DISUNION.

We give a frank speech on disunion expressed with merriment and indignation. The people are angry and amazed at the spirit evinced in the harangue; but absolutely laugh at his Hotspur-like belligerent phrasology, his unbridled self-conceit. As for a belief in Gov. Wise's reason to be affected. Sane on all ordinary matters, he mounts his disunion hobby-horse all control over his thoughts and at a tangent. He fancies that he has struck a new political creed, the realization of which is that if the South succeed to dictate to the rest of the Union in the case of the Presidency, she shall be incontinently broken up by the words and windy harangue made Union Richmond to its elementary basis. Of course does it amount? Abstract and declamation, the rounded and periods, the bursts of hot invective, the copious infusion of rhapsody and bombast, and nothing is left as a residuum of formidable menace. We do not believe that Wise's speeches astonish the Virginians. They hardly expect in a man of this most erratic, self-contemplated genius, who blends with his assertions strength with folly with manly sense, and declamatory with the merest twaddle, who is a constant, everchanging as versatile as the wind, as the weather; who has been by turns and nothing long Democrat, rabid Whig, Tyler man, Locofoco, and now turns to water and disunionist.

Gov. Henry A. Wise be sane or delusive to understand that his notoriety and durability of this long party squad of schemers are using them cunningly, amusement in the South to Union. The Governor is too earnest in his views. He is nature is too earnest and too sincere, but seven-eighths of his gush and echo his cry are shallow and pretenders. They are like the melancholy Jaques, without professing that they are like Mr. BUCHANAN's defeat the Union was dependent on a sturdy office-hunter. Words has been intriguing for Democratically leaders don't mean half what they say. It is evident. We verily believe that if them would gladly accept Federal emoluments under John C. FREMONT.

Simulated terrors fail to intimidate. These are too cognizant of the Union, and too well acquainted with the aims of those who operate it, to be misled by a mere cry. Let the real disunionists, if there are any out of South Carolina, secede. We dare them to breeze. Instead of addressing the fears of the people, the love of Union to be rebuked, let them come out openly in opposition, and their leaders would not much excite us. Does any one think Stuart really wants the election of Fremont's election? He only writes for effect. The citizens of Louisa for a President who will support, or send him to the Penitentiary.

Although Wise, to prate of treason if not elected, and his followers to aggressors and invasion, do not bear in more of actual.

Mass Meeting.—Our paper of a Whig Mass Meeting to be held at the Whig National Hotel this evening, signed by 214 of the Whig Nationals, and we recognize the names of many who were active Fillmore will get out in force. Whigs of New Orleans, to your colors! Rally in numbers! Let your names be recorded in our columns.

We are compelled to write and speak to-morrow evening, with one thousand pressing, with one thousand questions unanswered. One of the reasons for reference or [illegible] Garrett & Co., publishers.

We received a story by the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by the author of "Mary Powell." It is equal to Lever's best, and fullness of humor.—Those who can enjoy a good book, who can enjoy a good laugh, should read it. D. Appleton & Co., publishers.

Our advertising columns will show that a disciplined lady continues to cure families, as visiting Mrs. Brown is admirably qualified for the preceptress; and we can assure for their children her acquirements and her own advantages of her services.

The Democratic ticket has been nominated in New Hampshire. Every State in New England South Carolina, will be the friends of the "model Pres-

Fillmore in New Jersey.

Several old men of both parties in New Jersey to Fillmore by a letter Com. Stockton's name, and has active exertions we have never felt any In confirmation of our the London Gazette, an able Fillmore paper, the following intelligence, highly cheering and gratifying:

"We are on the greatest agitation prevailing New Jersey by the conservative Democrats and Whigs. We can't [illegible] be permitted, under the section-agitation for the establishment of her children [illegible] ashamed. The [illegible] voted, so [illegible] concerned. THE ELECTIONS TO-MORROW.

To-morrow, the 14th inst., very important elections will be held in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

In each of these States unbalanced Congress are to be elected; in Pennsylvania twenty-five, in Ohio twenty-one, and Indiana eleven, making fifty-seven in all.

In Pennsylvania, a Canal Commissioner, Auditor and Surveyor are to be chosen by general vote. Two tickets are in the field—the Democratic and the Union opposition. A State Legislature will also be chosen, which will have to select a United States Senator in the place of the Hon. Richard Brodhead, whose term expires in March, 1857.

In Ohio, Judges of the Supreme Court, an Attorney-General, School Commissioner, and Commissioner of Public Works have to be chosen. There are three State tickets nominated—American, Democratic and Republican.

In Indiana, a Governor and a full corps of State officers are to be chosen. In this State the American party have made no nominations for Congressmen or State officers.

We considerable to predict the result in any of these States with confidence. Both parties have done their utmost in the way of bragging and crowing, but we think the opposition have boasted the loudest, while the Democrats have worked the hardest. Never in the course of our experience have we witnessed such exertions as the Democrats have made in Pennsylvania and Indiana, and especially in the former. As a sample, we may state that no less than one hundred public speakers are engaged on the Democratic side in the Keystone State. Money flows like water, and frauds of the grossest character are said to be in contemplation, as the following statement from a New York paper will show:

"Preparations for enormous frauds have been made in view of the approaching election in Pennsylvania. This we intimated the other day, and now have positive data upon the subject. In Philadelphia it appears that between ten and fifteen thousand votes have been added to the extra assessment lists, mainly by the Buck-tail Democracy. There are 4,000 in Millward's District alone. These facts, together with the significant circumstance that the Commissioners have determined not to publish the names and residences, as is usually done, assigning the preconcerted reason that no appropriation had been made for such publication by the Democratic Councils, are excited much feeling, showing, as they do, a manifest design to carry the election by fraud. The colonization process has been managed especially by recruits from New Jersey. We are informed that if the attempt is made to carry it out on any such wholesale scale as is threatened, collisions at the polls cannot be prevented. The people of Pennsylvania will not submit with patience to Jefferis's ballot-box stuffing, or be barefacedly cheated out of their rights."

In view of these facts, we shall be perfectly satisfied if the opposition ticket prevails. Any majority whatever against Mr. BUCHANAN on Tuesday next will settle his fate in November.

Fillmore Ratification Meeting.

Mr. Fillmore will be ratified by the Whigs of New Orleans this evening, at the Whig National Hotel. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Reverdy Johnson, Hon. Thomas J. Durant, Hon.
