important intelligence from England by the next steamer. It is understood that Lord Napier has given his opinion that his government will contend for the right of visitation as distinct from the right of search. Should dispatches from Mr. Dallas confirm that expectation, the relations of the two countries will suddenly approach a cases selfs. The administration promises to meet this contingency with vigor. The instructions thrown out are, that orders will be given to bring in for adjudication all British arms dvessels committing acts of outrage upon our commerce. "Twisters" correspondent telegraphs
