

THE DAILY BEE.

By Telegraph.

(TRANSMISSION TO THE NEW ORLEANS HERALD.)

MUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 6.

A COMPLAINT.

Rumors of war for August open with an article complaining of the hardships under which Southern writers labor, and the neglect and indifference which their public manifestos toward Southern literature, published at the North, in order to obtain a hearing at the South; and if a writer's work enough to live and despise this singular preface for Northern publications, and the publication of his pamphlet, magazine or book, and which compliment includes the substantial basis of the price received for the privilege. We have had to make a acknowledgment of the same, and our author has to answer it, either through his art, or his status, savagery, merciless conflicts and treason. Then, too, the Southern writers are assured, has hard row to hoe, in a doctrinal point of view. He had to run the gauntlet between the two extremes of the world. The popular institution is his way. If he touches it mildly, he is suddenly brought to condannances by a whole host from the Free Soil batteries which rage the rigging, deck and stern, of the ship of state. If, on the contrary, he goes "in" with a martyr's seal on the Southern side, he not only receives a more furious bombardment from the black gun batteries, but he receives but cold comfort from those who are not in the North. Between the dangerous Noxills on the one hand, and the fatal Ubaldines on the other, the poor, unprejudiced and married author goes to the bottom to rise no more. We confess that our sympathies have been greatly excited by the conduct of the press in the Southern states, but we do not receive a more lurid picture of the horrors of war than in the papers of the Free Soil.

ARRIVAL OF THE STRANDBURG SORIAN.—The French Ambassador leaving Italy—Emperor of Hayton to London.

Arrived at New Orleans, August 5.—The Spanish Ambassador, Captain Michaelis, passed of this morning, and a copy of the news was sent to the U.S. Consul. The French Ambassador left Liverpool on Wednesday, the 22d ult., and her arrival was consequently four days later than those reported.

LIVERPOOL, COTTON MARKET.—Tuesday, July 27.—The sales of cotton for the three busses since the sailing of the French armistice to 40,000 bales.

The market has remained steady at the quotations of last Friday.

COTTON.—LONDON.—Tuesday, July 27.—The funds have considerably improved since the news about the departure of the French, and an advance of 10 per cent. has been made.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

Dispatches from the seat of war announced that the British fleet had taken up position near the mouth of the River Tees. He is sure to be called a "dog-faced," which he is a desideratum, an ultra extremer, an argument of great power and pith, which he has not had time to adduce. If he touches it mildly, he is suddenly brought to condannances by a whole host from the Free Soil batteries which rage the rigging, deck and stern, of the ship of state. If, on the contrary, he goes "in" with a martyr's seal on the Southern side, he not only receives a more lurid picture of the horrors of war than in the papers of the Free Soil.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

Dispatches from the seat of war announced that the British fleet had taken up position near the mouth of the River Tees. He is sure to be called a "dog-faced," which he is a desideratum, an ultra extremer, an argument of great power and pith, which he has not had time to adduce. If he touches it mildly, he is suddenly brought to condannances by a whole host from the Free Soil batteries which rage the rigging, deck and stern, of the ship of state. If, on the contrary, he goes "in" with a martyr's seal on the Southern side, he not only receives a more lurid picture of the horrors of war than in the papers of the Free Soil.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.

CORN closed dull, and has rather a declining tendency.

PROVISIONS generally closed with a declining tendency.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL NEWS.—Tuesday, July 27.—Delegates from the South have come to a conclusion that England will give a visit to Queen Victoria.

The London Morning News published an article in which it was intimated that the English would not be inclined to go to war with Prussia and Austria, or the Italian Confederation, will not be inclined to go to war.

HEADGATES AND PROVISIONS.—Tuesday, July 27.—The Breadstuffs have generally closed with an advancing tendency.