Reasons for Dr. Jaeger's Reforms.

THE EVIL EFFECTS upon health, due to the material and form of the ordinary clothing, were hardly suspected until Dr. GUSTAV JAEGER, of Stuttgart, began to publish the results of his investigation on the subject.

This distinguished German physician has established the fact that most bodily ills may be prevented or cured by the adoption of proper clothing; and he has constructed a system based on the principle of pure animal fibre for clothing and bedding. Hence, the "Dr. Jaeger Sanitary Woolen System." It affords to the body the greatest protection against Cold, Heat and Dampness, with the least obstruction to the body's exhalations. These conditions are instinctively felt to be better fulfilled by woolen than by linen or cotton fabrics. Hence, the very general use of flannel garments by athletes and by members of cricket, boating and other sporting clubs, who are called upon to engage in vigorous physical exercise likely to cause profuse perspiration. Dr. Jaeger reasons as follows: If the action of the skin be imperfect, fat and water accumulate in the tissues, the functional powers of which are lowered and weakened; the flesh, which should feel firm and elastic, becomes soft and flabby, resulting in a general derangement of the physical organization; and the evil effects on the body are experienced in the form of many disorders which are erroneously considered to be unavoidable, such as corpulence, asthma, pulmonary complaints, diseases of the digestive organs, gout, rheumatism, etc.

All fabrics manufactured from, or adulterated with, vegetable fibre (linen or cotton), are impervious to the body's exhalations, which are arrested and turned to water on the skin if underclothing and lining of such fibre come between the body and the outer atmosphere. Linen and cotton are, moreover, good conductors of heat, and thus, especially when damp, readily cause a chill, by too quickly carrying the heat away from the body. Further, dead vegetable fibre (as linen) has the same property that the living plant has, of absorbing noxious gases, but it cannot, like the plant, assimilate them.

In view, therefore, of the importance of maintaining a healthy action of the skin, not only for persons of active habits and pursuits, but especially for those engaged in sedentary occupations, Dr. Jaeger selects Animal wool as the proper substance for his "Sanitary Clothing," and rejects all linen and cotton for underwear and for bedding, as obstructive of the natural processes of absorption and evaporation. The advantages afforded by this material seem obvious, as, when woven into tissues, wool possesses above all textile fabrics—

1. A peculiar power of absorption and transmission;
2. The properties of a non-conductor of heat—so essential to the preservation of an equable temperature of the body.
3. The property of promoting the elimination from the tissues of all excess of fat and water, thus making the flesh firm, and hardening and toughening the muscles.

As formerly woven, woolen fabrics were objectionable to many, because they irritated the skin and caused discomfort by preventing the proper escape of its exudations. Moreover, they were, as a rule, so heavy as to be intolerable for summer wear. To remove these objectionable features, and to make wooten clothing truly sanitary, and suitable for all seasons—protecting from oppressive heat in summer and maintaining a proper degree of warmth in winter—Dr. Jaeger has materially modified the usual processes of weaving woolen fabrics by adopting a method which produces a much less closely-woven texture than the ordinary flannel; and all underwear for ladies, gentlemen, and children is made of “Stockinet,” undyed or natural gray, very porous, agreeable, and durable.

From these conditions, together with the conformity in construction of the garments to the human anatomy, arise what Dr. Jaeger specifically claims as

The Sanitary Advantages of Pure Animal Wool.

I. Wool “gently stimulates the skin,” i. e., to that degree necessary to maintain its normal activity in secreting and extruding waste matter, and surplus fat of the body.

II. Wool, relatively to linen and cotton, is a non-conductor of heat and electricity, and, therefore, tends to preserve to the animal body its normal measure of these vital energies.

III. Wool, woven and made up according to the Jaeger methods, by reason of its permeability to moisture (the vaporous exhalations of the skin), promotes the elimination of the effete matters, and the reduction of the abnormal heat of the body; and this is the reason why the body, even when freely perspiring, remains dry in woolen clothing, while in linen or cotton it becomes wet—a fact of common experience with all who engage in athletic exercises.

IV. Wool thus coöperates with the skin to regulate, by its exhalations, the temperature of the body, the wool supplementing the efforts of the skin to dispose of excess of heat, whether proceeding from internal or external sources, thus maintaining that equable state which is the true condition of health and comfort. Hence it is that wool is better than linen or cotton as a preventive of the overheating of the blood, through internal heat; and that woolen clothing is less oppressively hot than linen or cotton in summer; and, therefore, more agreeable and healthful in the hottest climates.

[An impressive confirmation of the above is furnished by the many re-conversions to light woolen underwear during the long hot summer of 1900, from among those who had been misled by a pretended discovery of new virtues in linen and cotton.]

V. Wool is electrical, while linen and cotton are not; i. e., wool generates electricity but does not conduct it. It follows, therefore, that a body clothed in wool loses less of its animal electricity, while fresh electricity is produced on the surface. Most people are familiar with the facility with which the human body conducts electricity. Linen and cotton are conductors, while wool is classed with insulators, and for that reason is called an electric, or generator of electricity. When the air is clear and dry, place a person upon a stool or chair, the legs of which are supported from the floor by glass tumblers, and beat him gently on the back with a woolen or camel’s-hair shawl, and sparks may be drawn from his nose or fingers from one-fourth to three-quarters of an inch long, or large enough to light the gas of a burner or to charge a Leyden jar. Probably every reader has seen and heard electric sparks when withdrawing a woolen stocking—never when taking off a cotton one. There is no manifest electricity in the latter case, because the cotton fibre conducts it away—dissipates it.

The Sanitary Woolen System is therefore salutary for those whose bodies are deficient in animal heat and electricity. With persons leading sedentary lives, the action of the skin is deficient, and it requires the stimulating aid of the woolen clothing, which materially assists in eliminating from the tissues the excess of water and fatty matter always tending to accumulate when insufficient exercise is taken.

The System checks the tendency to congestion of blood in particular parts (as in the head—causing vertigo, headache, ringing in the ears, apoplexy, etc.; and in the chest—causing pains, asthma, coughing, etc.), and tends to prevent the setting in of lung disease, hemorrhoids, spitting of blood, and other fluxions of blood.

The System is salutary in cases of catarrh, accumulation of phlegm, fluxions and gouty affections, disorders of the digestive organs, etc.; and for nervous, hypochondriacal and hysterical persons, whose health is especially dependent on the unimpeded action of the skin. It is salutary during and after all serious illnesses, tending to alleviate the severity of the attack and to prevent relapses; and is very beneficial to persons sensitive to changes of temperature. In a word, there can be no better protection against heat, cold, wet and other atmospheric influences. It is, therefore, indispensable to people living in climates or conditions subject to sudden changes.

It is hardly possible to give too much prominence to the fact that Sanitary Woolen Clothing affords great protection to those exposed to the infection of DIPHTHERIA, CHOLERA, TYPHUS, the PLAGUE, DYSENTERY, the SMALL POX, as well as the MEASLES and CHICKEN POX; a fact which Dr. Jaeger has abundantly demonstrated on scientific ground, and with rigorous practical tests. (See "Health Culture," p. 96. Free on application.)

The Fundamentals of Dr. Jaeger's System and Theory Are :

1. Animal Wool is a material provided by Nature for the clothing of an animal body.
2. Man, therefore, can be clothed naturally or properly only in clothing of animal material.
3. Woolen Clothing exerts its beneficial influences by virtue of its non-conductivity of heat and electricity, its permeability to moisture, its attraction for air and its repulsion for water.

These properties of the Dr. Jaeger Woolen Fabrics, and their relation to the functions and exhalations of the skin, constitute the basis of the Dr. Jaeger Sanitary Woolen System.

The Distinctive Features of Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary Woolen System Are :

1. "All Wool," "All the year round," for all articles of clothing for men, women and children.
2. A highly porous fabric.
3. Rejection of all noxious dyes.
4. A cut and make that give special protection to the vital organs.

This System is so allied to man's constitution, and is so related to all the vital processes, that a full comprehension of it cannot be acquired without some knowledge of man's anatomy and physiology; and the most intelligent on these matters are the first to embrace the doctrines of the distinguished German scientist. For those who desire to understand his theories as well as to profit by his discoveries, a way is provided by his publication entitled "Health Culture"—a book replete with information, common-sense and sound reasoning, and most important practical suggestions, based on his own observations and experiments, concisely stated and unobscured by scientific technicalities. It can be had free of charge, and will amply repay even the general reader for the time given to its perusal.

Can Woolen Garments Be Made Suitable for Summer Wear?

The feeling is instinctive that woolen clothing is "hot" in warm weather; that if we wear wool in winter to keep us warm, we must wear something different in summer to keep us cool, or be inconsistent in theory and practice. But this is a mistake.

It is obvious to all how a non-conductor of heat—a woolen garment, for instance—prevents the escape of the heat of the body to a colder atmosphere, or the ingress of heat to the body from a warmer atmosphere; a familiar illustration of which is found in the practice of wrapping ourselves in blankets to keep us warm, and wrapping ice in a blanket to keep it cold—to keep the heat in in one case and out in the other. It may not be so easy to understand why we should clothe a warm body in a blanket to cool it off, or keep it cool when the temperature of the surrounding air is in or near equilibrium with it.

But the explanation lies in—

1. The nature and condition of the body;
2. The woolen fabric's twofold property of non-conductivity to heat and permeability to moisture; and

3. The evaporation of the moisture at the fabric's outer surface. This evaporation disperses the heat, thus lowering the temperature. This is the reason why the soldier keeps his woolen-covered canteen wet in hot weather. On this principle, the Central-American makes his porous, clay jar, through which the water percolates, and by surface evaporation keeps the water inside from 10° to 15° colder than the outer atmosphere. And thus it is that a wet, woolen garment disposes of the surplus heat, which causes excessive perspiration, and leaves the body cool; while a wet linen garment leaves the body cold, thus suddenly closing the "pores," stopping the exudations, and turning them back to overtask some other excretory organ, or to sow the seeds of disease in the human system.

Is it necessary or important that all the clothing next to the skin should be woolen? If all the skin were coated with varnish or plaster of Paris, death would ensue in a few hours, from the total suppression of the cuticular excretions. Can any one doubt that a partial suppression would work proportional mischief?

All articles are manufactured of the finest and purest sheep's or camel's-hair wool, WITHOUT ANY ADMIXTURE OF LINEN OR COTTON, OR TRACE OF NOXIOUS DYES. The great prevalence of the practice of adulterating woolen fabrics with cotton, and the free use of injurious dyes, make this a most important consideration. To healthy persons, the timely adoption of Dr. Jaeger's Sanatory Woolen Clothing will prove an excellent defence against bodily disorders from climatic and other influences, while its use will be attended with most beneficial results to those whose constitutions are not robust, or to those whose health is impaired:—especially to sufferers from asthma and other pulmonary complaints, affections of the chest, gout, rheumatism, disorders of the digestive organs, etc. The Sanitary Woolen System acts on such diseases by assisting the efforts of the skin to expel the morbid humors.

Woolen fabrics woven according to Dr. Jaeger's process—the garments constructed after his methods—do not deplete and weaken, but harden, toughen and invigorate. They do not irritate the skin, but soothe and comfort. They are not "hot" in warm weather, but cool in summer and warm in winter. The underwear is not coarse, rough or cumbersome, but fine, smooth and "soft as silk." Neither are these goods sticky, gummy, or retentive of offensive odors, but are, on the contrary, more cleanly, both for clothing and bedding, than any other material ever used for such purposes.

In a word, the whole tendency of the Sanitary Woolen System is to STRENGTHEN THE WEAK AND PRESERVE THE STRENGTH OF THE STRONG.

N. B.—The best proof of the truth underlying the above claims is the continued success of the Dr. Jaeger Underwear after twenty-four years of public trial—a tribute of merit which cannot be approached by any other underwear that ever claimed hygienic virtues.

“THE FRAUD DETECTED.”

SANITARY WOOLENS VERSUS FRAUDULENT IMITATIONS.

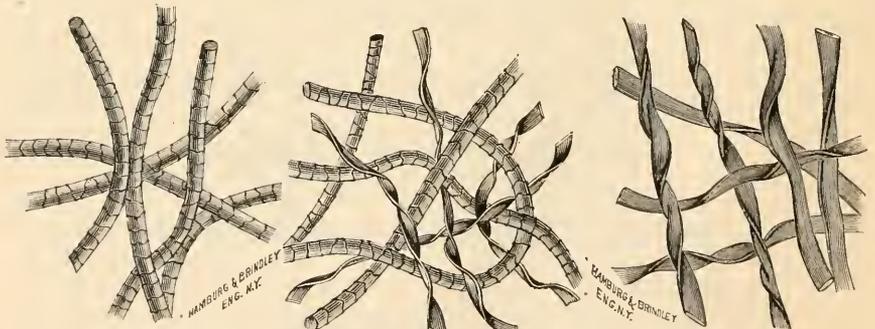

“Whenever there is put upon the market a new commodity which proves to be better than anything in the same line preceding it, and which wins its way to popular favor, it is pretty sure to have, soon, to compete with imitations. In no instance has this fact been more strikingly illustrated than in the case of the sanitary wooleens of the Jaeger System. The imitations are so numerous that it may be said their name is legion. Goods offered as all-wool ‘Jaeger’ underwear, stamped with the word ‘Normal’—the property of the Jaeger System—and purporting to come from Stuttgart, the source of the genuine Jaeger importations, with other devices calculated to deceive, can be found in almost every city of the United States. One of these has been sent to the Jaeger Sanitary Woolen System Company for analysis—the only way in which the fraud can be detected, since the ultimate fibres of the wool and cotton are combined in the same thread. This analysis is done chemically and by the microscope. Under a glass of from 300 to 500 diameter power, the Jaeger wool filaments are clearly seen to be all alike in all general characteristics. They are shown to be tubular, and cylindrical in form, and to be marked with wavy, transverse lines, denoting the imbricated scales, upon which the property of felting depends. On the other hand, the cotton fibre is tape-like, resembling a flattened tube, devoid of the cross lines, and generally somewhat twisted, like an auger. A tuft taken from the spurious article, so closely resembling the genuine that none but the most skilled expert would even suspect anything wrong, shows under the glass, the woolen and cotton fibres interlaced, in the proportion of about 33 $\frac{1}{3}$  per cent. of the latter.

“But the chemical test is by far the more striking. A remnant of the Jaeger fabric, thrown into a strong, hot solution of caustic soda, wholly disappears in a few seconds, leaving only a brownish liquid behind—the discoloration being due to the decomposition of the dark-hued wool, which, when mixed with the white, gives the ‘natural gray’ color.

“The almost pure gelatine, of which the woolen fibre is composed, is rapidly dissolved in the caustic solution, while upon the cotton fibre the solution has no appreciable effect. So, when a clipping from the imitation garment is immersed in the solution the woolen component at once disappears, leaving a patch of well-woven cotton network behind, looking very much like a piece of fine mosquito-bar.*

“The result shows not only the grossness of the fraud, but the ingenuity with which it is perpetrated.”—The Daily Standard Union, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The cuts on this page represent microscopic views of the woolen and cotton fibres as revealed in the above-described analyses.

Normal Sanatory Underclothing.

Guaranteed to be of Absolutely Pure Undyed Wool.

Manufactured by the Renowned Firm of WILH. BENDER SOEHNE, of Stuttgart, UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF DR. G. JAEGER.

No better goods were ever offered to the American public. They excel in every textile quality; in fineness of wool; in softness and delicacy of texture in various weights, from the lightest summer to the heaviest winter wear; while the peculiar mode of weaving the "Stockinet," of which they are all constructed, imparts an elasticity and freshness not to be found in any other brand.

In the manufacture of this underwear only the natural gray or white wool is used. This being undyed, and of the finest quality, it makes a garment so soft and pliable as to be not only non-irritating, but positively pleasurable to the most delicate skin.

The structure and influence of the fabric are such as to produce a glow of health on the body's surface, while the anatomical and physiological adaptation of the garments practically averts the danger of taking cold from the sudden changes so peculiar to our climate.

Moreover, the garments being made Double over the Chest and Abdomen, they afford protection at all times to the vital organs. Not only does the Jaeger Sanatory Woolen Underwear thus conduce to the general health, but it is admittedly the best all-around security yet devised against attacks of pneumonia.

We advise all who are not yet prepared to adopt the System in its entirety to make a beginning with this Jaeger Sanatory Woolen Underwear.

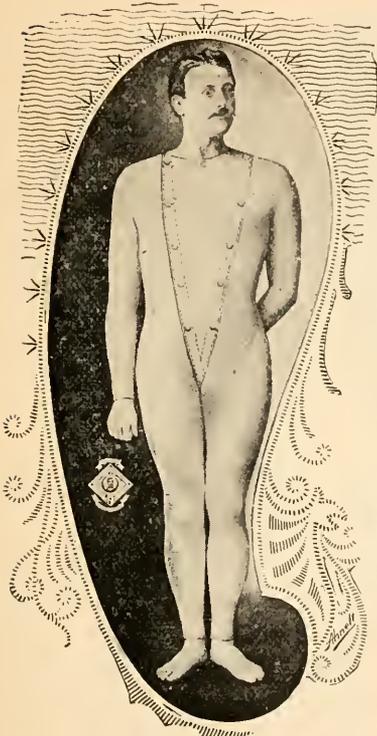

It is a STRIKING AND SIGNIFICANT FACT that CHILDREN reared under this system of clothing are far more robust and free from disease than members of the same family who wear the ordinary clothing. All persons who have the least tendency to neuralgia, rheumatism, rheumatic gout, gouty deposits in the joints, or who are debilitated from any cause, will find that the benefits derived from the use of these goods, both day and night, will be immediately apparent, and generally permanent.

Washing Directions for Taffeta Goods.

Dissolve a piece of good white soap, about the size of an egg, in a pint of boiling water. Then add about two gallons of cold water. Into this put the goods to soak from four to six hours. Then wash by drawing through the hand, squeezing the water through the garments until they are clean. Rinse in cold water till the water “shows up” clear and clean. Run through the hands or in a wringer, but never wring out by hand. Shape the garments, and hang up lengthwise to dry. Iron in the usual way while the garments are still damp.

CAUTION!

The prompt recognition by the public of the superiority of the DR. JAEGER WOOLEN UNDERCLOTHING to the flannel and other so-called woolen underwear generally made, has induced much unscrupulous imitation of the GENUINE DR. JAEGER GOODS, which, however, remain unique in their HIGH QUALITY, DURABILITY and ABSOLUTE FREEDOM FROM ADULTERATION.

Pure Woolen Underclothing of Stockinet Web and "Natural" Color was originally devised by DR. JAEGER as the most conducive to health and comfort. The Natural (i. e., undyed) gray color possesses the advantage of wearing better and shrinking less than when the woolen fibre has been deteriorated by dyeing or injured by chemical treatment.

The DR. JAEGER TRADEMARK is now recognized throughout the world as a GUARANTEE OF PURE WOOL.

DR. JAEGER'S CAMEL'S-HAIR VELOUR SLIPPERS.

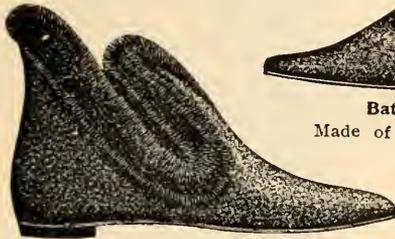

The uppers of these slippers are of undyed, pure camel's-hair. The soles are all-wool felt. This combination makes the most comfortable slipper ever designed for house-wear. They are soft, pliable and noiseless, and thus especially adapted for the sick-room, where the "squeaking" shoe is so annoying to the invalid.

Ladies' Normal Sanatory Underwear.

Guaranteed to Be of Absolutely Pure Animal Wool.

Manufactured by the Renowned Firm of WILH. BENDER SÖHNE, of Stuttgart, UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF DR. G. JAEGER.

IN NO BRANCH of the Dr. Jaeger's System has more care been taken to secure a manufacture of absolutely pure wool, and that of the finest quality, than in the department of

Ladies' Underwear.

THE BEAUTIFUL, SOFT, GRAY COLOR of these goods is obtained by combining the white with the dark sheep's wool. Thus, by the complete rejection of all noxious dyes, the pernicious, and sometimes fatal, effects incident to their use are wholly avoided, even in the case of the most delicate and sensitive infant.

THE DOUBLE THICKNESS over chest and abdomen affords special protection to the vital organs. No garments hitherto made are so agreeable to the touch; and the finely woven, elastic Stockinet material ensures a high degree of warmth even with a very thin fabric, thus avoiding the heavy and unseemly appearance inevitable with goods of a thicker fabric or of cotton and wool combined, as in merino, etc.

GREAT CAUTION should be observed in purchasing, in order to secure those goods only which are woven in accordance with Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary System, as the market is already filled with spurious goods, made from inferior wool, and woven to resemble the popular Jaeger fabric, and dyed gray in order to deceive. No goods purporting to be of the Jaeger System are genuine without our Trade-mark.

DR. JAEGER'S Ladies' Normal Sanatory Combination Suits.

No garment in the whole Sanitary System has given greater satisfaction than this Combination Suit. It is so constructed in all parts as to fit the skin like a glove, while the elasticity of the soft Stockinet and its fine texture prevent any perceptible increase of size, at the same time imparting grace and elegance to the form.

In addition to regular stock as per illustrations, we can also supply the following:

THE VALUE OF THE JAEGER TRADE-MARK.

All genuine Jaeger Goods are stamped with this Trade-mark, containing Dr. Jaeger's portrait and his signature as follows:

Prof. Dr. G. Jaeger

The JAEGER Trade-mark guarantees Pure Wool, in place of Wool frequently mixed with from 25 to 75 per cent. of Cotton or other cheap and inferior adulterants; it also guarantees that the stockinet underwear is made of undyed "Natural" yarns, in place of yarns dyed to look like "Natural" color.

It makes a successful stand against the Dishonesty of Adulteration, and is accepted by the general public as a guarantee against adulteration—a proof that Honesty is the Best Policy.

Adulterated and otherwise inferior Imitations of the garments designed and popularized by Dr. JAEGER are offered by unscrupulous traders as "JAEGER" goods; and as Cotton is much less costly than Wool, the mixture can be sold more cheaply than the pure material, which, however, is far more healthy, comfortable and economical in the end.

The penalties for imitating a Trade-mark are so severe that the Public may rely on the genuineness of underwear which bears the above Brand; and the JAEGER Company venture to appeal to consumers, in their own interest and in that of commercial honesty, to note and make use of this certain means of detecting and rejecting SPURIOUS so-called "JAEGER" underwear.

DR. JAEGER'S Infants', Children's and Youths' Normal Sanatory Underwear.

However neglectful of themselves, there are but few parents who are not watchful for the well-being of their children. For their little ones the very best is never any too good. This is one of the cases in which the heart is wiser than the head. The solicitude is rightly directed. Affection marshals them the way they should go. As the twig (of health) is bent, the tree's inclined. The mother's heart, above all, never ceases to take care. And in no respect can that care be better bestowed than upon the question: Wherewithal shall they be clothed? The little new-comer is born to its clothes. And that is as it should be. The right beginning should be at the beginning. The first raiment should be of the right material and in the right form. Away with your belts and bandages, wrappings, swathings and swaddlings, that confine the limbs, cramp the ribs and compress the bowels of the helpless sufferers.

When mothers come to realize what Dr. Jaeger has done for the deliverance of their little ones from the bands, bonds and tortures of the old methods, by his fine, pure, soft, wool, elastic, seamless INFANTS' BANDAGES; his CHILDREN'S VESTS, DRAWERS, COMBINATION SUITS, NIGHT DRESSES and SLEEPING COMBINATION SUITS—when they have once learned to appreciate these things they will rise up and call him blessed. The man who, in the last quarter of the nineteenth century, has "revolutionized clothing" is, par excellence, the benefactor of the babies.

INFANTS' UNDERWEAR.

For very little children, say from six months to one year, the Infants' Vest, which is made double-front by overlapping the entire length, is indispensable. No buttons are used.

INFANTS' BANDAGE.

This is an invaluable substitute for the cumbrous wrappings usually employed. It gives ample support to the frail little body, and, by virtue of its elasticity, adapts itself to the movements of the delicate abdominal muscles. The child is free from the old-fashioned tortures, and the mother from the torment of those mysterious moans and crying spells. The little bandage, illustrated by the figure, is a boon to mother and babe and the whole household.

Normal Sanatory Beddings, Blankets, Etc.

In summer the woolen covering permits the body to evaporate its surplus moisture, which linen bedding would retain; while in winter, when the body has no surplus heat, the non-heat-conducting properties of wool render it greatly superior to the chilly linen. Moreover, damp wool will not chill, while damp linen or cotton sheets are cold, chilly and a constant source of discomfort and danger.

THE BLANKETS AND LAP ROBES are made of the finest quality of undyed, natural brown camel's-hair.

Dr. Jaeger states :

“The advantage of the natural brown coverlets consists in their freedom from all artificial dye; this I personally guarantee. They therefore attract less dirt and evil odors, and secure a more undisturbed sleep.”

Camel's-hair Wool Blankets are especially to be recommended to nervous persons and sufferers from sleeplessness.

These Blankets and Lap Robes may, therefore, be considered as invaluable to all who adopt the Sanitary Woolen System of Dr. G. Jaeger, and they will be found of the greatest use to travelers (protecting against damp and unclean beds) and sportsmen, as well as for driving and for carriage rugs.

All the blankets manufactured for us, under instructions from Dr. Jaeger, are of Pure Camel's-Hair, Natural Color.

PURE CAMEL'S-HAIR PILLOWS.

DIRECTIONS FOR WASHING JAEGER GOODS.

Do Not Boil Nor Rub.

Iron While Still Damp.

Woolen garments should be washed separately, and not with linen or other goods. They should be placed in warm water in which good soap has been boiled. To about every six gallons of water add from three to five tablespoonfuls of liquid ammonia, which removes grease deposited by perspiration.

Never begin to wash wooleens unless they can be finished right off. Do not leave them to soak, but work them about, pressing through hands, and not rubbing. Pass them through wringer, and rinse twice in clean water, passing again through wringer. Stretch to shape and hang up lengthwise to dry, avoiding severe change of temperature. Iron when half dry, and stretch to proper size while under iron.

An alternative mode, highly recommended, is the COLD-WATER METHOD.

Dissolve a piece of good white soap in a pint of boiling water; add about two gallons of cold water and a tablespoonful of liquid ammonia. Into this put the goods to soak. The after treatment to be exactly the same as the warm-water method.

If the above directions are followed, the Dr. Jaeger Natural-Wool Underwear will not shrink.

N. B.—Ammonia should not be used for DYED materials.

---

Do not use Lye, "Washing Soda," "Javel Water," or cheap "Washing Powders," as they are liable to injure the fabric.

---

JAEGER AMMONIA SOAP, which combines ammonia in the proper proportion, is the best. It is supplied by the Company, at 40c. PER 2-LB. TIN CAN.

---

NOTE.—Experience has shown that the shrinking of Woolen Clothing is influenced by the nature of the perspiration given off by the wearer.
