Randolph and Clay-Incidents of a Duel. We select from the biography of John Randolph, by Hugh A. Garland, the following account of a duel between these two men. Notwithstanding the absurdity of the "code of honor," as it is most ridiculously termed, the following shows traits of innate nobleness of character that will be appreciated by all good and great men : "The night before the duel," says Gen. James Hamilton, of South Carolina, "Mr. Randolph sent for me. I found him ealm, but in a singularly kind and confiding mood. He told me that he had something on his mind to tell me. He then remarked, 'Hamilton, I have determined to receive, without returning, Clay's fire; nothing shall induce me to harm a hair of his head; I will not make his wife a widow, or his children orphans. Their tears would be shed over his grave; but when the sod of Virginia rests, on my bosom, there is not in this wide world one individual to pay this tribute upon mine. His eyes filled, and resting his head upon his hand, we remained some moments silent. I replied, 'My dear friend, (for ours was a sort of posthumous friendship, bequeathed by our mothers.) I deeply regret that you have mentioned this subject to me : for you call upon me to go to the field, and to see you shot down, or to assume the responsibility, in regard to your own life, in sustaining your determination to throw it away. But on this subject, a man's own conscience, and his own bosom are the best monitors. I will not advise, but under the enormous and unprovoked personal insult you have offered Mr. Clay. I cannot dissuade. I feel bound, however, to communicate to Colonel Tattnall your decision.' He begged me not to do so. and said he was very much afraid that Tatnall would take the studs and to refuse go out with him.' I, however, sought Col. Tattnall, and we repaired about midnight to Mr. Randolph's lodgings, whom we found reading Milton's great poem. For some moments he did not permit us to say one word in relation to the approaching duel, and he at once commenced one of those delightful criticisms on a passage of this poet in which he was wont so enthusiastically to indulge. After a pause, Col. Tattnall remarked, 'Mr. Randolph, I am told you have determined not to return Mr. Clay's fire: I must say to you, my dear sir, if I am only to go out to see you shot down, you must find some other friend.' Mr. Randolph remarked that such was his determination. After much conversation on the subject, I induced Col. Tattnall to allow Mr. Randolph to take his own course, as his withdrawal, as one of his friends, might lead to very injurious misconstructions. At last, Mr. Randolph, smiling, said, Well, Tattnall, I promise you one thing, if I see the devil in Clay's eye, and that with malice prepense he means to take my life, I may change my mind.' A remark, I knew, he made merely to propitiate the anxieties of his friend, Mr. Tattnall.

"Mr. Clay and himself met at four o'clock the succeeding evening, on the banks of the Potomac. But he saw 'no devil in the eve of Mr. Clay. but a man fearless, and expressing the mingled sensibility and firmness which belonged to the occasion.

"I shall never forget this scene, as long as I live. It has been my misfortune to witness several duels, but I never saw one, at least in its sequel, so deeply affecting. The sun was just setting behind the blue hill of Randolph's own Virginia. Here were two of the most extraordinary men our country in its prodigality had produced about to meet in mortal combat. Whilst Tattnall was loading Randolph's pistola I approached my friend, I be-lieved, for the last time. I took his hand there was not in its touch the quivering of one pulsation. He furned to me and said, 'Clay is calm, but not vindictive-I hold my purpose, Hamilton, in any event: remember this.' On handing him his pistol, Col. Tattnall sprang the hair trigger. Mr. Randolph said, 'Tattnall, although I am one of the best shots in Virginia, with either a pistol or gun, yet I never fire with the hair trigger; besides. I have a thick buckskin glove on, which will destroy the delicacy of my touch, and the trigger may fly before I know where I am. But from his great solicitude for his friend, Tattnall insisted upon hairing the trigger. On taking their position, the fact turned out as Mr. Randolph anticipated : his pistol went off before the word, with the muzzle down.

"The moment this event took place, Gen. Jessup, Mr. Clay's friend, called out that he would instantly leave the ground with his friend, if that occurred again. Mr. Clay at once exclaimed it was an accident, and begged that the gentleman might be allowed to go on. On the word being given, Mr. Clay fired without effect, Mr. Randolph discharging his pistol in the air. The moment that Mr. Claylsaw that Mr. Randolph had thrown away his fire, with a gush of sensibility he instantly approached Mr. Randolph, and said, with an emotion I can never forget. 'I trust in God, my dear sir, you are untouched; after what has occurred. I would not have harmed you for a thousand worlds.""

The close of this passage in Randolph's career, makes too complete a picture to be omitted. Returning from his mission as Minister to Russia, broken in health, sick at heart---at death's door---he went into the Senate Chamber, and took his seat in the rear of Mr. Clay. That gentlaman hap-pened at the time to be on his feet addressing the Senate. "Raise me up," said Randolph, "I want to hear that voice again." When Mr. Clay had concluded his remarks, which were very few, he turned round to see from what quarter that singular voice proceeded. Seeing Mr. Randolph, and that he was in a dying condition, he left his place and went to speak to him: as he approached, Mr. Randolph said to the gentleman with him, "Raise me up." As Mr. Clay offered his hand, he said, "Mr. Randolph, I hope you are better, sir." "No. sir." replied Randolph, "I am a dying man, and I came here expressly to have this interview with

OF THE SAN JOSE DAILY ARGUS.

EARLY LAST SUMMER we announced our intention to issue a paper at the Pueblo de San Jose; but untoward circumstances prevented the fulfillment of that design. Our arrangements are now completed, and the purpose so long deferred, will be put into execution without delay. We announce, therefore, to our friends in San Joseand the Santa Clara Valley, that a new Journal under the above title will be commenced on or about the First day of January, 1851, and be published DAILY, feeling contident, as we do, that the patriotism and public spirit of the citizens of the Valley, will amply sustain us in the such an undertaking. We begin this elterprise without the subscription of a single dollar in its behalf from any source, yet not a doubt of success arises to throw a shadow upon our hopes.

It is our design to give full daily reports of both branches of the Legislature, together with all documents of a public nature, as well as all other matters of interest at the Capital—in the Valley, and throughout California. This important feature will render the Argus a valuable desideratum to all classes of our citizens, in every part of the State, and to their consideration and subscripwe trust that it will commend itself.

In politics, the Argus will be Democratic to the core; and while treating public men and measures with courtesy and fairness, will nevertheless endeavor on every occasion to maintain unimpaired the pure principles of Democracy; believing, as we do, that the able exposition and defence of these by Jefferson, Jackson, and Polk, and a host of other worthy and true men of the Party of Progress have contributed more to the Prosperity, Power and Glory of the American Union, than all other causes combined, Our opponents will always know where to find us—so also will our friends.

The Argus will be issued on a Medium sheet of fine white paper, and fair type. Every kind of Book and Job Printing, Cards, Circulars, Handbills, etc., will be executed at the Argus Office with Promptness and on reasonable terms.

OF THE MONTEREY GAZETTE.

THE UNDERSIGNED proposes to publish in the city of Monterey, a Weekly Newspaper, to be called the MONTEREY GAZETTE.

In a country where, above all others in the world, newspapers constitute a necessary of life to the poor as well as to the rich, it is needless to say much in behalf of the present enterprise. We believe the interests of the city of Monterey and of the Southern section of California demand the establishment of a newspaper, and we devote ourselves to the task, in the confident expectation that the intelligence, enterprize, and business of the people will amply sustain us.

The Gazette is not designed as a party organ. En-sustain us.

The GAZETTE is not designed as a party organ. Entirely independent of political parties, it will only treat of political questions in reference to the public good, without descending in any case, or in the least degree, to partizan or personal warfare

The Commercial and Trading interests of Monterey and consequently of the Southern section of California will form a permanent subject in our columns. To business men in general, we offer our services; and we shall share no efforts to promote their property and the wellspare no efforts to promote their prosperity and the well-fare of section of the State—which we shall more specially Another leading object of the Gazette will be to develop Another leading object of the Gazette will be to develop the Mineral and Agricultural Resources of our young and thriving State. Rich as are the mountains and riverourses with precious metal, we believe the valleys and plains of California contains mine of wealth still more valuable and inexhaustible. On the agricultural imprevement of our State, depend in a great degree its permanent growth and lasting prosperity. To this important subject we shall direct especial atten ion.

The cause of Popular Education will also demand a large share of our regard. The rising generation, to whose charge will shortly be entrusted the destinies of the country, must be qualified for this responsible and noble trust try, must be qualified for this responsible and noble trust by a judicious and efficient system of Common School ed ucation.

Another prominent purpose of the Monterey Gazette will be the promotion of good morals. In vain shall we hope for continued prosperity, either as a community ra as individuals, where vice prevails over virtue. Men, deatitute of good moral principles, are incapable of eelf-government, and unfit for the management of republicanicstitutions. Vices which prevail to the injury of society, we shall not fail to expose and condemn.

The particular interests of the city of Monterey, we shall strive to promote; not as a rival of other flourishing towns in Southern California, but as a member of the same family, identified with them in the same common fortune. Its location, convenient to the Mining region, mark it as the future depot of an extensive and profitable frade; and its situation as a sea-port, imparts commercial advantages which will render it, before many years, one of the meet important maritime cities on the Pacific. The Gazette will guard these great interests, and labor to advance them-by all practicable means.

The Gazette will also present its readers with news, domestic and foreign, to the latest possible dates. To accomplish this purpose with the greater certainty, a regular correspondence has been opened with San Francisco, New York, Philadelphia, and other places.

As an advertising medium, men in business will find the Gazette arealy means of communicating with the public and enhancing their interests.

For the benefit of that portion of the population, not conversant with the English tongue, one side of the Gazette will be inserted in both languages.

The subscription price will be inserted in both languages.

REDUCTION IN PRICE.

With this week's issue, we commence serving the Pacific News to our subscribers at six and a quarter cents per number, or three shillings

We make this reduction, not because it has been demanded of us by our patrons. or because of a decreased circulation. Never, since the establishment of our paper, has the list of paying subscribers been as large as now, and it has steadily increased amongst the business men of the city, since the first of December last, when our new dress was put on | The town (we must give it the name.) is and the sheet enlarged. But we have now one of the most perfect offices on the Pacific coast : our facilities for doing work are equal, it not superior, to any other; and possessing the wherewith now to accommodate the extended and increasing list of patrons, in accordance with the spirit of the age, we make the reduction. Increased facilities enable us to do this without detriment to ourselves, and with better justice to our patrons.

Our Criminal Laws. We are not disposed to find fault with our criminal laws, but it does seem as if there was something "rotten in Denmark" with regard to the administration of them. Frequent as crime is even in our midst, it too frequently bappens that it goes "unwhipped of Justice." Robberies, murders, and other outrages, are of daily occurrence, and although legal arrests may be made, it too often happens that the offenders escape. This may, in part, be owing to the insecurity of places of confinement, which enables offenders to break out: and another cause may be the difficulty of retaining witnesses. We know of cases where petty thieves have been discharged because no one appeared against them. Immersed in business, the prosecutors did not think it worth while to spend their time to attend the examination : hence there was no other course left but to discharge the accused-and for grave offenses, too, where miners are witnesses, the latter will not lose their time in attending court, so that it has resolved itself almost into a common saying, when a villain is imprisoned, "O! he'd get clear-nothing will be proved against him." We look upon the police force of this city as wholly inadequate for the protection of pro. perty, and however faithful and vigilant they may be, the number is not enough to watch the lone thoroughfares during the night.

We can scarcely take up a paper in the morning without noticing one or more robescaping in some way. The very fact of their being able to do so, emboldens them to perpetrate crime, and until some effectual mode is adopted for bringing offenders to justice. we shall not expect to see the amount of erime lessened in the town or country. We are no advocate of Lynch law, and will upbearance ceases to be a virtue, and stern nesity may require sudden and speedy justice to be executed.

We do not yet despair of making something more than a Picaquine establishment out of our evening cotemporary. Its "leader" of vesterday is softened and modified in tone, though it cannot wholly give up the idea dust our senior intended to refer to Bay Company, are the barracks and officer's that paper in his communication in regard to State Printing. If our neighbors have chosen an unfortunate name for their paper. one which, in common language, enables a man to express his contempt for discreditable business transactions of a small character, it is their own fault, and not that of the public. They selected the name of Picanune. Applied to coin, the word designates that of the smallest denomination of silver known in circulation. The word also enables one to express his opinion of the calibre and conduct of men, and the transactions of life. where they partake of contempt and meanness. Now, we beg of our evening cotemporary not to be too fast in making the application to himself, where the term "picayune" happens to be used. It may be intended to refer to the coin usually so denominated. or the meanness of some out-sider, not conaccted with that establishment. By making a personal application, the editors illustrate the passage, "the wicked flee when no man pursueth." If our neighbor "gets bruised a little," through the unfortunate selection of subscribe myself, a name for his little sheet, he should bear it more with the philosophy of a Governor.

WHEN JUDGES DISAGREE.-A few days since we published the decision of Judge Morrison, of this city, reversing the judgment for the plaintiff in the Court below, in an action for a gambling debt, thereby deeiding that a debt of that character is not recoverable at common law. In the case of James Watson vs. James S. Oldham, at Sacramento, tried a few days since, we perceive that Hon? Top Robinson gave precisely a contrary decision. Both must base their opinions upon the same law, but they certainly differ very widely in the construction.

The San Jose Journal says, the Senatorial contest "Beems to be narrowed down for other necessary State duties. to T. BUTLER KING, on the part of the Whigs." This is an unkind cut toward the senior of its parent establishment here. His own political progeny deserts him, and won't even consider him a candidate! Who can measure man's ingratitude?

THE CALIFORNIA .- No news of the Califorin his yet been received.

Our Oregon Correspondence. PORTLAND, Oregon Ter., Jan. 30th, 1851.

The Gold Hunter, on her last return trip from Portland to San Francisco, passed up the Columbia from the mouth of the Willamette to Fort Vancouver, for freight and passengers; being desirous of visiting that trading post of the Hudson Bay Company, I took passage on her.

Fort Vancouver is just one of the places one loves to see, and tarry at, more than a brief period. It is indeed, in nature, a beautiful spot, and by tasteful cultivation might be made one of the choice spots of creation. I have seen no place this side of the continent that so much reminded me of home and the highly cultivated fields of Western New York. Vancouver is situated on the north bank of the Columbia, about 100 miles above the mouth of that stream, and 6 miles above the mouth of the Willamette. The Columbia, at that point, makes a broad sweep, forming a basin nearly one mile across, giving the town a fine and imposing harbor. located upon a broad plat of level and unbroken land, which extends back some three quarters of a mile from the river's bank before there is any apparent rise or elevation. The whole of this broad surface of land. containing some 600 acres, has long been stripped of its deep forest shade, and presents at this time the appearance of a well arranged and highly cultivated farm, divided and sub-divided into well fenced fields, suitable for agricultural purposes. This is the great farm" of the Hudson Bay Companytheir central trading post this side of the Rocky Mountains, Immediately on the bank of the river, in front of the stores, warehouses, workshops, and fortifications of the Hudson Bay Company, is the town, which is nothing more than a collection of some sixty block houses of about one story, occupied during the prosperous days of that rich company by its employees, but now tenanted principally by half-breeds and the lowest order of Canadian French. Facing the town about one-fourth of a mile back from the river's bank, stands the Governor's residence and the warehouses, stores and workshops of the company. They occupy about two acres finally she was ejected from the Court.

There were two cases of stabbing, or of log paling, fourteen feet high, and tied together by timbers running horizontally At the different angles of the enclosure stand block-houses, mounted with heavy pieces of artillery, and so arranged as to command the entire length of the outer sides of the square This defence must have been good, indeed perfectly secure, against the Indian arrow. but in war with civilized nations it would have offered but little protection The buildings, as well as the entire line of defence and fortifications, are now in good condition, but of course, do not present the appearance they rich and hitherto powerful company. Peter S. Ogden is the present Commandant or Governor of the company : he has held that responsible position for the last ten years. having been elected to that office in reward for his faithful and meretorious services during a term of over twenty years. This manner of promoting its members, was the beries, and almost daily we read of villains | course of policy adopted in the first organization of the company. Gov. Ogden is the very personification of a fine old gentleman: he receives and entertains visiters with great kindness and politeness, and is ever ready to give all the information of the history and operations of the company that good breeding would solicit. I spent an hour or two with the old Governor, pleasantly and profi-tably. The proud and glorious days of the hold the majesty of the laws of the land, but Hudson Bay Company have passed forever. there is a point beyond which human for- Yankee enterprise and competition have made great inroads upon the extent and profit of their business. There are but few ofit of their business. There are but few ained in the employ of the company: the old Governor seems alone and lonely in his glory, watching with great care the remaining interests and property of the company They must soon abandon their possessions

did during the more prosperous day of that of the care that is given them.

Upon an elevated table of land, about one half mile back from the post of the Hudson's quarters of the troops bearing the banner of the stars and stripes. Col. Loring, the commander of the station, is an officer of acknowledged bravery, and a gentleman of great moral worth. There are eight companies of mounted riflemen stationed there. They are of but little service, however, unless if be to keep Uncle Sam's beef and pork from spoiling. Fort Vancouver may in time become a village of some little importance to the agricultural interests of the north side of the Columbia, immediately in that region, but nothing more. Early in the morning of the day after my arrival, I left Vancouver in company with Col. C., for Portland. After crossing the Columbia, we took "Shank's horses," and after a walk of some hours through a forest as dark and silent as in the days when the power and dominion of the red man did alone and absolutely prevail, we found ourselves upon the cast bank of the Willamette, direct-opposite of this city.

The last bell of the Gold Hunter notifies me that I have but a moment left, just time enough to say that by "Sea Gull" you shall hear from meagain. With the hope of making my next more acceptable, and with many wishes for the health and prosperity of editors of the Pacific News, permit me to subscribe myself.

J. M. Smith.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATOR .- The second Committee of Conference, appointed by the two Houses, to name a day for the election of United States Senator, have failed to agree, and the question still remains one of quien sabe?

What is to be gained by longer delay, we are unable to see. Certain it is, that the Senatorial question engrosses much of the attention of the Legislature, while in session, and probably that of nearly all the members when out. And were it finally disposed of the members could devote more time to the general business of the State, than otherwise. They certainly are not neglectful of other interests now, but every item which is finally disposed of, leaves so much more time

The Courier says, the present State Printer " may have this consolation-that he can never again be elected while honest men hold a seat in the Legislature." And "J. M. C." "may have this consolation—that he for a hotel. The house will be opened in a of the Courier. can never be elected" United States Senator few days by Mr. DAVID JONES, who, from while men in their sonses "hold seats in the his long experience in the business, will, no to answer in a like sum, for his participation concerning him will be gratefully received Legislature."

Recorder's Court.

There were a great number of cases of felony and misdemeanor before the Recorder fact that crime and lawless acts are on the Peppi Bogas was examined, charged with shooting one Guttierey - both Mexicans. Guttierey's wife, a very pretty Spanish woman, testified that Bogas had attempted to make love to her on various occasions, but that she had repulsed him, until finally he threatened to kill both her and her husband, unless she accepted his advances. On Sunday evening last, Bogas came to her house, and just as he was about to enter, her husband accosted him on the steps, when Bogas turned round, drew a pistol, and fired at him, the ball taking effect in the left cheek, pene- and that it would be better for the health of trating the head, causing a dangerous, if not a fatal wound. On another witness testifying to the facts of the case, the Recorder remanded him to await his trial before the District Court.

An amusing scene of domestic strife, between husband and wife, occurred. The couple had been engaged in a fight together, the night previous, and were disturbing the quiet of the neighborhood, when they were pounced upon by a police officer, and the male belligerent taken to the station house. They were both in court; the wife breathing vengeance against the officer for disturbing her and her liege lord's usual pastime of a fight in her own house, and the husband with a damaged countenance, which clearly evinced that the wife had sharp nails and a hard fist, standing up in defense of his rights against, what he conceived, the intrusion of the officer. The woman used her tongue, to the no small merriment of those in attendance -until the Court was compelled to order her to be taken out, which being done, a fine of $50 was imposed on Mr. Wood, for whipping his wife! On hearing which, the wife rushed into Court again, with the evident intention of rescuing her husband from the fangs of the law, or of whipping judge and officers; and, with difficulty, was prevented from gaining egress inside the bar, but

There were two cases of stabbing, one for threatening to kill, and other minor offenses, which were all properly investigated and disposed of by the Recorder.

THE POLICE. - We have already announced the resignation of several members of the police within a short time, and from a cause which bids fair to leave us soon without any protection from the multitude of scoundrels who are prowling about for purposes of plunder. Although the police may receive fair nominal wages, they are paid in the depreciated paper of the city. For instance, if they receive eight dollars per diem, it is worth really but forty-five cents on the dollar, reducing their nominal pay, in that ratio.

If any class of men deserve to be well paid for their services, it is the guardians of the night, who expose their persons and lives to the knife and pistol of the robber, while we are safely snoring at our case in bed. It is important to secure the services of active, able-bodied and honest men, and such cannot be expected to discharge their onerous duty without being paid for it quite as much where the risk is nothing.

We should be most happy to see some effective measures taken to pay our worthy our streets and alleys. police in coin, at par value, rather than in depreciated paper.

IN A FAIR WAY TO BE IMMORTALIZED .-The communication of Capt. ADAMS, on the for at this time they do not pay the expense subject of State Printing, will certainly immortalize the "old veteran." The Courier

"It happes out all reports on that or any other subject ever presented to the Legisla ture. He is far better than Spikens, of Sacramento. The third house intend printing it on satin, and framing it, for the use of all students in rhetoric. John T. How, the nominee of the third department for Lieut. Governor and Secretary of the Senate, blistered his spectacles in reading the report."

It is too bad that the first efforts of a "reformer should meet with such a sorry reception on all sides. It may be possible that he is right, and every body else wrong. That is what the deranged man said when in prison : he declared the world was crazy, and the world said he was; so the majority

"A ddarlleno, ystyried; a ystyrio, cofied gofie, gwanaed; a wnel, parhaed.

Will some one "learned in the languages" please interpret, or loan us a Welsh dictionary ! It beats the Courier's "dead languages," out of all manner of written, spoken or published diction.

AN INDUCEMENT TO TRAVEL .- A runner, who was yesterday upon Long Wharf, haranguing a multitude upon the splendid accommodations and fine qualities of the steamer New World, ended by offering, as an inducement to the traveling community, that there would be at least forty fine looking single ladies going up that evening. Such an appeal for patronage is irresistible in a new country.

" Love's Labor Not Lost." -- "The Author" sends us a copy of a pamphlet with the above title, just issued from the press, which professes to give a history of the "Ups and Downs of a Gold Hunter, by a Victim." We have not yet had leisure to look beyond the title page.

A New Hotel .- The splendid building California and Sansome streets, is intended doubt, have every thing in superior style. in an affair with Mr. GRAHAM.

Report of the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury, on concluding their labors. for the session just brought to a close, submityesterday, which clearly demonstrates the ted a Report to the District Court, of which the following is a synopsis:

merited compliment to Dr. Chapin and his assistants. They regret, however, that the steward's department has suffered from want of and they recommend that prompt and efficient touched upon by its advocates. measures be adopted by the proper authorities to obviate these wants

2. They complain of the inadequate extent nsecure formation, and unhealthy character of the public prisons and station houses, and they urge the necessity of proper consideration by the authorities for the mitigation of these evils, the prisoners, as well as for public economy, if all the prisoners convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, were compelled to work upon the city improvements

3. They are of opinion that the present police force is entirely inadequate to combat the in-crease of crime, and recommend that the City Council should increase their number to double their present amount. competent in point of numerical strength to combat successfully with the destroying element; but they complain of the engines and apparatus, being old and rejected engines from the Atlantic States, purchased at high rates, and wholly inadequate to do the requisite work They regret that so little wisdom and knowledge of hydraulics have been displayed by the city authorities in the construction of reservoirs, which are too deep for any suction engine to draw water from. They recommend that none but practically informed men be employed to plan and construct reservoirs to suit the wants of the department. They suggest the necessity of alarm bells in proper stations throughout the city. They pass a flattering compliment on the character of the persons who compose the present Fire Companies, and propose that they should be armed and organized as an efficient military body, available in case of riot or general disturbances against the laws of our coun-They offer a remonstrance, addressed to the good sense of the people of our city, to avoid the nuisance, so much complained of, of obstructing the thoroughfares and side-walks by lumbering them with bales, boxes, casks and materials of every sort; and they recommend the stringent enforcement of the city ordinance to that effect. 6. They call the attention of the police and city authorities to the disturbances prevalent on the Long Wharf, arising from the toleration of the irregularities of boat runners, thimble jokers, bite catchers, or French monte-dealers. These they pronounce to be crying nuisances; and hope that the Police and Recorder will, by rigid severity, reduce to order and regularity his most important thoroughtare of our city. 7. They notice the condition of certain-streets et unplanked in the neighborhood of Clark's Point : and recommend that some improvements should be made to render them passable with ease and safety. 8. They also recommend as early attention is possible to the lighting of the city-seeing that darkness is not only an inconvenience to all, but an especial favor and advantage to the perpetrators of crime. 9. They further call attention to the progress and social evils of public prostitution in the city; and recommend the adoption of such a law for the suppression of this vice, by the Common Council, as will meet the wishes and expectations of all morally disposed members of 10. They notice the frequent affrays and murders arising out of or in connection with gambling; and advise absolute prohibition of it by law, under the most severe and stringent penalties. They give the city a well-merited censure for affording this destructive vice somethink like legal countenance and teleration by their system of licensing, whereby they derive revenue from establishments and tables at which the vice is practised.

11. They recommend the filling up of the mud-flats between high and low water marks, as they could receive in other employments, the appointment of an Inspector of Meats, and the establishment of a proper corps of scavengers for cleansing the city of filth and garbage so extensively and offensively accumulating in

12. They complain of the difficulty of obtaining and realizing the necessary evidence to secure the ends of justice in criminal presecutions from the migratory nature of our population; and recommend that the system of taking evidence DE BENT ESSE before the trial should be authorized; or that the jurisdiction of the Recorder's Court be enlarged to the same extent as that of the Court of Sessions.

13. They press upon the attention of the City Council the subject of Free Schools and public education.

14. They take a favorable view of the state of the city finances on the whole. They ascribe the existing debt to the extensive public improvements effected during the past year, and the expense of organizing and carrying out the purposes of the various departments and institutions of our municipal government. The revenue of the Recorder's Court has more than ! paid its own expenses, and the surplus has been appropriated to police purposes. The expenses of the city will not be one-third so great the next year as during the past. A sale of rity lands will nearly liquidate the present indebtedness; and probably a tax of two per cent. next year will be sufficient to meet current expenses, and pay off all liabilities. They urge on the Legislature the necessity of pass ing an act to yest in the city the water lots of San Francisco; and they suggest the expediency of a tax on foreign capital in the city, not otherwise subject to assessment.

15. They conclude by approving of the conduct and ability of the present District Attorney, G. K. Platt, Esq. ARRESTED .- Two of the "B'hoys" while on a spree Sunday night, got on a horse, and riding up on the walk opposite the Sierra Nevada Saloon in Kearny street, knocked the light out of the Chinese lamp that hangs in front, when their further operations were vetoed by two police officers, who took them in custody. As they were proceeding to the station-house, one of the "bricks" jumped off the horse and ran down Jackson street, but as he was about being overhauled by officer THORP, he dodged down into the sunken square on the right, towards Pacific street. hotly pursued by the officer. Shortly afterwards we saw him in custody again, and both men and the horse were properly cared for at the station-house.

FACTS. - We have a veritable "John Smith" in California, and he is no less a personage than a candidate for Aldermanic honor in the new city of Marysville, way up "at the head of navigation."

The man who buys city scrip at par has "gone out of town;" holders will please wait his return.

HELD TO BAIL .- Mr. NUGENT, of the Hererected by Capt. Forsom, on the corner of ald, was vesterday held to bail in the sum of $2000, for sending a challenge to Mr. CRANE, Usury Laws.

The proposed enactment of a usury law, involves a question of political economy, which deeply and most directly affects this 1. They approve of the manner in which the and every other community, and your court-City Hospital has been managed, and pay a esy in admitting, heretofore, articles into your journal, opposed to your own sentiments on the subject, induces me to offer for a place in its columns, some considerations funds to purchase proper diet for the inmates, in favor of such a law which I have not seen

So far as I have read or heard arguments in favor of the so-called "free trade" in money, the main point has been that money is merchandise, and should be so treated. But the question instantly arises, is money merchandise in any proper sense of the term as, when a man exchanges a bushel of potapotatoes? I think not. Money is made an article of exchange for value received, but this does not make it merchandise; a dollar is not made by this exchange to bear the same relation to one bushel of potatoes that 4. They consider the Fire Department fully another bushel would to the first, because the receipt of the money is for a different purpose, and to perform an office which merchandise cannot.

There is a proposition which amounts to an axiom, and which, I believe, holds good under all circumstances, that where there are duties, there are rights; and the converse is equally true, that where there are rights there are duties. Money is held, universally, as the standard of value, and the constitution of the United States declares that gold and silver shall be the only tender in payment of debts. Here we have the first part of the proposition, namely, the duty or liability, in this requirement, and from thence arises the RIGHT which is co-existent with this obligation, that money shall not be out of the reach of the debtor by reason of a high and exorbitant rate of interest. If this liability was taken away, if payment of debts could be made in merchandise, according to some imaginary standard of value other than money, the precious metals might become simply merchandise, for their intrinsic value solely But so long as the constitution contains such a provision, morey must continue to form a very different element in political economy to what merchandise does. If we make money merchandise, let us make merchandise money: let them be upon the some level. If money has its privilege of being a sine qua non in liquidation of debts, its liability to be placed within the reach of the debtor should not be taken away. The additional value of money called interest, seems to me to arise wholly from this privilege: the debtor must have it to meet his obligations, and, therefore, he is willing to pay something to obtain it.

The foregoing principle would seem to be one of the most simple and obvious in the whole range of mental philosophy. That a father who is required to support his child, is entitled to its obedience, does not seem plainer. A owes a debt which he has not money to liquidate, though he may have property. B. however, has money, and in absence of a usary law, takes advantage of the requirement of the statute that A. must pay in cash, and refuses to give to A the use of it except at an expensive and ruinous rate. A. feels this to be a hardship. and justly, too.

In a late number of your paper, you suppose a case where a merchant might owe eighty thousand dollars, and has ten thousand barrels of flour, but no money. He has given his notes, which the law obliges him to pay in cash, and the money he must raise, in consequence of this legal obligation. Could he tender his flour, there would be no need of money, but through the force of a law it acquires that dominant power which shows itself in the form of interest.

It is the law alone which gives any commercial value or interest at all to the money in the possession of the lender, and it has a right and a duty to restrict that value or price within a reasonable limit. What it gives, it has the power to take away, either in whole or in part. The Legislature interferes in every other thing which affects the well-being of the community, and such regulations are cheerfully submitted to, and there is no reason why the possession and manner of use of money should not be regulated by law when the public good is involved, as well as the manner of use of any other kind of property. The commonwealth is the mother of us all. and it is her duty to take care that one portion of her children is not destroyed by the exactions of another portion. High rates of interest tend to the possession of all the money by the few: but usury laws, when wisely enacted, do much to prevent this, and to assist in sustaining the great democratic principle of equalization. I believe a usury law is demanded by a great majority of the people of the State, for the old truth has been learned over again in California, which has been taught to every nation, that there must be a legal limit to the price of money.

ABOUT MULES.-We were amused during a stroll along Long Wharf, to see the mode of getting mules on board a vessel bound for Klamath. Whoever is acquainted with the nature of mules, knows that it frequently happens that the "more you will, the more hey won't," and as for walking a plank for the purpose of making a sea excursion, they will do no such thing. In fact, mules are mules. Without arguing the point, the mate rigged up a broad band, which passed under the belly of the mule, secured by a fore-andaft line from stem to stern. The ends of the band meeting on the back, had a loop to which a tackle-hook was hitched, when the 'yo heave yo!" was given, and despite the kicks and dumb remenstrances of the brute, he was flying in the air in "less than no time," and deposited on deck without "let or hindrance."

LONG WHARF .- This principal thoroughfare of our city is in a state of complete nuisance, from the quantity of mud, garbage, and filth of all descriptions, that have accumulated at its head, particularly between Montgomery and Leidsdorff streets. It should be immediately cleansed of its filthy incum-
