HISTORY OF CAMPBELL

In the year 1851 Benjamin Campbell settled at the old homestead he now occupies and began raising grain and stock. There were few settlers in the region at that time and for some years all the land put under cultivation was devoted to hay and grain. No railroads had yet been built and the country improved slowly. In '79 or '80 the narrow gauge railroad which now runs through the town was built and new life was given to the country.

when the flag station was first established and was continued until after a number of buildings were erected, when the word station was dropped and the town became known as Campbell. Charles Willett was the first to venture in the mercantile business in the new town. About six years ago he opened a general merchandise store where the Farmers Union is now located. The store had no sooner started than dwellings began to spring up around it and within a short time a dozen houses had been built and occupied,

Young Men's Christian Association, a public library and numerous other advantages for the intellectual and spiritual advancement of the people, and there has been a steady influx of a most desirable class of citizens as a result. Many visitors to the town are surprised beyond measure that a town has grown to the size of Campbell without a saloon and all agree that it is one of the best places to settle with a family in California—if not in the world.

Situated in the very heart of the most prosperous fruit section of been erected besides a brick bank building, a large addition to the cannery now going up and a large hay barn and livery stable about to build. Among the very latest additions to the town is the Y. M. C. A. band which has blossomed out as a musical surprise, furnishing entertainment for the music loving citizens of Campbell and vicinity. The town is well supplied with water facilities having a well organized water company which has laid water pipes through the principal streets and with the immense pump

A TOWN EMBOWERED IN ORCHARDS.
A SECTION OF J. C. AINSLEY'S CANNERY.

Soon after the opening of the road a flag station was established for the accommodation of the settlers and Mr. Campbell began to think about the possibility of a town. The population gradually increased and with it the general prosperity; orchards began to take the place of grain-fields; a fruit drying establishment was built, the citizens united and built a town hall. In 1885 the population had so increased that a post-office was desired and was soon secured and located at Mr. Campbell's residence. The name Campbell Station was given the place other stores and several shops were opened and Campbell became known far and near as a very thriving village. Mr. Campbell planned from the very first to keep the rougher element from settling in the town by making it practically impossible to start a saloon on any property of his even after it had passed into other hands. Restrictions in the deeds were made to answer his purpose in this direction and up to the present time no saloon has been opened within three or four miles of the town. We now have a good school system, two churches, a

Santa Clara County, with two railway lines as a means of transporting the large yield of fruit to eastern markets from year to year, Campbell is destined to become one of the most noted fruit centers in the State. A cannery and drying establishment furnish employment for a small army of workers in the fruit season, and the numerous orchards immediately surrounding the town employ many hands the year around. In spite of the hard times Campbell has had a lively building boom this spring, as many as twelve or fourteen handsome residences having put in operation last summer are prepared to supply the demand for some time to come. Many additional improvements are in prospect for the near future and the enterprise of the community, which has shown itself in so many ways in the past, is a sufficient guarantee that Campbell will be pushed to the front in all lines of advancement as the occasion presents itself.

Some one has proposed to change the name of Campbell. Might as well talk of changing the name of America. Campbell has come to stay.

BENJAMIN CAMPBELL.Reminiscences of His Early Settlement in California.

Benjamin Campbell the founder of our town and whose portrait we publish below, was born in Kentucky. While he was quite young his father moved to Missouri where he lived until starting for California. Mr. Campbell's early experience in California is best told in his own words, which we quote from his speech delivered before the Old Settlers Meeting on the 22nd of Feb. of the present year, in Campbell Hall.

"I am glad to meet so many of my friends and neighbors together, to celebrate the birth of the father of our country, under the name of the Old Settlers' Meeting. I feel like giving all a hearty welcome, from the eldest to the youngest. We should all fall in line and make this little town one of the most desirable places for a home in this State. When I contrast the present with the past, I can hardly realize the change that has taken place in 50 years.

In 1845 we made preparation to start for the far off West, then under the Mexican government. In May 1846 my father with his family left Missouri with ox teams. I was driver of ~~we team~~ to this valley. We were six months on the road, and had rather a pleasant trip. After traveling so long through deserts and over mountains and then coming suddenly out into the beautiful rich valleys of California, thought it was the grandest country in the world. After a residence of nearly 50 years, I have had no reason to change my mind in that regard.

It was about the 25th of October 1846 when we reached Santa Clara, at which time the United States was at war with Mexico, and for our own safety we had to join the army. It was my duty to remain as one of the Home Guard to protect the families of those who went out in the actual service.

During the winter when we thought it safe to do so a few of us would go out to where Mr. Pullen now lives and plow and sow wheat. We could keep our guns in a convenient place and when a Mexican would come in sight we would go for our guns, but as soon as peace was made we had no further trouble.

Well I raised a good crop of wheat; my father being handy with tools, made a cradle to cut the wheat, then after it was cut the next thing was to get it threshed.

The custom of the Spaniards was to make a corral, fill it with the wheat, and turn a band of mustangs in and let them tramp it out; but we did not like that way very much. My father was equal to the emergency. He made a kind of a threshing machine, it would be hard to describe it for I never saw one like it before or since, but it answered the purpose at the time. I then had some ground at an old mill in San Jose. I now took my ox team and started with a load for the Yerba Bueno (now San Francisco).

The population being very small I had some difficulty in selling my load, but finally got rid of it and started for home, a journey of nearly three days. When I arrived where Mayfield now stands, just about dark, I met two Spaniards and was ordered to stop.

Well I never was much afraid of the old Spanish guns before, but I think my hair stood up pretty well that time. They relieved me of my cash and let me go, and for fear that they might turn and follow me I left the road and took a straight course for home, reaching it that night very late. I determined then never to go alone under such circumstances again.

In March 1851 I settled in this place and from year to year would raise stock. The transportation being limited, prices were low, and consequently our financial advancement was slow. Since the railroads have been in operation new life has been given to our country. When this road was put through here and a depot established I began to think of the probability of a town. Then I thought if we were to have a lot of saloons crowded in here I wanted to be excused from it.

Then I conceived the idea of making restrictions in the deeds to the town lots to be sold, so I worked on that line. The consequence is, it has attracted attention and caused a better class of people to settle here and I am glad to see the prosperity that we have in our beautiful little town."

STRIKE NOW.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is more thoroughly organized than any other woman's organization. Its many lines of work are mapped out, and all so systematized as to run like clock work; but sometimes we fear that too much thought and time is spent on detail, and not enough on the great object for which the organization was started, namely: the closing of the saloon. While we are drilling and training souls are perishing, hearts are breaking and homes ruined; and when we look around us and see all this we feel like crying out: "In the name of humanity make use of the knowledge and ability you have and attack your enemy now; close the saloon and take time afterwards to teach children its evil tendencies."

In the early days of California, when it was hard to enforce the law, if a man was guilty of a great crime they hung him and then had his trial afterwards. That would be a good way to deal with the crime-breeding saloon—throttle it first, then point out to the world its foul character. Engaging so much in detail only acts as a quieting lotion to many minds, for they think, in being occupied in this, their whole duty is performed. The first crusaders had not the advantage of drilling and system, but with a prayer on their lips and faith in their hearts, they went forth in God's name to conquer and so did a mighty work.

Sometimes we mistake by not calculating on what part the Lord is to perform, and then again we try to do his work. There are chain-ridden men, broken-hearted mothers and wives and helpless children looking to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union as their only help, and are crying: "How long, O Lord, how long!" We are a mighty host; we can call to our aid a great influence; then, in God's name, let us go forth to do something now.

"The evil cannot brook delay,
The good can well afford to wait."

The Woman Column tells the following incident related by a New York woman: "I was at a woman suffrage meeting," she said, "and I saw one of the most charming society women in town among the guests. She always seemed to me as if she ought to be kept in a glass case, she was so exquisit and refined.

After the meeting was over, I said to her: 'How do you happen to be here?' 'Well,' she said, 'I'll tell you. Last fall I talked with fifteen men of my acquaintance, urging them to stay in town to vote at the election. Not one of them did, and I came to the conclusion that if the respectable men wouldn't vote, the respectable women ought to.'

NEW BUILDINGS IN CAMPBELL.

There has been great activity in house building at Campbell since the opening of the spring months. The following citizens have put up residences:

Chas. Townsend, a cottage on the southwest corner of Central and Minnie Avenues.

E. E. White, a handsome residence on corner of First Street and Minnie Avenues.

Mrs. Poor, a cottage on Minnie Avenue, between Central Avenue and First Street.

A. Watson, a fine residence on the northeast corner of Central and Minnie Avenues.

Roy Watson, a cottage on north Central Avenue.

Mrs. Castle, a two story house on north Central Avenue.

Mr. J. C. Ainsley, a very pretty cottage on Harrison Avenue.

Mr. B. Campbell, four or five cottages on First Street.

Ed. Gilman three houses on Campbell Avenue.

Besides these dwelling houses there has been a large carriage and blacksmith shop and a brick bank building put up and many other improvements about the town.

Have your buggies repaired at Miller's. All work guaranteed to be the best. *

Doctor Shook His Head.

Said the case was serious and wrote his prescription.

"Take that to McKenney & Patton"

he said "And get it filled at once."

"Why McKenney & Patton?"

asked the woman. "Because" replied the physician, "You will get the medicine compounded quickly and carefully and won't be overcharged."

HE WAS PREJUDICED you say.

Oh! No! Any doctor in town would tell you the same thing.

OUR BOW.

The first number of the CAMPBELL WEEKLY VISITOR is before you.

The VISITOR started in response to a desire on the part of many citizens of Campbell for a local newspaper. The need of some means of bringing questions of public interest before the people for the purpose of securing a union of forces in making such improvements as are desired from time to time has been felt for some time and it is our aim to fill this need. We will spare no pains to make our paper a newspaper in the strictest sense of the word. Not that we would confine it to the publication of news items alone but we shall endeavor to keep the public thoroughly informed as to the happenings in and about Campbell as well as such outside news as will be of special interest. Everything which tends toward the upbuilding of the community or the general welfare of the town will receive our hearty support. Whatever tends to lower public morals or bring a degrading influence over the individual will receive our condemnation. The success of our efforts depends largely on the support given us by those who are with us in the desire to make and keep Campbell one of the cleanest as well as most enterprising towns in California. Give us your assistance; send in news items of public interest; suggest desirable improvements or anything you believe worthy of publication. We do not profess to know everything about editing a newspaper so deal with us charitably. All the advice received may not be adopted but we will always give it our conscientious consideration.

A MUCH NEEDED IMPROVEMENT.

A good move in the right direction will be made when one or more of our streets running north and south is opened through to Hamilton avenue. A train of cars standing across Campbell Ave. makes it impossible to get out of town toward the east without taking a long ride around by the Santa Clara and Los Gatos road which is not a convenient thing to do when you wish to make all the time possible. Central or Harrison avenues could be opened through without the least loss to property owners concerned. The value of the property along the street would be greatly increased and residence lots laid out and sold would not only benefit the property owner but would no doubt bring greater prosperity to the town. We hope those who have it in their power to make this improvement will do so in the very near future.

THE effort which has just been made to secure a suitable place for the erection of a band stand brings to our minds an improvement which would be of great benefit to the people of our town. We are not blessed with natural picnic and recreation grounds as are some of the foothill towns of our county and steps should be taken at once to provide some such place for the enjoyment of our people. Grounds for a public park should be secured by some means and planted to trees and ornamental shrubery. A start with such a place now would make it possible to have a beautiful attraction for the town in three or four years. A delay will only be a loss to us. No doubt a great many will say we cannot afford such a luxury and even if we could we have no town organization to secure and look after such a place. Well it seems to us that some of our property owners could well afford to give the use of a suitable place for a term of years, if the citizens would improve it. Then a little help from every one—work donated when work elsewhere is slack—and a general co-operation in beautifying the park would soon make it possible to locate the Campbell band in a grove of beautiful shade trees and waving palms where we could enjoy the odor of fragrant flowers as well as the strains of sweet music.

THE long delay in publishing the first issue of the VISITOR after it was first announced may not be understood by all those who were disappointed at its non-appearance. We had first thought to have the paper set up and printed at a San Jose publishing house but found later that the very liberal advertising patronage secured would warrant purchasing the material for a new office. A longer delay than was anticipated in securing the material after ordering has given us no little annoyance. As we now have everything in good working order we expect to have no such delays in the future.

BUSINESS HOUSES.

Campbell is Ably Represented by Enterprising Business Men.

MR. A. WATSON, GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

A little over a year ago the above named gentleman came to Campbell from New York State to look for a business location. He evidently found just what he wanted, for a business block was built at once, and a large stock of general merchandise was soon in place and the doors open for trade. Mr. Watson's place of business is situated on the main street of the town, and is one of the best equipped general stores in the county. He deals largely in hay and feed, as well as family supplies of every description. Fancy goods, confections, etc., also occupy a prominent place in this store, and customers are assured of most courteous treatment from those in charge. A delivery wagon is kept for the accommodation of customers and goods delivered to all parts of the surrounding country free of charge.

HARDWARE STORE.

Another of our new business houses is the hardware store of Mr. C. H. Whitman which occupies a large room in the Willett Building on the corner of Campbell and Central Avenues. Mr. Whitman came to California early in the present year from South Dakota, and after purchasing a fine piece of orchard property on Leigh Avenue began to consider the advisability of going into the hardware business in our town. Finding the place in need of just such a business as he proposed to establish, he at once rented a storeroom and soon had his store open for custom. Subsequent events proved that he could not have opened at a more opportune moment. Campbell had taken on a building boom and new houses had become the order of the day. Tinning and plumbing had to be done and Mr. Whitman has not ceased from activity in this line of work since the day his doors opened for business. Besides business in the above lines he deals in glass, paints, oils, gasoline stoves, garden tools, and a full line of shelf and builders' hardware. Being a practical workman in all branches of the business his customers are never disappointed in their treatment at his hands, and more than this we can say that Mr. Whitman is proving himself to be a most valuable citizen to Campbell, taking an active part in all enterprises for the improvement of the town and the advancement of the community's welfare.

FARMERS' UNION.

The Campbell Branch of the Farmers' Union was opened in January of 1894, in the building formerly occupied by Chas. Willett's grocery store on Campbell Avenue. As Mr. Willett sold his stock and turned over his custom to the Union a large trade was established at once and it has been increasing steadily. This store carries a large and complete stock of groceries, provisions, etc., ground feed, and, in fact, everything in the way of ranch and household supplies. A delivery wagon is kept constantly in use for accommodation of customers. The store is in charge of Mr. S. R. Wade as manager and is conducted in a way that makes it a most pleasant and satisfactory trading place. You are always sure of the best of treatment when trading at the Farmers' Union.

CAMPBELL MEAT MARKET.

The Campbell Meat Market has been running under the present management nine or ten months and has given our people the best of service. Mr. Draper the enterprising proprietor has lately added an order wagon to his already well equipped market, and now has as good an order and delivery system as any city market. His new meat wagon is one of the finest in the county. Patrons of this market are supplied with fresh meat delivered to them every day, and anything better than this could not be desired. A large refrigerator has lately been added with other improvements, and Campbell should be proud of a place where such pains are taken to furnish every possible conveniences to the public.

CONFECTIONERY STORE.

Miss Lottie Willett has for the past year and a half been conducting a store on Campbell Ave. where fine confectionery, stationery and fancy goods can be found. Miss Willett has also the Campbell branch of the Los Gatos Home Bakery and keeps a full line of fancy pastry, bread, pies, etc. Persons wishing anything in the above lines we would recommend to the Post Office Confectionery Store.

has had a large business in horse shoeing and general repairing and has turned out some of the finest wagon work to be seen on the coast. The new wagon of the Campbell Meat Market will furnish evidence of this satisfactory to any one. Genial and accommodating to the extreme Mr. Sprung has a host of friends in Campbell and vicinity and will continue to have as long as his business continues.

HAIR CUTTING AND SHAVING PARLORS.

One of the late acquisitions to our prosperous village is the Barber Shop of L. Hyman located on Central Avenue in the Willett Building. Mr. Hyman is considered to be one of the best workmen in his line on the coast. With an experience of 14 years in San Francisco and later of 5 years in San Mateo he comes to us well recommended, and has shown himself worthy of our patronage. Starting in business here as a total stranger he has, by his courteous and obliging manner made a host of friends in a remarkably short space of time. At no city establishment of this kind will you receive better treatment or get your work done in a more finished or satisfactory manner.

C. MILLER, BLACKSMITHING.

Mr. C. Miller beagn business in Campbell but a few months ago but the trade he has been able to draw in this short time would do credit to one who had been here for years. Horse shoeing, general blacksmithing and every form of buggy work are his specialties. A fine orchard truck has lately been put on the market from this establishment and orchardists in need of a good truck will not miss it by patronizing Mr. Miller. Good material, good workmanship and fair dealing are, Mr. Miller believes, the best means of building up business and he has made this his motto.

LUMBER YARD.

The Santa Clara Valley Mill and Lumber Company have established a branch yard in Campbell under the management of Mr. E. E. White. This yard keeps a supply of building lumber of all kinds, and has furnished the material for the many new houses in and about Campbell without, to our knowledge, a single exception. Those who have dealt with the S. C. V. Mill and Lumber Company seem satisfied with their treatment, and we have no doubt but this company will continue to supply the lumber trade of Campbell for some time to come. Mr. E. B. White, the manager, is one of our most enterprising citizens always giving his assistance in advance movements for the public good.

CAMPBELL LAUNDRY.

The White Star Laundry was started on the Los Gatos and Santa Clara road near Campbell about a year ago. Mr. Couch, the manager, has spared no pains to make his laundry first class in every respect. All kind of laundry work is done in the best possible manner and all who have not given the White Star a trial should do so at once. A laundry wagon for gathering and delivering work is used for your convenience.

BOOT AND SHOE SHOP.

Early in the history of Campbell Mr. Timothy opened a boot and shoe shop on Campbell Avenue, moving later to Central Avenue near the drier. Mr. Timothy is a thorough workman in his line and should receive the patronage of the community. With many other Campbell business men he has purchased town property and may be counted among our best citizens.
