2 nd Day: Encyclopedic style. Have them write a paper article about smth familiar (village, ...) Then they read them and look for "I", "we", "you", etc. and personal comments → teach by example

4 th Day: Keep civil. Have them understand, with examples, that strong emotions will hijack their logic (fear, anger, etc). → you can't be logical if you're angry use their experience of anger → if they let themselves be controlled by anger, they can't stay polite

CONCLUSIONS/RECOMMENDATIONS/ACTIONS (IF ANY):

Thouny : I think WMF should gather the experience of people who did teach to children to try and create guidelines and advice for future endeavour
