UNITED STATES BOARD ON GEOGRAPHIC NAMES.

MESSAGE

FROM THE

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

TRANSMITTING

The report of the United States Board on Geographic Names.

JANUARY 5, 1892.—Referred to the Committee on Printing and ordered to be printed.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

My attention having been called to the necessity of bringing about a uniform usage and spelling of geographic names in the publications of the Government, the following executive order was issued on the 4th day of September, 1890:

As it is desirable that uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography obtain throughout the Executive Departments of the Government, and particularly upon the maps and charts issued by the various Departments and Bureaus, I hereby constitute a Board on Geographic Names, and designate the following persons, who have heretofore cooperated for a similar purpose under the authority of the several Departments, bureaus, and institutions with which they are connected, as members of said Board:

Prof. Thomas C. Mendenhall, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, chairman.
Andrew H. Allen, Department of State.
Capt. Henry L. Howison, Light-House Board, Treasury Department.
Capt. Thomas Turtle, Engineer Corps, War Department.
Lieut. Richardson Clover, Hydrographic Office, Navy Department.
Pierson H. Bristow, Post-Office Department.
Ofis T. Mason, Smithsonian Institution.
Herbert G. Ogden, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.
Henry Gannett, U. S. Geological Survey.
Marcus Baker, U. S. Geological Survey.

To this Board shall be referred all unsettled questions concerning geographic names which arise in the Departments, and the decisions of the Board are to be accepted by these Departments as the standard authority in such matters.

Department officers are instructed to afford such assistance as may be proper to carry on the work of this Board.

The members of this Board shall serve without additional compensation, and its organization shall entail no expense on the Government.

The report of the Board thus constituted has been submitted to me and is herewith transmitted for the information of Congress and with a view to its publication in suitable form, if such action is deemed by Congress to be desirable.

BENJ. HARRISON.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, December 23, 1891.

564776

The PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES:

SIR: The United States Board on Geographic Names, constituted under the executive order of September 4, 1890, has the honor to submit to you herewith its first report:

ORIGIN AND HISTORY.

The necessity for a Board for inducing uniform usage and spelling of geographic names in the publications of the Government has long been apparent.

There are several bureaus and departments engaged in the construction of maps and charts, and the publication and dissemination of geographic information. Prominent among them are the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which is making charts of the coasts of the United States, the Hydrographic Office of the Navy Department, from which emanate charts of foreign coasts, the Geological Survey, which is making a mother map of the United States, the General Land Office, which compiles from its plats maps of most of the States and Territories, the Post-Office Department, which decides the names of all post-offices, etc. Besides these there is scarcely a bureau of the General Government which does not have occasion in its reports and other papers to use geographic names, to a greater or less extent.

It is well known that there have existed among these bureaus differences of usage concerning geographic names. Indeed, even among different publications of the same bureau, usage has not been uniform. It has frequently occurred that the same bureau has used different forms at different times and in different publications. In the winter of 1889 and 1890 this matter became a subject of conference among a few of those most deeply interested, and it was decided to attempt the removal of a serious and growing evil in the publications of the Government. With this purpose in view, a voluntary association of representatives of some of the bureaus interested was formed early in the spring for the purpose of considering and deciding upon the proper names or the spelling to be adopted in such cases as should be brought before it, and thus gradually to bring about uniformity in the publications of the bureaus represented in respect to geographic names.

There were represented in this association the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Hydrographic Office, the Geological Survey, the Light-House Board, the Smithsonian Institution, the Departments of State and War, and the Post-Office Department.

After several meetings, in which much was done in the way of determining methods of procedure and adopting general principles for guidance, as well as the consideration and decision of more than a hundred cases, it was recognized that the importance of the work of the association and the difficulties of an administrative character which might be anticipated, required that its organization should be strengthened. Under these circumstances executive authority could alone secure adoption in all Government publications of the decisions of the association. The matter was therefore brought to your attention and the association was clothed with the necessary authority by the following

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

As it is desirable that uniform usage in regard to geographic nomenclature and orthography obtain throughout the Executive Departments of the Government, and particularly upon the maps and charts issued by the various Departments and bureaus, I hereby constitute a Board on Geographic Names, and designate the following persons, who have heretofore coöperated for a similar purpose under the authority of the several Departments, bureaus, and institutions with which they are connected, as members of said Board:

Prof. Thomas C. Mendenhall, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, chairman.

Andrew H. Allen, Department of State.

Capt. Henry L. Howison, Light-House Board, Treasury Department.

Capt. Thomas Turtle, Engineer Corps, War Department.

Lieut. Richardson Clover, Hydrographic Office, Navy Department.

Pierson H. Bristow, Post-Office Department.

Otis T. Mason, Smithsonian Institution.

Herbert G. Ogden, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Henry Gannett, U. S. Geological Survey.

Marcus Baker, U. S. Geological Survey.

To this Board shall be referred all unsettled questions concerning geographic names which arise in the Departments, and the decisions of the Board are to be accepted by these Departments as the standard authority in such matters.

Department officers are instructed to afford such assistance as may be proper to carry on the work of this Board.

The members of this Board shall serve without additional compensation, and its organization shall entail no expense on the Government.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, September 4, 1890.

Under this authority the Board has held seventeen meetings. It has adopted a code of by-laws for regulating the transaction of business, has agreed upon certain general principles for guiding its decisions, and has decided about 2,000 cases.

The by-laws under which its proceedings have been carried on are as follows:

BY-LAWS.

I.—Name.

This organization shall be called "The United States Board on Geographic Names."

II.—Officers of the Board.

The officers shall consist of a chairman, a secretary (who shall be elected by ballot), and an executive committee of three to be appointed by the chair with the concurrence of the Board, all of whom shall serve for one year or until their successors shall be chosen.

III.—Duties of officers.

(a) The chairman shall preside at the meetings and shall certify to the decisions of the Board. He shall appoint all committees not specially named by the Board. He shall have power to designate a member of the Board to act for him during his temporary absence.

(b) The secretary shall record the proceedings of the Board and shall keep a record that will show the decisions rendered, or other action of the Board upon cases submitted to it, with reference to the papers filed in each case. He shall maintain files of the original papers, or copies of them, that may be presented in each case, conveniently arranged for reference. He shall conduct the general correspondence and shall receive communications presented for the consideration of the Board, transmitting them to the executive committee as their character may require or as may be hereafter provided.

(c) The executive committee shall receive through the Secretary all communications requiring decision by the Board, shall investigate the questions presented, securing information from all available sources, and shall report upon them to the Board, submitting recommendations regarding them.

IV.—Meetings.

The Board shall hold regular meetings on the first Tuesday in each month, excepting the months of July, August, and September. Special meetings may be called by the chairman or by the executive committee. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum. The affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Board shall be required in the final decision in any case. All motions presented for the consideration of the Board shall be submitted in writing.

V.—Amendments.

These by-laws may be amended at any regular or special meeting, by a majority vote of all the members of the Board, provided that the proposed amendment has been presented at least four weeks previous to the time the vote is taken.

WASHINGTON, D. C., adopted November 4, 1890.

Under these by-laws the Board was organized with Prof. T. C. Mendenhall as chairman, as provided for in the Executive order, the election of Lieut. Commander Richardson Clover as secretary, and the appointment of Messrs. Henry Gannett, Richardson Clover, and H. G. Ogden as executive committee.

WORK DONE.

The necessity of this Board has already been amply demonstrated. During this, its first year, there have been submitted to it more than 2,000 questions and decisions have been rendered in nearly all of these cases. Shortly after it was organized it was called upon to render decisions concerning several hundred names in Alaska, where the utmost confusion exists regarding geographic names. In this region the difficulties of transliteration of Russian and Indian names into English characters are complicated by the fact that expedition after expedition visiting this region has assigned different sets of names to its geographic features. The difficulties encountered in settling the questions submitted relative to Alaskan names made it apparent that nothing short of a complete revision of the geographic nomenclature of Alaska would be satisfactory. Accordingly the Board, having decided the cases submitted to it, is now engaged in making such a revision, the result of which will be to furnish a geographic dictionary of the Territory.

The Lighthouse Board and the Coast and Geodetic Survey have submitted to this Board all cases occurring in the light lists concerning which there is a difference in usage or opportunity for improvement. These questions have been discussed and decided, and the decisions go far toward settling the nomenclature of the coast and lake shores.

The Census Office has submitted to the Board all cases of difference of usage in county and township names, and the names of corporate towns, cities, etc., and all these questions, numbering fully 1,000, have been decided after suitable investigation. In connection with this work the Board has made certain minor, but widespread changes in nomenclature, which are expressed in principles 5 to 10, inclusive. (See page 8.) As a part of this work the Board has, after examination and the decision of all disputed cases, approved a certain form of spelling of the names of the counties of the United States.

ORIGIN OF AND CHANGES IN NAMES.

With the exception of the names of political subdivisions, geographic names in this country have not, as a rule, been bestowed by any formal authority. The names of natural features, rivers, lakes, mountains, capes, etc., and of unchartered bodies of population, have received their names originally from explorers, surveyors, and early settlers, and these names have been perpetuated by common consent. The names of states, counties, and municipalities of all classes, on the other hand, have been applied either by legislative enactment or charter, and therefore possess some degree of formal authority.

Differences of usage exist to a large extent, not only in the names of natural features and unincorporated places, but even in those of organized bodies of population whose names have been bestowed by formal authority. These differences have originated in numerous ways.

In the unsettled parts of the country, different exploring expeditions, ignoring the work of their predecessors, have given new names to features already named. As elsewhere noted, this difficulty has often occurred in Alaska, which has been visited in recent years by numerous expeditions.

The transliteration of Indian names has everywhere been a fruitful source of differences in spelling, inasmuch as no two persons understand alike or render into the same English characters the obscure sounds of Indian names.

It often happens in the case of the larger geographic features, such as extended mountain ranges, rivers, etc., that different names have been applied locally in different parts, and these different names have become well settled in usage.

It frequently happens that railroads adopt names for their stations different from those of the towns or villages in which they are situated, and thus divide the usage. To a much greater extent, however, than the railroads has the Post-Office Department confused the nomenclature of the smaller towns and villages by attaching names to the post-offices not in accordance with those in local usage. Indeed, a list shows that there are in this country thousands of cases where the name of the post-office does not conform to the local name of the place in which it is situated. These differences are very confusing to those using the postal service, and it seems desirable to reduce their number as far as practicable, at the same time recognizing the importance of having but one post-office of the same name in each state.

By far the greater number of differences in usage, however, have their origin in carelessness or ignorance on the part of those making use of the names. Such errors appearing in print are frequently perpetuated, especially in popular works, and often supplant the original name in usage.

Originating in these divergencies of spelling, there is distinctly traceable a development of geographic nomenclature, which is on the whole proceeding in a beneficial direction. Its tendency is towards the discarding of objectionable names and the adoption of pleasing ones, and towards the simplification and abbreviation of names, particularly as shown in the dropping of silent letters. The Board, recognizing this course of development, deems it to be within its power to guide it, and even to forestall it, as far as its future course may be foreseen.

The extent to which geographic names have been modified without being radically changed is scarcely appreciated. A large proportion, probably a majority of the names of natural features have undergone changes in spelling to a greater or less extent since they were first applied, while of the names of political divisions, although established by formal act, a considerable proportion have also changed, and such changes have, in thousands of cases, become firmly established. Therefore the position assumed by some persons, that we should revert to the original forms of names, would, if carried out, result in changing the names of a large proportion of our natural and artificial features.

POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The Board is agreed that in general the name which is in common local use at present should be adopted. This is a broad general principle, and summarizes the policy of the Board, with the exception of certain classes of cases mentioned below. It covers cases of changes or corruptions of names, except where such changes or corruptions are considered to be unworthy of perpetuation.

The difficulties encountered in carrying out this principle are found mainly in determining what is local usage, or the prevailing local usage where it is divided between different forms. Where the local usage is so divided, opportunity is afforded for the selection of the more appropriate and euphonious of the names in use.

The Board considers it desirable to depart from local usage in certain cases in order to effect reforms in nomenclature. Among these departures approved by the Board are the following:

(a) The avoidance, so far as seems practicable, of the possessive form of names.

(b) The dropping of the final "h" in the termination "burgh."

(c) The abbreviation of "borough" to "boro."

(d) The spelling of the word "center" as here given.

(e) The discontinuance of the use of hyphens in connecting parts of names.

(f) The omission wherever practicable of the letters "C. H." (Court House) after the names of county seats.

(g) The simplification of names consisting of more than one word by their combination into one word.

(h) The avoidance of the use of diacritic characters:

(i) The dropping of the words "city" and "town" as parts of names.

All of these changes are warranted by the direction of development. The possessive form of names is rapidly disappearing, except in rare cases where good reason exists for its retention. In most cases this is effected by dropping the apostrophe and the final "s." In certain cases, however, usage or euphony appears to require the retention of the final "s" when the apostrophe only is dropped.

Concerning the termination "burg" or "burgh," as Pittsburg, an extensive correspondence has developed the fact that in more than three-fourths of the places having this termination the final "h" is not in local use. The case of the termination "boro" or "borough," as Attleboro, is very similar. The present tendency is strongly toward the substitution of the abbreviated form. The Board therefore deems it desirable and advisable to induce uniformity in this matter in the manner indicated.

In the case of the word "center" as part of a name, as Mansfield Center, Center Rutland, usage appears to be about equally divided between center and centre, and the Board has adopted the first of the above forms of the word.

Hyphens, in connecting parts of names, appear to be useless, while they add to the complexity of the spelling.

The practice of adding the letters "C. H.," meaning court-house, to the name of a county seat is prevalent, especially in the southern states. Frequently the place has two names, one being its charter name, the other the name of the county with "C. H." appended; thus the county seat of Raleigh County, W. Va., is known as Beckley and as Raleigh "C. H."

The tendency toward simplification is in no way shown more decidedly than in the combination of the several words forming a name. Thus "La Fayette" has become well nigh universally "Lafayette," "El Dorado" has become "Eldorado," etc. The Board approves this tendency and will further it as far as possible without forestalling usage too greatly.

The use of diacritic characters in geographic names, in the United States, such as the German umlaut, the Spanish tilde, etc., is rapidly disappearing. It would be impossible, even were it desirable, to oppose this change.

The practice of adding the word city or town, as Boise city, Marshalltown, as a part of the name is a useless complication, growing in most cases out of an optimistic spirit on the part of the promoters of the place. It is often misleading and almost invariably unnecessary.

Outside of the United States, where the Department of State and United States Hydrographic Office are chiefly interested, the work of the Board is directed to the harmonization of American usage in geographic nomenclature with the usage of the great map-making nations—England, Germany, and France. The Department of State, by reason of its diplomatic and consular functions, is intimately concerned with the present style, change of names, transfers of territorial jurisdiction, cession and acquisition of territory by various governments abroad, and the proper forms of the titular political nomenclature of foreign states and nations. The interest of the Hydrographic Office is involved by reason of its publication of charts and sailing directions of all foreign waters, to the effective use of which uniformity of geographic nomenclature is obviously indispensable. The forms of foreign names recommended for adoption are determined on consultation of established usage, the best authorities upon ethnological and political history and derivation, and current geographic and political information from authentic sources.

Many names in foreign civilized countries present a peculiar difficulty and appear to require that a further exception be made to the general principle of following local usage. This lies in the fact that many foreign names have been anglicized and the anglicized form, often quite different from the local form (meaning by local form that in use by the best authorities in the country having jurisdiction), is well established in usage in this country.

It is understood by the Board that our charts of the coasts of foreign countries using Roman characters, made for the use of our Navy and merchant marine, generally require the use of the local forms of these names; while, on the other hand, popular usage in this country, especially in our atlases and text books, requires the anglicized form. The Board practically leaves this matter on the same footing as heretofore, permitting the use of local forms of foreign names upon our charts, and the anglicized forms upon maps designed for use in this country. It hopes, however, that the way may be opened in the near future to the adoption throughout of the local forms of these names, and the rejection of the anglicized forms. In such specific cases as have been brought to its attention, it has decided uniformly in favor of the local form.

Most of the nations of Europe, either through national boards or geographic societies, are engaged in the regulation of the orthography of geographic names. Their attention has been particularly directed toward producing uniformity in the transliteration of aboriginal names written in characters other than Roman. These nations have practically agreed upon a system of transliteration, which, with one or two exceptions, has been adopted by this Board, thus coming into practical agreement in this matter with the rest of the civilized world.

The matters above discussed have been formulated as principles for the guidance of the Board in deciding specific cases. It must be understood that these are not designed as rules, but as guiding principles, from which the Board reserves liberty to depart whenever, in its judgment, it deems it advisable to do so.

PRINCIPLES FOR SPECIAL APPLICATION IN THE UNITED STATES.

1. That spelling and pronunciation which is sanctioned by local usage should in general be adopted.

2. Where names have been changed or corrupted, and such changes or corruptions have become established by local usage, it is not in general advisable to attempt to restore the original form.

3. In cases where what was evidently originally the same word appears with various spellings sanctioned by local usage, when applied to different features, these various spellings should be regarded as in effect different names, and as a rule it is inadvisable to attempt to produce uniformity.

4. Where a choice is offered between two or more names for the same place or locality, all sanctioned by local usage, that which is most appropriate and euphonious should be adopted.

5. The possessive form should be avoided whenever it can be done without destroying the euphony of the name, or changing its descriptive application.

6. In names ending in "burgh," the final "h" should be dropped.

7. Names ending in "borough" should be abbreviated to "boro."

8. The word "center," as a part of a name, should be spelled as above and not "centre."

9. The use of hyphens in connecting parts of names should be discontinued.

10. The letters "C. H." (Court House) appended to the names of county seats should be omitted.

11. In the case of names consisting of more than one word, it is desirable to combine them into one word.

12. It is desirable to avoid the use of diacritic characters.

13. It is desirable to avoid the use of the words city and town, as parts of names.

PRINCIPLES FOR SPECIAL APPLICATION IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

14. Geographic names in countries that use Roman characters should be rendered in the form adopted by the country having jurisdiction, except where there are English equivalents already fixed by usage. In cases where the English equivalent is so different from the local form that the identity of the latter with the former might not be recognized, both forms may be given.

15. The spelling of geographic names that require transliteration into Roman characters should represent the principal sounds of the word as pronounced in the native tongue, in accordance with the sounds of the letters in the following system:

An approximation only to the true sound is aimed at in this system. The vowels are to be pronounced as in Italian and on the continent of Europe generally, and the consonants as in English.

Letters.	Sounds.	Example.
a	ah, a as in father.....	Java, Banána, Somáli, Bari.
e	eh, e as in men.....	Tel el Kebír, Oléleh, Medina, Levuka, Peru.
i	English e; i as in ravine; the sound of ee in beet. Thus, not Feejee, but	Fiji, Hindi.
o	o as in mote.
u	double o, as in boot. All vowels are shortened in sound by doubling the following consonant	Yarra, Tanna, Jidda, Bonni.
	Doubling of a vowel is only necessary where there is a distinct repetition of the single sound ai	English i as in ice.....	Nunlua.
au	ow as in how. Thus, not Foochow, but ..	Shanghai.
ao	is slightly different from above.....	Fuchau.
ei	is the sound of the two Italian vowels, but is frequently slurred over, when it is scarcely to be distinguished from ey in the English they	Nanao.
b	English b.
e	is always soft and nearly the sound of s; the hard e is given by k.	Beirút, Beilúl.
ch	is always soft, as in church.....	Celebes.
d	English d.	Chingchin.
f	English f; ph should not be used for the sound of f. Thus, not Haiphong, but..
g	is always hard (soft g is given by j).....	Haifong, Nafa.
h	is always pronounced when inserted.	Galápagos.
j	English j. Dj should never be put for this sound
k	English k. It should always be put for the hard c. Thus, not Corea, but.....	Japan, Jinchuen.
kh	the Oriental guttural.....	Korea.
gh	is another guttural, as in the Turkish.....	Khan.
l		Dagh, Ghazi.
m	as in English.
n
ng	has two slightly different sounds, as in finger, singer.
p	as in English.
q	should never be employed; qu is given by kw.....	Kwangtung.
r	as in English.....
s t
v		Sawákin.
w x
y	is always a consonant, as in yard (Kikuyu), and therefore should not be used for the vowel i. Thus, not Mikindány, but	Mikindáni.
z	English z	Zulu.
	Accents should not generally be used, but where there is a very decided, emphatic syllable or stress which affects the sound of the word it should be marked by an acute accent	Tongatábu, Galápagos, Palá- wan, Saráwuk.

In conclusion, the Board respectfully calls your attention to the fact that it has no means provided for printing and circulating its decisions. Thus far the bulletins of the Board have been published by various bureaus represented. Through the courtesy of the Smithsonian Institution, and at its expense, Bulletin No. 1 has been published, and an edition of 7,000 copies distributed. The Coast and Geodetic Survey has printed its second bulletin with an edition of 7,500 copies, and the Light-House Board has through the Treasury Department printed the third bulletin, with an edition of 8,000. This method of publication is obviously unsatisfactory. It is important that the decisions of the Board be promptly brought to the attention of the officers of the Government, and this can be done only by their prompt publication and wide circulation. Judging from past experience, it appears that 10,000 copies of each of its bulletins will be required to meet the demands of the Government Departments.

The general public, and especially the newspapers, the educators and the educational publishers of the country have manifested great interest in the work of the Board. Its decisions have been generally accepted by geographers, publishers, and educators, and it seems on all accounts desirable that these classes should be informed promptly and fully of the decisions. To supply them would require an equal number, and the Board asks that recommendation be made to Congress that proper provision be made for printing and distributing these bulletins.

There are submitted herewith, as Appendix A, a list of the decisions of the Board, and as Appendix B, a list of the counties of the United States, with the spelling as authorized by the Board.

Respectfully submitted.

T. C. MENDENHALL,
Chairman.

APPENDIX A.

LIST OF DECISIONS.

In the following lists the adopted forms are printed in heavy face lower case type, certain discarded forms are entered in the same alphabetical list and printed in italics. In each case after the discarded form the adopted form is added in parentheses for ready reference.

Disappointment, Cape. Washington.
 "On the 6th of July, 1778, Meares, in the ship Nootka, arrived off the cape and found that a 'prodigious easterly swell rolled on the shore,' and he had soundings in 16 fathoms over a hard, sandy bottom. 'After we had rounded the promontory, a large bay, as we had imagined, opened to our view, that bore a very promising appearance and into which we steered, with every encouraging expectation. As we steered into the bay the water shoaled to 9, 8, and 7 fathoms, where breakers were seen right ahead, and from the masthead they were observed to extend across the bay. We therefore hauled out.' The name Cape Disappointment was given to the promontory. It was called Cape Hancock by Gray, in 1792. He changed this name to Cape Disappointment upon hearing that Meares had so named it. Cape Disappointment retained by Vancouver, by Belcher in 1839, and by Ex. Ex. in 1841. Duflot de Mofras, 1844, calls it Cape San Roque or Disappointment. It was called Cape Hancock or Disappointment at the first examination of the entrance to the river, in 1850, and the name Hancock, subsequently, in a secondary manner in the Light-House List, but the name Disappointment is that used on the official charts and by all navigators." Pacific Coast Pilot, 1889, p. 456.

Ellicottville Cattaraugus County, New York.
Elliott Knob. Augusta County, Virginia.

This mountain has been locally known for many years as Elliott's Knob. The desire has been expressed to substitute the name of Rogers, in honor of Prof. W. B. Rogers, formerly the State geologist of Virginia, and a pioneer in the study of the geology of that State. This decision is based on the grounds, first, that the name Elliott Knob is well established; and, second, that a mountain peak in Virginia near the North Carolina line has already been named in honor of Prof. Rogers.

Bermuda. A group of small islands in the Western Atlantic Ocean. Called Bermudas after Juan Bermudes, a Spanish mariner, who discovered them in 1515. In 1609 Admiral Sir George Somers, R. N., in the "Sea Venture" found them uninhabited. He was wrecked and died there, and the islands were called after him by his companions, "Somers Islands." Bermuda has been adopted as the British official usage, and is the popular and all but universal designation.

Colon. A city and free port on the Atlantic coast of the Isthmus of Panama, Republic of Colombia, founded in 1850 by the Panama Railroad Company, and named for William H. Aspinwall, one of the railroad company's principal shareholders, and afterwards president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The official name given the city by the Colombian Government is Colon, the Spanish form of the patronymic of Christopher Columbus. Designated as Aspinwall by the United States Government from the year of its foundation until 1882. The Colombian name was adopted in the latter year and has since appeared in the printed diplomatic and consular list of the Department of State as "Colon (Aspinwall)," "Colon" being recognized as the proper form, and "Aspinwall" added in parentheses merely for the purpose of distinguishing the place for the guidance of persons unfamiliar with the Colombian name.

Haiti was the native name of the island when Columbus landed on December 6, 1492, and called it Espagnola, which was latinized into Hispaniola. The French colony which gained control of a part of the island was called Saint Domingue, and in 1795, when France acquired the title to the entire island by treaty with Spain, it was called Saint Domingue, but when the French were driven out, and independence declared in 1804, the aboriginal name Haiti was revived by the negroes. Shortly after this the Spaniards reestablished themselves in the eastern part of the island, retaining the French name modified to Santo Domingo, but in 1821 lost control, and from 1822 to 1843 the whole island was under one government as the Republic of Haiti.

In 1844 the eastern portion of the island again asserted its independence of Haiti and established the Dominican Republic, which remains to the present day.

Thus to-day the island of Haiti, which seems to be the proper name, consists of two countries, Haiti on the west end and Santo Domingo on the east end, the dividing line being drawn from the river Pedernales on the south to the river Massacre on the north coast.
