> Eight TEM-3s of VC-85, led by Lieutenant D. A. BLOCK, USMR, and eight FM-2s of VC-85, took off to strike targets on Okinawa Shima. This group was accompanied by Lieutenant J. A. RUSH, USNR, who acted as Air-Coordinator, in an FM-2.

This group from VC-85 rendezvoused with 4 FM-2s of VC-94 and reported on station to Commander Air Support Control Unit.

The target assigned was several fuel tanks located in the hills about 3000 yards west of the town of Yonabaru and 2000 yards south of Shuri Town. Three tanks were sighted by Lieutenant Kush and he directed the attack.

The group expended their load in the assigned area. Three large fires were started from direct bomb hits on the tanks.

The Air-Coordinator reported the area well saturated with bombs and rockets. He also reported light anti-aircraft fire in the area and a burst of fuzed shells was observed from time to time some distance away. However, no planes were damaged and all returned safely to base.
