

HAVE HOUSE WARMING

MANY GLENDALE PEOPLE HELP DEDICATE NEW HOME OF LAWSES

Saturday, May 1st, was chosen by A. L. Lawshe and wife, for several years residents of Glendale, for a house-warming to formally dedicate the new home recently completed on a 2 1/2-acre ranch purchased in Arcadia, a mile and a half south of Monrovia. The house has six rooms, sleeping porch and breakfast room. One of the features is a very large den in which are the many curios collected in more than 20 years of public life and foreign travel and books, many of the latter being autograph copies presented him by the authors, one of whom is Gene Stratton Porter, author of "Freckles," "Tales of the Lumberlost," etc., who is an aunt of Mr. Lawshe's son's wife. The grounds are highly improved, much of this work as well as the plumbing and other outdoor tasks having been done by Mr. Lawshe himself.

The Glendale guests started at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, taking lunch with them. Arriving at about four they were shown over the house and grounds and then a picnic lunch was spread on the lawn. Mr. Lawshe made an address of welcome in which he feelingly expressed his regard for the old friends in Glendale and told of his hopes for the future. At 7 o'clock the start home was made and all arrived safely. Those present from Glendale were: Rev. C. A. Cole, wife and two sons; R. P. Jodon and wife, also Earl and Dorothy Jodon; Fred B. Mattice, wife and son, Alton; E. S. Coler, wife and little son; W. B. Kirk, wife and daughter, Marie; Dr. J. H. Daugherty and wife, John M. Ray and wife, Lee Kaster and wife, E. H. Learned and wife, Mrs. Eva Hutton, Miss Clara Hutton, Mrs. F. M. Elliott, Miss Mary Chester, Mrs. Susie Stem and T. A. Williams.

DEATH OF CARLTON C. WEST

Carlton C. West, uncle of Mrs. John Hobbs and Mrs. John A. Logan of this city, passed away of hardening of the arteries, Saturday, May 1, 1920, at Thornycroft Sanitarium. He was about 85 years of age and had been a resident of California for twenty-six years. Born in Oneida county, New York, he came West from there with his parents to Illinois when that state was very new, his father being one of the founders of the town of Galesburg, in Knox county. Mary Allen West was the first white child born in the county. Thirty-three years ago he lost his only child, a daughter and three years later his wife. For many years he made his home with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. West, and later was tenderly cared for in the home of Mrs. John Hobbs. He was naturally a very active and high-spirited man and his patience during his later years was a constant marvel to his friends. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at 3:30 o'clock with the Seavern Company in charge.

A meeting of the general Chautauqua Committee was held at the Intermediate School Saturday night to set the date for the beginning of the season ticket sale. The tickets are transferable within the family and are good for each and all of the thirteen numbers. If the entire number is not sold by next Monday evening, the local committee will be compelled to make up the balance. After next Monday, season tickets will be purchasable at $3.00 plus war tax.

The big tent will be put up this week at the southeast corner of Maryland and Wilson.

SCHOOL TREAT

PUPILS OF ACACIA SCHOOL AND PARENTS ENJOY AN OLD FASHIONED MAY DAY

Pupils at Acacia avenue school and their parents enjoyed a real old fashioned May Day celebration Friday. The program began about 11:30 o'clock. Little Betty Grant had been chosen Queen of the May and Margery Sudlow and Dorothy Erskine her attendants. Besides these there were ten flower girls. A beautiful pink and green arbor had been constructed on the school grounds in which the throne was placed. This was encircled by the flower girls linked together by floral wreaths. These girls sang a song addressed to the Good Fairy petitioning for a May Queen and in response little Betty Grant in her queenly garb appeared and at the foot of the throne was crowned with a garland of flowers by her faithful attendants. With her wand she touched bare flower stalks and caused them to bloom, a pretty bit of necromancy effected by the flower girls who presented the ends of the flower stems and then recited.

He was seen at one place, however, and a good description of him secured.

The evening was spent in music, games and a "stunt" by each society present. Refreshments of cake and punch were served and the Intermediates report a "jolly" good time. Mr. Burton is still crippled by the rheumatism which followed in the wake of his severe attack of influenza. He is considering a trip to Murietta Hot Springs.

DEDICATE MAUSOLEUM

FIRST UNIT OF WHITE PALACE FOR THE DEAD SET APART SUNDAY

Yesterday afternoon the first of the four units of the beautiful white Mausoleum Columbarium to be completed in Forest Lawn Memorial Park was dedicated with impressive ceremonies. It has been in partial use for several months, but the dedication was deferred until the building was completed.

The second unit has already been commenced, and it and the two succeeding ones will be identical with the first one. Each succeeding unit is located even with the roof level of the preceding one, thus forming steps up the hillside, from each one of which will give a beautiful view of the valley beneath. The interior arrangement and details about the crypts have already been described in the Evening News. The wall decorations are in simple floral designs and the indirect lighting system is used.

The program opened at 3 o'clock with the trumpet call to assembly by the Misses Davis, then "America" was sung by the audience. After an invocation by Rev. Geo. H. Cornell, D. D., "Babylon" was beautifully sung by Harold Proctor and the Misses Davis gave a most pleasing duet on the melophone and euphonium. The address of dedication was then given most impressively by Rev. Robert Freeman, D. D. There was another solo by Harold Proctor and then came the formal act of dedication, following the "Star Spangled Banner," sung by all. Then the more than 500 people present were conducted through the building to inspect the beautiful and convenient arrangement of the crypts and galleries.

C. C. COOPER RETURNS FROM NEBRASKA VISIT

C. C. Cooper, president of the First National Bank, arrived at home last evening from a three weeks' business trip to Omaha, Lincoln and other Nebraska cities. He had a very successful trip from a business standpoint. Crops in that vicinity are in fair shape, he says, but the season is cold and backward, so conditions cannot be fully determined yet. Fruit of all kinds was damaged by late frosts in that section but further south the prospects are better. Glendale looked mighty good to Mr. Cooper after his visit to the land of snow and ice.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

PASTOR DISCOURSES ON PROBLEMS OF QUESTIONABLE AMUSEMENTS

At the First Methodist church yesterday, large crowds assembled to hear the excellent music and the discourses of the pastor, Dr. Crist. Last evening's service was one of special interest since it had been announced that Dr. Crist would touch upon the matter of "Questionable Amusements." This he did incidentally for his subject was "Excuses." In reply to the excuse sometimes given as a reason for not joining the church, that one's pleasure would be curtailed, he said in part: "The position taken by the Methodist church on dancing and other questionable amusements is well known. During the long and glorious history of Methodism she has stood firmly against those 'diversions which cannot be taken in the name of the Lord Jesus.' There has been a difficulty, however, in the correcting of these evils that has arisen from the fact that the 'rules' of the church were placed in the law department of the discipline, and a penalty was attached that no pastor would impose. The proposed change in the discipline is not understood in many cases and in some there has been an evident intention to misinterpret.

"The attitude of Methodism has not changed. We are still firmly convinced, and so declare to the world, that the indulging in these forms of amusement tends toward spiritual bankruptcy. What will probably be done at the general conference now in session in Des Moines is the placing of these 'rules' over in the hortatory division of the discipline where they can be used.

"The great black headlines that will appear indicating that 'Methodism has taken down the bars' are false representations to the public and are given to meet the demand of a sensation loving constituency."

WEATHER FORECAST: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday.

MAY MORN BREAKFAST

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS OF DR. E. H. WILLISFORD ENTERTAINED ON SUNDAY MORNING

Strawberries and powdered sugar. Puffed rice and cream. Poached egg on toast. Doughnuts and coffee.

This was the toothsome menu served to the members of the young people's Sunday school class of the Congregational church Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. Willisford, the teacher, and twenty-four young men and women met at the church and enjoyed this unusual yet very enjoyable "getting together." Several members of the class were unable to attend. All who attended pronounce it a most delightful occasion.

The decorations were dainty May baskets trimmed in light pink color and filled with Cecil Brunner roses. A basket was at each plate, a place card was in each basket. Baskets filled with roses were also placed in the center of each table.

Saturday evening several members of the class met and prepared the decorations and arranged the tables and made everything as ready as possible so that but little remained to be done on Sunday morning.

Mrs. S. W. Frazee, Mrs. C. W. Dudley and Mrs. E. H. Willisford and Mrs. L. T. Rowley assisted in the preparation.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Stadt, Mr. and Mrs. Darsie, L. Darsie, Miss Marjorie Tyler, Rhurark Dudley, Dorothy Shaw, Edna Farmer, Elizabeth Bullard, Carol H. Willisford, Robert Rowley, Lois Schuyler, Eustace Rowley, Edith Schuyler, Margaret Frazee, Dorothy Rowley, Earl Kingsley, Robert Van Pelt, Audrey Hall, Harriet Van Pelt, Hanford Richards, Anna Van Pelt.

At the Sunday school hour the class continued its study of the Gospel of Luke.

BRIDGE CLUB LUNCHEON

Members of the Foster Bridge Club were entertained Friday by Mrs. John Robert White with a four-course luncheon served at her home on North Orange street. Her table was centered with asparagus fern surrounding a tall vase containing a shower of Cecil Brunner roses placed in a bowl filled with the same roses. Covers were laid for Mrs. J. L. Flint, Mrs. Claud Pulliam, Mrs. Maurice Bondaux, Mrs. A. A. McIntyre, Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Hilliard, Mrs. Lester Jones, Mrs. William Crocker, Mrs. C. E. Norton, Mrs. Tresslar, and the hostess, Mrs. Flint made high score.

Mr. Garnsey has been very active in church work in Kansas City for years.

GREAT LOVE STORY

REV. COLE SPEAKS ON BOOK OF RUTH AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A large number of out-of-town visitors were in attendance at the Christian Church services yesterday and splendid crowds were present. A number of new members were added to the ranks of the church's membership.

A feature of last night's meeting was the whistling solo and obligato of Mrs. I. B. Carlock of 415 South Lincoln street, a member of the L. A. Girls' Whistling Club. Both music and rendition were eminently appropriate and were highly appreciated.

Rev. C. A. Cole spoke in the morning on "The Great Love Story," a study of the beautiful book of Ruth. At night on "Worldly Wisdom and the Cross," emphasizing the fact that the wisdom of the world is less than the foolishness of God and that all substitutes for the cross were but puny efforts at redeeming man and of no effect; that there is no redemption but through the sacrificial offering of Jesus Christ.

BEN OKAYAMA BADLY HURT

Ben Okayama, a middle-aged Jap who has been a foreman for the Fruit Packers' Association for more than eleven years past, working most of the time for the Sparr Fruit Co., was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium hospital last night very dangerously injured. There was concussion of the brain, a fracture of the lower jaw, two teeth knocked out, the lower lip ground to a pulp, a deep cut on the chin reaching to the jawbone and several minor cuts and bruises. Three other Japs accompanied him to the hospital, but either through their stupidity, reticence or inability to understand English, nothing could be learned about the accident except that it was an auto wreck. The patient was holding his own this morning and seemed in a fair way to recover.

Mr. Kinney, manager of the Fruit Packers' Association, called to see Ben and spoke very highly of him as a sober, industrious and trustworthy man. He has been in charge of a crew of orange and lemon pickers and always gave satisfaction to his employers. He is quite well known in Glendale, having lived at 449 Vine street for a number of years.

versed them to show the bloom. The flower girls then presented all the guests with buttonhole bouquets of Cecil Brunner roses, and a delightful program of music and May Day games was put on terminating in the winding of the Maypole. The occasion was also utilized for the dedication of the fine new drum purchased for this school out of its share of the proceeds of the Lei Lani entertainment of last Thursday evening. Kenneth Whaley, Brigham Bennett and Gerald Toll, of the High School, came down at noon and treated the children to several musical numbers, Brigham Bennett playing the new drum, Kenneth Whaley the piano and Gerald Toll the saxophone.

At the conclusion of the games coffee was served to the adults and a picnic lunch enjoyed, the children being treated to ice cream cones. About one hundred children were present and as many adults. It was an exceedingly pretty affair and reflected great credit on the teachers, Miss May Cornwell, principal, and Mrs. Wesley Bullis, who had it in charge.

"They are quite ordinary people, aren't they?"

"Yes. They keep their engagements, eat plain food, pay their bills, and do all that sort of thing."—Onward.

The man who finds the most fault with the work of others is usually the man who is least able to do the same kind of work himself.

"Opportunity knocks but once," but Hiram Johnson knocks the League of Nations every day.

Which Will You Have ?

Hoover's residence abroad supply the only argument against Hoover; clearly showing the thread bare character of the Hearst-Johnson opposition.

FACTS:

HOOVER; splendid type of American, called by his mining profession to the four corners of the world; at the call of his country laid aside his personal affairs and devoted himself unselfishly to the cause of America.

3. JOHNSON, THE OBSTRUCTIONIST, who through the war protested against almost every necessary war measure, doing so with a cry of Americanism on his lips, but in his heart the real purpose was self exploitation.

—OR—

HOOVER; builder, constructor for the most part silent and sawing wood; feeding the famine stricken children and women of the world, housing the homeless, succoring the destitute, teaching us to conserve, providing the food which won the war.

4. JOHNSON, the spurious claimant to the "mantle of Roosevelt." (Can you imagine Roosevelt, if alive, aligning himself with the Red elements back of Johnson?)

—OR—

HOOVER, ably representing the elements and things which Roosevelt stood for.

5. JOHNSON, who proclaims to be a representative of Labor, but whose evasive record in the Senate fails to disclose facts which bear him out; who failed to vote on thirteen important Labor measures, and when the Esch-Cummins bill came to a vote hid in the cloak room. Read what Wm. T. Bonsor, president of the San Francisco Labor Council and head of the Hoover Union Labor Club of California, has to say about Johnson's Labor Record.

—OR—

HOOVER, who for years has employed thousands of workmen; who has never had a strike and has consistently advocated and practiced an Eight-Hour Day for Labor.

YOU CALIFORNIANS: Whose unselfish devotion and disinterested labors brought to pass the great works which Hiram Johnson now claims, with great modesty (?) as his own personal accomplishments; do you want, at this critical hour of history, a man who has sacrificed, upon the altar of his own selfish ambition, the most vitally Progressive project ever presented to the world for your children and the countless generations yet to come? Let us hire a master workman, HERBERT HOOVER, to do the big work which lies before us.

AMERICANS: Regardless of party registrations, you may call for a Republican ballot and vote Tuesday for the Delegates preferring Herbert Hoover.

1. JOHNSON, THE POLITICIAN, who since his first day in the Senate has sacrificed any and every cause to the cause of advertising Hiram Johnson for the presidency and who as President, would still be the politician, measuring what he should do, both as to domestic and foreign policies, in terms of votes for Johnson.

—OR—

HOOVER, THE MAN OF ACCOMPLISHMENT, distinctly not a politician; essentially a practical man who executes such business as comes to his hand in a businesslike fashion, with no thought of selfish advantage to be derived.

2. JOHNSON, who has attracted to himself every unpatriotic, un-American, pro-German, I. W. W., Sinn Fein vote in America.

(How significant—that in every pro-German stronghold such as Chicago with its Mayor and vast pro-German following; in the I. W. W. center of Michigan, North Dakota, Montana and in the Germanized cities of New Jersey, Hoboken, Patterson, etc., Johnson has far out run other candidates!—!)

—OR—

HOOVER, who is opposed by the solid pro-German vote and the Hearst papers everywhere; whose support comes entirely from genuine Americans who have been impressed by Hoover's sturdy, constructive Americanism.

THE LAST WORD

Editor Evening News:
The preliminary contest in California for a candidate for President of the United States is practically at an end; tomorrow we go to the polls and cast our ballots. Nevertheless, with your permission, I desire to submit to the candid consideration of the readers of the News some parting and, I trust, pertinent observations on the situation as it appears at the eleventh hour.
So far as the Hoover candidacy is concerned, the situation is anomalous. The Watchman, the political prophet and seer of the Los Angeles Times, in a review published in Sunday's issue of that paper, accredits all the candidates, except Hoover—Wood, Lowden, Harding, Johnson—with delegates to the convention, chosen from the various states. He frankly admits that no delegates have been selected from any state to the Republican National Convention who are favorable to Mr. Hoover. How it can be expected, or claimed, that a man will be nominated in a convention composed of delegates when there is not a single delegate in the convention who is in favor of his nomination, to me is incomprehensible. The Watchman says Hoover is not a "dark horse," but a "potential" candidate. For that matter, so is every boy (and girl, too), born in the United States a potential candidate, and the average boy now in our public schools is just as likely to become a President of the United States as is Mr. Hoover. It seems to me that the sensible thing for us to do—we Californians—is to give our influence and our votes, not for a potential candidate, but for a Californian who has been victorious in every state where the people have been allowed a fair and free expression at the polls.

Not only has Mr. Hoover thus far been denied a single delegate from a single state, but in the great poll now being taken by the Literary Digest, the May 1st number shows 37,876 Republicans voting for Senator Johnson as against 28,123 for Mr. Hoover, and the great bulk of these votes were cast in New England and other Eastern states where Mr. Hoover was supposedly strong and Mr. Johnson correspondingly weak. This poll shows that of the comparatively few votes received by the Digest from California up to this time 10,236 have been cast for Senator Johnson and 8,805 for Mr. Hoover.

The truth is that the candidacy of Mr. Hoover is practically without support among Republicans throughout the country. Whenever a primary has been held, at which a fair expression of the people has been obtained, he is among the "also rans." Nowhere has he been the first, second or even third choice.

While there are a number of good, conscientious people in Southern California who are supporting Mr. Hoover and while I have naught to say against him as a man, as a matter of fact his candidacy in this section was "conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity." It was instigated through malice by despicable malcontents and recalcitrants whom Hiram Johnson "unhorsed" while he was Governor of California. Not because they love Hoover but because they hate Johnson and hope to discredit his candidacy in this state. And they hate Johnson because they cannot run him; because they cannot use him; because they cannot bend him to the support of their selfish programme; because he stands for and with the people and will not lend himself to their serpentine schemes and indefensible exploitations. It is true that some of their propaganda has been camouflaged in seeming plausibility, and thereby they have been able to deceive some men endowed with an exaggerated sense of credulity, and some good women. The ladies (God bless 'em) should remember how some of them were misled in the last Presidential election by the specious cry, "He kept us out of war" and voted for a man who then knew that our entrance into the great war was inevitable. The ladies should learn (and may learn when it is too late) that there is a species of the genus homo in politics who thrive in season and out of season in practicing fraud and deception upon their fellowmen by scattering the seeds of falsehood and dissension among the flowers in the garden of truth and honor.

FOR A NEW HIGH SCHOOL SITE

The friends of education must now decide whether or not the present location of our high school shall be the permanent one for the future. The high school district consists of Glendale city, Eagle Rock city, La Crescenta, Tujunga and West Casa Verdugo, and if we select a central location of sufficient extent and equip it with proper buildings, it is not probable that there will ever be any other high school plant within this whole territory.

Therefore it becomes highly important that we give serious thought now to the action we take in order that no mistakes may be made. Let us get something in which we can always take pride and satisfaction.

It seems to me that the present site is an utter impossibility for the future high school grounds of a dis-

FALSE TALES CIRCULATED ON JOHNSON'S RELIGION

Innumerable inquiries coming in to Johnson headquarters in the last few days indicate that enemies of the California candidate are using a fictitious statement of the Senator's church affiliation to create a prejudice against him.

While this form of attack has been answered before, apparently the hostile campaign is under way. While it is a matter of no moment in itself what Senator Johnson's church may be, in that he is being supported by men and women of all churches and faiths, for the benefit of those persons who attach importance to the information the fact is restated that he was brought up in the Presbyterian Church, but later became a Baptist.

In answer to the "whispering" campaign of attack involving the question of Senator Johnson's religion, Joseph Scott yesterday issued the following statement:

"At the eleventh hour a question of religion has been injected into this campaign by two methods, both of them, in my judgment, reprehensible. One, the whispering campaign, generally the act of a prevaricator; the other, the pulpit campaign, as usual, founded upon an utter misconception of the issues involved here. No minister, in my judgment, of the Catholic, Protestant, Jewish or any other denomination, has the right to use his pulpit to affect the political views of his people. I would resent it keenly myself, and I trust the independent men and women of this community are of similar mind.

"Some ministers today apparently are acting as in the days of Lincoln when the great emancipator wrote to Newton Bateman, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Illinois, that out of the twenty-three ministers of Springfield all but three were against him.

"The question of Senator Johnson's religion has come up. Of course, he is not a Catholic; neither is his wife; but what has this got to do with this campaign, any more than the fact that when Herbert Hoover married his wife, Father Mestres, the Roman Catholic priest of Monterey, was the officiating clergyman?

"Johnson stands as Lincoln did, with the plain people—and as the plain people lifted up Lincoln while the ministers distrusted him, so I trust the common people of this community will ignore certain gentlemen of the cloth in Los Angeles just as they were ignored in the days of Lincoln.

"I want no man to vote for Johnson on account of religion. I want no man to vote against him on that account. The supreme issue is Americanism vs. Internationalism—Hiram Johnson is the American of the hour."—Adv.

trict like we expect ours to be. It is not centrally located in the district, and is in the future busy, business part of a city. It is on an alley up against the rear parts of business blocks built and to be built. The buildings on it are wrongly located on the grounds and are not of the up-to-date kind desirable. They would all have to be taken down and relocated and rebuilt to make a desirable equipment. The grounds are too small. To remedy this, it is proposed to buy an expensive block of ground across Louise street eastward. But that would constitute an unendurable condition, as it would never do to have an open public thoroughfare extending through the middle of the school ground. And it would never do to close up Louise street for it is the only long north and south street between Brand and Glendale avenue. To close Louise street would completely spoil a large and important portion of the city. The old site is too close in for the long future, too noisy and dusty. It is also too dangerous from fires, and there will be too much to attract the attention of the pupils from their ordinary school duties.

Of course, if we vote "no" on retaining the present site, we should also vote "no" on the question of bonds in the form proposed. But while we are doing this let us form in our own minds how a school would look located on more ample and better grounds at much less expense. I am told that the 14-acre lemon grove of Mr. Lukens at Broadway and Verdugo Road can be had for about $40,000. It extends from Broadway to Wilson avenue, is in the very center of the High School district, on three of the leading streets, only one block from the Pacific Electric, and is on the Eagle Rock car line. The location is in every way perfectly ideal. No streets to close. The old site could be sold for enough to go a long way towards putting up some nice buildings. Additions could be made in the future as needed without any burdensome bonding. The lemon orchard on such part of the grounds as would not be used for a few years would pay interest on all bonds needed for many years.

There are many other sites which would be very desirable, so it is my notion that we should vote "no" on making the present site permanent, and also "no" on such a large bond. What do you say?

P. S. McNUIT.

WHY I WILL VOTE FOR HOOVER

Editor Glendale Evening News:
Though I am a native Californian, a graduate of the same university as Senator Johnson, and one who so far has never failed to vote for him in primaries and other elections, yet tomorrow I shall vote for another Californian whom I feel represents a finer type of Americanism, notwithstanding Mr. Hearst and Mayor Thompson of Chicago question this view.

The educators of California generally are for Herbert Hoover. A straw vote at the State High School Principals' Convention, April 2d, gave the following result: Hoover, 256; Johnson, 28; Wood, 12; Lowden, 9, and Wilson, 7.

Our State Superintendent, Will C. Wood, from Sacramento, last week made the following declaration:

"The candidacy of Herbert Hoover will appeal to educators everywhere. The man who fed and clothed the homeless little ones of Belgium is worthy of the support of the teachers of America. Herbert Hoover has grown from a poor and orphaned boyhood to the stature of a world statesman because of opportunities afforded him by American schools. He will be a worthy successor of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt."

Respectfully yours,
W. D. ROOT.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST SERVICES

Angels, their nature and mission, is the general subject of the Sabbath school lessons at the Seventh-day Adventist church, California and Isabel streets, this quarter. A most interesting review of last week's lesson was conducted at the church last Saturday morning by Mrs. H. G. Lucas. Mrs. W. F. Martin, superintendent of the Sabbath school, narrated the personal experience of a friend of hers, Mrs. W. R. Smith, who is laboring in Korea under the direction of the Seventh-day Adventist Foreign Mission Board, and who in a most remarkable manner has given assurance of divine protection during the absence of her husband on a missionary tour.

Elder W. D. Mac Lay was the speaker at the morning service. During his discourse he mentioned a number of political events of the last few years, to illustrate the fulfillment of Bible prophecy, but said Seventh-day Adventists are not in politics, that the business of the Christian minister is to preach the unadulterated gospel of Jesus Christ, not to voice preferences for political candidates.

Under the direction of Mr. Clarence H. Jones, the choir rendered the anthem, "Peace." Elder G. W. Reaser announces that the raising of funds for the new church building is nearly completed, and that it is planned to dedicate the structure in July. A few more pledges will be needed to complete the fund. It is expected that these will be made at an early date.
