

FOR FLOOD CONTROL

ASSISTANT ENGINEER LEE FROM J. W. REAGAN'S OFFICE EXAMINES DISTRICT

That the plans for assuring control of the floods that annually devastate the Glendale and Los Angeles district are not to be allowed to drop for want of thorough investigation and careful consideration of all the data available can be seen in the visit of Engineer Lee, who is an assistant in the office of J. W. Reagan, engineer of Flood Control for Los Angeles county. Mr. Lee spent a considerable time in the office of City Engineer Lynch and went over the maps of the district taking data from them for the purpose of elaboration and embodiment in his report.

Mr. Lee also visited Verdugo canyon and the wash and Sycamore canyon, both of which discharge their waters into the Los Angeles river through at different points. The chief points that the flood control department is studying is the rectification of the channels and the installation of check dams in the upper canyons.

According to Mr. Lee there is substantial agreement among the five engineers who compose the Board of Engineers of Flood Control. They have a remedial program that demands four measures:

1. Conservation of storm waters through reforestation and retarding work among the mountains.
2. Spreading of storm waters on the gravel deposits at the mouths of the canyons.
3. Acquisition of official channels for the principal streams on the lower levels and the permanent rectification and protection of those channels.
4. Diversion of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers from the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors to Alamitos bay.

It is certain that these measures are of varying urgency but in the long run they must all be undertaken and completed. They are essential parts of any plan of flood control. They cannot be separated. They must proceed concurrently and must be financed and managed as one project, though it may be deemed advisable to raise money, by bond issue or otherwise, only as actually required.

The diversion works come under the province of the United States government and will be constructed at federal expense, a sum of money having already been provided for that purpose in the Rivers and Harbors bill. The State of California is expected to contribute liberally to these works.

As the act of legislature which created the Los Angeles County Flood Control district and provided for the issuance of bonds or the levying of taxes to finance the proposed works, is an existent fact, it is necessary to take steps to carry out these plans and it is in accordance with the work for the preparing of plans for submission to the county board of supervisors that Mr. Lee visited Glendale Friday, and made a thorough examination of everything that could assist the board of engineers in maturing a final plan to be submitted to that body.

The members of the club present were: Mrs. Andrew Wightman, Mrs. Perce Curtis, Mrs. Capell, Mrs. George Purser, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Goodman Phillips, Mrs. Salo Desky, Mrs. Frank Buchanan, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. George Lyons and Miss Eva Daniels.

Jackson St., and to Ruth Head of 316 Cedar St. No boys entered this competition, therefore both the boxes of chocolates go to girls. If Patricia and Ruth will call at headquarters, 1111 Broadway, they will be given their prizes.

ANNIVERSARY SOCIAL

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH OF GLENDALE CELEBRATES FOURTH YEAR

In celebration of the fourth year of its growth in Glendale the First Lutheran church celebrated its anniversary by a social, at the home of the Rev. R. W. Mottern and Mrs. Mottern, 340 Central avenue, Friday evening. The Rev. Dr. Jesse W. Ball of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Los Angeles, was the guest of the evening and gave an interesting address on the growth of the church in Southern California and of the church in Glendale. He said that the growth of the church had been slow but steady. Recounting the founding of the church four years ago in Glendale, he congratulated the pastor, the Rev. R. W. Mottern, on the work he had accomplished, which showed an 80 per cent gain in membership during the past year. Dr. Ball said that while the work might be slow it was certain and that the gains made were kept and that further increase might be expected.

Mr. George Anderson gave some very delightful piano solos, which exhibited his fine technique. Mrs. Walter Wright gave an interesting reading with much sympathy. Elizabeth Mottern and Fern Porter played some piano duets in excellent style and with much expression.

Mrs. J. A. St. Clair gave a reading, an original poem entitled "The Lovers' Mockingbird," which elicited much applause. Mrs. W. A. Anderson then gave a brief detail of the First Lutheran Church of Glendale, its beginning and its progress. Miss Weiler delighted the audience with a humorous reading, "Dog and Underdog." Mr. J. A. St. Clair gave a forecast of the future of the work in Glendale and made an interesting sketch of the probable development of the city and the growth of the church along with that development.

The Rev. R. W. Mottern made an interesting address in which he briefly told of the work that had been done in his ministry and of the hearty manner in which the people had responded. He looked to see much larger growth during the years to come.

Patricia St. Clair, who is a little more than five years of age, recited with much dramatic effect George Macdonald's striking poem, "Where Did You Come From, Baby Dear?" The party was served with ice cream and cake and spent a delightful evening in desultory music and conversation. Those present were: Dr. Jesse Ball of St. Mark's church, Los Angeles; Mr. J. Esterly of Los Angeles, the Misses Weiler, Mr. W. A. Anderson, Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Carl Anderson, George Anderson, Raymond Anderson, George Mott, Gustave Wellner, Mr. Frazier, Mrs. Frazier, Maybelle Frazier, John A. St. Clair, Mrs. St. Clair, Patricia St. Clair, Mr. Jordan, R. E. Bryson and Mrs. Bryson, Fern Porter, Mrs. J. W. Imler, Mrs. G. B. Hoffman, Mrs. Walter Wright, Miss Connelly, the Rev. R. W. Mottern, Mrs. Mottern, Elizabeth Mottern and Dorsey Mottern.

IVANHOE BRIDGE QUESTION

The Ivanhoe bridge connecting the San Fernando valley with the city of Los Angeles shortening the distance by several minutes and miles will not be built till later. The city council intended to provide $16,630 to cover the city's cost of the bridge but the appropriation will not be made till after the August primaries. Councilman Roberts, who is running (or thinks he is) for supervisor in the fifth district, has been hanging out so much campaign sop over the bridge affair that the budget committee decided not to provide for the "campaign bridge" till after the primary election. If Roberts did not try to use the proposition to further his personal political ends the Ivanhoe bridge would be in the building much sooner than it now will. Here is another illustration of where the people are forced to suffer.—Los Angeles Review.

RANDALL FOR CONGRESS

Congressman Charles H. Randall of this district is not a candidate for president, vice president, but he is a candidate to succeed himself in the House of Representatives. He desires the support of all who feel that he is entitled to it, as a candidate for Congress. Mr. Randall will make a hard fight to win the election to Congress, and is asking all his friends to assist him. There is a suspicion that the report that he would be a candidate for other offices was an attempt to injure his candidacy for Congress. Mr. Randall wants your support as a candidate for Congress.

VILLISTAS RUSHING TOWARD THE BORDER

MEXICAN RAIDERS KNOWN TO BE MOVING NORTH—NO AMERICAN MONEY FOR MEXICO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, July 8.—It is known here that a large band of Villistas has been sighted rushing north for the purpose of attacking the American line in the neighborhood of the Big Bend country. They are credited with the statement that they will raid some more towns before they come back.

Lansing's orders release 1000 married militiamen from this section.

President Wilson has no intention of financing Mexico with American money.

ARMY OFFICERS FORESEE VILLA TROUBLE

BORDER FORCES LEARN BANDIT CHIEF IS ON HIS WAY TO ATTACK GLEN SPRINGS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 8.—American army officers, who are in a position to know the facts of the situation on the border, are positive that the present negotiations with Mexico are futile and believe that all attempts to adjust the quarrel with Mexico will be useless as that bandit is determined to involve the two countries if possible. It was credibly reported here today that Villa at the head of a large body of troops was on his way to attack Glen Springs. The American troops in the neighborhood have been notified.

PRUSSIAN GUARDS LOSE FIVE THOUSAND

KAISER'S MOST FAMOUS REGIMENT CUT UP IN BAD SHAPE BY THE BRITISH AT FRICOURT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, July 8.—Battling along a front of approximately eight miles, from Fricourt to Ancre, the British troops made some valuable gains this morning. The advance became so alarming that the kaiser, who is personally directing the fighting from Cambrai, opposite the English front, sent his most famous regiment, the Prussian guards, to try to stem the movement. The Guards dashed into the fighting with great vigor but were terribly cut up and thrown back. It is reported today that they lost 5000 killed. The action took place at Contalmaison.

FRENCH STOP TO CONSOLIDATE POSITIONS

SALIENT IN GERMAN LINES HELD BY TROOPS OF REPUBLIC IS IN NEED OF SUPPORT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, July 8.—There was quite a lull in the fighting on the front of the French advance in the direction of Peronne. The French find immediate necessity for consolidating the positions they hold, which form a prominent salient in the German lines and are exposed to attack on two sides. There was some fighting today which resulted in favor of the French, southwest of Peronne.

GERMANS RETIRING BEFORE RUSSIAN ATTACK

TEUTONS ADMIT THAT THEY HAVE BEEN COMPELLED TO STRAIGHTEN THEIR LINE AT CZARTORYSK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, July 8.—It was officially admitted in Berlin today that the Teuton troops had retired from Czartorysk in an endeavor to straighten their badly battered line. While there is no confirmation of the news from Rome that the Germans are making a general retirement in the region of Kolki, there are indications that they are being forced out of strong positions there. The Russian troops today drove them out of several important villages, Bodjitia, Pruziatim and Manevitchi.

RUSSIANS CUT OFF 30,000 AUSTRIAN TROOPS

HEAVY FIGHTING WEST OF KOLOMEA RESULTS IN CUTTING OF RAILWAY TO LEMBERG

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, July 8.—Between Kolomea and Lemberg the Russian forces moved across the railway today. This effectually cuts off one of the main arteries of supply for that capital. In the course of this operation the Slavs managed to separate 30,000 Austrians from the main army now in retreat through the Carpathians. The Russians are pressing the attack on the Austrians in the hope of being able to crush them against the Carpathian foothills before they can escape.

AMERICAN SCOUTING AEROPLANE DISABLED

COLUMBUS, N. M., July.—Gen Pershing's best and only available aeroplane was disabled this morning. This unfortunate accident coming so soon after the breakdown of the other aeroplanes leaves the general of the United States forces without other means of learning the enemy's movements except cavalry. The general is at a great disadvantage in this respect.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

GARDEN SOCIETY AUXILIARY PLAN VISIT TO EXPOSITION MUSEUM

The Bird and Flower club have arranged to spend next Wednesday at L. A. Exposition Park, there to study birds and flowers. Members and friends will please meet at headquarters, 1111 Broadway, at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, in order to catch the 9:55 car from Brand and Broadway. Each child is to bring carfare and lunch. The Directors of the Glendale Garden society will supply ice cream to every child after the noonday meal. All adults as well as children interested in birds or flowers are invited to join this trip. The morning will be spent in the museum learning about birds; then luncheon, after which the afternoon hours will be devoted to the wonderful five acres of wild flowers grown in Exposition Park. Accompanying the club will be several people expert in nature study. Many mothers and grown-up friends are planning to join the happy group; everybody welcome. Remember—carfare and lunch for each individual. Date—Wednesday, July 12, 9:30 o'clock a. m. at headquarters, 1111 Broadway. Members of the Garden society are especially invited to attend. Members of both clubs are reminded to wear their membership badges and buttons.—NANNO WOODS, President.

RAILROAD SURVEY

In connection with the changes contemplated in the roadway of the Glendale-Montrose railway Messrs. Mulligan and Wright, roadmaster and engineer of the road under the new management, have been making a complete survey of the line. The roadway is to be put into such shape that it will be a permanent affair no matter what street changes may be necessary in part of the territory through which it passes.

LOWERING P. E. TRACKS

There is a general demand by citizens of Glendale and especially by property owners on Brand Boulevard that the Pacific Electric tracks be lowered south of Colorado street and north of Second street to conform with the tracks between Second and Colorado streets. The right of way except the crossings is the private property of the Pacific Electric railway company, and as conditions are at present the paved streets on either side of the tracks are separate thoroughfares, and the only way to bring about the lowering of the tracks is by the consent of the railroad company, or the condemning of the company's property for road purposes.

The company is not likely to concede to the first plan and the second plan would be a long drawn out procedure.

The Glendale community is one of the reliable assets of the Pacific Electric company in the way of contributing good business, and the company can well afford to cater in a reasonable way to the wishes of the Glendale community. Good service and a hearty co-operation with the people's best interests will be an excellent patronage holder.

When it is evident to the public that the company stands ready to meet all reasonable requirements promptly and manly that same public is more apt to remain loyal to the company, and when it comes to the question of the traveling public throwing patronage to the railroad instead of auto busses, the railroad company will be given the preference. Good service and complying with reasonable requests on the part of the Pacific Electric company will do much in Glendale to cause the public to stand loyally by the company.

TROPICO ANNEXATION

A UNITED COMMUNITY AT PEACE BETTER THAN UNITED MUNICIPALITY IN STRIFE

The management of the Evening News wishes to state very emphatically that the News is taking no part whatever in the Tropico annexation question. If there are any Tropico people who have good reasons to present through this paper why the two cities should be consolidated we will be glad to give them space, and if there are those who have good reasons to present why the two cities should not be consolidated we will be equally pleased to give them publicity.

The question of consolidation should be decided just as the people of Tropico would wish to have it. There is no need of mud slinging, while considering this question of consolidation. The citizen of Tropico who denounces and slurs his own city administration is doing a wrong and the citizen of Tropico who denounces or slurs the Glendale administration and public service institutions is likewise doing wrong. The man, regardless of place of residence and regardless of the question under consideration, who says Glendale has poor water and not a sufficient water supply and intimates that the Glendale municipal water system is not a success is ignorant of what he is saying or else is a malicious and bad citizen for any community.

As has often been stated in the Evening News the Glendale community comprises Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo and it is very evident that if it is an advantage for Glendale to have a municipal organization and an advantage to Tropico to have a municipal organization that for both of these cities to work under the same municipal head would be a still greater advantage. But if the attempt to bring about a united municipality would be the cause of bitter discussions, heated and unreliable statements, factional fights, it would be better that the question of consolidation would never be considered. While the Evening News is a firm believer in preparedness it is also a strong advocate of peace. Whatever course is taken please allow the Glendale community to enjoy peace, sweet peace.

Persons not complying with this requirement will not be permitted to vote at the primary election, August 29.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN SERIOUS

The presence of an open bottle of gasoline in close proximity to a lighted heater in a bath room came very close to producing a Fourth of July fire, in the apartment in the McIntyre block occupied by Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Mills. The inflammable nature of gasoline was never better illustrated than in this case. The gasoline exploded merely from the contact of its fumes with the gas flame of the heater even though at some small distance from it. The whole of the bathroom was instantly enveloped in the flame and only the prompt action of those present prevented a more serious affair.

A MILLION POUNDS OF FOOD DESTROYED

Nearly a million pounds of foodstuffs, unfit for human consumption, have been condemned and destroyed by the California State Board of Health during the past four months. Some of these products were decayed, others were infected with worms; all were putrid and unfit for eating. Prof. E. J. Lea, Director of the Board's Bureau of Foods and Drugs, states that these foodstuffs which have been destroyed consist of 437 tons of condiments, chiefly catsup made from spoiled tomatoes, nearly seven tons of decomposed eggs, six tons of fruit, five tons of poultry and eight tons of miscellaneous food supplies.

Through the removal of these five hundred tons of foodstuffs from the markets of the State, not only has the health of the public been safeguarded, but unscrupulous dealers have been taught that such foods can not be sold to citizens of California.—Grocers' Advocate.

MEXICO'S REAL TROUBLE

It is apparent that it will be possible to adjust all the disputes between the United States and the Carranzistas without much trouble. There has never really been any dispute that could not have been easily settled were it not that other forces are at work to keep Mexico in trouble and to involve the United States in war with that unfortunate country. There are foreign interests that would welcome the outbreak of a war, though some of them do not want it at present.

Great Britain and France have each about $750,000,000 invested in Mexico. The oil wells of the south are of vast importance to their armies at the present moment and it is inconceivable that they would like to see war between Mexico and the United States as that would probably mean the loss of their oil supply.

Germany, very naturally, would rejoice to see the two countries fighting for the very same reason, because it knows that the war would stop the oil from going to the Allies. It is possible that Japan might like to see a war in Mexico also. Japan has very little sympathy with this country and the feeling of dislike with which the Japanese regard the United States has been intensified by California's discriminative race legislation, which the Japanese hold to be in flagrant violation of the agreement between the two countries.

It is significant that during the recent critical period in Mexico when it seemed that war would be declared against the United States it was reported that more than 1000 Japanese had joined the Mexican army and that in every state of Mexico the little brown men were offering their services. Deducting as much as may seem reasonable from these stories it still seems that Japan would not be greatly disturbed were war to break out between the United States and Mexico.

With all these varying interests there is another that is of much importance. That is Villa. That notorious bandit is reported at present as having recruited 3000 men in the province of Durango and to be traversing the state increasing his numbers as he goes. Villa is the head and front of the offending in Mexico. At one time he was quite popular with the United States press and was written about and pictured as the friend of the peon. Tales of his bravery and of his early escapes from Diaz' men were fed to the American public. Gen. Hugh Scott himself had a good word for Villa. Now Villa is obnoxious to Wilson and no one has a good word for him.

It is said that Villa, who has a singular contempt for Carranza, whom he styles "his whiskers," was maddened because Wilson recognized Carranza and that he vowed to make trouble between the United States and Mexico. This, it is declared, was the origin of the raid on Columbus, N. M., where Villa is said to have led the raiders.

Some say that Villa was not among the raiders at all. Others state that he undertook the raid at the instance of a foreign power that desired to involve the United States and Mexico. Which of these stories is true is not apparent. But Villa, himself, is alive and at the head of troops and is likely to cause more trouble for the United States and for Carranza, whom he now bitterly hates. There will be no peace in Mexico until Villa has been put beyond the reach of evil.

PERIODICAL TIDES OF LIFE

In these days when those who are enjoying vacations have a chance to run down to the ocean beaches they may observe the constant flow of the tides, which twice a day silently sweep in along the coast and breathe new life into the dry stretches of the beaches. Before the tide comes in the vast stretches of ocean front look disheveled and in places dried up and parched. With the first stir of the incoming tide new life awakens along the sands and among the rocks. The little rock pools begin to fill up with vivifying water from the ocean and the countless inhabitants of every pool come out from beneath the seaweed and move and crawl and swim in answer to the touch of the life-giving tide.

There is new life in the breath of the ocean with its incoming and outgoing tides. The message the tide brings is always of interest. Sometimes it throws up on the shore the floating branch or log, from a distant land; fragments of some vessel's furnishings, the flotsam and jetsam of the mighty world. It is always mysterious, this ocean tide. Following the mighty pull of the sun and the moon, varying in depth and force with their varying positions and proximity, it is part of the mighty universe and speaks of a higher power than mere matter.

The tide creeps into the silent and stagnant marshes. It flows in little streams by a thousand channels into the decaying tissues of the salt grass and re-awakens them to new existence and what might have been and was rapidly becoming a charnel house of once living organisms changes into a scene of active life and beauty with the return of the tide. From the heart of the boundless deep it comes with the breath of life and the gift of renewed existence to forms that were on the verge of death. The dying marshes hear the call of life and revive once more.

Human life is even such a marsh. It becomes sterile and dried up and withered and is even ready to perish, when softly, meekly, beautifully, silently, irresistibly, sweeps in the tide of divine life upon it and the dried bones of humanity and its decaying tissues live again. The tide of truth must return to our lives regularly otherwise we would perish. We need the tide of truth to sweeten and revivify our souls.

This is a restless age. It seeks ever some new form of truth. Never halting, never staying, it wears itself out in its search and finds at last that what was needed was not so much a new form of truth as a constant renewing of the old form. The daily sweep of the old tide of truth over the soul is indispensable. It is not needful to aspire after the new so much as to remember the old. Old forms, old facts, old ways, old truths learned in childhood—these

PROGRESS IN LIP READING

The announcement that Utten E. Read, for several years instructor in the Indiana State School for the Deaf, will become pastor of a congregation of deaf persons in Cincinnati, points to the progress made in lip-reading as a substitute for the sign language, and to the new world to which the deaf are being introduced. It has not been many years since the deaf knew nothing of music, the drama, and oratory save what they read. Music is still unknown to them, but an adept in lip-reading can follow the message of the orator or preacher with great clearness.

In New York recently a lecturer completed a course to deaf children, the last being on sculpture of animals. The proper names used in the lecture, certain rare words which do not lend themselves to lip-reading, and the names of tools referred to, were written on the blackboard, and the lecturer was assisted by a modeler, who demonstrated the main processes, but the lecture proper was delivered in plain English and the children understood. They had all been trained in lip-reading. They communicated their own thoughts to the instructor in the sign language at first. Not many of them can speak so as to be understood, and with the aid of lip-reading, carry on a conversation with a person who is able to talk and hear.

The day seems to be not far distant when none but illiterate deaf mutes will depend exclusively upon the sign language or writing for the communication of their thought.

GROWTH OF BIRD RESERVES

Beginning in 1903 with the reservation of Pelican Island, Florida, with an area of six acres as a bird sanctuary, the United States has set aside a total of seventy tracts for the purpose. The largest one is the Niobrara in Nebraska which contains about 11,000 acres. The birds on these reservations are protected by a special act of Congress, and by various State game laws; with a few exceptions the lands set aside have no agricultural value, consisting of rocky lands or tracts of marsh lands admirable for this purpose because difficult of access by law violators.

The more important reservations are watched by wardens, but much of the work of protecting the birds has been voluntarily undertaken by members of the National Association of Audubon societies. The whole system is under the direction of the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture.

The most important birds protected are pelicans, gulls, terns, herons, and ducks in the gulf district. The Hawaiian reservation is interesting, in that it protects many of the Pacific white terns and petrels. Other forms of wild life on the reservations are also protected, but care is taken to see that animals that might prey upon the birds are kept out.

are the tides that sweep periodically into every wise soul, revivify its worn tissues and stimulate its decaying powers.

To have a daily renewing of the life of the soul is to find oneself sweetened and strengthened for the duties as well as for the trials of life. No soul can endure this tide of eternal truth can we exist in this life. All other kind of life is a mockery. The daily tides of truth makes men and women fair to see. They create a spirit that lights up the dreariest path. They bring life; they bring joy; they bring peace.

CHANCE FOR AN EDUCATION

Some time ago a business man of New Orleans, La., offered to pay the expenses of two girls living anywhere in the United States through college, provided they met the requirements which he laid down. He had had a prosperous year, and felt that it would be a satisfaction to devote some of his profits to giving two bright girls the opportunity for a college education who might otherwise be unable to obtain one.

The first girl to qualify is a member of Public School No. 139 in Brooklyn, New York. She is to go to Bryn Mawr College, after completing her public school course.

STAMPING OUT CATERPILLARS

The Citizens' Association of Huntington, Long Island offered $50 in prizes to the Boy Scouts of the locality for destroying caterpillar nests, and public school pupils have also been induced to join the campaign. The prize money has been divided into eight parts—four prizes for the patrols gathering the most nests, and the other four as prizes for individual efforts. Over 200 boys are enrolled in the service.

This locality of Long Island has been threatened with the destruction of its shrubbery and many of its trees, owing to the workings of the caterpillars, but it is believed that the enterprising young people will stamp them out.

A Newport school teacher who had been recently telling a class of small pupils the story of the discovery of America by Columbus, ended it with, "And all this happened more than four hundred years ago." A little boy, with eyes wide open with wonder, said, after a moment's thought, "Oh, my, what a memory you've got!"—Exchange.

A GREAT PHONE SYSTEM

There are 2,600,000 telephone calls every business day in New York City, which has the busiest and the largest "central" in the world. It is larger even than the combined systems of London, Paris, Berlin, Petrograd, and Rome, which have 14,765,000 population compared with New York's 5,500,000.

New York City has 620,000 telephones, and adds about 5,000 each month. The four largest hotels in New York have in the aggregate 21,000 telephones; this is more than all the instruments in the kingdom of Spain, and as many as are on the entire continent of Africa.

THESE WE HEAR IN THE SONG

Pleasant smiles; gentle tones; cheery greetings; tempers sweet under a headache, or a business care; the ready bubbling over of thoughtfulness for one another—and habits of smiling, greeting, forbearing, thinking in these ways. It is these above all else which make one's home "a building of God, a house not made with hands"; these that we hear in the song of "Home, Sweet Home."—Selected.

The inner man, as well as the outer man, needs food. Prayer is as necessary as breakfast—and much more important.—Young Soldier.

A DANGEROUS ROOSTER

Down on a farm near the Furnish dam there is a rooster that L. A. McClintock, local implement dealer, thinks should be on the fighting front over in Europe or down in Mexico. The "blankety blank" would fight an army by himself," he says, and he speaks from a painful experience that put him on the hospital list.

In company with Sam Paine, W. C. E. Pruitt and Elbert Stockler, he went down to the Furnish dam yesterday in quest of good fishing. As the anglers were walking through the barnyard at the ranch there, a big Buff Cochon rooster strutted out with ruffled feathers. Evidently he was in a belligerent mood as a result of the trespass upon his preserves. Coming up behind McClintock he delivered a sturdy peck at the implement man's calf, which was protected by a knee boot. The rooster was not to be denied by any such defense. Walking around in front of McClintock he leaped into the air and drove his long, sharp spurs home just above the knee, one on either side, delivering at the same time a stout blow from his beak.

The spurs entered the flesh and struck the tendons of the leg. McClintock had to be helped to the automobile, so effectively had the old rooster crippled him. By the time he reached home his leg was swollen and stiff and today he cannot use it.—Fresno "Republican."

LA CANADA

The La Canada improvement association will hold its meeting Saturday evening, July 8, at Club hall. A good program is planned. Every one come.

A jolly group of young people spent the Fourth of July picnicking in the Arroyo Seco. The day was an ideal one for a trip to the mountains and everyone had a swell time. Those that made up the party were Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, Henrietta Horne, Margaret Van Degrift, Dorothy Lester, Clara Armstrong and Messrs Tyler Van Degrift, Edwin Cooper, Hardwick Van Degrift, Robert Horne, Albert Van Degrift, Lawrence Lester, Robert Cooper and Cecil Van Degrift.

Mrs. Williams has sold a large amount of spineless cactus to Mrs. Ross of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Knight have been spending a few days at San Diego. The fair apt other points of interest were visited.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Seright spent the Fourth at Hermosa beach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Metcalf and son spent Tuesday at San Gabriel canyon. A very pleasant day was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Slutman and children spent Tuesday at Redondo with Mr. Slutman's parents.

The Parent-Teacher association will hold its first summer meeting Friday afternoon, July 8, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fenton Knight. Everyone is urged to come.

Mrs. Clark, mother of Mrs. Ralph Moses, passed away Wednesday morning at her home in La Canada.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mathewson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathewson of Pasadena spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stultz.

Mrs. Charles Weaver, Miss Juanita Weaver and Waldomau Weaver have returned from a two weeks' outing with friends and relatives in the San Joaquin valley.

Mrs. S. Hall gave a small picnic in the Arroyo Seco on Thursday, all the guests attending on horseback.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Guidinger and son Ted left Friday for a visit of several days with the former's brother at his ranch home in San Jacinto.

Mr. Brown, the Los Angeles capitalist, is getting ready to erect a fine residence on the tallest of the group of hills at the western edge of town, adjoining the Eversole and Waterman places. This will make the fourth residence to go up within the past year in this slightly locality, affording as it does, a glorious view of mountain, hills and valley, with a fine glimpse of the sea beyond, when the days are clear. Mr. Waterman has been able to distinguish the lighthouse at San Pedro and the ships in the offing when the atmosphere is unclouded by fog or mist.

Mr. Brown is grading a fine road to the summit, and while his house is building will have landscape gardeners at work laying out and beautifying the canyon below, where splendid oak trees afford a fine beginning. Here he plans to create a fine park, for the comfort and enjoyment of himself and family and their numerous friends.

BOYS RAISING POTATOES

Twenty boys to raise and ship a carload of potatoes! That sounds like a big undertaking, and it is. But this is what twenty hustling boys of the Potato Club of Douglas county, Nevada, have set out to do, under the supervision of E. E. Oxley, county agent in boys' and girls' club work. So far as is known, this is the first time such an undertaking has ever been attempted anywhere in the United States.

The boys have purchased seed selected by the State University, and are planting, cultivating, irrigating and harvesting their potatoes themselves. Boys under 12 will take one-tenth of an acre, those over 12, one-eighth of an acre, and those more than 16 years of age, will raise four-fifths of an acre, but will be "penalized" enough to equalize their ages with those of the younger boys, and make the contest fair to all.

Several prizes will be offered to the boys raising the largest yields of the best quality at the least cost.

The Southern Pacific company will more than likely purchase the potatoes for use on its dining cars.

Besides potatoes, there are garden, baby beef, sheep and pig projects under way, and the boys and girls are showing an enthusiastic interest in all of their club work.

FARMING AS A BUSINESS

The principles which underlie profitable farming are not unlike those which underlie the profitable conduct of any other business. The difference is merely in the application. The one fundamental principle underlying all successful business undertakings is that the cost must be less than the selling price. In the operation of this principle agriculture is no exception.

Farming, however, is such a complex business, and the different enterprises making up the farm unit are so intricately related, that it is often well-nigh impossible to determine the true cost or the true selling price of a farm product, and even when they are determined they are always subject to seasonal alterations.

However, the relation of any factor in farming to the profits of the farm as a whole, by the study of a large group of farms, can be fairly accurately determined. This relation of the individual enterprise to the profits of the whole is perhaps the best guide to successful farming and to an understanding of the principles upon which good farm organizations is based.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

John Wanamaker made public last week an open letter to the advertising men's world convention in session in Philadelphia in which he defined the province of advertising.

"When my little store closed its doors on the first day of business way back in 1861," Mr. Wanamaker wrote, "the sum of $24.67 was found in the old-fashioned till under the counter.

"The sixty-seven cents was left there for making change next morning and the $24 was taken out by the founder and spent with the newspapers, which were asked simply to say that the new store was open and doing business, and had a good stock of goods useful to the people.

"If I ever have a monument for discovering anything, it will be for finding out that the only advertising of direct and instant benefit to both merchant and customer is in the daily or country weekly newspaper of known circulation."

Only the anointed eye
Sees in common things
Gleam of wave and tint of sky,
Heavenly blossoms,
To the hearts where light has birth
Nothing can be dear;
Budding thru the bloom of earth
Heaven is always near.
