" I like that Scripture line that says
The fields are white for harvest--yes,
Already white,--such fields, Vermont
Now shows in all their fruitfulness ".
Harvest Time in Vermont,--D.L.Cady.

The plants and bulbs that are the products of our fields, are ready now for planting in your gardens, to give you pleasure next season. It seems to us that, in addition to its obvious advantages, Fall planting adds the one of pleasant anticipation all thru the long cold Winter. One may plan to buy some wanted thing next Spring,--but, if its already in the garden, there must be added thrills to the first warm days.

Good crops--good conditions, here and everywhere. We have had much rain, and our plants are the best ever. And there are proven signs that tell us all that we may now look back 'around the corner'. Now is the time to fix up your garden for next year.

Plants not found on the following pages, are sure to be in our March 15th Circular. Send for another copy, if needed.

ALL PRICES INCLUDE DELIVERY;--except 5% extra, west of the Mississippi.

VERONICA LONGIFOLIA SUBSESSILIS

During the last few weeks of summer, from mid-July thru August, there is always a need for blue flowers, and for plants that do not grow way over ones head. Bright colored Phlox have their place; the late Day-lilies add their shades of gold; Liatris lift their gay feathers above the earlier foliage. Each and all need blue, a true deep color to set them off, or blend them together in color harmony. And this Veronica, the largest and best of the Speedwells, fills this need.

Growing at best not over three feet high, and usually less than that, its deep green leaves and sturdy stems make a satisfactory clump of foliage thru all the early summer. Then in late July, the spikes of tiny blue flowers, each nearly a foot long, begin to open, and as they are beginning to fade, the lateral buds open similar spikes of blue, so that for a month the plant is in full flower. The fading flowers are not unsightly, nor is the stem spoiled when the terminal flower is cut away.

Culture is simple. So far as our experience goes, any good garden soil will grow this plant. Moderate fertilization only, is advised, so that it will not grow too strongly, early in the season. But, when the first buds show, a little extra feeding will help. And at night, let the hose run for an hour in the bed. All midsummer and fall flowering plants are helped by such care. Flower they can and will, in the driest weather. But for good foliage to the ground, they must have water.

We have some heavy, two year old plants, that will send up several stems, next year. They are healthy, and sure to please you.

25¢ each; 5 for $1.00; 10 for $2.00; 25 for $4.50;--Postpaid.

With every order for Veronica longifolia subsessilis, we will send for five cents (5¢*) extra, a fine large root of Poppy MRS. PERRY.

PEONIES

Scarcely anything need be said about planting Peonies. Everyone knows that it should be done in September for best results. Ours is a very comprehensive list of the more moderately priced good new sorts. The plants sent out will be strong, and healthy. And each price includes delivery.

- ALBATRE. Similar to, but much better than Festiva maxima. The fine white bloom is held erect on strong stems, in midseason. 75¢ each.
- ALBERT CROUSSE. Seashell pink. A very large, fully double flower of perfect shape, and delicately beautiful coloring. Very late. $1.00 each.
- BARONESS SCHROEDER. A large late white, the bloom flat, and greatly resembling a large white waterlily. Very fragrant. $1.00 each.
- CHESTINE GOWDY. The outer petals are silvery pink. Deeper in color at the center, splashed with crimson. Late midseason. $1.00 each.
- CLAIRE DUBOIS. Later than M. Jules Elie, which it greatly resembles, tho of better texture and longer lasting. $1.25 each.
- DORCHESTER. A very late variety. In color, a deep pink, almost salmon. This variety needs to become established, before it is at its best. $1.00 each.
- EDULIS SUPERBA. A fine even dark pink. A loose, flat, flower which lasts exceptionally well. It is about the first to open. 75¢ each.
- EUGENIE VERDIER. An early, extra large flower of semi-rose type. Light pink, flecked with crimson at center. Fragrant, lasting. $1.00 each.
- FELIX CROUSSE. A very brilliant red. Bomb type, medium to large in size. In midseason, it is the best red of moderate price. 75¢ each.
- FESTIVA MAXIMA. The favorite white. Early midseason. 50¢ each.
- FRANCES WILLARD. An immense flower, opening blush white and fading to pure white. Quite late, and very strong in growth. $2.00 each.
- GEORGIANNA SHAYLOR. An extremely large, loose, flesh-pink flower. It opens in midseason, and lasts well. $2.00 each.
- JAMES KELWAY. Opens rose-white, and fades by successive stages to a clear white. Not well known, but an extremely fine variety. $2.00 each.
- KARL ROSENFELD. Fine, rich velvety crimson. In early midseason, it is the best red Peony, large, fine color, and consistently good. $1.00 each.
- LADY ALEXANDRA DUFF. An immense cup shaped bloom of pale rose pink. $1.00
- LA FRANCE. A large late soft pink flower, touched with lavender. $2.00.
- LE CYGNE. Pure white. Considered the finest of all, both from the point of color, and also of freedom of bloom, and general habit. $2.50 each.
- LIVINGSTONE. Pale lilac-rose, with silver tips. A compact, double flower, that cuts and lasts particularly well. Late midseason. 75¢ each.
- LONGFELLOW. Brilliant crimson, about the brightest colored sort we grow, in midseason. Highly regarded in its color. $2.00 each.
- LOUIS VAN HOUTTE. A midseason red, very double and good. 50¢ each.
- MARGUERITE GERARD. Enormous flat pale pink flowers, fading to white. 75¢.
- MARIE CROUSSE. Beautifully formed flowers, close to salmon pink in color. A fine midseason variety, tall stems, good habit. 75¢ each.
- MARIE LEMOINE. Our latest white, very fine large rose type. Extra. $1.00

PEONIES, --cont'd

- MARTHA BULLOCK. Mammoth cup shaped blooms of deep rose pink, fading to silvery pink. A strong plant, and fine in every way. $2.00 each.
- MARY BRAND. We like this as well as any red variety. It comes in midseason, does not fade, and lasts wonderfully well. $1.50 each.
- MME. AUGUST DESSERT. Bright rose, the center flecked crimson. Early. 75¢.
- MME. DUCEL. Large, incurved, silvery pink bloom. Midseason to late. 75¢ each.
- MME. EMILE GALLE. The most delicate pale pink imaginable. $1.00 each.
- MME. JULES DESSERT. Pure white, with a distinct pink center. $1.50 each.
- MONS. JULES ELIE. Pure pink. Wonderfully perfect in form and coloring. It always flowers in perfection. Fine for cutting. 75¢ each.
- OFFICINALIS RUBRA. The early red 'Decoration Day Peony'. 75¢ each.
- PRIMEVERE. Nearly yellow, especially if in partial shade. $1.50 each.
- SARAH BERNHARDT. Apple-blossom pink. Very free flowering, strong erect plant and an outstanding variety in every way. Immense flowers. $1.00 each.
- SOLANGE. No other Peony of this peculiar coloring. Opens coffee brown, but fades to pure white. Very large and compact. Rarely beautiful. $1.00 each.
- SUZETTE. Bengal rose, slightly shaded carmine purple. Silvery reflex. $1.00.
- THERESE. An enormous flower, violet rose changing to lilac white. A strong grower and free flowering. Midseason. $2.00 each.
- TOURANGELLE. Delicate rose, over pearly white, and shaded salmon. Late. $1.50
- TRIOMPHE DE L'EXP. DE LILLE. Flat, fragrant, hydrangea pink blooms. 50¢ each.
- VENUS. Exquisite in bud, and opens to a large compact flower, shell pink, with a flesh-white collar. Midseason. 75¢ each.
- WALTER FAXON. Bright clear rose. Very double flower in midseason, and about the best of its color. Rather scarce. $1.50 each.

SINGLE PEONIES

- LA FIANCEE. White. An indescribably graceful flower. $1.00 each.
- L'ETINCELANTE. Rich clear carmine, broadly edged with silver. $1.50

TREE PEONIES

We have to offer, a small number of plants, grown from a very old sort found in gardens here. Very double, rich rose, shaded with white. Hardy, and permanent, they are suited for a commanding position in the border. STRONG YOUNG CLUMPS, --- $2.50 each, postpaid.

TROLLIUS

These plants delight in damp heavy soil. Plant them now, for they are among the earliest spring flowers. Strong plants of all the following, at 25¢ each, 10 for $2.00, 100 for $18.00. See March circular for complete list.

- CANARY BIRD. Early, bright yellow, and apt to flower a second time.
- EUROPEUS. Pale lemon yellow. Glossy dark foliage. This is absolutely true.
- FIRE GLOBE. Bright orange flowers, semi-double, on a moderately low plant.
- LODDIGESI. Bright golden yellow. Flowers keep their close round form.
- SINENSIS. Very tall, very late. Flat, bright orange flowers, in late June.

HEMEROCALLIS

The Day Lilies, in their newer forms, are among the best garden plants for midsummer flowers. The foliage is permanent and good. The plant is hardy, and grows readily. The new colors include all the shades of yellow and orange, and vary both in time, and in habit, some being tall arching stems, and others stiff erect ones, each with a cluster of buds, which open for a day, to be followed by others, over a long period. Fragrant, too.

AMARYLLIS. A large golden orange flower, slightly deeper in the throat. The petals recurve, giving a flaring effect. 3' high. July-August. $1.00 each.

ANNA BETSCHER. Lovely deep orange-yellow, touched with a light striping of bronze-red. Late July, to mid-August. 3' high. $1.75 each.

APRICOT. An English variety, growing 2' high. Flowers are light apricot-orange. Early (May and June) and compact. Very fragrant. 50¢ each.

BAY STATE. Very large, deep glistening yellow flowers, with fluted petals. A persistent bloomer in late July-August. 3'. $1.00 each CALYPSO. A clear lemon yellow flower, opening in late afternoon. Large and tall (3½'). Charming in moonlight. July-August. $1.00 each.

CISSIE GIUSSEPPI. Deep coppery red, with a pale yellow throat. As it fades, it is almost rose red. Outside of petals, red and green. 3'. Mid-July to late August. An unusual color, and a rare new variety. $4.00 each.

CRESSIDA. Beautiful deep orange, with reddish band. Rare. $2.00 each.

D.D. WYMAN. Light golden yellow, with a splash of tawny red on the petals. 3' high, and a strong plant. In bloom thruout July. $1.00 each.

DR. REGEL. A small sort, 2' high, with rich apricot fragrant flowers. 50¢.

FLAVINA. Grows 18" high, and flowers in May and June. The flowers are bright lemon-yellow. Fine for the rockery. A distinct acquisition. $2.50 each.

FULVA MACULATA. Tall and strong, 4' high. Soft yellow and coppery red, in an open cup-shaped flower. Mid-July to September. $1.00 each.

GEM. A June bloomer, with rich deep orange yellow flowers. $1.00 each.

GEO. YELD. Very large open flowers, held erect on stiff stems, to 3½ feet. Rich orange and orange scarlet. July and August. $1.50 each

GOLD DUST. A large, rich, clear golden yellow flower, in June. 2½'. 50¢ each.

GOLDEN BELL. Large, fragrant flowers, soft apricot yellow, with deeper throat. The petals are fluted, and recurving. 3'. July and August. $1.50 each.

GOLDEN DREAM. The deepest golden yellow sort. Extra fine. 3', July. $2.00.

GOLDEN I. Deep golden orange flowers in early July. 3' $1.00.

GYPSY. Orange yellow, spotted tawny rose. Tall. July-August $2.00 each.

HYPERION. Soft canary yellow flowers, of immense size. Superb form and a strong vigorous plant. 3½', in July-August. True stock, from the originator. One of the few American plants to win an A.M.R.H.S. $ 2.50 each.

J.A. CRAWFORD. One of the best apricot-yellow sorts. 4'. July. $1.00.

LEMONA. Pale lemon yellow, and very lovely. 3½'. July-August $1.00 each

MRS. A.H. AUSTIN. Large flowers, of deep golden yellow. 3'. July-August. $1.50

MRS. W.H. WYMAN. Very pale glistening yellow. Extra fine. 3½' August. $1.00

HEMEROCALLIS, --cont'd

OLIF. A very pleasing true yellow variety. New and good. 2½' July. $1.00

OPHIR. A large, fine golden yellow, 4' high in August. $1.00 each.

RADIANT. An English variety, comparable only to Hyperion, which it resembles in all but color. It is a clear pure orange. Grows 3½' high, flowering in July and August, and has the coveted A.M.R.H.S. $2.50 each.

SOVEREIGN. An English sort, growing 2½', stiffly erect, with many stems and many flowers of bright orange yellow, shaded brown on the outside. It is fine for massed effect. Late June. A.M.R.H.S. $1.00 each.

THUNBERGI. A late flava, lemon yellow, in August. Fragrant and fine. 35¢ each.

VARIEGATED LEAF. Foliage attractively striped with cream. Rare. $1.00 each.

WINSOME. A pale creamy yellow, coming in June. Very floriferous and lovely. Grows 3' high, but is deinty; quite fragrant. A.M.R.H.S. $1.50 each.

JAPANESE IRIS

We are able to offer the following, from a larger collection of fine varieties, which we are assembling here. Use a deep, rich, slightly acid soil and give water plentifully, during the growing season.

AZURE. Immense double mauve blue flowers, with yellow center. 75¢ each.

CHOSEIDON. Double ruby crimson, with white and yellow center. 75¢ each.

GOLD BOUND. Double white, the finest and best. Strong plants. 25¢ each.

ISO-NO-NAMI. Double. Caerulean blue, with silvery veins and gold center. 75¢

KAMATA. Real sky blue, with white veinings. Single. Excellent. $1.00 each.

KOKO-NO-IRO. Double, rich royal purple; veins and center, yellow. 50¢ each

MAHOGANY. Double, deep velvety mahogany. Gorgeous. 50¢ each.

NOMYI-NO-TAKI. Double. White stippled rose-pink. Rarely beautiful. $1.00.

PYRAMID. Double. Violet purple with white veinings. 50¢ each.

TEMPLE FLOWER. Single. Ivory white, blended soft bluish violet. $1.50 each.

UCHIU. Double. Caerulean blue; pale gold and white center. Fine. 50¢ each.

MIXED SEEDLINGS. These were grown here from seed. There are some very fine colors among them, and the clumps are heavy. 25¢ each; 10 for $2.00.

ORIENTAL POPPIES

The following are still available, in strong dormant field grown roots, for planting at once. We do not recommend planting after mid-September.

FAIRY. Very delicate shell pink. Early. Charming and an easy doer. 25¢ each.

JEANNE MAWSON. Lovely peach pink. Strong plant and quite early. 25¢ each.

JOYCE. Cerise and old rose. Extra large flowers, on stiff erect stems. 25¢.

MAY QUEEN. Very double, and early. Bright orange scarlet. 25¢ each.

MRS. PERRY. The finest rose pink. Strong, vigorous, and hardy. 25¢ each.

PROSERPINE. Chinese red, with a very black center. Tall, late, vigorous. 25¢.

WURTEMBERGIA. Enormous flowers, 12" across, opening flat. Cerise scarlet. 50¢

LILIES

The bulbs of the Lilies offered on these pages, are nearly all of our own growing. All are hardy here. They have been given as good care as our experience teaches us is required. If planted this Fall, in suitable ground, given a light mulch, after the ground becomes frozen, and protected, if necessary, against late frosts, next Spring, they will surely give you blooms in their season.

The culture of Lilies offer many varying problems, most of which have been treated on at length, in recent publications. Space prevents our giving attention to this part, in this circular. But we will gladly answer your questions, to the best of our ability, if you will write us.

THE REGAL LILY

In 1910, the first satisfactory introduction of this Lily in America was accomplished, tho it was discovered in 1903, and sent to England in 1905. Bulbs also arrived in America from Holland, in due time flowers were seen, seed saved, and in 1921, it began to be plentiful. The demand grew as it became known, until now it is the most largely produced of any variety, in this country, and certainly the most widely planted.

Because of its ease of handling, it was logical that hybrids of it should be raised, and it has been the parent of the best of the true hybrid Lilies. It has been our privilege to help with the distribution of two of these hybrids. And we have grown all of them. Each differs from the Regal Lily in some particular, but the fine vigor, and the shape and color and fragrance of all, come from it.

Regal Lilies should be in every garden, planted among shrubs, in the perennial border, at the edge of evergreens, or massed alone. Heavy soils suit them best. Plant deeply, six inches to the top of the bulb. Leave them undisturbed if possible. They will delight you in late June, and early July of each year, with their tall arching stems, topped with the long trumpets of white, with a yellow throat, and the outer segments stained purple.

STRONG BULBS, 6/8" circum. - 30¢ each; 10 for $2.50; 25 for $5.00; 100 for $18.

LILIUM PRINCEPS

This Lily first appeared as a natural hybrid, in fields of Lilies in Massachusetts, where both L. sargentiae and L. regale were grown. It is a Regal Lily seedling, influenced by pollen from Mrs. Sargent's Lily. The original form was called Creelman's Lily. Later, this hybrid was again raised in Canada, and the resulting form called L. princeps. This we imported, and raised seedlings from. So that, the Lilies we have can not be called the true hybrid, but descendants of it.

These do not vary to any extent. They flower some two weeks later than the Regal Lily, and greatly resemble it. The flower has slightly more flare, and is a little more green on the outer segments. The anthers are brown. It is a beautiful thing, more vigorous with us, on a sandy loam, than the Regal Lily, and we recommend it for itself, and to prolong the season.

STRONG BULBS, 6/8" circum. - $1.00 each; 5 for $4.50; 10 for $8.00.

SHELburne HYBRID LILIES

This strain was next to appear, and resulted from pollen of the Regal Lily, on a bloom of L. sargentiae. It is the reverse of the Princeps cross, and much more variable. Many plants are entirely like the Regal, some even flower with them, while others are much later. Some have Regal foliage, but have the bulbils of L. sargentiae. Some have foliage intermediate between the two. Others are all Mrs. Sargent's Lily, but have Regal blooms.

The vigor of this strain, particularly on sandy soils, has been a marked feature. This alone is most valuable. But even more valuable is the extremely late flowering dates of many bulbs. On August 16th, there are many buds which will not open for a week or more.

Particularly stressing the fact that these are seedlings from a true hybrid, the parentage of which is known, we wish to urge buyers to try these in quantity, so that, if one bulb flowers with L. regale, you will not feel cheated. In time, we hope to select and fix some of the better forms that have appeared, so that we can set the time of blooming. For the present, every bulb is a surprise package, and as some have grown to sale size, without having flowered, it may be that the most valuable form of all will open in your own garden.

STRONG BULBS, 6/8" circum. - $1.50 each; 5 for $7.00; 10 for $12.50.
FLOWERING BULBS, 4/6" " $1.00 each; 5 for $4.00; 10 for $7.50.

LILY "PRIDE OF CHARLOTTE"

This fine new form, we offered last year for the first time. Its origin is shrouded in mystery, for it appeared in a lot of seedling Regal Lilies, and while it is known that some seed of hybrid origin had been sown, it is not known what it was. Having spent some time and space last season, trying to reason the possible parentage, and having heard the deductions of more than one skilled observer, this year, we still find ourselves inclined to the view we first held, and refrain from stating it at length. We have copies of last year's catalog, which are available if you wish.

The "Pride" as we have come to call it, flowers just as the Regal lily is past. It is stiff and erect, a strong stem that supports notable heads of flowers, more than on Regal, being customary. The foliage is a light green, and there are axillary bulbils, which grow as readily as do those of the Tiger Lily. Seeds also ripen, and produce identical plants.

The flowers resemble L. sargentiae, more than L. regale, but are held more erect, and have clear good coloring. It is a splendid form to prolong the Regal Lily season. More than that, it is so easily grown and increased, that we predict a tremendous popularity for it. Grow it now, and enjoy it, while it is uncommon.

STRONG BULBS, 6/8" circum. - $2.00 each; 5 for $9.00; 10 for $17.50.
EXTRA LARGE BULBS, 8/10" circumference, - $4.00 each.

LILIUM PHILIPPINENSE FORMOSUM

Departing now from the Regal types of Lilies, we offer strong bulbs, of this fine hardy Easter Lily type. The strain we have flowers late in September, but has good dark green foliage all summer. The trumpets, like those of the Easter Lily, are pure white, very tubular, and fragrant. It is a fine thing, just beginning to be appreciated. Grows about 2' high.

FLOWERING SIZE BULBS (Never large). Each, $1.00; 5 for $4.50.

LILIUM CANDIDUM

The Madonna Lily. Beautiful erect spikes of snowy white flaring flowers on a stem, like a Hollyhock, open with the blue Delphinium, with which they are so often planted. It is a lily that likes lime, and a small amount should be added, always, when planting. And set the bulb just under the surface. It must be planted as early as possible, and we still have bulbs of our own growing, available. More will come from France, in September.

LARGE BULBS, 30¢ each; 5 for $1.25; 10 for $2.50 100 for $20.00.

JAPANESE LILIES

LILIUM AURATUM. The Gold Banded Lily. A moderate supply of bulbs that have grown here for one season. 35¢ each; 10 for $3.00; 25 for $6.25.

LILIUM SPECIOSUM RUBRUM. The Showy Lily. This is the beautiful white and rose spotted lily of Fall gardens. We again have bulbs of our own growing. Plant them deeply. 35¢ each; 10 for $3.00; 25 for $6.25.

OTHER LILIES

Very likely, we produce as many bulbs, of as many different species of small Lilies, as any growers in this country. And each year, we have urged our friends to try these tiny gems, in their Rockeries and Borders. We have printed descriptions of them, at length, and we have steadily reduced the prices, as our production has mounted. We urge you, buy these this year and enjoy them now.

ALL PRICES, 25¢ each; 10 for $2.00; 100 for $18.00; EXCEPT AS NOTED.

AMABILE. A fairly tall plant, with dull orange red, Turks-cap like blooms, spotted with black. Flowers in midsummer. One writer has said it was not as pleasing as the name denotes, every visitor here, likes it.

CALLOSUM. Tall, very slender stem, with quantities of tiny dull red blooms.

CANADENSE. Our native Meadow Lily. Beautiful yellow bells on a tall strong stem. Naturalizes readily. Common to moist meadowland. 35¢ each; 10 for $3.00.

CERNUUM. Almost identical with the Coral Lily, except in color, which is lavender pink. Charming, and rare. 35¢ each; 10 for $3.00.

CONCOLOR. The upright cup shaped flowers are held erect by slender stems, 2' high, and are about the brightest color we know. Splendid for planting among any low plants, or shrubs.

GRAYI. Small, bright red bells, spotted black, inside. Tall, and likes a little shade, with shrubs or plants to hold it erect. 50¢ each; 10 for $4.50.

HENRYI. The Yellow Speciosum. A fine bright yellow bloom, much like the Showy Lily, in form and habit. Flowers late, is perfectly hardy, strong, and vigorous. It should be planted deeply, -and plentifully, among shrubs.

PARDALINUM. The Leopard Lily is a native of the West Coast. It is happy here in our sandy loam. Red-yellow Turks-Caps, spotted black. 50¢ ea.; 10-~~$4.~~

PHILADELPHICUM. The Woods Lily. Grows here in sandy soils in open woodland. Bright red cups, on a short stocky stem.

SUPERBUM. The Southern Turks-Cap. A showy, strong growing plant, very floriferous. Fine in partial shade, or the edge of shrubbery. Perfectly hardy TENUIFOLIUM. Gracefully nodding Turks-Caps of the brightest Coral scarlet in quantities of from one to twenty, on slender strong stems, 2' or more high, in June. Plant it in every border and rockery.

MAMMOTH BULBS, 35¢ each; 10 for $3.00; 100 for $25.00.

REGULAR GRADE, 20¢ each; 10 for $1.50; 100 for $12.00; 1000 for $100.00.

TENUIFOLIUM GOLDEN GLEAM. A golden yellow form of the preceding, as easily grown, and as lasting. We have a fine true strain. PRICES ARE THE SAME AS FOR L. TENUIFOLIUM.

TIGRINUM SPLENDENS. A fine strain of the Tiger Lily. 20¢ each. 10 for $1.00.

TIGRINUM FL. PL. The Double Tiger Lily. The only good double Lily.

UMBELLATUM. Very large, erect, cup shaped blooms, on short stems (18") in June and July. Ours are mixed in shades of orange, and red.

WILLMOTTIAE. A tall, gracefully drooping lily, carrying a large quantity of Turks-cap like blooms, of an orange red. Fine, planted in Evergreens.

PRICES IN THIS CIRCULAR SUPERSEDE THOSE PUBLISHED EARLIER, FOR THE SAME ITEMS. ALL PLANTS, PREVIOUSLY OFFERED THIS SUMMER, ARE AVAILABLE AND MAY BE ORDERED FROM THE EARLIER CIRCULARS.
