

STUDIES IN ROMANS

DR. J. R. PRATT EXPOUNDS THE LEADING PRINCIPLES OF PAUL'S TEACHING

At the Presbyterian church Thursday evening Dr. J. R. Pratt continued the studies on the Epistle to the Romans, taking the introduction as the foundation of the teaching. In the previous lesson we studied Paul, the messenger, we now look at his message. It is of vital importance that we consider the message far more than the messenger. Perhaps today our consideration is directed to the ability and the drawing power of the messenger regardless of whence he gets his message. Here is a message with the gospel news of God, promised by God through his prophets in the scripture concerning his son Jesus Christ our Lord.

This same Jesus Christ is the only living heir to the throne of his father David, according to the flesh, sitting on the throne of his Father awaiting his own earthly throne. He was the only man born of single blood, that of his mother. He was the son of man but not the son of a man. While he was a man he was very God, with all the power of God. This power was illustrated by his resurrection from the dead, when he became the head of a new race, a spiritual race. "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God."

This epistle is addressed to the called of Jesus Christ, called from sinners to be saints, from the dead to be made alive, and to walk according to the life that is in them. God demands that saints should not do as the Romans do but to teach the Romans how the saints should do, living epistles read of all men. The saints are the only Bible read by the world.

The gift Paul sends the saints is grace and peace from the true source, God and Jesus Christ. He also returns thanks for their faith, teaching that commendation is better than condemnation. Where no principle is involved, he also commends them for their obedience. He prayed always for them and that he might come to them; he did come to them under difficulties all of which God blessed to bring honor and glory to his Son.

His desire in coming was to bring spiritual gifts to them, he was hindered because of more needy fields. He acknowledges his indebtedness both to the wise and the unwise.

Then comes the passion of his life, "to preach the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek."

FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The young people of Glendale, Tropic, Eagle Rock and Burbank are looking forward to their first Annual Sunday School Conference with pleasure and interest. At the Methodist church Saturday morning those presenting themes are the Misses Fanny Hagin, Jeannett McClellan and Evelyn Kent. At eleven o'clock Miss Blanche Wachob will give an address on "The Girl Worth While." Those interested in girls should hear Miss Wachob as she is considered an authority along that line of work.

At the Presbyterian church, Pierre Hartzell, Paul Brooks, James McBride, Wm. Hewitt and Hally O'Hill, of Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., will present papers and discussions will be led by L. C. Leeds, David Black and Rev. R. W. Mottern.

At the joint meeting in the afternoon subjects will be handled by Miss Mildred Wight of Eagle Rock, Hazel Tyler, Joseph Wilson, and discussion led by W. G. Goss and Mr. Ludden of Tropic. The address of the afternoon will be given at 3 o'clock by Mrs. H. M. Dowling, of the County Sunday School association.

Election of officers and report of committees will take place at the morning session. A "rest room" has been arranged at the Presbyterian church for out-of-town delegates remaining for the banquet at 6:30. Notice of the Sunday meetings will be given in Saturday's "News."

STREET RAILWAY SURVEY

Assistant Engineer Sinclair of the Pacific Electric Company's staff, with four assistants, was busy Thursday morning making preliminary surveys for the work of constructing the extension of the Pacific Electric street line, from Glendale avenue to the Childs' tract line, along Broadway. The work of actual construction will be begun within a very short time.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Saturday; continued warmer; light westerly winds.

ATTENTION, MR. CITIZEN!

GLENDALE HAS LOWEST RATE FOR WATER AND LIGHTS OF ANY CALIFORNIA CITY

In view of the attacks made by E. M. McClure and others on things as they are in Glendale, it is well to consider that among the many other advantages enjoyed by Glendale, the combined rates for water and electric service charged by the Public Service Department of the City of Glendale are the lowest in the State of California, with the possible exception of two large cities that levy a heavy tax for water and light bonds, something which is not done in Glendale.

This, too, notwithstanding the following indisputable facts:

That no charge is made for water meters or services in Glendale, as is done by both of these cities, and is almost universal with cities which own their own water systems.

That Glendale has owned its water system only a year and a half.

That the Glendale systems are paying all expenses, and making all normal extensions out of their income.

That the Glendale water and light systems furnish to the city over $17,000.00 worth of service a year in excess of what the city pays it.

That Glendale is surpassed in size by over thirty cities of the State, and yet none of them surpass it in conditions of water and light service and rates.

A few comparisons will serve to show how Glendale fares in these respects as compared to its neighbors. These examples might be continued almost indefinitely, but the result would still be the same.

The people of Glendale pay one dollar for the first 1000 feet of water and thirty cents for each succeeding 1000 feet, with no charge for connection.

How do other cities fare?

Tropic pays $1.25 for 800 feet and seventy cents a thousand for excess.

Riverside pays $1.00 for 867 feet and $1.50 a thousand feet for excess. In addition a charge is made for every meter set.

Pasadena pays $.90 for the first 500 feet and one dollar per 1000 feet excess, besides paying the city for the service installation.

The people of Glendale pay for electricity: 7 cents for the first 20 kilowatts; 5 cents for the next 14 kilowatts; 3 cents for all thereafter, with a 50 cent minimum.

Tropic pays: 7 cents for the first 50 kilowatts; 6½ cents for the next 100 kilowatts, with a one dollar minimum.

Pomona pays: 7 cents for the first 100 kilowatts, 6½ cents for the next 200 kilowatts, with a one dollar minimum.

Monrovia, Santa Ana and Whittier pay the same electric light rates as Pomona.

Practically all of these cities pay at least twice as high a rate for street lights as is paid by Glendale.

What have Mr. McClure and his candidates done to bring about this state of affairs?

Did any of them help the city to acquire its water system or its electric light system, or to improve them after they had acquired them?

No! They all fought them tooth and nail.

EAST SIDE NOTES

Great regret is being expressed in the Rock Glen-Douglas avenue section over the removal of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stone from that neighborhood to the heart of Glendale. The Stones have bought the Ballenger property on Brand boulevard and will move in there at once. A few days ago Mrs. Gilmer of Douglas avenue gave a party to Mrs. Stone. This party took the form of a towel shower and afforded a great deal of pleasure to those who took part.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. W. Young of Rock Glen avenue gave a napkin shower to Mrs. Stone. A large party of ladies assembled at the spacious and picturesque Young residence and on the arrival of each guest she was presented with a piece of Japanese linen, which she was asked to hem and also to embroider her initial on it. When all the napkins had been finished they were placed in an ornamental box and presented to Mrs. Stone.

The following ladies were present: Mrs. Antone Bessolow, Mrs. George Hill, Mrs. J. Hartly-Taylor, Mrs. J. Hayden Taylor, Mrs. J. R. Lowe, Mrs. P. H. Ducker, Mrs. J. R. Bourne, Mrs. Kenworthy, Mrs. Osnum, Mrs. Lerchen, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Braasch, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Maus, Mrs. Connors, Mrs. James Horton, Miss Helen Gilmer, Mrs. Gilmer, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. W. R. IRELAND TALKS OUT

EVANGELIST MAKES VERY STIRRING ADDRESS AT THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH LAST EVENING

Evangelist Ireland struck straight from the shoulder in his message at the First Methodist church last night. He believes the messages he brings and delivers them without fear or favor. When speaking of sin and the ultimate havoc it works in humanity his eyes flash and his voice becomes intense with feeling. But he always exalts the love, goodness and power of God, and shows that the need of the world is fellowship with the Divine.

Ireland took as his theme last night "Prepare to Meet God." With his usual keen wit and illuminating illustrations the evangelist brought his message home to his hearers. "Many rush through life and into the presence of God without any preparation. For the trivial things of life people dress and paint, powder and kalsomine as if these things measured the quality of their character. Perhaps they do. But let me tell you that paint and kalsomine won't make much show on the other side of the grave. The man who is out of place in a red-hot prayer meeting will be out of place in heaven."

"I believe every man ought to be in some church. I do not believe in tramps, not even in church tramps. They go from place to place asking for a hand-out, but never get into the harness for the kingdom of God. One of the reasons why there are so many spineless churches is that there are so many spineless Christians. Only character will count with God and not your name on a church record. Creeds and theologies do not honor God unless there is godly living. There is no moral value in death; you will be on the other side of the grave what you are on this."

The soprano solo by Mrs. Cole was rendered with much sympathy and feeling and touched all hearers. The enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Todd inspires the congregation in the song service. His optimism is contagious. His solo work is unique in that he sings selections that are not always heard in revival services.

The meeting tonight promises to be full of interest. Mr. Todd will sing. Prof. Lowinsky, the well-known violinist, will give, by request, part of the program given ten days ago.

HONOR INDIANA GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Antibus of 508 Lomita avenue entertained a number of friends Wednesday evening at a farewell party, honoring their sister, Miss Lottie Antibus, who has been their house guest for the past five months and who leaves on Saturday for her home in Indiana. This charming eastern visitor has made many friends while in Southern California, who very much regret her departure but who are looking forward to her return next winter. Dancing and cards were enjoyed during the early part of the evening, followed by a game appropriate to leap year in which all the guests figured. The rooms were resplendent with a profusion of spring flowers, red and green being the colors employed in the room where dancing was indulged in and pink in the card room, while the "kosy corner" where so many of the guests met their fate was a bower of ferns and flowers.

The ladies were given rings and the gentlemen mittens and Miss Antibus led the leap year game by seating herself in a chair and selecting the gentleman of her choice by means of a hand mirror. The masculine portion of the crowd held its breath while she made her decision. Jim Mason was the lucky young man. After leading the shy creature to the "kosy corner" Miss Antibus finally persuaded him to be hers. After a proposal which was indeed a masterpiece, curtain was called and the newly engaged couple were secluded from the curious crowd. Each lady in turn tried to outdo Miss Antibus in proposing to the man of her choice but the judges decided that the girl from Indiana could not be outdone. A mock wedding ceremony followed in which Henry LeGrande took the part of the officiating clergyman and proved to the satisfaction of all that he has mistaken his calling. Mrs. Antibus gave the bride to the blushing groom while Bob Antibus and Mrs. S. J. Rice having won the approval of the judges as being second best in the proposal were best man and bridesmaid. The wedding presents were souvenirs of Glendale which pleased the bride immensely.

After a dainty buffet supper, there was more dancing and gossip. Those

DAIRIES ARE GOOD

MILK INSPECTOR HOLLENBECK REPORTS IMPROVED CONDITIONS IN LOCAL ESTABLISHMENTS

Bit by bit the dairies of the city are being brought up to the standard desired by the civic and required by the State authorities. During the month from March 1 to April 1 there has been a strict examination of the milk establishments in the city. Not only has Milk Inspector Hollenbeck been careful in visiting the dairies and seeing that all rules and regulations are attended to, but State Inspector Hasson also visited the district and saw that some abuses were remedied.

In one case an insanitary dairy was prosecuted at the instance of both these officials and conviction secured. This was the only serious instance of breach of the State dairy laws. Otherwise things moved along in a most satisfactory manner.

Two corrals were found in a condition that demanded a complete cleaning-up which was ordered and performed. In two cases the stanchions also had to be cleaned. One milk house was ordered to be built and one milk house was ordered screened.

It is necessary for every dairy to have a sterilizer and to use it. All the dairies were found to have those necessary adjuncts, but three were found not using them. They were ordered to put them in use at once. In two cases it was found necessary to order the buildings to be white-washed.

In the matter of the cattle themselves conditions were quite satisfactory. There were 435 cattle inspections and out of that number it was found necessary only to remove one from the herd.

Two samples of milk were collected, one for chemical analysis and the other for bacterial. Two milk cans were condemned; two can lids were condemned; one strainer was condemned. It was found necessary to order wet milking stopped in one case. In one case, that of the insanitary dairy already mentioned, a fine was imposed. One permit for a dairy was passed upon and one vendor's license granted.

Fumigation was found necessary in eight cases. In one of these cases the fumigation lasted twenty-seven hours.

Every day sees the status of the Glendale dairies being raised. Some of them are equal to any in the State for system, arrangement and scientific treatment of all the products. Some of the dairies have ranches in different places where calves are raised. Many of them apply systematization to every department with the result that there is a minimum loss and a maximum gain.

The Los Angeles Creamery company, which is under the supervision and inspection of the Glendale milk inspector, was another of the establishments inspected by Patrolman Hollenbeck, city milk inspector. "I inspected the dairy and found it in good shape," said Inspector Hollenbeck. "I also inspected their establishment on the Whittier road, four miles east of Los Angeles, and found it in good condition. The dairy pays license for two wagons to peddle milk in Glendale and has another supply wagon, for which it is not required to pay any license."

SUCH IS HUMAN NATURE

To one association in Glendale, the Evening News has given in three years' time $1975 worth of newspaper space free of charge. Perchance there comes a notice the middle of this week that could be clearly classed under the head of a pay notice. Upon informing the author of the notice a charge of $1.00 would be made for publishing the same, it was deemed best not to indulge in reckless extravagance. Such is the fate of the ever generous newspaper publisher who is meeting weekly a payroll of $200. Such is human nature.

"George" Hashitam, who worked for C. E. Hutton of 900 Colorado, and was much valued by the family for his faithful service, departed for Japan Monday to stay for 10 months. He expects to bring back a bride with him.

who were bidden to honor the eastern girl and speed her on her homeward journey were Messrs and Mesdames Donnelly, LeGrand, Leslie, Murchison, Rice, Roberts, Ford, Martin, the Misses Mary Murchison, Inez Farber, Jewel Bainbridge, Messrs. Marshal Davis, George Brouder, E. P. McCreery, D. Bernard Smith and Jim Mason.

James Mason has decided to go to Indiana this summer instead of to Nome, Alaska.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1916

VICTORY OVER TYPHOID FEVER

California is succeeding admirably in her efforts to stamp out typhoid fever. Among the measures directed against that dangerous disease is the supervision of water supplies. It is well known that the typhoid germ is propagated in water and that the source of the disease is invariably to be traced to contaminated drinking water. Sewage disposal naturally belongs to this work of prevention of typhoid.

It has also been found advisable to inspect summer resorts, to supervise milk and food supplies; to investigate typhoid outbreaks, to control typhoid carriers and patients. By these means an unexpectedly rapid improvement has been wrought in the typhoid conditions of the State. In 1915 the typhoid death rate was reduced to 9.7 per 100,000 population. This is almost as low as the point indicated by the State Board of Health for 1918.

This points to the fact that California is standing high in the ranks of those states which are fighting typhoid successfully. In 1913, the last year for which complete statistics are available, only five states had death rates as low as 10 per 100,000 population.

This means that 3193 deaths from typhoid have been prevented in the nine years since 1908, during which the typhoid death rate was reduced from 32.2 to 9.7 per 100,000. It means that more than 30,000 cases were prevented during the same period. It also means that in 1915 there were only 276 deaths from typhoid in the whole of California. It means that the typhoid death rate has been reduced by 29 per cent in the last year and by 70 per cent in nine years.

In reality several times as much death and sickness has been prevented as is shown by the typhoid fever statistics alone, for many other diseases are disseminated by those unsanitary conditions which are responsible for the spread of typhoid fever. The typhoid fever death rate is a valuable index of the success of control measures against a large group of diseases. It is believed that further efforts on the part of the State Boards of Health aided by the local civic and medical authorities in every city, town and township of the State can bring about still greater reductions in the typhoid fever death rate. Typhoid is an insidious disease and it may be incubating in a community quite a time before it is rooted out.

WOMEN SUFFRAGETTES ON TOUR

Washington, D. C., is the scene of a wonderful woman suffrage convention this week. All the leaders of the movement from all over the country are there. Among other things the women are planning to do is the touring of the west in support of woman suffrage. Thirty-six of the leaders are to be formed up into a "Flying Squadron" which will leave for Chicago immediately after the convention is over and will go to Chicago and thence will tour the west, coming up the Pacific coast and stopping off at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, and thence finishing the tour at Denver.

In the course of this prolonged tour the women will seek to rouse public opinion on the subject of woman suffrage and to gain votes for women. They will organize every female voter. The consolidated voters will all vote together. They will not vote for anybody, sheriff, dogcatcher or president, who will not vote to give the rest of the women of the country the ballot.

Naturally this is a unique mission. It is rather original for States that are themselves in the dark as to woman suffrage to send missionaries to the more enlightened states. One of their chief objects, however, is to declare war on backsliding politicians and to see that they keep in the right path and do not attempt to desert the cause.

STUDYING IN THE FIELD OF WAR

Nothing is more creditable to humanity than the cheerful and practical spirit in which the men of the Allied nations have taken up the burden of the war and yet have not permitted it either to sour them or to interfere more than is avoidable with their mental development. All manner of provision has been made for the prosecution of mental development of the soldiers of the varied armies sent into the field by Britain, France and Italy.

Each regiment appears to have an instruction system by which it is possible for the soldiers to pursue, in the intervals of fighting, the studies which they may desire to take up or the studies which they were pursuing at home. This has been found an excellent means of dispelling the ennui of the trenches and it is also a guarantee that the men will not lose by their soldiering.

Italy seems to have devised an excellent system for the medical students of her land now fighting in the trenches. Medical students of the fifth and sixth year have a medical school in the field where they complete their studies during the intervals of fighting and graduate on schedule time. This school is called "Castrone University." This novel undertaking is possible because all the Italian schools and universities have a uniform curriculum.

The Italian government sends the teaching material and the professors. The field building is equipped with lecture rooms, clinics, operating room, laboratories, hospital and every detail of the modern medical school. The students prepare their studies in the trenches or wherever they happen to be and attend lectures and clinics as often as their military duties will permit. All who may not be killed in the meantime expect to graduate on schedule time.

It may seem a little grim to speak thus of the possible death of the students; but the war must go on, the men must do the fighting and they would soon be unfit for their duties were they to sit down and mourn every time someone was killed. The great wheels of the mighty contest must be kept rolling even when some of the little cogs are broken. The men are conscious that they are not losing everything through the war and are more cheerful and content in consequence.

TROPICO

Dr. Jessie A. Russell of Glendale, who is an active member of the Tropico Thursday club, was unanimously elected as delegate from the club to the State Convention of Women's clubs, which convenes at Del Monte hotel, Monterey, the latter part of April.

Mrs. John Hobbs and Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis as delegates from A. H. Chapter P. E. O. of Tropico attended the Grand Chapter of the P. E. O. of the state, which met in Pomona the past week. Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Bullis returned this afternoon and reported a most delightful and profitable session.

Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Eames of East Palmer avenue have returned from a pleasant sojourn at Hermosa Beach, where Mrs. Eames improved rapidly from an illness that caused considerable solicitude among a large circle of friends of this popular young matron.

Tennants' ball team of Los Angeles will appear on the Municipal Playgrounds Sunday and play a lively game of the great American sport with the Tropico team. Hasty Bidwell, the local star, will pitch, while A. Galley will catch. The lineup of the remainder of the team will be the same. An interesting game is promised.

Mrs. J. E. Bahrenburg, who recently disposed of her attractive home place, "Twin Pines," on West Park avenue, has removed to Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, who purchased "Twin Pines," have taken possession.

Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis of South Central avenue represented the Tropico Thursday club at the Woman's Orchestra reciprocity meeting of Wednesday, in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Jennings of South Central avenue left for their ranch near Ontario, this morning, where they will spend a few days.

Olin Bradford is visiting in Imperial Valley and his place on the Tropico ball team will be filled by A. Galley, a dandy catcher.

COLORADO P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Colorado Boulevard Parent-Teacher association was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30. A parliamentary drill was held in the kindergarten bungalow. A business meeting followed, the president, Mrs. Beamon, presiding. The song, "My Rosary," was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Arnold, who kindly responded to an encore. The accompanist, Mrs. Boyer, gave two charming piano solos, which were much enjoyed by all.
 The speaker of the afternoon was Miss White, teacher of agriculture in the Glendale Grammar schools. Miss White introduced her subject as "The biggest one in the world," and gave a comprehensive review of her work with the children the past year. This review was full of interest, with many valuable points. A quotation from Mr. True of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was given. He has stated that "There is as much culture in a beet root as in a Greek root. Miss White, in her original and happy manner, told how she aimed for the children to see the practical and useful as well as the beautiful sides in these studies; also to appreciate the farmer's life. At the close of her remarks a fitting tribute was given in appreciative words. She was presented with exquisite bouquets from the children. A dainty collation followed and closed a very pleasant afternoon.

THURSDAY CLUB

It was a most interesting meeting of the Tropico Thursday club that was held in the city hall yesterday afternoon. Owing to the recent accident which unfortunately befell Mrs. Charles A. Barker, the beloved president of the club, Mrs. Dwight Griswold, vice president, presided.

The splendid program of the afternoon was thoroughly appreciated by the club and the large number of club guests. Miss Ruth Mitchell, supervisor of music of the Tropico schools, gave a fine exhibition of the work accomplished in the first, second and third grades of the Acacia street school, of which Miss Mae Cornwell is principal, and Miss Gladys Hamilton instructor. These two popular teachers, with their pupils, with Miss Mitchell at the piano, presented several groups of "child songs in a most acceptable manner.

Then after these dear little people each had partaken of the dainty refreshments provided, they ran away to play, all unconscious of the great happiness they had afforded the club. Mrs. Dora Gibson, the efficient supervisor of music in the Glendale Union High School, completed the delightful program by presenting the musical department of the High School.

Mrs. Gibson's splendid paper on "Public School Music" elicited much praise and commendation and each number of the program was received with approval and unstinted applause.

It was her third birthday. A beautiful birthday cake, ice cream, candy, fruits and nuts were served. The tiny little hostess received many beautiful presents. Those present were: Edith Keltly, Frances Judy, Dorothy May Judy, Cecelia Pinoche, Philip Stine, Jack Stine, Richard Stine, Charles Rudel, Donald Leslie, Lester Sinclair, Adolph Rempp. The ladies assisting Mrs. Bond were Mrs. Daniel Keltly, Mrs. F. GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY HELD SUCCESSFUL MEETING —LAST BEFORE SHOW

More than 60 people attended the meeting of the Glendale Garden society Thursday night, in the Chamber of Commerce hall. Mrs. Nanno Woods, president of the society, presided. Other officials present were, Mr. M. Carruthers, manager of the Flower Show; Mr. Freeman Kelley, vice president; Mr. C. Woolsey, treasurer; Mrs. Ella Richardson, chairman of the Flower Show committee, and Mrs. Walter Ross, chairman of the Badge committee.

Mrs. Woods gave a most interesting account of the preparations that were being made for the Flower Show and explained the arrangement of the interior of the large marquee, which is to be created on the vacant lot, on the northwest corner of Fifth and Brand boulevard. The interior will have a convenient platform for speakers and entertainers. Two fountains will add to the attractions of the show and other features will serve to amuse and entertain the crowds that are expected to attend.

The feature of the evening was the exchange of plants by members of the society. Quite a number of plants of all kinds were brought for exchange and much interest was created by this feature. The exchanges included all manner of common and rare plants and a selection of parsley was among them. Altogether this was one of the most successful meetings of the season.

BROKE UP A PARTY

"I would like to know," said J. T. Beach, a High School student, "if we are living under martial law in Glendale. If the kind of administration of city rule to which I and a party of my young companions from the High School were introduced Thursday this week is going to prevail we might as well live in Mexico. Next thing, I suppose, will be that we will be ordered 'to be shot before daybreak' when we laugh above our breaths."

Young Beach and his friends, W. J. Bode, Jamie Shea, J. F. Brown, Harry Glazier and L. Brown were taking a ride in Beach's automobile, traveling, as they all testify, at about 12 miles an hour, and laughing out of the exuberance of youth as healthy, clean and high-spirited American boys will do, when they were stopped by Patrolman Hollenbeck, who frowned on this youthful merriment and informed them that they were under arrest for "reckless riding."

"He also," said young Beach, "accused us of accosting girls in the street. The truth of the latter matter was that my cousin passed us on the sidewalk and I and some of the others greeted her as any right-minded boys would do with a wave of the hand and a few pleasant words. If there is a city ordinance against speaking to one's cousin on the street I think I would prefer to live in Berlin, where that is not one of the things that are 'verboden.' I feel that the united testimony of a company of young students, who have a reputation for good behavior, is fully as valuable as the unsupported statement of a single officer."

The boys were brought before Judge Whomes, who fined them the nominal sum of $1. It was only after much searching that the sum of ninety-nine cents in pennies and nickels was scraped up. Young Beach finally discovered a solitary penny in a corner of his pocket and the fine was paid. "The treasury of Glendale is the richer by a solitary dollar and the moral account of the administration is the poorer by a much greater amount than that," said young Beach.

LITTLELANDS

Occasionally some would-be smart Alect pass through our little burg. Such a party recently visited this place and as they passed a ranch where there were a number of young goats feeding. One of the party asked the owner of the goats, "What kind of animals are these anyway?" "Oh," replied the owner, "these are young elephants; we're raising them for plowing."

It is now too late to register for the May primaries. But get in line for the fall election. Mrs. Marston of Sunset boulevard is registrar and has her books at the club house every Tuesday and Friday evenings for the accommodation of those wishing to register.

The election of school trustee takes place today at the school house between the hours of two and six p. m.

Miss Gilbert had as her guest last week Mrs. Nanno Woods of Glendale, from Friday evening till Saturday.

Mrs. J. S. Harker of Los Angeles was a guest for several days at the home of her friend, Mrs. Hoffman, of Stephen's Way.

Miss Annie C. Peck was a visitor for several days with friends on Hobart and Florence avenue, Los Angeles. She returned to her home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles returned to Littlelands last week, after a pleasant visit with their daughter and family of Strawberry Park.

Pigeon Club

The members of the Pigeon club had a pleasant meeting Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Chapp, of San Ysidro road. Ways and means of disposing of squabs directly to the consumer were discussed and it is thought that a market can readily be found as soon as there are enough squabs to supply a given number regularly.

A social hour was enjoyed and Mrs. Chapp served delicious chocolate and cake to the guests. Mrs. Linaberry gave a cordial invitation to the club to meet with her the first Monday night in May.

An old gentleman, Mr. Bailey, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson of Pine street. Mr. Bailey may remain for some time, perhaps all summer, if the climate agrees with him.

Death of Mr. Slusher

Mr. Slusher, father of Mr. George Slusher, passed away March 24. He has made his home with his son for some time and his death was not unexpected, as he had been in a helpless condition for a long while. The funeral occurred Monday afternoon at Glendale. Mr. Slusher leaves a widow and several children to mourn his loss. The family has been in this valley for several years and are among its most esteemed residents.

Tuesday morning Dr. Kearney, school trustee, Mr. C. H. Clark, committee on trees, assisted by the teachers and pupils of the school, set out a number of eucalyptus trees on the south school lot. There will be other trees and shrubs planted in the fall and a continued effort made to beautify the school grounds.

Ladies' Aid Society

Mrs. W. B. Barkley was hostess to the Ladies' Aid of the Federation, last Thursday afternoon. The Bible study was ably conducted by Mrs. Shiras. The subject under discussion was "Bible Women of Prominence." Hannah was the character portrayed on this occasion. These studies can be and are made very interesting. Besides these studies the members are interested in various kinds of needle and fancy work. They are prepared to do sewing for those in need of such help. They make a specialty of tying and binding comforts and quilting, etc.

After the program a social hour was enjoyed, at which the hostess served refreshments.

Home Croft Club

The meeting last Friday evening was called to order about 7:30 o'clock by the moderator, Mr. Ashby. There were several announcements, which are found elsewhere in these columns. Mr. Miles stated that he had Beefsteak and Stone-tomato plants for distribution. Mr. Hatch and Mr. Hough have blackberry plants and Mr. Woodruff pieplant, all free. Mrs. Frost queried about the pecan trees, as to whether they were a profitable crop for this region. No one seemed to know. The club will be glad to learn any facts concerning this matter.

Mrs. Nanno Woods, president of the Garden society of Glendale, was then introduced. Mrs. Woods is possessed of a very pleasant personality. Her talk was very informal. She said she was an organizer rather than a grower and had had very little experience so far as gardens were concerned, except flower gardens. She told of the origin of the Glendale society and said there was no limit to its scope. Mrs. Woods does not favor any society exclusively for women. She said they had found the men very helpful, especially were they useful to put forward as a deposition when any favor was to be solicited, but she said, "The women do the real work." Mrs. Woods' main object in coming to the Home Croft meeting was to explain about the Flower show to be given in Glendale from the 20th to the 22nd of this month and to extend an invitation to our community to participate in this festival. The first night of the show there will be music by a seven-piece orchestra from Los Angeles; Friday afternoon a violin recital. Some time during the festival there is to be classic dancing by six juvenile pupils. Saturday afternoon awarding of prizes, only in this instance, as Mrs. Woods carefully explained, there would be no prizes but ribbons instead. There is also to be a sightseeing trip for strangers.

Mrs. Woods said there was nothing selfish about her society. This week they were giving a Plant party, at which every one donated a plant and every one was welcome to take a plant—a regular exchange. Mr. Ashby expressed the appreciation of the Home Croft club for Mrs. Woods' invitation and talk and the matter of accepting the invitation was left for decision till the Town meeting.

The Poultry club meets next Monday night at the school house at 7:30 o'clock. Members are urged to come and make this an interesting session.

Anton Kluge purchased the beautiful lot on the corner of El Centro and Blanchard canyon road this week of Miles Jones. This is a lovely site for a home and the lot is already set to fruit trees.

Business seems to be looking up in this vicinity. It is reported that several houses are to be built in a short time.

Town Meeting

At the town meeting next Tuesday night it was announced that the West Virginia people would be responsible for the program. Mr. Ashby told of a lady who is a member of the Western Empire company, and who is anxious to build some sort of a building that will be of benefit to the community in a business way. Mr. Ashby also reported that the Board of Trade is making an effort to place Littlelands on the map. A committee is preparing a folder setting forth the beauties and advantages of this place. It seems that some of our older and bigger neighbors are inclined to ignore us. But wait! We are a pretty lusty youngster for a three year old and we are growing. We may yet be heard from.

The Loan Association committee sent a report by Mrs. Woodruff. The association will have to be built along lines embracing measures of mutuality. On motion of Mr. Miles the report was accepted. Arrangements are being made for obtaining wood for the clubhouse fireplace. It was stated that Pecan trees may be purchased in Los Angeles at $1.00 and up for budded trees.

The program of the evening was furnished by the Missouri people with Mr. Wieman acting as chairman. Following is the program: Appended are the words of a song composed by Mr. Wieman and sung as a quartet by Mr. Wieman, Mr. C. H. Clark, Dr. Kearney and Mr. Leo Lang, to the music of "There's a Church in the Valley." Played by Miss Bertha Fehr.

MISSOURI

There's a state that I love, she's my first love.
Could I sound the tones of organ great
With notes as sweet as turtle dove
I'd sing the praise of my old state.
Cho.—Old Missouri's the state;
I love her plains and her mountains,
Her rivers, her prairies, her fields,
Her forests, her clear springing fountains,
Pre-eminence to none she yields.
When the whippoorwill in the gloaming

Sings his plaintive call to his mate,
In the dusk when the birds are homing,
I am longing for my native state.
Cho.

When the quail is calling in the morning
To his partner, brown and sedate,
While the dew the grass is adorning,
Then I'm longing for my native state.
Cho.

When corn leaves are rustling in the night breeze,
Night hawk's flying at evening late,
When the nestlings are all sleeping in the trees,
Then calls the old native state.
Cho.

When the dogwood blooms in the wildwood
And the cowslips by the pasture gate,
When the Mayapple's ripe where the gnarled oak stood,
Then the fairest of all is my state.
Cho.

CHARGED WITH LUNACY

W. H. Thompson, a rancher who resides on a farm between Glendale and Burbank, on the San Fernando road, was captured this morning by a posse of officers from Los Angeles and taken to Glendale jail, whence he was taken to Los Angeles to appear before a commission in lunacy for examination with regard to his sanity. Thompson and his wife, according to the testimony of their neighbors and friends, have been acting strangely for some time. Mrs. Thompson was attacked by hooches some time ago and since that time the husband and wife have shunned visitors of all kinds and have even warned off autoists and pedestrians from the vicinity of their property, threatening to shoot them.

The couple barricaded themselves in their house and defied all attempts to arrest them. Friday morning the officers lay in wait in the vicinity of the house, knowing that Thompson would be compelled to go to Burbank for provisions. When he emerged from the barricaded house he was pursued and after an exciting chase was caught and landed in jail. His wife is still barricaded in the house, but her arrest is expected at any moment. The Thompsons are reputed to be wealthy.

The Kansas City "Star" talks about "kissing in self-defense." Please elaborate. If it's as good as it sounds, we'll adopt it as our permanent method of defense.
