVERY EFFORT WOULD BE MADE TO CONFINE THE PROJECT TO A NON-VIOLENT THEME.

THEY STATED IT WAS THEIR OBSERVATION THAT THE GENERAL FEELING OF THE DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE AT THE CONVENTION WAS OPPOSED TO STOKELY CARMICHAEL AND THE MILITANCY THAT CARMICHAEL ADVOCATES.

THEY ADVISED THAT THE CONVENTION IS BEING CONCLUDED TODAY WITH THE LAST GENERAL MEETING BEING HELD IN WHICH MARTIN LUTHER KING WILL BE THE KEY SPEAKER.

THEY ADVISED THAT THE MAJORITY OF THE DELEGATES WILL BE RETURNING TO THEIR RESPECTIVE COMMUNITIES TODAY AND TOMORROW.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Inspector OWEN W. DAVIS and Detective SILAS VAUGHN, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., presently in Miami on assignment, stated February 21, 1968, that they attended workshop meetings and a general meeting on February 20, 1968. There was no discussion at these meetings relative to the Washington Spring Project. The meetings generally related to the Ministers Leadership Training Program, as outlined in a leaflet distributed to the delegates. Inspector DAVIS estimated 20 Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) members among the delegates. He said most of the delegates are ministers from various sections of the United States.

Inspector DAVIS stated a press conference was held February 20, 1968, with Dr. ANDREW YOUNG and Reverend T. Y. ROGERS, JR., answering most of the questions. Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING was not present at the press conference and has not been seen at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel by any of the security and hotel personnel on February 20, 1968, and the morning of February 21, 1968.

MM T-1 furnished the following information; on February 21, 1968:

The SCLC meeting which he is attending at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors, continued throughout the day of February 20, 1968, without any major developments.

The group of ministers attending was broken up into workshop units of approximately nine or ten ministers each. Each group had a leader who directed the activities of his workshop.

One such workshop was directed by Reverend JESSIE JACKSON, who is a SCLC leader from Chicago. During the progress of this workshop, Reverend JACKSON made the following statements:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

He advocated that at least 1000 ministers go to Washington to demand that the United States pull out of Viet Nam. He felt that if such activity could be arranged, it would bring sufficient weight to bear to cause the Government to take such action.

He discussed what was termed "bread basket project" which was described as an SCLC project which would be instituted in the large city ghettos, wherein economic pressure would be brought on white merchants to employ Negro help and also on the white business community to deposit funds in Negro banks. These projects were to be set up in advance and if the desired result was not obtained, then the SCLC would resort to picketing and demonstrating and this would be brought about through pre-arrangements whereby it would be only necessary to make a number of phone calls and give a code word "knock out" which would bring the desired pickets and demonstrators to a pre-arranged location.

The above was discussed in general terms and no specific cities or areas were mentioned. But this was put forth as a project that could be put into effect.

Reverend JAMES BEVEL, a KING aide from Chicago, addressed a group in which he stated that he firmly believed in burning down the cities if something significant would come out of it. But that he did not believe in burning the cities just for the sake of burning them.

(JAMES BEVEL is referred to in the Appendix section of this memorandum.)

Reverend BEVEL additionally made the statement that he had attempted to get Negro leaders in New York to burn down the city when ADAM CLAYTON POWELL lost his Congressional seat, however, was unsuccessful.

Also from BEVEL's address, it was apparent that there is a marked growing tendency away from de-segregation and integration and a definite move by the SCLC toward economic and political black power.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Additionally, it was evident from BEVEL's address that there is a growing tendency to degrade the institutionalized church which was described as the "Sunday Church" that is well established in this country and to unite all of the colored churches into one tremendous, powerful group. Also, there is evidence of attempts to break the moral fiber of attending ministers. As an example, Reverend BEVEL stated that he was convinced and firmly believed that Mary was raped by a Roman soldier and that Christ was not the result of a virgin birth.

(First Name Unknown) WOODRUFF, an Episcopal minister from Philadelphia was overheard to state that he was head of the "Liberation School" in Philadelphia and that he had many classes in various homes in the area. He stated that he was in favor of using terrorist tactics to achieve the ends of "Black Power." Also, it was overheard that WOODRUFF allegedly had been arrested in Nashville, Tennessee, some time ago for having operated a "hate school."

On February 21, 1968, WM T-2 furnished the following information:

At a workshop meeting held on February 21, 1968, the fact that the Ford Foundation was paying for this meeting was discussed.

The main topic of discussion was, however, "operation bread basket" which is to be put into effect by the ministers when they return to their respective cities. This project is to bring economic pressure upon the white business community in order to secure better jobs, better housing, more pay and to generally improve the conditions of the Negroes in the large ghetto areas.

This project will take the form of a coordinated, concerted effort to bring economic pressure and efforts will be made to coordinate this program throughout the country so that economic pressure can be brought on some specific segment of the economy on a national basis. An example was given wherein picketing and demonstrations could occur simultaneously at a business enterprise such as "Coca Cola" so that on a pre-arranged date and time, pickets and demonstrators would appear simultaneously at concerns operated by Coca Cola or any other similar business throughout the country.

" There has been no discussion of the Washington Spring Project and the conference is moving along smoothly with no discussion of any expected violence or disturbances which might possibly lead to violence.

Former Senator HARRY P. CAIN (formerly from Washington State, now residing in Miami, Florida) who has offices in the executive suite of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association office building, Miami, Florida, telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on February 21, 1968. Senator CAIN advised that he is chairman of the Community Relations Board for Dade County, Florida, and was contacted by two individuals who stated they were aides of Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. These aides stated that Reverend KING desired to meet with a small representative group of Miami people involved with the Community Relations Board in order that he might explain in detail what his programs would be for the coming months.

Senator CAIN reported that he was arranging such a meeting and he expects to have approximately forty community leaders present, including representatives from all local newspapers. He stated that the meeting was not for the purpose of obtaining a news story and those attending would be so advised. Senator CAIN reported that the meeting will be held at 12:15 PM, February 22, 1968, in the Terrace Room of the DuPont Plaza Kotel.

Copies of this memorandum are being disseminated to the United States Secret Service, Miami; United States Attorney, Miami; 111th M. I. Group, Miami and Orlando, Florida; OSI, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia, and NISO, Charleston, South Carolina.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

JAMES BEVEL

"BEVEL," in early March, 1966, was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

THE "MIAMI HERALD" LOCAL MIAMI, FLA., NEWSPAPER, REPORTED FEB. TWENTY, SIXTYEIGHT, THAT DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., OPENED A SERIES OF MEETINGS FEB. NINETEEN, LAST, DESIGNED TO HELP NEGRO CLERGYMEN MINISTER TO THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC NEEDS OF THEIR CONGREGATIONS. DR. KING AND REV. ANDREW YOUNG, AN AIDE IN THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC) SAID THE FIVE-DAY SERIES OF CONFERENCES WILL NOT INCLUDE PLANNING FOR CIVIL RIGHTS AND ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATIONS. THEY BOTH SAID THEY DID NOT EXPECT STOKELY CARMICHAEL AND RAP BROWN, LEADERS OF THE VOCAL BLACK NATIONALIST MILITANCY, TO ATTEND. HOWEVER, REV. EIGHT TO TWENTY MINISTERS HAVE BEEN SELECTED FROM THESE AREAS AND WILL DEAL IN PROBLEMS CONCERNING POVERTY, EMPLOYMENT, EDUCATION, HOUSING, POLICE BRUTALITY, INTER-GROUP RELATIONS, HEALTH AND WELFARE, COMMUNITY SERVICES AND PROPERTY OWNERSHIP.

LT. SWILLEY STATED THAT AMONG THE VARIOUS ITEMS OF LITERATURE GIVEN TO THE MINISTERS ATTENDING THE MIAMI CONFERENCE IS A TYPED STATEMENT MADE BY DR. KING ON DEC. FOUR, SIXTYSEVEN. IN THIS STATEMENT, DR. HE STATED THAT ATTENTION WOULD BE GIVEN TO ATTEMPTING TO RECONCILE THE TERM "BLACK POWER" WITH THE OVER-ALL CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IN THE U.S. NONVIOLENCE WAS CONTINUALLY STRESSED AT OPENING CONFERENCE. DR. KING FURTHER STATED THAT OVER-INTEGRATION COULD OCCUR TO THE POINT THAT NEGROES COULD LOSE THEIR IDENTITY. HE GAVE AN EXAMPLE OF THE INTEGRATION OF THE METHODIST CHURCH, NOT FURTHER EXPLAINED. THE ONLY REMARK MADE RELATIVE TO WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT WAS THAT THIS CONFERENCE WAS NOT FOR THE PURPOSE OF RECRUITING PEOPLE FOR TRIP TO WASHINGTON NOR WOULD IT BE A TOPIC OF DISCUSSION. ENTIRE GROUP TO BE BROKEN UP INTO "WORKSHOP UNITS" FOR STUDY AND TRAINING FEB. TWENTY, SIXTYEIGHT. ALL MINISTERS EXPECTED TO TAKE PART IN STUDY GROUPS.

THE ONLY ITEM OF DISSENSION DURING OPENING MEETING WAS ANNOUNCEMENT MADE THAT DAN MONAHAN, IN SOME WAY CONNECTED WITH URBAN HOUSING, HAD BEEN INVITED TO ADDRESS CONFERENCE. SOME PARTICIPANTS OBJECTED, HOWEVER, REV. YOUNG STATED THAT HE COULD CONTRIBUTE TO CONFERENCE AND THAT HE SHOULD BE HEARD.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing information concerning the progress of Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), to organize a massive civil disobedience campaign in Washington, D. C., in the Spring of 1968.

BACKGROUND:

King in the past has publicly announced he will conduct a massive civil disobedience campaign he calls the "Washington Spring Project" in early April, 1968, to pressure Congress into passing legislation favorable to the Negro.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

5 - D. B. [unclear]

King is currently holding the first of two workshops from 2/19-23/68 at Miami, Florida. He has invited approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the nation to attend this meeting. The Ford Foundation recently gave King's organization a $230,000 grant to hold these workshops in an effort to develop responsible leadership in the Negro ghetto areas of the nation's major cities. It has been determined that King plans to discuss the Washington Spring Project at this workshop.

Dr. John A. Morselli, Assistant Executive Director, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), has advised his organization is not supporting the Washington Spring Project and is taking no part in it. He advised the NAACP

The following information has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is holding the first of two workshops to train Negro ministers in urban leadership from February 19 through 23, 1968, at Miami, Florida. He has invited approximately 150 Negro ministers throughout the Nation to attend this meeting at the plush new Sheraton - Four Ambassadors Hotel.

The Ford Foundation recently gave King's organization a $230,000 grant to hold these workshops in an effort to develop responsible leadership in the Negro ghetto areas of the Nation's major cities.

It has been determined that King's massive civil disobedience campaign, which he calls the "Washington Spring Project," will be discussed at this workshop.

Dr. John A. Morsell, Assistant Executive Director, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, advised Special Agents of this Bureau that his organization is not supporting the Washington Spring Project and is taking no part in it. He advised the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has tried, without success, to dissuade King from executing the Project. Dr. Morsell is afraid that King cannot control the demonstrators and there is a likelihood that the overall demonstration will be taken over by extremists.

This past week King concentrated his attention on the South and spoke at rather large gatherings in Birmingham, Montgomery, and Selma, Alabama.

King has chartered a small twin-engine aircraft to help speed him about the South urging people to support his Washington Spring Project.

Another source advised recently that the entire Washington Spring Project seems to be suffering from indecision, petty bickering among the staff members, and the idiosyncrasies of King's ego. This source advised that King is worried about the lack of progress being made by his recruiters. He is concerned about the success of the program. He has instructed his staff to seriously consider whether or not they can successfully carry out the Project. If they cannot, then it will be necessary to establish a reason as to why he finds it necessary to discontinue the Washington Spring Project.

In this connection, the "Miami Herald" newspaper on February 18, 1968, reported that some Negro leaders will urge King to detour his planned massive civil disobedience demonstration scheduled for April, 1968, in Washington, D. C., and redirect the demonstrators to the local districts of Congressmen who have voted against civil rights legislation. These leaders feel that Congressmen do not care what happens in Washington, D. C., but they would feel the impact of these demonstrations in their home districts.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The February 18, 1968, issue of "The Sunday Star," a daily Washington, D.C., newspaper reported that Dr. Martin Luther King's Washington campaign began quietly as Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) field workers opened an office at 14th and U Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C.

The article identified the field workers as J.T. Johnson, Lester Hankerson and Henry Browlee of the SCLC and Anthony Henry and William Moyer of the "American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker affiliated organization."

On February 19, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on February 16, 1968, he had passed the building which has been secured by the SCLC and it gave no appearance of being in use. He passed the building again on February 19, 1968, and observed that only two desks had been placed in the building. The office gave no appearance of being opened. He further advised that a typewritten notice was on SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, stationary on a window indicating the office to be the headquarters of Dr. Martin Luther King and his "poor peoples march" on Washington.

On February 20, 1968, a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised the building located on the northwest corner of 14th and U Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C., was being readied for use by Dr. Martin Luther King and the SCLC. This source observed the building to have two entrances. One entrance is located on 1401 U Street, N.W., while the other is 2000 - 14th Street, N.W. He advised that no activity was taking place at the office.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from this Bureau dated February 19, 1968.

The "Miami Herald" a local Miami, Florida, newspaper on February 20, 1968, reported that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., opened a series of meetings in Miami, Florida, on February 19, 1968, designed to help Negro clergymen minister to the social and economic needs of their congregations. This article reported that Dr. KING and Reverend ANDREW YOUNG, one of his top aides in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), said the five-day series of conferences will not include planning for civil rights or anti-war demonstrations.

It was also reported that Dr. KING and Reverend YOUNG both said they did not expect STOKELY CARMICHAEL and RAP BROWN, leaders of the vocal Black Nationalist militancy to attend. However, Reverend YOUNG said, "If STOKELY and RAP come we won't throw them out." This article goes on to report that in addition to the 150 official delegates, about 50 more ministers are expected to attend the meetings, which are not open to the public.

It was reported that about 125 delegates attended a luncheon on February 19, 1968, and heard a talk by Dr. R. A. ABERNATHY, a Vice-President of SCLC. In addition, this article reports that three lecturers, followed by workshop sessions, are scheduled for February 20, 1968.

MM T-1 advised that the Ministers Conference at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors, Miami, Florida, opened on schedule on February 19, 1968. In welcoming the group, Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., reiterated that the purpose of this conference was for discussion, study and training in connection with problems facing the Negroes in the big city areas.

~~SECRET~~

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

He further stated that attention would be given to attempting to reconcile the term "black power" with the overall civil rights movement in the United States. During the opening conference, nonviolence was continuously stressed.

Dr. KING stated that over-integration could occur to the point that Negroes could lose their identity. He gave as an example the integration of the Methodist Church, however, this was not further explained.

The only remark that was made to the people in attendance relative to the "Washington trip" was that this conference in Miami would not be used for the purpose of recruiting people for the trip to Washington, nor would it be a topic of discussion.

On February 20, 1968, the entire group will be broken up into "workshop units" according to their interest and needs of the area from which the various ministers came. All leaders are to take part in the activities of the workshop and report back to the entire assembly.

During the opening day of this meeting, only one item of dissension occurred and that involved some opposition to the fact that apparently DAN MONAHAN, who was formerly connected with Urban Housing, has been invited to address the conference in Miami. Some ministers disagreed with this invitation, however, Reverend ANDREW YOUNG stated that his presence could contribute to the conference, and that he should be heard.

On February 20, 1968, Lieutenant HARVERT SWILLEY, Intelligence Unit, Miami, Florida, Police Department, reported that several items of literature were being passed out to the delegates. Included in the literature was a leaflet captioned "The Southern Christian Leadership Conference" and outlines the purpose of the training program. In addition, a statement made by Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., Atlanta, Georgia, on December 4, 1967, which statement relates to the Washington Spring Project, was also being passed out.

These two items are quoted as follows:

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., President

"MINISTERS LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM
Rev. T. Y. Rogers, Jr., Director

"CRISIS OF THE CITIES: A CREATIVE ANGLE

"...transforming the inchoate rage of the ghetto into a creative force for change...."

"The Ministers Leadership Training Program is designed to train local leaders in the knowledge of the many problems which the residents of the ghetto face and in ways of solving these problems. Our focus is the Black Preacher and the Black church for we believe that the greatest potential power for controlling the forces which make and sustain as well as those which can change the structure of the ghetto, is within the Black church. We further believe that because of the central place for which the Black church holds in the Negro community, we can develop the kind of leadership which will develop programs to transfer control of the ghetto to those who reside there. Finally, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference is an extension of the church and therefore much of our emphasis should be on strengthening the witness of the church in areas of life where problems are greatest.

"The Ministers Leadership Training Program will be conducted in fifteen metropolitan areas of our nation. We have selected a minimum of eight and a maximum of twenty preachers from these fifteen areas, depending upon the size and population, who will participate in our program. Our program begins with an orientation workshop in Miami, Florida. This workshop is designed to acquaint the preachers who will participate in our program with the over all history and philosophy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and with the programs which demand our concern at present. This workshop is also designed to acquaint the participants with the nature and scope "of the multiplicity of problems facing the residents of the ghetto. Our emphasis will be on a detailed examination of the forces which make the ghetto a reality; the structures which maintain the ghetto; and the possibility of destroying the ghetto by restructuring and changing ownership of the economic structures of the ghetto. There will also be an examination of the theology of the church, a look at the history of the Black church, and a re-defining of the ethic of the Black church in terms of the problems faced by Black churches today.

"To accomplish the above mentioned ends we have invited to this workshop persons with expertise in the problems of the ghetto. They will deal with the 'Making of the Ghetto,' 'the New Mythology,' 'Political Action and Political Coalition,' the 'Challenge of an Urban Ministry,' 'Jobs,' 'Welfare Rights,' 'Nonviolence and Social Change,' and other problems facing the poor.

"During the orientation workshop the cities will be organized. A convener will be chosen for each city with the exception of New York City which will have a convener for Brooklyn and Queens and another for Manhattan and the Bronx. These sixteen conveners will call the men of their cities together once per week for study, discussion, learning, planning and executing programs. The conveners will serve as the link between the Atlanta office of the Ministers Leadership Training Program and the particular city involved, and will channel programs and information to the members of their group.

"In brief the goals of the Ministers Leadership Training Program are as follows:

- "1. To sensitize Black preachers to the problems of the ghetto and the relationship of these problems to their ministries.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT .

- "2. To create a discipline for analyzing and understanding the forces which create and sustain the ghetto.
- "3. To develop an understanding of the various methods of solving problems and to focus these methods on solving the problems of the ghetto.
- "4. To lay the foundation for the organization and structuring of the ghetto to meet the needs of the people who live there.
- "5. To create a common force of grass-roots people to affect positive change in the ghetto.

"The problems with which this program is concerned are poverty, employment, education, housing, police brutality, inter-group relations, health and welfare, community services and property ownership.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"Statement by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.
President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference
Atlanta, Georgia

"December 4, 1967

"Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Last week the staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference held one of the most important meetings we have ever convened. We had intensive discussions and analyses of our work and of the challenges which confront us and our nation, and at the end we made a decision which I wish to announce today.

"The Southern Christian Leadership Conference will lead waves of the nation's poor and disinherited to Washington, D. C., next spring to demand redress of their grievances by the United States government and to secure at least jobs or income for all.

"We will go there, we will demand to be heard, and we will stay until America responds. If this means forcible repression of our movement, we will confront it, for we have done this before. If this means scorn or ridicule, we embrace it, for that is what America's poor now receive. If it means jail, we accept it willingly, for the millions of poor already are imprisoned by exploitation and discrimination. But we hope, with growing confidence, that our campaign in Washington will receive at first a sympathetic understanding across our nation, followed by dramatic expansion of nonviolent demonstrations in Washington and simultaneous protests elsewhere. In short, we will be petitioning our government moves against poverty.

"We have now begun preparations for the Washington campaign. Our staff will soon be taking new assignments to organize people to go to Washington from 10 key cities and 5 rural areas. This will be no mere one-day march in Washington, but a trek to the nation's capital by suffering and outraged citizens

"who will go to stay until some definite and positive action is taken to provide jobs and income for the poor.

"We are sending our staff into these key areas to meet with the local leadership of these areas to discuss their readiness to cooperate with us in this venture.

"In the coming weeks we will disclose our detailed plans on mobilizing this massive campaign. and on the specific proposals which we are formulating.

"Today I would like to tell you why the Southern Christian Leadership Conference has decided to undertake this task with the advice and participation we anticipate from other organizations and thousands of individuals.

"America is at a crossroads of history, and it is critically important for us, a nation and a society, to choose a new path and move upon it with resolution and courage.

"It is impossible to under-estimate the crisis we face in America. The stability of a civilization, the potential of free government, and the simple honor of men are at stake.

"Those who serve in the human-rights movement, including our Southern Christian Leadership Conference, are keenly aware of the increasing bitterness and despair and frustration that threaten the worst chaos, hatred and violence any nation has ever encountered.

"In a sense, we are already at war with and among ourselves. Affluent Americans are locked into suburbs of physical comfort and mental insecurity; poor Americans are locked inside ghettos of material privation and spiritual debilitation; and all of us can almost feel the presence of a kind of social insanity which could lead to national ruin.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"Consider, for example, the spectacle of cities burning while the national government speaks of repression instead of rehabilitation. Or think of children starving in Mississippi while prosperous farmers are rewarded for not producing food. Or Negro mothers leaving children in tenements to work in neighborhoods where people of color can not live. Or the awesome bombardment, already greater than the munitions we exploded in World II, against a small Asian land, while political brokers de-escalate and very nearly disarm a timid action against poverty. Or a nation gorged on money while millions of its citizens are denied a good education, adequate health services, decent housing, meaningful employment, and even respect, and are then told to be responsible.

"The true responsibility for the existence of these deplorable conditions lies ultimately with the larger society, and much of the immediate responsibility for removing the injustices can be laid directly at the door of the federal government.

"This is the institution which has the power to act, the resources to tap, and the duty to respond. And yet, this very government now lacks the will to make reforms which are demanded by a rising chorus across the nation. According to the Harris Poll, for example, a substantial majority of Americans believe that we must proceed at once to tear down and rebuild the slums, and a solid majority feel that everyone should have a job. Concerned leaders of industry, civil-rights organizations, labor unions and churches are joining in such groups as the new Urban Coalition to urge progressive economic measures at the national level. Many urban political leaders are ready to carry out enlightened programs if only the federal government will provide the needed financial support. Newsweek magazine recently devoted an entire issue to the problem of racism in America and set forth some sound proposals for dealing with this situation.

"I cite these facts merely to show that a clear majority in America are asking for the very things which we will demand in Washington.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"We have learned from hard and bitter experience in our movement that our government does not move to correct a problem involving race until it is confronted directly and dramatically. It required a Selma before the fundamental right to vote was written into the federal statutes. It took a Birmingham to dramatize the economic plight of the Negro, and compel the government to act.

"Unrest among the poor of America, and particularly among Negroes, is growing rapidly. In this age of technological wizardry and political immorality, the poor are demanding that the basic need of people be met as the first priority of our domestic programs. Poor people can not long be placated by the glamour of multi-billion-dollars exploits in space. Poor people who encounter racial discrimination every day in every aspect of their lives can not be fooled by patronizing gestures and half-way promises. Poor people who are treated with derision and abuse by an economic system soon conclude with elementary logic that they have no rational interest in killing people 12,000 miles away in the name of defending that system.

"We intend to channelize the smouldering rage and frustration of Negro people in to an effective, militant and nonviolent movement of massive proportions in Washington and other areas. Similarly, we will be calling on the swelling masses of young people in this country who are disenchanting with this materialistic society, and asking them to join us in our new Washington movement. We also look for participation by representatives of the millions of non-Negro poor-Indians, Mexican-Americans, Puerto Ricans, Appalachians, and others. And we shall welcome assistance from all Americans of good will.

"And so, we have decided to go to Washington and to use any means of legitimate nonviolent protest necessary to move our nation and our government on a new course of social, economic, and political reform. As I said before, the power to initiate this reform resides in Washington. The President and the Congress have a primary responsibility for low minimum wages, for a degrading system of inadequate welfare, for subsidies of the rich and unemployment and under-

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

"employment of the poor, for a war mentality, for slums and starvation, and racism. The survival of a free society depends upon the guarantee and survival of freedom and equality. This is what we seek.

"In the final analysis, SCLC decided to go to Washington because, if we did not act, we would be abdicating our responsibilities as an organization committed to nonviolence and freedom. We are keeping that commitment, and we shall call on America to join us in our forthcoming Washington campaign. In this way, we can work creatively against the despair and indifference that have so often caused our nation to be immobilized during the cold winter and shaken profoundly in the hot summer."

THE "MIAMI HERALD" LOCAL MIAMI, FLA., NEWSPAPER, REPORTED FEB. TWENTY, SIXTYEIGHT, THAT DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., OPENED A SERIES OF MEETINGS FEB. NINETEEN, LAST, DESIGNED TO HELP NEGRO CLERGYMEN MINISTER TO THE SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC NEEDS OF THEIR CONGREGATIONS. DR. KING AND REV. ANDREW YOUNG, AN AIDE IN THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE (SCLC) SAID THE FIVE-DAY SERIES OF CONFERENCES WILL NOT INCLUDE PLANNING FOR CIVIL RIGHTS AND ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATIONS. THEY BOTH SAID THEY DID NOT EXPECT STOKELY CARMICHAEL AND RAP BROWN, LEADERS OF THE VOCAL BLACK NATIONALIST MILITANCY, TO ATTEND. HOWEVER, REV. YOUNG SAID, "IF STOKELY AND RAP COME WE WON'T THROW THEM OUT."

LT. HARVERT SWILLEY, MIAMI, FLA., PD, MADE AVAILABLE A FOUR-PAGE LEAFLET ON THE MINISTERS LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM. THIS LEAFLET STATES THE PROGRAM IS DESIGNED TO TRAIN LOCAL LEADERS IN THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE MANY PROBLEMS WHICH THE

RESIDENTS OF THE GHETTO FACE AND WAYS OF SOLVING THESE PROBLEMS. THE PROGRAM BEGINS WITH AN ORIENTATION WORKSHOP IN MIAMI, FLA., AND WILL BE CONDUCTED IN FIFTEEN METROPOLITAN AREAS. EIGHT TO TWENTY MINISTERS HAVE BEEN SELECTED FROM THESE AREAS AND WILL DEAL IN PROBLEMS CONCERNING POVERTY, EMPLOYMENT, EDUCATION, HOUSING, POLICE BRUTALITY, INTER-GROUP RELATIONS, HEALTH AND WELFARE, COMMUNITY SERVICES AND PROPERTY OWNERSHIP.

LT. SWILLEY STATED THAT AMONG THE VARIOUS ITEMS OF LITERATURE GIVEN TO THE MINISTERS ATTENDING THE MIAMI CONFERENCE IS A TYPED STATEMENT MADE BY DR. KING ON DEC. FOUR, SIXTYSEVEN. IN THIS STATEMENT, DR. KING SAID SCLC WILL LEAD WAVES OF THE NATION'S POOR AND DISINHERITED TO WASHINGTON, D.C., NEXT SPRING TO DEMAND REDRESS OF THEIR GRIEVANCES BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AND TO SECURE AT LEAST JOBS OR INCOME FOR ALL.

BIG CITY AREAS. HE STATED THAT ATTENTION WOULD BE GIVEN TO ATTEMPTING TO RECONCILE THE TERM "BLACK POWER" WITH THE OVER-ALL CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT IN THE U.S. NONVIOLENCE WAS CONTINUALLY STRESSED AT OPENING CONFERENCE. DR. KING FURTHER STATED THAT OVER-INTEGRATION COULD OCCUR TO THE POINT THAT NEGROES COULD LOSE THEIR IDENTITY. HE GAVE AN EXAMPLE OF THE INTEGRATION OF THE METHODIST CHURCH, NOT FURTHER EXPLAINED. THE ONLY REMARK MADE RELATIVE TO WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT WAS THAT THIS CONFERENCE WAS NOT FOR THE PURPOSE OF RECRUITING PEOPLE FOR TRIP TO WASHINGTON NOR WOULD IT BE A TOPIC OF DISCUSSION. ENTIRE GROUP TO BE BROKEN UP INTO "WORKSHOP UNITS" FOR STUDY AND TRAINING FEB. TWENTY, SIXTYEIGHT. ALL MINISTERS EXPECTED TO TAKE PART IN STUDY GROUPS.

THE ONLY ITEM OF DISSENSION DURING OPENING MEETING WAS ANNOUNCEMENT MADE THAT DAN MONAHAN, IN SOME WAY CONNECTED WITH URBAN HOUSING, HAD BEEN INVITED TO ADDRESS CONFERENCE. SOME PARTICIPANTS OBJECTED, HOWEVER, REV. YOUNG STATED THAT HE COULD CONTRIBUTE TO CONFERENCE AND THAT HE SHOULD BE HEARD.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation dated February 10, 1968.

The "Miami Herald," a local Miami, Florida, newspaper, reported February 18, 1968, that some Negro leaders, not further identified, will urge Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., at meetings in Miami, Florida, to detour his planned massive civil disobedience demonstration scheduled for April in Washington, D.C. The Negro leaders will recommend that efforts be redirected to demonstrate in districts of Congressmen who have voted against civil rights legislation.

The "Miami Herald" reported that one prominent civil rights leader, who requested his identity be withheld, said "Congressmen could care less about demonstrations in Washington-- and Negroes could be made to look bad nationally. But if the demonstrations are held in the home districts of certain Congressmen they most certainly will feel the impact."

MM T-1 advised on February 19, 1968, that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., arrived at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel at 10:30 PM on February 18, 1968. Dr. KING refused to utilize the suite reserved for him and kept moving from room to room. Two of Dr. KING's aides, identified as Dr. A. YOUNG and Reverend F. C. BENNETT, made a thorough check of the room reserved for Dr. KING, apparently looking for a "bugging device."

Dr. KING, through Dr. YOUNG and Reverend BENNETT, according to the source, has already refused to be interviewed by the various news media and it appeared to the source that KING was quite concerned with the amount of security being effected by the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel, along with local authorities.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

MM T-1 reported that the Ministers Leadership Training Program started with a luncheon in the Pan American Room at 12:30 PM, February 19, 1968, with attendance estimated at 160 persons. The Diplomat Room has been set aside as an exhibit room and the general meeting, with an estimated 170 persons in attendance, is taking place in the Parliamentary and Assembly Room.

The source reported there has been no evidence of picketing or demonstrations taking place at the Sheraton Four Ambassadors Hotel.

Copies of this memorandum are being disseminated to U. S. Secret Service, Miami; United States Attorney, Miami; 111th M. I. Group, Miami and Orlando, Florida; OSI, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia, and NISO, Charleston, South Carolina.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 15, 1968, a confidential source, who has provided reliable information in the past, advised that he determined that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. was to arrive at Jackson, Mississippi from Atlanta, Georgia on this date to present a work shop on his Washington Spring Project (WSP) to local Jackson Negro groups at Mt. Beulah Center, Edwards, Mississippi.

Appropriate local, state, and federal authorities were immediately advised by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) of the pending arrival of Reverend King at Jackson.

miss } David Bethea, Investigator (NA), Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol (MHSP), advised that Reverend King arrived at Thompson Airport at Jackson, Mississippi at 10:20 AM, on February 15, 1968 from Atlanta, Georgia. King was accompanied in a private Cessna Aircraft by two Negro males, Hosea Williams and Bernard Lee, aides of King's. Also accompanying King on his private plane, in addition to the pilot and co-pilot were Associated Press reporter Don Mc Kee of Atlanta, Georgia, Jose Y. Glesias, reporter with the New York Times Sunday Magazine and two cameramen from the National Education Television group, San Francisco, California. Bethea said these latter four individuals were white males. only

Bethea said the group was met by Leon Hall and R. B. Cottonreader, Negro male, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) leaders from Grenada, Mississippi and two unidentified Negroes, one female and one male.

Bethea said the group then entered two automobiles, a 1967 blue Ford, bearing Mississippi license H-32681 and a 1968 yellow Ford, bearing Mississippi license H-45322. He said King rode in the yellow Ford. He said the group arrived at Jackson at 10:20 AM and departed the airport at 10:45 AM.

On February 15, 1968, Mrs. Elinor Naron, Hinds County, Mississippi Auto Tag Agency, advised that Mississippi license H-32681 is registered for a 1967 Ford, Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) 7U53C145757 to the Lawyers' Committee, 233 North Parish Street, Jackson, Mississippi. She said Mississippi license H-45322 is registered for a 1968 Ford, VIN 8US6F125108 to Hertz-Rent-A-Car, Jackson, Mississippi.

On February 16, 1968, B. J. Warren, City Manager, Hertz-Rent-A-Car, 141 East Amite Street, Jackson, advised that a 1968 Ford, Mississippi license H-45322 was rented on February 14, 1968 to Reverend A. J. Young, SCLC, 334 Auburn Avenue, Atlanta, Georgia. He said the auto was rented at the airport office of Hertz and was returned to that office on the morning of February 16, 1968.

On January 25, 1968, a second confidential source advised that Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, would serve as "field director" of demonstrations to be conducted in Washington, D. C., commencing the early part of April, 1968 as part of SCLC'S Washington Spring Project.

On February 1, 1968, same source advised Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, recently informed SCLC officers that Williams would also have general supervision of all SCLC personnel connected with the WSP. This will include personnel in Washington, D. C., as well as each of the other cities and/or locations which will be involved in the WSP.

A characterization of Hosea Williams appears in the appendix of this document.

On February 15, 1968, M. B. Pierce, Chief of Detectives, Jackson, Mississippi Police Department, advised that he determined that Reverend King was transported to Jackson in an aircraft rented from the Atlanta Air Taxi, Post Office Box 20658, Atlanta, Georgia. He said the pilots were Thomas Milles and James Sorell, both white males. He said the plane is a Cessna 406 twin engine plane, color white, with black stripes. He said the plain bears Number N3223Q.

On February 15, 1968, David Bethea, MHSP, advised that Reverend King and his party, upon leaving the Jackson airport, drove directly to the Mt. Beulah Center, at Edwards, Mississippi, a distance of about 20 miles west of Jackson. He said they arrived at Mt. Beulah at 11:35 AM.

Bethea said he and another Highway Patrol Investigator, who were escorting Reverend King throughout his travels in Jackson, were not allowed on the grounds at the Mt. Beulah Center.

On December 16, 1968, a third confidential source advised that he had attended a work shop held at Mt. Beulah Center on February 15, 1968 by Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. Source said that about 100 persons were in attendance and after Reverend King arrived lunch was served in a hall at Mt. Beulah to Reverend King's party and others who had gathered. Source said no press representatives were allowed at the dinner or at a work shop conducted thereafter. Source said after the dinner, Reverend King addressed the bi-racial group present, explaining the purpose of his WSP and talking at length about the way poverty stricken people are suffering in the United States today. The source said at one point a question and answer session was held and Reverend King directed several of the questions received from the audience to his assistant, Hosea Williams, who answered the questions. The source said no groups present indicated they would definitely support King in his WSP, however, it was decided that another meeting in this regard would be held at the Mt. Beulah Center on March 3, 1968. Reverend King indicated he would send an aide to represent him at this next meeting. Source said Reverend King did not indicate when he would return to Mississippi again.

The same source said the following individuals and groups known to him were present at this work shop:

- 1- Delta Ministry, National Council of Churches, a bi-racial religious group active in Mississippi, which was represented by Owen Brooks, Negro male, Reverend Ed King, white male, and Roger Smith, white male.
- 2- Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, a bi-racial political group in Mississippi represented by Lawrence Thomas Guyot, Jr., Negro male, its chairman and Victoria Gray, Negro female, Executive Board Member.
- 3- The Mississippi Chapter of the National Welfare Rights organization, a bi-racial group seeking favorable welfare legislation which was represented by GERALDINE SMITH, Negro female, State Chairman.

4- Southern Cooperative Development Agency, a by-racial group which is setting up cooperatives in Negro Ghetto areas in Mississippi, and which was represented by two supervisors, Carolyn Williams, and Henry Hatches, Jr., both Negroes. miss

The source said that several National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) members were present, however, no state officers were recognized.

The source said that Lawrence Guyot and Geraldine Smith, during one discussion, indicated they were not too anxious to support the WSP as they thought it could possibly disillusion poor Negroes if they traveled all the way to Washington and were unsuccessful.

The source said that the visit of Reverend King had been arranged by R. B. Cottonreader and Leon Hall, SCLC leaders in Grenada, Mississippi.

The source said Reverend King and his party left the Mt. Beulah Center shortly after 2:00 PM on February 15, 1968 to return to the airport.

On February 15, 1968, a fourth confidential source advised that he attended a work shop conducted by Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. at the Mt. Beulah Center on that date. The source said that about 150 people were in attendance at the closed session and that King addressed the group seeking support for his WSP in April, 1968. The source said Reverend King and his party appeared to be well received by the group, however, no definite support was guaranteed to Reverend King for his project. The source said the work shop held at Mt. Beulah Center was closed to all news media.

On February 15, 1968, David Bethea, MHSP, advised that Reverend King departed the Mt. Beulah Center at 2:31 PM in the previously described yellow 1968 Ford. He said Reverend King was accompanied by another car, a late model brown Cadillac, bearing Illinois license 225-058. He said these two cars then proceeded to the Edwards Junior High School at Edwards, Mississippi where the school children had been lined up outside of the school on a play ground. He said Reverend King dismounted his car, greeted the children, shook hands with a few of them and then got back in his car and departed. Bethea said this school is a Negro public school in Edwards.

Bethea said King then proceeded directly from Edwards, Mississippi to the Thompson Airport at Jackson, Mississippi, arriving at 3:30 PM.

Don Mc Kee, Associated Press reporter, from Atlanta, Georgia, was accompanying Reverend King, and advised that King would be leaving Jackson for Birmingham, Alabama where he expected to make several stops and then was to visit Montgomery, Alabama thereafter.

On February 15, 1968, David Bethea, MHSP, advised that Reverend King and his party departed Jackson in the same private aircraft they arrived in, at 4:35 PM on this same date.

On February 15, 1968, David Bethea, MHSP and M. B. Pierce, Jackson Police Department, each advised there were no incidents regarding Reverend King's visit to Jackson on this date.

Appropriate local, state and federal authorities were advised of Reverend King's departure and pertinent details regarding his visit as they were received.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL

In July, 1962, Hunter Pitts O'Dell, also known as Jack H. O'Dell, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

Hunter Pitts O'Dell told Edwina Smith December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

HOSEA WILLIAMS

During October, 1964, a confidential source advised that on October 3, 1964, Ruth Bailey, then an employee of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC), Harlem, New York Office, while discussing several SCLC personalities with one Connie Campbell, referred to Williams. Bailey said Williams had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) Hunter Pitts O'Dell had told him more about politics than he could read.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

Reference is made to Cleveland memorandum, dated February 9, 1968.

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past except for CV T-3 who has furnished some reliable and some unreliable information in the past.

CV T-1 advised on February 11, 1968, that he has stopped by at the storefront at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, which is the headquarters of the WSP, on at least a dozen occasions over the weekend of February 10-11, 1968, but the store has been locked with no one inside. There are some desks and a telephone in this store and the lights are on but no one is ever there, nor is there any sign to indicate this is the WSP headquarters in Cleveland.

CV T-2 reported on February 13, 1968, that he had also stopped by at WSP headquarters at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, during the past two days but this storefront has been closed; source learned through several inquiries that Reverend OSBURN had not been at WSP headquarters as he has been out of town.

CV T-3 mentioned on February 15, 1968, that ED OSBURN a civil rights leader in Cleveland would be leaving Cleveland on February 16, 1968, for a week long meeting at Miami, Florida, which will be attended by 100 ministers. This meeting reportedly is sponsored by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), and will be financed by the Ford Foundation. Reportedly Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING had indicated to OSBURN that this meeting would pertain to leadership training for the forthcoming demonstrations in Washington, D.C., and other cities in the Spring of 1968. KING plans to visit Cleveland during the week following the Miami meeting to gain support for these demonstrations.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 9, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, said that Albert Turner, State of Alabama leader of the Washington Spring Project, and State of Alabama recruiter for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) addressed a meeting of the Alabama Action Committee (AAC), a Civil Rights Group, at Montgomery, Alabama, on February 5, 1968. At the time, Turner divulged that the SCLC received a $25,000 grant within the last ten days from the Ford Foundation, which was to help defray expenses of the upcoming SCLC demonstrations to be held at Washington, D. C. this spring.

Turner, the source said, is attempting to recruit 200 persons in Alabama for the Washington Spring Project. He is concentrating his activities in this regard in the following seven counties:

Dallas
Monroe
Lowndes
Bullock
Montgomery
Macon
Autauga

The source added that Richard Boone, Executive Director of the AAC, made an appearance following Turner's talk at the AAC meeting held on February 5, 1968, at Montgomery. Boone confirmed Turner's announcement about the $25,000 contributed by the Ford Foundation.

ALABAMA ACTION COMMITTEE

Seemingly, Turner and Boone have some kind of a working agreement, the source said. It would also appear, the source said, that some kind of alliance exists between the SCLC and the AAC, for the fact that Turner used a meeting of the AAC as a platform to raise his quota of 200 demonstrators for the Washington Spring Project.

ALA

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

The source said that even though it appears the AAC and the SCLC are cooperating in the Washington Spring Project, he has discovered nothing to cause him to believe that Martin Luther King and Richard Boone are not still at odds.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, on February 14 and 15, 1968, advised that he had received a written notice, which was undated, from Albert Turner at Marica, Alabama, inviting him to attend a meeting to be held on Friday, February 16, 1968, at a Baptist Church located at 143 Broad Street, Selma, Alabama, at 10:00 A. M. The source added that Dr. Martin Luther King was scheduled to address the meeting and to solicit support from those in attendance for the Washington Spring Project.

After the Selma meeting, the source said that King was scheduled to appear at Montgomery at 12:30 P. M., February 16, 1968, at the Maggie Street Baptist Church, where he was to give a similar talk about the Washington Spring Project. Thereafter, King was expected to make his way to Birmingham, Alabama, by airplane.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)
RACIAL MATTERS

On February 15, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised as follows:

On February 12, 1968, a meeting of members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was held at the Paschel Motor Inn, Atlanta, Georgia, concerning the Washington Spring Project which is planned to take place during the first part of April, 1968, in Washington, D. C. The following SCLC officers and staff members were present at this meeting:

Martin Luther King,
President of SCLC
Reverend James Bevel
Reverend Jesse Jackson.
Andrew Young
Bernard La Fayette
Hosea Williams
Reverend Fred C. Bennette
Bill Rutherford
J. T. Johnson
Ralph Henry
Stoney Cooks

The discussion during this meeting primarily concerned the march from Baltimore, Maryland, to Washington, D. C., which is to signal the beginning of the Washington Spring Project. It was reported at this meeting that there is believed to be a serious threat against the life of Martin Luther King and that an attempt upon his life will be made during this march. In order to counteract such an attempt, Reverend Bennette was assigned to be in charge of security for Martin Luther King and Ralph Henry was assigned to be Reverend Bennette's assistant. It was indicated that those involved in this security should be alert for danger, not only from white persons but also from Negroes. No additional information was given at this time concerning any possible threats.

It was reported by several of those present that serious difficulty had been encountered in the northern states in recruiting participants for the Washington Spring Project. It was, therefore, decided to concentrate the recruitment of participants in the southern states.

It was also reported that serious financial problems have developed, especially in certain areas. Hosea Williams presented proposed budgets for the "financially deprived or unresponsive areas involved in the Washington campaign." He stated that for one reason or another the following areas seemed to be having unsolved financial problems in getting their mobilization and recruiting started:

- Mississippi
- Alabama
- Georgia
- North Carolina
- South Carolina
- Virginia
- Washington, D. C.
- Baltimore, Maryland

Williams stated that it was originally planned that each project area was to raise its own funds, however, this does not seem possible in the poorer areas at this time. He reported that he had conferred with project leaders in the above areas and they state that they can do the job provided they are furnished the resources to get it started. Based on Williams' conversations with these leaders, a budget has been drawn up for each of the above areas which provides between $1,200 to $1,500 per month with the exception of South Carolina which will receive $740 and Washington, D. C., which will receive $3,500. These budgets include payments for items such as bi-monthly payments to subsistence workers, travel, telephone expenses, costs of utilities, mailing expenses, office supplies and materials, and entertainment.

At the conclusion of this meeting, it was announced that subsequent meetings will be held every Monday for the next three weeks in an effort to complete the plans for the Washington Spring Project.

RACIAL INT/SECT

On 1/29/68 at an SCLC Executive Staff meeting KING announced HOSEA WILLIAMS would serve as "Field Director" in Washington, D. C., of the WSP and also have overall supervision of SCLC personnel involved in this project (re Atlanta airtel and LHM 2/2/68). ANDREW J. YOUNG, Executive Vice President, SCLC, at that time was instructed by KING to write a letter to each SCLC staff member previously assigned to various cities and locations to recruit demonstrators for the WSP in which he was to inform them of WILLIAMS' position.

On 2/12/68 WILLIAMS determined this letter had not been written and as a result SCLC personnel did not know to whom they should report or from whom to seek assistance. WILLIAMS also submitted during the 2/12/68 meeting a memorandum in which he requested a budget (of approximately $10,000) a secretary, and an Assistant in order to effectively supervise the WSP. There then ensued at this meeting considerable petty discussion as to the validity of WILLIAMS' requests. WILLIAM A. RUTHERFORD, Executive Director, SCLC, made an issue over the fact he did not have the time or inclination to pass judgment on a multitude of vouchers which WILLIAMS would submit in connection with his budget. WILLIAMS became enraged and left the meeting for almost an hour. KING made no effort to control the disorganized discussion or to render a decision.

The 2/12/68 meeting adjourned without the staff reaching a decision on WILLIAMS' requests. KING, YOUNG, RUTHERFORD, and RALPH D. ABERNATHY, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC, were supposed to meet regarding these issues on 2/13/68. Informant did not have opportunity to participate in this meeting and as of 2/14/68 had no further information regarding this matter.

Informant observed that there appears to be a continuing battle of personalities between WILLIAMS and RUTHERFORD. He also observed that KING seems to be in a substantial twofold dilemma predicated upon his tremen-docs ego, i.e., one, should he cooperate fully with WILLIAMS which probably will insure the success of the WSP but at the same time will permit WILLIAMS to have the limelight and possibly become a virtual hero; two, should he keep WILLIAMS more or less throttled despite his refusal to accept WILLIAMS' recent resignation and take a chance the WSP will be successful without the benefit of WILLIAMS' full energies or take a chance the WSP may not succeed and have the national and international image of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., become tarnished. It is because of the latter informant believes that KING has indicated he is considering the possibility of finding an excuse to drop the WSP.

Based upon information herein and previous information submitted it is felt informant's observations are reasonably accurate.

Almost half the period of time originally planned by SCLC to recruit and train its WSP demonstrators has passed and the entire project seems to be suffering from indecision and petty wrangles on the part of the SCLC staff, not to mention the idiosyncrasies of KING's ego.

At this point it would appear SCLC will require a good measure of luck to make its WSP a successful venture by early April.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

A confidential source on February 14, 1968, advised he had learned that Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), continued to be discouraged with the lack of progress made by SCLC staff members in recruiting and training demonstrators for SCLC's Washington Spring Project, (WSP). In this connection Reverend King recently held an "emergency meeting" of the SCLC Executive officers to consider the WSP.

Reverend King pointed out that SCLC has previously announced that it will have 3,000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., in early April 1968. Should only a few hundred demonstrators appear in Washington, D. C., Reverend King said he and SCLC would become the laughing stock of the nation. He declared that if SCLC produces 3,000 demonstrators and the nation fails to react appropriately this will be the responsibility of the nation and not SCLC. On the other hand, he said, SCLC will be greatly at fault if it does not produce the announced number of demonstrators.

Reverend King suggested that officers of SCLC seriously consider whether or not they can successfully carry out the planned WSP. He said if they feel they cannot then it will be necessary to establish a reason as to why he and SCLC finds it necessary to discontinue the WSP.

During the middle of February 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that on February 15, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) contemplated traveling to Birmingham, Montgomery, Selma, and Tuscaloosa, Alabama, for the purpose of speaking to people in those communities in effort to generate interest in SCLC's Washington Spring Project. Source said he understood Reverend King would be accompanied by Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC, and Histon Petilla, a representative of the Department of Information, SCLC. Reverend King intended to travel via chartered airplane. Source was unable to furnish any further details. A/3

Reference is made to Philadelphia communication dated January 31, 1968.

Confidential informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised February 8, 1968, that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., would be in Philadelphia to hold meetings and workshops on February 9, 10, 1968. On Friday, February 9, 1968, KING had meetings scheduled from 9:00 a.m. until late in the evening with black church men, suburban groups, welfare rights people, community leadership people, Afro-American groups, educational people, and militants of Philadelphia. Attendance at the conferences would be by invitation only. All of the meetings were to be held at St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church at 52nd and Larrich, whose rector is Father JESSE ANDERSON.

KING was also scheduling meetings at the church for Saturday, February 10, 1968, with other interested civil rights people from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

The source also advised that the SCLC had rented the space at 2102 West Diamond Street, Philadelphia, under the name of the Philadelphia Christian Leadership Conference which would be the headquarters of the Rev. JAMES CRANCE and WILLIE TARB and his wife, advance coordinators for KING's endeavor to obtain volunteers in Philadelphia for the Washington Spring Project of SCLC.

Source advised that KING arrived in Philadelphia at 7:30 a.m. on February 9, 1968, from New York City by air and attempted to hold the first meeting with Negro ministers at St. Thomas Church; however, only 100 ministers were present by 10:00 a.m. KING had a number of meetings scheduled to meet for an hour and an hour and a half a piece until 4:00 in the afternoon when a free period was scheduled plus dinner and more meetings of other groups were scheduled from 8:00 p.m. until late at night. Since no more than 15 people showed up to take part in KING's activity at the church, Dr. KING held a press conference at 11:45 a.m. His remarks to the assembled press dealt mainly with the Vietnam war, national policy of the United States Government, and the Pueblo incident.

Dr. KING then left the church for lunch and shortly after 3:00 p.m. he returned to the church at the insistence of the Rev. ANDERSON, whereupon KING agreed reluctantly to address the group with the stipulation he spend no more than 15 minutes with them. There were approximately 20 people spoken to by Dr. KING.

After meeting with this group Dr. KING talked with another group which was designated as "welfare rights organizations" and apparently the Rev. JAMES GRANCE also addressed this group because subsequent to this meeting several women were overheard to say "that GRANCE is a liar and can do nothing for Mr. KING. He is a phony in every sense of the word."

Dr. KING left the church at approximately 4:00 p.m. for dinner and relaxation and returned at 8:20 p.m. to appear before a group of individuals identified as Afro-American groups, militants, and educational people. There were approximately 30 people in attendance and this meeting lasted no more than 20 minutes.

The source advised that Dr. KING was extremely annoyed, agitated, and disappointed by the lack of attendance at the meetings and he did not desire to return for the evening meetings; however, he was told by telephone over a hundred people were waiting when in reality there were only about 30.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

A conversation was overheard to the effect that ORANGE, who is in charge of the Philadelphia office at 2102 Diamond Street of SCLC's Washington Spring Project, said this is a temporary headquarters and will only be used in an attempt to secure participants for the Washington Spring Project. KING has no further plans of any activity in Philadelphia other than this recruitment.

KING's plans for meeting with groups on Saturday morning were cancelled and according to press publicity KING was suffering from laryngitis; however, it is the considered opinion of the source that KING was pipped at the lack of attendance at the Friday meetings.

The source also advised that there had apparently been a concerted effort made by some unknown individual to persuade ministers not to cooperate with KING by not showing up at the Friday morning first conference. This could very likely be true since there were only two Negro ministers on hand for the Friday morning meeting.

It would also appear from overheard conversations and comments that KING's advance men, ORANGE and TABB, did not do an effective job.

Dr. KING left by air at 12:30 p.m., February 10, 1968, for Atlanta, Ga.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 15, 1968, a first confidential source, advised a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (SA of FBI) that the Ohio State University Committee to End the War, a recognized student organization at Ohio State University (OSU), Columbus, Ohio, had reserved space in the Ohio Union, on the OSU Campus, on January 20-21, 1968, for a "non-violent workshop". The first confidential source said reservations for the space were made by Professor Bernard Rosen, Department of Philosophy, OSU, the faculty adviser for the OSU Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

The first confidential source said the reservation for the "non-violent workshop" listed the following proposed speakers:

James E. Bristol

Charles Walker

Reverend Osborne

Fred Shuttlesworth

Michael Bibler

The first confidential source said the proposed speakers were identified only by name, and it was indicated the speeches concerned non-violent tactics.

On January 22, 1968, a second confidential source, advised an SA of the FBI that a workshop to study non-violent demonstration techniques was held at the Ohio State University Student Union building, Columbus, Ohio, on January 20 and 21, 1968.

The second confidential source advised as follows:

The workshop was scheduled to be held from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., January 20, 1968, and from 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., January 21, 1968. However, participants in the workshop did not begin arriving for the workshop until late in the afternoon of January 20, 1968. There were approximately twenty-six individuals present when the workshop finally got underway. Pat Shafer, field secretary of the Ohio Peace Action Council, was in charge of the workshop.

The principal speakers at the workshop were Reverend Ed Randall Osburn, Cleveland, Ohio, associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC); Mike Bibler; and James Bristol, associated with the American Friends Service Committee (AFSC). Reverend Osburn had driven to the workshop from Cleveland, Ohio, with Mike Bibler, while James Bristol had flown by airplane to Columbus, Ohio, from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

From the afternoon of January 20, 1968, to the conclusion of the workshop on that date, there was no discussion of non-violent demonstration techniques. The discussions centered around the Washington Spring Project, being sponsored by the SCLC at Washington, D.C., during the summer of 1968.

During their comments to the group, Reverend Osburn, Bibler, and Bristol indicated they had attended a meeting of the SCLC recently in Atlanta, Georgia, where Martin Luther King and other SCLC personnel discussed the Washington Spring Project. It was apparent that those three individuals had been scheduled to attend the workshop in the Ohio Union building for some time.

Reverend Osburn indicated the demonstration in Washington, D. C., would be composed initially of about 3,000 people from poverty areas in the United States, including whites, Negroes, and Puerto Ricans. Those persons would travel to Washington, D. C., and during the first week or ten days would demonstrate on the issues of poverty and jobs. After that period, the demonstration would pick up the peace issues.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Reverend Osburn indicated the Washington, D.C., demonstration would be a continuous program. The initial 3,000 demonstrators would live in Washington, D.C., and carry out demonstrations in the offices of Government officials and in other places. In the event any of the original 3,000 demonstrators were removed by arrest or any other reason, they would be replaced by other persons coming from the same area from which the original demonstrator had come.

Reverend Osburn emphasized that it was believed this would be the last chance to prove non-violent demonstrations could be effective in obtaining concessions on civil rights matters. Reverend Osburn stated if that effort failed, black nationalist groups would take over the leadership in civil rights matters. In connection with that situation, Reverend Osburn remarked, "Let's hope this works".

Bibler and Bristol, in their talks to the group attending the workshop, added nothing new, but supported the statements made by Reverend Osburn. All three speakers made frequent favorable references to Martin Luther King.

It was determined that Bristol anticipated there would be a Cincinnati, Ohio, group participating in the Washington, D.C., demonstration.

Bibler pointed out what he believed the civil rights movement had to accomplish to be effective. Bibler listed those as follows:

1. Gather information
2. Education of people.
3. Negotiations.
4. Confrontation and demonstration
5. Reconciliation.

Bibler was somewhat critical of peace groups and indicated he felt they had not accomplished anything.

During the workshop, it was brought out that there were two main points involved in the technique of civil disobedience:

1. Non-cooperation with an unjust law.
2. Non-cooperation with a just law to emphasize an unjust situation not regulated by law.

Bristol pointed out that the technique of blocking traffic was a case in which the traffic laws were just, but it could be used to emphasize a situation involving an unjust law. It was mentioned that as a technique, the demonstrators in Washington, D. C., could tie up traffic. That could be accomplished without breaking a law, because while there are laws which require a person to obey a stop light, there are no laws requiring a person to drive on the green light.

A brochure, "Training in Non-Violence," published by the Fellowship of Reconciliation, was available at the workshop. A booklet, "Theory and Practice of Civil Disobedience," by Arthur Harver, Centerbury, New Hampshire, also was available, and a charge of fifty cents for that booklet was requested.

The workshop concluded at approximately 10:30 p.m. on January 20, 1968. Most of the persons present indicated they would return for the meeting on January 21, 1968, inasmuch as many of the twenty-six individuals present appeared to be Ohio State University students.

On January 19, 1968, Pat Shafer had emphasized that selection of individuals to attend the workshop on January 20 and 21, 1968, should be done with great care, and persons attending would be expected to have the ability to return to their own areas and hold workshops on non-violence.

REVEREND FRED L. SHUTTLESWORTH

The June 18, 1966, edition of the "Cincinnati Herald", a weekly Negro newspaper of general circulation in Cincinnati, Ohio, refers to Reverend Fred L. Shuttlesworth, civil rights leader, as President of the Southern Conference Educational Fund (SCEF); also as Secretary of the Southern Conference Leadership Conference (SCLC), which is headed by Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. and as President of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, Birmingham, Alabama, which he founded.

Reverend Shuttlesworth is a nationally known Negro civil rights leader and speaker, who has traveled extensively throughout the United States on behalf of the civil rights movement.

Before coming to Cincinnati, Ohio, Reverend Shuttlesworth was Pastor during the mid-1950's of the Bethel Baptist Church in Birmingham, Alabama, and was also active in civil rights activity. During this period the "Birmingham News" and the "Birmingham Post-Herald" local newspapers identified Shuttlesworth as one of the principal leaders and prime movers for integration in the Birmingham, Alabama area. Shuttlesworth had participated in various sit-ins, marches and demonstrations in an attempt to abolish segregation on buses, in restaurants, schools and recreation facilities. As a result of his civil rights activity, Shuttlesworth was arrested on several occasions by local police authorities in the Alabama area. He was also at this time active in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and had formed in 1956 a new group called the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, which was dedicated to the abolition of racial segregation.

According to the "Cincinnati Post and Times Star", and the "Cincinnati Enquirer", daily newspapers in Cincinnati, Ohio, Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth has continued his efforts to abolish segregation in the Birmingham, Alabama area and has participated in several demonstrations at Cincinnati, Ohio. The same newspapers reported that Reverend Shuttlesworth, on April 17, 1966, was the concluding speaker at a demonstration march for integration in education at the site of the New Burton Elementary School in the Evendale area of Cincinnati, Ohio. On June 25, 1966, Reverend Fred Shuttlesworth was one of several arrested for trespassing on the grounds of Drake Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio, in protest of the hospital's failure to re-employ ten Negroes who had been dismissed.

On November 1, 1967, both these newspapers reported that Reverend Shuttlesworth held a prayer vigil and march rally in Cincinnati, Ohio, in sympathy for Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. and his followers who were serving jail sentences in Birmingham, Alabama.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC.

"The Southern Patriot", "a monthly publication, shows that it is published by the Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc. (SCEF).

"The Southern Patriot" was cited as an "organ" of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (SCHW) by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, June 12, 1947.

The SCHW was cited as a communist front by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 592, on June 12, 1947.

An amendment to the charter of the SCHW dated April 26, 1946, changed the name of that organization to the SCEF and listed its purpose as being to improve the educational and cultural standards of the Southern people in accordance with the highest American democratic institutions, traditions, and ideals.

The SCEF is self-described as having deep roots in the South where it began as the educational wing of the SCHW, organized in 1938 to work for economic and political reform. When the SCHW disbanded in the late 1940's, SCEF continued as an independent organization, rallying support for integration and democracy and helping to stimulate and nurture new movements of the early 1960's. The SCEF maintained headquarters in Louisiana for twenty years, but in 1966 moved its headquarters to Louisville, Kentucky.

A source advised on March 2, 1961, that Claude Lightfoot, a Communist Party Functionary, stated at a meeting of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 25, 1961, that the Communist Party is not connected with any progressive movement, but indirectly they do have some influence in the SCEF.

A second source, who is familiar with some phases of Communist Party activity in the New Orleans area, advised on June 8, 1966, that during the time that the SCHW was in existence members of the Communist Party were members of and worked actively in the SCHW; however, since the formation of the SCEF Communist Party members have not been encouraged to work in the SCEF. The source stated that the SCEF is a progressive liberal organization, which he considers a Communist Party front organization because it has gone along with the Communist Party on certain issues, particularly on the racial issue.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL FUND, INC. (CONT'D)

Carl Braden and Anne Braden, Director and Associate Director respectively of the SCEF, were identified by Alberta Ahearn, 3311 Payne, Louisville, Kentucky, a self-admitted former member of the Communist Party on December 13, 1954, in her testimony in Jefferson County, Kentucky Court in the prosecution of Carl Braden under a state sedition statute, as members of the Communist Party in Louisville, Kentucky, from January, 1951 to December, 1954.

A third source advised on May 28, 1965, that George Meyer, a Communist Party functionary, expressed great admiration for Carl and Anne Braden and the SCEF, with which they are affiliated, and expressed the view that the SCEF is the best organization in the South as far as doing effective work is concerned and that they have a better idea of what they are doing, where they are heading, and influence other organizations for the better.

The second source also advised on June 8, 1966, that many people who are officials and supporters of the SCEF while liberal in their views, are by no means Communists.

Recently Stanley Levison, principal advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, concerning funds for King's massive civil disobedience campaign called "Washington Spring Project." Levison stated he had examined the list of contributors to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and he did not observe any large donors on this list.

Rutherford mentioned that a suggestion had been made to have a group meeting of the larger contributors where someone would talk to the group and solicit funds. Levison suggested Andrew Young, Executive Vice President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, as the person to conduct that type of a meeting.

Levison then suggested that a meeting be held in the home of Harry Belafonte, a nationally known entertainer, of approximately sixty individuals who have contributed one thousand dollars or more to King's group in the past. RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Reference is made to communication from the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation dated February 5, 1968.

BOB ASHAUER, Chief of Security, Sheraton-Four Ambassadors, 801 South Bayshore Drive, Miami, Florida, furnished the following information:

Fifty-six suites of the Sheraton-Four Ambassadors Hotel have been booked through Freddie Henderson Travel Bureau, Atlanta, Georgia, for the period February 19 - 23, 1968. The suites are for Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and his party, estimated to be 150-200 persons. Fifty of the suites are deluxe rooms that can accommodate three to four individuals, and six of the suites are executive rooms. In addition, the Pan American Room, which can accommodate two hundred people, is being reserved for Dr. KING and his party. A request has been received to arrange for two luncheons, and in addition, a request has been received for extra meeting rooms. The additional meeting rooms are not available; however, the six executive rooms are sufficiently large to handle a group of 20 persons each.

With regard to security, arrangements have been made to hire one off-duty Miami police officer to stand guard at the entrance to the suite to be occupied by Dr. KING. Also, one off-duty Miami police officer and one off-duty Miami detective will be hired and stationed in the vicinity of the lobby and report on any unusual activity and in particular to report on pickets and demonstrators. Additional security will also be afforded through the 20 men regularly assigned to security at the hotel.

Information came to the attention of the resident manager, JAMES F. MIRACLE, and to the security department of the hotel on February 6, 1968, that ALPHONSO WOODALL, a Negro male, born April 2, 1923, residence 18501 N. W. 28th Place, Miami, is currently employed as a mechanic in the engineering department of the hotel under the supervision of GEORGE

BOURGET, engineer. According to BOURGET, WOODALL has indicated to him that he is extremely "anti-MARTIN LUTHER KING" and has agitated against KING in the past, in various locations. WOODALL displayed a photo scrapbook regarding his picketing of KING. Working with WOODALL at the hotel is one THOMAS FISHER, a Negro male, born April 9, 1937, residing at 1219 N. W. 66th Street, Miami. According to BOURGET, FISHER appears to be a supporter of KING rather than agitator.

ASHAUER stated that he has discussed this matter in detail with Sergeant EVERETT KAY, Intelligence Unit, Miami, Florida, Police Department, and every effort is being made to insure no trouble develops as a result of WOODALL's attitude toward Dr. KING.

On February 6, 1968, ALPHONSO WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to report that he is currently employed at the Four Ambassadors. He reported that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING will be staying at the hotel in the near future. He went on to relate that he had been questioned by members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) Miami, Florida, if he was going to picket Dr. KING when KING arrives in town. WOODALL stated that he informed SCLC that he had no plans to picket KING or to do anything against KING during KING's visit to Miami.

On February 9, 1968, MM T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that ALPHONSO WOODALL is well known to him. He reported that WOODALL is violently opposed to all that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING stands for and that it could be expected that WOODALL will attempt some type of protest, during KING's visit to Miami. MM T-1 reported that he has no positive information in this regard, but will be alert for any unusual activities on the part of WOODALL.

MM T-1 reported that a close friend and associate of WOODALL is THOMAS WASHINGTON, a Negro male, described as a "disciple" of ADAM CLAYTON POWELL. He said WASHINGTON comes from the Liberty City section of Miami and is the type of individual who would assist WOODALL in demonstrations against Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

ALPHONSO WOODALL first came to the attention of the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on July 11, 1967, when he telephonically advised that a group of Negroes were meeting at the Mary Elizabeth Hotel, Miami, Florida. When contacted on July 31, 1967, WOODALL displayed newspaper clippings concerning himself. These articles indicated that in April, 1967, he picketed Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING in Cleveland, Ohio. He picketed KING because of KING's stand against the war in Viet Nam. It was also indicated in the clippings that he picketed KING because he, WOODALL, had an 18 year old son who was killed in Viet Nam in January, 1967.

WOODALL was also quoted in these articles as saying he was going to get STOKELY CARMICHAEL with violence when he comes to Miami; however, CARMICHAEL has never come to Miami.

It was also indicated that he threw a brick through the window of Congressman ADAM CLAYTON POWELL's campaign headquarters in New York City a few years ago. He hoped to get arrested and then expose the way POWELL was financing his campaign for re-election to Congress. According to WOODALL, they just repaired the window and never said anything.

When questioned concerning these articles, WOODALL stated that he never intended to commit any act of violence if CARMICHAEL had come to Miami, but merely intended to picket him as he had KING, and was misquoted by newspapers.

On August 2, 1967, WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at about midnight. At this time, he appeared to be very upset, and WOODALL stated that he had heard that MARTIN LUTHER KING was going to come to Miami in the near future and that he was going to again picket him. He indicated that this picketing would be of a peaceful nature.

WOODALL appears to become upset over information concerning KING because of the death of his son in Viet Nam and also because he has another son currently serving in the United States Army.

On the morning of August 4, 1967, WOODALL telephonically contacted the Miami Office, at which time

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

he apologized for his being upset when he last called the Office. He advised that he had received a letter from his son, ALPHONSO WOODALL, JR., who is currently in the United States Army and due to go to Viet Nam.

He stated that when he heard that KING was coming he became upset, recalling his anti-Viet Nam war stand.

He advised that if he picketed KING, it would be of a peaceful nature and according to the laws of the City of Miami.

The following is a description of WOODALL as obtained through interview and observation:

Name:	ALPHONSO WOODALL
Address:	18501 N. W. 28th Place Miami, Florida
Race:	Negro
Sex:	Male
Date of Birth:	April 2, 1923
Height:	5'8"
Weight:	170 pounds
Hair:	Black
Eyes:	Brown

On February 9, 1968, information set forth above was discussed at length with Sergeant EVERETT KAY, Intelligence Unit, Miami Police Department. KAY reported that every effort will be made by the Police Department to keep ALPHONSO WOODALL and WOODALL's associates under close scrutiny during Dr. KING's visit to Miami. Sergeant KAY reported that several officers of the Miami Police Department will be available to assist in affording Dr. KING's visit appropriate security.

On February 9, 1968, the above information was also discussed with Lieutenant CHARLES BLACK, Intelligence Unit, Dade County Sheriff's Office.

Copies of this memorandum are being furnished to the United States Secret Service, Miami, Florida; United

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 9, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King was scheduled to visit Birmingham, Alabama, on Thursday, February 15, 1968, to preside at a meeting to be held at a CME Church, which the source believed was located at 300 Court Street, North. The meeting will be devoted to an explanation as to what the Washington Spring Movement is all about.

After the meeting at Birmingham, where King is expected to remain through the night of February 16, 1968, King will next visit Selma, Alabama, where he is expected to hold one similar meeting at 10:00 a.m., at the Tabernacle Baptist Church at 1410 North Broad Street, Selma, Alabama. Following the meeting at Selma, King will proceed to Montgomery, Alabama, where he is expected to hold another meeting on the same Saturday night, which will be devoted to explaining the aims and objectives of the Washington Spring Project.

The source further advised that Hosea Williams and T. Y. Rogers, Jr., both member of the Executive Staff of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), will be at Marion, Alabama, on February 10, 1968, to preside at a meeting which will be held at a local Baptist church. This meeting, expected to attract Negroes from throughout the State of Alabama, will get under way at 10:00 a.m. Again, the source said, this meeting will be devoted to familiarizing those in attendance with the aims and objectives of the Washington Spring Project.

ENCLOSURE

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

Although the meeting is open to all Negroes, the source made it clear that the SCLC is the organization which is directing the Washington Spring Project and has no intention of permitting any other group within the Civil Rights Movement, to use the Washington Spring Project to promote its activities.

The source further advised that four Negroes departed Marion, Alabama, via Greyhound Bus on January 22, 1968, to attend a school at an undetermined place in Georgia. The school holds classes in citizenship education and is sponsored by the SCLC. The source remarked that these four individuals attending the school, departed Marion, alone and were not accompanied by Een (Sunshine) Owens. The source said that Ben Owens is the assistant to Albert Turner, whom the source said was the State of Alabama Director for the Washington Spring Project.

The State of Alabama Department of Safety and local police agencies were notified of the plans of Martin Luther King to visit Birmingham, Selma and Montgomery, Alabama.

RACIAL MATTER

On February 5, 1968, a source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Lawrence Guyot, Chairman, Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, traveled to Atlanta, Georgia, on February 2, 1968, and conferred with Dr. Martin Luther King. Source had no additional information as to the purpose of Guyot's visit in Atlanta, but possibly he was attempting to obtain support for the forthcoming 1968 Democratic National Convention to be held in Chicago, Illinois.

On February 8, 1968, R. B. ~~Cottonreader~~ was contacted in regard to another matter and advised that he has been designated as Project Director for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Quitman County, Mississippi, but continues to reside at Grenada, Mississippi, at the present time. He stated he plans to travel to Washington, D. C., for the April demonstration and anticipates taking 200 or 300 individuals from Mississippi with him. His plans are incomplete at this time, but he intends to ask for volunteers in the near future to accompany him to Washington, D. C.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 8, 1968, that on that date William Rutherford, Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was in contact with Stanley Levison. Rutherford told Levison that he had been in Philadelphia attending a meeting, that there are some very important things going on in Philadelphia, and that the situation there is the best situation "we" have going. However, the source was unable to ascertain clarifying information about the situation in Philadelphia that Rutherford referred to.

The source continued that Rutherford advised Levison that the situation in Washington, D.C. was confused. He noted that they (SCLC representatives) held a couple of meetings "with Rap Brown and his commandos occupying the place with walkie talkies and bodyguards". He added that "they invaded this church and took it over. They wouldn't let people in." He said that "they" threw the press out of the meeting and that "they walked out of the meeting, disrupted it, occupied the church, and literally kept SCLC Board members out." The following morning, according to Rutherford, a picture of Stokely Carmichael appeared on the front page of the "Washington Post", captioned "Stokely Carmichael Discusses Washington Campaign with King" (Martin Luther King, President of the SCLC).

Rutherford related that the day following the church meeting they (SCLC officials) held a private meeting "with these guys" and "fit into them". Rutherford stated that he told Stokely (Carmichael) that he, Rutherford, wanted to hear what Stokely had to say, and that Stokely gave some "mealy-mouthed excuses" that did not stand up. Rutherford also noted that he told Carmichael that "these men told us" that they are interested in the total destruction of the United States.

Levison commented that he had heard Stokely say this and Rutherford's comment was that "this is what Rap (Brown) said last night". Rutherford continued that Stokely is now "sweet as pie. He pulled a power play on us in Washington", but did not win anything because everybody was opposing him.

Levison commented that he could not see the SCLC letting ten persons who threaten violence take over from hundreds. He described it as a dangerous thing, a kind of black facism.

Rutherford, in referring to the meeting, related that a person named Courtland (phonetic), whom he described as having been with the Congress of Racial Equality, made the statement that "they" would not support "our campaign" in Washington, D.C., but would not participate in any opposition to it. He said this is "their whole life", that although they could not take part in something they do not believe in, even though they have trouble from their constituents, they would not oppose it because anything that leads to liberation is worthwhile.

Rutherford said that King became very upset after this private meeting and began berating him. He said he told King that what "they" said is clear and that the SCLC knows now where they stand, that all the SCLC wanted and needed

"from them" was that they would not attempt to divide the community. He said "they" were honest, that "they" stated that if the SCLC fails in Washington, "we're going to get a lot of new recruits" but if the SCLC is successful "we are going to be in trouble". He recalled that at this moment King made a point, that if "they" should denounce the government, denounce the SCLC campaign and criticize it, this would create an atmosphere within which non-violence would have a better chance of succeeding. He added that Stokely responded that they have enough problems, that there is enough confusion and division in the black community, and that, if they should speak out against King or what he is doing, people will not know which way to turn.

Levison commented that he agreed with Carmichael and disagreed with King on this point. He inquired as to why King was upset.

Rutherford stated that King said the enemy was violence and began to preach on how violence begets violence.

Levison related that the key is that King states the enemy is violence which is not true. The enemy are the forces preventing them from getting rights and violence is one of the methods. He said that, therefore, they are trying to develop a counter technique to violence.

"The Worker", an East Coast Communist newspaper, in its issue dated February 11, 1968, page one, contains an article on the protest against United States involvement in the war in Vietnam in Washington, D.C. on February 5, 6, 1968, sponsored by the Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam. It states that King addressed the gathering of clergymen and laymen and told them that "it was imperative that the freedom and peace movements be joined. Describing the worsening economic conditions, he appealed to the religious leaders to join and support the demonstrations his organization has planned for Washington in April". The article also notes that King made it clear that the targets of the demonstrations would be the Vietnam war and Congress.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)
RACIAL MATTERS

A confidential source, an agency which collects security type information in the Chicago area, advised as follows, on February 8, 1968:

On the evening of February 2, 1968, a meeting was held at the offices of the West Side Organization (WSO), Chicago, for the purpose of affording Martin Luther King, Jr., an opportunity to solicit support from WSO members for the Washington Spring Project (WSP), being promoted and organized by King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). As publicly described by King, the WSP is an effort to mobilize large numbers of persons in Washington, D. C., in April, 1968, in protest of alleged United States Government failure to solve the problems of the poor in this country.

As it developed, King did not appear. It was announced King's wife was ill.

Approximately 95 persons were present. Appearing for King at this meeting was Reverend Ralph Abernathy, SCLC official, and Reverend James Bevel, of the Urban Training Center, 40 North Ashland, Chicago, former SCLC official in charge of the Chicago SCLC staff.

Both Bevel and Abernathy advised those present of the purposes of the WSP, and requested support for and participants for it. There was no response at all evident to appeals of either Bevel or Abernathy, to the evident disgust of both.

Both related that the demonstrators would set up tents on the White House lawn, in Washington, and that everybody who participates should be prepared to go to jail. Bevel advised that the White House does not belong to President Johnson; that it was God given to the people. Bevel and Abernathy advised they would remain in the "confines" of the White House, until Congress agrees to such as a guaranteed annual income for black people.

Josephine Baker; described by source as a former well-known entertainer, now residing in France, was also a guest speaker. She stated she had experienced a difficult time getting back into this country. She had marched with Dr. King on his earlier march on Washington, and as a result it appeared she was not wanted here. She described the importance of the tent-in on the White House lawn, and urged all those present to participate. Her remarks, according to the source, were also received by those present with no enthusiasm, and no apparent volunteers.

Regarding James Bevel, a second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in March, 1966, that Bevel had recently been present at offices of the West Side Chicago W.E.B. Du Bois Club. Discussion concerned the recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a communist front. Bevel advised he would have ignored this notification, feeling that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then the people would answer for the clubs, despite any labels.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan of the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement, only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the SCLC, the real target.

A second source advised on May 1, 1967, that DCA chartered clubs in the Chicago area are the West Side DCC and the North Side DCC, neither of which currently maintain a headquarters. There is no central headquarters for the DCC and there are no unchartered clubs in this area.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On February 8, 1968, a confidential source advised that a meeting of the Executive Board of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was held February 6 and 7, 1968, in Washington, D. C., at the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Streets, N. E.

Source said he had learned that for approximately two hours during the early evening of February 7, 1968, Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC; Ralph D. Abernathy, Vice President and Treasurer, SCLC; Andrew J. Young, Executive Vice President, SCLC; Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC; J. T. Johnson, Field Organizer, SCLC; Jesse Jackson, Northern Director, Project Breadbasket, SCLC; and James Bevel, former Director, Direct Action, SCLC, met with Stokely Carmichael of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). This meeting was held in the Pitts Motor Hotel, 1451 Belmont Street, N. W. Washington, D. C. The essential purpose of Reverend King and other SCLC officials meeting with Carmichael was to request SNCC not to interfere with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) scheduled to commence in early April 1968.

During this meeting, Carmichael was quite congenial and said neither he nor SNCC would oppose SCLC's WSP. However, he stated neither he nor SNCC would be able to join with SCLC in this project. Source was unable to furnish any further details regarding this meeting.

Source advised it was his current understanding that most SCLC officials are doubtful that Carmichael or SNCC can be trusted to not interfere with SCLC's efforts concerning the WSP.

Reverend King commented to several SCLC officials that in anticipation of SNCC creating problems (not explained) for SCLC in implementing the WSP it might be very practical for SCLC to organize "local groups" in Washington, D. C., and other communities concerned with the WSP. The function of these groups, he said, would be to oppose any undesirable activity on the part of SNCC rather than require SCLC personnel to divert their energies from the WSP.

~~SECRET~~JAMES BEVEL

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

In July, 1962, HUNTER PITTS O'DELL, also known as JACK H. O'DELL, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL told EDWINA SMITH December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

BAILEY said WILLIAMS had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) HAYNES PETERS O'DELL had told him more about politics than he could read.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On February 5, 1968, BH T-1 advised that Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth was to have participated in a leadership meeting in Washington, D. C., on February 6, 1968, regarding Rev. M. L. King's planned march in April. BH T-1 said Rev. Shuttlesworth has stated he does not look with favor on any coalition between hippies, radical pacifists, draft card burners, black power exponents and the civil rights organization because he cannot conceive of anything short of violence taking place when these type factions get into a demonstration.

BH T-1 said Shuttlesworth recently stated, "It would be impossible not to get the wrong people in such a march and once violence got started you couldn't control it." According to BH T-1, Shuttlesworth intends to raise questions about the wisdom of King's widely publicized Washington demonstrations for April. BH T-1 said Shuttlesworth feels that Rev. King will try to find an honorable way to back down from the planned demonstrations. Rev. Shuttlesworth said the country is in no condition to stand "that type of thing" but he is opposed to the Vietnam war and also to draft card burning.

It is noted that Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth is president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, a pro-integration organization with headquarters in Birmingham, Alabama. Rev. Shuttlesworth presently resides in Cincinnati, Ohio.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On February 7, 1968, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was scheduled to meet with Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) some time during the evening of February 7, 1968, at the Pitts' Motor Hotel, 1451 Belmont Road, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The February 8, 1968, edition of the "Washington Post and Times Herald," a daily Washington, D. C., newspaper, reported that King had met with leaders of the SCLC and SNCC on the night of February 7, 1968. Among SNCC representatives who reportedly met with King was H. Rap Brown.

Later during the evening of February 7, 1968, King attended a mass meeting at the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., which was sponsored by the SCLC.

Several confidential sources, who have furnished reliable information in the past, advised there were between 800 and 1,000 persons attending the meeting of which approximately one hundred were white.

The meeting was presided over by Reverend Jefferson Rogers, of the Church of the Redeemer, 15th and Girard Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C. King was the main speaker; however, several others made short presentations to the group prior to King's arrival. Among these speaking to the group were:

Prior to King's arrival, Hosea L. Williams, SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia, led the group singing freedom songs. A collection was taken in support of the SCLC by Reverend Ralph D. Abernathy and approximately $1,000 was collected.

Henry Brownlee and J. T. Johnson were introduced as SCLC representatives working in Washington, D. C. on behalf of the Washington Spring Project (WSP).

King was introduced by Reverend Jesse Jackson, SCLC representative from Chicago, Illinois. King spoke for approximately thirty minutes asking support of Washington, D. C. residents for the WSP. He did not discuss specific plans for the WSP but did describe it as a "wait in" with the indication that the demonstrators would remain in Washington until satisfactory results were obtained.

King stated the "hard core poor" would come to Washington for the project and would continue the demonstration until some type of action was taken by Congress, assuring them of jobs or income.

King indicated no violence was planned for the project but did state that whatever action necessary would be taken to achieve their goals.

POSSIBLE RACIAL INCIDENTS
DURING DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION,
INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS,
AUGUST, 1968.
RACIAL MATTER

Reference is made to Chicago memorandum of February 2, 1968, under the caption, "Washington Spring Project (WSP), Racial Matter," which in part reflected that Martin Luther King, Jr. was to be in Chicago on that date where he was to appear as a speaker for the West Side Organization (WSO), a small West Side Civil Rights group in Chicago.

On February 5, 1968, a confidential source, which collects intelligence information in the Chicago area, advised that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, had arrived in Chicago at 11:20 a.m. on this date from Atlanta, via Delta Airlines Flight 614. King was accompanied by SCLC officers, Reverend Andrew Young and Reverend Ralph Abernathy.

A second confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 5, 1968, that King was in Chicago at this time generally to provide impetus to the local organizing efforts in behalf of the WSP, a program whereby the SCLC plans to mobilize large numbers of persons in Washington, D.C. during April, 1968, to protest United States Government failures to solve the problems of the poor.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

N.Y.
Wash DC
In this connection King reportedly planned to meet with George Wiley, believed to be from New York City, and who is head of the National Welfare Rights Organization (NWRO). The NWRO is currently holding a three-day convention in Chicago.

According to this source, Wiley was at a recent meeting in New York City, New York, where support for the WSP was solicited by SCLC personnel; however, Wiley would not agree to participate in this SCLC project. King's contact with Wiley in Chicago, therefore, will represent an effort to persuade him of the importance of lending his support to the WSP.

This source, as well as the first source, advised King has no known public appearances scheduled while in Chicago other than a press conference to be held sometime during the late afternoon or evening of this date. King is also not known to have any meetings scheduled with the local SCLC staff; however, it was expected that in all probability he would meet individually with some key local personnel in connection with the WSP.

No information was available to either of the above sources concerning King's departure plans from Chicago, although it was anticipated he would depart Chicago during the late evening hours of February 5, 1968, or early on February 6, 1968.

POSSIBLE RACIAL INCIDENTS
DURING DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION,
INTERNATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE,
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS,
AUGUST, 1968

Both sources advised that King did not appear in Chicago as scheduled on February 2, 1968, at the West Side Offices of the WSO.

Chicago's press media, on February 5, 1968, carried articles relating to a press conference held on that date in Chicago by King. Xerox copies of articles relating to this press conference are attached to this memorandum, namely, from the "Chicago Sun Times" and the "Chicago Daily News," both daily Chicago newspapers.

These articles are self-explanatory as to content; however, it might be noted that information is contained therein relating to Dr. King's possible participation in demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention, which is to be held in Chicago in August, 1968, as well as possible demonstrations on May 12, 1968, and June 30 and July 1, 1968, nationwide, by the NWRO. The latter is described in one of these articles as a new welfare organization, representing some 6,000 dues-paying welfare recipients.

Sergeant John P. O'Malley, Human Relations Unit, Chicago Police Department, advised on February 6, 1968, that the Chicago Police Department was cognizant of King's presence in Chicago on February 5, 1968, and of the general content of his remarks at his press conference held on that date. He advised that no incidents or disturbances had occurred in Chicago in connection with King's presence here.

Copies of this memorandum are being provided to the following agencies:

King May Join Protest At Democratic Parley

By Lillian Calhoun.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said Monday he probably will join demonstrations around the Democratic National Convention this summer in Chicago.

"I haven't made any commitment on that," he said, "but it is perfectly logical, necessary and sound for demonstrations to take place around the Democratic convention . . . "I think the Democratic convention needs to be confronted in view of the war position of the Democratic President."

Dr. King said the nation is spending "$30 billion for death and destruction." He said his decision on Chicago would be determined by the response in Washington to his "poor people's campaign" there this summer.

Dr. King held a joint press conference with the Rev. Ralph Abernathy of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference staff and leaders of the National Welfare Rights Organization.

Dr. King said he had held fruitful discussions with Mrs. Johnnie Tilmon, NWRO chairman from Los Angeles; Dr. George Wiley, NWRO executive director, and other leaders of the group.

"We absolutely share the goals of this organization and agree with its basic purposes: jobs, income now, adequate income, justice and democracy," Dr. King said.

He said SCLC and NWRO will "work closer together as we grapple with the problems of the poor."

Mrs. Tilmon said women welfare recipients from 31 states had been meeting in Chicago the last three days.

The new welfare organization plans demonstrations throughout the nation on May 12 (Mothers Day) and June 30-July 1, when new amendments affecting welfare recipients go into effect.

The demonstrations, Wiley and Dr. King said, will be aimed at forcing Congress to repeal the amendments the group considers "restrictive."

Dr. King said the mobilization of the poor in Washington "will be educational, and agencies of the federal government will be the target. We must find some way to dramatize the plight of the poor."

"This may be in the form of bonus marches similar to the ones held in the 1930s or a show how poor people live," Dr. King said.

"There will be possibilities of civil disobedience," he said in reply to a question. "But we will begin by following 1st Amendment privileges. If Congress refuses to respond, the protest will take on aspects of civil disobedience."

Dr. King Issues a Warning on Dems' Parley

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said yesterday that he favors demonstrations during the Democratic party convention in Chicago in August if the results of his scheduled Washington demonstration fail this spring.

Dr. King, who was in Chicago to meet with leaders of the National Welfare Rights organization, said that he has no plans to come to Chicago to demonstrate, but "probably would" if Congress did not respond to his recommendations for economic programs for the poor.

"The Democratic party should be demonstrated against for its present war position and for its failures in Congress to respond to economic problems in the urban areas that are causing riots," Dr. King said at a press conference in the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 826 S. Wabash av.

Agreement Is Told

Dr. King said that he and officials of the welfare rights organization were in agreement on mass demonstrations by the poor.

The welfare organization has been meeting in Chicago for three days. Its spokesman, Dr. George Wiley, said that the organization represents about 6,000 dues-paying welfare recipients.

Freeze Is Opposed

He said that the organization will hold a nation-wide demonstration of one million mothers who are on welfare and about 4½ million of their children to voice opposition to the new social security law.

Specifically, he said, the organization opposes the federal "freeze" on state welfare roles which is to go into effect July 1, and the requirements for some recipients to put their children in foster homes and take jobs.

The following information has been furnished by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Recently Stanley Levison, principal advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in conference with William Rutherford, Executive Director, Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Levison informed that he had recently held a meeting with Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, and Bayard Rustin concerning King's massive civil disobedience program called "Washington Spring Project."

According to Levison, Rustin showed his true colors by opposing civil disobediences and opposing involving the peace issue with the "Washington Spring Project."

Levison felt the tactics King and his group will use in conducting the massive civil disobediences must be agreed upon and made known to interested individuals. Rutherford advised that some tentative tactics have been discussed which are as follows:

During the first week of the "Washington Spring Project" calls will be made on Congressmen by demonstrators from 17 different areas. During the second week of the campaign the demonstrators will call on the heads of departments such as the Secretary of Labor. On the first visit the demonstrators will make their demands known and on the second visit, if the demands are not met, a sit-in will be conducted.

With respect to the individuals referred to above it is noted that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, USA, in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964 he criticized the Communist Party for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by the Communist Party leaders as being to the "left" of the Communist Party in his position on civil rights. His differences with the Communist Party, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to communism. Stanley Levison is the owner and operator of the Park Management Realty Company, 1841 Broadway, New York, New York.

In March, 1944, the name Harry Wachtel was on a list of names, significance not known, which was maintained at the headquarters of Kings County Communist Party, Brooklyn, New York. At that time the name of Leonora Wachtel, wife of Harry Wachtel, and her address were listed on a list of names of newly elected officers of the Bath Beach Club of the Kings County Communist Party.

On February 26, 1957, a source identified a photograph of Clarence Jones as a person whom he knew during late 1953 or early 1954 to be a member and in a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League.

The Labor Youth League has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

During the early 1940s Bayard Rustin was a member of the Young Communist League, an organization which has been designated subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450. The records of this Bureau's Identification Division contain the following arrest record for Bayard Rustin:

On January 12, 1944, he was arrested for violation of the Selective Service Act and on February 17, 1944, received a sentence of three years. On September 15, 1948, he was arrested in New York City on a disorderly conduct charge and was sentenced to 15 days. On January 21, 1953, he was arrested at Pasadena, California, for offering to engage in an act of sex perversion of a homosexual nature which he admitted and for which he was sentenced to serve 60 days.

In addition to the above, it has been reported that the Communist Party of Cleveland, Ohio, is showing an interest in King's "Washington Spring Project" and members thereof have expressed the opinion that every Communist Party member in Cleveland should do all he can to contact people in various groups and through organizations to urge them to take an active part in the proposed demonstrations.

provide assistance in the form of food, shelter, clothing, and related support. During the presentation source noticed the following SCLC representatives had stationed themselves near King:

James Bevel

Andrew J. Young

Jessie Jackson

William A. Rutherford

When the above meeting was ended the church was emptied and only those were allowed to re-enter who were personally known to two representatives of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) who stationed themselves at the entrance. In addition, admission was granted to a few who were vouched for or who were able to satisfactorily explain their reason for attending. Admission was denied to all representatives of the press and no tape recorders were allowed in the meeting.

The meeting was held in the main portion of the building and was attended by approximately two hundred persons. Of those in attendance, approximately one hundred and fifty were representatives of the BUF and SNCC while approximately fifty represented SCLC.

Stokely Carmichael and Lester McKinnie of SNCC were in attendance, however, neither made any type of formal speech or presentation.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

This meeting was presided over by King who restated what he had said in the meeting mentioned earlier. In addition, he said there were people in the audience who did not agree with the planned WSP and asked that these people not hinder the project even though they were not in agreement.

King reminisced about past demonstrations and projects of the SCLC and their effect.

Doctor King advised they expected approximately 3,000 persons to come to WDC for the WSP. They plan to camp on the Washington Monument or the Lincoln Memorial grounds. They fully expect to be asked to move and when this is done it will draw desired attention to themselves and their cause. No mention of militancy or civil disobedience was made and King indicated they would move their camp when asked to do so.

King indicated there would be similar demonstrations in other cities during the same period of time as the WSP. He did not identify these cities.

An announcement was made of a mass meeting of the SCLC at the Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, 1630 Vermont Avenue, N. W., WDC, on February 7, 1968.

The meeting ended at approximately 11:00 p.m.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on February 2, 1968, that on that night Andrew Young (Executive Vice-President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference) (SCLC) and Stanley Levison were to meet with Leon Davis and Moe Foner at their office, 709 Eighth Avenue, New York City, to discuss the Washington, D.C. project and how Foner and Davis can make a contribution.

The same source advised on February 3, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison and William Rutherford, Executive Director of the SCLC, discussed a list of contributors (to the SCLC). Levison stated he had examined this list and that there are no big donors on it. Rutherford mentioned that a suggestion had been made of having a group meeting of the larger contributors and having someone talk to them and solicit contributions. Levison suggested Andrew Young as the person to handle this matter.

Rutherford inquired if Levison would be in Washington, D. C. on Tuesday (February 6, 1968) and Levison was uncertain, noting that he was supposed to meet with "two staff guys" to bring them together with "a staff guy from 1199" (Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employees Union, New York City). According to Rutherford, there would be a meeting of the march by clergymen on Monday (February 5, 1968) with the march on Tuesday (February 6, 1968).

The source learned on February 4, 1968, that Stanley Levison was again in contact with William Rutherford. Levison brought up the matter of contributors to the SCLC stating that he had been thinking about having those who had given $1,000.00 or more, about 60 people, invited to someone's house, such as Harry Belafonte's place. He said some of the people would be Governor and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, Mary and Stephen Rockefeller, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, III. Levison noted that on February 5, 1968, he was meeting with some "staff guys" and was going to put them in contact with the hospital workers whom he and Andrew Young saw recently. He added that "they" were assigning a full-time staff person "to us."

Rutherford noted that Martin Luther King, (head of the SCLC) was to speak to the Clergymen Concerned about the Vietnam war on Tuesday morning (February 6, 1968) and that the (SCLC) Board meeting would begin at 2:00 P.M.

Moe Foner

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past advised on November 19, 1967, that at a meeting of the Communist Party (CP) Club of Local 1199, held on November 11, 1967, a discussion was held concerning a meeting with Moe Foner, Secretary of Local 1199 concerning the formation of a peace committee in Local 1199.

"The New York Journal American," a former evening New York City newspaper, in its issue of February 5, 1947, contained an article which reflected that Moe Foner was banned from membership in the Flushing Chapter of the American Veterans Committee because he admitted he was a Communist.

"The New York Times," a New York City daily newspaper, July 18, 1966, page 19, contained an article on Leon Julius Davis whom it described as the President of Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employees Union. The article noted, in part; "Mr. Davis is a critic of United States policy in Vietnam, and last spring he joined with some 20 other labor leaders to form the trade-union division of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

"Mr. Davis and his local, an affiliate of the Retail Wholesale and Department Store Union, American Federation of Labor (AFL) - Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), have often been labeled leftists. In 1948, Mr. Davis appeared before a House of Representatives labor sub-committee and refused to say under oath whether he was a Communist. Later he stated he was not."

The article also noted "In recent years he has also become increasingly involved in the civil rights movement."

On December 30, 1946, a confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Davis was a member of the North Shore Section of the CP, Queens County, New York

Harry Belafonte

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on October 28, 1958, that according to Jean Smith, Secretary at CP Headquarters, New York City, before Harry Belafonte came into prominence, he had been a member of the Young Communist League (YCL).

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised during the first part of February, 1968, that a conference was held on February 1, 1968, at the Americana Hotel, Seventh Street and 53rd Avenue, New York City, New York, between representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). The purpose of this conference was to solicit the support of SNCC for the Washington Spring Project (WSP) which is to be held during the first part of April, 1968, in Washington, D.C., under the sponsorship of the SCLC. This conference began at 5:00 p.m. and last approximately four hours. Ten persons attended this conference and the following were recognized as present:

Carlos Russell, SCLC, New York City, New York;
A. R. Sampson, SCLC, New York, New York;
Herman Jenkins, SCLC, New York, New York;
Jesse Gray, SCLC, New York, New York;
Hosea Williams, SCLC, Atlanta, Georgia; and
Stokely Carmichael, SNCC.

In addition, George Wiley, Director of the National Welfare Rights Organization of Washington, D.C., arrived at this conference approximately one hour after it began.

The discussion in this conference began with the subject of financing the WSP. Also discussed were the merits of having Martin Luther King make a speech during the WSP. Stokely Carmichael stated that he is in favor of the goals and aims of the WSP and that he would support this project wholeheartedly. However, he insisted that his organization, SNCC, and any other organization which would take part in this project, would keep their own identity separate from SCLC. This was agreed to by the representatives of SCLC.

During the above discussion, George Wiley entered the room in which the conference was being held, and after listening to the conversation, stated that his organization, the National Welfare of Rights Organization, could not support and participate with SCLC in this project under the conditions stated. A considerable time was then spent in an effort to convince Wiley to support this project, however, he stated that before agreeing to give his support, it would be necessary that he discuss this matter personally with Martin Luther King, President of SCLC.

A copy of this communication is being provided to the following local agencies:

United States Attorney, Chicago, Illinois;

United States Secret Service, Chicago, Illinois; and

Region I, 113th Military Intelligence Group,
Evanston, Illinois.

Concerning Jesse Gray a second confidential source advised in January, 1964, that according to a high level official of the Communist Party in New York, Gray was no longer a Communist Party member but remained friendly to the Communist Party.

A confidential source previously advised that during the middle of January 1968 while addressing members of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) staff who will be responsible for recruiting and training demonstrators for SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, made it very clear that SCLC did not contemplate paying expenses which might be incurred by these demonstrators.

On February 1, 1968, source advised that as of that date SCLC had made no plans which would provide living accommodations for the demonstrators who will be in Washington, D. C. As of this time, most SCLC officers felt the demonstrators in all probability could sleep in tents pitched on the grounds of various Government buildings.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
(WSP)

Re Cleveland letterhead memorandum, January 26, 1968.

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past.

OHED CV T-1 advised on January 29, 1968, that Reverend E. RANDEL CEBURN who is one of Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) staff members assigned to the Cleveland area to handle arrangements for the WSP in April of 1968, mentioned that the WSP was going to open their office at 7902 Hough Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, over the weekend of January 27-28, 1968. This office will be in a street level storefront at the 7902 Hough Avenue address which storefront is used by the Shepherd of the Street Church operated by Pastor JAMES F. COOK and is located in the heart of the Cleveland ghetto area, the scene of considerable rioting during Cleveland's Hough Area riots two years ago.

CV T-1 went on that he had occasion to be in the area of East 79th Street and Hough Avenue on January 29, 1968, and he looked in at the 7902 Hough Avenue address; however, this storefront was closed. The only sign on the store was for the Shepherd of the Street Church and there were no signs for the WSP. Inside the store there was no indication that the place was being used as there was no furniture and the only things noted were a telephone and telephone directory both being on the floor.

0 (1:0)
CV T-2 reported on January 31, 1968, that FRANKLIN ANDERSON, Chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) in Cleveland was recently discussing Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's forthcoming WSP in April of 1968, and ANDERSON pointed out that Cleveland CORE will not support or participate in the WSP.

CV T-3 reported on January 30, 1968, that it was recently learned that the Communist Party (CP) in Cleveland was showing an interest in Reverend MARTIN LUTHER KING's planned demonstration in Washington, DC. in April of 1968. It was felt that each and every member of the CP in Cleveland should do all they could to contact people in block clubs, other organizations, etc. to try to have them take an active part in this demonstration.

PHIL BART has pointed out that the CP was not going into this for the purpose of taking over or trying to run the show, but they would try to contact the organization or groups running this demonstration and offer their services as individuals of the neighborhoods where they live. In that way by working with these different sponsoring groups and letting them know that they were anxious to help, it would further the CP cause. Even if it is discovered that the person offering his services is a member of the CP, some of the people in the group sponsoring the demonstration will say "so what", as all are working for the same goal. BART felt that in these type activities or demonstrations, more and more people are willing to be identified with "us".

BART has also indicated that there was little that they could do at present as individuals until Reverend KING's group gets started on this demonstration and all they know now is what they read in the newspapers.

PHIL BART - CV T-3 advised on October 13, 1967, that PHIL BART was then employed as a librarian of the Ohio CP.

Washington Spring Project
Racial Matters

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, learned on January 31, 1968, that on that date, Stanley Levison was in contact with William Rutherford, Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC). Levison noted that he met recently with Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, Bayard Rustin, and Mike Harrington, and that Rustin "showed his true colors" by opposing civil disobedience. He said Rustin is also opposed to involving the war issue.

Levison, in referring to the civil disobedience campaign, planned by King, for Washington D.C. (WDC), in the Spring of 1968, felt that tactics must be agreed upon in the near future so that persons who have been making inquiry can be told what tactics will be used.

Rutherford told Levison that Andy Young (Executive Vice-President of the SCLC), had written out some of the tactics to be used. He said that, for example, during the first week, calls will be made on Congressman by people from 17 different areas. During the second week, calls will be made on heads of departments such as the Secretary of Labor. On the first visit, demands will be made and on the second, a sit-in will be conducted.

With respect to a proposed civil rights newspaper, Levison feels it should follow the formula of "The Southern Courier", which, he said, can humanize the news without vulgarizing it. He emphasized that, although SCLC policy must be the policy followed by the newspaper, efforts must be made to avoid a dull, uninteresting style.

Rutherford noted that King has an SCLC Board meeting on Tuesday, and Wednesday, (February 6 and 7, 1968), a clergy march on Monday, and a private meeting with (Stokely) Carmichael and with other Black leaders in WDC, and then will go to Philadelphia "and do the same thing". Rutherford added "meet once with the ministers and once with the Black Power people to try to neutralize them".

The source advised that he gathered the impression that the above described activity by King will be in connection with organizing for the spring civil disobedience campaign in WDC.

Levison and Rutherford also discussed financial contributors to the SCLC. Levison said he had suggested to King that they get about 25 contributors together and meet with them for several days and let them ask King as many questions as they care to. Levison stated that he would check the list of contributors and check with Rutherford as to where they should hold this meeting since it should depend on the residence of most of the contributors.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), in July, 1963.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights." In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party." He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1, column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America, (CP,USA), held in New York City, on February 9-11, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly."

On the latter contact, Davis told Rustin that he was working on his request and had contacted friends who had contacts with the group to which Rustin was to speak.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on January 21, 1964, that as of that date, Benjamin J. Davis was National Secretary of the CP, USA.

"The New York Times", August 24, 1964, page 27, column 4, reports that Benjamin J. Davis, National Secretary, CP, USA, died in New York City on the night of August 22, 1964.

Clarence Jones is the General Counsel to the Gandhi Society for Human Rights, 15 East 40th Street, New York, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on February 26, 1957, that he identified a photograph of Clarence Jones as a person whom he knew during late 1953, or early 1954, to be a member of and in a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League.

He was assigned two symbol numbers and two dates to further conceal him because there has been no publicity in the press re the presence of ORANGE and TABB in Philadelphia. He also advised that he had learned from a very highly placed delicate source that ORANGE had said that Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING of SCLC is intending to come to Philadelphia in late March or early April 1968 and that Dr. KING will make a concerted effort in Philadelphia itself to:

- (1) Get Police Commissioner FRANK L. RIZZO ousted;
- (2) Obtain real open housing for Negroes in Philadelphia;
- (3) Obtain employment for the unemployable Negro in the ghetto;
- (4) Renovation of the school system in Philadelphia so that it better meets the needs of the Negro in Philadelphia.

KING decided not to come to Philadelphia because the Judges hearing the case were bending over backwards to give the plaintiffs a fair hearing.

Confidential informant PH T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised January 26, 1968, an individual he heard was WILLIE TABBS' wife had spent an evening at the residence of MARY RICHARDSON, either Wednesday or Thursday, January 23-24, 1968. WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 25, 1968, a confidential source advised Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), recently discussed with several officers of SCLC a meeting of the SCLC Executive Board to be held in Washington, D. C., on February 6 and 7, 1968. He said several matters of an administrative nature would be discussed at this board meeting which would include recent personnel changes as well as SCLC financial matters.

Reverend King mentioned that during the SCLC Executive Board meeting he plans to meet with Stokely Carmichael of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), or if this cannot be conveniently arranged he will endeavor to meet jointly with Carmichael and H. Rap Brown, National Chairman, SNCC, in New York City following conclusion of the board meeting. He commented that in order to meet with Brown he would have to go to New York City because current legal procedures restrict Brown's freedom of movement. Reverend King said he would discuss with Carmichael and/or Brown SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) and assistance (not specified) which SNCC can give to this project.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 26, 1968, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the weekly meeting of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights (ACMHR) was held on January 22, 1968, at St. Luke's AME Zion Church, 3937 12th Avenue North, Birmingham. Albert Turner, Field Secretary, State of Alabama, for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) made a speech to the two hundred persons who were in attendance.

Confidential Informant T-1 stated that Albert Turner made a plea for 300 Alabamians to prepare to go to Washington to take part in the Washington Spring Project this April. Turner said that Negroes must join in with Dr. King because the SCLC is at a very low ebb and in danger of a takeover by Black Power advocates. Turner made known that he came to Birmingham from Detroit where violent forces claim that last summer's burnings were small compared to what they plan to do this summer. Turner said that if these forces try to destroy Detroit, that the entire Civil Rights movement will be lost and the leaders killed or put in jail. Turner told the group that Rev. M. L. King, Jr.'s program of civil disobedience does not call for lying down in the streets but merely "sitting in." However, Turner stated that participants should be ready to be jailed.

Confidential Informant T-1 advised in conclusion that Albert Turner indicated that in the near future, Rev. M. L. King, Jr., will hold a state-wide meeting in Birmingham in support of the Washington Spring Project.

WASHINGTON SPRING
PROJECT (WSP)

All sources used in this communication have furnished reliable information in the past.

CV T-1 advised on December 3, 1967 that he recently learned that during the week commencing November 27, 1967 the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) held a retreat at Penn Center, Frogmore, South Carolina, which was presided over by Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., President of SCLC and was attended by approximately 70 individuals comprising the headquarters and field staff of SCLC.

The primary purpose of the retreat was to discuss various facets of SCLC's plan to conduct massive non-violent demonstrations in Washington, D. C. and possibly a number of other cities during the early part of 1968.

Reverend KING outlined this plan to those attending the retreat; namely, that it had been tentatively decided that in the forepart of February, 1968, he, together with other officers of SCLC and in all probability leading representatives of other Civil Rights organizations (not identified) would personally present to the Secretary of Labor specific requests for prompt Congressional action pertaining to employment, income, housing, education, and other matters which constitute major problems experienced by ghetto people. In the event these requests do not receive an immediate unequivocal commitment insuring prompt Congressional action, an immediate massive non-violent demonstration would commence in Washington, D. C. This demonstration would be conducted by SCLC and involve adults from all walks of life, including students and school children. If an effort is made by civil and/or military authorities to quell this demonstration, simultaneous demonstrations of identical magnitude would commence in 10-15 "target cities" throughout the nation.

RE: WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT (WSP)

CV T-1 was not aware of the identity of all the "target cities" referred to by Rev. KING but he understood Cleveland was one of the cities included.

CV T-1 went on that according to Rev. KING that during the period prior to early February, 1968, one or two SCLC staff members would be assigned to Washington, D. C. and each of the "target cities." It will be the responsibility of these members to select in each community up to 200 individuals who will serve as leaders for demonstrations. This type of individual sought will be unemployed Negro males, whose general economic status is so low that they could lose nothing by participating in the proposed demonstrations. After selection of these individuals it would then be the responsibility of the SCLC staff member through mass meetings, workshops or other procedures to indoctrinate these individuals with SCLC's overall objectives and technique of non-violent demonstration. Rev. KING emphasized that the individuals so selected should be Negroes, however, he said once each demonstration is actually commenced the assistance of white persons would definitely be accepted and possibly solicited.

Reverend KING acknowledged this program of demonstrations was a very substantial undertaking for SCLC to embark upon. He said it was imperative that SCLC be successful in this undertaking because otherwise not only would it be embarrassed by a failure but failure itself would in a large sense serve as a victory for the "Black Power" groups. In this connection, he said it would be necessary to solicit the cooperation of "Black Power" leaders (not identified) in order that such organizations would permit SCLC to conduct its program without interference. He said he was extremely concerned over the probability that such interference might easily turn any demonstration into a riot. He declared that if such a situation developed in any one of the communities in which SCLC contemplates demonstrating SCLC will immediately cease all its activity in that community.

During the retreat an appreciable number of SCLC staff members expressed doubt that the cooperation of the "Black Power" organizations could be obtained and raised a question as to whether the selection of up to 200 individuals in various communities might not present a most difficult task. Reverend KING responded by stating he was most confident he could obtain the desired cooperation of "Black Power" leaders. He said he realized these people did not agree with his methods or the activities of SCLC but is confident they have sufficient respect for him to listen to his requests. He also said he was quite confident that people, after being apprised of SCLC's objectives, will be anxious to assist. Furthermore, he expressed optimism that once the demonstrations commence there will be sufficient sympathy on the part of the general public that SCLC will will receive adequate financial support.

CV T-1 subsequently learned that Rev. KING had informed SCLC staff members that this new activity would be called Washington Spring Project.

CV T-1 also advised on December 19, 1967 that he recently learned that various assignments had been made of SCLC members to various cities in the United States in connection with the forthcoming WSP and the two being assigned to the Cleveland area were EDDIE OSBURN and MIKE BIELER.

MICHAEL BIELER

CV T-2 mentioned in January, 1968 that he learned that the SCLC held a conference from January 15-17, 1968 at Atlanta, Georgia, for the purpose of discussing and planning strategy regarding SCLC's WSP which it contemplated initiating in early April, 1968. In attendance were approximately 35 individuals, who were SCLC staff members. At one of the sessions it was mentioned that in all probability Congress would not accept or act on the demands presented by SCLC. If this happens, it was then planned to begin protesting this refusal by means of disrupting various agencies and facilities throughout Washington, D. C. for example one group was tentatively scheduled to tie up the Washington Greyhound Bus Station utilizing such tactics as lying down in front of buses, blocking entrances and exits, etc. It was expected that numerous arrests would be made of the participants of this project and it was pointed out that the participants must be "totally committed" to the project and be willing to risk arrest. It is even possible that some persons may be killed and the participants must be prepared to spend up to six months in jail; however, it was not desired that any mobilization coordinators be jailed for any lengthy period.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On January 17, 1968, CV T-1 also furnished information regarding the SCLC conference held at Atlanta, Georgia from January 15-17, 1968; source added that during the conference, Rev. KING said there was no doubt that the requests that would be presented to the various government agencies would receive a non-committal type response. Then 200 demonstrators previously recruited by SCLC in approximately 15 communities will then commence a massive non-violent demonstration in Washington, D. C.

In conjunction with the activity of the approximately 3000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., SCLC contemplates that in each community from which these demonstrators come there will be sympathetic simultaneous demonstrations. These demonstrations will be participated in by individuals who do not go to Washington, D. C. but experience the same problems and seek the same solutions as the demonstrators in Washington. SCLC intends that the demonstrators will not be intimidated in their efforts by injunctions or other legal measures designed to serve as deterrents. The demonstrators will submit to arrest and incarceration without bail, however, the place of an incarcerated demonstrator will be assumed by another demonstrator. Rev. KING felt the WSP would produce affirmative action promptly on the part of Congress regarding jobs or income for Negroes.

CV T-1 advised on January 18, 1968 that he learned Rev. KING planned to visit the various target cities in connection with the WSP during February and March, 1968 and his schedule indicated he would be in Cleveland on February 24, 1968.

CV T-1 advised on January 24, 1968 that from what he has learned the Cleveland staff of Rev. MARTIN LUTHER KING had been reduced to two men; namely, Rev. E. RANDEL OSBURN and MICHAEL BIBLER. Rev. OSBURN has an apartment at the Wade Park Manor Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio, which apartment is also the headquarters of the SCLC in Cleveland at present. The other members of Rev. KING's staff who had been working in the Cleveland area have been moved to other cities throughout the country.

CV T-1 had also learned that Rev. OSBURN had been out of town for some time as he had been attending an SCLC conference in Atlanta along with 150 other people but that OSBURN returned to Cleveland on January 18, 1968. OSBURN mentioned on his return that he would have to get the "ball rolling" in Cleveland on the WSP indicating that nothing had been done as of January 18, 1968 to organize this project.

CV T-3 reported on January 25, 1968 that he learned that following Rev. OSBURN's attendance at the SCLC conference in Atlanta on January 15-17, 1968, he returned to Cleveland but then made another visit to Atlanta for additional instructions regarding Cleveland's role in the WSP. On returning again to Cleveland, Rev. OSBURN indicated that his organization now planned to recruit approximately 200 distressed people in the ghetto area of Cleveland to participate in the WSP in Washington, D. C. These people who will be unemployed and have nothing to lose would not have the funds to make this trip or to stay in Washington, D. C. but SCLC will make money available to them. Rev. OSBURN went on that he planned to open a storefront office at E. 79th and Hough area, Cleveland, Ohio, on January 26, 1968, which is in the heart of the most depressed area of Cleveland and the center of the Hough area riots. In addition Rev. OSBURN plans to issue a brochure in the near future setting forth the aims, etc. of the WSP.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date concluded a retreat which was held January 15, 1968 - January 17, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia, of which Church Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, serves as co-pastor. This retreat was concerned with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) which it contemplates initiating early in April 1968. In attendance were approximately 50 individuals, about one-half of whom were SCLC field representatives from various locations.

Reverend King pointed out he did not have any desire that SCLC should have any friction with "Black Power groups" during the course of its WSP. He said the basic issue of the WSP was jobs or income and the validity of this issue could not be argued by "Black Power groups" or anyone else. He said SCLC would simply go about its business of implementing the WSP.

Reverend King declared that in the event SCLC is not successful awakening the conscience of the nation to the urgent need for jobs or income through the WSP the nation will subsequently have to admit that SCLC made a substantial effort in this regard. In the event of such failure, Reverend King said there could be no question that the "Black Power groups" would benefit appreciably.

COTTONREADER, both SCLC employees, planning to attend the demonstration planned at Washington, D. C. He related that he personally has become discouraged with SCLC after directing numerous letters to Dr. KING concerning the rebuilding of his church and receiving no assistance from SCLC. He stated at the present time he has not decided whether or not to attend the demonstration in Washington, D. The news media during the past week have advertised Dr. KING's remarks regarding future demonstrations in Washington, D. C., to protest Government inaction.

Local authorities have been canvassed throughout the State and could furnish no information regarding possible participants.

Reverend OSBURN has an apartment at the Wade Park Manor Hotel, CV, Ohio, which apartment is also the headquarters of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in CV at present. The other members of Reverend KING's staff who had been working in the CV area have been moved to other cities throughout the country.

SOURCE

~~REDACTED~~ also learned that the present goal of the SCLC in CV is to obtain better and more jobs for Negroes but from reports nothing much is being done by the SCLC at this time. Reportedly the United Pastors Association (UPA) in CV which had been working with the SCLC, had broken away from the SCLC, because of finances and the poor department of Reverend KING's assistants in CV. From what ~~REDACTED~~ has SOURCE learned, nothing had been done thus far in CV to organize for the proposed Washington, D. C. confrontation to take place in the Spring of 1968.

OSBURN mentioned on his return that he would have to "get the ball rolling" in CV on the Washington Spring Project indicating that nothing had been done as yet to organize this project.

CV will continue to follow this matter closely and will keep the Bureau and interested agencies advised of pertinent developments.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date concluded a retreat which was held January 15, 1968, - January 17, 1968, at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia, of which Church Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, serves as co-pastor. This retreat was concerned with SCLC's Washington Spring Project (WSP) which it contemplates initiating early in April 1968. In attendance were approximately 50 individuals, about one-half of whom were SCLC field representatives from various locations.

During this retreat Reverend King explained the WSP will actually be initiated when he and other Civil Rights leaders (not identified) present specific requests (not specified) to the Department of Labor relating to jobs or income for Negroes and other persons currently in Ghetto areas. Similar requests will be presented to other Government departments (not identified) also.

He said there is no doubt that these requests will receive a noncommittal type response which will also point to the Congress of the United States as being the obstacle which has prevented or will prevent the particular department from taking affirmative action in regard to the request presented.

Following presentation of the aforementioned requests, 200 demonstrators previously recruited by SCLC in approximately Reverend King pointed out that the demonstrators will also be expected to present to their respective senators and/or representatives requests for affirmative congressional action to correct problems existing in their own local communities.

In conjunction with the activity of the approximately 3,000 demonstrators in Washington, D. C., SCLC contemplates that in each community from which these demonstrators come there will be sympathetic simultaneous demonstrations. These demonstrations will be participated in by individuals who do not go to Washington but experience the same problems and seek the same solutions as the demonstrators in Washington, D. C. The local demonstrators may be purely of a voluntary nature or may have been organized by SCLC field representatives previously.

Source recalled that during a discussion regarding the WSP by several officers of SCLC a short time prior to this retreat an officer inquired of Reverend King what position SCLC would take if effort was made to "run" the demonstrators out of that city. This question was immediately answered by Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, who stated to the effect SCLC simply would not entertain the thought of being "run out". Williams declared SCLC would stay in Washington, D. C., "no matter what".

SCLC intends that the demonstrators in Washington, D.C., will not be intimidated in their efforts by injunctions or other legal measures designed to serve as deterrents.

The demonstrators will submit to arrest and incarceration without bail; however, the place of an incarcerated demonstrator will be assumed by another demonstrator.

Reverend King in reference to demonstrators calling upon senators and representatives in Washington, D. C., commented that they would, of course, not be welcome at the offices of these officials; however, he said the demonstrators should stay in the office of the senator or representative until they receive an audience from the individual they seek. He said they should sleep in these offices if necessary.

Reverend King explained at this retreat that the WSP is expected to produce affirmative action promptly on the part of Congress regarding jobs or income. This, he said, will result from Congress acting on its own initiative in response to the demonstration in Washington, D. C., or responding to pressures exerted on it by interested groups (not defined) from various parts of the country.

Reverend King also mentioned that he was quite confident that once the WSP commences it will be viewed with great interest by many nations in the world.

In July, 1962, HUNTER PITTS O'DELL, also known as JACK H. O'DELL, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL told EDWINA SMITH December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

BAILEY said WILLIAMS had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) HUNTER PITTS O'BELL had told him more about politics than he could read.

With reference to KING's views regarding the desirability of changing the existing Capitalistic system in the United States, informant advised KING went into no further detail than indicated in the enclosed LHM. It is felt these statements on KING's part are of particular interest. In this connection, the Bureau may wish to note that Atlanta airtel and LHM dated 11/28/66 captioned, "CIRM" refers to a meeting of the SCLC Executive Staff held 11/21-22/66 for the purpose of considering methods of raising funds for SCLC. This meeting was attended by STANLEY LEVISON. During that meeting, LEVISON suggested SCLC seriously consider the sale of SCLC memberships through the assistance of JAMES HOFFA, President, of the Teamsters Union. During his discussion of this matter, LEVISON made effort to differentiate between professional groups and the working class by explaining that it will be the working class, not the professional people, who ultimately will look to SCLC for assistance in seeking "social change" (not defined). LEVISON went on to point out that SCLC could use HOFFA's wide influence in the labor field together with its working class memberships as a practical lever when seeking "social change".

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT
RACIAL MATTER

On January 17, 1968, a confidential source advised he had learned that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) on that date culminated a three-day retreat held in Atlanta, Georgia. This retreat was held in facilities of the Ebenezer Baptist Church of which Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., President, SCLC, serves as co-pastor and also attended by approximately 50 individuals. Approximately one half of the individuals in attendance were SCLC field representatives from various locations. A representative (identity not known) of the American Friends Service Committee attended this retreat.

Reverend King served as the presiding officer at the retreat, the essential purpose of which was twofold. First, to afford SCLC staff members opportunity to fully understand the objective of the SCLC Washington Spring Project, discuss anticipated problems and seek solutions therefo. Secondly, to permit Reverend King to infuse SCLC staff members with enthusiasm to participate in the project in order that it will be a success.

An appreciable amount of time at the retreat was devoted to group discussions by the SCLC field representatives who will recruit demonstrators to participate in the Washington Spring Project. James Bevel, former Director of Direct Action, SCLC, and Hosea Williams, Director of Voter Registration and Political Education, SCLC, actively participated in these discussions. Both Bevel and Williams have had considerable experience in the area of Civil Rights demonstrations.

Reverend King lectured several times during this retreat concerning the overall purpose of SCLC's Washington Spring Project. He pointed out this project would be predicated on the issue of jobs or income for Ghetto Negroes and impoverished people of all races in the United States. However, he emphasized this would not solve all the problems experienced by the Negro, particularly those regarding inequality and therefore the Civil Rights Movement as a whole will have many things to achieve as years go by.

Acquiring jobs or income for Negroes alone, Dr. King declared, will be a noteworthy achievement on the part of the Washington Spring Project, however, he stressed that the jobs or the income obtained would represent a mere fraction of that which America owes the Negro throughout history. He said America owes an incalculable sum to the Negro who throughout his long years of involuntary servitude labored to build this country.

Dr. King stated that the many problems of the Negro and other poor people will not be solved under a Capitalistic system. Capitalism, he said, has no remedy for the poor. The ultimate aim of all aggrieved people in the United States can only be to accomplish a change in the existing Capitalistic economy and Government. He suggested this change might be to "some form of Socialistic Government". Reverend King did not discuss in any detail how or when the change he referred to might be accomplished.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 17, 1968, during his closing comments at this retreat Reverend King emphasized to the SCLC staff that the forthcoming Washington Spring Project will be one of the most difficult tasks which it to date has undertaken and accordingly challenged the staff to maintain itself both willing and able in order that the project will be successful.

Reverend King referred to how Jesus found it necessary to send His disciples on various missions. He told the members of the SCLC staff that they were "his disciples".

~~SECRET~~JAMES BEVEL

BEVEL, in early March, 1966 was observed to be present at the offices of the West Side W.E.B. DuBois Club in Chicago (DCC). Discussion took place at this time centering around reaction to a recent notification that the Attorney General of the United States intended to label the DuBois Clubs as a Communist front. BEVEL, in conversation, stated that he would have ignored this notification, and kept about the work in which he was engaged. He felt that if the DuBois Clubs have a real program of help for the people, then people would answer for the clubs despite any labels applied to them.

Most present agreed that the attack on the DuBois Clubs was a part of the plan by the "establishment" to undermine the civil rights movement. They felt that the recent hearings into Klan activities in this country was only a beginning which would lead to a full attack on the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the real target. One of those present stated during the course of this discussion that he was not a Communist, and to this BEVEL was overheard to reply that every thinking American should be. He stated that Negroes have not begun to read yet, but when they do, they will all be socialists.

In July, 1962, HUNTER PITTS O'DELL, also known as JACK H. O'DELL, was considered by the Communist Party, USA, as a member of its National Committee.

HUNTER PITTS O'DELL told EDWINA SMITH December 27, 1963, he would not go back to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference on the same basis because he is now a "left person" and if they cannot accept him the way he is then they will have to forget about him.

BAILEY said WILLIAMS had mentioned to her (date not specified) that on a prior occasion (date not specified) HUNTER PITTS O'DELL had told him more about politics than he could read.

W.E.B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

A source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that MIKE ZAGARELL, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that DANIEL RUBIN, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that GUS HALL, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that JARVIS TYNER is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

On May 3, 1965, a source advised that on June 30, 1964, a group of young people who attended the founding convention of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) met in Chicago and adopted a statement of purpose and constitution forming the DCC as an affiliate of the national DCA.

A second source advised on May 1, 1967, that DCA chartered clubs in the Chicago area are the West Side DCC and the North Side DCC, neither of which currently maintain a headquarters. There is no central headquarters for the DCC and there are no unchartered clubs in this area.

The second source advised that the majority of DCC members are also members of the CP.

During the past year DCC activity has been almost nonexistent.

PURPOSE:

Attached for your approval for dissemination are copies of a communication containing information concerning the conference held by Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in Atlanta, Georgia, from January 15 through 17, 1968, to discuss plans for massive civil disobedience in Washington, D.C., commencing in late March, 1968.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

SOURCE

~~_____~~ advised that King held a conference of approximately 50 people from January 15 through 17, 1968, at his church in Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss plans for the massive civil disobedience in Washington, D. C., in late March, 1968. This project is called the "Washington Spring Project." King has dispatched representatives to 15 "target cities" throughout the United States to recruit 3,000 Negroes to demonstrate in Washington, D. C. King still plans on making his initial demands for jobs and income to the Department of Labor. He also feels these demands will not be met and demonstrations will follow. The demonstrators will not abide by injunctions or other legal deterrents. They will sleep in Government office buildings and submit to arrest and jail. King envisions that these demonstrations will tie up all business in Washington, D. C., in a matter of a few days and trigger simultaneous demonstrations in other "target cities." He also feels that the peace issue will become involved and support will be offered from that area. He expects Congress will be pressured into passing favorable legislation because of these demonstrations.

The following information has been supplied by a confidential source of this Bureau who has furnished reliable information in the past.

Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, held a conference with approximately 50 people in Atlanta, Georgia, from January 15 through 17, 1968, to discuss plans for the massive civil disobedience in Washington, D. C., which he calls the "Washington Spring Project." This project will commence in late March, 1968. King's representatives will attempt to recruit 3,000 Negro people from the ghetto areas in 15 "target cities" throughout the United States to go to Washington, D. C., this spring and demonstrate. The recruiters are currently en route to their assigned cities or will arrive there in the next four or five days.

The conference did not resolve when those individuals recruited to demonstrate would arrive in Washington, D.C. King still plans on presenting his initial demands to the Department of Labor. He also expects to make demands, not resolved, on other Government departments.

King feels that his demands will not be met by any Government agency and his massive civil disobedience will then commence. The demonstrators will be instructed not to abide by injunctions or other legal deterrents. They will sleep in Government office buildings and submit to arrest and jail. Other demonstrators will take the place of those jailed.

King envisions that these demonstrations will tie up all business in Washington, D. C., in a matter of a few days. King hopes the news of these demonstrations traveling throughout the Nation will touch off simultaneous demonstrations in the other "target cities." Initially the demonstrators will press for jobs and income; however, King feels the peace issue will naturally become involved and much support will be afforded the demonstrators in Washington, D. C., by various peace groups. Because of the demonstrations, King feels Congress will be forced to pass legislation favorable to Negroes.

King plans to visit each "target city" and talk to demonstrators recruited about the project and boost morale. In that regard, King plans to visit Washington, D. C., on February 8, 1968. He also informed the conference he would be in Washington, D. C., for the actual demonstrations.

The type of civil disobedience that the demonstrators would use was not discussed during this conference. Even though King indicated that these demonstrations would commence the last week in March, the source advised that King has speaking engagements in several cities in Virginia at that time. The source feels that the mass demonstrations will not start until the first week in April.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

On January 16, 1968, Lieutenant GEORGE FENCL, Philadelphia Police Department, Civil Disobedience Unit, advised that on January 11, 1968, JAMES ORANGE, who was associated in some way with Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), was identified in Philadelphia and surveilled throughout the day. It was determined by the surveillance that ORANGE was staying at 6540 Lincoln Drive, Philadelphia, which was the residence of Dr. ROBERT ANDERSON, not further identified by the Philadelphia Police Department at this time.

During the evening hours, ORANGE went to the Universal Church of Restoration at Gorgas Lane and Stenton Avenue in Philadelphia. ORANGE and another individual went into the rear of the church. A list of license plates of other individuals' automobiles who entered the church that evening was obtained by the Philadelphia Police Department. The registered owners of these automobiles are being checked by the Philadelphia Police Department.

About 11:30 p.m., ORANGE left the church with an unidentified Negro male in a 1959 or 1960 Chevrolet, Tennessee license JJ8626. This license was subsequently determined to be that registered to JAMES E. WOODRUFF, 3211 Batavia Avenue, Nashville, Tenn. The Reverend JAMES E. WOODRUFF is presently employed by the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania in the Race Relations Section of the diocese. The Reverend WOODRUFF is also the individual who was involved in the summer of 1966 with the Liberation School in Nashville, Tenn., in which the Chief of Police of Nashville, Tenn., alleged that the Liberation School, which was funded in part by the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity, was teaching "hate whitey" classes.

ORANGE was observed driving a 1965 Pontiac sedan, Illinois license KT3925, which later investigation determined was registered to JAMES E. ORANGE, 1257 South Keeler Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

WASHINGTON SPRING PROJECT

When ORANGE returned to the residence at 6514 Lincoln Drive around midnight, January 12, 1968, the surveillance was dropped.

On January 12, 1968, ORANGE was spot surveilled by the Philadelphia Police Department, however as of mid afternoon Saturday ORANGE could no longer be located.

On January 17, 1968, confidential informant PH T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he had received unverified information that an individual identified only as ORANGE had been at a meeting sometime around the middle or latter part of December at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 52nd and Pine Streets in Philadelphia during the evening, meeting with civil rights leaders in Philadelphia. It was PH T-1's understanding that ORANGE represented Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING and the SCLC in regard to KING's coming project scheduled for the spring of 1968 in Washington, D.C. and other cities. The gist of the meeting was to the effect that if Philadelphia civil rights leaders were to support Dr. KING's presence of SCLC in Philadelphia sometime in early 1968, that any money collected through SCLC efforts in Philadelphia would be used in Philadelphia rather than being taken out of the city for the National Headquarters of SCLC as had been done on a number of former appearances of Dr. KING in Philadelphia.

PH T-1 had no information as to whether or not this was accepted by ORANGE, SCLC, or Dr. KING.
