HECLA WORKS, ONEIDA CO., N. Y.

APRIL 2. 1866.

I beg leave to present my List for the present year, and offer the prices established for the close of the past season, without material change. In consequence of a fire which recently destroyed the main portion of my manufactory, with the machinery and some patterns, I have omitted from the List all Wrought and Brass Goods. I am manufacturing all other Goods at an establishment, temporarily leased, until I can rebuild my factory, which I hope to have completed early in June next. In the meantime, all orders, with which you may be pleased to favor me, will be attended to as usual.

Yours Respectfully,

A. K. SEYMOUR.

A. C. PALMER'S
Patent Premium Blind Butts and Fast.

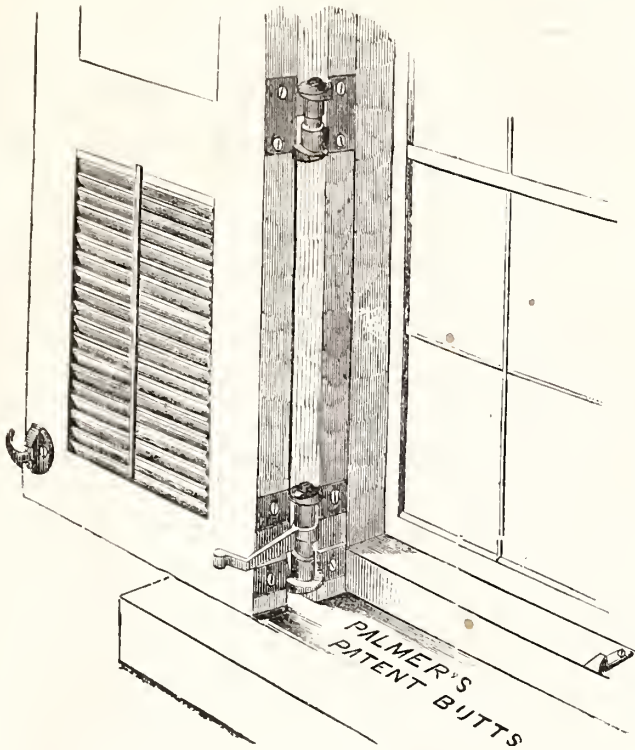

These Hinges which have been in use many years, have become a staple article, and are approved wherever used. Their superiority over all others, consists in the combination of the most perfect self-fastening principle, together with strength and simplicity.

The use of the Lever in closing the Blind entirely obviates the danger of throwing the Blind from its Hinges, which is an objection to most other kinds of self-shutting Hinges, which have to be raised by the hand in order to close them.

The use of Wrought Iron Pins, and other late improvements upon the original patterns, have added greatly to the strength and durability of these Hinges.

These Hinges have taken the Highest Premium when put in competition with others.

The above cut represents the No. 1, for Wood. It shows the Blind open, with the Lever on the lower Hinge in the position in which it is required to be placed to close the Blind. There is an Inclined Plane, which raises the Blind while opening, until it reaches the wall, when it drops and is securely fastened. To close the Blind, it is only necessary to turn the Lever as represented in the cut, and the Blind will close and fasten on the inside.

The Nos. 1½, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11 and 14, differ only in length and weight.

Nicholson's Patent Blind Hinges.

These Hinges have the following advantages over those of similar construction :

They are Self-Fastening and can be operated without reaching out of the window.

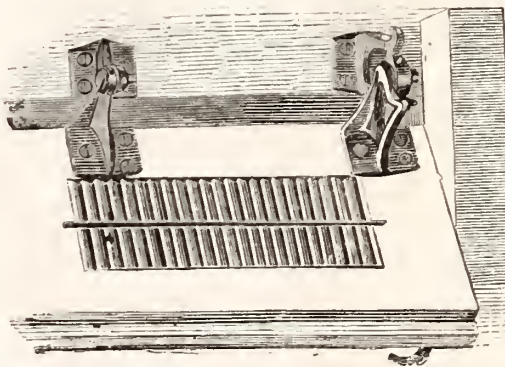

They are strong and cheap, and can be hung simply by the use of a gimlet and screw-driver.

The pins are placed in such a position as to cover the sockets, thus obviating the danger of breaking or rendering them otherwise inoperative by the collection of snow or sleet.

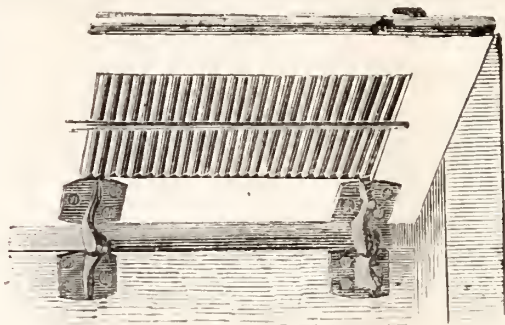

These Hinges have a fastening attached which prevents the Blind from being raised off by the wind, or when fastening; and the Blind cannot be taken off except when in one position.

(See pages 12 and 13 for illustration.)

GATE HINGES AND FASTS.

To Swing Both Ways and Self-Shutting.

Especial attention is directed to our Self-Shutting Gate Hinge, to Swing both ways. It is the strongest and cheapest Hinge made, and cannot get out of order.

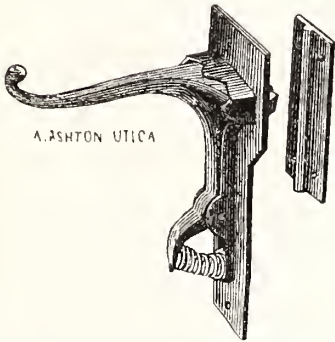

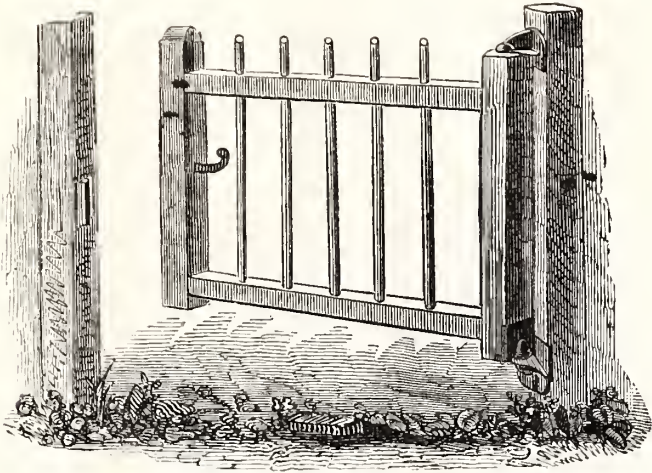

The Improved Gate Fast is so altered as to dispense with the loose slide and knuckle in Waters's Gate Fast, is more easily put on, adjusts itself to the sagging of the gate, and is much reduced in price.

(See Cuts on opposite page.)

SEYMOUR'S

Self-Shutting Gate Hinges and Fast.

These Hinges have Wrought Iron Pins, and are every way superior to any Self-Shutting Hinge in market.

By reference to the Cut, it will be seen that the Screws are put in at right angles, which prevents them from getting loose or sagging. The Eye or Socket is capped over, so that they will operate in any weather.
