TO OUR DAHLIA LOVING FRIENDS

The name Premier is synonymous with superior stock, sturdy plants and high business principals. We express our thanks and appreciation to those that have given their support and are grateful for the many letters commending our stock, our square dealings and telling of successes with the roots and plants purchased of us. We will continue to render the utmost in service and make every transaction entirely satisfactory at all times.

HERE ARE A FEW ABSTRACTS FROM NUMEROUS
VOLUNTARY LETTERS RECEIVED THE PAST SEASON

From Conway, S. C.—“Your dahlias have been very satisfactory to me. I like to deal with you because you are fair and prompt, always giving good stock and fine service.”

From Scranton, Pa.—“I am more than satisfied with the stock I bought from you and certainly one can't expect any nearer 100% good growth than I had from your plants this season.”

From Raleigh, N. C.—“The plants we received of you were perfect in foliage and blooms; We made 23 entries and won 19 firsts and 3 seconds; We also won with everything we entered at the State Fair.”

From Waverly, Pa.—“I must say that the dahlias which I purchased from you were more than satisfactory and the results obtained far better than I had any idea they could be.”

From New Vienna, O.—“The blooms from the plants I bought of you were the finest I ever seen.”

From Covington, Ga.—“All the plants I bought of you last Spring did fine except one.”

From Devon, Pa.—“I have had one of my most successful seasons, thanks to you and your good stock.”

OUR GREEN PLANTS are grown so as to give the maximum of results equal or superior to root stock. This is only accomplished by the selection of healthy vigorous roots benched in a moderate heat that will enable us to take stocky base cuttings. Only a reasonable number of cuttings are taken and none used that are spindly. After cuttings are rooted and potted and begin to grow they are moved to cooler quarters and later shifted to larger pots; at this stage small tubers are beginning to form, assuring that clumps will be obtained at digging time; the plants are later hardened off in “outside quarters” so as to withstand shipping and be in condition for planting out.

We have kept our list of varieties limited by retaining a very high percentage of those that are placed on the “Honor Roll” consecutive seasons.

HOW TO GROW GIANT DAHLIAS

Dahlias are easily grown, requiring no special skill to bring them to perfection.

They prefer a sunny location but do well in partial shade but should not be planted near large trees or close to buildings.

They grow best in light, porous soil having good drainage. Sand, pulverized wall plaster, or fine coal ashes should be added to lighten heavy clayey soils.

If manure is used it should be well rotted (best applied in the Fall) and thoroughly mixed with the soil which should be dug deep (12 to 18 inches).

A green cover crop of Winter Rye planted in the Fall and turned under in the Spring will add valuable humus to the soil. If the ground is worked over early in the Spring, good results will be obtained by planting a cover of Oats and Canada Field Peas. Green cover crops should not be permitted to grow tall and harden and should be turned under when about 12 inches high. They will then rot in from two to three weeks without loss of their benefits. About a week before planting time broadcast and spade under, commercial fertilizer of 4 per cent nitrogen, 8 per cent phosphoric acid and 7 per cent potash (advertised as 4-8-7). Five pounds should cover approximately 200 square feet.

Dahlias may be planted from May 1st to July 1st, but in this locality June 1st to June 15th is best. They should be planted three feet apart in rows and the rows should be at least three feet apart, four feet or more is better if room is available.

Drive a stake to support each plant. The stake should be four or five feet above ground.

Never plant clumps, but separate the tubers, planting only one in each hole, being sure they have a growing eye. Lay tuber flat with eye up and two or three inches from the stake and about six inches deep. Cover two inches with pulverized soil gradually filling to level as plant progresses. Keep the top soil finely pulverized at all times by cultivating frequently; never allow it to harden.

Watch for cut worms and protect plants from same by placing a ring of roof paper cut three and one-half inches high about the plant. If plant does not do well examine it closely and if it contains a stalk borer a small hole will be found in the side. Squirt a few drops of a mild solution of Black Leaf 40 in the hole. If the plant does not improve in a few days cut back the plant until you find the borer. Shade the plant from direct rays of sun for two or three days and it will in all probability make a quick recovery and a healthy growth. If troubled with Aphis or Leaf Hopper spray with "Evergreen" or "Red Arrow." Red Spider may be controlled by spraying foliage with hose. A very thin solution of glue used as a spray is highly recommended for Red Spider.

Some growers make compact bushes of their plants by pinching out the top when three sets of leaves appear.

Never allow more than one or two stalks to grow (the flowers will be finer if only one is permitted), pull out all others.

Tie plants to stakes securely as they grow in height.

About August 1st broadcast unleached wood ashes over the soil, using about one-half pound to each hill. Keep this a few inches away from the Dahlia stalks and scatter about the plant in circle about 12 inches wide.

When buds appear scrape away enough earth and put in a trowel full of sheep manure, replace the earth and water with two or three pails of water. Repeat every two weeks and wonderful blooms may be had.

Stop cultivation and give plenty of water when flowers appear. A thorough wetting of the soil once a week will improve the blooms extensively. Disbud for large blooms by removing the two side buds, leaving main bud on each shoot; also remove the laterals below this bud to the third or fourth set; this will make long stems to your blooms.

After the frost kills the plants, dig carefully so the necks of the tubers will not be broken; cut back the stalks to eliminate the hollow stems, dust with a mixture of powdered sulphur and hydrated lime; place in paper lined boxes or barrels, covering with paper, bags or carpet. Dry clean sand or dried peat is also used successfully for storage. Keep in cool, dry place and examine from time to time. Do not permit them to dry out and remove decay or mold if found.

In Spring, when eyes have developed, divide clumps with sharp knife or shears, leaving eye to each tuber.

GREEN PLANTS

Set green plants so that the earth ball is from two inches below surface of the ground where soil is heavy, to three inches in light soil. If of a clayey nature add sand or ashes, working or mixing well into the soil. Water well and protect from sun for two or three days.

Note—We shade our newly set plants with shingles, pitching them at an angle to afford more shade, and set in a three-quarter circle with open end toward the North.
