British Columbians To Help Farmers In East Saskatchewan

Territory For Harvest Workers From This Coast Is Extended; Re-ticketing Privileges Now to All Points In Prairie Province.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—Need for more harvesters in Saskatchewan has resulted in the extension to that province of the territory for men from British Columbia. Co-operating with the railways, the Employment Service of Canada has extended the re-ticketing privileges for British Columbia harvest workers to all points in Saskatchewan. Up to this time men from the coast province, on harvest tickets, were not permitted to re-ticket east of Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Albert.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 men, of whom half have arrived, will be British Columbia's contribution to the prairie harvest labor problem.

To Sell Elevators.—The Government of Manitoba intends to make an effort to sell its 126 grain elevators scattered throughout the province according to semi-official reports to-day. Twenty-four of the elevators are not in operation, 96 are leased to the United Grain Growers and six to prairie companies. One million dollars is mentioned as the probable price for the lot.

It is stated the elevator system has earned the province six and a half per cent.

PRaises SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTING

Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba Commends B. C. System

Praising the "exact and scientific" system of accountancy in the Treasury Department of British Columbia, Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba, stated to The Times this morning that he expects to introduce changes in Manitoba to carry out its full effect in financial affairs of that Province. He is accompanied by the excellent department of Robert Drummond, Comptroller General.

Revenue Accounting.—"The purpose of our visit," said Mr. Brown, "is to confer with the Treasury Department with regard to the work of the Comptroller General in this Province. We have in Manitoba the same system of revenue accounting, as compared with the old cash system still in vogue in most of the provinces, but we in Manitoba have not carried it to the excellent development to which Mr. Moutat has developed it here, and it was for the purpose of bringing our system up to the level reached here that Mr. Drummond and I came to Victoria at this time."

"We have had a series of conferences with the Minister of Finance and the Comptroller General and other officials of the Department, and as a result I anticipate several far-reaching changes will be made in the form in which the estimates will be submitted to the Manitoba House in future."

"A Corner Stone."—Having pointed out the fundamental importance of the preparation of the estimates in an intelligible form to the members of the House, Mr. Brown remarked that many people in British Columbia did not yet appreciate the value of the reform.

NEW SOUTH WALES RAISES MONEY IN UNITED KINGDOM

Vancouver, Aug. 19.—A cable to The Vancouver Province from Sydney, N. S. W. says: "Premier Storey of New South Wales announces arrangements have been made to borrow £13,000,000 in London, spread over three years at 5 1/2 per cent. Of that amount, £4,500,000 is to be earmarked for land settlement purposes."

Famine Continues, But Less Cholera In Russia

London, Aug. 19.—Famine still is ravaging the Volga districts of Russia, but there is a decrease in the cholera epidemic there, says the Moscow correspondent of The Daily Herald. During July 22,000 cases were reported, as against 42,000 in June.

The Soviet Government has appropriated 520,000,000 rubles for the Relief Committee's initial expenses and has decided to levy one pound per pood (36 pounds) on goods traded in the free food markets.

LAHORE WILL NOT WELCOME PRINCE

Indian Resolution Regarding Prince of Wales' Visit Changed Attitude Toward Khalifate Demanded

London, Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The official programme of the visit of the Prince of Wales to India shows that the Prince and his party will leave Portsmouth on H.M.S. Renown on October 28 next, with the expectation of landing in Bombay on November 17.

Although no official announcement has been made, The Daily Telegraph understands that until the wrongs of the Punjab and the Khalifate are redressed it would be unwise and inexpedient for the Prince of Wales to visit Lahore in the course of his forthcoming tour of India. The resolution states that though the municipality entertains no personal feeling of disrespect for the Heir-apparent, its members feel convinced that his visit would be exploited for political ends and it has determined not to accord him any welcome whatsoever, nor to incur expense for his reception nor participate in the official functions.

PATHFINDERS ARE IN INLAND EMPIRE

Spokane Reached Without Difficulty Last Evening

Spokane, Aug. 18.—(Special Message)—The Canadian Highway Association Pathfinder party from Victoria arrived in Spokane this evening. The run to-day was 212 miles, being a total from Seattle of 344 miles.

Apart from occasional detours, caused by road construction, the party has followed the route shown in the map in The Times last Saturday, excepting to-day, on the advice of west bound motor tourists and garages and hotel clerks the route between Wilson Creek and Davenport was by way of Hartline, Almira and Wilbur instead of as announced.

This long detour was made on account of the reported roughness of the main route, which under ordinary circumstances is best.

It is most noticeable how road and other information is passed along by the touring, and by garages and hotels. The pathfinders fear somewhat the same kind of verbal information is given out by tourists concerning transportation facilities to Victoria and Vancouver Island, and that sometimes comments are unfavorable and difficulties enlarged upon to the detriment of the island.

The party passed through many miles of immense wheat fields to-day. So far the roads are all good.

SEIZE LIQUOR BOUND FOR U. S.

Ontario Officials Busy on Detroit River

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The Department of the Attorney-General of Ontario will accept the challenge of the "rum runners" found on the Essex border in the town of Detroit, according to a message received by the Attorney-General, Incorporated under Federal charters will not guarantee the exporting concerns against seizure of any liquor shipments which are not forwarded by regular carriers. The Ontario Department's order to make seizure still stands, and the provincial authorities will welcome a reference of the issue to the courts.

The Department announces that liquor on board vessels in the Detroit River will be seized though seizures are given by the owners and that it has a legal destination. If the court before which the owner and his liquor are brought refuses the Attorney-General's Department a confiscation order on the ground that the goods are for export, the consignee will be informed his liquor is awaiting him, and asked to specify by what carrier it shall be forwarded.

COMMENT ON WORDS OF LLOYD GEORGE

Views Are Expressed by English Papers

London, Aug. 19.—Endorsing the statement of Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons with reference to the Washington conference and the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, The London Times to-day declares: "Plainly it represented the considered judgment and deep aspiration of the Dominion Prime Ministers and the representatives of India as well as the Premier and Government of Great Britain."

Regarding the statement that disarmament would be easier if preceded by a Pacific understanding, the newspaper says: "Both for the United States and Japan this voice of the British Empire, uttered thus for the first time in a matter of incomparable importance, may well have unprecedented authority. It is a new voice in world affairs, or if it is not new, it at least now is newly articulated."

Through the Premier, continues the paper, the British people "declare their hearty friendship for Japan and propose to the people of the United States common action to make safe the peace of the world."

The Times asserts that this statement "indicates the debt of honor due by the British people to Japan, no less than the sentimental attachment to a long loyal ally."

"It was rightfully frank in the rejection of the specious plea that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance need not be cast aside as a buckler used in need and discarded with levity," the paper says, adding that the Premier spoke with "wise frankness" in stating that an "understanding of Pacific questions would be a preliminary of inestimable value."

An Appeal.—London, Aug. 19.—(Canadian Press)—Several of the editorial comments on the "Coolidge" by Lloyd George yesterday in the House of Commons dealing with the conference of Prime Ministers of the Empire, agree that the Premier in drawing a picture of the five nations conferring amicably together was making a splendid appeal to Ireland, and that it is to be considered before anything was done which would make Britain lose their friendship.

Neutrality.—The Foreign Enlistment Act provides that it shall be a violation of British neutrality to permit enlistments in Great Britain for either of two independent countries which may be at war.

Mr. Harmsworth simply replied that the act was still operative and that the question of the Rifs would be considered.

NEW MEXICO TOWN WAS FLOODED

People of Hatch Were Rendered Homeless

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 19.—Flood waters which wiped out virtually every building in the town of Hatch, N. M., yesterday, rendering more than 200 families homeless and destroying thousands of dollars' worth of property, still were several feet deep in the town to-day, according to messages received by The El Paso Herald.

Women and children of the town are suffering from exposure, according to H. F. Fieldness of Hatch, who telephoned the conditions to The El Paso Herald to-day.

Fieldness said over the telephone he was standing in the foot of water in a telephone booth in one of the five buildings yet standing in the town. "Over 200 people have been rendered homeless by the flood," he said.

The men had taken the whiskey to the mouth of the river, it was said, and the officers made the seizure as it was being loaded on the scow for export to the United States.

RIF TRIBESMEN FRIENDS OF BRITAIN

M.P. Asks About Spanish Recruiting in Britain

London, Aug. 19.—The recruiting campaign being carried on by the Spanish consular officials in England to secure troops to fight against the Rif tribesmen was brought up in the House of Commons to-day by Joseph Kenworthy, an Independent Liberal, who endeavored to get the Government to make a statement on the subject, but Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, declined to discuss the matter until he had an opportunity to confer with the other Government departments.

Mr. Kenworthy pressed the matter, asking whether the Foreign Enlistment Act was still in force, and whether Mr. Harmsworth was aware that relations between the Rif tribesmen and Great Britain had always been good and that the natives of the Rif country had assisted Great Britain in the war.

Mr. Kenworthy asked if this was to be considered before anything was done which would make Britain lose their friendship.

Neutrality.—The Foreign Enlistment Act provides that it shall be a violation of British neutrality to permit enlistments in Great Britain for either of two independent countries which may be at war.

Mr. Harmsworth simply replied that the act was still operative and that the question of the Rifs would be considered.

Washington, Aug. 19.—William J. Burns of New York, head of the Bureau of Investigation, has been appointed by Attorney-General Daugherty as director of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

The President and I have known Mr. Burns for many years and know his dependability and efficiency."

When the Attorney-General announced the appointment of Burns, the resignation of Flynn as head of the bureau had not been received. The Attorney-General notified Flynn that his successor had been appointed, however.

Visitor to Canada Speaks of British Situation

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—"Organized labor in England and Scotland is so financially crippled as a result of protracted strikes, disputes and lockouts that it is unable to offer much strong opposition to wage reductions which manufacturers are endeavoring to put into effect generally," was the statement here to-day of Neil McLean, of Glasgow, a Labor member of the British Parliament. He is in Winnipeg to attend the Trades and Labor Congress convention next week, and later he will make a trip through the west.

"Feeling among millions of workers in Scotland and England is very bitter," he said, "over the outcome, and if the necessary finances were available every worker in England would strike."

Berlin, Aug. 19.—Chancellor Wirth is endeavoring to secure the support of all political factions represented in the Reichstag for his plans looking to the negotiation of a peace treaty with the United States. It is declared the Chancellor's efforts are being directed against the opening of general debate on the treaty in the Reichstag, it being asserted that unless he succeeds in obtaining a "gentleman's agreement" with the Reichstag factions before ratification of the treaty is considered in plenary session, the debate may resolve itself into a session of bitter wrangling.

Offer Made Irish Maximum, Declares Premier of Britain

Parliament Will Meet to Embody Agreement in a Bill, or Failing Agreement, Will Meet to Consider Stern Measures For Ireland.

London, Aug. 19.—The British Government, declared Premier Lloyd George to-day, in making its settlement proposals to Ireland had decided on putting its whole terms into the letter to Eamonn de Valera without keeping anything back, and the situation had proved, he said, that it was right in adopting that course.

He had no suggestions from any part of the world except Ireland, he remarked, that the proposals had not gone to the limit of possible concession.

"I want to make it clear," continued the Premier, "that the Government did not put forth haggling terms, but put forward everything they could possibly concede to purchase peace and the goodwill of the Irish people. In Ireland itself, as far as I can see, the doubt is not so much as to the terms, but as to whether the Government really means them."

Idle Refuse To Work In Prairie Wheatfields

To-day gangs of men were standing and sitting around the employment bureau in Victoria, while clerks inside were waiting to sign them on, provide transportation and ship them off on the next boat. The men, however, would not sign on, it is asserted.

"Many men registered for harvest work, but now that the time for work has come they refuse to go," said a labor official to-day. "They give no reason except they have changed their minds and say they would rather not go to the prairies."

Farmers Cry For Laborers.—Farmers of Saskatchewan are to-day beseeching the Labor Department of the British Columbia Government to rush 2,500 more men to the prairies to help get in the harvest.

Although the streets of British Columbia coast cities are said to be full of unemployed and no more reported to be crying for work, and labor bureaux of the Department of Labor have been keeping open extra hours each day trying to recruit workers, they have so far been unable to fill an order which came in earlier in the week for 900 men. MOVE TO HAVE BEER IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Aug. 18.—That it was the intention of the Citizens' Liberty League to wait on the Provincial Government at an early date and try to persuade the Ministers that it is advisable to issue beer and wine licenses to the larger cities and towns, was the announcement made yesterday by T. L. Carruthers, secretary of the Provincial League.

He added that he felt the adoption of such a course might relieve ninety per cent of the labor unrest in the Province, claiming that in Montreal, where beer and wine were sold, the labor situation was far easier than here in Toronto.

AN ALLIANCE SUBJECT OF SPEECH

Lloyd George Spoke of British-Empire-U.S.-Japan Agreement

DESCRIBED IT AS PEACE GUARANTEE

British Course Parallel With That of United States

London, Aug. 18.—If the alliance with Japan could be merged into a greater understanding with Japan and the United States on all problems of the Pacific, that would be a great event, and it would be a guarantee for the peace of the world, said Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons today. He explained how the conference of Empire Prime Ministers had unanimously recognized that Japan loyally and faithfully had carried out her obligations to Great Britain during the war in letter and in spirit.

"When you come to the question of renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance," said Mr. Lloyd George, "you must take into account how it operated. There was a real test in the late war. No man who watched what happened could come to any other conclusion than that it was loyally and faithfully interpreted and carried out by our Japanese ally. The Pacific was being raided by fast German cruisers; our ships were being sunk. We had to depend on the help of Australia and New Zealand."

The Premier proceeded to describe how Great Britain's fleet was strained to the very last ship, new and old, in the gigantic operations in protecting Great Britain's own shore in the North Sea, the North Atlantic, and the Mediterranean.

"In the immense Pacific Ocean and in the Southern Atlantic," Mr. Lloyd George continued, "how were we to guarantee a half million colonial and a million Indian troops crossing the thousands of miles of sea against the raiders? We could not have done it but for the fact that our Japanese ally came to our aid."

"The Australian and New Zealand Premiers admitted it. They said: 'We would not have sent our troops without the guarantee,' and at the beginning of the war we certainly could not have given the guarantee but for the fact that the Japanese fleet came there to assist us in chasing the raiders."

"It was invaluable to us; it was one of the turning factors in the war. They loyally and faithfully to the letter carried out their obligations."

Likes Gentlemen.

"It is to be suggested that we now turn round and say to them: 'Thank you.' You stood by us in trouble, but we don't need you any longer, so good-bye. Would anyone behave like that in business? The British Empire must behave like gentlemen."

"When you are dealing with a country that stood well by you in trouble, and it is suggested that you should bring the alliance to an end when the trouble is over, I say that would not be becoming to the British Empire."

"I do not believe there is any country in the world, whether it likes the Japanese alliance or not, that can think any better of the British if we had broken off the alliance. They might appear glad for the moment, but in their hearts they would despise us."

United States.

"That does not mean that we are to continue an alliance of this kind on any point against any one else, and certainly not against the United States. It is a cardinal principle of British policy, and it must be that we should act in as complete accord with the United States as any two countries can."

"I do not know of anything to guarantee the peace of the world which would be equal to Japan, the United States and the British Empire in agreement upon the great principle on which world policy ought to be based, and I am hopeful that such an understanding as would establish a scheme of that kind will come as a result of the coming conference in Washington."

As Delegate.

Sir Donald MacLean, leader of the Liberals, following the Premier, expressed great satisfaction at the Premier's pronouncement, and said he hoped Mr. Lloyd George personally would be able to take part in the Washington conference. He added that he was sure "this was the wish of the country."

RED CROSS WORK SUBJECT OF REPORT

The British Society's Great Achievements During War

London, Aug. 18.—The war report of the British Red Cross Society, which has just been issued, is a record of the greatest voluntary effort in English history.

The accounts show that the public subscribed £16,500,000 in cash and kind over £21,000,000 in stores. The expenditure included over £5,000,000 for hospitals and stores, and over £2,000,000 for transportation of 10,000,000 sick and wounded.

Grants to post-war schemes for after-care, etc., absorbed £2,700,000 and the surplus on June 30, 1920, was £1,124,688.

At the time of the armistice the total staff of the Red Cross at home and abroad was 9,234. In addition, there were 128,000 auxiliary helpers, 90,000 of whom were women.

Owing to the principal workers giving their services free, the entire cost of administration was less than three and one-half per cent of the income.

RAILWAY WAGE CUT IN STATES

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The demands of the "Big Five" railroad brotherhoods to wipe out the recent wage cut, withdraw all further requests for wage decreases and cancel all demands for elimination of time and one-half for overtime in yard service, were refused yesterday by the Western railroads on the ground that these demands disregarded the public's interest in economical operation and resultant lower freight and passenger rates.

The decision followed a two-day conference between the executives of the brotherhoods and a committee representing the Western carriers.

Naval Defence Is Question for Parliaments

London, Aug. 18.—Premier Lloyd George, reviewing the conference of Empire Prime Ministers, paid a tribute in the House of Commons today to the war services of the Dominions and dealt with the consequences of the changed character of the conference compared with conditions before the war.

He said the conference had fully discussed the foreign policy of the Empire, including the Silesian and Asia Minor issues, reparations and disarmament of Germany, and dealt with the consequences of the changed character of the conference compared with conditions before the war.

He emphasized how strengthened he and Earl Curzon were at the Supreme Council, and how impressed were the members of the Council by the knowledge that they represented the view of the whole British Empire.

Constitutional Matters.

Mr. Lloyd George said it had been decided during the war to have discussions on the constitutional aspects of the Empire, and he had been bound to include that in the agenda, but the consensus of opinion was that it would be a mistake to lay down rules, because thereby the indefinable thing that makes the British Empire would be limited and its unity weakened. Two and a quarter millions of fighting overseas men were better than written rules.

The gigantic events of the war had consolidated the Empire in a fashion which a generation could not otherwise have done. The thing, he said, that mattered, was that there should be as frequent conferences as the time and distance would permit.

Defence.

It was the consensus of opinion at the conference that the Empire must have a naval force equal to any country in the world, and that it would be unfair to leave to the Motherland the whole burden of naval defence, but the extent and nature of the contribution must be left to the Dominions and India, because each naturally was anxious to guard its own independence.

"Some would like to contribute by means of naval stations, some by oil, some by having their own fleets," he stated.

"These questions must be decided by the parliaments of the Dominions. It is not a matter in which we could presume to dictate, prescribe or even suggest."

Foreign Policy.

Sir Donald MacLean, leader of the Liberals, said he was glad it was the intention of the Empire to take their share in shaping the future foreign policy. That, in itself was worth the time of the conference.

Mr. MacLean suggested that the High Commissioners of the Dominions should be kept closely informed by the Foreign Office of anything which should be communicated to their respective Governments. Nothing should be hidden from any of the Dominion, since they were responsible for advising on the external policy of the Empire.

PRINCE ALEXANDER IS ILL IN PARIS

Prince Regent of Jugo-Slavia Has Appendicitis

Paris, Aug. 18.—Prince Regent Alexander of Jugo-Slavia, son of the late King Peter of Serbia, is dangerously ill of appendicitis, incognito in Paris, instead of being about to enter Belgrade as dispatches from that city have reported. It is officially announced he will be unable to attend the funeral of his father in Belgrade.

An official bulletin on Alexander's condition issued last night said: Prince Alexander is suffering from a serious attack of appendicitis. For five days his condition has been stationary. His temperature ranges from 100 to 102. The question of an operation is pending.

Rib Was Removed.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Surgeons attending Prince Regent Alexander of Jugo-Slavia, who is ill in a private hospital at Neuilly, have hesitated to perform an operation for appendicitis.

During the war Prince Alexander was compelled to undergo an operation during the Serbian retreat into Albania, one of his ribs being removed, and fears are expressed that he may be unable to stand another major operation.

Prince Alexander, who has been in failing health for some time, came to France some weeks ago to consult specialists.

AWAIT RESULT OF AMERICAN VOTE

Canadian Railway Workers and Wage Cut

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 18.—That no decision to fight or accept the 12½ per cent wage cut will be made by Canadian railwaymen for at least a month is the opinion expressed by George K. Wark, Canadian vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, who arrived in the city yesterday on business connected with the Cape Breton steel yard men's strike. "In the United States," said Mr. Wark, "the railwaymen are now taking a vote on the question and that will require at least three weeks. I do not think there will be any developments in Canada before the completion of the American vote."

Musicians.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—Musicians at a special meeting called to consider the decision of the theatre managers to cut wages 25 per cent, expressed a determination not to accept any reduction whatsoever.

The meeting was attended by about 500 members of the local union and no action was taken looking to a further meeting with the employers. The present agreement will expire August 31.

LOWER CANADIAN FREIGHT RATES

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—An early move toward lowering of freight rates on Canadian railways is expected as the result of developments. It is understood that a conference of the railway executives with the Board of Railway Commissioners will take place in the near future, when a decision as to the amount and date of the reduction will be reached.

That there will be a reduction is certain, the sole question at issue being the amount of the reduction.

RHALLIS DIED IN GREEK CAPITAL

Former Premier of Greece Was Octogenarian

Athens, Aug. 18.—Demetrios Rhallis, former Greek Premier, died here today as the result of an illness from which he had been suffering for many months.

Mr. Rhallis, although an octogenarian, had been in active Greek politics until very recently, forming a Ministry late last Fall in succession to Premier Venizelos after the latter's defeat in the elections. It was his Cabinet that authorized the plebiscite on the return of King Constantine to the throne, and that was in office at the time of the King's resignation.

STEAM MOTORS FOR AIRSHIPS

Claims Made by a British Inventor

London, Aug. 18.—Invention of a system of steam propulsion for airships is claimed by Captain W. P. Dymally, who was a British naval officer during the war and up to a year ago staff captain in the Chief Mechanical and Electrical Engineer's Department of the Royal Air Force. It is maintained that the new system will function at altitudes hitherto unattainable with the ordinary type of internal combustion engine.

The invention is said to do away completely with the ordinary boiler, the steam being generated by means of internal combustion power or heat energy. The superheated steam energy is supplied to special steam motors which are reversible and can be controlled from a central control station.

Only heavy oil is used as fuel and it is claimed that the driving machinery can be safely placed inside the frame of the airship instead of in separate gondolas outside, thus bringing about a great reduction in air resistance and consequently reducing the power required for propulsion. The engine or "steam motors," as Captain Dymally calls them, are of the double-acting type requiring no flywheels.

A LITTLE TOO FAST.

The London Times describes Mr. Lloyd George as speaking with the voice of the Empire—"uttered for the first time"—in regard to the Anglo-Japanese alliance and says it is "a new voice in world affairs, or if it is not new at least it is newly articulated."
The Times is rushing the pace with a vengeance and is in very great danger of falling over its own feet. Certainly Mr. Lloyd George could not have spoken with the voice of Canada because the Canadian Parliament has not given him any authority to do so, and that is the only institution competent to express the will of the Canadian people on the subject.

Similarly, it is hardly necessary to say that the Parliaments of Australia and New Zealand will do all the talking for those countries regarding things which concern them so intimately as international questions on the Pacific. Moreover, it is quite possible that the three British Dominions will not speak in harmony on some of these matters. They have not done so in the past for the fundamental reason that their policies have been based upon largely different local conditions. For instance, Australia adheres to a policy of total exclusion of Asiatics. Canada, like the United States, has a policy of limited exclusion. Great Britain enforces no discrimination against Oriental immigration.

The Canadian Parliament has not officially put itself on record on the Anglo-Japanese Treaty of Alliance. The matter was cursorily discussed last April when the agenda to be dealt with by the Imperial Conference was debated. If that discussion indicated anything it was that Parliament was opposed to military alliances as far as Canada was concerned and the renewal of the particular alliance under consideration. It was made clear, however—particularly by Mr. Meighen himself—that nothing could be said or done at the Imperial Conference which could commit the Canadian people in any way; that the Conference was purely consultative and possessed not the slightest executive, operative or policy-forming authority. Hence, apart altogether from the character of Mr. Lloyd George's remarks, felicitous though they may have been; it cannot be said that he spoke with the voice of the Empire on this particular question.

THE COURT ASSURED.

Although a good deal of scepticism prevailed it has developed that more than the requisite score of covenanting nations have returned their endorsements in favor of the creation of a Permanent Court of International Justice. One of the important features about its consummation is the nomination of Mr. Elihu Root as one of the justices and the obvious likelihood that he will be elected. Interest is lent to this significant development by reason of the fact that the constitution by which the Court will be governed very largely owes its construction to Mr. Root and a commission over which he presided. Curiously enough the institution will be of no benefit to the very country whose former Secretary of State has been so prominently associated with its inception. Mr. Root is not even in agreement with the League of Nations.

THAT SOCKEYE TREATY.

Although the Dominion and United States Governments have agreed to the terms of the sockeye salmon fishing treaty the Governor of the neighboring State of Washington has used all the influence at his command to persuade the senatorial mind against its ratification. Secretary of State Hughes has been advised by Governor Hart that no part of the proposed treaty is acceptable to Washington State and as an alternative to the provisions of the undertaking in question he has suggested that a special commission composed of at least one British Columbian and one resident of Washington shall be charged with the drawing up of a new agreement that will equitably provide for conservation of fish and be fair to the fishing industry of both sections.

It will be recalled that the treaty in question is the sequel to sittings of the International Fisheries Commission which took place nearly two years ago and at which Assistant Fisheries Commissioner Babcock prophesied the end of the sockeye run to the Fraser unless more stringent regulations were imposed upon the industry. How a new commission can be expected to settle the controversy in view of the numerous abortive attempts already made it is difficult to conceive. If it should still be possible to afford the protection that is so obviously necessary by other means than those proposed in the treaty now awaiting the approval of the Senate so well and so good. In the meantime an inoperative agreement is useless.

GOOD BUSINESS.

Industrial Victoria has reason to be elated over the fact that the local shipbuilding firm of Yarrows is able to invade the yards of California and obtain contracts in competition with some of the leading concerns on the Pacific Coast. While there may be nothing particularly spectacular in the business which involves the refitting of an oil tanker the fact remains that the work in question would have been done on the other side of the border had it not been for the enterprise of the Victoria firm. And that the contract should have been awarded locally is a matter for especial congratulation in view of the additional employment it will create during the next few weeks.

CANADA AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Mr. Lloyd George yesterday drew a striking picture of representatives of the Dominions participating in the Peace Conference, notably the Prime Minister of Canada sitting on a Commission to decide the fate of the Turkish Empire. Canada necessarily was concerned in the deliberations of the gathering which was called to settle the terms of peace arising from a war in which she was a participant, but it does not follow that she desires to take an active part in the determination of every issue with which she has no direct association and in which her people have actually no especial interest.

For instance, the Canadian people confronted with their own numerous difficult problems calling for continuous attention would not permit their statesmen to turn their backs upon them in rushing across the Atlantic to engage in the settlement of difficulties in the Balkans, disputes over Silesia, or some boundary complication between Czechoslovakia and Poland. We cannot imagine that either Mr. Meighen, Mr. Massey or Mr. Hughes conveyed the impression at the Imperial Conference that this form of participation in foreign affairs would be satisfactory to any of these Dominions. The Government which neglected any of this country's vital domestic questions for the sake of some obscure preoccupation in Eastern Europe would not survive the first opportunity the Canadian people had of reckoning with it.

WARNING THE DAIL.

While Mr. Lloyd George does not hint at the course the British Government would take in the event of a final rejection of its offer by the Dail Eireann his statement to the House of Commons this afternoon clearly indicates that it would develop upon Parliament to make up its mind to a definite course of action if that unfortunate contingency should develop. It was not altogether what the Prime Minister said so much as what he left unsaid which suggests to the average observer of the mental processes employed by the little Welshman that he will not countenance any milk and water methods if the worst should come to the worst. Public opinion throughout the Empire and the world in general will agree that the terms which the British Government offered to de Valera and his colleagues were made in good faith and constituted a genuine effort on the part of Westminster to come to an agreement with Dublin. If the Dail Eireann makes up its mind to accept them Parliament will convene and pass the necessary legislation without delay. If all the negotiations should come to naught it would appear that the Executive has reached the same conclusion that Lincoln reached in 1861 and will take the necessary measures to preserve the union. In the meantime a tremendous responsibility rests upon the shoulders of Eammon de Valera and his youthful colleagues.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Judging by the number of British applicants for "positions" in the ranks of the Spanish army it cannot be said that there is any lack of the adventurous spirit in the tight little isle.

Premier Oliver talked plainly at the unemployment Conference in Vancouver. His diagnosis of present day troubles may not provide an effective antidote; but the soundness of his reasoning cannot be disputed.

The anniversary of the signing of the Treaty of Versailles was celebrated by the Conservative journals in Germany with outbursts of anti-Entente sentiment and toasts to "The Day" when the German Empire will rise again to its old power and glory. That day may come if the present generation will continue to do as it is told; but the old power and glory will be shorn of all the trappings which jingled before the war.

This is not a lucky day, according to astrology, for Uranus and Venus are both in malefic aspect.
During this configuration women are subject to many ill omens, for they are to be targets of fate, the seers declare.
Much activity is presaged for women who will engage in large public enterprises, many of which will fail, but the ruins of old projects and new ones will succeed.
During this configuration women will be inclined to find fault with one another and dissensions in their organizations will be common.
Uranus is in a position supposed to increase social ambitions and to disturb existing friendships.
The seers declare that this is a transition time in which many problems involving human relations will be worked out, but this will cause much controversy and unpleasantness.
Venus is in an aspect that bodes ill for success of the theatre. Actors and actresses may expect a season of changes and uncertainty.
Love affairs will be well directed today and may be exceedingly disappointing.
Summer resort love affairs this season are likely to be even more undecided than usual. Conditions seem to encourage fickleness and inconstancy.
Nervous diseases will multiply at this time, for the human mind will be obsessed by many strange ideas.
While Uranus has evil power the world will be more mad than usual.

SEIZED ON POINT OF SAILING TO CHINA

Chinaman Is Released From Sheriff's Custody

In Supreme Court Chambers this morning Mr. Justice Murphy released Lim Kay Tong, who had been taken from the steamship Keystone State under a capias writ on August 9 last, a few moments before the vessel sailed for China.

The application for action under capias was made by Hong Lee, of Vancouver, who had an account for $430 against Tong, who had been operating with his father a Vancouver restaurant.

Mr. Justice Murphy remarked: "The law is strongly against keeping a man in custody for debt" and also noted that every business man in British Columbia and the world lost money in 1920. Consent was given by Tong to the issuance of a judgment for the amount claimed.

WILL LAY POLICE WAGE COMPROMISE BEFORE COUNCIL

Andros, Official Peace Maker, Supports Fifty-Per Cent Cut

As a result of negotiations which he has been carrying on with the City Police Commission Alderman E. S. Andros, Chairman of the Civic Finance Committee, will lay before the City Council a plan whereby police wage increases desired by the Commissioners will be cut in half. The Alderman made this announcement to-day following a conference with the Police Commission.

The Police Board's original salary increase plan involved the expenditure of $10,000 but the Commissioners told Alderman Andros that they were prepared to reduce this sum to $5,000, cutting in half the wage raises they had intended to grant local police a most satisfactory compromise on the wage question and will ask the Finance Committee and later the Council to endorse the plan without delay.

Alderman Andros said this morning that he had found the Police Commissioners most reasonable in their attitude towards the wage question and ready to do anything in their power to break the long deadlock between the Commission and the City Council. The Commissioners, said Alderman Andros, fully realize the city's serious financial condition and the fact that living costs are decreasing somewhat. In view of these facts they have agreed to a fifty per cent cut in their original wage demands, a plan which they suggested some time ago.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS CHOOSE OFFICERS AT FINAL SESSION

In accomplishing a great deal in the way of instructing and educating the public as to the true functions of life insurance, the speaker pointed out the various methods of advertising and the salient points that were brought out in this way respecting advertising.
Life insurance provides the only means of delivering the necessary money at the time it is most needed. Over six hundred million dollars have been paid out by life insurance companies in Canada for this and similar purposes, and over two and a half millions are pledged to-day for future delivery," said Mr. Graham.
"Over one thousand persons every day in Canada are turning to life insurance for the purpose of caring for the future of their dependents.

"Life insurance to the amount of over six hundred million dollars was issued in 1920, which would provide the income of $100 monthly for fifteen years to 15,000 families. Two hundred million dollars have been paid to living policy holders in the past ten years by Canadian life insurance companies. This is actually twenty-five million more than was paid in death losses, despite the heavy war and influenza claims.
"Seventy-five per cent of all business failures in Canada last year were due to personal causes. Life insurance would have saved many of these businesses from failure and hardships imposed on their families.
"The people of Canada are insured for over two and a half billion dollars. This sum would provide for $50,000 widows and orphans for twenty years. It would purchase 625,000 homes at $4,000 each, or it would furnish education for over a million children.
"Life insurance establishes credit; indemnifies capital for the loss of practical men; furnishes ready cash to pay off indebtedness; safeguards the deceased partner's share; creates an asset of fixed value which cannot shrink; insures the most valuable asset to any business—human life—brains, foresight, energy, personality, power to plan, build and execute," said Mr. Graham.
Members of the Life Underwriters' Association evinced a keen interest in this feature of the association work, which, it was agreed, is a great educational factor for underwriters as well as the general public.
Larger Selling.
"How to Sell Larger Policies by Selling Monthly Income," was the topic of an interesting address by F. W. Marsh, who convinced his audience with laughter by the recital of an experience of Mack Eastman, Professor of History in the University of British Columbia, who, at the packed house which greeted him at a lecture on Wordsworth's "Ode to Immortality," discovered that the crowd was so large that he was obliged to inform the public that Professor Eastman would lecture on "his Ode to Immortality."
"To be able to sell policies of any kind of serviceable policy is an excellent thing; to sell more policies is still better; but to be able to sell larger policies—larger in conception, in service and in size—is the rarest achievement in our business," said Mr. Marsh.

The speaker then outlined the advantage of the monthly income policy and pointed out some of the erroneous ideas that existed in regard to this class of insurance. When people thoroughly understand this class of insurance they realize its advantages, the speaker explained.

Service to Public.
"Service to the public and what is expected of the agent," was the subject of A. S. Elford's address.
"Through countless ages, man has made his way through savagery and barbarity in the dawn of recorded history. The price paid in waste for this advance was very great and man placed no value on life and property.
"Most of this period was without any way of means of conveying ideas or recording what had gone on before but when man discovered ways and means, through signs, symbols and, ultimately, language, and the discovery of fire, the art of making tools and using clay, wood and metals and to provide fish and meat for food, skins for clothing and weapons for defence, these dawned in the mind and soul of man the desire for some form of continuity of effort, ownership and the saving of waste.
"From that time to the dawn of the Christian era, man made great material, intellectual and economic advances.
"Two thousand years ago the Great Teacher brought to mankind a new gospel, the gospel of peace on earth and good will toward men and during these centuries the law of love and of service has spread throughout the world. There have developed, the higher qualities of morality, integrity and fortitude.
"These great crowning qualities have been developed through deep religious convictions regardless of what these different religions may be, until the day is here when one of the great laws governing the continuity of our civilization is that of saving the waste and holding our standards and our social status from going backward.
"So many people are domiciled in our cities and are so dependent upon others for services of all kinds that the very subject we have under consideration, that of service to the public, has become a political as well as a social and religious problem," said Mr. Elford, who then proceeded to show how insurance was one of the chief factors in the rendering of service to mankind.

Convention Closes.
The closing of the convention will prove as lively as the various sessions throughout the convention, which have been marked by community sings and scenes of animation.
Blocks of tickets for the Princess Theatre have been taken up and tonight will be "Under the Night" at the Yates Street playhouse. The performance will be concluded in time to permit of those wishing to leave Victoria to-night to catch the boat for the mainland.
During their stay in the city the delegates from various parts of Canada, and their friends from the American Association of Life Underwriters, have taken advantage of every opportunity to view the scenic and other attractions of the city and district. All have been loud in their praise of the warmth of their reception, and all that they have seen, a

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
Victoria Daily Times, August 19, 1896
Ottawa—It has been ascertained on good authority that the Manitoba school question has been as good as settled, and that there will be no need for remedial legislation.
Enterprising American fishermen have extended their operations at the expense of the halibut fishing interests of British Columbia. For some time past it has been known that Sound fishermen have been in the habit of catching halibut in British Columbia waters and selling them in Sound cities, and now comes a report from San Francisco that there recently arrived there the schooners Norma, Sun and Freya, each with a cargo from the fishing banks of this Province. They all found ready markets for the fish.
Alderman Marchant will move at the City Council's next meeting that plans for organizing the city into four wards on the basis of population be undertaken immediately.

Word has reached Victoria from Seattle of an interesting event in that city on Wednesday, August 17, when the marriage of Miss Edna Fraser of Helena, Montana, to Joseph H. King of the same place, was solemnized at St. Clements Episcopal Church, by the Rev. Francis R. PRETTY WEDDING

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Norman C. Bell, of Saanich Municipal Hall, Weds Miss Beales

St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, was prettily decorated with Shasta daisies, white and mauve asters and zygophylla, for the wedding last evening of Miss Dorothy Beales, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Beales, 1955 Fowl Bay Road, to Norman Cowper Bell, of the staff of the Saanich Municipal Hall. The Rev. G. H. Andrews officiated in the presence of a large gathering of intimate friends of the young couple.

Mr. Beales gave away his daughter, who looked radiantly happy in her smart traveling suit of navy blue, and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Charles E. Hopper supported the bridegroom. During the service Mrs. S. M. Morton sang with much charm, "Beloved It Is Mine."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Fowl Bay Road. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with Summer flowers, the newly-wed couple standing beneath a wedding bell of pink sweet peas to receive the congratulations of their many friends. The handsome three-tier wedding cake centred the table with its pretty decorations of mauve and pink sweet peas arranged in a cloud of pink and mauve tulle, from which the buffet supper was served.

The evening concluded with dancing to the strains of Fryer's orchestra, the young couple leaving on the midnight boat for Vancouver. The honeymoon will be spent in the Sound cities, and they will later make their home at Gordon Head. Among the many gifts received by the young couple was a handsome cheque from the staff of the Saanich Municipal Hall, where the bridegroom has been employed for some time.

BANQUET WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Life Underwriters Enjoy Speeches and Songs at Empress Hotel

The banquet at the Empress Hotel of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada last evening was a great success and the hundreds of delegates who attended made the air resound with song and laughter. Many a good yarn was told and the after-dinner speakers were in their cheery mood. M. A. Macdonald, K. C., M. P., was greeted with laughter when he said that his speech would be as a lady's dress should be, "long enough to cover the subject, but short enough to be interesting." Mr. Macdonald's address is reported elsewhere in these columns.

There are some very good singers among the visiting life underwriters and they displayed their talent to the full last night. Song and after song was called for and it seemed that the huge party would never tire of the music.

There were a good many ladies present, and they took as keen an interest in the affair as the members of the sterner sex.

Following Mr. Macdonald's excellent address, Orville Thorpe who spoke in the morning, gave a brief address. He claimed that heretofore insurance had been looked upon as a great social service institution but when it is remembered that ninety-seven per cent. of the life insurance business assets belong to the people, they being the owners of the railway and other bonds and securities, it is time they began to realize that insurance is the people's business, and that it is a business which increases the thrift forces of the family.

Mr. Thorpe said that the United States wrote ten billions of insurance last year but there were too many agents who did not understand life insurance; they were simply acting as order takers. He claimed that it was every underwriter's duty to belong to the Life Underwriters' Association and pointed out many of the advantageous features of such organizations.

Mr. Thorpe's Address. Orville Thorpe, President of the National Underwriters' Association, said in part: "Too many times the value of life insurance has been presented to prospects as a form of social service. The policyholder has obtained an indefinite, intangible idea. He is given to understand that by investing a certain amount of money as stated intervals the policyholder starts his investment on a course which, after passing through numerous evolutions, returns to him or his heirs later on. 'Incidentally,' he realizes, of course, that the man who sells him the policy is making a good thing out of it. And that is about all.

It is our plain duty, our definite task, to instruct and educate people in regard to the far-reaching influence of investment in life insurance. Ninety-seven per cent. of the assets of life insurance companies combined belong to the people, and therefore it is certainly a matter concerning the people to know about this phase.

Better Citizenship. To promote better citizenship, to educate our patrons and bring them to a thorough understanding of what insurance really means, we should point out how their money is being put to work in sustaining railroad and municipal bonds, foreign and real estate loans. We should inform them that they, as holders of insurance policies, are helping to maintain the basic industries of the country; that they are increasing the economic value of the nation; that his money is furnishing the financial sinews of the transportation systems, telephone and street car services; that he is a factor and a very important one in moving the wheels of national commerce; that when he steps aboard a train he is, in a sense, riding on a railroad that belongs to him.

Mr. Greenwell. J. L. Greenwell, of the Equitable Life, Seattle, declared: "The settlement of the problems of every nation at the present hour, calls for the same kind of leadership and the same spirit of co-operation as manifested in the war. The political, financial and industrial problems of every nation call for leaders of outstanding ability, who are big enough and broad enough to keep step with the statesmen, the financiers and the industrial leaders of their own, as well as of other countries, and who are both able and willing to march along the highways of human endeavor with that mighty multitude of private citizens who are now, as they have always been, the strength of the state, as well as the safeguard of civilization."

man with whom he would do business.

(Afternoon Session). Yesterday afternoon's session of the convention was taken up by a number of very interesting speeches, many of which were of an instructive nature and tended to offer suggestions to underwriters on various classes of insurance and types of prospects investigated.

J. C. Ferguson, General Manager of the Great West Life, Winnipeg, had a very heavy subject to handle in "Conservation of Business and Preventing Lapses," but he showed his audience clearly and concisely how this phase of business, one of the most serious phases, could be handled satisfactorily and efficiently.

W. Dwight Mead, general agent of the Pacific Mutual, Seattle, spoke on "How to Sell the Farmer." He said that in olden times it was a case of selling the farmer and the farmer got so accustomed to it that he became shy of every salesman in every line of endeavor and would have nothing to do with him. This, however, was a condition of the past and the farmer to-day fully realized the necessity of carrying protection.

J. E. Rumans, Mutual Life representative in Calgary, had for his subject "The Value of Individual Advertising," and covered his topic in a comprehensive and instructive manner.

A LETTER TO MR. OLIVER.

To the Editor:—Enclosed find an open letter to the Hon. John Oliver. If you have space kindly publish it.

J. E. JULIAN. Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 18, 1921.

Re the Unemployed. Hon. John Oliver, Victoria, B. C.: Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 12th. From its tenor I cannot think but that you have failed to apprehend the proposal suggested in my letter.

Briefly the proposal is: 1. That all the unemployed shall be put to work to prepare vacant crown lands for cultivation and industrial sites. 2. That the land should be as close in to the centres of population as possible and in direct communication with markets.

3. That it should be used for industrial sites for disabled soldiers, market gardens, fruit growing and small mixed farms. 4. That residences, workshops, plant and farm buildings, etc., should be provided.

5. That where there is a power plant, current should be laid on for light and power. Where there is no power plant but water power near hydro-electric plants should be furnished and so give cheap power as a substitute for cheap labor.

6. That the land should be granted to the Dominion and the Dominion should issue Dominion notes to the amounts required. 7. That the holding should be let on lease with the usual Dominion provision for periodic readjustment of rentals.

8. That returned men should have the option of taking a life interest say at a low rental of about 1 per cent. on the death of the holder to revert to the Crown. That all others should pay from 3 to 5 or 6 per cent. on the cost and market value of the land. The rate to depend on the nature of the soil and the facilities.

9. That the revenue should be used to redeem the notes. If the unemployed be put to work to do this work in this way, it will readily be seen that the Dominion will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

10. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value. 11. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

12. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value. 13. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

14. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value. 15. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

16. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value. 17. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

18. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value. 19. That the Dominion notes will have the security of the land, the improvements and all future increase in value.

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, AILING WOMEN

Mrs. Britton Tells How She Was Restored To Health After Suffering for More Than A Year.

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?'"

Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good.—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan. Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.

Another Michigan woman says: "I was bothered for a long time with female troubles and was so nervous I felt almost afraid at times. I also had a pain in my right side and was certainly in a bad way. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good.—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan. pal law constitutes the Mayor as city manager, having unrestricted control over the employees of the municipality. "He saith unto one, do this, and he doeth it." If the Mayor misdirects, fails to direct, or is indifferent, the blame is his. Well, how will a city manager cure the situation? What is the magic charm in securing somebody who cannot possibly have had any experience on the job to do what Mayor Porter apparently states he has failed in doing.

What are the ills of wrongs over which Victoria is mourning, and how will these nostrums cure them? Why not diagnose the disease before suggesting quick cures for untested and imaginary complaints? The chief of all our troubles appears to be that of taxation. Yet it should be frankly stated also, that the groaning citizens are those who have burdened themselves with too much real estate and find a growing reluctance on the part of the public to invest in vacant lands.

The job of job-hunting is the want ads' favorite job. Let me suggest further to the wise men of the west, that they cease tinkering, changing, altering, re-making, fashioning and enacting new laws in municipal affairs, but rather lay in municipal affairs, but rather tion and work with it and try it. "A poor workman complains of his tools." The fault is not with the tools, the fault lies chiefly with the workman. W. MARCHANT.

for assistance are tried, and still the tax rate rises. Why not stop borrowing for every purpose? Why not quit paying the "Get rich fraternity," the usury demanded from municipalities that are well nigh bankrupt? The fault is not with the instrument of government, nor the methods by which we control civic affairs, but with the ory of expenditure indulged in by the city in past years, and in the unrestrained borrowing powers granted to all municipalities. Let me ask the readers of this epistle to the Gentiles to note that the continual changes of law, statutes and by-laws are injurious to sound administration. Let me suggest that careful enquiry be made into the British municipal institutions, and the practical use made of

SHIPPING NEWS FROM DAY TO DAY

MANY MOTORSHIPS ARE BEING BUILT

Fourteen Countries of World Now Constructing Motor Driven Vessels

Fourteen countries of the world are now constructing 183 motorships of 502,944 gross tons. Of this number the United Kingdom is building fifty-seven. Lloyd's Register of Shipping shows that there are a total of 1,640 ships of 6,199,568 tons, steam, sail and motor, building throughout the world.

The Scandinavian countries, which were the first to perfect the Diesels, are engaged upon the production of a good proportion of the large ocean-going motorships. Sixteen of the 62,250 gross tons are under way in Denmark, while Sweden is constructing sixteen of 61,095 tons and Norway five of 13,490 tons. Motorship production of vessels of 100 tons and above in the various countries is as follows:

Great Britain is building sixteen steel sailers, 2,832 tons and one wooden sailing ship of 300 tons.

The extent to which the shipyards of the United Kingdom depend upon orders from other maritime nations for merchant ships is reflected in an analysis of the returns. There are 202 vessels of 218,752 gross tons building in British yards for foreign interests. There are three of these steamers under construction for the United States.

The data on building for foreign account follow:

who sailed this morning for the Orient as representative of the Rockefeller Foundation, which has endowed the Pinkney Union Medical College. Mr. Rockefeller is accompanied by a distinguished party of medical men and scientists.

WHARF GROANED AS EMPRESS HUGGED BIT

Unusual Strain Caused Minor Damage to Rithet Property

In pulling out for the Orient early this morning the liner Empress of Asia narrowly missed taking a section of the wharf with her. With her forward spring taut and her curbed 22,000 horsepower working astern the strain on the wire was so tremendous that the steel bolt broke in two and tore through the strainer. Heading the warning note and in anticipation of something giving way, wharf officials ambled out of the danger zone with marked celerity.

The Empress liner got away about 1 o'clock this morning carrying what is said to be the largest passenger list which ever left this port. Altogether the ship had thirteen hundred persons aboard, exclusive of the crew.

There were 350 passengers in the saloon accommodation, 200 in the second cabin and 750 Orientals in the Asiatic steerage.

A large mail was taken aboard here for the Orient.

TANKER CADDO DUE HERE NEXT MONDAY

SS. Princess Maquinna Completes Repairs and Will Resume Service To-morrow

The tanker Caddo, which is coming to Yarrow, Ltd. from San Francisco to undergo a complete refit, is now expected to reach this port on Monday morning, according to an announcement made to-day at the Lang Cove plant.

Repairs have been completed to the C. P. R. steamer Princess Maquinna, and the vessel will leave Esquimalt to-morrow. The Maquinna is scheduled to sail to-morrow night for west coast of Vancouver Island ports.

The C. G. M. M. Canadian Prospector, after completing overhaul at Yarrow, left the plant at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Chemaluc.

STEAMER SAN JOSE WILL BE ABANDONED

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—The steamer San Jose, grounded off the coast of Lower California, will be abandoned, officials of the Pacific Mail S.S. Company said to-day.

The vessel Homer will salvage all removable machinery aboard the San Jose, which then will be left to its fate.

PROFIT SHOWN BY N. Y. K. LINE

Dividend of 25 Per Cent. Declared Despite Depressed Shipping Conditions

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Japan's largest steamship company, made a net profit of $600,000 for the year ending March 31, 1921. A dividend of twenty-five per cent. has been declared, despite depressed conditions in shipping. This represents a decline of about twenty-five per cent. from the corresponding period of the previous year. The N. Y. K. has curtailed its building programme as its statement shows it has now but nine ships under construction, which include three vessels of 16,500 gross tons, three 7,000-ton freighters, two 4,500-ton cargo carriers and one 2,700-ton vessel. The company has a paid-up capital of $29,000,000, and a reserve fund for insurance, construction, repairs and other purposes of $41,168,500.

EDUCATIONAL BODY LEAVES FOR CHINA

Professor P. M. Roxby, of Liverpool University, Speaks of Mission

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, which made port from Vancouver at midnight, cleared about 1 o'clock this morning on her outward voyage to the Orient. In addition to the Rockefeller party of medical and scientific men bound for Peking in connection with the opening of the Peking Union Medical College, the liner took out an Anglo-American body known as the China Educational Commission. Professor Percy M. Roxby, who holds the chair of geography at the Liverpool University, is the only British member of the party. In outlining the work of the commission, which, when developed, may revolutionize the present system of education in China, Professor Roxby said:

"The object of our visit is to survey the field of foreign educational work in China. Up to the present time the higher schools, colleges and medical colleges, have been developed under the missionary societies of the United States and Great Britain. It is clear that at this time China is commencing to develop a national system of education. The question our commission has set out to decide is what relation will these foreign schools and colleges bear to the Government of China, and what is the best contribution that the missionary societies can make to the solution of China's new educational problems."

These problems are caused by fundamental changes which are taking place in the economic and social life of the country, and influenced, too, by the delicate position that she holds internationally.

This educational mission, he stated, has been organized by the United Board of Missionary Societies for the United States and Great Britain. The commission has to report to the board on the conclusion of their work, and if the report shall be accepted, it will form the basis of the future educational policy for China. The Government officials of China officially recognize the commission and will be glad to assist in any way. The field for education in China is so vast that the Chinese Government could never hope to cover it in generations. A strong local committee is on the field, preparing the ground for the work of the commission.

This commission, Professor Roxby said, was going to China at the invitation of that Government. This, he said, disposed of the reports that there had been any friction between the missionary colleges and the Chinese authorities.

The party will stop for a week at Yokohama on the way to China, to consider certain matters in connection with the work in Japan, sailing on to Hongkong.

From Peking the survey work will

FISHERMEN LOOTING WRECK OF EXPORTER

Report From South Bend Indicates Forward Half of Ship May Be Floated

South Bend, Wash., Aug. 19.—Fishermen are boarding the wrecked steamer Canadian Exporter, which is stranded on a spit off Willapa Harbor and are looting her of everything movable, reports Captain Winbeck, of the North Cove Coastguards. He salvaged about $7,000 worth of stuff, including the wireless apparatus, and has one fisherman from Gray's Harbor, under arrest and his boat tied up on a charge of stealing, Captain Winbeck stated.

Bids Rejected.

It is said that bids for the cargo of the stranded vessel have been rejected by British Consul Cherry, acting for Lloyds, as it is now believed the forward half of the vessel can be pulled off.

The vessel broke in two amidships. The engines are in the forward half and the boilers in the after half. By placing a boiler aboard, it is proposed now to start the engines, put out mushroom anchors and pull her off under her own steam.

Gets Garage Contract.—F. A. Macdonald was last night awarded by the Saanich Council a contract for building a garage 18 ft. x 18 ft. at the War Memorial Health Centre. His price for the completed job including a concrete floor, was $198.

Have No Authority.—Asked by the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute to erect a bathing pavilion at the lake, the Saanich Council last night forwarded the petition to the Joint Beaches and Parks Committee for consideration. Elk Lake not being within the control of Saanich.

Grant Housing Loan.—The Saanich Council last night granted loans under the Soldiers' Housing Scheme to Charles Eccleston and T. W. Mahoney, these schemes and the funds available as nearly as may be estimated in advance.

Saanich By-laws Passed.—The Saanich Council last night finally passed the by-law to control the use of irrigators of water from municipal sources, when taken from unmetered services. Its provisions limit the time of use to two hours in the morning and three hours in the evening daily, and only affects unmetered services.

Colquitz Creek Improvement.—The Saanich Council last night decided to circulate owners of property abutting Colquitz Creek, between Wilkin Road and Carey Road, as to their willingness to bear a pro rata share of clearing from the creek bed between those points dead trees, loose rock and other impediments to free passage of winter flood water. The cost is estimated to total $760.

Cloves—Floodings.—Estimating that the cost of clearing out the Cloverdale ditch will amount to $150, and that the benefit of the municipality will be worth $50, the Saanich Council last night decided to circulate the property owners to be benefited as to their willingness to pay their share of the cost of the work, but not to be more than $2 for each of the 54 lots. The district lies from Fine Street to Tolmie Avenue and is badly flooded every year.

Asks Grant For Bridge.—The Provincial Public Works Department having estimated the cost of replacing Hagan's bridge, on the West Saanich Road with a concrete culvert and fill will be $2,500, the Saanich Council last night decided to offer to do the work on receipt of a grant of $2,000, provided an immediate commencement on the work be authorized. The estimate of the Saanich Public Works Department placed the cost at the sum to be asked.

Boys Attract Attention.—Complaints from residents of Fowl Bay, Linden Avenue, King's Road and the James Bay waterfront districts as to the mischievous activities of gangs of boys have been frequent events at the city police headquarters during the past few days, and instructions have been given the constables on duty in these districts to pay particular attention to coteries of lads and their actions. Damage to fruit trees, annoyance to residents and rowdiness on public streets at night are among the complaints laid.

Poor Result Marks Sale.—Although some twenty persons attended the sale of lots taken in at past tax sales, held on Wednesday afternoon at Royal Oak by Saanich Municipality, the results proved very disappointing, only six lots in four parcels being disposed of for a total of $400. Municipal Assessor Sewell's report was last night received with little comment by the Saanich Council, it being noted that a profit of nearly $200 had accrued the municipality. The Council authorized Assessor Sewell to sell any of the listed lands at the upset price. "We are living in times when we must be thankful for small profits," remarked Reeve Watson in commenting on the subject.

FAMOUS VICAR HERE FOR VISIT

Prebendary Gough "Unblushing" Imperialist; Talks on Irish Question

The Very Rev. Prebendary A. W. Gough, B. A., the eminent vicar of Brompton, Parish Church, London, S. W., and an unblinking believer in Imperialistic principles is expected to arrive in Victoria this afternoon to spend a few days here.

Mr. Gough is a man of strong views and is not afraid to express them, judging by an interview which he issued in Vancouver yesterday.

Possessed of a thorough knowledge of Empire affairs, the popular Anglican dignitary expressed himself in unequivocal terms on a number of leading questions of the day. For instance, touching on the Irish problem, he said the time had come when it could be dealt with only in two ways: Either in a "thoroughly military way or else by the throwing of Southern Ireland out of the Empire." He had been a ceaseless advocate of universal service in all the years he had been vicar of Brompton, he said. He vigorously criticized the movement in England known as the Fellowship of the Maple Leaf which was supporting British teachers for these Canadian schools, where there is a shortage.

"Of course the educational system of the Dominion seems to be an admirable one," he added, "and you certainly don't need missionaries to come out here and encourage you in your development of education." But he was referring only to the Prairie schools in the matter of teachers.

Is An Imperialist.

"I am an unblinking believer in Imperialistic principles," he continued. "I feel that Canada has a tremendous Anglo-Saxon future. It is the land of the Anglo-Saxon and there is much room for the Anglo-Saxon. And what he wants more than anything else is room. He also desires liberty.

"In Great Britain at the present time men of ability and energy are sensible of their lack of liberty. Everything seems to be done for the under dog, who has been made practically the top dog. This is particularly seen in the labor world, where the less energetic or less capable person regulates the pace for everyone.

"In Canada you want people who go ahead," the cleric continued. "In Canada you encourage people who want to do their best. And as you know one of the great needs of the Dominion is capital, you are not prepared to wage a war against capital or against ability so you welcome both.

"Canada is evidently a land of boundless opportunities. Among

The Recent Disorders in Palestine

Arab Disorders Weakly Handled. From a British Exchange.

Palestine is passing through a crisis which has some features of special interest, writes a Jerusalem correspondent. The Manchester Guardian reported itself by a violent explosion in Jaffa on May 1, which was succeeded by violent explosions elsewhere during the same week.

Much earlier in the morning there were visible preparations for disorder on the part of the Arabs, and the attack by the Arabs on the Jews was quite sudden in several distinct parts of the town.

As far as can be gathered, it was a couple of hours before the Jews, who had been taken by surprise, could rally and defend themselves effectively.

Between four and five in the afternoon troops and armored cars arrived. There was a milder disturbance on Monday morning, but on the whole the arrival of the troops can be said to have put an end to serious rioting in Jaffa.

The High Commissioner was in negotiation with His Majesty's Government, and would on the King's birth-day make an important declaration of policy. It could hardly be doubted that the systematic disorders were the results of agitation, and they were not probably the first fruits of a plan.

Much may be said in excuse. The reports coming in from the districts suggested the possibility of a general rising. The military professions themselves unable to deal with such a contingency. The fear of a second Mesopotamia was constantly before the High Commissioner's eyes.

We have now had the High Commissioner's statement of policy. He regards it himself as a retrieving of the error made in suspending immigration and as a necessary modification in policy in order to avert serious trouble.

Time will show whether the High Commissioner's forecast is right. Meanwhile the Arabs profess dissatisfaction with the decision, but nothing has been done to them. On the other hand, there is not a Jew but regards the High Commissioner's statement as a whitening down to nothing of the Balfour declaration.

Palestine is presented as a land for pedigree bulls, stallions, and donkeys but not for Jews. A casual visitor from Mars would see in the whole address a sermon on the seat of the Jewish peril.

Jews count their dead and count their losses, and they see crime and outrage rewarded by the most extensive political concessions. They are not happy. They know that the home Government has no disposition to depart from its policy under the menace of violence.

The High Commissioner has now finally set a limit to anarchy, and that henceforth the Government will govern. The situation is serious and difficult for the High Commissioner.

Labor's Lesson

"Settle Down," Says Mr. Thomas.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, M.P., recently addressed a crowded mass meeting at Newcastle, which was reported in The Manchester Guardian. This was his first public speech since his return from America and the settlement of the coal dispute.

The miners have gone back to work because trade union funds are depleted that this is the end of trade unionism. They must not make the mistake of thinking that they are dealing with a beaten foe.

There never was a time when it was more necessary to have a settling down. If any evidence is necessary as to the bona fides of the railwaymen, I would point to the way in which the agreement on the much-abused sliding-scale has been observed.

Under that scale during the past year 17 millions have been taken off the wages bill, but there has been no turmoil or industrial upheaval.

The railwaymen, having made the agreement, have admirably kept it. I want to see that spirit recognized by the employers, whether they be railway managers or other, not to make the mistake of assuming that because to stand. If he were tempted to give way to his personal feelings he would say, "I will have no more of it." "anti-Thomas" was to be the cry he would observe the verdict by should not mistake thunder for lightning. He would not be driven out by abuse, and he would not be driven out without a square deal or until he knew he had forfeited their confidence. Recent events, he added, had demonstrated that the idea of blood revolution in this country was absurd and foreign to the characteristics of our people. (Cheers.)

MONEY RAISED BY LOAN BY-LAW, CITY MUST BORROW

Get Money From Bank to Carry on Until Taxes Paid

"Money raised by means of the city's Annual Loan By-Law has been exhausted, and it will be necessary for the City Council to borrow more money with which to carry on its business until ratayers begin to pay their taxes, Mayor Porter announced this morning."

"We simply must borrow money to pay our way until the time when city taxes begin to come in," the Mayor said. "Adding borrowing money at the present time," he added, "is no easy task."

The Mayor said he understood that school expenditures had exhausted the money raised by the Annual Loan By-Law, but School Board officials said that they were keeping well within their original estimates.

The Loan By-Law provided $750,000 this year. City officials at present are engaged in compiling figures to present to the Mayor's "economy meeting," which will be held next week.

FIGHT STARTED AGAINST REPORT ON CITY REFORM

Aitken Leads the Attack on School Management by Council

A definite move among city aldermen to smother entirely the recommendations of Alderman A. C. Todd's Civic Reform Committee got under way to-day, when Alderman A. M. Aitken announced that he would fight all clauses in the committee's report to the last ditch.

Alderman Aitken will leave for eastern Canada to-night to attend a convention of officials of the Great West Life Insurance Company, and to deliver a speech on "Practical points to Prospective Vice-Presidents," but he hopes to return to the city in time to thwart Alderman Todd's plans.

There is no use at all in adopting this report," said Alderman Aitken to other members of the Council to-day. "The only possible system as far as I can see is the commission form of government."

The Imperial Oil Company has five or six drilling gangs at work in that Northern country intent on finding the extent of the oil deposit, besides the Angus party is drilling at Slavey Point on Great Slave Lake which is 500 miles from Fort Norman.

FRANCE SENDS JOFFRE TO JAPAN ON A MISSION

OFFER MADE IRISH MAXIMUM, DECLARES PREMIER OF BRITAIN

(Continued from page 1.) Propagation if the negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily. If the negotiations broke down and the position became hopeless, as added, the Speaker was empowered, after consultation with the Government, to summon Parliament on forty-eight hours' notice.

The executive, said the Premier, would feel authorized to take any emergency measures, and would not therefore delay the summoning of Parliament. The conclusion Mr. Lloyd George said: "The Government are sincerely desirous that peace should be secured and that the most understanding, sometimes sulky, sometimes savage party is drilling at Slavey Point on Great Slave Lake which is 500 miles from Fort Norman."

"In spite of the disquieting facts, I hope reason will prevail over logic and that the Irish leaders will not reject the largest measure of freedom ever offered their country and take the responsibility of renewing a conflict which would be robbed of all glory and gratitude by its over-shadows of horror."

SMYRNA DESCRIBED AS A DEAD CITY

War and Rate of Exchange Have Effect

Smyrna, once the greatest commercial mart in Asia, is now like a city dead, according to an Associated Press mail dispatch from that city. There is little to show that it is the base of a Greek army of 200,000. For months no cargo ships have entered the harbor. Business throughout Asia Minor is paralyzed. Americans control the little trading that exists. There are three reasons for this stoppage of business. One is the war, another is the hopeless rate of exchange (the Turkish pound is worth about 60 cents), and a third is lack of demand for foreign goods.

"The city itself is so primitive and unattractive that one wonders why it has been such a hotbed of contention between the Greeks and Turks for so many centuries. But of course it is the rich agricultural lands within the province of Smyrna that both sides covet. The area, which the Turks call the 'Pearl of Asia,' is one of the most fertile and produces some of the finest fruit in the world. Smyrna figs and raisins are household terms. The country also yields the finest leaf tobacco known. The yearly exports to America amount to millions of dollars."

Castles of Wales: Castellau Cynry (By A. Petch) President Victoria Cymrodorion Society. Article XI. In my last article on the above subject I mentioned the Roman road commonly called Watling Street, and tried to explain its Welsh origin. Since then I have been able to secure greater authority regarding it. This road or causeway runs from Dover to Holyhead, and according to Geraldus Cambrensis, Gerald the Welshman, it was constructed by King Arthur, the most famous of the Norman vanderboes—which is thus narrated by Sir Edward Manser.

"After eleven of the knights had been endowed with lands for their services, Payne Tuberville asked Sir Robert where was his share, to which Sir Robert replied, 'Here are men and here are arms; go get it where you can.' So Payne Tuberville with the men went on a voyage to seek Morgan, the Welsh lord, a messenger to ask if he would yield up the castle, upon which Morgan brought his daughter, Mary, in his hand and, passing through the army with his sword in his right hand, came to Payne Tuberville and told him if he would marry his daughter and so come like a knight to the castle, that he would yield it to him quickly and, 'if not,' said he, 'let not the blood of any of our men be lost, but let this sword and arm of mine and those of yours, be sent to the castle, this castle his own.' Upon this Payne Tuberville drew his sword and took it by the blade in his left hand and gave it to Morgan, and with his right hand he took the castle. After settling every matter to the liking of both sides he went with her to church and married her, and so came to the lordship by true right. Other vestiges of the Roman occupation here were discovered. It was the residence of the Prince of South Wales.

At what time the Castle of Caermarthen was erected is not known, but the remains of the Roman occupation have been discovered. It was the residence of the Prince of South Wales. The remains of a Summer camp of the military on the northern side of the town, and several other vestiges of the Roman occupation have been discovered. COL. LOWTHER SECEDES FROM THE COALITION

Calls It "An Amalgam of Broken Pledges"

Col. Claude Lowther, Coalition Unionist leader for the Lonsdale division of Lancashire, according to a Manchester exchange, has forwarded the following letter to Col. Leslie Wilson announcing his intention of severing his connection with the Coalition Government:

"I write with much regret to inform you that the time has come when I can no longer conscientiously support the policy of the Coalition Government. At the last election I gave the Prime Minister my whole and unqualified support. Indeed, I would not have sought re-election had I not considered it the duty of every man with red blood in his veins, capable of fighting a constituency, to do everything in his power to assure the reinstatement of Mr. Lloyd George as Prime Minister."

"He had, during the war, marshalled the civil population of this country with a genius comparable with the manner in which Foch had marshalled the Allied armies. Except on a few minor matters I found myself in full agreement with his electoral programme. He, and through him, every Coalition candidate, pledged himself:

"1. To make Germany pay for the war.
"2. To bring the ex-Kaiser and other war criminals to trial.
"3. To immediately introduce a bill which would put agriculture upon a sound paying basis.
"4. To safeguard the great industries of this country (then described as key industries).
"5. These were concrete pledges to the electorate of Great Britain. There were also tales about an early Irish settlement and fables about a new world and a happier England!
"6. One has only to look retrospectively over a period of three years to recognize what a pitiful travesty of the truth the Prime Minister's far-fung phrases have proved themselves to be, and what chasms exist between his utterances and his actions."

"May I, in justice to myself, point out that I stand by every promise I made and every word I uttered at the time of the general election? Indeed, while I remain in the House of Commons I shall consistently support this Government or any other Government or any party or group which aims at the redemption of

THE PRIME MINISTER'S ELECTIONEERING PLEDGES

"But only an abnormal elasticity of mind or a dishonest stretch of imagination could justify me in further supporting a Government which since the general election has turned a complete political somersault. Their words may seem the same, but their actions are a direct negation of their words. Hence, we are treated to the pleasurable spectacle of the ex-Kaiser surrounded by every luxury at Doorn, with millions of pounds to his credit in the Dutch banks, while simultaneously a handful of war criminals, who have not availed themselves of the obvious facilities of escape, are being awarded farcically soft sentences by their fellows. But, need I proceed, when the policy of the Coalition can be summed up in a sentence—an amalgam of broken pledges and annihilating taxation, added to an unparalleled extravagance which, if not cut short immediately, cannot fail to bring industrial paralysis upon the nation, just as it must bring bankruptcy upon the individual?"

Colonel Lowther, who is a cousin of the Earl of Lonsdale, was rejected member for the Lonsdale division at the last general election by a majority of 5,190 in a three-cornered contest. The Labor candidate being second in the poll. He has represented the constituency for eleven years.

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY.

Mr. S. Hazeldine Warren, F. G. R. of London, has just reported the discovery of a vast prehistoric stone axe factory which flourished on the slopes of Penmaenawr Peak, in Carnarvonshire, Wales, about 5,000 years ago. The discovery, which was made by Mr. and Mrs. Warren while on a walking trip through Wales, has caused considerable excitement in scientific circles here, and a party will leave London shortly to explore the site. The factory covers hundreds of acres, and Mr. Warren first began to study the hillside when he observed the thousands of chipped flints lying about the ground. On investigation he found these had been broken and fashioned by human hands. Many axes were finished, but had been broken by a last blow of the chippier, and then discarded. He was able to put together some thirty specimens of complete axes, chipped out of the flint and ready to be bound by a throng to the wooden handle. "I call these broken axes 'our prehistoric d—m,'" said Mr. Warren to-day, "for that is the word that must have been expressed by the feelings of the primitive men, when, after hours of chipping, the axe was ruined by a faulty last stroke." Traces of hearth-stones in the vicinity are thought to be the remains of the workers' homes.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—The local future market was firmer and somewhat quiet to-day. Offerings were well taken care of and traders were not inclined to press sales. There was some good buying of October wheat around 141, which looked like orders from the seaboard. After the opening October advanced to 142, relapsing later to opening figures. November and December also advanced about the same, reacting slightly later. Wheat closed 1/2 to 3/4 cent higher. Oats were firmer to-day, making fractional gains, while barley was weaker and flat steady. Oats closed 1/2 cent higher; barley 1/4 to 1 cent lower; flax 1/4 cents higher, and rye 3/4 cents lower.

FEED PRICES STILL ON DECLINE; REMAINDER OF MARKET QUIET

Higher prices were again in evidence on the cash wheat market. Importers were urgent buyers and on light offerings were forced to bid 100 to 105 for their requirements. Premiums advanced 5, 5 and 5 cents on the three top grades to-day, 48, 47 and 26 cents over the October. Cash oats and flax were firm and good inquiry continued. Heavy was inclined to be heavy.

BRITISH PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT

London, Aug. 12.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Despite the assertions of Rt. Hon. T. J. McNamara, Minister of Labor, to the effect that unemployment in the United Kingdom is decreasing, the fact remains that 125,000 persons have reached the end of the period wherein they are entitled to receive unemployment relief from the Government. The only help in which these people can now participate is that offered by the local poor law authorities.

MAN MISSING IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—E. A. Robinson, formerly a Federal bank inspector from Ottawa five weeks ago, has been missing from his boarding house here since August 6. Since coming to this city, Robinson had been engaged with a local corporation as a stock salesman.

FINANCIAL NEWS

FEED QUOTATIONS INDICATE BREAK

Feed prices, which have practically been stationary for the past five weeks, once more show a tendency to change, and are still on the decline. Since the winter season these prices have always shown a downward motion when changed, a natural sequel to prevailing conditions. To-day's quotations on this market once again produce a decline in a few of the prices, and although there is not many changes the ones which are shown are very encouraging. Timothy hay gave a reduction of nine dollars per ton and a 4c. drop per hundred pounds. Turnip-tillage is the price at which this product is being picked up at. Alfalfa hay also took a decline, and with a four-dollar drop per ton is now selling at $10 a ton, and although the price at $1.50 shows a drop of 2c. per hundred pounds. Oat feed came down a notch, reducing its price two dollars a ton, and is now selling at $20 per ton. A break was made in oil cake, which shows a five-dollar reduction.

UNDERTONE WEAK AGAIN TO-DAY

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Further liquidation by long and an indifferent demand coming mainly from shorts was partly responsible for to-day's lower market. The initial movement of winter wheat is so heavy that the trade seems to be inclined to look for a similar influx of spring wheat and an indifferent demand coming from those looking for higher prices. During the day wheat and corn had a short period of firmness due probably to scattered commission house buying. However, this was short-lived and a renewal of liquidation again set in, final figures showing net losses for the day of two cents for the highs in wheat.

RAILS CONTINUE FIRM SPECIALTIES SOFT

New York, Aug. 19.—Stocks to-day were uneven with the close showing slight gains in the rail department of the list while the balance was off. Liquidation made itself quite apparent in Baldwin Locomotive, U. S. Rubber, Westinghouse Electric, Retail Stores, sharp breaks being recorded. No special news was received. The weakness in Westinghouse Electric was caused by holders on selling reports that there is apparently some question as to the company's ability to maintain the present dividend rate, and this had a sentimental effect on the other departments of the list.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Progress on Mine.
The Fish Creek Mining Company will make their first shipment of ore on the Prince George immediately, says The Portland Canal News. This shipment will consist of about twenty tons of ore valued at from $500 to $600 per ton in gold, silver, copper and lead. The Hyder Transfer Co. has been busy for some time packing this ore down from the property. A seventy-foot crosscut tunnel is being driven to cut the upper showing at a depth of about fifty feet. This is a splendid showing and has been proven up on the surface for fully 900 feet. The company are putting more men to work on the property as fast as they can be accommodated and are now working a fair sized crew out of both camps. As soon as the road, which the Alaskan Government is building up Fish Creek, is completed, the company intend installing a compressor. It is the intention to make regular shipments of this high grade ore throughout the winter, there being over 100 tons mined and ready to be brought down the hill.

To Send Exhibit.
The Pioneers of Alaska held a meeting in the Pioneer Hall at Stewart recently for the purpose of discussing what action should be taken in connection with the Mining Congress to be held in Chicago in October. Commissioner J. T. Keed was appointed chairman and B. M. Stone secretary. It was decided to send an exhibit of ores from the Portland Canal district, providing permission could be obtained from the Alaska government to include ore from the British Columbia side. The chairman was authorized to select a committee of five to collect the exhibit. Those selected were: Dan Lindenberg, J. Hovland, S. P. Fitzgerald, William Huntington and J. A. Hall. Before the adjournment it was decided to form a Portland Canal Mining Congress.

High Grade Strike.
What promises to develop into a big strike of high grade ore was made at the Dolly Varden Mine last week, says The Alice Arm Herald. The strike was made on the surface, about 20 feet above the old workings, and is covered by a rock slide. The extent of the lead cannot at present be ascertained on account of the large quantity of loose rock and the dirt covering it. Four men are at present busily engaged in clearing it off. Picked samples have assayed 267 ounces in silver, which has been the highest obtained so far. Samples taken on a 4 ft. width have assayed 58 ounces. The ore is ruby silver and argentine, with some galena. Work on uncovering the lead will be proceeded with as rapidly as possible, and there is no doubt that the rattle of the miner's drills will again be heard at the Dolly Varden mine before the snow flies.

SAANICH TO TRY TO UPSET CITY'S ELK LAKE RIGHTS

Council Authorized Efforts to Amend City's Special Waterworks Act

The City of Victoria's claim for exemption from taxation of sections of the abandoned Victoria and Sidney Railway right-of-way now owned by Victoria as a part of Elk Lake watershed, last night aroused Councillor Kingwell's criticism when under discussion by the Saanich Council.

He proposed that Saanich instruct the municipal solicitors immediately to take steps for the amendment of the City's Waterworks Act relating to Elk Lake, stating he was willing to amend his attitude only if Elk Lake became a park on the same basis as all the others.

Councillor Kingwell moved that the Council authorize the collection of the 1920 taxes on the sections of the Victoria and Sidney right-of-way secured by the city, and on which exemption is claimed. This proposal was unanimously endorsed, as was the proposal for the undertaking of a campaign to get the Legislature to amend the Waterworks Act of the city.

POLITICS ALLEGED TO HAVE A HAND

Saanich Council Approves Strictures on Subdivision Procedure

"In my opinion this is nothing but a case of downright scandalous politics," said Clerk Cowper last night, when reporting to the Saanich Council on a hearing yesterday, before an Inspector of Legal Offices, of the appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council by M. B. Jackson, K. C., M. P. P., on behalf of L. H. Anderson, against the refusal of Saanich to approve a subdivision plan of a tract near the West Saanich Road, unless certain road allowances were first given Saanich.

Makes Strong Charge.
"The whole thing was obviously cut and dried long before the hearing, and I must warn you to look for an adverse report from the inspector to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council," he said.

Mr. Cowper declared that although the appeal was made last May, Saanich received no notice until the first week in July. In the meantime engineers of the department of public works had made a cursory examination, the report being backed by a letter from Public Works Engineer Philip stating "that from an examination of maps," he saw no need for the roadway asked by Saanich.

Council Angered.
The councillors unanimously declared it endorsed Mr. Cowper's characterization of the proceedings, and resolved to apply for a hearing when the report of Inspector of Legal Offices Crane is laid before the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

It was recalled by several of the councillors that, before appearing formally before the Council, to protest against the demands made by Saanich Mr. Jackson had intimated that, no matter whether the Council approved or not the plan would be put through, and that this attitude had also been made plain when he waited on the Council some weeks ago.

MISSISSAUGA HERE ON WAY BACK TO STATION IN CHINA

Miss Isabel McIntosh of Toronto, who has been home on furlough, sailed last night on the Empress of Asia. She has been informed by a lady friend, a missionary in North Honan, how the Chinese Famine Relief Fund has been distributed.

The following is summarized as follows:

Plan of Distribution.
(1) Free distribution was the Chinese idea, (and their own practice largely, to whatever extent they themselves were able to give).
(2) The missionary body took the lead in giving relief as payment for public work.
(3) Besides the public work of road building some funds coming directly to the missions were used for work on mission buildings and other missionary properties (that is, the starvation people were put to work and paid for whatever work they did on missionary buildings and missionary property).
(4) Instead of giving money directly, the plan, as far as possible, was to ship in carloads of grain from the north or south and give grain in payment for work. Bringing in these large quantities of grain helped to keep prices down.
(5) The Canadian Presbyterian mission in Honan built over 80 miles of macadamized road. On one road alone, 33 miles in length, 15,000 men were employed, on other roads in proportion.
(6) This number, 15,000, included the men bringing the stone from the quarry and breaking it for use on the road.
(7) Irrigation Schemes Failed.
(8) Engineers tried to work an irrigation scheme (instead of the famine period—1900) on the land at present employed, i.e., carrying two miles of water at a time—but found it not feasible, as a famine relief measure because of time and funds.
(9) In one women's hospital 499 babies were born, whose mothers were given help through the famine period—1900—other mothers received hospital help. In another hospital in a less needy district, 1,000 mothers were given help.
(10) At another station carding, spinning and weaving were carried on by women—400 women being thus employed. Other women were kept busy sewing, making hospital supplies.

CLAIMS ROAD RIGHT BECAUSE OF MANY YEARS OF USAGE

The Saanich Council last night was asked by Messrs. Yates and Jay solicitors for E. Bull, to indicate the roadside frontage line of a property facing the old East Saanich Road. Owing to a steep hillside, travel for more than thirty-five years has used a portion of land claimed by Mr. Bull, and the Council last night decided to assert a claim to the existing roadway by right of ancient user as a highway.

With reasonable persistence certain rewards come, with classified advertising.
