RELATIONS BETWEEN THE GREAT POWERS

Premier Balfour's Speech at the Lord Mayor's Banquet—The Situation in Russia.

London, Nov. 9.—"A century ago Pitt, standing where I now stand, prophesied war; to-day I prophesy peace."

Mr. Balfour and Whitehall Reid, the American ambassador, who replied to the toast of "their excellencies, the foreign ministers" vied with each other in pleasant words for the credit of their respective countries.

The whole tenor of the speech was optimistic on the relations between all the great powers.

Absorbing Public Interest by the great movement they are making in the direction, as we believe, of self-government.

The banquet was conducted with all the quiet ceremonial peculiar to the occasion. The guests of Lord Mayor Morgan included the retiring Lord Mayor, Sir John Poynter, many of the foreign ministers and cabinet officers.

In proposing the toast of "the imperial forces," Sheriff Smallman pleasantly referred to the reception in the United States of the British expedition under command of Prince Louis.

The Premier devoted a considerable portion of his speech to the question of unemployed, especially in Canada, and his desire to, in every possible way, help these out of work.

and appealing to private parties for assistance in passing policy of the government, the Premier spoke first of Russia, and then said that the King's government had done everything possible for many years to ward off the dangers of war.

"I am cautious on this subject," said the Premier, "I think in the future we shall not see such a war as we have seen in the past."

INSURANCE INQUIRY.

Metropolitan Life Paid Nearly Two Million Dollars For Salaries Last Year.

New York, Nov. 9.—Before the insurance investigation committee this morning the expenses of the Metropolitan Life were taken up with Mr. Hegegan.

He remembered the time when the company had to go out borrowing money to pay a death claim, while now the company has a death claim every minute of the 24 hours.

Mr. Hughes, counsel for the committee, E. Hughes, counsel for the company, and the caretaker of the house, were called today as witnesses.

Mr. Hughes said that he did not explain why some were for travelling expenses and some for salaries.

Nineteen vouchers were identified by Mullany, for all of which he admitted he received the money, which aggregated $5,739.

Mullany said he had never carried any money to Albany from New York from Mr. Fields, and never paid out any money for Mr. Fields.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN.
Rumors of Secret Treaty For Defensive Alliance Between the Two Countries.
From a very reliable Swedish source, says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, I learn that a secret treaty has been agreed to by the Norwegian and Swedish delegates for a defensive alliance between the two countries, and that the treaty in question made it impossible to come to an understanding on the subject of the fortifications, at a moment when the negotiations were threatened with interruption. In the agreement, which has been made public, reference is made to a special arrangement, which has not been published, and it is likely that there may be some connection between that unknown agreement and the treaty above mentioned.
The treaty in question, like the arbitration treaty, will not be officially subscribed to before the disunion is an established fact and Norway has been formally recognized as an independent state, but the preliminary arrangement between the delegates for a defensive alliance no doubt made it possible for the Norwegian embassies to agree practically to all the terms stipulated by Sweden.

HORSES DISAPPEARING.
Large Increase in Automobiles and Electric Cars in London.
Commenting on the annual report of the London commissioner of police, a London correspondent says: One question that the report brings prominently to the front is: "What is to be the future of the horse cab?" Most of us keep on saying in a jocular way that the advent of the motor car has tolled the death knell of the London horse. Apparently there is more truth in this than we realize. At any rate, the commissioner has put down in black and white that last year the hansoms diminished by three hundred and sixty-two. Simultaneously fifty-four horse-omnibuses have been taken "off the road," while on the other hand, there thirty-five electric tram cars, and "a marked increase in the number of mechanically-propelled omnibuses licensed."

CANADA AND THE COMMONWEALTH
THE DEVELOPMENT OF
COLONIAL COMMERCE Instructive Address on Relationship of Dominion and Australia Before Board of Trade.

Last evening's meeting of the Victoria Board of Trade was more than usually important. J. S. Larke, Canadian commercial trade commissioner in Australia, who is on his way to that colony, was present by invitation and delivered a most instructive address on the trade relations of Canada and Australia.
There was a large attendance. President Paterson occupying the chair and among those present being: C. F. Todd, S. P. Pitts, H. G. Wilson, Herbert Carmichael, T. Kadiger, Capt. Buckman, J.
H. Nicklay, J. Foreman, F. A. Paulson, L. Fisher, Joshua Kingham, Jas.
Paterson, R. B. McMicking, Anton Henderson, H. A. Mann, J. A. Sayward, J.
L. Beckwith, Walter Walker, J. E.
Chapch, C. H. Lugin, C. Penney, W.
J. Hanna, H. Hoegs, S. Leber, S. M.
Ozell and J. A. Mars.
J. S. Larke was introduced by President Paterson in appropriate terms. He was sure any remarks Mr. Larke might have to make would be listened to with attention, as he was known to have a thorough knowledge of the existing commercial relations of Canada and Australia and their possibilities.

Mr. Larke prefaced his remarks by stating that he had not been informed of his invitation to a meeting of the Victoria Board of Trade until the last minute, and consequently was somewhat unprepared. Since here, some months ago, it had been stated that the merchants of Australia were not at all friendly towards Canada or Canadians. If the two were rival nations instead of British colonies, it might be thought that hostilities were imminent, so strong was this sentiment believed to be. As far as Australia was concerned it was without foundation, and was largely the result of cable mistakes with regard to tariff reforms. It had been contended by Canadian merchants that the recent introduction of a law which levied extra duty upon freight from American points was directed against the merchants of Eastern Canada. This was supposed to have been due because of the dishonest methods which the Canadian were alleged by the Australian to have adopted. Such a thing was entirely erroneous.

Mr. Larke then proceeded to prove his statement by outlining the history of the duty. The same thing had been introduced some years ago during Mr. Larke's residence in Australia. As soon as he had heard of it, which was after the bill had become law, he had waited upon a member of the government and pointed out the effect it would have upon Canadian exporters. As a result the law had been repealed. True, it had again been brought into force, but a change that could be made once might be repeated.
Whatever effect such a tariff might have upon Eastern Canadian merchants, it couldn't have any detrimental effect upon the trade of British Columbia with Australia. It was the long overland haul from eastern provinces to Vancouver or Victoria which differentiated against the eastern merchant. But this seemingly inconsidered act could not be construed as one of hostility towards Canada. No sentiment of the kind prevailed in the southern colony, although it was generally thought that Canada was the favorite of the home authorities—the "spoiled child," so to speak—and in that capacity derived many of the advantages, com-mercially and otherwise, which should go to Australia. (Laughter.)

When in the East he had found considerable misinformation respecting the possibilities of the development of trade with Australia. One gentleman had gone so far as to make the public statement that it was ridiculous for Canadians to think of an export trade, that there was a sufficient home market to consume all the products available. The Dominion was often spoken of as forming a golden east, a wonderful agricultural middle west, and British Columbia, a province that was commonly believed to be the richest in Canada. He wasn't so sure of the latter, being inclined to believe that Nova Scotia with her many natural resources, her fine harbors and other advantages would soon become the greatest manufacturing centre of the country.
Continuing, Mr. Larke spoke of the possibilities of the development of trade along the line of manufacture. Until recently, he said, gypsum had been shipped from Nova Scotia in its raw state to the United States, and there converted into plaster of paris, and sent to Australia.
This same had been the case in many instances, the enterprising, energetic American taking advantage of the Canadian by purchasing raw material from them, converting it into the finished article, and devising the consequent profit by exporting to a good trade with Australia on other outside countries. Mr. Larke believed that in British Columbia were to be found all the raw materials necessary in the manufacture of cement. In that direction, he said, an immense trade could be opened with Australia, as the market there was sufficiently large to exhaust all that could be made here, besides considerably more. He hoped that before long residents of British Columbia would cut into that trade. They also had every advantage, necessary in the development of a paper manufacturing industry, a plenty of pulp, and being nearer the market than eastern manufacturers by thousands of miles, the opening was very apparent. There was a $1,000,000 market for paper in Australia.

It had been stated in the East that the Canadian-Australian line should be stopped because of the reported hostility of the latter nation towards Canada. This was ridiculous, as it was imperative that the connection should be maintained if only in the interests of Canadian merchants.
In the years 1902 and 1903, Mr. Larke said Australia had been afflicted by a serious drought. During that period no less than $15,000,000 of wheat and breadstuffs had been purchased from outside.
Of this Canada had obtained only $900,000 worth of trade. How was such a fact to be reconciled with the appellation commonly bestowed upon Canada, namely, "The Granary of the Empire." It was no wonder the Australians held a poor opinion of Canadian enterprise.
Since leaving the colony to the south it had been reported that exceedingly dry weather was being experienced, and it was possible, therefore, that there would be a similar demand for breadstuffs in 1906. Canadians should be prepared for such a contingency. Above all it was imperative that arrangements should be made whereby the C. P. R. might lead vessels upon this coast with a facility equal to that at Montreal.

That British Columbia would become a great manufacturing centre, Mr. Larke went on, was undoubted. But this was not to be achieved until living became cheaper and her interests more developed. It was his hope that there would be a similar demand for breadstuffs in 1906. Canadians should be prepared for such a contingency. Above all it was imperative that arrangements should be made whereby the C. P. R. might lead
vessels upon this coast with a facility
equal to that at Montreal.

Discussing the later, he pointed out that the prevailing opinion was, that aside from salmon British Columbia fish were not equal in quality to those obtained in the East. Of course a large trade existed between this province and Australia in the line referred to. But it had to be made ready to meet the demand.
At the present time $1,000,000 was paid annually from Australia on fish imported from Europe. He had always held the opinion that a Scotchman in Nova Scotia or British Columbia was a return being as good as any other.
Things being equal, as a Scotchman at Dundee. He therefore thought there was no reason why Canadians should not share in this business which was now going elsewhere. They shouldn't be content with shipping herring in barrels.
Those from Europe were done up in tins with sauces and made appetizing. Why shouldn't the same thing be done on this coast? Then the article would demand the highest prices, and consequently give better returns.

Mr. Larke then referred to the question of a reciprocal tariff between the two colonies. He couldn't see why an arrangement of this kind was not being made. The management of the railways by commissioners instead of through a political head had always been found the most satisfactory where the system of government ownership had been adopted. The development of some political influence from railway matters. Naturally the commissioners wanted re-appointment and they had to look to the politicians to keep them in office. When the management could be made independent of political influence it would be a perfect one.
For Canada, however, he didn't know whether it wouldn't be better to endure the present evils than to risk those not apparent. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Larke agreed upon the suggestion of Mr. Lugin to meet members of the board of trade between 10 and 12 o'clock for the purpose of informally discussing the trade of Canada and Australia.
The appended memorial in reference to the pilotage question, drafted by a special committee, was next submitted.
To the President and Council of the Board of Trade.
Gentlemen—The undersigned, to whom the Board of Trade referred all further respondence to be forwarded to the royal commission on transportation, and particularly the representations of the special committee on pilotage, have had the honor to attend a meeting of the above named committee, at which the following statements and recommendations were made for the purpose of being forwarded to the commission:
That the Victoria and Esquimaux pilotage district extends from the shore of Vancouver Island to a line drawn from the southern point of Trial Island to William Head, as shown by the annexed map.
That no point on this line is distant by a direct line, more than 2 1/2 miles from the outer wharves at Victoria nor more than 3 miles from the entrance to Esquimaux harbor.
That in the area included in the district there is deep water everywhere, except close to the shore and on Brocks Ledge, on which a buoy has been erected with a light and fog bell. When the lighthouses authorized have been erected, the shore of the pilotage district will be exceptionally well lighted.

any quantity was duty free. That was a point which would come up when the question of reciprocity was discussed. It would be necessary for the Dominion to make important concessions but, whatever they were, they would gain much more than could possibly be gained.
Benefit particularly as reciprocity would tend to the development of the timber and fish industries. It would also make it possible for the agriculturists to take a more important place in the competition for the Australian fruit market.
He was returning to Australia and hoped that there would be a great improvement in the interchange of commerce during the forthcoming ten years.
Recent development had been far from satisfactory. He hoped, however, that Canada would no longer remain "chewers of wood and drawers of water" for other nations, but would take her proper place in the commercial world.

Concluding, he expressed the hope that British Columbians would address him for any information needed regarding Australia. He would be always willing and ready to respond. (Applause.) Responding to a vote of thanks Mr.
Larke made a few further remarks in reply to queries. He said Australia was not likely to become a manufacturing country. He hoped, however, that Canada would no longer remain "chewers

far as pilotage dues are concerned, it is only necessary at present for the government to employ pilots and provide them with a naphtha launch. It would be desirable to license one or more competent persons to act as pilots in case of the necessary absence of the regular pilots.
That the collections on account of the sick mariners' fund at Victoria are out of all proportion to the expenditure at the Marine hospital, being greatly in excess thereof.
That the sick mariners' fund should be abolished.
That, by the Terms of Union, the Dominion Government is obliged to maintain a marine hospital at Victoria, but it is engaged that steps should be taken to provide for the care of sick seamen at the quarantine station, where the requisite appliances already exist or can be cheaply provided, the cost of such care to be borne by the vessels landing sick seamen there.
I submit the foregoing statements and recommendations of the special committee on pilotage, and ask for the instruction of the council in regard to the same.

ALBERTA'S VOICE.

Returns at the hour of writing are not sufficiently complete to indicate the exact result of the polling in the first provincial electoral contest in Alberta. But there is no doubt that the victory of the new government of Mr. Rutherford was overwhelming. It has been too complete. There is practically no opposition left. Mr. Bennett, the leader of the Conservative party, having himself been defeated in Calgary, notwithstanding that a labor candidate was also in the field to detract from the strength of his Liberal opponent, Mr. Cushing.

The people of the new province have expressed in a very emphatic manner their opinion of the Incineraries in the East and elsewhere who have striven to create discussion amongst them, based on the old evil spirit of fanaticism which unfortunately still "taints" the Dominion, but which, fortunately, is absolutely foreign and abhorrent to the broad and tolerant spirit of the West. Alberta has pronounced judgment upon the charge of coercion. She has accepted by a majority which is at once overwhelming and convincing the constitution given her by the Parliament of Canada, and has endorsed the government chosen for her by the Lieut.-Governor. The Conservative party has had another lesson, which ought to complete its education on this subject, that appeals to religious bigotry and race prejudice cannot achieve political success for any party in any part of Canada.

JOHN HOUSTON, PEACE DISTURBER.

The Times regrets very much indeed that it has been the innocent cause of much disquietude of mind to the zealous advocates of the cause of the McBride government. We beg to assure our local contemporary that we would not wilfully and with malice aforethought put a line in print that might have the possible effect of renewing the entanglement that, owing to a temporary mental lapse or mistake on the part of the editor, or voluntary outbreak of candor, was for some months so conspicuous in the relations between the local government and its now humble journalistic servant. In regard to the matter of the case of John Houston, it was announced by certain newspapers on the coast which are friendly to the McBride administration that the visit of the Premier and his minister of Lands and Works to the constituency of Nelson had a most happy result. A banquet was given the touring dignitaries in the city of Nelson, the banquet which had long been anticipated by the rival factions with telling effect upon the personal of the membership and with disastrous results upon the fortunes of the party as a whole, had been buried beneath a mass of fish, viands, while all memories of past misunderstandings had been washed out and obliterated forever in generous libations—from the "flowing bowl."

In the midst of the general enthusiasm and happiness, perhaps as a cause of it, someone donned the robes of a seer and foretold that a way would be found of opening the Nelson seat and of giving the constituency a chance to return a government supporter. The suggestion came from the scene of the festivities, not from us. It first appeared in the government organs and doubtless was published in "good faith" as our friends of the legal profession say. We accepted it in good faith and commented upon it. We recollected that Mr. Houston said distinctly that he had no intention of resigning his seat. What John says he usually means. If he refuses to resign, and the government believes that a way can be found of opening the constituency, it follows, logically, that the way when found will be blocked by the member to the utmost of his ability and that there will be a renewal of the interesting conflict between the first president of the Conservative Union of British Columbia and the first Conservative government of British Columbia which has ever had. Under the circumstances and looking at the facts as they stand, we do not understand why we should be accused of harboring a desire to inflame the animosity which John Houston is supposed to feel towards the McBride government or of evincing a disposition to create a feeling on the mind of the member which might induce him to withhold the resignation of his seat in the legislature if he were contemplating resignation.

There is some talk in Victoria at $1.25 gas. There is considerable discussion in another Canadian city respecting the possibilities of gas. But of course we are a comparatively small community. In many lines the cost of commodities is in "inverse" ratio with the square of the population, especially in the West. That is another grievance we have against the East. We recommend it to the attention of a neighbor whose bill of complaints against the greedy Easterners appears to be about exhausted.

Our esteemed maternal contemporary appeared in surly mood to-day. It is that the oracles had once more proved so very far from correct in its predictions as to what would happen on the 9th of November in Alberta? Two weeks or so ago "advice of a reliable character" said the probabilities were that the first government in Alberta would be defeated by the Conservative opposition, led by Mr. Bennett. Election day is over, and the opposition is almost wiped out. The eloquent leader himself is amongst the fallen. When will the Cobinit learn that the source of its mysterious "advice" is poisoned by partisanship? It has essayed the role of prophet on so many occasions with such ill success that its readers' confidence in any of its assertions must be severely shaken.

The Czar is actively moving in the matter of assembling another peace conference. If his Majesty is in any way superstitious, and if Mr. W. T. Stead's estimate of his character be even approximately correct, he is as much under the influence of the occult as the lowest scoundrel swash on the Pacific Coast, and should recede from the very suggestion of another peace conference. The last one he assembled preceded the war which brought such humiliation to his nation. The Czar should first set his own house in order. If his talents are equal to the solution of his domestic problem, the world will doubtless be eager to listen to any suggestions he may make respecting international relations.

ALBERTA PERSONATION CASE.

The following letter appears in the National Free Press of Wednesday: Your editorial in reply to my letter is an evasion of the real issue, and an attempt to mislead. You state that "Mr. DRY" now makes assertions that it was never attempted to raise at the trial." This statement is wholly incorrect. At the trial Mr. Baxter, the prosecuting counsel, proved in evidence: 1. That the prisoner's name was Edward Nelson. 2. That he voted on the name of Nels Christian Nelson. 3. That his own name "Edward Nelson" was not on the list (the list being produced in evidence).

Now, Mr. Editor, I challenge you to point out in my letter one single assertion affecting the guilt or innocence of Nelson other than the three points cited above. You can't find one. Not a little of evidence was called by the counsel for the defence to refute the points proved in evidence as mentioned above, and surely nothing further was needed to establish the case. If there was any evidence that could be found to exculpate the prisoner, it was the duty of his counsel to produce it, but he called no evidence whatever. Mr. Russell addressed the magistrate in his own name, to quote your own words: it was "Stated to the court by the counsel for the defence that the man's name was on the voters' list improperly as Nels Nelson." Exactly. "Stated by the counsel for the defence." And let me ask, has it come to this that a man's guilt or innocence is to be settled by the statement of his counsel, without calling a little of evidence to support such a statement? Even if this statement had been true, the counsel should have been asked by the magistrate to bring forward his evidence to substantiate it. But as a matter of fact the statement was absolutely false.

When the case was that called in Vancouver, Mr. Russell, the prisoner's counsel, applied for and obtained an adjournment on the strength of this very same statement—that the accused had been registered as Nels Nelson on the voters' list, and he assured the court that he would bring evidence to prove his statement. The adjournment was granted (which was the cause of Nelson being detained in jail so long), but when the court met again, did Mr. Russell produce any evidence? No, he did not. He failed to produce a particle of evidence. The statement was absurd on the face of it, as everybody knows that before a man can be registered on the voters' list he must make a sworn statement before a commissioner or justice of the peace, giving his full name, occupation, residence, etc.

But, Mr. Editor, it is with your own position and your own statement I want to deal just now. All the talk about the Free Press being asked to play Sherlock Holmes is very wide of the mark. I simply confront you with your own statement that Nelson's "own name appeared on the list." Of course, it is quite possible for a man to commit perjury, even if his own name is on the list, but there is no doubt that if this man's name had been on the list, it would have raised a strong presumption of his innocence, hence the importance of the truth or falsity of your allegation that his own name was on the list, as it strikes at the very foundation of the merits of the case. When therefore you deliberately in an editorial make a statement of such importance, on which the whole merits of the case hinge, and then in the same editorial make an attack upon those who instituted the proceedings, subjecting them to a torrent of abuse, and publicly calling upon myself to reimburse the man for his "unjust sufferings," I submit, Mr. Editor, it is your business to know whether you were stating the truth or not. I am not asking you to prove my statements, but asking you to prove your own statement which you made in your editorial, and I again respectfully demand you to publish this man's name and number on the voters' list, or to publish any name on the Alberta voters' list which was intended for him, or on which he had any right, title or claim in law or in equity to vote on, identifying the said Edward Nelson with such name. If you fail to do this it will scarcely require any suggestion as to the "altruistic" which is open to any journal to follow under the circumstances, if it desires to maintain a reputation for fair play and journalistic honor.

SEALING CATCH. Returns of Past Year Show a Higher Average Than Was Obtained in 1904. Up to the present there have been 17,623 sealskins reported at the Victoria customs. This number does not represent the total catch for the year just ended. In addition, there is the catch of the schooner Pawa still returning, which has been panned at 5,902 skins, and the Indian catch along the coast. This latter will not exceed a thousand skins, probably not more than 500. To date it only amounts to 148 skins, but several reports have yet to come in which will considerably increase the number. According to present returns the average catch this year will exceed that of last year, when the returns for two schooner schooners, including a small Indian catch, were 14,646 skins. For twenty schooners the number of vessels which were sent out during the year now about to close, the catch has been 14,125 skins, plus a portion of the Indian catch. The figures give an average of over 700 skins for each vessel as against an average of 647 skins for each schooner hunting last year. With good prices realized at the annual fall sales to be held in London on the 15th of December the year will have been quite successful with Victoria sealers. Nearly all the skins have been shipped from Victoria, a couple of carloads having been forwarded a few days ago. These will reach their destination in good time for the big auction. The year has been singularly favorable from a good weather standpoint, there being no disasters reported except to a few in the loss of some canoes. The Pawa has not been reported and there is reason for anxiety regarding her, but sealers give it as their opinion that she will be along before many more days, calculating that she has been detained on the coast in landing her Indians, also by the same calms that delayed the Zillah May, the last of the fleet to arrive.

David Spencer Ltd. WESTERN CANADA'S BIG STORE. MAYOR AT MEMPHIS. J. H. Malone Elected an Independent Democratic Ticket. (Associated Press.) Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 10.—James H. Malone, a lawyer, was yesterday elected mayor of Memphis on an Independent Democratic ticket, defeating J. J. Williams, Democratic incumbent, who has held the office eight years. The entire independent ticket is probably elected. —A tea and "live fish concert" will be given to-morrow afternoon between 3 and 6 o'clock by the Victoria circle of the King's Daughters at the rooms on Fort Street, two doors above Douglas street. A good time is promised.

But three sealing grounds were visited this year, no schooner having been sent to the Japan coast for the reason that it was feared that the war between that country and Russia would interfere with the industry. Next season a number of the fleet may cross the Pacific, but this will be a matter which will be determined at the annual meeting of the Victoria Sealing Association, to be held on the first Friday in December. The catches for the year just ended are as follows: Vera, 750; Diana, 673; Carlotta G. Cox, 788; Casco, 1,075; City of San Diego, 731; Alice I. An interesting lecture on hypnotism, together with practical demonstrations, was given last evening by Prof. Hamilton at the Labor hall. This lecture was the first of a series of four demonstrations to be given by him. The objectionable and spectacular features of an entertainment of this kind so usual with traveling hypnotists was entirely eliminated last evening by Prof. Hamilton. A brief address on hypnotism opened the exercises, after which the practical demonstrations in the art were given.

J. R. Charlesworth, rector of Elstead, and of Lady Frances Charlesworth, of South View, Bramley, and Mrs. Eva Edith Kirby, daughter of the late Rev. G. Ground and of Mrs. Ground, of Victoria, B. C. The bride, who was married in her travelling dress, was given away by Lady Frances Charlesworth, and attended by Miss Muriel Edgar as bridesmaid. The prisoner Crawford, who has been refilled at the provincial jail, New Westminster, on account of being refused admission to the penitentiary on the ground that he was afflicted with a skin disease which it was feared might be contagious, has now been allowed to enter the justice institution. A habeas corpus proceeding was begun a few days ago on behalf of Crawford. The hearing is set for November 19th, when cause was to be shown why the prisoner was confined in the provincial jail. His removal to the penitentiary, to which he was originally committed, alters the situation, however.

TO PLAY HERE

According to a communication from Vancouver, the junior and intermediate teams of that city will come down on the 18th inst. for the purpose of playing the Victoria teams of the same grade. For this reason a particularly large attendance is expected at the regular weekly practice to be held to-morrow afternoon at the Oak Bay grounds. In spite of the fact that the locals were not expecting a game at so early a date they intend making every preparation and are confident of success.

WRESTLING

METHOD IN SEATTLE

"Dan. McLeod, at one time the champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of America, is in Seattle, and says he is open to meet any wrestler that has real muscle to bet on a match," says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. "While McLeod is in the heavyweight class, he has frequently trained to wrestle in the middleweight class and says he is open to accept the challenge recently issued by Frank Coleman, through the Post-Intelligencer, to meet any man in the world at 155 pounds."

HOCKEY

SENIORS, ATTENTION!

All seniors are asked to attend the practice to be held to-morrow afternoon at Oak Bay. Their first match with Vancouver is fixed for the 16th inst., and all players must be in shape by then if it is their desire to hold the championship of British Columbia.

FRIENDLY CONTEST

All Victoria College players are requested to be at the Oak Bay grounds to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of participating in a friendly game with the Victoria club second eleven. The contest is expected to commence about 3 o'clock.

ANOTHER GAME

It is expected that a friendly practice match will be played between the Victoria second eleven and the Garrison at Oak Bay grounds on Saturday, the 18th inst. Both teams are preparing for the struggle.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL

MATCH TO-MORROW

To-morrow the match which had been looked forward to for over a fortnight, that between the Victoria United and Garrison teams will be played at Oak Bay grounds. Play is scheduled to commence at 3 o'clock promptly, and, in order to be able to take their places on the field in time, all local men are requested to catch the 2:15 o'clock car from the Victoria club station and Yates street. One of the fastest contests of the season is expected.

PREPARING FOR GAME

This evening a meeting of the Capital Intermediate club will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms for the purpose of making final arrangements for the league match with North Ward to-morrow afternoon at Beacon Hill. The game is called for 3 o'clock and should be closely contested.

JUNIOR CONTEST

The South Park and Victoria West junior teams will try conclusions to-morrow afternoon at Oak Bay. It is a league game and should be interesting.

PRESIDENT'S FINDINGS

Rev. W. B. Bolton, president of the Victoria District Football Association, in whose hands was placed the task of settling the dispute concerning the Thanksgiving Day game between the Victoria United and Garrison teams, has submitted the following report:

Dear Sir:—The report of the referee on the football match played at Oak Bay on Thanksgiving Day, October 26th, having been handed by the executive to me, as president, for such action to be taken as in my opinion seems fit, being guided thereby by rule XIV. I have reached the following conclusions:

1. Having been an attendant at the game in question, I have seen no reason since to alter my opinion then formed, that the main cause of the rough play and unsportsmanlike conduct of several of the players was not to be found on the field itself, but amongst the spectators. The ribald remarks, the jeers and taunts hurled at the teams were simply sufficient to set players by the ears. Henceforth the encouragement is to be given to good and fast play, but when spectators so far forget themselves as was the case on the 26th, there can be only one result; many players lose their heads, and the smaller mistakes of the game become magnified out of all proportion into wilful and deliberate acts meriting anger and reprisal.

2. There are three players who are reported for misconduct: (a) Howard, for striking Constable; (b) Schwengers, for threatening Constable; (c) Williams, for deliberately kicking a Victoria United man. Those are undisputed facts, and I take them in order: (a) Howard, a perfectly well known Victoria; he has played soccer for years, and during the long period he has always shown himself to be an absolutely clean and good-natured player. During the many years I have watched him on the field, I have never had the slightest cause for fault finding in his methods or his temper. Therefore, for him to do far more control of himself as he did, there must have been to him some extraordinary underlying cause. If Howard was a thick player, the case would be different, but as a player of an exceptionally high order, and with a spotless reputation for gentlemanly conduct in all the forms of sport he has taken part in, and, further, being at the time when the blows were struck on the side that had the game well in hand, and having, therefore, no cause for feeling the bitter spirit, often engendered by defeat, I am of the opinion that he, mistaken or not, believed that Constable was deliberately trying to injure him and prevent him from further participating in the game. Howard should not have struck the man, but should have reported the matter both to the referee and to the association, as any player is empowered to do by rule XIX, and is therefore, reprehensible, which in itself will be a matter of deepest regret to a man who has hitherto borne a spotless record.

FORMAL OPENING OF Y. M. C. A. Mock Parliament on Wednesday Evening—Speech From the Throne.

The Y. M. C. A. mock parliament was formally opened on Wednesday evening at the room, Broad street, in the presence of a large number of interested spectators. Acting Governor E. B. Paul, M.A., attended by a guard of honor from the High school cadet corps, conducted the formal opening. After the election of a speaker, D. W. Higgins bore the main business of the speech from the throne was read as follows:

I have much pleasure in welcoming you to the present session of parliament. I desire to extend to the new settlers provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan hearty congratulations on their admission into the Dominion, and to express the devout hope that their future progress will be productive of great good and prosperity to their people.

I desire also to congratulate the province of British Columbia on its general prosperity. The Dominion exhibition held at the city of New Westminster, I am glad to say, was most creditable to this province, and I congratulate the management on its great success.

The agricultural interests of this province will receive the attention of my government and will be fostered. My government is prepared to the international exhibition, to be held at London, England, a most complete collection of fruits and cereals, which was especially gathered by the freight rates commissioner. Owing to the immense success achieved by the province in a previous exhibit, which secured the gold medal at the Royal Horticultural exhibition, I have every confidence that the present collection will be equally successful.

It is absolutely essential in the true interests of the province that the country should encourage public undertakings, and for this purpose medals will be placed before you, more especially dealing with the construction of railways in the districts of Cariboo and Cassiar.

As the tide of immigration for the neighboring provinces has set in measures will be laid before you to attract settlers to this province. For this purpose the Land Act will be so amended as to enable my government to deal liberally with a desirable class of immigrants.

A measure will be laid before you dealing with important amendments to the Municipal Clauses Act, as it is considered necessary to the public interests that the supervision of the liquor traffic and the management of the police should be properly and efficiently placed under popular control. Other amendments to the said

TWO YEAR OLD GIRL FOUND HERE

TAKEN BY A MAN NOW UNDER ARREST

Prisoner is Charged With Kidnapping Child From Grandmother Living in Chehalis.

F. E. Baldwin, a young man about 21 years of age, and who claims to be an illustrated song artist on the vaudeville circuit, was arrested last night by Detectives Palmer and Purdie, assisted by Sheriff H. W. Urquhart of Chehalis, Wash., on the charge of kidnaping.

The story is an old one, and has been told before in other similar cases. It has to do with a woman gone wrong, her lover, a little girl, the good old grandmother, and finally an attempt to regain the possession of the child.

Mrs. Clayton, little Bessie's mother, has been married twice, according to her lover, young Baldwin, who is now in jail. Bessie's father was Mrs. Clayton's first husband. She is an exceedingly bright little girl. Mrs. Clayton on the other hand, has led a life that has caused the court to order that little Bessie should be given to the grandmother to be brought up.

About a week ago, on last Friday, to be exact, young Baldwin went to the grandmother's house and got Bessie, telling the grandmother that he was going to take her to the theatre. The unsuspecting old lady, readily agreed, thinking it would be a pleasure for the little girl.

With Bessie once in his possession Baldwin hurried to carry out the well-laid plan, and hastening to the railroad station took the first train for Seattle and the boat from there to Victoria, arriving here the first of this week. He registered at the Queen's hotel under the name of J. E. Smith. He found a place for Bessie in a private family, about a mile from Victoria, where she now is.

The unsuspecting grandmother, after waiting hour after hour for the return of Bessie on the day she was taken away by young Baldwin, notified the police. Investigations were quickly commenced, and it was found that Baldwin had taken her to Victoria, with the result that the police here were notified, Baldwin and little Bessie located, and the arrest followed.

Young Baldwin was seen at the city jail this morning. He seemed to be in a don't-care sort of a mood, and did not appear to fear the outcome of his case. In conversation he gave out the following

SWEEPING LIBERAL VICTORY IN ALBERTA

Conservative Party Practically Annihilated in First Election in the New Province - Opposition Leader Defeated.

(Special to the Times.)

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—Alberta's first elections resulted in the return of the Rutherford government by an overwhelming majority, the pronouncement of the electors in favor of the policy for which it stood being even more positive than the most sanguine anticipated. The victory is decisive and complete, every minister, it is believed, having been returned.

The Conservative opposition was practically annihilated, only three being returned so far as known from the present returns, while the government have secured seventeen seats, and claim at least three more out of the four in doubt.

In Pincher Creek, Sherman, the Labor candidate and nominee of the Miners' Union, which is a powerful organization in the constituency, was returned in a three-cornered fight.

Every section of the province demonstrated its approval of what the Liberal party stood for, showing that all classes of the electorate are practically united.

Bennett, the Conservative leader, is among the fallen. Cushing having taken his seat in what was probably the hottest and most bitterly contested fight of the campaign in Calgary.

Probably the greatest surprise was in Medicine Hat, where Sissons developed unexpected strength, and almost defeated Hon. Mr. Finlay, minister of agriculture. Sissons led right up to until the last poll, having secured a heavy majority in the town, but it is understood the minister's seat is safe by a majority of about 15, although definite figures are not available, and the seat remains in the doubtful column, awaiting returns from Josephsburg, a Liberal district. Sissons leads by 7. Other seats in doubt are Innisfail, Ponoka and Lacombe. In the first and last of these the Liberal story as his side in the affair: "My home is in Hagnum, Wash., but I have not been there for some time. I have been following the vaudeville stage for some time. I met Mrs. Lillian Clayton, the mother of Bessie, in Olympia, Wash., several months ago. She has been married twice. Bessie's father was her first husband. I think both her husbands are dead."

"Mrs. Clayton and I decided to go on the stage, and did a vaudeville turn together. The little girl Bessie was staying at this time with her grandmother at Yacolt and Centralia. We sent them money nearly every week. Finally we got located permanently at Chehalis, where I was doing a turn in the Edison theatre. I sent for Bessie and her grandmother, and fixed them up in a nice little place to live. We paid their bills—both the rent and living expenses."

"About two weeks ago I found that they were in need of something to eat. I went to the house and found Bessie crying because she was hungry. I told Mrs. Clayton, and we decided to get Bessie. Last Friday I went over and got her. The grandmother supposed I was going to bring her back, but instead I brought her to Victoria, and she is here now in a good private family. I may technically be guilty of kidnaping, but I did what I thought was best for Bessie. The grandmother is crazy. She fell and hurt her head some time ago and ever since then she has not been right."

Sheriff Urquhart was seen this morning and said: "The little girl Bessie Clayton was given to her grandmother to bring up. The courts some time ago decided that Mrs. Clayton was not a fit person to have charge of her. I expect to take them both back to Chehalis with me tonight."
