

HUNDREDS AT IMPRESSIVE FLAG DAY SERVICES

Thrilling Ceremony Takes Place Under Auspices Of Elks Lodge

Elks and friends, with their families, to the number of fully 600, assembled in the lodge room of the East Colorado street clubhouse at 8:15 o'clock last night, for the annual Flag Day program...

Addressing the large audience, after the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," James A. Apfel, exalted ruler of the local lodge, briefly declared the assemblage had met for the purpose of honoring the country's flag...

For Great Principles Exalted Ruler Apfel then called upon four brother officers of the lodge, from their posts to north, south, east and west, for definitions of the four great principles upon which the order is founded...

Suddenly in the still room, there broke from a recess above the alcove where the tableau was staged, an American flag, and while it fluttered proudly in the breeze, Thoma Fultz and Edwin J. Albright sang "The Flag of Freedom."

Then, while the sweet, sad strains: "Flag of our heroes Who lent us their glory—sung in the hushed air, and while the proud flag fluttered in the spotlight, the curtains slowly closed on the tableau—and the last soft notes of the beloved song faded.

History of Flag The lights came up and from his post to the left, James F. McBryde, esteemed lecturer in tonight, read a brief history of the flag, telling how it was first formed 146 years ago, June 14, 1777, and that prior to that time each colony had a different flag. On that date, esteemed Lecturing Knight McBryde brought out Congress adopted a resolution that the American flag should consist of thirteen alternate red and white stripes, with thirteen white stars on a field of azure.

Flag's Symbolism Theme Of Stirring Address At Elks' Lodge Ceremonies

A POWERFUL, ringing address on the American flag was delivered at the Elks' lodge last night by William H. Anderson of the Santa Monica lodge. Mr. Anderson's topic was "Our Flag: What It Symbolizes." His plea was for a flag that should be a symbol of every day effort and achievement, as well as the occasional bloody triumph of the battlefield. The address follows: "When Freedom from her mountain height Unfurled her standard to the air, She tore the azure robe of night And set the stars of glory there! She mingled with its gorgeous dyes The milky baldric of the skies, And striped its pure, celestial white With streakings of the morning light; Then from his mansion in the sun She called her eagle-bearer down, And gave into his mighty hand The symbol of her chosen land."

Bert P. Woodard Proposes Borough System In L. A. Charter To Aid Glendale

THE new charter, now being drafted by the board of freeholders for the city of Los Angeles, may vitally affect Glendale in the opinion of Attorney Bert P. Woodard of 103-A South Brand boulevard, who suggested that the adoption of the "borough system" of metropolitan government, similar to that used in New York city, might be an advantage to the suburbs of Los Angeles. Although the matter was brought up at 11 o'clock last night, the Glendale City Council gave the subject attention and decided to take it up in detail at a special meeting in the near future. Mr. Woodard, who submitted the following communication, called attention to the fact that action must be taken within the next 120 days: "You are undoubtedly aware of the fact that Fifteen Freeholders have recently been elected to frame a new charter for the City of Los Angeles, and the object of this communication is to suggest that the City of Glendale is in the preparation of a charter, and that it is interested in seeing to it, or rather suggesting that the charter provide a complete borough system for the City of Los Angeles."

"I have opposed annexation to the City of Los Angeles every time it has been suggested or agitated in the City of Glendale, and am still firmly convinced that it is not to the best interest of our city to annex to Los Angeles. I am convinced also that a large majority of our people would vote against a straight annexation proposition if it is ever presented to them at an election called for that purpose. The chief reason for this opposition to annexation is the Glendale, like every other real city adjacent to a larger one, has problems or affairs of its own which are purely local, and which should be retained and exercised by their own people or their duly elected local representatives."

Immediate Problems "There are, however, problems of government, or rather municipal affairs, which Glendale needs to call upon Los Angeles in solving, problems which, in fact, cannot be solved without assistance and co-operation from the larger city. The one outstanding problem which falls in this class is our sewer question. The discussion of this one question, and the various unsuccessful attempts to reach some agreement with Los Angeles, which will be legal and binding upon both sides, has held Glendale back in its wonderful growth."

"All of us know of the old principle stated over and over again by the authors of our law books that 'where there is a wrong there is a remedy.' Surely Glendale has a remedy in this matter of sewers which is so vital to its health and future growth. Indeed, she must have, but sometimes the remedy selected or attempted to be used is not the best one, or is only temporary, and while all of our efforts to solve the sewer question may be said to have been in vain, we have not yet found the permanent remedy."

"A borough system for Los Angeles is a remedy which I believe will solve the sewer problem, as well as all other difficulties and problems of a similar character which are likely to arise in the future, and will solve them not only for Glendale, but for all other sister cities lying adjacent to Los Angeles."

Charter Provision "I have given the matter some thought and am convinced that a complete borough system for the city of Los Angeles can and should be provided for in its new charter. (Continued on page 4)

DEPOT AGAIN SUBJECT OF ARGUMENT

Council Hears Discussion From Two Sides But Takes No Action

The Southern Pacific station, which is still unbuilt, was not moved again last night by the City Council. Dissatisfaction over the attitude of the city council in the matter was expressed by Roscoe Belcher, of 605 West Colorado street, and Mrs. L. M. Baker, of 1715 Gardena avenue. Their protests seemed to be based upon two main points: First, objection to the cost of opening Cerritos avenue being paid by a special assessment district; second, objection to cost of opening Cerritos being paid by the whole city.

The city council was accused of acting in bad faith, according to Mr. Belcher, who called attention several times to the fact that it had announced Thursday night a week ago that the matter would be dropped so far as the city administration was concerned, and then had taken it up again the following morning.

Point of Difference Councilman Asa Hall and Councilman Sam Davis both asserted that there is a difference between purchasing the two lots involved for $20,000, which was the former price, and $8500, which is the present price to the city.

Mrs. Baker denied that the present price of the property is $8500. She stated that she knew on good authority that the price was not less than $14,500. She inquired who is paying the additional $6000. She remarked that there certainly was a "nigger in the woodpile" somewhere.

The action of the City Council in deciding to encourage the Southern Pacific to locate the new station at the end of Cerritos avenue was commended by W. E. Lusby, of 418 Rivardale drive, who expressed his opinion that it was very desirable that the depot should be located as close to transportation facilities as possible. He added that, as very few automobile owners employ chauffeurs, they would be obliged to go to and from the station upon street cars.

According to Mr. Lusby, those who have taken an active interest in the matter, seem to live within a short distance of the depot property. He intimated that they might have some selfish interest. He called attention to the fact that a majority of the citizens are perfectly satisfied with the decision, and are making no protest.

Will Refuse Chinese Offer to Buy Planes

MANILA, June 15.—The offer of General Cheng of China to purchase several airplanes which were used in training Filipino national guardsmen will probably be turned down, it developed today. In response to Governor Wood's cable to Washington, he was advised that the matter had been referred to American Minister Schurman in Peking. Advice were received by General Wood from Schurman that Peking was probably endeavoring to purchase the planes for war purposes.

MRS. CROKER WINS WILL CONTEST

Verdict in Widow's Favor Received With Cheers From Spectators

DUBLIN, June 15.—The jury in the Croker will contest this afternoon returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. Bula Croker, widow of the late Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany in New York. She was the sole legatee, under the will, which was contested by Croker's children by a former marriage.

The verdict in favor of the widow had been anticipated as the judge's charge to the jury seemed to favor her side, giving emphasis to the conflict in testimony concerning the allegation that Mrs. Bula Croker was married to Guy Marone at Northampton, Mass. She wed Richard Croker in New York in 1914, Richard Croker, a son, was chief of the plaintiffs. His sister, Mrs. Ethel Croker White, also was a party to the suit. Mrs. Bula Croker denied all the charges against her. The case opened on May 31.

Truck Driver Is Heir To British Title

OAKLAND, June 15.—Russell S. Houston, 31, did not take his lumber truck out today on its customary trip. Instead he exerted his pay and began to figure out just how it feels to be a millionaire. He received notification that he was the sole heir to the $8,000,000 estate of the late Lord Covington of England, who died suddenly in Salt Lake city two years ago while on a world tour.

Convicted Slayer of Mother, Daughter, Dies

CHICAGO, June 15.—Caspar Pastroni, convicted of having slain Mrs. Elizabeth Wittchell and her 11 years old daughter Agatha when Mrs. Wittchell refused to desert her husband and elope, was hanged here today. Pastroni attempted to commit suicide at the time of the crime and was half blind and practically deaf from self-inflicted wounds. He went to his death without comment.

W. B. Kirk, Starting On World Tour, Writes About Itinerary And Some 'Ifs'

THE first letter from W. B. Kirk, who with Mrs. Kirk and daughter, Miss Marie, left Southern California Saturday, June 9, for a year's trip around the world, has been received at The Glendale Evening News office and is here with printed for the pleasure of the Kirks' friends and the many readers of The Evening News.

On Friday, June 8, a letter from Mr. Kirk was printed, telling of preliminaries necessary to starting on their trip. So the following letter, while the second communication, is the first letter written by Mr. Kirk en route. He writes: "Our itinerary, as outlined, will be as follows: Leaving New York at noon June 21, our boat will touch at Boston next day, sailing thence direct to Christiania, Norway, without stop, passing north of Scotland. Proceeding to Christiania for a day, a night run will land us in Copenhagen."

"As the trip over will consume about ten days, a stay of three or four days in Denmark will probably carry us over 'The Fourth.' Thence north across the sound to Gothenburg, Sweden, where we will spend two or three days at the Exposition, which is celebrating the 300th anniversary of its founding. We will leave there via slow boat through the famous Go Canal, which takes about two days and a night to land us in Stockholm. Through the beautiful Swedish scenery. Plan to See Fjords "From Stockholm we will probably go overland northwest through Sweden and Norway to Trondheim, on the north coast of Norway, whence we will take a boat down the coast, viewing the Fjords, which I have always so longed to see. We expect this Scandinavian part of the trip to consume most of July."

"August we will spend in Scotland, Wales, Ireland and England, possibly longer than that. Back to the continent, to Belgium, Holland, up the Rhine (if possible), to Switzerland. Ten days more in the little republic will take us along into October. Thence to Vienna, Prague and into Germany. The principal cities of Deutschland will consume the balance of October. Thence to Italy for the month of November, Genoa, Milan, Venice, Florence, Rome and Naples will be visited with the most time devoted to Rome."

"We expect to reach Egypt about December 1, and will go up to Luxor and Thebes, unless prevented by something now unforeseen. December 20 should land us in Palestine, where one of the highest ambitions of the entire trip will be realized by witnessing the Christmas celebration in Jerusalem and Bethlehem."

May Meet Obstacles "Let me digress here long enough to say that this trip to Palestine contains something of an 'if.' One reason for this is that the instructions sent us from Washington say that the department of Health reserves the right to require all persons entering Palestine, evidence of a successful vaccination within a period of seven years prior to their arrival and, when necessary, has the right to inoculate all such persons against cholera, plague of enteric fever. Inasmuch as the wife and daughter are not strong for vaccination, I may have trouble here."

"The other 'if' is that the woman clerk in the British consulate at Los Angeles, told me that we would have to pay $2.60 extra on each visa, to telegraph to Palestine in order to find out whether we could enter or not. On my expressing surprise at this she said that they had 'quotas,' the same as the United States has. (I don't believe it.) (Continued on page 4)

Gas War Under Way; Prices 13 to 19 Cents

With gasoline prices ranging from 13 to 19 cents a gallon, the service station owners in this vicinity are looking to the refiners for relief from a price war which, they claim has made their business unstable. At Covina this morning gas was being sold at 13 cents, also on Harbor boulevard, between Los Angeles and Long Beach. The sources of supply are not revealed, but it is believed to be an effort on the part of small refiners to retaliate against larger companies which are selling scrip books which give patrons an advantage of two cents over the advertised price of 19 cents.

In Glendale the lowest price quoted today was 15 cents, but the threat was made that gasoline would be sold for 11 cents, if necessary, to make it a finish fight. According to oil distributors, a similar attitude exists in all Los Angeles' vicinity.

Dual Personality Is Bared in Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Astonishing details of a dual personality which out-rivals that of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde were to be bared today in the trial of Bryant Youngman for the murder of Ernest Engdahl, jewelry store clerk, shot in a holdup. Believed by police to be a drifting gambler who had "pulled" the job soon after arriving in San Francisco, his wife appeared on the stand testified he was a prosperous young bond salesman, had lived for years in California and had an excellent record except for occasional lapses into the "other man" of his personality. The young man has a 7 year old daughter. He is understood to come from a well to do Omaha family.

LAND THROWN OPEN

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Another quarter of a million acres of public land was thrown open yesterday for homestead entry by the Interior Department. The land includes 3800 acres in Fresno county, California, near Riverdale, and 33,000 acres in Montezuma county, Colorado.

ESCAPE WITH $22,000

NEW YORK, June 15.—Four armed men today held up a payroll messenger and cashier of the Pullman Company in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad in Long Island City and escaped with $22,000 in cash.

BIG TIME IN MOUNTAINS FOR AUTO DEALERS

Agents of Glendale Invade Forest Home; Program Under Way Today

By MERRILL D. DAVIS Evening News Staff Representative, With Glendale Motor Car Dealers FOREST HOME (In the San Bernardino Mountains) June 15.—If there existed any doubt in the minds of the citizens of the various cities and villages between Glendale and Forest Home yesterday as to the identity of the Glendale Motorcar Dealers' Association, it was made perfectly clear by some eighteen automobiles taking approximately seventy members of the organization as they passed through the towns raucously honking sirens and displaying signs, also stopping long enough to sing booster songs for Glendale. Suffice it to say Glendale was effectively, if noisily, placed on the map with a big red circle around it, by the enthusiasm displayed.

Ideal Day for Trip

The day was ideal for the trip which was made without mishap, with the exception of a couple of punctured tires which were changed with scarcely any delay. The party left Glendale about 2:30 o'clock after a parade through the business section of the city and arrived at Forest Home at 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

A hearty welcome was accorded the seventy hungry and happy men by Host M. P. Culver, who sat them down at 7 o'clock to a wonderful steak dinner prepared by Louis, ze chef.

After dinner the men were assigned to cabins which, by the way, are modern in every respect, even to hot and cold water. Some class for the mountains, we'll say.

On Tour of Grounds

At 8 o'clock this morning the party was taken on a tour of the Forest Home grounds, including the swimming pool, the riding circle, the fish hatchery, the fishing pool and stream—all were visited, and while this message is being dispatched, President C. H. Hunter was threatening to catch a twenty-four inch trout which will win him a membership in the Los Angeles Rod and Reel Club. The official program of the day begins at 10 o'clock, and what Chairman Ray Goldwater's committee has lined up is a trifle more than interesting. Athletic contests, including a baseball game, swimming contest and foot race are scheduled. From all indications W. H. Court will win the foot race if S. C. Packer and Lyman P. Clark do not enter.

M. B. Towman, who is secretary of the association, also single, was the first man asleep last night. "Buzz" Sutton was the last, after checking Tom Smith's story telling. V. M. Hollister has forgotten all he knew about Chamber of Commerce and Community Service work for twenty-four hours, while he is the guest of W. A. Tanner. The rest of the story in Saturday's Glendale Evening News.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of California, went into the final round of the women's singles when she won from Miss Edginton, 9-7, 6-3.

HAVER WINS BRITISH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP TROON, Scotland, June 15.—Arthur G. Haver, the 25-year-old British professional, this afternoon brought the British open golf championship back to England when he won the most famous of British golfing classics with a total score of 295 in the 72-hole play. Walter Hagen, who bore the American hopes, was in second place, only one stroke behind, with 296. Jock Hutchinson, an American, had been the open champion in 1921 and Hagen held the title last year. The failure of Hagen to repeat was a bitter disappointment to the scores of his admirers.

DISCUSSION OVER DORAN OPENING

Property Owners Agree on Procedure After Two Factions Argue

The proposed opening of Doran street between Glendale avenue and Adams street was the subject of considerable discussion last night before the City Council. Objection to the payment of the probable assessment was made by Mrs. James L. Funk of 521 North Adams street and Carl W. Schwitters of 525 North Adams street. Mr. Schwitters called attention that previous assessments against his property had greatly exceeded estimates in several cases. He said that, if he could be assured that his assessment would not be more than $50, he would protest no further.

Mrs. Mabel L. Ticht of 612 East Broadway, who favors the proposition, stated that she would see that Mr. Schwitters' assessment did not cost him more than $50. O. L. Zook of 623 Howard street, who is also interested in the opening of the street, offered to pay Mrs. Funk's assessment if she would agree to protest no further.

As soon as these agreements had been reached, the City Council instructed City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy to prepare a revised map of the assessment district.

Cloudburst Swells Platte Valley Flood

LINCOLN, Neb., June 15.—Reports this morning indicated that the flood which threatened yesterday all along the Platte valley is continuing to rise and has not reached its crest. A cloudburst at Fort Morgan, Colo., Wednesday has resulted in grave danger the past two days to towns along the Platte river. A heavy downpour of rain, accompanied by violent lightning, was general over Northeast Nebraska, and did heavy damage to corn. Six inches of rain fell yesterday at Osceola. The light and power plant at Fremont was temporarily put out of commission, and delays to rail traffic were common. More than two inches of rain fell at Hooper in less than half an hour. Mrs. Roy Lamy, of near North Bend, was struck by a lightning bolt, and physicians hold out small hope for her recovery.

Kiss Burglar, 31, Is Paroled in Dad's Care

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 15.—A 31-year-old "bad boy" was given into the hands of his father here today for "another chance." "I would rather help you up than push you down, so I am going to parole you to your father," Judge H. H. Sawyer told Ray Roney, the "bad boy" in the case as he suspended sentence in the belated Tom Sawyer, who has a local reputation as a "kiss burglar."

Roney has been under several sentences for grabbing young girls and kissing them. He recently stole into a girls' high school gymnasium, and posing as an inspector, was able to steal several kisses before being ejected.

Dictatorship to Halt Chinese Civil Strife

PEKING, June 15.—A military dictatorship probably will be necessary to avoid civil war in China. President Li Yuan Hung is reportedly recalled from time to time by splendid occasions, such as this, set aside for their recollection, they, after all, are a thing apart from our every-day lives as every-day citizens living and solving the every-day questions of our great nation. Therefore, while our beautiful flag—Old Glory, the Star Spangled Banner—is and should be the fitting symbol of our great achievements in the cause of righteousness, it also is and should be the symbol of our achievements in the humdrum, but far more important, every-day affairs of our life as a government.

It not only symbolizes the battles fought and the victories gained on the red fields of carnage, where it floated free and unconquered as "hope to the But an aroused sentiment (Continued on page 4)

Reading Circle
A letter from Berkeley telling of the founding there of a reading circle similar to the Glendale Mutual Benefit Reading circle was read at the Glendale gathering yesterday. It was written by Mrs. H. Layer of the northern city, and expressed appreciation for assistance from the Glendale women.

Of great interest to the members was the announcement of final plans for the annual picnic Wednesday, June 29, at the heights home of Mrs. Charles H. Toll, on Kenneth road. Mrs. R. C. Horner gave this announcement, stating that automobiles will meet North Brand boulevard street cars at the end of the line from 10:30 till 12 o'clock. Each active member is to bring a picnic basket and tickets will be for sale at the Toll home on the day of the affair. All former members are most cordially invited, and all planning to attend have been asked to call either Mrs. W. W. Stofft at Glendale 401, or Mrs. A. A. Barton at Glendale 1093.

At the meeting yesterday Mrs. H. V. Henry presided. Mrs. E. B. Moore led the flag salute in recognition of Flag Day, and Mrs. Horner gave a review of "Over-crowding the Colleges," by Edward Martin.

Mrs. Barton was in charge of later activity. Roll call was answered by quotations, and Mrs. H. V. Henry read from the book, "Play and Education." By See, the chapters on "The Hunger for Reality," "The Skeptic" and "The Big Injun Age."

Honor For Couple
Honoring Mr. and Mrs. A. J. May, whose marriage was an event of June 2, Mr. May's brother, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. May of 505 Porter street, entertained informally last night. Pink roses and Shasta daisies were used by the hostess to carry out a pink and white color scheme.

During the evening music and cards were enjoyed and Mary Alice Barton entertained with dance numbers.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. May, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hock and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nicholson and sons, Paul and Billy, and daughter, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doerbrich, Mrs. K. W. Barton and Mary Alice Barton, Mrs. Nina Hock, Mrs. Wisman, Misses Ida Hock, Marjorie Hock, Ruth Ellis, Hilda May and Howard Richter, Wesley Moore, Burnett Gorrell, Leonard May, Mr. and Mrs. May were assisted by their daughters, Pearl and Hazel.

Father's Birthday
Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Fox of 345 North Kenwood street entertained a number of friends yesterday at dinner in the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Fox's father, S. T. Woodson.

The dining-room was artistically decorated in red, white and blue, suggestive of Flag Day, and in the living-room gladiolus and roses were used in profusion. A feature was a large white cake with red candles.

During the day and in the evening many friends called to congratulate Mr. Woodson and to present him with lovely flowers and gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodson of Redlands, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Woodson, Miss Gladys Ashmore of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. A. Tanner and Miss Alice Merritt of Glendale and Dr. and Mrs. Donnell of Long Beach.

Hosts at Picnic
With school activities almost ended for the year, teachers and officers of the Parent-Teacher association and their children of the Pacific Avenue school, tasted the pleasure of vacation time yesterday, when Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul of 316 West Vine street, entertained with a picnic outing at Brookside park, Pasadena.

There were fifty-four in the company, journeying to the park in the afternoon. Games and drawing lots for prizes were engaged in and Miss Circle, principal of the school, drew the lucky number that won her an artistic boogie lamp. Polychrome candlesticks were won by Mrs. Ralph Brown and Mrs. Laughlin, while Mrs. Walter Jones received a silk lamp shade.

The children present each received a favor gift. The girls received dolls and the boys mouth organs.

Late in the afternoon a wonderful picnic supper was served on tables decorated in red, white and blue, the flag day colors. Tiny silk American flags marked the places.

Leader Honored
Appreciation for her inspiring leadership of the Non-Section members of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and for her faithful and efficient management of ways and means of the club was expressed by Non-Section women yesterday at a delightfully appointed luncheon at the Mary Louise tea rooms in Los Angeles, and at a theatre party in the afternoon.

The luncheon table was gay with spring flowers and at individual places were French bouquets and place cards in the form of clever igrish figures.

At Mrs. Montgomery's place was a sterling silver pencil and chain, a gift from her co-workers.

Places were marked for Mesdames A. H. Montgomery, F. G. Wildmeyer, C. S. Jones, G. O. Piercey, Clough, Ensey, Nichols, F. M. Coulter, Horace Moore, Phileas, C. F. Parker, Allen Fairchild, W. E. Polley, Ernest Carr and Reake.

Whist Club Meets
Mrs. Carrie Smith, of 731 South Glendale avenue, entertained yesterday with a prettily appointed luncheon and cards, the guests being members of the Semi-Monthly Whist club. Pink and white carnations and lavender stocks were used for decorations, in a lovely combination. A delicious course luncheon was served. Mrs. C. Hamilton made highest score and was awarded first prize, the second was won by Mrs. Anna Smith.

Those present were Mrs. Mary O'Brien, Peter L. Ferry, Mrs. Jack Lundregan, Mrs. H. M. Doll, Mrs. C. Hamilton, Mrs. M. Monaghan, Mrs. M. Brennan, Mrs. T. J. Keleher, Mrs. Jesse Chappius, Mrs. N. Quinn, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mrs. J. Finn of Los Angeles.

Scouts Are Guests
Mrs. G. U. Mandis of 209 North Verdugo Road entertained the Girl Scouts of troop 4, Thursday afternoon and evening at her home. The girls gathered at the Mandis home shortly after four o'clock and were divided into squads, each squad, under a leader, preparing some part of the delicious supper. The Mandis home is blessed with three kitchens and all three used. Cakes were baked, the meat, salad and dessert courses were all prepared by the girls and eaten picnic fashion.

The girls who enjoyed the delightful and profitable evening were: Betty Henstis, Dorothy Chappius, Genevieve Burr, Ruth Benner, Helen Houle, Catharine Doll, Virginia Baudino, Madeline Gaglielmo, La Verne Wolfram, Beatrice Smith, Peggy Brennan, Peggy Clark, Ruth Berndt, Genevieve Gannon, Mildred Bowler, Ruth Houle, Mary Virginia Bryan, Anna Ratigan, Mary Vandiver, and the captain, Miss Margaret Sharpe.

Visiting School
A number of the members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church are planning to attend the graduation exercises of the Franciscan Du'Pauw school for Mexican girls, which will be conducted this afternoon at the home of the institution in Los Angeles. The school, which is maintained by missionary societies throughout the state, provides an education for Mexican and Spanish girls.

Wilson of 204 West Milford street, left Thursday for their home in Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Miss Dorothy L. Straight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Straight of 1124 Harvard street, is home from Oregon Agricultural college, at Corvallis, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Coker of 315 South Glendale avenue are expected to return the first of the week from Lake Tahoe, where they have been vacationing for the past ten days. They made the trip via automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Stamps and two sons, who have been visiting for the past two weeks with Mr. Stamps' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Stamps of 436 West Colorado street, left last evening for their home in Palo Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. David Black of 350 Kenneth road had the pleasure yesterday of entertaining as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kohl of Denver, Colo. The friendship of the two families dates back years when they both lived in Mendota, Ill. Before going to Denver Mr. Kohl was leading grocer in Mendota. He and Mrs. Kohl are delighted with California and hope to make their home in or near Los Angeles.

Benefit Success
A most pleasurable function was the benefit card party given last night at the William Hopkins home at 653 North Central avenue by Mesdames Hopkins, F. S. Card and B. O. Holbrook.

Five-hundred games were played and in addition there were musical numbers given by Mrs. Hopkins, harpist, and Miss Pansy Shelton, soloist.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Gold-

Field Glasses Loaned
Scouts This Summer
Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills District who will attend Camp Royl-Kent this summer will have the use of a pair of six-power bi-ocular field glasses for the study of birds and for reading signal messages. They will have the use of a pocketoscope for star study also. These instruments are the gifts of Dr. Warren Z. Newton, optometrist of 121 North Brand boulevard, who is very much interested in the Boy Scout movement and heads the Scout committee of the Glendale Exchange Club. He is planning to attend one of the ten day troop camps this summer.

DEATHS--FUNERALS
MISS ANNA STUDINSKI
Miss Anna Studinski, beloved sister of Miss Erna Studinski and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melozor, of 630 North Glendale avenue died last night, Thursday, June 14, 1923.

Private funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Sunday morning, June 17, 1923, in Bresee Brothers' chapel, at 855 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles.

Palace Grand Barber Shop Opens Monday

Something new in the way of sanitary facilities in barber shops will be offered Glendale in the Palace Grand shop on the mezzanine of the Glendale recreation center, 133 North Brand boulevard, according to George Young, who is opening the place Monday to the public.

In addition to sterilization of all instruments used, a sanitary comb service is advertised. He also will have ice and steam towels and other specialties found only in the largest hotel shops, where he has had a great deal of experience.

A manicure service will be afforded the public and a specialty of bobbing ladies' and children's hair will attract a large amount of trade, he believes. "Service that will be appreciated," is his motto, with several barbers in constant attendance.

British M. P. Bemoans Modern Beer as Vapid

LONDON, June 15.—(As. Sexton, M. P., denounced the modern beer brewed in England and declared that there "isn't a song or a dance in a gallon of beer" these days.

Sexton's statement drew an immediate challenge from a brewery and he was invited to come to the brewery and test the beer, particularly with regard to its song and dance qualities.

Sexton has accepted the challenge. Interesting events promise to follow.

Most of Philadelphia Stolen Cars Returned

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Persons who had their motor cars stolen, or who lost them in this city since the first of the year, have recovered their machines in nine cases out of ten, according to a bulletin issued by Superintendent of Police William B. Mills.

Twelve hundred machines have been stolen and nearly eleven hundred recovered, the value of the cars being $2,032,092.

Give Picture Preview At Glendale Theatre

Hundreds of those who last night witnessed the preview of "Judgment of the Storm," at the Glendale Theatre, took home with them the voting blanks which were passed around.

These blanks, when filled out with a 250-word criticism of the picture, will entitle those so doing to compete for a series of twenty-three prizes, amounting to $50.

The contest was arranged by the Palmer Photoplay corporation, producers of the picture, with a view to ascertaining the public's reception of their initial production effort, and with the object of determining whether the original story, written expressly for the screen, makes a better picture than an adaptation from some book or play.

FLAG TRIBUTE AT LODGE OF ELKS

Thrilling Ceremony Takes Place Last Night With Hundreds Attending

To Present Day
Knight McBryde then traced the history of the Stars and Stripes down to the present day, when, still with their thirteen alternate striped of red and white, indicating the thirteen original colonies, there now swim in the azure field of Freedom's heaven forty-eight proud stars, each representing a great state of this vast and powerful nation.

In concluding his remarks, Knight McBryde alluded to the flag as at once a history, a declaration and a prophecy; and that in recognition of the primary importance of Flag Day, the Grand Lodge of the B. P. O. Elks, at their council of 1908, made it mandatory on all lodges to observe June 14 of each year as Flag Day.

Thena Fultz sang "My Own United States," after which Walter W. Jones, esquire, led his brother officers in an altar service in which a Liberty Bell was built up with a base of red roses, surmounted by a section of white blue carpeted with a dome of blue violets and crowned with a bar of stars.

For Departed Brothers
The lights were then dimmed and the ritual of 11 o'clock was observed, for departed brothers.

When the lights came up the Elks' orchestra played a popular selection, after which Edwin J. Albright sang "Our Flag and My Flag," his rich, full voice bringing continued bursts of applause.

The speaker of the evening, William H. Anderson, of Santa Monica lodge, then delivered a stirring address on "Our Flag: What It Symbolizes," full text of which appears elsewhere in this issue.

Following Mr. Anderson's address, the program was concluded by the singing of "America."

Little Girl Safely Arrives From Tulsa

W. B. KIRK WRITES FLAG ADDRESS BY ABOUT ITINERARY W. H. ANDERSON

Gives Outline of Various Countries He Plans to Visit on Tour

(Continued from page 1) believe it, I told her it wouldn't be necessary to wire because we wouldn't reach there for six months, but she said it would be necessary and might delay us when getting our visas in New York.

Special Invitation
"We want to spend at least two weeks in Palestine and to go on to Damascus by rail from Nazareth. The 'oldest city in the world', will be of intense interest to us. About half way back to the Mediterranean we have a special invitation to stop at Ras-el-meth, where is located a school conducted by Quakers, who are old time friends of Mr. Vail, our general agent in Los Angeles, and who wrote them of our coming. The ruins of Hambee and the Cedars of Lebanon can be reached from there.

"Coming to the coast at Beirut, we plan to go to Constantinople, Athens and Salonica in Greece, to Algiers for a day, thence to Gibraltar and a few principal Spanish cities, Granada, Toledo, Madrid and Barcelona. Thence to France, Marseilles, Nice, Lyons, Paris and the battlefields, spending the time as seems best.

Home About April
"This should bring us about March 1, and we will be seeking a through boat for return via Panama. I notice that, at the present time, nearly all the ships for our coast sail from Liverpool, so we will probably have to go over there for embarkation. The time to San Pedro is about thirty days, so we should be home about April 1."

"If the wife's health and the so-called 'Acts of God' permit of our making the trip as outlined, I am sure we will have been granted a dispensation from Him, which will be extended to comparatively few people in the course of their lives."

This letter was written on route from the Grand Canyon to Chicago, June 11, 1923.

He Expected to Be the Head of the House

One minute essay on health by Dr. Eble, D.C.

Nevvy, I see where a paralyzed man in a wheel chair, operates a big corporation, using his telephone and his head. You may be paralyzed, but you're not dead while you have your nerve.

The young man had pimples, his legs were so thin his socks wouldn't stay up, and he expected to be the head of the house, and perhaps he had other criminal tendencies. But she married him, and gently, but firmly, as women will, took him in hand.

In four years he was holding up golf socks and had a good complexion. She got him to take chiropractic. It gets at the cause of pimples. It also gave him a better stomach. This is proof that women do well at managing for husband's health, even when the material is discouraging.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments as given by this office have restored health in many cases in the past. The sufferers have been made well of diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

British Official Family Is Complete

Sir Laming Worthington Evans

The appointment of Sir Laming Worthington Evans as postmaster general with a seat in the cabinet completes the official family of Stanley Baldwin, recently named premier to succeed Bonar Law.

parts in the great machinery of government.

When you once achieve that type of citizenship you at once become a true patriot in the very highest sense. Anything less is a flaw in your Americanism. The indifference of the individual to his duties as a citizen—civic inertia—is the rust of nations. It clogs the wheels of government, eats into the very vitals of the machinery of the state, and ultimately destroys it.

Unfortunately what is and should be everybody's business is all too often nobody's business, or at least the business of nobody but the self-serving politicians who make it their business to the public detriment. We are still riddled with corrupt officer selectors, our brother's keeper, forgetting that our brother's interests and our interests are one and the same, and that it is only by unity of action, by the earnest effort of each for all and all for each that those interests can be preserved.

Every bad law enacted or inefficient or corrupt officer selected without our protesting voice is just to that extent our fault and we are just to that extent derelict in the performance of our duties as citizens—just to that extent not good but bad citizens—in fact, and this is startlingly true, just to that extent not citizens at all.

Finally, our flag summed up and in the fullness of its entirety symbolizes and typifies the very People of these United States of America. As we are worthy so only is it worthy. As we are great so only is it great. As we maintain our ideals so only will it represent them. We and it are of the same essence. It can be no better than we make it. It cannot rise above us, the source of its maintenance. By us and by our actions, and by them alone, it will be judged—reversed if we make it worthy of reverence; admired if we make it worthy of admiration; respected if we make it worthy of respect; and emulated if we make it worthy of emulation.

Its fate is wholly in our hands—a tremendous responsibility which should give us pause to think. It lies entirely with us to say whether we will maintain the integrity of its past glories, or permit it to trail in the dust of civic duties neglected and civic opportunities lost.

We, the people, are the nation's standard bearers; and as we are so will the flag be—the pride of governmental achievement, or—but we must not even contemplate any other alternative.

Brother Elks, patriotism is the keynote of the duty of Elkdom—not merely the patriotism that shouts from the house tops, parades to martial music, and turns out for public celebrations only, but every day and every hour patriotism that lives with us in our homes, that goes with us to our daily tasks, that sits with us at our feasts of reason, that sleeps with us in the security of peaceful protection, that does its duty throughout the year in fitting us for the performance of its crowning duty, the casting of our ballots, and does not simply content itself with an election-day activity, when active at all, or the casting of a prepared and politically dictated ballot—the patriotism that is our heritage from our forefathers who gave their lives and their all that we might have it, and who entrusted it to us to be cherished, fostered, protected and transmitted to our future generations in its full integrity and unadorned usefulness.

Let us then, brethren, strive to live up to the high standards of our order—to be the leaders of the civic army in peace or in war (should there be another such calamity), setting a constant and consistent example to our fellow countrymen of our whole duty as citizens of this great republic constantly and consistently done to the top of our bent.

If we do this, and by example as well as precept keep our standard planted firm upon the impregnable ramparts of true citizenship, then, indeed, will generations to come rise up and call us blessed!

MUSIC SECTION HOLDS LUNCHEON

Mattison B. Jones Home Is Scene of Brilliant Social Gathering

(Continued from page 1) bers and guests. Mrs. Toll spoke sweetly and earnestly of her loyalty to the Tuesday Afternoon club and Glendale, and of her pride in the club's accomplishments. She emphasized the development of Glendale's musical life and complimented Mrs. Mattison B. Jones for her part in bringing about this development.

Mrs. Campbell spoke following Mrs. Toll. And, as president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, she praised the Music section for the past year's activities under the leadership of Mrs. Roberts. In closing she presented Mrs. Jones with a sepiat print of the giant redwoods near Eureka, where the state convention was held recently.

A cordial word of welcome was spoken by Mrs. Jones in receiving the Music section members and guests at her home and in thanking Mrs. Campbell for the remembrance from the recent state convention.

Other speakers were Mrs. Wallace, who had served as head of the luncheon committee, and France Goldwater, of Los Angeles.

The beautiful home was opened later in the afternoon, and a program given which was arranged by Mrs. E. W. Kinney and Madame Gloria Bretherton. Presented by professional artists, it was a program rich with talent.

Original Composition
Hazel Shertzing, harpist, harpist, who delighted the Music Section at a recent meeting, greeted her club friends again. She played among her selections an original composition, and her own arrangement of "The Evening Star" from Tannhauser.

Riffa Leighton, dramatic soprano, is always happily greeted by the Tuesday Afternoon club members, and yesterday she sang as solos, the aria from "La Tosca," "The Year's at the Spring" and a song by Gertrude Ross, and a French number with harp accompaniment.

The dramatic element of the program was introduced by Wynell Taylor of the Pasadena Community Players, who read a collection of poems. Rupert Brooke's "The Voice" and "Heaven" were among the collection, and one, "The Desert," written by Mr. Taylor himself, was greatly liked by his hearers and he repeated it by request.

Among those enjoying luncheon and the afternoon together were Mesdames Charles H. Toll, Daniel Campbell, Warren Roberts, E. W. Kinney, Riffa Leighton, Hazel Shertzing, Gloria Bretherton, E. M. Smith, W. E. Evans, M. B. Jones, Charles Guthrie, Charles Meadows, Claude Putnam, Fred Dixon, McCann, Charles Parker, A. M. Draper, E. East, Glen Gates, L. E. Birt, E. E. Richardson, Eleanor Squires, G. Squires.

Mesdames F. H. Wallace, Enona Hopkins, Frank C. Weiler, Wilbur Lee, Frankie Webb, Helen Sawyer, L. Ballagh, Frank Arnold, Alan Dunlop, Osgood, Colin C. E. Roberts, Young, L. G. Young, Birt, Smith, and Sallie C. Braden, W. V. Anderson, Frank S. Card, William Nash, Jr.

Mesdames Courtland Hill, J. E. Summerfield, John D. Cole, C. L. Vierick, H. D. Thaxter, Calvin Whiting, John Cotton, A. R. Campbell, E. D. Cleophas, Joseph Marple, H. O. Leonard, Elliot C. Hensel, Virginia Freeman, Nathan Rigdon, Lange, Charles Marienue, Armstrong, Helen Campbell, L. G. Sherman, H. R. Gibbs, R. A. Puffer, Sr., R. A. Puffer, Jr., L. N. Hagood, N. M. Knaus, Eva Cunningham, Worsley.

Misses France Goldwater, May Lane, Gertrude Cleophas, Katherine V. Sinks, Corinne Orr, and Mr. Taylor.

Social Planned for Japanese Christians

A Japanese and American social gathering will be held tomorrow night, Saturday, June 16, at 8 o'clock, in the Tropic Presbyterian church. A musical program will be presented by friends of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

The speaker of the evening will be Prof. C. Alfred Cookman. He will deliver his popular address on "Bird Life and Habits," and will illustrate with specimens which he has spent years in collecting.

Following the program a social hour will be enjoyed. Refreshments will be served. Representatives from the various churches are urged to be present.

Park Ave. Widening Before Council June 28

Protests against the proposed opening and widening of Park avenue will be heard June 28, according to a decision reached last night by the City Council. The subject was brought up by William Huber Jr. of 244 West Park avenue. He expressed an opinion that the widening proceedings were entirely distinct from the opening proceedings and should be acted upon separately.

RECKLESS, IS CHARGE

Fifty dollars bail was put up by H. P. Carmack of 326 West Arden avenue for his appearance at 10 a. m. June 28 before Judge F. H. Lowe on a charge of reckless driving.

SUGGESTS CITY ASK CHARTER AID

Bert P. Woodard Writes to Council in Reference to Borough System

(Continued from page 1) The charter of Los Angeles as it now exists contains a provision for establishing boroughs therein, but our supreme court some time during 1917 construed this charter provision and held that separate boroughs could not be established under the charter and provisions of the state constitution, without providing a complete borough system for the entire city. The provisions of the constitution upon the subject are the same now as then, and clothe the board of fifteen freeholders with power to write a provision into the new charter providing for a borough system. The constitutional provision reads as follows:

"It shall be competent in any charter to provide for the division of the city or county and any governing thereby into boroughs or districts, and to provide that each such borough or district may exercise such general or special municipal powers, and to be administered in such manner as may be provided for each such borough or district in the charter of the city or county."

"The Constitutional power is therefore ample, and authorizes the Board of Fifteen Freeholders of Los Angeles to divide the city into boroughs in the new charter to be drawn by them. The decision of our Supreme Court above referred to leaves no doubt as to the meaning of the Constitutional provision, and with this decision and the Constitutional provision before them, bearing in mind the present provisions of the charter of Los Angeles, as construed by the Supreme Court, the Fifteen Freeholders should be able to provide a complete borough system in the new charter which will be constitutional and valid.

Urges City to Lead
"If Glendale will take the lead in this matter she will not only bring about a solution of many of the problems which are vital to its future growth and welfare, but she will also lay the foundation for the bringing together of the great cities of the Los Angeles basin, practically all, if not all of the cities surrounding Los Angeles. To my mind there is at this time nothing of greater importance to Glendale, and to the whole of Los Angeles county, than this matter of the preparation of a new charter for the City of Los Angeles.

"The matter cannot be thought out and handled at the last minute, as there are many details relating to just what general or special powers each borough should exercise, and possibly other important powers or limitations of powers which should be carefully considered, and after being formulated, presented to the Board of Freeholders of Los Angeles and discussed with them. The Board of Freeholders of a limited time fixed by the Constitution of the state within which to complete the charter.

"The matter will require an investigation of borough systems which have been worked out in other cities, such as New York, and in the matter which will enable us to intelligently arrive at something definite to suggest to those who are to frame the new charter for Los Angeles. We should, therefore, reasonably expect to devote as much time to the matter as the law has fixed for Los Angeles to utilize, and, besides, the board of freeholders should be advised of our interest in the matter as soon after they organize as possible.

Suggests Way to Act
"If Glendale is to make suggestions to this board of freeholders about the charter, those suggestions should come from you, the governing body of this city, or from a committee of citizens working in conjunction with you, without compensation.

"I am not personally acquainted with the entire membership of the board of freeholders elected in Los Angeles, but I do know some of them, and know them to be men of ability and vision for the future, and I am more than confident that they will welcome any suggestion from us, or anyone, for that matter, which will aid them in the work they have been chosen to perform, especially when it relates to a matter of such vital interest to the city which is destined to become the largest in America.

"There is no reason why the preparation of a new charter for the city of Los Angeles, or the question of including therein provisions for a complete borough system, should in any way interfere with any negotiations now pending between your body and the City Council of the city of Los Angeles, whether the same relates to sewers or any other matters. Such matters can be proceeded with the same as if the preparation of the new charter had never been suggested.

"I trust, therefore, that you will give this matter your early consideration, and take such action as you deem advisable in the premises. If you look with favor upon the suggestion here-in contained, and desire any assistance or co-operation which is within my power to give, you may feel at liberty to call upon me."

Sees First Movie When He's Age 96

GEORGE TUTTLE

CONNEAUT, O., June 15.—Witnessing his first moving picture performance at the age of 96 was the recent experience of George Tuttle, living seven miles south of this city, on his son's farm. "Yes," he said after the show, "the pictures were quite wonderful." He expressed no particular astonishment at what he had just seen nor seemed to think it unusual to see one's first cinema at the age of nearly a century.

Following the picture show, the aged man posed for the first photograph he has had taken in three-quarters of a century.

He was born October 3, 1827, in Sandusky county, Ohio, but has lived on the farm near Conneaut for the past eighty years. When quite a young man he smoked his first and last cigar. He has never since touched tobacco in any form. He is still able to do light chores and confesses to running the mowing machine during haying time. He sees quite well without glasses, but does not read any more.

PROGRAM AT LEGION

LA CRESCENTA HOLD GRADUATION AT LA CRESCENTA

Pupils Receive Diplomas After Pleading Program Is Presented

La Crescenta school auditorium was the setting last night of the most impressive graduation exercises ever held here.

The footlights of the stage were banked with masses of the snowy white Shasta daisy and on either side were huge copper vases filled with the glorious white Chinese Lily with a spray of two of scarlet gladioli.

Opening the exercises, Mrs. Lillian Spratt Austin, principal, and Mr. Bissell, chairman of the board, entered leading the procession of graduates, who marched down the center aisle of the auditorium in couples, separating in front of the stage and going onto the platform by the side steps to their seats.

Rev. Nelson still being in the east, Mrs. Austin announced the invocation would be omitted.

The class history given by Frank Klatt opened the program for the evening and there followed:

Essay, "Books as Friends" by Jella Dunlop; essay, "Education" by Florence Lewis; essay, "Snow-bound" by Florence Lewis; music, "The Brook" by senior girls, Mrs. Angier, accompanist; essay, "Man Without a Country," by Stuart Baron; essay, "Merchant of Venice" by Margaret Brown; essay, "The Great Stone Face" by Mary Louise Mundy; music by senior girls, "Barcarolle" by Mrs. Angier; of Sir Launfal" by Mary Ann Howard; class prophecy by Leland Mead; class will by Dorothy Woolby; presentation of diplomas by H. A. Baird, president of trustees; presentation of scholarship prize; presentation of picture.

Everyone on the program deserves credit for their splendid work for both as individuals and pupils of a worthy teacher, they carried themselves with poise and charm that bespoke great care and diligence on the part of their instructress. It would, indeed, be hard to single out any one in particular for better work, but a word of the humorous side of the program will not be amiss.

In the class history, Frank Klatt spoke of the early days of the graduates' lives, saying there were nine native sons and daughters, who, however, were not brighter than the outsiders had proved themselves to be. He also stated it was really quite an old class as their combined ages totaled 232 years. Also that sixty per cent of them expected to enter college.

Offers Class Prophecy In giving the class prophecy, Leland Mead stated that two of the girls would run beauty parlors, being expert in laying on rouge and lip stick. Another was to become a world famous dressmaker and would be called "Madame"; another one would be a poetess and writer; still another would wed at twenty-six.

The quietest one in the class would later develop a talent for talking and the aggressive one would become first woman governor of California; another would become a Red Cross nurse, one of the boys would turn into a millionaire; the one with the radio turn of mind would win the gold medal in the Radio Bug Contest in 1940; the stout boy would soon be opening a school to teach running, and the chap who has difficulties in spelling would introduce a sweater, no word having over four letters.

The class will, as written by Dorothy Woolby, proved most entertaining, leaving the $3 in the class treasury, the four pounds of sugar in the kitchen, the soiled, worn and torn state text books, the needles that had sewn forty miles, the quilt made by the senior class for the school hospital room, and the right to sit on the stone fence nearest the boys' playgrounds, and other things, to the seniors-to-be.

It was also stated that to the next year's seniors was left the advice to copy the good work done by the class of 1923, and finally a picture of the class.

Girls Get Prize Mrs. Austin then announced she would award only one of the prizes for the best work of the year, to Leonore Lewis. It was a prize of $5, and was received by Miss Lewis, who in turn presented the school with a copy of Corot's "Cande of Wood Nymphs."

Mrs. Austin then presented the class to H. Baird, representing the school board. In presenting the diplomas he said he considered the class one of the best trained he ever had presented to him.

Mrs. Alice Austin, assisted by her aunt, Mrs. Harcourt, entertained at luncheon today. The tables were set on the spacious veranda overlooking the wonderful valley.

Guests were Mrs. Lillian Spratt Austin, retiring principal of La Crescenta school, Mrs. Mueller, Miss Rhace, Mrs. Grunberg, Mrs. Eyre.

RIVAL SEEN FOR YANKEE SWIMMER

Weissmuller's Laurels Are Threatened by Lanky Swede Champion. By HARRY R. FLORY. For International News Service. PARIS, June 15.—Johnny Weissmuller, America's human fish and world's swimming champion, is going to have a worthy opponent in the 1924 Olympics in the person of Arne Borg, a lean, lanky Swede, and, according to Paris sport authorities, the best swimmer in Europe.

In almost every trial swim at various distances the Swede is approaching nearer and nearer the record time of Weissmuller. The Paris sporting newspaper, L'Auto, points out that because Weissmuller's records have not yet been accepted by the International Swimming and Rowing association, Borg really holds four world's records.

These records—all set on one day, the 16th of April—are for the 440-yard, 500-yard, 400-meter and 500-meter swims. Borg's time for these events is as follows: 440 yards, 5 minutes 10 1/2 seconds; 500 yards, 5 minutes 57 1/2 seconds; 400 meters, 5 minutes 8 4/5 seconds; 500 meters, 6 minutes 31 3/5 seconds.

The opposition sporting paper, L'Echo des Sports, bewails the fact that Weissmuller's name does not appear even once in the official table of world's records just published by the International Federation.

"We have been led to believe," the article said, "that Weissmuller's exploits cannot be credited because they were made in tanks which didn't measure the 25 yards necessary for confirmation. If that is true for some of the Austro-American's records it is not true for all, for Weissmuller established the following records in 25-yard tanks: 'Fifty yards, 100 meters, 200 meters, 300 yards, 500 meters, 100 yards on the back, 150 yards on the back.'"

"The other records credited to Weissmuller last year were made in open water or in tanks of twenty yards, and that is an obstacle to their recognition. But what about the records regularly broken which do not figure in the official lists? 'The International Federation ought to make that question the order of the day at the next convention. It is unfair that the names of those who are no longer record holders should continue to appear in the official lists while the real record holders are disregarded.'"

HEADS GIRLS' LEAGUE

Mrs. Gwenllian Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Warner of 3047 Rosslyn street, Los Angeles, yesterday was elected president of the Girls' League of Glendale Union high school. Gladys Peckham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham of 615 North Central avenue, is the retiring president.

ATHLETICS TO BE FLAG CONTENDER

Connie Mack's Team Rouses Philadelphia Folks to Enthusiasm. By DAVIS J. WALSH. For International News Service. NEW YORK, June 15.—Very much exercised over the fact that Connie Mack has made one ball club grow where eight failed to exist since 1914, Philadelphia has developed a severe case of fallen arches about its Athletics. Every reserved seat at Shibe park was sold out three days in advance of the recent Athletics-Yankee series, fans stood in line from early morning to buy their way into the unreserved sections and streets were blocked in front of electric scoreboards operated by newspapers.

This is the same team that was supposed to be immune to baseball's lull. The sudden rise of the Athletics from the chronic loser to the most prominent contender has worked the miracle. As a topic of parlor conversation, baseball has taken precedence over the national debt and lavender-scented garters.

Connie Mack's outfit is no morning glory. It is a fine baseball club just beginning to realize its possibilities. It has everything that a first division club should have—five winning pitchers; Perkins, one of the leading catchers; Galloway and Dykes, a strong second base combination; a good outfield, featuring Wild Matthews, a youth known as Sparkie because of his enterprise, dash and winning spirit. It also has enough hitting to carry it along with the best.

The writer does not claim that the Philadelphia Athletics are the coming champions of the American league. Neither does he deprecate their chances. Both contentions would be a bit premature at this early moment.

Ohio Solon Discounts Public Apathy Idea

TILTONVILLE, Ohio, June 15.—Persons who may think citizens are not interested in their legislative bodies are mistaken, says State Senator Harry M. Carpenter of Steubenville, representing the twentieth-twenty-second district in the Ohio legislature. In support of his claim Senator Carpenter called attention to the fact that during the recent legislative session, in one day, he received 210 letters, fifteen telegrams, several long-distance telephone calls, and attended four committee hearings besides the regular session of the senate.

Many men subordinate their spiritual welfare to worldly conveniences.

COUNT UCHIDA IS BUSIEST OFFICIAL

Minister of Foreign Affairs Under Fire Constantly for His Actions

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service
TOKIO, June 15.—Count Yasuya Uchida, minister of foreign affairs and thereby director of the Gaimusho, Tokio's foreign office is perhaps the busiest man in the entire Japanese official family these days. Despite the fact that Japan's foreign relations are reported officially as "doing nicely," critics at home and in foreign capitals keep Count Uchida and his staff busy with various subjects.

With four months of 1923 gone, three of which Count Uchida spent in answering congressmen critics at home who began with Washington conference and the Shantung retrocession, and for politics and through sincerity, accused the ministry of foreign affairs as being swayed by a "vacillating, yielding and generally weak policy," the foreign office here finds plenty to do as the result of claims shown by the following chronological table:

January, 1923—American claims against monopolistic rights of Mitsui wireless interests in China.

March, 1923—Chinese students and officials criticize Japan's plans to return Boxer payments through development of "cultural enterprises in China."

April 19, 1923—China sends formal demands that remaining sections of famous 1915 "21 Demands" by Japan be abrogated.

April 19, 1923—Following Japan's refusal to abrogate demands, China reports decision to make second demand for abrogation against Japan.

April 21, 1923—Full reports of Korean assassins' band plans to wreck Government office of Korea and kill officials made known to world.

While negotiations go on at Washington on the American-Japanese radio rights controversy and Japanese publicists caution against more yielding toward China, claims at home against Count Uchida's Ministry continue to multiply.

There is the claim that Great Britain plans the establishment of a naval base at Singapore—here is a step which many Japanese publicists and writers claim is "a challenge to Japan." But, above all, there is the question of whether or not negotiations will be resumed with Soviet Russia and, if such negotiations do come, whether or not Japan will yield further.

Certainly being director of the ship of state in Japan—with certain facts still existing upon which Japan may be criticized abroad, and with jingo writers at home and politicians seemingly everywhere all claiming that the present foreign ministry has held office long enough—is not the most pleasant task in the world. Japan's policy of expansion has caused many a ministry to rise and fall, and Count Uchida, a man without a party, surrounded on all sides with critics both of himself and of Japan, is, indeed, an official whose days are full.

Pussyfoot Will Add to Sahara's Aridity

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, June 15.—"As dry as the Sahara" apparently isn't dry enough for William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson. Johnson plans to sail for England June 23. From there he will go to South Africa to help temperance advocates of that region and will work northward through Egypt during the summer.

Baby 22 Months Old Has Three Operations

RENO, Nev., June 15.—After his third surgical operation since he first saw the light of day twenty-two months ago, Lester Kernick Dean, son of William (Bill) Dean, Reno's 220-pound traffic cop and himself a virile personage, is well on the road to recovery.

POLITICAL IDEAS BY NEW SENATOR

Official From State of Colorado Talks About Washington Work

By MICHAEL F. DACEY
For International News Service
DENVER, June 15.—"The worthy son of an illustrious sire," is the characterization given Alva B. Adams, Pueblo attorney, appointed by Governor William E. Sweet as United States senator from Colorado to succeed the late Samuel D. Nicholson, Republican, who died last March.

The new senator's father was three times governor of the Centennial state, and won an enviable reputation as one of the leaders of militant democracy in the west. Adams has been known for several years as a "railroad lawyer," however, and the progressive wing of the Democratic party in Colorado, of which Governor Sweet is a recognized leader, is having difficulty in reconciling the appointee's career with the principles advocated by Colorado's governor.

Governor Sweet himself says that "Adams has been misunderstood," and that his record has really been "progressive and constructive," the chief executive thus brushing aside charges of "political expediency" in the appointment, which terminates on March 3, 1927.

Predictions are freely made that Governor Sweet will become a senatorial candidate in the fall elections of 1924, when two United States senators will be elected—a Democrat to succeed Adams and a Republican to succeed Lawrence C. Phipps.

Called Progressive

In appointing Adams, Governor Sweet declared in a prepared statement that he chose the Pueblo man "because of his progressive ideas concerning industrial and social questions." It has been charged that Sweet exacted a solemn promise from the new senator that Adams would follow Sweet's policies in his senatorial activities.

In a lengthy statement, prepared by Adams and given out simultaneously with the announcement of his appointment, the new senator says: "As a member of the United States senate I shall regard the people of Colorado as my clients, and they shall receive from me the full measure of devoted and loyal service due from an attorney to his clients, and I shall have no interests which conflict with theirs."

"I consider myself a progressive and regard government as being subject to evolutionary processes. I shall be glad at any time to adjust my thinking in accordance with the truth.

"The extreme individualism which have the State kept its hands entirely off of industry. Today the intervention of the State has become necessary to preserve the freedom of the individual.

"The government should prevent working conditions which are unwholesome, insanitary, or detrimental to the mental or physical welfare of the worker.

Would Aid Farmers

"I shall do all in my power to promote legislation aiding farmers in gaining credit and giving assistance in farmers' co-operative measures.

"I believe in the economic purposes for which the farm bloc was organized. I hope to co-operate with that group in so far as does not conflict with the program of my own political party.

League Supporters

"The World War impressed vividly upon the nation the horrors of war and the great desirability of methods and agencies to lessen war. The covenant of the League of Nations was the outgrowth of this universal hope.

"Many plans had been proposed in the past for a league of free states, but never before had there been such unanimity of desire and of need for peace and such a universal recognition of the wastefulness and horror of war. It seemed that the great opportunity had come to do the greatest thing in the history of the world.

"All the great nations of the world joined in this effort save one. Practically all of the reputable small nations joined. American enactment necessary to its enforcement.

"The League of Nations is the Great Adventure of the Peoples of the Earth in Search of Peace. We owe it to ourselves and our children and to the world to join.

"The World Court is largely the product of American ideals and brains. It is the direct offspring of the League of Nations. It is an agency to protect peace

Saturday Biggest Shopping Day Of Week; It's Logical Time, So Evidence Shows

By GIL A. COWAN
SATURDAY is the biggest shopping day of the week in Glendale. That is an admitted fact, but there is psychology behind it. Glendale is a suburban metropolis and only on Saturday do more than fifty per cent of its wage earners have the chance to get acquainted with the merchants in this city, for every other day they leave before the stores open and get home after they are closed. A great majority of them, however, do get Saturday afternoons off in Los Angeles. And, after they get home, it is only natural that they proceed to "come down town" and do their trading.

MAYOR SILENCES DOG ARGUMENT

Executive Wants Objections Put in Writing; Public Meeting Tonight

An attempt to precipitate a discussion upon the "dog question" by George W. Reeves, of 633 1/2 North Orange street, was frustrated by Mayor Spencer Robinson at last night's session of the City Council.

In order to avoid argument on matters of opinion involved, Mr. Robinson suggested that protests against the present canine ordinance should sign a petition setting forth their objections in writing. He called attention to the fact that a verbal discussion would end nowhere.

After consulting with others present, Mr. Reeves decided to take this action. He called attention to a meeting to be held tonight in the high school auditorium by the newly-formed Glendale Dog Protective association.

Notice of Meeting
The association has sent out the following notice of the meeting: "Owners and lovers of dogs have effected an organization known as the Dog Protective association, and are anxious to extend membership to all owners and lovers of dogs.

"You are invited to attend a public meeting for this purpose, to be held at Union High school on Friday night, June 15, at 8 o'clock.

"DOG PROTECTIVE ASS'N."

Will Attend Meeting Of Service Workers

R. E. Tucker of 306 East Harvard street, director of local Community Service, will motor to Santa Ana tomorrow to attend a state conference of Community Service workers. About fifteen cities will be represented. The sessions Saturday will be attended by Val M. Hollister of 416 North Louise street, L. T. Rowley of 334 Vine street, Mrs. W. Q. Widdows of 1246 Winchester avenue, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg of 462 Riverdale drive; Mrs. J. R. Case, Miss Myrtle Halmer of 1264 South Orange avenue and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tucker.

Many Glendale merchants appreciate this fact, and for years The Glendale Evening News has been printing pages of store announcements every Friday to keep the big Saturday business "at home," for it must be admitted that Saturday is the logical day for those employed in Los Angeles to trade here. In fact, no other day of the week begins to compare with Saturday for volume in any line of business locally, as figures will reveal.

Provide Extra Help
Following this logical line of reasoning, the merchants provide their stores with extra help and keep open to the very last minute possible to accommodate these commuters who have the happy faculty of bringing home their weekly pay check and spending it where it will build up the community in which they own property.

Proof of this is seen in the numerous customers who park their cars three deep in front of the grocery stores on Saturday nights in Glendale. They literally stand in line for the opportunity to lay their cash on the counters. And, to look at the line up at the Glendale Theatre in the evenings, you know where the box office gets its biggest run—from the commuters, to be sure!

Encourage Saturday Trade
On several different occasions efforts have been made to have a bank open here to cash pay checks on Saturday nights. In San Pedro this has been the practice for years. What Glendale needs to do is to encourage Saturday trade to the fullest extent, by advertising and service. That is constructive criticism voiced by hundreds of people who live here.

As has been pointed out before, Glendale has worked wonders almost overnight in becoming a merchandising center, but it can still do more, without trying to imitate any sister metropolis. A big Saturday business, carried (Continued on page 8)

British Columbia Is Goal of Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Chambers, 736 South Glendale avenue, will leave Saturday, June 23, on a trip of several weeks that will extend to British Columbia, making the journey in their car. Mrs. Chambers has recently launched out into the culture of dahlias and now has about an acre of ground planted to these flowers, as well as having bulbs set out on shares in two other smaller plots, and her present plans call for an even greater acreage next season when the business has been established.

POSTOFFICE SITE BEING DISCUSSED

Advancement Association at Luncheon Hears Report By C. F. Stuart

Charles F. Stuart of 638 East Broadway made a report on the likelihood of obtaining a contract postoffice in the vicinity of Glendale avenue and Broadway yesterday noon at 201 East Harvard street at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Advancement association.

According to Mr. Stuart, residents of the east side did not wish to be selfish about the matter and would be satisfied if the new main postoffice should be located on Broadway no further east than Louise street. He was pessimistic in regard to the possibility of obtaining such a location. He admitted that it might be policy to allow the postoffice to be located as far away as possible, and then make application for an adequate branch. There was no discussion on the subject.

C. W. Ingledue presided at the meeting. Others present were: Herman Nelson, Spencer Robinson, J. K. Todd, W. C. Page, J. W. Parks, Guy Gibbs, J. F. Chandler, A. W. Reynolds, F. J. W. McIntyre, K. C. Sipple, S. C. Kinch, R. M. Brown, W. E. Mercer, Mrs. Mable L. Tight, Mrs. A. C. Anderssen and Mrs. F. W. Fraley.

PHYSICIANS' CLUB HEARS ADDRESS

South Sea Islands Topic of Talk; Dr. Rossiter to Attend Meet

Dr. F. M. Rossiter, president of the Glendale Physicians' club, will be among the local doctors to attend the meetings of the California Medical association and the American Medical association, the week of June 25, at San Francisco. Dr. Rossiter made known his plan for the northern trip at the meeting of the club last night in the music room at the Glendale High school.

Guest and speaker at the meeting was Dr. J. L. Smith of Los Angeles, who, with his wife and daughter, returned recently from a five months' vacation in the South Sea islands.

Interesting Talk
His talk was an informal, interesting account of experiences of the trip and proved most entertaining. He and his family spent five weeks at Tahiti, where a New York motion picture company was on location, making a big film, and this added interest to the many attractions of the country.

The Smiths also spent some time at New Zealand and Australia and returned to the States by way of Honolulu.

The meeting last night was the final one till fall.

NEW GOSPEL TABERNACLE TO BE FORMALLY OPENED ON SUNDAY

Special Services Daily And Nightly For One Week In Structure Costing Sum Of $40,000

Picture of the new Gospel Tabernacle at the corner of Louise and Chestnut. It was erected at a cost of $40,000 and will open its doors Sunday morning, June 17, and daily and nightly services will be held for one week thereafter in celebration of the event. Rev. C. H. Chrisman is pastor. It is an attractive building and adds greatly to the religious life of Glendale. The structure contains many unique features. The general public is invited to the services.

MISSIONARY OF INDIA SPEAKER

Miss Martha Loud Gives an Interesting Address at Casa Verdugo Meet

Miss Martha Loud, who has spent five years in India where she was engaged in independent missionary work, was a most interesting speaker last night at the June meeting of the Women's Foreign Mission Society at the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Loud was located near Bombay and told of many interesting phases of life in India, and her work among the Anglo-Indian race, as well as general work among the natives. Especially interesting was the collection of articles, which she brought from that far away country and used in illustrating her talk. Miss Loud is spending a month in Glendale, and will sail from Seattle, August 4, on her return to India, to take up active work in a boys' orphanage.

Separate Rooms
The auditorium, with semi-balcony and mezzanine at the rear, contains 1000 seats. The Sunday school annex, adjoining, and which may later be connected by cutting through between the two forward pilasters on the left side, seats an additional 250, bringing the total seating capacity of the institution to 1250.

In addition, there are two 32x48 rooms in the basement of the new building, one a man's and one a woman's Bible class; together with pastor's study and office, men's and women's rest rooms, a prayer chamber opening off the mezzanine, and a number of smaller rooms.

One of the features of the new Gospel Tabernacle church is the altar and baptistry, the former 14x26 feet and the latter 6x12 feet. On the wall above the baptistry is a large mural painting of the River Jordan, giving the effect of the water flowing right into the baptismal pool at the foot of the flights of stairs to left and right.

Beautiful Windows
Natural illumination filters into the large auditorium through many beautiful stained-glass windows in lavender and old rose, the plastering effects on the interior walls being carried out in the same tones, in the very latest rough Moorish style. This filtered sunlight is supplemented by a modern system of indirect artificial lighting, the pilasters to left and right, on the side walls, being surmounted by large boxes containing electric globes which throw the light up against the tinted dome of the ceiling, where it is refracted down and spread out in a soft, diffused glow.

Among the features of the interior construction are the ramps to left and right, leading up to the auditorium level, from the street entrance, thus allowing for a high and damp-proof basement and at the same time permitting access to the auditorium without the use of steps.

A velvet carpet of heather taupe will cover the aisles, front and platform of the building, harmonizing with the prevailing (Continued on page 8) off the mezzanine, and a number of smaller rooms.

This announcement is made by Rev. C. H. Chrisman, pastor of the church, who states that construction work began January 2, 1923, John Johansen being the architect and D. E. Willets the builder.

The style of the building is Mission, with hollow concrete tile construction, steel trusses and columns being employed. This allows walls a foot in diameter and makes possible a main auditorium with domed ceiling 64x100 feet in one span, with no pillars or other visible supports.

The auditorium, with semi-balcony and mezzanine at the rear, contains 1000 seats. The Sunday school annex, adjoining, and which may later be connected by cutting through between the two forward pilasters on the left side, seats an additional 250, bringing the total seating capacity of the institution to 1250.

GRADE CROSSING OVER P. E. ASKED

City Council Requested to File Application With Commission

The City Council last night received and referred to City Attorney Ray L. Morrow, a communication from Godfrey Edwards, of Edwards & Wilsey company, requesting the establishment of a crossing at Concord street over the right-of-way of the Pacific Electric.

"We hereby respectfully request that you instruct your city attorney to draw an application to the state railroad commission for a grade crossing over the right-of-way of the Pacific Electric at Concord and Gibbons street," it states. "As you know, the property owners are now constructing a bridge across the wash immediately south of this crossing on Concord street, and we would very much appreciate immediate action."

PIPE UNION
For steam or liquid conveying lines a pipe union has been invented in which a valve that can be operated with a wrench is incorporated.

WORKERS PLEDGE MONEY TO C. OF C.

$2325 for Service Fund to Advertise Glendale Is Promised

Major A. L. Baird of the Red division and his associates furnished the sensation of yesterday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce expansion campaign workers when he announced that thirteen members of his division had pledged $25 each toward the service fund, making $325, and immediately on the heels of this he stated that four local business men had pledged $500 to the service fund, making a total of $2325 for the purpose of advertising Glendale.

The thirteen team members who pledged $25 each are A. L. Baird, H. M. Kuhn, Peter L. Ferry, William H. Hooper, J. C. Smith, Sid Brown, T. W. Watson, L. A. Hart, James D. Alcorn, H. L. Flaherty, J. F. Bandino, John Swearingen and W. R. Vanderwood.

George Bentley and Jensen's Drug Company each put their names down for $500 for the service fund, and Pendroy's Department Store and Roy L. Kent are pledged for $250 now and another $250 when needed to help secure the total of $10,000 decided upon at Wednesday's meeting.

With the end of the campaign in sight today, the members of the various teams are throwing themselves into the drive with renewed enthusiasm, determined to make a whirlwind finish that will bring the Glendale Chamber of Commerce home under the wire a sure winner in the face of every obstacle that has been encountered during the race.

Scores 100 Per Cent
Captain M. B. Towman scored 100 per cent all along the line in yesterday's work, when he went out single-handed, landed one member, collected a full year's subscription, and reported back again to the Chamber of Commerce before starting off on the automobile dealers' jinks trip to the mountains.

Yesterday morning's work added sixty-four new members to the Chamber of Commerce, and the work that was carried on yesterday afternoon by members of the various teams will be reported on at today's meeting.

The Rotary Club, which was holding its regular weekly meeting in the same room as the Chamber of Commerce workers, rushed its business through as rapidly as possible and the members of the club then moved over to take part in the meeting of the campaign workers, the combined meeting being under the direction of S. P. Morris of the organization service department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who is engineering the campaign for the local organization.

Two boxes of cigars that were presented to the campaign workers by Pierson Hanning, 112 North Brand boulevard, were passed around to the guests at the luncheon.

CEMENT TESTS
Tests that have lasted nearly twelve years in Massachusetts have shown that the Mass cement there is used in concrete piling the greater its resistance to sea water.

Pastor to Leave for Vacation in Seattle

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Irving Rasmus of 315 North Jackson street expect to leave Monday morning upon a motor trip to Spokane where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. E. Z. Smith. They will be accompanied by Mrs. L. Bradbury of 804 East Acacia avenue. En route they will stop at Portland. The trip will occupy about six weeks.

Bungalow Court Is Now About Finished

Mrs. H. R. Hough, of 202 West Maple street, is just completing a bungalow of six units of four rooms and bath. These bungalows are the last word in bungalow building, having hardwood floors, best of plumbing and everything modern. The court is especially attractive, with fine shade trees and shrubbery and the parked entrance adds very much to the desirability of these bungalows. Three of the bungalows are ready for occupancy, and the others will be completed by the first of July.

C. H. Clark Of Eagle Rock Gives Patriotic Talk At Veterans' Annual Gathering

THE opening exercises of the thirty-sixth annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' Association, which is now being held at Pacific Palisades near Santa Monica, were marked by an address by C. H. Clark of Eagle Rock, adjutant of the N. P. Banks post of the G. A. R., of Glendale.

Comrade Clark was one of more than a dozen members of the N. P. Banks post who were present at the opening of Camp R. Heffelfinger, as it has been named this year, and he will spend the greater part of the time between now and June 22, the date when the camp closes, at the encampment. Other members of the local post will visit the encampment from time to time as they can arrange their affairs at home, and will participate in the exercises that are being held.

Comrade Clark's address follows: Comrades, Friends:—We are assembled here today in the thirty-sixth annual gathering of the Southern California Veterans' association, to renew and re-assert our fealty to that noble banner which you have just hoisted to the breeze opening its folds and sending its noble message of universal freedom to the world, and proclaiming again the high ideals which inspired our forefathers who "erected on this continent a new nation, founded upon the proposition that all men were created equal" and to declare our allegiance to that flag and to the republic for which it stands.

The flag which we revere and love is the visible symbol of the American Constitution. Our veneration of that flag must be something more than popular sentiment. It must be a deep-seated devotion to the ideals for which it stands.

Threat of Danger Comrades, as a steadily decreasing remnant of that army that rescued our Nation from disruption more than half a century ago, we still have a duty to perform. Though we are but a remnant, that remnant wields a mighty influence, in the degree that its voice is heard pleading for the preservation of American ideals for which we fought in '61-'65.

There are grave dangers that have crept into our national life. This commercial age and rapid increase in population has given opportunity for selfish motives and class consciousness to develop, and a growing disregard for law and order, and a tendency to drift away from our moorings—the anchorage of our Nation's hope in the provisions of our National Constitution. Against these dangers, we are becoming more thoroughly familiar with the text and the spirit of this fundamental code, our National Constitution. Upon adherence to its wise provisions rests our hope of the perpetuation of our national integrity.

Internal Strife But these years of our nation's development and achievement have not been without internal strife or the carnage of war; a legacy of feudalism and traditional aristocracy had early planted its tentacles in the soil of the fairest portion of our land and fattened itself upon the subjugation of a race to the bondage of human slavery and constantly sought to extend this unjust practice into the new territory that extended westward toward the shores of the Pacific. This institution, so utterly opposed to the great fundamental proposition upon which our nation was founded, could but meet with that opposition and condemnation which it so richly deserved in the hearts of those who discerned most clearly, of the spirit that had inspired those patriots of 1776, to found a government of universal freedom of its subjects, guaranteeing equality of opportunity and justice alike to all.

Those two opposing forces of human purpose necessarily led to a distinctive sectional cleavage between the states lying, respectively north and south of the so-called Mason and Dixon line, and crystallized into sections of bitter antagonism of those of the south to either perpetuate and extend the practice of human slavery unrestricted within the nation or to secede from it and to establish a confederacy with slavery as a fundamental stone in its structure; while those of the north breathed the determination to preserve the integrity of the nation and defend its constitution and maintain the honor of its flag, and when the results of the presidential election in November, 1860, placed the mantle of the nation's chief executive upon the head of Abraham Lincoln, open rebellion by those southern states was declared and soon after his inauguration the flag on Fort Sumter was fired upon and its garrison forced to surrender to its rebellious assailants.

Four Years of War This act of open hostility led to the four years of strike and carnage in which more than 2,000,000 of the valiant sons of the north sprang to the call of their president to defend and preserve the nation's integrity and honor, and under that dear old flag offered to lay down, if need be, their lives that that nation might live. To accomplish this noble purpose 700,000 of those brave boys made that supreme sacrifice upon the field of battle, in the prison pens or on the hospital.

Is it any wonder today the little remnant of that mighty host that finally saw victory perch upon its banners, love together on such an occasion as this to do honor to that flag; to clasp the hands of their old comrades in arms, to renew that fraternal greeting and to re-awaken the spirit of comradeship that found its birth in those dark days of '61 to '65 or ten-derly ministering to a dying comrade, who entrusted him with some message of love to a mother or sweetheart in the dear old home? Is it any wonder that, though our limbs are growing weary, or our eyes growing dim, or our ears are dull of hearing, our hearts thrill when the shrill notes of the fife and the rattle of the drum awaken the memory of other days and the impelling force of our emotions inspires us to gather at such a reunion as this and to rekindle the spirit of patriotism that led us to respond to our country's call, that made us true soldiers and, when the days of peace returned, that has made us true citizens and for more than a half century have kept the fires of patriotism burning in the hearts of our children and to have borne our share in the making of our nation the mighty power in the world that it is today? Are we not justly proud of these records? Do they not give us just cause to stand together in defense of and to plead for the ideals of the Constitution of our great Nation, great only as those ideals are safeguarded in the popular trend of thought and act?

The flag which we revere and love is the visible symbol of the American Constitution. Our veneration of that flag must be something more than popular sentiment. It must be a deep-seated devotion to the ideals for which it stands.

Education Needed To forestall the dangers to which I have alluded a more thorough educational work must be undertaken. The dormant energies of our people must be aroused to meet the present tendency to disregard law and order, a more vigorous demand for the enforcement of the laws that are intended to hold crime in check, and insistence upon the execution of the penalties due to convictions and that no criminal shall escape punishment through some legal technicality.

U. S. WOMEN HIT OF KING'S PARTY

Smartest Gowned Among All Received at British Court, Says Guest

By F. A. WRAY For International News Service LONDON, June 15.—American women who were presented to King George and Queen Mary at the British court made a most favorable impression and were most cordially received, said Mrs. E. R. Crockett of Kentucky today. Mrs. Crockett was one of the dozen American women at Wednesday night's court.

Before going to court I wondered whether it would prove an ordeal or an experience, but every one was so wonderfully gracious it proved a most pleasant experience," declared Mrs. Crockett. "I was not frightened nor embarrassed, because the American women were treated so wonderfully."

"It was a marvelous spectacle—something that never could be seen in America, but in a social way I believe we have many functions just as important."

Royalty Greets Americans "American women last night made a most favorable impression. I was proud of them. They were among the smartest gowned of all present. I was most happy to have the chance, but my greatest impression was the kindly spirit in which the royalty greeted the Americans."

The brilliancy of the court was somewhat dimmed by the semi-mourning proclaimed for the late Princess Christian, aunt of King George, but the presentations were conducted as scheduled. In addition to the king and queen, their daughter, Viscountess Lascelles (the Princess Mary), was present, also the Infanta Eulalia of Spain.

influence of the unwholesome liquor traffic, a traffic as destructive of the welfare of our country as that which selfish motives have corrupted the politics of the country, ruined the homes of countless thousands and robbed unnumbered men and women of their self-respecting manhood and womanhood merely to gratify a base and depraved appetite and to increase the ranks of those who are carrying on this nefarious traffic.

Shall We Stand Idle? Shall we stand idly by and fail to raise our voice in protest while this crime-producing practice gnaws at the vitals and corrupts the life blood of our nation's manhood and womanhood?

Do we not realize that the eighteenth amendment to our Constitution, which has been ratified by forty-five of the forty-eight states, is as sacred an obligation as is the thirteenth, which forever forbids human slavery in any other section or article of this fundamental law, and any evasion of or violation of its provisions is a mark of disloyalty and dishonors the flag we profess to love and venerate?

Shall we, by our complacency or despondency, stand idly by, virtually join hands with those who openly or secretly defy the law, open the door for anarchy and its attendant horrors? Has the spirit of commercialism so taken possession of our industrial and social life that we have forgotten the higher moral demands on which alone we can hope to retain the high standard of respect in the estimation of the civilized world? These are questions that demand our serious consideration and prompt us to put forth our greatest effort to fulfill the duties of citizenship, to be in fact as well as in name true Americans. Let us accept the golden mean as distinct from the extreme in all things which pertain to our social, industrial or political systems.

The radical viewpoint is rarely, if ever, comprehensive. It sees things only from a selfish and partial angle tending to autocracy and proscription on the one hand and chaos and confusion on the other. But, while I am not unmindful of these threatening conditions against which we need to put forth every energy to forestall and eradicate them, I am as firmly convinced that the same spirit of patriotism that has thus far led us safely through every crisis, guided, as I firmly believe, by a wise and beneficent Providence, will safely stem the tide, weather every storm, and steer our ship of state over every shoal or sunken rock and carry us safely into the haven where the spirit of anarchy, Bolshevism or selfish profiteering can find no soil in which to thrive or germinate the seeds of their pernicious doctrine.

Faith in Ideals I have profound faith in the underlying devotion to the ideals which constitute the fundamentals of our Republic entertained by the younger generation, the so signally distinguished the decisive results on the battle front on Flanders field and on the Marne or Argonne. The same patriotism that inspired our boys over there will continue to guide and direct them in the equally heroic devotion to the flag and the Republic for which it stands as it flows over our peaceful homes, our markets of trade and commerce, our industrial and social life and our religious and educational institutions.

That our nation has a God-ordained mission to fulfill, a destiny to achieve, is as deeply seated in my convictions as is my own existence, and that God is wisely directing every advancing footstep to this end. And may our reliance upon this divine guidance never wane, or faith in its ultimate goal ever falter.

BRITAIN PONDS OVER 'DRY' SHIPS

No Formal Protest Planned Against U. S. Edict, But Conference Is Sought

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service
LONDON, June 15.—Despite newspaper demands, the foreign office has stated that the British cabinet is not planning any formal protest against the American "dry ship" edict.

Foreign office officials said Great Britain is willing to enter an international conference to extend the three-mile limit off the American coast if the other nations consent.

Officials reiterated the cabinet is anxious to co-operate on the prohibition issue as it concerns foreign ships in American waters.

An indication of the British temper was given in the house of commons when the bill which makes it compulsory for all ships to carry liquor when they enter British ports was called up for second reading.

The measure does not have the support of the Baldwin government. It failed to pass on second reading, as debate was adjourned before a vote could be taken.

Parliamentary experts predict the measure will not get any further. But the debate indicated the government will have full support of commons if it decides to take retaliatory steps for the American edict.

COMMERCE That's All

Camp Life Sounds Call Learn To Do Things Enthusiasm And Fun Our Friends And Neighbors

By Gil A. Cowan

CAMP life each summer sounds its siren call to the city dwellers. The Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A. not to mention many unorganized plans, take the young folks out to commune with nature.

Learning of the birds and bees, angling for the finny fish, chasing the wild animals to their lair, and discovering things in the way of botanical and zoological subjects, all do that in educational and most intensely interesting.

Then there is the physical side to camp life which has its attractions. Swimming in the mountain pool, or playing on the sun-kissed beach; engaging in games and hiking in the hills with hale fellows; early to bed and early to rise; eating out in the open and sleeping under the stars; those are the things which give health and build bodies and chase gloom.

It will be good for the boys of Glendale and vicinity to have a week or two in camp this summer, especially those who do not have the opportunity to go traveling and otherwise becoming acquainted with the world. It is very necessary that they be taught self-reliance.

Self-reliance is not all that young people today need. They should be taught discipline in the home, including the eating of all health-giving foods, the proper respect for their elders, and an honest desire to do their share of all work.

Also, they should be taught to swim and to play, but particularly to swim, for no one is safe in traveling who cannot strike out for dry land at the necessary moment. They should know how to box a bit, too, without being pugnaous. And a familiarity with domestic animals, such as dogs, cows, horses or mules, is not going to be amiss in after-life.

Picture, if you please, the city boy trying to make his way 'cross-country. Think of him stalled by floods for a week in Kansas. What a useless adjunct to a farm he would be. And what a poor hero he would make in case of "sink or swim, live or die."

The parents seldom think of duty not done, yet boys and girls are sent forth to fight their battles with the world, and not one out of ten is mentally or physically or psychologically equipped to get to first base, as a sporting writer would say.

The Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A., or your own camping trip, if you are capable of teaching the youngsters the tricks of "getting along," give the young folks their opportunity.

May they make the most of it.

Enthusiasm is an essential to success. The Chamber of Commerce campaigners get a daily demonstration, if not true inspiration, from S. Poulter Morris, organization expert, who is loaned Glendale by the Los Angeles Chamber.

"It's great to see that fellow work," said one of the enthused local solicitors. "He's just like lightning. He makes you jump, if you're able to jump."

All of which is a fact. We watched him "work" yesterday noon. He is very careless about the furniture. He doesn't mind noise. And he can do about three things all at once, with an eagle eye looking for something more.

It took "Pete" Ferry, big and jolly, conservative contractor that he is, to get Mr. Morris' number when he was calling roll of various teams in the drive for memberships.

Ferry answered roll for all of the absentees on his team. And he got three rousing cheers, led by Mr. Morris, just as though all had been present.

A few more murders and missing people reported in Los Angeles' vicinity leads us to believe that day by day we are growing better and better in the matter of giving newspaper readers their daily thrill.

Happily, most of the missing people are found, most of the slayers are apprehended, and in most of the sensations we learn that the accused people are not so criminal as they are painted.

In years gone by, when we used to "flivver" around Glendale and vicinity for news, we had occasion to visit Burbank, Eagle Rock, Tujunga, La Crescenta, Montrose and Sunland. Indeed, we remember very well of getting strombound one afternoon, about six or seven years ago, between La Crescenta and Sunland. Which makes us never-you-mind to the readers of today, but we cannot help but feel friendly toward the oldtimers whose names we see mentioned in the daily dispatches from these growing communities which are published in The Glendale Evening News.

Many of the folks who live in these other communities have friends and relatives in Glendale. They like to get The Glendale Evening News, as is evidenced by constantly-increasing circulation.

TUJUNGA DECIDE ON DATE FOR GUILD MEET

Church Organization Will Hold Summer Sessions Every Friday

The Woman's Guild of the Tujunga Episcopal Mission has voted to hold the weekly social gatherings through the summer as usual on Fridays. The Guild hall on Pine street is open from 10 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon and members of the Guild may be found there all day Friday.

Mrs. Raymond Hatch is chairman of the social committee. The members of the executive board are always present, should there be any business to transact.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated at the Episcopal hall as usual on the third Sunday of the month, which is next Sunday, June 17, at 10:45 a. m.

Mrs. Sinsbaugh of Manhattan Beach was a week-end visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Stevenson of San Ysidro street, Tujunga.

MUNICIPAL OPERA ENTERS 5TH YEAR

St. Louis Outdoor Theatre to Present Many Plays During Season

By W. F. SULLIVAN
For International News Service

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—America's only municipal opera—one of the most beautiful outdoor theatres in the United States—has entered auspiciously upon its fifth season here, with $80,000 paid into the treasury for reservations for summer seats.

When St. Louisans opened their purses and laid out that much cash they were gambling with the weather man that it wouldn't rain on the nights for which they made reservations. If the weather man holds off his downpour until 9 p. m., the St. Louis loses; if raining before that hour the seat-holder gets a rain-check.

Operated by City

Municipal opera here pays its way and more. Profits are forbidden by the Municipal Theatre association's charter. Civically operated and municipally supervised, the profits derived from the theatre go to providing musical education for young St. Louisans of the Municipal Opera chorus and into improving the theatre, which in its four years of operation has developed from a temporary hillside amphitheatre, with the flat below as stage, to the largest, best-equipped and one of the most attractive open-air theatres in the country.

Says Teaching Isn't Good Life Vocation

LIMA, Ohio, June 15.—"Young men should enter the profession of teaching only as a stepping stone to something better and not as a permanent position. There is too much dissatisfaction and greater uncertainties," said Charles W. Westbay, local resident, who has just handed his resignation to School Superintendent C. A. Arganbright after teaching school forty-two years.

"It is a thankless job. I am left without something tangible in the way of a job and I have been unable to accumulate much money," Westbay stated. He will receive $40 a month as a pension the rest of his life.

Welcomes Self Home In Neighbor's House

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—Sentiment crept into his soul as Emory Bridges, returning to the scene of his former home, went into the front room to play the phonograph before awakening the "folks."

"Home Again Blues" was most appropriate to the occasion, which happened to be at the inappropriate hour of 5:15 a. m. The strains of music awakened those slumbering in the house, but they didn't welcome Emory's return to his "home."

Emory explained to the police that his mother once lived there and he did not know she had moved. He was released.

Can't Pay Two Fines For One Day's Spree

ELKO, Nev., June 15.—Can a man be arrested twice for the same drunk?

An Elko jury thinks not. C. H. West was arrested Thursday night for being intoxicated. He paid a fine of $5 the next morning. Friday afternoon he was found in a similar condition as the night previous.

West hired an attorney and demanded a jury trial. He contended that the alleged second drunk was only a continuation of the first, and he had already been punished for the first offense.

The jury agreed.

Mediator Sent to End Filipino Labor War

HONOLULU, June 15.—Adjustment of labor disputes involving the thousands of Filipino laborers employed on Hawaii's sugar and pineapple plantations will be the aim of Cayetano Ligo, first resident labor commissioner of the Philippines to be sent to Hawaii. # Belgian's Two Wives Both Legal, Verdict

MOULINS, France, June 15.—The Tribunal of Alliers has acquitted Louis Keppens, a Belgian, of the charge of bigamy. In 1914 Keppens, who at that time was married to a Belgian woman, asked for a divorce. The war broke out, and Keppens volunteered in the French army.

When the war was over Keppens, who was in France, married a French woman of Moulins. During the trial Keppens testified that he was under the impression that his divorce, asked for in 1914, had been granted.

The jury found his not guilty. His two wives were present during the entire trial, and after the verdict they shook hands and left the court in company of Keppens.

"What am I to do now—with two wives?" Keppens asked his friends.

Honolulu Law Would Penalize Homicides

HONOLULU, June 15.—"An Act to Prevent Homicides" is the title of a bill introduced in the territorial legislature recently by Representative D. K. Hayselden. Reading the bill, however, shows that there is less of prevention than penalty proposed. Hayselden would have persons or corporations through whose negligence death occurs penalized from $500 to $10,000, the money to be turned over to the heirs of the victims.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts Or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Population of Tokio Shows Rapid Growth

TOKIO, June 15.—Greater Tokyo increased its population 40,730 during the year 1922, according to the latest figures available at the office of the Minister of Home Affairs. The figures show that there are now living in the capital of Japan 2,478,233, including 641,293 families. The population of Tokio as given at the end of 1921 was 2,437,503.

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

WHEAT AND OSTRICH FRONDS BEAUTY CHATS

Flattering Frame For Any Face, Is Claim

By ELOISE

If all the women who affect stiff collars and stiff sailors worn doming brimmed hats trimmed with soft wheat and delicate ostrich fronds would think they had found an entire new set of features. This is how effective and flattering these two trimmings are. And any woman who wants to wear them may do so this year, for both wheat and ostrich fronds have been stamped approved at a recent fashion show held in New York. Wheat in all colors trims small suit hats and turbans as well as the larger and dresser models. Ostrich is not only used as a hat trimming and in scarfs, but it is trimming capes, negligees and coats as well.

Here is a smart white Milan hat made in a close-shaped turban style and trimmed with a heavy wreath of wheat. Worn with it to complete the frame for the face is a scarf of black and white uncurled ostrich. Of course, every woman could not afford this set bought by Paige at the fashion show for a mere $2,300, but there are many other wheat-trimmed bonnets and feather scarfs which come some what nearer the moderate price. If the pores around your nostrils are invisible, you can congratulate yourself upon having a perfect skin. Very, very few people escape large nose pores, even small children with normally fine complexions have them. It is the first place where the skin goes faulty.

But it is possible to cure even this trouble. If the rest of the complexion needs attention, the ordinary face treatment will make these pores finer. If only this part is to be treated, it's most simple.

Steam the skin by wringing face cloths from hot water and holding them over the nose for five minutes. Wash with soap and water or rub with cleansing cream if the pores are black. Rinse with cool water, rub on a paste made of ordinary white laundry starch and cold water. Let it stay on all night, or for an hour or so while you do your housework, rinse off with cold water.

Or, buy some oatmeal powder, which is coarse and mealy to the touch. Hold the wet cloths over the nose as before, moisten a little powder, and rub well into the skin. Wash off with hot water, and repeat. Rinse with hot and then cold water, or rinse with cool water and spray a little astringent toilet vinegar over the skin.

Or use the blackhead cleansing powder whose virtues I often praise here. Wheat or corn starch, two ounces; powdered borax, one ounce; almond meal, one ounce, are the proportions. It's drying or rather absorbent of grease and dirt, it rubs easily into the pores and washes out as easily. Any of these treatments are good for an oily or shiny nose—which means large pores are to come—and all of them can be done every day without harm.

Even the white of an egg, rubbed over the skin, will help, if the pores are cleaned thoroughly first. No astringent should ever be used on a dirty skin.

Babs—If dental work altered the shape of your mouth so it is no longer natural, the only remedy would seem to lie in having corrections made. Consult a good dentist.

Dear Mrs. T. P.—A dark circle around the mouth shows that the liver is very sluggish. The circle around eyes could come from this same cause.

M. H. E.—I do not think that you could dye your own hair to look natural, especially since you must have a light shade. It would take a skilled person to dye it to any shade, but a light shade is almost impossible to attain.

Vee.—Warm the tonic before applying to the roots of the lashes, using a fine sable brush for the work.

Since you respect the young man so much, keep him as your friend regardless of a difference in religion and the fact that people make fun of him. Because of the difference in religion, however, if there is a great difference, consider him only as a friend and do not permit yourself to regard him as a sweetheart.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman and wonder if you can help me out. I have been married one and a half years and I keep myself just as attractive as before I married, in fact more so because we have plenty of money to do with. The trouble is that my husband shows no affection toward me. He acknowledges me when he comes in from work and also when he leaves, but that is all. He does not care for any other woman and he gives me everything I want. Before we married he was very affectionate. I am very affectionate myself and therefore miss it very much. BROWN EYES.

So often women say that unless their husbands can give love and affection voluntarily, they don't want it. Such an attitude is a mistake in many cases. When a woman wants affection and she doesn't get it, I think she ought to ask for it. After dinner at Doctor says mamas must be very careful not to blame teething as the cause if a baby is ill, until illness due to errors in feeding or other causes are ruled out, because teething is a natural process and should not be accompanied by very much disturbance.

Sometimes while we are teething it seems to relieve us to rub our gums. The clean handle of a spoon may be used, and that may help bring the teeth through quicker. It is very rarely that our gums have to be lanced. If this is done it should not be done too early, for the scar tissue which is left makes it harder than ever for the teeth to come through.

Mamas should not put butter or honey on the gums, an old-fashioned practice. That makes them all the more tender. If anything is used a little cold solution of boric acid—one-half teaspoonful to eight ounces of water—may be rubbed on the gums with a little piece of clean gauze.

Czecho-Slovakia—The Czechs have recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of Mme. Vikova-Kunevska, a pioneer feminist and the first woman to be elected to the Bohemian diet, in 1902. Mme. COTSWOLD LOVE

Blue skies are over Cotswold
And April snows go by
The lassies turn their ribbons
For April's in the sky
And April is the season
When Sabbath girls are dressed,
From Redbow to Campden,
In all their silken best.

An ankle is a marvel
When first the buds are brown,
And not a lass but knows it,
From Stow to Gloucester town.
And not a girl goes walking
Along the Cotswold lanes
But knows men's eyes in April
Are quicker than their brains.

It's little that it matters,
So long as you're alive,
If you're eighteen in April,
Or rising sixty-five,
When April comes in Amberly
With skies of April blue,
And Cotswold girls are bridging
With slyly tilted shoe.

WHAT NO ONE WANTS TO DO

I wonder if any man ever achieved big things who was not capable of intense concentration.

And I wonder if there ever was a man who achieved success by his ability to concentrate intensely. I mean when he knew he had to concentrate on some very difficult problem, didn't sometimes wish he were a day laborer working for small hire on some job where he didn't have to do a thing but follow directions, so that he need not push himself to the agony of that intense thinking.

For it often is agony.

Or perhaps a queer mixture of necessity and agony and satisfaction.

The Horse That Thought

When I was a small child and used to go to visit my cousins, I was allowed to beguile the railway journey with ten cents' worth of limericks and my favorite magazine. The one stipulation was that before arriving at my cousins' home I should get rid of the magazine, as it was not one of which my aunt, who had very strict theories on child rearing, would approve. And yet it was in that fantastic (but not in the least harmful) magazine that I read one of the few stories that have always remained in my mind.

SUNLAND

DANCE TO RAISE BALL CLUB FUND

Players' Uniforms Will Be Bought With Proceeds of Big Benefit

Next Thursday, June 21, a big dance and entertainment will be given at Twin Pines pavilion, Sunland, which has just recently been purchased by Louis Waite from Charles Kimpel. Mr. Waite is donating the use of the pavilion without charge and the entire proceeds of the affair will go toward purchasing new uniforms and equipment for the baseball club, which has been re-organized and is again playing on the Monte Vista park grounds at Sunland.

Many varieties of entertainment will be offered for the enjoyment of those who do not dance, and the well-known Twin Pines orchestra will furnish music, after the program, for dancing. Some of the acts and dancing numbers have already been arranged, both from local and Los Angeles talents, as many more will be booked as can be secured in the next week. There will be a comedy skit, dancing numbers, vocal and instrumental solos and surprise numbers by local artists who have proven their ability at entertainments before. One of the out-of-town acts already engaged is an Oriental dance by a clever vaudeville performer who has appeared in Los Angeles and elsewhere.

The merchants of the valley are assisting in the move and a good program for both young and old is assured. The team believes it is entitled to the support of the valley fans on their showings on the diamond for the last two months. All of their games in this time with the exception of one lost, have been won by big margins, except the one with Pico's All Stars, which shows the calibre of the team. Some of the best clubs playing under the banner of the Southern California Base Ball Managers' Association have appeared at Monte Vista park and been trimmed clean. Pico held the locals to a 4 to 2 score, but failed to stop their winning streak. The only team to defeat Sunland in the last ten weeks was the Glendale Knights of Columbus, who slipped them a 14 to 0 chastisement, but after this one slip Sunland has gone on its merry way, winning games by the same one sided score, the last by 15 to 3. A team that can take every corner by scores such as these must have something and they feel that they are entitled to new uniforms, but are not asking donations. The show will be well worth the money charged, according to the committee in charge.

Fighters to Repeat
For the main event next Wednesday, June 20, at Twin Pines, Charles Kimpel, who is still putting on the boxing shows, although he has sold the pavilion, has secured Kid Williams, the Lankershim Peach, and Kid Essex. These two went four rounds recently to a draw that had the bugs dizzy and yelling for help.

Kid Williams showed his wares at Sunland three weeks ago when he knocked Sailor O'Brien so hard that his shadow is still out of shape. The sailor is no slouch and Williams had his hands full in holding down his rushes, but when the chance came he was ready.

Essex, however, is no sailor and

BURBANK

BURBANK SCHOOL SYSTEM CLOSES

Institutions Will Open in July, However, to Give Special Coaching

School is over for the term, in Burbank, and the schools are closed.

They will open again early in July, however. Superintendent Collins announces, when classes will be held at the Luther Burbank, Thomas A. Edison and John Muir buildings, for the six weeks' course of summer instruction to children who need special coaching in certain studies.

There will be no expense attached to these courses, Mr. Collins states, saying that so many pupils are anxious to take these courses that it has been decided to eliminate the fee of a few dollars charged last year.

The classes are announced for the hours between 8 o'clock in the morning and noon. As there are more candidates for application than can be accommodated, the teachers are said to be employing a weeding out process, to confine instruction to those who most need it.

With but twenty pupils to a class, it is felt that excellent individual work can be done. Parents who wish information regarding these courses should communicate with Mr. Collins at the Edison school, on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 2 till 4 o'clock.

Little Folks Return
Although the Luther Burbank school closed yesterday with other Burbank educational institutions, the children of the school returned this morning for their reports and a final closing session, which terminated at 10 o'clock.

The children left the school house repeating the following little verse taught them by their teachers, Mrs. Gallyon and Mrs. Aitken:

"Clean up our faces, hands and fingernails;
Clean up our floors, desks and lunch pails.—
Let us keep house in splendid style,
And meet each other with a happy smile."
School Pool for Public

It has been decided by the School Board that the new swimming pool at the Burbank High school shall be open to the public at stated times, probably one night a week each for men and women.

The only expense connected with the privilege, it is understood, will be a nominal charge for towels. Even this charge may be avoided by patrons bringing their own.

The privilege of the pool applies also to school children above the fourth grade, it is announced, two days a week being set aside for the boys and two days for the girls.

A special feature of summer activities at the new pool will be the inauguration of Friday of each week as a "Special Day," when children who can bring credit slips from home, showing they have helped dutifully in the household work, will be allowed the use of the water.

Other provisions for the summer session at "the old swimmer's hole" will be announced later.

Summer Playgrounds
The school playgrounds will be being duly sworn, deposes and says that his shadow is form fitting and can't lose its shape, therefore Williams will have to think of a new one if he expects to eat regular after June 20. All of which is pleasant music to the bugs.

M. C. Daugherty of Los Angeles has been visiting G. S. Nottage of Sunland for a few days and leisurely inspecting property for the purpose of investing.

The Rev. W. E. Smith of the Sunland Baptist church made a flying trip to Redlands at the end of the week to pay a short visit to his son and daughter there.

A sign has been erected at the corner of Michigan avenue and Walnut drive by the Monte Vista Valley Improvement League, bearing the lettering "Sunland Welcomes You to Monte Vista Valley." It is located in a prominent place at the turn in the highway and as the lettering is in bright red it will catch the eye of every motorist passing that way.

TOKIO, June 15.—Discovery by the Moji police of an attempt on the part of a Japanese to smuggle morphine valued at 900,000 yen into China may reveal a widespread plot to supply accomplices in China with a steady output of the drug, according to reports reaching Tokyo.

Police in Moji are of the belief that the man arrested, Chiro Hamano by name, has accomplices in Shanghai and Kobe, and that drugs valued at 3,000,000 yen have already been transported by means of the system.

SHANGHAI, June 15—British and American club women of Shanghai launched a campaign recently for the establishment of a board of censors for public morals which will eliminate the objectionable in motion picture films and bar the importation of obnoxious photographs, pictures or literature. The selling of "art" calendars and cigarette cases with reproductions of alleged famous nude paintings is causing a storm of criticism in the international colony since these reproductions are invariably of white women.

Practically every civilized nation has laws governing the importation of obnoxious pictures, literature and films and the same laws apply to the treaty ports of China. In order that these laws may be enforced in Shanghai prominent club women are urging the appointment of a board of censors for public morals.

The women believe that the same regulations regarding films which hold in the United States should hold in the treaty ports of China. The women are urging that pictures showing an embrace lasting for more than four seconds; duration; violent death, terrible crimes, situations showing white women in objectionable positions, soul kisses and films which may excite race feeling should be prohibited.

Only recently "Broken Blossoms," one of the most popular films shown in America, was produced at a Shanghai theater. Because the story of the film involved Chinese and English characters so much criticism fell upon the theater owners that they were forced to withdraw the picture the second evening.

The club women are anxious that the dignity, beauty and goodness of American and English women be upheld in the Orient and will do all possible to prevent lowering the standard of the best type of womanhood.

"Heigho! I know now why that whistle of distress was given," said the sailor, who spied the ape up in the rigging. "The ape has broken out of his cage, and they want some one to help get him back. But where is the fellow who whistled? I hope the ape has not hurt anyone before he climbed up where he is."

All the time he had been talking to himself, the sailor had been walking toward the ape. When he drew nearer he saw that the ape was bleeding, and that both Billy and Stubby were all spattered with blood, while Button sat off at one side licking his coat as if trying to clean it from spots.

"See here, you fellows! What have you been trying to do? Eat up an ape? Or were you trying to steal a steak off him? I would like to know what started this. Guess I'll go find the man that whistled, and see what he knows about it."

When he arrived at the kitchen, he found the sailor who had given the alarm trying to quiet the cook. She was so shaken up over her adventure that she was in hysterics, crying and laughing, while at the same time, she was trying to tell what had occurred.

"I don't see why the captain brought that brute along, anyway. I'll never be sorry for a caged animal again, and feed it tidbits. It can just starve for all I care!" and then she began to cry again.

Perhaps you are wondering how a big ape, as tall as a man when he stood on his hind feet, ever happened to be on board a vessel sailing south instead of north. As you never could guess such an unusual thing, I will tell you.

It seemed that the captain of this vessel was a great friend of the keeper of the animals at a zoo. And one day when they were talking together, the keeper said to him: "Cap, do you remember several years ago when you were captain of the Marie Ann you brought a cargo of monkeys, apes and baboons from Africa for the zoo?"

"Yes. What of it? I have not thought of that trip for years."

"I'll tell you. One of these same apes is alive yet. He is a big, powerful beast, but he has been acting sick and droopy lately, and has developed a cough. Now I know what that cough means—have heard too many of them not to know. It means consumption and a dead ape before you can turn around. I have grown fond of this old fellow, as he is always good-natured and knows as many tricks as a child, and I was thinking an ocean voyage back to a warm climate like that where he was born, with a stay of a month or two in it, might pull him around all right. So I wondered, if I made a nice cage for him, if you would mind taking him with you the next time you sailed for Panama, and leave him there with a friend of mine until your next trip down."

"I can't help it if I'm not perfect," he sighed. "I never heard of but one perfect you, anyway."

"Who was that?" asked his mother, thinking to point a moral, and then she began to cry again.

"Papa," came the silencing reply, "when he was little."

They had spent some happy weeks in California, recites the Boston Transcript. The sunshine was brilliant and the hotel fare was good. On the last day the waiter had their table decorated with flowers.

"A pretty touch of sentiment," commented ma.
"More likely good business," declared pa.
"Huh? asked ma in surprise.
"Have you noticed what these flowers are?" asked the observant pa.
"No. What are they?"
"Forget-me-nots."

RADIO

BY FRANK CHAPMAN

THE IDEAL VACATION SET

VACATION time is with us and the radio fans will not want to give up their hobby by any means and there is no good reason why they should, regardless of how much you have read concerning old man static. Commercial operators work the year round and so do the broadcasting stations.

A set for vacation purposes should be one that is sensitive and can be used with a small aerial or even a loop as it is not always practical to put up a large aerial. When a small aerial, or loop aerial is used, radio frequency amplification should be used in all cases unless you are near a large broadcasting station.

The set shown in the drawing consists of three stages of radio detector and two of audio frequency amplification. This shows a vernier variable condenser on the left, followed by three sockets for amplifier tubes, three radio frequency transformers, a combination potentiometer and rheostat and two rheostats; next on the set is the grid condenser and leak, detector socket and combination potentiometer and rheostat, then two audio frequency transformers, sockets and rheostats, eight binding posts are used, two for aerial and ground, two for a battery, two for forty-five volt B battery and two for output leading to telephones or loud speaker.

With this type of set reliable communication of 1000 miles can be obtained with the use of a loop aerial and will be devoid of the usual interference from other stations as well as most of the static.

No tuner is shown with this drawing for a portable set of this type will, in most cases, be used with a loop aerial, the loop being connected to the aerial ground binding posts. If a tuner is used it is suggested that a two circuit one be employed without regeneration. This to consist of a variocoupler, or loose coupler with a series vernier condenser.

This outfit, not counting tubes can be made up for less than $50, and is about as high amplification as it is practical to use. A loop aerial can be made up very cheaply possible and the audio frequency ones too for that matter, but it is not so important with the latter as the former.

If audions that will successfully (low current consumption) operating on dry cells are used considerable saving is made in not buying a storage battery and also makes it more of a portable set than where a heavy storage battery must be carried around. Dry cells can be bought just any place so there is no danger of being without filament lighting supply if dry cells are used. The UV 199 takes .06 ampere for the filament compared to 1.0 for the UV 201 and .25 for the UV 201A. The first type can even be run off a flashlight battery if necessary.

Pointers
When connecting your B batteries together, connect the red one to the black wire.

Some interference can be tuned out by using large inductance and small values of condenser.

If you take your set with you on a trip, the storage battery on your automobile can be used for filament lighting.

"INTERNATIONAL BANKER" DOES NOT EXIST, SAYS OTTO KAHN

There is no such thing as an "international banker" in America, as the meaning of the term is generally understood. Otto H. Kahn, noted financier, asserts emphatically.

"He exists in the imagination," Kahn said recently, "but he does not exist in the flesh. You might as well speak of the international farmer because the farmer sells a certain percentage of his crops to Europe, or of the international manufacturer because some of his products are exported to Europe and some American manufacturers maintain branch establishments of agents in Europe, or of the international merchant, because he imports goods from Europe."

"The banker maintains, and can maintain, international contact, and conduct international business only to the extent that American industry, commerce and agriculture are international.

Real Market Is Here
"The American banker's market is the home market. His success is conditioned upon the capacity and willingness of the American investor to absorb the securities which he offers. His very existence depends on the confidence and co-operation of the public and his fellow bankers—and any banker whose activities would justify create the impression that he was actuated by cosmopolitan rather than by American interests would very soon lose that confidence and following.

"The American banker's principal functions in relation to Europe are to provide the requisite banking facilities for export and import and for travelers.

"That part of his functions which consist in financing loans of foreign governments or industries has hitherto been (with sporadic exceptions) of relatively inconsiderable proportions as compared to the vastness of the volume of his transactions in financing American industry, commerce and enterprise.

Nothing to Blush About
"In saying this I do not mean to imply that there is anything that calls for apology in the floating of foreign loans in America and in the loaning of American funds to Europe, provided that such loans are considered sound as to security and are made for legitimate constructive purposes.

"It is both the duty and the advantage of a creditor nation, such as this country, has become, to place part of its available funds in foreign countries."

The total amount of securities issued in this country and outstanding, of those European nations who were engaged in the late war, apart from war debts to the American government and temporary bank loans and similar trade accommodations, Kahn said, "is not four or five billion dollars, as has been stated in congress and is reassured from time to time in certain organs of the press, but a great deal less than one billion."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BLACK GUN

Uncle Wiggily was hopping down the front steps of his hollow stump bungalow one morning before school when he saw Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, with something black and shining. Sammie pointed it straight at the bunny gentleman.

"Look out, Sammie! Be careful! Don't point that gun at me!" cried Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose very fast. "I know you don't intend to pop at me with that gun, but it might go off by accident. Be careful!" he cried.

"This isn't a gun, Uncle Wiggily!" laughed the rabbit boy. "What is it then?" asked Mr. Longears. "It looks like a black gun with a shiny place for the bullets to pop out."

"It's a machine for taking pictures," answered Sammie. "It is called a camera. I am going to take your picture and show it to the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School."

"Oh, that's different!" chuckled the bunny uncle. "Go ahead then and take my picture."

Uncle Wiggily stood up on a flat stump, straightened his coat, rubbed his paws through his ears and smiled. Sammie pointed the black, shiny camera at his uncle, pressed a little jigger that made a click and then the bunny boy said: "Now your picture is taken."

"May I see it?" asked Mr. Longears. "Oh, not yet!" exclaimed Sammie. "I have to take the camera in a dark room with a red lamp and lots of things have to be done before you can make the picture come out. Anyhow, I have to go to school. But later on I'll show you the picture I took, Uncle Wiggily."

"Thank you," spoke the rabbit gentleman. "And I'll hop along to school with you, Sammie. For I want to see the Lady Mouse Teacher. I am going to ask her how many apples you can buy for ten cents when sugar is fifteen cents a pound."

"That's a hard example," said Sammie slowly. "But the Lady Mouse Teacher is very smart. Then he and Uncle Wiggily hopped on to the Hollow Stump School."

"Oh, it's Uncle Wiggily!" squeaked the Lady Mouse when she saw the bunny gentleman. "Won't you come in for a little while? I'll have the boys and girls sing for you."

"Thank you, I am very fond of music," answered Mr. Longears. So he took his place on the platform with Miss Mouse. The animal children were just singing the song about "Good Morning! Good Morning! Good Morning to you!" when, all of a sudden, the door of the school room opened, and in stalked the Bushy Bear.

"Shuffle! Shuffle! Shuffle!" his broad heavy feet said across the room, and the hungry eyes of the bear were fixed on Uncle Wiggily's ears. The red tongue of the bear stuck out over the edge of his great relief to those who are humble in spirit, but it will be a shock to some who think very well of themselves. Here is the composition: Iodine, 10 1-10 drops; 112 cubic feet oxygen gas, 60 cubic feet hydrogen gas, 61 cubic feet nitrogen gas, 2 ounces of salt, 1-5 ounce of sugar, 1-8-10 pounds of phosphorus, 7 pounds lime, 1-4 ounce of iron, 24 pounds of coal (carbon) 10 gallons of water. Of course, the coal makes it a little expensive just now, but otherwise the first cost is nowhere near as great as the upkeep. People with gold filings will, of course, assay much more than without.

We believe that the best way for the Fine Arts commission to improve the shape of the American flag and please all the people, including those who have fought under it, is to let it alone.

Again we are called upon to listen to the dispute over the identities of the twelve greatest women in America. The League of Women Voters has made one guess. Chauncey M. Depew has made another. It seems to be an open game. We are not prepared to name the twelve greatest women in America, but we believe that the 12,000,000 greatest women in America are at home guiding the lives of their children.

NEW PROMOTER TO DIRECT FIGHT

Dempsey-Gibbons Bout on Verge of Being Called Off at One Time

By ED W. SMITH
For International News Service
GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 15.—Dan Tracey, Great Falls hotel owner and coal mine operator, was installed today as promoter of the Dempsey-Gibbons boxing contest at Shelby, Mont., July 4, supplanting Loy Molumby, state commander of the American Legion and Mayor Jim Johnson of Shelby whose lack of business methods in promoting the show precipitated a condition which for a time yesterday threatened to force calling off the contest.

The selection of Tracey was made at a meeting held last night in Great Falls. It was attended by Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey; Tracey; George H. Stanton, president of the Stanton Savings & Trust company; Shirley and Lee Ford, owners of the Great Falls National bank, and Senator J. W. Spears.

Bankers Give Aid

The meeting was held to discuss the situation arising from the alleged fact that Johnson had misrepresented the real facts to newspapermen. He was suddenly confronted with the declaration that only $30,000 was available to go ahead with the plans. The bankers of Great Falls then, announcing their purpose of saving Montana's face, agreed to underwrite the affair. At first they wanted Kearns to take over promotion of the show, but upon his refusal Tracey was selected. Kearns agreed to give every assistance he could.

The first hint of a change in the management came when neither Johnson nor Molumby, whose names appear in the fight contracts, showed up at the conference. Molumby finally showed up, but newspapermen who were at a distance were surprised to discover he had difficulty in gaining admission. To these newspapermen, Molumby explained the meeting was held to discuss a prospective fight to be held in Great Falls. This was denied by the bankers and business men who then emerged from their meeting. Johnson did not even go to the hotel where the meeting was held.

In The Spotlight Of Sport

By WOOD COWAN

Aileen Riggan, the little six-year-old swimming phenom, carried off the indoor honors this season for being the best all-around performer in water events. So now that the outdoor water sports are just opening up the youngster should be close to her best form for these swims.

style of swimming event up to 500 yards.

Miss Riggan, when but fourteen years old, went as a member of our Olympic team to Antwerp and won several points for your Uncle Sam. As early as twelve years this youngster amazed experts with her endurance in the water and the speed she obtained by using the six-beat, double-trudgeon crawl.

If the value of a coach is to be measured by the success in competition of the athletes under his charge, the coach who stands pre-eminent in the United States, as far as track and field are concerned, is Walter Christie of the University of California.

For three successive years, a relatively small group of track and field athletes from this institution has won the highest honors the nation affords in the line of outdoor sport. Everything these men know, from the physical care they should bestow on themselves to that style in performance has been imparted to them by Christie.

There has been considerable comment and surprise expressed in the past due to the fact that the universities of the Pacific Coast have done little or nothing to foster intercollegiate competition in golf. Stanford, the University of California, the University of Washington and Oregon seem all to have been cold toward the fastest growing and most popular game today in this country.

Sport Snaps

By JACK KEENE

That Bobby Jones will likely prove an even more dangerous factor in the national amateur golf championship this year than ever before, as a result of his moving north, is believed by those who have followed the career of the Atlanta youngster since he first flashed into the limelight a few years ago. In other years Bobby, while attending Georgia Tech., was handicapped, in a way, by the fact that most of his practice was done on courses on which the putting greens were somewhat different in their texture from those in the north. The result was that Bobby, when he journeyed north for tournament competitions, started on somewhat unequal terms with his rivals. Now that he is at Harvard, attending the law school, he will have plenty of opportunity to do his practicing on courses which are like those that will be found at Flossmoor next autumn.

It would appear as if Jones is now launched on what may be his most successful year. Recently in the opening event of the Massachusetts Golf association season, a best-ball competition at Wollaston, he turned in a 68, playing almost flawless golf, as his score would indicate. With his partner Alfred S. Nelson, he captured the low gross. The feature of Bobby's performance came at the 497-yard eleventh, where his brassie second came to rest at the back of the green.

Reports from Los Angeles are that old George Stovall may be engaged to help Marty Krug manage the Angels of the Coast league and help keep peace on the team. Stovall's last engagement was with Jacksonville, as manager of that city's team in the Florida state league. He has returned to Los Angeles and has made application, upon solicitation of friends, for a job with the club.

Back in 1908, when Harry Coveleski took the Giants into camp in one big series and beat New York out of the pennant, Billie Murray was managing Philadelphia. In one game the big Polo took a long windup with a man on first base and naturally the runner went to second.

When the inning was over Murray called Coveleski for his bonus and the pitcher declared he didn't know there was a runner on first.

Calling Kitty Bransfield, captain of the club, to him, Murray said: "You're captain of this club and I want it understood that when Coveleski is pitching and there is a runner on first you are to tell him of it. From now on there will be no secrets on this ball club."

THE FANNING HIVE

By NORMAN E. BROWN
TYRUS RAYMOND COBB
May be found these days
Kicking himself gently around his room.

And the cause? The showing of Cliff Brady, second baseman with the Rochester International. Cobb obtained Brady from the Rochester team. The lad looked promising, but Cobb opined that the broken leg Brady sustained last season would slow him up this year. So he turned Brady back to Rochester. Owner Stallings of that outfit became a bit peeved. Threatened to ask Commissioner Landis to make Cobb retain Brady according to agreement.

Then the Rochester team got into the International race head over heels and Brady became one of the main factors in that team's showing. He played brilliant ball and batted over 400. There was and has been to date no indication in his fielding or base running that his broken leg is hindering his speed or agility.

Now Ty Cobb wants Brady back again.

And no one blames Stallings for saying: "Stop your kidding."

TAGGING ALL BASES

Waite Hoyt weakened in the eighth and Catcher Collins knocked him for a homer, Cramer knocked in two more runs with a single, and the St. Louis Browns beat the Yankees, 3 to 1.

Getting to Coveleski early, the ambitious Athletics nosed out Cleveland, 4 to 3, and gained in the American league race.

Unable to produce hits in the pinches, the Pirates lost a chance to gain on the league-leading Giants, when the Phils got to Meadows and won, 2 to 1.

The St. Louis Cardinals used eighteen men in the lineup, but the Braves were victorious, 6 to 4.

TABERNACLE TO OPEN ON SUNDAY

Invite Public to Attend Services; Rev. Chrisman Pastor in Charge

Special Services
The building occupies a portion of the church property that fronts 175 feet on Louise street and 150 feet on Chestnut street. The balance of the property, now occupied by the old building, now used as a Sunday school annex, and by a ten-room and bath parsonage, both the latter fronting on Chestnut street.

Reverend Chrisman states that the 9:30-o'clock service Sunday morning will be in charge of Charles Dole, well-known figure in Christian and Missionary Alliance work, and familiarly known as "Uncle Charley, the children's friend."

The 11-o'clock service Sunday morning will be in charge of Rev. George W. Davis, district superintendent of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

There will be 2:30 and 7:30-o'clock services Sunday, both in charge of Rev. Lucius B. Compton, of Asheville, N. C., said by Reverend Chrisman to be a preacher of the old school and a delightful personality.

For the balance of the week, Reverend Compton will deliver a 2:30-o'clock address each afternoon; Uncle Charlie will talk to children, both young and old, at 2:45 o'clock, and Reverend Compton will have charge of the 7:30-o'clock service each night.

Invitation to Public
Reverend Chrisman believes that a treat is in store for all who attend these services, and hopes to christen the new house of worship with large attendances.

Those who enter the auditorium will read, in large letters above the altar, the following: "Not by Might, nor by Power, but by My Spirit, Saith the Lord of Hosts"—Zach. 4:6.

"And that, in brief, is our creed," states Reverend Chrisman. "We believe in a whole Bible and a whole Christ, good for the needs of the whole man and for the whole world."

"We believe that the Christ of Christianity is the same yesterday and today and forever; therefore we believe that the Christianity of Christ ought to be the same yesterday and today and forever, with the same miracles of salvation, consolation and healing that were enjoyed by the early Christians."

"And we believe that in the not far distant future Christ will personally return to this earth as the Lord of Lords and King of Kings."

Free Will Offerings
Rev. Chrisman has been pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle church here since last September, coming to this city from Spokane, Wash., where he had charge of the Gospel Tabernacle church.

Finding the old church too small for such a city as Glendale, Rev. Chrisman and his associates have succeeded in less than a year in raising $40,000 by free will offerings—and with this sum the present splendid institution has been reared.

Rev. Chrisman states that the local church maintains at the present time four missionaries in the foreign field and has a membership of 175. This number will be greatly increased, it is confidently expected, now that the new edifice is in operation.

The Gospel Tabernacle church of Glendale also maintains six undenominational rest homes for foreign missionaries on home leave, Rev. Chrisman brings out, these homes being located at 1506 South Glendale avenue, with Mrs. J. Suppes as superintendent.

The parent society is the Christian and Missionary Alliance of New York, which was founded thirty-five years ago by Dr. A. B. Simpson, "for the purpose of reaching the neglected masses, at home and abroad," and is now presided over by Paul Rader, a nationally known figure in missionary and church work.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage an the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Dinner Dance To Launch Community Service Plans For Social Recreations

AN epoch-making event for Glendale! That's the way last night's dinner at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse was characterized. The affair was held under the auspices of the Glendale Community Service organization and brought forth a number of the young women of Glendale. The purpose of this get-together of the younger women was for the purpose of initiating a social program for the young people of Glendale. Plans were launched for a dinner-dance for June 28, for both young men and women, details of which will be announced later.

Preceding the dinner all joined in the singing of two verses of "America" led by Gage Christopher, music director and song leader during the evening conducted the community singing of folk and patriotic songs.

The Red Crown six-piece orchestra of the Standard Oil Company of Los Angeles which it had been announced, would furnish the music for the evening's entertainment, was unable to be present but another orchestra consisting of four pieces, also of the Standard Oil Company, proved to be a wonderful substitute and delighted those present with their jazz and syncopations.

The guests seated around the large U-shaped table included officers of the Community Service organization, Tuesday Afternoon club and representatives of Los Angeles and Glendale musical circles.

After an excellent meal served shortly after 7 o'clock, R. E. Tucker, secretary of the Community Service, acting as toastmaster, opened the program, bringing greetings from V. M. Hollister, president of the organization, who was unable to be present.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, brought greetings from the members of that organization and expressed their hearty co-operation with the organization. She also stated the club would be glad to have the organization use the clubhouse once a week for clean, wholesome entertainment for the young people of Glendale.

Rev. C. M. Calderwood delivered an address of happiness, expressing his desire that the young people of Glendale be allowed to have lots of play and good times.

Outlines Plans
Mrs. J. R. Case, Jr., gave an outline of the plans of the recreational committee. Mrs. Case has had considerable experience in this line of work, having at one time, in San Diego, 3,000 young women under her leadership.

Miss Myrtle Helmer of the dramatic section of the organization, Cyrus Smith, and J. A. Meyers gave interesting talks lending suggestions for the furthering of this undertaking.

During the evening suggested activities were discussed, each one present expressing on a card the activity they were the most interested in. Discussion of favorite summer amusements of swimming parties, horseback rides, tennis tournaments, dances, dramatics and musical entertainments including the organization of glee clubs and orchestras was participated in by those present.

A musical program was a pleasing feature of the evening entertainment. Vocal solos by Miss Marie Oliver, "The Open Secret," and an encore were greatly enjoyed as well as the solos by J. A. Meyers, "Come Home," "The Message of the Violet" from "The Prince of Pilsen" and the "Land of Sky Blue Water" by Cadman. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Gertrude C. Erbe. Whistling solos by Miss Helen White, "To Spring" by Greig and an encore were unusually pleasing.

A special meeting has been called for Monday, June 18, at the Community service offices in the Chamber of Commerce building, for the purpose of perfecting plans for the dinner-dance on June 28. It is stated that every young man and woman in Glendale will be given an opportunity to lend any suggestion they may think beneficial to the organization in the launching of this plan. The meeting will convene at 8 o'clock.

Saturday Big Day Here for Shopping

(Continued from page 1) on to the very last minute, when the people are ready and willing to buy, gives opportunity for the stores to recoup for the first of the week, when trade is naturally slow.

A salesman in a store not so far away from The Evening News office pointed out some very interesting things about Saturday shopping. He said, in part:

"We have two, or three customers at once to be served. We do it more quickly. We are more certain of selling and the public is more eager to buy when others are watching the transaction. In footwear, for instance, we are able to please the patron in a very few minutes on Saturday, whereas, on other days, when we have leisure, some delight in having us show them the entire stock of shoes."

Be it understood he was not complaining about people "shopping" around, but it is reserved for the five other business days in the week, if the Saturday crowds are sufficient to move the goods. And they are. In fact, it has become necessary for most of the stores to remain open Saturday evenings to serve the public.

The readers of The Glendale Evening News are invited to read the advertisements of the various merchants in today's issue and make this Saturday the biggest shopping day ever.

VETERAN AIDS IN DOPE RING DRIVE

Leaders Jailed on Evidence Given by Ex-Service Men to Sleuths

DULUTH, Minn., June 15.—Information supplied by a World War veteran now confined in a hospital here may lead to the breaking up of a narcotic ring, with headquarters here, whose operations reached every city of size in the northwest and as far east as Pittsburgh. Two members of the alleged ring—a man and a woman—are now in jail here charged with narcotic law violation.

The former soldier, whose identity was not revealed by the federal agents, is said to have admitted former association with Dennis Baker, the man held for alleged illicit sale of narcotics, and Louis Becker, Superior, Wis., man, now serving time at Fort Leavenworth for violation of the narcotics regulations. He is said to have furnished federal authorities with information revealing the operations of one of the most highly organized drug smuggling rings yet uncovered in this region.

Trailed By Sleuths
Baker, federal agents charge, furnished their investigators with narcotics. Letters were mailed to him, it is charged, at his headquarters requesting that he send $5 worth of "Mabel" and the same amount of "Clarence"—underworld "code" for morphine and cocaine, respectively. The drugs were sent to them at Minneapolis, the agents charge. They were paid for with marked bills.

When Baker was arrested in his shanty home, near the Canadian border, no drugs were found on his person or premises. A number of letters, in which reference was made to shipments of "Mabel," "Mary," "Mud" and "Horses," were found. Drug smugglers, the agents explain, use words beginning with the letter "M" when ordering or otherwise communicating relative to morphine; words beginning with "H" when talking about heroin, and with "C" when discussing cocaine.

The agents also found a drawer in a ramshackle bureau jammed full of banknotes.

Woman Is Arrested
The arrest, at St. Paul, of a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Pearl Woods also is expected to prove an important factor in ferreting out the other members of the alleged ring. This woman was said to have had a considerable quantity of "dope" in her possession when arrested. She is alleged to have acted as a "business agent" for the alleged ring.

The smugglers, it is believed by federal investigators, operated across the international border at International Falls. Drugs are alleged to have been smuggled in by them across the border at that point in vast quantities. It is also believed that the ring has made use of Lake Superior and Rainy Lake. Small motor boats are used extensively, the agents claim, by the drug runners who operate on the lakes.

Operations of the ring are said to have reached Chicago, the Twin Cities, Milwaukee, Kansas City and Pittsburgh.

Lake Michigan Water Said to Have 'Kick'

CHICAGO, June 15.—Plain water from Lake Michigan has a "kick" to it, Dr. L. G. Rowntree of Rochester, N. Y., told members of the Chicago Society of Internal Medicine, on his visit here, and one can get intoxicated on it—but look out for the after effects.

According to Dr. Rowntree, animal subjects who were given a great deal of the water exhibited all the symptoms of intoxication and ended in a state of coma. Experiments were tried on two men, but they developed such acute cases, the doctor said, that no further experiments were tried.

Linen Store Starts Sale of White Goods

The Irish Linen store of 117 North Brand boulevard starts a special purchase week sale of white goods tomorrow, Saturday, June 16, and from all indications it will be the largest merchandising event in the history of the business. The Irish Linen store has arranged to be open Saturday evenings to care for the great crowd of bargain hunters who have learned to appreciate the values to be found there. Their advertisement of this sale appears in other columns.
