

DECISION ON CASE AGAINST COUNCIL MEMBERS RESERVED

Mayor and Aldermen Ask Trial at Higher Court, But Meanwhile Seek Acquittal on Staneland Grant Charge; Finance Committee Merely Ratified Expenditure Already Made, Defence Argues; Money Paid "Surreptitiously and Secretly," Prosecution Declares.

After hearing two hours' testimony and argument in the Police Court this morning, Magistrate George Jay reserved until Monday morning his judgment on charges against Mayor William Marchant and Aldermen E. S. Woodward, David Leeming and R. W. Perry, members of the Civic Finance Committee, of wrongfully paying $100 to Police Commissioner W. E. Staneland for traveling expenses to New York.

While asking for an immediate acquittal, the Mayor and his colleagues have decided to stand their trial if necessary in a higher court, their counsel, D. S. Tait and W. H. Davey, announced at this morning's session. Meanwhile, they reserved their defence to-day. In asking the magistrate to dismiss the charge at its present stage Mr. Tait and Mr. Davey argued that no case had been made out against the defendants.

They based their argument on two points—that no evidence had been produced to show that the Finance Committee, in connection with the $100 grant to Mr. Staneland, had been actuated by anything but pure motives and that the money had actually been paid before the Finance Committee had considered it, so that the Committee had not authorized, but had merely ratified it.

Frank Higgins, K.C., prosecuting the case for the Taxpayers' Protective Association, endeavored to prove that the Finance Committee, against the wish of the City Council, had "surreptitiously and secretly" paid $100 to Mr. Staneland. He produced evidence to show that there was no record on the minutes of the Police Commission authorizing the grant to Mr. Staneland and the Finance Committee had no right to spend more than $50 without consulting the Council.

The Mayor, Mr. Higgins argued, had known that the law required the consent of the Council to the $100 expenditure, and, in the first place, had asked the Council for anything of the grant. After the Council had publicly declined to approve the grant the expenditure of the money had been approved by the Finance Committee, he declared.

Nature of Charge. Mr. Higgins explained that the charge was laid under section 164 of the Criminal Code, which provides that "anyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to a year in jail who, without lawful excuse, disobeys any law of Canada," unless another penalty is expressly provided. The alleged offence, he said, was under the Municipal Act of B.C., which did not expressly provide a penalty. This Act, he said, prevented any City Council from spending more than $50 without the consent of the Council. A City by-law, he explained, re-enacted this provision.

On August 31 the Council had decided to pay Mr. Staneland's expenses to New York, and in spite of this the Finance Committee had approved the payment of $100 to Mr. Staneland for that purpose, Mr. Higgins asserted.

Mr. Tait objected to this statement. The charge was not that the Finance Committee had done something contrary to the Council's wish, but contrary to the law.

Mr. Higgins replied that he hoped to prove that the committee had paid out more than $50 without the Council's consent.

Only Power Available. The only way travelling expenses could be paid, under the Municipal Act, was by resolution of the Council, Mr. Higgins stated. Yet the Staneland estimates did not include a grant for Mr. Staneland's expenses, and the Council by resolution had declined to pay them.

Mr. Higgins quoted the law to show that the Police Commission had power only to spend money for the activities of the Police Force.

WILLIAM WILSON, LEADING PIONEER MERCHANT, DEAD

Was Founder of Firm of W. & J. Wilson

Former Member of the B. C. Legislature

William Wilson, a pioneer merchant of Victoria and the Cariboo, founder of one of the oldest business houses in this city, and a former member of the Provincial Legislature, died this morning at 1 a. m. at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Church, 45 Douglas street, at the advanced age of 84 years. A man of unusual vigor and business acumen, the late Mr. Wilson retained an active interest in his business affairs until four years ago, when he retired into private life. He retained his usual good health until an accident two years ago resulted in a hip fracture, necessitating a seven-month stay in the Provincial Jubilee Hospital, his health failing gradually until the end came peacefully this morning.

A Pioneer of 1862. The late William Wilson was born in London, England, on August 25, 1838. In his early youth he was employed as an accountant in a leading London firm of silk manufacturers, in which his father was a working partner. The collapse of the business, due to the French tariff on silks, led young Wilson to seek fresh fields and attracted by the articles then appearing in The London Times concerning the gold fields in the Cariboo, he set sail in the ship Celeste, arriving in Victoria via Cape Horn on September, 1862.

After spending the winter in Victoria Mr. Wilson set out for Barkerville in the Cariboo, where he established a men's clothing business with much success. Shortly afterwards he purchased a bankrupt clothing stock in Victoria, and, by establishing the firm of William Wilson in a log building on the identical site now occupied by the clothing store of W. and J. Wilson, as the firm became known, when his brother joined him in partnership in 1864. For several years Mr. Wilson ran the two businesses, closing the store at Barkerville during the winter when the men were marking down flocks to Victoria, and retaining their custom at his local store.

During this period Mr. Wilson entered into partnership with Thomas Brigg, of New Westminster, this being the foundation of an interest in mining, which he retained until his death, when his sons, an active interest, and which has been carried on to this day as Wilson Bros.

Established Wilson Brothers. His early training in the London counting house stood Mr. Wilson in good stead and his business career was marked by an extraordinary amount of energy and ability. Over thirty years ago he branched out by buying out the wholesale grocery business owned by S. J. Pitts, in which he gave his sons an active interest, and which has been carried on to this day as Wilson Bros.

Although his business interests occupied most of his time and attention, the late Mr. Wilson found time to take an active interest in public affairs. From 1871 till 1879 he was a member of the Victoria Board of School Trustees, and in 1878 was elected to the Provincial Legislature under the Walkem Government, serving for four years. While in the Legislature he was chairman of the Royal Commission appointed to investigate the Esquimalt Drydock scandal.

For the past twenty years he had wintered annually in California. In January, 1886, the late Mr. Wilson married Miss Isabella Ellibeck, who predeceased him twenty-three years ago. They had five sons and one daughter, all of whom survive. Joseph E. Wilson, H. Goulding Wilson, Biggerstaff Wilson and Chas. E. Wilson, and Mrs. J. W. Church, all of Victoria, and William E. Wilson, of Long Beach, California.

The funeral will be held from the residence of his daughter, 46 Douglas street, on Monday at 2 p. m., commencing at St. Paul's Cathedral, where services will be held at 2.30. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay cemetery. It is particularly requested that no flowers be sent.

LIQUOR RULING ON ARMY CANTEENS

Arrests in Vancouver Will Make Law Clear

Vancouver, Oct. 27.—Whether army canteens are amenable to the Government Liquor Act is a question that will be raised as the result of a ruling made last night on two canteens in the Vancouver Drill Hall by dry squad officers.

William Kemp, in charge of the canteen in this hall, and a mess of the 7th Battalion was arrested on a charge of selling liquor, while Charles Edwards, in charge of the privates' mess of the same battalion, is held on a charge of selling beer.

Kemp was released when friends furnished bonds for $3,000, while Edwards was given his liberty on depositing $100 cash bail.

According to the police, the sale of hard liquor and beer was being carried on openly and officers in charge declared that as a Federal institution, liquor could be sold in regular army canteens.

FASCISTI MAY NAME SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE ITALIAN CABINET

Rome, Oct. 27, 12.30 p.m.—Benito Mussolini, leader of the Fascisti, is expected to arrive in Rome to-day, having been called here by Premier Facta, who wishes to discuss the situation with him. This action has again caused rumors to circulate that the formation of another Facta Government with the participation of the Fascisti is a possibility.

London, Oct. 27.—While the latest news from Rome shows a continuance of a crisis in Italy, there is nothing in the advices received to-day to indicate that anything in the nature of a revolution is pending. Some Rome messages predict the crisis will be speedily settled and another dispatch announces the sending of an invitation to Benito Mussolini, leader of the Fascisti for a conference which may mean entrance of the Fascisti into the cabinet.

IT WAS BLUENOSE NIGHT IN LUNENBURG

Nova Scotians Celebrated Their Schooner's Race Victory

Skipper in Cabbage Decked Car a Feature

Lunenburg, N. S., Oct. 27.—Lunenburg may be described as having "gone wild" last night over the fine victory of the schooner Bluenose over the American schooner Henry Ford in the North Atlantic Fishermen's race series off Gloucester, Mass.

HANDING OVER OF CUP DELAYED

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 27.—Award of the international Fishermen's Championship Race trophy was delayed to-day when the sailing committee in charge of the race voted to refer to the International Committee profeta, against a Nova Scotia schooner Bluenose, the apparent winner of the series after yesterday's victory.

YESTERDAY'S RACE WAS WELL FOUGHT

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 27.—The Lunenburg, N. S. schooner Bluenose came in seven minutes, fifteen seconds ahead of the Gloucester schooner Henry Ford in the third race of the North Atlantic Fishermen's Series yesterday, retaining the championship, which she had won last year, but the margin at the finish was no mark of the keenness of the competition, as nearly thirty miles the boats were within biscuit loss of each other.

MOVED ALMOST ON EVEN TERMS

On the second leg of ten miles, a comfortable lead, they fought their way across the wind and the Henry Ford pushed up almost on even terms. On this leg she gained 38 seconds and at the turn she was almost abreast the Bluenose's stern as they sped around the buoy, 27 seconds only between foremast and foremast.

UNNAMED COLT VICTOR IN RACE

London, Oct. 27. (Canadian Press)—Penrhyn's unnamed colt by Swynford out of Galante won the Free Handicap at Newmarket Houghton, beating out Sir Hedworth Hough's Flamingo-Church-Walk colt Karl by three-quarters of a length. Third place went to Mrs. Whitburn's brown colt d'Orsay, by Son-in-Law out of Stedman, who was beaten by half a length. Eleven ran.

BLUENOSE MADE BETTER WEATHER

Trimming sheets and swinging around, starting the long beat on the port tack, the Bluenose took the lead. The Lunenburg took the big blow that he encountered better than the Henry Ford, which was a wash her combing.

IN TOUCH WITH CANADIAN OPINION

Bonar Law's Abolition of Cabinet Secretariat Significant

Dominion News Bureau

London, Oct. 27.—Premier Bonar Law yesterday showed how closely he is in touch with Canadian and other overseas opinion on Empire matters. He announced abolition of the Cabinet Secretariat, with its own official press section, to whose blundering is attributed what has become known as the "butting" incident of September 16. This removes the constant danger to which delicate relations between the Governments of the Empire were constantly exposed by the "butting" of Lloyd George's personal cabinet secretaries without any word of consultation with the responsible experienced officials of the Foreign and Colonial Offices.

Decisive Lead Lacking.

Referring to these deals, The Times says the Coalition Liberal Party is in danger of breaking in two and attributes this condition to lack of a decisive lead by Lloyd George.

We have reports that there has been considerable smuggling lately," declared Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, to-day, "and we are determined to stop it. The special force is making its presence felt. I believe we have already almost enough confiscated silk to dress the whole civil service."

There is going to be a general election in B.C. pretty soon, according to W. J. Bowser, K.C., Conservative leader. He has just returned to his home here after speaking to South Vancouver Conservatives.

There is going to be a lot stirring in the House this session in connection with mining matters throughout the Province, according to the fair warning N. A. Wallinger, the new Conservative member for Cranbrook, sends down to herald his approach to Victoria.

"There Were Many Things Which I Could Not Eat"
Mrs. H. Robert Wells, English Harbour, Trinity Bay, Nfld., writes:
"I was troubled with nervous dyspepsia—so much so that there were a great many things I could not eat at all on account of the distressed feeling afterwards. I used many different remedies, but they did me little good. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills, and was surprised at the relief this combined treatment gave me in such a short time."

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press)—Reports from Washington that either Lord Shaughnessy or Sir Charles Fitzpatrick may become Canadian representative there, have given rise to considerable speculation over that much-discussed office, but there is no official confirmation of the reports.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—Pending an investigation of the attempt to rob the Royal Bank at Pipestone, Manitoba, Wednesday, four officers of the provincial police were suspended to-day. They are Commissioner J. G. Rattway and Inspectors Bain, Clarke and Ross.

"Open Door" Suggested For Countries Bordering Pacific
Japanese Speak at Honolulu Pan-Pacific Congress

Honolulu, Oct. 27.—The "open door" for Japanese immigration in all of the countries bordering the Pacific Ocean was urged yesterday afternoon in a paper read to the Pan-Pacific Commercial Congress, which held its first session yesterday morning.

The paper, prepared by Dr. Zen-zaku Sano, and read by Delegate Osaka, president of the Tokio University of Commerce, and Bunzo Ishikawa, a professor of the University, proved a sensation.

"Japanese immigration will aid in the development of the world's natural wealth," the paper stated, "if we request the Governments having extensive colonies in the tropics and semi-tropics to adopt the open-door policy."

Besides the question of immigration, the paper from Japan referred to China and expressed "discontent at the incessant political unrest."

Woman a Presbyterian; Man a Jew; Montreal Case

Montreal, Oct. 27.—Mr. Justice Coderre delivered judgment in the Superior Court here yesterday dissolving a "mixed marriage" that of Vera Musgrave, a Presbyterian, formerly of North Sydney, N. S., and Harry Coviensky, a Hebrew, who was in Winnipeg when his wife's writ for dissolution of their marriage was served on him. He did not appear.

The marriage was dissolved on grounds that the husband's deliberate deception as to his name, religion and nationality constituted justification for the wife's action.

London, Oct. 27 (Canadian Press Cable)—A Reuter dispatch from Brisbane, Queensland, says that in consequence of representations made by the delegation of British colonization experts now touring Australia, led by Compton Wadd, deploring the Australian custom of allowing cotton bushes to remain in the ground to produce an inferior grade of ratoon cotton, the Queensland Cabinet has decided to discontinue the payment of the guarantee of 5 1/2 pence a pound for ratoon cotton and henceforth to apply the guarantee to plant cotton only.

THE BLUENOSE'S VICTORY.

Small wonder that Lunenburg celebrated last night! The victory of the Bluenose is something to be joyful about. It represents more to the Nova Scotia fishermen than the greatest triumph of modern statecraft. Considered in utilitarian terms this year's international combat demonstrates once more that the maritime people of Eastern Canada know how to build a fishing schooner and how to sail her. For it must be remembered that these vessels are not the product of a designer of speed craft whose chief concern is to please a millionaire owner. Capacity for riding the seas and adaptability for the calling in which they are employed are prime essentials. How these important factors have been combined with seaworthiness of the sportive vessel is amply reflected in the performance which has thrilled the country during the last few days.

The victory of the Bluenose is a great Canadian triumph. But the special laurels go to Nova Scotia. There is the craft and there is the prowess that produced so magnificent a result.

TO-NIGHT'S MEETING.

To-night's meeting to continue the discussion of a programme for next year's Victoria week festival should be a largely attended gathering. The committee in charge will welcome every practical idea that may be utilized in an endeavor to arrange an event that will put Victoria on the map for all time as a festival city.

One important point to be remembered in connection with the proposal to hold the celebrations for four days, and possibly a whole week, is the fact that next year's complete festival calendar for the Pacific Northwest will be advertised—through the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association—in all the railway literature on the continent. This means that there will be entertainment of this sort in this part of the country every week from the end of April to the end of September, and every section of the travelling public will be duly advised, by the means indicated, for months ahead of time.

We have repeatedly pointed out that there is nothing to prevent Victoria's carnival ranking as one of the great annual events of the Northwest. The hand of man is not required to produce a setting. Nature has provided all the fundamentals. But this generation wants more than scenery when it travels. Victoria has recognized this and the committee in charge of next year's celebrations wants the help of every citizen who understands the pecuniary advantage that is virtually theirs for the asking.

NOT VERY CONVINCING

Viseount Grey deplors the criticism of French post-war aims and actions in the absence of any willingness on the part of the Allies to recognize the fact that they have withheld support to France in a number of important particulars.

Technically speaking the former British Foreign Secretary is quite right. All the Allies signed the Treaty of Versailles and all agreed that Germany should get her desserts—they all agreed that she would get them. But a number of contracts that were entered into in 1918 and 1919 looked a good deal more hopeful of execution than they did two years later—or even twelve months later. Some of them have since been described as utterly ridiculous.

Most people will recall the fact that in 1916—when the fortunes of war were certainly not favoring the Allies—Great Britain, France and Italy entered into solemn covenant with one another to boycott German industry after the war. Further reference to that little indiscretion is not necessary. Prior to the general election in 1918 Mr. Lloyd George was going to collect every farthing from Germany. In fact the trial and final humiliation—or was it decapitation?—of the Kaiser would be the crowning proof of complete Allied victory.

So that while Viseount Grey is technically correct in his charge—he merely satisfies himself with half a narrative. He knows as well as anybody else where France stands and what would have happened to her and the rest of Europe if all the engagements that were made in the heat of supposed victory had been literally kept.

It is easy for the former Foreign Secretary to say that security for Europe and the world should be assured by making the League of Nations as all-embracing as possible. He is right, of course; but there is a lot of educating to be done yet.

MR. WILLIAM WILSON.

Through the death of Mr. William Wilson the city of Victoria has lost one of her most prominent businessmen and the Canadian West a well remembered figure in the world of finance. From his intimate knowledge of Canadian conditions and by reason of the active part which he played in the earlier development and later expansion of the Province of his adoption the late Mr. Wilson was able to count himself a successful pioneer in every sense of the term.

Few men in the Canadian West were better informed upon financial matters than the late Mr. Wilson. His unflinching business judgment, a practical application to his many interests, and his intimate study of the march of events—all essential factors in a new and thriving country—assured him the substantial triumph of a life well and usefully spent.

A clothing business, a wholesale grocery concern, several business blocks, bear witness to his diversified investments in this city; they were all founded by the late Mr. Wilson and in latter years have justified his optimism under the more intimate supervision of his sons. He served the public as a member of the Legislature in the late seventies and every cause of progress claimed him until advancing years curtailed many of his activities.

The late Mr. Wilson was a man of sterling worth. His success in the colder commercial world by no means overshadowed his family devotion. He was at all times kindly disposed and liked and trusted by all who knew him. By his family and relatives these characteristics were highly valued and his passing will occasion them the more poignant sorrow. The Times adds its sincere sympathy to the volume that will be more generally extended.

GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

Recommendations for certain alterations to the Motor Vehicles Act, made by the Grand Jury at the Assizes in Vancouver, might well commend themselves to the Attorney-General and the Government.

To substitute imprisonment for the maximum fine in second and third offences in the case of persons driving their own and the common danger while under the influence of liquor would probably act as a useful deterrent to the ultra-bibulous.

When the driver of an automobile has become exhilarated by artificial means speed limits mean nothing to him. He then becomes a general menace.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Short shrift would have been given to blue ruin preachers in Lunenburg last night.

Five branch banks in the city of Victoria have either extended their premises or are about to do so. Tell us, gentle reader, when a bank spends money without prospect of ample return. Who wants a better sign of steady return to prosperity than this?

Mr. Bonar Law is in favor of an Empire conference in order to discover how the trade resources of the British Commonwealth may be developed by mutual co-operation. This plank in his platform is a safe one. As a going concern in a healthy condition the British Empire might well take stock and speculate upon the wisdom of booting about some parts of the world that are more of a nightmare than anything else.

Italy seems to be having rather more than her usual periodical Cabinet crises. The latest ministerial exit has been caused by the receipt by the Premier of something in the nature of an ultimatum from the Fascists.

Eamonn de Valera has lost his cunning. What on earth does he expect to follow his announcement that he has summoned the second Dail Eireann? Free State tolerance will not stand too many twists. If the self-styled "republican" leader is not careful he will find himself in the toils of the law. And law does exist in Southern Ireland now.

Germany must not object to the intrusion of the "baillif." It may not be possible to employ the ordinary processes of distraint. Her capacity and the Allied demand seem to be a long distance from reconciliation. Meanwhile she must show her books and forget, in her own interest, that the creditor nations have no special reason to trust her. On the other hand she can rehabilitate herself by listening to reason. There is a growing sentiment that Allied interests would be damaged by driving her too far. This is one of the ironies of the war—and the peace.

Identify the cheque with the voucher authorizing it.

Mr. Higgins said that the cheque in question was dated September 6, and that the matter had not passed the Finance Committee until September 25.

"This was paid ahead of time," Mr. Smith said. "This is done occasionally. If the Finance Committee had not approved it, we would have had to take a refund from the person receiving the money."

Mr. Higgins said that the case of the Staneland grant was a "hurry-up call. The procedure in connection with the issuance of the cheque to Mr. Staneland had been irregular," he admitted.

Out of "Sundries" Account.

Mr. Higgins demanded whether Mr. Smith had discussed the Staneland grant with any of the defendants. Mr. Smith replied that he had not done so and did not in his office deal with such matters.

The $100 cheque had been paid out of a "sundries" account, Mr. Smith said.

Mr. Higgins pointed to items in Mr. Smith's Police Commission accounts showing various payments to the Staneland Company, Mr. Staneland's paint firm.

"Out of the police accounts this firm has been receiving various amounts," Mr. Higgins asked.

The defence and the magistrate objected to this evidence. Mr. Higgins said these facts were relevant because he was trying to prove that the Staneland grant was in the same position as an alderman under the law. The Court, however, refused to allow such evidence.

"At the time that cheque was paid the matter had not been before the Finance Committee," Mr. Higgins said.

"Quite so," Mr. Smith replied.

Method of Procedure.

Mr. Smith explained under cross-examination that police expenditures were initiated by the Police Commissioners. Vouchers for such expenditures were signed by the Chief of Police and members of the Police Commission.

Mr. Tait pointed to a vote of $2,500 in the police accounts for sundries.

"This money," Mr. Smith said, "would be spent by the Police Commission."

Mr. Tait pointed to Mr. Smith's accounts to several items of more than $50 out of the $2,500 sundries account. Mr. Smith said these items might or might not be paid before the Finance Committee had approved the general practice is to put it before the Finance Committee."

Mr. Smith said he explained how that an item of this sort would be approved by the Finance Committee and it would be paid immediately.

Such expenditures, Mr. Smith said, would be without the consent of the Council. This practice had been in effect for many years.

"Is it true that in fifty per cent. of the cases the money is paid out before it has been approved by the Finance Committee?" Mr. Tait asked.

"Oh, no," Mr. Smith replied. He said that he knew of no case in which the Finance Committee had turned down a Police Commission expenditure. The police expenditures were started by the Police Commission and went through as a matter of course, he agreed.

Mr. Smith could not recall any case in which money had been spent after the Council had disapproved the expenditure.

There was no item for traveling expenses for the police department in the annual estimates, Mr. Smith testified.

In Case of Refusal.

"We don't have out our money to city departments to spend," Mr. Smith replied to further questions from Mr. Higgins. An item like the Staneland grant must be approved by the Finance Committee.

If the Finance Committee had refused to approve the grant of $100 it "would be up to us to go out and get the money," Mr. Smith said.

Alfred Hallam, Clerk of the Police Court was next called by Mr. Higgins. When he was asked whether the Police Commission had decided to authorize the payment of money to Mr. Staneland Mr. Tait objected, but the Court admitted the evidence.

"No," Mr. Hallam replied, but added that he did not attend all Police Commission meetings. He said a previous Police Commission had passed a resolution making its meetings public.

"The Court intervened here, 'I do not wish to probe the business of the Police Commission,' the Magistrate said.

Mr. Hallam reiterated that he did not attend all Police Commission meetings. Often after meetings that he did not attend members of the Commission handed him a record of the proceedings. Members might have forgotten to hand him such records in some cases, he said.

Mr. Higgins closed his case here.

Ask for Dismissal.

"I submit that the prosecution has not made out a case which we have to try," Mr. Davey said, in asking for dismissal.

The Municipal Act, Mr. Davey said, was one of the most difficult Acts in the statute, and had been the basis of many appeals to the Privy Council. In a case like that under consideration it was necessary to show that the accused was acting wilfully. He produced the records of a number of cases to show that public officials should not be found guilty unless they had acted from ulterior or corrupt motives.

Absence of Wrong Motive.

"There is nothing in this evidence to show wrong motives on the part of the defendants," Mr. Davey declared. He said that the defendants were business men of excellent reputation, and were serving the public in their capacities as members of the Council and the Finance Committee.

There was no suggestion that they were persons who were opposed to Mr. Staneland. There could be no question about the purity of their motives.

He then asked the magistrate to dismiss the case.

Mr. Tait, in addressing the magistrate, said that he had prepared an elaborate analysis of the evidence, but would not submit this, as the prosecution had failed to make out a case against his clients, because mistaken in its treatment of the case.

"The action of the Police Commission," Mr. Tait asserted, "is not the subject of this case. It is the action of a committee of the City Council. The charge is that the aldermen, as members of the Finance Committee, authorized the payment of funds illegally."

Limitation of Powers

The Police Commission, Mr. Tait explained, was not subject to the Council. It was a spending body in itself. "As a matter of fact," he added, "this case doesn't fall within the Criminal Code anyway, because in this connection there is only a limitation of powers and not a statute of prohibition against a public work."

"It must be shown," Mr. Tait argued, "that these men, as members of the Finance Committee, authorized so wilfully, wrongly and not with a mistaken motive. The evidence, he proceeded, had shown that a voucher of Police had issued a voucher for the $100 grant September 6. This voucher, signed by the Chairman of the Police Commission, authorized the payment of the money for his own purposes that was appropriated for the use of the police."

"They knew the law and they went to the Council, and the Council refused to pay the money," Mr. Higgins went on. "When the Council refused they could not do any more about it."

Mr. Higgins explained that all Council committees were responsible to the Council for their decisions, and this he emphasized, was a safeguard to the ratepayers of the city that had been created by law.

"The whole thing was irregular," Mr. Higgins asserted. The original voucher for the grant, he pointed out, had been issued August 31, the cheque had been issued September 6, and the Finance Committee had not met until September 25.

"This money," he affirmed, "was not spent on the authority of the Finance Committee, but on the authority of the Police Department. It had been expended before the matter came before the Committee. The Committee, therefore, could not authorize but could only ratify the expenditure. A thing cannot be authorized after it has been done, and can only be ratified by the authority of the Finance Committee," he added.

The only thing the Finance Committee could do, under the circumstances, was to consider what action it should take in view of the fact that the money had been spent, Mr. Tait said. The question before the Commission was whether it should "make a fuss about it or not."

As the Finance Committee had had nothing to do with the expenditure of the $100 grant to Mr. Staneland the prosecution had made a mistake in its whole treatment of the charge, Mr. Tait concluded.

Extent of "Offence."

"The enormity of this offence," Mr. Higgins commenced in his address to the Magistrate, "is that the defendants, stating openly that they disapproved the payment of the expenses of the Police Commission, and then surreptitiously, secretly, evasively, to work one of them, the Mayor, paying the money over, over-riding the wishes of the Council and then the other three confirming it—doing it secretly, and not saying anything about it."

If the Finance Committee had referred the question of the grant back to the Council for reconsideration, Mr. Higgins went on, it could have argued that it had not wilfully disobeyed the law. But, knowing that the Council did not approve the grant, and having given the public

The idea that they, too, were opposed to it, and then making the grant certainly was an offence, Mr. Higgins declared.

"And it is not a case of misapprehension of the law," Mr. Higgins proceeded, "The Mayor knew the law, because he asked the Council to approve the payment. Why would he have asked this approval if he had not known the law?"

Mr. Higgins explained that all Council committees were responsible to the Council for their decisions, and this he emphasized, was a safeguard to the ratepayers of the city that had been created by law.

"The whole thing was irregular," Mr. Higgins asserted. The original voucher for the grant, he pointed out, had been issued August 31, the cheque had been issued September 6, and the Finance Committee had not met until September 25.

"This money," he affirmed, "was not spent on the authority of the Finance Committee, but on the authority of the Police Department. It had been expended before the matter came before the Committee. The Committee, therefore, could not authorize but could only ratify the expenditure. A thing cannot be authorized after it has been done, and can only be ratified by the authority of the Finance Committee," he added.

The only thing the Finance Committee could do, under the circumstances, was to consider what action it should take in view of the fact that the money had been spent, Mr. Tait said. The question before the Commission was whether it should "make a fuss about it or not."

As the Finance Committee had had nothing to do with the expenditure of the $100 grant to Mr. Staneland the prosecution had made a mistake in its whole treatment of the charge, Mr. Tait concluded.

"Has tried to prove that because the defendants knew that the Council had refused to grant the money, the money should not be granted, but there may be various explanations for that, and no reason for the Council for a grant of money," Mr. Higgins said.

But as the Police Commissioners had then decided to spend the money out of the funds appropriated to them they were entitled to do so. In any case, this phase has nothing to do with the charge, as the Finance Committee did not authorize the payment of the money."

"I shall reserve judgment on the case until Monday morning," Magistrate Jay announced when the lawyers had concluded their arguments.

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT—41
The Civilizing Process in China

Meanwhile, as this triple system of White Man civilization developed in India and in the lands about the meeting-places of Asia, Africa and Europe, another and quite distinct civilization was developing and spreading out from the then fertile but now dry and desolate valley of the Tarim and from the slopes of the Kuen-lun mountains in two directions down the course of the Hwang-ho, and later into the valley of the Yang-tse-Kiang. We know practically nothing as yet of the archaeology of China. We do not know anything of the Stone Age in that part of the world, and at present our ideas of this early civilization are derived from the still very imperfectly explored Chinese literature.

Problems in History

Do you know—
What part in the world's history was played by the bridge that once united Australia and the East Indies?

Do you know—
What peoples of America preserve, until 500 years ago strange customs and rites that were given up in Europe 5,000 years before the Christian era?

Do you know—
Where in America are the remains of great stone altars the sides of which are worn by streams of the blood of human sacrifices?

Do you know—
What race first peopled Madagascar?

Answers in to-morrow's installment of H. G. Wells' "Outline of History."

The Part Played by Southern China.
It has evidently been from the first and throughout a Mongolian civilization. Until after the time of Alexander the Great there are few traces of any Aryan or Semitic, much less of Hamitic influence. All such influences were still in another world, separated by mountains, deserts and wild nomadic tribes until that time.

the Malays. It is quite clear from the Chinese records that there were southern as well as northern beginnings of a civilization, and that the Chinese civilization that comes into history 2,000 B. C. is the result of a long process of conflicts, minglings and interchanges between a southern and northern culture of which the southern may have been the earlier and more highly developed.

The southern Chinese perhaps played the role toward the northern Chinese that the Hamites or Sumerians played to the Aryans and Semitic peoples in the west, or that the settled Dravidians played toward the Aryans in India. They may have been the first agriculturists and the first textile builders. But so little is known as yet of this attractive chapter in pre-history, that we cannot dwell upon it further here.

The Original Huns.
The chief foreigners mentioned in the early annals of China were the Huns, who began to appear on the north-east frontier, the Huns, against whom certain of the earlier emperors made war.

Chinese history is still very little known to European students, and our accounts of the early records are particularly unsatisfactory. About 2,700 to 2,400 B. C. reigned five emperors, who began to have been almost incredibly exemplary beings.

There follows upon these first five emperors a series of dynasties, of which the accounts become more and more exact and convincing as they become more recent.

China has to tell a long history of border warfare and of grave struggles between the settled and nomadic peoples. To begin with, China, like Sumer and like Egypt, was a land of city states. The Government was at first a government of numerous kindreds, they were loosely federated under an emperor, as the Egyptians did; and then later, as with the Egyptians, came a centralizing empire.

Shang (1750 to 1125 B. C.) and Chow (1125 to 256 B. C.) are named as being the two great dynasties of the feudal period.

Bronze vessels of the earlier dynasties, beautiful and splendid, and with a distinctive style of their own, still exist, and there can be no doubt of the existence of a high state of culture even before the days of Shang.

Bonds of Unity.
It is perhaps a sense of symmetry that made the later historians of Egypt and China talk of the earlier phases of their national history as being under dynasties comparable to the dynasties of the later empires, and of such early "Emperors" as Menes (in Egypt) or the First Five Emperors (in China). The early dynasties existed far less centralized powers than the later ones. Such unity as China possessed under the Shang Dynasty was a religious rather than an effective political union. The "Son of Heaven" offered sacrifice for all the Chinese. There was a common script, a common civilization, and a common enemy in the Huns of the northwestern borders.

The last of the Shang Dynasty was a cruel and foolish monarch who burnt himself alive (1125 B. C.) in the palace after a decisive defeat by Wu Wang, the founder of the Chow Dynasty. Wu Wang seems to have been helped by allies from among the southwestern tribes as well as by a popular revolt.

For a time China remained loosely united under the Chow emperors, as loosely united as was Christendom under the popes in the middle ages; the Chow emperors had become the traditional high priests of the land in the place of the Shang Dynasty and claimed a sort of overlordship in Chinese affairs, but gradually the loose ties of usage and sentiment that held the empire together lost their hold upon men's minds.

The Age of Confucius.
Hunnic peoples to the north and west took on the Chinese civilization without acquiring a sense of its unity. Feudal princes began to regard themselves as independent. Mr. Liang-Chi-hao, one of the Chinese representatives of the Paris conference of 1919, states that between the eighth and fourth centuries B. C. there were in the Hwang-ho and Yang-tse valleys more than five or six thousand small states with about a dozen powerful states dominating over them." The land was subject to perpetual warfare ("Age of confusion").

In the sixth century B. C. the great powers in conflict were Tei and Tsin, which were northern Hwang-ho states, and Chu, which was a vigorous, aggressive power—in the Yang-tse valley. A confederation against Chu laid the foundation for a league that kept the peace for a hundred years; the league subdued and incorporated Chu and made a general treaty of disarmament. It became the foundation of a new pacific empire.

The knowledge of iron entered China at some unknown date, but iron weapons began to be commonly used only about 500 B. C., that is to say, two or three hundred years or more after this had become customary in Assyria, Egypt, and Europe.

The iron was probably introduced from the north into China by the Huns.

The last rulers of the Chow Dynasty were ousted by the kings of Ts'in, the latter seized upon the sacred sacrificial bronze tripods, and so were able to take over the imperial duty of offering sacrifices to Heaven. In this manner was the Tsin Dynasty established. It ruled with far more vigor and effect than any previous family.

The reign of Shi Hwang-ti (meaning "first universal emperor") of this dynasty is usually taken to mark the end of feudal and divided China. He seems to have played the unifying role in the east that Alexander the Great might have played in the west, but he lived longer, and the unity he made (or restored) was comparatively permanent, while the empire of Alexander the Great fell to pieces, as we shall tell, at his death.

The Builder of the "Great Wall."
Shi Hwang-ti, among other feats in the direction of common effort, organized the building of the Great Wall of China against the Huns.

A civil war followed close upon his reign, and ended in the establishment of the Han Dynasty. Under this Han Dynasty the empire grew greatly beyond its original two river valleys. The Huns were effectively restrained, and the Chinese penetrated westward until they began to learn at last of civilized races and civilizations other than their own.

By 100 B. C. the Chinese had heard of India, their power had spread across Tibet and into western Turkestan, and they were trading by camel caravans with Persia and the western world. So much for the present must suffice for our account of China. We shall return to the distinctive characters of its civilization later.

HERE INVESTIGATING GOVERNMENT CONTROL

The Champagne district of North-east France is steadily recovering from the effects of the Great War, and the production and quality of the vintage will now be equal to the famous standard of the past, according to Capt. E. H. Villiers, D.S.O., director in the well-known firms of Martell & Co. of Cognac, and Louis Roederer, of Reims, who is in the city on a tour of the world, and will leave here on November 2 for Japan.

Capt. Villiers, who is registered at the Empress Hotel, told The Times last evening that he was studying the systems of Government control seen in Quebec and British Columbia, he believed it had many merits when properly enforced, if given sufficient elasticity of administration. Having been engaged in the wine trade for a great many years he is able to forecast adequate supplies and sustained quality in French wines. He says the vintage this year will be of high quality.

GEORGE BELL BACK FROM TORONTO

Says University Buildings and Elevators Badly Needed

Completion of the British Columbia University and the establishment of ample facilities for handling the flow of grain from the prairies through B. C. ports are two necessities vitally essential to the prosperity of this Province, George Bell, ex-M.P., told The Times to-day on his return from the general conference of the Methodist Church in Canada recently held in Toronto.

The conference was unanimously in favor of union with the Presbyterian and Congregational religious forces, and 150 delegates to the first council of the United Churches of Canada were named. British Columbia has ten delegates, five ministers and five laymen and Dr. Sippell and Mr. Bell are the two Vancouver Island representatives.

"The remarks that are sometimes heard that the church is falling are not borne out by the reports of progress and development heard at the conference," says Mr. Bell, who mentioned the membership, Sunday-school and property increases, hospitals, colleges and other institutions under the church domination being particularly successful.

Mr. Bell was amazed to find so many students from British Columbia attending colleges in Toronto. The cost of transportation and maintenance must be tremendous and people would be surprised to know how much of this Province's money and living material is being transferred to the East. In consequence of the failure of this Province to offer ample training facilities through the medium of the B. C. University, "Toronto is being enriched through its universities. The University of British Columbia must be accomplished before we can occupy the position we ought to in Canada. Hundreds of students would come from the United States, and there is no question but that the Province would be kept running to full capacity," said Mr. Bell.

Wants Elevators
While in Port Arthur Mr. Bell discovered that there was a complete blockade of wheat. "We should have more elevator facilities on the Pacific Coast of Canada and that grain must flow in the direction where it can be shipped at less cost to the European markets by way of the Canal. Vancouver has at hand 200,000 tons of wheat in the railway yards and the elevator accommodation is taxed to its limit," said Mr. Bell.

GEORGE BELL BACK FROM TORONTO

Says University Buildings and Elevators Badly Needed

Completion of the British Columbia University and the establishment of ample facilities for handling the flow of grain from the prairies through B. C. ports are two necessities vitally essential to the prosperity of this Province, George Bell, ex-M.P., told The Times to-day on his return from the general conference of the Methodist Church in Canada recently held in Toronto.

The conference was unanimously in favor of union with the Presbyterian and Congregational religious forces, and 150 delegates to the first council of the United Churches of Canada were named. British Columbia has ten delegates, five ministers and five laymen and Dr. Sippell and Mr. Bell are the two Vancouver Island representatives.

"The remarks that are sometimes heard that the church is falling are not borne out by the reports of progress and development heard at the conference," says Mr. Bell, who mentioned the membership, Sunday-school and property increases, hospitals, colleges and other institutions under the church domination being particularly successful.

Mr. Bell was amazed to find so many students from British Columbia attending colleges in Toronto. The cost of transportation and maintenance must be tremendous and people would be surprised to know how much of this Province's money and living material is being transferred to the East. In consequence of the failure of this Province to offer ample training facilities through the medium of the B. C. University, "Toronto is being enriched through its universities. The University of British Columbia must be accomplished before we can occupy the position we ought to in Canada. Hundreds of students would come from the United States, and there is no question but that the Province would be kept running to full capacity," said Mr. Bell.

Wants Elevators
While in Port Arthur Mr. Bell discovered that there was a complete blockade of wheat. "We should have more elevator facilities on the Pacific Coast of Canada and that grain must flow in the direction where it can be shipped at less cost to the European markets by way of the Canal. Vancouver has at hand 200,000 tons of wheat in the railway yards and the elevator accommodation is taxed to its limit," said Mr. Bell.

CAMERON'S

GIVES UP FIGHT AGAINST SENTENCE

J. H. Ferguson Now Lodged in City Jail; Requires Medical Care.

John H. Ferguson, of the Gordon Hotel, Johnson Street, convicted in August, 1921, by Acting Magistrate Alexis Martin on the charge of keeping liquor for sale and who was sentenced to serve six months' imprisonment, has been at the city jail for the last two or three days awaiting final disposition of his case.

Dr. Hart called on the accused this morning and examined Ferguson, who is ill with a very sore throat and cannot eat well.

Ferguson has been trying to make up the money necessary to fight his case through to the Privy Council and, failing this, he reported to the Police Station.

Following his conviction in the police court, Ferguson appealed to the County Court, but Judge Lampan sustained the judgment of the lower court. A further appeal was taken by R. C. Lowe, his solicitor, to the Court of Appeal, where accused once again failed to have the judgment altered. He was given leave, however, to appeal to the Privy Council and as five months are allowed in which to do this and that time has expired without Ferguson being successful in raising the money to go ahead, he decided to let the matter drop.

Efforts are now being made on the part of Ferguson's counsel to secure a pardon for him.

ROUND OF FETES IN PACIFIC NORTHWEST

It is expected that at the meeting of the Victoria Day festival committee this evening, when the committee met at the City Hall to discuss its programme for the 1922 festival, some reference will be made to a letter which has been received from Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association.

Mr. Cuthbert is circulating the various cities and districts in the territory of the association, urging them to fit their annual carnivals and celebrations into a Festival and Home Reunion Year ranging from the Tulip Festival at Bellingham in April down to the Pendleton round-up in the end of September. The last week of May would be reserved for the festival in Victoria. Mr. Cuthbert suggests a duration of a week in each city, and that the festivals which have been held for years would be continued, but enlarged to spread over the entire week, and those cities that have not held a festival will be asked to arrange them.

It is proposed to promote extensive advertising in conjunction with the railways for this Reunion Year. Details of the plan will be forwarded to the directors of the association at an early date. It has suggested some thirteen functions, including the Victoria festival, which could be incorporated into the series.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Norma Talmadge has registered many screen achievements starring under the First National releasing banner. One of her most successful pictures, it will be remembered, was the emotional Spanish drama, "The Fashion Flower." More recently came her notable triumph in "Smilin' Through." But Miss Talmadge has not yet been fully satisfied with the semicostume pictures she had appeared in. She was consumed with ambition to attempt a monumental all costume production, which ambition she has at last realized in "The Eternal Flame," the attraction which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

"The Eternal Flame" is an adaptation of Balzac's "La Duchesse de Langeais," which after months spent before an audience that filled the house to capacity.

"Strange Idols" is a serious, powerful drama, the intensity of which is lightened by some lively scenes in a New York cabaret. It transports the spectator from the night life of Broadway to the depths of the North-western forest, where the axe and the saw of the lumberman are the chief music heard. From the primitive to the modern, the action and emotion again is made; and throughout the story runs the romance of a cabaret dancer and a sturdy, rich young lumberman—a romance culminating in the marriage of a pair temperamentally unitted to be mates. The sequel of this match is heart-grIPPING in the extreme, well calculated to stir emotion in the most "hard-boiled" of picture followers.

"Strange Idols" is worthy of generous patronage. Dustin Farnum has not been seen in anything more effective. The story was written by Jules Furthman, and the direction was in the skilled hands of Bernard Durning.

DOMINION

What would a reign of terror do to America? A suggestion for an answer to this question is furnished in the new Paramount picture, "The Face in the Fog," which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Jack Boyle, the author, has written a story depicting some of Russia's most reckless vandals as they would act in this country. The international romance centres in the flight of the Grand Duchess Tatiana from the court of the czars.

She is followed to this country by a gang of Communists under the leadership of Petrus the Cruel. They hunt her, corner her, attempt to kidnap her, but she is only through the assistance of a reformer, American crook that the Grand Duchess saves herself from torture.

The part of the Grand Duchess is played by Seena Owen, one of the best known leading women of the screen. Lionel Barrymore is seen as Boston Blackie, Dawson, an American reformed crook, who swears the plot of the Russian immigrants and turns them over to the police. Lowell Sherman, a popular player, also is featured.

EVERY DAY LIFE
 HUMAN THEME OF SENNETT AT ROYAL

How well the everyday incidents of life can be evolved into a plot of strong comedy and dramatic appeal will be evidenced when Mack Sennett's six reel comedy melodrama, "To Be Released through First National," is shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre next Monday.

The producer has taken types familiar to everyday life: a young boy from the country, sentimentally inclined landlady, a Broadway vamp, figures of the financial world, rejected suitors, policemen and lawyers, and combined them in a picture of strong dramatic interest tinged with inimitable humor.

The plot concerns a youngster from the country who comes to the city imbued with the idea that he must have a job with a uniform. Through the influence of a wealthy uncle, who insists that the boy must carve his own way, the newcomer lands with the street-cleaning department. For his home he has a second-rate boarding house, where the landlady, obviously prefers him to several husky suitors for her hand, much to the youngster's embarrassment.

The uncle, however, has become the financial backer for a prospective musical show and finds the burden more than he cares to carry. Without a word to anyone, he departs for Alaska, leaving to his nephew the responsibility of caring for his interests.

With this as its starting point the story breezes along at a speedy gait, involving a pretty romance in which George O'Hara and Kathryn McGuire are the leading players. Eddie Gribbon, Billie Bevan, Charles Murray and Mildred June, of the Mack Sennett company, are in the capable cast, which also includes Herbert Standing, Ethel Grey Terry, Noah Beery and Ben Dealey.

"WAY DOWN EAST" COMING TO CAPITOL ALL NEXT WEEK

The engagement of D. W. Griffith's wonder spectacle "Way Down East" opens at the Capitol Theatre next week.

Basically "Way Down East" is a picturization of that delightful story of New England rural life which Lotie Blair Parker and Joe R. Grismer made so familiar upon the musical stage covering a period of more than a decade. By Griffith's treatment it becomes a new art, vibrant with a life that is all too rarely pictured from view and infused with realism and tenderness plus the finest mingling of pastoral scenes ever conceived for an American drama. Music adds its charm to this swelling appeal and the combination spells a new form of expression to every sense that seeks the playhouse for entertainment and illustration.

West's Defence Yet To Be Penetrated

First Division Leaders Have Not Been Scored On, While Their Opponents Tomorrow, the Sons of Canada, Have Yet to Score a Goal; Mets and Sons of England In Feature Game of Day; Mets Lead League In Scoring With Nine Goals

While the greatest interest in tomorrow's soccer card will centre around the game between the Metropolis and Sons of England elevens, several interesting phases in the scoring records of the six teams involved will be introduced.

For instance, the Wests, who have not had a goal scored against them this season, have as their opponents the Sons of Canada, who have not yet earned a tally in their favor. The Sons have played some very hard games, but have always been turned back with a duck's egg in their hands. The Wests have also been severely tested but they have managed to keep their scoring sheet unbroken, due to the fine work of their backs and also the Thistles Are Even.

The Thistles, who have failed to show their old-time form this season have a fifty-fifty break in the goal averages, having shot five goals and had five netted against them. Their opponents tomorrow will be the Crusaders, who have shown the greatest defence and offensive work have just managed to break through for one tally. The Crusaders have had ten goals scored against them.

In the feature game tomorrow the Mets have the better goal average. They are the best scorers in the league. They have shot the pigskin between the posts nine times and five of these goals have been from the toe of "Scotty" Dowds, their fleet centre forward. The Mets' defence has been standing up under the strain in fine shape and only two goals have passed their goal.

The Sons of England have scored more goals than they have had posted against them. They have booted through six and five have slipped by them.

West's Are Undefeated.

The Wests have the honor of being the only team in the First Division that has not been defeated this season. It is not expected that their sheet will be spoiled tomorrow, although the Sons of Canada have a pesky layout and can be depended upon putting up a bitter struggle.

The Thistles and Crusaders should have a merry time. If the Scotcians can muster their full team they should win. The Thistles are anxious to pull closer to the top of the heap. A loss for them tomorrow would put them practically out of the running. The Crusaders, however, will be out gunning for their first win of the season.

If the Mets defeat the Englishmen tomorrow they will join up as the big contenders in the league. If they slip and the Sons win there will be a tie for second place.

To Start Earlier.

All games are scheduled to start at 2.30 o'clock. The early approach of darkness has made it necessary for an earlier start.

To-morrow's games will be as follows: Metropolis vs Sons of England, at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Langton.

Thistles vs Crusaders, at Central Park; referee, Ockwell.

Victoria Wests vs Native Sons of Canada, at Beacon Hill, lower ground; referee, Locke.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

Goals	P	W	L	D	F	A	Pts
Victoria West	4	4	0	0	5	0	8
Metropolis	4	2	0	6	5	4	2
Sons of England	4	2	2	0	5	4	2
Thistles	4	2	0	5	5	4	2
Sons of Canada	3	0	3	0	5	0	0
Crusaders	3	0	3	0	1	0	0

The teams will be as follows: Victoria Wests—Leeming, Whyte and Chester; Baker, Muir and Thomas; Sherratt, Feden, Youson, McCall and Clarkson.

Crusaders—Holman, Webster and Auchincloss; McImpsey, H. Moulton and C. Blacklock; Allan, H. Essler, D. Essler, Stewart and Rice.

Sons of England—Hetherington; Colmbin and Kerley; Green, Tappan and Harwood; Huen, Tostevin, Smith Rough and Shanks, reserve, Meeher.

Players to be at dressing rooms at Royal Park not later than 2.15. Metropolis—Wair; Churnish; McBlivide; Gillingham, English and Durborough; Barrie, Barrie, Dowds, Cull and Hayward.

Thistles—Jelliman; Ord and Tucker; Roe, Miller and Potter; Somerville, Burton, T. Watt, J. Watt and Mulcahy. Reserves, Faichen, Southern and Wright.

JOE LYNCH IS IN BAD WITH BOXING OFFICIALS

New York, Oct. 27.—A unique situation has arisen here as a result of Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion, having been temporarily barred from boxing at Madison Square Garden by the New York State Athletic Commission as a result of his recent poor showing there in a match with Joe Wolfe, of Cleveland. The fact that Lynch is in disfavor with the commission becomes known when promoter Tex Rickard sought sanction for a match between Lynch and Joe Burman, of Chicago, on November 15, Chairman A. Muldon, of the commission, refused sanction.

SCHOOL RUGGERS OPEN UP SEASON

Victoria College Defeats High School in Close, Hard-fought Game

Oak Bay Also Takes a Fall Out of High School; Arranging Schedule

The Victoria College, playing its first rugby game of the season yesterday defeated the Victoria High School to defeat. The score stood 10-10, three when the final whistle blew. The College were superior in almost every respect, and although considerably weakened by the loss of one of their best men, Mathews, owing to an injury sustained in the first few minutes of the game, they nevertheless showed the way to the High School.

High School Evened Up.

The High School was wild over this setback. They strove mightily, and at last Champion drove his way through the College's back and dropped on the leather behind the coveted line.

The ground and ball were in a bad state and neither team did itself any good. The College had a series of fumbles and knock-on passes. Altogether the game was not extremely fast.

McGregor scored for the College shortly after the High School made their try. It was a pretty run that ended when he was tackled and thrown over the line on top of the scrum.

Curtis scored for the College out of a mass of struggling forwards in the second half. Hard work was the only hope of the High School at this time, but instead of bucking to it they slackened. Shaw scored again in the last few minutes of the game.

The line-up was as follows: College—Mathews, McGregor, McDonald, Hoadley, Forbes, Colison Shaw, Maclean, Scott-Moncrieff, Curtis, Hemmingway, Christie, Lewis, Marshall.

High School—McDonald; Owen and Farritt; McLennan, Diespecker, Champion and McIntyre; Olson, Sneider, Muirhead, Palmer, Coulter and Coates.

Referee—Ernie Cook.

Oak Bay High Wins. The Oak Bay High School defeated the Victoria High School three to nothing after a strenuous game of rugby at Cranmore Road last Wednesday.

Oak Bay had the edge on the game for the greater part of the time, but the High School showed their vim, and Oak Bay was light but fast and strong in the back division.

The Victoria College will endeavor to arrange a game with the Oak Bay boys some time next week and a match of interest should result. The College has demonstrated itself superior to the High School in the city and has now the Oak Bay team to handle, then the University Military School and lastly the Normal School. Games with all of these institutions are to be arranged.

CANADIAN FEET CHAMP THERE WITH WALLOP

Gene LaRue, Young French-Canadian, Wants to Get Crack at Villa or Wilde

Toronto, Oct. 27.—This year is about a sock and a boy who owns it. It is a pugilist sock, however, and is worn on the hands of Gene LaRue, Michigan sensation, and fly-weight champion of Canada.

After an inventory is taken of the majority of boxers now before the public, it is readily seen that the old sock is missing, and that is the main thing the fight fan wants to look at, the boy with the punch. Since the days of Terry McGovern, the bantam division, which is now the flyweight division, has not boasted of a knockout puncher, but now that Gene LaRue has busted into prominence, the title holders had better look to their laurels.

Gene LaRue came to Detroit from his birthplace, Montreal, Can., two years ago. At that time he was only a preliminary boy, and in his first two starts was knocked out. Since the days of Terry McGovern, the bantam division, which is now the flyweight division, has not boasted of a knockout puncher, but now that Gene LaRue has busted into prominence, the title holders had better look to their laurels.

Gene LaRue came to Detroit from his birthplace, Montreal, Can., two years ago. At that time he was only a preliminary boy, and in his first two starts was knocked out. Since he has come right down the line meeting with success until at the present writing he is ready to enter the ring with either Pancho Villa or Jimmy Wilde.

Buff Declined. Several months ago, while Johnny Buff held both the bantam and fly-weight titles, Gene LaRue signed to meet that worthy with George Kennedy of Montreal, but the Hon. Buff declined the issue.

To date LaRue has had 52 fights and has ended 37 of them by the well-known knockout route. This is a record for some of the big boys to shoot at.

LaRue is being managed by Joe Sarno, who several years ago, while managing the Young Zulu kid, created the flyweight title in this country, only to see his boy lose it to Jimmy Wilde in a world's title bout at London. Sarno is out to get even with Wilde, and firmly believes that Gene LaRue will turn the trick.

Since under Sarno's management LaRue has scored eight consecutive knockouts, only one of these going into the second round. In his last start he won on a foul from Joey Schwartz in the fifth round. Previous to the landing of the foul blow LaRue had Schwartz on the verge of a knockout twice. This is the only bout LaRue has won on a foul, as he is not anxious for those decisions, but this one could not be helped as the blow looked deliberate.

Popular Boxer. LaRue is very popular in Detroit, Cincinnati and Windsor, Can., where he has done most of his boxing, and every fight fan is of the opinion that he is the next flyweight champion, if only given a crack at the title. LaRue is of the same opinion, and through his manager is willing to make any fair concession to get Villa or Wilde in the ring with him.

Bays and Wanderers Come To Grips in Rugby Battle

Tomorrow afternoon the old Rugby rivals, the J.B.A.A. and Wanderers, will meet at Oak Bay park.

At present the Bays are leading the League, while the Wanderers are down in the cellar with the Canadian Scottish. However, the Wanderers intend to knock the Bays for a good tomorrow, but the champions are counting on their speedy backs to save the day for them.

For several seasons past the Bays and Wanderers have been the leading contenders for senior soccer honors in Victoria. They have always been found closely grouped at the top and they have been through some strenuous games. Last year the Bays nosed the Wanderers out of the championship, while the previous year the Bays were awarded the Barnard Cup when the Wanderers withdrew.

Plenty of Rivalry. There has always been plenty of rivalry between the two squads, and at one time last season it reached rather a delicate state, but the fifties together and agreed to bury the hatchet. It is hoped that it will be big.

The Bays and Wanderers are both turning out their fastest teams for tomorrow's struggle, and with the ground in good shape after the recent rain and to-day's sun there should be plenty of thrilling work. The backs on both teams are fast, with the Bays having a slight advantage, but the Wanderers have good backs and expect to be able to pound their way through the Bays' line.

V. I. Meet Scottish. The other senior league game will be between the V.I.A.A. and Canadian Scottish. The V.I. are anxious for a win in order to keep in the lead. The V.I. share the first place honors with the Bays through their victory over the Wanderers last Saturday. The V.I. will have a strong fifteen in the field and the Scottish will have to be on their toes to prevent a victory going to their opponents.

In the Intermediate League the Wanderers will make their initial appearance of the season against the Normal School, the league leaders. The school team defeated the Bays in the opening game of the season last Saturday.

Senior League. J.B.A.A. vs. Wanderers, at Oak Bay Park; 2.45 p.m.
Canadian Scottish vs. V.I.A.A., at Willows; 2.45 p.m.

Intermediate League. Normal School vs. Wanderers, Cranmore Road grounds; 2.45 p.m.
The teams will be as follows: Wanderers Intermediates—Gilmer; Johnston; Devereaux; Matheson and Hodgins; Curtis and Gropp; Brown, Edgar, Christy, Crane, Henderson, Speck, Featherstone, Officer and Holland. Reserves—Palmer, Olson, Brooker and Jackson.

J.B.A.A.—Ryan; McInnes, Tott, Johnson and Humber; Taylor; MacLean and McMillan; Johnson, Davis, Montell, McRae, Norris, Sturgess, N. Collinson and Travis.

Wanderers, Seniors—Eric George; Kerr, Walls, Goodacre and Abelt; Parker and Scott-Moncrieff; Colman, Willis, Nixon, Kinch, Herman, Wootton and Money.

The Cranmore Road grounds are opposite the Arena.

FOUR MOTOR CAR RECORDS BROKEN

Jennings Smashes Oldfield's Marks For Five, Ten Fifteen and Twenty Miles

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 27.—The five, ten, fifteen and twenty-mile dirt track records established by Barney Oldfield were broken here yesterday by Richard H. Jennings, of Pittsburgh, Pa., accompanied by Louis Chevrolet.

The trials were made on the Maxwellton track here, the same track on which Oldfield established his records on August 9, 1917.

Jennings' fastest mile was made in 42 seconds.

Jennings covered the five-miles in 3 minutes, 48 seconds as against Oldfield's 3:53.6; ten miles in 7:32.1 as against 7:56.8; fifteen in 11:21.5 as against 12:09.8; and twenty in 15:20.1 as against 15:52.2.

Three times, including George Sisler, star of the St. Louis American Baseball League team, stated they would submit affidavits to the American Automobile Speedway Association attesting to the accuracy of the time.

HORSE DROPS DEAD AFTER A WORKOUT

Noted handicap thoroughbred, dropped dead yesterday after a workout at Belmont Park in preparation for running Saturday in the Fortis handicap feature event of the card at Yonkers, Sennings Park, a six-year-old chestnut horse by Jim Gaffney-Irish Queen, and owned by the Westmont Stable, went wrong after an impressive early season start, but recently had apparently returned to form.

TUNNEY MEETS WIGGINS

Boston, Oct. 27.—Gene Tunney of New York, former light heavyweight boxing champion, will meet Chuck Wiggins, of Indianapolis, in a ten-round bout here tonight.

Dunderdale Seeks New Scoring Mark

Tommy Will Alternate With Fredericksen At Centre Ice This Season and He Hopes to Boost His Goal Aggregate Beyond 200; In Eleven Seasons In Coast Hockey He Has Scored 192 Goals; Has Greatest Scoring Record In History of Game

Tommy Dunderdale, one of the four "originals" who will be wearing the steel blades in the Pacific Coast Hockey Association this season, is going to take his shillalah firmly in both mittens and set off in quest of a scoring record that will withstand the battering of time.

Tommy has agreed to turn out for one more season with the Aristocrats. He realizes that he will be forced to make way in the strenuous pastime before many more seasons roll by, but he is determined that while he is still able to display his cunning he will continue to batter away at the opposing goals with his famous "bullet" and "rainbow" shots.

This will be Tommy's twelfth season in Coast hockey. He began playing with Victoria in 1912 and the following two seasons was the big factor in giving the Capital its only championships. In 1912-13 Tommy led the league in scoring and he repeated this performance in 1913-20.

His Scoring Record To Date. Tommy has been busy with his little pencil and paper and discovers that in his eleven seasons in Coast hockey he has shot the huge total of 192 goals. His assists have amounted to 55, which gives him a grand total in points of 251.

Before the 1922-23 season closes Tommy wants to see his total number of goals boosted beyond the two-hundred mark. If he achieves his ambition he believes that the youngsters who come to the league to replace the veterans will have to shoot high, wide and handsome to surpass his mark.

Dunderdale has been one of the scoring sensations of the Coast league. He has always been a formidable contender for the scoring honors each season. His terrific shot is the fear of both "Happy" Holmes and Hughie Lehman, who are charged with stopping him from scoring.

While still a tricky player and good stick-handler Tommy is not able to show the form that made him the star performer in his early years on the Coast. He was always considered a good centre man until Frank Fredericksen came to the Coast, but he had to make way for the Icelandic blonde and Lester Patrick used him on left-wing, where he showed to good advantage.

This year Tommy will get back to his old position at centre. He will alternate with Fredericksen, in the six-man game the pace is so killing on the forwards that they have to be relieved frequently. It is the intention of Lester Patrick to spell Fredericksen, his shooting ace, with Dunderdale.

Lester hopes to have two front lines this winter, with Oatman and Hallerson available for right wing, Fredericksen and Dunderdale performing at centre, and Meeking and one of his new men, probably Jocko Anderson, at left.

This will assure Dunderdale of being on the ice sufficiently during the season to bag the necessary eight goals to bring his total goals-up to 200.

Dunderdale's scoring record since he broke into the Coast League is as follows:

Year	Goals	Assists	Pts.
1912	24	6	24
1912-13	24	5	29
1913-14	24	4	28
1914-15	17	9	26
1915-16	14	4	18
1916-17	22	4	26
1917-18	14	6	20
1918-19	5	2	8
1919-20	26	2	28
1920-21	9	11	20
1921-22	13	6	19
Totals	192	59	251

The other three players of the quartette of "originals" are Hughie Lehman and Fred Harris, of Vancouver, and Bobby Rowe, of Seattle. The totals of Harris and Rowe for the eleven seasons do not approach that of Dunderdale. Harris has shot 134 goals and made 65 assists for a total of 199, while Rowe has scored 55 times and chalked up 47 assists for a grand total of 102.

ANOTHER REVERSAL ON ENGLISH TRACK

Black Hussar, Last Horse in St. Leger, Wins Newmarket Cup With Ease

London, Oct. 27.—The Newmarket Jockey Club Cup run yesterday over the two-mile course at Newmarket, Newmarket Houghton provided another startling reversal of racing form when Black Hussar, who finished last in the Doncaster St. Leger, won easily yesterday, finishing eight lengths ahead of Lord Lansdale's three-year-old colt, Royal Lancer, who won the Doncaster classic in easy style from the largest field on record.

The third place went to J. White's colt, San Hedrim, who finished sixth in the St. Leger and was a poor third in the Doncaster St. Leger. In the Doncaster St. Leger, Black Hussar, who finished last, won easily yesterday, finishing eight lengths ahead of Lord Lansdale's three-year-old colt, Royal Lancer, who won the Doncaster classic in easy style from the largest field on record.

This year Tommy will get back to his old position at centre. He will alternate with Fredericksen, in the six-man game the pace is so killing on the forwards that they have to be relieved frequently. It is the intention of Lester Patrick to spell Fredericksen, his shooting ace, with Dunderdale.

Lester hopes to have two front lines this winter, with Oatman and Hallerson available for right wing, Fredericksen and Dunderdale performing at centre, and Meeking and one of his new men, probably Jocko Anderson, at left.

This will assure Dunderdale of being on the ice sufficiently during the season to bag the necessary eight goals to bring his total goals-up to 200.

Dunderdale's scoring record since he broke into the Coast League is as follows:

Year	Goals	Assists	Pts.
1912	24	6	24
1912-13	24	5	29
1913-14	24	4	28
1914-15	17	9	26
1915-16	14	4	18
1916-17	22	4	26
1917-18	14	6	20
1918-19	5	2	8
1919-20	26	2	28
1920-21	9	11	20
1921-22	13	6	19
Totals	192	59	251

The other three players of the quartette of "originals" are Hughie Lehman and Fred Harris, of Vancouver, and Bobby Rowe, of Seattle. The totals of Harris and Rowe for the eleven seasons do not approach that of Dunderdale. Harris has shot 134 goals and made 65 assists for a total of 199, while Rowe has scored 55 times and chalked up 47 assists for a grand total of 102.

LAUNDRIES SHOW STEADY PROGRESS

New Machinery and Equipment Have Been Installed

Public Is Greatly Impressed With Inspection

Few people have the slightest conception of what a tremendous business the modern laundry is, or to what extent science has been applied to the carrying out of the minutest details of every branch of the industry.

Cleaner, cheaper and better laundering of the family wash is done by the power laundries than it could ever be possible for the housewife to accomplish, and there are various other factors which favor the steam laundry in preference to having laundry done at home. Many work, discomfort and waste of time are eliminated by sending the washing out.

Another phase of the laundry industry of comparatively recent development, is the employment of scientific experts to co-operate with manufacturers of fabrics to secure a guarantee of better and more durable goods in the making of clothing. It is the laundry that discovers more quickly than the householder whether the latter has been sold shoddy instead of the real thing, and it is the laundry that frequently gets blamed for goods going to pieces as a result of these unscrupulous transactions.

This year the local power laundries, the Victoria Steam, and New Method on North York Streets and the Standard on View Street, are again holding their annual "Visit Your Laundry" week. While these laundries were thrown open to the public last Monday morning for visitors and personally-conducted tours were made of the big plants, it is pointed out that visitors wishing to see how the modern laundry is operated are welcome at any time.

Victoria Steam Laundry. Manager Mark W. Graham gave some interesting and amazing data to The Times when a representative called at the Victoria Steam Laundry. As the details of machinery and operation were covered in previous reports in this newspaper it was interesting to learn of the following huge consumption in this laundry:

Last year the Victoria used: 12,459,999 gallons of water; 13,459 pounds of soap; 5,446 pounds of starch; 11,875 pounds of paper; 556 pounds of twine and 15,750 pounds of salt.

During the year 1,646,988 of the larger pieces such as bed and table linen alone were laundered. A laundry always discovers a lot of loose buttons, and 2,805 dozen buttons were sewed on.

Laundry-by-mail has become a big

SAVED HER FROM AN OPERATION

So Thinks Mrs. Tracey of Ontario, Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Knightsbridge, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the change of life for troubles that women often have at that time. I had not been well for a year and was not really able to do my work. A friend who had taken the Vegetable Compound herself recommended it to me and I think it saved me from an operation. I highly recommend it to all women who have troubles like mine, and am willing for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. DANIEL J. TRACEY, Knightsbridge, Ontario.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But the more common ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same.

When disturbing symptoms first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles.

feature in the business of the Victoria Steam Laundry. It is surprising to know that parcels of laundry are shipped in from points as far East as Calgary, and as far North as the Cariboo. Of course Vancouver Island is very well served, and laundry comes in by parcel post from all sections, including the most northerly points on the west coast. Boat and rail bring a constant stream of out-of-town laundry to the Victoria. The Gulf Islands, too, are served in this way.

Another new service has been inaugurated by the Victoria, and by the New Method as well, called the "Semi-Finished Service," whereby the laundry washes the entire family bundle individually, making it spotlessly clean and pure by seven different waters. Bed and table linen are ironed and the balance is returned damped just right for ironing at home.

Plant Increased.

In order to keep pace with the increasing volume of business the Victoria has added during the past year four new washing machines, costing $400 each, a new drying machine costing $3,000. Two new presses have been installed and four automobiles have been added to the delivery fleet, making the total now of twelve automobiles and two horse-drawn rigs. The installation of the company's new "Semi-Finished" service cost about $4,000.

Last year the Victoria gave employment to sixty people every week, and this has been increased to 74, with a payroll running about $70,000 annually.

In March next Mr. Graham, manager of the big plant, will have been ten years with the laundry in that capacity. When he took over the work there were three horse rigs and thirty employees. Under his skillful management the business has grown by leaps and bounds.

Mr. Graham is president of the British Columbia Laundry Association, having occupied that distinction for three years. The organization embraces practically every laundry in the province. He is also a director of the Chamber of Commerce, the Jubilee Hospital and the Kiwanis Club, of which he was president for two years.

With the assurance that Victoria will grow and prosper and that there will be a corresponding development in the laundry business, the Victoria Steam Laundry acquired the lot adjoining the East with a view to possible extensions. The present building was constructed in 1912, and is most modern in every respect.

The New Method. A visit to the New Method Laundry on North Park Street disclosed the fact that this up-to-date establishment is also kept fully occupied, attending to the large volume of business which passes through its hands. L. D. McLean, the manager of this institution, was busy showing visitors through the plant. This company, too, has had an eye to future developments, and has acquired one hundred feet of land adjoining the present building. Equipment has been increased to handle the work, and the usual number of employees is sixty with a payroll averaging about $50,000.

A True Model Laundry. An interesting development pointed out to The Times in connection with laundry work and the determination to give the public the most efficient and valuable service possible was the scheme of the National Laundry Owners' Association, of which the New Method and Victoria are the local members, to erect a model laundry in Joliet, Illinois.

All the laundries holding membership in the Association are called upon to contribute their quota to the cost of building this institution. Every laundry in Joliet has been bought out and the model laundry, which is being built primarily for investigating and scientific research work, will handle all the business of the city, and make the usual business profits as well as gaining valuable information for laundry owners. This building will cost over $250,000 and experts will operate every branch of the work.

The question of fabrics and the different treatments necessary will be taken up between the experts who will conduct the model laundry and the textile manufacturers, and influence will be brought to bear which will result in a great deal of benefit to the public in assuring them of better goods.

Every member of the Association will be privileged to send employees to this model laundry to be taught the latest scientific and mechanical developments.

The National Association is also taking up with the Government the question of putting through an Act somewhat along the lines of the Pure Food Act, requiring the manufacturers of textiles to furnish a guarantee with the goods.

DIED FOLLOWING TRAIN ACCIDENT

Gerald Travis, Ex-service Veteran of Victoria, Killed at Drumheller

Gerald Travis, a native of Victoria and son of the late Mrs. L. Travis of this city, succumbed yesterday in hospital at Drumheller, Alta., following serious injuries in a train accident. Details of the accident are not yet to hand, but according to word reaching his brother R. D. Travis, 1312 Stanley Avenue, yesterday, he died following an operation which was performed in the hope of saving his life.

Gerald Travis was twenty-five years old and a veteran of the Great War. After leaving school he was for a time with the Hinton Electric Co., and on the outbreak of war joined the 5th Regiment. At the age of 18 he enlisted in a draft for the 47th Battalion, but went overseas with a machine gun section attached to the 1st Pioneer. He was wounded three times, receiving serious injuries in the fighting at Paschendaele, and was for two years undergoing treatment at Esquimault and Resthaven. Recently he went to Chilliwack on farm work and from there to the prairies. He is survived by his brother, a well-known sportsman of this city, and an uncle, Percy Travis, of Chilliwack. The news of his tragic death will be received with much regret by a host of friends in this city.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even flery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like ointment cream. (Adv.)

Another Home in Victoria Heated with the

CALORIC

THE ORIGINAL PIPELESS FURNACE TRIPLE-CASING PATENT

More than a hundred homes in Victoria are now heated with the Caloric Furnace. Surely there must be something remarkable about the Caloric when it has so completely supplanted the old type of pipe furnace.

The only remarkable thing about the Caloric is the fact that heating engineers did not build a furnace like this long ago. Every detail of its construction is so simple, so common sense and practical. The Caloric heats the home like the sun warms the earth—by natural circulation of air.

The Caloric not only gives more uniform heat throughout the house, but it actually reduces fuel bills one-third to one-half. This is a statement which we can prove to your complete satisfaction if you will come in and grant us the opportunity.

Launder Your Silk Underwear This Gentle Way It Will Last Twice As Long

Your fine silk things should be laundered immediately after every wearing, and in the very best way. The acids in perspiration attack the fine silk threads and ultimately rot them. Leaving a vest slightly soiled even a single day, will cause injury. Careful cleansings with Lux will make your silks wear twice as long and they will keep their silken sheen, their soft, fine texture.

To launder your dainty silk underthings

Whisk one tablespoonful of Lux into a thick lather in half a bowlful of very hot water. Add cold water until lukewarm. Dip garment up and down, pressing suds again and again through soiled spots. Do not rub. Rinse in three lukewarm waters. Squeeze water out. Do not wring. When nearly dry, press with a warm iron—never a hot one.

Coloured Silks: Lux won't cause a colour to run if pure water alone won't do so.

LUX

Lux stands supreme for washing dainty garments—Sold only in sealed packages—dust-proof!

JEAN CAUX TAKES FINAL JOURNEY

Remarkable Man Spent His Last Winter Here

Last Winter a bent, venerable figure attracted the attention of everyone who had business at the Dominion Hotel. He looked as if the open air rather than the city streets had known him for many a year. He was Jean Caux, universally called "Catalan" throughout the North. Now a message from Prince Rupert announces his death.

He had reached the age of ninety-two and looked every year of that venerable period of human life. Still he was well able to care for himself in Victoria, though he longed for the wider space and a bed under the stars. Something of his life story he told The Times. It was related in a halting mixture of English and French—not the English and French of the schools, but English mixed with Chiacopee nouns and backwoods slang, and French debased by the patois of the upland departments which slope from the Pyrennes, and here and there a Spanish word carried by the mountain villagers from the Catalonian side. The latter he had learned in childhood, and the former language, if language it could be called, in half a lifetime away from men's haunts in the recesses of the British Columbian wilderness. He was born in a year of revolution, and as far as he could remember it was something which occurred from the coup d'etat of the third Napoleon which hastened his departure from the village in Gascony where he was born and grew to manhood. He crossed the ocean gradually working west, and engaged in all manner of occupations until the gold rush of 1858 brought him on the flood tide to this Province.

It was not, however, as a gold seeker that he earned a scanty livelihood but as a packer and guide to the numerous railway survey parties which sought a feasible route through the mountains to the Pacific Ocean. He loved to tell of men and things now dimly remembered, of incidents and occurrences now rescued from oblivion in the pages of memoirs and private letters, of triumphs over the forces of Nature, and here and there a struggle with a ferocious grizzly or a half-starved cougar. He knew the lore of the forest and the message of the denizens of the wilderness, however ignorant he might be of the printed page, and he spoke of the many, many days when he pitched a roof at night and knew of no other heat but the camp fire. More recently he had departed out of Hazelton, but as the years went on his strength failed, and he had eventually disposed of his mules and settled down patiently to await the end. Then came last Winter a desire to "come out" once more, to see a relative here, so he journeyed by sea and land, reluctantly, moving slowly among the crowds in the city streets, and anxiously looking forward to a return to the wilderness and an opportunity to sleep in the open. Now he has crossed that black and cold river to the undiscovered country "where the flowers, the grapes and the songs of birds never cease, and where the sun shines night and day."

NEEDS ALL HIS ATTENTION
Friend—Why do you always eat a good meal before dining out?
Mr. Newrick—So that I can give my entire attention to the management of the various knives, forks and spoons.—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Mabel Francis

"Tania helped me back to good health two years ago and I am still feeling fine," recently said Mrs. Mabel Francis, highly esteemed resident of 623 S. Linwood Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

"Before taking the medicine I suffered from a nervous breakdown and was in an awful condition. I scarcely had strength and energy to handle a broom and my housework was drudgery to me.

"The first bottle of Tania made such a wonderful improvement in my condition that I was both surprised and delighted. So I stuck to it and a few bottles built me up ten pounds and made me feel as if I had never had a sick day. My health has been fine ever since."

NOTE—The International Proprietary Co., distributors of Tania, have on file their offices at Atlanta, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province of Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and have been recently published in this paper.

Tania is sold by all good druggists. (Adv.)

ANNE IS YOUNGER THAN SHE LOOKS

Notary Who Registers Department Store Employees Baffled by Age Question
"How old is Anne?" asks the well-worn question.
"Younger than she looks," answers the notary public who has been seeking registrations in a department store during the past week for voting qualification embodied in the words "of the full age of twenty-one years," has brought to him strange revelations.

When this man first took up his case he approached with confidence the young women behind the counters. Before long he was baffled and irresolute, and his faith in himself was gone. He had thought that he could judge the age of women, but when young ladies whom he had set down in his own mind to be the full age of twenty-one sweetly informed him that they were not old enough.

It seems probable that this year's voters list will contain the names of more young women than any previous year, for the notaries have been hard at work registering the female employees of stores and offices, where the road tax money has been taken out of their cheques by their employers. Other young women have caught the new spirit and are paying the road tax voluntarily and registering as voters.

The registrations yesterday numbered 122, leaving a little less than 1,000 more to be obtained before last year's registration mark is reached. The City Hall is remaining open in the evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. Registrations will close at 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

TELLS VETERANS OF CONVENTION
Army and Navy Men Hear Report on Dominion Gathering
Comrade T. Jones, who arrived home from Montreal yesterday, told the Army and Navy Veterans last night about the Dominion convention of that organization. Comrade Jones was elected to the directorship of British Columbia in the Dominion command of the association.

The feeling among delegates to the Dominion convention, Comrade Jones reported, was that unity was increasing among ex-service men and that the ultimate reason for this feeling would be amalgamation. The convention, he recalled, had decided to endeavor to have an extension made in the time when which tuberculars must manifest itself after discharge if an ex-service man is to secure Government assistance. The convention had decided to welcome members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police into the association.

SPECIALIZATION IS SUGGESTION OFFERED

Students Should Devote Time to Favorite Subject, One Answer Says

Specialization is the keynote struck in the answers to the questionnaire sent to Major Wendell B. Shaw, secretary of the citizens' committee to investigate municipal costs under John Dean, by Percy Fox, who asserts that students with artistic tendencies or technical inclinations should be placed in one class to assist in the progressive movement of students desiring to take up such courses.

Mr. Fox thinks that it would not be safe to cut out any of the subjects taught to students in the High School at the present time. He goes on to say that, with the exception of English literature and mathematics, all other subjects should be optional. In dealing with the option of the student he also recommends that if a student wishes to specialize he should be allowed to devote as many periods to that subject as there are classes available.

"A master," Mr. Fox suggests, "should be appointed to each subject which he is a specialist; also that weekly examinations be held on each Friday morning, marks awarded and a list posted in each classroom. If a student so desires, he suggested, with the exception of one hour a day for mathematics, let him concentrate the remainder of his time on any subject in which he wishes to specialize."

Under the caption of suggestions of a general nature he suggests that the science, the arts and the technical side of the school be separated in different departments. He states that the type of student usually differs in these branches and their segregation tends to the advancement of each other. "Thus," he goes on to say, "a group of students technically inclined will help each other, and a group of art students will progress more favorably than when the groups are mixed."

REDUCED RATES TO BE EFFECTIVE

Parcel Post to Quesnel District Will Soon Go by New Line

Effective on November 1, with the extension of the S. & Q. R. P. O. to Quesnel, the following Post Offices will be removed from the list of offices served by stage routes 100 miles in length: Alexandria, Barkerville, Castle Rock, Cottonwood, Kersley, Macalister, Nazko, Quenell, Soda Creek and Van Winkle.

All parcels sent to these points reduce to the amount of postage of ten cents for the first pound and five cents for each additional pound. The previous rate was 12 cents for the first pound. This reduction will be welcomed by large wholesale firms and establishments who have occasion to use the mail delivery constantly.

But if the mail should be marked by Prince George the old rate of twelve cents will be charged, but if marked S. & Q. R. P. O. they will go on the new rate.

Findlay Forks, Mason Creek, Porter Landing, Tabla Creek and Totem Creek in the Winter will still require the twelve cent postage rate, however, according to information received at the general post office this morning.

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who were troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing short of misery for her. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanitarium and I kept wondering how I would get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This worried me because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her and gave me a prescription but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carnal was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Carnal to anyone who is in need of a tonic or a body builder. Excuse me for writing this letter but I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic known as Carnal." — Mr. J. M., Toronto.

Carnal is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, "I've tried it and it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money." 7-622 Adv.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
The youthful naval cadet candidates were appearing before the board of examiners and were being questioned to test their knowledge.
Admiral—"How did you come here, my boy?"
Candidate—"In a taxi, sir."
Admiral—"And what was the number of the taxi?"
Candidate—"3548, sir."
Admiral—"Good; you'll do."
That evening the admiral told the story to a friend, who said, "What very observant lad! But how did you know he was telling the truth?"
"Truth be sagured!" said the admiral. "It was devilish smart of the boy to give me any number without the slightest hesitation."
