

A. A. Phelps, to

Copy

W. S. Sewell,

Apr. 15. 1843.

Boston Apr. 15. 1843,

28

Brother Sewell,

I have just been at New York, & find that the ^{of the Evangelist} bills I gave you, which you promised ^{leave with Mr. Butler for me} to ~~send me~~ & did not, & then promised to rectify on going to New York, as you soon expected, have never yet been attended to, although but a day or two since you had occasion to write ~~them~~ to the Publishers forwarding the name of a new ^{so at least they informed me.} subscriber, the amount of the bills ($10) I found, as I informed you I supposed was the fact, ^{& credited to you.} changed to me, it is now transferred to ~~your~~ ~~account~~ & stands charged to you.

Your negligence in this matter, to call it by no severer name, I regard as inconsistent with your Christian professions & standing, & wholly inexcusable.

Yours respectfully

A. A. Phelps.

