

NEW SWEETS STORE

W. E. PELLEY OPENS CONFECTIONERY ESTABLISHMENT IN PETERS' BLOCK

W. E. Pelley, who was well and favorably known to the public of Glendale as proprietor of the "Den o' Sweets," 1009 W. Broadway, has moved his establishment to a handsome store in the new Peters' block, next to the Palace-Grand theater on Brand boulevard. In this new home Mr. Pelley hopes to create an excellent and remunerative business. The store will be opened Thursday evening.

The new store is large and roomy. It has been tastefully decorated in old ivory and amber, with mottled brown panels. Twelve panels decorated in old ivory are fitted up with art glass lights that show a very striking effect. A large art glass stand serves to light up the window.

Mr. Pelley has equipped his new store with a large and handsome new marble soda fountain, with all the latest appliances for the convenience of rapid serving. This fountain is of the most recent sanitary type. A number of show cases, decorated in old ivory, serve to exhibit many of the excellent confections for which Mr. Pelley has hitherto been noted. He will sell high-class chocolates under his own name—"Pelley's Chocolates." All kinds of candies will be found here. At the soda fountain will be obtainable every kind of soda beverage, ices of all kinds, frozen drinks and sundaes, and high-class ice cream. Cigars and tobaccos will also be sold.

This beautifully fitted and decorated store will have a number of booths where visitors can sit and enjoy themselves. Mr. Pelley will extend every courtesy to his patrons and his long experience in business in the northern part of the State, near Sacramento, has given him the tact and civility necessary for the development of a successful business of this kind. These qualities joined to his thorough practical knowledge of the business should achieve success.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Case of Adams street were the recipients of a happy surprise when a number of their friends appeared at their home, Tuesday evening, unexpected and uninvited. The host and hostess soon recovered from the shock and welcomed their guests heartily and the evening passed very pleasantly in playing games and in conversation. The occasion of this happy gathering was to bid Mrs. Case, who leaves on a visit to Iowa next Tuesday, a safe and pleasant journey and an enjoyable visit to her old home. The dainty refreshments prepared by the guests were a pleasant feature of the evening. Those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Voyce of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and daughter, Miss Hazel; J. B. Hartmann, Mr. and Mrs. A. Liebernett, O. Liebernett, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stees and the host and hostess.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

GLENDALE WINS DEBATE—MAY DAY PROGRAM—NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Last Friday afternoon in a dual practice debate, Glendale won from Santa Ana, but lost to Lincoln High. The question for debate was, "Resolved That Congress Should Pass a Bill Providing for the Independence of the Philippines Within Four Years." Herbert Sheuner and Marlon Lehman, on the negative side, won all three judges at Santa Ana. Harland Durand and Thomas White, upholding the affirmative, were defeated by the Lincoln speakers.

The debate was scheduled in order to give practice to some of next year's debaters. The school will lose three debaters at the end of this year by the graduation of Howard Stickney, Frank Bridgeford and Joseph Maier. These vacancies leave a splendid opening for some of the younger speakers.

May Day Exercises

Friday afternoon will be given to the Annual May Day program, on which the music and the gymnasium departments have been working for some time. On account of the Shakespearean anniversary, the affair will be quite different from those of previous years. The Shakespeare idea has been cleverly worked out. A great part of "Midsummer Night's Dream" will be used. The gymnasium classes will give many dances, and the Girls' Glee club will sing, "Hark, Hark, the Lark," "It Was a Lover and His Lass," and "I Know a Bank." The words of these three selections were written by Shakespeare.

The affair will be quite different, in that there will be no May Queen.

School Library

Since the beginning of the year's school term 593 books have been added to the library. The librarian, Miss May Church, has just finished cataloging the new books. The library now contains 4,594 volumes and is as well equipped as the libraries of many of larger schools in the state.

The books catalogued the past week are:

The Seniors have already begun the heavy work upon their class play, "The Cabinet Minister." The play is a four-act farce by A. W. Pinero and is under the direction of Miss Abbie C. CAMP FOR CRANKS

CONVENTION OF FADDISTS TO BE ENTERTAINED ON FREEDOM HILL NEAR SUNLAND

How much attention California is given in other States may be seen in the following article published in the Terre Haute Post. The people in Indiana as well as in all the other States of the Middle West and of the East are profoundly interested in what is going on on the sunny shores of the Pacific. People of Glendale will be interested in reading of this Convention of Cranks, which is to be held not far from this city.

By M. C. LARKIN

(Staff Correspondent)

SUNLAND, Cal., April 28.—At "Camp Don't-Give-a-Durn" on Freedom Hill at Hansen Heights near here a convention of cranks is to be held, where everybody with a hobby, fad or a queer idea will be permitted to expound, inflame and propagate said notions to his heart's content.

Cranks will gather from the four corners of North America to expostulate on the most advanced theories of the age. The idea of a crank convention was originated by Mildred E. Kern. The gathering will be held at the five-acre ranch of Dr. Leroy Henry. Both Mrs. Kern and Dr. Henry, of course, are cranks. Mrs. Kern's hobby is Freedom, while Dr. Henry is a crank on Optimism.

"I was designing a country home for Dr. Henry when the idea was suggested to me," explained Mrs. Kern. "He insisted on having an enormous porch on the building so that he could entertain many of his friends, all of whom are cranks on one subject or another. I suggested that he hold a crank convention on his pavilion porch."

The convention will open Saturday, September 2, and will end the following Monday. This gives the cranks a chance to take advantage of Labor day.

Seers for Humanity

"We expect a real good will come from this particular convention," said Dr. Henry. "The people who first submit the ideas that advance the world are always called cranks. They are the seers for humanity. Through the crank the world turns nearer social justice and better relationships. It is hoped this meeting, in which each man discusses his hobby with perfect freedom, will result in greater tolerance of one crank for another and a co-operation between them to enable each to understand the other and lend him a helping hand."

Two hundred invitations have been sent out to the nation's cranks, chief among whom are: William Jennings Bryan, peace crank; J. William Lloyd, advocating free love; Luke North, famous single taxer; Dr. J. M. Peebles, spiritualist; Edgar Lucien Larkin, astronomer; Otto Carque, vegetarian; Emma Goldman, anarchist; S. G. Pandit, only Hindu-American (he won his citizenship only after carrying his fight to the United States Appellate Court); Dr. John T. Miller, vocational adviser, and Gogesh Missrow, vice-president of the World Press congress and head of the Nationalists in India, who has been chased all over the world by the British government.

To Sleep in Open

The cranks will bring their own blankets and sleep out beneath the stars. Straw will be furnished by Dr. Henry.

"The camping crank," said Dr. Henry, "will light the camp fire Saturday evening by rubbing sticks together Indian fashion. We will be told how to live healthfully and happily a hundred years by the nature crank, the simple life crank, the vegetarian crank, the raw food crank and the no food crank.

"The single tax crank will tell us how every one can get a piece of land; the peace cranks how to stop fighting; the economic crank how to live without work; the freedom crank how to do as we please; the philosophical crank, how to be happy though miserable; the spirit crank will give us telephone connection with heaven.

Past and Future

"The astrologer crank will adjust the stars so we will be born at the right time and marry well; the palmist crank will tell us how to turn fate into fortune; the reincarnation crank, who we were before we are, and give us a bit of our history of last incarnation. The phrenological crank, what our parents ought to have made us; the race improvement crank, how to be raised before we are born.

"The psychology crank will hypnotize us; the art crank will teach us to enjoy common life. The prohibition crank will tell us how to save a million dollars a year; the

RESULTS OF PRIMARIES

REGULAR REPUBLICANS SWEEP STATE—GENERAL RETURN TO PARTY OF PROSPERITY

It is now conceded that the regular Republicans swept the State in Tuesday's primaries, at which delegates were chosen for the Chicago convention. The vote was light. Not more than 40 per cent of the Republican registration voted. Less than 10 per cent of the Democrats voted and not more than 5 per cent of the Progressives.

This return to the old party is undoubtedly to be attributed to the growing discontent with the financial conditions throughout the country which have been about as bad as they were in Cleveland's time. The new generation of voters which contributed along with the split in the Republican ranks to elect the present Democratic administration, apparently have had time to reconsider their attitude. That to a certain extent will have to be reckoned with in the coming presidential campaign.

Southern California has gone strongly for the straight Republican ticket. There was a strong vote in San Diego county and Santa Barbara county, a Progressive stronghold, changed to a Republican affiliation. The result of the election shows that as usual the American voter has been thinking for himself and that as might be expected he has arrived at a commendable conclusion.

The following is a partial statement of the vote polled in Glendale precincts at yesterday's election:

JAPANESE CONTROL THE ORIENT

It is amazing to note how definitely the Japanese are beginning to speak of a Monroe doctrine for the Orient. The first sign of loosening of American control on the Philippines has been the signal for a most significant movement in Japan for an oriental Monroe doctrine. Japan now feels that she is the strongest nation in the Far East and consequently is going to insist on keeping out the western nations from that former happy hunting ground.

"Japan must lead in the Orient," say some of the leading men of that nation. Some of them say it openly, some of them secretly; some of them say it through others to watch its effect on the United States and on the other western nations; but whether said secretly or openly it is a sentiment that is growing every day in the Japanese nation.

Before the war in Europe Japan was not so ready to air her opinions. Now, however, finding the field practically open to her as the big nations have their hands tied and the United States under its present regime seems desirous to repudiate the Philippines and leave them to the tender mercies of anyone who may come along, Japan is formulating a Monroe doctrine that may ultimately set the whole world by the ears.

It is well known that at the close of the war with Russia in 1905 Japan had 750,000 men in the field who had taken part in the fighting. She had another 250,000 men at Dalny on the Liaotung peninsula ready to go to the front. In Japan itself she had another 250,000 men drafted and in constant training. Instead of lightening this great burden as it might seem to nations like the western countries Japan increased it and speedily had 2,000,000 men trained and ready for the field.

At the close of the war Japan had a fine fleet, specially strong because homogeneous. Each vessel had the same speed and consequently was very much superior to the fleets of countries whose vessels were of different speeds and would thus be hampered by the slow vessels. A building program of considerable proportion was entered on and as made public was formidable enough; but it is understood that Japan's real naval strength is not really known. She has successfully concealed her naval strength. In the midst of the war with Russia Japan built 60 torpedo vessels and destroyers and had other warships placed in commission.

Japan also raised all the sunken Russian vessels, those in Chempulpo harbor and those in Port Arthur harbor as well as several wrecked on the coasts and had also three or four that were captured by boarding in the battle of the Sea of Japan. Two of these, formerly the Korietz and the Variag, were recently in San Francisco harbor on a visit and looked as good as any new vessel.

Japan's naval building has been considerable since 1905 but the outsider learns little about it. The Japanese navy yards are not open to the public. All naval stations and military establishments, munition works and other important government buildings have a dead line of three miles round them. Sentries are posted there and any attempt to pass is immediately followed by a challenge and if persisted in brings imprisonment.

This is the kind of nation that is bidding for the hegemony of the Pacific ocean. This nation now is carefully building up a Far Eastern Monroe doctrine that is going to have far-reaching consequences before long.

SUPERSEDING ANILINE DYES

It is interesting to learn that all the Pacific Coast paper factories have taken up the gradual elimination of aniline dyes from the processes of making print paper. The reason for this is the dearth in those dyes caused by the war. Large paper concerns like the Crown-Willamette and the Hawley Pulp and Paper mills have already found their use of aniline dyes restricted 50 per cent. This has naturally increased the price of colored papers.

Scarcity in the aniline dye supply has advanced the prices of those products tremendously since the war began. The price has advanced from 39 3/4 cents a pound to $15 a pound and the price of all kinds of paper has advanced equally. It can easily be seen that such a price is prohibitive. Some of the Oregon mills are said to have a supply of aniline dyes on hand sufficient for one year; but they are making the change in common with the other mills on the Coast in conformity with a proposal circulated by the International Paper company.

Ultimately the elimination of the aniline dyes will be complete and it is doubtful if they will ever regain their position again. The experiments recently made with American native dyes have not been so successful as was anticipated and although there is prospect of their ultimately being brought to a state of perfection in the meantime it is likely that newspaper stock will be turned out the natural color of the pulp.

In 1913 the total consumption of artificial dyestuffs in the world had attained a value of more than $92,000,000. Germany furnished 74 per cent of the entire amount and more than one-half of the materials needed to make the remainder. The industry has been chiefly developed through the inventive power of German chemists, combined with a wealth of technical skill and keen business management, scarcely equaled in the history of any other branch of manufacture. The 21 German companies engaged in the chemical dyestuffs manufacture had a nominal capital of more than $550,000,000, on which the dividends averaged 22 per cent.

This was the most remunerative industry in Germany and the one most solidly and formidably entrenched. After the war it is not likely that this industry will be able to reach again such proportions. There will be a combination of the Allies into some kind of a customs union to boycott and handicap German trade and Germany will never again receive the generous and liberal treatment she was experiencing just before the war broke out. The fifty years' work of the Germans to build up this trade is lost to a cer-

MISS VIRGINIA GRAHAM TELLS OF PURSUIT OF THE ELUSIVE TROUT

"It was with a heart beating high with anticipation of the opening of the trout season, May 1, that I accepted the invitation of some of my friends to take part in a trip to the Big Sespe on that memorable day," said Miss Virginia Graham, of the Graham-Kirri Dressmaking company, Broadway Apartments. "We were a merry party. Mr. and Mrs. Will Leiby of Los Angeles, our hosts; Miss Hawks of Eureka, Humboldt county, Mr. Will Ainslee, the well-known railway man of Los Angeles and Mr. Will Dunning of the same city were those who started from Los Angeles Sunday about 5:15 a. m., bound for Fillmore, where we intended to pass the night in order to be on hand early on May 1 and entice the elusive trout with barbed hook and dainty bait.

"We reached Fillmore all right but found there was no room at the hotel. Eager fishers had been there before us and every spare room was engaged by those who hoped to be on the waters before daybreak. Spinning on to Santa Paula, we found a fine inn there and were comfortable, besides being closer to the fishing grounds.

"It was about four in the afternoon when we reached Santa Paula and we discovered that the fishing craze had struck that little place as well as everywhere else. The streets seemed deserted even though it was Saturday afternoon and one of the principal stores was closed and a notice posted on the door, "Gone Fishing—Back 11 Monday." Everybody seemed to be going fishing. Many were already camped in the hills waiting for the dawn of May 1.

"Returning to the inn we resolved to get some sleep. The air and the quiet of Santa Paula are conducive to sleep for the whole party seemed to be struck with the same idea. At 2:30 a. m. we were awakened up and every one got ready for the stream. We packed our lunch, rods, tackle and bait in the auto and after a hearty breakfast started out for Henley's Camp on the Big Sespe. We reached the stream about 5:15 a. m. and started in fishing.

"Recent melting of snow in the mountains had swollen the stream and the waters were rushing down in great shape. The first day of the fishing season is usually a disappointment. There was a gale blowing from the mountains and the water was cold. Under these conditions trout are not eager to bite. The whole party started up stream at intervals. Every rock and point in the river had its trout fisher and notwithstanding the conditions quite a large number of trout were caught. I was the first of my party to catch a trout. It was a fine fish, weighing about half-a-pound. I had varying luck after that but on the whole was pleased with my reward. The others of our party were more or less fortunate and as usual the biggest fish escaped.

"Calling a halt to our piscatory efforts at noon we tramped back to our auto and had lunch. We had fished three miles up the canyon of the Big Sespe. The scenery was magnificent and the country delightful. We all acquired more or less of a coat of tan. After lunch we started to Pine creek, a tributary of the Big Sespe, and fished two miles up. Our luck was hardly so good on this fork of the river. We therefore returned back to our auto about 3 p. m. and started for home well pleased with our first day's fishing and all eager to have another day's turn at the trout. We got back to Los Angeles 7 p. m."

Mrs. Anna L. Smith entertained about thirty-five of her friends at a May party at her beautiful home, 1427 Riverdale Drive. The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and electric lights and each guest was presented with a souvenir May basket. The chief attraction of the evening was a large May pole, around which the guests made merry. Music and games rounded out the evening, making the occasion one long to be remembered.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

Twelve delegates who attended the county convention at Hollywood last week will be present at the meeting of Glendale City W. C. T. U., Friday, May 5, and will make interesting reports of what was done at that gathering. These delegates were present at all the sessions and took active part in the work. As plans for the campaign were mapped out and other important work outlined the story the delegates have to tell will be valuable. This meeting will be held at the home of the Rev. B. D. Snudden and Mrs. Snudden, 133 S. Jackson street. The meeting will be opened at 2 p. m. with a special prayer service for campaign for California day, led by Mrs. Clyde Brooks. All are urged to attend.

MEETING OF PHILATHEAS

Quite an interesting meeting of the Philathea class of the Presbyterian church was held Tuesday evening at the home of the teacher of the class, Mrs. Horsch, 130 Cedar street. Miss Horsch, president of the class, was present and assisted in entertaining the members. A bountiful three-course dinner was served and then important business was discussed. This was the regular monthly meeting of the class. A most interesting letter from one of the members of the class, who is now a missionary in India, was read. The class then gave their contributions for a scholarship fund which supports a little girl in the Wanamaker school in India. This little native girl is receiving a first-class education in that institution and will ultimately go forth to preach the gospel to her countrymen and women. The class separated with many expressions of their enjoyment of the delightful entertainment prepared for them by their hostesses.

A NEW INVENTION

Mr. Merlin Wilson, one of Glendale's younger citizens, has completed what promises to be one of the most important inventions along acoustic lines that has been turned out in many a day. This little instrument consists of a system of fans which intercept all sound waves coming in contact with them and magnify them tremendously. Mr. Wilson very appropriately calls his invention the magnaphone.

Upon explaining the theory of the apparatus to Owen Rhodes, author of "The Voice of Conscience," it was proposed that the magnaphone be introduced into the coming Alumni Day. The instrument was worked into several scenes in an appropriate way, and a part was written for Mr. Wilson in order that he might be given an opportunity to demonstrate the invention. Any who might be interested in it will be given a chance to see it work when the play is presented at the Palace Grand on the 11th and 12th, and will be allowed to examine it more closely after the performance if they so desire.

COLUMBUS AVENUE CIRCLE

The Columbus Avenue Mothers' Reading circle met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Yarik, 1447 W. Third street, Tuesday afternoon. There was an increased attendance. Those present were: Mrs. J. F. Thompson, Mrs. George E. Adams, Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. A. E. Reed, Mrs. R. D. White, Mrs. H. W. Yarik, Mrs. W. G. Alvord, Mrs. A. R. Chappell, Mrs. A. R. Dove, Mrs. F. R. Frazee, Mrs. C. W. Berry and Mrs. E. M. Wirt. The circle proceeded with the reading of Kate Douglas Wiggin's "Children's Rights." Plans for the increase of the membership were discussed and the circle adjourned to meet next week on Tuesday.

MOTHERS' STUDY CIRCLE

Attendance at the Pacific Avenue Mothers' Study Circle, which has been established in connection with the course established all over the United States by the Department of Education, was considerably increased at last meeting, held Monday at the Pacific Avenue schoolhouse. Those present were: Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mrs. Ella Richardson, Mrs. Minnette Sherman, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. James Begg. Four new members were admitted, Mrs. Roach, Mrs. Herron, Mrs. Tatlow and Mrs. Rallsback. This was the second meeting of the circle and the growth therefore is highly gratifying.

The circle went on with the reading of Elizabeth Harrison's "Child Nature." The members of this circle make no pretense of dressing elaborately for their meetings, their idea is to encourage members to come in simple house dresses and to bring their mending and darning along with them. Simplicity and utility are the aims of the circle and it is hoped during the next few meetings to have a large attendance of the mothers of the neighborhood. The meetings being held in the schoolhouse are certain to attract many who are already acquainted with that building as a social center.

WILSON WEDDING CAKE

Those who were among the guests at the Lusby-Wilson wedding, Monday, were lost in admiration of the artistic wedding cake that graced that auspicious occasion. Mrs. Bert Woodard, 232 S. Maryland avenue, decorated the cake. The design was almost identical with that of the famous wedding cake that was a prominent feature at the wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt. The presidential wedding cake was decorated by a friend of Mrs. Woodard, who is an expert in that kind of work and who taught her that art.

The cake which graced the Lusby-Wilson wedding was a circular creation, measuring 18 inches in diameter and 6 inches in height. It was decorated with handmade orchids in varying color tones, each an artistic triumph. These beautiful flowers adorned the top and were interspersed with lilies of the valley and pale green foliage. Standing in a mass of orange blossoms were two tiny cupids. Wedding bells, singly and in groups of three, were placed around the edge. Along the sides strayed valley lilies.

About the base of this artistic production and upon the lace doily were strewn clusters of orchids. This cake, it was acknowledged, surpassed in beauty and artistic merit any that had ever been seen in Glendale, by those present. Mrs. Woodard received many well-deserved compliments for her exquisite work.

FISHER FISHES FOR FISHES

Last Thursday morning, while in Dan Kelly's hardware emporium the writer saw W. R. Phelon, the local manager of the Southern California Gas Co., looking over lines, leaders, creels and reels. When he departed he left thirteen of his hard earned (?) dollars behind him. Tuesday morning he showed up with his fish (not fishes) just fish, and if the game warden had seen the size of it he (W. R. P.) would not have showed up at all. That's all right, Bill, only next time look out for that number thirteen when you buy tackle.

TROPICO TRUSTEES MEET

The Tropico Board of Trustees met in regular session Tuesday evening at the city hall at 7:30 p. m., with President Frank E. Peters, Fred A. Alspach, Chas. H. Henry, Walter C. Seal and A. C. Boyce present. The following city officers were also present: Margaret R. Coleman, clerk; Hartley Shaw, city attorney; I. C. Wasson, street superintendent; J. W. Gould, city marshal, and Dr. W. C. Mabry, health officer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from the former city clerk setting forth the disadvantages of the water rates under the recent ruling of the railroad commission and the advisability of taking the proper steps to purchase the different water systems now furnishing water to the city of Tropico.

There seemed to be some mistakes and misstatements in the commission's report, especially in regard to the rate on fire hydrants, and the city attorney was instructed to take the necessary steps to obtain a rehearing on the water rates.

The city engineer reported that in the matter of opening up and improving that part of Adams street and Moore avenue in the extreme eastern part of the city, that Mrs. Larson, who formerly owned this property and deeded same to the city, holds a written contract, made between herself and the City of Tropico, signed by former City Attorney Goodwin, in which it was stated under what conditions said improvements were to be made, and in case said improvements were not made according to this contract the property was to be deeded back to the Larsons, and as it is impossible to make such improvements according to the specifications in the contract, the trustees decided to repudiate the contract (which is thought to be illegal) and proceed at once to remove the fences and make the improvements according to the grade profiles now in the hands of the city engineer.

The city engineer recommended that the city buy a set of 80 maps of the different subdivisions of the city, at a cost of 15c per square foot. On motion the city engineer was instructed to make the purchase.

The building inspector reported that permits to the amount of $1000 had been issued during the month of April and the building and plumbing fees for same amounted to $19.07, and the amount of $36 was collected as fees for peddlers' licenses, etc.

The clerk read the proposed contract with the Pacific Light & Power Co., in which they wish to enter into a contract for the lighting of San Fernando boulevard and an extension of one year on their present contract for lighting Brand boulevard. This matter was discussed at length both by various taxpayers and members of the board. It was finally decided to have the city attorney make, if agreeable with the lighting company, a contract with them for the lighting of San Fernando boulevard to expire at the same time of the termination of the Brand boulevard contract, which is Oct. 22, 1916.

G. G. Sanders was given a permit to conduct a chicken and pigeon ranch on East Acacia avenue.

The city engineer was instructed to begin the proceedings necessary to the opening and improving of Acacia avenue from Brand boulevard to Central avenue.

City Marshal Gould asked permission to have the city's motorcycle repaired, which was granted.

Motion was made to reimburse the three candidates, whose names did not appear on the city election ballot, the amount of their filing fees. The motion was lost by a vote of 2 to 2.

The following demands were allowed and ordered paid:

WHICH HAS HEAVIER LOAD?

When two horses pull unevenly on a load, which horse carries the larger part of the burden, the one that is a little ahead or the one that is somewhat behind? The experts of the Minnesota Agricultural college have upset a common belief by proving that it is the horse that lags behind, says the Youth's Companion. The experiments showed that, if the load is a ton, the horse that keeps its end of the evener eight inches ahead of the other end pulls only 988 pounds, whereas the slower horse pulls 1012 pounds.

A TREASURED DOLL

Mme. Adelina Patti still prizes an ancient doll which was presented to her at her first public appearance in New York city. The great singer was then a very small little girl, but not too small to sing "Comin' Thro' the Rye" in such a way as to charm her hearers.

BEGONIA NEEDS NO COVERING

Begonia and other fine seeds do not require covering with earth, says the Minneapolis Journal. Simply sow them on top of the soil and place a pane of glass over the top of the box or pot.

ABLE TO HELP HIMSELF

William Gary, a farmer, who lives in the town of Washington, Wis., came to Green Bay recently to do some trading. His intention was to remain over night at the home of his daughter. He drove a four-year-old colt, and this trip was the first time the young horse had been away from home. Mr. Gary went to his daughter's home and put the horse in the barn and closed the door.

The door was one of the sliding kind that hook on the inside. The farmer retired. The next morning he went out to feed the horse, and lo, the colt was gone. No signs were evident of any one entering the barn, and Mr. Gary started out on foot on his return journey home.

Upon arriving at the farm the colt was discovered in his old, familiar stall, eating hay. Mr. Gary claims the animal had unhooked the latch of the sliding door in town and had left for his own home.—Milwaukee Sentinel.
