Key trends

- Total content continues to increase steadily, with Wikidata adding volatility to the rate of increase.
- Overall active editors remain its year-on-year (YoY) increase this month, as a result of the steady growth in existing (returning) active editors, which is relatively evenly distributed across activity groups and wikis; and a large YoY increase in new editors, which primarily driven by English Wikipedia and Commons.
- After the block in Turkey removed in Jan 15th, there were ~8K non-bot edits daily. There were over 15K distinct editors in January, 1,272 of them were active editors.
- A slight drop in new editor retention in January was from German, Polish and English Wikipedia.
- Total edit rate drop, mainly because of the same high-volume drop in Wikidata editing.

January 2020 Product Metrics: Readers

		YoY
Interactions	19.2 B	2.1%
—Pageviews	17.1 B	1.5%
—Desktop	6.6 B	-5.5%
—Mobile web	10.2 B	6.3%
—Desktop previews	2.1 B	7.0%
Unique devices (all Wikipedias)	1.6 B	3.5%

Key trends

- As usual in January, pageviews rebounded after the holidays, with a lasting year-over-year (YoY) increase in mobile pageviews. And the YoY drop in desktop pageviews continued to diminish from past few months.
- After the block in Turkey removed in Jan 15th, we are seeing a bump in pageviews (5M daily) from tr.wikipedia and en.wikipedia from Turkey. The pageviews become stable at around 3M daily (~5.7M daily pageviews before the block at Jan 2017). There's also a growing trend in daily desktop previews (0.33M daily) from Turkey.
- Unique devices again increased year-over-year. But as noted before, this metric might be more susceptible to artifacts that decrease the accuracy of such trend assessments.

—Non-bot edits	0.6 M	14.4%

Notes

- The YoY decline in reader interactions from Emerging Market is due to the block in China from April 2019. The block result in a drop of 200M interactives per month in average.
- The YoY increase in the active editors from emerging market countries are evenly distributed across different countries, especially from India, Ukraine, Iran and Malaysia.
- There was a bump in edit count from Mobile-heavy wikis. The main reason for this is a spike (120% YoY) in bot edits from ar.wiki. And the increase in non-bot edits are from arz.wiki and id.wiki.
