Dam Collapsed and Nicola Was Flooded, But No Loss of Life

Heavy Damage Reported As Result of Accident; Dam Had Held Back Water Used For Irrigating Large Stock Farm; Flood Caused Much Noise.

Nicola, B.C., May 18.—Heavy damage was caused, but no lives were lost when a veritable wall of water swept through the little town of Nicola this morning owing to the breaking of an irrigation dam.

All Government road bridges in the vicinity were swept out in the first rush of the waters and at least three small houses were swept away.

It is estimated the water in the Nicola River rose thirty feet in less than twenty minutes.

The flood came when the dam broke which held back water for irrigating the Nicola Lake stock farm, operated by Major Goldman, who is now in England.

Through the streets and lanes of the town itself the rushing waters swept with terrific force and with a roar which terrified the inhabitants.

Undoubtedly one effect of the break will be to damage the crops of many farmers, most of their arable lands being already sown.

It is feared farmers living up the adjacent creeks may have suffered extensively, but there is no way of reaching them at present.

WATER THROUGH BREAK IN DIKE

Upper Sumas Work Not Repaired Yet

Huntingdon, B. C., May 18.—The turbulent waters of the Fraser River are still pouring through the unfilled gap in the Upper Sumas dike to-day and a large portion of Sumas Prairie is flooded.

Indignation and keen disappointment were expressed at a mass meeting of farmers last night at the failure of the contractors to hold back the water as promised.

A committee was named to meet Hon. E. D. Harrow to-day to ask him to have the Government assume responsibility for losses incurred and to insist that every effort is made to avert further flooding.

POLAND URGED TO RECONSIDER RULING

League Council Supports German Citizenship Plea

Geneva, May 18.—The Council of the League of Nations adjourned last night after it had decided to support Germany's protest to the League of Nations against the treatment of more than 1,000,000 Germans in Polish territory.

Germany charged that Poland had refused citizenship to outsiders by ruling that Germans must prove continuous residence in Poland for at least six years. Since most of these Germans were in the German army during more than half of that period, they have been automatically deprived of citizenship.

The Council decided to use the strongest pressure on Poland in an endeavor to have that country reconsider its ruling.

FLAGS AND FLOWERS ON LAMP POSTS

City Will Use Profusion of Golden Broom

Golden-yellow broom, finest of all Victoria's Spring decorations, will be used in profusion in Empire Day decorations here, Acting Mayor John Harvey announced to-day after he had made a searching inspection of Beacon Hill and its broom-covered slopes yesterday afternoon.

"It looked at first as if we would be unable to get enough broom because the bloom, in common with other plants, is backward this year," Alderman Harvey explained. "Yesterday afternoon, however, I toured Beacon Hill Park and searched the broom for blossoms. I found that the superb yellow flowers are breaking forth magnificently now so that we shall be able to cut enough, without harming the beauty of Beacon Hill, to decorate the City on May 24."

"The idea now is to festoon every second lamp post with broom, alternating this floral decoration with flags. This should make a fine show on the day of the celebration. Arrangements for the flags, by the way, have been completed."

EMBARGO DEBATE DATE UNCERTAIN

British Commons Engaged With Government Business

Questions on Cattle Started Miniature Debate

London, May 18.—"We must get through the urgent Government business before considering these extra subjects," said Austen Chamberlain, Government Leader, during a series of questions in the House last night.

All the old arguments, from economic tenets to respect for pledges, were raised, giving an earnest of the liveliest possible time coming when the debate does materialize. Somebody urged that two days be given to the embargo question, but Mr. Chamberlain replied:

"To make extravagant requests such as two days, or, as has been jokingly suggested, a week for discussion of this question, when the Government business has made hardly any progress owing to the pressure of financial business, tends to bring the cause of the anti-embargoists into ridicule."

RUSSIAN SHORTAGE EVEN AFTER HARVEST

Need of Food Acute Until Crops Gathered

Ottawa, May 18.—(Canadian Press)—Famine conditions in Russia will remain acute until after the harvest is gathered, according to a cable received by the "Save the Children Fund" here from Sir Benjamin Robertson, international authority on famine conditions and chairman of the All-British Relief Organization.

The meeting sent a message to the Earl of Balfour expressing profound regret that sixteen years of official connection with the city had ended, and hoping that he would long be spared to continue in the House of Lords his splendid services to the country.

CANDIDATE IN LONDON URGES EMBARGO REMOVAL

London, May 18.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A crowded meeting of electors of the City of London yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution pledging support to E. C. Grenfell, the official Conservative candidate for the City of London seat in the Commons, vacated by the Earl of Balfour upon his elevation to the House of Lords.

Mr. Grenfell promised to support the campaign for removal of the embargo against Canadian store cattle. The meeting sent a message to the Earl of Balfour expressing profound regret that sixteen years of official connection with the city had ended, and hoping that he would long be spared to continue in the House of Lords his splendid services to the country.

The Conservative candidate is a member of the financial firm of Morgan, Grenfell & Company.

HOSPITAL FIRE KILLED TWENTY

Helpless Patients in Rome Could Not Be Saved

Old Hospital of Santo Spirito Scene of Blaze

Rome, May 18.—A disastrous fire swept the historic hospital of Santo Spirito, one of the most ancient and picturesque charitable institutions in Rome, this morning. Collapse of a pavement isolated a ward in which were those suffering with chronic ailments. Sixteen bodies had been extracted from the burning ruins at 7.30 o'clock.

Spread Rapidly. The fire broke out shortly before midnight in the laundry. It spread rapidly to the neighboring wards, which contained thirty chronic sufferers or infirm patients who were seized with panic. The cries of the unfortunate sufferers mingled with the crackling of the flames, while the atmosphere rapidly became dense with smoke. As the immense wooden beams of the hospital fell there was a heavy grinding noise as the pavement collapsed, burying twenty of the chronic patients and rendering access to the wards impossible.

Rescuers At Work. Police, soldiers, nurses and doctors made heroic efforts to save the unfortunate persons, rushing through the smoke and falling debris. Twelve, all of whom, however, had died of suffocation. Several of the rescuers were injured.

The two wards were destroyed, but the fire succeeded in saving the rest of the building. So far as can be learned the death list will reach twenty.

The hospital of Santo Spirito is situated on the bank of the Tiber, not far from the Vatican grounds. It was founded by Pope Innocent III. in the twelfth century, enlarged by Innocent IV. in the next century and rebuilt under Sixtus IV. in the fifteenth century.

The altar in the hospital chapel was designed by Andrea Palladio and is reported to be the only work of this artist in Rome.

TORONTO WAS NOT FRIENDLY TO DOYLE

Antagonistic Influence at Lecture on Spiritism

Toronto, May 18.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who lectured here on Monday night on spiritism, said he had found in Toronto the most antagonistic atmosphere toward spiritism of any city he had visited on this continent. According to Louis Benjamin, a Jewish medium here, the noted author said he could sense this feeling during the first half-hour of his lecture in this city. "It was a critical situation," he told Benjamin, "but I think I came through all right."

Sir Arthur had a séance with Benjamin in the former's hotel in Toronto. Benjamin says he handed Sir Arthur a letter he had received by automatic writing purporting to have come from his son and the author's old friend, W. T. Stead.

UNION LABOR WINS BRIDGE WAGE FIGHT

Contractors Agree to Union Scale on Johnson Street Project

Union labor has won out in its fight for union wages on the Johnson Street Bridge project. The Contractors' Association, which is installing the bridge superstructure, has notified the City that it has accepted the action of sub-contractors in paying wages below the union standard.

Union labor here complained a short time ago against the wages which Messrs. Parfitt Brothers, sub-contractors on the bridge work, were paying. City Engineer F. M. Preston, after investigating the matter, immediately wired to the head offices of the Canadian Bridge Company in Walkerville, Ontario, and explained that union wages were provided in specifications for the bridge contract and must be paid.

It is understood at the City Hall that Parfitt Brothers, in accepting the sub-contractors' offer to pay that union wages were required. Under these circumstances the Bridge Company itself is making up the difference between the Parfitt wages and the union scale.

TO URGE FEDERAL ACTION ON ISSUE

Premier to Discuss Oriental Question at Ottawa

Attorney-General Manson has undertaken to request Hon. John Oliver to take up with the Minister of Immigration the question of postponing the formulation of the Government's policy for the effective restriction of Oriental immigration into Canada until after the Minister and other Federal Cabinet ministers pay their visit to the Coast this Fall. It is thought that then the Minister will have an opportunity of personally investigating conditions here.

Advantage is taken of the Premier's journey to Ottawa to deal with the subject. Action is taken in consequence of the case presented at the meeting last evening of the B.C. Provincial branch of the Retail Merchants' Association on the subject.

The Association is satisfied with the interpretation placed upon the words "effective restriction" of Oriental immigration by Premier King. When W. G. McQuarrie, M.P. for New Westminster, introduced the resolution in the House calling for total exclusion of Orientals, Premier King who in the debate said:

"I have in mind the same object exactly as the people of the country to which my honorable friend refers had in mind when they enacted their legislation. To have a restriction that will be effective. If there is any meaning in the language at all, the term 'effective restriction' comes as near as anything that I can think of to describing what has been aimed at, whenever a man has sought to bring about effective restriction of any character. I cannot find words to describe anything short of exclusion—other than the words 'effective restriction.'"

Mr. Kennedy, Minister of Railways and Canals, stated that the amount required for this year as far as taxes, $4,699,525; had been approved by the directors and submitted to the Department of Railways. He was assured that the money asked for was necessary.

While there was no provision made for the building of extensions, the Government had not lost sight of the fact that these were necessary in some parts of the West, and they would be proceeded with as soon as possible.

GOOD WILL OF STATES NEEDED

Viscount Grey Summarizes the Genoa Conference

Closer Understanding With France Essential

London, May 18.—Viscount Grey, former Foreign Secretary, in a letter to the Liberal Federation meeting, excusing his absence, commented on the Genoa Conference as providing an example of what should be avoided. To secure the ends desired, he contended, a closer understanding with France and the co-operation of the United States were essential.

"I cannot believe that either of these powers would not have shown genuine goodwill had they been consulted beforehand," he continued. "This omission greatly impaired, if it did not destroy, the conference. France was filled with distrust and the United States were prejudiced against it. The conference thus became a sort of political international gamble. I continue to believe that an understanding with France and the goodwill of the United States are the only sound foundation for economic reconstruction and peace. Both these conditions have been rendered more difficult or less likely by the Genoa Conference."

BOTTOMLEY TRIAL ATTRACTS CROWD

Londoner Accused of Fraud Pleads Own Case

London, May 18.—The Old Bailey was packed this morning when the trial of Horatio Bottomley, M. P., former publisher of John Bull, was begun there on charges of fraudulently converting funds of the Victory Bond Club, a war-time organization of which he was the founder and president. Hundreds of persons were unable to obtain admittance.

Mr. Bottomley pleaded not guilty. The jury was quickly selected, the defendant not challenging any of its members, among whom were two women.

Replying to his request that he be permitted to sit at the solicitors' table, instead of in the dock, the judge said he would let Mr. Bottomley, who is his own attorney, sit at the solicitors' table while he was conducting his case, but that afterward he must resume his place in the dock.

Mr. Bottomley, in a long statement after the conclusion of the hearing of his case in police court last month, declared the charges against him were utterly false, and that he would have no difficulty in proving that never a penny of the Victory Bond Club's funds came into his hands unless he was entitled to it or unless it was required and used for club purposes.

TELLS OF SPLENDID ROTARY WORK AMONG CITY'S POOR BOYS

Rotary Committee Recounts Aid Given Under-privileged Youths Here

How the Rotary Boys' Work Committee, under Rotarian Fred Butterfield, is taking care of orphaned and underprivileged boys in Victoria was explained to the Rotary Club at its luncheon in St. John's Church school room to-day when the Committee made its annual report.

This report shows that the Committee, during the last year, has done work which the Rotarians agreed, alone justifies the existence of the Club. For obvious reasons no names were mentioned but the Committee's report told of crippled boys who, through the instrumentality of the Club, had been given proper medical attention, of boys suffering from undernourishment who had been cared for, of lads requiring operations which the committee arranged, of boys who had been aided to pursue their studies and so, make themselves useful citizens.

Thanks Medical Men.—"We have investigated numerous cases of boys who, through family conditions, are not receiving the attention which they require," Mr. Butterfield told the Club to-day. "Thanks to the medical and dental professions we have, in many cases, been able to provide for these boys the care which they need with the result that they will grow into manhood without the handicaps which they would otherwise have suffered. We cannot be grateful enough to the doctors and dentists of the city, some of whom have agreed to give free treatment to boys whom the Club recommends to them. Under this arrangement these doctors, some of them Rotarians, have provided the attention and expert care which boys have long been requiring but which, on account of poverty and other causes, they have been unable to receive."

Rotarians Nachtrieb and Dr. L. K. Poyntz, members of the Boys' Work Committee told of several pathetic cases of crippled boys who had been aided through the work of the Com-

I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone who suffers from kidney disease or rheumatism. Dodd's Kidney Pills are just a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys and enable them to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. If you are run down, out of sorts or suffering from that tired feeling that Spring brings, ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills. Your kidneys require attention."

mittee. With Mr. Butterfield they urged the Club to continue its efforts along the lines adopted last year. Not only did the Committee take care of individual cases of hardship among boys but, Mr. Butterfield recalled, it had placed a swimming instructor at city beaches to instruct children in swimming last Summer and had arranged a number of entertainments for kiddies. Luncheon at St. John's school room was provided to-day by the ladies of the Church who annually entertain the Club. Messrs. J. P. Chadwick, a member. BEETLES AFTER B.C. POTATOES

Invasion Met With Forces of Agricultural Experts

Island So Far Immune; Chickens Fail to Aid Fight

Officials of the Department of Agriculture have been for some time gathering their forces to repel the invasion of Colorado beetles which have been swarming up into the potato fields of the interior from across the international boundary line.

Meetings have been held and farmers told how to resist the attacks. Spraying with Paris green or arsenic of lead or a mixture of both is the most effective way of combating the pest. District agriculturalists in the interior are now out demonstrating how to conquer these pests with sprays.

It was said at the Parliament Buildings to-day that if men will not take hold of the situation in the interior and spray, it may be necessary to quarantine the whole potato area.

Experts in the potato department have explained that the Colorado beetle travels by the railway trains. Some of them which are venture-some or energetic may fly.

"There is so far no particular danger to Vancouver," said Cecil Tice, the potato expert to-day. "The main thing is to keep a check on the invasion and watch it carefully, so that action may be taken if the invasion becomes dangerous."

Mr. Tice explained that the Colorado potato beetle is green, and about half an inch or more long. "It will mean a good deal of increased expense, especially to the growers in the dry belt, where spraying is at present not necessary, if this pest should become generally distributed over the Province," Mr. Tice said. "It is very important that any outbreaks which may occur be completely cleaned up in the early stages. Any insect suspected of being this pest should be sent at once to some office of the department of agriculture for examination. The beetles feed with great voracity for about three weeks, and pupate in the soil."

F. S. Terry, chief of the poultry branch, said to-day that experiments show that chickens are of little use in combating the "green bug" menace. He said that although the flavor of the beetle might be all right, that of the chickens is not like the color, and can't get beyond that. He explained that he had experimented on making chickens eat Colorado beetles by mixing them up in bran, but the chickens would not be fooled.

GETTING RID OF INSECT PESTS

With Spring comes the time when every tree, every bush, every plant is a prey to insect pests of a hundred kinds. These must be fought if perfect fruit or blooms are desired. This can be done effectively if the trees or bushes are sprayed just as the larvae develop.

For general all round Kero-Spray is a safe and effective spray. It is approved by leading orchardists and gardeners and all who have used it praise it highly. A great point in its favor is that it is inexpensive and that it comes in concentrated form, the spray being easily prepared with water. For the orchard a sprayer is needed but for the garden a whisk is just as good. The spray should be applied in the evening and the underside of both leaves and bloom should receive special attention.

Kero-Spray is a mixture in proper proportions of Black Leaf Forty Arsenate of Lead, Keroseene, Whale Oil Soap and emulsifying ingredients. It is destructive to all forms of plant pests and also promotes plant growth. It is a preventive of rust, blight, mildew and other diseases.

Readers can obtain Kero-Spray at Vancouver Drug Co. stores, Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster. It is sold at 40 cents for large bottles (making 5 gallons), $1.25 per 1/2 gallon (making 25 gallons) and $2 per gallon.

ASKS SHELIVING OF SUNDAY ISSUE UNTIL DECEMBER ELECTION

North Proposes "Truce" Until Electors Can Decide Question Officially

That the City Police Commission shelve its strict Sunday closing plan, until the next annual civic election, and test public opinion on the matter in a regular manner then is the plan which Police Commissioner J. C. North is taking up with his colleagues now that the Commission is faced with the necessity of reaching a definite decision on the closing question.

"If the other Commissioners are still in favor of enforcing the Lord's Day Act to the letter all right, but let them delay enforcement until a regular plebiscite can be held on the matter at the annual election," Mr. North said to-day in outlining his plan. "At that time candidates representing the two opinions can run for the Commission, and the result will guide the Commission next year. If the people decide to vote for a closed Sunday I, for one, would stand by that vote and enforce the law. If they don't want it then there is no reason that I can see for insisting on a blue Sunday."

"That is the plan for a truce which I am suggesting, but whether or not the other commissioners will adopt it when we meet to reach a final decision on the whole question Saturday night is a matter about which I cannot be sure. Still, I am very hopeful now that, in view of the recent unofficial plebiscite, the Commission will not adhere strictly to its former decision to close everything on Sunday. This is the only logical course and I believe that the other Commissioners are beginning to see it that way, too."

Little Hope From Ottawa

Although the city has asked the Ottawa Government to amend the Lord's Day Act in order to permit cities with a population of more than 10,000 to decide by plebiscite whether all their stores shall be closed Sunday or not, it has so hope now that this amendment will be passed at the present session of Parliament. Acting on instructions given him by the City Council Monday night, City Solicitor H. S. Fringie has written to Ottawa again to call the attention of the Federal authorities to his former letters on the subject and to the decision of the Council. As the Council first asked Ottawa to act on the matter in January, and nothing has been done since, no hope that action will be taken at this session is harbored at the City Hall. For that reason the aldermen are not bothering themselves further about the matter, expecting instead a local solution at the present Sunday closing question here.

SWIFT CURRENT PLAN REJECTED

Eastern Creditors of Prairie City Want Former Arrangement

Toronto, May 18.—The creditors of the city of Swift Current, Sask., at a meeting here yesterday, decided not to accept the new proposal for adjustment made at Swift Current on May 1. The creditors did not view favorably the proposals and expressed the opinion that the agreement between the City Council of Swift Current and representatives of the debenture holders, made in December last, was fair and equitable.

The plan provided that a five-year agreement should be approved providing for payment of interest only at the rate of 5 per cent, with a proviso that any interest not collected up to 3 per cent, in any year should be paid in subsequent years if circumstances warranted, or capitalized at the end of a five-year period.

MOVING TO END RAILWAY TIE-UP

Newfoundland Government Reopens Negotiations With Company

St. John's, Nfld., May 18.—The Newfoundland Government will reopen negotiations with the Reid-Newfoundland Company in an effort to break the deadlock which has tied up railway traffic in the colony for two days, according to an announcement made by Premier Squires in the Legislature. Operation of the Newfoundland railways ceased when the Reid Company on Monday notified its employees that the April wages would not be paid, owing to the failure of the Government to advance funds voted last year by the Legislature to meet operating deficits.

The Legislature adjourned until Friday.

After a caucus of his party, Premier Squires, in an interview, said he would meet the executive of the Reid Company and make it plain that the basic principle of any negotiations would be an arrangement which would deprive the Reid Company of the control of the railways and most other public utilities operated by them.

"We intend to make a determined effort to find a solution for the country's railway difficulties, and I believe the Opposition members are in entire accord with us," the Premier stated.

As Newfoundland is in the midst of preparations for the season's fishing, suspension of the railway service and the threat of a tie-up of the coastwise vessels is causing grave concern.

SENATORS DEBATE DEFENCE BILL

Amendments Made in Measure Sent From Commons

Ottawa, May 18.—The Senate spent all of yesterday's session on the National Defence Bill, which provides for the amalgamation under one Minister of the military, naval and air services.

The changes made in the bill by Senate amendments reduce the number of Deputies from three to practically one, but provide for a controller who would have charge of the finances of that particular department until the amalgamation is accomplished.

The Government has dropped Clause 5 and 6 of the bill, Clause 5 provided for the appointment to other positions by the Governor-in-Council those whose positions should be abolished by the amalgamation. It was contended by the Opposition that this was an evasion of the Civil Service Act, and the proposal was dropped.

Clause 6 made provision for the retirement by superannuation or pension of those whose offices were abolished and provided that to make them eligible for such, the Governor-in-Council might add from one to two years to the term of actual service. This clause was also dropped.

There were several amendments and a resolution to abolish the Defence Council, but all were finally withdrawn and the clause allowed to stand.

STATE CONCERN ON RAILWAY PROBLEMS

Crerar Address Commons; Mitchell Upholds Private Arrangement

Ottawa, May 18.—Discussion of railway estimates in the House yesterday afternoon brought from Hon. T. A. Crerar, Leader of the National Progressives, an important declaration on his policy for the National roads.

He advocated the closing up of part of the transcontinental lines running across the wilderness between Eastern and Western Canada. He urged the reversal of the entire system on a replacement basis and its unification. He favored the suggested regional districts. He took the ground that, in encouraging immigration, the Government should take steps to see that the new settlers were placed along the National lines.

"It was, too," he argued, "a sound principle that the fiscal policy of the country should be so drafted as to stimulate production from the farm, the forest, the mine, and railway traffic would thereby be encouraged."

"If the National Railways are turned over to private ownership, at a price which would not be paid, the country would forever lose their potential value, but would not escape the liabilities involved," Mr. Crerar declared.

Aggravated by War.

Mr. Crerar argued that had it not been for the war and the public debt created by that conflict, the railway problem would not have been so serious. He realized the effect the railway deficits might have upon the national credit, but did not agree that the railway deficits would cause the credit to vanish. It had not affected the interest rate on loans.

Those who criticized public ownership of the railways declared that public ownership could not succeed, but they offered no alternative plan.

It was fair to ask what were the plans of the opponents. Canada had not taken up public ownership through conviction. Practically all the mileage in the National system to-day was there because of the complete breakdown of private ownership. This was in spite of the fact that the country had contributed upward of $1,000,000,000 toward privately-owned railways. The Canadian National lines had received assistance to the extent of $300,000,000.

Grand Trunk.

There had been a good deal of criticism of the past Government because it had acquired the old Grand Trunk Railway. The Grand Trunk had desired to evade its responsibilities in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific. It was faced with bankruptcy and if the Government had not acquired it, it would have been knocked down under the hammer to the highest bidder. Supposing it had been bought by the Canadian Pacific Railway and that railway had refused to agree to traffic arrangements with the National Transcontinental, the result would have been most injurious, if not fatal, to the line. There were a good many things on which Mr. Crerar would not have entered. The Opposition, said Mr. Crerar, but he believed that in regard to railways Mr. Meighen had followed the only sound course. The policy enunciated by the present Minister of Railways followed that laid down by the past administration.

Answering a question by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. Crerar said it was hard to draw a parallel between the Government-owned railways and Government-owned elevators. However, if Mr. Robb would secure the figures for the Fort William elevator, which was owned by the Government, he would find that, under good management, that elevator had been showing good returns.

Earlier, Walter Mitchell, Liberal member for St. Antoine, had defended private ownership of railways. Mr. Mitchell went further. He expressed opposition to the principle of public ownership and operation of all public utilities.

"It has come to the conclusion, on general principles," Mr. Mitchell asserted, "that the public pays more under public ownership than any benefit from lower charges."

These matters, said Mr. Mitchell, were the most serious problems facing the Canadian people, but Conservatives had ridiculed his suggestions.

Investigation.

The suggestion of an investigation was good common sense and was the method which would be adopted by any big concern having to deal with a similar problem. If a thorough investigation had been held in the past year, it would have cost millions of dollars to the country. If it was not followed now it would be followed ultimately. If a statement of facts could not be presented to the people after a fair trial of public ownership, it would be said that that trial was not to be depended upon. If a trial was desired, it was the method of administration of the lines from one end to the other should be prepared.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen asked if Mr. Mitchell was aware that the Government for years had had an independent audit of the Canadian National system. The auditors made a report to the Government direct and to the Minister of Railways was not in possession of the exact knowledge it was his own fault.

Mr. Mitchell retorted that even if this information was available it did not alter the point that the responsibility of the railway statement recently presented by the Minister of Railways belonged to the management of the lines and the Government in power at the time.

The deficit last year was $72,346,230, or a per capita debt of approximately $7.00.

Was it not fair to suggest to the Canadian people and to the House that they stop, look and listen before they went too far on the road which, as he had charged, was leading to disaster?

Asked by W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant, if he was opposed to the principle of public ownership of any public utility, Mr. Mitchell replied, "That is what I said, and I am still of that opinion."

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Leader of the Opposition, charged, in reply that Mr. Mitchell had no case. As the National lines had not been constructed as a statement of the month, he said, no private company could make them pay.

Saskatoon, May 18.—I. Grant Miller, of Winnipeg, general agent for the National Fire Insurance Co., committed suicide at a local hotel yesterday afternoon by shooting himself in the head.

JURY ACQUITS AUCKLAND BISHOP

Sediton Trial Ends; Jury Says He Was Indiscreet

Auckland, N.Z., May 18.—Monsignor Liston, Roman Catholic Bishop of Auckland, was acquitted yesterday of a charge of having made seditious utterances during a recent speech. The jury added a rider to its verdict that Monsignor Liston had been guilty of gross indiscretion in using words capable of misconstruction and calculated to offend a large number of people.

A dispatch from Wellington in March said Bishop Liston was charged with having denounced the British troops in Ireland as foreign soldiers.

TO PAY INCOME TAX.

Ottawa, May 18.—The Supreme Court of Canada decided yesterday that the salaries of Provincial Ministers is liable to assessment for Federal income tax.

The case came up on an appeal from Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Colonization of the Province of Quebec, against a ruling of the Exchequer Court, which also held that such salaries were liable to income tax.

The Supreme Court dismissed Mr. Caron's appeal with costs.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE MAKING PROGRESS

The annual meeting of the board of directors of Columbian Methodist College, New Westminster, was held in Wesley Church, Vancouver, Tuesday evening. Reports submitted by the principal, Rev. A. M. Sanford, D. D., were of an encouraging nature. There had been a very satisfactory attendance of students, and the results of the work gratifying. Two hundred and seventy students were in the various classes, the music and academic departments having the largest number.

The financial report was stated to be the best in the history of the college. With the gift of $4,397, which had been received from the Methodist churches of British Columbia, the treasurer was able to report a considerable balance over expenditure. The Forward Movement had contributed $22,921 towards the capital debt of the college, leaving the institution practically free from mortgage debt. A unanimous vote of appreciation of the work of the principal was passed, and Dr. Sanford was personally thanked for the efforts he had made to place the college in such a splendid condition. Appreciation was also expressed of the work of every member of the teaching staff, and of Mrs. Sanford, whose influence in the home life of the college had been great.

Formal application for affiliation, as far as theological teaching was concerned, with the University of British Columbia, will be made at once. A committee of the board was appointed to attend to all the necessary details.

Dr. S. D. Scott made a report of a joint meeting that had been held with representatives of the Anglican and Presbyterian theological colleges to discuss the advisability of uniting for teaching purposes. This joint committee had accepted the principle of co-operation and suggested that the plan now in operation in Montreal should be used in British Columbia. After discussion of the matter, the board of directors of Columbian College unanimously agreed to the proposals and empowered the committee to proceed with negotiations. This decision of the board will be submitted to the annual conference this week.

Paris, May 18.—The Allied Council of Ambassadors decided yesterday that Mrs. Charles Hapsburg, former Empress of Austria-Hungary, should be allowed to leave Madeira, where Charles Hapsburg recently died in exile, and go to Spain and remain there until her accouchement. Apartments have been reserved for her in the Chateau Pardo, near Madrid.

HARDLY A "LOBBY"

The resolution of the Victoria City Council urging the Dominion Government to amend or repeal the Lord's Day Act will be politically acknowledged, and that will be the end of it as far as Ottawa is concerned. This is not to say the Act does not need amendment—which we think it does—but rather that the elements of Canada's population who are satisfied with it are so large and are so numerously represented in Parliament that Victoria's request may be likened unto a very small voice crying in the wilderness. For example, if the three millions of people in Ontario, not to speak of the two millions in the Prairie Provinces, are satisfied with the law as it stands, what prospect is there that Parliament would alter it at the request of Victoria—whose own populace is very decidedly divided on the issue and which cannot even say that it has the support of the other cities of British Columbia? The better course would have been to try to enlist the co-operation of the Canadian Union of Municipalities whose voice is loud enough to be heard by the 234 members who with Victoria's single representative compose the Canadian House of Commons. Moreover, Victoria certainly cannot afford alone to maintain even a minor "lobby" at Ottawa—let alone at all times and in all circumstances is very costly business, but a lobby for a solitary constituency directed at the representatives of 234 other constituencies would cost a fortune.

QUOTING HISTORY.

Apropos of the debate upon the naval estimates in the House of Commons we are somewhat appalled at the amount of nerve displayed by the Conservative members in their criticism of the present Government so early in its career. But it fell to the lot of the Liberal member for Lunenburg to turn back the pages of history in order to contrast Liberal and Conservative views upon Canada's naval policy during the last twelve years.

Mr. Duff neatly reminded the critics in the ranks of the official Opposition that prior to 1908-09 neither party had spent any money on naval defence. But as he passed on to a recital of the Laurier proposals of 1910, and the absence of any mention of naval defence by the Conservatives during the election that took place in the following year, the Lunenburg member recalled the Conservative alliance with the Nationalists of Quebec in a no-navy understanding. So effective did this bond of sentiment work that it was a simple matter for the Borden Government to carry out its bargain and reduce the naval vote from $3,000,000 to $1,600,000. "With what result?" The Niobe and the Rainbow went into the discard and their crews were paid off. What of their condition in August, 1914? It took six weeks to put the Niobe in a condition for duty on the Atlantic coast.

The speaker left this piece of history for his Conservative friends to think over and his parting shot implied that if Canada had had some good ships in commission when war broke out they would have been able to capture sufficient of the enemy's shipping to have paid the Dominion's expenses during the first year of the war.

What has changed the Conservative heart in an age of economic dislocation, when science has revolutionized warfare, when the aeroplane and the submarine have virtually elbowed surface craft out of the realm of offence and defence, when the chief menace to the world's peace has been laid low, and when the men and women of the world are beginning to get into the mood to refuse to pay for more wars or for their prime causes?

HOPE FOR THE HAGUE.

Word comes from Genoa to the effect that the United States Government has reserved its decision in respect of her participation or non-participation in The Hague gathering of experts next month. This new development does not necessarily imply that our neighbor to the South will take an official part in this second attempt to reconcile the Russian point of view with that shared by the rest of the participating nations at Genoa. None the less it is to be hoped that the authorities at Washington will be persuaded to send representatives to The Hague. Their presence there and their active participation in the business that will face the experts would impart to the proceedings an atmosphere of incalculable value.

Russia's acceptance of the invitation to go to The Hague is animated by a realization of her own position and what is needed to save her from further disaster. The Soviet Government surely appreciates the fact that it has everything to gain and nothing more to lose—save the last remaining evidences of the Communist structure—by abandoning the application of a system that automatically obstructs the country's entrance into the comity of nations. To her is given the opportunity of putting herself right with the New as well as the Old Worlds. If she ignores her chance she will merely cut off her nose to spite her face. Her continued stubbornness would undoubtedly hinder European reconstruction in the economic sense; but she probably understands now that the world will not go into the hands of a receiver because one customer ignores the fundamental principles of international trading and prefers to live unto himself. Her treaty with Germany will not save Russia if the rest of the nations make other plans.

In the meantime sight must not be lost of the important fact that British, American, French and other traders are going into Russia without waiting for the formal approval and assistance of their respective governments. It may be a risky business until some sort of solid foundation in international exchange is discovered; but the average commercial instinct that is accustomed to dealings of the more comprehensive variety is trained to take risks and Russia merely offers a problem that will be solved quicker by peaceful penetration by men of business than by a dozen conferences. On this reasonable assumption the world need not be downcast because Genoa has not been a howling success or if The Hague gathering does not do all that it might. These things get all the advertising; but the others take the risks and invariably get the plums.

CLOVER POINT RANGE.

If Clover Point rifle range were not a next door neighbor to an important residential section of the city, if there were no possible danger to passing craft, and if the disturbing noise of shooting had no effect upon nervous people living in the vicinity, there would be no objection to its continued use. On the contrary it is found wanting in all these important particulars and we are inclined to agree with one of our correspondents who contends that its days of usefulness for target practice should be brought to an end.

In support of the argument it may be pointed out that the new range at Heal was established because the Clover Point site had been gradually hemmed in by the city's development—a consideration which automatically rendered a change desirable and necessary. We understand that the old range is favored by civilian riflemen because of its proximity to town; but the fact remains that as long as it shall be continued in use the people of the community have a just complaint that must sooner or later be heard with effect. For the reasons stated it should be dismantled.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mankind is slowly but surely getting off the earth. Aerial voyages are now commonplace. Wireless telegraphy figuratively wears whiskers. Wireless telephony, although not new, is the current rage. Sir Oliver

Lodge, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and many other eminent people devote much of their mental activities to supramundane planes. A thousand years from now, at this rate, people will be using the garth only as a place to sleep on.

Thirty countries will be represented at The Hague this week when the International Council for Women meets in convention. Their chief item of business will be to make a demand that there shall be no more war. More power to the feminine elbow!

Victoria City Council wants Ottawa to repeal or amend the Lord's Day Act. What if Ottawa came back with this query: which would you prefer—the repeal of the Lord's Day Act or the drydock? Horrible thought.

It is now understood that the Collins Government in Southern Ireland is about to inaugurate a "mailed fist" policy against the republican insurgents. This ought at least to be as effective as uncontested elections by arrangement with de Valera.

"CAUSE OF CAUSES."

To the Editor:—Your issue of 15th May contained a letter from Bishop MacDonald under the above caption, which, while it is by no means exhaustive, yet in that it shows a readiness to state a plain issue, to bring questions into the arena of discussion where they must be discussed if not settled on grounds of reason and evidence, must be counted of no small merit, in a theologian.

In this case we are confronted with the stupendous question: Had this vast universe been brought into being by accident, or is there a cause? It will hardly be considered satisfactory to merely state that everything is the necessary consequence of its immediate antecedent, the fact of invariability of succession in these changes we call causation—evolution, so to speak, until we get back to the first great cause.

We are concerned with a universe of inconceivably greater extent than was dreamed of by Aristotle; and what conception can we form of anything as vast as this cause must be assumed to be. Modern astronomy informs us with no unauthoritative voice of at least five hundred million suns, at such an inconceivable distance away that the light from some of them takes ten thousand years to reach us (B. D. 6 deg. 1309).

Life may begin anew without any cause, or it may need a multitude of conditions to give rise to it. It may have existed from all eternity. So, of matter and force, the presumption here is that these are eternal, and in any case it is idle to speak of intelligence as the cause of matter, or force, or life. Even if we could find reason for believing that this vast universe had a beginning and would need a cause, that would only increase the difficulty by assuming an uncaused cause—an absurdity in logic and reason.

CLOVER POINT SHOOTING RANGE.

To the Editor:—To-day this shooting range has become a regular public nuisance. When it was first established, with the exception of the old Clover Point road house, there wasn't a residence anywhere near it. Now the Dallas Road, east of Beacon Hill park, is practically all built up, and the residents all feel the incessant ping ping of the soldiers' bullets in their cars, a very real grievance indeed. If it acts thus on well people, what must it be to the sick? Last week one of my family was very sick and in the doctor's hands, and the ping ping of the soldiers' bullets outside nearly drove her frantic.

Almost every day a handful of soldiers drive up in their ambulance wagons or motorcycles—you never see them on the march now—and start this practice firing. A rifle range was never meant to be amongst residential property, and besides each day these soldiers are firing the links and sands are harrassing the public.

Why doesn't the O. C. take his men out to Heal where they wouldn't be a nuisance to anyone? What does he think the Heal range was built for?

At present a petition is being signed and will be forwarded to the proper authorities, who, it is to be hoped, will take the necessary steps to stop this nuisance. GEORGE M. WATTS, 1388 Dallas Road.

PERRY AND TODD TO GET TOGETHER ON NEW TAX PLAN

Perry Raises Taxable Age to 21 and Taxable Income to $1,000

Alderman R. W. Perry, champion of the City income tax scheme, started to-day to iron out difficulties which are holding up his plans. He will confer immediately with Alderman A. E. Todd, who is sponsoring an alternate income tax scheme, and will endeavor to reach a compromise with him.

"As a matter of fact, Alderman Todd's resolution is similar in principle to my own," Alderman Perry declared to-day when he discussed the matter with Acting Mayor John Harvey. "I propose a City income tax, and Alderman Todd does the same, but adds the suggestion that I agree with some of my critics that members should get together and collect their income taxes together, also collecting income tax for the City, thus avoiding duplication of machinery. This idea is implied in my report. If it is not expressed, and I have no objection to it being added to my plan. A compromise on the subject would seem to be simple. It looked at first, though, as if Alderman Todd were trying to steal my scheme, and there is no use fighting over a choice between two plans which are identical in principle."

Alderman Perry announced that he had changed the income tax age in his plan from eighteen to twenty-one years. "I urged in my original plan that an income tax should be levied on all who were not paying other taxes, this to include men and women over eighteen who were earning $1,000 or more a year here," he explained. "I agree with some of my critics that we should not tax people who have no vote—a principle, by the way, which caused the American Revolutionary War. So I have raised the age to twenty-one. A salary of $1,000 seems a little small, too, so I have raised this to $1,200.

"I realize that this tax scheme is unpopular, but it is a good scheme, I am convinced. There is no reason why we shouldn't tax income, and I have my way, we will. After Alderman Todd and I have got together difficulties in the way of our plans should be removed."

CITY AIDS NEW WOOD CAMP HERE

Provides Tools for Cord Wood Operations Near Luxton

Taking its first positive step in its effort to find a permanent solution for unemployment here, the City to-day started to aid a small wood cutting camp, which is to be established immediately near Luxton.

After conferences with the men who are opening this camp, Acting Mayor John Harvey agreed to loan them tools required for the work of cutting cord wood. These tools will be loaned for three weeks with the understanding that this time may be extended indefinitely at the end of that time if the camp is successful. In the end the camp operators will return the tools or pay for them. "This strikes me as a very good scheme," Alderman Harvey declared after he had authorized City Purchasing Agent Mitchell to loan tools to the wood cutters. "We have the tools and they are idle. If we can loan them to a reliable group of men who will work so much the better for everyone. Later on in the Fall, of course, the city probably will undertake wood cutting on a larger scale, but in the meantime it seems highly desirable to aid any men who will themselves go out into the forests and cut wood. They have been able to help them, and the camp will start work immediately."

SLEEPER TOO TEMPTING, HIS WATCH TOOK WINGS

Mar Kee Aroused Sleeping Indian; Gets Six Months

Louis Marshall, Indian, the complainant in a charge of theft against Mar Kee, heard in the city police court to-day, in a few simple words gave the history of the theft, which was admitted. Marshall, being tired had lain down to rest in a vacant lot on Store Street. In a breast pocket he reposed a watch and chain, with the chain conspicuously displayed in the lapel of the coat. Mar Kee, wandering by was attracted by the glitter of the chain and drew nigh. Seeing that Marshall slept the accused came closer, and finally in one quick swoop made off with the watch. The slight jerk made by the lifting of the weight of the watch and chain aroused the sleeper, who gave chase.

The pursuit was doomed from the start, as Mar Kee was fleet of foot while Marshall was slow of running. Then the police lent a hand, and Mar Kee found himself in detention. Magistrate Jay, commenting on the fact that the accused would not restore the watch, added to the detention by a sentence of six months' imprisonment to-day.

Henry Jorgensen, charged with being drunk in public, pleaded not guilty and was remanded for hearing on Friday.

ALICE ADAMS

BY BOOTH TARKINGTON
INSTALLMENT NO. 17

Mildred was grave; and, as her cousin's glance met hers, she looked down; yet not before he had seen in her eyes the flicker of something like a question—a question both poignant and dismayed. She sat straight, her features as composed and pure as those of a new marble saint in a cathedral niche; yet here downward eyes seemed to conceal many thoughts; and her cousin, against his will, was more aware of what these thoughts might be than of the leisurely conversation between her father and mother. All at once, however, he heard something that startled him, and he listened with a sinking heart. Mr. Palmer had said—"this Virgil Adams—that's the man's name. Queer case. Alfred Lamb told me he was laughing about his father, at the club. You see the old gentleman always boasted to his sons that he'd never in his life made a mistake in trusting the wrong man. Now they think they have a great joke on him."

"He's a funny old fellow," Mrs. Palmer observed. "But he's so shrewd I can't imagine his being deceived for such a long time. Twenty years, you said?"

"Yes, longer than that, I understand. It appears when this man—this Adams—was a young clerk, the old gentleman trusted him with one of his business secrets, a glue process that Mr. Lamb had spent some money to get hold of. Alfred says this Adams hasn't been of any real use for years, but the old gentleman insisted on his being kept to look on it as a sort of pension. Well, one morning last March the man had an attack of some sort down there, and Mr. Lamb got his own car out and went home with him, himself, and went to see him all the time he was ill."

"He would," Mrs. Palmer said, approvingly. "He's a kind-hearted creature that old man."

"Her husband laughed. 'Alfred says he thinks his kind-heartedness is about cured! It seems that as soon as the man got well again he deliberately walked off with the old gentleman's glue secret. Just calmly stole it!'"

Mrs. Palmer repeated the name to herself thoughtfully. "Adams—'Virgil Adams. Why, you know who that is, Mildred," she said casually. "It's that Alice Adams's father, isn't it?"

"I think it is," Mildred said.

"Mrs. Palmer turned toward her husband. 'You've seen this Alice Adams here. Mr. Lamb's pet awl-widder and almost any desired result is accomplished.'"

"Oh, yes," Mr. Palmer said. "Of course—certainly. Quite a good-looking girl—one of Mildred's friends. How queer!"

"And why not?"

"Because you seem to have a horror of touching buttons. Just look at my clothes!"

hadn't quite believed it, but I knew it was true when he got so red. He looked—oh, for a second or so he looked—stricken! Mama, he's been to see her almost every evening lately. They take long walks together. That's why he hasn't been here. Frank Bowling was going to see her one evening and he saw Arthur sitting on the stoop with her, and didn't go in. And Ella used to go to school with a girl who lives across the street from here. She told Ella—

"Suppose he does go there. What of it?"

"I'm so afraid he might think we knew about it—as if we abused them because he goes there instead of coming here."

"Nonsense!" Mrs. Palmer smiled. "It was perfectly clear that she was mentioned by accident, and so was her father. If Arthur makes friends with people like that, he certainly knows better than to expect to hear favorable opinions of them. Besides, it's only a little passing thing with him."

"Mama! When he goes there almost every—"

"Yes," Mrs. Palmer said, dryly. "It seems to me I've heard somewhere that other young men have been there 'almost every.' She doesn't last, apparently. Arthur's gallant, and he's impressive—but he's fastidious. A girl belongs to her family, too—and this one does especially. It strikes me! Arthur's very sensible."

She saw the two gentlemen coming from the corridor toward the wide doorway of the room; and she greeted them cheerfully. "If you've finished with each other for a while," she added. "Arthur may find it a relief to put his thoughts on something prettier than a trust company—and more fragrant. Run along children!"

Half an hour later, glancing from a window, she saw them come from the hothouses and slowly cross the lawn. Arthur had a fine rose in his button-hole and looked profoundly thoughtful.

LOOK TO ISLAND AS FUTURE HOME

People in Distant Lands Plan to Settle Here

That people in the remotest parts of the Empire are looking to Vancouver Island as their future home is evidenced by the number of inquiries received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. Recently a number of residents in distant parts have purchased locations in Saanich, and other adjoining sections. Today the Bureau is in receipt of a communication from a man in South Africa who says that he is coming to make his home on the island.

The Bureau is pleased with the actual results that are apparent in consequence of the literature sent out and the correspondence carried on with persons interested in Victoria and the Island.

The establishment of the Victoria-Anacortes motor-car ferry, it is felt, will result in many people becoming interested in the Island, as a greater volume of visitors will come here this season. It is a noticeable feature of the Bureau's work that all who visit Victoria and take the trouble to look over the city and district are immensely pleased with all they see and many who call at the Bureau offices express the hope that they may be able to return here as permanent residents.

Among the larger parties who will visit Victoria this summer is the party of three hundred and fifty Shriners who will make the round-trip excursion from San Francisco to Victoria via Honolulu. The party will arrive here on July 4 and will be in the city for two days. The voyage will be made on the China Mail liner Nile.

NO USE IN HIS HOUSE.

Wife: "Mrs. Newed's house is strictly up-to-date and is equipped with electric appliances throughout. All she has to do is touch a button and almost any desired result is accomplished."

Husband: "Well, you would never be able to get results that way, my dear."

"And why not?"

"Because you seem to have a horror of touching buttons. Just look at my clothes!"

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE FRIENDSHIP OF MR. FOX

One moonlight night Mr. Fox called all the wood folk together for a meeting. He wished to tell them that their common enemy, Mr. Dog, had taken to running into the woods and making it very uncomfortable by barking.

"If he is not hunting for some one of us his barking should be stopped. We want to get rid of him and put an end to his visits," said Mr. Fox.

"Now to do this we must all unite. You know the old saying, 'in union there is strength'; and so with us, we are all friends and must help each other."

Mr. Fox was a very smooth talker, and as they listened the wood folk felt proud to count him as a friend.

"What we must do is this," continued Mr. Fox. "When Mr. Dog comes into the woods the one who sees him first must run through the woods and warn the others. Then we can meet at the big rock and when he comes along we will all attack him."

That sounded all right to the wood folk, and they thought what a fine friend they had in Mr. Fox.

"We each must help the other," he said again. "Never forget there is nothing in the world like friendship."

What more he would have said about friendship the wood folk never knew, for right there Mr. Owl came flying and hooting and Jack Rabbit's house was on fire and they had better all hurry or it would burn up.

All the animals started for Jack Rabbit's house, and though Mr. Fox was the swiftest runner he was way behind the others.

When they were half way through the woods Mr. Owl came flying back hooting loudly. "It isn't Jack Rabbit's house," it is Mr. Fox's house that is on fire."

Mr. Fox with a leap and a bound was in the lead. "Why didn't you say so?" he cried in anger at Mr. Owl. "You stupid fellow, I may lose my home. Hurry up everybody and put out the fire."

"Remember, a friend in need is a friend indeed," and we are all friends," he called as he ran for his home.

But to his dismay none followed him, for all the others seeing how Mr. Fox had lagged when he thought it was Jack Rabbit's house that was on fire, understood at once that his fine speech about friendship was to get their help when he wanted it and not because of any friendship feeling he had toward them.

While the animals sat down to talk it over, Mr. Owl came flying back. "I did that just to show you what sort of a fellow that clever Reynard is. No one's house is on fire. I heard him talking to you about friendship, and knowing him better than any of you I decided to let you see for yourselves just how he would act when one of you need his friendship."

Mr. Fox would have let Mr. Dog chase all of you while he ran out of the woods away from danger. He is a clever schemer, but this time his plan failed."

All the animals thanked Mr. Owl for showing them what a false friend Mr. Fox really was, and they all agreed that Mr. Owl was rightly called a very wise bird.

Shingoleen

For Shingles or Rough Lumber

No other shingle or rough lumber finish ever achieved such favorable comment from painters and the public generally. It's the same old story. Give the folks genuine value at a reasonable price and they're with you to their last dollar.

And Shingoleen has the value because it's made up to a quality standard and not down to a price. The color and protection and preservation of the Baco product is still good for years and years.

There's more than pure lined oil and color in Shingoleen. The formula is a secret and cannot be duplicated. Moreover, unless Shingoleen is used as it comes from the can, we do not guarantee it. Every preparation has been taken to make it RIGHT to start with. To thin it down or add to it weakens the very quality which makes it the paramount finish.

Shingoleen Prices In 4-gal. cans: Reds and Browns, $2.55 per gal.; Greens, $2.85 per gal.; White and Grey, $3.30 per gal. One gal. cans, 10c per gal. more.

CAPITOL

A popular European play that was a complete success, with a humdinger of a title, adapted as a Paramount Special comedy by Walter Woods and directed by James Cruze with a supple cast. It is "Matrimony a Failure," now playing at the Capitol Theatre. The comedy is a "nighty" diverting one dealing with an average inhabitant of the Main Street town, half of the inhabitants of which suddenly discover that owing to a legal technicality they are not married after all, just how the situation is righted and how the amusing dilemmas in which all the folks concerned find themselves in before this is done, is hilariously told in the picture. ROYAL VICTORIA

An American cruiser and a company of real U. S. marines are used in some of the most thrilling and spectacular scenes of Katherine MacDonald's latest starring vehicle, "The Infidel," which is the first National attraction at the Royal Victoria theatre this week.

The big guns of the American cruiser are trained on the palace of the Mohammedan ruler of the island, while the marines dash to the rescue of the white population which has been attacked by the revolting natives.

The palace is laid low by the shells of the big guns, while the rest of the village is in flames, providing one of the most vivid spectacles ever screened.

As an added attraction the motion pictures taken on the stage and of the audience during the engagement of Miss Lovely will be shown at every performance.

D'Alvarez Wins Praise Throughout Musical Work; Recital Here To-morrow

"Her Delloh/stands alone" is the tribute paid by Mary Garden to the great contralto, who was selected with Galli-Curci, the coloratura soprano, for the chief appearances of the Chicago Opera Company in New York and Chicago. Both sang with Muratore, husband of the noted beauty, Lina Cavalieri, as tenor support.

Mme. d'Alvarez is an interesting coincidence, on her debut at Covent Garden, singing Herodias to Mme. Cavalieri's Saleme in the greatly discussed presentation of "Herod" a year or two before the war. London papers corroborate the enthusiastic tributes of American and Eastern Canadian musical centres.

"We have in our midst in Mme. d'Alvarez one of the greatest of living singers; one, indeed, of whom, considered in certain aspects, it would not be easy to name the equal" (Westminster Gazette). "How superbly Mme. d'Alvarez sings French music, an inveterate singer, whom it is next to impossible to stop. The newly wed bride had not been satisfied until she persuaded her husband to buy twin beds, then the difficulties it put them in afterwards justified all the dislikes of Harry Hawkins, Blanche's husband, which part is filked by Jack Phipps in a capable manner.

Avoiding their apartment neighbors, they move to a new apartment, but their tenant neighbors in the old apartment with the same intent take out new rooms and incidentally arrive at the same house, which again causes commotion and with it amusing incidents. Earl Moore fills the role of Andrew Larkin, who has recently married Amanda, which part Lily Dooley carries out. The three families eventually meet all in the same room and the situation is straightened out.

The inauguration of the Princess Players' musical season commenced with last night's play. Some delightful musical comedies may thus be expected.

WIRELESS CONCERT INTERESTED MANY

Experiment Proved Successful After Slight Delay in Securing Best Adjustments

Making use of a De Forest wireless telephone set with a ten-watt capacity, the first wireless concert transmitted from this city was staged last night at the Sprout-Shaw Institute, when an excellent programme was rendered by a full choir of the Welsh Choral Society.

Though some slight delay was occasioned by the necessity of making adjustments to the transmitting microphone, the concert was carried on the wings of the ether to far distant points. The latter portion of the programme in particular was heard with great purity of tone over many wireless sets operated by amateurs in this city.

The concert was in the nature of an experimental test of the set that has recently been installed at the wireless school of the Institute, one of the most complete equipments in the city for this purpose. Upwards of fifty amateurs "listened in" last night, while a relay was established at the Sun Electric premises on Yates Street. At the latter point a crowd gathered for the concert, but many had forsaken the range of the loud speaking phones before the transmitting gear was operating to perfection and results became readily audible.

Using a two-strand "open" aerial, the De Forest set made use of four vacuum valves, two modulating and two oscillators. A 400-meter wave transmitter was used. The final numbers of the programme were passed out into the ether with a degree of clarity that proved the success.

A. P. Hill, radio engineer of the Sprout-Shaw Institute, in conversation with The Times, estimated that the range of the set used for transmission would be capable of reaching to San Francisco after dusk without any difficulty. Vancouver, Seattle and Sound cities would be within easy range of the music here, he stated, while with nightfall the range would be highly increased.

Many amateurs were disappointed at not receiving the opening numbers of the concert, but it transpired that two factors had to be corrected. The choir, forty members of which were grouped around the instruments, had to be rearranged in a semicircle about the microphone, and that portion of the equipment itself needed further attention.

Under the leadership of Ryder Lewis the Welsh Choral Society rendered a very fine programme, including an excellent selection of Welsh hymns and a pleasing excerpt from "Mairana." A gramophone was also used, but without the same clear effect.

The experiment may lead to wireless concerts becoming a regular feature here.

Lacrosse Leagues to Open Next Week

B.C. Amateur Lacrosse League Will Stage First Game Here on May 24, and Victoria and District League Will Open on Saturday, Sidney Playing Shamrocks

Next week will witness the inauguration of two new lacrosse leagues in this city.

On the holiday, May 24, the first game between Victoria and Vancouver in the British Columbia Amateur Lacrosse League will be staged at the Stadium.

On Saturday, May 27, the first game in the Victoria and District Lacrosse League will be held at the Royal Athletic Park, with the Shamrocks and Sidney competing for the honors.

Lacrosse is Popular

Lacrosse is making a strong bid for the premier sporting title in the city this year. Its inauguration in the schools has led to a keener appreciation. The youngsters are discarding the ball and glove for the more exciting sport of the Indians, and as the kiddies get the fever so it spreads about the homes, and as a result the attendance at the big games this season should set new records. The officials of the various leagues would do well to issue an invitation to all school boys to attend the opening games, as they may get a better insight into the finer points of the game.

Victoria Lacrosse Club is Holding

The Victoria Lacrosse Club is holding a meeting at 7:30 o'clock. The team will only have three more practices before the opening game, and a determination will be made to have the twelve in top form.

Joe Hancock is Trainer

Joe Hancock, one of the veterans of the game, has offered his services as trainer for the club. His offer was accepted by the club and he will be in charge of the team. Hancock is a former player and has a wealth of experience. He will be in charge of the team and will see to it that the boys are given the best of attention.

May Have Mann Cup Players

The league considered the advisability of allowing each team to have one or two players from the Victoria Lacrosse Club on its line-up. This would improve the caliber of the game and also give the Mann Cup holders a chance to keep in shape, as well as assist in coaching the senior league. The league will be decided upon at the next meeting.

San Francisco, May 18.—Four errors by Hal Rhyne, San Francisco's shortstop, were directly responsible for all of Vernon's runs enabling the Tigers to defeat the Seals yesterday, 4 to 2. Bode again figured in the Seals' downfall, when, after two of Rhyne's errors in succession presenting easy cuts, he doubled, scoring two men. With none out and the tying runs on second and third in the ninth and with Doyle on the mound in place of Gilder, neither Yelle, Agnew or See could get the ball out of the infield.

KILBANE GETS HINT TO START TO FIGHT

New York, May 18.—The New York state boxing commission yesterday adopted a resolution obviously directed at Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, calling attention to the New York law under which his inactivity can be made the basis for declaring him to have relinquished the championship so far as New York state was concerned.

McLane Wins on Points

Duluth, Minn., May 18.—St. McLane, St. Paul, outpointed Joey Schwart, Detroit, in a 10-round bout here last night, according to newspapermen at the ringside.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

At Oakland's School yesterday the postponed game in the Oakland baseball league was played between the Tigers and the Torpedoes, the former winning by 11 to 8. One homer was hit. A Taylor, of the Torpedoes, being the lucky swatter.

EDMONTON GIRLS WIN.

St. Thomas, Ont., May 18.—The Edmonton girls baseball team last night defeated the local Collegiate girls' team in an exhibition game by a score of 19 to 14. The game was played under both boys' and girls' rules. To-night, the Western girls play the London Shamrocks in the second game of their championship series. The game will be under boys' rules.

ATHLETICS LAND IN THIRD PLACE

Connie Mack Has His Team Coming Fast; Won Yesterday With Homerun

Yankees Produce New Pitching Sensation, Who Won Game With Circuit Blow

New York, May 18.—George Murray, gives promise of becoming a star in Miller Huggins's pitching constellation, won the second game of the Cleveland series almost single-handed yesterday. Murray relieved Shawkey with the Indians scoring and knocked a homer further down which put New York ahead. He also contributed a triple later in the game, the Yanks winning 6 to 4.

GET SPECIAL PLAYER TO CAMP ON NEWSY

New Westminster Will Turn Out to Stop Lalonde Scoring

Vancouver, May 18.—When the curtain goes up on the professional lacrosse season at Athletic Park next Wednesday heralding the start of the 1922 Minto Cup race, New Westminster will trot out Willis Patchell, champion catch-as-catch-can lacrosse player of the day, to again harass Vancouver's favorite, "Newsy" Lalonde, 'tis whispered in mainland circles.

ESQUIMALT WINS AGAIN

The Esquimalt School Lacrosse team scored its third consecutive victory of the season yesterday when it defeated the Victoria West School in a very snappy game to the tune of four to nil. The winners scored once in the first quarter, while in the second quarter their opponents played a little tighter game at defence and held them scoreless. In the third the winners tallied again, and in the last quarter doubled the score of the previous period, making the final score 4 to 0. Corporal Redgraves acted as referee.

WARD SEVEN DEBATES SEWERAGE PROBLEMS

Reeve, Councillors and Clerk of Saanich Explain By-laws

A large gathering of ratepayers from various parts of Saanich last evening met the municipal Council at Tillicum School, and debated aspects of the sewerage problem of the inner wards, and the details of the by-laws to be voted on in July.

Col. W. Ridgway Wilson was voted into the chair, with R. E. Collis acting as secretary.

Reeve Watson outlined the position, touching briefly upon the history of past efforts to secure endorsement of a sewerage system by-law by the ratepayers.

He said the proposal for a by-law to pay off Victoria came from himself, being based upon the argument that all Saanich would then be on an equal footing.

The proposal for a larger by-law for $750,000 involved the delimitation of a sewer area of 800 acres, which would eventually be served by the system.

The Agreement.

Touching upon the 1913-14 agreement between Victoria and Saanich engineers, the basis of the signed agreement of 1920, Reeve Watson commented that it was good business, as the original plans of Victoria for the main trunk sewer to Macaulay Point included no provision for accommodating the sewerage of the 800 acres of Saanich now possible of inclusion. This enlargement has only cost Saanich 14.3 of the cost of the Macaulay trunk sewer.

Touching upon rumors that Saanich was considering beating down the city bargain to a lower figure, Reeve Watson declared, "I will have nothing to do with such a proposal. I know nothing of it. If the bill for enlargement of the Macaulay trunk had been in excess of the estimate I might look differently upon the suggestion, but as a matter of fact, the cost is $4,000 lower than estimated. I could not appear before the City on behalf of Saanich, and urge such a claim under these circumstances," he said.

Division of By-law.

Touching upon the proposal for a by-law for $750,000 for a comprehensive plan, the Reeve said the reason for asking authority to borrow so much, when the immediate expenditure would be only $275,000, was to prevent the selfish blocking of service extensions at later times by ratepayers who would benefit from the first installation.

Mrs. Davies remarked that sewerage would cost her over $100 yearly, whereupon the Reeve replied, "Then you must have a lot of property," and proceeded to explain that an average lot in the sewer area would pay $2 yearly, plus $5 when the sewer is put down the street.

If there were a home on a lot assessed at $500, the total yearly charge would be $17 for the life of the by-law, fifty years, it was shown.

A number of those present demanded to know what the rate of pay would be on the installation. Reeve Watson opined that the question was one for the Council to decide, while P. McCallman declared the meeting had been called to discuss sewer by-laws, not wage questions, and asked what was proposed to be undertaken immediately, if the voters authorized a sewerage system.

Cost of Areas.

Reeve Watson showed that Cloverdale, high and low level systems, will absorb $97,750; the Gorge area will require $106,668, Burnside will cost $4,350, and other expenses will make a total of $216,662, the debt to Victoria making up the total of $275,000, to be issued at once. Further bond issues up to the total of the by-law could only be made for work demanded by a majority value of the property owners affected by the extensions so asked for.

Some quizzing as to reduced costs taking place, the Reeve declared the cost of the revised scheme to be $125,000 lower than was estimated at the time of the last by-law's submission. Reeve Watson was asked if Saanich would go ahead with a sewerage plan without an engineer. He replied that the plans on which the by-law was based had been passed upon by the most skillful engineers obtainable, and that installation was a matter which would require an engineer's services.

R. E. Collis pointed to the differences between the two by-laws in treatment of the debt to Victoria. Payment of Victoria by a small by-law would be a general municipal debt, while the debt on the shoulders of property owners in the sewer area, he pointed out.

"This matter should be made plain. It would never do for some districts to, in after years, awake to a fact and declare they have once again been done," declared Mr. Collis. Reeve Watson agreed. "Personally, I think the whole cost should be upon the sewer area," he remarked.

Menace to Health.

Mrs. S. W. Kendall, of the Kerr district, protested against the possibility that large property owners might kill the by-law from fear of frontage charges. "If these people cannot pay for sewerage residential lots they should not own them. The outflow from cesspools and tanks is something awful at times and a real menace to health," she said.

Councillor Dooley agreed, and pointed out that the householder with a good septic tank was endangered, and that the cesspools and tanks, by the casual conditions existing among his neighbors. "Such a man is most unwise to fight sewerage because of his own home conditions," he said.

Councillor McWilliam pointed out that septic tanks generally drained out to the streets, a practice he warmly denounced, after referring to the danger of epidemics and the health of the children. "Street ditches are for storm water, not sewerage, yet conditions are in places abominable and a menace," he said.

The Councillor praised the City Council of 1914 for magnanimously increasing the size of the Macaulay Point sewer for Saanich's advantage, but urged the uselessness of merely paying off the debt to Victoria. "It is time to show our conscience in the country and begin this scheme. Seventy-five per cent. of the money spent is for labor; it will help things to get moving once more," he said.

"If you pass the by-law to pay the debt for the outfall you will be clearing up a matter that all Saanich will be glad to see closed, but you will not get anywhere.

"If you go in for the larger scheme you will be getting something and increasing the size of the undertaking," he concluded. Councillor Macleod supported the installation of sewers, as being the representative of a congested district much troubled with malodorous ditches.

"You will be passing a sewer by-law, increase the value of your property and increase the rentability of your houses. The first question asked is invariably 'have you sewers?' you know this very well," he said.

Explains Situation.

Municipal Clerk Cowper, with the aid of number of maps, explained the scope of the proposed sewer area, and the districts for early and deferred sewerage. He showed from official documents that the cost of the increased dimensions of the Northwest sewer was within the original estimates, and was costing Saanich $55 per acre served as compared with a cost of $46 per acre to Victoria. "Have we got a good bargain?" he asked, and was warmly supported by one section, while W. J. Waters and a number of others contested the statements made as being on-sided.

Colonel Wilson told Mr. Waters to be orderly and fairminded or else go home while Clerk Cowper declared, "If Victoria had offered to share use of the Northwest sewer on an acreage cost basis it would certainly have been fair, yet such a plan would have cost Saanich $14,600 instead of the $46,000 bill rendered." Asked as to the number of residences within the proposed area, Mr. Cowper said in 1920 there were 1,850 houses, while by the time the system was fully installed it was expected that there would be 2,750.

Mr. Waters again interjected, and after being reproved for disregarding the rights of the majority, declared, "yes, but the minority have the brain matter. Did not the Government Engineer condemn your figures as being too low?"

Mr. Cowper agreed, and explained the position taken by the 1920 Council before accepting Engineer Milne's estimates.

The 1920 by-law had been based on costs including a $4 daily wage,

UNEMPLOYED WOULD HANDLE ITS RELIEF

Delegation Waits on Trades and Labor Council

"Cold blooded and brutal" is the way a delegation of the Employed and Unemployed Council which waited on the Trades and Labor Council last night characterized the action of the City Council in closing down on any further relief. The delegation wanted the "co-operation" of the Trades Council, and asked that delegates of the Council be appointed to their organization, but the matter was not considered favorably.

After criticizing the publicity grant and other grants for May 24 celebration and other purposes, the delegation expressed the view that if their organization and the Trades and Labor Council got together they could inaugurate a "civil supply bureau" which would take over the present work of the Friendly Help.

It was asserted that the present head of the Friendly Help was not showing the sympathy with the situation of the unemployed that they considered necessary. The delegation thought there were great possibilities in the co-ordination of the efforts of the two bodies.

After the delegation left the council discussed the matter, and Alderman Woodward, the secretary, pointed out that the city had done all it could to relieve the troubles of the unemployed. The dele system was bad, and he favored giving men work and paying them the union wage.

So far as affiliation with the Employed and Unemployed Council was concerned, Mr. Woodward saw in the course of its leaders—though not in the rank and file—a "subtle method in support of their political aims" which he contended saved of the U. S. U. Nevertheless, the Trades and Labor Council would always do its utmost to alleviate unemployment and protect the interests of honest workers, said Alderman Woodward.
