PREFACE.

The undersigned, a Committee of the Maverick Church to prepare and publish a brief history and manual, desire to express the many obstacles which have been found in its compilation,—yet feel that they have been able to collect together much which will interest both its past and present members.

It is possible that some errors may have occurred, especially in the long historical list of members from its organization. Should any be found, a favor will be conferred on the church to notify any member of the Committee.

The Committee desire to express further their appreciation of the aid given in the compilation of portions of this volume. The historical sketch of the Maverick Maternal Association was written by Mrs. H. E. M. Folts before her decease and since supplemented by Mrs. George E. James, its present Secretary.

The early history of the Sabbath School was, as nearly as can be ascertained, written by Dea. Joseph Robbins before his death and supplemented to the present time by its present Secretary, Mr. George I. Colesworthy.

The interesting account of those of the Church and Congregation who went to their Country's defence in the War of the Rebellion was written by Dea. J. H. S. Pearson.

On the occurrence of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Church, Mr. Lyman F. Gooch, one of its members, took stenographic notes of all the exercises of that occasion except the Memorial Sermon and made a type-written copy of the same which was placed by him in the keeping of the Chairman of this Committee to await such an occasion as this for its publication. The Church may be thankful for his labor thus bestowed. The Rev. Elijah Horr, D. D., has furnished the Committee with a copy of the Historical Sermon delivered at its fiftieth anniversary.

These two contributions the Committee feel are invaluable as matters of history to the church.

History of the Church.

The great increase of population in the city of Boston led to the settlement of the island now called East Boston, in the year 1834. The population increased rapidly, and many individuals soon became impressed with the importance of erecting a meeting-house, that a church might be formed, and the inhabitants enjoy the preaching of the gospel.

In the spring of 1836, it was thought that a favorable time for the effort had arrived. A number of persons, members of different churches, held a meeting on Thursday evening, May 5, 1836, at the house of Mr. Aaron Ordway, to consult together upon the subject.

After prayer and deliberation, it was resolved that it was expedient to proceed to form a church, and a committee was appointed to notify the ministers in the city of the doings of the meeting, and to ask their advice and coöperation in further proceedings.

On the 12th of May, letters missive were issued, calling a council to organize a church, and a committee was chosen to converse with those persons who might offer themselves for admission, in relation to their Christian experience and hope.

On Tuesday, the 31st of May, a council was convened at the house of Mr. Ordway, consisting of the Pastors and Delegates of the Second Church in Dorchester, Phillips Church in South Boston, Bowdoin, Salem, Union, and Franklin-street Churches in Boston. After deliberation by council, four male and six female professors of religion were organized into a church, under the name of the First Congregational Church in East Boston; the council assigned the sources of organization as follows:

1. Reading the minutes by the Scribe.
2. Introductory Prayer, Rev. J. H. Fairchild.
3. Organization of the Church, Rev. John Codman, D.D.
4. Fellowship of the Church, Rev. N. Adams.
5. Address to the Church, Rev. H. Winslow.
6. Concluding Prayer, Rev. G. W. Blagden.

And on the same day the church adopted a Confession of Faith and Covenant.

The church having no place in which to worship or to convene a Sabbath school, the male members resolved to build a vestry for that purpose, which was completed in one month; and on the first Sabbath in July, there was preaching in it, and a Sabbath school was organized.

Soon after this, the brethren commenced obtaining subscribers to the stock to build a meeting-house, which was accomplished late in the Autumn, and in December the work of building commenced. The house was completed about the middle of July, 1837. On the 19th of that month, it was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, and the Rev. Wm. W. Newell was installed Pastor of the church. The Introductory and Dedicatory Prayer was offered by Rev. G. W. Blagden; Sermon by Rev. Hubbard Winslow; Installing Prayer by Rev. Wm. M. Rogers; Charge by Rev. Dr. W. Fay; Fellowship of Churches by Rev. Mr. Fitch.

On the 7th July, 1837, it was voted that the name of the church be altered, and that it be called hereafter Maverick Church.

At the session of the Legislature in 1838, an Act of Incorporation was obtained, under which a society was organized, by the name of the Maverick Congregational Society, consisting of the owners of shares in the meeting-house, which society assumes the support of public worship, and has a negative upon the church in the selection of a minister.

Rev. W. W. Newell, having requested a dismissal on account of ill health, was dismissed, by advice of council, July 21st, 1841.

Blagden offered the Installing Prayer; Rev. Wm. M. Rogers gave the Charge; Rev. J. H. Towne, the Fellowship of the Churches; Concluding Prayer, Rev. Isaac P. Langworthy; Benediction, Pastor.

Government, Principles and Standing Rules

WHICH THE CHURCH OBSERVED,

And as published in Church Manual, 1862.

This church recognizes God alone as Lord of the conscience, and his word as the final and authoritative rule of judgment, in the administration of government and discipline.

Believing the Articles of Faith and Covenant hereunto annexed to be in accordance with that word, this church adopts them. For the same reason, it adopts, for its government and discipline, the general principles and rules which are contained in the Platform of Church Discipline, agreed upon by the elders and messengers of the churches, assembled at Cambridge, in this State, A. D. 1648, with such modifications, since introduced, as are in accordance with the Bible, and the general consent and practice of Congregational churches. It also adopts the following more specific principles and rules:—

THE CHURCH.

This church is independent, so far as relates to its internal organization and the regulation of its affairs. It is amenable to no other ecclesiastical body, except by its own consent, or according to regular and established Congregational principles. With these exceptions, it controls the admission, discipline, and removal of its members, according to its own understanding of the word of God.

OFFICERS OF THE CHURCH.

The officers of this church shall be, the Pastor or Pastors, and Deacons, Clerk and Treasurer, and an Examining Committee, which shall consist of the Pastor and Deacons, and any others the church may appoint. The number of Deacons shall be fixed by the church as its exigencies may from time to time require; and no person shall hold the office more than five years without a re-election.

At every annual meeting there shall be an election of one deacon, it being understood that the term of one incumbent shall expire annually, according to seniority of appointment. The Clerk and Treasurer and Examining Committee shall be chosen annually.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

To the Pastor pertains the office of moderator. It shall be the duty of the Deacons to preside in the absence of the Pastor, in rotation; to assist in the administration of the Lord's Supper; to distribute the charities of the church, and to aid the pastor generally in the spiritual care of the flock; and in his absence to provide a supply for the pulpit. The Clerk shall keep the records; shall notify all members absent more than a year of their duty to remove their relation, and seek from them the reasons of their previous delay of it; and shall report to the church, at its annual meeting, the name, residence, and length of absence, so far as they can be ascertained, of all absent members. The Treasurer shall take charge of all money belonging to the church, and pay it out as the church may direct, and make report of the same at the annual meeting. The Examining Committee shall examine all candidates for admission, and report to the church the names of such as they approve. This committee shall meet and organize, as soon as may be, after the annual meeting, by the choice of a clerk, who shall keep a record, and report to the church, in writing, the substance of the relation given by the candidates. In cases of private or personal offence, this committee may also act as a Committee of Counsel and Conference between the parties—endeavoring, if possible, to heal the breach, without a resort to discipline.

FELLOWSHIP WITH OTHER CHURCHES.

This church will extend to other Evangelical Congregational churches, and receive from them that fellowship, advice, and assistance, which the law of Christ requires. It will extend the usual rights of communion, and practise the usual transfer of members, according to its own convictions of duty. It holds itself bound to regard the decisions of mutual councils, and to seek the promotion of peace with all the churches of our Lord.

ADMISSION OF MEMBERS.

This church, by its committee, will examine all persons wishing to unite with it. All candidates for admission shall be propounded to the church and congregation two weeks previous to admission. No objection having been made, this church will then receive all such candidates, on the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present, when the vote is taken, and on their having subscribed to the Articles of Faith and Covenant, in a book kept for the purpose. Admissions by profession shall be made in presence of the congregation, on Communion Sabbath, in the afternoon; and notice shall be given of the admission by letter.

TRANSFER OF MEMBERS.

This church, on application duly made, will dismiss and recommend its members, who are in good standing, to other churches. Applications for dismissal must be made in writing, stating the name of the church to which a recommendation is desired.

RIGHTS OF MEMBERS.

Every member has a right to church privileges, unless forfeited by misconduct; and when thus forfeited, he can be deprived of them only by regular process. No proceedings shall be had against a member, except upon a complaint made to the church in writing, stating explicitly the charges; and the accused shall be seasonably furnished with a copy of the complaint, and shall have a full hearing. No vote of censure shall be passed upon any member, except by the concurrence of two-thirds of the brethren present at a regular meeting.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS.

Some of these are specified in the Covenant. It is the duty of members removing from this place, to seek a letter of dismissal and recommendation to some church where they reside. It is also the duty of any member, having cause of complaint against another, immediately to seek its removal, according to the directions of Christ, in Matt. xviii, 15-17.

It is the duty of offending members penitently to confess their fault, and to make reparation—the confession and reparation being, as far as possible, as public and extensive as the fault. Members removing from the city, or attending other places of worship in the city, are expected to remove their connection from this church to some other church at or near where they reside, within one year from the time of their removal, unless there are satisfactory reasons for the delay, which reasons must be communicated, in writing, to the Pastor or Clerk, by such absent members. This church also expects, that, in all ordinary cases, members of other churches, wishing to commune with it, and to participate in other church privileges, for more than one year, will seek a dismissal from their respective churches, and an admission to this.

OFFENCES.

Immoral conduct, breach of express covenant vows, neglect of acknowledged religious or relative duties, and disbelief of the Articles of Faith, are offences subject to the discipline and censure of the church.

EVIDENCE.

The confession of the party accused, the concurrence of two competent witnesses to the same fact, or other evidence satisfactory to the church, shall be deemed sufficient for conviction.

CENSURES.

The censures of the church are discipline, in its several steps, and excommunication—the latter to be administered by the Pastor, on behalf of the church, and in the name of Christ, before the congregation.

STANDING RULES.

1. The Annual Meeting shall be held on the first Monday in January, in each year.

2. All officers shall be chosen by ballot.

3. The church shall meet for business once in two months, on the Monday evening next preceding the Communion Sabbath. Special meetings for business may be called by notice from the desk.

Beloved Friends :

You have presented yourselves before God, and this Assembly, to make a solemn confession of your religious faith, and to take upon yourself everlasting obligations. We trust you have duly considered the nature of the professions you are about to make, and of the engagements into which you are about to enter. They are of the most solemn moment, and upon their faithful observance your eternal happiness will depend.

(Be not disheartened, if you come with sincere desires to be the Lord's, and exercising humble faith in Him, He will impart to you grace, and wisdom, and finally make you partakers of eternal blessedness.)

Attend then to the

CONFESSION OF FAITH.

You believe that there is but one God, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, a being of perfect and adorable attributes, the Creator, Preserver, and Governor of the Universe.

You believe that the Scriptures, of the old and new Testaments, were given by inspiration of God, and are the only perfect rule of faith and practice.

You believe that man was originally holy, that he sinned and fell from that state, that in consequence of the fall all mankind are sinners, (and destitute of holiness;) that Jesus Christ by his sufferings and death has made an atonement, sufficient for the redemption of all mankind: that pardon and eternal life are sincerely offered to all, upon condition of repentance and faith in Christ, and that there is salvation in no other way: that mankind do of their own accord refuse to comply with the terms of mercy and continue alienated from God, until their hearts renewed by the influence of the Holy Spirit are freely given to the Saviour: and that God from eternity purposed to secure the repentance and final salvation of a great multitude whom no man can number.

You do also believe in the resurrection of the dead, and a day of judgment, when every one must give to Christ an account of all the deeds done in the body, that the righteous will then enter into Life, and the wicked will go away into punishment, both of which will be without end.

Moreover, you believe that in this world the Lord Jesus Christ has a visible Church, the terms of admission to which are a public profession of faith in Christ, sustained by credible evidence: that Baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances to be observed in the Church to the end of the world: that none but members of the visible church, in regular standing, have a right to partake of the Lord's Supper and that only they and their household, are proper subjects for the ordinance of baptism.

All these things you profess and heartily believe.

(The ordinance of baptism is to be here administered.)

You will now enter into Solemn Covenant with God and with this Church.

In the presence of God, and this assembly, you do now solemnly avouch the Lord Jehovah, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, to be your God:—the supreme object of your affection, and your portion forever; you cordially acknowledge the Lord Jesus Christ to be your Redeemer, and the Holy Spirit to be your sanctifier, comforter, and guide. You cheerfully devote yourselves to God, in the everlasting covenant of his grace, consecrating all your powers and faculties to his service and glory, and you promise, that through the assistance of his Spirit, you will cleave to him as your chief good: that you will give diligent attendance to his word and ordinances, (A. See record April 30, 1839. Voted, To insert here after A. "That you will regularly attend worship in the sanctuary, in the family, and in the closet,"—) that you will seek the honor and interests of his Kingdom and that henceforth denying ungodliness and every worldly lust, you will live soberly, righteously, and godly in the world.

You do also now cordially join yourselves to this church and engage to submit to its rules of government and discipline, and to strive earnestly for its peace, edification, and purity, and to walk with its members in charity, faithfulness, circumspection, meekness, and solemnity.

This you profess and engage.

Here the members of the church rise.

In consequence of these professions, and promises, we, the members of this church, affectionately receive you to our communion, and in the name of Christ declare you entitled to all its privileges. We welcome you to this fellowship with us in the blessings of the Gospel, and on our part engage to watch over you and seek your edification so long as you continue among us. (B. See April 30, 1839. Voted, To insert here after B, "We welcome you to the arduous, yet delightful duty of Christian effort, and so far from being a burden to the church we expect you daily to strive for the salvation of souls, and the spread of the Gospel.") It will be your duty to attend the stated meetings of the Church, unless prevented by higher duties, and should you have occasion to change your place of residence it will be your duty to seek and ours to grant a recommendation to another church, for hereafter you can never withdraw from the watch and communion of the saints, without a breach of covenant.

And now, beloved in the Lord, let it be impressed on your mind that you have come under solemn obligations from which you can never escape. Wherever you go, these vows will be upon you, they will follow you to the bar of God, and will abide upon you forever. The Lord preserve you, and guide you, till death, and at last receive you, and us, to that blessed world where our love and joy shall be forever perfect. Amen.

A Condensed History of the Sabbath School

FROM ITS ORGANIZATION.

In 1835, a few christian friends feeling the importance of securing religious instruction for the children of East Boston, met together to consider the subject; and as the result, a Sabbath School was gathered in a house on the corner of Meridian and Trenton streets. Mrs. Haynes and Miss Eliza Pierce were among the first teachers. During the same season, some of the boarders at the Maverick House collected a few children in a small school-house which stood just west of the hotel, on Paris street; but this school was not continued through the winter. In the spring of 1836, the Maverick Church was organized at the house of Aaron Ordway; a chapel was soon after erected on Maverick street, and was opened for public worship on the first Sabbath of July, and the Maverick Sunday School was then organized. This was earlier by about four years than the establishment of any other school on the island.

Dea. Aaron Ordway was chosen the first superintendent and held the office three years. Miss Lamson (now Mrs. Bowker), Mr. Johnson and Mr. Butler were among the first teachers.

Increase S. Hill was elected superintendent, and entered on the duties of his office Sept. 25th, 1839. On the next Sabbath a Bible class was organized and became an important feature of the school; average attendance, about 100.

Sept. 17th, 1841, Saml. W. Hall was chosen superintendent, and held the office three years; average attendance about 125.

Joseph Robbins was elected superintendent September, 1844, and continued in office five and one-half years, to the close of 1849. During this term an infant department was formed and held its sessions in the middle vestry. Mrs. Tomlinson (now Mrs. Leach) was appointed superintendent and labored faithfully for seven years. This was one of the most interesting and useful features of the school; the children were formed into classes, and provided with teachers. The attendance was often over 100. The average attendance of the whole school increased from 125 to about 250 in these five years.

The record says, "Jan. 20th, 1850, Mr. Robbins closed his labors as superintendent, and was succeeded by Thos. D. Demond."

Under his superintendence the school continued to increase in members and interest, and the vestries were often crowded, and the interests of the school suffered for want of room. So far as we can gather from the records, the number belonging was about 420, and the average attendance 270.

1852 was a year of great religious interest in the school. Early in the year, the teachers established a meeting to pray for the spiritual prosperity of the school, which was fully attended; a deep interest was soon manifested; the scholars of their own accord, began to attend the meetings until the room would not hold them and they then met in the large vestry which was soon crowded. Meetings for inquiry and religious instruction were held at the house of the pastor, Rev. Rufus W. Clark, forty or fifty of the older pupils being present; the pastor was assisted by some of the members of the church and those meetings will long be remembered by all who attended them. There were sixty hopeful conversions and during that year fifty of the pupils united with the church, and to-day many of them are worthy and influential members of this and other churches. In the last two years of Mr. Demond's superintendence several adult Bible classes were formed which held their sessions in the upper part of the house.

In 1856, Mr. S. N. Stockwell was chosen superintendent, and served two years with great acceptance. Mr. Geo. E. James was assistant superintendent. The school was at this time divided; the older pupils going into the body of the house. This was called the Senior department; those remaining in the vestry, the Junior department; those in the middle vestry the Infant department. For these two years, the whole number belonging averaged 520. Average attendance 366. Average amount of money raised $239. Number of conversions in the two years 19.

Mr. John P. Averill was superintendent in 1859 and 1860, Mr. Geo. W. Merritt assistant superintendent. For the two years the average number belonging was 596. Average attendance 405. Number of conversions 16. 18 united with the church. Amount of money raised $420.

Wm. H. Ward was chosen superintendent in 1860, and again in 1861, but served only a portion of the year, resigning his office and giving up his situation in the public schools to enter the army, enlisting with the nine months men. During this period, the average whole number belonging was 566. Average attendance 430. Number of conversions 8.

Mr. L. A. Wright was chosen superintendent in 1862, and held the office seven years. This was a period of great prosperity to the school, its numbers greatly increased and its general interests carried forward successfully.

Average belonging for the seven years 685. Average attendance 450. Number of conversions about 90. Average amount of money raised by the school $542. Largest amount in any one year (1864) $729. In 1862, 22 from the school enlisted in the army, two of whom were killed in battle, and several were wounded. In 1864, twelve enlisted with the troops called out for one hundred days.

About 1856 a large juvenile choir was formed composed of about one hundred members of the school, which was sustained for more than ten years. It was successively under the charge and skilful training of Miss Julia Harlow, Miss Susie Lindsay, Miss Adelaide L. Lovejoy and Mrs. Frost, the present organist of the church. This choir contributed very largely to the prosperity of the school, and particularly to the interest manifested therein. Concerts were often crowded so that at times many who came went away, being unable to obtain even standing room in the house; many came from the city for the sake of the music.

Mr. Nelson Curtis was elected superintendent in 1869, and served one year and J. Clark Read was chosen assistant superintendent, and served three years. Mr. L. A. Wright again took charge of the school in 1870 and again in 1871, serving about seven months, when the pastor, Rev. D. W. Waldron, took charge to the end of the year.

In 1872, Mr. I. N. Lothrop was elected superintendent, and has just been re-elected for the second time. Mr. J. H. S. Pearson was elected assistant superintendent in 1872 and has also continued to fill the office to the present time.

In 1860, Mrs. Bowker, who had formerly had an interesting class and given it up on account of illness, again consented to take charge of a Bible class at a time when the society was without a pastor and it was felt to be necessary to make unusual effort to keep the school together. A class of 75 or 80 ladies was gathered, many of whom were parents of the children in the school; from that time to the present it has been continued without abatement of interest and oftentimes the number who would attend has been limited only by the size of the room.

There has been a Bible class for young men, connected with the school for a long time, and during the last few years it has enjoyed the instruction of Mrs. Dr. Foltz, and is at present well attended. There is also a class for adult males, taught by Dr. Bushnell.

This Sunday School has always been large as compared with the Sabbath congregation; and at one time was the largest in the city. The church has always manifested a deep interest in its prosperity.

A few years since, by a conjuncture of depressing circumstances its numbers were lessened, but they have been increased during the past year, and under its present efficient corps of officers and teachers it gives promise of speedily regaining its former position as to numbers and usefulness.

July 12, 1874. The last session of the School was held in the Maverick Square Church and by invitation of the Central Square Baptist Church, occupied their rooms during the building of the new church, commencing Sept. 6, 1874.

A CONDENSED HISTORY

OF THE

Maverick Maternal Association.

The first Maternal Association ever organized was in Portland, Me., by Mrs. Dr. Edward Payson, April 10, 1815. The second one was connected with the Old South Church, Boston, by Mrs. Huntington, pastor's wife, in 1816.

In May, 1837, the Christian mothers in E. Boston were greatly stirred by a sense of maternal responsibility and feeling the need of united prayer and mutual counsel called a meeting, which was addressed by Rev. W. W. Newell on the importance of securing unqualified obedience from the children by the mothers.

This meeting was held in a private house—indeed there was no other place—with six mothers and eleven children, one a babe in the cradle, and Mr. Newell also spoke to the children upon the duty of obedience to parents.

Their organization soon followed with 10 members; their president, Mrs. Dea. Ordway; secretary, Mrs. James Whiton. The society grew and prospered, and God added his blessing, mothers grew in grace, and children were converted. The afternoon of the first Wednesday of every month has been set apart exclusively for this meeting and once in three months the mothers have brought and still bring their children, the little ones reciting passages of Scripture and the elder a lesson in the Assembly Catechism. The pastor in the early days attended and conducted the quarterly meetings.

A valuable library was added in 1846 which proved very useful.

In 1848 Mrs. Albert Bowker was chosen president, which office she has held continuously, with the exception of one year, until this day—and to her constant and unremitting efforts, we wish to acknowledge our great indebtedness. In the winter of 1851 there was deep seriousness among the children, good Mother Loomis gathering them to her house for prayer and instruction, Dr. Rufus W. Clark, who had just been settled as our pastor, feeling assurance that many of the tender ones were truly converted. Mrs. Clark's influence during the years which followed was helpful in every way; a lovely spiritually minded woman, whose heart was drawn to mothers and children, she led many near to the Saviour.

Mrs. Dr. Bingham was another pastor's wife who contributed largely to the interest of the Association, with her own large family, helping the mothers to feel her unity of interest with them in their cares and her strong desires for the conversion of the children.

During the years of the war prayers were frequent and earnest, for many mothers gave their beloved sons for the welfare of the country and all hearts were united in praying for these dear ones and for our country's success.

In 1872 the Maverick Rill was formed, a juvenile missionary society; president, Mrs. Bowker, and all other offices held by the children. This has been helpful in training children to habits of benevolence as well as to discharge the duties of the offices committed to their charge. During these years the children have raised about $300. The mothers have been interested in all the efforts made to meet the obligations of the Church debt and have often carried the burdens of the society to a prayer-hearing and prayer-answering God. Mrs. Hilton attended the meetings and contributed largely to their interest.

Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Twitchell were each here but a short time yet we know always they had an interest with us.

A great variety of subjects has been presented during these years; in fact, any subject which in any way belonged to the welfare of our children has been considered suitable for discussion and our president by her remarkable ability, her fine cultivation, her deep spirituality and unusual powers of observation, has been an unsurpassed leader and officer. The mothers are held by special pledges to each other; in case of death of a mother each other mother is bound to pray for these motherless children and use such influence as she may wisely that these children shall not forget early instruction or a mother's teachings.

It is difficult to present an accurate account of the membership, but as nearly as can be estimated there are about 400 names upon the books, and of these 112 are known to have deceased and there are many of whose residence we have no knowledge, while also many removing from this place like to consider themselves still members of the association and one with us in prayer and covenant.

We held a twenty-fifth anniversary and previous to that time no child had died in whose death there had not been good ground for hope. There have been about 1,500 children connected with us and in them we have great joy; several are ministers of the gospel, teachers and most useful men and women in all the avocations of life. This brief and imperfect record gives a faint idea of what this association is and has been in its influence upon the mothers of the church, opening their eyes to their own and their children's needs and enlarging views regarding the great work of bringing a world to Christ.

[Supplemented by Mrs. E. A. James, present Secretary of the Maverick Maternal Association.]

Since 1886 the general plan of the work of the Association has been the same as in former years.

In 1889, Mrs. H. E. M. Folts, secretary of the Association for 37 years, was suddenly taken home to her heavenly Father's presence. She was thoroughly devoted to the interests of the Association and eminently fitted to be its secretary—always present, always ready to assist with her loving, spiritual words and earnest prayers—always presenting each month a full and faithful report. In her, each member had a personal friend.

In December, 1891, on account of physical infirmities, Mrs. Albert Bowker felt obliged to resign her position as president. She was wonderfully and especially endowed for the duties of her office. Imperative necessity was the only cause that reconciled the Association to her resignation.

In January, 1892, Mrs. Mary E. M. Field, an enthusiastic mother of the Association was unanimously chosen president—a position she fills with success and the Association is prospering under her guidance.

The methods of work for children having changed, the quarterly meetings were discontinued. In February, 1892, the care of the Maverick Rill was transferred from the Maverick Maternal Association to the Madura Auxiliary; and early in 1894 a Junior Y. P. S. C. E. was formed by Mrs. Joseph Robinson, that is constantly increasing in numbers and in interest.

Mission Work on the Fourth Section,

AND

WORK OF THE MAVERICK CHURCH CHAPEL.

In General W. H. Sumner's History of East Boston a short account is given of the Mission work which was commenced in a certain portion of East Boston. It relates as follows: That in 1851 in that part of the Island in which the Union Chapel is now situated, from a population of hundreds not more than 20 persons were regular attendants at any Protestant place of worship on the Sabbath and the locality was noted for its vice. The Boston City Missionary Society, sustained by the Congregational Churches of the city, employed Miss Armeda Gibbs to labor in East Boston, who soon visited this much noted locality. Her first visit was on a chilly day in October, 1851. The first family visited were devoted Christians. The next day five ladies held the first religious meeting in that locality. A Sabbath School was held and a prayer meeting was started and continued each week. The ensuing winter the city built a schoolhouse on Chelsea street and an unoccupied room was obtained for use. A Sabbath School was organized Feb. 18, 1852, with 63 adults and children, aided by the Sabbath School of Maverick Church. Rev. Mr. Deering of Chelsea preached on the Sabbath and Miss Armeda Gibbs continued her missionary work.

When the School and meetings were increasing in numbers and interest they were suddenly notified by the city that the room occupied by them must be vacated for another primary school. They must disband or build a house. A subscription book was started and with help from the city churches (one-third from the latter) money was raised to build a chapel on Bennington street on land leased by them of the East Boston Company free of expense. The city authorities permitted them to worship in the schoolhouse until the chapel was completed and gave a bell to be used in case of fire as well as for worship. The chapel was dedicated Nov. 17, 1852, and was filled. Rev. Rufus W. Clark of the Maverick, Rev. J. W. Sykes of the Baptist, Rev. C. S. McReading of the Meridian St. Methodist, Rev. N. Gullen of the Episcopal churches taking part in the exercises. Rev. Mr. Deering preached until the spring of 1854. In July, 1854, the Rev. Mr. Boyden was employed by the City Missionary Society. There were present at the morning service 40 and at the afternoon 60 and at the Sabbath School 100. For a little time there were some discouragements but afterwards an increased interest manifested itself. December 23, 1855, the Maverick Church elected Thomas D. Demond as Superintendent of the Sabbath School and December 31, 1855, George W. Merritt was chosen Assistant Superintendent. In 1858 there was a larger attendance than at any previous time. Afterwards dissensions arose and the work was entirely abandoned. The last official action of record of the Maverick Church was Sept. 1, 1856, when a vote was passed "That the Committee on the Mission School be authorized to remove the furniture and to settle for the rent."

MISSION WORK ON FOURTH SECTION.

April 18, 1884. Dea. T. D. Demond, W. B. Rhodes and A. D. Mansfield were chosen by the Maverick Church a Committee to consider the expediency of obtaining a place for permanent neighborhood meetings on the Fourth Section.

May 2, 1884. Committee reported that the City Missionary Society would assist in bearing the expense of such a meeting and recommended that the meeting now held in private house be continued as a permanent work. Report

Miss Armeda Gibbs died in East Boston, Aug. 27, 1884. The funeral services were held in the Maverick Church, August 30th, her pastor, J. E. Twitchell, officiating. The altar and rear of the pulpit were filled with beautiful floral tributes — offerings of the church and personal friends. Among the most conspicuous were "Gates Ajar," a hillside of green holly with a cross at the base and a crown above,— a design of the "Old Mission Chapel" at the Fourth Section,—and a large crescent, fifteen feet in extent, bearing her last words, "Victory! victory! All is well!" During the services, "Rock of Ages" and several of her favorite hymns were sung; also, at her particular request, the doxology, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow." The remains were taken to Woodlawn Cemetery, where, after a brief burial-service, they were solemnly consigned to their last resting-place in the lot of her choice.

Nov. 28, 1884. Voted, at a meeting of the church, this evening, that this church authorize its Examining Committee to hold sessions at the place of worship on the Fourth Section, for the purpose of examining any candidates who may desire to unite with the church, and upon their recommendation, be propounded and admitted to the church by vote and in accordance with the By-Laws thereof: and the said Examining Committee are further authorized at such times as they may deem it expedient and in the interest of the church to receive such in behalf of the church and administer the Communion and other ordinances, at the aforesaid place of worship for their larger convenience and mutual growth.

January 16, 1885. Committee made a report for year ending Dec. 31, 1884, which was accepted and is as follows:

"The first meeting was held January 14, 1884, at Mrs. Stark's, 357 Chelsea Street, 31 being present, led by Deacon I. N. Lothrop and was a very interesting meeting. From this time until the 28th of April, meetings were held every Monday evening, being very profitable. At these meetings children participated, repeating passages of Scripture. From April 28th, until the latter part of June, the meetings were held at Mrs. Hammond's, 209 Saratoga Street, but were not as well attended as those held at Mrs. Stark's. The falling off in attendance might be attributed to the change of location. The first meeting held in the building in the rear 333 Chelsea Street, now known as Maverick Church Mission Chapel, was on July 14, 1884, 40 being present, and meetings have been held in this place every Monday evening since. The meetings increased in number and power and through their influence, a number have been brought to realize their need of a Saviour, some of them having united with this church at its last Communion Service. We believe the part borne by the children at the meetings has been a great help in the work. The first Sunday service was held at the Chapel, August 31. Preaching by our Pastor, 50 present. Services have been held every Sabbath since, at 4 P.M. Dr. Twitchell has preached at most of these services, but in his absence the following clergymen have officiated: Rev. Messrs. Bates, Hill, Jones, Richardson, and Scott, also Mr. Stowell, of the Boston Y. M. C. A. The largest attendance at any one of the weekly meetings has been 130, smallest, 8, average attendance for the year, 60, largest attendance at Sunday Services, 135, smallest, 50, average, 90.

Signed,

T. D. DEMOND,
A. D. MANSFIELD,
WM. RHODES.

Wm. B. Lovejoy was added to the Committee and whole Committee to remain in office until January, 1886.

January 13, 1886. Committee made a report which was accepted. Wm. B. Lovejoy, A. D. Mansfield, and Wm. Rhodes were elected Committee for ensuing year.

January 17, 1887. Committee reported, which was accepted. George H. Packard was chosen Superintendent of the Sabbath School. A. D. Mansfield, one of the Committee, had died and Mr. Wm. Rhodes had moved away. Wm. B. Lovejoy, J. W. Robbins and Geo. H. Packard were chosen as committee for the ensuing year.

March 4, 1887. A donation was made to the church of a library case for the use of the Mission work on the Fourth Section, by the Home Club of East Boston.

April 29, 1887. Report of the Committee taking action in reference to occupying the chapel on Bennington street owned by the City Missionary Society and of receiving a grant from the Mass. Home Missionary Society so as to have regular preaching services every Sabbath. Committee also recommend that the name of the chapel be called the "Maverick Church Chapel," which was adopted.

February 23, 1888. Wm. B. Lovejoy, J. W. Robbins and Geo. H. Packard were appointed members of the Committee in charge of the Chapel and Mission work on the Fourth Section. Recommendation of the Committee in report made at this meeting, was adopted as follows: "In order that any funds received under the above named circumstances (monies received from insurance in case of fire, see Report) or any funds received from the Maverick Church Chapel or for Mission work upon the Fourth Section, especially donated for these purposes, your Committee recommend that the Committee appointed by the Church to have the charge of the Mission work on the Fourth Section and for the care and maintenance of the Maverick Church Chapel be authorized to receive and hold all sums of money so donated for the purpose above stated; and the church treasurer is and shall be authorized to pay over to said Committee thus appointed any monies coming into his possession for such purposes; and said Committee shall make an annual report of all monies thus received and such disbursements as shall be made of such monies received and at such other times as by a vote of the church shall be required of said Committee.

February 5, 1894. Wm. B. Lovejoy, as Chairman, J. W. Robbins and Elmer H. Allen were chosen as Committee in charge of Maverick Church Chapel and Mission Work on the Fourth Section. The reports of the work for each year are on file and show that much aggressive work has been done, having a salutary moral influence on the people of the Fourth Section. Miss A. B. Winchester, the faithful City Missionary, who was instrumental in the resumption of this work, resigned her office in July, 1893, and Miss Helen C. Gillette was chosen by the City Missionary Society to succeed in her labors.

May, 1894. The Committee having been informed that Charles S. Macfarland, acting pastor of the Chapel, would relinquish his labors to attend the Divinity School at Yale College, New Haven, Conn., and his time of service, by arrangement, expiring June 15, 1894, concluded arrangements with the Rev. W. Sherman Thompson to become acting pastor, his labors to commence August 1, 1894.

Relation of the Woman's Board of Missions

TO THIS CHURCH.

The Foreign Missionary work (not to the exclusion of Home work) has ever held a large place in the hearts of the members of Maverick Church. The devotion of many of its early members to these interests will readily be brought to the minds of some who are now living and enjoyed sweet counsel together and joined in the many prayers which ascended to the throne of God, that the heathen might be converted. This zeal was not only displayed by the brethren of the church but perhaps even more so by the sisters. There seemed to be a constantly spiritual impelling force which was urging forward a few devoted ones to arouse, instruct, and finally to organize efforts which have borne so great results. Doubtless this was brought about in no small degree by the interest taken by the mothers of the church, meeting together as a Maternal Association, praying for their children, which led to the desire that not only they and the mothers of their own land, but those of foreign lands might have the privileges which they enjoyed. Mrs. Albert Bowker had taken large interest in the Maternal Association work and no doubt that the Lord had kindled in her heart the large desire that the mothers of heathen lands should be educated and by God's grace led to first pray for themselves and then for their children: and thus every indication of his Providence points to the fact that she was a chosen vessel to so largely assist in the organization of what is now so large a power for God, "The Woman's Board of Missions," and for so many years its President.

While this Church has a holy pride in the work of all its members, yet they cannot forbear making record of her work in our own Church and so largely one in which the whole Church of God are interested. We cannot but rejoice that one of Maverick Church should have been chosen of God to be His instrument in the organization and development of the "Woman's Board of Missions." We rejoice that God has so long spared her life to enjoy Fifty-eight consecutive years of membership with this church, from its organization to its present time, and our prayer is that her last days may be her best days.

It is but justice to add to this, a tribute to her great usefulness, as written by Miss Frances J. Dyer and published in the Congregationalist, Jan., 1893, which we are permitted to do.

"Nearly all great organizations of the Church have been brought about by God by the consecration of some one person, and this truth is so remarkably illustrated in the organization known as the Woman's Board of Missions that we cannot forbear, just before its twenty-fifth anniversary, which will be observed next week in Boston, to review the circumstances which led to its formation. From them it will be seen that the subject of this sketch was as truly elected and prepared for this special work as was Abraham Lincoln for guiding our nation safely through a perilous crisis.

"Sarah Lamson's father was an influential and, according to the standard of those days, a wealthy man. The house which he built in East Boston was one of the first three erected on the island. It still stands upon an eminence on Webster Street overlooking the harbor, the lofty pillars of the porch and the generous proportions of the front hall untouched by the finger of modern improvement. In this noble old mansion, where the drama of her girlhood, wifehood and motherhood was enacted, Mrs. Bowker lives in her declining years, tenderly cared for by her youngest daughter and still holding the office of honorary president of the board.

"At the age of fourteen she was sent to the Ipswich Female Seminary and for several years came under the influence of those two notable teachers, Miss Zilpah P. Grant and Mary Lyon. Never was a school more fittingly chosen for a child. The marked individuality of Miss Grant, a wise, far-seeing woman with the religious fervor of a Savonarola glowing beneath the repressed New England manner, and the sweet and strong spirit of Mary Lyon made a deep impression upon the young girl. The teachers quickly recognized in the new pupil a person of good intellectual capacity, resolute will, strong imagination and a peculiar power for dominating other minds. The bringing of all these forces of heart and mind under the control of Christian motives was no easy task, even for teachers like them, who agonized in prayer over the souls committed to their care with the fervency born of the theology of the times.

“It is not strange, therefore, that the conversion of Sarah Lamson was a marked experience in her life. The surrender of herself to God in the flower of her youthful days was complete. The decision once made, there was never a shadow of turning in her purpose. Thenceforward she was pledged to the service of Christ with the consuming zeal of an early Crusader. While she was under conviction an incident occurred which intensified her sense of a divine providence in human affairs. By a strange blunder her father received word that his daughter was dead and he went to Ipswich taking with him the casket for her burial. The dramatic scene when he was met by her in full health and strength can be imagined. But the thought that it might have been herself appealed powerfully to her imagination and led her to feel that she was a spared monument of mercy for some great work. A remarkable deliverance from accidental death later in life deepened this feeling.

“Returning at length to her East Boston home, her faith was soon put to severe tests. Her father was not in sympathy with her evangelical views and for a time forbade her attendance at the weekly prayer meetings. But she found a way to be loyal both to her father and her Saviour by remaining at home and spending the prayer meeting hour in private devotion. A spirit like this could not be repressed and ere long she was allowed full liberty to use her gifts for ministry in any direction she chose. How full of activity were those years! In church and Sunday school, in homes of the poor and at bedsides of the dying this young girl was ever busy with a zeal that never flagged. Scores were brought to Christ through her efforts. She had an inborn skill for nursing and shrank from no scene of suffering however horrible. At one time a frightful railroad accident at the dangerous grade crossing in East Boston brought the killed and wounded almost to her own door. Those who then heard her comfort the dying and pray with the living and saw her marvelous power to soothe the sorrow-stricken households were dumb with wonder. Even before her marriage she conducted the mothers' meetings in Maverick Church, of which she was one of the ten original members. Here, too, she taught for years a large Bible class of nearly a hundred members and thereby trained a class of women for Christian service whose executive ability and consecration have rarely been equaled. Marriage did not interrupt her tireless activities. On the contrary she made her home tributary to all her work for the Master, and the holy experiences of motherhood gave a new grace to her spiritual faculties.

"In course of time the horrors of the Civil War burst upon the nation and this momentous event brought into further prominence the native force of Mrs. Bowker's character. Her soul was on fire with patriotism and no general on the field of battle marshaled his forces with greater energy than she displayed in organizing measures of relief for the soldiers. Just before this, strangely enough, there had been a revival of interest in the work of maternal associations, which, like the Christian Endeavor movement, was born in the home of a Portland minister, Dr. Edward Payson. His wife organized the first society in 1815, but it did not long survive the generation which gave it birth. But in 1860, as the hour approached when the iron of bereavement was to enter many a mother's soul, a great tidal wave of a common impulse to prayer swept into the hearts of American women. The Union Maternal Association, embracing all denominations, was formed and the first annual meeting in Boston was attended by more than a thousand mothers. From the outset Mrs. Bowker espoused this cause with a fervent faith. Though sternly rebuffed by Dr. John E. Todd and other excellent but mistaken ministers, no opposition could daunt her. For twenty years she held the office of president and in this training school more than any other her mind was broadened to grasp the needs of women living in lands outside the pale of gospel privileges. The obstacles she surmounted fitted her for overcoming the prejudice and distrust which blocked her way later in organizing the Woman's Board. Looking backward one is astounded at the sublime courage that enabled her to project the enterprise at what seemed a most unpropitious time. Only one secretary of the American Board, Dr. N. G. Clark, heartily favored the scheme.

Others frankly disapproved or coldly questioned its wisdom. The colleges for women were just coming into recognition. The Christian Temperance Union was hardly in embryo. Women's clubs had no existence. Except as the war had developed them, women as a whole were untrained in the duties of public life. Here and there a solitary individual, like Clara Barton, was showing the ability to organize and control large enterprises, but the era of federation in women's work for women had not yet dawned. Meantime, the Lord had been stirring up the hearts of Christian women to an interest in the condition of their sisters in other lands through the agency of the Missionary Union in New York City and by other societies purely local in their scope. In scattered hamlets all through New England and at the West many, like Mary of old, were pondering these things in their hearts.

"One day about this time a quiet woman came from New York to Boston seeking if haply she might find some one capable of unifying all these scattered forces into one grand missionary body. At the suggestion of one of the secretaries of the American Board she was directed to the house of the subject of this sketch. The meeting of Peter and Cornelius was no more divinely directed than this interview between Mrs. Homer Bartlett, the first treasurer of the Woman's Board, and Mrs. Albert Bowker. As the result of their conference a company of devoted women gathered the first Tuesday in January, 1868, in the Old South chapel, then in Freeman Place on Beacon Hill, and formed the New England Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, which later became incorporated under the name of the Woman's Board of Missions. Of its phenomenal growth since then, including the sister boards of the Interior and the Pacific Coast, together with many an auxiliary in dark places on the eastern continent, it is not our province to speak at present.

"The object of this paper is simply to show how this one woman, wholly devoted to a single noble aim, and pushing it at a period when there were few trained helpers and stupendous obstacles to be overcome, manifested a faith which has removed mountains. Like the first disciples she has labored and others have entered into her labors. From the hour when she bowed herself in the consecrating prayer at that initial meeting to the day, three years ago, when she delegated to another the presidency of the Board, she has never wavered in love and loyalty to the cause which it represents. Time, money, strength, influence have all been freely contributed to its advancement. One of the most inspiring recollections of the writer is of a memorable three days' conference in October, 1875, at the old mansion on Webster Street. Thirty-two guests, chiefly the officers of branch societies, were entertained beneath the hospitable roof. The entire time was spent in listening to papers and discussing the best means for extending the work. Who that was present will ever forget those hallowed hours of prayer which

Morning and evening hemmed the sweet day in?

On the last evening when the house was thrown open to over five hundred guests, it seemed as if the holy influence of those who had been tarrying in the mount those three days permeated the entire assembly.

“Thus it will be seen that the Woman's Board of Missions is worthy of peculiar honor, not only for its primal work of evangelizing those who are without the blessings of the gospel but for being a pioneer in organized work for women here in our own land. We refrain from any commonplace words of praise for Mrs. Bowker's share in its development. We recognize her, as she ever humbly held herself, merely as an instrument in the hands of the Almighty for extending His kingdom. There are silent witnesses to her honor in India and Turkey and China and Japan more eloquent than any words. As Mt. Holyoke College will forever enshrine the memory of Mary Lyon, so the college for girls at Constantinople and the Bowker Home at Bombay will be two among many enduring monuments of Mrs. Bowker's fame.”

F. Butler, Joseph Robbins and T. D. Demond were chosen a committee to ascertain the legal proceedings necessary in the matter, and how much could be procured for the present house. Meeting adjourned to Oct. 13, 1873, when the committee made a partial report by printing a document for the signature of stockholders authorizing the committee to sell the present house of worship and also voting that the committee be authorized to sell the house after procuring signatures to the paper presented. A BRIEF ACCOUNT
THOSE BELONGING TO THE CHURCH AND CONGREGATION WHO

CONTRIBUTED BY DEA. J. H. S. PEARSON.

James Kent in his Commentaries makes the statement that "the history of mankind is an almost uninterrupted narration of a state of war." Deplorable as is the art of war, which in a righteous cause is a fearful thing, the history of the Church keeps step with the history of mankind in the narration of its events. In the Providence of God, its membership has oft been called upon to engage in "this mad game the world so loves to play" from the days when Cain made war upon and slew his brother Abel.

The "War of the Rebellion" in 1861—1865 was not an "exception to the rule," and the history of the Church of our Country would not be complete did it not record the names and deeds of those of its members who participated in the Great Strife.

Undoubtedly every Church in the North in existence at the time of this war had its representative in arms; and the altar of this great nation is more sacred for the offerings of its loyal sons in the sacrifice of life and limb, and the Standard of our beloved land glows with a brighter crimson for the sprinkling of their hearts' blood "deeper coloring its folds."

We here make record, as far as it is possible to do, of the names of members of the Maverick Church or Sunday School who participated by voluntary service in the Union Army or Navy between the years of 1861—1865.

Among the number who early responded to the call of President Lincoln was JAMES REDDING, who for several years had been a member of the Sunday School. Young Redding enlisted in Co. "B," 1st Regiment Mass. Infantry, and was an early martyr, falling on May 5, 1862, in the battle of the Wilderness. After considerable but unavoidable delay his body was sent home and was buried with appropriate ceremonies.

Public services were held in the church, arranged by a committee of citizens of East Boston. The audience-room was filled to overflowing long before the time for the service. Rev. Samuel W. Foljambe of the Central Square Baptist Church preached the discourse and seated with him upon the platform were His Excellency Gov. John A. Andrew, Mayors Fay of Chelsea and Gaston of Roxbury, Col. Burrill and Lt. Col. Perkins of the Massachusetts Volunteers.

At the close of the services a procession escorted the remains to Woodlawn Cemetery in the following order :

(From the Boston Daily Journal, May 26, 1862.)

Platoon of Police.

Chief Marshal, John P. Averill.

Detachment of twelve men from Union Guards with reversed arms.

Flagg's Boston Brass Band.

The Hearse.

Union Guards, Capt. B. F. Russell, with side arms, marching by the flank.

Torrent Engine Co. No. 1, of Chelsea,
(of which deceased had been a member.)

Delegates from the Maverick Sunday School.

Representatives of the Lyman Grammar School.

Relatives and friends in Carriages.

Redding was the first soldier from East Boston whose remains were sent home and buried, although he was not the first martyr; that honor belongs to Horace Colby of Co. "K," 29th Massachusetts Regiment, who was killed June 10, 1861, in the battle of Big Bethel. (Colby was not connected with the Maverick Church, however.)

LUCIUS CARVER was a member of the Sunday School from his boyhood, the son of Ira and Susan Carver, active members of the Church. Young Carver was offered a commission in a Massachusetts regiment, but declined the offer, preferring to join the 7th Michigan Cavalry, that he might be with his brother-in-law, Allyne C. Litchfield, who was Colonel of this regiment. (Col. Litchfield was at one time, before the years of the war, a member of the Maverick Sunday School.) Carver was commissioned First Lieut. in this regiment, and his record as a soldier is a brilliant one. He was under the dashing Generals Custer and Kilpatrick, being with the latter on his memorable raid on Richmond in the Spring of 1864 (at which time Col. Litchfield was made prisoner by the rebels). On this raid Carver had two horses shot from under him, and was promoted for bravery on the field—in carrying despatches while exposed to fire from the rebel sharpshooters. Carver yielded his life in the battle of Crooked Run, near Front Royal, Virginia, August 16, 1864. When he was killed he was Acting Adjutant of the Regiment and was daily expecting his commission as Captain to which position he had been promoted as above stated. Col. Brewer, who was now in command of the 7th, in writing of Carver's death used these words — "To-day I have lost my best officer, and most intimate friend."

E. A. Paul, the War correspondent of the New York Times, who occupied Carver's tent during the night before the battle, wrote the following touching words in his report of the battle, and which were printed in the issue of Aug. 25, 1864:

"Among the noble spirits who yielded up their lives for their country in this fight (Crooked Run) was Lieut. CARVER, Acting Adjutant of the Seventh Michigan Cavalry. He was almost instantly killed by a ball passing through his body, while charging with his regiment. He died as the true patriot would wish to die—facing the foe, and with shouts of victory ringing in his ears. Young, brave, unassuming in his manners, ever respectful to his superiors and courteous to his inferiors, he was a favorite with all who knew him, and his death has created a void in the group within the tent where I now write, and whose last waking words were uttering his virtues and lamenting his loss which can never be filled. The night before the battle the writer hereof slept upon the ground by young Carver's side, and the patriotic words uttered by him during the midnight hour are yet ringing in his ears. 'There can be no peace,' said he, in speaking of the War, 'until every enemy of the Union has been disarmed,' and much more of a similar import. Little did I think then, and I cannot fully realize the fact now, that these were the last words he was ever to utter within my hearing, and that that was his last night upon earth. To-night he sleeps in a soldier's grave and his spirit is with the blessed."

LYMAN JAMES was a member of the Sunday School from 1841, entering the school upon the removal of his parents to East Boston in that year, when he was seven years old, and a member of the Church from 1852. He early became a teacher in the Sunday School and continued in that position until the season of the great so-called "Western Fever," when he with several others removed to Racine, Wisconsin. While there he established a Sunday School and was its Superintendent, the school being materially assisted by donations from the Maverick Sunday School. During the financial depression consequent upon the excitement, he came back to East Boston and the scenes of his first labors.

At the breaking out of the War his prospects were bright and his situation pleasant but the voices of the men at the front seemed to extend to him the Macedonian cry, "Come and help us," and he could not help but listen and obey. He enlisted in Co. "E," 41st Regiment Mass. Infantry, afterwards known as the 3d Regiment Mass. Cavalry, Sept. 20, 1862, as First Sergeant. He continued with this Regiment in its active service, on March 6, 1864, being mustered Second Lieutenant. During the year 1864 the disability of his superior officers threw the command of the company upon him. He participated in twelve battles, including the Siege of Port Hudson, the Red River Expedition and the Battle of Cedar Creek. It was in this battle, Oct. 19, 1864, that he fell, just as the gallant Sheridan had inaugurated a victory for the Union forces.

The N. E. Historic-Genealogical Register thus speaking of him said :

“Lieut. James of Co. ‘E,’ 3d Mass. Cavalry, mortally wounded in the performance of duty at the Battle of Cedar Creek, Va., Oct. 19, died at Winchester, Dec. 6, 1864, at the age of thirty years and four months. He was cousin to Adjutant Stearns whose memoir has been so widely circulated, and in some respects their characters were not dissimilar. Lieut. James entered the army from motives of duty and patriotism, and by gallantry and faithfulness earned promotion.”

How well he bore himself is also told in the commendations of his comrades-in-arms : “A splendid soldier ;” “The flower of his Regiment ;” “Unassuming and brave,” etc., etc.

After being wounded he was cared for in a private house in Winchester and was visited by his brother, George E. James of the Maverick Church, who, after Lyman’s death, caused the remains to be sent to East Boston where they arrived Dec. 12, 1864. The funeral services were held in the Maverick Church on the following Sunday, Dec. 18, almost two weeks after his death, but by the kindly interest and offices of the Army Surgeons the body was so prepared that the casket was opened in the church, and the hundreds who had gathered looked fondly upon the face of their former friend and now country’s martyr. The remains were carried to the quiet cemetery in Bedford, Mass., where they now lie by the side of his father and mother and near to many of his ancestors.

WILLIAM LONGSHAW, JR., M. D., was a young physician hardly through his medical studies when the War broke upon us. He was a member of the Church, having joined in 1857. He enlisted in the United States Navy June 25, 1862, as Acting Assistant Surgeon, was appointed Assistant Surgeon, Nov. 9, 1862, and assigned to duty on the frigate “Minnesota." The record would indicate that he continued with this ship until his death which occurred during the assault upon Fort Fisher, January 15, 1865. His remains lie in Woodlawn Cemetery, Chelsea, and upon the stone which marks his resting-place are the following quotations from official reports concerning his death :

"I must not omit to pay a just tribute to the memory of the noble Assistant Surgeon, William Longshaw, Jr., who was shot dead near the enemy's works while engaged in an act of mercy, binding up the wounds of a sailor."

"I regret to report the death of Dr. Longshaw. * * He was always near the front, and was bending over a wounded and dying man, when he was shot in the head and instantly killed. Their bodies were found together after the battle ; his bravery was conspicuous, and he nobly discharged the duties of his office."

His heroic and self-sacrificing act has been commemorated by Capt. Thomas O. Selfridge, Jr., of the U. S. N., (who commanded a naval battalion during the assault,) in his Article on "The Bombardment and Capture of Fort Fisher," in the Century War Book.

Capt. Selfridge writes as follows :

"While kept under the walls of the fort I was an eye-witness to an act of heroism on the part of Assistant Surgeon Wm. Longshaw, Jr., a young officer of the medical staff, whose memory should ever be kept green by his corps, and which deserves more than this passing notice. A sailor too severely wounded to help himself had fallen close to the water's edge and with the rising tide would have been drowned. Dr. Longshaw at the peril of his life went to his assistance, and dragged him beyond the incoming tide. At this moment, he heard a cry from a wounded marine, one of a small group who, behind a little hillock of sand, close to the parapet, kept up a fire upon the enemy. Longshaw ran to his assistance, and while attending to his wounds was shot dead. What made the act of the young officer even more heroic was the fact that on that very day he had received a leave of absence, but had postponed his departure to volunteer for the assault."

ISAAC S. HILL was a member of the school and at times a teacher. He was a member of Company "K," 29th Regiment Mass. Infantry; was captured in the engagement at Strawberry Plains, East Tennessee, January 10, 1864, and died in a rebel prison.

ALBERT CUMMINGS' name is borne upon the records of the Church as having died at Fortress Munroe in 1863. It has been impossible to gather any further data thus far concerning his service.

"I with uncovered head
 Salute the sacred dead
 Who went, and who return not.—Say not so!
 * * *
 I see them muster in a gleaming row;
 * * *
 They come transfigured back,
 Secure from change in their high-hearted ways,
 Beautiful evermore, and with the rays
 Of morn on their white Shields of Expectation."
 * * *

We have thus far given a brief history of the service of those whose lives were given up in their country's service. We cannot give space to more than a brief record of the company and regiment in which the other representatives of our Church and School served, save in a few instances where service demands a greater recognition, or has incidents of particular interest.

JOSEPH S. MANNING was a member of Co. "K," 29th Mass. Infantry and was with this regiment during its long term of service. Was wounded in engagement at Campbell Station, East Tennessee, Nov. 16, 1863, and on the 29th of November, 1863, distinguished himself by a personal act of bravery in capturing the color-bearer and colors of the 16th Georgia Regiment, C. S. A., in the engagement at Fort Sanders, Knoxville, East Tennessee. For this brave act young Manning was given a Medal of Honor by Special Act of Congress. His name is also enrolled in "The Bravest 500 of 1861" a work compiled by Brig. Gen. Theo. F. Rodenborough; and he is at present (1894) Adjutant of the Medal of Honor Legion.

JOSEPH W. ROBBINS, son of Deacon Joseph Robbins, enlisted July 1, 1862, in Company "B," 1st Regiment Mass. Infantry, and saw severe service under Gen. Joseph Hooker, or "Fighting Joe," as he was familiarly called by his command. Participated in the battles of "Bristol Station," "Second Bull Run," "Chantilly," "Fredericksburg," "Chancellorsville," "Gettysburg" and "Wapping Heights." This regiment was also one of the three veteran regiments sent back from the front to quell the great draft riots in New York in 1863. Robbins was taken sick in New York with an illness which lasted a year and a half, and which came very near terminating fatally. He was discharged from service November 4, 1863.

JOHN M. DUNCAN passed examination for a position in U. S. Navy as Assistant Engineer, July, 1863, and during August following was ordered to report, and was attached to the North Atlantic Squadron. Participated in the attacks on Fort Fisher and taking of Wilmington. Duncan was also of the detail which at Fortress Monroe in the following March had under guard the Chief of the Southern Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, and the party captured with him; afterwards depositing seven of the number in Fort McHenry. Participated in the reduction of the forts in the James River, and also in the final capture of Richmond, entering that stronghold on the same day as did President Lincoln.

A. SIDNEY AULD enlisted Aug. 6, 1862, in Co. "C," 13th Regiment Mass. Infantry, and was in the First Corps Army of the Potomac under Gen. Reynolds, and Fifth Corps, Gen. Warren. Participated in the battles of Second Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor and Siege of Petersburg. Was wounded at Fredericksburg and taken prisoner at Gettysburg, but was paroled and afterwards exchanged. Mustered out of service at the expiration of the regiment's term, July 16, 1864.

WILLIAM BANGS enlisted in the navy and saw severe service. He was on board the frigate "Congress" in the great naval battle in Hampton Roads, March 8, 1862, when she was disabled by the rebel ram "Merrimac" and suffered from her terrific fire of shot and shell. Lieut. Joseph Smith was in command of this vessel, until killed early in the engagement. It was of him (Smith) that, when the despatch came to his father, Commodore Smith, on duty at Washington, that the "Congress" had shown the white flag, he quietly said "Joe's dead." Bangs was severely burned at this time, recovered and saw more service; but it has been impossible to obtain further data concerning him.

GEORGE S. HARRINGTON enlisted in Co. "C," 40th Regiment ("Mozart's") New York Infantry, June 14, 1861, and continued with this Regiment until mustered out at the expiration of term of service, Nov. 5, 1864: participating in all its engagements, thirty-one in number, including those of the Peninsular Campaign, and the battles of the Wilderness, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and Petersburg. He was in the Color-guard of his Company, bearing the colors at Fredericksburg, and was wounded at Malvern Hill and Chancellorsville. The regiment was during the larger portion of its term of service a part of the Third Corps, under Generals McLellan, Burnside, Meade, and Grant respectively.

J. STURGIS WRIGHT was a member of Co. "K," 29th Regiment, Mass. Infantry. Enlisting early in the War he was present with his regiment at Newport News in 1862 and beheld the historic naval engagement between the "Monitor" and "Merrimac." This was the first Northern regiment to pass through Norfolk, Va., and an interesting feature of their passage was the singing of "John Brown's Body" by the entire regiment much to the disgust of the inhabitants of the place. Served with McLellan through the Peninsular Campaign, and was in the Seven Days' Fight; also in battles of Gaines' Mills, Savage Station, White Oak Swamp, Glendale, and Malvern Hill. Afterwards at Paris, Ky., where the 29th had charge of the prison containing rebel soldiers and sympathizers; then at Vicksburg, and later at Siege of Knoxville, and with Grant during his campaign, participating in the battles of the Wilderness and Spottsylvania. Returned home May 20, 1864, and was discharged Aug. 16, same year. Re-enlisted in March, 1865, in Co. "K," 13th Ohio Cavalry, and was at the surrender of Lee at Appomattox Court House April 9, 1865, and was mustered out of service July 4, 1865.

JONATHAN BREARLEY, ELIJAH C. CRANE, CHARLES A. LITTLEFIELD, JOHN S. DEARCY and GEORGE H. RYMILL were members of Co. "E," 41st Mass. Infantry. After the first year of service this regiment was changed into a cavalry regiment, and was known as the 3d Regiment Mass. Cavalry. It was a portion of the Army of the Gulf, and later of the Department of the Shenandoah, and participated, when cavalry, in the dashing exploits of the fearless soldier General Custer. Among their engagements were the battles of Irish Bend, La., Siege of Port Hudson, Red River Expedition and those of the Campaign of Gen. Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley.

In the early summer of 1864 Confederate operations under General Jubal Early was the occasion of a thorough scare in Washington, especially when the rebel, Gen. Early, threatened an invasion of Pennsylvania in order to mask a contemplated dash on Baltimore and Washington. Gov. Andrew was in Washington at the time and proffered troops from Massachusetts; accordingly a call was issued for four thousand infantry for the protection of Washington. Among these troops was the 42d Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, which had before seen service in '62 and '63 in the Department of the Gulf, in Texas and Louisiana. The regiment was re-inforced by new recruits many of whom were boys hardly out of school. In Companies "B" and "C" were a large number from East Boston, most of whom were members of the Maverick and Church of Our Father (Unitarian) Sunday Schools. Those from the Maverick were EDWARD S. AVERILL, GEORGE I. BINGHAM, GEORGE A. BURG, HENRY H. HALL, WILLIAM T. HALL, HENRY H. MORSE, CHARLES W. MORSE, J. H. S. PEARSON, J. CLARK READ, FRANK H. WHEELER and JOHN S. WHITE, JR. The regiment went into camp July 18, 1864, and was sent to Washington, and from here was ordered into camp on Shuter's Hill, near Fort Ellsworth, about one mile from the city. The regiment expected, and would have preferred to see active service in the field, for the men were put to such arduous and exacting service that Gen. Slough, who commanded, was remonstrated with, and his attention called to the fact that the regiment was overworked, and that flesh and blood could not stand the strain without some rest, which the general frankly admitted but claimed that he could rely on the Massachusetts men while those from other States, of which there were several regiments, were not reliable. The consequence was that about one hundred men came back home sick, and for many months, and in some instances years, were unfit to engage in any occupation. There were a number of deaths, one East Boston boy, Wallace T. Fowler of the Unitarian Sunday School, beloved by all his comrades, being among the number.

The fighting between Sheridan and Early in the Shenandoah Valley kept the regiment in constant activity guarding the trains freighted with supplies for Sheridan; occasionally meeting and skirmishing with the rebel guerillas who infested the line of road. The regiment was mustered out Nov. 11, but were instructed by Gov. Andrew to hold themselves in readiness for further service. No further service was required, however.

ISAAC L. PRATT was a member of Co. "I," 47th Regiment Mass. Infantry, serving with it in the Department of the Gulf.

HENRY NEWCOMB enlisted as drummer-boy of 16th Unattached Co. Mass. Infantry for the summer of 1864. At the expiration of his term as drummer, he re-enlisted as a private soldier for service in the South, but was not accepted, failing to meet the requirement as to height.

JOHN UPTON was a member of the School who went into service; but up to the time of writing it has been impossible to ascertain sufficient data to give his record of service. The files at the state house do not show record of his being credited to Massachusetts, and the absence of his name there would indicate that he is credited to some other state, as in the case of Lucius Carver and John M. Duncan, who are credited to Michigan and New York respectively. And the writer of this chapter would here say that undoubtedly there are others who were members of the Church or Sunday School whose names should be inscribed here, but are not for want of sufficient documentary evidence.

All the names heretofore recorded have been obtained through personal knowledge by comrades-in-arms or from near relatives who have been consulted in the preparation of this brief history.

WILLIAM H. WARD had been a member of the church for several years, a teacher in the School and its Superintendent in 1860 and 1861. At the time of his enlisting he was connected with the Park St. Church, having married just prior to his enlistment and removed from East Boston; but it seems that as he was so closely identified with the School for so many years and honored it in his service, at least Honorable Mention should be made of his service. He was a member of Co. "K," 45th Mass. Infantry, and its service was largely in North Carolina. Participated in the battles of Kingston, Dec. 14, '62, Whitehall, Dec. 16, Goldsboro, Dec. 17, and Gum Swamp, April 28, 1863. He with other Christian men in the 45th erected a log church in which regular meetings were held for a time and also taught at times in a Sunday School of colored children in Newbern.

It is not the purport of this Chapter to make record of the many soldiers who from time to time since the close of the War have been connected with the Church or School, it being a record of those who represented us during 1861—1865 as soldiers or sailors in defence of the flag. There have come among us, however, since those years, a few who have given of their strength, means, and influence, and have by the suffrages of the membership of the Church been exalted to office, who bear honorable record of service. The writer, therefore, wishes to make Honorable Mention of Deacons Orlando W. Dimick, Samuel H. Holbrook and J. Willard Brown, with brief sketches of their service.

DEACON ORLANDO W. DIMICK—elected Deacon Oct. 30, 1871, and served in the office until Jan. 7, 1878, and removing from East Boston to Watertown, Mass.—was a member of Companies "H" and "F," 11th Regiment New Hampshire Infantry. He enlisted as private and by valiant service was promoted to be Captain of his Company. Was in the severe engagements in which his regiment participated; was taken prisoner, and confined in rebel prisons at Macon and Savannah, Ga., and Charleston and Columbia, S. C.

Deacon SAMUEL H. HOLBROOK—elected Deacon Jan. 5, 1885, and served until removing to Newport, Vt., July 15, 1887—was a member of Company "F," 11th Regiment Vermont Infantry, enlisting as private and being advanced to Lieutenant commanding Company. Was with his regiment during the entire service from August 11, 1862, until August 25, 1865, at close of War, with the exception of a furlough of twenty days. Was in all the engagements in which the regiment participated, and was wounded at battle of Cold Harbor, June 1, 1864, and Siege of Petersburg, April 2, 1865. In the battle of Cedar Creek (where Lt. Lyman James fell) every non-commissioned officer in his Company was either killed or wounded and every commissioned officer was a prisoner or in hospital. Holbrook was made Corporal and put in command of his Company. Soon after was made Orderly Sergeant and on August 2, 1865, commanded his Company in the assault on the fortifications at Petersburg, in which every man in his Company was either killed or wounded. Dea. Holbrook is, at present writing, a resident of Newport, Vt.

Deacon J. WILLARD BROWN—elected Deacon Feb. 12, 1892, —enlisted in Co. "K," 7th Regiment Mass. Infantry, May 24, 1861, and was with this Company until promoted Second Lieut. in the Signal Corps, U. S. A., July 15, 1864, his commission, however, dating from March 3, 1863. He served at Washington, Fredericksburg, in the Shenandoah Valley, Beaufort, S. C., and at the Siege of Suffolk. Lt. Brown's service continued after the War of the Rebellion closed, he being assigned, in 1865, to the staff of Gen. P. E. Connor, as Chief Signal Officer, District of the Plains, and participated in the campaigns against the Indians on Powder and Tongue rivers, Wyoming and Montana, and was mustered out December, 1865.

In addition to these three, Joseph W. Robbins and J. H. S. Pearson, whose records previously appear, have served the Church as Deacons.

It is but fitting that this Chapter should contain mention of the first woman-nurse in the field, Miss ARMEDA GIBBS, so long associated with this Church and the founder of the Union Mission Chapel. Instrumental in forming the Maternal Association of this Church, as far as possible she followed the steps of the boys whose mothers had gathered with her in the monthly meetings of this association. When the War came on, many of these boys enlisted. Some of them were wounded; others were sick in hospitals or were in peculiar need of sympathy or help. A call came for help for the sick and dying at Annapolis, Md. Suggestions of women-nurses were made. Women were needed and a plan was entered into at once by which to send them. There was much opposition among the surgeons and army officers at Annapolis; but finally consent was gained that the experiment should be tried. Miss Gibbs was suggested as the first one to go. She was ready if she could be released by the City Missionary Society in whose service she had been for many years. That Society being in full sympathy with the plan of sending women-nurses, with Miss Gibbs' desire they released her, and she became the first woman-nurse in the field. Reaching Annapolis she at once disarmed all prejudice and won all hearts; so that word came back "If you have any more women like Miss Gibbs send them down to us." She remained with the boys, ministering to their temporal and spiritual wants, endearing every heart to her, until she was at last herself prostrated by disease. Word came one day that she was dying, and asking what disposition should be made of her body. Word went back at once, "Care for it tenderly; embalm it; put it in a metallic casket, and forward it to East Boston. But Christian people in the community began to feel that this sickness need not be unto death; and it was said "Let us try the power of prayer." The Sabbath came; word was sent to all the churches in East Boston and to others in the city and vicinity. The Mission Chapel spent the whole day in fasting and prayer. Never before in Boston had there been a day like that for an individual. Sabbath afternoon, towards evening, word came, "Miss Gibbs begins to rally." She continued to improve; was spared; returned home; resumed her labors for the poor and outcast in the service of the City Missionary Society; and labored until called to her rest, August 27, 1884.

"O Beautiful! my Country! ours once more
Smoothing thy gold of war-dishevelled hair
O'er such sweet brows as never other wore,
 And letting thy set lips,
 Freed from wrath's pale eclipse,
The rosy edges of their smile lay bare,
What words divine of lover or of poet
Could tell our love and make thee know it,
Among the Nations bright beyond compare?
 What were our lives without thee?
 What all our lives to save thee?
 We reck not what we gave thee;
 We will not dare to doubt thee,
But ask whatever else, and we will dare!"

A VERBATIM REPORT

OF THE

Historical Sermon and Addresses

AT THE

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE CHURCH.

Quite an interest had been felt by some of the older members of the Maverick Church as the time drew near indicating the fiftieth anniversary of its organization, that a fitting celebration of the event might be made, and on the 19th day of March, 1886, at a meeting of the Church, it was voted, That a Committee be appointed to observe the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the church by appropriate exercises. The Committee consisted of Dea. Isaac N. Lothrop, Benjamin F. Butler, Mrs. Thomas D. Demond, Mrs. Albert Bowker, Mrs. Harriet E. M. Foltz; and on the second day of June, A. D. 1886, the Committee in the discharge of its duties had made preparations so that the day was made one of peculiar interest to all the past and present members of the church and to the many invited guests who participated in the exercises of the occasion.

At an early hour of the afternoon the past and present members of the Church and Society began to arrive so that when the exercises at 3 o'clock commenced, a large company were present. The church had been tastefully decorated with banners and flowers, the latter in profusion. Fronting the pulpit were potted plants filled in with bouquets and baskets of cut and wild flowers. Banners of white silk on either side of the pulpit, bearing the names of the pastors of the church from its organization to the present time, were very handsomely looped up behind the pulpit; on either side were streamers of Red and White bunting with the initials S. L. B. and B. F. B., standing for the names of Sarah L. Bowker, wife of Hon. Albert Bowker, and Benjamin F. Butler, the sole survivors of the original ten members of the Maverick Church. The organ front was also tastefully adorned. On a canopy of white satin hung in graceful folds over the organist was the scriptural motto inscribed in large satin letters, "Gloria in excelsis." The front of the gallery was bordered with Turkish red crepe with the following inscription, "Not unto us, O Lord, but unto Thy name." The organist was Mrs. Lyman W. Clark, and the church quartette consisted of Mrs. O. N. Prescott, Soprano; Mrs. G. F. Paine, Alto; Mr. M. A. McKie, Tenor, and Mr. R. J. Elder, Bass.

The exercises were in charge of the Pastor, Rev. Elijah Horr, D.D., and were commenced by the invocation by Rev. Asa Bullard, D. D., as follows :

"Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we invoke Thy presence and Thy blessing upon this company assembled here; we thank Thee that so many people have gathered here to unite in these services, we thank Thee for the many pleasant reminiscences during the past fifty years, that so many have been called of God, and we thank Thee for all thy kind care over this Church in the past, for the prosperity this Church enjoys at the present time, and we pray that it may have even a greater prosperity in the years to come; we pray that it may have an increase in spiritual life. Wilt Thou be with us during this service, when we gather in the evening, and may everything that is said and done be acceptable in Thy sight, oh, Lord, our Strength and our Redeemer, Amen."

Anthem, "Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised."

Scriptures read by Rev. John L. Scott, Pastor Presbyterian Church, East Boston, 47th and 48th Psalms. "Oh, clap your hands, all ye people."

Singing by the Choir, "Glory be to the Father."

Prayer offered by Rev. J. W. Wellman, D. D., as follows :

“Oh: Thou, who art from everlasting to everlasting, without beginning, without end, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, the only true God, we come unto Thee, we adore Thee, we praise Thee, we glorify Thee; it is the joy of our hearts to know that Thou art lifted above us and our changes here in the world, and we say from ‘everlasting to everlasting.’ We come unto Thee to unite ourselves to Thee as ever the same, the unchangeable and glorious God and Father of our Saviour, Jesus Christ, who art our Father: we come unto Thee to give Thee thanks to-day; we praise Thee for this Church of Christ, we thank Thee for its organization half a century ago; we thank Thee for the godly men and women who with faith and holy devotion bound themselves as one, pledging themselves here as a Church of Christ to do the work of the church and to offer the Gospel of Christ, even the light eternal, to all who would come to the Great Head of the church, Christ Jesus the Saviour. We thank Thee that this church has been kept through all these many years, for all who have loved this church and given themselves freely for this church, who have lived lives of prayer, and in all their prayers prayed for its prosperity, that it might be united and faithful in christian work and love for Christ. We thank Thee for these office bearers, for the line of godly ministers who have stood before this church and in the name of Christ preached the gospel and brought the messages of Heaven here; we thank thee for their words and their works do follow them; we thank Thee for those who are living, for those who have ascended; we thank Thee so many have left records of fidelity and loyalty; we thank Thee for the members of this church, for the earliest members, many of whom have gone to the Church Triumphant; we thank Thee from year to year so many have been gathered in here, and though many of them are scattered over the country and the world, so many remain, and are still keeping their covenant vows to be faithful in their services to this church of Christ; we thank Thee for their fellowship, for their labors of love, and may they now come and consecrate themselves anew to the service of Christ our Lord in this his church; we thank Thee for the hallowed memories that come to the hearts of this people to-day, for all the recollections that will be revived this afternoon and evening; we thank Thee that there is so much that is hallowed and precious in the history of this church; and now our prayer is that from all these services we may receive spiritual benefit and be brought very near to Thee our Lord and Saviour; that as this church begins a new series of years, it may begin with new faith, new devotion to Christ, and be even more fruitful than in the past, and may the Pastor of this church to-day have his heart filled so that from this day, he may go forth with more joy in the service of Christ than ever before and with a deeper assurance that Christ is living in this church; and now wilt Thou accept our prayer and bless us this afternoon and this evening; remember us in all these services to-day, all those who will gather in this church in the coming years, and at last be called to the better service in the company of our Lord, and to the Eternal, Immortal, Invisible, the only wise and true God, be honor and glory, forever, Amen."

Choir and Congregation joined in singing.

Oh, 'twas a joyful sound to hear
 Our tribes devoutly say,
 "Up, Israel, to the temple haste,
 And keep the festal day."

At Salem's Courts we must appear,
 With our assembled powers,
 In strong and beauteous order ranged,
 Like her united towers.

Oh, pray we then for Salem's peace!
 For they shall prosperous be,
 Thou holy city of our God,
 Who bear true love to thee.

Dr. Horr made remarks as follows:—

“I have been assigned by the Committee to make the Historical Address, and I wish to ask the indulgence of the members of this church. On account of my coming so recently to this parish, I cannot expect to satisfy your expectations in what I shall bring to you. I am very sure I have your sympathy in this matter, if you could catch anything of the inspiration from what I have been obliged to hastily put together, as I have spent days and I may almost say nights in looking through the history of this church, and I am sure this occasion would be of double interest to you, but such as I have I bring to you this afternoon.”

Historical Address by Rev. Elijah Horr, D. D.

HISTORICAL ADDRESS.

“In one of the Messianic Psalms, the Seer from the Mount of Vision, beholding the rise and progress of the Redeemer’s Kingdom in the earth, breaks out in the triumphant song, ‘There shall be a handful of corn in the earth, upon the top of the mountains, the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.’

“This has usually been the key-note and prophecy of the growth of the Church in the earth; so it began on Bethany’s Hill-top, as the first company of believers stood entranced, looking into the blue Heavens at its ascending Lord, and coming down from thence was the seed from which sprang churches in every part of the world.

“Our forefathers from Old England, came across the turbulent waters, to plant the vital seeds of truth in the wilderness of the Western world,—they baptized it with their tears and fertilized it with their blood until the harvest thereof shakes to-day like Lebanon. The great Christian Church of America in all its branches—a mighty host—has sprung from little seed that did not give promise, from the standpoint of human prophecy, of much fruitage, it germinated under most unpromising conditions. Often it may have had a feeble and sickly growth for a long time perhaps, but at last the fruit shakes like Lebanon.

“The genesis of work in individual churches would be in epitome like the general church or that of any single denomination. Little things, relatively considered, are of vast import in the kingdoms of Nature and grace for from them in the order of God’s evolution, great things develop.

“It is comparatively easy to write out the mere facts and simple incidents of a human life but this would be biography only in outline; only God and the recording angels, if such there be, could fill out the record, with the hopes and fears, joys and sorrows, conflicts and victories that are the most important factors in the history; and the real elements out of which the character has been made and its strength or weakness developed according as it has appropriated and built in the good; or eliminated and discarded the evil.

“So the history of a Christian Church, although it may run through the long period of half a century, might be written out on a few pages,—for in the nature of things it can only be given in merest outline, let who may fill out the record! What lips could tell the anxiety of the planting of the seed, how slowly it germinated and rooted, how patiently and with what constant care the tender shoot was watched and tended, how certain influences retarded for a time, and others equally hard to define accelerated the growth, until at last through the long years it has grown to be a goodly tree under whose ample shadow many persons and families rest in peace and hope.

“That part of the goodly city of Boston usually denominated the Island Ward, has a history whose commencement dates from a comparatively recent period, at least so far as it relates to the history of a community. The Island is first spoken of in Anthon’s History in 1629 as having been conveyed to Sir Wm. Brereton of Handforth of the county of Chester, England, and for a period it bore his name; it seems for a little while subsequently to have been called Williams’ Island after a family who were lessees for more than half a century, but the name by which the Island was familiarly known from the earliest knowledge of it until the present time has been Noddle's Island.

“This name is involved in obscurity and it is said by the painstaking historian, Mr. Sumner, that no one is able to give an altogether satisfactory reason for this name, which appears in the records and surveys at a very early date.

“Until the formation of the East Boston Company in 1833 the Island was simply used for ordinary farm purposes and pasturage. It supplied the north part of the city with milk which was taken over in an ordinary row boat and peddled out to customers from a hand cart. There are many now living who remember those days, when there was hardly more than a single dwelling house where now there are nearly 40,000 inhabitants.

“The first house was built after the Company took possession and began operations in 1834. During the next year about 200 residents had located upon the Island and so far as I am able to ascertain the first religious service held—a prayer meeting—was at the house of a Mr. Pierce on what would now be the corner of Sumner and Bremen streets. It was an undenominational gathering, of all Christians who could be induced to come. Mr. Pierce, the owner of the house, was subsequently converted and united with the Church under its first Pastor, the Rev. Mr. Newell. He became a devoted Christian and was for years a useful man in church and society. This service was held in the fall of 1835,—the first preaching service was in the fall of the same year in a house on the corner of Princeton street. Rev. Wm. M. Rogers of the Central Church in Boston, preached and conducted the service. After this, Rev. Seth Bliss, Agent of the Tract Society, preached occasionally and prayer meetings were held with considerable regularity.

“Early in '36 there was talk of the organization of a church. In the spring of the same year it was thought that a favorable time for the effort had arrived. A number of persons, members of different churches, held a meeting on Thursday evening, May 5, at the residence of Mr. Aaron Ordway for consultation. After prayer and much deliberation, it was resolved that it was expedient to proceed to form a church and a committee was appointed to notify the ministers in the city of the proposed action, and to seek their advice and co-operation in further proceedings.

“By the advice of the ministers, it was decided to proceed at once to the preliminary steps necessary to a church organization ; and letters missive were issued on the 12th of May, calling a council to organize a church. At the same time a committee was chosen to converse with those who might offer themselves for admission, in relation to their Christian experience.

“The council met pursuant to call on May 31.

“It was composed of ministers and delegates from six churches. Among these ministers are historic names for this region, and indeed for New England Congregationalism. Drs. Codman, Winslow, Blagden and Nehemiah Adams.

“It is not unlikely that every member of the Council that originally formed this church has passed upward to ‘the general assembly and Church of the first-born whose names are written in Heaven.’

“The names of the original members were : Eleazar Johnson, Philip Lord, Aaron Ordway, B. F. Butler, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Mary Jane Butler, Mrs. Catharine Ordway, Mrs. Susan Lord, Mrs. Sarah Haynes, Miss Sarah Lamson (Bowker.) These were organized into a church under the name of The First Congregational Church in East Boston. The organization bore this name until July, of '37, when it was changed to Maverick Church, which it has borne for nearly half a century.

“The East Boston Company had offered to give a lot of land for a church building to the first society that would erect an edifice ; and in pursuance of this promise, deeded to this society the land on which the present Universalist Church now stands in Central Square. This lot was afterwards changed for another on Maverick street, where the first church edifice was subsequently built, which building is still standing and at present occupied for a Roman Catholic school.

“A temporary vestry was erected during June and July of 1836. The first sermon in it was preached by Prof. Wood of Andover, who after preaching officiated at the first communion service in the history of the Society.

“The Sabbath School specifically connected with the church was organized at this time. A Sabbath School had been organized previous to this but it was undenominational in name and character.

“Various ministers supplied the pulpit during the summer and autumn as they could be obtained.

“The Society began soon to contemplate the building of a church. Stock subscriptions were canvassed for, and enough was secured in the late autumn to warrant the commencement of an edifice in December. The work was carried forward as the season permitted and was completed in the following July.

“In April of 1837, at a church meeting, a call was extended to Rev. W. W. Newell of Brighton to become Pastor at a salary of $1,000 for the first year—with $100 annual increase for five years, providing the Society should increase so as to admit of it—with four weeks' vacation.

“The call was not formally accepted by Mr. Newell until the June following.

“A Council was called to meet on the 19th of July for the installation of the new Pastor and for the dedication of the new church edifice. This was a large Council for those days, sixteen churches by their delegates actually participating. The dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. G. W. Blagden; the installing prayer by Rev. W. M. Rogers; the sermon was preached by Rev. Hubbard Winslow.

“Thus on July 19, 1837, the little Society—after three years of preliminary labor, much prayer and many alternating hopes and fears—had come into the possession of a church edifice and had a regularly installed Pastor.

“The enterprise was still in its infancy, but it was a well-formed, promising child and would, with careful nurture and favoring Providences, come to maturity of power and influence.

“The first Deacon elected by the Church was Aaron Ordway; he at first declined the office but on the March following, having been again elected, he accepted the position. He held the office for only a few months; was re-elected again in March of '39 but declined to serve.

“It seems to have somewhat difficult in the early years of the church to secure men for this honored and useful office. Rev. Mr. Newell remained pastor of the church until July 21, 1841, when by his own request he was dismissed on account of ill-health. The church had increased in members and influence, making for so young a church quite a remarkable progress during his pastorate.

“The young church was now without a pastor until the Rev. Amos A. Phelps, having accepted the unanimous call of Church and Society, was installed in March of 1842.

“Mr. Phelps was a man of positive convictions, in reference to matters in both Church and State. He had before his call to this church been agent for the Boston City Missionary Society and accepted the call to Maverick Church subject to a semi-continuance of such relation for a time at least. Mr. Phelps remained with the church a little over three years, during which it grew in membership and influence; it seems to have kept pace in these regards with the steady growth of the community. Maverick Church was in these days a recognized religious force and made itself felt as a power in moulding public sentiment, and helpful in the direction of local and general charities at home and abroad.

“In 1845 Mr. Phelps requested that he might be relieved from the Pastorate, on account of inadequate health for the performance of its duties; and the relation was dissolved by a Council that met in June. It is stated that Mr. Phelps is the only one, of the 11 Pastors that the church has had, that is known to have deceased up to the present time.

“Before this time the Society had so increased in numbers and financial ability as to seriously consider the project of erecting a better and more commodious house of worship, and during this year, 1845, only nine years after the formation of the church, there was erected on the corner of Maverick Square what was doubtless for those days an unusually fine church edifice. This building, which is still standing in good condition, served the Church and Society until the erection of their present noble structure.

“Rev. Robert S. Hitchcock was called from New Bedford to succeed Mr. Phelps and was installed on the 18th Nov. 1846. Mr. Hitchcock’s pastorate continued until 1850, when after a time he was succeeded by Rev. Rufus W. Clark, of Portsmouth, N. H.

“This pastorate continued for about $5\frac{1}{2}$ years and was a time of unusual harmony and prosperity in all departments of the church. Mr. Clark secured early the respect and love of the Church and congregation alike. The Lord blessed the ministerial labors of Pastor and people; many were added to the church by profession of faith, the benevolent contributions were largely augmented and the Sunday School was very prosperous. During 1852—3 there was a gracious revival influence and a large number were admitted to the church on confession of faith. The records would seem to indicate that at no period in its history was the church in a more prosperous condition. Mr. Clark was at his own request dismissed April 8, 1857.

“The church was now without a pastor for something over a year, when Rev. Thos. N. Haskell, of Washington, D. C., was installed June 24, 1858. He remained until March 5, 1862, when a Council called for the purpose dissolved the relation.

“On March 18, 1863, Rev. Joel S. Bingham, of Westfield, became Pastor. His pastorate was one of the longest in the history of the church, continuing until Aug. 18, 1870, when he was dismissed at his own request. The records would indicate a very marked degree of financial prosperity in the church and society during these years; the offerings for the various benevolent societies reaching a higher amount than at previous times in the history of the church. In May of '69 over fifty at one time were received into the church upon profession of faith. When the beloved pastor resigned on account of the condition of his health imperatively demanding a change of climate, the resignation was accepted with extreme regret.

“Rev. D. W. Waldron was called to the church in April, 1871, and supplied it as pastor-elect until called to his present Providential position as city missionary in Boston in December of '72.

“In April, '73, Rev. John V. Hilton of Kalamazoo, Mich., was called to the pastorate. He was never regularly installed, but remained as Pastor until April, 1880. During this pastorate the present commodious and beautiful edifice was erected.

“The times proved most unfortunate for the consummation of such an enterprise. The church building was completed in the very midst of a commercial panic, the most disastrous in its prolonged effects of any in the history of our country. That the enterprise should culminate at such a time was beyond the power of human prescience to foresee. The best laid human schemes ‘gang aft a-gley.’ This saying of ‘Nature’s Poet’ is perhaps as often demonstrated in church enterprises as any other, and why should it not be? For there is even a greater opportunity, often, for its exemplification here than in private enterprises, on account of a wider distribution of responsibility and an almost necessary lack of a unit of power in the management.

“The next pastorate was the very brief one of the Rev. John H. Barrows, D. D., who came to our church from Lawrence. He spent but about a year with this church, when strong Providential indications called him to his present conspicuous field of work in the metropolis of the West.

“The whole church, at the time, looked upon his removal as an almost irreparable loss. Everything in connection with the begun pastorate was so promising and so prophetic of success—no one, however, could feel like casting a reflection on Dr. Barrows, he was so sincere, and so evidently followed what seemed the Divine guidance, that all sorrowfully and tearfully acquiesced in what appeared to be the will of God. The time was made the occasion of a masterful effort to pay the burdensome church debt—a more heroic effort was never made under like circumstances, for evidently the times were not propitious for such a movement; but the heroic element is very strong in this organization, and it was never demonstrated more fully than on that crucial day.

“Many of the most devout members of the church have come to trace the leadings of Divine Providence as clearly in this early removal of one of the most popular pastors that the church has ever had, as in any event in its singularly Providential history; for if he had not been about to leave, that supreme effort might not have been made, and the church at this epoch in its annals might and probably would not have been able to-day to celebrate its joyful deliverance from so great a bondage.

“Rev. J. E. Twitchell, D. D., was called to the church from Euclid avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 1, 1882, and though never regularly installed continued to serve as pastor until April, '85, when he accepted a call to Dwight Place Church in New Haven, Conn. The church parted with Dr. Twitchell with extreme regret, for his faithful labors were bringing forth early fruitage in all departments of church work.”

At the close of the address, the Pastor remarked “the time is far spent, but one thing I have noticed as I have passed through the records and which it would be well for us to think about; comparing the present with the past, it seems to me as I have spent days and far into the nights, that more careful and brotherly watching was used among the church members in the early days of the church, to see that they kept their Covenant Vows, and walked orderly and upright than in these later days.”

Anthem by the Choir, “Jerusalem, my glorious home.”

Rev. Asa Bullard, D. D., being introduced, spoke of his recollections of Sabbath School work as follows :

“I claim that most of the historical incidents that have been related, I have been acquainted with ; have known the ministers from the beginning, and some events in connection with this church before it was established. I was almost here when you were born ; at least I attended a service in 1835 before you had really become a church ; I am sort of god-father in that respect.

“My first visit was made to the Maverick Church in June, 1838, when you were two years old ; my next visit in February of the following year. I find in looking over the record I have visited this church sixteen times and given addresses to the people about forty times, and if you had had but one preaching service a day, my time of service would be very nearly a year. I see by this (pointing to record on the wall of length of time each minister has served) you have had an unusually large number of pastors, some of whose terms have been very short, but I do not see my name among them, for the reason there does not seem to be any room for it.” (Laughter.) “In regard to the Sabbath School work,” the speaker said, “I never shall forget Deacon Ordway, and at one time conducting service at his request, in his report at that time he stated there were in the school 7 teachers, 70 pupils and 120 volumes of library books ; some may think this was a small beginning, but to show the progress this church has made from year to year : in 1849 the records show there were 70 teachers and 345 scholars ; in 1861, the year of the War, there were reported 65 teachers, 511 scholars and 1000 volumes in the library. Deacon Ordway was always present and had great interest in the church ; he says one of the most popular services was when the pastor used to preach to the children, twice a year ; every Wednesday had a meeting and frequently on Saturday ; spoke of the influence of the pastors among the young, that it was not wise to spend so much time among the older members and neglect the children, that it was like trying to change the direction of the sturdy oak after it had become fixed and had withstood the storms and tempests of many years.

“In the summer of 1858 the speaker spent a season with Mr. Beecher at Matteawan, in the Fishkill Mountains; a terrible thunder storm came up which caused a change in the services, and Mr. Beecher addressing the people spoke on the subject of early conversion of children, and used as an illustration the attempt to move the big elm in the yard; that it would be necessary to cut the roots and the top and then only the trunk would be left; so when men are gathered into the church they have to cut those roots, and after all, there is only a great stump.

“I remember in 1839 one of the teachers of this School made a report that every Sabbath day she was in the habit of asking each scholar what interesting lesson they had learned from their library book, and each scholar took great interest in bringing in a good report to their teacher, and particular attention was called to the fact that seldom a scholar was absent. On one Sabbath a little girl in the class came in and going direct to the teacher, said with tears in her eyes, ‘I have come to Sunday School and not had my dinner. I left my dinner in great haste.’ I thought that was an indication of her love for the school, but there is another point of greater interest to me, and that is the importance of committing the lessons to memory perfectly and the references. I would thunder this to all Sunday Schools from one end of the country to the other, how necessary it is to commit the scriptures to memory.

“A good many years ago I was speaking on this subject and the importance of knowing every answer to all the questions, and that they should be given from the memory. I asked the daughter of the gentleman with whom I was staying if she was going to the lecture that evening; ‘No,’ she said, ‘I do not like him because he has such a way of making us commit the Sunday School lesson to memory.’ I think it a great mistake in our Sabbath Schools that we have given up memorizing the scriptures and laying up a portion of the bible in the memory. I doubt if one in a hundred commit scarcely anything to memory in the bible.

“Another fact interested me in connection with the early history of this Sunday School. In 1838 Deacon Ordway reported that he held the Sunday School service Monday instead of Sunday. He stated in his report that one day in October there were fireworks and firing of cannons in the neighborhood of the chapel, and while our hearts were filled with delight and joy on the occasion, yet the boys and girls kept their seats and attended to their lessons in the school; this was in 1838; I do not believe this would be the case in 1886. This is the training school in early life where the children are forming habits of benevolence, and receiving a direct influence from Sabbath to Sabbath. I think no one thing interests me more than forming of the habit of doing good, and I urge the importance of having some benevolent object for which to work. I suppose the reason many of our people do not give in our churches is because they are not trained to do so in early life. You know of the fact that the muscles that close the hand are stronger than those that open the hand, and the earlier that the child is taught to use the muscles which open the hand and keep them in exercise, the easier it will become, and so in giving money, the stronger muscles hold the money and the weaker ones give money.

“Many people do not give because their muscles are stiff, and I do not think the muscles which open the hand and heart in giving have been properly used in a majority of our Sunday Schools.

“I remember three families connected with the early history of this church, Wellington, Whiton and Bailey; the care with which they trained their children in the ways of benevolence and the influence it had upon those around them, and every year an offering was made to the Massachusetts Sunday School Society from the three families; every January the children sending in their contributions from 25 cents to $1.00, and after one of the children died, the mother kept up the contribution of $1.00 as a memorial to the departed one.

“I have lost the run of most of them, but I remember two members in one family; one became the Mayor of Cambridge where I reside, another an earnest minister in Connecticut. Won't you, friends, train your children early to give, to do good, to give themselves early to the Saviour? In closing, we read in the early days of this church of those who were ready to give, not little bits of time, but would give right out of their best time and give their best thought for the welfare of the Church and Sunday School, and so would urge you to give of your best time and God will bless you now and will continue to bless you in the days to come.”

Closing prayer by Rev. L. B. Bates, Pastor of the Meridian St. Methodist Church, as follows:—“Heavenly Father, not unto us, not unto us, but unto Thy name be the glory and the praise for the marvelous work Thou hast wrought in the fifty years come and gone with this people; all glory to the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Fifty years ago a few of the good men and women living here planted this church, and we praise Thy name that down through the generation that has come and gone, they have kept the faith and delivered to the saints and thy presence has been with us. We give Thee the praise that in the days that are past, hundreds of children while young have been cleansed from their sins and made acquainted with the Lord Jesus Christ; many have gone home, many are found to-day in other churches, in other cities, and some in other lands over the waters, and an army yet remain. Let thy blessing be multiplied upon the Pastor, superintendents, deacons, all the officers and members of this church, this day and in the days to come; grant Thy special blessing upon these services to-day, guide in all the exercises, and to the Great Head of the Church be all the glory, and at last may we all join the Church Triumphant, through Christ our Lord, amen.”

Hymn.

May the grace of God our Saviour,
And the Father's boundless love,

With the Holy Spirit's favor,
Rest upon us from above.

Thus may we abide in union
With each other and the Lord,
And possess, in sweet communion,
Joys which earth cannot afford.

Mr. Albert Bowker made remarks relative to James M. Whiton, Mr. Wellington and others, and the noble men they had become and the high positions in the esteem of their fellow men they hold to-day.

Benediction by Rev. Elijah Horr, D.D.
(Afternoon Exercises closed at 4.35.)

Reception in Parlors below immediately following.

Collation at 5.30 at which about 500 were present.

Pastor of church made address of welcome as follows:

"It is hardly necessary for me to say that you are all welcome to our family gathering, and it is with joy that we welcome so many of the absent children who have come home; we wish to give you a hearty greeting; we welcome the strangers here, they are not strangers, but are united with the ties of Christian fellowship; you are more than welcome, and while you are with us, we desire that you shall feel at home in this our family gathering. This church is a sort of a god-father to the other evangelical churches on this island."

In closing remarks the speaker said there was one little matter connected with the East Boston Ministers' Association in the past that was deferred to another time, and that Rev. Mr. Bates would attend to it now.

In reply, Rev. Mr. Bates said: "It has been the custom among the ministers of later years when one of the number retires from this island for a better or worse place to present him with a cane (holding up cane.) This cane was made from the wood of the first pulpit ever made or used on this island. I do not know but what it is 150 years old. It was a piece of the panel of the old pulpit and is as light as a feather. I take great pleasure in presenting this cane to Dr.

Twitchell, as he has never been properly dismissed before; he is at full liberty to use this cane for any purpose he pleases, except to cane Methodist ministers away from Congregational churches (applause.)

Dr. J. E. Twitchell responded as follows:

“Mr. President and Bishop of this Meeting, I am very happy to be dismissed from this Association in the regular apostolic way. I wish to express my thanks for this cane, and will use no cane to drive away Methodist ministers from Congregational churches.”

Mr. B. F. Butler, representing Church Committee, stated: “We have three former pastors present, Rev. Rufus W. Clark, Rev. D. W. Waldron and Rev. J. E. Twitchell, D. D. Rev. Rufus W. Clark will ask the blessing.

(Rev. Rufus W. Clark.) “I wish to express my gratitude for the privilege of being with the people of Maverick Church to-day, with this noble family of Christian workers and children of God; it fills my heart with joy; for I am one that believes in the happiness of the world when we are on the Lord’s side; the Lord is our strength and Redeemer; I believe in the fellowship of the saints.

“How many privileges I had in the Maverick Church in the years I was with you; I did not expect to find such a multitude here to-day; I have been rather impressed by seeing so many who remembered me when I was here as your pastor. One lady came to me to-day and said, ‘Dr. Clark, don’t you know me?’ When I left here the lady was not more than 10 years old, now she is 40, and we must expect some changes in that time. Many faces that I look for are absent, and though we are not permitted to meet again on earth, I trust we shall meet in Heaven.”

Blessing by Dr. Clark.

“Almighty Father, we thank Thee, we recognize Thy goodness in these gifts, but we rejoice more in the manifestation of Thy love than in the gift itself. We recognize Thy loving care, and now let Thy blessing rest upon us as we receive these gifts of Thy love, and after we are done serving Thee on earth, receive us where joys are unspeakable and full of glory, and all this we ask in the name of the Blessed Redeemer, Amen."

EVENING SERVICE AT 8.15 O'CLOCK.

Organ Voluntary.

Anthem.

Invocation by Rev. Mr. Bodge as follows :

"Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we come to bow before Thee this evening and thank Thee for all the blessed influences of this day ; wilt Thou consecrate this evening's worship to the upbuilding of thy cause and kingdom. Wilt Thou come to the hearts of this people, and as Thou hast hown them Thyself and made bare Thine arm before them in the days that are past, we pray that Thou wilt still be with them to up-lift, to guide, to lead them ; and may this church be blest with a new spiritual life, and may all consecrate themselves anew as they remember the hallowed associations of the past, in this evening's worship ; as they go back over the years that have gone, oh, the tenderness that springs from Christian enterprises, the high hopes, the long suffering, may all be gathered up to-night and hallow this island ; wilt Thou be present by Thine invisible angel to-night, and bless the words that are spoken, the prayers that are uttered ; sanctify and hallow this Maverick Church, and may their light so shine out in this community and before the world, that all seeing their good works may glorify Thee ; our Father in Heaven, be with us, guide us, bless us, and may there be with all congregations good will to men, and the kindly fellowship that here abounds. May we heed the lesson of church fellowship, that Divine dispensation that cometh from Thee. Our Father in Heaven, glorify Thyself before us, glorify Thyself in all the earth, and may Thy children be gathered together and may Thy true word be spoken unto them and go forth, conquering and to conquer through all the land, and may we all bow before Thee humbly, asking Thy guidance each day ; and unto Thy great name as disciples in the spirit of Christ, we would ascribe everlasting praises now, and evermore. Amen."

Responsive Scripture reading from the Psalter, 84th Psalm, "How amiable are Thy tabernacles," etc.

Prayer by Rev. J. E. Twitchell, D. D.

"Blessed God, our Father, we would take up these words of Thine ancient servant and make them our words; we rejoice in the privilege of again entering Thy courts and lifting our eyes and hearts unto Thee, the living and everlasting God; we praise Thee that Thou dost give us a place among Thy people, that Thou hast led us in the past so plainly and tenderly; not in ways always of our own choosing but always in the best ways; we thank Thee that Thou hast gone before us and marked out the path for us, and Thou hast displayed Thyself in the presence of this people, going before them and leading them on, and causing them to rejoice so frequently in Thy blessed presence; our Father, this evening, as we stand before Thee, we thank Thee for the congratulations of the hour; may we remember that no good thing cometh save by Thine appointment, the hearts we have learned to love in the homes we have entered, the holy fellowship of the church of Jesus Christ, and these gracious, glorious helps of the House of God; our hearts praise Thee to-night for what Thou art in Thyself, for what Thou, oh Christ, art to us, Thy trusting children, and for what Thou hast done for us in these blessed fellowships centering in the House of God, and from which have grown such gracious influences for the shelter and advance of our lives. May we see Thy hand to-night as never before, and while songs are in our hearts and on our lips, yet all these influences come to us, because Jesus our Lord bought them with His blood; for the Church of Christ we thank Thee, for the organization of this church so many years ago, and for all who have given of themselves for this church; we thank Thee for the memories that come to us to-night, and believe that the spirits of the departed who have been taken to the Higher Home, can look upon us and see the position into which this church has been lifted; we thank Thee for the noble deeds done here, for the self-sacrifices and self-forgetfulness through which God has granted his blessing; make us grateful to-night that the pledges are lifted, the burden taken from off the back of this church, and the Blessed Christ calls us unto a larger service which shall be felt far and wide through this community.

“Unto Thee, oh Lord, we commend this beloved people, from the eldest to the youngest, those which were in the front rank of this church at the beginning, and those entering in the earlier years of life; oh Father, put Thine hand in benediction on the heads of each one of these who are endeavoring to advance Thy cause, and those who are entering the larger spheres of usefulness; bless the Pastor of this people; wilt Thou forgive our sins; we are kept humble by our sins; may we be clothed with righteousness from above, and when all these meetings have finally closed and the end has come, may we come together in the Kingdom of our Lord; grant this our prayer and do us good, keep us and finally receive us to Thyself; these favors we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.”

(By the Choir.) “The Lord is my Shepherd, no want shall I know.”

(By Choir and Congregation.) Hymn.

Oh, where are kings and empires now,
Of old that went and came?
But, Lord, thy Church is praying yet,
A thousand years the same.

We mark her goodly battlements,
And her foundations strong;
We hear within the soldiers' voice
Of her unending song.

For not like kingdoms of the world,
Thy holy Church, O God!
Though earthquake shocks are threatening her
And tempests are abroad;—

Unshaken as eternal hills
Immovable she stands,
A mountain that shall fill the earth,
A house not made by hands.

Rev. Dr. Horr :

“Among the many pastors who have served this people ably and well in the past, none are more welcome here to-day than Rev. Dr. Clark; none have more occasion to be joyful in the glad reunion of this people, many of whom were children during his pastorate, who are now tireless workers among us, than Rev. Rufus W. Clark.”

Rev. Rufus W. Clark, D. D.:

“I am sure I can gratefully respond to the kind words of your Pastor. This is a day full of wonder to me as well as joy. I supposed, coming back to East Boston after an absence of about 30 years, I should find a few old friends, but here is a crowd of faces of those who were children when I was here, and I have heard testimony after testimony of the growth of the precious seed that I was permitted to plant in their young hearts. Some reference was made to the Children's Meetings, where they received conviction of sin and hope of Christ, and one gave me the very text that more than 30 years ago led her to Christ, but not unto us, not unto us, but unto Thy name is the glory; and I thank God for the privilege of having preached the gospel for over fifty years and living long enough to see some of the fruit, not of my work at all, for no one can have a more humble view of himself than I have. Christ says “I am the vine and ye are the branches, without Me ye can do nothing,” but God gives; and Christ gives us the strength, and means, and joy, and then when the work is done gives us a crown, as if we had done the work ourselves; so we are to be rewarded according to our work. I thank God I have been permitted to survey such a spiritual harvest for Jesus in this Maverick Church. I have been pastor of other churches for many years and had great blessings and one revival that brought about one thousand to Christ, but the years spent here were so marked with harmony and good will and love, that when your Pastor spoke of this company as a family circle, I felt it was a family circle in the true sense of the word.

“It is a blessed privilege, dear friends, to give to another a tract, or a bible, or a testament, or speak to an impenitent sinner upon the subject of his soul’s salvation, to bring to them the Water of Life; but those who founded this church dug an artesian well for the Waters of Salvation 50 years ago, from which has been flowing refreshing streams over this Island, this City, to the distant Nations, and as we have heard in the history of this church from your pastor this afternoon, and he will testify with me the whole history of this church cannot be written, how can you gather up the fruit, the spiritual influences, and the souls brought to Christ. I am sure I have not forgotten the precious revelations that attended my ministry here; who can gather them up and present them in the aggregate; they cannot be presented here, they are flowing from the streams of God, and the blessed influences rest upon those who founded this church, and I would say that nothing pays like serving God, and the prizes and ambition of this world are as nothing compared to devoted service rendered Jesus Christ in the founding of a church. My ministry extended over a period of about six years in this church, and at my coming I was received cordially by all the families, who manifested their delight at receiving their new pastor. I never felt wearied by my labors in East Boston. I delighted in the work, and the six years I was here I found a response on the part of the people which was a joy to my heart, and now after having preached all these years, I rejoice in it more than ever. I never had such privileges in my life, and I would that I could stir one young man here to give himself to the ministry; it is acceptable to God and full of glory.

“My ministry was marked first for the dear children. I almost heard Him say, ‘suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the kingdom of heaven.’

“I remember the work of the Maternal Association referred to as blest of God in the conversion of the children.

“As intimated before, I want to impress this that God blesses early conversion of children. My own experience for a great many years is that a majority of the young are brought to Christ mainly by personal conversation, and two instances out of three, perhaps five out of six. My own wife in Heaven, and these, our six children, united with the church between ten and seventeen years of age; the result is four of my sons are preachers of the gospel. A little daughter at six years of age was in the habit of going with her mother to the Communion. At one time the little girl asked her mother what they were doing with the bread and wine; the mother said they were celebrating their love for Jesus; the little girl said, ‘Can’t I have bread and wine, mother?’ ‘No,’ said the mother, ‘it would not be proper for you.’ The little girl burst into tears and said, ‘You know I love Jesus.’ And if Jesus had been there, He would have said, ‘Come and celebrate my Supper.’ This church has been baptised with blessings upon the children, and the labors of the young men have been a blessing to this church. At one time there was delivered a course of lectures after the two services of the Sabbath day; the people came in crowds, a great many from the city proper; and I have been surprised to find how many there are who will point to those lectures as the cause of their conversion; they were published; every volume was attended with conversions.

“If I were asked to point out the sources from which sprang this successful and wonderful work, I would say ‘the prayers of the women who used to meet week after week to pray for the Maverick Church and Sabbath School. The last meeting of the ladies’ organization before our going from the city, was a union meeting held in the Chapel, and it was one of the most marvelous meetings; the spirit of God was there, and if you want to ask for the power which has carried this church through the perilous days that have gone, it was the prayers of the good women of this church.

“My wife proved to her bible class a great blessing; she prayed and wrote letters and received the kindest testimonies in regard to her work. She has now gone to Heaven.

“In coming here to celebrate your 50th anniversary, I represent a church 260 years old. For 260 years the Waters of Salvation have been flowing from that fountain in their purity; the doctrines of the Christian faith have not been varied through all the generations that have come and gone, and we think we can surely see in it the Omnipotence of God.

“Among those who are gone, I remember with pleasure Deacon Lovejoy, a man of marvelous financial ability, executive force and power of organization. He loved the Maverick Church, he was wise in all its counsels; he was regular in attendance, and every Sabbath took an interest in all the departments of the church, and it was my privilege as I lived opposite him to often see him and talk over the interests of the church. He raised a large family and I am glad to know representatives of the family are in the church to-day, well known and active, and one is an officer of and giving his time and influence for the best welfare of this church.

“Another who has passed away is Deacon Robbins. He carried his Christianity in his very manner and acts; I never met him but with a smile on his face, joyful, calm in manner, willing to do anything for Christ; and his life was an illustration of true living Christianity and he was a power in this church. Mrs. Robbins was also a devoted Christian; she knew home Christianity, was earnest in her prayers and loved the cause of Christ.

“Deacon Demond, regular in every service and loyal to the church. I know of a church where the second service would be as full of people as at the morning; this was in this church.

“As an indication of God’s blessing, when I came it was only one-third filled, I thought a small congregation, but it increased, and the increase may be indicated by the increase of the salary; after being here three months the salary was increased; after six months it was increased; not from any hint from me, for I never hinted salary to any church. I know it was not my preaching, but the power of Jesus in using this instrument.

“There is another name known in Heaven, Paul Curtis; a man of few words, but full of Christian spirit, who made home his delight; he was one who walked with Jesus, and a man to respect and love. Then there was Mr. Stockwell, reporter on the Boston Journal, afterwards editor, lived as a noble Christian, made large contributions. He reported all my lectures for young men; through his influence they were largely successful and secured a sale of 1,000 copies the first four days. I come now to a Christian woman who was well known over this Island by the poor of this city and even beyond. I refer to Miss Gibbs, devoted missionary, who had established the Union Chapel in a distant part of this Island.

“I never came in contact with Miss Gibbs without feeling here is a soul on fire for Jesus and souls. Some 20 years before she died, she was connected with the Freedmen as nurse. Here is an illustration of the power of prayer:

“A telegram was sent to East Boston that she was sick; the news came on Saturday that she was near to death. I happened to be at Mr. Bowker’s at the time; and we had a season of prayer, and had notices sent to all the churches in East Boston and said ‘pray for the recovery of that good woman.’ Sunday morning the prayers were offered; at five o’clock they found a marvelous change had taken place; physicians could not account for it and she recovered speedily and came here to labor for Christ.

“The Bible says ‘the prayer of faith shall save the sick.’ Is that the Faith Cure? Yes, as much as anything else, but this doctrine is not to be abused. I recollect a short time ago I heard a Doctor of Divinity saying everything against the Faith Cure; why, because some people are superstitious in their belief to an extravagant degree; and some may try to discourage me, but still I shall take Christ’s words here in the Bible, ‘The prayer of faith shall save the sick.’ I attended a meeting in the western part of New York some time ago, and coming from the meeting a man asked me if I had been up to that meeting of fanatics. I said 'Yes.' 'Are you going back?' 'Yes,' said I. 'That is very peculiar,' he said. I replied, 'If Christ says I will do for you what ye will ask, I believe it. I believe just what He says. If He says I will come in the clouds of Heaven, I believe that is just the way He will come.' God helps the Maverick Church.

"God can do in the future as he has in the past. All God's word is inspired from Genesis to Revelations.

"I will refer to another Christian woman. Mrs. B. F. Butler had a fine experience, she was a faithful wife, daughter, mother, also a faithful servant of Christ in the church she was so glad of.

"I could gladly mention others who loved this church, who prayed for and worked for its success.

"We all rejoice that there are two surviving members of the founders of this church, Mr. B. F. Butler and Mrs. Bowker.

"I will not take time to state their devotion to this church for 50 years—one earnest in labor for this church, his desire to extend the Maverick Church, glad to do and glad to give liberally to this church. The other, one of the founders of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, connected with the American Board. She has been President of the Woman's Board for 18 years and collected in money the sum of $1,300,000.00. I tried this morning to get at the details of that work from this faithful Christian woman and President, but she did not care to give it, nor wish me to say anything about it. I will not mention her name (applause).

"There is a power which makes the Maverick Church the church of the world in this Island of East Boston; it is nearer the sun than the city proper, and so we use the sun light here first and they take what is left; and so the spiritual life has come here first, and from this place been extended over the world, and to the farther islands of the earth, and the influence of the prayer meetings of this church have been and are felt far and wide. Now, dear friends, there is a power here somewhere.

“In London at one of Moody’s meetings on a rainy night, about three thousand persons arose and testified to their love for Jesus.

“There was a power working among those people, and there’s a power somewhere in this church. You are now pressing on toward the future; you start on another 50 years; you start with a minister much younger than I and fully qualified for his work, and I think you will hold up his hands, and I want you to assist him in the congregation, strengthening the congregation, be of one spirit and that of union and harmony of desire and God will give his blessing in the future as in the past if you ask and work for it.

“This day will last in memory and you will not forget me entirely. I do not know that we will meet again here, but we will meet on the shining shore; we will meet the dear officers of the church to whom I have referred, and who are now looking down on this scene and rejoicing; all these we will meet and a multitude that no man can number, clothed with robes of righteousness and with crowns of rejoicing on their heads, and we will ascribe the blessing and honor and power unto Him that sitteth on the Throne, and the Lamb, forever and ever, Amen.”

Address by Rev. D. W. Waldron:

“I notice you have conferred a Degree upon me, which reminds me of the story of the boy who asked why some ministers have the title of D. D. attached to their names while others do not, and the reply was 'to make them equal to their brothers,' and I suppose this is the reason the D. D. has been added to my name. Another reply given by some one else, it was a change (?) of theology in the doctrine, and I am rather hoping this is the reason I have never received the Degree before. I do not believe but what you are well aware for these 15 years I have contended for the faith once delivered to the saints. I came among you in the year 1871 and I think it was in the month of June. I had been located in East Weymouth for more than five years, and one day a friend said I was wanted to come to East Boston the next Sunday. I came and after that was invited again and replied I could not come as a candidate, but later was told by a friend I must come to East Boston next Sunday. The result was a call, and after meetings were held with the committee, I told them I would come and stay six months, but I stayed a year and a half, when another door opened to larger usefulness and I left here I suppose because I wanted a larger field, and ever since then I have had all the field I wanted, I can assure you (applause). I only want to take time to-night to say, myself and family received from you the tenderest consideration during those 18 months; no one would have asked heartier co-operation and sympathy than I received from you. There was no lack of co-operation in any manner and no lack of money to carry forward Christian work. Among others, Luther Wright loved this Sabbath School and worked for its interest and spiritual welfare.

"I remember a little incident connected with a Sunday School concert when the Monument of Truth was raised.

"At the base was put a block representing the solid granite, and upon the base a block representing Faith, and above that others on which were written Temperance and Charity, and over all was put a dove and there was a passage of Scripture, 'the Spirit of God descending like a dove,' etc. One little child told her mother all about it, the solid rock, what was on the rock, and above all, she said, 'they put a hen.'

I remembered in my experience I must be very careful with the Sunday School and as pastor of the church to give such instructions that the people would understand what I was talking about.

“Under the present condition of affairs here at this time you are entirely equipped for work, and your minister we believe to be the right man in the right place. I believe a glorious future opens before you as you are now entering upon this second half century. At the time when ancient Israel was faltering and discouraged, Moses was sent to their deliverance and commanded them to arise and go forward; so with this people burdened with a note of over $40,000 which has been paid during these eleven years, (I have read it here this afternoon); and now remembering what is behind, you rejoice to arise and go forward in the glorious work of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. May God grant this may be so and in the future perennial food to many; and this church and this minister shall be blest, the everlasting rock shall be above their heads, and in their hearts shall be planted glory and blessings immortal. Amen.”

Address by Rev. J. E. Twitchell, D. D.:

“I am sure it is quite impossible for me to enter fully into the feelings of the Maverick Church and Society on this occasion, but certainly I will assume to myself a joy with your joy equal to any of you to-night, and it was through difficulties I came here to express this joy of my heart. I seem to have been defeated in various plans. I was intending to come on Monday evening, but a member of my family was taken suddenly ill, and therefore was not able to come until this morning.

“I am glad to be here. My first visit to this church comes back to me. I recollect I was piloted up the back stair case by a brother of this society. We had considerable difficulty in finding the way to the pulpit. At the time I came here I had three invitations from other churches to settle with them. What influenced me to come, I was taken with the building. This is certainly one of the most delightful audience rooms.

I tell my people in New Haven if they only had the Maverick Church building I should be supremely glad. It has cost many thousands and at large sacrifices, but for the money expended it has not an equal in the city of Boston, and I believe the Maverick Church building with its appliances and facilities for Christian work is not surpassed if equalled by the Old South or any church building in this city.

“I looked over this island and said there is work to be done here for Jesus Christ. I soon discovered a man whose name I had heard before; I do not believe it was the Dutch Gap man, or the man of New Orleans fame, and am quite confident is not like the letter X, an unknown quantity. He is another man although his name is B. F. Butler, one of the founders of this church, willing to sacrifice for it and earnest for the spiritual growth of this Maverick Church.

“I was here two and three-quarters years, and I can say I am glad I came here to this church. I find myself sometimes talking to my people about the Maverick Church, and I find it is a custom left to talk about this church, when I should be talking about the Dwight Place Church; these altogether were very happy years.

“I cannot say about them as Dr. Clark has said, but they were pleasant years, and not without a blessing upon them; our hearts were as one here and sympathies were common. We rejoiced in the presence of the dear Saviour, but I never can tell you how I longed for some grown men to come into the kingdom and express their faith in Jesus Christ. Some one has said the women of this church are the best men in the world. With all the power of these Christian women, they need the men, and this much I will say to such as are standing out, and building on this side of the grave, to get ready by the influences of the Divine Spirit, take that step and range themselves along the side of those Christians who thirty, forty, fifty years have been working for the Lord God of Sabbaoth.

“I do not believe there is a church in this city or vicinity that equals this in its power for good; the blessing of the Lord has been marvelous. Dr. Clark has said there's a wonderful power about this church somewhere ; it has been demonstrated over and over again and passed into history. At one time the debt of this church was about $60,000, and when I was here about $13,000, and now this has all been wiped out ; the last dollar has been paid, and it is a time for joy, a time for congratulations ; and allow me to say there is not a man who rejoices with you and for you any more than he who speaks to you at this moment ; and I thank God, and bless His holy name for the future which I believe to be opening prophetically before you. It is usually a time of spiritual upbuilding when these material things press hard upon us.

“There is not one church in a thousand organized on the face of this green earth that has a woman in it like Miss Gibbs ; and she is sitting to-night in the joy and thanksgiving that wells up from our hearts, answering her prayers in behalf of that for which she gave her love, her life, her all.

“Dear Brother, (turning to Dr. Horr) you came here under different conditions from what I came. You did not rent a house and get sold out in thirty days, and hunt tenements for a home ; that experience was not yours. This brother misses all these things. (Applause.)

“I must not detain you. I extend my congratulations for this fiftieth anniversary ; my heart is full of joy. I love every man and woman in this church of Jesus Christ ; and I pray that you may now enter upon a career which shall open the pathway to eternal life all beautiful and glorious ; your children and children's children and all who will come, and may God bless every one of you and gather us all together in the Kingdom of God when we shall talk these scenes over again sitting on the banks of the River of Life and praise God evermore.”

Rev. Dr. Horr :

“Some of the dear ones cannot help shedding tears of joy ; and among the things more than anything else that causes our eyes to fill with tears of joy is the fact that has been alluded to several times, that we gather here in a House of God to-night upon which there is no mortgage, or debt; a mortgage on a House of God is a death-hand. I have here (holding up the paid note) in that bit of paper, the cancelled note that takes away the claim of any men to this House of God (applause). I am a young pastor in this church and yet I need not say, as it goes without saying, that I have already learned to love this people. I could not help it if I would, and would not if I could. Two months is not a long pastorate, but to-night, standing here in this pulpit as the representative of this dear people, and having back of me these dear men who have labored among this flock, I want to say we have no drag anchor.

“Dr. Twitchell has alluded to the fact that this terrible anchor was holding back the growth of the church. This note of $40,000 has been paid with an amount of interest which I shall not tell you, but some approximation within the past eleven years.

“I suppose this house cost as it stands at least $85,000 and it is well worth it. I do not think my brother who has spoken has placed any too high an estimate upon this temple of our God; it is lovely in its simplicity and its adaptability. This House of God is worth all its cost, but the $85,000 which has been expended here and put into this house does not represent by any means that which this people have raised by their sacrifices. I want the dear people to know approximately as some of us already know that which has been expended upon God’s altar, by the men and women of this church, and will ask Deacon Dimick to come forward and give us the amount of interest money paid.”

Report by Dea. F. E. Dimick :

“I did not know I might be called upon for facts until I got possession of this paper, but out of simple curiosity I turned over to the back of the note, and with pencil and paper found that since 1875, by way of interest there has been paid on that note of $40,000 the sum of $18,230.76. This of course does not represent just the amount that has been paid in interest on this building debt, and out of simple curiosity at another time, just before giving up the office of Treasurer, a little over a year ago, I took the Treasurer's book, figured up the amount that had been paid by the Society and found it to be in the neighborhood of $23,000."

Dr. Horr :

"This shows, friends, what the dear people have done and now this church is clear of all indebtedness; and now, remembering all this, let us sing as we never sung, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Doxology sung by Choir and Congregation. (Standing.)

Dr. Horr :

"As the greater portion of this people will not be here fifty years hence, we ask that you give us your time to-night."

Address by Rev. Isaac P. Langworthy, D. D. :

"I understand from the programme I am here to extend the friends congratulations. I want first to congratulate you, the members of this church, on the very narrow escape you had in your early history. After the dismissal of your first pastor in 1841, when I was a young man without a pastorate, I was invited to come here and preach; but by a little misunderstanding the Sabbath I was to preach Dr. Clark was engaged to preach to you and I did not come until after I had received a call. If I had come I might possibly have captivated you and you might have had another man to have filled Mr. Newell's place, and I extend congratulations on your marvelous escape. Dear friends, we owe thanksgiving to Almighty God that this debt has been paid, and will you allow me to say to you, men and women of this church, be sure and never let a cent of debt ever be on this church again; live on two meals a day if necessary, but never let another debt be upon your beautiful House of God. I doubt exceedingly if you can name another church in this Commonwealth that has been through the experiences of this church for the past 50 years. Look at the changes (pointing to roll of pastors on the wall). There have been enough to kill any church.

“I do not see how you have lived as long as you have, eleven in 50 years ; just think, you have stood it well. (Applause).

“I wish to congratulate you on your able, faithful, active, zealous, Christian women, and your present financial condition depends largely upon them, and what is true of the Christian women of this church is essentially true of almost every church, that the women make the best men in the church, and I respect them for it.

You take the work of that one association in the history of this church given to us by your Pastor this afternoon ; that spirit is a power given from on high, that made those women what they are by prayer and patient toil. With the spirit manifested by your two original members here to-night, Mr. Butler and Mrs. Bowker, with a liberal population, I would not hesitate to be pastor of a church with those two alone, with the material around it, as I believe that God would bless the work.

I think you will permit me to congratulate you on the choice of a pastor. I want to say to you, I know this man better than most of you, and perhaps better than any. Now what he can do, he is ready to do. Dear christian friends, don't kill him ; you can do it ; he is very willing to do all he is allowed to do ; you will sustain him, but do not run after him ; you will co-operate with him.

He is only one ; and you should not make him do all the work. You can help him in many ways ; by your presence at the services, having harmony of feeling and good will. I believe you have a glorious future before you ; you have heard about the house and it should be filled, and it is your work quite as much as your beloved pastor's.

Address by Rev. J. W. Wellman, D. D. :

“I am not going to speak to you about the prospective work of this church, but speak only of the reminiscences.

Going back fifty years, I have many recollections, and one in particular, when I was at Andover in my senior year ; I was invited to come down here and preach and the man who arranged for my coming was Deacon Lovejoy, whom Dr.

Clark has mentioned, and the first Sabbath I spent here stands out clearly in my memory.

“I was born in New Hampshire. I had seen little of Boston, and coming to Boston then was quite an important event in one’s life. I preached in the old church and I came down here with my heart going pit, pat. All Congregational churches in Boston were one to me. Deacon Lovejoy met me and took me to his home.

“I never shall forget that man ; he knew I was just entering the ministry, and was so kind to me ; after I finished the morning sermon he encouraged me ; and I remember perfectly well how I felt after the sermon in the afternoon, and when it was proposed to sing in the family, I could not sing a note ; I had got through two services in a church in Boston, and the memory was very pleasant.

“The only times I exchanged with pastors of this church was when I was at Newton ; but the memories that come from preaching for this church last summer are delightful and my heart is filled with joy to be here to-night. I had thought over some things I would say, but this afternoon when I learned what this church had been doing for its children, I felt it would be like carrying coals to New Castle, or bringing water to the Ocean.

“There were several things I had in my mind to say to the brethren in regard to the future, but you must excuse me from saying some of them now, but however, I will say:—

“First, I would give you the same advice which Joseph gave his dear brethren when they came down to Egypt the last time, and he commanded them to go and get their father and bring him down, and his last words to them as they left, were, ‘see that ye fall not out by the way.’ You have a grand set off from this Jubilee, and now see that ye fall not out by the way ; one of the sweetest lines in the scriptures, full of the tenderest wisdom, so I would say to you, be one in harmony, bind yourselves together and see that in the next 50 years ye fall not out by the way.”

“Second, have compassion on one another. Have you ever studied that word ‘compassion?’ It is something more than pity; you can go on feeling you have pity, go right by, but not with compassion; compassion is bearing the troubles of another, taking the sorrow and trouble of another on your own heart, but Christ took a great deal more than that; He took our sins and suffered for our sins on the cross, but before that he had self compassion that brought to him that very thing; cultivate sympathy, have it in your hearts one towards another, and let there be no one in this congregation at any time having any trouble, burden or sorrow but what you would be led to go and suffer with that person.

“Hardly anything more can bind together the hearts of the members of a church.

“Third, one thing more, I want you to keep your Pastor here as long as he will stay. In the next fifty years, long and successful pastorates is what this church needs. I will venture to say you will have this church carried on, but you want more than a three years’ limit; and, I would say ‘do the word,’ not be simply hearers of the word, and it will encourage the heart of your Pastor.

“I think you understand us ministers pretty well, and while you are studying us, we are studying you; but he will probably say just what you most need and he will preach for your benefit; watch him and just as soon as he gives you anything to do, do it.

“Be in harmony and ‘do the word’ and you will surely keep your Pastor. There is nothing that will so encourage his heart as to see that the Word of the Lord is received and blest by the people and his ministry here will be successful and will be blest.

“You can make anything of your minister you want. Get out of him all you can, and do the word.

“Fourth, begin at once and don’t wait until winter; begin at once as you enter upon the next fifty years, begin to-day; bring souls to Christ often. I remember years ago, Brother Phelps wrote ringing words and sent them over the country, on the importance of the work of Home Missions. He used considerable time and spent many dollars urging the importance of beginning right at home, and that is the way to be home missionaries and foreign missionaries; so I would say as you are looking about for work that you may do for the Master, pray for the Maverick Church; if you desire the good of the country, pray for Maverick Church; if you desire that souls may be saved in Boston, pray for the Maverick Church; if you have friends you desire to be blest, pray for the Maverick Church. Begin right here at home by bringing souls to Christ and do that right along and through the next 50 years, and lo! what a gathering in the Heavenly Garner there will be.

Address, Rev. A. H. Plumb, D. D :

“While I cannot speak to you as a former pastor, still I would say to you as Dr. Wellman has just said, be very careful and see that ye do not fall out by the way. Emerson says ‘hitch your wagon to a star’ and this wagon has been hitched to a star, and this church has had the gospel of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ preached these fifty years. A party was out at sea; and their boat was put in charge of a sailor who was given a star to sail by, but he soon lost his reckoning and said, ‘Cap’n give us another star, we have got by that one:’ (applause.)

“Dr. Clark has spoken of his church that has been sailing by that star 260 years, and do not think of altering their course just yet, so this church has been sailing by that Star during these fifty years; and that time is a pretty good test of the life of a church; people have been coming and going, moved away, forming other churches and you have had many changes, but if this is a funeral to-night, it is a pretty lively corpse. We have heard all about the past and are now looking to the future.

“You have heard of the young man who had been away and left the girl he loved; and on his return was very much moved on seeing her again, and said to her “it is just like visiting some old ruin to come back and see you. (applause)— the same old ruin we are visiting here to-night. There is a vast deal of life here.

“One thing as many of you know that has been contributing to the life of the churches around us is the fact that the young people get married, begin housekeeping and raise up little households, all of which is delightful, and when they get a little further along say we must look about us and see where to buy a house; then they go over to Newton or elsewhere and locate, and it is a matter of considerable concern with some pastors that the young people leave their own churches and go to others. A while ago in Roxbury we were losing the real flower of our church and they were going to the Episcopal Church. They had no business there; some of the names were connected with the Puritans which belonged to the old historical churches and they were going to live there right along, yet were going away to find a church home because they said they liked the form and the beauty of the Episcopal service. ‘Very English,’ you know.”

The following hymn was then sung:

When shall we meet again,
 Meet ne'er to sever?
 When will peace wreath her chain
 Round us forever?
 Our hearts will ne'er repose
 Safe from each blast that blows
 In this dark vale of woes;
 Never! no, never!

When shall love freely flow
 Pure as life's river?
 When shall friendship glow
 Changeless forever?
 Where joys celestial thrill,
 Where bliss each heart shall fill,
 And fears of parting chill.
 Never! no, never!

Up to that world of light
 Take us, dear Saviour!
 May we then all unite,

Happy forever!
Where kindred spirits dwell,
Then may our music swell
And time our joys dispel,
Never! no, never!

Soon shall we meet again,
Meet ne'er to sever;
Soon will peace wreath her chain
Round us forever.
Our hearts will then repose,
Secure from worldly woes,
Our songs of praise shall close,
Never! no, never!

And the Benediction was pronounced, thus ending these highly interesting and inspiring exercises.

Maverick Church Association.

When the New Church Enterprise was started in 1873, a number of the Maverick Church Ladies met in a parlor on Princeton St. to organize for work.

The regular officers were chosen and five sub-committees. Methods and ways of co-operation were discussed, and action taken that money should be raised by a series of entertainments through the year. The organization was named Maverick Church Association.

Memory recalls the time when one of the brethren, amused with our zeal (before a workman had commenced on the new edifice), asked the ladies, "Are you going to purchase the door-plate before you have a door?" but this band of ladies with forethought and foresight, knew that there would be immediate use for the money when raised. At the expiration of thirteen months, $2,000 was in our treasury, which was appropriated for the carpeting of the vestries, matting for vestry and hall, chairs for the middle vestry, and later, for the carpets for the audience room. Five young ladies banded together, and by a series of entertainments, earned about $250 which they expended in furniture for pulpit and ante-room; one young lady secured a subscription of $30 for the large Bible.

The Bible Class room in front was carpeted by a donation of $72.76 from Mrs. Albert Bowker, and furnished with chairs by a donation of $21 from Mrs. J. A. Brown.

In this room from 30 to 40 mothers met to study the Bible on Sunday with their beloved teacher, Mrs. Bowker, whose mind was stored with Biblical knowledge.

In a few weeks after coming into the new church the brethren presented the Association with a new object; they were aiming to provide for a mortgage on the church, and wished the ladies to assume the burden of $10,000, raising $1,000 annually. Before conferring with human wisdom, we looked up and sought God in prayer and His guidance, and there came such a sweet assurance that it was His will that we stay up the hands of the burdened disciples of Christ, our brothers.

After taking action in the affirmative, we fixed our eyes on the Star, who had lighted our pathway the previous year, even the Star of Bethlehem.

With hope bright, and faith, a trust, we marched on, sometimes with weary brain and tired body, but never, no, never discouraged; when we reached the first mile-stone we rested, opened our treasure-box and counted over $1,000 which we passed into the hands of the Finance Committee. The mutual feeling of gratitude led us to say, surely God has been with us and that to bless. Before we moved on we felt we needed our children's co-operation; it would be well to arouse in them a spirit of devotion and self-sacrifice; an invitation was given in the Sunday School, and we had a large gathering at the primary meeting. An enthusiastic spirit was manifested when the Rose Window in front was offered them as their special object of work; the cost was $450. Through juvenile fairs and children's parties the window was paid for before the expiration of the time. Their social events were not only a success in raising money, but there was inculcated a loyal spirit to a loyal cause; many a home could reveal the sacrifices children made, and the inspiration to mothers to stand on a higher plane. Not soon will the day be forgotten when the announcement was made to the children that the last payment had been made on the Window and the promise made them at the beginning, that its construction should be explained would be fulfilled at a later date.

This obligation being met, they voted not to disband but to assist the Association in paying the mortgage, and $234.50 were added—making $684.50 from the children.

All the ladies of our church and society according to the by-laws were members of Maverick Church Association, and from the breadth of the enterprise, we have felt free to call on all for co-operation. Some of our members who were willing workers with us at the beginning have passed from our sight, others having removed from the island.

At each successive mile-stone in our journey our treasury increased, and finally when the goal was reached and accounts taken, the report read thus: Maverick Church Association through the proceeds from 59 Entertainments, from pledges and donations, raised $12,000 in eleven years for the purposes above stated. In 1884 and 1885 $689.77 were raised and used for current expenses.

In September, 1884, it was learned that by the will of Miss Gibbs a legacy of $1500 had been bequeathed to be used as a nucleus for a parsonage fund. It became a necessity that a parsonage be procured, as our pastors had been subjected to great inconvenience. In 1883 a committee was chosen to attend to it and in 1886 a parsonage was purchased for $8060 at which time a payment of $2000 was made on the same and a pledge of $500 annually was made until the debt was cancelled.

In order to raise the money various devices have been brought forward. Although sometimes discouragements assailed us, yet Faith and Prayer predominated and we have gone forward and the assurance of the accomplishment of the work has become a certainty. When we bought the parsonage the following sums were donated: by Miss Gibbs, $1500; Dr. E. H. Spaulding, $200; Mr. Frank Wood, $100; Mrs. Annie Wood, $100; Mr. Luther A. Wright, $100. In 1894, Mrs. Paul Curtis, $100.

Money raised by entertainments and soliciting from Dec., 1873, to Jan., 1876, $3801.43.

QUESTIONS FOR SELF-EXAMINATION.

FROM CHURCH MANUAL OF 1844.

THE following questions are affectionately recommended to the prayerful and frequent perusal of each member of this church.

1. Are you in the practice of daily secret prayer?
2. Are you in the practice of daily family prayer?
3. Do you pray every day that God would bless his truth to the conviction and conversion of sinners?
4. Do you sincerely desire and pray for the salvation of the children and youth committed to your care?
5. Do you feel a readiness to forgive and pray for your enemies?
6. Do you pray daily for the pastor and officers of this church?
7. Do you do something every day to bring sinners to repentance? And are you in the daily practice of intercessory prayer for individuals of your acquaintance who are unconverted?
8. Do you daily, with a prayerful desire to improve in Christian knowledge, read the word of God? And do you understand and prize its doctrines and ordinances?
9. Do you keep the Sabbath holy? At what hour do you rise on its holy morning? How much of its time do you devote to business, worldly conversation, and dress? How much to your soul?
10. Do you make it a matter of conscience to attend, when not providentially prevented, all the meetings of the church for social worship?
11. Are you connected with the Sabbath School, or the Bible Classes? And do you do anything to sustain them, and induce others to attend?
12. Have you solemnly consecrated all you have, and are, to the Lord? Do you esteem it a privilege to deny yourself for Christ's sake? Is it a pleasure, rather than a grief, to be asked to contribute to advance his kingdom? Do you do conscientiously all you can, by your fiduciary ability to promote his kingdom?
13. What is the prevailing tenor of your conversation? Is it spiritual or worldly?
14. With whom do you associate as your intimate friends—with the believers or the unbelievers in experimental religion—with the prayerful or the prayerless—with the friends of Christ or his enemies? And of whom do you seek advice on questions of duty?
15. Are you at peace with all who love Christ?
16. Are you as tender of the reputation of a brother as of your own? Do you cultivate a spirit of tenderness towards the failings and imperfections of your brethren? What feelings do you cherish towards the Church? Do you speak just as you should do of its officers, its members, its proceedings, its covenant obligations? Had you rather suffer than needlessly be the occasion of injuring its influence and of causing reproach?
17. Do you keep your tongue from speaking evil of a brother; and if, in anything, you are displeased with him, do you follow the gospel rule, and tell him your feelings between him and yourself alone? Do you watch over and pray for your brethren and sisters, according to your covenant engagements? When you are not personally acquainted, do you seek out their acquaintance? When any are sick or afflicted, or in want, do you visit them, and fulfil the apostolic injunction, "Bear ye one another's burdens?" In fine, is all your intercourse with your fellow-disciples such that a stranger witnessing it would say, "See how these Christians love one another?"

18. Is your adoption of the gospel an intelligent one? Have you added to your faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge, so that you can defend the truth and put to silence ungodly men, meekly instructing those that oppose themselves?

19. Do you make it a matter of conscience never to visit any place of amusement, or social pleasure, on which you cannot first ask the divine blessing, or where it may be deemed intrusive to introduce the subject of religion?

20. Do you love God above everything else? Do you love his holy law? Do you hate sin, because it is enmity to God? Do you feel that God would be just in your eternal condemnation? Do you submit, unconditionally, to the government of God? Do you rely upon and confide in Jesus Christ alone for salvation? Do you give yourself away in the covenant of grace, as belonging entirely to God?

21. Have you examined your habits, and become sure that you do not retain any that are wrong? Have you searched out and subdued every evil propensity? Do you understand and fully appreciate all the responsibilities that rest upon you, in relation to a lost world? Have you settled the question, whether it be not your duty to go as a missionary among the heathen? Do you cherish and cultivate all the Christian graces, in due proportion?

22. Is your life such, in all respects, as to convince the world that you are a holy man? Does your hatred of your own sins daily increase? Does your delight in the duty of secret, social, and public worship, increase? Do your meditations of heaven become more sweet, refreshing, and constant?

23. Have you as clear views of the infinite purity of the divine law as you ought to have? Have you as clear and full a knowledge of all the obligations under which you are placed by divine grace, as you ought to have? Do you continually exercise all the fortitude, zeal, patience, self-denial, brotherly kindness, love to enemies, confidence in God, perseverance, temperance, and every other Christian virtue, in all circumstances, which you ought to exercise? Do you love God with all your heart, and your neighbor as yourself? Do you, every day, do all for the glory of God and the good of man which you ought to do?

Will you read these questions at least once every week, and pray God to search your heart in respect to the several points of experience and duty suggested by them?
