This work, which is of the greatest historical importance, has NEVER BEEN PUBLISHED. Tamayo de Vargas quotes it from the autograph, which Antonio (who never saw it) states to have been in the library of the Conde de Olivares. The above is THE ORIGINAL AUTOGRAPH, and identically the same as that quoted by Vargas, and mentioned on hearsay by Antonio. At the end of the second part are these words, "Fin de la segunda parte de la Chronica Hierosolimitana, J. F." "Hay en este libro 374 fojas escritas—a 20 de 7bre 1576, J. F." This inscription leaves no doubt that it is from the hand of the author himself. Antonio's hint that it might be a mere translation from Bosio's work on the same subject, is controverted by the fact, stated in the introduction to the second part, that the first part had provoked a great display of ill-will and enmity towards the author on the part of interested persons. It had most probably been read over by Foxa in literary circles; and the adverse feelings of men in power may be considered a sufficient cause for its having remained unprinted to the present day.

- 16 LAUNAY (Sieur de) L'Ordre de la Bande ou de l'Escharpe rouge institué au Royaume de CASTILLE, 4to. MANUSCRIPT, with portrait of a Knight in his costume, and 62 coloured Coats of Arms, vellum, £3. 3s Sac. XVII.

"Cet ouvrage contient les armoiries de toute la noblesse Andalousse. Il est d'une grande importance, non seulement pour le généalogiste, mais encore pour l'historien et le littérateur. Argote de Molina, en parlant des nobles enfans de sa patrie, rapporte aussi l'histoire du temps où ils recurent, et en racontant certains faits d'armes ou batailles, il n'oublie pas de citer les romances et les compositions poétiques populaires qui les rappellent. Plusieurs de ces poésies, qui remontent au XIV^e siècle, auraient été perdues pour nous, si le savant annaliste n'eut pris le soin de les transmettre ainsi à la postérité. Soit qu'on recherche beaucoup ce livre en Espagne, soit qu'il n'ait été tiré qu'à un petit nombre d'exemplaires, le fait est qu'aujourd'hui on en rencontre fort peu, et encore manquent-ils le plus souvent du titre."—Salva.

This is perhaps the most laborious and most able Bibliographical work which has ever appeared. It is scarcely possible to find a volume or a manuscript connected with French History, which is not fully described here, and it frequently gives curious details respecting our English historians. Brunet says of it—"Cet ouvrage est un des travaux les plus essentiels qu'ait produits la science bibliographique, et il doit se trouver dans toutes les Bibliothèques."

family papers, and then printed. In every way this is a very desirable copy of "the most valuable piece of antiquity possessed by any nation."

Almost every page of Dugdale's Baronage may be referred to as evidence of the importance of this census to the Genealogist.

"The Domesday Book of William the Conqueror is unquestionably the most valuable record of property possessed by any nation in Europe, whether we consider the extent, the variety or the importance of the information it contains. In this inestimable survey, the various manors are arranged under the names of the tenants in Capite, who were those who held of the King as the supreme lord of all the lands in England; thus exhibiting in the clearest manner the original distribution of property, at the time of the Conquest, throughout the kingdom; and presenting us with a view, which is nearly complete, of all the persons who, in the first twenty years after the Conquest, formed the Barons of England—the progenitors of those who, in subsequent times, were the active agents in wresting from King John the great Charter of our Liberties."

Priced, 1834, Thorpe, £12. 12s; 1840, Payne and Foss, £14. 14s.

Privately printed at the expense of an association of noblemen and gentlemen. This curious and interesting memorial of early honours contains the evidences of upwards of three hundred earls, barons, knights, and esquires; of each an interesting biographical notice is given; and their depositions abound in interesting information, illustrative of the history, manners and customs, of this country in the fourteenth century. Only a small edition was printed, and none of the copies were intended for sale. This celebrated dispute was carried on in the Court of Chivalry, during a period of five years, with great spirit by both parties, who enlisted as witnesses some of the most distinguished knights and warriors who flourished in that age of chivalry. One of the witnesses was "Geoffrey Chaucere, Esquyer," who mentions his captivity in France. See an interesting account of it in Mr. Martin's Catalogue of privately printed books.

Mr. Bernard Quaritch has just received from India a valuable privately printed BOTANICAL WORK.

Beddome (Capt. R. H.) the Ferns of Southern India, being descriptions and plates of the Ferns of the Madras Presidency. COMPLETE in 20 parts, royal 4to. containing 271 finely executed plates of the numerous FERNS, indigenous to that district. (Sold to Subscribers at 40 Rupees,) sold £5. 10s
 Madras, 1863-4

On account of the great difficulty and expense of transit, Mr. Quaritch is compelled to charge the Rupee at 2s 9d. No discount whatever has been allowed from the subscription price of the work,—on the contrary, a heavy commission and other expenses have been added, so that the work is in reality offered at little more than cost price.

Pugin's Sketch Book : PHOTOGRAPHS from Sketches by A. WELBY PUGIN, 1 vol. 4to. (pub. at £10. 10s) elegantly half bound, £8. 18s 6d 1865

The attention of the Architectural Profession, Ecclesiologists, and the lovers of Art, is drawn to the above Publication of 500 Original Sketches by the late Augustus Welby Pugin. The collection contains a selection of that eminent Artist's celebrated Foreign Sketches from the year 1836, concluding with his journey to Italy in 1847.

Although Pugin, "as a draughtsman was unsurpassed," the truly wonderful power which he possessed of producing Artistic effect—the freedom of his drawing, combined with his intuitive knowledge of perspective, are but little known, even to his most intimate friends. The Publication, therefore, will be the more welcome, not only on account of its artistic excellence and historic association, but as being a new evidence, now for the first time offered to the public, of the genius of this great Architect.

Whilst in this work Sketches are introduced of the principal objects of interest and beauty in the chief Cities of France, Belgium, Italy, and Southern Germany, regard has not only been given to the picturesque effect of Churches, Sepulchral Monuments, Castles, Buildings, Towers, Bridges, and Ruins, but, in many instances, Plans, Sections, and Details of their several parts have been added; and it may here be remarked, that, as numbers of the Photographs contain several of these, the total number of Illustrations will consequently be found to exceed 1700.

Photography has been selected for copying these invaluable Drawings on account of its undoubted superiority in the reproduction of the very touch and spirit of the Master—a result which every other method of attempted facsimile has failed to accomplish

By far the best and completest history and illustration of animated nature that has ever appeared. It is in every sense of the word a NATURALIST'S LIBRARY, embracing the result of the labours of all the great natural historians brought down to the latest period.
"We could hardly have thought that any new periodical would have obtained our approbation so entirely as the 'Naturalist's Library'; but the price is so low, the coloured plates so elegant, and their descriptions so scientific and correct, that we cannot withhold our warmest praise.
