

TRUSTEES' MEETING

HEAR PROTESTS AGAINST ACCEPTANCE OF WORK ON MILFORD STREET

The Board of Trustees met in regular session at the City Hall at 8:10 p. m. All members present at roll call.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from G. W. Johnson expressing his opinion to the effect that it would be advisable for the trustees to notify citizens of the necessity of avoiding any waste in the use of water in view of the possibility of a dry season. On motion, the communication was read and ordered to be referred to the Manager of the Public Service Department.

An application was read from Wm. A. Burns for a permit to do street work by private contract on a portion of Third street west of Columbus Avenue; the work proposed to be done to consist in part of a four foot sidewalk. The City Engineer called the attention of the Board to the fact that it had been the policy of the Board to refuse such permits for the construction of sidewalks less than five feet in width. The President of the Board confirmed this statement, stating that such applications heretofore had been invariably refused. Mr. Burns spoke briefly on the subject, as did also the owner of the property, Mr. Osburn. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, action was deferred for one week.

Reports were received from the City Recorder and City Tax Collector, and on motion, ordered to be received and filed.

The bond of the Street Superintendent was presented to the Board, and on motion, referred to the City Attorney.

At 8:35 p. m., the hearing of the appeal against the acceptance of the work of improvement on a portion of Milford street, was taken up. The Clerk read a protest filed January 3d signed by Lillian J. Empey and eight other property owners. The attorney for the protestants addressed the Board and called upon Mr. Cronin for his testimony as to the work. Mrs. Empey, Mrs. Johnson and others testified of their personal observation of the work as it was in progress. The City Engineer made a statement in reference to the contract specifications, quality of rock, etc. The Chairman of the Board expressed his belief that the work would stand up satisfactorily and in the long run prove acceptable to the property owners. The discussion closed at 10:30 p. m., and Trustee Woodberry made a motion, which was seconded by Trustee Muhleman, that the appeal be denied. The motion was adopted.

Mr. W. B. Kirk filed a communication and addressed the Board in the (Continued on Page Four)

SAFE IN FRANCE

CABLE BRINGS NEWS OF DR. WILLISFORD'S SAFE ARRIVAL

Mrs. E. H. Willisford who now resides at Claremont was relieved Wednesday morning to receive a message from the Y. M. C. A. in New York City saying: "Edwin H. Willisford reported by cable safely arrived."

Dr. Willisford sailed from New York for France January 15 or 16. The news of his safe arrival at his destination is very welcome not only to his family but his many friends and parishioners in the Congregational church of Glendale. He will engage in Y. M. C. A. work among our boys in France.

ANOTHER AD ADVOCATE

Mrs. Jackson of 121 North Jackson street has joined the army of those who praise the Glendale Evening News as an effective advertising medium. An ad. of a furnished house to rent inserted in Thursday's paper brought an applicant who rented the place the same night, and Mrs. Jackson had to telephone the publishers to take out the ad.

OPEN HOUSE

The Elks will keep open house Saturday from 12 m. to 10 p. m. when all citizens will be invited to come and inspect the beautiful new Club House from garret to cellar. No special entertainment will be provided although the High School Orchestra has been asked to play in the evening. It is simply an informal reception to exhibit the Club House to all who care to look it over.

BRITISH RED CROSS

DUBLIN LETTER RECEIVED BY MRS. NANNO WOODS, PICTURES WHAT IT DOES

Mrs. Nanno Woods of this city has been persuaded to share with readers of this paper, the following interesting letter from her father, J. F. Keathing of Dublin, Ireland, telling of the personal care and cheer given wounded soldiers at the front by the Red Cross of Great Britain: Dublin, January 6, 1918.

My Dearest Nanno:—
Your brother Reggie has just returned from a visit to France. I think I told you he and another gentleman were going on a tour of inspection of the British Red Cross Hospitals and Stations in France, to guide him in his dealing with the supply of hospital requisites, of which (Hospital Supplies Depot, Ireland) he is honorary secretary. They had the government permit and introduction to the War authorities, so they went freely where they had to go. They were within 5 miles of the trenches, but saw nothing of the fighting. Of course their business was only with the Red Cross. They were entertained by Sir Arthur Lawley, the commissioner for the Red Cross in France by Sir Courtland Thomson, commissioner for Italy, and Captain Langridge—all three voluntary workers, as are all the doctors, etc. These three are men of wealth, and not only give their time and labor, but also their money, each spending some thousands of pounds a year of their own private income.

When a wounded soldier in one of the hospitals wants very badly to see his mother, father or wife, the doctor in charge is consulted, and if he certifies that in his opinion the patient's recovery would be facilitated by the presence of the relative, a letter is sent and the relatives are informed that if they go to a certain room in the War Office they will be sent out free of all cost. One case is typical of all.

A father and mother were asked to come out to see their son who "was not well." Arrived at the War Office they got a ticket—presenting that at the railway they were carried free—arrived in France Captain Langridge in his own automobile (he keeps two) meets them, gives them the glad hand. "Please step into the automobile, but put this sealskin coat on you madam, and you, sir, put on this big fur coat, you will find it cold driving." Brings them to a hotel, and after they have been well warmed and fed, they start in the auto for the hospital. Here they find their boy George in bed and getting on well. He, by the way, had persistently deceived the old couple, saying he was not near any fighting line and could (Continued on Page 4)

STAYS OF INDUCTION

Messrs. Lanterman and Muhleman were busy at Exemption Board headquarters this morning going over reports of the Medical Examining Board and recording their decisions, also reviewing cases which have been held up for one good cause or another which will soon require a ruling by the Board.

A new order just received from the office of the Brigadier General in Sacramento provides that in certain meritorious cases where great hardship would otherwise result, the District Board is permitted to grant a stay of induction in a case where an appeal is made to the President of the United States.

Mr. Lanterman stated that as a general thing no stay will be granted on an appeal to the President. The Board's decision in the only appeal so far made to the President, has been sustained.

Mrs. Jackson, chief clerk, is again at her post at headquarters.

SPAIN PRESENTS PROBLEM TO U. S.

SPANISH MERCHANT SHIPS HELD IN U. S. PORT PENDING OUTCOME OF DIPLOMATIC NEGOTIATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, February 1.—Spain loomed today as one of the most complex problems facing the United States and her allies for interfering with ships loaded with supplies for General Pershing in France.

Eight of Spain's largest merchant vessels have been refused bunker coal and are lying idle in New York harbor pending the outcome of diplomatic negotiations the nature of which have not yet been revealed.

Spain has been wobbling on the question of entering the war for some months, leaning heavily toward Germany. German officers are instructing a Spanish army of two million men. Moreover submarine bases and wireless stations operated by Germans are said to be permitted in Spain.

Observers declare Spain to be guided in her policy of entering the war by whoever seems most probable of being victorious. She wants to be on the winning side.

An embargo by the United States it is hinted might have the effect of sobering the Spaniards.

Railroad service into this city has been suspended, as the central station is inundated.

FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

MEMBERS OF TUESDAY CLUB TO BE HOSTESSES AT LOS ANGELES ART EXHIBIT

The following letter addressed to the Tuesday Afternoon Club of this city by Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, prominent club woman and chairman of the Los Angeles branch of the commission for Relief in Belgium, explains itself.

In response to this request the following members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club have been named to act as hostesses at the exhibition Monday afternoon next from 2 to 5 o'clock: Mesdames W. W. Ramsay, president of the club, Charles M. Turk, Percy de Gaston, Charles Brown, Charles Marlan, and Miss Viola Sayre. Any other ladies who are willing to serve will be very welcome additions to the list of hostesses, as it is desirable to have a large representation from the club. January 23, 1918.

"The Los Angeles Committee of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, comes before your club to ask your cooperation in an undertaking to which we are pledged. Mr. and Mrs. Moscow, art dealers of San Francisco, are to hold an exhibit of their collection of pictures, under our patronage, from Saturday, January 26, to Tuesday, February 5, inclusive, in the O. T. Johnson Building, at 4th and Broadway. We are assured by such a well-known art collector as Mr. Frederick Blanchard that this is the finest collection of paintings ever brought to Southern California, containing as it does several Old Masters, as well as distinguished examples of French, Russian and Italian work, and much modern American. Mr. and Mrs. Moscow offer us nine-tenths of the gate receipts, and a proportion on all sales. The exhibit will open every day at 10 a. m. and admission will be twenty-five cents.

"We are certain that you will agree with us that this is a time when our allies need our help as never before. The long continued sufferings of war have told on them heavily. The support of their morale is war work of the highest importance; indirectly, it is the support of our own men. From this exhibition of pictures we hope to realize enough profit to be of appreciable service on the other side.

"What we ask of your club is that you be responsible for one day of the exhibit, requesting your members to come on that day, and sending in the afternoon a committee of four to six ladies to act as hostesses jointly with the members of our committee. Will your club take January 30?

"Trusting to hear that you will work with us, believe me,
Sincerely yours,
ARABELLA RODMAN, Chairman.
2631 Orchard Ave.
(Mrs. Willoughby Rodman.)"

ASTONISHING ROBBERY

Will M. Wright, of 1224 Doran street suffered a serious loss Thursday night when his poultry yard was robbed of sixty well-bred fowls, Rhode Island Reds and Buff Minorcas, of pure strains. Their value was not less than $100 and the care and feed he has given them gave them an added worth to him.

They were in their pens at six o'clock in the evening. At seven the following morning they were missing. At some time in the interval they were taken. During the early evening there is constant passing at that point, Orange and Doran street, which would make such a theft very difficult, and Mr. Wright thinks they must have been taken after midnight, but the surprising feature of the case is the fact that there was no disturbance, no squawking. He is wondering if the thief was a hypnotist.

City police are working on the case but have no clew to the robbers and no theories to advance regarding the case.

CLUB DELEGATES

Delegates from the Tuesday Afternoon Club of this city who will attend the Federation convention at Santa Barbara Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week have been named as follows: Mrs. Jesse Joseph, Mrs. L. W. Meeker, and Mrs. Blake Franklin. Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, president of the club, will be there, and Mrs. Harry Duffield will go as her alternate, while Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, and Mrs. A. L. Weaver, district president and corresponding secretary, will of course be at the convention. Mrs. Jones presiding.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair to night and Saturday. Westerly winds.

FINE COMMENCEMENT

SPLENDID PROGRAM MARKS THE GRADUATION OF MID-YEAR CLASS OF UNION HIGH

A beautiful musical program and a splendid address by Rev. Frank G. Tyrrell, D. D., of Los Angeles, featured the commencement exercises for the mid-winter graduating class of Union High School whose class motto is "Over the Top."

Its class colors, blue and gold, featured the floral decoration of the exceedingly pretty stage setting, a woodland background with great jars of sunflowers and ferns at either side of the platform and a large bowl of violets and jonquils in the center. The pretty six girl graduates wore the customary white with large corsage bouquets of violets and jonquils.

The class made an impressive entry through the audience to the stage to the strains of the March from "Aida" by Verdi.

Two maids of honor preceded the class which was headed by its president, Harriet Ismah Williams, followed by the other members: Carolyn Roberta Foss, Lloyd Stanley Lanterman, Verne A. Nyman, Carrie Belle Stone, Marion Louise Storer, Lucy Leone Mildred Shattuck, Mary Augusta Wallis.

As before remarked, the musical program was exceedingly good. The orchestra's first numbers, the Overture to "Tancred" by Rossini, and the processionals: march above referred to, were played with great spirit and enthusiasm and with an intelligence in interpretation delightful to hear. Mrs. Gibson, who leads and trains these musicians has reason to be very proud of their work.

Rev. O. P. Ryder who gave the invocation made an eloquent plea for a blessing upon the life that now is and the life to come of the young graduates.

The piano numbers by Miss Mellicent Virden called forth a storm of applause. Such artistic work is seldom heard, and the audience was instantly responsive. The capricious "Scherzo" by Oscar Rasbach, was exquisitely played, but even more enjoyable was the dancing, tripping, twinkling "Dance of the Gnomes," light as a thistle-down, by Lizat. It was followed by a crash of applause to which Miss Virden graciously responded with the lovely, melodious "Love Dream," also by Lizat.

Mr. Tyrrell's address was ideal of its kind, a kaleidoscope of wit and wisdom the bright colors of which continually arranged themselves in a heaven pointing star. The precious qualities of "work" was the continually recurring motif. "The task, God bless the task," was his prayer for the boys and girls he was addressing. He chaffed the class a little about its motto saying: "We are given to speaking in terms of exaggeration. I have sinned myself in holding out promises too large for any reason." FOOD PRODUCERS

MR. KIRK ASKS AID FROM CITY FOR ORGANIZATION OF GARDENERS

W. B. Kirk, representing the local association known as Vacant Lot Food Producers appeared before the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale Thursday evening and asked aid and co-operation from the city. In part Mr. Kirk said:

"An organization of loyal, patriotic citizens who have many cares and duties of their own, with no ax to grind and only the common good at heart,—formed for the purpose of carrying out the Government's appeal to cultivate vacant lots and land, and thus help win the war by increasing the food supply. The best method of attaining this object in Glendale, whether through the Board of Trustees, the Chamber of Commerce or an independent organization of all of these, are matters for consideration and decision.

"Since the raising of a fund by public subscription and the plowing, seeding and cultivation of vacant lots by such an organization, could evidently not be legally done, the doing of these things as an assistance and incentive to individual citizens is clearly the limit of our powers. The president of this organization and others are making a systematic canvass of the city through women in each section, asking the following questions:

- "Name of lot owner,
 - "What is number of lot?
 - "Phone of owner of lot,
 - "What will you plant?
 - "What will you give?
 - "May we use your vacant lot?"
- Mr. Kirk's request was referred to a committee of the whole.

February 12 is children's night, "Slumberland" a beautiful fairy story. Don't miss it.

RED CROSS NOTES

The rush continues in the Knitting Department and much yarn has been given out this week Yesterday fifteen sweaters were turned in as the product of busy knitters of the Chapter. The yarn on hand is not fit for socks and the work of the Chapter is therefore confined to sweaters and helmets for the present.

Ladies of the Christian Church who took a consignment of garments from the Chapter, devoted Thursday to Red Cross work. Mrs. Ellis, the chairman, spent Thursday morning with the ladies superintending the work, which, she says was beautifully done. A large number of pajama suits were made.

About twenty workers were engaged in the Surgical Dressings department yesterday. Two bolts of gauze have been made up into compresses 8x8 1/2 inches. The work brought in by High School pupils was inspected and found to be excellent. Mrs. Pack was instructor Thursday.

Today, Friday, work on leather waistcoats, of which Miss Griffith will have charge, will be begun in the sewing department at headquarters. Some material has come in but a great deal more will be needed and everyone is asked to go through stocks of gloves and make up contributions for this section. Any soft leather is available. The color does not matter as it will all be covered and will not show.

HIGHER TRAINING

Ensign Ray Morrow of 430 Franklin Court who was transferred from San Pedro to San Francisco about a month ago for training, is to be again transferred and this time to Annapolis Naval Academy for still more advanced work. He was granted permission to visit his home before crossing the continent and arrived in Glendale Thursday. Members of his family, including a brother in the north and another in Coachilla Valley, together with their wives and children have assembled for a reunion at the home of their mother, Mrs. Amanda Morrow and will be here until Sunday when Ray leaves for Annapolis. He is glad to have the training but does not expect to continue as a naval officer after the war ends. He is a lawyer and enlisted only for the period of the war.

Mrs. M. E. Brode of 204 E. Park Avenue entertained informally on Saturday afternoon in honor of the 82d birthday of her uncle, Mr. G. W. Hutchinson who has recently come from Toronto, Canada. A birthday cake was a pleasant feature and an enjoyable afternoon was spent by those present among whom were: Mrs. Amy C. Crosby, Mrs. Harriet M. Jewell, sisters of Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. John Hutchinson, a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mitcheock, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton B. Jewell, Mrs. Sam'l Harris, Mrs. K. Woodworth and Miss Irene Mauk.

AUTHOR OF "WAN O' THE WOOD"

Mrs. Harold Ryerson is now in Chicago en route for her home in Madison court, this city. She is expected home in about two weeks. The musical play, "Wan O' the Wood," which is being staged at the Little Theatre in Los Angeles every Saturday and which is pronounced the most finished play of any staged in that city for some time, was written by Mrs. Ryerson when she was but sixteen years of age. It is full of delightful songs and the opportunity for variety in costuming and dancing makes it a very pretty spectacle. Seventy children are to take part in the Los Angeles production.

U. AND I. CLUB

The U. and I. club met with Mrs. Edwin Virden on Mira Loma avenue Wednesday afternoon. There was an excellent attendance and the afternoon was much enjoyed. Many of the members brought their knitting.

Mrs. W. H. Hillman had the paper of the day on how war has affected the women of Europe and a very good paper it was, too. Miss Melicent Virden, daughter of the hostess, contributed delightful piano numbers. Mrs. H. E. Fry was assisting hostess. The refreshments included some barley products and the ladies were asked to express themselves in regard to barley flour and other products which they have used. All the reports were favorable.

PRACTICE TITHE GIVING

With a jump in book and periodical sales from $29,142.95 for the third quarter of 1917 to $31,120.05 for the fourth quarter; in tithe receipts from $73,149.87 in the third quarter to $108,759.61 in the fourth quarter, and in Sabbath School offerings from $17,657.92 in the third quarter to $20,091.68 in the fourth quarter, the Seventh-day Adventists in the States of California, Nevada, Utah, Western Colorado, Arizona and northwestern New Mexico, made a substantial gain in all departments of their work, as shown by the quarterly report of Mr. B. M. Emerson, treasurer and secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, given out here today.

The gain in the tithe, which is a tenth of the income, and is devoted exclusively to the support of the ministry, was $35,609.74. The per capita tithe last quarter was $8.37, while during the third quarter every man, woman and child who are members of the Seventh-day Adventist church in this territory contributed an average tithe of $6.28 each.

Seventh-day Adventist leaders say that tithing, as practiced by their people, is not taxation by the church, but is entirely voluntary. However, it is a systematic method by which all share equally, according to their means, the support of their ministers, since whether rich or poor, the individual contributes one-tenth of his net income for this purpose. The Adventists believe this to be the authorized Bible method of sustaining gospel work, supported, they say, by such scriptures as Matthew 23:23; Hebrews, 7:1-8; Malachi 3:8-10 and Leviticus 27:30-33.

The gain in the Sabbath School offerings last quarter over the previous three months was $2,433.76, and the gain in the value of the book and periodical sales was nearly $2,000, the exact figure being $1,977.10.

Besides these sums, more than $16,000 was contributed for local church work, and $5,728.44 for home mission work. The amount paid for local church work of this denomination in the Pacific Union Conference during July, August and September, last year, was $12,897.57, there having been a gain during the last quarter of $3,341.78.

THE KNITTING CHAIN

The knitting chain parties are yielding not only a great deal of pleasure in a social way to participants, but are accumulating funds for the Red Cross at a highly satisfactory rate, as each guest gives 25 cents to the cause.

Miss Elizabeth Ainsworth, who gave the first party and who is acting as secretary for the chain, reports $34.75 turned in from parties last week and this. These functions have been rather numerous during the past few days but the tax upon hostesses is very slight as refreshments are required to be simple, and the parties small.

Mrs. George D. Carter of 1224 Milford street, gave a party Tuesday afternoon at which the following ladies were present: Mrs. Eva Cunningham, Miss Cunningham and her mother, Mrs. A. L. Weaver, Mrs. Benjamin Wilde, Mrs. Eva Tuft, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Archie Parker, Mrs. Florence Ellis, Mrs. Harry H. Parker, and Miss Elizabeth Ainsworth. Fruit salad, sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostess, and a delightful social afternoon was enjoyed.

Mrs. Mary J. Brooks of 103 North Louise street was a hostess Wednesday afternoon when the following ladies were entertained: Mesdames E. D. Yard, A. T. Winkill, S. Gonzales, A. J. Sperry, D. Howarth, C. D. Neinen, G. H. Rowe, Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Button and Miss Cutler.

Mrs. Ernst W. Kimmell of 1615 Burchett street entertained with a knitting party Wednesday. Monday afternoon Mrs. Claude E. Case and her mother, Mrs. Emma Winters, of 105 South Maryland, entertained the following ladies: Mesdames Oliver Clark, Emma Brownfield, E. A. Case, Charles Erling, Ernest Osgood, H. D. Goss and mother. Red carnations and flags furnished the special decorations, and simple refreshments were served.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ENTERTAINMENT

The program given by the Epworth League in the Social Hall of the Tropic Church was one of the best in many months.

Admission was charged by donations of food and clothing for the poor.

Each item of the program was fully enjoyed by the audience. The Crow Song caused continuous laughter. The last sketch, The Haunted House, written by Miss Dora Hewitt was cleverly acted out in pantomime by the young people.

Refreshments were served by the losing side in the recent Bible Study Contest. Over 60 people were present.

The following program was given: Song, "Brighten the Corner Everywhere."

Recitation, Mrs. Ethel Baker Klamm.
 Stunt, Four Strings to Her Beau.
 Reading, Mrs. Gilmore.
 Song, Dr. Cory.
 Discord Quartet, Four birds.
 Recitation, Erma Lucas.
 Sketch, The Haunted House.

interest of an organization having for its object the cleaning up and the cultivation of the vacant lots of the City. The matter was, on motion of Trustee Muhleman, referred to the Committee on the Whole.

The City Clerk called attention to the necessity for a change in the ordinance governing the filing of demands against the City, and on motion of Trustee Muhleman, the matter was referred to the City Attorney.

At this time, the applicant for a permit to do work by private contract action on which had been deferred, came in with an amended application changing the description of sidewalk from four to five feet and the permit asked for in the amended application, was, on motion of Trustee Woodberry, granted.

The City Manager called the attention of the Board to the desirability of having a change made in the tracks of the Glendale & Montrose Railroad Company at the corner of Glendale Avenue and Broadway, and on motion, the matter was referred to the City Manager for action.

Trustee Muhleman made a motion which was adopted, that when the Board adjourn, it be to meet at 7:30 p. m., Monday, February 5th.

Trustee Woodberry made a report in regard to the vacation and abandonment of a portion of Colorado Street, stating that he had seen Mrs. Griswold, the property owner in whose interest it was proposed to take the proceedings, and that she had agreed to bear the expense of same. In this connection, the City Engineer presented a resolution.

On motion, Resolution No. 982, "An ordinance of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale declaring its intention to close up, vacate and abandon for street and highway purposes a portion of Colorado street (formerly Sixth street) in said City, describing said work or improvement and specifying the exterior boundaries of the District affected thereby," was taken up for reading.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the same upon being read, was adopted. The Manager of the Public Service Department reported that the contract with the Gas Company has expired and recommended that a new contract be entered into for supplying the pumping plant with natural gas. On motion of Trustee Jackson, the recommendation was adopted and the proper officers instructed to sign the proposed contract.

The City Attorney reported on the bond of the Street Superintendent, to the effect that it was satisfactory, and on motion of Trustee Grist, the bond was accepted.

The City Attorney reported that he had filed a petition with the Railroad Commission for the appraisal of the property of the Southern California Gas Company, and had received a reply, stating that the matter would have the proper attention. With reference to the complaint against Mr. H. B. Woodhill, the Chairman of the Public Works Committee and himself had been in Verdugo Canyon several times examining into conditions, and as a result a warrant had been issued for Mr. Woodhill's arrest and he has to appear before the Recorder's Court Wednesday next. They had also had a meeting with Mr. Woodhill and that gentleman's attorney, and an agreement had been arrived at which it was hoped would eliminate all cause for complaint.

The Chairman of the Committee on Public Works presented a written communication in reference to conditions in Verdugo Canyon with reference to the streets as affecting the conditions surrounding the domestic water supply, recommending that the City of Glendale take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the use of the ciennaga lands for the purpose of building residences thereon. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the communication was referred to the Committee of the Whole to be taken up with the City Attorney.

On motion, Ordinance No. 322, "An ordinance amending Ordinance No. 315, entitled "An Ordinance prescribing certain rules for regulating traffic upon the public streets in the City of Glendale and repealing Ordinance No. 314 of said City, and all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict therewith," by adding Section 2-A providing for business district No. 1-A and section 3-A providing for closely built up district No. 1-A," was taken up for third and final reading, and upon being read, was on motion of Trustee Muhleman adopted.

able expectation of fulfillment." He then told of his own graduation with a class motto: "Onward, the palm awaits you!" "and," he said, "that bloomin' palm is waiting still."

He quoted Ruskin's declaration: "Ships and armies you may replace, but a great intellect once abused is a loss to the world forever," following it up with Holmes' pronouncement that "there are one-story intellects and two-story intellects, and three-story intellects with sky-lights."

"The differences between mediocrity and genius are too numerous to mention here," he declared, "but they are not more marked than are the differences in toil. It is because we are not thoroughbreds but scrubs that we flinch and shrink back from superhuman effort, from tenacious, long continued, patient, well directed toil. We know that life is of more value than anything else a man possesses. Life properly used will produce all else. What is the difference between Los Angeles in 1886 and now? The investment of life. You can hark back to the Indian occupation and say 'there was an investment of life too,' but consider how low an order of life it was. Do not lose sight of the value of difficulties. You never know what you can endure until the emergency is upon you. Difficulties are the challenge of life. As Brown- ing has said:

"Then welcome each rebuff
That turns earth's smoothness rough."

"Poverty or obscurity need not alarm you. Do not permit any opportunity to go by to master the lesson of toil. Learn to work."

Mr. Tyrrell then proved his contention of the advantages of poverty and the value of work by reciting the life histories of many great men, Gambetta, Paganini and others. He ended by warning his hearers to "beware of the leak of dissipation."

The address put the audience in an excellent humor to enjoy "Dawn in the Woodland" by Elgar, beautifully sung by the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Gibson. The fresh young voices, in exact time and tune, and with perfect enunciation simply delighted the audience who warmly applauded the number.

Harriet Ismah Williams, class president, who presented the memorial, made a delightfully natural little speech in a perfectly unaffected manner which raised her high in the esteem of her hearers. She told of the entrance of her small class into the high school, of the four happy years spent there, of their grateful appreciation and desire to leave a worthy memorial with the school, how gladly they would have built a much needed new auditorium, but shortage of funds prevented, but how finally they had decided to invest their $50 in thrift stamps which would be redeemable in 1923 and which would then yield a sum sufficient to buy something really worth while.

Principal George U. Moyses received the memorial with an appreciative little speech of acknowledgment on behalf of the school and then presented the class to the Board of Trustees, represented by Trustee Hartley Shaw, who in turn made an excellent speech in which he regretted not being personally acquainted with the graduates but spoke of seeing them in the class play as "somebody else" and expressed his satisfaction in now beholding them in their own proper persons, adding that if they exhibit in life the industry and zeal they displayed in the play, we shall hear good reports of them. In conclusion he presented each graduate with a diploma in a leather case, the audience punctuating each presentation with a burst of vociferous applause, which would indicate that the class is exceedingly popular.

The singing of "America" by the audience led by the orchestra, and the march "Stand up for the Flag" by the orchestra, a medley of patriotic airs to the strains of which the class marched out, completed an exceedingly pleasant evening. The audience joined the students in the hall where congratulations were showered upon the class and where floral tributes and gifts were received.

An Open Letter

NOT CENSORED

Dear Mr. Booth:

I wish to rejoin your fold as one of the numerous satisfied customers and wish to explain to you the manner in which I was beguiled into trying some other coffee which the man with the wagon said was far superior to yours. He also held out as a bait a cheap present if I would promise to buy his coffee at 45c a pound (worth I reckon about 15c) for ever and ever, in this world and the next. Well, sir, we could not drink his nasty stuff. It made us all sick and when we called in the doctor he said we were just saved from what might eventually have been a very serious case of puterdownquick. So please, Mr. Booth, send us some of your Better Blend Coffee right away. The other fellow's coffee is on the doorstep waiting for him to take away.

MRS. R. E. MORSE.

not get wounded, while all the time he was in the trenches and on the firing line. Well, the old couple were lodged somewhere near, and fed as they had never had any knowledge of in all their life. The mother came to the doctor and said they were only poor people and could not afford this luxury, and were astounded to be told: "Madam, you are our guests, and will not be allowed to spend one penny till you reach your home in England." Then they told the doctor they had borrowed 11 pounds before leaving England to carry them through; they produced the money, got the doctor to return it, and so their minds were at ease. Then she wanted to take her share in the housework, but the nurses said she was out for arrest and must have the time of her life. The old man however, insisted on working in the garden. And there they remained for 19 weeks, until their boy got so well they could leave him with an easy and a grateful mind. Now multiply this case by thousands, and you have some idea of the lovely work being done by the Red Cross. And it is not only the work, but the Christ-like spirit which is animating it all—the beautiful sympathy. Think of the fur lined coat for the poor day laborer.

Reggie was charmed with the people he met, especially the aforementioned gentlemen. Captain Langridge is a grand Christian man, doing a noble work. The Captain had an amusing experience with an American visitor who mistook him for some sort of a paid Cook's tour conductor, ordered him about imperiously, told him to look sharp, etc., and finally gave him a franc for which the Captain said gravely "Thank you, sir."—"Tell that man to put my luggage in the car."—"All right, sir, I have already told my chauffeur."—"Your what?"—"My chauffeur."—"And is that car yours?"—"Yes sir."—"Oh, then, perhaps we should take the other car."—"That's mine also."—"Say, I think I must have made an ass of myself; you had better give me back that franc."—"Oh no sir, I am gathering mementoes." And the sequel of the story is that within a week the American sent him a cheque for 2000 pounds ($10,000) for the Red Cross work.

We are all just hoping that our forces can "mark time" till the Spring, and that meantime, we shall have ships enough to carry the American armies to help us finish up the hard job we have on hand. The British never know when they are beaten, and they will carry on the fight till it ends in victory.

I could fill sheets about the Red Cross. Reggie saw a man who had only half a face left. All the nose and all the jaw and half the chin all blown off. Reg felt sick to look at the poor fellow—to see the tongue and back of throat and nothing to cover it (of course the dressing was removed momentarily to let Reg see.) And they will give that man a new nose, chin, cheek and teeth—and have done so in many cases. Is it not wonderful? Ever loving Chum and Dad,

J. F. KEATINGE.
