APR 26 48 DEPARTMENT

MRS. MARSHALL E. CORNETTRepublican, Candidate for National Committeewoman

In filing my declaration of candidacy for National Committeewoman of the Republican Party I am making my first effort to hold public office.

I am a duly registered member of the Republican Party and have served same in various ways for many years. I have been a resident of Oregon since 1921 and a resident and property holder in Klamath Falls continuously since 1926. I have been an active participant in community affairs and in church work, being a member of the Baptist Church; have been instrumental in the organization of various groups of junior business women; have held numerous offices and chairmanships in Business and Professional Women's Clubs and in the Soroptimist Club; member American Legion Auxiliary; served as chaplain of Zuleima Temple and as president of the Klamath Falls Nile Club during 1946-47; have served as advisor of Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi since 1941. Have had thirty years experience as office manager, bookkeeper, secretary, covering both legal and commercial connections.

It is my belief that my business experience qualifies me to serve the Republican Party and the State of Oregon capably and efficiently. If elected I pledge myself to serve the Republican Party to the best of my ability.

I believe that with the privilege of voting which was granted to women there was placed upon them the obligation to participate in the regulation of law and order. As the pioneer women were influential in the establishment of schools and churches and the betterment of living conditions, so has womanhood, throughout this past century, continued to be influential, not only in the home but in society, in business, in country and for God. I believe in the cooperation of every Republican, young and old alike, in order that the party may carry to a successful conclusion its efforts to put into office leaders of integrity, with high ideals and trustworthy efficiency, so that we may return to a basis of sound business administration, worthy of the foundation established by our forefathers.

I shall at all times work toward that end and the aims and purposes of the Republican Party.

In honor of our Centennial year I shall adopt as my slogan: "I pledge allegiance to our pioneer women and to their highest ideals."

HENRY BLACK

Republican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

I believe that the Republican candidate for President of the United States should be pledged to issue a proclamation declaring the war at an end, thereby abolishing all boards, bureaus and regulations based upon the war powers of the President, and to make peace with any country in accordance with the law and customs of nations without our interfering in their economic or political affairs. Also, to make a reduction of income taxes with a high enough exemption to cover the living costs of the average family.

I believe that our future happiness and safety can best be served by a return to the ways of our yesterdays—those of Franklin, Washington, and Jefferson—and to bring this about that we should submit to the states the following Constitutional amendments:

(a) Prohibiting the Federal government from loaning or giving any of the moneys or credit of the people of the United States to any other government, foreign or domestic, or any political subdivision thereof, but leaving each citizen free to do as they see fit with their own money.

(b) Compelling a disbursal of the large land holdings of the Federal and State Governments; also of private and religious corporations.

(c) Provide for an exchange of the privileges of citizenship with the people of Canada, thereby making Canada and the United States one country insofar as the people are concerned. Also, arrange for a tariff union with Canada, making unnecessary the present border patrol.

If I am elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention, my first choice for President of the United States will be for Henry Black, myself, and second choice for Bricker, Dewey, or Taft. Also, I favor the following statesmen for the President's Cabinet: Colonel Robert R. McCormick, Publisher of the Chicago Tribune, for Secretary of State; Representative Harold Knutson, Secretary of the Treasury; General Douglas MacArthur, Secretary of War; Senator John W. Bricker, Attorney General; C. E. Wilson of General Motors Corporation, Postmaster General; Harold E. Stassen, Secretary of the Navy; Earl Warren, Secretary of the Interior; Morton Tompkins, of the Oregon State Grange, Secretary of Agriculture; Robert R. Young of Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Secretary of Commerce; and Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Secretary of Labor.

The above statement constitutes my platform on which I am asking for your vote May 21st. Also, if you approve of the things I stand for, please write in my name as your choice for President or Vice President of the United States.

HENRY BLACK

(This information furnished by Henry Black)

RICHARD DEICHRepublican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

I hereby submit to you my candidacy for delegate at large to the Republican National Convention to be held at Philadelphia, June 21st, 1948, to select the Republican Party candidates for President and Vice President in the National election next November.

I believe in reduction of taxes, economy in Government expenses and that we should materially reduce the two hundred and fifty billion dollar mortgage placed on our homes by the administration in the last fifteen years.

I have been a Republican all my life, more than fifty years spent in Oregon. I served with Oregon men overseas in the Spanish-American War. I served a number of years in the Oregon National Guard, and during World War I commanded the Oregon Military Police under appointment of Governor James Withycombe, a republican. I am a former Judge of the Municipal Court of Portland, Oregon. A former Judge of District and County Courts of Multnomah County, and served several years as a Deputy City Attorney of Portland, and Deputy District Attorney of Multnomah County, Oregon; also, one regular session and two special sessions of the Oregon State Legislature in the lower house, at all times being elected or appointed as a republican. I am quite well acquainted with Oregon needs and desires, and if elected I will vote for Oregon Republicans' choice as expressed at the polls for the nomination of President and Vice President.

In conclusion I can honestly say that no one has urged me to become a candidate for this office, and so far, no one has objected.

I await the outcome with equanimity.

SLOGAN

"Common Sense Administration of our National Affairs."

J. O. JOHNSON

Republican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

If elected to represent you at the National Convention, I will comply with the law by casting my vote for the candidate who may receive the largest number of votes. I do not believe, however, that you wish a delegate to blindly support that candidate unless, at the time the convention convenes, such candidate has a chance of being nominated AND ELECTED by the people.

I am opposed to the nomination of Senator Taft, as I do not believe, notwithstanding his exceptional qualifications, that Oregonians would approve him as our candidate. Your vote for me as one of the delegates will be an order to oppose his nomination and to nominate the best qualified candidate from the standpoint of leadership.

Our platform should provide "Less intrusion of Federal Government into local and State affairs." "Oppose the dole, subsidy, and government operation of business, because it stifles initiative and progress."

"The least governed are the best governed."

J. O. JOHNSON

J. O. Johnson, a native Oregonian, lawyer, legislator, businessman and veteran, is well informed and qualified to represent Oregon at the National Convention. He is a State Representative from Washington County; President of Tigard Businessmen's Club; Secretary of Tigard Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; member of the Oregon Consistory-Scottish Rite; Past Commander of American Legion Posts; Past President of Tigard Lions Club; and a member of the Portland Chamber of Commerce; Washington County and Portland Realty Boards; Multnomah Athletic Club; Multnomah and Washington County Bar Associations; Portland Association of Insurance Agents and Tigard Grange.

CHARLES L. PAINE

Republican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

The right Dark Horse will make a good Republican President.

If I am elected as a delegate, I will use my best effort to bring about the nomination of those persons for President, and Vice President who receive the largest number of votes in our Primary Nominating Election.

If the convention deadlocks with Oregon's delegates released, I will support Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan who is really no dark horse.

Charles L. Paine will exert his effort to have the Republican platform include these features:

1. Continue complete rehabilitation for our service men.
2. Guarantee future peace without surrendering our sovereignty—we should cooperate with other nations to secure and maintain lasting peace.
3. Promote prosperity with a foreign and domestic policy that will promote industry and agriculture.
4. Supply the tax program based upon ability to pay.
5. Utilization of our water resources under comprehensive planning for power, irrigation, navigation, and flood control.
6. Include all groups of citizens under a decent retirement pension plan.

My Slogan is: Vandenberg—if Dewey or Stassen release—Peace—Pay-as-you-go—Pensions.

RAY SMITH

Republican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

To the Republican Voters of Oregon:

I respectfully announce my candidacy for election as delegate at large to the Republican National Convention.

I was born in Portland, Oregon, on March 10th, 1908, and have resided here all my life.

I have taken an active part in the work of the Republican Party for many years, serving as a precinct committeeman and as a member of the Board of the Multnomah Chapter of the Oregon Republican Club. I was President of the Multnomah Chapter in 1945 and 1946. At Gearhart, Oregon, in September 1947, I was elected State President of the Oregon Republican Club and am now serving in that capacity.

I am secretary of Portland Aerie #4, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and am a member of the Elks, Masons, and Al

Kader Temple of the Shrine, Woodmen of the World and Maccabees.

I am President of the Portland Basketball Association, Vice President of the Oregon Amateur Athletic Association, and Chairman of the National Softball Championships which will be held in Portland in September 1948.

If elected, amongst other things, I shall work for a platform pledging the Republican Party to restore constitutional government in America; to promote the reclamation, irrigation, and power development projects so vital to the prosperity of the West; for every necessary measure to insure a strong national defense; for all measures necessary to encourage private enterprise and to eliminate government competition with private business.

RAY SMITH

TALMADGE (JACK) STALEYRepublican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

Mr. Talmadge (Jack) Staley, owner and operator of Holgate Farms at Portland, Oregon. Holgate Farms sold over $1,480,000 worth of agricultural products during 1947, and expect to pass the $2,000,000 mark this year. This tremendous volume of business only goes to prove that the people of Oregon and our good neighbors across the Columbia river are getting sick and tired of being misled by trickery advertising and seeing their dollars gobbled up by Wall Street. Every cent derived from profits at Holgate Farms is given to church or charitable organizations or reinvested in Holgate Farms.

I was born in North Wilksboro, North Carolina, in 1897 and my family moved to Nevada in 1904. Here, I received my schooling and graduated from high school before moving to Oregon in 1917 to enter into business life, which consisted of livestock and agriculture on wholesale and retail merchandising.

My family consists of wife, grown son and daughter. My public and community service consists of financial help to Shrine Hospital, Central Christian Church, and different charitable organizations, besides belonging to the Masonic lodge; my interests are directed mostly on a prideful achievement of business success and my hopes and purposes are to put the G. O. P. Party on top, with our slogan of "A Vote for Staley is a Vote for Dewey".

LAMAR TOOZE

Republican, Candidate for Delegate at Large to the National Convention

To the Republican Voters of Oregon:

At the Primary Election, you will select four delegates from the state at large to the 1948 Republican National Convention. On behalf of Lamar Tooze, we respectfully solicit your vote for him for one of those positions.

Mr. Tooze was born at Woodburn, Oregon, February 4, 1895; obtained his elementary education in the public schools of Woodburn and Falls City, and graduated from the University of Oregon in 1916. He entered Harvard Law School in the fall of 1916 but left in May, 1917, to join the Army. He served overseas in World War I in France and Belgium as an infantry lieutenant of the Ninety-First Division, participating in four battles. He reentered Harvard Law School in 1919 and graduated in 1921. Admitted to the Oregon bar the same year, he commenced his practice at McMinnville with the law firm of Vinton & Tooze, later removing to Portland where he is now a member of the law firm of Cake, Jaureguy & Tooze. In April of 1941 Mr. Tooze was recalled to military service and served overseas in France, Belgium and Germany as Assistant Inspector General of Hodge's First Army, participating in five battles, including the Battle of the Bulge. He returned to his law practice in Portland in October, 1945. Mr. Tooze is a life-long Republican from a pioneer Republican family. He has been a precinct committeeman for many years, was the first President of Multnomah Chapter, Oregon Republican Club, and served two terms as State President of Oregon Republican Club.

Mr. Tooze is married and is the father of three children. He is a member of Salem Lodge No. 50, A. F. & A. M.; Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E.; American Legion; Military Order of the World Wars; Reserve Officers Association; and Portland City Club.

Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS

District No. 1, Oregon

Dewey, Taft, Stassen, Warren, MacArthur, Martin, and Vandenberg, all are potential Republican candidates for the nomination to head the Republican ticket.

The right combination of candidates is important to carry the necessary votes to win.

The candidates nominated must be such as to cause a shift of some three to five million voters who have gone over to the Democrats in the past sixteen years.

The platform must be patterned to fit into the present American way of life, without special favor to any particular group.

The delegates to the convention are important if we are to select the winning team at the forthcoming national election.

I am a candidate for delegate from the First Congressional District to the Republican National Convention—a Republican from the cradle up; have lived in Corvallis since 1914, and am a practicing physician.

R. L. ELFSTROM
Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

To the Republican voters of the State of Oregon:

If elected as delegate to the National convention, your choice for President shall guide my vote as long as there is a reasonable chance of his nomination.

I would like to see returned to the states those activities and functions of government intended by the constitution.

The Republican party is embarking on a liberal platform to encourage private industry with less government in business. The public must be protected from ruinous taxes. I believe we can continue full production by dealing fairly with labor, agriculture and industry alike.

I believe my record of business and civic administration is your best assurance of my intent and endeavor. I am actuated solely to serve in the interests of our form of government, minus the abuses of the past several years.

My background is as follows:

Mayor of your Capital City; President of the League of Oregon Cities; Trustee of Willamette University; Director of Salem Chamber of Commerce; Trustee of Westminster Foundation, Elder of First Presbyterian Church of Salem; immediate past President of the Cascade Area Boy Scouts of America; Director of Salem Y. M. C. A., Community Chest of Salem General Hospital; owner and manager of the R. L. Elfstrom Company since 1932; member of Phi Delta Theta; Mason; Shrine; Elk; past President of Salem Rotary Club. Married Hulda Roth of Salem in 1928 and have two children, Robert L., Jr. and Patricia.

The Republican party has a great post war opportunity and responsibility. With a straightforward, businesslike platform and a strong, dynamic candidate, it can rise to new greatness.

Your support is earnestly solicited.

HOGG, native Oregonian, was born on a farm in Clackamas County near Oregon City, Oregon; attended public schools at Park Place, Oregon; started work at an early age at the Oregon City Paper Mill and Woolen Mill; later learning his apprenticeship in the furniture business and in 1913 with his brothers, organized the firm of HOGG BROTHERS—Furniture, Hardware, and Major Appliances, operating in Salem and Oregon City.

He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, serving in World War I, a member of the American Legion, and prominently known throughout the State for his leadership in civic affairs. He served three consecutive years as President of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, was past President and Campaign Director of the Salem Community Chest, and in 1939 was appointed by Governor Sprague to serve as a member of the Experience Rating Council of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

At present, he is treasurer of the Willamette Valley Project Committee, President of the Oregon 99 Highway Association, Oregon Vice-president of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Cascade Area Boy Scouts. Carl is also a member of the Elks Lodge, the Eagles Lodge, and the Kiwanis Club. In connection with this activity, he was a recent delegate to the Businessmen's Conference on Urban Problems in Washington, D. C. sponsored by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hogg and his wife, Winifred, reside at 2185 South High St., Salem, Oregon. His long experience and service in civic endeavors of his State qualify him as a delegate to represent the citizens of Oregon in helping to select the next President of the United States.

He further believes that at no time in the history of the nation has it been more necessary for the source of the leadership of our country to be rooted in the fundamental principles that made this nation great, and that the citizens share a grave responsibility in selecting a chief executive with the courage and vision to safeguard our liberties and maintain therefrom, as much as possible, our free economy.

FREDERICK S. LAMPORT

Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

SLOGAN: Fearless and impartial.

No interests to serve but the public's interests.

I was born in the city of Salem, Oregon, where I have resided all of my life, and am now engaged in the practice of law. I am a member of the American Legion, having served in World War No. 1, and when this country entered World War No. 2, I was Chairman of the Marion County War Bond Committee and sold millions of dollars worth of U. S. War Bonds, and in recognition of my services I was awarded a personal citation together with a medallion from the Secretary of the United States Treasury.

It occurs to me that our nation is now at the very crossroads of destiny. It is vital to our survival that we establish a definite foreign policy, backed up with the entire resources of this country, and with a fixed and firm determination to succeed, or else we may elapse into history as a lost civilization.

We lack leadership in the White House, and the present incumbent must be replaced with a man to whom the people of America can and will look with confidence and abiding faith. I sincerely believe that fate has decreed that the Republican party at this time will produce such a man who has the ability to lead our country out of the wilderness, and who will restore confidence and stability in the American way of life.

Let us return to freedom of individual enterprise and restore to Congress the exclusive power to make laws, and thereby abolish useless commissions.

We must keep faith with the ex-service man, and live up to the promises made them, as to decent and adequate housing within their ability to pay.

Our senior citizens are entitled to compensation sufficient to enable them to enjoy the reasonable comforts of life, and the revenue necessary therefor should not be dependent on the proceeds derived from the sale of alcoholic liquor.

I represented Marion County in the Senate of the State of Oregon for the 1943 and 1945 sessions of the legislature and many of the bills that I introduced and worked for are now on the statute books of the State of Oregon.

I was a delegate to the national convention in the year 1940 and put forth my best efforts to nominate for President my life long friend and associate, the late Senator Charles L. McNary, and finally succeeded in having him nominated as a candidate for Vice-President.

Based upon my experience, I would again like to be one of the delegates to the National Convention, and would be pleased to receive your vote.

JOHN R. LATOURETTE

Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

To the Republican Voters of the First Congressional District:

As a lifelong Republican I am submitting my name to the Republican Voters as a delegate to the Republican National Convention from the First Congressional District.

I was born in Oregon City in 1886 of pioneer parentage, and attended grammar and high school there; graduated from the University of Oregon and studied law at Columbia University in New York City; was admitted to the Bar in 1908, since which time I have been practicing law with my brother, Howard Latourette. I also operate my own farm in Clackamas County.

I was elected to the Oregon Legislature on the Republican ticket in 1912; served as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House and led the fight for the Workmen's Compensation Act in the session of 1913. Several years later, I served as Treasurer and Manager in the successful campaign of the late United States Senator, Frederick W. Steiwer.

I believe that the Republican party is the party of progress and, with few exceptions, has given this country a sound, honest and efficient administration. The need of the hour is a Republican president, sound in domestic economy, vigilant in the interests of the American people and broadgauged but wise and courageous in our foreign affairs. I will support the choice of the Republican voters of Oregon.

JOHN R. LATOURETTE

FRANCIS E. MARSH

Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

If elected as a delegate to the Republican National Convention, I will vote for your choice for President and Vice-President of the United States so long as there is a reasonable chance of their being nominated.

I was born in Decorah, Iowa, June 17, 1900, and moved to Oregon in 1918. I attended the University of Oregon and graduated from the Law School of the University of Washington in June, 1923. I served two years as District Attorney of Jefferson County, Oregon, and three and one-half years as Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Oregon.

I have resided in McMinnville, Oregon, for thirteen years and have practiced law with my twin brother, Eugene E. Marsh, during all of this time.

I have always been a registered Republican and have served on the Republican County Central Committee of Yamhill County, Oregon, and have consistently voted for the Republican ticket. I have been on the Board of Governors of the Oregon State Bar, and President for one year.

I believe in our Constitutional form of government, the preservation of which depends upon active opposition to socialistic and communistic theories; a firm stand against Russian aggression; economy in government spending; curtailment of bureaucratic extravagant agencies; elimination of labor strife bringing benefits to employer, employee, and the public alike; reduction of the income tax and the maintenance of individual enterprise in business, industry, and agriculture.

I am married and have two sons, one twenty-one years of age now attending the University of Oregon, and the other nineteen years of age, and both served in the armed forces during World War II. I am a member of the American Legion, Masonic Lodge, Elks, and the Episcopal Church.

MRS. JAMES W. MOTT

Republican, Candidate for Delegate to the National Convention,
First Congressional District

A Republican Women's Committee presents the name of Ethel Mott, widow of the late James W. Mott, who so ably served this same district in Congress for 13 years. Long a participant with her distinguished husband in the national affairs of the Republican party, Mrs. Mott is conversant with policies and issues that will come before the convention. She is acquainted with national leaders of the party, a number of whom will be candidates before the convention for President and Vice President. She is well aware of the needs of the State.

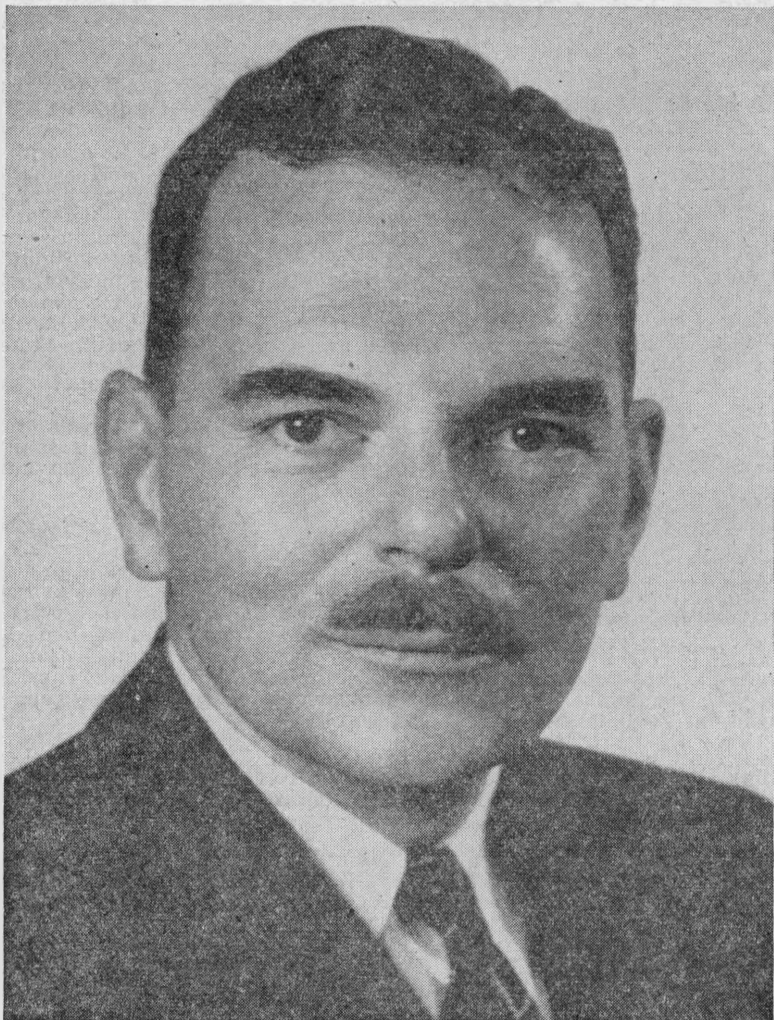

It is because of these qualifications and the need of the women of Oregon being represented at the convention that the Republican Women's Committee urges Republicans of the district to elect Mrs. Mott a delegate.

Mrs. Mott's ancestors were pioneers of 1847. She was born in 1894 in Zena, the daughter of Jesse D. and Cora Walling of Polk County. She owns and operates a farm, a filbert and cherry acreage at Zena. Mrs. Mott acquired her education in Oregon schools and Oregon State College. She has two married daughters: Mrs. John Sullivan and Mrs. Benjamin Whisenand; also Beverly James Mott who attends school in Salem. Her two sons-in-law both served in World War II.

Mrs. Mott is a member of the Presbyterian Church, American Legion Auxiliary, Chairman Public Relations Committee of Camp Fire Girls of Marion County and a member of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs.

Mesdames: George T. Gerlinger, John Y. Richardson, Portland; H. E. Hutchens, Marion Allen, Astoria; Bertha Giltner, Forest Grove; H. H. Stannard, Hillsboro; C. M. Woodruff, James Hedric, Theo. Roshalt, Ina Hix, Carl Sutton, P. M. Brandt, Corvallis; Earl J. Schuster, George R. Goodrich, L. R. Case, Irving Smith Jr., Wellington Pollock, M. H. Paynter, R. N. Republican Convention.

THOMAS E. DEWEYRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for President of the United States*DEWEY—AN AMERICAN LEADER

In every public office he has held, Thomas E. Dewey has given the kind of courageous leadership the American people crave today. As Governor of New York—the second most important administrative job in the nation—he has been a leader in progressive government. His record of accomplishment is a story of getting things done.

TAX CUTS

One of Governor Dewey's most phenomenal contributions to good government has been his sound fiscal policy. He has been able to cut taxes, build up surpluses and at the same time render state services that make the New York government the most progressive in history.

In four years he reduced the New York State debt by $136,000,000 or 27 per cent.

Under Governor Dewey taxpayers saved $780,400,000 through reduction of regular state taxes, mostly since the war. The personal income tax was cut 40 per cent and business income taxes were cut 25 per cent.

A $623,000,000 surplus was built up in four years and has since been appropriated to make up for ten years of neglect of hospitals, highways and other State obligations.

New York State's appropriations in the fiscal year 1947-1948 totaled $746,000,000. Of this $340,000,000 was for state purposes and $406,000,000 was returned to the communities of the State in State aids.

State aid to local governments has been increased by almost two-thirds under Governor Dewey.

The State income tax was humanized under Dewey to allow for deductions for medical expenses and life insurance payments and to include college students over 18 as dependents.

The Dewey Administration has put the State on a pay-as-you-go basis in its construction program. No new indebtedness for construction will be incurred except for State loans to localities for low rent housing.

BUSINESS GROWTHS

Governor Dewey has made the economic climate of New York State increasingly favorable to business growth and job opportunity.

The corporation tax and the unincorporated business tax were cut 25 per cent, effecting a tax saving of $80,000,000 in two years.

A special campaign to aid small business resulted in an increase of 130,000 in the number of business firms in the State since V-J Day. Governor Dewey set up a practical program of individual assistance to small businessmen and to men and women starting a business of their own.

HELPS TO LABOR

The Dewey record that established a good economic climate for business also helped labor.

Over a million more people are employed in New York State today than were employed in 1939. The work week is shorter than during the war, but average net weekly earnings are higher than wartime peak.

Of the 6,751 cases handled by the State Labor Relations Board in the years 1943-1947, a total of 5,718—or approximately 85 per cent—were settled without necessity of a formal hearing.

By laws enacted under Governor Dewey, workers are protected in their right to employment regardless of religious creed, race or national origin, and women workers in New York State are paid on an equal basis with men for equal work. Workers get increased benefits in workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance and minimum wages.

FARM LEADERSHIP

New York State is a leading agricultural area and ranks second in the nation in dairy products produced. Governor Dewey is convinced that "no program for American agriculture is workable or can be successful unless that program has the full benefit of the experience and know-how of actual farmers." Since Dewey became Governor, the State has adopted more than 90 per cent of the recommendations of the State Conference Board of Farm Organizations. On Governor Dewey's recommendation, the State assumed all costs of rights-of-way and snow removal for State highways, saving millions of dollars to rural taxpayers.

To meet the current food crisis, he created a Food Commission that is helping farmers to save grain while maintaining production.

Governor Dewey believes in abundant production and opposes what he calls the New Deal's policy of "collapsing the farmer" as a remedy for economic collapse.

VETERANS PROGRAM

Long before the end of the war, Governor Dewey was building up an extensive program to help the returning veterans. More than one million veterans have benefited from these services.

New York State has provided 8,581 apartments for veterans and their families, in addition to housing for veteran college students, numbering 20,000.

To provide for veterans' education, New York State established 4,800 new scholarships for veterans, each worth $350 a year for four years. Because of the foresight of the Governor in a program worked out with 87 college presidents, New York State colleges and universities were able to increase their enrollment by 100 per cent over prewar figures. More than 11,800 veterans were accommodated in three G. I. colleges converted from military installations.

Governor Dewey's Small Business Expansion Plan has offered aid and counsel to veterans and war workers planning to start their own businesses.

HOUSING AND RENT CONTROL

New York is the most active of all the states in the field of slum clearance and public housing for families of low income. By December 1, 1947, the State had lent or contracted to lend $237,322,700 for 38 public housing projects to provide homes for almost 160,000 persons. In addition, the State will make cash payments up to $13,000,000 a year, to maintain rents in the public housing developments as low as $7 to $8.50 per room per month, including hot water, heat, electricity and gas.

Due to Dewey's leadership New York was the only state with state rent control when O. P. A. lapsed in the summer of 1946. While rents shot up in other parts of the country, New York held the line until Federal Rent Control was restored.

LEADERSHIP IN EDUCATION

In the last four years state aid for education in New York State has been increased by 80 per cent.

Recognizing that a good education system requires well-paid teachers, Governor Dewey sponsored raises in teachers' salaries and provided state funds for 83 per cent of the total increase.

Vast increases were made in state scholarship, and a Dewey-appointed commission is paving the way for the first State university in New York's history.

Five institutes for vocational training have been established offering two-year courses beyond high school.

Thomas E. Dewey's record as Governor of New York State is ample evidence of his ability to provide the kind of good government which the people of the United States need and which they will demand in November, 1948.

DEWEY FOR PRESIDENT COMMITTEE

RALPH D. MOORES, Manager

HAROLD E. STASSEN

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for President of the United States

HAROLD STASSEN'S WESTERN APPEAL: Harold Stassen comes from an environment that has wide appeal in the West. Born and reared on a farm, he came up the hard way, with deep interest in the men who work. Essentially a builder, he possesses an infinite faith in the future of America and its resources. With the outlook of a Westerner, as one paper has said, he has noted with appreciation the rapid development of Oregon and other states in this area in recent years, envisioned a greater progress for the future and committed himself to measures that will contribute to this growth.

(This information furnished by Oregon Stassen for President Committee)

OREGON'S FUTURE: Development of power and reclamation resources, reforestation, revision of federal land policies and other measures which are of so much concern to the people of Oregon as they face the coming years will have his sympathetic interest and support. Power and reclamation development, he will regard, not as a government expense, but an investment for the future in a new and expanding country, sure to return dividends in new jobs and opportunities.

WHY STASSEN FILED IN OREGON: Upon filing in Oregon's primary as a candidate for the Republican nomination for President, Harold Stassen made clear his position on major issues. He set forth as highlights of his campaign:

1. The development of the resources of the Pacific Northwest through reclamation, hydro-electric power, flood control, and reforestation should be carried forward rapidly and efficiently.

2. Two members of the next Republican Cabinet should come from the eleven Western states and one of these should be the new Secretary of the Interior.

3. Our American economy should be kept free, and alert action should be taken by government to avoid high price booms and depression busts, and a humanitarian concern for the welfare of the people should be fundamental in government policy.

4. So long as the rulers of Russia follow their present obstructionist tactics, shipments of machine tools and electrical machinery and apparatus to Russia should be stopped.

5. The United Nations should be strengthened through a charter amending convention.

STASSEN—AS FARMER AND STUDENT: Harold Stassen's father and mother were thrifty, hard-working pioneers, of Scandinavian, German and Czech descent, in a little farming community near St. Paul, typical of the sturdy stock that helped so much to build the West. Harold, growing up on the farm, did all the tasks of the usual farm boy and looked ahead and planned. Taking jobs nights as a grease boy in a bakery, sleeping car conductor, whatever he could get, he worked his way through the University and soon was county attorney of his county.

STASSEN—AS GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA: In a few years he was Governor of Minnesota, dealing with new and complicated problems with such abilities that the nation's Governors twice chose him as their chairman. He abolished the old spoils system that had prevailed in Minnesota and, with the cooperation of the Legislature, placed state employees on a basis of merit. He put through an act providing for a business manager for the state, with wide powers to control spending and prevent deficits, and placed at its head, men who could run the state on a business basis. Under his administration:

State debt was cut $39,445,000.

Expenditures of the state government were reduced $13,459,000.

The state tax on farms, homes and other property went down 45%.

Yet, because of the economies effected, increased funds were made available for schools, welfare and other vital services.

STASSEN—AS LABOR MODERATOR: Stassen tackled the tough problem of labor disputes. Possessing an innate sense of fairness and an unusual ability to reconcile differences and get people to work together, Stassen induced the Legislature to pass a constructive labor peace law during his first term as Governor in 1939 and showed that the state can, with a good law and honest administration, promote the peaceful settlement of labor disputes. Instead of conflict and turmoil, representatives of management and labor found that they could sit down around a table, through the conciliation plan provided in this act, and work out a solution of their disputes. Men going on strike in Minnesota dropped 70% after adoption of this plan while strike losses in the nation were going up 90%.

STASSEN—AS OVERSEAS VETERAN: Deeply concerned about the threat to liberties everywhere in the wars engulfing the globe, Stassen made a characteristic decision. He resigned the governorship of Minnesota a few months after starting his third term, so that he might join others of his generation at the front, and soon was in active service as an assistant to Admiral Halsey. His courage, calmness and capacity for leadership exhibited itself in this new role, as in civilian life, and he was cited repeatedly for outstanding performance during Pacific naval battles.

STASSEN—AS UNITED NATIONS DELEGATE: While still in active service with Halsey, Stassen was called back to this country to participate in one of the biggest tasks ever undertaken by men. As one of the five American delegates to the United Nations conference, he helped to write the charter upon which millions of peoples everywhere have pinned hope for a world of peace. Press correspondents, watching his work, voted him one of the two outstanding delegates at the conference.

STASSEN'S AIM—NO MORE HARD TIMES FOR FARMERS: One of the great needs facing the country, Stassen says, is to develop a sound farm program to meet the new conditions confronting farmers. He believes that the small, family sized farm is the great source of America's strength and that it must be preserved. Our aim in developing a new program, he says, should be to place a minimum or floor under the income of the farmer on the small, family-sized farm. Said he:

"We must never again permit farm families who are doing a good job of farming to be bankrupt, evicted and broken."

If we are to prevent booms and busts in America, if the country as a whole is to prosper, Stassen says, agriculture must be placed on a more steady basis. Looking ahead, he says: "I am confident that with sound general policies, not only with reference to agriculture but our economy as a whole, there need never again be an agricultural depression in America." Our job, he believes, is to provide an economy in which farmers can produce to the maximum and continue to do so with reasonable safety.

AMERICA CAN PROVIDE NEW OPPORTUNITIES: No pessimist looking backward, Stassen possesses equal faith in the resources of America to provide new and greater opportunities for workers and business men alike. The changes needed to meet new conditions can be made, he says, within the framework of the principles that have made America a land of opportunity. Our primary purpose, he points out, ought to be to create an environment in which private enterprise can secure the maximum production because: "Production gives us our high standard of living and production is the real basis of the nation's strength."

AID FOR SMALL BUSINESS: The government should take constructive steps to aid and encourage small business, Stassen has insisted. The nation needs to have small businesses, springing up contantly, furnishing new jobs and opportunities, he has pointed out, and government should raise its revenues so that it shall "to the least degree restrict and hamper the flow of idle money into the creation of new products and new jobs." With proper measures, intelligently and promptly administered, he says, "there is no basic reason why our marvelous productive machinery ever should have runaway booms or shocking crashes."

UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS: Conflicts between employers and workers, he would seek to smooth away. Interests of workers and employers are bound up together, Stassen says. Employers should not seek to crush workers, he believes. "Labor is people, men and women, fellow citizens," he said once. Workers neither should seek to cripple or block the progress of their employers, he says. All groups, he feels, must advance together. What is needed most in America, he has said, is a unity of the people and a willingness to pull together and advance the common welfare. A President of the United States, if he is a man of ability, vision and leadership, can do much to promote that essential unity.

WHAT OREGON EDITORS SAY OF HAROLD STASSEN

OREGON VOTER—The record shows Stassen's overall experience best qualifies him for President.

OREGON STATESMAN, Salem, Ex-Governor Charles A. Sprague—He is a man of conviction with frankness in stating his conviction. His ideas of government are well balanced.

HERALD AND NEWS, Klamath Falls, Malcom Epley—Personally we like (Stassen's) direct approach to issues and his forthright efforts to line up support.

REGISTER GUARD, Eugene—Harold Stassen has what the Republican Party needs.

HILLSBORO ARGUS—Stassen's clear-cut answers indicate he has a good grasp of public affairs. . . . Mr. Stassen will find considerable support for his candidacy in Oregon.

MILTON EAGLE—We personally think (Stassen) is the best man we could put in the White House.

TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT HERALD—Mr. Stassen is a "big" man and not only in size.

COQUILLE VALLEY SENTINEL—Young, aggressive, honest—Stassen is capable of holding up the high traditions of the Republican Party.

OREGON JOURNAL, Portland—Stassen used the shirt sleeve, grass roots approach . . . getting right down to earth with Oregon editors, students, townspeople.

BAKER DEMOCRAT HERALD—Stassen . . . has given a great deal of constructive thought to the chief problems of the day and he is seeking solutions on merit and not on how to gain votes.

SALEM CAPITAL JOURNAL—Stassen is well informed on all current issues and has a truly liberal viewpoint.

THE DALLES OPTIMIST—Oregon Republicans interested in a revitalized progressive approach by their party to national and regional problems and a new emphasis on the development of the West are finding an aggressive champion in Mr. Stassen . . . By all means he should be supported by forward-looking Republicans in the Western States.

GUY CORDONRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for United States Senator

Guy Cordon, Oregon's senior Senator, was appointed by Governor Earl Snell to succeed Senator Charles L. McNary and elected in 1944 for a four year term. He is a "working" Senator who has accomplished much for Oregon and her citizens.

Guy Cordon's value to the state is enhanced by his standing in the U. S. Senate. Space does not permit a complete listing of the important Senate committee assignments he now holds. Longtime observers of the U. S. Senate consider Senator Cordon's progress in this respect nothing short of phenomenal.

Senator Cordon has always worked in close cooperation and in complete harmony with other members of the Oregon Congressional delegation and this teamwork has been of great benefit to the state.

Senator Cordon supports United States participation in world affairs on a common sense basis. Last spring he studied conditions in Europe and the Middle-East at first hand. More recently he headed the Congressional delegation considering the problem of statehood for Hawaii. Now, more than ever, it is to the best interests of Oregon and the nation to keep U. S. GLENN C. ACKERMANRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Governor

Conditions in Oregon have changed greatly in the past ten years. Authorities agree that the pressing need for the expansion of its commercial and industrial structures to care for the rapid and continuing growth of its population, combine to present problems requiring more able leadership and capable administration of the ever widening scope of its business affairs.

Included in the membership of the organization, headed by this committee, are hundreds of people in all walks of life throughout the State who are interested in living happier, more useful lives. We believe that your ability and ours to benefit by the things we talk about depends considerably upon our government. The ideals, motives and strength of individuals in government have much to do with our wages, the prices we get and pay, the taxes we pay, our freedom of initiative and action, and our American way.

This year's gubernatorial campaign will be a contest between individuals. We have a favorite candidate whose qualifications have been carefully examined and found to be in keeping with the requirements of the office. His love for his adopted State outshines his personal ambition to be Governor. His programs are considered to be plainly for the good of the people rather than the enticing of votes. He has the courage to say no to you or us, should we ask selfishly for a government handout that others will have to pay for. He stands firmly for private enterprise with government controls, as opposed to government operation of industries and business. He believes in running the government on the same sound principles of budgeting and solvency that he expects of private business, and has the ability and gumption to bring it about. In our opinion he cannot be pushed around by expediency, selfish politicians or pressure groups to the injury of unorganized masses. He has the sense and desire to act for the benefit of our present and future population rather than striving for the preservation of past practices which are no longer useful. He is big enough and so intent on selling this State on good government and good citizenship that he has neither the inclination nor time for throwing stones at other candidates or parties. He even admits that he does not possess all of the virtues that his opponents do and that they even have some merit.

Upon popular demand prompting a resolution adopted by the membership of this organization, we present to you for consideration the name of Glenn Ackerman as a candidate for nomination for the office of Governor. Forward looking and aggressive but tempered by the caution of the successful business executive, Ackerman possesses the balanced qualities of leadership and the capacity of the empire builder. Outstandingly successful in his wide business operation and a long time student of political science and governmental administration, Ackerman presents the people of Oregon with an opportunity to avail themselves of seasoned but comparatively youthful political leadership and business administration. Progressive and liberal in his views, Ackerman has carefully chosen a platform reflecting concrete programs embodying proposed plans to induct modern features into the industrial development of our State while proposing certain reorganizations to eliminate waste and provide for tax conservation. Ackerman's campaign is to be waged around his sincere desire and promise "to work in all ways to better the living conditions of all of the people in the State of Oregon," for he is determined if nominated and elected to advance the wealth and prosperity of the State to a place equal if not in advance of the other States in this vast Northwestern empire. Ackerman's proven efficiency and driving energy are needed now to adequately cope with the problems involved in Oregon's growing pains.

On October 30, 1947, John Hall became our chief executive and has capably, honestly and efficiently performed the duties of governor.

Born in Oregon, a member of a pioneer family, John Hall has lived in Oregon all his life with the exception of his war time service. He is married and has three children. He is a home owner and taxpayer.

He is doing a good job. He is a conscientious public servant. His record as governor is deserving of your support.

MEET YOUR GOVERNOR

John H. Hall, 24th Governor of Oregon, was born in Portland, on February 7th, 1899, the son of Jessie and John H. Hall, Sr. He succeeded to the governorship on October 30, 1947, following the death of Governor Earl Snell in a plane crash, which also took the lives of the Secretary of State and President of the Oregon Senate. As Speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives, he was third in line of succession for the governorship; after the President of the Senate.

During World War I he enlisted in the Navy at the age of 18, serving as a medical corpsman and hospital apprentice aboard the U. S. S. Floridian. He was discharged in 1919 at the Bremerton Navy Yard. Following attendance in Portland secondary schools, Governor Hall attended Oregon State College, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1923.

Following graduation from college, Governor Hall attended the Northwestern College of Law, graduating with an LL.B., and was admitted to the Oregon Bar in 1926.

Governor Hall was elected to the Oregon Legislature from Multnomah County in 1933, 1939, 1943, 1945 and 1947, and in the 1947 session he was elected Speaker of the House.

In addition to professional groups, Governor Hall is a member of various civic, fraternal, and veterans organizations.

As governor, John Hall has been forthright and conscientious. In announcing his candidacy he said in part:

"The office of governor is one of many duties and great responsibilities. My predecessor, the late Earl Snell, was an able executive and I have endeavored to carry out his policies. With but one exception there have been no changes with respect to those people who are charged with the duty of administering the State government.

"On appointments and problems of major importance, I have sought the advice and counsel of many well-informed and public spirited citizens. But while I have sought and welcomed such advice and counsel, my decisions have been my own and I alone am responsible for them.

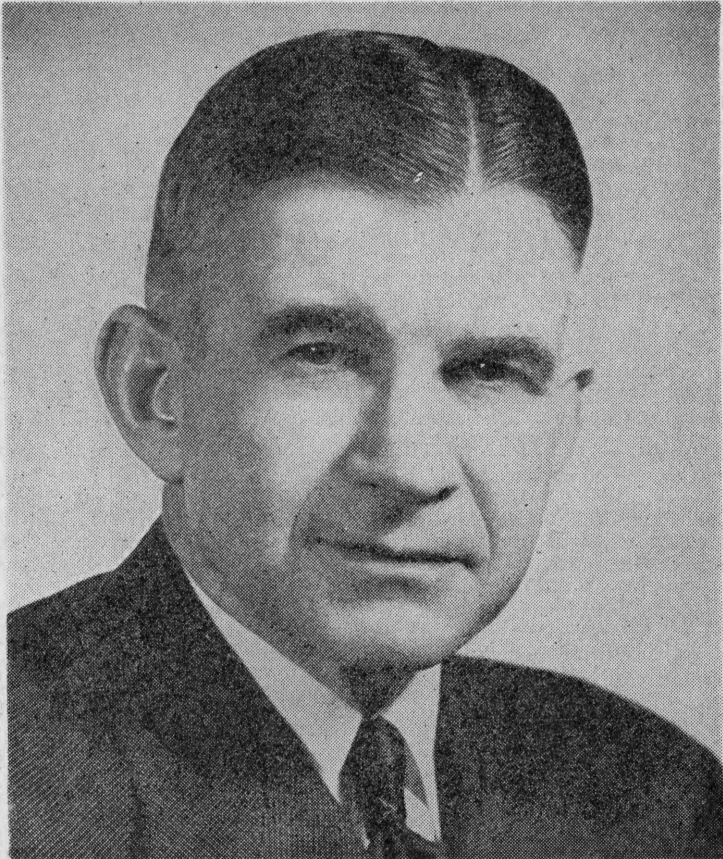

"I have given thoughtful consideration to the question of becoming a candidate for governor. I have no specific changes or recommendations to suggest, nor do I propose to make empty promises impossible of fulfillment. As issues arise they will be met squarely and discussed frankly.

"I have an abiding faith in the future of the State of Oregon. As long as I occupy the office of governor I shall do everything in my power to promote the welfare and further the interests of my native state. To be governor of Oregon is a high honor and offers an opportunity to serve the state and its people. On that basis I submit my name to the people as a candidate for governor."

This record, the success he has made of his own business and the background of his personal life and associates—are why people are saying "You can count on Doug McKay".

Oregon can trust the leadership of a man whose war comrades picked him as commander of their legion post, whose business associates picked him for president of the Chamber of Commerce, whose neighbors elected him mayor of his home town, whose competitors chose him for state president of their trade association.

There are no tinsel promises in his campaign. He is represented for what he is: a man who has been successful in what he undertook, who has demonstrated an unusual and sincere interest in people and their problems, and who now, at the peak of his energies and career, is willing to undertake the major responsibility of being your Governor. "You can count on McKay".

JOHN PEYTONRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Governor

After considerable thought and consideration, based upon my observation of political activity in the State of Oregon, and with the realization that there was a place in the State of Oregon for efficient and constructive administration, I place my name before the voters of Oregon as a candidate for Governor. It has been my observation that certain promises were made to the people of Oregon upon election platforms and that after elections the efforts and the benefits of the office holder were directed toward a selected few for the personal advantage of the incumbent. It is my firm belief that the holder of any public office should use his entire efforts for the promotion and the advancement of those things which will benefit the greatest number of his electors, and it would be my positive stand that this principle be adhered to without exception.

Being a disabled veteran of the First World War, I am vitally interested in the welfare of those patriotic men and women who sacrificed their time and effort for the preservation of our democratic principles in the recent world war. I believe that it is an obligation of the State of Oregon to render its weight and its prestige to the furtherance of housing programs for veterans and to make available to them the highest form of education which the State of Oregon is able to provide.

As a farmer and real estate broker I am cognizant of the problems facing business men and farmers. It is essential that market roads be constructed throughout the state. The utmost advancement of flood control and bank protection should be promoted to alleviate the huge property losses due to floods.

I have had experience as a private investigator, delving into the activities of subversive elements on the Pacific coast and I believe that our efforts should be expended toward the riddance of all subversive elements and groups and that the State Police system should be enlarged and reinforced with sufficient trained men to ferret out any and all groups and individuals and to place them under the strictest surveillance.

I am not in favor of a general retail sales tax for the State of Oregon for the reason that this form of taxation is not a true form of taxation in that the responsibility for the payment is passed on to the consumer who is already burdened with taxes. I am in favor of increasing the personal exemption allowed under the Oregon State Income Tax and a proportionate increase in the higher brackets of personal income.

I will always submit to reasonable suggestions and conferences with respect to the problems of the people of the state and maintain a cooperative attitude for the solution of those problems. I believe that with the proper administration the State of Oregon may be made a better place in which to live and I respectfully submit my qualifications and my beliefs to the Republican voters at the primary election May 21, 1948.

GEO. H. FLAGGRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Secretary of State

Geo. H. Flagg is qualified for the office of Secretary of State and membership on the State Board of Control by long experience in state business and his outstanding record as a public official.

He served as Chief Deputy Secretary of State under P. J. Stadelman, and was reappointed by Earl Snell, under whom he served for eight years. At the request of Robert S. Farrell, Jr. he remained for five months after Farrell took office. Appointed to the exceedingly important position of Public Utilities Commissioner in 1943 by Governor Snell, his services in that post were of such high caliber that he was honored by Snell's reappointment for an additional four year term in 1947. Believing that no appointive officer should campaign on the state's time and that the integrity of the position could be guarded best by such action, he resigned as Utilities Commissioner on March 15th, to become a candidate for Secretary of State.

Geo. H. Flagg has had an exceedingly active and influential part in the sound state government that has been Oregon's during the past few years. In his position as Chief Deputy, he had an important part in carrying out the many improvements in administration in the Secretary of State's office that were so prominent during the incumbency of Earl Snell. There he demonstrated ability as an efficient and courteous administrator, and one ever vigilant to reduce needless operating expense and eliminate useless red tape.

Flagg's administration in the office of Utilities Commissioner has been commended by people in all walks of life. He has truly and effectively represented the public interest, and his orders in important cases have received nation wide attention. Recognition of his work is evidenced by the fact that he is a member of the executive committee of National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, and Chairman of the Mountain-Pacific States Conference, made up of the eleven western states.

Geo. H. Flagg is a native Oregonian, son of E. H. Flagg, pioneer printer and publisher of this state. Attended public schools and business college in Salem, then learned the printing trade in St. Helens. As a young man worked as store clerk, longshoreman, gillnetter and in box factory. Then as printer and publisher in Elgin, La Grande, Prairie City, Astoria, Condon, Prineville and The Dalles. Married Hetta Spencer, February 28th, 1914, at La Grande. He says:

"The office of Secretary of State is one of the most important in the gift of the people of the state, and should not be regarded as merely a stepping stone to higher honors. It deserves full time service and close attention, and I will treat it in this manner if elected. I favor carefully safeguarding the state's surplus in order that it may be used to the greatest advantage in future reduction of property taxes; wise and careful use of funds for construction and expansion that are now or may be made available, so that our institutions may benefit to the greatest extent; promotion and use of state land for stock-grower and farmer, at reasonable charges, to add to the irreducible school fund; advancement of Oregon's outstanding forestry program; extended conservation and development of fish and game resources; more attention to the tourist industry, and adequate old age pensions. I pledge close attention to all these matters, and a conscientious effort to see that the state gets full value for every dollar expended.

"The saving of lives by further development of the traffic safety program, initiated while I was Chief Deputy Secretary of State, should be made a major activity, cooperating to the fullest extent with national and local traffic safety organizations."

COMMENT OF THE PRESS

"Of all the candidates thus far announced Flagg is by all means the most experienced and trained man in state affairs. During the years he has obtained a background of state affairs equaled by no other candidate. The trust in which Mr. Flagg was held by the late Governor was demonstrated additionally at the time of Mr. Snell's death in the fact that Mr. Flagg was named executor of the Governor's sizeable estate. The administrative work of the Secretary of State's office and the Board of Control deserves the services of a man as experienced in state affairs and as highly regarded for courage and integrity as is George Flagg." Coos Bay Times.

"He served with distinction under Governor Earl Snell. He is thoroughly familiar with the work. As Public Utilities Commissioner he has shown rare good judgment and eminent fairness in all his dealings. He is a man of solid reputation and fine character. George Flagg has a liberal point of view but lacks any of the prima donna attitude that frequently attends public office." Oregon Labor Press.

"Flagg is the only Eastern Oregon candidate who, if elected, will hold one of the three positions on the all-powerful state Board of Control. Has been a credit to this area during his many years in state service. His fairness and judgment have made him friends even in those corporations against which he has rendered unfavorable decisions." The Dalles Chronicle.

"He acted in the public interest." Oregon Journal.

"Geo. H. Flagg can and will conduct that office (Secretary of State) in an efficient, economical and courteous manner. His sound business policies and political judgment, together with his intimate knowledge of state affairs, through years of contact with the heart of the state government, qualifies him well for the office he seeks." Condon Globe Times.

EARL T. NEWBRY

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Secretary of State

In Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry the citizens of Oregon have a man of proved executive ability.

Sound planning, thrift and energy brought him outstanding success as a grower and shipper of Oregon pears and apples.

By application of these same practical principles to public office, Earl T. Newbry has established an enviable record of service to his state.

For many years Earl T. Newbry has taken a leading role in the civic life of his home community. He has been especially active in charitable campaigns and in youth character building organizations.

Earl T. Newbry first served his state in an elective office as a member of the House of Representatives in the 1939 and 1941 sessions. Voters of Jackson County sent him to the Senate in 1942 and again in 1946.

During his legislative service, Newbry was a strong champion of highway and agricultural legislation.

In 1947 he was chairman of the Senate Labor and Industries Committee and assisted in the drafting of legislation increasing unemployment compensation and industrial accident benefits.

He was also vice-chairman of the Assessment and Taxation Committee, and a member of the committees of Forestry, Agriculture, Irrigation and State Affairs.

Earl T. Newbry is not a professional politician. He is a successful business man who has devoted his time and talents to the betterment of his community and state. His broad private experience managing large payrolls, directing the complex activities of his growing business enterprise, exemplifies him as a high type, energetic American—a good citizen who repays the region that helped him prosper by devoting full time to his state's business affairs. Oregon's State Board of Control, of which the Secretary of State is a member, is a better board because of the sound, financial and personnel directing experience of Earl T. Newbry.

SIG UNANDER
Republican, Candidate for Nomination for State Treasurer

My candidacy for the nomination for State Treasurer is based on these qualifications:

I. EXPERIENCE—For several years before entering the service I served as Executive Assistant to former Governor Charles A. Sprague and became acquainted with the workings of the various phases of state government. Having conducted research studies on such subjects as agriculture and land use, forestry, public employees' retirement system, and Oregon's institutions, I am informed on many of the state's current problems which must be met by the State Board of Control, of which the Treasurer is a member. I am also familiar with state affairs through my activities in the Republican party, having served as treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee, vice-chairman of Oregon Republican Club, in various Young Republican offices and am now a Republican Precinct Committeeman.

II. EDUCATION AND TRAINING—With a master's degree from the Stanford Graduate School of Business and an A B in Political Science, I have sound professional training.

III. YOUTH—As a 34-year-old army veteran and native Oregonian, I am anxious to further the voice of the young voter, and particularly the ex-serviceman, in the Republican party as well as in state affairs. It is my contention that when qualified young people are available, they should be given an opportunity in government to represent the large number of voters falling in the younger age group. Having served overseas for over three years in the late war, I am well aware of veterans' problems, and am at present a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Military Order of World Wars. Fraternal affiliations include the Masons and the Eagles.

IV. PROGRESSIVE AND CONSTRUCTIVE PLATFORM—In addition to the financial and fiscal responsibilities of the State Treasurer, he is also a member of the State Board of Control. This body governs the State institutions and is responsible for the care, training, and future of all inmates. In previous public experience and private life I have lent sympathetic understanding and aggressive assistance to the less fortunate of our citizens.

Oregon has been good to me, and I offer my services as a younger Republican and a qualified young veteran.

SLOGAN: "Republican Candidate for State Treasurer. A qualified young veteran—build our party."

While serving in the office of the District Attorney, he prepared and successfully prosecuted all cases of a civil nature coming within the jurisdiction of his office, and including one tax case which saved to the County and State upwards of three million dollars. His handling of cases while serving in the District Attorney's office, was uniformly and without exception successful, both in the Circuit and Supreme Courts. In addition to the handling of these cases, he also served as legal advisor to all County officials and commissions. E. S. BENJAMIN

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

To the Voters of Marion County:

If elected to represent the 12th District, I will strive at all times to give full measure of honest thought and sincere effort toward better, not necessarily more, laws for the people of Oregon.

As a father of four sons and a property owner, I have a definite interest in the proper utilization of natural resources to the best interests of the public. I believe in good schools with proper financing to keep them progressive and equipped with competent, well paid instructors.

I believe in and will work toward adequate provisions for civil service, old age and survivors' benefits.

As a cannery worker I have been close to the problems of working people, industry and agriculture, and believe in the improvement of the Industrial Accident, Safety and Unemployment Compensation laws to safeguard the workers. I believe in full assistance to the farmer, business and industry, and the removal of any hampering laws which hinder the progress of our state economy.

W. W. CHADWICK

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

I was born in Bryant, South Dakota, June 28, 1888. Married Lorena Erp in 1912 and have two daughters. I came to the state of Oregon, Marion County, in 1899. I entered the hotel business at Salem, Oregon, in 1923 and am today operating the Chadwick Hotel System with headquarters at the Senator Hotel, Salem, Oregon. I also own and farm 55 acres in the Waldo Hills, Marion County, Oregon, and have become genuinely interested in nut and fruit farming.

Elected Mayor of Salem in 1939 and served two terms. Elected to the Legislature in 1942, 1944 and 1946 and served during the 1943, 1945 and 1947 sessions.

In submitting to the Republican voters of Marion County my candidacy for re-election as a Representative in the state legislature, I am actuated purely by the motive to serve in the interest of the democratic form of Government for our Country. I believe that my past record for business administration in public office as the Mayor of Salem, as a Representative in the state legislature and my years of experience as a successful businessman in Marion County qualify me for this office.

At the past sessions of the legislature I have served on some very important committees, including taxation, ways and means, labor and industries and was chairman two sessions of the local government committee. For the past four years I have been chairman of the House committee on interstate cooperation and we have had several meetings with committees from eleven western states which have been very valuable, as we have been able to exchange ideas beneficial to the State of Oregon.

I will sincerely appreciate your vote at the primary election May 21, 1948.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVE HOSSRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

In asking your consideration and support for Dave Hoss for nomination to one of the four positions in our State Legislature from Marion County, we submit that he is admirably qualified by heritage and past experience to assist in obtaining, for everyone, the best legislation possible to help Marion County and the State solve the ever-growing problems of expansion in agriculture, industry and population.

Although never a candidate for public office up to this time, Dave Hoss has a remarkable record of accomplishment in civic and veteran affairs. These accomplishments involved participation in most all phases of government pertinent to affairs of state.

Dave is a member of the Governor's traffic safety advisory committee—evidence of ability in community problems; he is past state chairman of the Young Republican Federation—evidence of intense interest in affairs of government.

Dave is a veteran of 41 months service in World War two and was elected Commander of the third largest American Legion Post in the state 6 months after his return to civilian life—evidence of ability and willingness to serve his comrades.

He is vitally interested in the preservation and furtherance of Oregon's valuable natural resources and finally, he has a diversified and working knowledge of countless civic, social, cultural, community, fraternal, and rural organizations, accumulated through a long career in radio broadcasting where he worked very closely with members of these groups to promulgate their efforts to make Oregon and our United States a better place to live, work, and play.

In face of the increasing problems affecting our daily existence, we need young men of high moral courage and aggressive leadership, tempered with experience and judgment, to face the issues squarely and act for the best interests of all. Dave Hoss is just such a young man. More recent evidence of his ability and interest in preserving and advancing our great American heritage of a free Democracy, was his capable direction as General Chairman of the Freedom Train appearance in Marion County.

Dave is 32 years of age, married and has one daughter, and is presently engaged as a successful Public Relations counselor for a number of statewide organizations.

Finally, may we ask that you remember his slogan, "Put a Hoss on the team for aggressive action in the interests of all."

Thank you for your courtesy in reading this and we hope you'll agree it's Dave Hoss for State Representative.

H. R. (FARMER) JONES

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

In presenting myself, a candidate for re-election as a representative for Marion County, I respectfully refer you to my record in the three sessions I served in our state legislature. The record shows that at all times I tried to promote the welfare of the state and Marion County, and voted only for such legislation as was honest and just to all.

If elected, you may be assured I will again work and vote for the common good of all our people.

I was born on a farm in New York State sixty-three years ago, educated in the Utica Free Academy, plus business college training.

I came to Oregon in 1907. Have owned and operated a farm nine miles south of Salem for over thirty years, most of which time I have also been an extensive buyer of fruits and nuts.

In 1910, I married Marie Kellogg, and we now have three children and four grandchildren.

My slogan will be: "Able, aggressive representation for all Marion County folks".

Respectfully submitted,

H. R. (FARMER) JONES

W. J. LaROCHE

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

As a taxpayer and a resident of Marion County for the past twenty-two years I feel qualified in presenting myself as a candidate for State Representative of Marion County.

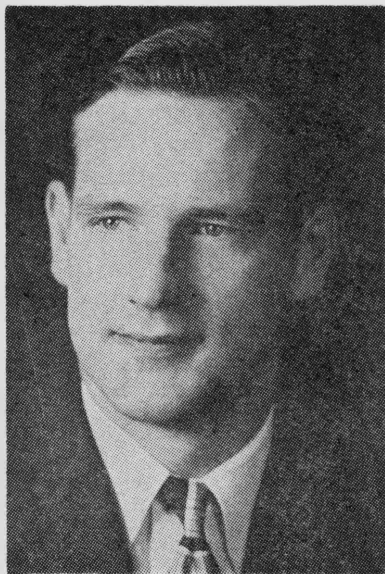

I attended Willamette University and Mt. Angel College, and I am well acquainted with the grave problems that are now confronting all of us.

Therefore, I pledge, honest, conscientious service for all the people.

W. J. LaROCHE

RICHARD H. SPOONER

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

To the People of Marion County:

As a Republican I earnestly submit my candidacy for nomination as Representative to the State Legislature. I feel that it is more prevalent now than ever before that young people have earned the right to work with seasoned statesmen in the formulation of the laws by which they shall be governed. With this point in view I set forth my background and qualifications.

I was born in Portland, Oregon, 24 years ago of pioneer stock—my great grandfather having come to the Oregon Territory in the early 1840's. I resided in Portland continuously until, upon graduation from high school in January, 1942, I enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Forces. After completion of my training period I served as a fighter pilot with the 8th Air Force in England, a part of my overseas tour of duty being spent in German Luftwaffe Hospitals and German Prison Camps.

Upon liberation and release from active duty in 1945, I moved to Salem, Oregon, where I now reside. I entered the Liberal Arts Department at Willamette University, preparatory to studying law, and at the present I am enrolled at the Willamette College of Law.

Besides attending law school, I own and operate the Eagle Flying Service on the McNary Field in Salem. Thus, in addition to my knowledge of the laws of Oregon, I have interests running parallel with the veteran and the businessman in this county.

The organizations in which I am active are: Young Republicans Club, American Legion, Air Reserve Association, Masons, Sigma Chi (social fraternity), Phi Delta Phi (national law fraternity).

If my constituents see fit to elect me to one of the four seats allotted to Marion County in the House of Representatives, I shall sincerely to the best of my ability and knowledge work for the benefit of the majority of the people of this county.

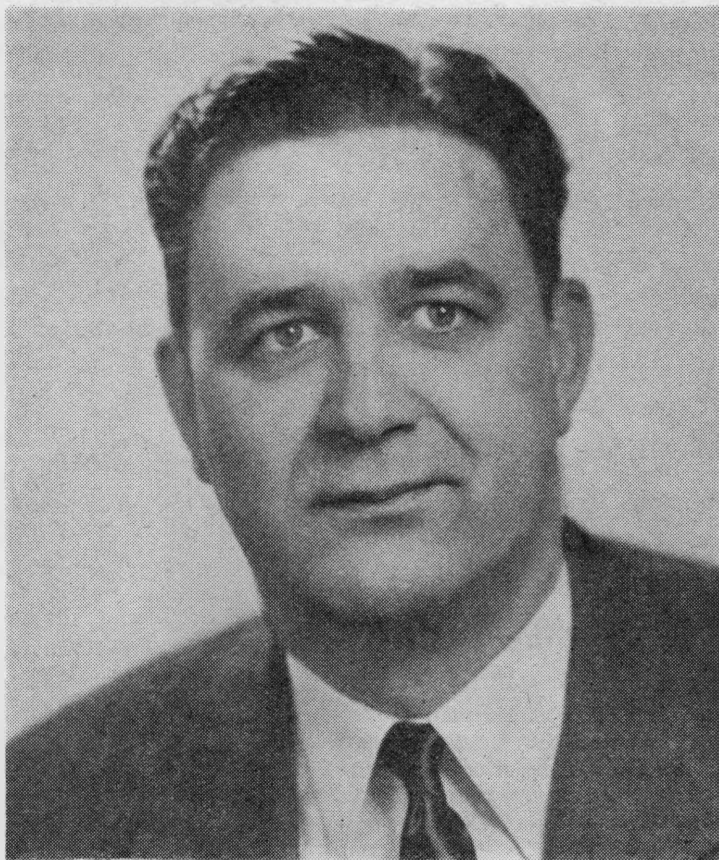

SLOGAN: "Active governmental participation by those who participated in defense."

Yours very truly,

RICHARD H. SPOONER

JOHN F. STEELHAMMER

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

I was born and educated in Marion County and admitted to the practice of law more than a decade ago. I am married and have one child and am a home owner and tax payer. With the exception of approximately two years in the Armed Forces during World War II, I have lived in Marion County; and I feel that I am familiar with the problems affecting all sections of this County, not only those of the metropolitan area, but particularly the problems of the rural communities.

SLOGAN: I WILL APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT.

JOHN F. STEELHAMMER

DOUGLAS R. YEATER

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative in the Legislative Assembly, Twelfth District, Marion County

As a successful business man and taxpayer in Salem, Oregon, for the past ten years, married and the father of two children, one a veteran of World War II, and with the experience of the 1947 Legislative Session, I feel qualified in presenting myself as a candidate for re-election for State Representative for Marion County.

I sincerely feel that business principles should be applied to State Government. If re-elected, I will apply the same effort as in the past in serving the people of the State of Oregon in both civic and governmental duties.

I am a Republican and have worked extensively for their principles.

DOUGLAS R. YEATER

M. B. HAYDEN

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for District Attorney, Marion County

In seeking re-election to the district attorney's office of Marion County, Oregon, this brief statement is made: I was born in Salem, Marion County, Oregon, October 5, 1895. I was reared and educated in this vicinity and was graduated from the Willamette University, College of Law, in June, 1920. Am married and reside in Salem.

My first military experience was in 1916 with Company M from Salem, Oregon, when they were mustered in as federal troops and sent to the Mexican border. Later when the United States of America entered the first World War, seven days after the declaration of war, I voluntarily enlisted with the armed forces of the United States, and over a period of months saw service in Ireland, Italy and France, in the Aviation Corps.

The position of district attorney of Marion County, Oregon, is a very responsible one, calling for extensive legal qualifications. As an example, in one year better than five hundred criminal cases alone were handled by this office. In the same year approximately three hundred eighty divorce cases were heard in which the district attorney's office appeared representing the state.

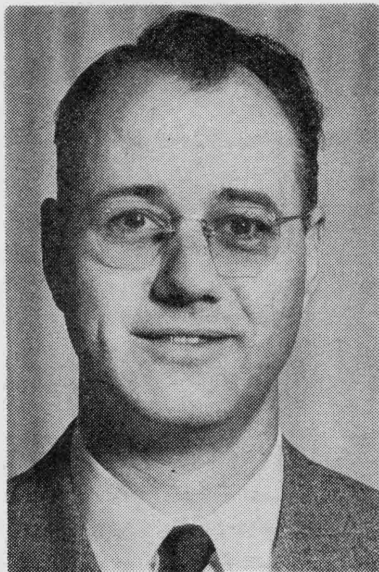

During my time of office there have been filed tax suits on behalf of Marion County against delinquent real property successfully to the extent that Marion County has received by sale thereof the sum of $272,601.33. Of this accomplishment I am justly proud, for the reason that all of this sold property by Marion County, Oregon, has now gone back on the tax roll.

The law enforcement in Marion County, Oregon, during my term of office, as far as the district attorney is concerned, is second to none of any county in the State of Oregon.

I AM THE ONLY VETERAN FOR THIS POSITION.

With this statement in my behalf, your support for my re-election as district attorney of Marion County, Oregon, will be deeply appreciated.

M. B. HAYDEN

EDWARD O. STADTER, JR.Republican, Candidate for Nomination for District Attorney, Marion County

In placing my name upon the ballot for nomination for the office of District Attorney I do so upon the platform that this important office should be conducted in a responsible manner with a policy of energetic enforcement of all the laws.

I was born in Oregon in 1907 and have been educated in the public schools of this state. I was admitted to the practice of law by the Supreme Court of Oregon in 1930 and continuously since that time have been active in business, legal, and community affairs in Marion County. I am married and have three children.

In these days of widespread political and economic uncertainty and turmoil it behooves us to look well to our heritage of constitutional government and to place in office those men qualified by character and ability to properly handle their particular tasks.

I have never before sought public office. I do so now in the belief that the citizens of Marion County have a high concept of public duty and desire to elevate the standards of public administration. I have no commitments or obligations to any persons, groups, cliques, or organizations and will make none. I am not a professional office holder or office seeker. If nominated and elected I am free to do a thorough job of law enforcement and will do so without consideration to my personal views as to the merits of any particular law and without consideration for my political future.

EDWARD O. STADTER, JR.
