COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY EVENING, OFFICE OF THE BEE, August 26, 1858.

Our general market remains without much activity, but business during the past week has been up to the average for this advanced period of the business. In Cotton we notice more activity, the arrivals of the new crop, which month will be considered at full prices. In Tobacco operations have been of a limited character, but during August and September we look for a large business, as the new crop comes forward. Breadstuffs have been active, and prices for the former have fluctuated considerably. Groceries have been active and full prices. Provisions have been steady. Sugar and Molasses have been quiet, with small sales. Exchange on the North and East has been unchanged during the week, closing at par to ¼ premium buying, and ¼ premium selling. Freights have been active and full prices.

The following is a statement of the receipts and exports for the former port for the week, and since the 1st September, 1858, and for the corresponding period last year:

The week opened with an improved demand, and the sales on Saturday amounted to 1500 bales, at the range of our previous quotations. The sales on Monday and Tuesday, and some 1800 bales were disposed of during the two days, but on Wednesday the buyers fell off to 600 bales, prices being without any material change. Yesterday's sales amounted to 1000 bales, and to-day's to 900, making a total for the week of 4400 bales. Of the same 3d quot crop, the range for which has been 11¼@11¾c S B. for Low Middling to Middling Fair. (All [illegible] apply to old crop, and rise as before.
