

TAG DAY PARADE

PRECEDED BY HIGH SCHOOL BAND PROCESSION STIRS ENTHUSIASM FOR JEWS' RELIEF

In a blaze of sunshine on a perfect day the auto parade in behalf of the Jewish sufferers from the European war drove through the principal streets of Glendale and Tropic, stopping here and there to stir up enthusiasm and sell tags. All day long the ladies of the Tag committee had been working to sell the tags and raise money for the most laudable purpose of helping the perishing Jews in Poland, Galicia, Roumania and East Prussia, where war has blotted out the face of civilization.

In an auto kindly lent for the occasion by the Valley Supply company, the High School band led the parade, which started from the High School shortly after 3 p. m. A large crowd was assembled at the school to witness the scene and the procession moved off amid great enthusiasm. The High School band was under the leadership of W. Bode. It made quite a showing. The leader in his smart uniform was the life and soul of the organization, which discoursed most eloquent music. The other members were: E. Brown, R. Carmichael, Milton Brown, J. T. Beach, George Grist, Wilbur Lee, Lyndon Keyes, Glenn Oliver, Lorrain Stockwell, Walter Beach, Erwin Weaver, Charles Story, Cecil Percy, John Sharp, Irving Westwood, Harry Coker. In the band wagon were also Mildred Croy, Emily Van Osdoll and Willie Chandler.

Behind this band wagon came the Hunchberger's large automobile laden with a bevy of beautiful, young, high school girls, breathing an atmosphere of youth, happiness and goodwill all around. These were Virginia Hunchberger, Jeanette McLennon, Margaret Boucher, Katharine Renshaw, Evangeline Hunchberger, Catherine Phillips, Waunita Emery, Esther Schremp, Mildred White, Florence Heacock, Marjorie Imler, Ernestine Lyon.

Others who had autos were S. Blatt of Verdugo road, who had a number of parties with him, including Mrs. E. W. Kinney, the president of the ladies' committee.

H. A. Strong had an auto of enthusiastic supporters of the cause, including Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. St. Clair, and others.

P. A. Kranz, in another auto, had the Rev. John Troy, Mr. St. Clair of the Glendale Evening News and others.

Frank Booth, the Coffee King, accompanied by other parties, was also in the parade with his auto. Others joined in as the parade moved along.

Following the band came the fire department. The engine truck was driven by Chief Lankford, who was accompanied by Emil Schroeder, Emil Kiefer, George Potter and Charles Potter.

The route of the parade was from the High School to Brand, to Broadway, to Glendale avenue, to Tropic, to San Fernando road. Back to Colorado boulevard, to Central to Broadway and thence back to the High School.

On the way various stops were made and quite a number of tags were sold.

All day long the ladies who were selling tags flitted about actively and from the dimes and nickels they received they managed to raise a sum that will probably be about $150. This is a very creditable sum when added to the $201 collected at the Sunday afternoon meeting. The ladies who were assisting in this laudable work were: Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. P. A. Kranz, Miss A. Frank, Mrs. M. Barnett, Mrs. Nanno Woods, Miss Watts, Mrs. A. Baum, Miss Eva Daniels, Miss Virginia Graham, Miss Hilda Blatt, Miss Klein, Mrs. A. L. Cohn, Mrs. Flynn.

Mr. Frank Stadler, Milton Kranz, Ralph Miles and Frank Troy also sold tags.

The Baptist church sent in a subscription of $10.

The committee reported this morning that the total proceeds of yesterday's campaign was about $140. There are several public bodies to be heard from and a couple of churches. By the time everything has come in and all expenses are paid there will be $250, it is believed, to send to the Central Committee for Jewish relief.

This result is considerably in advance of what the committee at first expected and is exceedingly gratifying. The committee wishes to tender its sincere thanks to all the willing workers and helpers who aided in making this affair so successful and to the public for its generous response. Everywhere the committee and its assistants found a hearty response to their appeal and discovered that the human sentiment of the com-

ROB JEWELRY STORE

BURGLAR BREAKS WINDOW OF GUERNSEY STORE WITH STONE AND RAKES OUT CONTENTS

One of the most daring burglaries that has been committed in this city for some time was perpetrated early Friday morning, when the Guernsey jewelry store, corner Broadway and Isabel street, was broken into by an enterprising criminal, who cleared one of the windows of its contents and got away without being seen or heard.

This is the first serious crime that has been committed in Glendale since the establishment of a four-man night squad of patrolmen. Apparently the burglar had studied out the routine of the night force and had timed his movements in such a manner that the crime was done and the criminal gone while the patrolman was at the further end of his beat.

The Guernsey store has two windows, large plate glass affairs, one on Broadway and the other on Isabel. It was the Isabel street window that was attacked. In this way the patrolman could not possibly have seen what was going on and had small chance of hearing anything as he walked up Broadway. The "tools" used in the work were of the most primitive nature. The burglar had picked up a piece of granite rock that fitted comfortably into his hand and had sufficient projection to constitute an effective hammer. His other weapon was a forked willow stick, just long enough to rake out the articles in the window.

The burglar, seizing the moment when the policeman was at the farthest end of his beat, quickly smashed in the lower righthand corner of the Isabel street window and hooked out the articles therein in a trice. He then apparently walked leisurely away. There would be no possibility of seeing what had happened to the window in the darkness of the morning unless one had gone up close to it. It is therefore likely that the burglar got a good start and is far away from the city by this time.

Recently there have been a number of drunken vagrants observed on the cars coming in the direction of Glendale. Two of them went through to Burbank the other day and only the mercy of the conductor permitted them to get through as they were obstreperous and foul-mouthed. That the crime at Guernsey's was committed by outsiders of this description goes without saying. Anyway, the police are right in deporting vagrants of this description, a couple of whom were found last night sleeping in Fairchild's mills.

The articles taken from the Guernsey window were valued at $150. They consisted of one 14-karat pearl and diamond pendant, a coral ring, a Wolderman chain, two signet rings, an Elk's charm, a gold-filled Elgin watch, a 15-year, guaranteed Elgin watch, another filled watch, an Elgin gold-filled watch and a cameo bracelet. The thief succeeded in getting the whole of the contents of the window. At night all the very valuable articles are locked in the safe and those articles are insured. The commoner display stuff that is left in the window over night is not insured so that the loss is quite considerable. The burglary took place somewhere about 4 a. m., or later, it is supposed.

LUNCHEON EVENT

A happy informal event of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. C. D. Wilde on the 15th instant at their pretty home, 238 North Louise street. The table and room decorations were most attractive, sweet wood violets and freesia intermingled with ferns having been liberally used.

Seated with this charming hostess were Mrs. Eugene McIntyre, a visitor here from San Francisco, also Mrs. William Stafford and Mrs. John Drew, both of Los Angeles.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday; northeast winds.

Community is strong and deep. Many a poor Jewish family who would otherwise have died will live through the distressing winter by means of this Glendale charity. The good that can be accomplished by the funds that are being collected all over the United States is incalculable. How much better to save than to destroy life.

RUSSIAN SMASH TO TREBIZOND

CZAR'S MEN ARE RUSHING ON TO CAPTURE IMPORTANT PORT ON THE BLACK SEA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, Feb. 18.—Wasting no time in rejoicing over their great victory at Erzerum the Russians are rushing their troops in a great smash against Armenia, with the object of capturing Trebizond, an important Turkish port on the Black sea. Trebizond is 120 miles distant from Erzerum. Its possession would be an immense advantage to the forces of the czar in their further advance to join the British forces in Mesopotamia. The Russians are making rapid progress. They have already advanced seventy miles and are within 50 miles of their objective. The Russians state that they have captured 1500 additional Turkish troops and 25 cannon which were taken in some of the outlying forts, at Erzerum.

VOLLEY BALL VICTORS

CASA VERDUGO GIRLS ARE WINNERS OVER SCHOOLS OF CITY LEAGUE

After a series of strenuously contested games the girls of the Central Avenue school, Casa Verdugo, won the volley ball championship. The series was that of the Glendale schools and to have won a championship out of a number of clubs of such high excellence as those of the public schools of this city is no small honor. The Casa Verdugo girls fought hard for their honors and their opponents did not let them win out without fighting every inch of the way.

Much of this success is to be attributed to the patient and efficient coaching given the Casa Verdugo girls by Miss Elizabeth Edwards, instructor in athletics in Central Avenue school, and the constant encouragement accorded them by Miss Annie McIntyre, the accomplished principal of that school. Miss Schultz, supervisor of girls' athletics in the public schools, is also entitled to credit for her work in getting all the teams in shape.

FIRST M. E. LADIES' AID

According to the opinion of all present at the last meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the entertainment given on that occasion was one of the most enjoyable ever offered in this connection. The society met Thursday evening in the church parlors. After a brief business session Mrs. R. Lacey, assisted by Miss Collins, acted as entertainer. She had provided a fine program. Miss Jennie Lacey gave a piano solo, excellently rendered, and Miss Marion Addison charmed all with her sweet voice. Mrs. Phillips gave an interesting, and instructive story in her own inimitable way. Some games then made the ladies exercise their brains and after their exhausting amusement they were refreshed by the dainty repast provided for their delectation.

The dining hall was beautifully decorated with hatchets and hearts. A plaster cast of the much loved Lincoln, donated by Miss Lacey, occupied a pedestal of honor. The parlors were decorated with acacia, and yellow hearts were everywhere amid a profusion of greenery. About eighty ladies were present and heartily enjoyed both the intellectual entertainment and refreshments. Mrs. Lacey, as February hostess, received the appreciative congratulations of all.

BROADWAY P. T. A.

Those who were fortunate enough in being present at the Thursday meeting of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association, enjoyed one of the best programs presented during the year. The opening number was a group of songs sung by the Sixth grade members, including, "Psalm and Peace," by Grieg; "American Hymn," by Keller; "Washington," by Waller.

Mrs. T. W. Preston gave a beautiful address upon "Patriotism in the Home." "The Present Trend in Education" was presented in a masterly way by Supervising Principal Richardson D. White. Short talks were given by Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, Federation chairman of membership, and Mrs. F. S. Kurtz, Federation chairman of patriotism.

Miss Pauline Scholz room, the second grade, was awarded the picture for showing the highest percentage of mothers present. A picture, "The Children of the Shell," by Murillo, will be given by Mrs. Ryan to the room making the best showing in paid memberships to the association.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. W. W. Brewer and Mrs. L. Morehouse.

GARDEN SOCIETY WORK

LETTER TO A GLENDALE MERCHANT IN ANSWER TO HIS INQUIRIES

Most of the people of Glendale are interested in the work of the Glendale Garden society from one point of view or another. However they may regard it, they cannot have failed to observe that under its present directorate the society has flourished and increased and that it has life; whereas in the early part of last year it languished and seemed likely to die of inanition. Activity and work of any kind are interesting. The people who go ahead and do things are those who deserve well of any community. In view of the marked effect the Garden society is creating throughout the community, the following letter to a local merchant, who has recently been studying the working of the society, should possess some interest:

Dear Mr. —: I was much interested in hearing your views upon the Flower Show, the Garden Society, etc. We are a young and new society, feeling our way as best we can to promote the interests of Glendale. Nobody ever started this kind of society before, in this city, therefore we have no precedent for our activities; we have to learn by our own mistakes. The more the business men of the city will help us, the faster we shall grow, the fewer mistakes we shall make and the greater good we shall accomplish.

Within five months our membership has grown from 12 to almost 100; of that large number no one was ever asked to join; they came voluntarily. We made our membership fee only 25 cents a year so that everybody could join, so that none could think we were after mere money. We need the help and kindly advice and backing of every interest in Glendale, educational, commercial and social.

We long for men like yourself to come in and be a power amongst us; that is the way to accomplish things. We are holding out our hands all the time for more members, fresh blood, more experienced people, for strong and active men and women to work with us. We want the business men of the city to become one with us; that we may all work together for the good of Glendale. I submit the names of the officials of the Glendale Garden society: Morris Caruthers, M. B. Hartmann, Peter Oliver, Mrs. Frank Hester, Prof. Houdyshele, C. Woolsey, A. Hommel, Freeman Kelly, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mr. Ernest Owen, J. H. Gervais, Miss Helen White, J. Beldin, Mrs. Cora Taylor, Mrs. J. R. Leadsworth, Mrs. Ella Richardson. We are proud of every name. Not one amongst us is a shirker or a quitter; but we need every thinking man in Glendale. We are studying systems and methods tried out in other cities; we are giving close attention to civic improvements all over the States.

We want the benefit, the wisdom, the experience and thoughts of our Glendale business men; they must surely have many ideas, plans and policies which should result in the greatest good for the greatest number. We welcome every new member, every new thought, every kindly criticism, every individual suggestion. Come in and help us to form our plans, shape our policies; we need every true-hearted man and woman in Glendale.

Yours truly,
NANNO WOODS,
President Glendale Garden Society.

VIOLETS AND NARCISSUS

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Melford will entertain at dinner this evening in their home, 1219 West First street. The large oval table will be exquisite with a color motif of violets, narcissus and fern fronds, which will formulate a symphony of dainty coloring.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Melford, covers are to be arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean (Miss Fanny Ward), Mr. and Mrs. Tom Meighan (Miss Frances Ring), Mr. and Mrs. James Neill (Miss Edith Chapman), Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reid (Miss Dorothy Davenport), Mr. and Mrs. Percy Helburn, Mrs. Carlyle Blackwell and Mr. Claude Mitchell.

TRAMPS DISCHARGED

Two wandering men in search of work, who had taken up their quarters for the night in the old Fairchild's mill, on First street, were arrested by the police and given free quarters in the city jail, where they had at least comfortable beds. This morning they were brought before Judge Whomes, who found on inquiry that they were genuine workmen in search of work, and that they had their own blankets with them. Thereupon he discharged them with a warning not to return.

LENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1916

VALUE OF AN ATHLETIC CLUB

Considering the work the Glendale Athletic club is doing for the city in the way of advertising it, and the opportunity it affords, by means of its matches, to young men and young women to spend an evening in each week, if they choose, witnessing a fine, clean, healthy sport like basketball, the club is not getting as much support from the citizens as it should. Glendale has reason to be proud of its Athletic club, which is slowly struggling into recognition as an aggregation of youthful athletes seeking to keep the name of the city at the front among other places also struggling to get into the spotlight.

Who would hear much about Whittier were it not for the fact that it has, in the Whittier College basketball team, an aggregation of youthful, muscular ability that attracts attention and is known even in the East? This was the case with Glendale itself. This city attracted little attention. Suddenly it was spoken with admiration as the home of various athletes, such as Hastings Bidwell, a graduate of the Glendale Union High School in the class of 1915, who took the record for the county meet at Long Beach in the high jump with 6 feet 2 inches, and Howard Ehmke, who made the name of Glendale known all over the West by his feats on the baseball field and by finally breaking into the national baseball arena.

Bidwell is now doing excellent work in the basketball team and there shows the same mental and physical poise and accuracy, joined with dash and daring, that characterized him at school. Those who have seen the rest of the team—Littell, active and lithe as a panther; Farner and Stone, strong as Hercules and lightfooted as Hermes, ever on guard, and Taylor, the self-controlled center who equaled the record on Tuesday night of the great McBurney in field goals, and who is his rival for the honor of being picked in the All-Southern California basketball team—know that Glendale has an aggregation of athletes of which she may well be proud.

That such a team should be compelled to practice in cramped and ill-fitted quarters is not to the credit of Glendale. The floor of the old packing house at First and Glendale, where the games are being played, is as rough as a country road. It does not lend itself to the finer touches of the game, where the slide is as effective at times as any other trick of the arena. For the credit of the city the citizens should come together and aid the boys to get a new clubhouse and proper equipment.

When that has been done the city will have the advantage of seeing itself figuring in the metropolitan papers with all the glory that belongs to the winner. The newspaper heads will run "Glendale Wins, 'Glendale Wins Again' and so on, until everybody says, "That Glendale must be an enterprising city." Above all, as an athletic center of note Glendale will develop in her youth a desire to emulate the feats of their forerunners, and there is nothing that keeps a young lad more in the straight path than the desire to excel in anything, whether it be athletics or scholarship. The city will thus gain in every way and as its fame grows so will the tide of outside students, visitors and residents increase, enlarging its population and widening its bounds.

IN AMERICA'S CRUCIBLE

There is nothing very new in the saying that "America is the world's melting-pot." The idea has been worked out in a hundred different ways from the simile of the mill which is eternally grinding out American citizens to the great play that Zangwill, the Jew, wrote, "The Melting-Pot." Though the idea may not be new, however, it is none the less true and none the less appropriate at the present moment, when the various nationalities that are living together in this land of gracious opportunity are commendably trying to live up to President Wilson's advice given at the beginning of the war, to "maintain a strict neutrality" and refrain from discussing the quarrel and its causes.

At the great mass meeting in Glendale, Sunday, some of the members of the committee who were anxious to have a large American flag on the stage but failed to receive it in time, immediately after getting the national banner draped it over the platform that faces the entrance, "For," said one of the Jewish ladies with real feeling, "we could not get along without the flag."

How true was the sentiment anyone can learn when he speaks to Jews who have gone through the horrors of the Kief massacres in Russia and the many other cruel persecutions of that unfortunate race in Europe. To them the American flag symbolizes all that makes life worth living. Peace, security of life, limb and property, the right to marry and bring up a family without the fear that at any moment they may be visited by armed ruffians, their homes burned over their heads and their property pillaged and their wives and children cruelly treated and subjected to unspeakable enormities ending in death.

To the Jew and to men and women of other nationalities the Stars and Stripes is dear because it symbolizes the home and the hospitality that were granted them when they came to this land; because, here, at last, they found a refuge from the stains and dishonors of a cruel existence on the other side. What wonder that, as they think of these things and then lift up their eyes to the starry folds of the mighty banner of freedom, their hearts fill with thankfulness as their eyes so often in former days did with tears and they murmur "Lest we forget!" "Lest we forget!"

No one can mingle with real sympathy and comprehension among the various races that make up this great nation without realizing that they are all intensely loyal to the land; without feeling that in the hour of this country's necessity they will stand by it to the end, just as this country has stood by them. The great heart of America goes out to all sufferers. The sympathies of the United States have always been strongly moved by the sufferings of other nations and the sum of American charity freely dispensed all over the world is almost fabulous.

So this composite nation feels for all humanity and has ties of blood and fellowship with all; yet is truly one and indivisible when

IMAGINATION

Of course, there are real, ugly lies, but they are few compared with the fibs that are untrue only in the seeming. To us grownups who have drawn the line with pitiful sharpness between play and reality, the world of the imagination and the realm of the so-called real, there comes at times a feeling akin to envy, when we think of the wonder world in which the child lives. Truth is beautiful; the child must be taught its beauty and the necessity of living it as far as possible; but the mother should consider the nature of the fib before she runs the risk of being unjust and losing in any degree her child's confidence.—Mother's Magazine.

SHERER CANDIDATE FOR CLERK

J. C. Sherer, who has been serving the city as clerk the past year thinks he has just gotten broken in to the work, and he asks that the people elect him at the April election, assuring them that his year's experience will enable him to render valuable service. Mr. Sherer has proven himself a very efficient and accommodating official. Experience in doing this kind of work counts for much.

EVENING AT CARDS

The George Bannock home at 920 Lomita avenue was the scene of a pretty affair on Thursday evening, when Miss Agnes Frostick, a sister, entertained members of the Jolly Twelve card club. In the living-room small tables for the evening's pleasant diversion were surrounded by a wealth of flowering acacia, lilies and ferns, and an elaborate supper was served in the dining-room at a daintily arranged board centered in the bright yellow acacia blossom, a herald of spring.

500 scores were kept upon hand adorned cards of yellow roses. Mr. Norman Badger captured the prize. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Stagner, Mrs. Arline Hallahan, Miss Amy Bowerford and the Misses Bess and Mattie Belle Provolt, Mr. R. Hollingsworth, Jr., Mr. Fred Provolt, Mr. P. T. Mortz and Mr. Leo Meincke.

Mrs. W. C. Calhoun and son William Calhoun were the guests Wednesday of Mrs. David H. Imler of West Park avenue. Mrs. Calhoun and son leave for their home in Denver, Colorado, Friday afternoon.

Many society folks of Tropic and Glendale have accepted invitations to attend the U. S. 500 card party, to be given by Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly at her home on San Fernando boulevard, Friday evening. Over forty guests will motor from Los Angeles and join the merry party.

Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey of Columbus avenue left for Pomona this morning, in response to a message announcing the passing on of her cousin, Mrs. C. R. Andrus, of that city. Following the funeral services, which were held at eleven thirty this morning, the remains were shipped to Chatfield, Minnesota, where interment will be held.

With many regrets at leaving this delightful Southland, Miss Augusta Knapp, who has been the house guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto P. Snyder, of South Brand boulevard, for several weeks, terminated a most delightful visit. While en route to her home, in Tiffin, Ohio, Miss Knapp will visit relatives and friends in Omaha, Neb., and Chicago, Ill.

The Tropic ball team has reorganized and several of the popular ball players will be again on the diamond when this team will cross bats with the White Socks (colored) of Los Angeles. The game is called for Sunday afternoon, 2:30, on the diamond of the municipal playground. Hasty Bidwell—the ever popular Hasty—will pitch for the Tropic team, while popular Olin Bradford will catch for the home team.

Banks of Los Angeles will pitch and Blew of the metropolis will catch for the famous White Socks. It is desired that a large crowd greet the recently reorganized Tropic team and many friends will hail the return of Chuck Flanders, in center field, and "Flip," the popular fan.

Mr. Nunn of 1419 Hawthorne has been taken to the Crocker Street hospital in Los Angeles, suffering from blood poisoning in a hurt received in cranking an auto. At last accounts he was improving.

Little Dorothy, youngest child of O. F. Stiefer and wife, of 1506 W. 7th, died Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock from tuberculosis of the brain. She was about two years old and seemed unusually sturdy and strong. A bright and lovable child, she had endeared herself to all those about her and she will be greatly missed. The heart-broken parents have the sympathy of all in their great bereavement.

HOFFMAN FOR RE-ELECTION

G. B. Hoffman, who is at present filling the position of treasurer of the city of Glendale, is a candidate for re-election at the city election April 10. Mr. Hoffman has proven himself well qualified to perform the duties of the office of which he has charge. He is an able and accurate accountant, and then he has that industrious habit of keeping constantly at his work. It is doubtful if there is anywhere a city of Glendale's population that has the office of treasurer so well filled as has Glendale.

SMALL FACTORS IN GREAT CONFLICT

"In the war of the giants, two midgets counter-balance, San Marino in the entente camp and Liechtenstein in the camp of the Teutonic powers," begins a primer describing the smallest of Germany's allies, issued today by the National Geographic society. "Liechtenstein is the suggestion of a valley and a cluster of mountain crags, situated on the border between Switzerland and Tyrol, and it shares the distinction with San Marino and Monaco of being the smallest independent state in Europe. From almost every statistical viewpoint, except that of square miles, it is considerably smaller than either of its rivals."

"The obscure principality lies south of Lake Constance, and includes more than sixty square miles of rocks, bleak mountain sides, avalanches, evergreen forests, high pastureland, and brook-scarred valley bottoms. It is about twelve miles long and its width varies between one and six miles. Its highest summit reaches an elevation of 8445 feet, the Rothe Wand, and here the Vorarlberg joins the Liechtenstein frontier. Vaduz is the capital of the state, a residence of about 1000 inhabitants, where are the government offices and where the diet sits. The town is two miles south of the Schann railway station, beyond the notice, the worries, and the vanities of the world."

"Liechtenstein possesses a constitution, given in 1862 and amended in 1878, 1895 and 1901. The national diet consists of fifteen members, three of whom are appointed by the prince, while the remaining twelve are chosen by a male electorate. A representative of the prince, resident at Vaduz, is the chief executive. Appeals can be made to the prince's court at Innsbruck. Its population is about 9000, and, such is their thrift in matters of public housekeeping, that there is no public debt. Before the abolishment of compulsory military service in 1868, the army of Liechtenstein was ninety-one well officered and well trained mountaineers."

LA CRESCENTA ITEMS

The state highway is now completed as far as Pennsylvania avenue. The cement will likely be uncovered for travel by Sunday.

Word has reached James Manning, of the La Crescenta store, of his wife's safe arrival at Galena, Kansas, where she had gone to visit her mother. In the communication Mrs. Manning states that her mother is much improved in health. She says the mud is very deep after the heavy floods throughout the middle west.

Mr. A. T. Barker of Santa Monica was a Sunday guest at the D. E. Wetherbee ranch home in La Crescenta.

Registries at La Crescenta

Following are the registries at the La Crescenta Hotel: J. J. Heinze, H. Zimmerman, Pasadena; Thomas Lee Woolwine and family, H. A. Cains, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cryer, Edwin T. Cryer, Mrs. Catherine Gay, Miss M. A. Banning, Miss M. Nord-slag, Miss Esther Bell, C. C. Cramer, Los Angeles; Mrs. S. L. De Land, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Haase, Oak Park, Ill.; Gordon F. Blackwood, Glendora; Miss Mae H. Anderegg, Onondacka rancho; C. Cretoes and wife, Chicago.

Miss Lucille Haddix of Glendale Heights entertained a group of her La Crescenta friends with a party during the past week. The guests were mainly schoolmates at Glendale Union High school. Leap year was the motif.

LITTLELANDS

Miss Charlotte Schaff, who was formerly secretary to the dean of women of Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, Ohio, spent last Friday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kearney. Miss Schaff was on her way home from the exposition at San Diego where she had been stranded for some time by the recent floods. She and the Kearneys have many mutual friends back east and the day was greatly enjoyed by all concerned. The Ohio Wesleyan university is the alma mater of Dr. Kearney and it was at Delaware that these friends first met.

At the board of trade meeting Tuesday night the usual routine of business was carried out. The report of the secretary was read and approved. A number of new members were added to the roster of names, after which the following resolution was presented by Mr. Leo Lang and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, This body being appreciative of the efforts of the State Highway Commission to extend the state highway through the Monte Vista Valley, and

Whereas, This body stands ready to co-operate with and assist said State Highway Commission, its officers and employees, whenever its co-operation and assistance may be thought necessary or required by said commission, its officers or employees, and

Whereas, This body is not unmindful of the labor and expense sustained and incurred in the painstaking efforts incident to the numerous and arduous surveys through the valley, preparation of the necessary maps, etc., as a result of the data obtained by these surveys, and

Whereas, The route generally accepted by the residents of this valley as that now favored by the commission, viz: Michigan avenue, La Crescenta, to Monte Vista boulevard, Littlelands, thence on the Monte Vista boulevard to Hill street, thence on Hill street to First street, Sunland, and thence to the Big Tejuanga. This route undoubtedly affords the most feasible and practicable course through this part of the valley, traversing directly through its center appears to offer the minimum of grades and fills, besides opening to view beyond any other conceivable route the full panoramic splendors of a magnificent and rugged landscape, and

Whereas, From time to time, evidently to mislead the public mind, articles have been caused to appear in print that for various, inconclusive reasons other routes have been deemed more desirable, and announcements have been made at public gatherings that the commission had finally decided, and announced the fact of change from the generally accepted route. It is also ascertained that a petition is now being circulated in this community, prepared by certain selfish interests with the hope of being thus able to influence the decision of the authorities in the matter, and

Whereas, This body believes that all information heretofore circulated to the effect that a change from the generally accepted route has been adopted to have been misleading, and that the circulation of a petition at this time to bring about such a result, is evidence of that fact, and therefore be it

Resolved, That this Board of Trade views with disfavor all such efforts as tending to becloud the subject and cause delay and obstruction to the extension of the state highway through the Monte Vista Valley, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the State Highway Commission.

Henry Biescar of Los Angeles avenue is having a large barn constructed on his ranch on Los Angeles avenue north of Michigan.

Extended improvements along the line of water development are being made in the Fitzgerald ranch west of La Crescenta. A large reservoir is being put in at the present time. Buck and Olmstead, engineers from Littlelands, are doing the work.

Miss Mary Begue of West La Crescenta entertained last week end Misses Meta Schuner and Katherine Klassen, both of La Crescenta; also Miss Angelina Gai of Santa Monica, who is still visiting at the Begue home.

Last Friday evening, a most enjoyable leap year party was enjoyed by the younger set of La Crescenta at the Willis Wise home on Los Angeles avenue. Robert Wise proved a most gracious host.

The Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club of La Crescenta postponed the past week's meeting to next Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Hicks, Pacific Coast manager for the General Film corporation, accompanied by his wife, was a Sunday visitor at the Joe Hawkins home. Mr. Hicks is a brother of Mrs. Hawkins.

In New School Building

To the delight of teachers and pupils, announcement has been made that they can occupy during the coming week the new La Crescenta grammar school building, which immediately adjoins the old structure on Los Angeles avenue.

It was originally intended that the new schoolhouse be completed for second semester's work, but this was made impossible through difficulties in securing material. Then the rains stopped the interior finishers from completing their work.

The style of the building is open cloister mission, and in its location on the hillside, it makes a striking impression on the tourist coming in on the Glendale and Montrose railway.

As to construction of the building, it has three class rooms, including a primary department. It also has a teacher's room, library and auditorium. In the patio at the front a playground is provided.

Plaster walls cover the interlocking hollow tile construction which has been deemed best, as it is cooler and drier than the brick construction. The building is much the same in construction as that at Burbank, except the La Crescenta school is smaller.

Missionary From China

At the La Crescenta Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, the program was given over to the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society. Miss McLaughlin, a missionary recently returned from the island province of Hainan, China, was the speaker of the evening. In her discourse, she stated that every student graduated from the Hainan mission institute was a Christian at time of graduation.

Miss McLaughlin attributed the Christianizing of the people to the fact that the younger generation of Chinese want education and inasmuch as only the Christian schools furnish the learning of the Occident, the students turn to the mission institutes for their training.

The young people of the valley, and especially the boys, will be sorry to learn that Orville and Rodney Rogers, who have been living with their aunt, Mrs. Leenhouts, have left La Crescenta to return to their former home at Antelope valley. Orville had the honor of being the first president of the Boys' club and both of the boys were well liked by all who knew them.

FIRE PREVENTION ON MT. TAMALPAIS

Fire protection of the 40,000 acres of the Mt. Tamalpais region by methods similar to those employed on the National Forests has prevented any serious forest fire in Marin county for two years. Aroused to action by the devastating fire that swept over the brush slopes and wooded canyons of Mt. Tamalpais in 1913, the citizens of southern Marin county formed the Tamalpais Fire association and F. E. Olmstead, former U. S. district forester was engaged to organize the work of fire protection.

During the fire season this association employs a paid force of forest rangers and lookouts who are backed up in emergencies by an organized citizens reserve. Trails and roads have been posted with fire warning signs and fire fighting tools, such as axes, shovels, saws, lanterns and water bags sufficient to equip 800 men, have been placed conveniently in boxes stationed along the trails and in nearby towns. Fire-breaks have been constructed along the ridges in order to give access to all parts of the region and to serve as cleared spaces for backfiring.

The financial scheme of the association is unique in that no government or state aid is received. The land owners contribute at a rate of ten cents per acre for their land under protection, the towns about the mountain pay annual amounts roughly proportioned to their value.
