PAT-CHATS.

Things Theatrical North and West from the Chicago Point of View.

The opening of the regular dramatic season in Chicago has proven most satisfactory both to the managers and the theatre-going public. The attractions offered have been decidedly meritorious and the fact that nearly all of the theatres have been taxed to their legal seating capacity is an indication that the amusement seeking public is in a mood to welcome really first-class offerings after having been deprived of this privilege for so long a time. All signs point to a successful season in the Windy City, both from an artistic and financial view point.

That Chicago is steadily forging to the front and coming into its own as a productive center is amply evidenced in its selection by Mr. Charles Frohman as the starting point for a dramatic enterprise of such sterling worth as the artistic combination of E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe. Both of these distinguished stage favorites have found favor in classic roles. Mr. Frohman has surrounded them with a superior organization that in all points is adequately equipped to interpret the classic drama. Miss Marlowe and Mr. Sothern are devoting the first of their three weeks' engagement at the Illinois to Romeo and Juliet. Much Ado About Nothing will be brought for ward next week and for the third week Hamlet will be the bill.

The question that is to the fore just now is "Will Chicago hotel managers change their rules and ape the fashions of their New York brethren's bar dogs?" The answer to that question will undoubtedly prove of interest to several actresses who seemingly cannot become detached from their canine attachments. Mrs. Patrick Campbell travels about with Pinky Panky Poo; Miss Ethel Barrymore has Dodo; Miss Julia Marlowe's retinue includes an aristocratic canine named Ponchet. These actresses are glad to come to Chicago because the biggest Chicago hotels will harbor even the smallest dogs. New York hotels will have none of them. It is said that Mme. Bernhardt made the rounds of six prominent New York hotels because of her animals, but when she settles down at the Annex, in Chicago, she is permitted to fill her apartments with any kind of menagerie she pleases. May Yohé used to revel in pets at the Chicago hotels. Actresses in New York, somehow get detached from their dogs—you seldom see one in Chicago minus a pet. But it is safe to predict that the day of the dog in Chicago hotels is fast approaching an end.

C. A. Bird, formerly resident manager of the Garrick Theatre, has joined the executive staff of Liebler and Co., and is now directing the tour of Ezra Kendall in Weather-beaten Benson. Mr. Samuel Guerson, formerly press representative has succeeded Mr. Bird as resident manager of the Garrick and the theatre, under his direction, will undoubtedly be conducted in an able and conservative manner.

Dave Lewis, of Royal Chef fame, who has been singing Take Me Back To That Dear Old Chicago Town, has had his appeal answered. The New York critics and public answered it. Now that Dave is again on Randolph street it is probable that he never felt so "Taken Back" before in all his life.

Edward Shayne is in New York arranging vaudeville bookings for his string of parks for next season. Mr. Shayne recently returned from a week's sojourn in Louisville where he has installed two Mutoscope parlors, one of them being in the Hopkins Theatre Building. He now has four of these parlors, known as The Wonderland Arcade and Automatic Expositions, one in Chicago, another in St. Louis and the two above mentioned in Louisville. They are making Eddie a lot of money.

The Avenue Theatre, 62d and Halsted streets, Chicago, opened September 5 in stock, under the management of Sam Morris, who also owns the playhouse. The Avenue is one of the neatest of our outlying theatres. The interior color scheme is cardinal red and the auditorium seats about 800. A large party of newspaper men and booking agents went out to the Avenue in a body, Saturday night.

Toddy Hamilton, "the wood carpenter," and Willard D. Coxey, "the parson press agent," of the Barnum and Bailey general press staff, are at the Auditorium, and from now until the close of the Barnum engagement at the Coliseum, October 19, the newspapers in the windy city will be kept busy grinding out the stories that have helped to make the aforementioned gentlemen famous. Under skillful treatment in New York, Mr. Hamilton has somewhat recovered from the ailment which has been affecting his hearing. It is evident that Mr. Coxey's dues lie in pleasant pathways, for he has taken on a great amount of flesh this summer.

The Barnum and Bailey Show will open at the Coliseum, Thursday, October 6. The Brooke's band engagement will terminate Sunday, September 25, and from that time on, until the circus opens, the Coliseum will be a busy place. One hundred men have been engaged to get the building in readiness. Preliminary work, on new seats and other accessories, has been going on for weeks.

Lew Aronson and J. A. Sternad, of the Great International Theatrical Exchange, have added two cozily furnished rooms to their suite of offices and now have one of the most pretentious exchanges in the city. For a young firm these gentlemen are certainly making a record.

Mr. M. Magnus, manager of the Irving Theatrical Agency, has completed negotiations with the Orpheum Theatre Company, for the Chicago representation of their Eastern circuit of six houses, which embrace Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Springfield, Dayton and Akron, Ohio. Mr. Magnus fairly bubbles over with business activity, and has made the Irving agency a real factor in Chicago theatrical circles.

Klaw and Erlanger's Ben-Hur will be seen at the Auditorium for a run of six weeks next winter.

Samuel Colt, who plays the part of J. Milton Brown, the thiyte artist in Bird Center, is a nephew of Senator John Colt Spooner of Wisconsin.

Candida Bernard Shaw's play in which Arnold Daly scored such a pronounced hit in New York and Boston last season, will be brought to Chicago on October 24 for a stay of Everything, now enjoying a run at the Broadway Theatre, New York, will be the attraction at the Illinois, beginning Sunday, November 6. It will be presented by the same cast, headed by Peter F. Dalley and Fay Templetton.

De Wolf Hopper and Marguerite Clark have prospered in the revival of Wang at the Garlick. Mr. Hopper has lost none of his powers as a fun-maker.

The last week of Bird Center at the Grand began Sunday night, Sept. 18. It has done very well thus far, though everybody appears to have over-estimated the public's familiarity with the cartoons upon which it is based.

There is no doubt that Woodland is in for a run at the Studebaker. Opinions as to its merits differ sharply, but it has been enthusiastically received by the public. Woodland is a distinct novelty, the production is handsome and elaborate and there are some clever actors in the cast.

Wilton Lackaye in The Pit, is playing the third week of his engagement in McVicker's Theatre. The house has been sold out at every performance and the play is repeating the record made when it was first presented here. The management of McVicker's has hit upon novel scheme. With the S. R. GOOD-BYE, MARSHALL.

Apropos of the sailing of Marshall P. Wilder from San Francisco, Oct. 13, for a tour of the world, James Barton Adams contributes the following.

Hurts to say it! Goodbye, Marshall!
Sort o' hate to see you go!
Give us what you'd call a partial Stroke o' sorrow, don't you know?
Fun-men ain't so 'tarnal plenty
That 'twll calm him down agin—
Go'n' to miss you, yes we be,
When yer wile acrost the sea.

Go'n' to belt the planet, be you,
On yer rail an' water flight?
Go'n' to let the hull earth see you
Chase blue devils out o' sight.
Go'n' to scatter seed o' humor
Into souls that's grim and harsh
Every se'll be a bloomer

Instanyain's, won't it Marsh?
Go'n' to belt the earth o' son,
With a streak o' sparklin' fun,
Blessin's from yer friends'll chase you
In the breast o' breezes stored,
An' in nightly prayers we'll place you
Favo'ble before the Lord,
If ol' Neptune, damp and hoary,
Gits a tantrum wuss'n glu,
Fire at him a funny story
An' 'twll calm him down agin—
Sea around yer boat fur miles
'll be wreathed with sparklin' smiles

Tell yer jokes to the Mikado
When you light in ol' Japan,
Go to Turkey, drive the shadow
From off' Alab, if you can.
Crack some joke nuts with the Kalser,
Jolly up the Dago King,
Give King Ed a vitalizer
In the shape o' funny flag;
Fit the Czar at Peters,
With the smile that won't come off.

Goodbye, Marshall, heaven bless you—
Hate to lose you, little pard.
Thousands multiplied will miss you
Same as this ol' mountain bard—
Mis'yer bous mots in the papers,
(That's jes' where you set the pace!)
Mis'yer laugh-provoking capers,
When the footlights kiss yer face,
Mis'yer attitudes so fetidin'
An' yer smile, that's allis kendin'

CINCINNATI THEATRE-GOERS BE-L GHTED.

Forepaugh Stock Company will open Robinson's. Rumors concerning the opening of the Robinson Opera House in Cincinnati and its lessors have been cleared away at last by the announcement that the house has been leased to Manager Davis to Manager George E. Fish of the Forepaugh Stock company of Philadelphia. Mr. Fish is in Cincinnati and has begun operations for the opening of the house, Sept. 25.

It is the new manager's intention to practically transfer his Philadelphia company to Cincinnati, and though not prepared to make public a complete list of his players, he has decided that Miss Lavinia Shannon, sister to Eddie Shannon, will be the leading lady.

He promises to present what he considers the best possible company in the best of the successful plays that have been offered since.

The matter of scenery and stage direction, so important to those who would rival the magnificent productions given at the Pike, will be in the hands of Gilbert Elly, stage manager, and Edwin Vandermark scenic artist at the Grand Opera House in Pittsburgh for five seasons.

Cincinnati playgoers have wished for a permanent stock company ever since the Pike Theatre was destroyed and the announcement that Robinson's would be opened by such a company has shed a beam of realized hopes over the play-going element. When Knighthood Was In Flower is promised as the opening attraction by Mr. Fish. Among other plays are promised Tess of the D'Urbervilles, Barbara Frithie, The Cowboy and the Lady, The Pride of Jenkins, Richard Carvel, A Gentleman of France, The Middleman and other plays made popular by our greater actors.

Prices will range from fifteen to fifty cents, with matinees Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

MRS. FISK'S REVIVAL.

Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske and her new Manhattan company opened their season at the Manhattan Theatre, New York City, Sept. 14, to a discriminating audience which applauded the actress repeatedly. In response to general request, Becky Sharp was the opening bill. It will be followed by a number of interesting bills before Mrs. Fiske puts on her new play, Monna Vanna. The opening performance was accorded the success which had been looked forward to by the management. So cordial was the reception that Mrs. Fiske was compelled to answer repeated curtain calls and her appearance upon the stage was a signal for ovation.

Heida Gabler will follow Becky Sharp. Besides Monna Vanna, Mrs. Fiske will appear in her new play by C. M. S. McLellan and others by John Luther Long, Hermann Sudermann, J. Hartley Manners, Charles Cuglan and Corina Jordan.

SERIO-COMIC GOVERNESS OPENS IN NEW YORK.

Miss Cella Loftus made her appearance as a star at the Lyceum Theatre, September 13, in a dramatization of Zangwill's, The Serio-Comic Governess, in four acts. It is a sort of a comic opera play with vaudeville specialties thrown in. Miss Loftus acted with zest and skill, and the entire play was well presented. If the play proves out a success in New York, it will be taken to London for a run.

MARGUERITA SYLVA,

The Popular Prima Donna, with Francis Wilson last season.

of two weeks at the Studebaker. The New York cast and production are promised.

The meat strike is off, much to the relief of the big show caterers. It is one thing to have a cook tent contract with a circus proprietor, but it is quite another thing to provide the show people with meat three times a day during a tie-up of the packing industries. But the troopers "must" have meat and the caterer has to pay the price.

Walter L. Main, the debonair circus proprietor, has been with us a good deal of late, I rather think he likes Chicago. At one time he called his show the "Fashion Plate," but of those green and salad days Walter was not overly particular about his own wearing apparel. Time has worked a marvelous change in him, in that respect, and he now looks more like a Wall street broker than a tent showman.

He evidently believes in the sound doctrine that every man owes it to the rest of society to appear as well dressed as possible, thereby helping to beautify his surroundings.

Ida Renee, an English girl, who had not been heard in this country before, seems to have saved the Royal Hof in New York, though the critics praised the work of the "brothers." But Dave Lewis and the rest of the show came in for scant courtesy. Miss Renee gives recitations to a musical accompaniment, and her manner is demure and her appearance modest.

John J. McNally's musical farce, A Little played in the foyer nightly, hundreds have been turned away. Late comers are presented with a card regretting the inability to supply seats demanded and insuring a choice of the best seat in the house for any future performance upon presentation of the card.

Immediately following the Barnum and Bailey engagement at the Coliseum, Chicago's big annual society event, the horse show will occur, October 25 is the date set for the opening of what promises to be, the greatest horse show ever held in that city.

The LaSalle Theatre has been remodeled to comply with the new ordinance. Aisles have been widened, new exits have been made and the seating rearranged. The theatre is now considered one of the safest in the city.

The burlesque "Wheel" has transferred its road attractions from Sam T. Jack's, where they have played for so many years, to the Folly. But it has not been able to please Manager Sidney J. Eason, who goes right along giving excellent shows of the burlesque kind and continues to get the money.

The audiences at Cleveland's are as large and appreciative as ever. The Castle Square Quartette, in a condensation of The Bohemian Girl, Julia Rose, and Joseph Yarick and Ida Magic Keith are the headliners of an evenly balanced entertainment this week.

WARREN A. PATRICK.

DRAMATIC CRITICISM.

The writer in a previous issue of "The Billboard" submits the proposition that dramatic critics are either good or bad, and states that the former are very scarce. We will admit that the ideal critic is somewhat of a rarity but all other are not of necessity bad. Here as elsewhere in the world, we find the great army of mediocres, or critics who are not to be classified by any such hard and fast rule. Most of them are far from bad and many of them are really good in their particular field.

We take it that the magazine writer referred to in the recent article, did not intend to classify critics as to merit, but rather as to method. A fairly good criticism might be written by either method, provided a competent critic put his hand to the task. But we believe that the perfect dramatic critic would, nevertheless, be the one who tells the public what he, as a dramatic critic, sees in (not at) a play.

What the public may see, or an ignoramus may see, would be in all probability very different matter from what the experienced critic would see. If he would do justice to the play and players, his eyes must not be blinded by petty prejudice or his view narrowed by a lack of broad education and wide experience. He might also tell what he did not see in a play, and still be well within the limits of true dramatic criticism. He should criticize the players as well as the play, but his criticism if adverse, should not hold the actors up to public ridicule.

He may tell what he knows, but he should not attempt to air his knowledge by giving us a detailed history of dramatic art from the time of the early Greeks down to present time. What he knows is of little interest to the public so long as it is not intimately connected with the matter in hand.

A critic should also be a good reporter, that his writings may carry a sustained interest, and not sink into the dull and commonplace.

THE COLLEGE WIDOW MAKES HIT.

George Ade's New Piece Opens in Washington.

The College Widow, George Ade's new piece, opened its season at the Columbia Theatre, Washington, D. C., Sept. 12, to a full house much given to enthusiasm. The new play was royally received. The audience included a large number of government officials.

The new comedy is both well conceived and coherent. It is in four acts and the lines are bright and snappy throughout, with a frequent touch of satire as to college follies. A marked characteristic of the new play is the faithfulness with which it represents the color and atmosphere of life at the smaller American colleges, especially with respect to athletes and the girls that take the college athlete for their hero.

The play abounds in humorous episodes, which kept the audience laughing throughout each of the four acts. A reception to the faculty and a football game occupy two of the four acts. The hero of the comedy, Billy Bolton, an athletic son of a capitalist interested in a rival college, a widow, who flirts with Billy, and her lively chaperon add to the feminine comedy of the play with the town marshal and a young bell-ringer ingenitiously entered on the football team as follows:

The cast is a large one and the production was beautifully mounted. Among those who made hits were Dorothy Tennant, Amy Blend, Underluck, Truesdell, Edwin Holt and Edgar Davenport.

MINISTER ASSIGNS REASONS FOR BECOMING AN ACTOR.

Rev. Edward Davis, who a few years ago filled the pulpit at the Central Christian Church at Oakland, Cal., and who is now the leading man of A Little Outcast company, assigns his reasons for quitting the pulpit and devoting his life work to the elevation of man from behind the footlights. However lengthy the leap may be considered by some who hold the theatrical profession aloof from the ministerial, Mr. Davis strenuously defends his conduct and his reasons for the same are we think, more than sufficient to warrant his action. When asked why he had left the stately choral music of the church house for the gay and rollicking orchestral productions, he replied that the new work opened to him a greater field of endeavor.

"Because," said he, "every night I play it impresses itself upon me more and more that the people who attend the theatre are not the ones who can be reached through the church; because the applause of the gallery red is for the hero he gives his kiss to the villain; because it stands to him for right and wrong."

I left the pulpit for the stage because every individual owes it to himself as well as to society to make the most of himself, and it is a law of economy that just as little energy should be spent in that accomplishment as is possible, so that the residue of strength may be spent in altruistic help. It was an effort for me to confine my tastes, my ambitions and conceptions of morals to the limits of the church. I wanted to be free, morally and intellectually. As a preacher I was watched in the eyes of some a cigar was a fuse that would eventually ignite my soul to future torment, and a draught of wine was a cup of malignant poison. Did not Paul say that wine was good for the stomach's sake? The real concern of the church should be temperance, not teetotalism, not dancing or theatre-going or card playing, but a real going on to perfection. In artifice and magnanimous culture, salvation from literary and ecclesiastic conceit is as indispensable as salvation from sin."

"I like the stage because it is an art. The pulpit is not. I am inherently more artistic than religious and therefore freer for my own development than I would be in the pulpit. After all the greatest object of every life should be, according to my opinion, though possibly erratic, individual content. That condition can only come as a sequence to sincerity. I would rather be true to a mask than false to a cross. I would rather be a good actor than a bad preacher, and yet be it understood I cast my fraternal greeting to every pulpit who will recognize the brotherhood of men in the vocations of civilization, though estranged by the ignorance of unmagnanimous men."

LONDON MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION VS. MUSIC HALLS.

Although the London dramatic season is only in its infancy the old agitation between the Theatre Managers' Association and the managers of music halls has appeared. Only last week a summons was sworn out against the Oxford Music Hall for producing The Belle of the Orient which the managers contend is a play and not a sketch. Thus the fight of the Theatre Managers and the music hall goes merrily on and gives evidence of raising more disturbance this season than last. It does appear that the contending parties should shake hands and arrive at some amicable adjustment, in discussing the matter the "Music Hall and Theatre Review," of London, uses the following language:

"Public opinion is strongly in favor of sketch es, or dramatic interludes, being given to vary a music hall program. In England public opinion is paramount and must in time prevail. In

ELEANOR ROBSON CAPTURES LONDON LAURELS.

The most taking theatrical success in London for some years is said to be that scored by Miss Eleanor Robson, in Merely Mary Ann, which she produced at the Duke of York's Theatre, Sept. 8. The play itself was most enthusiastically received, but the chief feature of attraction and applause seemed very evident to be that of the young actress herself. The English papers credit Miss Robson with an extraordinary first night success.

There were a few critical moments during the evening. The London gallantry has a way of making his wants known that must be fearfully discouraging to a foreigner. During the scene where Mary Ann tells the quaint story of her visit by her mother's deathbed there were some howls of "Steak Longer!" Miss Robson's face flushed and although the scene was in a measure spoiled, she held courageously to her part. At the end of the act there was a storm of approval, and at the end of the play the audience stood applauding for ten minutes.

Concerning the opening performance the "Daily Telegraph" has the following to say: "The whole performance was a triumph for Miss Robson from first to last. Her impersonation was absolutely above criticism, and

The entertainment will consist of a light farcical sketch, with a few songs, given by a small but good company."

"We will open in a month or so in some small New York theatre after a couple of nights 'trying out' on the road, and will stay as long as the public wants us."

It is my intention, after the New York engagement to take this little comedy company to London and give a season of up-to-date American humor at the Shaftesbury Theatre."

Mr. McKee's company will probably occupy the Garrick Theatre this winter.

NEW STUNTS

In Theatrical Advertising.

Advance agents, advertising agents, billposters, lithographers and programmers are invited. Lithographers and programmers are invited material is received. "The Billboard" will make it a permanent feature.

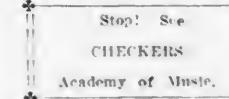

In some of the New York street cars appears a card divided into eleven spaces, headed by the word Theatres. In each of these small spaces is printed the name of a playhouse and its current attraction. The cards are changed weekly. This method suffices for the formal announcement that is most beneficial to a theatre, and puts such an ad within reasonable cost, where a full card might be too expensive for a single playhouse.

WANTED—150 girls of good appearance, must be under 25 years; red-haired ones preferred, for unique advertising purpose; good salary. Apply stage door Fourteenth Street Theatre, 10 a. m. sharp, this morning.

The above ad appeared in the "Help Wanted—Female" column of the New York "Herald," Aug. 25, and as a result a small army of young women of various shades of red hair was on hand at the theatre the next day. Applicants were told that henna, crushed strawberry and madder shades of hair were barred. It was to be a red-haired league pure and simple. The color had to be uniform. It was said at the Fourteenth Street Theatre that perhaps a thousand girls would be employed. The admission was made that the young women were to be dressed in white gowns and sent throughout the city to advertise Wm. A. Brady's play called Girls Will Be Girls. By companies, boarding school fashion, the red-haired ones will stroll up the principal thoroughfares in charge of dummies with Flamingo hair. They will also be sent to the races and over the city in automobiles.

Joseph, Jr. and Wm. Jefferson have entered into a contract with the Bernard Advertising Service, of Savannah, Ga., to handle the advance billing for their attraction, The Rivals, opening Sept. 19 and closing April 8, 1905. This is virtually an innovation in theatrical business. The Bernard Service executed a similar contract last season with the A Little Outcast and Sweet Clover companies. The Rivals will have a thirty days' showing in advance during the entire season.

An enterprising theatrical agent got busy with a stencil and brush and pot of black paint recently and decorated the sidewalks of Broadway, New York City, with this glaring sign:

Pre-occupied pedestrians were startled, others were amused, and property owners were annoyed, but notwithstanding the latter's rage and persistent and vigorous applications of soap and water etc., the ad remains and stands a good chance to endure a while longer.

Soap signs on windows and bar mirrors are again being used by theatrical companies this season. They are always effective.

The barkers employed by the amusement companies at Coney Island have all kinds of methods for drawing crowds. One of the most interesting is caller for the circular swing, who rolls rhymes through a megaphone. Sometimes he calls,

Get off the earth, go up in the air.
It makes you feel like a millionaire,
Ten cents pays the fare—
So what do you care?

Or again he cries:

You fan the breeze
As much as you please,
For nobody sees.

When the crowd hesitates, he announces:
We fly in a minute,
You want to be in it.

Theatrical advertisers frequently take on odd and peculiar guise. The bizarre, the odd and the unusual are always effective and they always appeal to the advertising agent who not unfrequently tires of the regular methods and of doing over and over again, month in and month out, the same billboards, windows and programming.

His work is monotonous and there is small wonder that he occasionally wants to try "something new." Small blame to him if he does. It should always be remembered though that the three P's (P. P. P.) Printing, Parade and Performance as advertising factors have best stood the test of time and are therefore to be considered the best, especially for a steady diet with good printing, a good parade and a good performance. It is hard to stop a show, "Performance?" someone asks. Yes, the afternoon or initial performance is always an advertising factor of the very first importance. Its circulation is every man, woman and child in attendance.

Above is presented a very good likeness of Carter De Haven, who prior to his joining the Weber Field All-star Stock company, was connected with a trio known as The Carter De Haven Trio. At the close of last season, when it became known that Weber and Fields were to dissolve partnership, Carter De Haven, who is ever alert and ready to do things took upon himself to pick out the beat girls that were in the Weber and Field show, and composed a sextette. The sextette, now playing over the Keith Circuit, is recognized as one of the biggest hits in vaudeville. It is known as The Carter De Haven Sextette. The act consists of singing and dancing, (of which there is a great variety) comedy and beautiful costumes. The lyrics of the act were written by Maurice Silvers, and the music by Miss Rose De Haven. They are also featuring a song specially written for them entitled Honey I'm Waiting upon which they have never failed to get a number of encores.

the meanwhile, the magistrates are showing a growing distaste to their Courts being made by the theatres a means of stifling healthy trade rivalry.

It has long since been admitted that the aim of the theatre is merely an attempt to use the law to benefit their pockets."

MME. MELBA'S AUTO CAUSES TRAGEDY.

Reports from Paris, under date of September 11, announce that Mme. Melba, the distinguished singer, while out in her automobile with her two cousins, ran over and instantly killed a pedestrian, who was over 84 years of age. The accident happened on the Boulevard Poerle, the singer being on her way from the Hotel Ritz to Versailles. The Parisian papers exonerated Melba's chauffeur as the old man got into the way of the auto while endeavoring to escape being run over by a cab.

Mme. Melba was greatly distressed over the affair and returned to her room where she remained for several days.

any success which the play will undoubtedly achieve must be attributed largely to her."

In the audience were Lady Tama Arnold, Sir Arthur Conan and Lady Dorie, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crane, Professor Ayrton, F. R. S., and Mrs. Hertha Ayrton, Anthony Hope, Sir Squire Bancroft, the Earl of Yarmouth, W. S. Gilbert, Mrs. Madeline Lucette Ryley, Baron Ersthausen and Mrs. Brown Potter.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER SIGNS.

Mrs. Edna Wallace Hopper has signed a five years' contract with Mr. Frank McKee to star in his plays which are said will be along the Chas. Hoyt style of comedy. Mr. McKee has secured the rights to a play entitled Nelly Rozier, by Cosmo Gordon Lennox, author of the Marriage of Kitty. He has several other plays in contemplation and another is being written for him.

"My idea," said Mr. McKee, "is to get back to the small comedy in the small theatre.

ALICE FLEMING.

Miss Alice Fleming, whose picture appears above, is the leading lady of the Ryan Stock company. She is only twenty years of age, possesses a degree of ability not usually found in repertory companies and she has won much applause from her wonderful versatility. Miss Fleming is now in her third season with Mr. Ryan. She joined the company as ingenue, after two years was promoted to head a company of her own and this year has leads. Next year she expects to lead a company of her own. Although she is American born, she was educated abroad. She studied music under Prof. A. D. Farmer in London and she enjoys the distinction of having sung before Lord Curzon, Viceroy of India. Her first appearance on the stage was made at Herkimer, N. Y., where she appeared in the role of Lazarillo in Don Caesar de Bezan.

RE HERR KUBELIK.

Herr Kubelik begins a seven weeks' tour of the English Provinces and Scotland, Sept. 26. The tour will comprise the following towns: Lancaster, Kendal, Warrington, Inverness, Aberdeen, Carlisle, Sheffield, Halifax, Bromley, Crystal Palace, Hanley, Wolverhampton, Edinburg, Newport (Mon.), Oxford, Reading, Hawick, Folkestone, Weston-super-Mare, Swanscombe, Plymouth, Torquay, Cambridge, Hastings, Malvern, Brighton. He will also give a concert in London, Oct. 8.

With regard to the notices which have been going around the papers of Herr Kubelik having signed a contract to come to America, Hugo Gorlitz writes that there is some foundation for the statements made, only that the £40,000 offered him by Mr. Gorlitz and Mr. Schurmann of Paris were for 140 concerts in North America and South America. At the present moment Herr Kubelik does not feel inclined to include South America in his scheme for next year, and moreover there is still a contract in existence between Herr Kubelik on the one hand, and Mr. Daniel Frohmann and Mr. Gorlitz on the other hand, according to which Mr. Frohmann and Mr. Gorlitz have the option of the next tour. Until Mr. Daniel Frohmann decides whether or not he would like to undertake the tour with Mr. Gorlitz, nothing can be arranged, but in the event of his deciding not to continue his activity as a musical impresario, Mr. Kubelik will accept the offer which was made to him by Mr. Gorlitz on his arrival in London. There was no stipulation that the twins must go along with him, but they will probably come over, especially as Mrs. Kubelik will always travel with her husband in future.

McVICKER'S CASE DELAYED.

Court proceedings in the McVicker will contest have been continued until Sept. 28, to enable L. D. Condee, attorney for Horace McVicker, to produce two witnesses, who, it is alleged, will testify that Dr. Ziegler told them that he had received large sums of money from the late Mrs. J. H. McVicker, and who will also throw light upon the mystery now surrounding an alleged shortage of about $60,000 in the estate.

In the Probate Court in Chicago last week Attorney Condee attempted to examine Dr. Ziegler as to his private financial matters, but was prevented by Judge Cutting, who sustained the objections of Ziegler's attorney.

At present the estate appears to possess $231,000, while Attorney Condee contends that there should be $392,536, with interest. He says that the sale of the McVicker Theatre stock brought $149,800, the Wahashaware property $85,000, West Division-st. railway stock $42,336, rental of the Michigan-ave property $5,400, and that the cash in bank was $20,000.

CHICAGO THEATERS HAVE GIVEN BOND.

The bond of $25,000 required by the civic authority of Chicago, has been executed by all the Chicago theatres except the Olympic which is being rebuilt and which will open next month. Twenty theatres are now open and doing business in Chicago. The bond is given by the theatres to give the Chicago authorities full assurance that every condition of the revised ordinance would be complied with by November 1. It would be impossible for the theatres to meet all the requirements of the ordinance sooner than that time and by agreement the time was extended from Sept. 1, to Nov. 1. The La Salle and the Academy signed the agreement and gave bond last week as did also the Vaudeville.

JOSEPH JEFFERSON'S GRAND-DAUGHTER A THESPIAN ALSO.

Miss Loretta Jefferson, a daughter of Thomas Jefferson and a granddaughter of the venerable actor, made her stage debut Sept. 14, at Lebanon, Pa., where she appeared in the role of Menie in a revival of Rip Van Winkle. Miss Loretta represents the sixth generation of Jeffersons who have sought fame before the footlights.

It was thought that Miss Jefferson would not take up a theatrical career. She had appeared in a few amateur performances at her home, in Montclair, N. J., but her father never encouraged her juvenile ambition. When he returned last autumn from his annual tour in duction, and the theatre patrons are looking forward with great pleasure to the opening of this company, as several members of the cast are "Native Sons" and, having established themselves as great favorites in the eastern theatrical world, are only too glad of the opportunity to show their appreciation and help establish for them a western reputation far greater, if possible, than the one they enjoy in the East.

FUNERAL OF VETERAN ACTRESS.

The funeral of Mrs. Sara Stevens, the veteran actress, notice of whose death in St. Paul occurred in last week's issue of "The Billboard," was held at 3 p. m., Sept. 9, from Dangler's undertaking establishment on Wabash-st. St. Paul.

Rev. S. G. Smith, of the People's Church, read the service. The interment was at Oaklawn cemetery.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to send word by wire to relatives of the deceased at Oakland, Cal., but it was impossible to locate the persons wanted.

The funeral arrangements were made by the Way Down East company.

MISS MATHILDE WEFFING.

A well known actress whose striking resemblance to Miss Olga Nethersole is a much talked of subject. Miss Weffing is a member of the Little Princess company this season.

Rip Van Winkle and saw his daughter in a little amateur playlet her work pleased him so much that he gave his consent to her professional appearance, promising her that she should be a member of his company this season.

Delighted at the prospect of continuing the family traditions Miss Jefferson forthwith took up rehearsals of the part of Menie, with her father's and her grand-father's tuition as a stepping stone, she hopes, to bistrate honors.

MR. WIX OF WICKHAM.

Mr. Wix of Wickham, which opens its season at the Bijou Theatre, New York City, Sept. 19, is said to be one of the funniest and cleverest of modern comedy plays. Mr. Wix is a department store manager, who, by a whimsical turn of fortune's wheel, is for a time placed in the proud position of heir to an English dukedom. Throughout the two acts of this ultra-modern musical comedy in which his adventures are presented, he is surrounded with a number of well contrasted principal characters played by capable artists, and all are set in the midst of a rosy red garden of feminine beauty.

The scene of the comedy is laid in Australia. The first act shows a highly modern combination of department store, cafe, tea room, shopping and manicure parlors and matrimonial bureau, filled with fair assistants, and presided over by a charming ex-wifeman from Paris.

The second act shifts to a military encampment on the banks of an Australian river. Here in a bower of semi-tropical foliage, the brilliant uniforms of the men blend with the triumph of Parisian art worn by the women. In a perfect harmony of gorgeous coloring, that is at once a rest and a delight to the eye, while a series of strong and amusing situations keep the fun going fast and furiously until the fall of the curtain.

The book is by Mr. Herbert Durst, who has also composed some of the music, most of which has been especially written for the American production by Mr. Jerome P. Kern. The libretto was re-adapted and many new lyrics added by J. H. Wagner.

The company is composed of the following people: Messrs. Harry Carson, Clarke, David Lithgow, Julian Dalton Eltinge, Sydney Poey Grey, Frank Lator, Arthur Wooley, Douglas Flint, Andrew O'Neill, Fred Waters, Milt D. Lock, Misses Thelma Fair, Alice Maude, Paula Laura Guerite, Catherine J. Hayes, Frances Wilson, Cecile Mayer, Violet Holbrook, Marion Stokes, Frankie Laeb, Lillian MacCeney, Octa Thompson, Annie Winner, Jessie Thompson, Mabel Douglass, Mildred Tate, Lucille Monroe, Adelaide Ackland, Helen Ryley, Wally Vaughan, Trivle Orient, Ethel Elmore, Sybil Ellwood, Mabel Gilmore, Ethel Gilmore, Kate Young, Maud Stanley and Elsa Yale, and Mr. David Abraham.

CONREID MAY TAKE MURRAY HILL THEATRE.

It is reported that Mr. Heinrich Conreid may move his Irving Place Theatre company into the Murray Hill Theatre later in the season should that impressario be able to secure the Murray Hill from the Goode Estate. Although the report is not confirmed, it seems that Mr. Conreid has the proposition under advisement and has looked over the grounds thoroughly.

LENA ASWELL GIVES FRENCH PLAY IN LONDON.

Miss Lena Ashwell, the English actress, entered into a new role in London, Sept. 6, as manager of the Coronet Theatre at the same time appearing as Marguerite in an adaptation of the French play, La Montanier. It is said that the part was hardly worthy of her powers, but she achieved a great personal success.

CITY COUNCIL WILL RUN OPERA HOUSE.

MELBA DECORATED BY EDWARD.

Miss Melba has the honor of being the first woman upon whom the decoration for science, art and music has been conferred by King Edward of England. This honor was recently bestowed upon the singer by the British sovereign and she may well be proud of the same.

BERRI ELSLER.

Miss Berri Elsler, whose likeness appears above, is a new acquisition in the ranks of vaudeville. She was formerly with the Metropolitan Opera company and is at present appearing in Chicago at club and benefit entertainments. Miss Elsler is remarkable clever in her character, dexterous, dancing and singing. She has a rich mezzo soprano voice and her winsome manner is gaining her many friends in the Windy City.

The Billboard

BUTTING-IN ON BROADWAY. A Few Hasty Notes and Observations Just for a Starter.

It has been a week of shattered hopes and dreams. Swift New York so fondly pictured as a place where one got things done with celerity and dispatch, exists no more. It is gone, together with many other foolish fancies born of a lively western imagination. The disillusioning process begins with the first real estate agent from whom one attempts to rent an office and continues right with you on your hunt for desks, office supplies, stationery and sign painting. "Do it now," was the motto most conspicuously displayed in the offices. "Any old time will do," is the doctrine which they practice. In Cuba the stereotyped reply to a request is "tomorrow." In New York, "next week" is what you get. New York fast! Don't you believe it. It is the most deliberate place in all America. You simply cannot get any action. No inducements you can offer will tempt the denizens of the metropolis to get a gait on. Cash offers are viewed with distrust and suspicion; personal pleas are received with smiling toleration and hot protests fall on unheeding ears. New Yorkers do not hurry. They only look hurried and it is all a miserable bluff. They do not even move swiftly when sidestepping a touch. It is the visitors and newcomers to New York that do the hurrying. They move, especially when dodging cars or cabs.

But pshaw! It might have been worse. I might have landed here with a determination to print a portrait of Chas. Frohman. The great impresario promised a group of his features to a newspaper man from the West "the very next time he had one taken," that was seventeen years ago. The newspaper man is still waiting.

hera in the play called Granny, written for her by Clyde Fitch.

At The Garrick, Clara Bloodgood, in a new play called The Coronet of The Duchess, and which is being rehearsed almost night and day, will follow Are You A Mason? The latter was put on to fill up the time between the entr'acte closing of Military Mad, and the opening of the new Clyde Fitch play with Mrs. Bloodgood as a star in The Girl With The Green Eyes and two seasons before that she was utterly unknown. She now has a large social following and is expected to increase her reputation in the society drama.

Willie Collier (we will call him "Willie") will move over to The Grand Opera House to make room for William H. Crane at The Criterion. In his new play Business Is Business. The piece is an adaptation from the French.

Mrs. Wiggs of The Cabbage Patch, with Madge Carr Cooke in the title part, and Mabel Tallaferro as Lovely Mary, will continue indefinitely at The Savoy.

William Faversham's engagement at The Hindon in Arthur Wing Pinero's Letty, is also indefinite.

WILLIAM EVERHART.

William Everhart, whose likeness adorns the front page of "The Billboard" this week, is probably the most expert exponent of ambidexterity the world has ever known. He may be unquestionably classed as the greatest, as he is also the original of all hoop rollers.

Everhart's skill in toying with hoops is almost like hypnotism, for he manages to fill the stage with hoops, going in any and all directions he chooses to send them, and recalling them at his will with the most amazing accuracy and precision, oftentimes intercepting each other without interfering with their intended course. Everhart dispenses of them, working with lightning-like rapidity.

Everhart has amassed a fortune in hoop rolling. He has appeared in all of the metropolitan cities both in America and abroad. For three solid years in Europe he never missed a night's performance. He has just concluded his American tour and is now appearing in nearly all of the larger cities on the other side.

Mr. Everhart is a native of Ohio and owns a beautiful residence in the city of Columbus. He has recently published a book entitled "Facts, Fame and Fortune," which tells the story of his career in an interesting manner. The work is profusely illustrated and is being widely read both in and outside of the profession.

MELVILLE B. RAYMOND'S BUSTER BROWN CO. GOING TO THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A few days ago George Ade, while conducting a rehearsal of his new comedy, The College Widow, at the Garden Theatre, was greeted by a stranger.

"I am very glad to meet you, Mr. Ade," said the stranger. "I, too, am a playwright and I would like to have some advice from you. I have completed my play and all arrangements have been made for the production, except one little detail. I have a scene where wild lions are supposed to be heard roaring. I have been unable to find any stage appliance that will make the noise desired. Can you tell me how I can get this effect of the roaring lions?"

"Just fine one of your actors two dollars," was Ade's laconic reply. "You will get the noise desired."

In the season's attractions there is certainly a wide variety. There is not much to appeal to the highly intellectual or to the artistically exacting, but in the way of amusements which are amusements only there is enough to choose from. They are also of a cleanly character.

Y., have renewed their lease of the playhouse for another year and have arranged with Mrs. Spooner, manager of the Spooner Stock Company, to present her organization there throughout the season, opening Oct. 3, with Cecil Spooner in That Girl from Texas. Mrs. Spooner will direct the Amphion, in addition to the Bijou in Brooklyn, where the company now is, dividing the organization in two sections, one of which will support Cecil Spooner and the other Edna May Spooner, the stars alternating between the two theatres each week. The second offering at the Amphion will be Edna May Spooner in W. n. Knighthood Was in Flower.

Anger, which had belonged to her mother, discloses the fact that the father of the girl is the magistrate, who had long been lost from his family through no fault of his. There are hints of comedy in the little play, but the general tone is one of seriousness, or at least of pathos.

While not a novelty, it is a pleasing sketch and has the merit of dialogue and clean-cut lines.

Mr. Booth was about forty years of age and it is not known that he had any relatives in this country.

Judge LaCombe, in the United States circuit court of New York, Sept. 8, denied the application made of William J. Block for an injunction preventing Bertram C. The court held that Mr. Block had failed to show that the scene in question was included in the dramatic composition for which he obtained copyright.

BERTHA GALLAND.

Miss Bertha Galland, whose success last season in Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall was so pronounced that she will use the same play this coming season, is one of the younger stars whose place in the theatrical firmament seems to be solidly fixed at last. The older generation of stars is being gradually succeeded by those of the newer order, and it is of this class that Miss Galland is today the representative and recognized star. And it is worthy of note that while older stars are frantically searching the play markets of Europe and America for new plays, Miss Galland continued triumphantly upon her tour with her great success of last season, Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall. Miss Galland doesn't need a new play, as her present vehicle has been proved to be quite good enough to last her for three seasons, if need be.

The exact spot of Miss Galland's birth is one of the secrets of the stage, for the actress has never yet divulged the facts. But it is known that she went to school in Scranton, Pa. When she was very young, she decided to go on the stage. In the Shakespearean repertoire, Miss Galland made her first appearance, and in the roles of Juliet, Lady Macbeth, Desdemona and Beatrice, she attracted much attention on tour.

The following season she attracted the attention of Daniel Frohman, who offered her an engagement with E. H. Sothern. During rehearsals, her work impressed Mr. Frohman so much that he decided to cast her for the role of Otilie in James K. Hall's production of The Pride of Jennico. The memorable hit scored by Miss Galland in this role led to immediate talk of a starring tour, but this was not realized until two years later, as Miss Galland was fearful of too rapid advancement.

Miss Galland's real debut as a star was made under Daniel Frohman's management in The Forest Lovers, a dramatization of Maurice Hewlett's beautiful romance. Miss Galland played Isolde. The production was a beautiful one, and the play attracted much attention in New York. The following season, Mr. Frohman again presented Miss Galland as a star, this time as Esmeralda in Paul Potter's dramatization of Victor Hugo's Notre Dame, and in this Miss Galland scored a pronounced success.

Last year Miss Galland signed a contract to create the role of Dorothy Vernon in Paul Kester's dramatization of Charles Major's widely-read novel, Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall, under the management of J. Fred Zimmerman, Jr. From the first night of the new production, the success of the offering was never in doubt. It was presented in New York in December, and scored such a hit that it was transferred from the New York Theatre to the Lyric Theatre, in order that its run might be prolonged. Even after it had gone on the road, it returned to New York for three successive later engagements, and at the end of the season Miss Galland had scored the enviable record of playing in five New York theatres the same season.

Miss Galland's tour in Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall will be resumed in Washington Oct. 19, and she will play return engagements in Philadelphia, Boston and other leading cities, returning to New York in February to produce a new play. Orrin Johnson will be her leading man, and will play the leading role in her support in the new play.

Stage men should be careful in admitting strangers to the theatre. On August 31, a young man appeared at the door of the Empire Theatre, Glens Falls, N. Y., and requested admittance on the ground that he was an employee of a theatre in a nearby town. He was admitted on the strength of his assertion. He soon departed, and it was found that several articles were missing from the pockets of the clothing used by the actors. The police were immediately notified and a search started. The alleged employee was not connected with the theatre as claimed, but the doorkeeper will be more careful hereafter.

PHILADELPHIA—Business has only been fair at the theatres this week. The early part of the week was decidedly damp, there being some of the heaviest rains this section has experienced in years. This kept theatre attendance down. The high-priced theatres, which are all very late in opening this year, are coming to get ready for business, and it is hoped that the conditions will be better from this on.

The business done by the two circuses in this city all of last week and the early part of this week has created a lot of talk. Both Hargreaves and Gentry did enormous business last week and the early part of this week. Gentry made a move on Sunday to a new lot, where they were to play for three days. This was a lucky move, for they got packed up in time on Wednesday, 14, to avoid one of the fiercest storms we have had in years. Hargreaves Circus was not so lucky. They were forced to a week's stay out on that night the canvas was struck by a miniature cyclone that ripped the canvas to pieces and for a time threatened to demolish all of the show property. Although a large force of workmen were put on the canvas at once it is not expected that the circus will be able to reopen before Saturday. This unexpected hard luck put an end to what would have been one of the best week's business of the season for this show. The show will move on Saturday to another lot and will play two more weeks in that city if the weather doesn't prevent. They will then ship to winter quarters.

Diving from a height of 65 feet, her body enveloped in flames, is thefeat of Madame Liljens, who is thrilling audiences nightly at Riverview Park, Chicago, this summer. This is a unique act for a woman, and more interest would be added if the public were more familiar with the Madame's personality. Possessed of a superbly molded figure, she is striking in appearance, even upon the public thoroughfares, and when she makes her advent, ready to ascend her lofty pedestal, her outlines mark the contour of the perfect physical development in a woman. Her career has been romantic one. A Russian by birth, she was married while young to a Swedish nobleman. After his death she turned her accomplishments as a swimmer to practical use. She was signed in all the great water shows in recent years and has been rewarded with several medals.

The first form of "The Billboard," which includes the last four advertising pages, goes to press Saturday morning. No advertisements for these pages can be received after Friday. Continuous advertisers wishing change of copy or discontinuance must notify before Saturday.

In London they are trying the experiment of dispensing with entire act music. They retain the orchestra, but it is dumb while the curtain is down, although frequently used while it is up. The argument is that the diversion of general conversation (without music) puts a more distinctive and effective line of demarcation between the acts, or to say it simply, separates them one from the other more effectively. This is said to increase the appetite and the appreciation of an audience. Music as a stop-gap, so it is claimed "panoramas" a performance—sort of blurs it into a continuous whole. This, according to the new cult, prevents the realization of the highest artistic ideals.

Progressive ideas, innovations, new propositions and improved conditions, in every line of news and every advertisement, daily greets the eye; but to only an occasional one is accorded special notice; especially is this true of plans for advertising. The adoption of a method, virtually new in giving publicity to theatrical attractions, in one night stands, is therefore a subject which will interest many and perhaps incite discussions that will lead to further development of what is undoubtedly an attractive proposition. An article in this issue calls attention to a billposting contract handled by the Bernard Advertising Service of Savannah, Ga., for the management of The Rivals, the play in which Joseph, Jr. and Wm. Jefferson are joint stars. The contract in question covers the posting of a stipulated number of eight sheet stands, in each and every city in which the Jeffersons will appear during the season of 1904-05, four weeks in advance of the date of their appearance; the posting is done by the Association member, is guaranteed for four weeks' listed display, a list of locations furnished which is to be checked up and approved by the advance agent of the company and finally O. K'd by the manager when the attraction is assured. This advance posting is strictly in the nature of a commercial display at the expense of the traveling manager and is entirely separate and distinct from the usual posting done by the opera house manager one week, or less, as conditions permit, in advance of the show. Mr. Bernard, the owner of the Bernard Adv. Service has given much thought to this plan of theatrical advertising and a limited number of managers who tried this plan last season are quoted as being well pleased with the experiment. If, as is claimed by the advocates of the four weeks' advance posting plan, the coming of an attraction is announced and it is kept daily before the public during that four weeks there is surely a remedy for the much complained of evil that has worried the traveling manager, viz.: that in towns and cities where five or six attractions are played in a week frequently the various shows do not get over 24 to 48 hours display in advance of their arrival, which must necessarily affect the patronage which is read-ly acknowledged by national advertisers and it is only natural that it should be equally valuable to the theatrical manager.

The business situation brightened up wonderfully last week. The change was as unexpected as it was marked.

Now that the strike in the packing houses has ended, the normal and larger number of men will be at work in a great western industry. There is increasing employment for labor in New England. Last week several cotton mills which had been shut down re-opened, and others are getting ready to resume work. About 13,000 operatives who have been idle for some time will become wage earners again. The Pennsylvania railroad, which laid off many men earlier in the year, is reported to have given orders for the Altoona and Pittsburg shops to go on full time. This will give more work to about 20,000 men.

Word comes from Colorado, too, that while the trouble with the striking miners is not all settled yet, everything is quiet and conditions rapidly growing more settled. Business with traveling shows and touring theatrical companies in that section is still bad, but it is now attributed to the large and increasing number of vaudeville houses.

There can be no better indication of an improvement in industrial conditions than an increase in the number of the employed. The resumption of work in some of the cotton mills in the East goes to show that the long period of depression in the textile industry is nearing an end and that the mills are able to produce goods which they can offer at prices satisfactory to consumers. The Pennsylvania railroad, which handles the products of a great coal, iron and steel region, seems to be anticipating a considerable increase in its traffic.

Perhaps that road believes trade will be stimulated by the cut in the price of steel products announced last week. It is true that the reduction is an official announcement of a condition of things which has existed for some little time. Private concessions have been made to large buyers. But the smaller consumers have not fared so well henceforth. So long as a would-be purchaser believes there are "favored ones," who may be his competitor, he is reluctant to give orders. The official cut in prices is calculated to stimulate consumption.

Structural material has been reduced $4 a ton, the first downward movement for three and a half years. The result has been the placing of some Chicago orders, and the same thing probably has happened in other cities. The high price of material has been a drag on building operations everywhere.

The largest estimates of this year's wheat crop is 523,000,000 bushels, being 115,000,000 bushels less than that of last year. If allowance is made for 75,000,000 bushels reserved for seed, and the domestic consumption about 5,25 bushels per head, or 435,000,000 bushels, there will be practically no wheat available for export. The smaller crop means less freight of one kind for the railroads, but there is a corn crop of 2,327,000,000 bushels for them to handle. Though the country will have little wheat for sale, it will have a fair cotton crop to dispose of, and will get a good price for it.

On the whole the farmers will have done well this year, and to their prosperity is largely due the steadily expanding trade reported from many quarters by our many correspondents among the fair secretaries.

If the reaction holds up, we may expect a regular boom after election. In the meantime the tent shows are doing fine, all of the carnival companies are making money and those theatrical attractions that we have heard from have started off very nicely. We still maintain that there are two many of only ordinary or average merit among the latter, but if this resumption continues, there is money in sight for all of them and after election there will be plenty of room for more.

CONCERNING CRITICISM.

There has been much discussion pro and concerning the value of criticism and of criticism in general. In the estimation of the writer the whole subject is a dead issue. The dramatic critic as such has survived his usefulness. If indeed he ever possessed any, that he can still draw pay is due merely to the lethargy and lack of discernment of publishers. There is a place and work for a dramatic reviewer on every daily in the land, but the critic should be relegated to the rear or thrown in the le box with the worn out type.

He always obtained his salary under false pretences. That is about all that can be said for him. He did untold harm in his day and that, too, without a single useful thing to offset his long list of debit entries. Can any one point to any good but a dramatic critic ever did? Is it not the easiest thing in the world to find fault and point out weak spots?

Did so doing ever spur on an actor or a playwright to renewed and harder effort or elevate the taste of the theatre going public? Never. No, not once.

The fact is no one man is many-sided enough to utter criticism that is either just or valuable. A paper to be of any consequence ought to be greater than any one man or any considerable number of men. Just so with dramatic criticism and no one man can fill the bill.

The dramatic review has already largely taken the place of the critique and will soon succeed it entirely. When it does we will no longer hear the dramatic critics unanimously pronouncing a play a failure and see that play continue to crowded, enthusiastic houses. That will help some. The dramatic critic was ever a bum prophet, a biased observer and a narrow-minded bigoted judge. The trouble with him was that he would insist on looking at the play to judge of its merits when even a child should know that the only way to form an opinion of value was to look at the house. Turn from the stage to the audience. How do they receive it? Read their answer in their faces. Then record what they say—not what they ought to say.

Who cares for the opinion of a jaded, jaundiced, blasé first nighter.

CROP SITUATION IN TEXAS.

The eyes of the amusement world to a great extent every year center on Texas and cotton. The money crop of the South enters into the possibility of a successful season. Hot, dry winds followed by excessive rainfall have caused a deterioration of the crop to a large percentage the past twenty days and from what promised abundant yield will now only be an average production. Hot, dry winds have caused the fruit to open rapidly, and pickling, the source of plentiful money, giving laborers and negroes employment, will only last about thirty days. This money is in the hands of easy spenders. Good prices are being paid as laborers are scarce.

The devastation of the Boll weevil and Boll worm has not been as injurious as people feared. Taking everything into consideration, the situation in Texas is far from gloomy. Farmers are paid ten cents for their cotton and cotton at ten cents a pound is the greatest money crop in the United States. Wheat, corn and oat crops have been abundant and good prices obtainable. Texas has shipped thousands of cars of peaches, tomatoes, melons, onions, potatoes and garden truck, enriching the State wonderfully, bringing in a source of revenue heretofore unobtainable, placing in circulation money at various times of the year when heretofore the only money passing hands has been during the cotton season.

The situation from an amusement standpoint is very promising. Warm weather precludes the possibility of indoor amusements during the heated term, but the time has come when tented outdoor attractions will find Texas a profitable field for summer tours.

Throughout Texas beginning in May and lasting until September a large majority of the cities and towns hold annual reunions; congregating there are thousands of people offering a fine field for the amusement vendor.

The past two weeks have been very favorable for maturing the big corn crop in this section and with another ten days of weather equally as good, an excellent crop of this grain is assured and will be the first good yield in a number of years.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heglow at Chillicothe, O., Sept. 16, an eight pound boy. Mother and son doing well writes Mr. Heglow.

C. W. Parker is wearing a smile that won't come off and "There's only one girl in this world" for him at present. Little Miss Parker arrived at Abilene, Kan., at thirteen minutes past nine on the morning of Sept. 18 and the proud father thinks now more than ever that thirteen surely is a lucky number.

Enrico Caruso, the leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company, has cabled to Herr Conried the announcement of the birth at his home of a son. The child is to be christened in honor of Mr. Conried. Mrs. Caruso and her infant son may accompany her husband to America this winter.

MARRIAGES.

Miss Marga Lauen, a pretty German actress now living in Prague and a member of a German company which toured this country several years ago, will be married in the early part of October to Mr. E. P. Stummel, a Police and Fire Commissioner of Newport, Ky. It is said that Mr. Stummel was fond of attending the German Theatre in Cincinnati, and it was there that he met Miss Lauen and fell desperately in love. She reciprocated and they became engaged. Miss Lauen will meet Mr. Stummel in New York, where the ceremony will be performed. Upon their return the couple will go to housekeeping at 720 Washington av.

Julius Gema, musical comedian, and Miss Nelle Cartier, song and dance artist, both now traveling with the Paris by Gaslight company, were recently married while playing an engagement at Mouticello, Ind. Both the contracting parties are quite well known to the profession and have a host of non-professional friends who join in wishing them success.

Miss Joan Ildefonse, of San Francisco, Cal., and who has been upon the stage for about a year, was married last week to a non-professional by the name of Elmer Woodberry of New York, and will quit the stage. Mr. Woodberry has assumed the management of a new hotel at Pasadena, Cal., and he and his young bride will make Pasadena their future home.

Jack Connors, of the vanderline team of Connors and Montrose, was married to Miss Effie Crane at Greensburg, Ia., Sept. 11. Both are now engaged with the Wright Amusement Company and enjoy the acquaintance of a host of friends. They were showered with congratulations by the members of the company.

DEATHS.

Leo Stern, the violinist and husband of Suzane Adams, the noted singer, died last week in London. Leo Stern began his professional career in 1888, when he made his first concert tour with Mme. Adelina Patti. Mr. Stern came of a musical family, and received his musical education from the great cellist Patti and from Klingel and Davidoff at Leipzig. He was a favorite of Queen Victoria, and frequently played at Windsor, Balmoral and Osborne. He was the first cellist to play Dvorak's concerto for 'cello, and so delighted was Dvorak with the young musician's work that he went to London to lead the Philharmonic Society's orchestra when Mr. Stern introduced this piece to the artistic world. At the London concert Mr. Stern's success was so emphatic that he was selected to interpret the concerto at the Leipzig Gewandhaus, where the audiences are conceded to be the most critical in all Europe. He was the first Englishman ever invited to play there, and his triumph was so complete that he was summoned by Emperor William to play at Potsdam. In Paris he played with Massenet, Godard and Thome. The 'cello used by Mr. Stern is the largest Stradivarius in existence, and was presented to him by a number of admirers of which Lord Astor, of Mackney, was the spirit. The instrument is known as the "General Kyd" and is valued at $6,000. In this country Mr. Stern appeared with Theodore Thomas' orchestra in Chicago, with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and with the New York Philharmonic Society.

Joseph C. Wallace, the veteran actor, manager and circus clown, died last week at the St. Joseph Hospital, Milwaukee, Wis., at the age of seventy-four years. His demise came after a very short illness and was a surprise to many. Mr. Wallace was born in Scotland and immediately after coming to this country, as a youth, was employed in Barnum's Museum, New York City, doing a song and dance specialty. Later he was associated with Maggie Mitchell, taking a leading part in Fanchon, the Cricket. While a clown in Barnum's Circus, Mr. Mitchell visited Milwaukee. When the show left town Mr. Wallace remained behind, playing an engagement in Music Hall, Broadway and Wisconsin, under the management of the Milwaukee Musical Society. He left the theatre to become connected with the Newhall house Hilliard hall, and later went to Leadville, Col., where he managed a theatre. Then he returned to Milwaukee. He was married three times and had one daughter who became an actress, but died many years ago. He is survived by a widow. Mr. Wallace was an intimate friend of Booth and early had the acquaintance of a host of professionals. He was a man of sterling qualities. The funeral services were held Sept. 11, from the last residence of the deceased, 631 Cassatt, Milwaukee.

Michael Shanahan or Harry McDonald—his name is not certain—driver of the big three pole wagon of Welsh Bros' Circus, was accidentally killed at Snow Hill, Md., Sept. 6, while the performance was in progress. He had been lying asleep under the wagon. When he failed to appear at his post the superintendent detailed another driver, and the new driver, still unconsciously drove over the head of the sleeping man. The body was not found until some time later, and it was at first supposed that he had been murdered, but investigation revealed the manner of the accident. Little is known regarding the man.

Colonel William J. Morgan, founder of the W. J. Morgan and Co. lithographers, died at his home in Cleveland, O., after an illness of about four weeks' duration. Mr. Morgan was born in Nant-y-Glo, Monmouthshire, South Wales, in 1834. He leaves a widow and two daughters who are married. He was a member of the Irish Lodge, F. and A. M., and of The Loyal Legion.

Albert Grant, an employee of the John Robinson Show. Notice of his death is given in another column.

William E. Booth. Notice of his death at Columbus, O., appears in another column of this paper.

Boston Exposition Will Have Pike.

The officers in charge of the Commercial Travelers' Exposition to be held in Mechanics' Building, Boston, Mass., Oct. 3-20, have decided to add an up-to-date pike as the best attraction available. Mr. Wm E. Dobbins, the well-known theatrical and carnival man, will have charge of the same. Creator's Band has also been engaged for daily concerts, and excursions have been arranged on all lines of transportation. There will be nothing but the highest class of shows allowed on the grounds and every effort conducive to its success will be made.

The Exposition building covers about twenty acres of ground and is said to be the best arranged exposition hall in existence. The last exposition held under the auspices of the Commercial Travelers' Association was held at Madison Square Garden, New York City, in 1897.

Mr. Dobbins took charge of his desk, Sept. 12, and is ready to conduct the business of the Pike in a business way.

STATE FAIR GROUNDS PURCHASED.

The Indiana State Board of Agriculture has bought 134 acres of land in the north part of the fair grounds enclosure, which has been under lease to it for the past 13 years. The sum paid was $40,200, or $300 an acre. It is considered cheap at the price, as land in the vicinity is held at $1,000 an acre for suburban homes. The board has now 214 acres of its own, and a prettier tract it would not be easy to find anywhere.

FAIR NOTES.

The Altkin County, Minn. Fair will be held at Altkin, Sept. 14-15.

A new one thousand dollar grand stand has been erected at the fair grounds at Madison Minn.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the Lac qui Parle County, Minn. Fair, which will be held at Madison, Sept. 21-23.

Prof. R. C. Carlisle, manager of Carlisle's Wild West Show, reports that the fair at Elkhorn, Kan., was a big success.

The Duffin and Reday Trompe write that they made a decided hit at the Walton, N. Y. Fair. They were engaged for next season at the same place.

The Swift County, Minn. Fair will be held at Appleton, Sept. 22-24. Preparations are being made for some excellent races, and a balloon ascension will be the prominent free attraction.

The members of the Golden Charlott Amusement Co., attended in a body the evening performance of Mother Goose at the Olympic Theatre, St. Louis Mo., Sept. 11, and after the performance enjoyed a banquet at Toney Faust's Hotel.

The La Crosse, Wis., Inter-state Fair opened, Sept. 20, for four days. Prizes and purses amounting to $5,200 are up and over 100 horses are entered for the races. To see the shows on the Pike will take a full day alone. Prof. Dana's Third Regiment W. N. G. Band and Langstadt's Military Band furnish the music.

John Rigs, balloonist, was injured at Albert Lea, Minn., while making an ascent. The start was made all right but when 200 or more feet in the air the rope of the parachute broke, and he fell to the ground, the parachute refusing to work until he was nearly to the ground. The result was he sustained a fracture of three ribs and was otherwise shaken up.

Prof. Kahrlib, the balloonist, broke his leg in a descent at the "Core," West New Brighton, S. I., last week. He landed heavily on a roof on Columbia-st., West New Brighton, and when his friends reached the roof they were surprised to find him injured. He was removed to the St. Vincent's Hospital, where it is stated he will likely remain for two months.

The Elks' Fair at New London, Conn., to be held Oct. 15-24, will be the largest fair that organization has ever held in New London. The Armory furnishes sixteen thousand feet of space which will be filled with all kind of attractions. The Elks were fortunate in securing the Armory as it has always been refused to all except military organizations.

Mr. J. N. Levin has charge of the publicity bureau of the Colorado State Fair Association which will hold its annual fair at Pueblo, Sept. 26-30. Among the attractions at the fair will be Whirlwind, the trotting ostrich, and Sheik Hadji Tabar. The exhibitions of all departments will be of a high standard and seven of the prize herds now exhibiting at St. Louis will be registered at Pueblo.

Premium lists have been received for review from the following fairs, during the past week: Great Roanoke Fair, Roanoke, Va., Sept. 27-30. James P. Woods, Pres.; R. H. Angell, Treas.; W. L. Andrews, Secy. Davies County Fair, under the auspices of Owensboro Lodge No. 144, B. P. O. E., Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 4-8. Dr. J. H. Hickman, Chairman; C. H. Hugger, Pres.; Lowell Taskins, Secy.

Over forty thousand dollars in prizes and seventy-five thousand dollars in salaries, percentages and so forth were given out by the management of the big fair that held in Toronto, Can. The total receipts were $118,000 and the total attendance was 578,123. The receipts were more than $10,000 more than last year. The management of the fair has asked the city for one hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of building an immense art gallery and cattle arena for next year.

The Tri-state Fair recently held at Dubuque, Ia., proved a greater success than was anticipated. Subscriptions from over three hundred men in the city and county made the fair a success and the management is receiving high praise for so successfully conducting the big event. The only thing that might cause criticism was the lack of shows. The races, exhibits and so forth, were immense, but it is said that free entertainments were lacking. This feature will receive more attention next year.

The big Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, Can., closed, Sept. 10, in a blaze of glory. The attendance the past few weeks has broken the record. On Labor Day the number present was given as over one hundred and thirty thousand; on Farmers' Day over one hundred thousand. Thursday was American Day, and sixty-five thousand were present. Two distinguished visitors on Labor Day were the Archbishop of Canterbury and J. Pierpont Morgan, who were amazed at the immense size of the fair. The receipts of the fortnight will be very large and the board of directors will be encouraged to branch out more for next year. All the shows on Vanity Fair made money. The performance in front of the grand stand was the best ever given. Manager Orr is to be congratulated on the immense success.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A warrant was signed recently for $500,000 by President Francis, and forwarded to the Government. The payment will make nearly $3,000,000 refunded on the loan of $4,600,000 borrowed by the World's Fair.

Hagenbeck's Animal Paradise, on the Pike, has been doing a big business with the increased attendance. The animal exhibition is being constantly added to, and Mr. Fred Sargent states that more will be brought to this country for future exhibitions.

Mr. G. Carruthers, of the World's Fair Bureau of Exhibition, has made a great success since his connection with this department. His energy and aggressiveness has been felt, and much advertising has been given the special events of the World's Fair by him. This has made him popular.

One of the most remarkable successes of the World's Fair amusement concessions is that of the South African Boer War Exhibition. The attendance has been enormous and on many days turning away. It is one of the most novel and interesting exhibitions of late years, and its success is but natural. Mr. Danbury is responsible for much of its popularity.

The Pike Tross Agents are making arrangements for a monster testimonial for Sunday, October 2. The arrangement committee contains Sherman Danby, of the Boer War; C. Phillips, of the Baby Incubator; Ed. Robinson, of Asia; E. Sampson, of Under and Over the Sea; Joe Pazen, of Cummins' Indian Congress; J. Richardson, of the Naval Show; T. McMenien; J. Bauer, of Hagenbeck's; G. McFarland and G. Carruthers, of the Exposition. John L. Sullivan will be master of ceremonies. All the concessioners have given their affair their support to the extent of tendering their full attractions the day. A most handsome sum must be realized.

Jamea Boatock, "Sunny Jim," writes that he has closed with the Ferari Carnival Company after an engagement of nine weeks, and is playing independent dates.

Edward Hanley, spinning juggler, who has been a free attraction with the Royal Amusement Company this season, writes that he has had a splendid season.

La Belle Salina writes that she is with the Parker Amusement Company and not with the Gaskill Carnival Company, having closed with that company last June.

Chas. M. Jacobs and wife write that they will join the Hoss and Smith Carnival Company at the close of their engagement at Athletic Park, Barberston, O., about Sept. 28.

Dr. Horace Grant has contracted with the following southern cities: Spartanburg, Greenville, Columbia, Charleston, S. C., and Columbia, Ga., for the Seaman-Millican Mardi Gras Co.

JOHN E. WATKINS.

John E. Watkins, the subject of this sketch is the enterprising secretary of the Yates County Agricultural Society, whose 65th annual fair was held in Penn Yan, N. Y., on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 20, 21, 22 and 23. Mr. Watkins was born in Gorham, Ontario Co., November 13, 1851. He has been engaged in the fire, life and accident insurance and real estate business in Penn Yan for several years. Mr. Watkins always resided on a farm until 1898, when he was elected county clerk of Yates county, serving one term; he now resides on a farm in the town of Benton, just outside of the corporation limits of the village of Penn Yan.

Stillwater, Minn., Carnival, Sept. 7-10, was a big success. Over 15,000 people in the Court of Honor, the closing night. The Cash Carnival Co. furnished the attractions. The balloon ascensions were the big features.

The Martin and Remleke Carnival Company has just recently been organized in East St. Louis, Ill. They played East St. Louis last week and are at Collinsville, Ill., this week. They are routed South for the winter.

Cora Beckwith, champion lady swimmer, has closed with the Robinson Carnival Co. and is now playing independent dates. She writes that she has just closed a very successful week at the Fort Wayne Fair, Fort Wayne, Ind.

E. Jeffries of the Peaches, Little and Birmingham Show, writes that they had big business with the Ferari Carnival Company at Chicago. They have secured a new outfit and will meet their friends in the South after Oct. 1.

Mr. Fred Lamond writes that he has closed as player for Alice, the Wonder, and is at liberty for the winter season. He sends regards to his friends, who can reach him through "The Billboard" or at 3192 Fresno-av., Fresno City, Cal.

The J. O. U. A. M. Committee, of Pittsburgh, Pa., writes that the Seaman-Millican Mardi Gras Company held a very successful week at that place, and that they look forward with pleasure to the time when the company will return.

Business men of Wichita, Kan., have decided to hold a street fair at that place during the week of Sept. 26. The promoters feel confident of the outcome of the affair and will not hesitate to say that one of the best street fairs ever held will be the one in September.

Notes from the Nat Relais Southern Carnival Company: "After an extended tour of the Pacific Coast, our season is now drawing to a close. We have several more good stands to play to complete our regular season, then it is up to Manager Relais as to winter plans. We are now in our second week here in Seattle and have, in response to popular request, consented to extend our time here to three weeks instead of the two we were booked for. On Labor Day the parade was the grandest and most extensive ever witnessed here, there being over 15,000 men in line, and 25,000 on grounds.

Every business block in Holdrege, Neb., was decorated with arched and varicolored arches, electric lights and gay lanterns, during the street carnival recently held there by the Parker Amusement Company. The week started off big and continued so throughout the week. Everyone expressed admiration at the expensiveness and beauty of the attractions with the show. An elaborate flower parade was held Thursday and much money and work were spent in competition. Travelling Men's Day was a big day Saturday when many knights of the grip made things hum. The business Men's Association is most enthusiastic over the manner in which the carnival was conducted by the Parkerites and will likely make arrangements for an annual visit of that organization to their city.

The C. W. Parker factory, of Abilene, Kan., the largest establishment in the world for the manufacture of amusement devices, has had an unusually busy season the past summer, and between Sept. 1 and the 23d will turn out one of the finest consignments of goods ever manufactured in the West. This will include a $10,000 Carry-all, a $3,000 aerial swing, a $500 loop the loop, a $1,500 leap the gap, a $1,500 Hoop-la show, and front, and a $4,500 animal arena front. These are all to be used by the C. W. Parker Amusement Company, which will tour the South this fall and winter.

The animal arena front is one of the most superb structures imaginable, and is truly a work of art. The background is in purple and the whole three wagon front is in gold carving, two to six inches thick. An immense quantity of gold leaf is used. The central arch is twenty-four feet high, and gorgons, six feet tall, are shown in mortal combat. On the two end pieces over the top panels is Chinese stoneware standing four feet high, all in solid carving and gold leaf. This will be the most elaborate front ever turned out at the big factory.

CONCERNING SELLS' SHOW.

The numbered days for the Forepaugh-Sells' Show under the management of the Sells Bros. bring into prominence and interest the formation of the great show and its varied history of thirty years. The closing of the show under the management of the Sells Bros. is one of the real tragedies of the business world, it might be said, that this big and wonderful enterprise is brought to a close because there is no longer a member of the Sells family who can take up the work. Mr. Peter Sells is now an old man unable to weather the storms of fierce business strife, and he rightfully seeks the repose he has earned through years of labor. He has made a success in business and gave to the American people one of its most worthy institutions.

The Sells and the Forepaugh Shows combined about eight years ago and since that time have been owned by four equal partners, Lewis Sells, Peter Sells, W. Cole and James A. Bailey. When the Barnum and Bailey Circus started across the ocean about eight years ago, Mr. Bailey was confronted with the necessity of leaving a circus in this country to help protect his richest pasture. The Forepaugh Show was then knocking about the country in somewhat unseaworthy shape and Mr. Cole and Mr. Bailey were able to get hold of it at a bargain. They found that the Sells Bros.' Show, which had been steadily gaining ground since its organization, in 1872, would probably be a dangerous competitor of their Forepaugh property. They went out to Columbus, saw the Sells brothers and the outcome was the combination of their domestic show and the Colossal aggregation, making the Forepaugh-Sells Bros.' Circus proposition of some magnitude. The show held the ground in this country successfully until the return of the Barnum and Bailey Show. It divided territory with the Buffalo Bill Wild West, until Barnum's Circus came back to its own and the Indians went over to London to charm the patrons of Earl's Court.

Since then it has divided territory with the Barnum and Bailey people, taking the Middle West last year while the Barnum and Bailey kept pretty well to the east of the Appalachians. This year the two circuses reversed their positions, the Barnum Show now being in Iowa and hurrying back to Chicago to close its season in the Coliseum, while Forepaugh is in the Middle West for the first time this year.

Into whose hands the show will fall at the November sale is a matter of much discussion and prophecy. It has been hinted that Mr. James A. Bailey would take over the show, but Mr. Bailey is growing old and it is not likely that he will take the responsibility upon his hands. It is also reported that a stock company, composed of Columbus men, would buy the property at the sale, but whether they intended to run it as a show is a matter of conjecture.

BARNUM & BAILEY ENGAGEMENTS

Circus Will Open in Chicago, October 6.

The Barnum and Bailey Show will open at the Coliseum, Thursday, Oct. 6, for a fourteen day's engagement, the same concluding, Oct. 19. This will include two Sundays on both of which the show will give exhibitions. Last Fall the Barnum Show gave Sunday performances during their Chicago engagement.

It was Mr. Bailey's original intention to open the coming Coliseum engagement, Monday Oct. 3, but on account of the vast amount of work (much of it having to be done after the arrival of the show) to get the building in readiness, the plans were altered and the opening deferred until the 6th.

HARGREAVE'S CIRCUS IN A WIND STORM.

Much Damage is Done to the Show in Philadelphia.

A furious storm, consisting of the heaviest rainfall ever registered in Philadelphia with wind having a velocity of fifty-eight miles an hour, visited the Hargreave Circus while encamped at Fourth and Ritner-ats., Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 15, and did damage to the show property which will reach into thousands of dollars.

The storm came about 2 a. m. Thursday and those who ventured out in the neighborhood of the circus say that the noise was frightful. Wagons were upset and the terrified animals in attempting to free themselves from their prisons emitted roars and cries well calculated to frighten the bravest. It is said that a major portion of the tents was torn into ribbons and that the paraphernalia was rendered unfit for further usefulness. During the heaviest part of the storm the elephant Jumbo, broke loose and tore madly about the cages, causing greater panic than before.

The confusion was heightened by the cutting loose of 128 horses and ponies after the tent had been carried away. Arthur Beverly, the elephant trainer, finally captured the elephant by calming him sufficiently to pass chafes over his tusks and under his breast.

Three employees of the show were injured and had to be taken to the hospital. Seven tents were hopelessly ruined.

TRAGEDY WITH ROBINSON'S SHOW.

Albert Grant, employed as a six horse driver with the John Robinson Show, met with a fatal accident at Glasgow, Ky., Sept. 7. The night performance was over and the paraphernalia was being loaded upon the train when the train gave a jerk and threw young Grant under the wheels. His injuries were very painful and consisted of the calf of his right leg being entirely cut off and he was otherwise bruised about the head and body. He was taken to Bowling Green, where medical aid was administered by the circus physician Dr. Baehr. He died at noon, Sept. 8, never regaining consciousness. His remains were shipped to Chicago, his home. He was about twenty years of age.

CAR MANAGERS HONORED.

Lester W. Murray Presented With A Diamond Ring.

The billposters on the number one advertising car, of the Barnum and Bailey Show, presented Car Manager Lester W. Murray with a beautiful solitaire diamond ring at Springfield, Mo., on Saturday evening, Sept. 10. The presentation speech was made by Willard D. Coxey, of the general press staff, and the circumstances surrounding the ceremony were of an amusing nature. Mr. Murray wended his way to a lunch room about 9 o'clock Saturday night. After appeasing the wants of the inner man he returned to his car to find the billposters engaged in a general melee. He was naturally shocked and jumped into the midst of the seemingly frenzied combatants and endeavored to bring common out of chaos. About this time Mr. Coxey appeared on the scene, when things quieted down, and the genial Coxey then told Mr. Murray, in a few happily chosen remarks, what the boys thought of him as a friend and a manager, and presented the ring. Mr. Murray was also presented with an elegant umbrella, complimentary of Mr. J. E. Allen, program advertising solicitor of the show.

This is Mr. Murray's second season in the advance of the Barnum Show. He is a capable man and is held in high esteem by his employers and associates.

FROM BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST.

Bonnie Scotland continues to pay tribute to the Wild West—in health, happiness and coin of the realm.

Reverting to the burning of our chandler wagon at Dundee, Aug. 20, Manager Hitchinson did some tall hustling to have lights for the night performance at Arbroath, Aug. 22, and we did not have to show by "star-light" after all, however we might have done so, as we have Geo. O. Alfred D. Master Mechanic Peter some very brilliant stars in our constellation. Hallstand and staff practically re-built the wagon and had it ready for the following Saturday.

Forfar and Montrose, 23 and 24, gave us four splendid audiences. Three days at Aberdeen, "the granite city," 24, 25 and 26, were up to the three biggest days at Glasgow, which were the largest in the history of the show as a traveling organization. Monday and Tuesday, 29 and 30, we were among the "fisher folk" at Peterhead and Fraserburgh, to capacity houses. At the latter place we had Mr. C. White's big fair as neighbors on the same lot. At Huntly, 31, Caterer Ballard, of the Hotel de Cody and Bailey, gave us one of the rarest treats of the season, a dinner of sweet corn on the cob, the first we have had in two years. Business was immense Sept. 1. Sept. 2 we go to Inverness for two days. Expect to do big there as the advertising cars were run up to Wick, a distance of 140 miles, billeting all the intervening towns, the excursion rate being four shillings and six pence, equivalent in American money to one dollar and eight cents. Inverness will be our farthest point North—we turn there and go South again.

Giffin, of the Annex, was until recently using a Jap and Cossack for his opening "bally-hoo," but one morning, in a fit of exhilaration, after the Jap had finished a clever juggling act, said: "And that's the way they juggle with the Russians," whereupon the Cossack balked and could not be induced to mount the "bally-hoo" stage again.—Pyramus, Elgin, Scotland, Sept. 1, 1904.

CHANGES IN NORWICH HIPPODROME.

The energetic proprietors of the Hippodrome, in Norwich, Eng., Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Littt, have secured, by purchase, the Grand Opera House with the intention of converting the building into a hippodrome, and theatre of varieties, for which purpose they take possession, Sept. 26, and after certain alterations the building will be opened the last of October or the first of November. The proprietors have the good wishes of everyone in their new venture.

The present Hippodrome a famous building on Theatre-st., will once more revert to its original form as a playhouse and it is more probable that Fred Morgan will take it, and once more revive the drama in the same building where many actors and actresses have trod the boards.

NEW ENGLISH COMPANY FORMED.

The Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft Hippodrome, Limited, has been registered in London as a company with a capital of £40,000 in £1 shares. The object is to acquire the business of a circus and hippodrome proprietor carried on at Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft as Gilbert's Hippodrome, to adopt an agreement with G. Gilbert, and to carry on the business of hippodrome and circus proprietors. The first directors (to number not less than two nor more than five) are Colonel W. Diver, J. P. (Chairman), G. Gilbert, W. H. Palmer, J. P., and F. Spashet.

EDUCATED HORSE CREATES STIR IN BERLIN.

The learned horse Hans has just stood a successful examination in Berlin before a scientific commission, including physiologists, psychologists, pedagogues, naturalists, animal trainers and others. Their report sets forth that the evidence he gave of comprehending handwriting, his musical and color discrimination and mathematical work were performed under circumstances excluding the possibility of a trick.

The methods of the horse owner, Herr Von Osten, are pronounced to be those of a pedagogue rather than of an animal trainer. The case appears to them to be wholly exceptional and to deserve thorough scientific study.

PETER SELLS IS RECOVERING.

Reports came from Columbus, O., to the effect that Mr. Peter Sells is recovering from the stroke of apoplexy received some weeks ago. He has a perfectly clear mind, gives orders as to how business matters shall be carried on, and sees all who call at his home. He has remained quietly in his home so far at the direction of his physician, but the danger of a further attack seems to be remote now, and he will probably begin to go out for drives in a day or two. He has almost entirely recovered the use of his arm.

AL. F. WHEELER'S SHOW CLOSES OCT. 1.

On Sept. 20, Mr. Geo. E. Pickering, general agent of Al. F. Wheeler's New Model Shows, finished his season's work, having done all the contracting for that organization up to Oct. 1. October has been selected as the date for going into winter quarters and the show will therefore retire to Schenectady, N. Y., where it will remain all winter. Mr. Wheeler writes that the season has been a very prosperous one.

FRENCH LION TAMER INJURED.

During the fêtes at St. Cloud, Paris, France, Sept. 12, Louise Drosmer, a popular woman lion tamer, was horribly and probably fatally bitten and torn by a lion named Norus, which lately belonged to an American showman. A crowd of women and children witnessed the terrible spectacle.

CIRCUS GOSSIP.

J. M. J. Kane will be a half owner in Scott's Minstrels this season.

The Wallace Show turned them away afternoon and night at Memphis.

J. P. Fagan has signed with The Great Wallace Shows for the season of 1905.

Mr. Tom L. Wilson, press agent, has contracted with the Fays and will exploit their deeda in the newspapers.

Walter L. Main and General Agent Ed. Knupp were at the Windsor-Clifton, Chicago, for several days last week.

Jim Logan has closed with the Main Shows and joined the Fred Hewitt Exposition Company for the balance of the season.

C. C. Wilson is enjoying the comforts of private life in the city of Chicago. He has not announced his plane for the future.

The circuses are all doing splendidly and if it keeps up, the season of 1904 will not be such an awfully bad one after all.

O. W. Courtney, tramp juggler, in his 20th week with the Campbell Bros.' Show, reports very good business in the Western country.

J. Pat Davis, of Rural Retreat, Va., wants to buy a small or medium priced show or will lease (with privilege of purchase) a big show.

The Barnum and Bailey Show turned people away at every afternoon performance during their two weeks in Iowa, with the exception of two days, when business was effected by the blow down.

B. F. Webb, leader of band with Texas Bill's Wild West, closed with that organization, Sept. 5, and returned to his home at Waterloo, Ia., and will re-organize his famous Belott Band for the dancing season.

It is rumored that a party of men from Columbus, O., will buy the Forepaugh-Sells Show when the same is put up at auction on Nov. 19. It is intimated that a stock company will be formed for this purpose.

The city council of the city of Dallas, Tex., has passed an ordinance prohibiting circuses from performing in that city during the month of October. The new ordinance is intended to restrain the circuses from competing with the State Fair and other festivities.

We wish to correct the statement in a recent issue of "The Billboard" to the effect that Walter Stanton, Jr., has instituted suit against the Gentry Bros.' Shows. It was Walter Stanton, Sr., as guardian for Walter Stanton, Jr., who instituted the suit.

W. P. Hall, who lately bought the Harris Nickel Plate show property, intends to put out a forty car circus next spring. He did not purchase the title with the Harris property and has not announced the name he will give to his new show.

Some idea of the extensive operations of W. P. Hall, who purchased the Harris Nickel Plate Show, can be gleaned when it is stated that Mr. Hall furnished the 400 horses now being used in the Boer War spectacle on the Pike, at the World's Fair.

Frank C. Bostock sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for Paris, Sept. 13, where he will open his hippodrome for the winter about the first of next month. He will also look after his new enterprise at the French capital. He expects to open his park about May 1.

The Kitamura Family of Japanese acrobats have recently joined the Gentry Dog and Pony Show. No. 3, and are more than making good. A Shetland colt, which at birth was 14 inches high and weighed 13½ pounds, is making a big hit by being brought into the ring by Clown Flick, in a suit case.

A correspondent writes that Newberry, S. C., has not been visited by a circus for the past three years. The license has been reduced to one-fourth of what it formerly was and he says further that many additional concessions would be made to draw a white tent to the town which is circus-hungry.

Colonel H. E. Allen (Bunk) has opened one of the finest hotels in Chicago. The New Alhambra, at the corner of 18th and State-sts., has been newly furnished from top to bottom and will undoubtedly become the favorite headquarters for professionals playing the South Side. It will be convenient for circus people, it being only a five-minute walk from the hotel to the Coliseum.

NORTHERN STATES

Billposters and Distributors' Association Meeting.

Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

(By C. H. Griebel, Secy.)

The Fourteenth Annual Convention of the Northern States Billposting and Distributors' Association was held at the National Hotel, Minneapolis, Minn., Thursday, Sept. 1, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Some of the members present were M. Brislaine, Minneapolis; C. H. Griebel, Jr., Mankato; W. J. Edwards, Anoka; Hopkins, St. Louis Park; W. M. Cline, Red Wing; W. F. Gage, Albert Lea; Dr. F. M. Smerch, Owatonna; A. J. Flynn, Wells; J. E. Hemphrey, Winona City; Mr. Kirsch, Crookston, and thirty proxies were sent in.

The following made application for membership. C. W. Wintroodi, Aberdeen, S. D.; Faribault Billposting and Distributing Co. (C. H. Griebel, Jr.) Faribault, office at Mankato; N. W. Fessenden, Chamberlain, S. D.; E. H. Vespermann, Bismarck, N. D.; E. B. Hartwell, Harmony, Minn.; Salem Billposting Co., Salem, S. D.; Jessie Richter, Waterville, Minn.; S. A. Briggs, Watertown, S. D.

The Committee on Applications, consisting of Messrs. Cline, Griebel and Flynn, reported favorably on all the applications.

Circular letter from Amsterdam Supply Co. was introduced and a motion made and seconded that the secretary write them that we could not allow them sixteen and two-third per cent.

Circular from Chas. Bernard regarding members to join and fill out application was read. Member wished to know whether the National franchise covers all rights to all members.

Copy of resolution was read and accepted and new constitution and by-laws were read.

Secretary's accounts were audited and Messrs. Cline, Smerch and Kirsch.

Secretary's and treasurer's reports were adopted by the auditing committee, Messrs. Cline, Smerch and Kirsch, and reported O. K.

C Gottscholch was suspended for non-payment of dues.

Mr. C. W. Wintroodi, of Aberdeen, was elected a member.

Ward and Anthor, of Fairbank and Waseca, were suspended on account of non-payment of dues. Motion made and carried that the Fairbank Billposting and Distributing Co. (C. H. Griebel, Jr.) be admitted. A motion by Mr. J. Purdy, Mitchell, S. D., asking to change his rate from six to eight cents, was referred back to the committee on rates. The secretary was instructed to write to C. P. Walker and ask him to give Mr. Kirsch, city billposter of Crookston, his opera house posting. Mr. Kirsch did not make any complaint, regarding meeting and invited opinions of billposters in the small towns in regard to commercial rates for circus posting. Most of the members sent in protests claiming that circuses only rent boards for two weeks instead of three weeks, and they will ask for three weeks' showing.

Mr. W. F. Gage, of Albert, entered a complaint against the tacking of signs and banners and asked that it be left to the billposter, especially circus and banner work. Secretary Griebel was instructed to write to Secretary Chas. Bernard to bring this matter up before the Board of Directors at their meeting.

The following officers were elected: L. M. Scott, pres., St. Paul, Minn.; M. Brislaine, loc-pres., Minneapolis, Minn.; C. H. Griebel, Jr., secy., Mankato, Minn.; Dr. F. M. Smerch, pres., Owatonna, Minn.

The Executive Committee was elected as follows: L. N. Scott, St. Paul, Minn.; C. H. Griebel, Jr., Mankato, Minn., and Wm. Kirsch, Crookston, Minn.

The Membership Committee is as follows: W. M. Cline, Red Wing, Minn.; W. F. Gage, Albert Lea, Minn., and W. J. Edwards, Minneapolis, Minn.

All of the theatre managers of St. Paul and Minneapolis extended an invitation to their theatres. Vote of thanks by the members.

Next Annual Meeting will be held at St. Paul, Windsor Hotel, Thursday during State Fair Week.

COUNTRY BILLPOSTERS' PROTEST.

Louis J. Minor, of Aurora, Mo., Voices a Large Sized Kick.

Louis J. Minor, member of the Tri-State Association at Aurora, Mo., is out with a folder in two colors which he is mailing broadcast to other country billposters. It is entitled, "THE BILLPOSTERS' ASSOCIATION'S GOOD THINGS?" He points out that they undoubtedly are—for a favored few. He also hints that there are other "good things" besides the associations—to-wit—the country billposters.

After pointing out the merits of the billboards as an advertising medium and commanding the association for improvements wrought in service he says:

"I answer that the Billposters' Associations by recent actions seem to be losing sight of the interests of their members, and if they continue to drift in this direction in which they are legislating I do not believe they will succeed in holding the Association intact."

Then in red ink and capital letters he asks: "Is it the object of the 'big' billposter in each state to make all the 'little' fellows believe they can not exist outside the Association, then use the legislative powers of the Association to work hardships on the 'little' fellow to run him out of the business, then the 'big' fellow buy all the smaller plants at his own price, thus controlling the state, and advance the rate at his pleasure?"

Continuing, Mr. Minor says: "If it is the idea to eventually bring this condition about, it might be best for the 'little' fellow to think about it now, instead of after it has been done. Five years ago I bought the two weather worn boards of an temperate, irresponsible individual, who has since blown away, and I at once began the construction of a billposting plant in a town of about 10,000 people. I erected about twenty boards in the very best grade of flooring, and increasing the capacity as the demand required. My next step was to join the Tri-State Billposters' Association. I felt no particular benefit derived therefrom. A year ago this association raised the dues. They were not raised so much that they called forth any objections from me, but the objectionable features that have been arising are these. 1. The agreement made by the Directors of the Association and the proprietors of circuses to require billposters to do work at commercial rates. 2. Recent ruling that members of subordinate associations must become members of the National Association. 3. Making it optional with Sollicitors whether billposters are paid for services within three months of time work is done. 4. Offering free service to the St. Louis World's Fair."

Mr. Minor then takes the four propositions in their order and shows how they work out to the injustice and everlasting injury of the small-town billposter. His arguments and handling of these threebare subjects are not particularly new, but his anxiety is, and without be serious. He does not seem to think that the country billposter is a joke.

Mr. Minor will mail copies of his article to billposters who are interested.

RE AMSTERDAM SUPPLY CO.

Frank Fitch Has a Word to Say.

The meeting of the Board of Directors at Chicago, Sept. 3, was one of harmony and unity of purpose. Every member seems to realize that the "watch word" of the present for will be a very handsome publication. 20,000 copies will be printed, which gives an estimated circulation of 100,000 readers. For advertising rates, Address:

about it now, instead of after it has been done. Five years ago I bought the two weather worn boards of an temperate, irresponsible individual, who has since blown away, and I at once began the construction of a billposting plant in a town of about 10,000 people. I erected about twenty boards in the very best grade of flooring, and increasing the capacity as the demand required. My next step was to join the Tri-State Billposters' Association. To secure accurate information on which to base this list required a large amount of correspondence and personal effort, but the result is most satisfactory and any billposter whose territory is mentioned in this list has reason to feel proud of the endorsement.

The investigation was prompted by a wish to stimulate the best efforts of the New York State members, and as a copy of this report will be placed in the hands of all prominent advertisers of the country, who are now making up their list for fall work, it becomes a valuable endorsement which every member should see, and will play a prominent part in the allotment of paper that goes into this state during the coming season.

It is only fair to state that as the members from New York City and Albany were both personally active in obtaining the information, these cities could not fairly be included.

If the secretaries of the other state organizations would take the trouble to prepare similar reports, they would certainly be of great assistance to the members of State Associations in securing business, as all advertisers are influenced more by the practical experience of those who have tried the advertising service in the various cities than through any other means.

F. E. FITCH.

ONE OF J. C. HARRIMAN'S BOARDS AT STAUNTON, MICH.

the Association is "Progressive business methods" and broadening out of facilities for securing contracts as well as for improvement of service.

Only one dissenting voice was raised against the admission of the Amsterdam Supply Co. as an official solicitor and many comments by the various members showed the appreciation and importance of the Association's doing everything that would serve to increase the quantity of paper put out by all advertisers.

Unquestionably the action taken at this meeting is the first step towards the broadening of the policy which here-to-fore has discouraged good solicitors from attempting to enter the Billposting "Arena."

Everybody connected with the Association seems to realize that it is one big business organization and should be conducted as such. No business organization with the right spirit behind it ever neglects any opportunity to push for new contracts and to broaden out its lines for bringing larger fields within its scope. The large increase in size of plants in all important cities is rapidly building up the sheet capacity of the various billposters and points towards an aggressive policy in the direction of new business getting facilities as a natural sequence to the situation.

"THE ROLL OF HONOR" IN NEW YORK STATE.

Offices Which Have Given Best Practical Bill Posting Service to Advertisers.

During the last six months the following cities have been reported by some of the most prominent advertisers, that have used billboards through the State of New York as giving the best billposting service: Catskill, Elmira, Troy, Gloversville, Utica, Middlebury, Morris, Newburg, Owego, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Schenectady, Staten Island, Syracuse and Yonkers.

The above list does not mean that a single advertiser has made favorable comment upon

A MILLIONAIRE BILLPOSTER.

Mr. Patrick J. Ring, the ex-one-ring circus man and now successful billposter at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., recently figured prominently in an elopement which concerned a wealthy widow and several million dollars. The marriage of Mrs. Naomi Covay Duncombe and Mr. Ring, at Long Island City, has created quite a stir among society and billposting circles. The history of the engagement is interesting. Ring ventured into Mt. Vernon about ten years ago with a one ring circus in which he appeared as a wrestler and strong man. He abandoned the show and opened up a real estate office. Mrs. Duncombe's husband had just died and left her a fortune. She made Ring her agent. In the management of the wealthy woman's estate Ring made an immense success and established himself high in her estimation. Ring started a billposting plant in connection with his other business and managed her $30,000 opera house. It is reported that the widow figured prominently in several instances and protection was always awarded her by the stalwart Ring. It was due to his careful management and foresight that her fortune was doubled and their extended marriage is the culmination of the extended business relations of the two and the attachments growing out of the same.

Mrs. Duncombe has been famous in Mt. Vernon for a score of years. It is said that when she and her real estate manager were not contributing to the safety of the little city, her pretty granddaughter took the center of the stage with one of the most famous divorce cases ever presided over by an American judge. Out of this case grew the famous decision of Supreme Court Justice Dickey that a divorce in North Dakota would not hold good in a New York court. Her former husband who died in 1891 made his fortune out of the brush business and it is singular that her second mate should have been engaged in an allied interest, that of billposting. On his death he divided his wealth to Mrs. Duncombe with the exception of a small amount of money to grandchildren who survived him. Upon his death suit was brought by those grandchildren claiming a large amount of money, which their grandfather had given them before his demise. Mrs. Ring succeeded in holding her vast possessions, however, though not without having figured prominently for a number of years.

Mrs. Duncombe is fifty-five years of age, while her suitor is but forty.

Concerning the marriage, Mr. Sam W. Hoke, of New York City, a personal friend of Mr. Ring, writes as follows:

"I remember yet the hand clasp when Ring said he was glad to make my acquaintance, and shall never doubt that he has been the 'Strong Man' in a circus, before becoming the billposter at Mt. Vernon. I tried often to persuade him to join the Association and buy out Le Venis' two boards, but he always said 'What's the use?'

"The newspapers are doing a lot of worrying because the bride is rich and because Ring was a poor man when he seceded from the one-ring circus in 1893. He certainly has been no slugard, even though some folks say he might be termed a slugger."

"Ring is a well-built young giant, though not near as young as some of the newspaper reporters would have you believe when trying to show a disparity in the ages of himself and bride. He is a blond with mild blue eyes, a genial smile, and the sweetest disposition ever attached to a manager of a theatre."

"Here's wishing him much happiness."

DONNELLY ENLARGES PLANT.

John Donnelly and Sons, the successful billposters at Boston, Mass., with offices at 27 Warren-st., have bought out Mr. Chas. L. Hayes' billposting plant at Natick, Mass., and in the future will operate the same.

DAUBS.

Mr. Chas. Bryan spent Sept. 12, in Cincinnati. L. C. Revere, city billposter at Corsicana, has assumed the management of the Commercial Hotel at that point. Mr. Revere was formerly the manager of the Merchant's Opera House at Corsicana, Tex.

A Van Renen and Co. of New York City, are advertising in England. This is the first American billposting firm to invade Europe in quest of business.

William T. Cameron is now the sole manager of the plant at Troy, Fla. Mr. Cameron is a hustler and we expect to hear great things from the plant at Troy.

W. A. Holleman, Annapolis, Md., writes that he is building fifteen new fifty sheet boards. He has on his boards at present about 120 sheets of advertising paper for the Colonial Theatre, Gold Dust, Wine of Cordial, Douglass, Crawford and Walkover Shoes.

Mr. C. E. Forrest, general agent for M. L. Clark's Combined Shows, reports that he discovered an ancient dash while billing his show at Bakersville, Tenn. The dash, well preserved, bore the title of John Robinson and Franklin Bros' Enormous Shows.

Mr. A. B. Reall, former manager of the Grand Opera House at St. Louis City, is pushing his billposting business for all that there is in it. He is erecting some new steel boards and he says he is able to take care of all the dope that comes his way.

On Sept. 15 Mr. O. L. Nolen, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., assumed active management of the Bernard Advertising Service at Savannah, Ga. Mr. Nolen is a capable man having had a billposting plant in Murfreesboro for a number of years and has also conducted a hotel in that city. For the past six years he has had sole charge of all the privileges with the Tennessee State Fair. Mr. Nolen is about 38 years of age, full of energy and up-to-date and under his direction the Bernard Service will be kept up to its high standard.

Mr. W. E. Phillips, manager of the City Billposting and Distributing Co. of Cambridge, Md., reports that he has on his boards the following: Coca Cola Co., 12-8 and 4-24 sheets; Welsh Bros' Circus posted 317 sheets and have on hand from George Enoch Throop, of Chicago, 20-2 and 2-16 sheets Wine of Cordial, waiting for instructions. Have added on to our plant 2-28, 4-8 and 3-24 sheets. Ready for all business that comes our way.

CARNIVAL MANAGERS, NOTE!

Capt. W. D. Ament's Great London Ghost Show AND NEW YORK PENNY ARCADE

Have week of Oct. 10th and Months of November December and Open

These Attractions are breaking all records in the Northwest, taking from $200 to $500 daily. Capt. Ament's London Ghost Show is the original, the only one known to meet with success. 15 high-class recognized performers. A $200 Ballyhoo, beautiful Electric Front, 30 to 50 ft. wide. The Arcade carries 50 up-to-date Picture Machines, and takes as much money as a first-class show. We travel in our own private 60-ft. Pullman car. Managers having a live one for week October 10, anywhere in the South between Omaha and Macon, Ga., let me hear from you quick. Address per route, CAPT. W. D. AMENT, LaCrosse, Wis., 19-24, Omaha, Neb., 28-8, Macon, Ga., Oct. 19-29.

N. B.—The note in last week's issue from one Tibbats, accusing me of stealing his show Title, I'd consider an insult. I have never used His Name or any part of His Show, nor would not accept either as a Gift. His Lunette Act, which is all His Show consists of—I threw on the dump-pile years ago, and his Title of Mysterious Miss Jones. I consider of no commercial value. When I imitate any showman he must be up-to-date, not an old "has been." When you have another Ax to grind, Mr. Tibbats, take it to the man who have had your quarrel with, not me. Stealing other people's brains and ideas is out of my line.—Yours most respt., CAPT. W. D. A.

FOR SALE—Complete Statue Outfit and front, $75.00; Showman's Baby Upright Piano, direct from the Factory, $75.00. One-half the weight of others; 5 octaves, worth $200.

The Property, Title and Good Will of the

Adam Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' SHOWS, CIRCUS, MENAGERIE and HIPPODROME.

One of the largest, oldest and most successful tented exhibitions, including railroad cars, wagons, horses, animals, cages, tents, seats, properties, etc., etc., to be sold as a Going Concern. Can be seen en route as per route. Delivery to take place at the close of the present season at Tarboro, N. C., November 19. Winter Quarters at Columbus, Ohio, can be rented for one or more years if wanted, comprising about ten acres with complete buildings, shops, railroad tracks, etc.

Every winter the show has been thoroughly overhauled and renovated for the following season. The organization is excellent and complete both with and in advance of the show, and can be continued by early arrangement. Large improvements and additions were made yearly, particularly so for 1904. The performances have always been given by the best of artists, European and American. The show has continuously been a pioneer in the presentation of Novel Acts and Features, has exhibited in all the large cities from New York to San Francisco, North and South, and enjoys a prestige and popularity with the public second to none. Has always well operated, honestly conducted and highly successful, and is to be sold only because of the ill health of the managing proprietors.

The show property is in first-class condition and going an excellent business. Interested parties should see it on the road at one or more stands.

STAND PAT BUTTONS.

CLIPPING CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD, JUNE 22, 1904.
CANNON SEES "STAND PAT" HAND

Four Aces Not Enough, but Four Aces and Roosevelt Will Do.

One of the conspicuous buttons seen here yesterday contains a poker hand with four aces and the picture of President Roosevelt on the fifth card. On top are the words, "Stand Pat."

Speaker Cannon, who is reputed to know the game in which the term originated, wears one of these buttons, and was laughed at by one of his friends to-day for the apparent inconsistency of the emblem.

"Why, Mr. Speaker," was suggested, "four aces do not constitute a 'stand pat' hand. Good poker players always mask that hand by drawing a card."

"Well," replied the speaker quickly, "four aces may not be a 'stand pat' hand, but four aces and Theodore Roosevelt is."
