GLENDALE, BEAUTIFUL

GLENDALE, THE CITY BEAUTIFUL, CLUB ORGANIZED AT INTERESTING MEETING

The above heading is the name of an organization that came into existence as the result of a mass meeting held in the city hall Thursday evening. In compliance with a motion adopted at the last meeting of the chamber of commerce, J. N. McGillis, chairman of that organization, called a meeting of the official heads of the various societies and clubs of the city. There were present at Thursday evening's meeting representatives of the chamber of commerce, the Merchants' Association, Tuesday Afternoon Club and Parent-Teachers' Association.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Chas. H. Toll, North Glendale, president; J. N. McGillis, Lomita avenue, vice-president; Rev. E. H. Willisford, Orange street, secretary; Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, treasurer.

City Manager T. W. Watson, who is a member of the Los Angeles county 1915 beautification committee, explained the plan upon which the county board of supervisors and the committee of one hundred are working. Mr. Watson said that prizes of $1000, $500 and $250 have been offered for city beautification. Prizes have also been offered for the beautification of school grounds in the city and in the country.

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor, president of the civic section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

To the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale:

In accordance with the general plan of the county for beautification for the 1915 world's fair, we recommend that pepper trees be planted on Central avenue and that bottle trees or some other suitable trees be planted on First street between Central avenue and Verdugo road; also on Colorado (Sixth), between San Fernando road and the eastern city limits, and that a suitable variety of trees be planted on Verdugo road from Tenth street to Oakwood avenue. We would further recommend that a fund be allowed from the advertising and promotion fund for the purchase and planting of said trees and that funds be set aside for the care and watering of these trees by the city.

Following the adoption of the above resolution, a motion carried that the executive committee appoint a committee, one member being from each of the following organizations: Tuesday Afternoon Club, Federated Parent-Teacher Association, Glendale Improvement Association, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Association and W. C. T. U.

Said committee is to report plans for beautifying the city at the next meeting of the association—Glendale City Beautiful.

Citizens residing on Central avenue near Doran street presented the following resolution, which after some discussion was adopted:

Whereas, a large live oak tree stands in the center of Central avenue just north of Doran street in the city of Glendale and is an ornament to the city, and whereas Central avenue at that point is paved, the air and sunlight being excluded by the pavement from the ground about the tree and the tree is being injured to the extent that it may die unless relieved; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the civic committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale that the city trustees of Glendale be petitioned to have the pavement immediately around said tree removed and a proper cement curb placed around said tree at the proper distance therefrom to permit the roots of the tree to receive light and air; and be it further

Resolved, that the mass meeting held Thursday evening for the purpose of considering beautifying Glendale be requested to concur in this resolution and to appoint a committee of three to present this matter to said city trustees.

The chair appointed Mrs. E. L. Payne, Mrs. Frank Grosvenor and A. T. Cowan a committee to present the resolution to the board of trustees of the city of Glendale.

A motion prevailed that the committee on plans be requested to visit the meetings of the various organizations and explain to the members the desires of the Glendale City Beautiful association.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC CARS RUN ON BROADWAY

P. E. CARS COMMENCED SCHEDULED RUNS ON BROADWAY JULY 2—SUITABLE DEMONSTRATION OBSERVED—PRESIDENT PAUL SHOUP, J. McMILLIN AND OTHER OFFICIALS PRESENT—CITY MANAGER T. W. WATSON PRESIDES—MAYOR O. A. LANE WELCOMES VISITORS—REV. W. E. EDMONDS DELIVERS MAIN ADDRESS—GLENDALE MUNICIPAL BAND FURNISHES MUSIC

Thursday, July 2, was a big day for Glendale. The city was beautifully decorated. Automobiles were out bearing elaborate patriotic decorations. Everybody stepped a little quicker or drove a little faster. There was a smile on the countenance of every Glendale booster.

The event marked the inauguration of Pacific Electric car service on Broadway from Brand to Glendale avenue. For many years the people residing on streets east of Brand have walked to the main car line, and now the accommodation afforded them brings a smile of satisfaction as they board the cars at points along Broadway.

The cars began operating according to their new schedule early on Thursday morning, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the hour set for the exercises, the officials of the Pacific Electric company arrived in a special car. They were met at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway by the city officials, chamber of commerce, Merchants' Association and hundreds of people in automobiles beautifully decorated.

There was a well formed procession that wended its way to the city hall, where after several selections by the band, the program as prepared was carried out.

City Manager T. W. Watson, who presided, asked the large crowd of people to come within hearing distance of the speakers, assuring the audience that a little of California's golden sunshine would not harm them.

The chairman then introduced Mayor O. A. Lane, who said that nine years ago the combined population of Glendale and Tropic was only 500, and now the population of Glendale alone is 9000, and the combined population of Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo is 14,000. Electric roads are aiding in building up the country. Mayor Lane commended the Pacific Electric company for its spirit of enterprise, and extended to the officials present a hearty welcome.

General Superintendent J. McMillin of the Pacific Electric company, who resides in North Glendale, was called upon to respond to the address of welcome. He said nine years ago he met with citizens of Glendale upon a similar occasion, but then the whole population of this section of the San Fernando valley was only 500. Since that time the population of Glendale has increased at the rate of 1000 persons per year. At that demonstration nine years ago there was a big barbecue.

Superintendent McMillin made a special mention of the gentlemanly and yet persistent manner in which City Manager Watson had made requests and suggestions to the Pacific Electric company. He complimented the citizens in general for their characteristics of fair dealing. He said we depend on the people for patronage, and the people depend upon us for good service. He said it is for our mutual benefit to co-operate. Give us a chance to co-operate with you. He said the change in the schedule is objected to by North Glendale patrons of the road, but if we have a little time we will work that out all right.

Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric company, spoke briefly asking for the confidence of the people in matters of business. "The Pacific Electric wants to treat you right, and just to the extent we have your confidence, are we able to grant what you want and give you better service." Mr. Shoup said today marks the completion of the first link of the loop road that is to bind the east and west together. President Shoup closed by saying that he hopes to be present at the demonstration when the loop is completed through the eastern and southern part of Glendale, connecting with the main line at Tropic.

Other P. E. officials who spoke briefly were Geo. L. Bugbee, S. A. Bishop, F. F. Small and E. C. Denio. Rev. W. E. Edmonds, chairman of the railroad committee of the Glendale chamber of commerce, then spoke in part as follows:

"Our gathering here today marks the passing of another milestone in the history of Glendale. This large and representative gathering is another proof of our community interest. Some years ago Chicago adopted a slogan, 'I Will,' and great things were accomplished. Recently they

J. O. C. CONVENTION

J. O. C. CLASS OF THE GLENDALE METHODIST CHURCH ARE HOSTESSES

The ninth annual J. O. C. convention was held at the First M. E. church of Glendale, June 30 and July 1st. It was well attended. Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the registration and reception of members took place. About thirty out of the two hundred were not J. O. C.'s but visitors. The mayor, T. W. Watson, gave the greetings from Glendale, which later followed responses by Mrs. Ada B. Bryant, the organizer of the J. O. C. union. Following this was a devotional by Mrs. Viola Wright, the J. O. C.'s teacher of the M. E. church, Glendale.

For the past four months on account of serious illness, our teacher has been unable to be with us, but has fully recovered. All were glad to have her at the convention.

Following the devotional by Mrs. V. Wright, were the readings of the minutes and the reports of officers, the president, corresponding secretary and the treasurer. The reports of the J. O. C. classes of the different states were sent in to be read by the corresponding secretary of the union, Mrs. C. O. King. The reports told of most excellent work that had been accomplished doing missionary work of all kinds, making glad the poor and needing, comforting the sad and besides that having jolly good times. After the reading of reports everyone enjoyed a lunch at the cafeteria.

Devotional exercises were held from one thirty to one forty-five. Then the roll call of the classes. The reports of representatives or the reading of letters. Following this a social hour and seeing Glendale by automobiles. Seven thirty in the evening a short but pleasing program was rendered. Those on that program were the Misses Helen Wright, who favored the audience with a reading from Riley, after which Mrs. Cammack sang several beautiful selections. Following this a prayer and address, "Choosing the Disciples," by Rev. Bede Johnson, closing with a prayer by Rev. C. R. Norton.

Wednesday

Wednesday was another interesting day. The devotional opened in the morning at nine thirty. Proceeding with unfinished business, new business, reports of auditing and nominating committees, election of officers for the J. O. C. union. Those elected are: President, Mrs. Ada Bryant; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Merritt; recording secretary, Mrs. Theodore Robb; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. O. King; treasurer, Miss Lena Riley.

Following this was an address, "Sending Out the Seventy," by Prof. A. A. Macurda, A. M., of the State Normal School faculty, after which an open conference on J. O. C. problems. Next the installation of officers by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church of Glendale. Then the report of committee on resolutions, after which Mrs. Ada Bryant announced that the next convention would meet with the J. O. C.'s in El Cajon, San Diego county. The meeting then being closed with prayer, at two o'clock a program, amusements and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Those that kindly appeared on the program were the Misses Dora Johns of Riverside, who sang a vocal solo; Miss Emma Erkson, also from Riverside, gave a reading; Mrs. Guernsey rendered a beautiful vocal solo; Mrs. Goss and Miss Helen Wright gave readings.

After an enjoyable social time all dispersed for their homes. Mrs. May Knox, the president of the J. O. C. organization of the First M. E. church of Glendale, deserves credit for her untiring efforts to make the convention successful.

The following resolution was adopted by the convention:

We, the committee of the national J. O. C. union, in appreciation of the many kindnesses, the spiritual and temporal blessings we have received, submit the following:

Be it resolved: First, that the thanks of this convention be tendered "Aunt Ada" and her corps of helpful officers, and to the willing delegates for their faithful work, which has made this convention possible.

Second, that we express our thanks to Rev. Bede Johnson, Prof. A. A. Macurda, for their helpful and inspiring addresses, and to Rev. W. E. Edmonds' service of installing the officers.

Third, that we thank the J. O. C. and the people of Glendale for their hearty welcome and generous hospitality in church and home, and the sightseeing trips by auto through and about their beautiful little city. Also for the pleasure of amusements that

GLENDALE ELKS AND VISITING BROTHERS ENJOY JINKS IN LOCAL CLUB ROOMS

Exactly all that happened at the Elks' club Thursday evening is a secret with those who attended, yet everyone knows the two hundred or more in attendance had a jolly good time or it would not have been an Elks' affair.

An uproar of unsurpassed mirth was the result of many screamingly funny incidents, both amateur and professional entertainers having contributed to the evening's fun.

Refreshments, too, were not noticeable by their absence, but what they were we know not. In fact, nothing more are we able to divulge.

SEVEN O'CLOCK DINNER IN OPEN

The glorious night just passed was more than enjoyed by a number of young people who in answer to invitations sent out by Miss Edith Cowles, 212 Verdugo road, were delightfully entertained at a 7 o'clock dinner on the lawn surrounding the home of the charming young hostess. White carnations and fern showered the center of the long table, which was bountifully spread beneath large trees and deserted only for dancing and prize-winning contests, for which Miss Carol Willisford and Mr. Paul McGowan received honors.

Others present were the Misses Marion Lane, Elizabeth Smith, Ruby Farnsworth, Beatrice Cowles, Edith Cowles, Messrs. Clifton Fish, Harold Ballay Bannoff, Wayne Smith, Paul McGowan, Paul Dilley and Charles Calhoun of Los Angeles.

MRS. YOUNG ENTERTAINS THIMBLE CLUB

Decorations of Fourth of July distinction were appreciated by Mrs. E. L. Young Thursday afternoon when she entertained the Milford Thimble Club in her home, 1425 West Milford street.

This red, white and blue combination with its generous scattering of stars, prevailed in the rooms and also on the porch where the ladies lounged most comfortably as they busily wielded the needle and later partook of dainty and appropriate refreshments served by the gracious hostess.

GOLDS DEFEATED

Thursday evening saw the close of a brief but fiercely fought conflict when the soldiers of the Christian Endeavor army of the Presbyterian church, who wore the gold, went down in ignominious defeat before the onslaughts of the purples. During the contest both armies won many recruits to the cause. As previously set forth by proclamation, the penalty of defeat was to entertain the winners.

Accordingly, arrangements were made by the golds to have the purples as their guests Thursday evening. However, chagrined at defeat, as they were confident of victory until the last minute, the golds planned some stunts for the winners. Some of these were discovered and averted, but the purples marched from house to house in a weary quest for the place of entertainment following false clues until finally good fortune led them to the church where they were served with extremely pale lemonade and very antique animal crackers. Later in the evening the opposing forces became more friendly and enjoyed all sorts of games and the golds did themselves justice by serving refreshments worthy the name. Both sides rejoiced in the many new names added to the roll of the society.

HOUSE-BREAKERS AT WORK IN TROPICO

The homes of W. E. Westlake, Harry Goodwin and Mrs. Blanche Miller, all located near one another on Tenth street, were entered Thursday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 7 o'clock by some unknown miscreant who gained admittance by breaking in the rear doors of the aforesaid homes and ransacking every drawer and cupboard in the different places. Other than a diamond ring, a revolver and Columbia half dollar, taken from the Westlake and Goodwin homes, respectively, no articles have so far been missed. As Mrs. Miller is out of town, the pilfering in her home cannot at present be ascertained.

we have in anticipation for this afternoon.

Respectfully submitted, Emma F. Boyd, Ruth R. Lafleur, Lily I. Mathieson.

CATCHING UP IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE

Activity of the inventive faculty in the United States does not diminish with the years. At the present time applications are received at the rate of about 70,000 a year, and Commissioner Ewing of this interesting bureau, considering these figures, does not think the work so very far behind, notwithstanding that 119,930 applications are now pending. That is to say, taking all pending applications into account, the patent office is within from eighteen to twenty months of a complete clean-up. No serious complaint could be made on this score if all the pending cases were new, but they are not. We have the commissioner's word for it that upon taking charge of the bureau he found that there were 4007 cases that had been pending between five and ten years, 780 being more than eight years old, while 69 cases had been in the office as long as fifteen years. It appears that while the old cases constituted only about 4 per cent of the total business of the office, the work which they entail because of their age, their complicated nature and the accumulation of papers connected with them, is far out of proportion to their number.

It is difficult for people unacquainted with the operations of the patent office to understand why there should be such long delays in the disposition of applications. In view of the fact that the present commissioner is rapidly cleaning up this delayed business, it would seem that there has not been, as a matter of fact, any good reason for its accumulation. The number of cases in the fifteen-year class, it is pleasant to learn, has been reduced 25 per cent in the last year, while still greater reductions are being made in other classes. In this connection the commissioner says: "While the reduction of the number of applications pending has been gratifying, this reduction could be accomplished much faster and the work of the office could be brought up to date much quicker if we could have a little more assistance, for which we have asked congress, as the present office force is working up to the limit."

The disposition of patent cases promptly and in regular fashion would be of immense service to individuals, firms and corporations. Patents bear a very close relationship to industry and commerce in these days. If an addition to the patent office force will expedite the granting or rejection of applications, it would seem only reasonable and in line with sound public policy that congress should provide the necessary appropriation.

GOOD ADVICE

Don't live beyond your income, no matter how small it is.
Don't live up to your income. Save at least 10 per cent of it every month and if possible 40 per cent.
Don't let money lie idle. It is the fractions that count. Put every bit of surplus in a savings bank quickly and every time $100 accumulates, invest it.
Don't pay for show, but for value received.—Louisville Post.

TROPICO

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore on Blanche avenue is the scene of a merry gathering this afternoon and evening, as the seventy-third anniversary of Wm. Henry Harrison and the seventh anniversary of his great-grandson, Eustace Benton Moore, Jr., is being celebrated. The color scheme is most effectively arranged in red, white and blue throughout the house. The same colors prevail in the dainty luncheon, ices and cakes. The place cards are silk flags and candy firecrackers. Young Eustace, as well as the venerable great-grandfather, have been "firing off" a few real Fourth of July firecrackers, which only added to the enjoyment of the happy occasion. Mr. Harrison, as a remembrance of the day, presented his great-grandson Eustace, Jr., a table, four chairs and a rocker of the mission pattern and of his own handiwork. These useful articles are beautiful designs of a skilled workman. The guests whom Mr. and Mrs. Moore are entertaining complimentary to Mr. Harrison and Eustace are Mrs. William Henry Harrison, wife of the aged honoree; Mrs. Nellie Penniman, Ellwood Maynard Moore, Mr. and Mrs. G. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The usual services will be held Sunday. The pastor's morning topic will be "The Cross the Object of the Christian's Glory." In the evening the subject, "The Two Gates and the Two Ways," will be presented. Don't forget that the hour for the Bible school is 9:30 sharp. It should be no trouble at all to get there at that hour at this season of the year. Take somebody with you tomorrow. You will enjoy the satisfaction that comes with being a missionary to that extent. The good we get out of anything is always in exact ratio to that which we put in.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pulpit of the First Baptist church will be occupied Sunday by Rev. Dr. W. H. Walker, who will preach on "The Silence of God." Dr. Walker is a thorough Bible scholar and a forceful speaker. Independence

Every Fourth of July and many other times throughout the year the thoughts of patriotic citizens turn to the subject of independence.

If we are really thoughtful, we will not stop with a consideration of the joys and benefits of political freedom, great as it is.

We still have with us a tyranny of extravagance and debt that holds countless thousands in subjection.

The first step out of this thralldom is to make a Declaration of Independence by starting a Savings Account with the Bank of Glendale.

This may mean a revolution in your manner of living, but the peaceful and happy consummation of your struggle a few years hence, when you have reached the goal of financial independence, will well reward you for your present toil and self-sacrifice.

PRIZE WINNERS

H. Kerker, third prize of 50 cents cash. The word omitted was "lease" in the ad of L. W. Chobe.

THE STUDY OF WORDS

Writing an article, "Treasure In Books," in the Woman's Home Companion, Laura Spencer Porter gives the following excellent advice about the advantages to be gained from the study of words:

"The study of words—it may sound to you a dry thing, yet I promise you it is not; very far from it.

"And this brings me to suggest that the habit of one of the great writers of studying carefully from a good dictionary five words each day is one from which we might all of us get a good deal of profit. Or take a good book of synonyms, for instance, and learn from it each day five words somewhat similar, comparing and weighing carefully the meanings and values of them.

"Notice the degrees of force in the following: To dislike, to hate, to loathe, to detest, to abhor. Each note struck is a little stronger, higher, we might say, like an ascending crescendo scale. So to instruct, to teach, to educate, are each quite different in meaning, with a great nicety of difference. So, rebuke, reprimand, censure, blame, are all of one color, but of how different shades of meaning. So, too, misfortune, calamity, disaster; so, weak, feeble, decrepit, and what delicate difference between fame and renown or feminine and womanly and womanish."

Elevate the stage by refusing to patronize objectionable shows.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. Lucius F. Drake of 1657 Ruth street with his family will spend the Fourth and over Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Dow of Bell Flower.

Mrs. William Alston of 1652 Ruth street entertained Miss Scott of Iowa, who is at the present time the guest of Mrs. Alston's uncle, Mr. Barkley Lyon of Hollywood, Thursday. Luncheon at La Ramada was one feature of the day's enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tatum of 1300 North Maryland avenue spent the first part of the week at Hotel Hollywood in honor of their wedding anniversary, having had the pleasure of spending the early part of their honeymoon at that delightful place. Each year they have spent a few days there, greatly enjoying the privilege of so doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schofield and daughter, Miss Thais, of Los Angeles, with Mrs. Schofield's mother, Mrs. Annie Stewart, will be guests of Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend, over the Fourth.

Thursday afternoon John Tyrrell, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tyrrell of 1640 Ruth street, met with a severe accident while riding a bicycle down Valley View road, having fallen from the wheel and was rendered unconscious. Upon examination it was discovered that the boy had fractured his arm, also was suffering from minor bruises.

Mr. A. R. Townsend and family of North Brand boulevard are spending the week-end at Redondo Beach.

Mr. O. S. Sampson of Melrose avenue is laid up with an injured foot, having stepped upon a rusty nail a few days ago and narrowly escaping blood poison.

Mrs. L. C. Leeds of 900 Dryden street was called to Los Angeles on Thursday because of the sudden death of her grandfather, Mr. Van Norman of Avenue Twenty-four. Funeral has been announced to be this afternoon.

Mrs. C. J. Comfort of Fairview avenue entertained at a prettily appointed dinner a party of friends from Los Angeles very recently.

Mrs. J. F. Armstrong of Sierra Madre was the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Louise Cadawallader, of 1624 Ruth street, Thursday.

Mr. C. H. Cunningham and family from Portland, Oregon, have rented the Thompson property on Fairview avenue and will move in immediately.

DOGS IN ALASKA

Dogs are surely the real thing for "mushing" in the cold countries. To my mind they beat reindeer a mile. Most of them weigh less than 100 pounds and they distribute their weight over their four feet, so that they can trot over a weak snow crust where a man would sink out of sight by breaking through the crust into the soft snow below. On a good level, smooth trail ten dogs can trot along with a ton of freight behind them, and 500 or 600 pounds is a fair load on poor trails.

A peculiar thing is that a twelve foot sled, twenty-two to twenty-four inches wide, with runners two and into hollow places where the stream has sunk away from under the ice. This is the most dangerous of all, and often when it happens a man is frozen to death before he can get to shelter or get up his tent and start a fire.—B. S. Rodey in Albuquerque Herald.

Miss Dorothy Wood, who for the past year has been attending school in Montreal, Canada, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Ed M. Lynch, 907 Damasco court, prior to going to her home in Berkeley.

BEYOND THE HORIZON
Owens (nonchalantly) — Oh, that account? I had completely lost sight of it.
Tailor (dryly)—Shouldn't wonder, sir; it's been running for a long time.—Boston Transcript.

decimated Yankee stock and challenge the skippers from Canada in the unceasing battle for such supplies of food fish as the Atlantic offers to such men as are hardy enough to gather them in. But Boston and Gloucester and other towns of fishermen along the Atlantic henceforth are to have western rivals who draw their supplies from a vaster ocean, with its wealth of marine food supply scarcely touched. As no Pacific coast demand seems likely to equal the possibly supply, a market is being worked up in the East as a matter of course.

To show how the potentialities of this business are looked upon by residents of a port and city like Seattle, it is only necessary to cite the fact that the Washington state fisheries bureau and the United States fisheries bureau are now practically side by side, working together to promote fisheries. With them as an ally is to be the fisheries school of the University of Washington. Under the supervision of the port commission, warehouses and cold storage houses are building. The Pacific Fisheries Society is conserving all kinds of fish and is taking steps to increase the number of species by transplanting to western waters varieties not native there.

There are certain specific steps toward conservation of marine forms which the younger and freer Pacific coast states now in their youth can take without being thwarted by the "interests," steps that may be more difficult later. No lower use of fish than as a food supply should be allowed to increase its cost to the consumer, whether eastern or western. Persons, as well as land, need the fish as a source of nourishment. To procure fertilizers cheaply is not the be-all and end-all of fishing, whether in the Atlantic or the Pacific, and wherever society has not kept a strong curb on exploitation of the fisheries by commercial agencies, the outcome always has been disturbing. A vigilant nation is strict rather than lax in its favors shown to the fleets that bring in marine wealth.

CALIFORNIA WINDS

The prevailing winds come from the ocean and are principally from the southwest landward, producing a cool summer climate along the immediate coast. Fogs sometimes sweep in from the ocean, more or less unfavorably affecting the enjoyment of the climate, but by their moisture contributing to the growth of vegetation. These fogs are less harsh on the south coast. The heat rising from the great valley draws a strong current from the trade winds through the Golden Gate that divides as it passes and extends south to the Tehachapi mountains and north to Mt. Shasta, rendering the air of the valley more delightful. The same drift of the trade winds tempers the air far into the interior of Southern California. The high mountain barrier on the east, throughout the length of the state, deflects the cold winds that sweep down over the Nevada plains in winter from Alaska and prevents their entrance into the valley regions of California. Dry north winds sometimes blow through the great valley in summer, raising the temperature, and are occasionally injurious to growing crops, but they seldom continue more than three or four days, when they are succeeded by the balmy and cool ocean breezes. Along the immediate coast the average winter and summer temperature differs only about four degrees, and one of the characteristic features of the San Francisco climate is exemplified by the sight of furs worn by ladies over summer garments, and fires in summer are not infrequent.

All over the coast, however, there are thousands of sheltered nooks and small valleys and sequestered spots where the fogs and harsh winds of the coast have no appreciable effect, and where the climate is charming and sunny to the last degree, both in winter and summer.

MARKETING WITH A BASKET

Men and women "marketed" not many years ago and saw no impairment of their standing or dignity in marketing with a basket. It has become a question in some quarters whether the further establishment of public markets in communities already partly provided with these conveniences or the introduction of them into communities where they are at present unknown, will be a movement fraught with any degree of popular satisfaction, or promising any considerable measure of relief from high living cost, unless there shall be also a return to the democratic market-basket custom. Public markets can be made truly efficient only through public support. If buyers go to the markets in great numbers, stall-owners prosper in their business, are content with their custom and strive to increase their profits by charging reasonable prices and rendering good service. The public market is the nearest approach to general co-operation between producer, seller and buyer so far accomplished, but it is of no practical utility if any of the three principal factors to its success becomes negligent, lukewarm or indifferent.

Even with conditions as they are, a return to personal marketing with the market basket would go very far toward reducing household expenses. Employment of the telephone and ordering in the kitchen through the butcher's or the grocer's representative, are both equally expensive processes. This system involves heavy charges in the conduct of business; it means delivery of supplies at a cost that would strip the sale of profits unless something were added for the time of salesman, driver and maintenance of a delivery wagon. The added charge, of course, is assessed, and properly, against the purchaser.

It is not necessary to wait for the coming of neighborhood, district or general public markets before reviving the only system under which full benefit may be derived from them. If men and women would only return to the market-basket custom of their grandfathers and grandmothers, public markets would probably become so necessary to the convenience of the buyers and the business of the producers and the retailers that their establishment and maintenance would be unavoidable.

THE CANNING INDUSTRY IN CALIFORNIA

The canning of fruit and vegetables is an important industry in California and the yearly output of canned goods is very large. The aggregate number of cases of all kinds of fruit and berries canned in 1912 and the vegetable output was larger than for any previous year. The demand for fresh fruit and vegetables at home and for shipping takes a large quantity that would otherwise go to the canner.

SAVING THE SAWDUST

When the lumber is nailed into the house it represents only 35 per cent of the tree from which it was taken. The Lowell (Mass.) Courier-Citizen says that the forest experts in the department of agriculture have been following the tree through its various processes from the time it is cut for use until it is finished lumber. They report that in the logging process 13 per cent of the standing tree is left in the stumps and tops; waste at the sawmill reduces the remaining 87 per cent to 44 per cent. Seasoning reduces this to 42; the finished lumber has become 39, and waste in the sawing of boards for the house makes the final per cent 35. To obtain a greater return from the tree the government urges more attention to the by-products. Tops, bark, slabs and edgings can be made into charcoal, turpentine, tannic acid, wood alcohol, acetate of lime, pulp and paper; while the sawdust will yield wood alcohol. The United States, long a prodigal nation in the use of its natural wealth, has of recent years begun to give serious attention to conservation in many forms, and the scrap heaps and sawdust piles of past generations will furnish many new industries for the generations now entering the industrial field.

"The Milk You Will Eventually Buy"

Ahead of the Law

Long before laws and ordinances were passed in regard to sanitary conditions of dairies and the handling of milk, MacMullin's had a sanitary dairy in every sense of the word, and all sanitary requirements were courted.

MacMullin's dairy not only complies with all laws and ordinances, but meets more sanitary conditions than are required, and has justly won the reputation of being "the Most Sanitary Dairy in the San Fernando Valley."
