CHECK ARTIST IS HELD BY POLICE

Buster Brown Shoe Store Is Victimized for $28.50 On Bad Paper

Another "check artist" who chose Glendale as the scene of his operations is in the clutches of the law, and when identification is complete, as seven offenses have already been traced to him, it is probable that a stiff sentence will be the judgment of the court.

On Saturday a man entered the Buster Brown shoe store, 122 North Brand boulevard, and purchased a pair of shoes. In payment he tendered a check for $28.50 to Carl Elmquist, who had waited upon him. The check was drawn in favor of Harry Martin and signed by T. H. McBriden. It was on the Pacific Southwest bank of Los Angeles and had been stamped on the top, "The Vernon Oil and Refining company."

Gets License Number

As the man had been in the store before, the check was cashed. Leaving the Glendale store, the man proceeded to Highland Park, where he cashed an identical check with a merchant there, who took the precaution to take the man's car license number.

When the checks were returned from the bank, marked "No account," Mr. Vaughn of Highland Park informed the detective bureau in Los Angeles, who trailed the man and finally located him in Seal Beach.

He had cashed seven of these checks in various places around Los Angeles. Mr. Elmquist is in Los Angeles today for the purpose of identifying the prisoner as the man who cashed the check in Glendale last Saturday.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION

Mr. & Mrs. Ward H. Nisbet To Hold Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Ward H. Nisbet, 338 West Hawthorne, who will on February 9 celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. They have invited their friends to an "at home" on Saturday from 2:30 o'clock till 5 in the afternoon and from 7:40 till 9:30 at night.

A beautiful old-fashioned, bronze shaded grosgrain silk dress worn Saturday by Mrs. Ward H. Nisbet of 338 West Hawthorne street will recall her marriage fifty years ago February 9 in Sangerfield, N. Y., to Mr. Nisbet. In celebration of their golden anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Nisbet have invited their many friends to an "at home" Saturday from 2:30 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7:40 to 9:30 o'clock at night at their home on West Hawthorne street.

Ward H. Nisbet was born July 17, 1852, in Lee county, New York, while Mrs. Nisbet, who was Miss Mary Camp, was born July 24, 1852, in Sangerfield, N. Y. Following their marriage they took a wedding trip to Massachusetts and returned to live in Sangerfield.

They came to California fifteen years ago and have been Glendale residents for fourteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Nisbet have a daughter, Miss Mabel Nisbet, who is a teacher in the Glendale schools, and a son, Wayne C. Nisbet, who resides at 345 West Hawthorne street. They also have two grandchildren, Mary Adelaide and Robert Nisbet.

Mr. and Mrs. Nisbet are looking forward to greeting a large company of friends tomorrow afternoon and night.

Gateway Market Will Repeat Sale of Hams

Claud Caswell, proprietor of the Gateway Market, Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, will duplicate tomorrow the sensational prices on hams and bacon which he offered last Saturday. The sale last Saturday was a tremendous success, Mr. Caswell said. Mr. Caswell has two markets, the other establishment being now connected with the Sunshine market, 124 West Wilson street. This connection was made during the past week, by removing a partition, and at the time the name of Mr. Caswell's shop was changed from White Star Market to Sunshine Market.

Sewer Bond Measure Is Ready For Action

5562 to 568, and a bond issue of $1,600,000 for the construction of the sewer was authorized by a vote of 5629 for to 535 against. The City Council met on January 10 and certified the election, showing that the sentiment was approximately 10 to 1 in favor of a sewer immediately.

On January 24, Councilman Davis offered the ordinance providing for the issuance of the $1,600,000 in bonds as authorized in the election of January 8. According to the terms of the city charter a period of five days must elapse between the offering and adoption of any ordinance, except it be an emergency measure. After an ordinance is offered it is discussed in committee of the whole and when it is brought up again in open meeting it is generally ready for adoption, any amendments or changes the councilmen wishing to make being made before the vote is requested.

On October 18, Burns & McDonnell, sewer engineers of Los Angeles, were placed in charge of the preliminary work and estimate of cost. O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller & McNeil were retained as special counsel to assist the city attorney's office. December 3, they have made a specialty of this line of work.

CITY'S PUBLICITY WINS PROMINENCE

'Western Advertising' Features John R. Case's Work In Glendale Campaign

Coast-wide recognition of the paper advertising campaign of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was evidenced by the prominence given to Glendale in the recent annual review number of Western Advertising, a publication devoted to the advertising profession on the Pacific Coast.

Each year Western Advertising reproduces sample advertisements in the various fields of this highly specialized business. Under the head of community advertising, Glendale received the greatest prominence of any community in the state, being given a more prominent display than such large campaigns as those carried on by "Californians Inc." and the "All Year Club."

Community advertising in California has received more attention than in any other state. Particularly in this true of communities around Los Angeles, including Alhambra, Riverside, San Diego, Santa Monica, Hermosa Beach, Pomona, Wilmington and others. In addition to the individual cities, entire sections of the country combine to call the attention of the public to their respective merits.

John R. Case, Jr., of 117 East Fairview avenue, Glendale, conducted the entire campaign for the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Case is a professional advertising man and is now handling the advertising of several state wide campaigns for manufacturing concerns of Los Angeles and San Francisco and for some of the leading sub-dividers in Southern California.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE
"April Showers" continues today and Saturday at the Glendale Theatre, with Colleen Moore and Kenneth Harlan in the principal roles, a Preferred picture directed by Tom Forman.

A most-unusual cafe scene will prove a real novelty to picture fans who think they have seen everything new. In this particular cafe, Director Tom Forman has conceived an entertainment stage which is presumably undersea. A rocky bottom, sea-weed, mermaids and darting fish give a background of unusual beauty and the camera has accomplished some wonderful under-water effects. "April Showers" is to be classed among the entirely clean and wholesome picture offerings of the year.

THE GATEWAY
"The Heritage of the Desert" continues today and tomorrow at the Gateway Theatre, a new Zane Grey picture with a cast including Babe Daniels, Ernest Torrence, Noah Beery and Lloyd Hughes. Paramount releases the feature, which was directed by Ivan Wiliat.

Lee's Ferry is at the head waters of the Colorado, an inspiring desert location described by Zane Grey in his well-known novel. The story deals with the primitive warfare between God-fearing pioneers and the bad men of the desert for the possession of water rights. Today this same fight has been changed to a legal conflict affecting national life.

"The Heritage of the Desert" is the third Zane Grey story to be pictureized by Paramount.

HOME EDUCATION TOPIC OF TALK

Mrs. A. A. Barton Speaker at Chapter Meeting in
W. M. Kimball Home

"An ever present thought in the minds of us all should be our duty to those who follow after us. We have a glorious duty to perform, the joyous duty of mothering the next generation," was the quotation given yesterday by Mrs. A. A. Barton, member of the Glendale city Board of Education, when she addressed members of Chapter C. J. P. E. No. 1, on "Home Education" at the home of Mrs. W. M. Kimball at 332 West Lexington drive.

Mrs. Barton succeeded Mrs. Charles H. Toll as leader of the Glendale Mutual Benefit reading circle, which has won nation wide recognition and served as a model for like organizations all over the United States. Although both Mrs. Toll and Mrs. Barton were forced to give up the circle work because of other arduous duties both maintain an active interest in the organization and speak of its aims whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Home Education Letter

The fifteen or more women meeting yesterday at the Kimball home were most interested in Mrs. Barton's sketch of the Reading Circle organization and development. Of interest was the fact that the bureau of education in the department of the interior in Washington, D. C., has issued a home education letter under the title "A Representative Reading Circle and Its Methods," which is concerning the Glendale circle and its activities.

It was an all day meeting yesterday with Mrs. Kimball and her daughter Mrs. Roy Hinchcliff. In the morning Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, president, presided over a business meeting.

A delicious lunch was served at noon and features of the afternoon were the talk by Mrs. Barton.

Zantippe Gets Pismo Clam Broth Transfusion While His Wife Interviews Reporter

Following a transfusion of hot clam broth from the brain of Mr. Pismo of Pismo beach, Professor Xavius Zantippe has rallied from his attack of efflorescent effluvia and is now pronounced out of danger by the surgeon general of the Glendale Union hospital, where he now repines.

"This news will be hailed with joy by all Glendale," declared the learned professor when informed of his prospective recovery. "For so fast has grown the attachment of 'the fastest growing city in America' for me and my politics, that my death would have been nothing short of a municipal catastrophe."

Thereupon Professor Zantippe shut up like the proverbial clam and it is greatly feared by his

At this the reporter politely split his tea.

When little Xandu had restored to his cup by a patent attachment of the vacuum-cleaner, designed for rescuing hooch from the carpet, and when everyone was busily trying to play that new game, My John (translation of the Chinese, Mah Jongg!), Mrs. Zantippe bowed to a fat lady who passed by the open door of the apartment, on the fourteenth floor of the Roll-Your-Own Arms, on North Grand boulevard.

"Who was that woman to whom you just bowed?" the reporter asked.

"Why, she's my next door neighbor."

"But she didn't return your bow."

"Oh, that's nothing," beamed Mrs. Zantippe. "She never returns anything."

"That reminds me of a joke I heard while I was in the army," said the reporter. "There was a—"

Interviews Spouse

The reporter, acting on this say-so, hied himself and family to the habitation of Mrs. Zantippe, where after the agonies of a social evening, an interview began to materialize.

"We understand," opened the reporter and family, "that Professor Zantippe's malady has greatly strengthened the Hon. August September's cause."

"You are mistaken," burbled Mrs. Z. over a soda biscuit. "Somehow, whenever I think of this September creature, I am reminded of a Welsh rarebit."

"Why?" we bit.

"Because, though he aint neither Welsh or rare, he's a piece of cheese just the same!"

Ceremony and Reception Take Place At Lamanda Park Estate

Of The Evening News Staff.

Miss Kathryn Burrows, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Paul Cooney of Montebello and Charles H. Toll, Jr., oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubert Toll, Sr., of 1635 Kenneth road were wed last night, Thursday February 7, 1924, at the beautiful Lamanda Park estate of Miss Burrows' cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Lyman Stewart.

The ceremony and reception following at the Stewart home at 610 South Rose Avenue, was a most brilliant social affair and was attended by a company of 300 relations and friends, including all the old friends of the Toll family from various parts of California.

Herding the approach of spring time a profusion of shell pink and white early peach and almond blossoms decorated the rooms of the spacious home, where the wedding took place.

Charming Picture

Rev. D. H. Martin, a retired Presbyterian minister, whose wife is a cousin of Miss Burrows, was the officiant, reading the bridal service at 8:30 o'clock. The wedding march was played by a pianist and violinist.

Miss Burrows presented a most charming picture in her bridal gown of soft white velvet, made with a court train. Her long veil fell from a head dress fashioned from a rare old lace, an heirloom in her family. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley.

She was given in marriage by her brother Gates Wilson Burrows of Boston, Massachusetts, who came west to attend the wedding.

Attending the bride were Miss Mary Lockwood as maid of honor, and Miss Adelaide Stewart of Lamanda park, and Miss Alice Teague of Santa Paula as bride's maids. Miss Lockwood wore blue tulle in pastel shade, Miss Stewart apricot and Miss Teague green. They carried arm bouquets of sweetpeas.

Gerald S. Toll attended his brother as best man.

Barton Jones of Hollywood and Maynard J. Toll, Mr. Toll's other brother, served as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Jr. Their wedding took place last night.

HELP! HELP! IS CRY FROM CHIEF

Needs Stenographer, Plenty Room, Heap Much of
Other Things

Fire-Police, or Police-Fire Chief John D. Fraser threw up his hands yesterday afternoon, and let out a long wail for help. The wail reached the members of the City Council who were in session in committee of the whole on the second floor of the City Hall who came rushing out to see what was the matter.

If there was a busy man in Glendale John D. Fraser is the man. All day long there had been a steady stream of applicants at his office asking for positions on the fire or police departments, and along in the afternoon the crowd got so thick that the work of the desk sergeant at police headquarters was seriously hampered.

In Need of Help

If the council listens to his plea, and probably they will, he will have the services soon of a stenographer, and he will be empowered to purchase one brand new typewriter.

"Here I am trying to run two departments without even a typewriter, or a secretary, or a stenographer," said Chief Fraser yesterday afternoon. "I venture to say that I have had more callers today than any man in Glendale. All applications for positions on the two departments come to see me, friends of those arrested for speeding, and those who wish to tell me how to run both departments, either together or singly."

"I have no one to whom I can dictate a letter, and the correspondence is piling up so fast that I don't know when I will ever get to it if this rush continues."

Room! Room! Room!

From the looks of things at the chief's office yesterday he will need the whole first floor of the City Hall if he is appointed to head any more departments in the city administration.

How does it feel to be the great pooh-bah of Glendale?" a friend of his asked him yesterday.

"The only difficulty is," replied the chief, "that I should have two entrances to my office, one labeled Fire Chief and the other Chief of Police. The way it is now I can never tell whether a caller is an amateur detective or a hose salesman."

About 2500 children attend each of the concerts given for them by the Chicago Symphony orchestra each year.

Page Rank Conferred By Pythian Knights

The rank of page was exempted at the meeting held last Tuesday night by the Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 331, by the newly elected officers with the new Chancellor Commander S. E. Wright in charge.

The meeting was very well attended with a number of visiting brothers in attendance. Fred Jones, past chief of the district council No. 30, was present and gave a short talk.

The rank of Esquire is scheduled to take place at the next regular meeting, it is announced.

SUICIDES IN OVEN

COUNTY SHERIFF WILL BE GUEST

William Traeger to Attend
Leland Stanford Day
at College Club

William Traeger, sheriff of Los Angeles county, and W. H. Reeves, formerly city manager of Glendale, will vie for honors tomorrow at the "Leland Stanford University Day" to be observed by the Glendale College Women's club at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

It will be a luncheon meeting, luncheon being served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by a program at 1:30 o'clock.

A unique feature of the affair will be that all Stanford men and women in Glendale, whether associated with the club or not, are invited to attend the program at 1:30 o'clock.

Special Guest

Miss Jane Spalding, state treasurer for the American Association of University Women, will also be a special guest. She will speak on the state convention in June at Long Beach.

Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, president of the Glendale club, who graduated from Stanford in 1908, will give a group of violin numbers. She will also preside over a short business meeting.

Hostesses for the day will be Mesdames Mary M. Wright, C. H. Crawford, D. F. Reichard and A. L. Ferguson.

Camp Project Topic at Luncheon Today

At a luncheon meeting this noon in the Egyptian Village, the trustees of the Haines Canyon camp project of the Verdugo Hills Council, Boy Scouts of America, went into details concerning the needs of the two score men who financed the purchase of the property. Many of them are Rotarians and it was a project in which the late J. G. Huntley took the lead.

More than $4,000,000,000 worth of property is stolen in the United States every year.

WILL CELEBRATE CHURCH BIRTHDAY

New Thought Center Plans to Mark Anniversary
at Three Services

On next Sunday the Glendale New Thought Center will celebrate the sixth anniversary of the founding of the society by special programs and services at 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning and at 2:30 p. m., in the lecture hall and theatre of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, where the regular services have been held since the completion of that edifice.

At the morning session of the Sunday School and The Larger Circle adult study group and the regular devotional services following, Judge Joel E. Smith will address both the 10 o'clock class and preach the sermon and conduct the devotional services at 11 o'clock, assisted by a special musical program. A recent visit and lecture from Judge Smith so impressed the membership and the board that an effort will be made to secure his services as leader and lecturer for the month of March and possibly the remainder of February.

Eloquent Speaker

One of the members, commenting enthusiastically on the prospect of annexing him to the Glendale field, said, "With his deep sincerity and seriousness he combines a rare fund of humor" and wit that sparkles through his extemporaneous discourses like rare jewels and his Southern forcefulness reminds one of Sam Jones or Sam Small with a big plus. He is as flowery and eloquent as Governor Bob Taylor and yet inspires his hearer with his vision of "The Larger Comradeship of the Spirit."

The principal speaker at the afternoon session will be Henry Victor Morgan, widely known throughout America as a forceful teacher and platform speaker, as well as author of many Advanced Thought books and editor of the magazine "The Master Christian." The many friends of this fellowship of students of the Spiritual Life and the Glendale public, will be welcomed at both sessions.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—"Fare dodging" has become such a common pastime that the Paris Transport company is thinking of putting plain clothes detectives upon their autobuses and tramways to see to it that more people pay their fares. It has been figured that ten per cent of the passengers who ride forget, more or less voluntarily, that there is a little ticket (red, blue, green or yellow according to the distance one travels) to purchase when one boards a car or a bus.

their lives, this goes without saying. Whether they be lovers, wives or mothers, the tragedy for them all is to grow old. One does not grow old if he keeps from telling his age. Everybody will agree with me that the women have all rights and excellent reasons for dissimulating the dreadful truth. But such a precaution on the part of the men is hard to explain."

A Princess of Science is the new title acquired by Mademoiselle Germaine Dreyfus-See, who has just been classed first in a course of house surgeons. There were 650 candidates, many of the so-called "stronger" sex, and 75, including five other women came out with flying colors. Mademoiselle Dreyfus-See will now be able to reside and continue her studies for four years in a good hospital. She is twenty-seven years old, the daughter of an industrialist in the Nord department, and at the time of the German invasion was condemned by the enemy war council to prison beyond the Rhine. He could not return until after the armistice. Forced to discontinue her studies during the war, Mademoiselle became an ambulance nurse. Immediately after the close of hostilities she took up her work in neurology.

From St. Etienne the following convocation was sent out: "All those who are unhappily married in the city of Firminy and the surrounding country and all who have had misfortune in married life are respectfully invited to assist at a reunion which will take place the twenty-third of December at 2:00 o'clock, place de Breuil, for the purpose of nominating committees and organizing a banquet for all unfortunate."

"Rosalie" is not feeling well—in fact, Rosalie is not at all well and her indisposition is causing a deal of worry to her keeper at the Paris zoo. He is very fond of this thirty-four-year-old elephant, and has been looking after her for over twenty-nine years. He left her once and Rosalie made attacks upon the few caretakers and finally went on a hunger strike, so they persuaded her favorite to return. Hopes are entertained for her recovery.

"Age unknown"—is the surprising answer to the age question given by 28,000 men in Paris. Only 25,000 women made the same reply. "This is something new," writes Edmund See in "L'Information." "What's up now that makes the men hide their ages? It's all very well for the women to forget how old they are; once arrived at a certain moment in

MARGE Once I knew a kindred spirit, Joyous, vibrant, free. A happy, roguish, loving nymph; But she's forgotten me. Once we scamped hand in hand O'er rocks or sat 'neath tree. To whisper little thoughts of joy; But she's forgotten me. Once we strolled by harvest moon. In God-sent ecstasy Of life, and love, and happiness. But she's forgotten me. Once her brown eyes looked in mine And said, "You have the key To open wide this heart of mine." Now she's forgotten me. So I sit in solitude, And dream in reverie Of golden hours in days gone; Since she's forgotten me. A FLAPPER SPEAKS My winter and summer hates are: The fellow who calls on you, and, after you have spent three hours trying to look your prettiest, thinks he is flattering you when he states he is always interested in a plain woman with brains. The married flirt who tells you how his wife adores him. The fellow who has called on you steadily three evenings a week for eleven months and then tells you he does not believe in Christmas giving. The fellow who eats your home-cooked dinner it has taken you half the afternoon to prepare, and then offers to entertain you with a five-mile walk. Where is the advantage of having a baby-sized hands when a man's interest travels no farther than to wonder if you will be capable of lifting the fifty pounds of ice from the dumb-waiter without spraining your wrist? It is a dull week in newspaper circles when Germany doesn't collapse. What the average marriage between movie people needs is continuity. When we see thousands of smartly dressed private secretaries and stenographers on the streets during luncheon hour we wonder what on earth can have become of the poor working girl. We haven't seen one of her in several years.

PLAN TO CUT ARMY EXPENDITURE

British Laborites Launch Economy Move

Reduction of military expenditures is one of the planks in the platform of the Labor party of England, and the party has made it clear that it will not spare the army and navy in its efforts to cut taxation while it is in the saddle of government in the empire. Because of this, the portfolios of first lord of the admiralty, held by Lord Chelmsford, and war minister, occupied by Stephen Walsh, will be among the most important in the MacDonald ministry.

Timely Views on World Topics

Mrs. J. H. Bell, of Salina, Kansas, is the only woman in the United States to manage a water-works company. When her husband died she was asked by the Massachusetts company that owned the Salina waterworks to step into his shoes and manage the company. She did so in spite of the lack of faith displayed by friends who said that she could not. She has been managing it ever since.

municipal councils and address them on the subject. Georgina Ferreira appeared before the council with a petition arose as to whether the Dictator had not intended the privilege for members of the male sex only, but no such restriction could be found and she was permitted to read the petition. This event was particularly pertinent as the address closely followed a petition made to the Dictator for the vote for women in municipal and parliamentary affairs.

"Never believe it when some one insists that you cannot do a thing," says Mrs. Bell. "When I was a little girl my mother would say, 'No, you cannot cook this; you could spoil it.' But when I grew up and married I cooked to my heart's content and to the satisfaction of my husband. Now I know there is nothing I cannot cook."

Mrs. Richard C. Cabot, wife of Boston's famous diagnostician and author, gives a course on "human relations" at Pine Manor, the graduate school of Dana Hall in Wellesley, one of the country's most aristocratic finishing schools. It has to do mainly with love and marriage and in it the society buds of today are taught how not to be the divorcees of tomorrow.

"But the boys laying pipes out there in the ditches in mud and water never whimpered. Their spirit, coupled with the knowledge of my victory over cookery, made me stick to it, and now nothing can come up that I will not tackle."

"Society girls are much more serious minded and really interested in life than people give them credit for," says Mrs. Cabot. "They have come to think seriously of our grave divorce problems. They have learned that the real pleasure of life is realized when love is sanctified and marriage glorified. This is why the finishing school introduced my course."

At present Mrs. Bell is campaigning for a new franchise. Senora Sofia V. Buenteello has resolved to end war in Mexico. As president of the Co-operative Union of Women in Mexico City she has issued a call to most hearts and wives to try to avert the taking of lives at national elections. She believes that once the Mexican woman is aroused to the danger in which her men are exposed at she will work tirelessly to avert war.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RED FLOWER. Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper for Uncle Wiggily, sat in the parlor, where the piano had been moved from one side of the room to the other. "Just one thing more and this room would be beautiful," said Nurse Jane, as she flipped her tail on the seat of a chair to take off some of the dust. "I hope you don't mean to have the piano moved back again to where it was at first," murmured Mr. Longears. For it was hard work to move the piano. And when he was doing it the day before a Bear shuffled in and—oh, but I told you that story last night, you may remember. "No, I don't mean to change the piano," spoke Nurse Jane. "But if I had some sort of a growing plant like a white geranium, it would be beautiful."

"Wouldn't you like a red flower instead of white?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, no!" exclaimed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Red is so common! A white flower is much more poetical and stylish. I couldn't stand red—it would get on my nerves," and Nurse Jane gave a little shiver and shudder. "All right, then!" laughed the bunny gentleman, "a white flower you shall have. For myself, I would much prefer red, but this is for you. I can see some red blossoms in the summer time."

"Where are you going?" asked the muskrat lady as she saw Uncle Wiggily putting on his coat and hat, and twinkling his pink nose. "I am going out to get you a white flower," he answered. "But where?" Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy wished to know. "This is winter—there is ice and snow in the woods and fields. You can't find a white flower growing out of doors now." "No," Uncle Wiggily agreed, "but I think I can get one at the drug store. They sell everything there. And anyway he hoped with his pink twinkling nose, before Nurse Jane could stop him. Perhaps that is why Uncle Wiggily liked red flowers—because his nose was pink. "Oh, what a funny rabbit he is," laughed the muskrat lady. "I think he can find a flower in the drug store."

Well, Uncle Wiggily didn't exactly find a flower in the drug store, but Dr. Possum, who kept it, said: "Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, grows flowers and plants in her pen house all winter. I'm sure she would give you a white blossom for Nurse Jane." And Mrs. Twistytail did. Uncle Wiggily carried home the lovely white flower. "Oh, it is beautiful—thank you!" murmured Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, as she set it in the parlor. "It would be much prettier if it were red!" declared Uncle Wiggily. "Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane. But all the while Uncle Wiggily wished he had a red flower instead of a white one.

A few days after this Uncle Butter, the goat gentleman, came to Uncle Wiggily to get about going skating. Nurse Jane was out, so the two animal friends sat in the parlor. "This is a beautiful room," bleated Uncle Butter, "with a piano, a white flower and everything." "It would be much prettier if the flower were red," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "And say, Uncle Butter, he went on, 'do you know what I am going to do?'" "No. What?" asked the goat. "I am going to turn that white flower red," said the bunny. "How?" asked the goat. "By sprinkling red pepper on it," answered Uncle Wiggily. "A dash of red pepper will turn the white flower red. Then I can enjoy looking at it. Before Nurse Jane comes back I'll dust off the red pepper and the flower will be white again, and not hurt in the least."

"You want to be careful, though," warned Uncle Butter. "Of what, why and when do I want to be careful?" asked the bunny. "Of red pepper, as it may get up your nose and make you sneeze," bleated Uncle Butter. "I'll be careful of you and myself," said Uncle Wiggily. So he sprinkled a lot of red pepper on the white flower, turning the blossom red. "There, I like that much better!" cried the bunny. "And I would like your ears white flower red with the sneezy pepper." Then Uncle Wiggily looked at the red flower as much as he liked. And before Nurse Jane came home he took off the red pepper in the vacuum sweeper, so it wasn't blown about the room. And neither the bunny nor the goat sneezed. And how Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy laughed when she heard about the bunny making a red flower with the hot pepper. But if the safety pin doesn't try to jump over the toy balloon and burst a hole in it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the rug.

BURBANK YALE AGAIN HEAD OF CIVIC BODY

Delegation Attends Unveiling Treaty Memorial Tablet in Cahuenga Pass

Dr. A. E. W. Yale is again president of the Civic Betterment association. G. Roy Pendell is vice-president and W. S. Walker is secretary-treasurer.

These new officers took charge of the association for the first time at last night's meeting held in Dr. Yale's office at 217 West San Fernando boulevard, when discussion was had over candidates to take the places next April of Trustees Nielsen, Hams and Jackson, Treasurer Charles B. Fischer and City Clerk F. S. Webster.

See Treaty Rites
Representatives from Burbank were among the 100 people who witnessed the ceremonies incident to unveiling the bronze tablet on Lankershim boulevard, across from Universal City, commemorating the capitulation of General Pio Pico to Colonel J. C. Fremont, U. S. army, following the battle of Cahuenga. Mrs. May Clarke, a member of the California History and Landmarks club, was among those present.

The mortar used for the imbedding of the bronze tablet in the little adobe house, was made of sand from every river in the state, granite from every range of mountains from the north to the south boundary; the cement from every cement plant in the state and the water from the missions from the old San Diego to the Santa Concepcion in the north.

Following is the wording on the tablet:

"Here was made the treaty of Cahuenga by General Andres Pico, commanding forces for Mexico, and Lt. Col. J. C. Fremont, U. S. army, for the United States. By this treaty agreed upon January 13, 1847, the United States acquired California, finally secured to us by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, made February 2, 1848."

Brandt Badly Burned
Frank Brandt of Spazier street was badly burned about the hands and arms Monday night, when the gasoline stove on which he was cooking exploded. After preliminary attention at the office of Dr. A. E. W. Yale, he was sent to the county hospital, where it was discovered that his hands and arms were practically cooked. He is reported to be in a serious condition.

The Burbank Choral club will sing in Hollywood on the night of February 15, at the First Christian church, it is announced, and extensive preparations are being made on both sides to make the evening a notable one.

More power to 'em

More power, better gasoline mileage, lower upkeep costs and a longer working life—all these definite gains come from proper lubrication of your Ford.

Why not give your Ford a chance to do its best for you? Zerolene "F" for Fords, developed by our research engineers after years of study and experiment, provides a lubricant expressly designed to meet the special requirements of the Ford splash system, at a price not more but actually less than any of the special Ford oils now on the market.

Zerolene "F" for Fords fulfills the first and most essential requirement of a good lubricant—it gets to the parts to be lubricated, especially the wrist pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls which are ordinarily oil-starved.

A Ford well treated is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

A Last Plea to the Citizens of Glendale

On Sunday morning, Feb. 3rd, cards were passed to you, asking you to write to Senators Hiram Johnson and Samuel Shorridge; Representatives Capt. J. D. Fredericks and Walter F. Lineberger; Senator Thomas Sterling, Rep. Wm. W. Griest; Rep. Martin B. Madden, asking them to vote for house bill 4123.

Many have complied with this request. Many, many more letters are needed. This is of vital interest to you, as well as simple justice to the Postal employees. Better salaries will attract better men to the service, as well as retain the capable and experienced men we now have.

Do you know that a letter carrier in the first year receives $3.65 a day, and in 5 years reaches the highest of $4.87? The postal employees are required to provide their own uniforms, and appear neat at all times. When off duty they are expected to be exemplary citizens, and maintain a decent standard of living.

This bill, H. R. 4123, is now before Congress, therefore prompt action on your part is imperative.

Signed—

CONFESSIONS OF A BABY

Baby Talk

"Oh, oo pitty, pitty baby! Whose itty, bitty baby is oo? Tum to me, oo tunnin babbie, won't oo?"

It was a very sweet, lovely woman calling on us, and she made those funny inarticulate noises when I was introduced to her. Of course, at six months I cannot be expected to understand, except by intuition, what people say to me, but such a jargon as the nice lady used I had never heard before. My mamma and all of my family, while they address me in many loving terms, always speak to me in clear and correct English.

I looked at the beautiful lady gravely. It was evident that she was a very sympathetic, dear woman and loved little babies very much, and I could see that she thought I was very nice.

"Won't oo tum to me, tweet-heart?" she repeated, putting out her arms to me. Of course, I did understand that motion and her appealing smile, and I responded by letting her take me.

When she had me she continued those inarticulate sounds and somewhat disturbed during the noises, and finally she said: "Alma, dear, now that you have moved into our neighborhood, we want to see a lot of you—but you mustn't teach the baby bad habits."

"Bad habits! Good Heavens, Alma, what do you mean? Me? Teach baby bad habits?"

"Yes, dear, bad language habits. We never talk baby talk to Sockums and we never shall, because we realize that babies have no other way of learning to talk than through the language they hear around them, and we don't want him to learn a type of language that he has to unlearn afterwards. He must learn to speak correctly, and that is why we are always particular to speak correctly to him, even now, so he won't be in the habit of baby talk when he begins to talk and imitates our words."

"I know it is a great temptation to use baby talk. I want to do it often myself, but I refrain when I realize that he will learn to talk through hearing us talk. What we say he will think is correct, and we feel that it will be a waste of time and energy both for him and for us, time which we could use to better advantage, to give him a language that he has to unlearn."

"You know, Alma, if you were going to learn a language you would want to take your lessons from one who spoke that language in a cultivated form, rather than from one who would give you incorrectly pronounced and slovenly

FROCKS MADE THE PARIS WAY

The coat frock is quite the smartest thing that Paris has to offer for daytime wear, and she invests it with infinite variety. To the left is a model in midnight blue Poiret twill, trimmed with braid and bands of fur—the fur being applied in such a way that it may be replaced with any other trimming preferred. The closing is at the left side, the deeply cut front being finished with a collar of self-material. Medium size requires 3 1-8 yards 54-inch material.

Colorful embroidery gives a brilliant touch to the second dress, also in dark blue twill. The sides are laid in plaits and the back hangs in straight lines, broken only by a narrow belt of self-material. Fancy braid of brocade silk may be used for the revers and cuffs, if desired. Medium size requires 3 1-2 yards 54-inch material, with 1 yard 36-inch silk for trimming.

First model: Pictorial Review dress No. 1927. Sizes 34 to 48 inches bust. Price 45 cents.

Second model: Dress No. 1910. Sizes 34 to 48 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price 45 cents.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Miss Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoaks college, Mass., and a member of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian association, made an address on "The New Citizenship" at the annual meeting and banquet of the Y. W. of Cleveland, O., recently. The meeting was attended by about 900 members and friends of the association.

Miss Woolley said that she believed "women are not only anxious to be citizens but to be good citizens. The Y. W. C. A., a non-sectarian body, teaches that religion is not a department by itself, but a force in home and business, and that the fact girls of other nations are also members and receiving the benefits of the association makes the work a great and beautiful adventure in friendliness. The new citizenship of the world does not mean giving up our national affection but making our nation a force for righteousness and peace in the world."

Last summer Miss Woolley visited China and Japan and she spoke especially of the work of the Y. W. C. A. secretaries in these countries. In China, she was told, many women work in the cotton factories in 12-hour shifts—in hours on the day shift, then 12 hours on the night shift.

HOW TO HAVE A BAD SKIN

There is nothing in the world so lovely as the fresh, clear skin of a young girl. It is, or rather it should be, as fine in texture as the skin of a baby and just as delicately rose and white. But, unfortunately, very few young girls nowadays have such a complexion. I have found from my favorite habit of counting people in street cars that less than half possess even passably good skins.

If you want a bad complexion it is the easiest thing in the world to acquire. One iced soda a day will accomplish it with no other help if you have a delicate digestion. A starchy luncheon every day, consisting of sandwiches and cake, will ruin the business girl's skin in a very short time. One boxful of chocolates consumed during the evening at a movie has been known to do wonders in the way of spoiling an otherwise clear complexion.

A young girl's complexion is very delicate and very sensitive and very easy to spoil. She has no longer the hardy digestion of childhood, she no longer runs about freely out of doors, overcoming by the fresh air and vigorous exercise whatever harm she may do by overeating. She is indoors more, she is studying harder than when she was a child; perhaps she is working in an office and growing used to long hours of sitting in an uncomfortable position. She sleeps less, indeed she generally does not sleep nearly enough, and, having more spending money and feeling less parental authority, she can at last indulge her desire for sweets and rich foods. The combination of a less healthy life and an unhealthy method of eating is almost always fatal. A few pimples appear and then many blackheads, the delicate texture disappears, and the lovely color is gone until good

ATTRACTIVE DRESS

The drop shoulder-poke is always attractive for the school maid. This in plain voile on a one-piece frock of drapery cloth is smart when there are tiny kimono sleeves and a tie-belt.

Louise Moors, a blind girl architect, has won a place for herself in her profession in spite of her handicap. She has been sightless since the age of six, but continued her studies and received her A. B. degree from Trinity college, Washington, D. C. She built a tea house in Washington and is now working in the interests of other blind girls of her establishment.

A man doesn't have to have a million dollars to live comfortably these days. He can do it if he has only $999,999.99.

ATTRACTION FOR ALL

Too many iced drinks ruin the complexion.

All right for you. Add to these the one where you lie flat on the floor, and practice rising to a sitting position without using the arms, and while keeping the legs down. Finish with a forward reach, bending body from the hips. At first you will need to push the toes under a heavy piece of furniture, but do not depend upon this help for long, otherwise you will not be gaining all the benefit possible.

Tomorrow—Well-Cared-For Hands.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Six and seven year old children also work long hours in these factories. She characterized the Chinese women as, "serious, but with a delightful sense of humor and so anxious to learn that they have to be actually driven from their books."

"Friendliness" is the only thing that can save the women of China and civilization itself by bringing about a better understanding between the people of the far east and those of the western world."

TO FIGHT CONSTIPATION—the most dangerous condition your system can become chained to—to get free from bleary biliousness, dull headaches, nausea—etc., etc.!!!

Rid yourself of this dangerous condition—or start “slipping” and become a prey to any one of the most dreaded human ailments which have their beginning with constipation and toxic poisoning!

Fight constipation as you would fight fire! Fight it with bran—Kellogg's Bran—BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN! Don't temporize! Don't waste time and health by going half-way! You need ALL BRAN; you need the bulk, the “roughage” of ALL BRAN, because it sweeps, cleanses and purifies!

REALIZE THIS—foods with a part bran content can only relieve constipation in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! If they are 25 or 50 per cent bran—you may get 25 or 50 per cent relief!

REMEMBER THIS—Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN and is guaranteed to give you positive and permanent relief if you will eat two table-spoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Don't delay; don't fuss with half-way measures! You have too much at stake! All grocers sell—

the original BRAN—ready to eat

EAGLE ROCK REALTORS FAVOR 'AMERICAN' CITY

Protest Foreigners Buying Property in Lengthy Resolution

The recently organized divisional body of Eagle Rock realtors, affiliated with the Los Angeles Realty board, has gone on record as opposing sale of property in this district to foreigners, the following resolution having been passed:

WHEREAS the tract restrictions in many of the tracts of Eagle Rock have expired, and

WHEREAS it is now possible for others than the Caucasian race to purchase, lease or rent property and live in this community

THEREFORE be it resolved by the Eagle Rock Realty Board this community, assembled this 21st day of January, 1924, at the Mountain View Lodge, Eagle Rock, that we as a board and as individuals pledge ourselves against the selling, leasing, or renting of property, or being a party to any negotiation affecting anyone other than of the Caucasian race.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we discourage and hold it highly unethical to sell or lease any property, either by the owner or agent, to such a person or to any person of undesirable or questionable character.

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED that we call upon the citizens of Eagle Rock and brokers operating within our limits to co-operate in maintaining a community of desirable people of the white race.

AND IT IS FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be presented to all agents licensed to operate within the limits of Eagle Rock, whether member or non-member of this board, for the purpose of attaching their signatures hereto.

Announce Awards

Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner of 1925 Hill drive, local librarian, and W. R. Veysey of 5343 Sierra Villa drive, now a student at Columbia university, New York, are winners of the $20 prize offered by the Blackmer people for the best essay on the subject, “The Value of a View.”

The second prize of fifteen dollars cash, was awarded to Lieut. E. W. Welty, of the Eagle Rock Fire Department.

The two contributions tied for third place, each receiving a cash prize of ten dollars, are: Mary T. Creswell, 2130 Norwalk avenue and Miss E. C. Richardson, 5112 Eagle Rock boulevard.

Tied for fourth place, or more correctly speaking, the winner of a special prize of five dollars, is a little school girl, Bernice Sues, 4927 Townsend avenue.

Miss Jennie Watson, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson of Floristan avenue, is winner of first prize for securing the most new members for the Dahlia Heights P. T. A. The number secured by Miss Watson was fifteen. The prize she received was a box of home made candy. The entire drive brought 230 new members, it is reported. The next meeting will be the afternoon of Friday, February 15.

Organize Band

F. M. Curns, bandmaster of the 150th Infantry, has issued a call for all who play band instruments to become members of a forty-piece Eagle Rock band he is organizing. His headquarters are at the Eagle Rock Music company on Colorado boulevard. He is desirous of welding such an organization into harmonious cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, luncheon clubs and other civic bodies for the advancement of the community.

Opposition in Japan To 'Thanks' Mission

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—The Japanese press and a section of the politicians here are strongly criticizing the suggestion made recently that a mission of thanks be sent to the United States to visit the principal cities of the country and thank the American people personally for the donations in the recent earthquake period. The American people generally would not approve of such an output of money by the Japanese Government at this time, according to the opinion of the opponents of the plan.

FUNDS IN TREASURY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Funds in the state treasury total $18,791,874.23 and state funds out in “cash” money bearing 2 per cent interest aggregate $2,370,334.30, according to State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, in his semi-annual report to the State Board of Control. Inactive funds in state banks, with interest rates approximating 4 per cent, reach $16,296,000, the report shows.

May Use Lie Detector

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 8.—The “lie detector” may be used on Everett Drew Clark, charged with the murder of George E. Shick. Mrs. Clark, who with her husband waived trial on a joint charge of forgery, is in jail awaiting the outcome of her husband's trial for murder. To further tangle the case, the parole of J. G. Ricketts was revoked after letters to the wife of the missing broker were found on him. It has been intimated that the letters contain a plea for Mrs. Shick to “stand by” Clark.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 8.—William H. Reeves of Glendale and six other candidates for the position of city manager remain out of a total of 115 applicants originally on the lists. The other six are:

A. B. Cook, Santa Barbara; Herbert Nunn, San Francisco; Frank R. Lanagan, Albany, New York; D. Q. McComb, Los Angeles; Oscar F. Weissgerber, Hollywood; R. M. Dorton, Pittsburg, California.

Pupils Work in Films

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 8.—The Vine street school now has a “movie class” in which are enrolled twenty-two pupils who are working in the films, reports M. E. Peterson, principal. When a child leaves the class for work on location or at the studios, he or she is given an outline of the week's work. On return to school, the child is examined on this work. The unique system is said to work admirably.

Teachers Will Study

SANTA ANA, Feb. 8.—Teachers here will be given an opportunity to go to school again, beginning February 14, from 4 to 5:30 o'clock each Thursday afternoon, for seventeen weeks, according to Chairman L. L. Beeman of the social science department at the high school. The course will be in the principles and provisions of the constitution.

Pageant Is Planned

ARCADIA, Feb. 8.—Plans for a “Covered Wagon Pageant” to be staged in this section during June are being formulated by the Foothill Boulevard association. The celebration will include Indians, pioneers, ox teams, mule teams and all the old time attendants.

Policeman Is Killed

SAN GABRIEL, Feb. 8.—Police Officer Samuel M. Bellemey was killed when his motorcycle collided with a light truck at the intersection of Whittier and Guadalupe roads, near Whittier. He had been returning home after spending the night in Fullerton, whence he had gone after spending the evening in Anaheim with a girl friend. The machine is understood to have been borrowed from a brother officer. Mr. Bellemey leaves a mother and a brother in San Gabriel.

Install New Sprinkler

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 8.—“Manufactured rain” will make the public park in this city blossom like the rose, declare officials. A new and scientific sprinkling system that will rival Pnythus has been installed and presently thousands of gallons of water will be pouring from the “rain” sky. For the past two years unsuccessful efforts have been made to grow a lawn in the park but it is believed that the third attempt will be successful.

Predict Record Shipments

ONTARIO, Feb. 8.—Predictions are beginning to be heard that citrus fruit shipments from the “O. K.” district (Ontario-Cucamonga) will break all records, the indication being that 5300 carloads will go forward before November 1.

The exchange total estimate includes 2600 cars of Washington navel, 1200 cars of lemons, 600 cars of Valencia, 90 cars of miscellaneous oranges, and 45 cars of grapefruit.

Borough Plan Will Be Under Discussion
"Suburban Day" under the direction of the inter-city and suburban committee of the Los Angeles City Club will be held tomorrow, Saturday, February 9, with a luncheon at 12 o'clock in the club's quarters in the C. C. Chapman building, Eighth and Broadway, Los Angeles.
The borough plan of city government will be discussed by George H. Dunlop, secretary of the Los Angeles board of freeholders, which is drafting the new charter for the metropolis. Inasmuch as this plan may vitally affect the future of Glendale, and considering the fact that Bert H. Woodard, local attorney, was instrumental in having the "borough plan" submitted to the freeholders, it is expected that numerous civic representatives will be in attendance.
Wyllis S. Abbot of Venice is chairman of the inter-city committee and he is particularly anxious that Glendale be well represented. He says, "There is a spirit of helpfulness towards her suburban communities prevailing in Los Angeles—let us encourage and reciprocate it."

Zantippe's Spouse Holds Interview
"Oh, it was just a little joke I heard in France," she said eagerly.
"Yes—?"
"It was about the captain of our company. He used to be hard of hearing. One day as he was standing by the fire trench, a shell came along and clipped off his head clean as a whistle. 'Oh, captain, said a private standing nearby. 'You've been hit, sir. Shall I report to the lieutenant?' 'What's that you say?' replied the captain. 'You'll have to speak louder. I can't hear a word you say.' 'Oh, heavens!' said Mrs. Z. 'Mercy, such a joke. Is that the best you know?' 'Excellent!' she called, 'bring the children back in the room. Well, Mr. Reporter, I hope you won't have to be going.'"

Says—Now Stiff Joints Must Go!
New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases.
Yes: it's true—the world progresses.
All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.
Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.
Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.
The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.
"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."
Joint Ease: They call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.
It's a good name for a good, clean, stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.
But Joint Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.
Druggists everywhere report a big demand.—Advertisement.

MONTROSE
C. C. TO SOLICIT
EXTRA MEMBERS
Organization of Montrose Takes Up Varied Program In Regular Meeting
With the usual businesslike methods of discussing subjects, voting and passing on to the next one, the Montrose Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night. Mr. Carney, the secretary, being ill, S. Sullivan wielded the secretarial pen, while Mr. Brown filled his office of presiding with his usual dignity and fairness.
The first question was that of membership and, at Mark Collins' suggestion, the Chamber of Commerce will have Mr. Steinbrey solicit new memberships for them, and right now we know the Chamber of Commerce is going to have an increased membership. As Mr. Collins stated, in the past month Mr. Steinbrey has added over sixty new members to the roll of the Improvement association.
The question of an all-night light on the interesting line of Montrose and Honolulu boulevards received due consideration, as all street lights are out at 12. The street at this particular place being dark, somewhat hinders the work of the night watchman in our growing business community. A committee consisting of President Brown of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce and President Collins of the La Crescenta Improvement association will attend to the matter and see what can be done about leaving the one light on, at least, all night.
Mr. Mead, reporting on fire truck business, felt as long as the community was purchasing an outfit it would be better to have an adequate one at least, which expressed the consensus of opinion.
A committee from both centers will work on the fire protection question for the coming year, seeing about fire hydrant stations, procuring a suitable lot and building a garage for an engine of the right sort. Mark Collins, speaking for Mr. Branford of the schools, who was unable to be present, told of the new stage curtains recently installed in the La Crescenta school auditorium, and suggested that a small donation toward the expense incurred would be acceptable, as the school children themselves had undertaken to bear this burden. After a very fair-minded, in fact, liberal, view of the request had been presented by Theodore Belanger of Montrose, the Chamber of Commerce voted to donate $25 to the fund.
Distributè Auto Tags
Mr. Belanger, chairman of the publicity campaign, not only told of the new auto tags the chamber had ordered, but gave them to members gratis. The name "Montrose" stands out clearly, while "Chamber of Commerce," though smaller, is easily read at a distance. The plates are neat aluminum ones with black trim.
Mrs. Hopkins, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave her report on the "Sheet and Pillow Case" dance, reporting that the sum of $40 or over will go to the community fire fund. Mrs. Hopkins also announced the contest, which is now open, for an appropriate name for the community sing. It must not be either Montrose or La Crescenta, but must convey to all the location of the sing and be representative in this community. A $5 gold piece is the reward. You are requested to present your slogan at the dance on Saturday given for the sing, or bring it to the next sing.
In speaking of the assistance rendered by members of the La Crescenta Improvement association and the Woman's club, Mrs. Hopkins requested that the president instruct the secretary to write a letter of thanks to both organizations, which will be done.
Mr. Reinhard stated in case of fire the alarm box was on the west side of the building and for all who see fires to ring in for help.
Tells Church Progress
Reverend Durr, pastor of the Community Methodist church, gave a few words on the growth of his church and Sunday school, also thanking Mark Collins for the recent substantial gift he made this church.
Altogether, Montrose Chamber of Commerce is composed of a body of wide-awake, keen-minded business men full of civic pride and community spirit, which is, after all, the backbone of any community, and when the officers or committee appointed by them, of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce, get busy, they do something.
Still another profession is to be represented in the Montrose, when Dr. D. T. Hodnefield, optometrist, opens up his new offices next door to the bank, on Montrose avenue. Dr. Hodnefield is a graduate of several very prominent colleges and will be an asset to the business section. There will be an assistant in the office at all times, as the doctor will not be here all the time at present.

BROADWAY IS GLENDALE'S CENTER OF GROWTH

BROADWAY IS FAMOUS NAME

Glendale Thoroughfare, Like Others of That Name, Is Important Street

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.

Even more important than Main Street has been the role played by Broadway in the historic drama of the world. What the former is to the towns, the latter is to the cities. Nobody knows anything about Main Street, New York, but everybody knows something about Broadway. "The great white way," the original Broadway, New Yorkers think. But Broadway, Manhattan, is not the original Adam of its species. Go back to Rome and you will find Broadway there! The Appian Way, route of emperors and armies up and down Europe. That was a broad way, nor is there any pun in the remark. Take the derivation of the word and what does it mean? A way that is broad.

What Word Means

Everyone knows what broad means. It is the antithesis of narrow. But not everyone knows what way means. Webster's New International dictionary defines it as follows: "That along which one passes or progresses in reaching some place."

Broadway, Glendale, as well as Broadway, New York, meets the test. It measures up to its meaning. It is broad and it goes somewhere. Those are the two main qualifications of a successful street. When those qualifications are met, an invariable condition develops along such a Broadway. Trade comes, bringing shops and stores and offices.

Has Nothing On Us

Broadway, New York, has a fifty-story building and several half that height. Broadway, Glendale, has a six-story building and several half that height. Taking relative size of the two cities into account, our Broadway is just as important as theirs.

Our Broadway, moreover, has lots of automobiles, lots of people, and it has trolley tracks, traffic cops and ornamental street lights, no less than Broadway. (Continued on Page 2)

Broadway Started By Children on Way to School

Broadway, originally known as Fourth street in the village of Glendale years ago, had its inception when school children, coming from San Fernando road to the district school on the Verdugo county road, cleared a roadway through the sagebrush along a line of fences marking the Crow and Bullis properties, according to J. C. Sherer's history of this city.

Little did Wesley Bullis, who helped to do the job and still lives in Glendale to tell the tale, realize what a path of commerce he was promoting when he got out his father's horses and drag to clear the way for carriages. That was back in the eighties, which few of us remember, but what a thrill was given property owners when paving began ten years ago! That made Broadway the busy business street it is today.

STEVENS STORE HAS BEST PAINTS

Fine Line 1924 Wall Papers Also Carried by Broadway Establishment

One of Broadway's attractive and valuable establishments is the Stevens' Paint Store, 217 East Broadway. H. T. Stevens, the owner, started the place two and a half years ago, firmly imbued with the idea that Broadway would become the business axis of Glendale. The steady improvement his business has enjoyed, has justified that conviction.

The store makes a specialty of Patton's Sun-Proof paints and Pitcairn aged varnishes. Mr. Stevens said that both of these lines occupied leading positions in the field, and were so consistent in quality that buyers who use them seldom accept any substitute product.

The Stevens' Paint Store handles a fine line of wall papers, and now has an assortment of beautiful designs in the 1924 stock. All kinds of painters' supplies, together with plaster board, roofing and glass are also carried by the store.

Diamond Rings For Patrons of Auction

R. L. Cole's auction sale at 106 East Broadway is crowded every afternoon and evening, Mr. Cole said. The reason is that it is an unusual opportunity when people can carry home beautiful cut glass bowls, water pitchers and tumblers for as low as two or three dollars. Other high-grade articles from Mr. Cole's stock are going at prices consistently lower than wholesale, he said.

With the slogan, "The Best is None Too Good," Mr. Cole has established a fine business with a splendid, reliable stock. The fact that he over-bought before Christmas makes it necessary that he sacrifice the stock now, and Glendale people are getting the benefit. Prizes are given away every evening to persons attending the sale, sometimes as many as six prizes in one evening. Saturday and Monday nights diamond rings will be given away.

Estimated population of Asia is $80,000,000.

Ferber's Broadway department store is creating a real disturbance with its Department Managers' sale, which started yesterday morning. A head of one of the departments said that a crowd was waiting when the doors opened, and within ten minutes after they opened the store was almost choked with buyers. The reason for this excitement is found in the bargains the sale is offering Glendale people.

"Take a twelve-dollar dress and put it on sale at two dollars, and you are going to get a crowd," was the way one man explained the situation.

Ferber's store has become the big leading mercantile establishment on Broadway. The broad, progressive policies of this splendid institution look beyond the making of a successful department store, and take into consideration all the time the building of a better city and the uniting of all the elements of this community into a forward-looking, working organization. While Ferber's takes the lead among Broadway institutions, it can best be considered primarily as being of, with, and for all Glendale.

TO START WORK ON POST OFFICE

Glendale Advancement Association Told Construction to Start in Few Days

Announcement was made at the yesterday noon meeting of the Glendale Advancement association at the Harriett Mae Tea room that construction work will be started within the next week on the new Glendale postoffice at Broadway and Jackson. As the contract calls for completion of the work within 90 days, it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy shortly after May 1.

Coming up as a report from a special committee investigating the alleged failure of the telephone company to provide new telephones as rapidly as it should, the subject of action on the part of the association to remedy this evil was discussed at yesterday's meeting, with the result that a motion was passed asking the co-operation of the Glendale newspapers to conduct an inquiry covering the matter.

Data Desired

The desire of the association is to obtain and compile data covering the requests for service that the company has failed to meet. Instances were described of Glendale people who have waited for months without result after applying for telephones, and the general thought was that if the association could compile a list of all such cases it would probably reach so startling a total that it could be used as a basis for some sort of legal action, or action through the public service commission, to compel the company to get busy.

Mr. Weidner, representing the National Paving company, which has the contract for laying the paving on Glendale avenue, was present at the luncheon. When introduced by President Ingledue he told of the work his company was doing, predicted that the job on Glendale avenue would be cited for years to come as "real pavement," and said that the investment of the National Paving company in this vicinity now totals, for land and equipment, the sum of $160,000, making it the largest paving plant on the coast.

Reports Surplus

The finance committee charged with raising money to defray the expenses of the recent celebration in honor of the opening of the Glendale-Montrose railroad reported that after paying the bills there was remaining $111 from the original $208 collected. The association voted to place this

ASKS PROTECTION FOR HOME STORES

Broadway Washing Machine Man Declares Glendale Should Curb Peddlers

A change in the ordinances of Glendale to give protection to home merchants against irresponsible solicitors and peddlers coming in from neighboring cities is strongly advocated by J. H. Cox, manager of the good housekeeping department of the Glendale Hardware company, and known to a good many people as "Washer Cox."

"In Pasadena," Mr. Cox said, "there is an ordinance taxing solicitors a license fee of three dollars per day, with a minimum of $150 a month, and a fine of $500 for violation. The result is that the local merchants who are helping to maintain the town's community activities and to boost its prosperity in every way, are protected in the legitimate conduct of their business."

In Glendale

"A similar ordinance in Glendale sets the license fee at 10 cents per day. This is an utterly futile and ridiculous situation. It neither furnishes revenue to the city nor provides protection to the merchants. Almost every line of household products or wearing apparel is peddled from house to house in Glendale, and although many of the people have been awakened to the dangers of dealing with strangers and positively refuse to buy from them there are still others who do not realize that when night falls the seller has disappeared, and there is no come-back in case things have been misrepresented."

People Deceived

"The local establishments have to furnish service from day to day, and are entitled to the business. Suppose I place a big washing machine ad in a Glendale newspaper and the next day a Los Angeles company shoot ten house to house canvassers to Glendale, peddling that same machine I have advertised, at the same price I placed on it. They benefit directly and fraudulently from my advertising. People they sell may even be buying that machine because a local man, myself, recommended it, without ever thinking that an injustice is being done me, and a serious injury done this community, in allowing funds to leave here that might remain to help build up the town."

MANY IMPROVEMENTS BRING STREET TO FRONT AS BUSINESS DISTRICT

Artery Connects City's Transportation Systems; New High School, Postoffice and Other Institutions Assist Development

Broadway, a street of great expectations ever since Glendale was founded, is now a street whose dreams are being realized. The opening of the Glendale-Montrose railway through to Los Angeles a few days ago brought to the front prominently Broadway's strategic location as the great connecting downtown link between Glendale's two transportation systems.

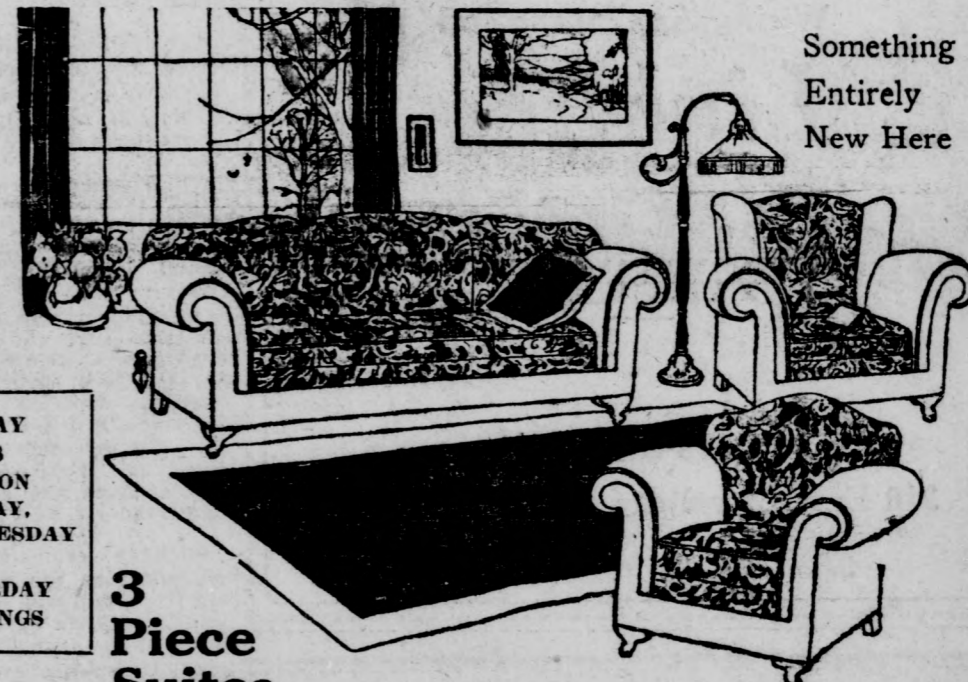

The paving of Glendale avenue will emphasize this situation, for, with the coming of heavy automobile traffic on that street, there will grow up a business center at the corner of Glendale and Broadway, it is confidently believed, that will rival the present bustling center at Brand boulevard and Broadway.

Improvements of a public nature on Broadway vastly increase the prosperity of this thoroughfare.

There is every reason for optimism with reference to the plan that has been under way for several months for erecting a magnificent hotel at the corner of Glendale and Broadway. The business men of that neighborhood (Continued on Page 8)

COMMENT That's All

Needs of Mission Play White Cat and Lethal Gas Presidential Campaign Is There Housing Shortage?

—By Gil A. Cowan—

John Steven McGroarty, who is beloved by the people of the green Verdugo hills, came over to Glendale yesterday noon from the roaring town and lunched with some of the citizens of this city and Burbank.

Strange, but he didn't speak—he just laughed and sang with the rest of the gang—and said a few words in a rather apologetic manner, after which D. A. Johnston, his personal representative, passed out copies of a little booklet called "The Golden Scroll."

It is an appeal for subscriptions of $5 or more to the Mission Play foundation. And those who give will find their names on "The Golden Scroll," which is to be implanted in the walls of the new theatre at San Gabriel.

In other columns you will see a picture of Mr. McGroarty's dream of a real gift to Californians—the Mission Play housed in a presentable home. And, if you attend a meeting Monday night at the Broadway High school auditorium he will tell you all about his plans, while the Mission players will give several colorful scenes from their great California drama.

We can only commend this to you. It is impossible to make you attend, although there is no admission charge. But it is our guess there will not be room for even the "yellow cat" or "the man who plays the flute" after Glendale people fill up the 2200 seats and Mr. Johnston hangs out the S. R. O. sign.

Large building projects are announced here from day to day. The newspapers of the southland have given birth to more new construction than could be built in two or three years. In fact, people soon will not consider the announcement of a building the least bit important. The actual opening of the edifice will be the hour for the public to applaud.

A half dozen hotels have been heralded in the columns of The Glendale Evening News in the last year or so. One, three stories high, with perhaps forty rooms, actually has been built and few people know of it, thinks. All honor to the builder of the Glengarry hotel on South Brand boulevard.

Considerable interest is manifested in the execution of two convicted murderers in the state of Nevada today by lethal gas. At the hour of writing this comment efforts were being made to have some other device used, rather than the lethal chamber, inasmuch as a cat yesterday went into convulsions while an experimental execution was taking place.

Satisfaction was expressed on all sides that the first cat—a large white feline—clawed its way out of a paper box while awaiting execution and escaped. Undoubtedly it is a cat with nine lives, but the other had evidently flirted with death eight times before snuffing the deadly hydrocyanic vapor.

Coolidge campaign managers are confident the president will win the nomination at the Republican convention on the first ballot. That sounds interesting, especially when one considers the figures presented to substantiate the statement.

In the meantime many states will ask electors to voice a choice at primary elections, yet all of this will be in vain, according to the Coolidge managers. Their candidate is in such official position as to command delegates, they say, and it is delegates who tell the tale.

At the same time comes the announcement from Senator Hiram Johnson that he still is in the race. It is barely possible that he will upset the peace and equanimity of the Coolidge camp.

The housing problem in Glendale is one which deeply concerns the Chamber of Commerce at the present time. According to Secretary E. F. Sanders, who appeared before the Realty Board at its weekly luncheon, there is an acute shortage of medium priced rental properties, as well as suitable accommodations for transients.

The chamber officials desire the co-operation of the real estate men in attracting builders to this city who will invest in the sort of property Glendale most needs.

A survey of the city would not be amiss to determine just what Glendale needs. We believe the report would show there is a dearth of three and four room abodes.

This is Friday, with a whole lot of merchants advertising in The Glendale Evening News. Make it a point to see what you can BUY AT HOME.

CALLS ON GROWN TOGETHER GIRLS

Head of Chiropractic School Again Pays Visit to Hiltion Sisters

Dr. B. J. Palmer, head of the school of chiropractic, and dean of the college at Davenport, where approximately 3000 students are being taught this method of healing at the present time, was a visitor at the C. A. Wortham shows last night, calling upon Violet and Dancy Hiltion, famous grown-together girls of San Antonio, Texas.

Dr. Palmer has made a close study of these two young women for a number of years. While the Wortham shows were playing in Davenport two years ago, through the efforts of his wife, who is also a doctor of chiropractic, he succeeded in gaining the girls' consent to having an X-ray picture made of the union which joins them at the base of the spine.

Object to Pictures

"As queer as it may seem, with the young women in the show business, they were very reluctant about giving their consent to have this picture made," said Dr. Palmer last night. "As far as I am able to learn, it is the only one that has ever been taken of this unusual state of human life, and Mrs. Palmer and I prize it very highly."

Dr. Palmer had been delivering an address to the Ad club at Pasadena and came through Glendale on his way back to Los Angeles, where he is stopping at the Biltmore.

"This is the third time I have seen the twins, as I never fail to visit them when I am in the vicinity where they are showing. I am following with a great deal of interest the circle of their lives," said Dr. Palmer.

Cannot Separate

"My examination last night displayed nothing new as far as I can determine. At the time Mrs. Palmer and myself had the X-ray picture taken, it proved absolutely that these girls could not be separated, and live. It displays a perfect union, undoubtedly the most perfect of any of the seven pairs of 'Siamese' twins."

Dr. Palmer, who is spending a short vacation in Los Angeles, stated that he was captivated by the California climate, as compared with that of Davenport, where chiropractic has its seat of learning.

FRENCH STUDENTS WILL STAGE PLAY

Gamut of Human Emotions To Be Shown in Offering At High School

A variety show in French is what the "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," which is to be presented by the French club of the Glendale Union High school, promises to be. The play will be put on Friday evening, February 15, in the auditorium of the new school. Comedy, drama, tragedy, dancing, singing and string music are the more important mixtures included in the play. Under the comedy is the part of Monsieur Jourdain, a citizen who tries to ape the nobility. Under the tragedy comes the lovers' quarrel, while the rest of the play comes under drama. A Turkish dance, a minuet and a dance of cooks is included in the light-stepping division. A solo by one of the actors and a string trio completes the variety.

Although the players will all speak in French, the acting can be good enough so that everything can be readily understood. A resume in English will be printed on the program so that the audience can understand the performance better. Tickets are twenty-five cents, all seats being reserved, and can be purchased at the Broadway High any time.

The cast for the play includes:

M. Jourdain, the citizen..... Wesley Havermale
 Madame Jourdain, his wife..... Ruth Jeckel
 Dorante, a ruined count..... Robert Laird
 Dormiene, a countess..... Lucille Beach
 Lucile, Jourdain's daughter..... Eva Leslie
 Cleonte, Lucile's lover..... Neal Sooy
 Covielle, Cleonte's valet..... Jean Herron
 Nicole, Jourdain's maid..... Frederica Browne
 Lacky..... Lucas Alden
 Mufli..... Lucille Eldridge

Broadway Is More Important Than Main

New York, Broadway, Denver, or Broadway, Timbuctoo.

Just how ineffective the opponents of progress can be was shown by the recent sewer bond election. They tunneled around just the skins of a lot of folks and caused more or less anxiety in some quarters—but at the polls they were outvoted ten to one.

Broadway, Glendale, doesn't tunnel around under the ground. It comes right out in the open and says to the city: "Boys, look me over! I'm the ant's vest, eh? Young but ambitious. Say, when I grow up."

With engines of seven and a half horsepower, midget airplanes can fly 87 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Blue Waters of Galilee's Historic Lake Lure Kirk Where Christ Had Sailed

Writing more from Damascus, Syria, W. B. Kirk, in his travel letter today, tells additional experiences in the Holy Land. In his letter Mr. Kirk told of starting on a trip for the Sea of Galilee, and today he continues:

W. B. KIRK

"We had been seeing the snowy summit of Mt. Hermon for a long distance, the highest mountain around Palestine, about 9100 feet. It is really a range of mountains, the snow-capped ridge having three peaks.

"Our first view of the Sea of Galilee, now called Bahr Tubariyeh, was from a hill some distance back from the plain which surrounds it, and was very impressive. The old song, 'Oh, Galilee, Blue Galilee,' involuntarily came to our lips. It looked very blue, and when we reached it we found it so. Although, in Bible times, it is thought that the towns around the lake were so thick as to constitute almost a continuous settlement, there is now only one, Tiberias, located about the middle of the lake on its western side and containing about 5000 Arabs and 1000 Jews.

"We reached there about 4:30 o'clock, registered at the only hotel, of the same name, which is first class in price. Before dismissing our chauffeur we drove down below town to the hot baths, fed by natural hot springs of salt water so hot that you can hardly endure it. These baths are very old, dating from the foundation of the town, which was a short time before the Christian era. It is mentioned once in the Bible.

Roman Wall Remains

"Parts of the old Roman wall along the lake are well preserved. The Franciscan fathers have a good hospice there, and there is also a Scotch hospice. We expected to stay over a day in Tiberias, but decided to come to Damascus by motor again instead of by slow train, having been advised that it was far better.

"So on Tuesday morning (New Year's day) we had a little boat trip on the lake, pulled by two Arabs dressed in similar garb to those boatmen of Christ's time. I imagine, drank some water from the lake, which was pure and good, and, securing a good lunch, put up by the hotel, we departed about 11 o'clock, skirting the lake shore and passing first Magdala, the authenticated home of Mary Magdalene, then, as we swerved east, we passed the old location of Bethsaida, now containing one stone building and a few shacks, then on to the ruins of Capernaum, Christ's home during most of the time of his ministry. If it is the correct place it is located at the north end of the lake, instead of at the northwest corner, as we have been taught.

"Another branch of the Franciscan 'Casa Nova' church is here, and the father showed us about the ruins, which are surely of the Roman period, the foundation stones and steps of a synagogue being there, and numerous pieces of columns of engraved stones lying about. Closer to the water are the mosaic floors of another church, which are preserved from the weather by being covered with black sand.

"There is no town at all at Capernaum, thus fulfilling Christ's prophecy. We had to leave the main road to see these ruins, so we returned to the highway as quickly as possible and sped on this way, climbing the hills which surround the lake on the north, and soon coming in sight of the smaller Lake Merom (now Hulch) seven miles north of Galilee. It is a pretty little lake in the hills and, like Galilee, merely a widening out of the Jordan river. It is about 680 feet higher than Galilee, so that it is eighty feet above sea level, and the fall of the river is nearly 100 feet to the mile.

Roads Washed Out

"As we reached the Jordan, which is a narrow, clear stream rushing over rocks, we were told by the government officials who inspected our passports that our road to Damascus was impassable owing to the rains. I have neglected to say that we were compelled to bring with us from Tiberias a little Jewish boy as 'second driver,' or interpreter, for us. He was a bright 'kid' and reported to us what these men had said. We were dismayed at the idea of returning to Tiberias and being until the next night getting here. The boy said we had better cross the river and interview the Syrian officer on this side, which we did, and were told that while the road was very bad we could get through. He was right.

"We bumped over rough roads just dry enough to hold us up and over long stretches of macadam, which was just put on and not yet rolled, till we finally reached the frontier town, where we had a real inspection of our visas, from which point we had a fine road into Damascus over the desert plain, reaching here about 5 p. m.

"We first drove to police headquarters and reported our arrival, then drove up in front of two hotels. You would have laughed to witness the rivalry and competition of these two hostellers for our business. It was typically oriental, these representatives insisting upon showing us their rooms and up-to-dateness. Because of this we were able to secure better terms than we would otherwise have obtained, and so are very well located at the best tavern in the city at a low rate.

"Miss Steam Heat

"It will compare very favorably with European hotels, and, like them, has inadequate heating facilities. We have a nice, large sitting and writing room, however, where a good fire is maintained. The days warm up and are comfortable, but the nights are cool like ours in winter.

"I will have to leave the description of this 4,000-year-old city till my next letter. We are spending five days and six nights here and Monday morning early will drive to the old ruins of Baalbec, which travelers tell us are more wonderful than any in Egypt. Going on from there, we will visit some friends of our friends, who are real friends and who conduct a school for Syrian children in a little town off the railroad between here and Beirut. I know it will be a most interesting visit and I will tell you about it.

"Travelers from Constantinople and Athens tell us of the difficulties encountered there in getting visas out of town and of having to be inoculated against the plague, which my folks seriously object to, but we have made our way so far and know the Lord will make a way in the days ahead, so I am not worrying.

"With another hope for a prosperous new year to you all!"

"The Glendale Evening News will publish another Kirk letter shortly.

Dope Crusader Says She's Victim in Case

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Declaring herself to be the victim of an insurance broker's double dealings, Bernice Beatrice Beecher, bob-haired granddaughter of Henry Ward Beecher and an active campaigner against the narcotic evil, was arrested and held in the city jail on a charge of forgery.

Miss Beecher is charged with passing two fictitious checks amounting to $125. She asserted they were given to her by a John Martin, an insurance broker, and cashed in good faith.

Need of Defense Guns for S. F. Bay Told

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Senator Shortridge, California, said he will call upon the secretary of war to present the alleged necessity for coast defense guns of longer range in the vicinity of San Francisco. He said it has been represented to him that the twelve-inch guns with only fifteen miles range at the Presidio and on Marin county hills are not capable of properly defending San Francisco against attack of foreign battleships equipped with sixteen-inch guns with a twenty-five-mile range.

Million Dollar Figure to Be Attained in February Is Prediction

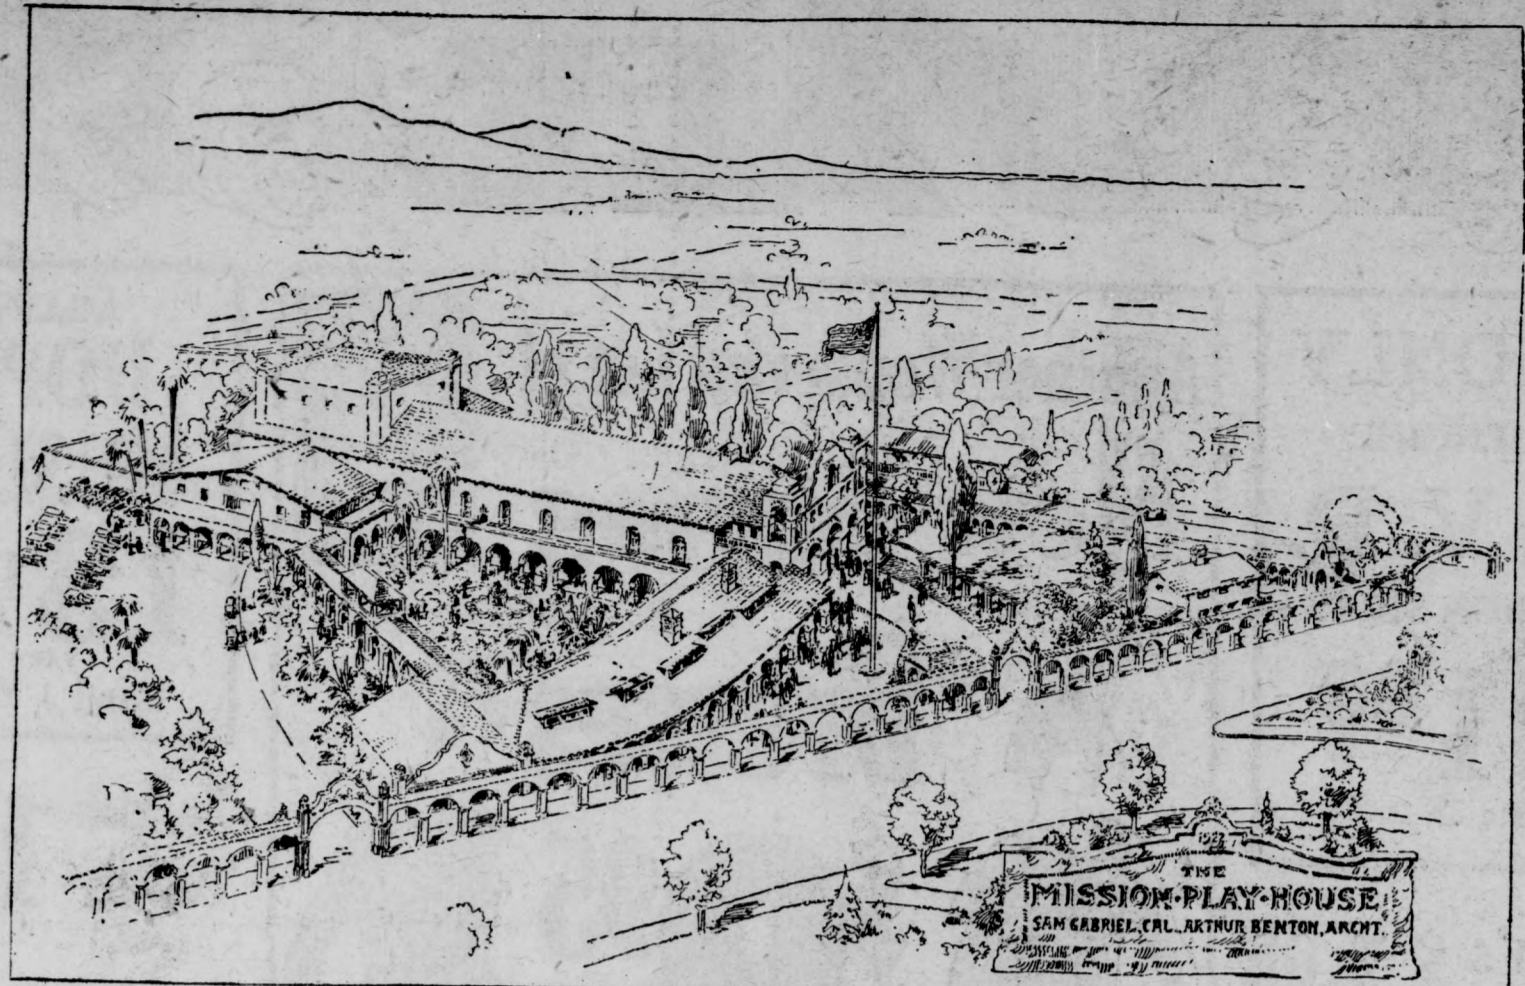

It was another busy day yesterday at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, when seventeen permits for a value of $44,375 were issued.

The record of 1924 shows that the total value of permits issued is $1,274,354, of which February is credited with $244,821. Although February is a short month there is every prospect that the total will reach one million dollars, as Glendale wants every month in 1924 to be a "million dollar month."

The following permits were issued yesterday:

Mrs. Chase, 10-room duplex, 562 West Doran residence and garage, 732 West Linden	6,000
Agatha Green, residence and garage, 541 West Stocker	5,000

Dream of Dramatist's Life Is to Provide Permanent Home For Pageant of California

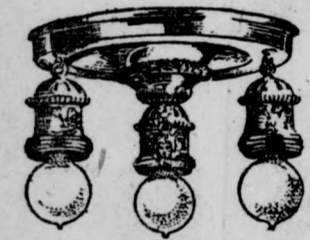

Perspective plans of the Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel which is being built by the contributions of 500,000 residents of Southern California at the request of John Steven McGroarty, sage of the Verdugo hills, who will appear in person with his Mission players at the Broadway High school auditorium here next Monday night, February 11, at 8 o'clock.

Milk Not Replaced
By Orange Juice, Claim

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Entrance of the State Board of Health in the controversy initiated by Miss Margaret S. Chaney in the American Journal of the Diseases of Children, when it was said in part, "Oranges may produce as beneficial results as milk in the promotion of growth and weight," was made public today with a statement by M. E. Jaffa, consulting nutrition expert of the state board, that in no wise can oranges be considered a substitute for milk.

The expert's conclusions are as follows:
1. Oranges and milk are both excellent foods and have their respective places in a well-balanced dietary.
2. Owing to the great differences, biologically, of the respective nutrients in milk and the orange, they cannot be considered as substitutes. Orange cannot be classed as a substitute for milk, neither can milk be considered as a substitute for the orange.
3. Milk and oranges should be considered as supplemental foods, in that the deficiencies of one are supplied by the other.

State Adjutant Tells of Bonus Opposition

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—State Adjutant Morgan Keaton has taken offense at the action of the Public Spirit Club of San Francisco in its determination to oppose the adjusted compensation bill.

The Public Spirit organization recently took a poll of its membership, 80 votes being cast out of a total of 400, according to Keaton, and decided to ask civic organizations throughout California to join in fighting the demands of the American Legion. Keaton promptly sent in his resignation to the club after learning that a vote against the Adjusted Compensation measure had been taken without even notifying the American Legion officials.

If there is one thing dear to the heart of John Steven McGroarty, sage of the green Verdugo hills, it is the perpetuating of his Mission Play. Not because he wrote it, either, but because it is California's own history enacted in a natural setting for such pageantry at San Gabriel.

Therefore, he is looking to the support of all who know of its merit as something worth while for generations to come. He says he wants 500,000 Californians to contribute a dollar apiece so that all may have a part in the ownership of the Mission Play. In order to accomplish his purpose he is bringing his project to the people.

Scenes from Play
On next Monday night at the new Glendale Broadway High school auditorium his company will be present to give colorful scenes from the Mission Play, particularly the music and dances, after which Mr. McGroarty will explain briefly how he wants those attending to aid him, under the auspices of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

The doors will be thrown wide open at 7:30 o'clock, no admission being charged, and, in addition to giving the people of Glendale an opportunity to see the "bits" of California history, it will serve to introduce many of the new high school plant at Verdugo road and Broadway. They will also become acquainted with one of the southland's greatest attractions for tourists—the Mission Play.

It is stated that Mr. McGroarty has refused a check for $100,000, the gift of a wealthy man for the completion of the mission play plant at San Gabriel which now is half built. Altogether it will take a half million more dollars, it is estimated, yet the author-producer would not allow the rich men to "put it over the top."

Wants Public to Share
John Steven McGroarty believes the public will take a pride in partial ownership, so he is limiting individual contributions to only a few hundred dollars while he goes out into the by-ways, as it were, to seek the dollar gifts which are motivated by a love for California.

The board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce gladly approved his plan for the Monday night meeting here, and it is urged that everyone attend, as no compulsion whatever is desired by Mr. McGroarty, who personally has sacrificed a fine home in the Verdugo hills to make this more worthy project successful.

New Boy Scout Troop For Catholic Parish

Glendale's splendid Boy Scout organization is to be augmented by the organization of a Scout troop in the Holy Family Catholic parish, the plans for the new troop being laid last night at the meeting of the Glendale council of Knights of Columbus in the clubhouse at 330 East Lomita avenue.

Jesse Smith, grand knight, was in charge of the council meeting, and appointed on the Boy Scout troop committee, Walter A. Caskey, chairman, E. L. McMahon, John A. Coleman, H. F. Bryan, J. W. Andre, Mr. Muller.

FAMILY OF JACOB FURNISHES TOPIC

Rev. Kerr Traces God's Plan In Sale of Joseph Into Captivity

"A Remarkable Family" was the topic of the sermon delivered last night by Rev. J. McD. Kerr at the First Methodist church. The attendance at these special services which are being conducted by the Kerr brothers is steadily increasing each night.

The speaker chose his text from the lament of Jacob, when he cried out: "Me have ye bereaved of my children, Joseph is not, and Simeon is not and ye will take Benjamin away." The speaker stated: "This family of Jacob's was a remarkable family. There were 12 boys and 1 girl, and one son put his name into history. From him came a generation, in some respects one of the greatest nations of all time."

"Generally, in a large family of this size there are favorites, but I question the moral right of any parent to single out one child for special favors. This was the great indiscretion of Jacob in centering his affection on Joseph. Most of ways as in this case, it generates suspicion, envy and discord. Joseph was a guileless, blushing, unsuspecting lad of 16, and when he had those dreams of the sheaves of his brothers bowing to his sheaf and of the stars doing obeisance to his star he repeated his dreams to them and at once envy arose. To add to their feelings Jacob displayed his preference for Joseph. So it came about that they plotted against him and sold him into slavery. But God's hand was in it all. He overruled the indiscretions of Jacob and the wickedness of his brothers. He went down to Egypt with Joseph, cheered him in prison and finally effected his release, enabled him to interpret Pharaoh's dreams. You cannot long keep a good man down for even in prison Joseph retained his honor and kingly dignity.

God's Plans Shown
"God's providences are mysterious as revealed in this highly interesting life of Joseph and how he was the savior of his brethren. In it all he kept his heart and hand clean. It is a hard thing for us to lift our hearts and lives up to God's standard, to change our prayerful lives to prayerful lives. Your Josephs and Benjamins will have to go on God's altar and leave all to His will. I wonder if we all are making a full consecration of our lives to God."

In conclusion Rev. Kerr said, "He wants you, my brother, sister—he wants the unbroken family. He wants to use you beyond your highest conception."

Philanthropic Work Shown in Reports Submitted at Council Meeting

The major part of the philanthropic work of the city of Glendale is admirably handled by the Glendale Welfare Council and City Welfare Bureau, and the report given at the meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall cannot fail to interest Glendadians.

Mrs. E. D. Yard, who is president of the council, presided, and there were present Mrs. L. T. Rowley and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair.

The bureau report for January included home visits, 30; interviews at office, 9; families assisted, 15; new cases registered, 6; employment secured, 7; four city orders for groceries issued, valued at $26.14.

Included in the council report was receipt of warm clothing, 125 sandwiches and food amounting to $12; given out 219 articles of clothing, one comfort, 125 sandwiches, food amounting to $10. Twelve checks of relief amounting to $81.35.

Mrs. Yard states that the meetings are held on the second Tuesday evenings of every month, and urges all Glendadians to report cases of need, either to her at Glendale 1142-W or to Mrs. Sinclair, at Glendale 1300.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Breaking all previous records, Los Angeles county has more than $47,000,000 on deposit in various local banks and in the county treasury, according to announcement by Auditor H. A. Payne to the board of supervisors.

The yearly income from this huge amount is more than $1,000,000, according to an estimate made by H. L. Bryan, county auditor. The money represents taxes and fees paid into the county coffers. An inactive account of more than $43,000,000 is carried and a drawing account of more than $1,000,000 is being used to defray current expenses.

MONROVIA DROPS

TWO GAMES HERE

Glendale Melon Tossers Hold Wildcat Hordes at Bay In Double Header

Coming up from behind in the last half, the Glendale Union High school 130-pound basketball team fought its way to victory yesterday afternoon over the Monrovia quintet on the local court, 26 to 16.

The first half ended with the score 8-10, but Lovell and Stearman began to drop the pill in steadily in the final frame, planting the locals far in the lead. Lovell was high-point man with eight baskets. Stearman came next with four goals, while Muff tossed in one.

If the locals win their next game with the Covina middleweights, the Central League will probably end in a triple tie, Alhambra, South Pasadena and Glendale. Just who will come out ahead in the play-off is uncertain, but the Dynamiters are going to do their best to bring home another pennant.

The line-ups: Glendale—Lovell (16) and Stearman (8), forwards; Neel, center; Muff (capt.) and Alvord, guards. Subs: Harrison, Beman, Heldeman, Monrovia—Shepard (5) and Byles (4), forwards; Sandefer (7), center; Mosher and Kupfer, guards.

Little Fellows Win

The 110-pound team followed its bigger brother's example and did a steam-roller act over the Wildcat horde, winning 13 to 2. The locals were never in danger, taking things rather easy, but nevertheless holding their lead.

Smith was high-point man with six points. He was also a demon on the floor, taking shots from any position. Mitchell and Steele also played sterling games.

The line-ups: Glendale—Steele and Smith (6), forwards; Mitchell (4), center; Apsit and Harris, guards. Subs: Begg (1), Lovell (2), Killinger. Monrovia—Williams and Kupfer (2), forwards; Anderson, center; Marsh and Nelson, guards. Subs: Smith.

BURBANK SENDS

ROTARIANS HERE

Burbank Rotarians had a field day at the luncheon meeting of the Glendale club yesterday afternoon. The spirit of good-fellowship promoted by the luncheon clubs was most apparent when Mayor J. C. Crawford, who is also president of the Burbank club, said:

"If there ever was a wound between Glendale and Burbank not even a scar remains. Coming to your city over the new Kenneth road we saw no sign telling where one city stops and the other begins. The people are of the same type, their interests are the same, and it is our job to make San Fernando valley a better place for them to live in."

McGroarty Speaker

These remarks were followed by words of welcome to Glendale, if such might be called, on the part of Joe Newcomer, a Burbank Rotarian, who said he expected to see Glendale a part of his city some day. The compliment was returned by a Glendale speaker.

John Steven McGroarty, a casual guest of the club and an honorary member of the Los Angeles Rotary club, was present to tell of his Mission Play foundation. The only reason he is not a regular member, he confided, is that he has no business and his writing of poetry is considered a "disease" rather than a profession.

Brief tribute was paid Woodrow Wilson; attention was called to Lincoln's birthday; and a watch was presented to W. S. Sandison, secretary of the Burbank club, by his fellow members, honoring him for his splendid service.

Valentine Dinner

Announcement was made that next week's regular Rotary meeting would be a Valentine's day dinner at the Tuesday Afternoon club house at 6:15, the board of directors meeting at noon in the Egyptian Village to greet visiting members. After the evening dinner, to which Rotary-Anns are invited as well as visiting members in the city, the party will attend the Royal Stock company presentation of "Sis Hopkins" in the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre.

STOCK CO. YIELD THEATRE TO CLUB

Royal Players' Performance Of Stirring Drama to Be Given Tomorrow

There will be no performance of "The Sign on the Door" tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, owing to the "Chatter Night" celebration to be held there by the Glendale Music club, announces Manager Charles E. Royal of the Royal Stock company.

The next performance of this strong drama of a woman's past will be the Saturday afternoon matinee, when as usual the curtain will rise at 2:30 o'clock. The 8:20 o'clock Saturday night show will conclude this offering, which has gripped Glendaleans and been voted by many the best performance to date of the Royal Players.

The play "The Sign on the Door," made a sensation when it was offered in New York with Marjorie Rambeau in the lead. It is from the pen of Channing Pollock, dean of American dramatists, and is in a prologue and three acts.

Woman Pays Penalty

The plot in brief may be said to concern a woman happily married to a successful man, paying the penalty for concealing from him an innocent happening in her youth, which is subject to misconception and leads to a climax that nearly wrecks the lives of a whole family.

If for the moral effect alone of urging on all that such incidents be revealed at the time of marriage, "The Sign on the Door" is a worthy play. It is, in addition, intensely dramatic and in the hands of Manager Royal and his company rises to genuine emotional heights, particularly in the case of Edythe Elliott, who assumes the role of Mrs. Lufe Reagan, formerly Ann Hunnwell.

Gardner, chairman of the Wilson memorial exercises in St. Louis, the former governor made known.

Property Transfers Were Complicated Affairs In Ancient Colonial Times

By "OLD TIMER"
Written for The Evening News

The transfer of property in the American colonies in the year 1768 was a no less complicated affair than in Southern California in the year 1924. There is evidence that mineral rights, water rights with the additional rights of hunting, hawking, fishing and trawling, had to be considered.

It was after dinner and the talk had turned to old time things and old time experiences and the hostess, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, of 1320 East Colorado boulevard, spoke of a very interesting document in her possession and on request exhibited it to her guests. The document proved to be a deed to a large parcel of land at Staatsburg, on the Hudson, in the county of Dutchess, Province of New York, issued in the year 1768 to her great grandfather, Timothy Doughty, by Isaac Teller, yeoman, and the subscribing notary or justice was Robert Livingston, who later was a signer of that great historic document "The Declaration of Independence."

Lengthy Document

The property was described by metes and bounds and the detail of the conveyance was most quaint. "Houses, barns, stables, orchard, garden, pastures, meadows, woods, underwoods, timbers, swamps, ponds, pools and water course, river, brooks, rivulets, runs and streams, hunting and hawking, fishing, trawling, mines and minerals, except gold and silver mines." The deed which is on parchment is about the size of an ordinary newspaper and was issued, as it explains in great length, in the reign of George the Third, in the year One thousand seven hundred and sixty eight.

This deed is a much prized possession of this descendant of a family whose intense patriotism was shown both in the Revolutionary war and that of 1812.

A collection of old coins was also of interest. A silver piece the size of a silver dollar with the inscription "Republique Francaise" with a profile of Napoleon was dug out of an oak tree in Sonoma county over thirty years ago by Mr. Meeker. How the coin became embedded in the tree has never been solved.

Uruguayan Coin

Another coin of copper, the size of a silver dollar but twice as thick, bearing the date 1857 and the inscription "Republica Oriental del Uruguay," looked interesting and the writer learned that it was picked up with a number of coins of a smaller denomination, medallions, silver crucifix, etc., on the Meeker ranch some years ago, no doubt locating somewhat the old Mexican settlement in close proximity to the old "sheep corral" south of the Meeker ranch.

The "sheep corral," a five acre tract bounded by the streets of Fisher, Griswold and East Maple, was a part of the Verdugo holdings until acquired by Frank Urquides, and after passing through several hands, among others those of the Board of Education, was finally subdivided and is now covered with a number of comfortable homes.

Old residents remember when a row of pomegranates, a favorite fruit of the Mexicans, bordered the west side of the corral now Fischer street, while on the north side of Maple street was a row of sycamores which are still standing, the only landmark left.

When whirling along Colorado boulevard, it is hard to realize that less than fifteen years ago that crowded thoroughfare was a country lane leading east from Adams street along the north side of a tall evergreen wind-break, just a wagon track which the wild clover and grasses almost obliterated after a winter rain. The evergreens were almost impenetrable and, if not, a stout wire fence strung from tree to tree, kept trespassers from adjoining groves.

Approaching Verdugo road, the grass-grown track came to sudden end as a grocery store stood squarely in the middle and a detour was necessary to strike the road leading east. Some 20 years ago the grocery was owned by Kober and Tarr, who conducted the business until about ten years ago, when the building was demolished and Sixth street, as it was called, straightened.

A small settlement at this corner at one time threatened to become the business center of the valley.

Came With Pioneers

Mr. Meeker tells of a great uncle John Clyman, a pioneer in the "fifties," who relates that many years ago he stopped at a building which stood north of Sixth street, part hotel and part saloon. This building was later moved east of Verdugo road and remodelled.

It is interesting to note that Lancaster Clyman, Mr. Meeker's grandfather, a brother of John, is said to be the original of the wagon train leader, Jess Wingate, in "The Covered Wagon," having led a party of settlers into Oregon and later moving to Sonoma county where this family and the Meekers became neighbors.

During the grading of Fischer and Porter street two years ago, it is said that a large number of old coins were unearthed but if so the workmen claimed them. But the finding of the coins, medallions, crucifix and bits of broken dishes corroborates the fact that a Mexican settlement was near this corner.

NEW NAIL PULLER

The claws of a carpenter's hammer invented by a California man seize nails in a vislike grip, as they spread apart when pressed toward the handle and are forced together when used.

Boats now used by the salmon fishermen of Wales are of the type of the skin-covered coracles used by the Britons 2000 years ago.

CLUBWOMEN HEAR TALK ON FINANCE

Bank Official Gives Advice On Investments And Budget System

"Women in Finance," the subject of Miss Grace Stoermer, head of the Women's Banking department of the Bank of Italy, who spoke yesterday before the Thursday afternoon club, was extremely timely and of great interest to the members of that organization, which at present is engrossed in the consideration of a building program, or at least providing a club home.

Two propositions have been submitted to the board of directors and a special meeting of the members will be held next week to consider these propositions.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon, the president, directed the meeting and, in the absence of Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. J. M. Server acted as secretary and read the minutes of the called meeting held last Monday night at the Glendale Tavern on San Fernando road.

A short business session followed the salute to the flag and the singing of the verse of "America." Mrs. Server, corresponding secretary, read invitations to the president and one member to attend reciprocity days of the Montebello club and the City club of Los Angeles. Mrs. C. H. Toll, district president, will be the speaker at the latter on February 15. Mrs. S. E. Brown, the treasurer gave a report.

Women in Finance

Mrs. Bacon introduced the speaker, Miss Grace Stoermer, who represented a splendid type of the new business women, a clear thinker, a ready speaker and perfectly familiar by training with her topic, "Women in Finance," as she has daily experience in dealing with women from two angles, the women within and the women without, being the head of a large department employing a number of women and as adviser and counselor of their women customers.

This department has been chosen as the headquarters of the biennial board of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which will assemble in Los Angeles in June, and it is there that plans for the entertainment of this immense body of women are being formulated.

In her position, Miss Stoermer has intimate knowledge of what women's clubs are doing and she spoke of the Women's Athletic club of Los Angeles, which has just completed arrangements through Miss Stoermer for financing their new $70,000 building.

Miss Stoermer also gave practical advice as to advisability of investments for women under certain circumstances, as to budgeting, and emphasized the value of children's savings accounts.

During the social half hour tea and delicious home-made cake were served by Mrs. William C. Mabry, assisted by Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan.

Tables Are Turned

The Occidental students are overjoyed at the thought of defeating U. S. C. in forensics. Last year the Trojans won the U. S. C. debate and also the ex-temporaneous contest. This year the Tigers turned the tables and Francis Henshaw won second in the extemporaneous public-speaking contest while the University of Southern California representative was placed last. Now a second victory in forensics puts Occidental in the lead toward the championship.

Humane Society Of Glendale Has Session

A new system of judging was tried in last night's debate. Only one judge was selected, whose duty it was to consider carefully the content from the standpoint of a critic and read his decision before the audience, giving his reasons for the award. The judge was P. P. Woelner, professor of Civic Education at Southern Branch of the University of California. His statement gave the victory to the Oxy team, commending them for their substantial argument based on facts, logic, and keen reasoning, with good grammatical construction, and splendid delivery. He also praised Arthur Syvertson for his originality in presentation.

Coach Lindsley and Mrs. Joseph Pipal, who have been coaching the Tiger word warriors, deserve recognition for their services in turning out a winning debating team.

Due to the recent smallpox scare in Whittier and the quarantine placed on the entire student body of Whittier college, it was necessary to postpone the Occidental-Quaker debate, also scheduled for last evening. This contest will not take place for about three weeks. The next series of forensic debates will be on the evening of February 21, when Oxy meets Pomona and Southern Branch.

VERDICT GOES TO TIGER DEBATERS

Occidental Orators Defeat U. S. C. Team in Trojan Auditorium

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News.

Occidental college won a complete victory over its rival institution, the University of Southern California, last night in an exciting conference debate held in the Trojan auditorium. The men's forensic teams in the newly-organized League of Public Speaking met in the first scheduled debate of the season. The Oxy two-man team, composed of Edward Jones and Francis Henshaw, presented their constructive arguments in such a well-balanced manner that there was not a chance of their opponents breaking down the Tiger plan.

The question up for discussion was, resolved, "that Congress should have the power to re-enact laws declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States." U. S. C. had the affirmative side of the debate and Oxy the negative. The affirmative side is undoubtedly the hardest to uphold and the Trojan orators, Arthur Syvertson and Manuel Ruiz, did nobly in attempting to win the contest for their college. They were very forceful in their delivery. Mr. Syvertson's rebuttal showed much originality and a thorough mastery of debating. His speech won much applause from the Oxy spectators, who attended the debate in large numbers. Ed Jones lived up to all expectations and his clear, well organized speech was the result of his untiring efforts in preparing for the word battle. Francis Henshaw surprised even the Tiger rooters. They were astonished at the splendid showing of the new member of the Oxy debating team. Henshaw is a freshman, but his long experience in high school proved valuable and he had little trouble in making his own speech for the team. Mr. Henshaw based his argument on sound facts. The construction was perfect.

COAST TEAMS TO TRY OUT HURLERS

Flock of Youthful Pitchers Crowding Veterans for League Berths

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Many young hurlers from the sand lots will cavort ere long at spring training camps, and with the Pacific coast debut of a number of fading stars from big time circuits it's logical that some of the old stand-by pitchers will crack under the strain.

Everyone knows what the veterans can do—and the records, except in one or two instances, aren't crying out loud for praise—while the potential ability of the baby slabsters is as boundless as the sea. Some of these rookie twirlers are being highly touted, and from the well-filled lists at least half a dozen winning pitchers should be developed.

When the San Francisco Seals hop off on their annual warming up of the six dozen players in camp, easily one-third of them will be rookie pitchers. In addition, "Duke" Davis, ratched out for two years, and "Burger" grabbed on waivers, will be there oiling their arms to compete with such veterans as "Shovel" Hodge, Geary, Shea, Buckley and Scott.

The Portland club is largely hooking its pennant chances on Pellett and Wolfe, two youthful tossers from the Philadelphia Americans. Pellett was formerly a heavy relief heaver for Connie Mack and is expected to make all the Portland veterans turn green.

Walter Mills and Harry Krause, the only slabmen Oaklanders can pin any faith in, will almost be smothered with highly polished recruit pitchers when the Oaks detrain at their Myrtleleale Springs location, Cal Ewing's list of youngsters he is going to give a trial is big enough to plug up the Oakland mole, and there's still more of 'em coming. Who they are and what their records are only Cal knows, but he promises to surprise followers of the Oaks with his 1924 pitching menu.

Salt Lake's Ace

Hulvey and O'Neill are two pitchers Salt Lake is hoping will turn the trick for them this season, while Payne, Stokes, Fedele and Crandall are Los Angeles bidders for glory. Payne, who is shaking the dust of Oklahoma City from his uniform, is heralded as a tosser from way back.

Vernon thinks it has a big luminary in Zellars, from the Western league, and besides has plenty of sand lot material to try out when the season starts.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM

Announcement has been made that Tommy Davis, coach of Lincoln High School in Los Angeles, has been appointed to the position of assistant supervisor of physical education in the Los Angeles school. Congratulations Tommy.

High school athletes all over Southern California know Tommy Davis, and it was one the writer's privilege to play on the same baseball team with Davis when he was vacationing from his studies in the Kern River oil fields.

Over the desk in our work shop hangs a picture taken in September, 1912, showing Davis and the team he played on that summer, called the K. T. and O. (Kern Trading and Oil Company). Included in that group are George Benson, at that time a student at U. S. C., and our humble self, a student of making a living.

Oil Field Vacations
It was the custom in summer for high school and college boys to work in the oil fields around Bakersfield during their vacations and Sunday baseball was a natural diversion for the district.

Ross Widdaugh of Long Beach High was working for the same company and was pitcher on the ball team organized by the boys. Ross was a good pitcher and in spite of his height, which was only slightly over five feet, he was the team's slugger. If he failed to get a home run every Sunday he put the day down as a total loss. On one occasion, playing the S. O. team, he got two homers.

Four teams comprised the league and they played for a cup offered by Harry Coffee of Bakersfield, K. T. and O., Standard Oil, Santa Fe Oil, Associated Oil were the four teams. In one of the first games played the K. T. and O.'s romped on the Santa Fe's 21 to 5, knocking out 9 home runs. The boys got so tired running bases that the game nearly ended from weariness before the ninth inning was reached. Yours truly was not one of the heavy hitters, however. In fact, we had a hard time holding a job on that team as outfielder. Davis played third base.

Incipient Coach
One incident that is fresh in the mind of the writer will show that Davis was even in those days a coach in the making. Also, that yours truly was a nawful green pea. The team was posing

Glendale Caseys to Battle Buick Squad

With the White Sox appearing at Sawtelle, the Glendale K. C.'s will have another fling at the new park on San Fernando road next Sunday afternoon when they meet the Buick auto team, which, under "Dad" Thielman, has developed into one of the fastest semi-pro organizations in the southland.

The San Fernando Valley league schedule is finished and from now on the Caseys, if they hang together, will play independent ball. They have a tough proposition on their hands next Sunday, and it will be no walkaway for either team.

Heidler will again pitch for the Caseys. Last Sunday he let the Post No. 8 team of Los Angeles down with three scattered hits, and has been showing up very well in his late appearances here.

Either Archie Campbell or Benjie Hall will be on the mound for the visitors which should insure a good afternoon's pastime. The game will be called at 2:15.

around one of the diamonds waiting for something or other and we had our glove fastened by the strap to a belt loop. Davis came over and said, "If you don't want this crowd to think we are all a bunch of hoosiers from Bushville, take that glove and put it in your pocket while you're not using it. Ball players never carry a glove that way." We shamefacedly took his advice and henceforth carried the glove in big league style.

Our team finished second that summer, losing the cup on a hard-fought game with the Associated team. Davis taught us a lot of tricks of baseball and made big improvements in general. He had the knack of coaching then, which he has developed to a high degree as shown by his work in that line in later years.

Track Meet To Give Line On Oxy Runners

The freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes of Occidental will have one big scramble Saturday afternoon, when the four classes compete in the annual inter-class track and field meet, to be held on Patterson field. Each class will be well represented, and no walkaway is predicted, with some keen competition afforded in most of the events. The results will give Pipal an idea of the condition of the runners and aid in picking the varsity team.

The A. A. U. relay carnival is not so far off. It is scheduled for February 23, at the Los Angeles Coliseum, under the auspices of the University of Southern California. The Oxy conference dual meet follows shortly and the big conference meet is but a month away, and is listed for the Los Angeles stadium for April 5, with S. B. U. C. in charge.

Admiring Mob Trails Former World's Champ

Jess Willard, former heavy-weight champion of the world, who recently purchased a beautiful home in Verdugo Woodlands, was a visitor at the Tantlinger Wild West show on the Wortham lot last night. Jess was the former proprietor of this show when it traveled as a part of the famous Miller Bros., 101 Ranch wild west outfit.

Jess' appearance very nearly broke up the show as he was trailed in by about 160 youngsters, anxious to see and hear this former king of the prize ring. In addition to the Wild West Jess visited the Hilton sisters and other attractions, spending some time on the lot. Everywhere he appeared was a signal for the gathering of a large crowd.

Deaths of infants under one year of age, according to one year's census report, were 1,314 males and 1,000 females.

WILL SHELL OIL LEAD TRIPLE A?

Sunday's Games Are Crucial Test; Glendale Chance for Second Place

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

With the curtain about to be rung down on the Triple A league schedule, next Sunday's games loom up as the most important ones of the winter, as far as affecting the standing of the clubs at the finish, is concerned. The schedule, which needed some readjusting owing to the withdrawal of Wilmington and Anaheim from the circuit, calls for a double header at Sawtelle next Sunday, with Larry Arnold's crew meeting Palms-Culver City in the morning and the Glendale White Sox in the afternoon. The other game scheduled is between San Pedro and Shell Oil at Signal Hill.

At the present time, the Shell Oil team, under Billy Feistner, is leading the loop by a game and a half, with Sawtelle and San Pedro tied for second place.

If They Should Lose—
If they should lose to Jack Burns' outfit next Sunday, and Sawtelle managed to win from both Palms and Glendale, then Shell Oil and Sawtelle would be tied for first place. But if Sawtelle loses either one of their games it will make the Royal Dutchman's claim to first money clear cut. If Shell Oil beats San Pedro and Palms and Glendale both trim Sawtelle, San Pedro, Glendale and Sawtelle would then be deadlocked for second place money.

In the hopes of clinching first place, Feistner will send Fred Fairbanks to the mound for Signal Hill. He has won nine straight games and has proved to be poison to the rest of the Triple A teams. Shadr or Ken Douglas will pitch for San Pedro. Tony Rego, who was recently traded to the St. Louis Browns by the Angels will catch for Jack Burns and Fromme will receive Fairbanks' slants.

Batteries Announced
In the morning game at Sawtelle the batteries for the home team will be Cooper and McMullin, with Denison and Stout appearing for the visitors.

In the afternoon Larry Arnold will send his pitching ace, Barnabe, to the mound. Mike Donlin has not hinted who will serve them for the White Sox. It is reported that Marty Krug, Angel boss, has forbid Arnold Crandall to pitch any more ball until the Coast league season opens. In that case, Mike will have to scout around for another hurler.

No word has as yet been received from J. H. Farrell, secretary of the national association regarding recognition to be granted the new southern California Class C league in which Glendale will have a franchise. There are many details to be worked out in connection with the formation of the league and Frank Kerwin, secretary of the southern California baseball managers' association who is head of the new league is busy lining up the various clubs. Word is expected from the national association some time this week.

American Targo Florio At Ascot on Sunday

That motorcycle racing enthusiasts from all over the southwest are coming to Los Angeles for the staging next Sunday afternoon at Ascot Speedway of "The American Targo Florio," a combination track-hill-climb and mountain road over a specially constructed course nearly four miles in length, is the prediction of John O'Connor, California representative of the M. A. T. A., which organization governs the motorbike sport.

The novel event, which looms as the future classic of the two-wheel motor contests, will be held in conjunction with the nine-race card scheduled for Ascot on Sunday. The course over which it will be run was constructed at great expense by George Bente, joins the speedway proper, after circling the hills which surround Ascot. All the property over which the course runs is under lease to Bente.

"Motorcycle men tell me that the race will be the most sensational and spectacular ever run anywhere in the world," said Bente. "It is a composite of San Juan Capistrano, Santa Monica road course and Ascot Speedway. The spectators seated in the stands will have a full view of the entire contest. The largest type motorcycles will be eligible and the race is thrown open to the world. I will be surprised if we have less than thirty starters."

Targo Florio is the great auto race course through and over the most mountainous roads of Italy. For Sunday's auto racing program there will be more than forty nominations, though this number will have to be cut to twenty-four through the morning elimination trials.

HAS GRAVE ALARM

BEND, Ore., Feb. 8.—Inspired by recent press accounts of the possibilities of persons being buried alive, A. M. Bartholomew has invented an alarm to give warning from under the sod, that life still exists within the coffin. The device is so delicate that any subterranean movement would set off an alarm.

ANDERSON'S STORE ENLARGES STOCK

Proprietor of Broadway Firm Operates Business From Wheeled Chair

Carl Anderson runs a prosperous business from a wheeled chair, and like all the Broadway firms, is making money. Mr. Anderson lost his left leg eight years ago, but in spite of that handicap, has been making good steadily as a popular young business man of Glendale. His increased business has recently made it possible for him to enlarge his store at 516 East Broadway to twice its former size. Larger stocks have been placed in the old departments, and several new departments have been added.

Construction Soon to Start on New P. O.

W. M. Mills of the Glendale-Montrose railroad stated that patronage on the road since it started its cars Sunday has far exceeded what officers of the company expected, and that changes in the schedules had become necessary to take care of the traffic.

Dr. Harrower spoke in behalf of the efforts of the mail carriers to secure the passage of an act by Congress raising their salaries. He pointed out that the $1,400 annual salary at which a new carrier is started now, and the $1,800 annual pay he can get after four years in the service, are so small in comparison with wages paid in other pursuits that it is almost impossible to secure carriers. That the members of the organization should write to congressmen urging the passage of the proposed legislation was Dr. Harrower's suggestion.

Glendale Cat Club Meets Monday Night

Election of officers and report of the recent annual show, will be features of the meeting Monday night of the Glendale Cat club with Miss Claribel Grim at 1650 Grand View avenue. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock and the members will hear a full report of the recent show.

Many Improvements Bring Street to Front

(Continued from page 1) hood who are promoting the project expect actual construction to be started within the next thirty days. Another improvement that will be of great benefit to the street will be the installation of ornamental lights on Broadway. This work is expected to be completed within the next three months.

Busy Business Street
Broadway is being built up with handsome business structures. The firms occupying them are prosperous and satisfied that their street is just starting upon an era of unexampled growth and development.

Broadway—the busy business street—from San Fernando road on the west to Verdugo road on the east is becoming one of the most highly developed mercantile thoroughfares of Southern California.

Service stations and fruit stands on the outskirts of Broadway give way to small shops and larger stores, department stores and banks come in and the section grows more congested. Hundreds of people find trading on Broadway a pleasure as they can reach many shops by motorcar without having to park far away.

Both Pacific Electric and Glendale and Montrose street car lines traverse Broadway while the Pacific Electric busses also bring trade to the business houses. You will be interested to know of the enterprising firms on Broadway and what they have to offer.

Brings Pupils in

One of the greatest contributing factors to trade on the Broadway business district is the Glendale & Montrose railway which brings the residents of Eagle Rock, Sparr Heights, Verdugo Woodlands, Montrose and La Crescenta communities to this city for their purchases.

The Glendale & Montrose line not only is a city builder, but it has given Broadway the advantage of first appealing to hundreds of shoppers who reside along its lines.

Likewise, the Glendale Union High school's two plants are big factors in getting the people acquainted with Broadway merchants, as well as other business streets. Hundreds of school children daily must walk by the stores and do more or less "window shopping."

Many New Businesses

Now you can traverse Broadway from one side of the city to the other and find enterprises housed in modern buildings in every block. It is interesting to note the large number of new establishments on Broadway recently, many of them in specially built storerooms. Ferber's two-story department store is one of the newest acquisitions and it has given Broadway a big boost.

One of the newest buildings will house the postoffice. Some notable institutions are located on Broadway, Glendale, as well as numerous business firms.

RADIO SHOP HAS COMPLETE STOCK

Store in Court Shops Doubles Floor Space to Care For Business

Leo Lowman and H. C. Bates established the Glendale Radio service in the Court Shops, 211 East Broadway, five months ago, and now have one of the most complete and interesting radio shops in Glendale. Growth of their stock made it necessary recently for them to double their floor space by leasing an adjoining room and connecting it with the original store.

Mr. Lowman has lived in Glendale ever since he was released from service after the war. Mr. Bates was formerly an X-ray expert.

The shop handles practically all makes of radio apparatus, and will build anything to specifications. It specializes in the sale of Neutrodyne and Harkness Reflex radio sets. Glendale radio fans are cordially invited by the members of this firm to make the shop their headquarters, and are promised the benefit of careful, prompt and conscientious service.

First successful Atlantic cable connecting Europe and America was laid fifty-seven years ago.

The old Glendale Sanitarium plant has made Glendale's Broadway famous among health seekers.

Has Fine Schools

Then there is the Broadway school, an imposing edifice for the grammar grades, and the new million dollar Glendale Union High school facing on Broadway at Verdugo road. It has just been occupied by the three upper classes.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower's laboratory, employing ninety people, as well as his residence, are located on Broadway. There are five banking institutions out of eight represented on Broadway, also.

So one can quickly see that Broadway boosters in this section today have the right to be boosters, also. And they are not done by any means. For years they have been engaged in obtaining a great hotel for Broadway and Glendale avenue. Their plans now are near fruition, it is claimed.

Wilson avenue, Harvard street and Colorado boulevard are other cross-town streets which vie with Broadway in a commercial way, yet Broadway is by far the busiest.

San Fernando road, Central avenue, Brand boulevard, Glendale avenue and Verdugo road are the arteries of trade and traffic running north and south in Glendale. All of these streets are good for business enterprise.

Will Your Gas Range Do This?

LET'S pretend it's Thanksgiving Day. The family is going to the matinee, and friends are coming for six o'clock dinner. It's the maid's day off. What will you do? "Why—there's only one answer," you say, "stay home and cook the dinner." And your answer is quite correct, unless—you own a Dangler Gas Range equipped with the

LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

You see, women who own Lorain-equipped Gas Ranges can cook a Whole Meal—soup, vegetables, meat and dessert—in the oven at one time. While the meal is cooking they can go to the matinee, football game, visiting, or do other work about the house for three, four or five hours.

At the end of the pre-determined time the entire dinner will be found deliciously done and ready to serve—and all cooked without spending one minute in the kitchen.

Now, will your gas range do that? Or will it do any of these things? Does it enable you to do all your canning in the oven by the sterilization process—the easiest, surest quickest and best way to can. And, are you absolutely certain every time you place a pie, a cake, cookies, biscuits or bread in the oven that they'll come out "just right" every time?

If you can't do these things with your gas range you should be willing to make most any sacrifice to buy one equipped with the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator, which makes all these things possible.

We'll be glad to explain and demonstrate the remarkable advantages of the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator, the device that measures and automatically controls the heat of the oven. Come to our store and learn for yourself.

Dangler Gas Ranges are Lorain-equipped
A good baker because the heat is distributed evenly to all parts of oven. Oven is extra deep and has proper ventilation. Valves are in front, ovens and broilers high enough to prevent soot. The Dangler is neat, durable, easy to keep clean. There is a variety of sizes and styles to fit all needs.

CONFIDENCE is essentially the foundation and girder of true friendship, whether it be personal, national or international.

CONFIDENCE is a much coveted quality and one which should be outstanding in your Doctor whom you trust with the most precious of all you possess—your life.

CONFIDENCES are betrayed at times but he who chooses to play fast and loose with sacred trust, not only does his friend an incalculable wrong, but is most surely wrecking the supportive structure of his own future.
